1 On the day he became sick and (he) knew that he would have to leave his bodily abode, he called his seven sons and his three daughters together and spoke to them as follows: ² "Form a circle around me, children, and hear, and I shall relate to you what the Adanay did for me and all that happened to me. ³ For I am Ayawab your father. ⁴ Know you then my children, that you are the generation of a chosen one and take heed of your noble birth. ⁵ For I am of the sons of Ishaw. My brother is Nachawar, and your mother is Dayanah. By her have I become your father. ⁶ For my first wife died with my other ten children in bitter death. ⁷ Hear now, children, and I will reveal to you what happened to me. ⁸ I was a very rich man living in the East in the land Ausitis, (Utz) and before the Adanay had named me Ayawab, I was called Yawabab. ⁹ The beginning of my trial was thus. ¹⁰ Near my house there was the idol of one worshipped by the people; and I saw constantly burnt-offerings brought to him as a god. ¹¹ Then I pondered and said to myself: "Is this he who made heaven and earth, the sea and us all? How will I know the truth?" ¹² And in that night as I lay asleep, a voice came and called: "Yawabab! Yawabab! rise up, and I will tell you who is the one whom you wish to know. ¹³ This, however, to whom the people bring burnt-offerings and libations, is not Alahayam, but this is the power and work of the Seducer (Satan) by which he beguiles the people". ¹⁴ And when I heard this, I fell upon the earth and I prostrated myself saying: ¹⁵ "O my Adanay who speak for the salvation of my soul. I pray you, if this is the idol of Satan, I pray you, let me go hence and destroy it and purify this spot. ¹⁶ For there is none that can forbid me doing this, as I am the king of this land, so that those that live in it will no longer be led astray". ¹⁷ And the voice that spoke out of the flame answered to me: "You can purify this spot. ¹⁸ But behold I announce to you what the Adanay ordered me to tell you, For I am the archangel of Alahayam". ¹⁹ And I said: "Whatever shall be told to His servant, I shall hear". ²⁰ And the archangel said to me: "Thus speaks the Adanay: If you undertake to destroy and take away the image of Satan, he will set himself with wrath to wage war against you, and he will display against you all his malice. ²¹ He will bring upon you many severe plagues, and take from you all that you have. ²² He will take away your children, and will inflict many evils upon you. ²³ Then you must wrestle like an athlete and resist pain, sure of your reward, overcome trials and afflictions. ²⁴ But when you endure, I shall make your name renowned throughout all generations of the earth until to the end of the world. ²⁵ And I shall restore you to all that you had had, and the double part of what you shall lose will be given to you in order that you may know that Alahayam does not consider the person but gives to each who deserves the good. ²⁶ And also to you shall it be given, and you shall put on a crown of amaranth. ²⁷ And at the resurrection you shall awaken for eternal life. Then shall you know that the Adanay is just, and true and mighty". ²⁸ Whereupon, my children, I replied: "I shall from love of Alahayam endure until death all that will come upon me, and I shall not shrink back". ²⁹ Then the angel put his seal upon me and left me.

2 After this I rose up in the night and took fifty slaves and went to the temple of the idol and destroyed it to the ground. ² And so I went back to my house and gave orders that the door should be firmly locked; saying to my doorkeepers: ³ "If somebody shall ask for me, bring no report to me, but tell him: He investigates urgent affairs. He is inside." ⁴ Then Satan disguised himself as a beggar and knocked heavily at the door, saying to the door-keeper: ⁵ "Report to Ayawab and say that I desire to meet him." ⁶ And the door-keeper came in and told me that, but heard from me that I was studying. ⁷ The Awayal One, having failed in this, went away and took upon his shoulder an old, torn basket and went in and spoke to the doorkeeper saying: "Tell Ayawab: Give me bread from your hands that I may eat." ⁸ And when I heard this, I gave her burnt bread to give it to him, and I made known to him: "Expect not to eat of my bread, for it is forbidden to you." ⁹ But the door-keeper, being ashamed to hand him the burnt and ashy bread, as she did not know that it was Satan, took of her own fine bread and gave it to him. ¹⁰ But he took it and, knowing what occurred, said to the maiden: "Go hence, bad servant, and bring me the bread that was given you to hand to me." ¹¹ And the servant cried and spoke in grief: "You speak the truth, saying that I am a bad servant, because I have not done as I was instructed by my master." ¹² And he turned back and brought him the burnt bread and said to him: "Thus says my lord: You shall not eat of my bread anymore, for it is forbidden to you. And this he gave me [saying: This I give] in order that the charge may not be brought against me that I did not give to the enemy who asked." ¹⁴ And when Satan heard this, he sent back the servant to me, saying: "As you see this bread all burnt, so shall I soon burn your body to make it like this." ¹⁵ And I replied: "Do what you desire to do and accomplish whatever you plot. For I am ready to endure whatever you bring upon me." ¹⁶ And when the devil heard this, he left me, and walking up to under the [highest] heaven, he took from the Adanay the oath that he might have power over all my possessions. ¹⁷ And after having taken the power he went and instantly took away all my wealth.

3 For I had one hundred and thirty thousand sheep, and of these I separated seven thousand for the clothing of orphans and widows and of needy and sick ones. ² I had a herd of eight hundred dogs who watched my sheep and besides these two hundred to watch my house. ³ And I had nine mills working for the whole city and ships to carry goods, and I sent them into every city and into the villages to the feeble and sick and to those that were unfortunate. ⁴ And I had three hundred and forty thousand nomadic asses, and of these I set aside five hundred, and the offspring of these I ordered to be sold and the proceeds to be given to the poor and the needy. ⁵ For from all the lands the poor came to meet me. ⁶ For the four doors of my house were opened, each, being in charge of a watchman who had to see whether there were any people coming asking alms, and whether they would see me sitting at one of the doors so that they could leave through the other and take whatever they needed. ⁷ I also had thirty immovable tables set at all hours for the strangers alone, and I also had twelve tables spread for the widows. ⁸ And if any one came asking for alms, he found food on my table to take all he needed, and I turned nobody away to leave my door with an empty stomach. ⁹ I also had three thousand five hundred yokes of oxen, and I selected of these five hundred and had them tend to the plowing. ¹⁰ And with these I had done all the work in each field by those who would take it in charge and the income of their crops I laid aside for the poor on their table. ¹¹ I also had fifty bakeries from which I sent [the bread] to the table for the poor. ¹² And I had slaves selected for their service. ¹³ There were also some strangers who saw my good will; they wished to serve as waiters themselves. ¹⁴ Others, being in distress and unable to obtain a living, came with the request saying: ¹⁵ "We pray you, since we also can fill this office of waiters (deacons) and have no possession, have pity upon us and advance money to us in order that we may go into the great cities and sell merchandise. ¹⁶ And the surplus of our profit we may give as help to the poor, and then shall we return to you your own (money)." ¹⁷ And when I heard this, I was glad that they should take this altogether from me for the husbandry of charity for the poor. ¹⁸ And with a willing heart I gave them what they wanted, and I accepted their written bond, but would not take any other security from them except the written document.¹⁹ And they went abroad and gave to the poor as far as they were successful.²⁰ Frequently, however, some of their goods were lost on the road or on the sea, or they would be robbed of them.²¹ Then they would come and say: "We pray you, act generously towards us in order that we may see how we can restore to you your own".²² And when I heard this, I had sympathy with them, and handed to them their bond, and often having read it before them tore it up and released them of their debt, saying to them:²³ "What I have consecrated for the benefit of the poor, I shall not take from you".²⁴ And so I accepted nothing from my debtor.²⁵ And when a man with a cheerful heart came to me saying: I am not in need to be compelled to be a paid worker for the poor.²⁶ But I wish to serve the needy at your table", and he consented to work, and he ate his share.²⁷ So I gave him his wages nevertheless, and I went home rejoicing.²⁸ And when he did not wish to take it, I forced him to do so, saying: "I know that you are a laboring man who looks for and waits for his wages, and you must take it."²⁹ Never did I defer paying the wages of the hireling or any other, nor keep back in my house for a single evening his hire that was due to him.³⁰ Those that milked the cows and the ewes signaled to the passersby that they should take their share.³¹ For the milk flowed in such plenty that it curdled into butter on the hills and by the roadside; and by the rocks and the hills the cattle lay which had given birth to their offspring.³² For my servants grew weary keeping the meat of the widows and the poor and dividing it into small pieces.³³ For they would curse and say: "Oh that we had of his flesh that we could be satisfied", although I was very kind to them,³⁴ I also had six harps [and six slaves to play the harps] and also a cithara, a decachord, and I struck it during the day.³⁵ And I took the cithara, and the widows responded after their meals.³⁶ And with the musical instrument I reminded them of Alahayam that they should give praise to the Adanay.³⁷ And when my female slaves would murmur, then I took the musical instruments and played as much as they would have done for their wages, and gave them respite from their labor and sighs.

4 And my children, after having taken charge of the service, took their meals each day along with their three sisters beginning with the older brother, and made a feast.² And I rose in the morning and offered as Sayan-offering for them fifty rams and nineteen sheep, and what remained as a residue was consecrated to the poor.³ And I said to them: "Take these as residue and pray for my children.⁴ Perchance my sons have sinned before the Adanay, speaking in haughtiness of spirit: We are children of this rich man. Ours are all these goods; why should we be servants of the poor?"⁵ And speaking thus in a haughty spirit they may have provoked the anger of Alahayam, for overbearing pride is an abomination before the Adanay."⁶ So I brought oxen as offerings to the priest at the altar saying: "May my children never think evil towards Alahayam in their hearts."⁷ While I lived in this manner, the Seducer could not bear to see the good [I did], and he demanded the warfare of Alahayam against me.⁸ And he came upon me cruelly.⁹ First he burnt up the large number of sheep, then the camels, then he burnt up the cattle and all my herds; or they were captured not only by enemies but also by such as had received benefits from me.¹⁰ And the shepherds came and announced that to me.¹¹ But when I heard it, I gave praise to Alahayam and did not blaspheme.¹² And when the Seducer learned of my fortitude, he plotted new things against me.¹³ He disguised himself as King of Paras and besieged my city, and after he had led off all that were therein, he spoke to them in malice, saying in boastful language:¹⁴ "This man Ayawab who has obtained all the goods of the earth and left nothing for others, he has destroyed and torn down the temple of god.¹⁵ Therefore shall I repay to him what he has done to the house of the great god."¹⁶ Now come with me and we shall pillage all that is left in his house."¹⁷ And they answered and said to him: "He has seven sons and three daughters.¹⁸ Take heed lest they flee into other lands and they may become our tyrants and then come over us with force and kill us."¹⁹ And he said: Be not at all afraid. His flocks and his wealth have I destroyed by fire, and the rest have I captured, and behold, his children shall I kill."²⁰ And having spoken thus, he went and threw the house upon my children and killed them.²¹ And my fellow-citizens, seeing that what was said by him had become true, came and pursued me, and robbed me of all that was in my house.²² And I saw with mine own eyes the pillage of my house, and men without culture and without honor sat at my table and on my couches, and I could not remonstrate against them.²³ For I was exhausted like a woman with her loins let loose from multitude of pains, remembering chiefly that this warfare had been predicted to me by the Adanay through His angel.²⁴ And I became like one who, when seeing the rough sea and the adverse winds, while the lading of the vessel in mid-ocean is too heavy, casts the burden into the sea, saying:²⁵ "I wish to destroy all this only in order to come safely into the city so that I may take as profit the rescued ship and the best of my things."²⁶ Thus did I manage my own affairs.²⁷ But there came another messenger and announced to me the ruin of my own children, and I was shaken with terror.²⁸ And I tore my clothes and said: The Adanay has given, the Adanay has taken. As it has deemed best to the Adanay, thus it has come to be. May the name of the Adanay be blessed."

5 And when Satan saw that he could not put me to despair, he went and asked my body of the Adanay in order to inflict plague on me, for the Awayal one could not bear my patience.² Then the Adanay delivered me into his hands to use my body as he wanted, but he gave him no power over my soul.³ And he came to me as I was sitting on my throne still mourning over my children.⁴ And he resembled a great hurricane and turned over my throne and threw me upon the ground.⁵ And I continued lying on the floor for three hours, and he smote me with a hard plague from the top of my head to the toes of my feet.⁶ And I left the city in great terror and woe and sat down upon a dunghill my body being worm-eaten.⁷ And I wet the earth with the moistness of my sore body, for matter flowed off my body, and many worms covered it.⁸ And when a single worm crept off my body, I put it back saying: "Remain on the spot where you have been placed until He who has sent you will order you elsewhere."⁹ Thus I endured for seven years, sitting on a dung-hill outside of the city while being plague-stricken.¹⁰ And I saw with mine own eyes my longed-for children [carried by angels to heaven].¹¹ And my humbled wife who had been brought to her bridal chamber in such great luxuriousness and with spearmen as body-guards, I saw her do a water-carrier's work like a slave in the house of a common man in order to win some bread and bring it to me.¹² And in my sore affliction I said: "Oh that these braggart city rulers whom I would not have thought to be equal with my shepherd dogs should now employ my wife as servant!"¹³ And after this I took courage again.¹⁴ Yet afterwards they withheld even the bread that it should only have her own nourishment.¹⁵ But she took it and divided it between herself and me, saying woefully: "Woe to me! Forthwith he may no longer feed on bread, and he cannot go to the market to ask bread of the bread-sellers in order to bring it to me that he may eat."¹⁶ And when Satan learned this, he took the guise of a bread-seller, and it was as if by chance that my wife met him and asked him for bread thinking that it was that sort of man.¹⁷ But Satan said to her: "Give me the value, and then take what you wish."¹⁸ Whereupon she answered saying: Where shall I get money? Do you not know what misfortune happened to me. If you have pity, show it to me; if not, you shall see."¹⁹ And he replied saying: "If you did not deserve this misfortune, you would not have suffered all this."²⁰ Now, if there is no silver piece in your hand, give me the hair of your head and take three loaves of bread for it, so that you may live on there for three days."²¹ Then she said to herself: "What is the hair of my head in comparison with my starving husband?"²² And so after having pondered over the matter, she said to him: "Rise and cut off my hair."²³ Then he took a pair of scissors and took off the hair of her head in the presence of all, and gave her three loaves of bread.²⁴ Then she took them and brought them to me. And Satan went behind her on the road, hiding himself as he walked and troubling her heart greatly.

6 And immediately my wife came near me and crying aloud and weeping she said: "Ayawab! Ayawab! How long will you sit upon the dung-hill outside of the city, pondering yet for a while and expecting to obtain your hoped-for salvation!" ² And I have been wandering from place to place, roaming about as a hired servant, behold your memory has already died away from earth. ³ And my sons and the daughters that I carried on my bosom and the labors and pains that I sustained have been for nothing. ⁴ And you sit in the malodorous state of soreness and worms, passing the nights in the cold air. ⁵ And I have undergone all trials and troubles and pains, day and night until I succeeded in bringing bread to you. ⁶ For your surplus of bread is no longer allowed to me; and as I can scarcely take my own food and divide it between us, I pondered in my heart that it was not right that you should be in pain and hunger for bread. ⁷ And so I ventured to go to the market without bashfulness, and when the bread-seller told me: "Give me money, and you shall have bread". I disclosed to him our state of distress. ⁸ Then I heard him say: "If you have no money, hand me the hair of your head, and take three loaves of bread in order that you may live on these for three days". ⁹ And I yielded to the wrong and said to him: "Rise and cut off my hair!", and he rose and in disgrace cut off with the scissors the hair of my head on the market place while the crowd stood by and wondered. ¹⁰ Who would then not be astonished saying: "Is this Sitis, the wife of Ayawab, who had fourteen curtains to cover her inner sitting room, and doors within doors so that he was greatly honored who would be brought near her, and now behold, she barter off her hair for bread!" ¹¹ Who had camels laden with goods, and they were brought into remote lands to the poor, and now she sells her hair for bread! ¹² Behold her who had seven tables immovably set in her house at which each poor man and each stranger ate, and now she sells her hair for bread! ¹³ Behold her who had the basin wherewith to wash her feet made of gold and silver, and now she walks upon the ground and [sells her hair for bread!] ¹⁴ Behold her who had her garments made of byssus interwoven with gold, and now she exchanges her hair for bread! ¹⁵ Behold her who had couches of gold and of silver, and now she sells her hair for bread!" ¹⁶ In short then, Ayawab, after the many things that have been said to me, I now say in one word to you: ¹⁷ "Since the feebleness of my heart has crushed my bones, rise then and take these loaves of bread and enjoy them, and then speak some word against the Adanay and die!" ¹⁸ For I too, would exchange the torpor of death for the sustenance of my body". ¹⁹ But I replied to her: "Behold I have been for these seven years plague-stricken, and I have stood the worms of my body, and I was not weighed down in my soul by all these pains. ²⁰ And as to the word which you say: 'Speak some word against Alahayam and die!', together with you I will sustain the evil which you see, and let us endure the ruin of all that we have. ²¹ Yet you desire that we should say some word against Alahayam and that He should be exchanged for the great Pluto [the god of the nether world.] ²² Why do you not remember those great goods which we possessed? If these goods come from the hands of the Adanay, should not we also endure evils and be high-minded in everything until the Adanay will have mercy again and show pity to us? ²³ Do you not see the Seducer stand behind you and confound your thoughts in order that you should beguile me? ²⁴ And he turned to Satan and said: "Why do you not come openly to me? Stop hiding yourself you wretched one, ²⁵ Does the lion show his strength in the weasel cage? Or does the bird fly in the basket? I now tell you: Go away and wage your war against me". ²⁶ Then he went off from behind my wife and placed himself before me crying and he said: Behold, Ayawab, I yield and give way to you who art but flesh while I am a spirit. ²⁷ You are plague-stricken, but I am in great trouble. ²⁸ For I am like a wrestler contesting with a wrestler who has, in a single-handed combat, torn down his antagonist and covered him with dust and broken every limb of his, whereas the other one who lies beneath, having displayed his bravery, gives forth sounds of triumph testifying to his own superior excellence. ²⁹ Thus you, O Ayawab, art beneath and stricken with plague and pain, and yet you have carried the victory in the wrestling-match with me, and behold, I yield to you". ³⁰ Then he left me abashed. ³¹ Now my children, do you also show a firm heart in all the evil that happens to you, for greater than all things is firmness of heart.

7 At this time the kings heard what had happened to me and they rose and came to me, each from his land to visit me and to comfort me. ² And when they came near me, they cried with a loud voice and each tore his clothes. ³ And after they had prostrated themselves, touching the earth with their heads, they sat down next to me for seven days and seven nights, and none spoke a word. ⁴ They were four in numbers: Alayapaz, the king of Thayaman, and Balad, and Sophar, and Alayahawaa. ⁵ And when they had taken their seat, they conversed about what had happened to me. ⁶ Now when for the first time they had come to me and I had shown them my precious stones, they were astonished and said: ⁷ "If of us three kings all our possessions would be brought together into one, it would not come up to the precious stones of Yawabab's kingdom (crown). For you are of greater nobility than all the people of the East. ⁸ And when, therefore, they now came to the land of Ausitis 'Uz' to visit me, they asked in the city: 'Where is Yawabab, the ruler of this whole land?' ⁹ And they told them concerning me: 'He sits upon the dung-hill outside of the city for he has not entered the city for seven years.' ¹⁰ And then again they inquired concerning my possessions, and there was revealed to them all that happened to me. ¹¹ And when they had learned this, they went out of the city with the inhabitants, and my fellow-citizens pointed me out to them. ¹² But these remonstrated and said: 'Surely, this is not Jobab'. ¹³ And while they hesitated, there said Alayapaz, the King of Thayaman: 'Come let us step near and see.' ¹⁴ And when they came near I remembered them, and I wept very much when I learned the purpose of their journey. ¹⁵ And I threw earth upon my head, and while shaking my head I revealed to them that I was [Ayawab]. ¹⁶ And when they saw me shake my head they threw themselves down upon the ground, all overcome with emotion. ¹⁷ And while their hosts were standing around, I saw the three kings lie upon the ground for three hours like dead. ¹⁸ Then they rose and said to each other: 'We cannot believe that this is Yawabab.' ¹⁹ And finally, after they had for seven days inquired after everything concerning me and searched for my flocks and other possessions, they said: ²⁰ 'Do we not know how many goods were sent by him to the cities and the villages round about to be given to the poor, aside from all that was given away by him within his own house. How then could he have fallen into such a state of perdition and misery!' ²¹ And after the seven days Alayahawaa said to the kings: 'Come let us step near and examine him accurately, whether he truly is Yawabab or not.' ²² And they, being not half a mile distant from his malodorous body, they rose and stepped near, carrying perfume in their hands, while their soldiers went with them and threw fragrant incense round about them so that they could come near me. ²³ And after they had thus passed three hours, covering the way with aroma, they drew nigh. ²⁴ And Alayapaz began and said: 'Are you, indeed, Ayawab, our fellow-king? Are you the one who owned the great glory? ²⁵ Are you he who once shone like the sun of day upon the whole earth? Are you he who once resembled the moon and the stars effulgent throughout the night?' ²⁶ And I answered him and said: 'I am,' and thereupon all wept and lamented, and they sang a royal song of lamentation, their whole army joining them in a chorus. ²⁷ And again Alayapaz said to me: 'Are you he who had ordered seven thousand sheep to be given for the clothing of the poor? Where, then has gone the glory of your throne? ²⁸ Are you he who had ordered three thousand cattle to do the plowing of the field for the poor? Where, then has your glory gone? ²⁹ Are you he who had golden couches, and now you sit upon a dung hill? Where then has your glory gone? ³⁰ Are you he who had sixty tables set for the poor? Are you he who had censers for the fine perfume made of precious stones, and now you are in a malodorous state? Where then has your glory gone? ³¹ Are you he who had golden candelabras set upon silver stands; and now must you long for the natural gleam of the moon? Where then has your glory gone?' ³² Are you the one who had ointment made of the spices of frankincense, and now you are in a state of repulsiveness? Where then has your glory gone?³³ Are you he who laughed the wrong doers and sinners to scorn and now you have become a laughingstock to all! Where then has your glory gone?³⁴ And when Alayapaz had for a long time cried and lamented, while all the others joined him, so that the commotion was very great, I said to them:³⁵ 'Be silent and I will show you my throne, and the glory of its splendor: My glory will be everlasting.³⁶ The whole world shall perish, and its glory shall vanish, and all those who hold fast to it, will remain beneath, but my throne is in the upper world and its glory and splendor will be to the right of the Savior in the heavens.³⁷ My throne exists in the life of the "holy ones" and its glory in the imperishable world.³⁸ For rivers will be dried up and their arrogance shall go down to the depth of the abyss, but the streams of my land in which my throne is erected, shall not dry up, but shall remain unbroken in strength.³⁹ The kings perish and the rulers vanish, and their glory and pride is as the shadow in a looking glass, but my Kingdom lasts forever and ever, and its glory and beauty is in the chariot of my Father.

8 When I spoke thus to them, Alayapaz became angry and said to the other friends: "For what purpose is it that we have come here with our hosts to comfort him? Behold, he upbraids us. Therefore let us return to our countries.² This man sits here in misery, worm-eaten amidst an unbearable state of putrefaction, and yet he challenges its saving: 'Kingdoms shall perish and their rulers, but my Kingdom, says he, shall last forever.'" ³ Alayapaz, then, rose in great commotion, and, turning away from them in great fury, said: "I go hence. We have indeed come to comfort him, but he declares war to us in view of our armies."⁴ But then Baldad seized him by the hand and said: "Not thus ought one to speak to an afflicted man, and especially to one stricken down with so many plagues.⁵ Behold, we, being in good health, dared not approach him on account of the offensive odor, except with the help of plenty of fragrant aroma. But you, Alayapaz, art forgetful of all this.⁶ Let me speak plainly. Let us be magnanimous and learn what is the cause. Must he, in remembering his former days of happiness, not become mad in his mind?⁷ Who should not be altogether perplexed seeing himself thus lapse into misfortune and plagues? But let me step near him that I may find by what cause he is thus."⁸ And Baldad rose and approached me saying: "Are you Ayawab?" and he said: "Is your heart still in good keeping?"⁹ And I said: "I did not hold fast to the earthly things, since the earth with all that inhabit it is unstable. But my heart holds fast to the heaven, because there is no trouble in heaven."¹⁰ Then Baldad rejoined and said: "We know that the earth is unstable, for it changes according to season. At times it is in a state of peace, and at times it is in a state of war. But of the heaven we hear that it is perfectly steady.¹¹ But are you truly in a state of calmness? Therefore let me ask and speak, and when you answer me to my first word, I shall have a second question to ask, and if again you answer in well-set words, it will be manifest that your heart has not been unbalanced."¹² And I said: "Upon what do you set your hope?" And I said: "Upon the living Alahayam."¹³ And he said to me: "Who deprived you of all you did possess? And who inflicted you with these plagues?" And I said: "Alahayam."¹⁴ And he said: "If you still place your hope upon Alahayam, how can He do wrong in judgment, having brought upon you these plagues and misfortunes, and having taken from you all your possessions?¹⁵ And since He has taken these, it is clear that He has given you nothing. No king will disgrace his soldier who has served him well as body-guard."¹⁶ And I answered saying: "Who understands the depths of the Adanay and of His wisdom to be able to accuse Alahayam of injustice?"¹⁷ And Baldad said: "Answer me, o Ayawab, to this. Again I say to you: 'If you are in a state of calm reason, teach me if you have wisdom:¹⁸ Why do we see the sun rise in the East and set in the West? And again when rising in the morning we find him rise in the East? Tell me your thought about this.'" ¹⁹ Then said I: "Why shall I betray (babble forth) the mighty mysteries of Alahayam? And should my mouth stumble in revealing things belonging to the Master? Never!" ²⁰ Who are we that we should pry into matters concerning the upper world while we are only of flesh, nay, earth and ashes!" ²¹ In order that you know that my heart is sound, hear what I ask you:²² Through the stomach comes food, and water you drink through the mouth, and then it flows through the same throat, and when the two go down to become excrement, they again part; who effects this separation?" ²³ And Baldad said: "I do not know." And I rejoined and said to him: "If you do not understand even the exits of the body, how can you understand the celestial circuits?"²⁴ Then Sophar rejoined and said: "We do not inquire after our own affairs, but we desire to know whether you are in a sound state, and behold, we see that your reason has not been shaken."²⁵ What now do you wish that we should do for you? Behold, we have come here and brought the physicians of three kings, and if you wish, you may be cured by them."²⁶ But I answered and said: "My cure and my restoration comes from Alahayam, the Maker of physicians."

9 And when I spoke thus to them, behold, there my wife Sitis came running, dressed in rags from the service of the master by whom she was employed as slave though she had been forbidden to leave, lest the kings, on seeing her, might take her as captive.² And when she came, she threw herself prostrate to their feet, crying and saying: "Remember, Alayapaz and you other friends, what I was once with you, and how I have changed, how I am now dressed to meet you."³ Then the kings broke forth in great weeping and, being in double perplexity, they kept silent. But Alayapaz took his purple mantle and cast it about her to wrap herself up with it.⁴ But she asked him saying: "I ask as favor of you, my Lords, that you order your soldiers that they should dig among the ruins of our house which fell upon my children, so that their bones could be brought in a perfect state to the tombs."⁵ For as we have, owing to our misfortune, no power at all, and so we may at least see their bones.⁶ For have I like a brute the motherly feeling of wild beasts that my ten children should have perished on one day and not to one of them could I give a decent burial."⁷ And the kings gave order that the ruins of my house should be dug up. But I prohibited it, saying: "Do not go to the trouble in vain; for my children will not be found, for they are in the keeping of their Maker and Ruler."⁸ And the kings answered and said: "Who will gainsay that he is out of his mind and raves?"⁹ For while we desire to bring the bones of his children back, he forbids us to do so saying: 'They have been taken and placed in the keeping of their Maker.' Therefore prove to us the truth."¹⁰ But I said to them: "Raise me that I may stand up," and they lifted me, holding up my arms from both sides.¹¹ And I stood upright, and pronounced first the praise of Alahayam and after the prayer I said to them: "Look with your eyes to the East."¹² And they looked and saw my children with crowns near the glory of the King, the Ruler of heaven.¹³ And when my wife Sitis saw this, she fell to the ground and prostrated [herself] before Alahayam, saying: "Now I know that my memory remains with the Adanay."¹⁴ And after she had spoken this, and the evening came, she went to the city, back to the master whom she served as slave, and lay herself down at the manger of the cattle and died there from exhaustion.¹⁵ And when her despotic master searched for her and did not find her, he came to the fold of his herds, and there he saw her stretched out upon the manger dead, while all the animals around were crying about her.¹⁶ And all who saw her wept and lamented, and the cry extended throughout the whole city.¹⁷ And the people brought her down and wrapped her up and buried her by the house which had fallen upon her children.¹⁸ And the poor of the city made a great mourning for her and said: "Behold this Sitis whose like in nobility and in glory is not found in any woman. Alas! she was not found worthy of a proper tomb!"¹⁹ The dirge for her you will find in the record.²⁰ The dirge for her you will find in the record.

10 But Alayapaz and those that were with him were astonished at these things, and they sat down with me and replying to me, spoke in boastful words concerning me for twenty seven days.² They repeated it again and again that I suffered deservedly thus for having committed many sins, and that there was no hope left for me, but I retorted to these men in zest of contention myself.³ And they rose in anger, ready to part in wrathful spirit. But Alayahawaa conjured them to stay yet a little while until he would have shown them what it was.⁴ "For", said he, "so many days did you pass, allowing Ayawab to boast that he is just. But I shall no longer suffer it."⁵ For from the beginning did I continue crying over him, remembering his former happiness. But now he speaks boastfully and in overbearing pride he says that he has his throne in the heavens.⁶ Therefore, hear me, and I will tell you what is the cause of his destiny.⁷ Then, imbued with the spirit of Satan. Alayahawaa spoke hard words which are written down in the records left of Alayahawaa.⁸ And after he had ended, Alahayam appeared to me in a storm and in clouds, and spoke, blaming Alayahawaa and showing me that he who had spoken was not a man, but a wild beast.⁹ And when Alahayam had finished speaking to me, the Adanay spoke to Alayapaz: "You and your friends have sinned in that you have not spoken the truth concerning my servant Ayawab.¹⁰ Therefore rise up and make him bring a Sayan-offering for you in order that your sins may be forgiven; for were it not for him, I would have destroyed you".¹¹ And so they brought to me all that belonged to a sacrifice, and I took it and brought for them a Sayan-offering, and the Adanay received it favorably and forgave them their wrong.¹² Then when Alayapaz, Baldad and Sophar saw that Alahayam had graciously pardoned their sin through His servant Ayawab, but that He did not deign to pardon Alayahawaa, then did Alayapaz begin to sing a hymn, while the others responded, their soldiers also joining while standing by the altar.¹³ And Alayapaz spoke thus: "Taken off is the sin and our injustice gone;¹⁴ But Alayahawaa, the evil one, shall have no remembrance among the living; his luminary is extinguished and has lost its light.¹⁵ The glory of his lamp will announce itself for him, for he is the son of darkness, and not of light.¹⁶ The doorkeepers of the place of darkness shall give him their glory and beauty as share; His Kingdom has vanished, his throne has moldered, and the honor of his stature is in (Sheol) Hades.¹⁷ For he has loved the beauty of the serpent and the scales (skins) of the dracon his gall and his venom belongs to the Northern One (Zphuni = Adder).¹⁸ For he did not own himself to the Adanay nor did he fear him, but he hated those whom He has chosen (known).¹⁹ Thus Alahayam forgot him, and "the holy ones" forsook him, his wrath and anger shall be to him desolation and he will have no mercy in his heart nor peace, because he, had the venom of an adder on his tongue.²⁰ Righteous is the Adanay, and His judgments are true, With him there is no preference of person, for He judges all alike.²¹ Behold, the Adanay comes! Behold, the "holy ones" have been prepared: The crowns and the prizes of the victors precede them!²² Let the saints rejoice, and let their hearts exult in gladness; for they shall receive the glory which is in store for them.²³ Our sins are forgiven, our injustice has been cleansed, but Alayahawaa has no remembrance among the living".²⁴ After Alayapaz had finished the hymn, we rose and went back to the city, each to the house where they lived.²⁵ And the people made a feast for me in gratitude and delight of Alahayam, and all my friends came back to me.²⁶ And all those who had seen me in my former state of happiness, asked me saying: "What are those three things here amongst us?"

11 But I being desirous to take up again my work of benevolence for the poor, asked them saying:² "Give me each a lamb for the clothing of the poor in their state of nakedness, and four drachmas (coins) of silver or gold."³ Then the Adanay blessed all that was left to me, and after a few days I became rich again in merchandise, in flocks and all things which I had lost, and I received all in double number again.⁴ Then I also took as wife your mother and became the father of you ten in place of the ten children that had died.⁵ And now, my children, let me admonish you: "Behold I die. You will take my place.⁶ Only do not forsake the Adanay. Be charitable towards the poor; Do not disregard the feeble. Take not to yourselves wives from strangers.⁷ Behold, my children, I shall divide among you what I possess, so that each may have control over his own and have full power to do good with his share."⁸ And after he had spoken thus, he brought all his goods and divided them among his seven sons, but he gave nothing of his goods to his daughters.⁹ Then they said to their father: "Our lord and father! Are we not also your children? Why, then, do you not also give us a share of your possessions?"¹⁰ Then said Ayawab to his daughters: "Do not become angry my daughters. I have not forgotten you. Behold, I have preserved for you a possession better than that which your brothers have taken."¹¹ And he called his daughter whose name was Day (Yemima) and said to her: "Take this double ring used as a key and go to the treasure-house and bring me the golden casket, that I may give you your possession."¹² And she went and brought it to him, and he opened it and took out three-stringed girdles about the appearance of which no man can speak.¹³ For they were not earthly work, but celestial sparks of light flashed through them like the rays of the sun.¹⁴ And he gave one string to each of His daughters and said: "Pawt these as girdles around you in order that all the days of your life they may encircle you and endow you with every thing good."¹⁵ And the other daughter whose name was Kassiah said: "Is this the possession of which you say it is better than that of our brothers? What now? Can we live on this?"¹⁶ And their father said to them: "Not only have you here sufficient to live on, but these bring you into a better world to live in, in the heavens.¹⁷ Or do you not know my children, the value of these things here? Hear then! When the Adanay had deemed me worthy to have compassion on me and to take off my body the plagues and the worms, He called me and handed to me these three strings.¹⁸ And He said to me: 'Rise and gird up your loins like a man I will demand of you and declare you to me'.¹⁹ And I took them and girt them around my loins, and immediately did the worms leave my body, and likewise did the plagues, and my whole body took new strength through the Adanay, and thus I passed on, as though I had never suffered.²⁰ But also in my heart I forgot the pains. Then spoke the Adanay to me in His great power and showed to me all that was and will be.²¹ Now then, my children, in keeping these, you will not have the enemy plotting against you nor [evil] intentions in your mind because this is a charm (Phylacterion) from the Adanay.²² Rise then and gird these around you before I die in order that you may see the angels come at my parting so that you may behold with wonder the powers of Alahayam."²³ Then rose the one whose name was Day (Yemima) and girt herself; and immediately she departed her body, as her father had said, and she put on another heart, as if she never cared for earthly things.²⁴ And she sang angelic hymns in the voice of angels, and she chanted forth the angelic praise of Alahayam while dancing.²⁵ Then the other daughter, Kassia by name, put on the girdle, and her heart was transformed, so that she no longer wished for worldly things.²⁶ And her mouth assumed the dialect of the heavenly rulers (Archonts) and she sang the donology of the work of the High Place and if any one wishes to know the work of the heavens he may take an insight into the hymns of Kassia.²⁷ Then did the other daughter by the name of Amalthea's Horn (Keren Happukh) gird herself and her mouth spoke in the language of those on high; for her heart was transformed, being lifted above the worldly things.²⁸ She spoke in the dialect of the Cherubim, singing the praise of the Ruler of the cosmic powers (virtues) and extolling their (His) glory.²⁹ And he who desires to follow the vestiges of the "Glory of the Father" will find them written down in the Prayers of Amalthea's Horn.

12 After these three had finished singing hymns, did I Nachawar (Neros), brother of Ayawab, sit down next to him, as he lay down.² And I heard the marvelous (great) things of the three daughters of my brother, one always succeeding the other amidst awful silence.³ And I wrote down this book containing the hymns except the hymns and signs of the [holy] Word, for these were the great things of Alahayam.⁴ And Ayawab lay down from sickness on his couch, yet without pain and suffering, because his pain did not take strong hold of him on account of, the charm of the girdle which he had wound around himself.⁵ But after three days Ayawab saw the holy angels come for his soul, and instantly he rose and took the cithara and gave it to his daughter Day (Yemima). ⁶ And to Kassia he gave a censer (with perfume = Kassia), and to Amalthea's horn (= music) he gave a timbrel in order that they might bless the holy angels who came for his soul. ⁷ And they took these, and sang, and played on the psaltery and praised and glorified Alahayam in the holy dialect. ⁸ And after this, He who sits upon the great chariot came and kissed Ayawab, while his three daughters looked on, but the others saw it not. ⁹ And He took the soul of Ayawab and soared upward, taking her (the soul) by the arm and carrying her upon the chariot, and He went towards the East. ¹⁰ His body, however, was brought to the grave while the three daughters marched ahead, having put on their girdles and singing hymns in praise of Alahayam. ¹¹ Then held Nachawar (Nereos), his brother, and his seven sons, with the rest of the people and the poor, the orphans and the feeble ones, a great mourning over him, saying: ¹² "Woe to us, for today has been taken from us the strength of the feeble, the light of the blind, the father of the orphans; ¹³ The receiver of strangers has been taken off, the leader of the erring, the cover of the naked, the shield of the widows. Who would not mourn for the man of Alahayam! ¹⁴ And as they were mourning in this and in that form, they would not suffer him to be put into the grave. ¹⁵ After three days, however, he was finally put into the grave, like one in sweet slumber, and he received the name of the good (beautiful) who will remain renowned throughout all generations of the world. ¹⁶ He left seven sons and three daughters, and there were no daughters found on earth as fair as the daughters of Ayawab. ¹⁷ The name of Ayawab was formerly Yawabab, and he was called Ayawab by the Adanay. ¹⁸ He had lived before his plague eighty-five years, and after the plague he took the double share of all; hence also his years he doubled, which is 170 years. Thus he lived altogether 255 years. ¹⁹ And he saw sons of his sons to the fourth generation. It is written that he will rise up with those whom the Adanay will reawaken. To our Adanay be glory. Amen.

1 Testament of Shalamah, son of Dawad, who was king in Yarawashalam, and mastered and controlled all spirits of the air, on the earth, and under the earth. By means of them also he wrought all the transcendent works of the Temple. Telling also of the authorities they wield against men, and by what angels these demons are brought to naught. Of the sage Shalamah. Blessed are you, O Adanay Alahayam, who did give Shalamah such authority. Glory to you and might to the ages. Amen.² And behold, when the Temple of the city of Yarawashalam was being builded, and the artificers were working thereat, Ornias the demon came among them toward sunset; and he took away half of the pay of the chief-deviser's (?) little boy, as well as half his food. He also continued to suck the thumb of his right hand every day. And the child grew thin, although he was very much loved by the king.³ So King Shalamah called the boy one day, and questioned him, saying: "Do I not love you more than all the artisans who are working in the Temple of Alahayam? Do I not give you double wages and a double supply of food? How is it that day by day and hour by hour thou grow thinner?"⁴ But the child said to the king: "I pray you, O king. Listen to what has befallen all that your child has. After we are all released from our work on the Temple of Alahayam, after sunset, when I lie down to rest, one of the evil demons comes and takes away from me one half of my pay and one half of my food. Then he also takes hold of my right hand and sucks my thumb. And lo, my soul is oppressed, and so my body waxes thinner every day."

⁵ Now when I Shalamah heard this, I entered the Temple of Alahayam, and prayed with all my soul, night and day, that the demon might be delivered into my hands, and that I might gain authority over him. And it came about through my prayer that grace was given to me from the Adanay Sabaoth by Mayakaal his archangel. [He brought me] a little ring, having a seal consisting of an engraved stone, and said to me: "Take, O Shalamah, king, son of Dawad, the gift which the Adanay Alahayam has sent you, the highest Sabaoth. With it you shall lock up all demons of the earth, male and female; and with their help you shall build up Yarawashalam. [But] you [must] wear this seal of Alahayam. And this engraving of the seal of the ring sent you is a Pentalpha."⁶ And I Shalamah was overjoyed, and praised and glorified the Alahayam of heaven and earth. And on the morrow I called the boy, and gave him the ring, and said to him: "take this, and at the hour in which the demon shall come to you, throw this ring at the chest of the demon, and say to him: 'In the name of Alahayam, King Shalamah calls you here.' And then do you come running to me, without having any misgivings or fear in respect of aught you may hear on the part of the demon."⁷ So the child took the ring, and went off; and behold, at the customary hour Ornias, the fierce demon, came like a burning fire to take the pay from the child. But the child according to the instructions received from the king, threw the ring at the chest of the demon, and said: "King Shalamah calls you here." And then he went off at a run to the king. But the demon cried out aloud, saying: "Child, why have you done this to me? Take the ring off me, and I will render to you the gold of the earth. Only take this off me, and forbear to lead me away to Shalamah."

⁸ But the child said to the demon: "As the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal lives, I will not brook you. So come here." And the child came at a run, rejoicing, to the king, and said: "I have brought the demon, O king, as you did command me, O my master. And behold, he stands before the gates of the court of your palace, crying out, and supplicating with a loud voice; offering me the silver and gold of the earth if I will only bring him to you."⁹ And when Shalamah heard this, he rose up from his throne, and went outside into the vestibule of the court of his palace; and there he saw the demon, shuddering and trembling. And he said to him: "Who are you?" And the demon answered: "I am called Ornias."

¹⁰ And Shalamah said to him: "Tell me, O demon, to what zodiacal sign you are subject." And he answered: "To the Water-pourer. And those who are consumed with desire for the noble virgins upon earth [...], these I strangle. But in case there is no disposition to sleep, I am changed into three forms. Whenever men come to be enamoured of women, I metamorphose myself into a comely female; and I take hold of the men in their sleep, and play with them. And after a while I again take to my wings, and hide me to the heavenly regions. I also appear as a lion, and I am commanded by all the demons. I am offspring of the archangel Awarayaal, the power of Alahayam."¹¹ I Shalamah, having heard the name of the archangel, prayed and glorified Alahayam, the Adanay of heaven and earth. And I sealed the demon and set him to work at stone-cutting, so that he might cut the stones in the Temple, which, lying along the shore, had been brought by the Sea of Irab. But he, fearful of the iron, continued and said to me: "I pray you, King Shalamah, let me go free; and I will bring you all the demons." And as he was not willing to be subject to me, I prayed the archangel Awarayaal to come and succour me; and I forthwith beheld the archangel Awarayaal coming down to me from the heavens.¹² And the angel bade the whales of the sea come out of the abyss. And he cast his destiny upon the ground, and that [destiny] made subject [to him] the great demon. And he commanded the great demon and bold Ornias, to cut stones at the Temple. And accordingly I Shalamah glorified the Alahayam of heaven and Maker of the earth. And he bade Ornias come with his destiny, and gave him the seal, saying: "Away with you, and bring me here the prince of all the demons."¹³ So Ornias took the finger-ring, and went off to Beelzeboul, who has kingship over the demons. He said to him: "Here! Shalamah calls you." But Beelzeboul, having heard, said to him: "Tell me, who is this Shalamah of whom you speak to me?" Then Ornias threw the ring at the chest of Beelzeboul, saying: "Shalamah the king calls you." But Beelzeboul cried aloud with a mighty voice, and shot out a great burning flame of fire; and he arose, and followed Ornias, and came to Shalamah.¹⁴ And when I saw the prince of demons, I glorified the Adanay Alahayam, Maker of heaven and earth, and I said: "Blessed are you, Adanay Al Shaday, who have given to Shalamah your servant wisdom, the assessor of the wise, and have subjected to me all the power of the devil."¹⁵ And I questioned him, and said: "Who are you?" The demon replied: "I am Beelzebub, the exarch of the demons. And all the demons have their chief seats close to me. And I it is who make manifest the apparition of each demon." And he promised to bring to me in bonds all the unclean spirits. And I again glorified the Alahayam of heaven and earth, as I do always give thanks to him.

¹⁶ I then asked of the demon if there were females among them. And when he told me that there were, I said that I desired to see them. So Beelzeboul went off at high speed, and brought to me Onoskelis, that had a very pretty shape, and the skin of a fair-hued woman; and she tossed her head.¹⁷ And when she was come, I said to her: "Tell me who are you?" But she said to me: "I am called Onoskelis, a spirit wrought ...[?shabtai/Saturn?], lurking upon the earth. There is a golden cave where I lie. But I have a place that ever shifts. At one time I strangle men with a noose; at another, I creep up from the nature to the arms [in marg: "worms"]. But my most frequent dwelling-places are the precipices, caves, ravines. Oftentimes, however, do I consort with men in the semblance of a woman, and above all with those of a dark skin. For they share my star with me; since they it is who privily or openly worship my star, without knowing that they harm themselves, and but whet my appetite for further mischief. For they wish to provide money by means of memory (commemoration?), but I supply a little to those who worship me fairly." ¹⁸ And I Shalamah questioned her about her birth, and she replied: "I was born of a voice untimely, the so-called echo of a man's ordure dropped in a wood." ¹⁹ And I said to her: "Under what star do you pass?" And she answered me: "Under the star of the full moon, for the reason that the moon travels over most things." Then I said to her: "And what angel is it that frustrates you?" And she said to me: "He that in you [or 'through you'] is reigning." And I thought that she mocked me, and bade a soldier strike her. But she cried aloud, and said: "I am [subjected] to you, O king, by the wisdom of Alahayam given to you, and by the angel Yawaal." ²⁰ So I commanded her to spin the hemp for the ropes used in the building of the house of Alahayam; and accordingly, when I had sealed and bound her, she was so overcome and brought to naught as to stand night and day spinning the hemp. ²¹ And I at once bade another demon to be led to me; and instantly there approached me the demon Asmodeus, bound, and I asked him: "Who are you?" But he shot on me a glance of anger and rage, and said: "And who are you?" And I said to him: "Thus punished as you are, answer you me?" But he, with rage, said to me: "But how shall I answer you, for you are a son of man; whereas I was born an angel's seed by a daughter of man, so that no word of our heavenly kind addressed to the earth-born can be overweening. Therefore also my star is bright in heaven, and men call it, some the Wain, and some the dragon's child. I keep near to this star. So ask me not many things; for your kingdom also after a little time is to be disrupted, and your glory is but for a season. And short will be your tyranny over us; and then we shall again have free range over mankind, so as that they shall revere us as if we were gods, not knowing, men that they are, the names of the angels set over us." ²² And I Shalamah, on hearing this, bound him more carefully, and ordered him to be flogged with thongs of ox-hide, and to tell me humbly what was his name and what his business. And he answered me thus: "I am called Asmodeus among mortals, and my business is to plot against the newly wedded, so that they may not know one another. And I sever them utterly by many calamities, and I waste away the beauty of virgin women, and estrange their hearts." ²³ And I said to him: "Is this your only business?" And he answered me: "I transport men into fits of madness and desire, when they have wives of their own, so that they leave them, and go off by night and day to others that belong to other men; with the result that they commit sin, and fall into murderous deeds." ²⁴ And I adjured him by the name of the Adanay Sabaôth, saying: "Fear Alahayam, Asmodeus, and tell me by what angel you are frustrated." But he said: "By Raphael, the archangel that stands before the throne of Alahayam. But the liver and gall of a fish put me to flight, when smoked over ashes of the tamarisk." I again asked him, and said: "Hide not aught from me. For I am Shalamah, son of Dawad, King of Yasharaal. Tell me the name of the fish which you revere." And he answered: "It is the Glanos by name, and is found in the rivers of Ashawar; therefore it is that I roam about in those parts." ²⁵ And I said to him: "Have you nothing else about you, Asmodeus?" And he answered: "The power of Alahayam knows, which has bound me with the indissoluble bonds of yonder one's seal, that whatever I have told you is true. I pray you, King Shalamah, condemn me not to [go into] water." But I smiled, and said to him: "As the Adanay Alahayam of my fathers lives, I will lay iron on you to wear. But you shall also make the clay for the entire construction of the Temple, treading it down with your feet." And I ordered them to give him ten water-jars to carry water in. And the demon groaned terribly, and did the work I ordered him to do. And this I did, because that fierce demon Asmodeus knew even the future. And I Shalamah glorified Alahayam, who gave wisdom to me Shalamah his servant. And the liver of the fish and its gall I hung on the spike of a reed, and burned it over Asmodeus because of his being so strong, and his unbearable malice was thus frustrated. ²⁶ And I summoned again to stand before me Beelzeboul, the prince of demons, and I sat him down on a raised seat of honour, and said to him: "Why are you alone, prince of the demons?" And he said to me: "Because I alone am left of the angels of heaven that came down. For I was first angel in the first heaven being entitled Beelzeboul. And now I control all those who are bound in Tartarus. But I too have a child, and he haunts the Sawap. And on any suitable occasion he comes up to me again, being subject to me; and reveals to me what he has done, and I support him." ²⁷ I Shalamah said to him: "Beelzeboul, what is your employment?" And he answered me: "I destroy kings. I ally myself with foreign tyrants. And my own demons I set on to men, in order that the latter may believe in them and be lost. And the chosen servants of Alahayam, priests and faithful men, I excite to desires for wicked sins, and evil heresies, and lawless deeds; and they obey me, and I bear them on to destruction. And I inspire men with envy, and [desire for] murder, and for wars and sodomy, and other evil things. And I will destroy the world." ²⁸ So I said to him: "Bring to me your child, who is, as you say, in the Sawap." But he said to me: "I will not bring him to you. But there shall come to me another demon called Ephippas. Him will I bind, and he will bring him up from the deep to me." And I said to him: "How comes your son to be in the depth of the sea, and what is his name?" And he answered me: "Ask me not, for you can not learn from me. However, he will come to you by any command, and will tell you openly." ²⁹ I said to him: "Tell me by what angel you are frustrated." And he answered: "By the holy and precious name of the Shaday Alahayam, called by the Hebrews by a row of numbers, of which the sum is 644, and among the Greeks it is Emmanuel. And if one of the Romans adjure me by the great name of the power Eleéth, I disappear at once." ³⁰ I Shalamah was astounded when I heard this; and I ordered him to saw up Theban marbles. And when he began to saw the marbles, the other demons cried out with a loud voice, howling because of their king Beelzeboul. ³¹ But I Shalamah questioned him, saying: "If you would gain a respite, discourse to me about the things in heaven." And Beelzeboul said: "Hear, O king, if you burn gum, and incense, and bulb of the sea, with nard and saffron, and light seven lamps in an earthquake, you will firmly fix your house. And if, being pure, you light them at dawn in the sun alight, then will you see the heavenly dragons, how they wind themselves along and drag the chariot of the sun." ³² And I Shalamah, having heard this, rebuked him, and said: "Silence for this present, and continue to saw the marbles as I commanded you." And I Shalamah praised Alahayam, and commanded another demon to present himself to me. And one came before me who carried his face high up in the air, but the rest of the spirit curled away like a snail. And it broke through the few soldiers, and raised also a terrible dust on the ground, and carried it upwards; and then again hurled it back to frighten us, and asked what questions I could ask as a rule. And I stood up, and spat on the ground in that spot, and sealed with the ring of Alahayam. And forthwith the dust-wind stopped. Then I asked him, saying: "Who are you, O wind?" Then he once more shook up a dust, and answered me: "What would you have, King Shalamah?" I answered him: "Tell me what you are called, and I would fain ask you a question. But so far I give thanks to Alahayam who has made me wise to answer their evil plots." ³³ But [the demon] answered me: "I am the spirit of the ashes (Tephros)." And I said to him: "What is your pursuit?" And he said: "I bring darkness on men, and set fire to fields; and I bring homesteads to naught. But most busy am I in summer. However, when I get an opportunity, I creep into corners of the wall, by night and day. For I am offspring of the great one, and nothing less." Accordingly I said to him: "Under what star do you lie?" And he answered: "In the very tip of the moon's horn, when it is found in the south. There is my star. For I have been bidden to restrain the convulsions of the hemiterian fever; and this is why many men pray to the hemiterian fever, using these three names: Bultala, Thallal, Melchal. And I heal them." And I said to him: "I am Shalamah; when therefore you would do harm, by whose aid do you do it?" But he said to me: "By the angel's, by whom also the third day's fever is lulled to rest." So I questioned him, and said: "And by what name?" And he answered:

"That of the archangel Azazel." And I summoned the archangel Azazel, and set a seal on the demon, and commanded him to seize great stones, and toss them up to the workmen on the higher parts of the Temple. And, being compelled, the demon began to do what he was bidden to do.³⁴ And I glorified Alahayam afresh who gave me this authority, and ordered another demon to come before me. And there came seven spirits, females, bound and woven together, fair in appearance and comely. And I Shalamah, seeing them, questioned them and said: "Who are you?" But they, with one accord, said with one voice: "We are of the thirty-three elements of the cosmic ruler of the darkness." And the first said: "I am Deception." The second said: "I am Strife." The third: "I am Klothod, which is battle." The fourth: "I am Jealousy." The fifth: "I am Power." The sixth: "I am Error." The seventh: "I am the worst of all, and our stars are in heaven. Seven stars humble in sheen, and all together. And we are called as it were goddesses. We change our place all and together, and together we live, sometimes in Lawad, sometimes in Olympus, sometimes in a great mountain."³⁵ So I Shalamah questioned them one by one, beginning with the first, and going down to the seventh. The first said: "I am Deception, I deceive and weave snares here and there. I whet and excite heresies. But I have an angel who frustrates me, Lamechalal."³⁶ Likewise also the second said: "I am Strife, strife of strifes. I bring timbers, stones, hangers, my weapons on the spot. But I have an angel who frustrates me, Baruchiachel."³⁷ Likewise also the third said: "I am called Klothod, which is Battle, and I cause the well-behaved to scatter and fall foul one of the other. And why do I say so much? I have an angel that frustrates me: "Marmarath."³⁸ Likewise also the fourth said: "I cause men to forget their sobriety and moderation. I part them and split them into parties; for Strife follows me hand in hand. I rend the husband from the sharer of his bed, and children from parents, and brothers from sisters. But why tell so much to my despoite? I have an angel that frustrates me, the great Balthial."³⁹ Likewise also the fifth said: "I am Power. By power I raise up tyrants and tear down kings. To all rebels I furnish power. I have an angel that frustrates me, Asteraôth."⁴⁰ Likewise also the sixth said: "I am Error, O King Shalamah. And I will make you to err, as I have before made you to err, when I caused you to slay your own brother. I will lead you into error, so as to pry into graves; and I teach them that dig, and I lead errant souls away from all piety, and many other evil traits are mine. But I have an angel that frustrates me, Awarayaal."⁴¹ Likewise also the seventh said: "I am the worst, and I make you worse off than you were; because I will impose the bonds of Artemis. But the locust will set me free, for by means thereof is it fated that you shall achieve my desire [...]. For if one were wise, he would not turn his steps toward me."⁴² So I Shalamah, having heard and wondered, sealed them with my ring; and since they were so considerable, I bade them dig the foundations of the Temple of Alahayam. For the length of it was 250 cubits. And I bade them be industrious, and with one murmur of joint protest they began to perform the tasks enjoined.⁴³ But I Shalamah glorified the Adanay, and bade another demon come before me. And there was brought to me a demon having all the limbs of a man, but without a head. And I, seeing him, said to him: "Tell me, who are you?" And he answered: "I am a demon." So I said to him: "Which?" And he answered me: "I am called Envy. For I delight to devour heads, being desirous to secure for myself a head; but I do not eat enough, but am anxious to have such a head as you have."⁴⁴ I Shalamah, on hearing this, sealed him, stretching out my hand against his chest. Whereon the demon leapt up, and threw himself down, and gave a groan, saying: "Woe is me! where am I come to? O traitor Ornias, I cannot see!" So I said to him: "I am Shalamah. Tell me then how you do manage to see." And he answered me: "By means of my feelings." I then, Shalamah, having heard his voice come up to me, asked him how he managed to speak. And he answered me: "I, O King Shalamah, am wholly voice, for I have inherited the voices of many men. For in the case of all men who are called dumb, I it is who smashed their heads, when they were children and had reached their eighth day. Then when a child is crying in the night, I become a spirit, and glide by means of his voice [...]. In the crossways also I have many services to render, and my encounter is fraught with harm. For I grasp in all instant a man's head, and with my hands, as with a sword, I cut it off, and put it on to myself. And in this way, by means of the fire which is in me, through my neck it is swallowed up. I it is that sends grave mutilations and incurable on men's feet, and inflict sores."⁴⁵ And I Shalamah, on hearing this, said to him: "Tell me how you do discharge forth the fire? Out of what sources do you emit it?" And the spirit said to me: "From the Day-star. For here has not yet been found that Elburion, to whom men offer prayers and kindle lights. And his name is invoked by the seven demons before me. And he cherishes them."⁴⁶ But I said to him: "Tell me his name." But he answered: "I cannot tell you. For if I tell his name, I render myself incurable. But he will come in response to his name." And on hearing this, I Shalamah said to him: "Tell me then, by what angel you are frustrated?" And he answered: "By the fiery flash of lightning." And I bowed myself before the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, and bade him remain in the keeping of Beelzeboul until Iax should come.⁴⁷ Then I ordered another demon to come before me, and there came into my presence a hound, having a very large shape, and it spoke with a loud voice, and said, "Hail, Adanay, King Shalamah!" And I Shalamah was astounded. I said to it: Who are you, O hound?" And it answered: "I do indeed seem to you to be a hound, but before you were, O King Shalamah, I was a man that wrought many unholy deeds on earth. I was surpassingly learned in letters, and was so mighty that I could hold the stars of heaven back. And many divine works did I prepare. For I do harm to men who follow after our star, and turn them to [...]. And I seize the frenzied men by the larynx, and so destroy them."⁴⁸ And I Shalamah said to him: "What is your name?" And he answered: "Staff" (Rabdos). And I said to him: "What is your employment? And what results can you achieve?" And he replied: "Give me your man, and I will lead him away into a mountainous spot, and will show him a green stone tossed to and fro, with which you may adorn the temple of the Adanay Alahayam."⁴⁹ And I Shalamah, on hearing this, ordered my servant to set off with him, and to take the finger-ring bearing the seal of Alahayam with him. And I said to him: "Whoever shall show you the green stone, seal him with this finger-ring. And mark the spot with care, and bring me the demon here. And the demon showed him the green stone, and he sealed it, and brought the demon to me. And I Shalamah decided to confine with my seal on my right hand the two, the headless demon, likewise the hound, that was so huge; he should be bound as well. And I bade the hound keep safe the fiery spirit so that lamps as it were might by day and night cast their light through its maw on the artisans at work.⁵⁰ And I Shalamah took from the mine of that stone 200 shekels for the supports of the table of incense, which was similar in appearance. And I Shalamah glorified the Adanay Alahayam, and then closed round the treasure of that stone. And I ordered afresh the demons to cut marble for the construction of the house of Alahayam. And I Shalamah prayed to the Adanay, and asked the hound, saying: "By what angel are you frustrated?" And the demon replied: "By the great Brieus."⁵¹ And I praised the Adanay Alahayam of heaven and earth, and bade another demon come forward to me; and there came before me one in the form of a lion roaring. And he stood and answered me saying: "O king, in the form which I have, I am a spirit quite incapable of being perceived. Upon all men who lie prostrate with sickness I leap, coming stealthily along; and I render the man weak, so that his habit of body is enfeebled. But I have also another glory, O king. I cast out demons, and I have legions under my control. And I am capable of being received in my dwelling-places, along with all the demons belonging to the legions under me." But I Shalamah, on hearing this, asked him: "What is your name?" But he answered: "Lionbearer, Rath in kind." And I said to him: "How are you to be frustrated along with your legions? What angel is it that frustrates you?" And he answered: "If I tell you my name, I bind not myself alone, but also the legions of demons under me."⁵² So I said to him: "I adjure you in the name of the Alahayam Sabaoth, to tell me by what name you are frustrated along with your host." And the spirit answered me: "The 'great among men,' who is to suffer many things at the hands of men, whose name is the figure 644, which is Emmanuel; he it is who has bound us, and who will then come and plunge us from the steep under water. He is noised abroad in the three letters which bring him down."⁵³ And I Shalamah, on hearing this, glorified Alahayam, and condemned his legion to carry wood from the thicket. And I condemned the lion-shaped one himself to saw up the wood small with his teeth, for burning in the unquenchable furnace for the Temple of Alahayam.⁵⁴ And I worshipped the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, and bade another demon come forward. And there came before me a dragon, three-headed, of fearful hue. And I questioned him: "Who are you?" And he answered me: "I am a caltrop-like spirit, whose activity in three lines. But I blind children in women's wombs, and twirl their ears round. And I make them deaf and mute. And I have again in my third head means of slipping in. And I smite men in the limbless part of the body, and cause them to fall down, and foam, and grind their teeth. But I have my own way of being frustrated, Yarawashalam being signified in writing, to the place called 'of the head.'" For there is fore-appointed the angel of the great counsel, and now he will openly dwell on the cross. He does frustrate me, and to him am I subject."⁵⁵ But in the place where you sit, O King Shalamah, stands a column in the air, of purple... The demon called Ephippas has brought [it] up from the Sawap, from inner Irab. He it is that shall be shut up in a skin-bottle and brought before you. But at the entrance of the Temple, which you have begun to build, O King Shalamah, lies stored much gold, which dig you up and carry off." And I Shalamah sent my servant, and found it to be as the demon told me. And I sealed him with my ring, and praised the Adanay Alahayam."⁵⁶ So I said to him: "What are you called?" And the demon said: "I am the crest of dragons." And I bade him make bricks in the Temple. He had human hands.⁵⁷ And I adored the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, and bade another demon present himself. And there came before me a spirit in woman's form, that had a head without any limbs, and her hair was dishevelled. And I said to her: "Who are you?" But she answered: "Nay, who are you? And why do you want to hear concerning me? But, as you would learn, here I stand bound before your face. Go then into your royal storehouses and wash your hands. Then sit down afresh before your tribunal, and ask me questions; and you shall learn, O king, who I am."⁵⁸ And I Shalamah did as she enjoined me, and restrained myself because of the wisdom dwelling in me; in order that I might hear of her deeds, and reprehend them, and manifest them to men. And I sat down, and said to the demon: "What are you?" And she said: "I am called among men Obizuth; and by night I sleep not, but go my rounds over all the world, and visit women in childbirth. And divining the hour I take my stand; and if I am lucky, I strangle the child. But if not, I retire to another place. For I cannot for a single night retire unsuccessful. For I am a fierce spirit, of myriad names and many shapes. And now here, now there I roam. And to westerling parts I go my rounds. But as it now is, though you have sealed me round with the ring of Alahayam, you have done nothing. I am not standing before you, and you will not be able to command me. For I have no work other than the destruction of children, and the making their ears to be deaf, and the working of evil to their eyes, and the binding their mouths with a bond, and the ruin of their minds, and paining of their bodies."⁵⁹ When I Shalamah heard this, I marvelled at her appearance, for I beheld all her body to be in darkness. But her glance was altogether bright and greeny, and her hair was tossed wildly like a dragon's; and the whole of her limbs were invisible. And her voice was very clear as it came to me. And I cunningly said: "Tell me by what angel you are frustrated, O evil spirit?" By she answered me: "By the angel of Alahayam called Afarôt, which is interpreted Raphael, by whom I am frustrated now and for all time. His name, if any man know it, and write the same on a woman in childbirth, then I shall not be able to enter her. Of this name the number is 640." And I

Shalamah having heard this, and having glorified the Adanay, ordered her hair to be bound, and that she should be hung up in front of the Temple of Alahayam; that all the children of Yasharaal, as they passed, might see it, and glorify the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, who had given me this authority, with wisdom and power from Alahayam, by means of this signet.⁶⁰ And I again ordered another demon to come before me. And the came, rolling itself along, one in appearance like to a dragon, but having the face and hands of a man. And all its limbs, except the feet, were those of a dragon; and it had wings on its back. And when I beheld it, I was astonished, and said: "Who are you, demon, and what are you called? And whence have you come? Tell me."⁶¹ And the spirit answered and said: "This is the first time I have stood before the, O King Shalamah. I am a spirit made into a god among men, but now brought to naught by the ring and wisdom vouchsafed to you by Alahayam. Now I am the so-called winged dragon, and I chamber not with many women, but only with a few that are of fair shape, which possess the name of xuli, of this star. And I pair with them in the guise of a spirit winged in form, coitum habens per nates. And she on whom I have leapt goes heavy with child, and that which is born of her becomes eros. But since such offspring cannot be carried by men, the woman in question breaks wind. Such is my role. Supposed then only that I am satisfied, and all the other demons molested and disturbed by you will speak the whole truth. But those composed of fire will cause to be burned up by fire the material of the logs which is to be collected by them for the building in the Temple."⁶² And as the demon said this, I saw the spirit going forth from his mouth, and it consumed the wood of the frankincense-tree, and burned up all the logs which we had placed in the Temple of Alahayam. And I Shalamah saw what the spirit had done, and I marvelled.⁶³ And, having glorified Alahayam, I asked the dragon-shaped demon, and said: "Tell me, by what angel are you frustrated?" And he answered: "By the great angel which has its seat in the second heaven, which is called in Hebrew Bazazeth. And I Shalamah, having heard this, and having invoked his angel, condemned him to saw up marbles for the building of the Temple of Alahayam; and I praised Alahayam, and commanded another demon to come before me."⁶⁴ And there came before my face another spirit, as it were a woman in the form she had. But on her shoulders she had two other heads with hands. And I asked her, and said: "Tell me, who are you?" And she said to me: "I am Enêpsigos, who also have a myriad names." And I said her: "By what angel are you frustrated?" But she said to me: "What seek, what ask you? I undergo changes, like the goddess I am called. And I change again, and pass into possession of another shape. And be not desirous therefore to know all that concerns me. But since you are before me for this much, hearken. I have my abode in the moon, and for that reason I possess three forms. At times I am magically invoked by the wise as Kronos. At other times, in connexion with those who bring me down, I come down and appear in another shape. The measure of the element is inexplicable and indefinable, and not to be frustrated. I then, changing into these three forms, come down and become such as you see me; but I am frustrated by the angel Rathanael, who sits in the third heaven. This then is why I speak to you. Yonder temple cannot contain me."⁶⁵ I therefore Shalamah prayed to my Alahayam, and I invoked the angel of whom Enêpsigos spoke to me, and used my seal. And I sealed her with a triple chain, and (placed) beneath her the fastening of the chain. I used the seal of Alahayam, and the spirit prophesied to me, saying: "This is what you, King Shalamah, do to us. But after a time your kingdom shall be broken, and again in season this Temple shall be riven asunder; and all Yarawashalam shall be undone by the King of the Paras and Maday and Chaldaeans. And the vessels of this Temple, which you make, shall be put to servile uses of the gods; and along with them all the jars, in which you do shut us up, shall be broken by the hands of men. And then we shall go forth in great power here and there, and be disseminated all over the world. And we shall lead astray the inhabited world for a long season, until the Son of Alahayam is stretched upon the cross. For never before does arise a king like to him, one frustrating us all, whose mother shall not have contact with man. Who else can receive such authority over spirits, except he, whom the first devil will seek to tempt, but will not prevail over? The number of his name is 644, which is Emmanuel. Therefore, O King Shalamah, your time is evil, and your years short and evil, and to your servant shall your kingdom be given."⁶⁶ And I Shalamah, having heard this, glorified Alahayam. And though I marvelled at the apology of the demons, I did not credit it until it came true. And I did not believe their words; but when they were realized, then I understood, and at my death I wrote this Testament to the children of Yasharaal, and gave it to them, so that they might know the powers of the demons and their shapes, and the names of their angels, by which these angels are frustrated. And I glorified the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, and commanded the spirits to be bound with bonds indissoluble.⁶⁷ And having praised Alahayam, I commanded another spirit to come before me; and there came before my face another demon, having in front the shape of a horse, but behind of a fish. And he had a mighty voice, and said to me: "O King Shalamah, I am a fierce spirit of the sea, and I am greedy of gold and silver. I am such a spirit as rounds itself and comes over the expanses of the water of the sea, and I trip up the men who sail thereon. For I round myself into a wave, and transform myself, and then throw myself on ships and come right in on them. And that is my business, and my way of getting hold of money and men. For I take the men, and whirl them round with myself, and hurl the men out of the sea. For I am not covetous of men's bodies, but cast them up out of the sea so far. But since Beelzeboul, ruler of the spirits of air and of those under the earth, and lord of earthly ones, has a joint kingship with us in respect of the deeds of each one of us, therefore I went up from the sea, to get a certain outlook in his company."⁶⁸ "But I also have another character and role. I metamorphose myself into waves, and come up from the sea. And I show myself to men, so that those on earth call me Kuno[s]paston, because I assume the human form. And my name is a true one. For by my passage up into men, I send forth a certain nausea. I came then to take counsel with the prince Beelzeboul; and he bound me and delivered me into your hands. And I am here before you because of this seal, and you do now torment me. Behold now, in two or three days the spirit that converses with you will fail, because I shall have no water."⁶⁹ And I said to him: "Tell me by what angel you are frustrated." And he answered: "By Iameth." And I glorified Alahayam. I commanded the spirit to be thrown into a phial along with ten jugs of sea-water of two measures each. And I sealed them round above the marbles and asphalt and pitch in the mouth of the vessel. And having sealed it with my ring, I ordered it to be deposited in the Temple of Alahayam. And I ordered another spirit to come before me.⁷⁰ And there came before my face another enslaved spirit, having obscurely the form of a man, with gleaming eyes, and bearing in his hand a blade. And I asked: "Who are you? But he answered: "I am a lascivious spirit, engendered of a giant man who dies in the massacre in the time of the giants." I said to him: "Tell me what you are employed on upon earth, and where you have your dwelling."⁷¹ And he said: "My dwelling is in fruitful places, but my procedure is this. I seat myself beside the men who pass along among the tombs, and in untimely season I assume the form of the dead; and if I catch any one, I at once destroy him with my sword. But if I cannot destroy him, I cause him to be possessed with a demon, and to devour his own flesh, and the hair to fall off his chin." But I said to him: "Do you then be in fear of the Alahayam of heaven and of earth, and tell me by angel you are frustrated." And he answered: "He destroys me who is to become Saviour, a man whose number, if any one shall write it on his forehead, he will defeat me, and in fear I shall quickly retreat. And, indeed, if any one write this sign on him, I shall be in fear." And I Shalamah, on hearing this, and having glorified the Adanay Alahayam, shut up this demon like the rest.⁷² And I commanded another demon to come before me. And there came before my face thirty-six spirits, their heads shapeless like dogs, but in themselves they were human in form; with faces of asses, faces of oxen, and faces of birds. And I Shalamah, on hearing and seeing them, wondered, and I asked them and said: "Who are you?" But they, of one accord with one voice, said: "We are the thirty-six elements, the world-rulers of this darkness. But, O King Shalamah, you will not wrong us nor imprison us, nor lay command on us; but since the Adanay Alahayam has given you authority over every spirit, in the air, and on the earth, and under the earth, therefore do we also present ourselves before you like the other spirits, from ram and bull, from both twin and crab, lion and virgin, scales and scorpion, archer, goat-horned, waterpouner, and fish."⁷³ Then I Shalamah invoked the name of the Adanay Sabaoth, and questioned each in turn as to what was its character. And I bade each one come forward and tell of its actions. Then the first one came forward, and said: "I am the first decans of the zodiacal circle, and I am called the ram, and with me are these two." So I put to them the question: "Who are you called?" The first said: "I, O Adanay, am called Ruax, and I cause the heads of men to be idle, and I pillage their brows. But let me only hear the words, 'Mayakaal, imprison Ruax,' and at once I retreat."⁷⁴ And the second said: "I am called Barsafael, and I cause those who are subject to my hour to feel the pain of migraine. If only I hear the words, 'Gabarayaal, imprison Barsafael,' at once I retreat."⁷⁵ The third said: "I am called Arôtosael. I do harm to eyes, and grievously injure them. Only let me hear the words, 'Awarayaal, imprison Aratosael' (sic), at once I retreat..."⁷⁶ The fifth said: "I am called Iudal, and I bring about a block in the ears and deafness of hearing. If I hear, 'UrueI Iudal,' I at once retreat."⁷⁷ The sixth said: "I am called Sphendonaêl. I cause tumours of the parotid gland, and inflammations of the tonsils, and tetanic recurvation. If I hear, 'Sabrael, imprison Sphendonaêl,' at once I retreat."⁷⁸ And the Seventh said: "I am called Sphandôr, and I weaken the strength of the shoulders, and cause them to tremble; and I paralyze the nerves of the hands, and I break and bruise the bones of the neck. And I, I suck out the marrow. But if I hear the words, 'Araaêl, imprison Sphandôr,' I at once retreat."⁷⁹ And the eighth said: "I am called Belbel. I distort the hearts and minds of men. If I hear the words, 'Araaêl, imprison Belbel,' I at once retreat."⁸⁰ And the ninth said: "I am called Kurtaêl. I send colics in the bowels. I induce pains. If I hear the words, 'Iaôth, imprison Kurtaêl,' I at once retreat."⁸¹ The tenth said: "I am called Metathiax. I cause the reins to ache. If I hear the words, 'Adônaêl, imprison Metathiax,' I at once retreat."⁸² The eleventh said: "I am called Katanikotaêl. I create strife and wrongs in men's homes, and send on them hard temper. If any one would be at peace in his home, let him write on seven leaves of laurel the name of the angel that frustrates me, along with these names: Iae, Ieô, sons of Sabaôth, in the name of the great Alahayam let him shut up Katanikotaêl. Then let him wash the laurel-leaves in water, and sprinkle his house with the water, from within to the outside. And at once I retreat."⁸³ The twelfth said: "I am called Saphathoraêl, and I inspire partisanship in men, and delight in causing them to stumble. If any one will write on paper these names of angels, Iacô, Iealô, Iôelet, Sabaôth, Ithoth, Bae, and having folded it up, wear it round his neck or against his ear, I at once retreat and dissipate the drunken fit."⁸⁴ The thirteenth said: "I am called Bobêl (sic), and I cause nervous illness by my assaults. If I hear the name of the great 'Adonaêl, imprison Bothothêl,' I at once retreat."⁸⁵ The fourteenth said: "I am called Kumeatêl, and I inflict shivering fits and torpor. If only I hear the words: 'Zôrôêl, imprison Kumentaêl,' I at once retreat."⁸⁶ The fifteenth said: "I am called Roêlêd. I cause cold and frost and pain in the stomach. Let me only hear the words: 'Iax, bide not, be not warmed, for Shalamah is fairer than eleven fathers,' I at [once] retreat."⁸⁷ The sixteenth said: "I am called Atrax. I inflict upon men fevers, irremediable and harmful. If you would imprison me, chop up coriander and smear it on the lips, reciting the following charm: 'The fever which is from dirt. I exorcise you by the throne of the most high Alahayam, retreat from dirt and retreat from the creature fashioned by Alahayam.' And at once I retreat."⁸⁸ The seventeenth said: "I am called Ieropaêl. On the stomach of men I sit, and cause convulsions in the bath and in the road; and wherever I be found, or find a man, I throw him down. But if any one will say to the afflicted into their ear these names, three times over, into the right ear: 'Iudarizê, Sabunê, Denôê,' I at once retreat."⁸⁹ The eighteenth said: "I am called Buldumêch. I separate wife from husband and bring about a grudge between them. If any one write down the names of your sires, Shalamah, on paper and place it in the antechamber of his house, I retreat thence. And the legend written shall be as follows: 'The Alahayam of Abaram, and the Alahayam of Yatzachaq, and the Alahayam of Yaiqab commands you -- retire from this house in peace.' And I at once retire."⁹⁰ The nineteenth said: "I am called Naôth, and I take my seat on the knees of men. If any one write on paper: 'Phnunoboêol, depart Nathath, and touch you not the neck,' I at once retreat."⁹¹ The twentieth said: "I am called Marderô. I send on men incurable fever. If any one write on the leaf of a book: 'Sphênêr, Rafael, retire, drag me not about, flay me not,' and tie it round his neck, I at once retreat."⁹² The twenty-first said: "I am called Alath, and I cause coughing and hard-breathing in children. If any one write on paper: 'Rorêx, do you pursue Alath,' and fasten it round his neck, I at once retire..."⁹³ The twenty-third said: "I am called Nefthada. I cause the reins to ache, and I bring about dysury. If any one write on a plate of tin the words: 'Iathôth, Uruêl, Nephthada,' and fasten it round the loins, I at once retreat."⁹⁴ The twenty-fourth said: "I am called Akton. I cause ribs and lumbic muscles to ache. If one engrave on copper material, taken from a ship which has missed its anchorage, this: 'Marmaraôth, Sabaôth, pursue Akton,' and fasten it round the loin, I at once retreat."⁹⁵ The twenty-fifth said: "I am called Anatreth, and I rend burnings and fevers into the entrails. But if I hear: 'Arara, Charara,' instantly do I retreat."⁹⁶ The twenty-sixth said: "I am called Enenuth. I steal away men's minds, and change their hearts, and make a man toothless (?). If one write: 'Allazoôl, pursue Enenuth,' and tie the paper round him, I at once retreat."⁹⁷ The twenty-seventh said: "I am called Phêth. I make men consumptive and cause hemorrhagia. If one exorcise me in wine, sweet-smelling and unmixed by the eleventh aeon, and say: 'I exorcise you by the eleventh aeon to stop, I demand, Phêth (Axiôphêth),' then give it to the patient to drink, and I at once retreat."⁹⁸ The twenty-ninth said: "I am called Anostêr. I engender uterine mania and pains in the bladder. If one powder into pure oil three seeds of laurel and smear it on, saying: 'I exorcise you, Anostêr. Stop by Marmaraô,' at once I retreat."¹⁰⁰ The thirtieth said: "I am called Alleborith. If in eating fish one has swallowed a bone, then he must take a bone from the fish and cough, and at once I retreat."¹⁰¹ The thirty-first said: "I am called Hephesimireth, and cause lingering disease. If you throw salt, rubbed in the hand, into oil and smear it on the patient, saying: 'Seraphim, Cherubim, help me!' I at once retire."¹⁰² The thirty-second said: "I am called Ichthion. I paralyze muscles and contuse them. If I hear 'Adonaêth, help!' I at once retire."¹⁰³ The thirty-third said: "I am called Agchoniôn. I lie among swaddling-clothes and in the precipice. And if any one write on fig-leaves 'Lycurgos,' taking away one letter at a time, and write it, reversing the letters, I retire at once. 'Lycurgos, ycurgos, kurgos, yrgos, gos, os.'" ¹⁰⁴ The thirty-fourth said: "I am called Autothith. I cause grudges and fighting. Therefore I am frustrated by Alpha and Omega, if written down."¹⁰⁵ The thirty-fifth said: "I am called Phthenoth. I cast evil eye on every man. Therefore, the eye much suffering, if it be drawn, frustrates me."¹⁰⁶ The thirty-sixth said: "I am called Bianakith. I have a grudge against the body. I lay waste houses, I cause flesh to decay, and all else that is similar. If a man write on the front-door of his house: 'Mêltô, Ardu, Anaath,' I flee from that place."¹⁰⁷ And I Shalamah, when I heard this, glorified the Alahayam of heaven and earth. And I commanded them to fetch water in the Temple of Alahayam. And I furthermore prayed to the Adanay Alahayam to cause the demons without, that hamper humanity, to be bound and made to approach the Temple of Alahayam. Some of these demons I condemned to do the heavy work of the construction of the Temple of Alahayam. Others I shut up in prisons. Others I ordered to wrestle with fire in (the making of) gold and silver, sitting down by lead and spoon. And to make ready places for the other demons in which they should be confined."¹⁰⁸ And I Shalamah had much quiet in all the earth, and spent my life in profound peace, honoured by all men and by all under heaven. And I built the entire Temple of the Adanay Alahayam. And my kingdom was prosperous, and my army was with me. And for the rest the city of Yarawashalam had repose, rejoicing and delighted. And all the kings of the earth came to me from the ends of the earth to behold the Temple which I build to the Adanay Alahayam. And having heard of the wisdom given to me, they did homage to me in the Temple, bringing gold and silver and precious stones, many and divers, and bronze, and iron, and lead, and cedar logs. And woods decay not they brought me, for the equipment of the Temple of Alahayam."¹⁰⁹ And among them also the queen of the South, being a witch, came in great concern and bowed low before me to the earth. And having heard my wisdom, she glorified the Alahayam of Yasharaal, and she made formal trial of all my wisdom, of all love in which I instructed her, according to the wisdom imparted to me. And all the sons of Yasharaal glorified Alahayam."¹¹⁰ And behold, in those days one of the workmen, of ripe old age, threw himself down before me, and said: "King Shalamah, pity me, because I am old." So I bade him stand up, and said: "Tell me, old man, all you will." And he answered: "I beseech you king, I have an only-born son, and he insults and beats me openly, and plucks out the hair of my head, and threatens me with a painful death. Therefore I beseech you avenge me."¹¹¹ And I Shalamah, on hearing this, felt compunction as I looked at his old age; and I bade the child be brought to me. And when he was brought I questioned him whether it were true. And the youth said: "I was not so filled with madness as to strike my father with my hand. Be kind to me, O king. For I have not dared to commit such impiety, poor wretch that I am." But I Shalamah on hearing this from the youth, exhorted the old man to reflect on the matter, and accept his son's apology. However, he would not, but said he would rather let him die. And as the old man would not yield, I was about to pronounce sentence on the youth, when I saw Orniat the demon laughing. I was very angry at the demon's laughing in my presence; and I ordered my men to remove the other parties, and bring forward Orniat before my tribunal. And when he was brought before me, I said to him: "Accursed one, why did you look at me and laugh?" And the demon answered: "Prithee, king, it was not because of you I laughed, but because of this ill-starred old man and the wretched youth, his son. For after three days his son will die untimely; and lo, the old man desires to foully make away with him."¹¹² But I Shalamah, having heard this, said to the demon: "Is that true that you speak?" And he answered: "It is true; O king." And I, on hearing that, bade them remove the demon, and that they should again bring before me the old man with his son. I bade them make friends with one another again, and I supplied them with food. And then I told the old man after three days to bring his son again to me here; "and," said I, "I will attend to him." And they saluted me, and went their way."¹¹³ And when they were gone I ordered Orniat to be brought forward, and said to him: "Tell me how you know this;" and he answered: "We demons ascend into the firmament of heaven, and fly about among the stars. And we hear the sentences which go forth upon the souls of men, and forthwith we come, and whether by force of influence, or by fire, or by sword, or by some accident, we veil our act of destruction; and if a man does not die by some untimely disaster or by violence, then we demons transform ourselves in such a way as to appear to men and be worshipped in our human nature."¹¹⁴ I therefore, having heard this, glorified the Adanay Alahayam, and again I questioned the demon, saying: "Tell me how you can ascend into heaven, being demons, and amidst the stars and holy angels intermingle." And he answered: "Just as things are fulfilled in heaven, so also on earth (are fulfilled) the types of all of them. For there are principalities, authorities, world-rulers, and we demons fly about in the air; and we hear the voices of the heavenly beings, and survey all the powers. And as having no ground (basis) on which to alight and rest, we lose strength and fall off like leaves from trees.

And men seeing us imagine that the stars are falling from heaven. But it is not really so, O king; but we fall because of our weakness, and because we have nowhere anything to lay hold of; and so we fall down like lightnings in the depth of night and suddenly. And we set cities in flames and fire the fields. For the stars have firm foundations in the heavens like the sun and the moon."¹¹⁵ And I Shalamah, having heard this, ordered the demon to be guarded for five days. And after the five days I recalled the old man, and was about to question him. But he came to me in grief and with black face. And I said to him: "Tell me, old man, where is your son? And what means this garb?" And he answered: "Lo, I am become childless, and sit by my son's grave in despair. For it is already two days that he is dead." But I Shalamah, on hearing that, and knowing that the demon Orniar had told me the truth, glorified the Alahayam of Yasharaal.¹¹⁶ And the queen of the South saw all this, and marvelled, glorifying the Alahayam of Yasharaal; and she beheld the Temple of the Adanay being builded. And she gave a siklos of gold and one hundred myriads of silver and choice bronze, and she went into the Temple. And (she beheld) the altar of incense and the brazen supports of this altar, and the gems of the lamps flashing forth of different colours, and of the lampstand of stone, and of emerald, and hyacinth, and sapphire; and she beheld the vessels of gold, and silver, and bronze, and wood, and the folds of skins dyed red with madder. And she saw the bases of the pillars of the Temple of the Adanay. All were of one gold ... apart from the demons whom I condemned to labour. And there was peace in the circle of my kingdom and over all the earth."¹¹⁷ And it came to pass, which I was in my kingdom, the King of the Arabians, Adares, sent me a letter, and the writing of the letter was written as follows: "To King Shalamah, all hail! Lo, we have heard, and it has been heard to all the ends of the earth, concerning the wisdom vouchsafed in you, and that you are a man merciful from the Adanay. And understanding has been granted you over all the spirits of the air, and on earth, and under the earth. Now, forasmuch as there is present in the land of Irab a spirit of the following kind: at early dawn there begins to blow a certain wind until the third hour. And its blast is harsh and terrible, and it slays man and beast. And no spirit can live upon earth against this demon. I pray you then, forasmuch as the spirit is a wind, contrive something according to the wisdom given in you by the Adanay your Alahayam, and deign to send a man able to capture it. And behold, King Shalamah, I and my people and all my land will serve you to death. And all Irab shall be at peace with you, if you will perform this act of righteousness for us. Therefore we pray you, condemn not our humble prayer, and suffer not to be utterly brought to naught the eparchy subordinated to your authority. Because we are suppliants, both I and my people and all my land. Farewell to my Adanay. All health!"¹¹⁸ And I Shalamah read this epistle; and I folded it up and gave it to my people, and said to them: "After seven days shall you remind me of this epistle. And Yarawashalam was built, and the Temple was being completed. And there was a stone, the end stone of the corner lying there, great, chosen out, one which I desired lay in the head of the corner of the completion of the Temple. And all the workmen, and all the demons helping them came to the same place to bring up the stone and lay it on the pinnacle of the holy Temple, and were not strong enough to stir it, and lay it upon the corner allotted to it. For that stone was exceedingly great and useful for the corner of the Temple."¹¹⁹ And after seven days, being reminded of the epistle of Adares, King of Irab, I called my servant and said to him: "Order your camel and take for yourself a leather flask, and take also this seal. And go away into Irab to the place in which the evil spirit blows; and there take the flask, and the signet-ring in front of the mouth of the flask, and (hold them) towards the blast of the spirit. And when the flask is blown out, you will understand that the demon is (in it). Then hastily tie up the mouth of to flask, and seal it securely with the seal-ring, and lay it carefully on the camel and bring it me here. And if on the way it offer you gold or silver or treasure in return for letting it go, see that you be not persuaded. But arrange without using oath to release it.

And then if it point out to the places where are gold or silver, mark the places and seal them with this seal. And bring the demon to me. And now depart, and fare you well."¹²⁰ Then the youth did as was bidden him. And he ordered his camel, and laid on it a flask, and set off into Irab. And the men of that region would not believe that he would be able to catch the evil spirit. And when it was dawn, the servant stood before the spirit's blast, and laid the flask on the ground, and the finger-ring on the mouth of the flask. And the demon blew through the middle of the finger-ring into the mouth of the flask, and going in blew out the flask. But the man promptly stood up to it and drew tight with his hand the mouth of the flask, in the name of the Adanay Alahayam of Sabaôth. And the demon remained within the flask. And after that the youth remained in that land three days to make trial. And the spirit no longer blew against that city. And all the Arabs knew that he had safely shut in the spirit.¹²¹ Then the youth fastened the flask on the camel, and the Arabs sent him forth on his way with much honour and precious gifts, praising and magnifying the Alahayam of Yasharaal. But the youth brought in the bag and laid it in the middle of the Temple. And on the next day, I King Shalamah, went into the Temple of Alahayam and sat in deep distress about the stone of the end of the corner. And when I entered the Temple, the flask stood up and walked around some seven steps and then fell on its mouth and did homage to me. And I marvelled that even along with the bottle the demon still had power and could walk about; and I commanded it to stand up. And the flask stood up, and stood on its feet all blown out. And I questioned him, saying: "Tell me, who are you?" And the spirit within said: "I am the demon called Ephippas, that is in Irab." And I said to him: "Is this your name?" And he answered: "Yes; wheresoever I will, I alight and set fire and do to death."¹²² And I said to him: "By what angel are you frustrated?" And he answered: "By the only-ruling Alahayam, that has authority over me even to be heard. He that is to be born of a virgin and crucified by the Jews on a cross. Whom the angels and archangels worship. He does frustrate me, and enfeeble me of my great strength, which has been given me by my father the devil." And I said to him: "What can you do?" And he answered: "I am able to remove mountains, to overthrow the oaths of kings. I wither trees and make their leaves to fall off." And I said to him: "Can you raise this stone, and lay it for the beginning of this corner which exists in the fair plan of the Temple?" And he said: "Not only raise this, O king; but also, with the help of the demon who presides over the Sawap, I will bring up the pillar of air, and will stand it where you will in Yarawashalam."¹²³ Saying this, I laid stress on him, and the flask became as if depleted of air. And I placed it under the stone, and (the spirit) girded himself up, and lifted it up top of the flask. And the flask went up the steps, carrying the stone, and laid it down at the end of the entrance of the Temple. And I Shalamah, beholding the stone raised aloft and placed on a foundation, said: "Truly the Scripture is fulfilled, which says: 'The stone which the builders rejected on trial, that same is become the head of the corner.' For this it is not mine to grant, but Alahayam's, that the demon should be strong enough to lift up so great a stone and deposit it in the place I wished."¹²⁴ And Ephippas led the demon of the Sawap with the column. And they both took the column and raised it aloft from the earth. And I outwitted these two spirits, so that they could not shake the entire earth in a moment of time. And then I sealed round with my ring on this side and that, and said: "Watch." And the spirits have remained upholding it until this day, for proof of the wisdom vouchsafed to me. And there the pillar was hanging of enormous size, in mid air, supported by the winds. And thus the spirits appeared underneath, like air, supporting it. And if one looks fixedly, the pillar is a little oblique, being supported by the spirits; and it is so to day.¹²⁵ And I Shalamah questioned the other spirit which came up with the pillar from the depth of the Sawap. And I said to him: "Who are you, and what calls you? And what is your business? For I hear many things about you." And the demon answered: "I, O King Shalamah, am called Abezithibod. I am a descendant of the archangel. Once as I sat in the first heaven, of which the name is Ameleouth -- I then am a fierce spirit and winged, and with a single wing, plotting against every spirit under heaven. I was present when Mashah went in before Paraih, king of Matzarayam, and I hardened his heart. I am he whom Iannes and Iambres invoked homing with Mashah in Matzarayam. I am he who fought against Mashah with wonders with signs.¹²⁶ I said therefore to him: "How were you found in the Sawap?" And he answered: "In the exodus of the sons of Yasharaal I hardened the heart of Paraih. And I excited his heart and that of his ministers. And I caused them to pursue after the children of Yasharaal. And Paraih followed with (me) and all the Matzarayam. Then I was present there, and we followed together. And we all came up upon the Sawap. And it came to pass when the children of Yasharaal had crossed over, the water returned and hid all the host of the Matzarayam and all their might. And I remained in the sea, being kept under this pillar. But when Ephippas came, being sent by you, shut up in the vessel of a flask, he fetched me up to you."¹²⁷ I, therefore, Shalamah, having heard this, glorified Alahayam and adjured the demons not to disobey me, but to remain supporting the pillar. And they both swore, saying: "The Adanay your Alahayam lives, we will not let go this pillar until the world's end. But on whatever day this stone fall, then shall be the end of the world."¹²⁸ And I Shalamah glorified Alahayam, and adorned the Temple of the Adanay with all fair-seeming. And I was glad in spirit in my kingdom, and there was peace in my days. And I took wives of my own from every land, who were numberless. And I marched against the Jebusaeans, and there I saw Jebusaeans, daughter of a man: and fell violently in love with her, and desired to take her to wife along with my other wives. And I said to their priests: "Give me the Sonmanites (i.e. Shunammite) to wife." But the priests of Moloch said to me: "If you love this maiden, go in and worship our gods, the great god Raphan and the god called Moloch." I therefore was in fear of the glory of Alahayam, and did not follow to worship. And I said to them: "I will not worship a strange god. What is this proposal, that you compel me to do so much?" But they said: ". . . by our fathers."¹²⁹ And when I answered that I would on no account worship strange gods, they told the maiden not to sleep with me until I complied and sacrificed to the gods. I then was moved, but crafty Eros brought and laid by her for me five grasshoppers, saying: "Take these grasshoppers, and crush them together in the name of the god Moloch; and then will I sleep with you." And this I actually did. And at once the Spirit of Alahayam departed from me, and I became weak as well as foolish in my words. And after that I was obliged by her to build a temple of idols to Bail, and to Rapaayam, and to Moloch, and to the other idols.¹³⁰ I then, wretch that I am, followed her advice, and the glory of Alahayam quite departed from me; and my spirit was darkened, and I became the sport of idols and demons. Therefore I wrote out this Testament, that you who get possession of it may pity, and attend to the last things, and not to the first. So that you may find grace for ever and ever. Amen.

1 Column 1 ¹ [...] Alahayam of Gods forever. He will shine His light upon you, and make His great name known to you. ² And you will know that He is the eternal Alahayam, the master of all deeds, sovereign over all to do His will among them. He will bring you joy and happiness, and to your sons, in generations of truth forever. ³ And now, my sons, be careful with the inheritance given to you in peace, which your fathers have bestowed upon you. Do not give your inheritance to strangers, nor your possessions to foreigners, so you do not become lowly and despised in their eyes. They will mock you for having returned it to them, and they will be your rulers and have dominion over you. ⁴ Therefore, hold fast to the words of Yaiqab your father. Be strong in the judgments of Abaraham, and in the righteousness of Laway and your own, for they are holy and pure above all others. ⁵ Be united in truth and walk in uprightness, not with a double heart, but with a sincere heart and a true and good spirit. And give me among yourselves a good name and joy to Laway, joy to Yaiqab, delight to Yatzachaq, and praise to Abaraham. Keep and walk in the inheritance which your fathers gave you: truth, righteousness, uprightness, perfection, holiness, and priesthood, as you were commanded and entrusted.

2 Column 2 ¹ From now and forever, may integrity be found among you. ² All my words of truth shall come upon you. ³ The blessing of the world shall rest upon you. ⁴ And it will be established for all generations forever. ⁵ You shall no longer fear nor tremble, but rise to instruct judgment over. ⁶ Show the obligations of all the guilty of the world, both in fire and in the depths, and in all spaces, for the pure generations to come. ⁷ All the sons of wickedness shall perish. ⁸ And now, Imaram my son, I charge you. ⁹ [...] and to his sons, I charge. ¹⁰ [...] gave to Laway my father, and Laway my father gave to me. ¹¹ All the writings of the testimony that you should be cautious therein. ¹² In them you shall have great merit, and their ordinances shall be with you.

1 In the first year of plenty, in the second month, on the fifth of the month, Paraih sent Yawasap to go round all the land of Matzarayam; and in the fourth month of the first year, on the eighteenth of the month, Yawasap came to the borders of Heliopolis, and he was gathering the corn of that country as the sand of the sea. ² And there was a certain man in that city by the name Pentephres, who was a priest of Heliopolis and a satrap of Paraih, and chief of all Pharaoh's satraps and princes; and this man was exceedingly rich and very sage and gentle, and he was also a counsellor of Paraih, because he was prudent beyond all Pharaoh's princes. ³ And he had a virgin daughter, by name Asanath, of eighteen years, tall and comely, and beautiful to behold exceedingly beyond every virgin upon the earth. ⁴ Now Asanath herself bore no likeness to the virgins, the daughters of the Matzarayam, but was in all things like the daughters of the Hebrews, being tall as Sharah and comely as Rebecca and beautiful as Rachal; ⁵ and the fame of her beauty spread abroad into all that land and to the ends of the world, so that by reason of this all the sons of the princes and the satraps desired to woo her, nay, and the sons of the kings also, all young men and mighty, and there was great strife among them because of her, and they essayed to fight against one another. ⁶ And Pharaoh's firstborn son also heard about her, and he continued entreating his father to give her to him to wife and saying to him: "Give me, father, Asanath, the daughter of Pentephres, the first man of Heliopolis to wife." ⁷ And his father Paraih said to him: "Therefore do you on your part seek a wife lower than yourself when you are king of all this land? Nay, but lo! the daughter of Joacim the King of Mawaab is betrothed to you, and she herself is a queen and beautiful to behold exceedingly. Take then this one to yourself to wife."

2 But Asanath set at naught and scorned every man, being boastful and haughty, and never had a man seen her, inasmuch as Pentephres had in his house a tower adjoining, great and high exceedingly, and above the tower was a loft containing ten chambers. ² And the first chamber was great and very lovely and paved with purple stones, and the walls thereof were faced with precious and many-coloured stones, and the roof also of that chamber was of gold. ³ And within that chamber, gods of the Matzarayam, whereof was no number, gold and silver, were fixed, and all those Asanath worshipped, and she feared them, and she performed sacrifices to them every day. ⁴ And the second chamber also contained all Asenath's adorning and chests, and there was gold in it, and much silver and gold-woven raiment unlimited, and stones choice and of great price, and fine garments of linen, and all the adornment of her virginity was there. ⁵ And the third chamber was Asenath's storehouse, containing all the good things of the earth. ⁶ And the remaining seven chambers the seven virgins who ministered to Asanath occupied, each one having one chamber, for that they were of the same age, born on the same night with Asanath, and she loved them much; and they were also beautiful exceedingly as the stars of heaven, and never did a man converse with them or a male child. ⁷ Now Asenath's great chamber where her virginity was fostered had three windows; and the first window was very large, looking over the court to the east; and the second looked toward the south, and the third looked over the street. ⁸ And a golden bedstead stood in the chamber looking toward the east; and the bed was laid with purple stuff interwoven with gold, the bed being woven of scarlet and crimson stuff and fine linen. ⁹ On this bed, Asanath alone slept, and never had a man or other woman sat thereon. ¹⁰ And there was also a great court adjoining the house all round, and an exceeding high wall round the court built of great rectangular stones; and there were also four gates in the court overlaid with iron, and these were kept each by eighteen strong young men armed; ¹¹ and there were also planted along the wall fair trees of all kinds and all bearing fruit, their fruit being ripe, for it was the season of harvest; ¹² and there was also a rich fount of water springing from the right of the same court; and beneath the fount was a great cistern receiving the water of that fount, whence there went, as it were, a river through the midst of the court and it watered all the trees of that court.

3 And it came to pass in the first year of the seven years of plenty, in the fourth month, on the twenty-eighth of the month, that Yawasap came to the borders of Heliopolis collecting the corn of that district. ² And, when Yawasap drew near to that city, he sent twelve men before him to Pentephres, the priest of Heliopolis, saying: "I will come in to you today, because it is the time of noon and of the midday meal, and there is great heat of the sun, and that I may cool myself under the roof of your house." ³ And Pentephres, when he heard these things, rejoiced with exceeding great joy, and said: "Blessed be the Adanay Alahayam of Yawasap, because my lord Yawasap has thought me worthy." ⁴ And Pentephres called the overseer of his house and said to him: "Haste and make mine house ready, and prepare a great dinner, because Yawasap the mighty one of Alahayam comes to us today." ⁵ And, when Asanath heard that her father and mother had come from the possession of their inheritance, she rejoiced greatly and said: "I will go and see my father and mother, because they have come from the possession of our inheritance" (for that it was the harvest-season). ⁶ And Asanath hastened into her chamber where her robes lay and put on a fine linen robe made of crimson stuff and interwoven with gold, and girded herself with a golden girdle, and bracelets round her hands; and about her feet she put golden buskins, and round her neck she cast an ornament of great price and precious stones, which were embellished on all sides, having also the names of the gods of the Matzarayam everywhere engraved on them, both on the bracelets and the stones; and she put also a tiara on her head and bound a diadem round her temples and covered her head with a mantle.

4 And thereupon she hasted and went down the stairs from her loft and came to her father and mother and kissed them. ² And Pentephres and his wife rejoiced over their daughter Asanath with exceeding great joy, for that they beheld her adorned and embellished as the bride of Alahayam; and they brought forth all the good things which they had brought from the possession of their inheritance and gave them to their daughter; and Asanath rejoiced over all the good things, over the late summer fruit and the grapes and the dates and over the doves, and over the mulberries and the figs, because they were all fair and pleasant to taste. ³ And Pentephres said to his daughter Asanath: "Child." And she said: "Here am I, my lord." And he said to her: "Sit down between us, and I will speak to you my words." ⁴ And she sat down between her father and her mother, and Pentephres her father took hold of her right hand with his right hand and kissed it tenderly and said: "Dearest child." ⁵ And she said to him: "Here am I, my lord father." And Pentephres said to her: "Lo! Yawasap, the mighty one of Alahayam, comes to us today, and this man is ruler of all the land of Matzarayam; and King Paraih appointed him ruler of all our land and king, and he himself gives corn to all this country, and saves it from the coming famine; and this Yawasap is a man that worships Alahayam, and discreet and a virgin as you are today, and a man mighty in wisdom and knowledge, and the spirit of Alahayam is upon him and the grace of the Adanay is in him. Come, dearest child, and I will give you over to him to wife, and you shall be to him for a bride, and he himself shall be your bridegroom for ever."

5 And lo! a young man of Pentephres' servants sprang in, and he says to him: "Lo! Yawasap stands before the doors of our court." ² And when Asanath heard these words she fled from the face of her father and mother and went up into the loft, and she came into her chamber and stood at the great window looking east to see Yawasap coming into her father's house. ³ And Pentephres came out and his wife and all their kindred and their servants to meet Yawasap; and, when the gates of the court that looked east were opened, Yawasap came in seated in the second chariot of Paraih; and there were yoked four horses white like snow with golden bits, and the chariot was fashioned all of pure gold. ⁴ And Yawasap was clad in a tunic white and rare, and the robe that was thrown round him was purple, made of fine linen interwoven with gold, and a golden wreath was upon his head, and round his wreath were twelve choice stones, and above the stones twelve golden rays, and in his right hand a royal staff, which had an olive branch outstretched, and there was abundance of fruit thereon. ⁵ When, then, Yawasap had come into the court and the doors thereof had been shut, and every strange man and woman remained outside the court, for that the guards of the gates drew to and closed the doors, Pentephres came and his wife and all their kindred except their daughter Asanath, and they made obeisance to Yawasap upon their faces upon the earth; and Yawasap descended from his chariot and greeted them with his hand.

6 And when Asanath saw Yawasap she was sore pricked in the soul and her heart was crushed, and her knees were loosed and her whole body trembled and she feared with great fear, and then she groaned and said in her heart: "Alas me miserable! where now shall I, the wretched one, go away? or where shall I be hidden from his face? or how shall Yawasap the son of Alahayam see me, for that on my part I have spoken evil things about him?" ² Alas me miserable! where shall I go away and be hidden, because he himself sees every hiding-place, and knows all things, and no hidden thing escapes him by reason of the great light that is in him? And now may the Alahayam of Yawasap be gracious to me because in ignorance I have spoken wicked words against him. ³ What now shall I, the wretched one, follow? Have I not said: *Yawasap comes, the son of the shepherd from the land of Canaan? Now therefore ⁴ he has come to us in his chariot as the sun from heaven, and he entered our house to-day, and he shines into it like light upon the earth. But I am foolish and bold, because I scorned him and spoke evil words about him and did not know that Yawasap is a son of Alahayam. For who among men will ever beget such beauty, or what womb of woman will give birth to such light? Wretched am I and foolish, because I have spoken evil words to my father. ⁵ Now, therefore, let my father give me to Yawasap for an handmaid and a bondwoman rather, and I will be in bondage to him for ever."

7 And Yawasap came into the house of Pentephres and sat upon a chair. And they washed his feet, and set a table before him separately, for that Yawasap did not eat with the Matzarayam, since this was an abomination to him. ² And Yawasap looked up and saw

Asanath peeping out, and he says to Pentephres: "Who is that woman who is standing in the loft by the window? Let her go away from this house." For Yawasap feared, saying: "Lest she herself also annoy me." ³ For all the wives and daughters of the princes and the satraps of all the land of Matzarayam used to annoy him in order that they might lie with him; but many wives and daughters of the Matzarayam also, as many as beheld Yawasap, were distressed on account of his beauty; and the envoys whom the women sent to him with gold and silver and precious gifts Yawasap sent back with threatening and insult, saying: "I will not sin in the sight of the Adanay Alahayam and the face of my father Yasharaal." ⁴ For Yawasap had Alahayam always before his eyes and ever remembered the injunctions of his father; for Yaiqab often spoke and admonished his son Yawasap and all his sons: "Keep yourselves, children, securely from a strange woman so as not to have fellowship with her, for fellowship with her is ruin and destruction." Therefore Yawasap said: "Let that woman depart from this house." ⁵ And Pentephres said to him: "My lord, that woman whom you have seen standing in the loft is not a stranger, but is our daughter, one who hates every man, and no other man has ever seen her save you only to-day; and, if you wish, lord, she shall come and speak to you, for that our daughter is as your sister." ⁶ And Yawasap rejoiced with exceeding great joy, for that Pentephres said: "She is a virgin hating every man." And Yawasap said to Pentephres and his wife: "If she is your daughter, and is a virgin, let her come, for that she is my sister, and I love her from to-day as my sister."

8 Then her mother went up into the loft and brought Asanath to Yawasap, and Pentephres said to her: "Kiss your brother, because he also is a virgin even as you today, and hates every strange woman even as you hate every strange man." ² And Asanath said to Yawasap: "Hail, lord, blessed of Alahayam Ilayawan." And Yawasap said to her: "Alahayam who quickens all things shall bless you, damsel." Pentephres says then to his daughter Asanath: "Come and kiss your brother." ³ When Asanath then came up to kiss Yawasap, Yawasap stretched forth his right hand, and laid it on her breast between her two paps (for her paps were already standing forth like lovely apples), and Yawasap said: "It is not meet for a man that worships Alahayam, who blesses with his mouth the living Alahayam, and eats the blessed bread of life, and drinks the blessed cup of immortality, and is anointed with the blessed unction of incorruption, to kiss a strange woman, who blesses with her mouth dead and deaf idols and eats from their table the bread of strangling and drinks from their libation the cup of deceit and is anointed with the unction of destruction; but the man that worships Alahayam will kiss his mother and the sister who is born of his mother and the sister who is born of his tribe and the wife who shares his couch, who bless with their mouth the living Alahayam. Likewise also it is not meet for a woman that worships Alahayam to kiss a strange man, for that this is an abomination in the sight of the Adanay Alahayam." ⁴ And, when Asanath heard these words from Yawasap, she was sore distressed and groaned; and, as she was looking steadfastly at Yawasap with her eyes open, they were filled with tears. ⁵ And Yawasap, when he saw her weeping, pitied her exceedingly, for that he was mild and merciful and one who feared the Adanay. Then he lifted up his right hand above her head and said: "Adanay Alahayam of my father Yasharaal, the Ilayawan and the mighty Alahayam, who quickenedst all things and calledst from the darkness to the light and from error to truth and from death to life, bless you this virgin also, and quicken her, and renew her with your holy spirit, and let her eat the bread of your life and drink the cup of your blessing, and number her with your people whom you chose before all things were made, and let her enter into your rest which you preparedst for your elect, and let her live in your eternal life for ever."

9 And Asanath rejoiced over the blessing of Yawasap with exceeding great joy. Then she hastened and came up into her loft by herself, and fell upon her bed in infirmity, for that there was in her joy and sorrow and great fear; and a continuous sweat was poured over her when she heard these words from Yawasap, and when he spoke to her in the name of Alahayam Ilayawan.² Then she wept with great and bitter weeping, and she turned in penitence from her gods whom she was wont to worship, and the idols, which she spurned, and waited for evening to come. But Yawasap ate and drank; and he told his serving-men to yoke the horses to their chariots, and to go round all the land.³ And Pentephres said to Yawasap: "Let my lord lodge here today, and in the morning you shall go your way." And Yawasap said: "Nay, but I will go away today, for that this is the day on which Alahayam began to make all His created things, and on the eighth day I also return to you and will lodge here."

10 And, when Yawasap had left the house, Pentephres also and all his kindred departed to their inheritance, and Asanath was left alone with the seven virgins, listless and weeping till the sun set; and she neither ate bread nor drank water,² but while all slept she herself alone was awake and weeping and frequently beating her breast with her hand. And after these things Asanath rose from her bed, and went quietly down the stairs from the loft, and on coming to the gateway found the portress sleeping with her children; and she hastened and took down from the door the leathern cover of the curtain and filled it with cinders and carried it up to the loft and laid it on the floor.³ And thereupon she shut the door securely and fastened it with the iron bolt from the side and groaned with great groaning together with much and very great weeping. But the virgin whom Asanath loved above all the virgins having heard her groaning hastened and came to the door after awaking the other virgins also and found it shut. And, when she had listened to the groaning and the weeping of Asanath, she said to her, standing without: "What is it, my mistress, and therefore are you sad? And what is it that troubles you? Open to us and let us see you."⁴ And Asanath said to her, being shut inside: "Great and grievous pain has attacked mine head, and I am resting in my bed, and I am not able to rise and open to you, for that I am infirm over all my limbs. Go therefore each of you to her chamber and sleep, and let me be still."⁵ And, when the virgins had departed, each to her own chamber, Asanath rose and opened the door of her bedroom quietly, and went away into her second chamber where the chests of her adornment were, and she opened her coffer and took a black and sombre tunic which she put on and mourned when her firstborn brother died.⁶ Having taken, then, this tunic, she carried it into her chamber, and again shut the door securely, and put the bolt to from the side. Then, therefore, Asanath put off her royal robe, and put on the mourning tunic, and loosed her golden girdle and girded herself with a rope, and put off the tiara, that is the mitre, from her head, likewise also the diadem, and the chains from her hands and her feet were also all laid upon the floor.⁷ Then she takes her choice robe and the golden girdle and the mitre and her diadem, and she cast them through the window that looked toward the north, to the poor. And thereupon she took all her gods that were in her chamber, the gods of gold and of silver whereof there was no number, and broke them up into fragments, and cast them through the window to poor men and beggars.⁸ And again Asanath took her royal dinner and the fatlings and the fish and heifer's flesh, and all the sacrifices of her gods, and the vessels of the wine of libation, and cast them all through the window that looked north as food for the dogs.⁹ And after these things she took the leathern cover containing the cinders and poured them upon the floor; and thereupon she took sackcloth and girded her loins; and she loosed also the net of the hair of her head and sprinkled ashes over her head.¹⁰ And she strewed cinders also upon the floor, and fell upon the cinders and kept beating her breast constantly with her hands and weeping all the night with groaning until the morning. And, when Asanath arose in the morning and saw, and lo! the cinders were beneath her as clay from her tears, she again fell upon her face upon the cinders till the sun set. Thus Asanath did for seven days, not tasting aught whatever.

11 And on the eighth day, when the dawn came and the birds were already chirping and the dogs barking at the passers-by, Asanath lifted up her head a little from the floor and the cinders whereon she was seated, for that she was exceeding weary and had lost the power of her limbs from her great humiliation;² for Asanath had waxed weary and faint and her strength was failing, and thereupon she turned toward the wall, sitting under the window that looked east; and her head she laid upon her bosom, twining the fingers of her hands over her right knee; and her mouth was shut, and she opened it not during the seven days and during the seven nights of her humiliation.³ And she said in her heart, not opening her mouth: "What shall I do, I the lowly one, or where shall I go? And with whom again shall I hereafter find refuge? Or to whom shall I speak, the virgin that is an orphan and desolate and abandoned by all and hated?"⁴ All now have come to hate me, and among these even my father and my mother, for that I spurned the gods with loathing and made away with them and have given them to the poor to be destroyed by men. For my father and my mother said: "Asanath is not our daughter." But all my kin also have come to hate me, and all men, for that I have given their gods to destruction.⁵ And I have hated every man and all who wooed me, and now in this mine humiliation I have been hated by all and they rejoice over my tribulation. But the Adanay and Alahayam of the mighty Yawasap hates all who worship the idols, for that he is a jealous Alahayam and terrible, as I have heard, against all who worship strange gods; whence he has hated me also, because I worshipped dead and deaf idols and blessed them.⁶ But now have I shunned their sacrifice, and my mouth has become estranged from their table, and I have no courage to call upon the Adanay Alahayam of heaven, the Ilayawan and powerful one of the mighty Yawasap, for that my mouth is polluted from the sacrifices of the idols. But I have heard many saying that the Alahayam of the Hebrews is a true Alahayam, and a living Alahayam, and a merciful Alahayam and pitiful and long-suffering and full of mercy and gentle, and one who reckons not the sin of a man who is humble, and especially of one who sins in ignorance, and convicteth not of lawlessnesses in the time of the affliction of a man that is afflicted; accordingly I also, the humble one, will be bold and will turn to him and seek refuge with him and confess all my sins to him and pour out my petition before him, and he will have mercy on my misery.⁷ For who knows if he will see this mine humiliation and the desolation of my soul and pity me, and will see also the orphanhood of my wretchedness and virginity and defend me? for that, as I hear, he is himself a father of orphans and a consolation of the afflicted and a helper of the persecuted. But in any case I also the humble one will be bold and will cry to him." Then Asanath rose up from the wall where she was sitting, and raised herself upon her knees toward the east and directed her eyes toward heaven and opened her mouth and said to Alahayam:

12 The prayer and confession of Asanath: "Adanay Alahayam of the righteous, who createdst the ages and givest life to all things, who gave the breath of life to all your creation, who brought the invisible things out into the light, who made all things and made manifest things that did not appear, who liftedst up the heaven and foundedst the earth upon the waters, who fixedst the great stones upon the abyss of the water, which shall not be submerged but are to the end doing your will,² for that you, Adanay, said the word and all things came into being, and your word, Adanay, is the life of all your creatures, to you I flee for refuge, Adanay my Alahayam, from henceforth, to you will I cry, Adanay, and to you will I confess my sins, to you will I pour out my petition, Master, and to you will I reveal my lawlessnesses.³ Spare me, Adanay, spare, for that I committed many sins against you, I did lawlessness and ungodliness, I have spoken things not to be uttered, and wicked in your sight; my mouth, Adanay, has been polluted from the sacrifices of the idols of the Matzarayam, and from the table of their gods: I sinned, Adanay, I sinned in your sight, both in knowledge and in ignorance I did ungodliness in that I worshipped dead and deaf idols, and I am not worthy to open my mouth to you, Adanay, I the miserable Asanath daughter of Pentephres the priest, the virgin and queen, who was once proud and haughty and one that prospered in my father's riches above all men, but now an orphan and desolate and abandoned of all men.⁴ To you I flee, Adanay, and to you I offer my petition, and to you will I cry. Deliver me from them that pursue me, Master, before I be taken by them; for, as an infant in fear of some one flees to his father and mother, and his father stretcheth out his hands and catcheth him up against his breast, so also do you, Adanay, stretch out your undefiled and terrible hands upon me like a child-loving father, and catch me out of the hand of the suprasensual enemy.⁵ For lo! the ancient and savage and cruel lion pursues me, for that he is father of the gods of the Matzarayam, and the gods of the idol-maniacs are his children, and I have come to hate them, and I made away with them, because they are a lion's children, and I cast all the gods of the Matzarayam from me and did them away, and the lion, or their father the devil, in wrath against me is trying to swallow me up.⁶ But you, Adanay, deliver me from his hands, and I shall be rescued from his mouth, lest he tear me asunder and cast me into the flame of fire, and the fire cast me into storm, and the storm prevail over me in darkness and cast me into the depth of the sea, and the great beast who is from everlasting swallow me up, and I perish for ever.⁷ Deliver me, Adanay, before all these things come upon me; deliver me, Master, the desolate and defenceless, for that my father and my mother have denied me and said, 'Asanath is not our daughter,' because I broke their gods in pieces and made away with them, as having wholly hated them.⁸ And now I am an orphan and desolate, and I have no other hope save you, Adanay, nor another refuge save your mercy, you friend of men, because you only art father of the orphans and champion of the persecuted and helper of the afflicted. Have mercy on me, Adanay, and keep me pure and virgin, the forsaken and orphan, for that you only, Adanay, art a sweet and good and gentle father.⁹ For what father is sweet and good as you, Adanay? For lo! all the houses of my father Pentephres which he has given me for an inheritance are for a time and vanishing; but the houses of your inheritance, Adanay, are incorruptible and eternal."

13 Visit, Adanay, mine humiliation and have mercy on mine orphanhood and pity me, the afflicted. For lo! I, Master, fled from all and sought refuge with you the only friend of men. Lo! I left all the good things of the earth and sought refuge with you. Adanay, in sackcloth and ashes, naked and solitary.² Lo! now I put off my royal robe of fine linen and of crimson stuff interwoven with gold and have put on a black tunic of mourning. Lo! I have loosed my golden girdle and cast it from me and girded myself with rope and sackcloth. Lo! my diadem and my mitre I have cast from mine head and I have sprinkled myself with cinders.³ Lo! the floor of my chamber that was paved with many-coloured and purple stones, which was formerly moistened with ointments and was dried with bright linen cloths, is now moistened with my tears and has been dishonoured in that it is strewn with ashes.⁴ Lo!, my Adanay, from the cinders and my tears much clay has been formed in my chamber as on a broad road. Lo!, my Adanay, my royal dinner and the meats I have given to the dogs.⁵ Lo! I have also, Master, been fasting seven days and seven nights and neither ate bread nor drank water, and my mouth is dry as a wheel and my tongue as horn and my lips as a potsherd, and my face has shrunk, and mine eyes have failed from shedding tears.⁶ But you, Adanay my Alahayam, deliver me from my many ignorances, and forgive me for that, being a virgin and unknowing, I have gone astray. Lo! now all the gods whom I worshipped before in ignorance I have now known to have been deaf and dead idols, and I broke them in pieces and gave them to be trampled on by all men, and the thieves spoiled them, who were gold and silver, and with you I sought refuge. Adanay Alahayam, the only compassionate one and friend of men.⁷ Forgive me, Adanay, for that I committed many sins against you in ignorance and have spoken blasphemous words against my lord Yawasap, and knew not, I the miserable, that he is your son. Adanay, since the wicked men urged by envy said to me: 'Yawasap is son of a shepherd from the land of Kanain,' and I the miserable one have believed them and gone astray, and I set him at naught and have spoken wicked things about him, not knowing that he is your son.⁸ For who among men begat or will ever beget such beauty? or who else is such as he, wise and mighty as the all-beauteous Yawasap? But to you, Adanay, I commit him, because for my part I love him more than my soul. Keep him safe in the wisdom of your grace, and commit me to him for an handmaid and a bondwoman, that I may wash his feet and make his bed and minister to him and serve him, and I will be a bondwoman to him for the times of my life."

14 And, when Asanath had ceased making confession to the Adanay, lo! the morning-star also arose out of the heaven in the east; and Asanath saw it and rejoiced and said: "Has the Adanay Alahayam then heard my prayer? for that this star is a messenger and herald of the light of the great day."² And lo! hard by the morning-star the heaven was rent and a great and ineffable light appeared. And when she saw it Asanath fell upon her face upon the cinders, and straightway there came to her a man from heaven, sending forth rays of light, and stood above her head.³ And, as she lay on her face, the divine angel said to her, "Asanath, stand up." And she said: "Who is he that called me? for that the door of my chamber is shut and the tower is high, and how then has he come into my chamber?"⁴ And he called her again a second time, saying, "Asanath, Asanath." And she said, "Here am I, lord, tell me who you are." And he said: "I am the chief captain of the Adanay Alahayam and commander of all the host of the Ilayawan: stand up and stand upon your feet, that I may speak to you my words."⁵ And she lifted up her face and saw, and lo! a man in all things like to Yawasap, in robe and wreath and royal staff, save that his face was as lightning, and his eyes as the light of the sun, and the hairs of his head as the flame of fire of a burning torch, and his hands and his feet like iron shining from fire, for as it were sparks proceeded both from his hands and from his feet.⁶ Seeing these things Asanath feared and fell on her face, unable even to stand upon her feet, for she became greatly afraid and all her limbs trembled. And the man said to her: "Be of good cheer, Asanath, and fear not; but stand up and stand upon your feet, that I may speak to you my words."⁷ Then Asanath stood up and stood upon her feet, and the angel said to her: "Go without impediment into your second chamber and lay aside the black tunic wherein you are clad, and cast off the sackcloth from your loins, and shake out the cinders from your head, and wash your face and your hands with pure water and put on a white untouched robe and gird your loins with the bright girdle of virginity, the double one, and come again to me, and I will speak to you the words that are sent to you from the Adanay."⁸ Then Asanath hastened and went into her second chamber, wherein were the chests of her adorning, and opened her coffer and took a white, fine, untouched robe and put it on, having first put off the black robe, and ungirded also the rope and the sackcloth from her loins and girded herself in a bright, double girdle of her virginity, one girdle about her loins and another girdle about her breast. And she shook out also the cinders from her head and washed her hands and face with pure water, and she took a mantle most beautiful and fine and veiled her head.

15 And thereupon she came to the divine chief captain and stood before him, and the angel of the Adanay says to her: "Take now the mantle from your head, for that you are to-day a pure virgin, and your head is as of a young man."² And Asanath took it from her head. And again the divine angel says to her: "Be of good cheer, Asanath, the virgin and pure, for lo! the Adanay Alahayam heard all the words of your confession and your prayer, and he has seen also the humiliation and affliction of the seven days of your abstinence, for that from your tears much clay has been formed before your face upon these cinders."³ Accordingly, be of good cheer, Asanath, the virgin and pure, for lo! your name has been written in the book of life and shall not be blotted out for ever; but from this day you shall be renewed and refashioned and re-quickened, and you shall eat the blessed bread of life and drink a cup filled with immortality and be anointed with the blessed unction of incorruption.⁴ Be of good cheer, Asanath, the virgin and pure, lo! the Adanay Alahayam has given you to-day to Yawasap for a bride, and he himself shall be your bridegroom for ever. And no more henceforth shall you be called Asanath, but your name shall be City of Refuge, for that in you many nations shall seek refuge and they shall lodge under your wings, and many nations shall find shelter by your means, and upon your walls they who cleave to Alahayam Ilayawan through penitence shall be kept secure; for that Penitence is daughter of the Ilayawan, and she herself entreats Alahayam Ilayawan for you every hour and for all that repent, since he is father of Penitence, and she herself is the completion and overseer of all virgins, loving you exceedingly and beseeching the Ilayawan for you every hour, and for all who repent she will provide a place of rest in the heavens, and she renews everyone who has repented.⁵ And Penitence is exceeding fair, a virgin pure and gentle and mild; and therefore Alahayam Ilayawan loves her, and all the angels revere her, and I love her exceedingly, for that she herself also is my sister, and as she loves you virgins I also love you. And lo! for my part I go to Yawasap and will speak to him all these words concerning you, and he will come to you to-day and see you and rejoice over you and love you and be your bridegroom, and you shall be his beloved bride for ever.⁶ Accordingly hear me, Asanath, and put on a wedding robe, the ancient and first robe that is yet laid up in your chamber from of old, and put all your choice adorning also about you, and adorn yourself as a good bride and make yourself ready to meet him; for lo! he himself comes to you to-day and will see you and rejoice."⁷ And, when the angel of the Adanay in the shape of a man had finished speaking these words to Asanath, she rejoiced with great joy over all the things that were spoken by him, and fell upon her face upon the earth, and made obeisance before his feet and said to him: "Blessed is the Adanay your Alahayam who sent you to deliver me from the darkness and to bring me from the foundations of the abyss itself into the light, and blessed is your name for ever. If then I have found grace, my lord, in your sight and shall know that you will perform all the words which you have said to me so that they be accomplished, let your handmaid speak to you."⁸ And the angel says to her, "Say on." And she said: "I pray you, lord, sit down a little time upon this bed, because this bed is pure and undefiled, for that another man or other woman never sat upon it, and I will set before you a table and bread, and you shall eat, and I will bring you also wine old and good, the odour whereof shall reach to heaven, and you shall drink thereof and thereafter shall depart upon your way." And he says to her: "Haste and bring it quickly."

16 And Asanath hastened and set an empty table before him; and, as she was starting to fetch bread, the divine angel says to her: "Bring me also an honeycomb." And she stood still and was perplexed and grieved for that she had not a bee's comb in her storehouse.² And the divine angel says to her: "Therefore stand you still?" And she said: "My lord, I will send a boy to the suburb, because the possession of our inheritance is near, and he will come and bring one quickly thence, and I will set it before you."³ The divine angel says to her: "Enter your storehouse and you will find a bee's comb lying upon the table; take it up and bring it here." And she said, "Adanay, there is no bee's comb in my storehouse." And he said, "Go and you will find."⁴ And Asanath entered her storehouse and found an honeycomb lying upon the table; and the comb was great and white like snow and full of honey, and that honey was as the dew of heaven, and the odour thereof as the odour of life.⁵ Then Asanath wondered and said in herself: "Is this comb from the mouth of this man himself?" And Asanath took that comb and brought it and set it forth upon the table, and the angel said to her: "Why is it that you said, 'There is no honeycomb in mine house,' and lo! you have brought it me?" And she said: "Adanay, I have never put an honeycomb in mine house, but as you said so it has been made. Came this forth from your mouth? for that the odour thereof is as the odour of ointment."⁶ And the man smiled at Asenath's understanding. Then he calls her to himself, and, when she came, he stretched out his right hand and took hold of her head, and, when he shook her head with his right hand, Asanath feared the angel's hand greatly, for that sparks proceeded from his hands after the manner of red-hot iron, and accordingly she was all the time gazing with much fear and trembling at the angel's hand.⁷ And he smiled and said: "Blessed are you, Asanath, because the ineffable mysteries of Alahayam have been revealed to you; and blessed are all who cleave to the Adanay Alahayam in penitence, because they shall eat of this comb, for that this comb is the spirit of life, and this the bees of the paradise of delight have made from the dew of the roses of life that are in the paradise of Alahayam and every flower, and of it eat the angels and all the elect of Alahayam and all the sons of the Ilayawan, and whosoever shall eat of it shall not die forever."⁸ Then the divine angel stretched out his right hand and took a small piece from the comb and ate, and with his own hand placed what was left in Asenath's mouth and said to her, "Eat," and she ate.⁹ And the angel says to her: "Lo! now you have eaten the bread of life and have drunk the cup of immortality and been anointed with the unction of incorruption; lo! now to-day your flesh produceth flowers of life from the fountain of the Ilayawan, and your bones shall be made fat like the cedars of the paradise of delight of Alahayam and unwearying powers shall maintain you; accordingly your youth shall not see old age, nor shall your beauty fail for ever, but you shall be as a walled mother-city of all."¹⁰ And the angel said to the comb, and many bees arose from the cells of that comb, and the cells were numberless, tens of thousands of tens of thousands and thousands of thousands. And the bees also were white like snow, and their wings as purple and crimson stuff and as scarlet; and they had also sharp stings and injured no man.¹¹ Then all those bees encircled Asanath from feet to head, and other great bees like their queens arose from the cells, and they circled round upon her face and upon her lips, and made a comb upon her mouth and upon her lips like the comb that lay before the angel; and all those bees ate from the comb that was upon Asenath's mouth.¹² And the angel said to the bees, "Go now to your place." Then all the bees rose and flew and departed to heaven; but as many as wished to injure Asanath all fell upon the earth and died.¹³ And thereupon the angel stretched his staff over the dead bees and said to them: "Rise and depart you also into your place." Then all the dead bees rose and departed into the court that adjoined Asenath's house and took up their lodging upon the fruit-bearing trees.

17 And the angel says to Asanath, "Have you seen this thing?" And she said, "Yea, my lord, I have seen all these things."² The divine angel says to her: "So shall be all my words as many as I have spoken to you to-day." Then the angel of the Adanay for the third time stretched forth his right hand and touched the side of the comb, and straightway fire came up from the table and devoured the comb, but the table it injured not a whit.³ And, when much fragrance had come forth from the burning of the comb and filled the chamber, Asanath said to the divine angel: "Adanay, I have seven virgins who were brought up with me from my youth and were born on one night with me, who wait upon me, and I love them all as my sisters. I will call them and you shall bless them too, even as you blessedst me."⁴ And the angel said to her: "Call them." Then Asanath called the seven virgins and set them before the angel, and the angel said to them: "The Adanay Alahayam Ilayawan shall bless you, and you shall be pillars of refuge of seven cities, and all the elect of that city who dwell together shall upon you rest for ever."⁵ And after these things the divine angel says to Asanath: "Take away this table." And, when Asanath turned to remove the table, straightway he departed from her eyes, and Asanath saw as it were a chariot with four horses that were going eastward to heaven, and the chariot was as a flame of fire, and the horses as lightning, and the angel was standing above that chariot.⁶ Then Asanath said: "Silly and foolish am I, the lowly one, for that I have spoken as that a man came into my chamber from heaven, and I knew not that Alahayam came into it; and lo! now he goes back to heaven to his place." And she said in herself: "Be gracious, Adanay, to your bondmaid, and spare your handmaid, because, for my part, I have in ignorance spoken rash things before you."

18 And, while Asanath was yet speaking these words to herself, lo! a young man, one of the servants of Yawasap, saying: "Yawasap, the mighty man of Alahayam, comes to you to-day."

² And straightway Asanath called the overseer of her house and said to him: "Haste and prepare mine house and make a good dinner ready, for that Yawasap, the mighty man of Alahayam, comes to us to-day." ³ And the overseer of the house when he saw her (for her face had shrunk from the seven days' affliction and weeping and abstinence) sorrowed and wept; and he took hold of her right hand and kissed it tenderly and said: "What aileth you, my lady, that your face is thus shrunken?" ⁴ And she said: "I have had great pain about mine head, and sleep departed from mine eyes." Then the overseer of the house went away and prepared the house and the dinner. And Asanath remembered the angel's words and his injunctions, and hastened and entered her second chamber, where the chests of her adorning were, and opened her great coffer and brought out her first robe like lightning to behold and put it on; and she girded herself also with a girdle bright and royal that was of gold and precious stones, and on her hands she put golden bracelets, and upon her feet golden buskins, and a precious ornament about her neck, and a golden wreath she put about her head; and on the wreath as upon its front was a great sapphire stone, and round the great stone six stones of great price, and with a very marvellous mantle she veiled her head. ⁵ And, when Asanath remembered the words of the overseer of her house, for that he said to her that her face had shrunk, she sorrowed exceedingly, and groaned and said: "Woe is me, the lowly one, since my face is shrunken. Yawasap will see me thus and I shall be set at naught by him." ⁶ And she says to her handmaid, "Bring me pure water from the fountain." And, when she had brought it, she poured it out into the basin, and, bending down to wash her face, she sees her own face shining like the sun, and her eyes as the morning-star when it rises, and her cheeks as a star of heaven, and her lips as red roses, the hairs of her head were as the vine that bloometh among his fruits in the paradise of Alahayam, her neck as an all-variegated cypress. ⁷ And Asanath, when she saw these things, marvelled in herself at the sight and rejoiced with exceeding great joy and washed not her face, for she said, "Lest I wash off this great and comely beauty." The overseer of her house then came back to tell her, "All things are done that you commandedst"; and, when he beheld her, he feared greatly and was seized with trembling for a long time, and he fell at her feet and began to say: "What is this, my mistress? What is this beauty that surroundeth you that is great and marvellous? Has the Adanay Alahayam of Heaven chosen you as bride for his son Yawasap?"

19 And, while they were yet speaking these things, a boy came saying to Asanath: "Lo! Yawasap stands before the doors of our court." ² Then Asanath hastened and went down the stairs from her loft with the seven virgins to meet Yawasap and stood in the porch of her house. And, Yawasap having come into the court, the gates were shut and all strangers remained outside. ³ And Asanath came out from the porch to meet Yawasap, and when he saw her he marvelled at her beauty, and said to her: "Who are you, damsel? Quickly tell me." And she says to him: "I, lord, am your handmaid Asanath; all the idols I have cast away from me and they perished." ⁴ And a man came to me to-day from heaven and has given me bread of life and I ate, and I drank a blessed cup, and he said to me: 'I have given you for a bride to Yawasap, and he himself shall be your bridegroom for ever; and your name shall not be called Asanath, but it shall be called "City of Refuge," and the Adanay Alahayam shall reign over many nations, and through you shall they seek refuge with Alahayam Ilayawan.' ⁵ And the man said: 'I will go also to Yawasap that I may speak into his ears these words concerning you.' And now you know, lord, if that man has come to you and if he has spoken to you concerning me." ⁶ Then Yawasap says to Asanath: "Blessed are you, woman, of Alahayam Ilayawan, and blessed is your name for ever, for that the Adanay Alahayam has laid the foundations of your walls, and the sons of the living Alahayam shall dwell in your city of refuge, and the Adanay Alahayam shall reign over them for ever. For that man came from heaven to me to-day and said these words to me concerning you." ⁷ And now come here to me, you virgin and pure, and therefore stand you afar off?" Then Yawasap stretched out his hands and embraced Asanath, and Asanath Yawasap, and they kissed one another for a long time, and both lived again in their spirit. ⁸ And Yawasap kissed Asanath and gave her the spirit of life, then the second time he gave her the spirit of wisdom, and the third time he kissed her tenderly and gave her the spirit of truth.

20 And, when they had clasped one another round for a long time and intertwined the chains of their hands, Asanath said to Yawasap: "Come here, lord, and enter our house, for that on my part I have prepared our house and a great dinner." ² And she took hold of his right hand and led him into her house and seated him on the chair of Pentephres her father; and she brought water to wash his feet. ³ And Yawasap said: "Let one of the virgins come and wash my feet." And Asanath said to him: "Nay, lord, for that henceforth you are my lord and I am your handmaid. And therefore seek you this, that another virgin should wash your feet? for that your feet are my feet, and your hands mine hands, and your soul my soul, and another shall not wash your feet." And she constrained him and washed his feet. ⁴ Then Yawasap took hold of her right hand and kissed her tenderly and Asanath kissed his head tenderly, and thereupon he seated her at his right hand. ⁵ Her father and mother and all her kindred then came from the possession of their inheritance, and they saw her sitting with Yawasap and clad in a wedding-garment. And they marvelled at her beauty and rejoiced and glorified Alahayam who quickens the dead. ⁶ And after these things they ate and drank; and, all having made cheer, Pentephres said to Yawasap: "To-morrow I will call all the princes and satraps of all the land of Matzarayam, and will make a wedding for you, and you shall take my daughter Asanath to wife." ⁷ But Yawasap said: "I go to-morrow to Paraih the king, for that he himself is my father and appointed me ruler over all this land, and I will speak to him concerning Asanath, and he will give her to me to wife." And Pentephres said to him: "Go in peace."

21 And Yawasap stayed that day with Pentephres, and he went not in to Asanath, for that he was wont to say: "It is not meet for a man who worships Alahayam to sleep with his wife before his marriage." ² And Yawasap rose early and departed to Paraih and said to him: "Give me Asanath, daughter of Pentephres, priest of Heliopolis, to wife." And Paraih rejoiced with great joy, and he says to Yawasap: "Lo! has not this one been betrothed to you to wife from eternity? Accordingly let her be your wife henceforth and to time eternal." ³ Then Paraih sent and called Pentephres, and Pentephres brought Asanath and set her before Paraih; and Paraih when he saw her marvelled at her beauty and said: "The Adanay Alahayam of Yawasap shall bless you, child, and this your beauty shall remain to eternity, for that the Adanay Alahayam of Yawasap chose you as bride for him: for Yawasap is as the son of the Ilayawan, and you shall be called his bride henceforth and for ever." ⁴ And after these things Paraih took Yawasap and Asanath and set golden wreaths upon their heads, which were in his house from of old and from ancient times, and Paraih set Asanath at Joseph's right hand. ⁵ And Paraih put his hands upon their heads and said: "The Adanay Alahayam Ilayawan shall bless you and shall multiply and magnify and glorify you to time eternal." Then Paraih turned them round to face one another and brought them mouth to mouth, and they kissed one another. ⁶ And Paraih made a wedding for Yawasap and a great dinner and much drinking during seven days, and he called together all the rulers of Matzarayam and all the kings of the nations, having made proclamation in the land of Matzarayam, saying: "Every man who shall do work during the seven days of the wedding of Yawasap and Asanath shall surely die." ⁷ And, while the wedding was going on, and when the dinner was ended, Yawasap went in to Asanath, and Asanath conceived by Yawasap and bore Manasses and Aparayam his brother in Joseph's house.

22 And, when the seven years of plenty had passed, the seven years of famine began to come. And, when Yaiqab heard about Yawasap his son, he came into Matzarayam with all his kindred in the second year of the famine, in the second month, on the twenty-first of the month, and settled in Gasham.² And Asanath said to Yawasap: "I will go and see your father, for that your father Yasharaal is as my father and Alahayam." And Yawasap said to her: "You shall go with me and see my father." And Yawasap and Asanath came to Yaiqab in the land of Gasham, and Joseph's brethren met them and made obeisance to them upon their faces on the earth.³ Then both went in to Yaiqab; and Yaiqab was sitting upon his bed, and he himself was an old man in a lusty old age. And, when Asanath saw him, she marvelled at his beauty, for that Yaiqab was beautiful to behold exceedingly and his old age as the youth of a comely man, and all his head was white like snow, and the hairs of his head were all close and thick exceedingly, and his beard white reaching to his breast, his eyes cheerful and glistening, his sinews and his shoulders and his arms as of an angel, his thighs and his calves and his feet as of a giant.⁴ Then Asanath, when she saw him thus, marvelled and fell down and made obeisance on her face upon the earth. And Yaiqab said to Yawasap: "Is this my daughter-in-law, your wife? Blessed shall she be of Alahayam Ilayawan."⁵ Then Yaiqab called Asanath to himself and blessed her and kissed her tenderly; and Asanath stretched out her hands and took hold of Jacob's neck and hung on to his neck and kissed him tenderly. And after these things they ate and drank.⁶ And thereupon both Yawasap and Asanath went to their house; and Shamaïwan and Laway, the sons of Laah, alone conducted them forth, but the sons of Balla and Zelpha, the handmaids of Laah and Rachal, did not join in conducting them forth, for that they envied and detested them.⁷ And Laway was at Asenath's right and Shamaïwan at her left. And Asanath took hold of Levi's hand, for that she loved him exceedingly above all Joseph's brethren and as a prophet and a worshipper of Alahayam and one who feared the Adanay. For he was an understanding man and a prophet of the Ilayawan, and he himself saw letters written in heaven and read them and revealed them to Asanath in secret; for that Laway himself also loved Asanath much and saw the place of her rest in the highest.

23 And it came to pass as Yawasap and Asanath were passing by, when they were going to Yaiqab, Pharaoh's firstborn son saw them from the wall, and, when he saw Asanath, he became mad upon her by reason of her surpassing beauty.² Then Pharaoh's son sent messengers, and called Shamaïwan and Laway to him; and, when they came and stood before him, Pharaoh's firstborn son says to them: "I for my part know that you are to-day mighty men above all men upon the earth, and with these right hands of yours the city of the Sicimites was overthrown, and with your two swords 30,000 warriors were cut down."³ And I to-day will take you to myself as companions and give you much gold and silver and serving-men and handmaids and houses and great inheritances, and contend you on my side and do me kindness; for that I received great despite from your brother Yawasap, since he himself took Asanath to wife, and this woman was betrothed to me from of old.⁴ And now come with me, and I will fight against Yawasap to slay him with my sword, and I will take Asanath to wife, and you shall be to me as brethren and faithful friends. But, if you shall not hearken to my words, I will slay you with my sword." And, when he had said these things, he drew out his sword and showed it to them.⁵ And Shamaïwan was a bold and daring man, and he thought to lay his right hand upon the hilt of his sword and draw it from the sheath thereof and smite Pharaoh's son for that he had spoken hard words to them. Laway then saw the thought of his heart, because he was a prophet, and trod with his foot on Simeon's right foot and pressed it, signing to him to cease from his wrath.⁶ And Laway was saying quietly to Shamaïwan: "Therefore are you angry against this man? We are men who worship Alahayam and it is not meet for us to render evil for evil." Then Laway said to Pharaoh's son openly with mildness of heart: "Therefore speaks our lord these words? We are men who worship Alahayam, and our father is a friend of Alahayam Ilayawan, and our brother is as a son of Alahayam. And how shall we do this wicked thing, to sin in the sight of our Alahayam and of our father Yasharaal and in the sight of our brother Yawasap?"⁷ And now hear my words. It is not meet for a man who worships Alahayam to injure any man in any wise; and, if any wishes to injure a man who worships Alahayam, that man who worships Alahayam avengeth not himself upon him, for that there is no sword in his hands. And do you beware of speaking any more these words about our brother Yawasap. But, if you continue in your evil counsel, lo! our swords are drawn against you."⁸ Then Shamaïwan and Laway drew their swords from their sheaths and said: "See you now these swords? With these two swords the Adanay punished the despite of the Sicimites, wherewith they did despite to the sons of Yasharaal through our sister Dayanah, whom Sychem the son of Chamawar defiled." And Pharaoh's son, when he saw the swords drawn, feared exceedingly and trembled over all his body, for that they glittered like a flame of fire, and his eyes became dim, and he fell upon his face on the earth beneath their feet.⁹ Then Laway stretched out his right hand and took hold of him, saying: "Stand up and fear not, only beware of speaking any more any evil word concerning our brother Yawasap." And so both Shamaïwan and Laway went out from before his face.

24 Pharaoh's son then continued to be full of fear and grief for that he feared Joseph's brethren, and again he was exceedingly mad by reason of Asenath's beauty, and grieved greatly.² Then his serving-men say in his ear: "Lo! the sons of Balla and the sons of Zelpha, the handmaids of Laah and Rachal, Jacob's wives, are at great enmity against Yawasap and Asanath and hate them; these will be to you in all things according to your will."³ Straightway therefore Pharaoh's son sent messengers and called them, and they came to him at the first hour of the night, and they stood in his presence, and he says to them: "I have learned from many that you are mighty men." And Wadan and Gad, the elder brethren, said to him: "Let my lord now speak to his serving-men what he wishes, that your serving-men may hear and we may do according to your will."⁴ Then Pharaoh's son rejoiced with exceeding great joy and said to his serving-men: "Withdraw now for a short space from me, for that I have secret speech to hold with these men." And they all withdrew. Then Pharaoh's son lied, and he says to them: "Lo! now blessing and death are before your faces; do you therefore take the blessing rather than the death, because you are mighty men and will not die as women; but be brave and avenge yourselves upon your enemies."⁵ For I have heard Yawasap your brother saying to Paraih my father: 'Wadan and Gad and Nephthalim and Ashar are not my brethren, but children of my father's handmaids: I wait therefore for my father's death, and will blot them out from the earth and all their issue, lest they should inherit with us, because they are children of handmaids. For these also sold me to the Ishmaelites, and I will render to them again according to their despite which they wickedly committed against me; only my father shall die.' And my father Paraih commended him for these things and said to him: 'You have well spoken, child. Accordingly, take from me mighty men and proceed against them according to what they wrought against you, and I will be a helper to you.'⁶ And when Wadan and Gad heard these things from Pharaoh's son they were much troubled, and grieved exceedingly, and they said to him: "We pray you, lord, help us; for henceforth we are your slaves and bondmen and will die with you."⁷ And Pharaoh's son said: "I will be a helper to you if you also will hearken to my words." And they said to him: "Command us what you wish and we will do according to your will." And Pharaoh's son says to them: "I will slay my father Paraih this night, for that Paraih is as Joseph's father and said to him that he would help against you; and do you slay Yawasap, and I will take Asanath to myself to wife, and you shall be my brethren and fellow-heirs of all my possessions. Only do this thing."⁸ And Wadan and Gad said to him: "We are your serving-men to-day and will do all things that you have commanded us. And we have heard Yawasap saying to Asanath: 'Go to-morrow to the possession of our inheritance, for that it is the season of the vintage'; and he sent six hundred men mighty to war with her and fifty forerunners. Now therefore hear us and we will speak to our lord." And they spoke to him all their secret words.⁹ Then Pharaoh's son gave the four brethren five hundred men each and appointed them their chiefs and leaders. And Wadan and Gad said to him: "We are your serving-men to-day and will do all the things that you have commanded us, and we will set forth by night and lie in wait in the ravine and hide ourselves in the thicket of the reeds; and do you take with yourself fifty bowmen upon horses and go a long way before us, and Asenath will come and fall into our hands, and we will cut down the men that are with her, and she herself will flee before with her chariot and fall into your hands and you shall do to her as your soul desires; and after these things we will slay Yawasap also while he is grieving for Asenath; likewise also his children will we slay before his eyes."¹⁰ Pharaoh's firstborn son then, when he heard these things, rejoiced exceedingly, and he sent them forth and two thousand fighting men with them. And when they came to the ravine they hid themselves in the thicket of the reeds, and they divided into four companies, and took up their station on the far side of the ravine as in the front part, five hundred men on this side of the road and on that, and on the near side of the ravine likewise the rest remained, and they themselves also took up their station in the thicket of the reeds, five hundred men on this side and on that of the road; and between them was a broad and wide road.

25 Then Pharaoh's son rose up the same night and came to his father's bed-chamber to slay him with the sword. His father's guards thereupon hindered him from coming in to his father and said to him: "What command you, lord?"² And Pharaoh's son said to them: "I wish to see my father, for that I am going to gather the vintage of my new-planted vineyard." And the guards said to him: "Your father suffers pain and lay awake the whole night and now rests, and he said to us that no one was to come in to him 'not even if it is my firstborn son.'"³ And he on hearing these things went away in wrath and straightway took mounted bowmen fifty in number and went away before them as Wadan and Gad had said to him.⁴ And the younger brethren Nephthalim and Ashar spoke to their elder brethren Wadan and Gad, saying: "Therefore do you on your part again work wickedness against your father Yasharaal and against your brother Yawasap? And Alahayam preserves him as the apple of an eye. Lo! did you not once sell Yawasap? and he is king to-day of all the land of Matzarayam and food-giver. Now therefore, if you again wish to work wickedness against him, he will cry to the Ilayawan, and he will send fire from heaven and it will devour you, and the angels of Alahayam will fight against you."⁵ Then the elder brethren were moved to anger against them and said: "And shall we die as women? Far be it." And they went out to meet Yawasap and Asenath.

26 And Asenath rose in the morning and said to Yawasap: "I am going to the possession of our inheritance as you have said; but my soul fears exceedingly for that you are parting from me."² And Yawasap said to her: "Be of good cheer and be not afraid, but rather go away rejoicing, in dread of no man whatsoever, for that the Adanay is with you and he himself will preserve you as the apple of an eye from every evil. And I will set forth for my giving of food and will give to all the men in the city, and no man shall perish of hunger in the land of Matzarayam."³ Then Asenath departed on her way, and Yawasap for his giving of food. And, when Asenath reached the place of the ravine with the six hundred men, suddenly they who were with Pharaoh's son came forth from their ambush and joined battle with those who were with Asenath, and cut them all down with their swords, and all her forerunners they slew, but Asenath fled with her chariot.⁴ Then Laway, the son of Laah, knew all these things by the spirit as a prophet and told his brethren of Asenath's danger, and straightway each of them took his sword upon his thigh and their shields upon their arms and the spears in their right hands and pursued after Asenath with great speed. And, as Asenath was fleeing before, lo! Pharaoh's son met her and fifty horsemen with him: and Asenath, when she saw him, was seized with very great fear and was trembling, and she called upon the name of the Adanay her Alahayam.

27 And Banayaman was sitting with her on the chariot on the right side; and Banayaman was a strong lad of about nineteen years, and upon him was ineffable beauty and might as of a lion's whelp, and he was also one who feared Alahayam exceedingly.² Then Banayaman leaped down from the chariot, and took a round stone from the ravine and filled his hand and hurled at Pharaoh's son and smote his left temple, and wounded him with a grievous wound, and he fell from his horse upon the earth half-dead.³ And thereupon Banayaman, having run up on to a rock, says to Asenath's chariot-man: "Give me stones from the ravine." And he gave him fifty stones. And Banayaman hurled the stones and slew the fifty men who were with Pharaoh's son, all the stones sinking in through their temples.⁴ Then the sons of Laah, Raawaban and Shamaiwan, Laway and Yahawadah, Yashashakar and Zebulon, pursued after the men who had lain in wait against Asenath and fell upon them unawares and cut them all down; and the six men slew two thousand and seventy-six men.⁵ And the sons of Balla and Zelpha fled from their face and said: "We have perished at the hands of our brethren, and Pharaoh's son has also died by the hand of Banayaman the lad, and all who were with him perished by the hand of the boy Banayaman. Accordingly, therefore, come let us slay Asenath and Banayaman and flee to the thicket of these reeds."⁶ And they came against Asenath holding their swords drawn covered with blood. And Asenath when she saw them feared greatly and said: "Adanay Alahayam, who quickenedst me and deliveredst me from the idols and the corruption of death, even as you said to me that my soul shall live for ever, deliver me now also from these wicked men."⁷ And the Adanay Alahayam heard Asenath's voice, and straightway the swords of the adversaries fell from their hands upon the earth and were turned into ashes.

28 And the sons of Balla and Zelpha, when they saw the strange miracle that had been wrought, feared and said: "The Adanay fights against us on Asenath's behalf."² Then they fell upon their faces on the earth and made obeisance to Asenath and said: "Have mercy on us your bondmen, for that you are our mistress and queen. We wickedly committed evil deeds against you and against our brother Yawasap, but the Adanay requited us according to our works. Therefore we your bondmen pray you, have mercy on us the lowly and miserable and deliver us from the hands of our brethren, for that they will make themselves avengers of the despite done to you and their swords are against us. Accordingly be gracious to your bondmen, mistress, before them."³ And Asenath said to them: "Be of good cheer and be not you afraid of your brethren, for that they themselves are men who worship Alahayam and fear the Adanay; but go into the thicket of these reeds until I shall appease them on your behalf and stay their wrath on account of the great crimes which you on your part have dared to commit against them. But the Adanay see and judge between me and you."⁴ Then Wadan and Gad fled into the thicket of the reeds; and their brethren, Leah's sons, came running like stags with great haste against them.⁵ And Asenath stepped down from the chariot that was her covert and gave them her right hand with tears, and they themselves fell down and made obeisance to her on the earth and wept with a loud voice; and they continued asking for their brethren the sons of the handmaids to put them to death.⁶ And Asenath said to them: "I pray you, spare your brethren, and render not to them evil for evil. For the Adanay saved me from them and shattered their daggers and swords from out their hands, and lo! they have melted and were burned to ashes upon the earth like wax from before fire, and this is sufficient for us that the Adanay fights for us against them. Accordingly do you spare your brethren, for that they are your brethren and the blood of your father Yasharaal."⁷ And Shamaiwan said to her: "Therefore speaks our mistress good words on behalf of her enemies? Nay but rather we will cut them down limb from limb with our swords, for that they devised evil things concerning our brother Yawasap and our father Yasharaal and against you, our mistress, to-day."⁸ Then Asenath stretched out her right hand and touched Simeon's beard and kissed him tenderly and said: "In no wise, brother, render evil for evil to your neighbour, for that the Adanay will avenge this despite. They themselves, you know, are your brethren and the offspring of your father Yasharaal, and they fled from afar from your face. Accordingly grant them pardon."

29 And Pharaoh's son rose from the earth and sat up and spat blood from his mouth; for the blood was running down from his temple into his mouth. And Banayaman ran up to him and took his sword and drew it from Pharaoh's son's sheath (for Banayaman was not wearing a sword upon his thigh) and wished to smite Pharaoh's son upon the breast. ² Then Laway ran up to him and took hold of his hand and said: "In no wise, brother, do this thing, for that we are men who worship Alahayam, and it is not meet for a man who worships Alahayam to render evil for evil, nor to trample upon one who has fallen, nor utterly to crush his enemy even to death. And now put back the sword into his place, and come and help me, and let us heal him of this wound; and, if he live, he will be our friend and his father Paraih will be our father." ³ Then Laway raised Pharaoh's son from the earth and washed away the blood from his face and tied a bandage over his wound and set him upon his horse and led him to his father Paraih, relating to him all the things that had happened and befallen. ⁴ And Paraih arose from his throne and made obeisance to Laway upon the earth and blessed him. Then, when the third day had passed, Pharaoh's son died from the stone wherewith he was wounded by Banayaman. And Paraih mourned for his firstborn son exceedingly, whence from the grief Paraih fell sick and died at 109 years, and he left his diadem to the all-beauteous Yawasap. ⁵ And Yawasap reigned alone in Matzarayam 48 years; and after these things Yawasap gave back the diadem to Pharaoh's younger child, who was at the breast when the old man Paraih died. And Yawasap was thenceforth as father of Pharaoh's younger child in Matzarayam till his death, glorifying and praising Alahayam.

Apocalypse of Abraham

1 On the day when I planed the gods of my father Tharach and the gods of Nachawar his brother, when I was searching as to who the Mighty Alahayam in truth is. "This is the account of Tharach. Tharach became the father of Abaram, Nachawar, and Charan." ² I, Abaraham, at the time when it fell to my lot, when I fulfilled the services (the sacrifices) of my father Tharach to his gods of wood and stone, gold and silver, brass and iron; ³ having entered into their temple for service, I found the god whose name was Merumath (which was) hewn out of stone, fallen forward at the feet of the iron god Nahon. ⁴ And it came to pass, when I saw it, my heart was perplexed, and I considered in my mind that I should not be able to bring him back to his place, I, Abaraham, alone, because he was heavy, being of a large stone. ⁵ And I went forth and made it known to my father, and he entered with me. ⁶ And when both of us moved him (the god) forward, so that we might bring him back to his place, his head fell from him while I was still holding him by the head. ⁷ And it came to pass, when my father saw that the head of Merumath had fallen from him, he said to me: "Abaraham!" ⁸ And I said: "Here am I." And he said to me: "Bring me an axe, of the small ones, from the house." And I brought it to him. ⁹ And he hewed aright another Merumath out of another stone, without head, and the head which had been thrown down from Merumath he placed upon it, and the rest of Merumath he shattered.

2 And he made five other gods, and gave them to me [and] commanded me to sell them outside in the street of the town. ² And I saddled my father's ass, and placed them upon it, and went towards the inn to sell them. ³ And lo! merchants from Fandana in Aram were travelling with camels going to Matzarayam, to trade. ⁴ And I spoke with them. And one of their camels uttered a groan, and the ass took fright and sprang away and upset the gods; and three of them were smashed, and two were preserved. ⁵ And it came to pass, when the Aram saw that I had gods, they said to me: "Why did you not tell us [that you had gods? Then we would have bought them] before the ass heard the sound of the camel, and they would not have been lost. ⁶ Give us, at any rate, the gods that remain, and we will give you the proper price for the broken gods, also for the gods that have been preserved." ⁷ For I was concerned in my heart as to how I could bring to my father the purchase-price; ⁸ and the three broken ones I cast into the water of the river Gawar, which was at that place, ⁹ and they sank into the depths, and there was nothing more of them.

3 When I was still going on the way, my heart was perplexed within me, and my mind was distracted. ² And I said in my heart: ["What evil deed is this that my father is doing? ³ Is not he, rather, the god of his gods, since they come into existence through his chisels and lathes, and his wisdom, ⁴ and is it not rather fitting that they should worship my father, since they are his work? What is this delusion of my father in his works?] ⁵ Behold, Merumath fell and could not rise in his own temple, nor could I, by myself, move him until my father came, and the two of us moved him; ⁶ and as we were thus too weak, his head fell from him, and he (my father) set it upon another stone of another god, which he had made without head. ⁷ And the other five gods were broken in pieces down from the ass, which were able-neither to help themselves, nor to hurt the ass, because it had broken them to pieces; nor did their broken fragments come up out of the river." ⁸ And I said in my heart: "If this be so, how can Merumath, my father's god, having the head of another stone, and himself being made of another stone, rescue a man, or hear a man's prayer and reward him?"

4 And while I cogitated thus, I reached my father's house; and having watered the ass, and set out hay for it, I brought the silver and gave it into the hand of my father Tharach. ² When he saw it he was glad, [and] he said: "Blessed are you, Abaraham, of my gods, because you have brought the price of the gods, so that my work was not in vain." ³ And I answered and said to him: "Hear, O my father, Tharach! Blessed are the gods of you, for you are their god, since you have made them; for their blessing is ruination, and their power is vain; ⁴ they who did not help themselves, how shall they, then, help you or bless me? ⁵ I have been kind to you in this affair, because by using my intelligence, I have brought you the money for the broken gods." ⁶ And when he heard my word, he became furiously angry with me, because I had spoken hard words against his gods.

5 I, however, having thought over my father's anger, went out; ² [and after I had gone out] my father cried, saying: "Abaraham!" And I said: "Here am I." ³ And he said: "Take and collect the splinters of the wood out of which I made gods of pine-wood before you came; and make ready for me the food of the mid-day meal." ⁴ And it came to pass, when I collected the splinters of wood, I found under them a little god which had been lying among the brush-wood on my left, and on his forehead was written: Yahawah BARISAT. ⁵ And I did not inform my father that I had found the wooden god Barisat under the chips. ⁶ And it came to pass, when I had laid the splinters in the fire, in order that I might make ready food for my father—on going out to ask a question regarding the food, ⁷ I placed Barisat before the kindled fire, saying threateningly to him: "Pay careful attention, Barisat, [that] the fire do not die down until I come; if, however, it dieth down, blow on it that it may burn up again." ⁸ And I went out and accomplished my purpose. ⁹ And on returning I found Barisat fallen backwards, and his feet surrounded by fire and horribly burnt. ¹⁰ I burst into a fit of laughter, and I said to myself: "Truly, O Barisat, you can kindle the fire and cook food!" ¹¹ And it came to pass, while I spoke thus in my laughter he (Barisat) was gradually burnt up by the fire and reduced to ashes. ¹² And I brought the food to my father, and he did eat. And I gave him wine and milk, and he was gladdened and blessed his god Merumath. ¹³ And I said to him: "O father Tharach, bless not your god Merumath, and praise him not, but rather praise your god Barisat because, loving you more, he has cast himself into the fire to cook your food!" ¹⁴ And he said to me: "And where is he now?" ¹⁵ And I said: "He is burnt to ashes in the violence of the fire and is reduced to dust." ¹⁶ And he said: "Great is the power of Barisat! I will make another today, and tomorrow he will prepare my food."

6 When I, Abaraham, however, heard such words from my father, I laughed in my mind ² and sighed in the grief and in the anger of my soul, ³ and said: "How then can that which is made by him—manufactured statues—be a helper of my father? ⁴ Or shall the body then be subject to its soul, and the soul to the spirit, and the spirit to folly and ignorance!" ⁵ And I said: "It is fitting once to endure evil. So I will direct my mind to what is pure and lay my thoughts open before him." ⁶ And I answered and said: "O father Tharach, whichever of these you praise as a god, you are foolish in your mind. ⁷ Behold the gods of my brother Nachawar, which stand in the holy temple, are more worthy of honour than these of your. ⁸ For behold Zucheus, the god of my brother Nachawar, is more worthy of honour than your god Merumath, because he is made of gold which is highly valued by people, ⁹ and when he grows old in years he will be re-modelled; but if your god Merumath is changed or broken, he will not be renewed, because he is a stone; ¹⁰ the which is also the case with the god Joav on [who stands with Zucheus over the other gods. ¹¹ How much more worthy of honour is he than the god Barisat, who is made of wood, while he is forged of silver! ¹² How is he made, by adaptation of man, valuable to outward appearance! ¹³ But your god Barisat, while he was still, before he had been prepared, rooted up (?) upon the earth and was great and wonderful with the glory of branches and blossom, ¹⁴ you did hew out with the axe, and by means of your art he has been made into a god. ¹⁵ And lo! his fatness is already withered and perished, ¹⁶ he is fallen from the height to the ground, he has come from great estate to littleness, and the appearance of his countenance has vanished, ¹⁷ and he Barisat himself is burnt up by fire and reduced to ashes and is no more; ¹⁸ and you say: "Today I will make another which tomorrow shall make ready my food!" ¹⁹ "He has perished to utter destruction!"

7 "Behold, the fire is more worthy of honour than all things formed because even that which is not subjected is subjected to it, and things easily perishable are mocked by its flames. ² But even more worthy of honour is the water, because it conquers the fire and satisfieth the earth. ³ But rather the waters are more honorable than the fire, for they triumph over the fire and soften the earth with fruit ⁴ But even it I do not call Alahayam, because it is subjected to the earth under which the water inclineth. ⁵ But I call the earth much more worthy of honour, because it overpowereth the nature (and the fulness) of the water. ⁶ Even it (the earth), however, I do not call god, [because] 14 it, too, is dried up by the sun, and is apportioned to man to be tilled. ⁷ I call the sun more worthy of honour than the earth, because it with its rays illumineth the whole world and the different atmospheres. ⁸ Even it I do not call god, because at night and by clouds its course is obscured. ⁹ Nor, again, do I call the moon or the stars god, because they also in their season obscure their light at night. ¹⁰ But hear this, Tharach my father; for I will make known to you the Alahayam who has made everything, not these we consider as gods. ¹¹ Who then is He? or what is He? Who has crimsoned the heavens, and made the sun golden, And the moon lustrous, and with it the stars; And has made the earth dry in the midst of many waters, And set you in and tested me in the confusion of my thoughts ¹² "Yet may Alahayam reveal Himself to us through Himself!"

8 And it came to pass as I was thinking things like these with regard to my father Tharach in the court of my house, the voice of the Mighty One came down from ² there comes down the voice of a Mighty One from heaven in a fiery cloud-burst, saying and crying: "Abaraham, Abaraham!" ³ And I said: "Here am I." ⁴ And He said: "You are seeking in the understanding of your heart the Alahayam of Gods and the Creator; ⁵ I am He. Go out from your father Tharach, and get you out from the house, that you also be not slain in the sins of your father's house." ⁶ And I went out. ⁷ And it came to pass when I went out, that before I succeeded in getting out in front of the door of the court, there came a sound of a great thunder and burnt him and his house, and everything whatsoever in his house, down to the ground, forty cubits.

9 Then a voice came to me speaking twice: "Abaraham, Abaraham!" ² And I said: "Here am I!" ³ And He said: "Behold, fear not, for I am before the worlds, and a mighty Alahayam who has created the light of the world. I am a shield over you, and I am your helper. ⁴ Go, take me a young heifer of three years old, and a she-goat of three years old, and a ram of three years old, and a turtledove and a pigeon, and bring me a pure sacrifice. ⁵ And in this sacrifice I will lay before you the ages (to come), and make known to you what is reserved, and you shall see great things which you have not seen (hitherto); ⁶ because you have loved to search me out, and I have named you my Friend. ⁷ But abstain from every form of food that proceeds out of the fire, and from the drinking of wine, and from anointing (yourself) with oil, forty days." ⁸ And then set forth for me the sacrifice which I have commanded you, in the place which I will show you, on a high mountain, ⁹ and there I will show you the ages which have been created and established, made and renewed, by my Word, ¹⁰ and I will make known to you what shall come to pass in them on those who have done evil and (practised) righteousness in the generation of men.

10 And it came to pass, when I heard the voice of Him who spoke such words to me, (and) I looked here and there. ² And lo! there was no breath of a man, and my spirit was affrighted, and my soul fled from me, and I became like a stone, and fell down upon the earth, for I had no more strength to stand on the earth. ³ And while I was still lying with my face upon the earth, I heard the voice of the Holy One speaking: "Go, Jaobel, and by means of my ineffable Name raise me yonder man, and strengthen him (so that he recover) from his trembling." ⁴ And the angel came, whom He had sent to me, in the likeness of a man, ⁵ and grasped me by my right hand, and set me up upon my feet, and said to me: "Stand up, [Abaraham,] Friend of Alahayam who loves you; let not the trembling of man seize you! ⁶ For, lo! I have been sent to you to strengthen you and bless you in the name of Alahayam—who loves you—the Creator of the celestial and terrestrial. ⁷ Be fearless and hasten to Him. ⁸ I am called Jaobel by Him who moves that which exists with me on the seventh expanse upon the firmament, a power in virtue of the ineffable Name that is dwelling in me. ⁹ I am the one who has been given to restrain, according to His commandment, the threatening attack of the living creatures of the Cherubim against one another, and teach those who carry Him the song of the seventh hour of the night of man. ¹⁰ I am ordained to restrain the Leviathan, for to me are subject the attack and menace of every single reptile. ¹¹ I am he who has been commissioned to loosen Hades, to destroy him who stares at the dead. ¹² I am the one who was commissioned to set on fire your father's house together with him, because he displayed reverence for dead (idols). ¹³ I have been sent to bless you now, and the land which the Eternal One, whom you have invoked, has prepared for you, ¹⁴ and for your sake have I wended my way upon the earth. ¹⁵ Stand up, Abaraham! Go without fear; be right glad and rejoice; and I am with you! For eternal honour has been prepared for you by the Eternal One. Go, fulfil the sacrifices commanded. ¹⁶ For lo! I have been appointed to be with you and with the generation prepared (to spring) from you; ¹⁷ and with me Mayakaal blesses you for ever. Be of good cheer, go!"

11 And I rose up and saw him who had grasped me by my right hand and set me up upon my feet: ² and the appearance of his body was like sapphire, and the look of his countenance like chrysolite, and the hair of his head like snow, and the turban upon his head like the appearance of the rainbow, and the clothing of his garments like purple; ³ and a golden sceptre was in his right hand. And he said to me: "Abaraham!" ⁴ And I said: "Here am I, your servant." ⁵ And he said: "Let not my look affright you, nor my speech, that your soul be not perturbed. Come with me and I will go with you, visible until the sacrifice, ⁶ but after the sacrifice, invisible for ever. Be of good cheer, and come!"

12 And we went, the two of us together, forty days and nights, ² and I ate no bread, and drank no water, because my food was to see the angel who was with me, and his speech—that was my drink. ³ And we came to the Mount of Alahayam, the glorious Charab. ⁴ And I said to the angel: "Singer of the Eternal One! Lo! I have no sacrifice with me, nor am I aware of a place of an altar on the mountain: how can I bring a sacrifice?" ⁵ And he said to me: "Look round!" ⁶ And I looked round, and lo! there were following us all the prescribed sacrificial (animals)—the young heifer, and the she-goat, and the ram, and the turtle-dove, and the pigeon. ⁷ And the angel said to me: "Abaraham!" I said: "Here am I." ⁸ And he said to me: "All these slaughter, and divide the animals into halves, one against the other, but the birds do not sever; and ("but") give to the men, whom I will show you, standing by you, for these are the altar upon the Mountain, to offer a sacrifice to the Eternal; ⁹ but the turtledove and the pigeon give to me, for I will ascend upon the wings of the bird, in order to show you in heaven, and on the earth, and in the sea, and in the abyss, and in the under-world, and in the Garden of Idan, and in its rivers and in the fulness of the whole world and its circle. ¹⁰ You shall gaze in (them) all

13 And I did everything according to the commandment of the angel, and gave the angels, who had come to us, the divided animals, but the angel took the birds. ² And I waited for the evening sacrifice. ³ And there flew an unclean bird down upon the carcasses, and I drove it away. ⁴ And the unclean bird spoke to me, and said: "What do you, Abaraham, upon the holy Heights, where no man eats or drinks, neither is there upon them (any) food of man, but these consume everything with fire, and (will) burn you up. ⁵ Forsake the man, who is with you, and flee; for if you ascend to the Heights they will make an end of you. ⁶ And it came to pass, when I saw the bird speak, I said to the angel: "What is this, my lord?" ⁷ And he said: "This is ungodliness, this is Azazel." ⁸ And he said to it: "Disgrace upon you, Azazel! ⁹ For Abaraham's lot is in heaven, but your upon the earth. Because you have chosen and loved this for the dwelling-(place) of your uncleanness, ¹⁰ therefore the eternal mighty Adanay made you a dweller upon the earth and through you every evil spirit of lies, and through you wrath and trials for the generations of ungodly men; ¹¹ for Alahayam, the Eternal, Mighty One, has not permitted that the bodies of the righteous should be in your hand, in order that thereby the life of the righteous and the destruction of the unclean may be assured. ¹² Hear, begone with shame from me. For it has not been given to you to play the tempter in regard to all the righteous. ¹³ Depart from this man! You can not lead him astray, because he is an enemy to you, and of those who follow you and love what you will. ¹⁴ For, behold, the vesture which in heaven was formerly your has been set aside for him, and the mortality which was his has been transferred to you."

14 The angel said to me: "Abaraham!" ² And I said: "Here am I, your servant." ³ And he said: "Know from henceforth that the Eternal One has chosen you, (He) whom you love; ⁴ be of good courage and use this authority, so far as I bid you, against him who slanders truth; ⁵ should I not be able to put him to shame who has scattered over the earth the secrets of heaven and has rebelled against the Mighty One? ⁶ Say to him: 'Be you the burning coal of the Furnace of the earth; go, Azazel, into the inaccessible parts of the earth. ⁷ And the angel said to me: "Answer him not; for Alahayam has given him power over those who do answer him." ⁸ And the angel spoke to me a second time and said: "Now rather, however much he speak to you, answer him not, that his will may have no free course in you, because the Eternal and Mighty One has given him weight and will; answer him not." ⁹ I did what was commanded me by the angel; and however much he spoke to me, I answered him nothing whatsoever.

15 And it came to pass when the sun went down, and lo! a smoke as of a furnace. ² And the angels who had the portions of the sacrifice ascended from the top of the smoking furnace. ³ And the Angel took me with the right hand and set me on the right wing of the pigeon, and set himself on the left wing of the turtle dove, which (birds) had neither been slaughtered nor divided. ⁴ And he bore me to the borders of the flaming fire [and we ascended as with many winds to the heaven which was fixed upon the surface. ⁵ And I saw on the air on the height, to which we ascended a strong light, which it was impossible to describe. ⁶ And lo! in this light a fiercely burning fire for people, many people of male appearance, all (constantly) changing in aspect and form, running and being transformed, and worshipping and crying with a sound of words which I knew not.

16 And I said to the Angel: "Why have you brought me up here now, because I cannot now see, for I am already grown weak, and my spirit departs from me?" ² And he said to me: "Remain by me; fear not! And He whom you see come straight towards us with great voice of holiness—that is the Eternal One who Loves you; ³ but Himself you can not see. ⁴ But let not your spirit grow faint on account of the loud crying, for I am with you, strengthening you."

17 And while he yet spoke (and) lo! fire came against us round about, ² and a voice was in the fire like a voice of many waters, like the sound of the sea in its uproar. ³ And the angel bent his head with me and worshipped. ⁴ And I desired to fall down there and worship, ⁵ and I saw that the angel who was with me bowed his head and worshipped, ⁶ but the surface of the high place where I seemed to be standing changed its inclination constantly, rolling as the great waves on the surface of the sea. ⁷ And he said: "Only worship, Abaraham, and utter the song which I have taught you;" ⁸ And I worshipped only, and uttered the song which he had taught me. ⁹ And he said: "Recite without ceasing." And I recited, and he also himself with me recited the song: ¹⁰ Eternal, mighty, Holy, El, Alahayam unique—Supreme! ¹¹ You who art self-originated, incorruptible, spotless, Uncreate, immaculate, immortal, Self-complete, self-illuminating; Without father, without mother, unbegotten, Exalted, fiery One! ¹² Lover of men, benevolent, bountiful jealous over me and very compassionate; ¹³ Iyalay, that is, My Alahayam—Eternal, mighty holy Sabaoth, very glorious El, El, El, El, Jaol! ¹⁴ You are He whom my soul has loved! ¹⁵ Eternal Protector, shining like fire, Whose voice is like the thunder, ¹⁶ Whose look is like the lightning, all-seeing, ¹⁷ Who receives the prayers of such as honour You! ¹⁸ And turns away from the requests of such as embarrass with the embarrassment of their provocations, ¹⁹ Who dissolves the confusions of the world which arise from the ungodly and righteous in the corruptible age renewing the age of the righteous! ²⁰ You, O Light, shine before the light of the morning upon Your creatures, so that it becomes day upon the earth. ²¹ And in Your heavenly dwelling places there is no need of any other light than (that) of the unspeakable splendour from the lights of Your countenance. ²² Accept my prayer and be well-pleased with it, likewise also the sacrifice which You have prepared You through me who sought You! ²³ Accept me favourably, and show me, and teach me, And make known to Your servant as you have promised me!

18 And while I still recited the song, the mouth of the fire which was on the surface rose up on high. ² And I heard a voice like the roaring of the sea; nor did it cease on account of the rich abundance of the fire. ³ And as the fire raised itself up, ascending into the height, I saw under the fire a throne of fire, and, round about it all-seeing ones, reciting the song, and under the throne four fiery living creatures singing. ⁴ And their appearance was one, each one of them with four faces. And such was the appearance of their countenances, of a lion, of a man, of an ox, of an eagle: "The form of their faces was that of a man, and each of the four had the face of a lion on the right side, the face of an ox on the left side, and also the face of an eagle." ⁵ Four heads were upon their bodies so that the four creatures had sixteen faces; ⁶ And each had six wings; from their shoulders, and their sides and their loins. ⁷ And with the two wings from their shoulders they covered their faces, and with the two wings which sprang from their loins they covered their feet, while the two middle wings they spread out for flying straightforward. "and within it was the form of four living creatures. And this was their appearance: They had a human form, but each had four faces and four wings. Their legs were straight, and the soles of their feet were like the hooves of a calf, gleaming like polished bronze." ⁸ And when they had ended the singing, they looked at one another and threatened one another. ⁹ And it came to pass when the angel who was with me saw that they were threatening each other, he left me and went running to them and turned the countenance of each living creature from the countenance immediately confronting him, in order that they might not see their countenances threatening each other. And he taught them the song of peace which has its origin in the Eternal One. ¹⁰ And as I stood alone and looked, I saw behind the living creatures a chariot with fiery wheels. ¹¹ Each wheel full of eyes round about; and over the wheels was a throne which I saw, ¹² and this was covered with fire, and fire encircled it round about, and lo! an indescribable fire environed a fiery host. ¹³ And I heard its holy voice like the voice of a man.

19 And a voice came to me out of the midst of the fire, saying: "Abaraham, Abaraham!" ² I said: "Here am I!" ³ And He said: "Consider the expanses which are under the firmament on which you are (now) placed, and see how on no single expanse is there any other but He whom you have sought, or who has loved you.”

⁴ And while He was yet speaking (and) lo! the expanses opened, and beneath me the heavens. ⁵ I saw in the seventh heaven, on which I was standing, an outstretched fire, the light which is the treasure of life, the dew with which Alahayam will raise the dead, the spirits of the righteous departed, the spirits of the unborn souls, judgment and justice, peace and blessing, a multitude of angels and living creatures, and the Power of the Invisible Glory which was seated above the living creatures; but no other being did I see there.

⁶ And I looked from the mountain in which I stood downwards to the sixth firmament, and saw there a multitude of angels, of (pure) spirit, without bodies, who carried out the commands of the fiery angels who were upon the seventh firmament, as I was standing suspended over them. ⁷ And behold, upon this firmament there were no other powers of (any) other form, but only angels of (pure) spirit, like the power which I saw on the seventh firmament. ⁸ And He commanded that the sixth firmament should be taken away. ⁹ And I saw there, on the fifth firmament, the powers of the stars which carry out the commands laid upon them, and the elements of the earth obeyed them.

20 And the Eternal Mighty One said to me: “Abaraham, Abaraham!” ² And I said: “Here am I.” ³ And He said: “Consider from above the stars which are beneath you, and number, them for me, and make known to me their number.” ⁴ And I said: “When can I? For I am but a man of dust and ashes.” ⁵ And he said to me: “As the number of the stars and their power, so will I make your seed a nation and a people, set apart for me in my heritage with Azazel.” ⁶ And I said: “O Eternal, Mighty One! Let your servant speak before You, and let not Your anger kindle against Your chosen one!” ⁷ Lo, before You led me up Azazel inveighed against me. How, then, while he is not now before You, have you constituted Yourself with him?”

21 And He said to me: “Look, now, beneath your feet at the firmaments and understand the creation foreshadowed in this expanse, the creatures existing on it, and the age prepared according to it.” ² And I saw beneath the surfaces of the feet, and I saw beneath the sixth heaven and what was therein, ³ and then the earth and its fruits, and what moved upon it and its animate beings; and the power of its men, and the ungodliness of their souls, and their righteous deeds and the beginnings of their works, and the lower regions and the perdition therein, the Abyss and its torments. ⁴ I saw there the sea and its islands, and its monsters and its fishes, and Leviathan and his dominion, and his camping-ground, and his caves, and the world which lay upon him, and his movements, and the destructions of the world on his account. ⁵ I saw there streams and the rising of their waters, and their windings. ⁶ And I saw there the Garden of Idan and its fruits, the source of the stream issuing from it, and its trees and their bloom, and those who behaved righteously. And I saw therein their foods and blessedness. ⁷ And I saw there a great multitude—men and women and children, half of them on the right side of the picture and half of them on the left side of the picture.

22 And I said: “O Eternal, Mighty One! What is this picture of the creatures?” ² And He said to me: “This is my will with regard to those who exist in the (divine) world-counsel, and it seemed well-pleasing before my sight, and then afterwards I gave commandment to them through my Word. ³ And it came to pass whatever I had determined to be, was already planned beforehand in this (picture), and it stood before me ere it was created, as you have seen. ⁴ And I said: “O Adanay, mighty and eternal! Who are the people in this picture on this side and on that?” ⁵ And He said to me: “These which are on the left side are the multitude of the peoples which have formerly been in existence and which are after you destined, some for judgement and restoration, and others for vengeance and destruction at the end of the world. ⁶ But these which are on the right side of the picture—they are the people set apart for me of the peoples with Azazel. ⁷ These are they whom I have ordained to be born of you and to be called My People.

23 “Now look again in the picture, who it is who seduced Chawah and what is the fruit of the tree, [and] you will know what there shall be, and how it shall be to your seed among the people at the end of the days of the age, and so far as you can not understand I will make known to you, for you are well-pleasing in my sight, and I will tell you what is kept in my heart.” ² And I looked into the picture, and mine eyes ran to the side of the Garden of Idan. ³ And I saw there a man very great in height and fearful in breadth, incomparable in aspect, embracing a woman, who likewise approximated to the aspect and shape of the man. ⁴ And they were standing under a tree of (the Garden of) Idan, and the fruit of this tree was like the appearance of a bunch of grapes of the vine, and behind the tree was standing as it were a serpent in form, having hands and feet like a man’s, and wings on its shoulders, six on the right side and six on the left, and they were holding the grapes of the tree in their hands, and both were eating it whom I had seen embracing. ⁵ And I said: “Who are these mutually embracing, or who is this who is between them, or what is the fruit which they are eating, O Mighty Eternal One?” ⁶ And He said: “This is the human world, this is Adam, and this is their desire upon the earth, this is Chawah; but he who is between them representeth ungodliness, their beginning (on the way) to perdition, even Azazel.” ⁷ And I said: “O Eternal, Mighty One! Why have you given to such power to destroy the generation of men in their works upon the earth?” ⁸ And He said to me: “They who will (to do) evil—and how much I hated (it) in those who do it!—over them I gave him power, and to be beloved of them.” ⁹ And I answered and said: “O Eternal, Mighty One! Therefore have you willed to effect that evil should be desired in the hearts of men, since You indeed art angered over that which was willed by You, at him who is doing what is unprofitable in your counsel?”

24 And He said to me: “Being angered at the nations on your account, and on account of the people of your family who are (to be) separated after you, as you see in the picture the burden (of destiny) that (is laid) upon them—and I will tell you what shall be, and how much shall be, in the last days. ² Look now at everything in the picture.” ³ And I looked and saw there what was before me in creation. ⁴ I saw Adam, and Chawah existing with him, and with them the cunning Adversary, and Qayan who acted lawlessly through the Adversary, and the slaughtered Habal, (and) the destruction brought and caused upon him through the lawless one. ⁵ I saw there also Impurity, and those who lust after it, and its pollution, and their jealousy, and the fire of their corruption in the lowest parts of the earth. ⁶ I saw there Theft, and those who hasten after it, and the arrangement [of their retribution, the judgement of the Great Assize. ⁷ I saw there naked men, the foreheads against each other, and their disgrace, and their passion which (they had) against each other, and their retribution. ⁸ I saw there Desire, and in her hand the head of every kind of lawlessness [and her scorn and her waste assigned to perdition.

25 I saw there the likeness of the idol of jealousy, having the likeness of woodwork such as my father was wont to make, and its statue was of glittering bronze. ² And before it a man, and he worshipped it; and in front of him an altar, and upon it a boy slain in the presence of the idol. ³ But I said to Him: “What is this idol, or what is the altar, or who are they that are sacrificed, or who is the sacrificer? Or what is the Temple which I see that is beautiful in art, and its beauty being like the glory that lies beneath Your throne?”

⁴ And He said: “Hear, Abaraham. This which you see, the Temple and altar and beauty, is my idea of the priesthood of my glorious Name, in which dwells every single prayer of man, and the rise of kings and prophets, and whatever sacrifice I ordain to be offered to me among my people who are to come out of your generation. ⁵ But the statue which you saw is mine anger wherewith the people anger me who are to proceed for me from you. ⁶ But the man whom you saw slaughtering—that is he who incites murderous sacrifices and provokes me to anger, and the sacrifice is the killing of those who are for me the testimony of the last judgment, and their fate was fixed from the beginning of the creation.”

26 And I said: “O Eternal, Mighty One! Therefore have you established that it should be so, and then proclaim the knowledge thereof?”² And He said to me: “Hear, Abaraham; understand what I say to you, and answer me as I question you.”³ Why did your father Tharach not listen to your voice, and (why) did he not cease from the devilish idolatry until he perished and his whole household with him?”⁴ And I said: “O Eternal, [Mighty One]! (It was) entirely because he did not choose to listen to me; but I, too, did not follow his works.”⁵ And He said to me: “Hear, Abaraham. As the counsel of your father is in him, and as your counsel is in you, so also is the counsel of my will in me ready for the coming days, before you have knowledge of these, or (can) see with your eyes what is future in them.”⁶ How those of your seed will be, look in the picture.

27 And I looked and saw: lo! the picture swayed and from it emerged.² On its left side, a heathen people, and they pillaged those who were on the right side, men and women and children: some they slaughtered, others they retained with themselves.³ Lo! I saw them run towards them through four entrances, and they burnt the Temple with fire, and the holy things that were therein they plundered.⁴ And I said: “O Eternal One! Lo! the people that spring from me, whom You have accepted, the hordes of the heathen do plunder, and some they kill, while others they hold fast as aliens, and the Temple they have burnt with fire, and the beautiful things therein they do rob and destroy.”⁵ O Eternal, Mighty One! If this be so, therefore have you now lacerated my heart, and why should this be so?”⁶ And He said to me: “Hear, Abaraham. What you have seen shall happen on account of your seed who anger me by reason of the statue which you saw, and on account of the human slaughter in the picture, through zeal in the Temple; and as you saw so shall it be.”⁷ And I said: “O Eternal, Mighty One! May the works of evil wrought in ungodliness now pass by, but show me rather those who fulfilled the commandments, even the works of his righteousness. For you can do this.”⁸ And He said to me: “The time of the righteous meets them first through the holiness flowing from kings and righteous-dealing rulers whom I at first created in order from such to rule among them. But from these issue men who care for their interests, as I have made known to you and you have seen.”

28 And I answered and said: “O Mighty, Eternal One, hallowed by Your power! Be favourable to my petition, for for this have you brought me up here—and show m]. As You have brought me up to Your height, so make this known to me, Your beloved one, as much as I ask—whether what I saw shall happen to them for long?”² And He showed me a multitude of His people, and said to me: “On their account through four issues, as you saw, I shall be provoked by them, and in these my retribution for their deeds shall be accomplished. But in the fourth outgoing of a hundred years and one hour of the age it shall be in misfortune among the heathen [but one hour in mercy and contumely, as among the heathen.

29 And I said: “O Eternal Mighty One! And how long a time is an hour of the Agaa?”² And He said: “Twelve years have I ordained of this ungodly Agaa to rule among the heathen and in your seed; and until the end of the times it shall be as you saw.”³ And do you reckon and understand and look into the picture.”⁴ And I looked and saw a man going out from the left side of the heathen; and there went out men and women and children, from the side of the heathen, many hosts, and worshipped him.⁵ And while I still looked there came out from the right side many, and some insulted that man, while some struck him; others, however, worshipped him.⁶ And I saw how these worshipped him, and Azazel ran and worshipped him, and having kissed his face he turned and stood behind him.⁷ And I said: “O Eternal, Mighty One! Who is the man insulted and beaten, who is worshipped by the heathen with Azazel?”⁸ And He answered and said: “Hear, Abaraham! The man whom you saw insulted and beaten and again worshipped—that is the relief granted by the heathen to the people who proceed from you, in the last days, in this twelfth hour of the Agaa of ungodliness. But in the twelfth year of my final Agaa I will set up this man from your generation, whom you saw (issue) from my people; this one all will follow, and such as are called by me will join, even those who change in their counsels.”⁹ And those whom you saw emerge from the left side of the picture—the meaning is: There shall be many from the heathen who set their hopes upon him; and as for those whom you saw from your seed on the right side, some insulting and striking, others worshipping him—many of them shall be offended at him.¹⁰ He, however, is testing those who have worshipped him of your seed, in that twelfth hour of the End, with a view to shortening the Agaa of ungodliness.

¹¹ “Before the Agaa of the righteous begins to grow, my judgement shall come upon the lawless heathen through the people of your seed who have been separated for me. In those days I will bring upon all creatures of the earth ten plagues,¹⁰ through misfortune and disease and sighing of the grief of their soul. Thus much will I bring upon the generations of men that be upon it on account of the provocation and the corruption of its creatures, whereby they provoke me.”¹² And then shall righteous men of your seed be left in the number which is kept secret by me, hastening in the glory of My Name to the place prepared beforehand for them, which you saw devastated in the picture; and they shall live and be established through sacrifices and gifts of righteousness and truth in the Agaa of the righteous, and shall rejoice in Me continually; and they shall destroy those who have destroyed them, and shall insult those who have insulted them.”¹³ And of those who defamed them they shall spit in the face, scorned by Me, while they the righteous shall behold Me full of joy, rejoicing with My people, and receiving those who return to Me in repentance.¹⁴ See, Abaraham, what you have seen, And hear what you have heard, And take full knowledge of what you have come to know. Go to your heritage.¹⁵ And lo! I am with you for ever.

30 But while He was still speaking, I found myself upon the earth. And I said: “O Eternal, Mighty One, I am no longer in the glory in which I was while on high, and what my soul longed to understand in mine heart I do not understand.”² And He said to me: “What is desired in your heart I will tell you, because you have sought to see the ten plagues which I have prepared for the heathen, and have prepared beforehand at the passing over of the twelfth hour of the earth.”³ Hear what I divulge to you, so shall it come to pass: ⁴ the first is pain of great distress; the second, conflagration of many cities; ⁵ the third, destruction and pestilence of animals; the fourth, hunger of the whole world and of its people; ⁶ the fifth by destruction among its rulers, destruction by earthquake and the sword; the sixth, multiplication of hail and snow; the seventh, the wild beasts will be their grave; ⁷ the eighth, hunger and pestilence will alternate with their destruction; ⁸ the ninth, punishment by the sword and flight in distress; the tenth, thunder and voices and destructive earthquake.

31 “And then I will sound the trumpet out of the air, and will send mine Elect One, having in him all my power, one measure; and this one shall summon my despised people from the nations.”² And I will burn with fire those who have insulted them and who have ruled among them in this Agaa.³ And I will give those who have covered me with mockery to the scorn of the coming Agaa.⁴ And I have prepared them to be food for the fire of Hades and for ceaseless flight to and fro through the air in the underworld beneath the earth the body filled with worms.⁵ For on them shall they see the righteousness of the Creator, those, namely, who have chosen to do my will, and those who have openly kept my commandments, and they shall rejoice with joy over the downfall of the men who still remain, who have followed the idols and their murders.⁶ For they shall putrefy in the body of the evil worm Azazel, and be burnt with the fire of Azazel’s tongue; for I hoped that they would come to me, and not have loved and praised the strange go, and not have adhered to him for whom they were not allotted, but instead they have forsaken the mighty Adanay.”

32 “Therefore hear, O Abaraham, and see; lo! your seventh generation shall go with you, and they shall go out into a strange land, and they shall enslave them, and Awayal-entreat them as it were an hour of the Agaa of ungodliness but the nation whom they shall serve I will judge.² And the Adanay said this too, "Have you heard, Abaraham, what I told you, what your tribe will encounter in the last days?"³ Abaraham, having heard, accepted the words of Alahayam in his heart.

Apocalypse of Sedrach

1 Beloved, let us prefer nothing in honor except sincere love: for in many things we stumble every day and night and hour. And for this cause let us gain love, for it covers a multitude of sins: for what is the profit, my children, if we have all things, and have not saving love... O blessed love, supplier of all good things. Blessed is the man who has gained the true faith and sincere love, according as the Master said, there is no greater love than this that a man should lay down his life for his friend.² And invisibly he received a voice in his ears: Come here, Sedrach, since you wish and desire to converse with Alahayam and ask of him that he may reveal to you whatever you wish to ask. And Sedrach said: What, Sir? And the voice said to him: I was sent to you to raise you here into heaven. And he said: I desired to speak mouth to mouth with Alahayam: I am not fit, Sir, to come into heaven. And stretching out his wings he took him up and he came into heaven to the very flame, and he set him as high as the third heaven, and in it stood the flame of the divinity.³ And the Adanay says to him: Welcome, my beloved Sedrach: What suit have you against Alahayam who created you, that you said, I desired to speak face to face with Alahayam? Sedrach says to him: Yea, truly, the son has a suit with the Father: my Adanay, why did you make the earth? The Adanay says to him: For man's sake. Sedrach says: And why did You make the sea? Why did You scatter every good thing on the earth? The Adanay says to him: For man's sake. Sedrach says to him: If you did these things, why will you destroy him? And the Adanay said: Man is my work and the creature of my hands, and I discipline him as I find good.⁴ Sedrach says to him: Chastisement and fire are your discipline: they are bitter, my Adanay: it were well for man if he had not been born: why then did you make him, my Adanay? Why did you weary your undefiled hands and create man, since you did not intend to have mercy on him? Alahayam says to him: I made Adam the first creature and placed him in Paradise in the midst of the tree of life and said to him: Eat of all the fruits, but beware of the tree of life: for if you eat of it, you shall die the death. But he transgressed my commandment, and being beguiled by the devil ate of the tree.⁵ Sedrach says to him: Of your will Adam was beguiled, my Adanay: You command your angels to make approach to Adam, and the first of the angels himself transgressed your commandment and did not make approach to him, and You did banish him, because he transgressed your commandment and did not make any approach to the work of your hands: if you lovedst man, why did You not slay the devil, the worker of unrighteousness? Who is able to fight an invisible spirit? And he as a smoke enters into the hearts of men and teaches them every sin: he fights against you, the immortal Alahayam, and what can wretched man then do to him? But have mercy, O Adanay, and stop the chastisements: but if not, count me also with the sinners: if you will have no mercy on the sinners, where are your mercies, where is your compassion, O Adanay? ⁶ Alahayam says to him: Be it known to you that I ordered all things to be placable to him: I gave him understanding and made him the heir of heaven and earth, and I subjected all things to him, and every living thing flees from him and from before his face: but he, having received of mine, became alien, adulterous, and sinful: tell me, what father, having given his son his portion, when he takes his substance and leaves his father and goes away and becomes an alien and serves an alien, when the father sees that the son has deserted him, does not darken his heart, and does not the father go and take his substance and banish him from his glory because he deserted his father? And how have I, the wonderful and jealous Alahayam, given him everything, and he having received these things has become an adulterer and a sinner? ⁷ Sedrach says to him: You, O Adanay, did create man. You knew of what sort of mind he was and of what sort of knowledge we are, and you make it a cause for chastisement: but cast him forth; for shall not I alone fill up the heavenly places? But if that is not to be so save man too, O Adanay. He failed by your will, wretched man. Why do you waste words on me, Sedrach? I created Adam and his wife and the sun and said: Behold each other how bright he is, and the wife of Adam is brighter in the beauty of the moon and he was the giver of her life. Sedrach says: but of what profit are beauties if they die away into the earth? How did you say, O Adanay, You shall not return evil for evil? How is it, O Adanay? the word of Your divinity never lies, and why do you retaliate on man? or do you not in so doing render evil for evil? I know that among the quadrupeds there is no other so wily and unreasonable as the mule. But we strike it with the bridle when we wish: and you have angels: send them forth to guard them, and when man inclines towards sin, to take hold of his foot and not let him go where he would.⁸ Alahayam says to him: If I catch him by the foot, he will say, You have given me no joy in the world. But I have left him to his own will because I loved him. Therefore I sent forth my righteous angels to guard him night and day. Sedrach says: I know, O Adanay, that of all your creatures You chiefly lovedst man, of the quadrupeds the sheep, of woods the olive, of fruits the vine, of flying things the bee, of rivers the Yaradan, of cities Yarawashalam. And all these man also loves, my Adanay. Alahayam says to Sedrach: I will ask you one thing, Sedrach: if you answer me, then I may fitly help you, even though you have tempted your creator. Sedrach says: Speak. The Adanay Alahayam says: Since I made all things, how many men were born and how many died, and how many are to die and how many hairs have they? Tell me, Sedrach, since the heaven was created and the earth, how many trees grew in the world, and how many fell, and how many are to fall, and how many are to arise, and how many leaves have they? Tell me, Sedrach, since I made the sea, how many waves arose and how many fell, and how many are to arise, and how many winds blow along the margin of the sea? Tell me, Sedrach, from the creation of the world of the æons, when the air rained, how many drops fell upon the world, and how many are to fall? And Sedrach said: You alone know all these things, O Adanay; you only understand all these things: only, I pray you, deliver man from chastisement, and I shall not be separated from our race.⁹ And Alahayam said to his only begotten Son: Go, take the soul of Sedrach my beloved, and place it in Paradise. The only begotten Son says to Sedrach: Give me the trust which our Father deposited in the womb of your mother in the holy tabernacle of your body from a child. Sedrach says: I will not give you my soul. Alahayam says to him: And therefore was I sent to come here, and you plead against me? For I was commanded by my Father not to take your soul with violence; but if not, (then) give me your most greatly desired soul.¹⁰ And Sedrach says to Alahayam: And whence do you intend to take my soul, and from which limb? And Alahayam says to him: Do you not know that it is placed in the midst of your lungs and your heart and is dispersed into all your limbs? It is brought up through the throat and gullet and the mouth and at whatever hour it is predestined to come forth, it is scattered, and brought together from the points of the nails and from all the limbs, and there is a great necessity that it should be separated from the body and parted from the heart. When Sedrach had heard all these things and had considered the memory of death he was greatly astounded, and Sedrach said to Alahayam: O Adanay, give me a little respite that I may weep, for I have heard that tears are able to do much and much remedy comes to the lowly body of your creature.¹¹ And weeping and bewailing he began to say: O marvellous head of heavenly adornment: O radiant as the sun which

shines on heaven and earth: your hairs are known from Thayaman, your eyes from Bosor, your ears from thunder, your tongue from a trumpet, and your brain is a small creation, your head the energy of the whole body: O friendly and most fair beloved by all, and now falling into the earth it must become forgotten. O hands, mild, fair-fingered, worn with toil by which the body is nourished: O hands, deftest of all, heaping up from all quarters you made ready houses. O fingers adorned and decked with gold and silver (rings): and great worlds are led by the fingers: the three joints enfold the palms, and heap up beautiful things: and now you must become aliens to the world. O feet, skilfully walking about, self-running, most swift, unconquerable: O knees, fitted together, because without you the body does not move: the feet run along with the sun and the moon in the night and in the day, heaping up all things, foods and drinks, and nourishing the body: O feet, most swift and fair runners, moving on the face of the earth, getting ready the house with every good thing: O feet which bear up the whole body, that run up to the temples, making repentance and calling on the saints, and now you are to remain motionless. O head and hands and feet, until now I have kept you. O soul, what sent you into the humble and wretched body? and now being separated from it, you are going up where the Adanay calls you, and the wretched body goes away to judgment. O body well-adorned, hair clothed with stars, head of heavenly adornment and dress: O face well-anointed, light-bringing eyes, voice trumpet-like, tongue placable, chin fairly adorned, hairs like the stars, head high as heaven, body decked out, light-bringing eyes that know all things—and now you shall fall into the earth and under the earth your beauty shall disappear.

¹² Mashayach says to him: Stay, Sedrach; how long do you weep and groan? Paradise is opened to you, and, dying, you shall live. Sedrach says to him: Once more I will speak to you, O Adanay: How long shall I live before I die? and do not disregard my prayer. The Adanay says to him: Speak, O Sedrach. Sedrach says: If a man shall live eighty or ninety or an hundred years, and live these years in sin, and again shall turn, and the man live in repentance, in how many days do you forgive him his sins? Alahayam says to him: If he shall live an hundred or eighty years and shall turn and repent for three years and do the fruit of righteousness, and death shall overtake him, I will not remember all his sins. ¹³ Sedrach says to him: The three years are a long time, my Adanay, lest death overtake him and he fulfill not his repentance: have mercy, Adanay, on your image and have compassion, for the three years are many. Alahayam says to him: If a man live an hundred years and remember his death and confess before men and I find him, after a time I will forgive all his sins. Sedrach says again: I will again beseech your compassion for your creature. The time is long lest death overtake him and snatch him suddenly. The Saviour says to him: I will ask you one word, Sedrach, my beloved, then you shall ask me in turn: if the man shall repent for forty days I will not remember all his sins which he did. ¹⁵ And Sedrach says to the archangel Mayakaal: Hearken to me, O powerful chief, and help you me and be my envoy that Alahayam may have mercy on the world. And falling on their faces, they besought the Adanay and said: O Adanay, teach us how and by what sort of repentance and by what labour man shall be saved. Alahayam says: By repentances, by intercessions, by liturgies, by tears in streams, in hot groanings. Do you not know that my prophet Dawad was saved by tears, and the rest were saved in one moment? You know, Sedrach, that there are nations which have not the law and which do the works of the law: for if they are unbaptized and my divine spirit come to them and they turn to my baptism, I also receive them with my righteous ones into Abaraham's bosom. And there are some who have been baptized with my baptism and who have shared in my divine part and become reprobate in complete reprobation and will not repent: and I suffer them with much compassion and much pity and wealth in order that they may repent, but they do the things which my divinity hates, and did not hearken to the wise man asking (them), saying, we by no means justify a sinner. Do you not most certainly know that it is written: And those who repent never see chastisement? And they did not hearken to the Apostles or to my word in the Gospels, and they grieve my angels, and truly they do not attend to my messenger in the assemblies (for communion) and in my services, and they do not stand in my holy churches, but they stand and do not fall down and worship in fear and trembling, but boast things which I do not accept, or my holy angels.

¹⁶ Sedrach says to Alahayam: O Adanay, You alone art sinless and very compassionate, having compassion and pity for sinners, but your divinity said: I am not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance. And the Adanay said to Sedrach: Do you not know, Sedrach, that the thief was saved in one moment to repent? Do you not know that my apostle and evangelist was saved in one moment? "Peccatores enim non salvantur," for their hearts are like rotten stone: these are they who walk in impious ways and who shall be destroyed with Antichrist. Sedrach says: O my Adanay, You also said: My divine spirit entered into the nations which, not having the law, do the things of the law. So also the thief and the apostle and evangelist and the rest of those who have already got into your Kingdom. O my Adanay; so likewise do You pardon those who have sinned to the last: for life is very toilsome and there is no time for repentance. ¹⁷ The Adanay says to Sedrach: I made man in three stages: when he is young, I overlooked his stumblings as he was young: and again when he was a man I considered his purpose: and again when he grows old, I watch him till he repent. Sedrach says: O Adanay, You know and understand all these things: but have sympathy for sinners. The Adanay says to him: Sedrach, my beloved, I promise to have sympathy and bring down the forty days to twenty: and whosoever shall remember your name shall not see the place of chastisement, but shall be with the just in a place of refreshment and rest: and if anyone shall record this wonderful word his sins shall not be reckoned against him for ever and ever. And Sedrach says: O Adanay, and if anyone shall bring enlightenment to your servant, save him, O Adanay, from all evil. And Sedrach, the servant of the Adanay, says: Now take my soul, O Adanay. And Alahayam took him and placed him in Paradise with all the saints. To whom be the glory and the power for ever and ever. Amen.

Apocalypse of Elijah

1 The word of YHWH came to me saying, "Son of man, say to his people, 'Why do you add sin to your sins and anger the Adanay Alahayam who created you?'" ² Don't love the world or the things which are in the world, for the boasting of the world and its destruction belong to the devil. ³ Remember that the Adanay of glory, Who created everything, had mercy upon you so that He might save us from the captivity of this age. ⁴ For many times the devil desired not to let the sun rise above the earth and not to let the earth yield fruit, since he desires to consume men like a fire which rages in stubble, and he desires to swallow them like water. ⁵ Therefore, on account of this, the Alahayam of glory had mercy upon us, and He sent His Son to the world so that He might save us from the captivity. ⁶ He did not inform an angel or an archangel or any principality when He was about to come to us, but He changed Himself to be like a man when He was about to come to us so that He might save us from flesh. ⁷ Therefore become sons to Him since He is a father to you. ⁸ Remember that He has prepared thrones and crowns for you in heaven, saying, "Everyone who will obey Me will receive thrones and crowns among those who are Mine." ⁹ The Adanay said, "I will write My name upon their forehead and I will seal their right hand, and they will not hunger or thirst. ¹⁰ Neither will the son of lawlessness prevail over them, nor will the thrones hinder them, but they will walk with the angels up to My city." ¹¹ Now as for the sinners, they will be shamed and they will not pass by the thrones, but the thrones of death will seize them and rule over them because the angels will not agree with them. ¹² They have alienated themselves from His dwellings. ¹³ Hear, O wise men of the land, concerning the deceivers who will multiply in the last times so that they will set down for themselves doctrines which do not belong to Alahayam, setting aside the Law of Alahayam, those who have made their belly their Alahayam, saying, "The fast does not exist, nor did Alahayam create it," making themselves strangers to the covenant of Alahayam and robbing themselves of the glorious promises. ¹⁴ Now these are not ever correctly established in the firm faith. Therefore don't let those people lead you astray. ¹⁵ Remember that from the time when He created the heavens, the Adanay created the fast for a benefit to men on account of the passions and desires which fight against you so that the evil will not inflame you. ¹⁶ "But it is a pure fast which I have created," said the Adanay. ¹⁷ The one who fasts continually will not sin although jealousy and strife are within him. ¹⁸ Let the pure one fast, but whenever the one who fasts is not pure he has angered the Adanay and also the angels. ¹⁹ And he has grieved his soul, gathering up wrath for himself for the day of wrath. ²⁰ But a pure fast is what I created, with a pure heart and pure hands. ²¹ It releases sin. It heals diseases. It casts out demons. ²² It is effective up to the throne of Alahayam for an ointment and for a release from sin by means of a pure prayer. ²³ Who among you, if he is honored in his craft, will go forth to the field without a tool in his hand? Or who will go forth to the battle to fight without a breastplate on? ²⁴ If he is found, will he not be killed because he despised the service of the king? ²⁵ Likewise no one is able to enter the holy place if he is double minded. ²⁶ The one who is double minded in his prayer is darkness to himself. And even the angels do not trust him. ²⁷ Therefore be single-minded in the Adanay at all times so that you might know every moment.

2 Furthermore, concerning the kings of Ashawar and the dissolution of the heaven and the earth and the things beneath the earth. ² "Now therefore <those who are Mine> will not be overcome" says the Adanay, "nor will they fear in the battle." ³ When they see [a king] who rises in the north, [who will be called]

"the king of [Ashawar]" and] "the king of injustice," [he will increase] his battles and his disturbances against Matzarayam. ⁴ The land will groan together because your children will be seized. ⁵ Many will desire death in those days, but death will flee from them. ⁶ And a king who will be called "the king of peace" will rise up in the west. ⁷ He will run upon the sea like a roaring lion. ⁸ He will kill the king of injustice, and he will take vengeance on Matzarayam with battles and much bloodshed. ⁹ It will come to pass in those days that he will command a [peace] and a [vain] gift in Matzarayam. ¹⁰ [He will give] peace to these who are holy, [saying], "The name of [Alahayam] is one." ¹¹ [He will] give honors to the s[aints and] an exalting to the places of the saints. ¹² He will give vain gifts to the house of Alahayam. ¹³ He will wander around in the cities of Matzarayam with guile, without their knowing. ¹⁴ He will take count of the holy places. He will weigh the idols of the heathen. He will take count of their wealth. He will establish priests for them. ¹⁵ He will command that the wise men and the great ones of the people be seized, and they will be brought to the metropolis which is by the sea, saying, "There is but one language." ¹⁶ But when you hear, "Peace and joy exist," I will... ¹⁷ Now I will tell you his signs so that you might know him. ¹⁸ For he has two sons: one on his right and one on his left. ¹⁹ The one on his right will receive a demonic face, (and) he will fight against the name of Alahayam. ²⁰ Now four kings will descend from that king. ²¹ In his thirtieth year he will come up to Map, (and) he will build a temple in Map. ²² On that day his own son will rise up against him and kill him. ²³ The whole land will be disturbed. ²⁴ On that day he will issue an order over the whole land so that the priests of the land and all of the saints will be seized, saying, "You will repay doubly every gift and all of the good things which my father gave to you." ²⁵ He will shut up the holy places. He will take their houses. He will take their sons prisoner. ²⁶ He will order and sacrifices and abominations and bitter evils will be done in the land. ²⁷ He will appear before the sun and the moon. ²⁸ On that day the priests of the land will tear their clothes. ²⁹ Woe to you, O rulers of Matzarayam, in those days because your day has passed. ³⁰ The violence (being done to) the poor will turn against you, and your children will be seized as plunder. ³¹ In those days the cities of Matzarayam will groan for the voice of the one who sells and the one who buys will not be heard. The markets of the cities of Matzarayam will become dusty. ³² Those who are in Matzarayam will weep together. They will desire death, (but) death will flee and leave them. ³³ In those days, they will run up to the rocks and leap off, saying, "Fall upon us." And still they will not die. ³⁴ A double affliction will multiply upon the whole land. ³⁵ In those days, the king will command, and all the nursing women will be seized and brought to him bound. They will suckle serpents. And their blood will be drawn from their breasts, and it will be applied as poison to the arrows. ³⁶ On account of their distress of the cities, he will command again, and all the young lads from twelve years and under will be seized and presented in order to teach them to shoot arrows. ³⁷ The midwife who is upon the earth will grieve. The woman who has given birth will lift her eyes to heaven, saying, "Why did I sit upon the birthstool, to bring forth a son to the earth?" ³⁸ The barren woman and the virgin will rejoice, saying, "It is our time to rejoice, because we have no child upon the earth, but our children are in heaven." ³⁹ In those days, three kings will arise among the Paras, and they will take captive the Jews who are in Matzarayam. They will bring them to Yarawashalam, and they will inhabit it and dwell there. ⁴⁰ Then when you hear that there is security in Yarawashalam, tear your garments, O priests of the land, because the son of perdition will soon come. ⁴¹ In those days, the lawless one will appear in the holy places --- ⁴² In those days the kings of the Paras will hasten and they will stand to fight with the kings of Ashawar. Four kings will fight with three.⁴³ They will spend three years in that place until they carry off the wealth of the temple which is in that place.⁴⁴ In those days, blood will flow from Kos to Map. The river of Matzarayam will become blood, and they will not be able to drink from it for three days.⁴⁵ Woe to Matzarayam and those who are in it.⁴⁶ In those days, a king will arise in the city

3 In the fourth year of that king, the son of lawlessness will appear, saying, "I am the Mashayach," although he is not. Don't believe him!² When the Mashayach comes, He will come in the manner of a covey of doves with the crown of doves surrounding Him. He will walk upon the heaven's vaults with the sign of the cross leading Him.³ The whole world will behold Him like the sun which shines from the eastern horizon to the western.⁴ This is how He will come, with all his angels surrounding Him.⁵ But the son of lawlessness will begin to stand again in the holy places.⁶ He will say to the sun, "Fall," and it will fall. He will say, "Shine," and it will do it. He will say, "Darken," and it will do it.⁷ He will say to the moon, "Become bloody," and it will do it.⁸ He will go forth with them from the sky. He will walk upon the sea and the rivers as upon dry land.⁹ He will cause the lame to walk. He will cause the deaf to hear. He will cause the dumb to speak. He will cause the blind to see.¹⁰ The lepers he will cleanse. The ill he will heal. The demons he will cast out.¹¹ He will multiply his signs and his wonders in the presence of everyone.¹² He will do the works which the Mashayach did, except for raising the dead alone.¹³ In this you will know that he is the son of lawlessness, because he is unable to give life.¹⁴ For behold I will tell you his signs so that you might know him.¹⁵ He is a ...of a skinny-legged young lad, having a tuft of gray hair at the front of his bald head. His eyebrows will reach to his ears. There is a leprous bore spot on the front of his hands.¹⁶ He will transform himself in the presence of those who see him. He will become a young child. He will become old.¹⁷ He will transform himself in every sign. But the signs of his head will not be able to change.¹⁸ Therein you will know that he is the son of lawlessness.

4 The virgin, whose name is Tabitha, will hear that the shameless one has revealed himself in the holy places. And she will put on her garment of fine linen.² And she will pursue him up to Yahawadah, scolding him up to Yarawashalam, saying, "O shameless one, O son of lawlessness, O you who have been hostile to all the saints."³ Then the shameless one will be angry at the virgin. He will pursue her up to the regions of the sunset. He will suck her blood in the evening.⁴ And he will cast her upon the temple, and she will become a healing for the people.⁵ She will rise up at dawn. And she will live and scold him, saying, "O shameless one, you have no power against my soul or my body, because I live in the Adanay always.⁶ And also my blood which you have cast upon the temple has become a healing for the people."⁷ Then when Alayahaw and Chanawak hear that the shameless one has revealed himself in the holy place, they will come down and fight with him saying, "Are you indeed not ashamed? When you attach yourself to the saints, because you are always estranged.⁹ You have been hostile to those who belong to heaven. You have acted against those belonging to the earth.¹⁰ You have been hostile to the thrones. You have acted against the angels. You are always a stranger.¹¹ You have fallen from heaven like the morning stars. You were changed, and your tribe became dark for you.¹² But you are not ashamed, when you stand firmly against Alahayam you are a devil.¹³ The shameless one will hear and he will be angry, and he will fight with them in the market place of the great city. And he will spend seven days fighting with them.¹⁴ And they will spend three and one half days in the market place dead, while all the people see them.¹⁵ But on the fourth day they will rise up and they will scold him saying, "O shameless one, O son of lawlessness. Are you indeed not ashamed of yourself since you are leading astray the people of Alahayam for whom you did not suffer? Do you not know that we live in the Adanay?"¹⁶ As the words were spoken, they prevailed over him, saying, "Furthermore, we will lay down before the flesh for the spirit, and we will kill you since you are unable to speak on that day because we are always strong in the Adanay. But you are always hostile to Alahayam.¹⁷ The shameless one will hear, and he will be angry and fight them.¹⁸ And the whole city will surround them.¹⁹ On that day they will shout up to heaven as they shine while all the people and all the world see them.²⁰ The son of lawlessness will not prevail over them. He will be angry at the land, and he will seek to sin against the people.²¹ He will pursue all of the saints. They and the priests of the land will be brought back bound.²² He will kill them and destroy them...them. And their eyes will be removed with iron spikes.²³ He will remove their skin from their heads. He will remove their nails one by one. He will command that vinegar and lime be put in their nose.²⁴ Now those who are unable to bear up under the tortures of that king will take gold and flee over the fords to the desert places. They will lie down as one who sleeps.²⁵ The Adanay will receive their spirits and their souls to Himself.²⁶ Their flesh will petrify. No wild animals will eat them until the last day of the great judgment.²⁷ And they will rise up and find a place of rest. But they will not be in the kingdom of the Mashayach as those who have endured because the Adanay said, "I will grant to them that they sit on my right hand."²⁸ They will receive favor over others, and they will triumph over the son of lawlessness. And they will witness the dissolution of heaven and earth.²⁹ They will receive the thrones of glory and the crowns.³⁰ The sixty righteous ones who are prepared for this hour will hear.³¹ And they will gird on the breastplate of YHWH, and they will run to Yarawashalam and fight with the shameless one, saying, "All powers which the prophets have done from the beginning you have done. But you were unable to raise the dead because you have no power to give life. Therein we have known that you are the son of lawlessness."³² He will hear, and he will be angry and command to kindle altars.³³ And the righteous ones will be bound. They will be lifted up and burned.

5 And on that day the heart of many will harden and they will flee from him, saying, "This is not the Mashayach. The Mashayach does not kill the righteous. He does not pursue men so that he might seek them, but He persuades them with signs and wonders."² On that day the Mashayach will pity those who are His own. And He will send from heaven his sixty-four thousand angels, each of whom has six wings.³ The sound will move heaven and earth when they give praise and glorify.⁴ Now those upon whose forehead the name of Mashayach is written and upon whose hand is the seal both the small and the great, will be taken up upon their wings and lifted up before his wrath.⁵ Then Gabarayaal and Awarayaal will become a pillar of light leading them into the holy land.⁶ It will be granted to them to eat from the tree of life. They will wear white garments...and angels will watch over them. They will not thirst, nor will the son of lawlessness be able to prevail over them.⁷ And on that day the earth will be disturbed, and the sun will darken, and peace will be removed from the earth.⁸ The birds will fall on the earth, dead.⁹ The earth will be dry. The waters of the sea will dry up.¹⁰ The sinners will groan upon the earth saying, "What have you done to us, O son of lawlessness, saying I am the Mashayach, when you are the devil?"¹¹ You are unable to save yourself so that you might save us. You produced signs in our presence until you alienated us from the Mashayach who created us. Woe to us because we listened to you.¹² Lo now we will die in a famine. Where indeed is now the trace of a righteous one and we will worship him, or where indeed is the one who will teach us and we will appeal to him.¹³ Now indeed we will be wrathfully destroyed because we disobeyed YHWH.¹⁴ We went to the deep places of the sea, and we did not find water. We dug in the rivers and papyrus reeds, and we did not find water."¹⁵ Then on that day, the shameless one will speak, saying, "Woe to me because my time has passed by for me while I was saying that my time would not pass by for me.¹⁶ My years became months and my days have passed away as dust passes away. Now therefore I will perish together with you.¹⁷ Now therefore run forth to the desert. Seize the robbers and kill them.¹⁸ Bring up the saints. For because of them, the earth yields fruit. For because of them the sun shines upon the earth. For because of them the dew will come upon the earth."¹⁹ The sinners will weep saying, "You made us hostile to YHWH. If you are able, rise up and pursue them."²⁰ Then he will take his fiery wings and fly out after the saints. He will fight with them again.²¹ The angels will hear and come down. They will fight with him a battle of many swords.²² It will come to pass on that day that the Adanay will hear and command the heaven and the earth with great wrath. And they will send for fire.²³ And the fire will prevail over the earth seventy-two cubits. It will consume the sinners and the devils like stubble.²⁴ A true judgment will occur.²⁵ On that day, the mountains and the earth will utter speech. The byways will speak with one another, saying, "Have you heard today the voice of a man who walks who has not come to the judgment of the Son of YHWH."²⁶ The sins of each one will stand against him in the place where they were committed, whether those of the day or of the night.²⁷ Those who belong to the righteous and ... will see the sinners and those who persecuted them and those who handed them over to death in their torments.²⁸ Then the sinners [in torment] will see the place of the righteous.²⁹ And thus grace will occur. In those days, that which the righteous will ask for many times will be given to them.³⁰ On that day, YHWH will judge the heaven and the earth. He will judge those who transgressed in heaven, and those who did so on earth.³¹ He will judge the shepherds of the people. He will ask about the flock of sheep, and they will be given to Him, without any deadly guile existing in them.³² After these things, Alayahaw and Chanawak will come down. They will lay down the flesh of the world, and they will receive their spiritual flesh. They will pursue the son of lawlessness and kill him since he is not able to speak.³³ On that day, he will dissolve in their presence like ice which was dissolved by a fire. He will perish like a serpent which has no breath in it.³⁴ They will say to him, "Your time has passed by for you. Now therefore you and those who believe you will perish."³⁵ They will be cast into the bottom of the abyss and it will be closed for them.³⁶ On that day, the Mashayach, the King and all His saints will come forth from heaven.³⁷ He will burn the earth. He will spend a thousand years upon it.³⁸ Because the sinners prevailed over it, He will create a new heaven and a new earth. No deadly devil will exist in them.³⁹ He will rule with His saints, ascending and descending, while they are always with the angels and they are with the Mashayach for a thousand years.

1 The Testament of Mashah even the things which he commanded in the one hundred and twentieth year of his life, that is the two thousand five hundredth year from the creation of the world: [But according to oriental reckoning the two thousand and seven hundredth, and the four hundredth after the departure from Phoenicia], when the people had gone forth after the Exodus that was made by Mashah to Amman beyond the Yarden, in the prophecy that was made by Mashah in the book Deuteronomy: ² and he called to him Yahawashai the son of Nawan, a man approved of the Adanay, that he might be the minister of the people and of the tabernacle of the testimony with all its holy things, and that he might bring the people into the land given to their fathers, that it should be given to them according to the covenant and the oath, which He spoke in the tabernacle to give (it) by Yahawashai: ³ saying to Yahawashai these words: '(Be strong) and of a good courage so as to do with your might all that has been commanded that you may be blameless to Alahayam.' So says the Adanay of the world. ⁴ For He has created the world on behalf of His people. But He was not pleased to manifest this purpose of creation from the foundation of the world, in order that the Gentiles might thereby be convicted, yea to their own humiliation might by (their) arguments convict one another. ⁵ Accordingly He designed and devised me, and He prepared me before the foundation of the world, that I should be the mediator of His covenant. ⁶ And now I declare to you that the time of the years of my life is fulfilled and I am passing away to sleep with my fathers even in the presence of all the people. ⁷ And receive this writing that you may know how to preserve the books which I shall deliver to you: ⁸ and you shall set these in order and anoint them with oil of cedar and put them away in earthen vessels in the place which He made from the beginning of the creation of the world, that His name should be called upon until the day of repentance in the visitation wherewith the Adanay will visit them in the consummation of the end of the days.

2 And now they shall go by means of you into the land which He determined and promised to give to their fathers, in the which you shall bless and give to them individually and confirm to them their inheritance in me and establish for them the kingdom, and you shall appoint them local magistrates according to the good pleasure of their Adanay in judgment and righteousness. ² And five years after they enter into the land, that thereafter they shall be ruled by chiefs and kings for eighteen years, and during nineteen years the ten tribes shall break away. ³ And the twelve tribes shall go down and transfer the tabernacle of the testimony. ⁴ Then the Alahayam of heaven will make the court of His tabernacle and the tower of His sanctuary, and the two holy tribes shall be (there) established: but the ten tribes shall establish kingdoms for themselves according to their own ordinances. ⁵ And they shall offer sacrifices throughout twenty years: and seven shall entrench the walls, and I will protect nine, but four shall transgress the covenant of the Adanay, and profane the oath which the Adanay made with them. ⁶ And they shall sacrifice their sons to strange gods, and they shall set up idols in the sanctuary, to worship them. ⁷ And in the house of the Adanay they shall work impiety and engrave every form of beast, even many abominations.

3 And in those days a king from the east shall come against them and his cavalry shall cover their land. And he shall burn their colony with fire together with the holy temple of the Adanay, and he shall carry away all the holy vessels. ² And he shall cast forth all the people, and he shall take them to the land of his nativity, yea he shall take the two tribes with him. ³ Then the two tribes shall call upon the ten tribes, and shall march as a lioness on the dusty plains, being hungry and thirsty. And they shall cry aloud: 'Righteous and holy is the Adanay, for, inasmuch as you have sinned, we too, in like manner, have been carried away with you, together with our children.' ⁴ Then the ten tribes shall mourn on hearing the reproaches of the two tribes, and they shall say: 'What have we done to you, brethren? Has not this tribulation come on all the house of Yasharaal?' ⁵ And all the tribes shall mourn, crying to heaven and saying: 'Alahayam of Abaraham Alahayam of Yatzachaq and Alahayam of Yaiqab, remember Your covenant which You made with them, and the oath which You did swear to them by Yourself, that their seed should never fail from the land which You have given them.' ⁶ Then they shall remember me, saying, in that day, tribe to tribe and each man to his neighbor: 'Is not this that which Mashah did then declare to us in prophecies, who suffered many things in Matzarayam and in the Sawap and in the wilderness during forty years: and assuredly called heaven and earth to witness against us, that we should not transgress His commandments, in the which he was a mediator to us?' ⁷ Behold these things have befallen us after his death according to his declaration, as he declared to us at that time, yes, behold these have taken place even to our being carried away captive into the country of the east.' ⁸ Who shall be also in bondage for about seventy and seven years.

4 Then there shall enter one who is over them, and he shall spread forth his hands, and kneel upon his knees and pray on their behalf saying: 'Adanay of all, King on the lofty throne, who rules the world, and did will that this people should be Your elect people, then (indeed) You did will that You should be called their Alahayam, according to the covenant which You did make with their fathers. ² And yet they have gone in captivity in another land with their wives and their children, and around the gates of strange peoples and where there is great vanity. Regard and have compassion on them, O Adanay of heaven.' ³ Then Alahayam will remember them on account of the covenant which He made with their fathers, and He will manifest His compassion in those times also. ⁴ And He will put it into the mind of a king to have compassion on them, and he shall send them off to their land and country. ⁵ Then some portions of the tribes shall go up and they shall come to their appointed place, and they shall anew surround the place with walls. ⁶ And the two tribes shall continue in their prescribed faith, sad and lamenting because they will not be able to offer sacrifices to the Adanay of their fathers. ⁷ And the ten tribes shall increase and multiply among the Gentiles during the time of their captivity.

5 And when the times of chastisement draw nigh and vengeance arises through the kings who share in their guilt and punish them, they themselves also shall be divided as to the truth. Therefore it has been said: 'They shall turn aside from righteousness and approach iniquity, and they shall defile with pollutions the house of their worship,' and [because] 'they shall prostitute themselves with strange gods.' ² For they shall not follow the truth of Alahayam, but some shall pollute the altar with the (very) gifts which they offer to the Adanay, who are not priests but slaves, sons of slaves. ³ And many in those times shall have respect to desirable persons and receive gifts, and pervert judgment [on receiving presents]. ⁴ And on this account the colony and the borders of their habitation shall be filled with lawless deeds and iniquities: those who wickedly depart from the Adanay shall be judges: they shall be ready to judge for money as each may wish.

6 Then there shall be raised up to them kings bearing rule, and they shall call themselves priests of the Ilayawan Alahayam: they shall assuredly work iniquity in the holy of holies.² And an insolent king shall succeed them, who will not be of the race of the priests, a man bold and shameless, and he shall judge them as they shall deserve.³ And he shall cut off their chief men with the sword, and shall destroy them in secret places, so that no one may know where their bodies are. He shall slay the old and the young, and he shall not spare.⁴ Then the fear of him shall be bitter to them in their land. And he shall execute judgments on them as the Matzarayam executed upon them, during thirty and four years, and he shall punish them.⁵ And he shall beget children, (who) succeeding him shall rule for shorter periods. Into their parts cohorts and a powerful king of the west shall come, who shall conquer them: and he shall take them captive, and burn a part of their temple with fire, (and) shall crucify some around their colony.

7 And when this is done the times shall be ended, in a moment the (second) course shall be (ended), the four hours shall come. They shall be forced. . . .² And, in the time of these, destructive and impious men shall rule, saying that they are just. And these shall stir up the poison of their minds, being treacherous men, self-pleasers, dissemblers in all their own affairs and lovers of banquets at every hour of the day. gluttons, gourmands.... Devourers of the goods of the (poor) saying that they do so on the ground of their justice, but in reality to destroy them, complainers, deceitful, concealing themselves lest they should be recognized, impious, filled with lawlessness and iniquity from sunrise to sunset: saying: 'We shall have feastings and luxury, eating and drinking, and we shall esteem ourselves as princes.'³ And though their hands and their minds touch unclean things, yet their mouth shall speak great things, and they shall say furthermore: 'Do not touch me lest you should pollute me in the place (where I stand)' . . .

8 And there shall come upon them a second visitation and wrath, such as has not befallen them from the beginning until that time, in which He will stir up against them the king of the kings of the earth and one that rules with great power, who shall crucify those who confess to their circumcision: and those who conceal (it) he shall torture and deliver them up to be bound and led into prison.² And their wives shall be given to the gods among the Gentiles, and their young sons shall be operated on by the physicians in order to bring forward their foreskin.³ And others amongst them shall be punished by tortures and fire and sword, and they shall be forced to bear in public their idols, polluted as they are like those who keep them.⁴ And they shall likewise be forced by those who torture them to enter their inmost sanctuary, and they shall be forced by goads to blaspheme with insolence the word, finally after these things the laws and what they had above their altar.

9 Then in that day there shall be a man of the tribe of Laway, whose name shall be Taxo, who having seven sons shall speak to them exhorting (them): 'Observe, my sons, behold a second ruthless (and) unclean visitation has come upon the people, and a punishment merciless and far exceeding the first.'² For what nation or what region or what people of those who are impious towards the Adanay, who have done many abominations, have suffered as great calamities as have befallen us?³ Now, therefore, my sons, hear me: for observe and know that neither did the fathers nor their forefathers tempt Alahayam, so as to transgress His commands.⁴ And you know that this is our strength, and thus we will do. Let us fast for the space of three days and on the fourth let us go into a cave which is in the field, and let us die rather than transgress the commands of the Adanay of Lords, the Alahayam of our fathers.⁵ For if we do this and die, our blood shall be avenged before the Adanay.

10 And then His kingdom shall appear throughout all His creation,² And then Satan shall be no more,³ And sorrow shall depart with him.⁴ Then the hands of the angel shall be filled⁵ Who has been appointed chief,⁶ And he shall forthwith avenge them of their enemies.⁷ For the Heavenly One will arise from His royal throne,⁸ And He will go forth from His holy habitation⁹ With indignation and wrath on account of His sons.¹⁰ And the earth shall tremble: to its confines shall it be shaken:¹¹ And the high mountains shall be made low¹² And the hills shall be shaken and fall.¹³ And the horns of the sun shall be broken and he shall be turned into darkness;¹⁴ And the moon shall not give her light, and be turned wholly into blood.¹⁵ And the circle of the stars shall be disturbed.¹⁶ And the sea shall retire into the abyss,¹⁷ And the fountains of waters shall fail,¹⁸ And the rivers shall dry up.¹⁹ For the Ilayawan will arise, the Eternal Alahayam alone,²⁰ And He will appear to punish the Gentiles,²¹ And He will destroy all their idols.²² Then you, O Yasharaal, shall be happy,²³ And you shall mount upon the necks and wings of the eagle,²⁴ And they shall be ended.²⁵ And Alahayam will exalt you,²⁶ And He will cause you to approach to the heaven of the stars,²⁷ In the place of their habitation.²⁸ And you will look from on high and see your enemies in Ge(henna)²⁹ And you shall recognize them and rejoice,³⁰ And you shall give thanks and confess your Creator.³¹ And do you; Yahawashai (the son of) Nawan, keep these words and this book; For from my death [assumption] until His advent there shall be 250 times [= year-weeks = 1750 years]. And this is the course of the times which they shall pursue till they are consummated. And I shall go to sleep with my fathers. Therefore, Yahawashai you (son of) Nawan, (be strong and) be of good courage; (for) Alahayam has chosen (you) to be minister in the same covenant.

11 And when Yahawashai had heard the words of Mashah that were so written in his writing all that he had before said, he rent his clothes and cast himself at Moses' feet.² And Mashah comforted him and wept with him.³ And Yahawashai answered him and said: 'Why do you comfort me, (my) lord Mashah? And how shall I be comforted in regard to the bitter word which you have spoken which has gone forth from your mouth, which is full of tears and lamentation, in that you depart from this people? (But now) what place shall receive you?⁴ Or what shall be the sign that marks (your) sepulcher? Or who shall dare to move your body from there as that of a mere man from place to place? For all men when they die have according to their age their sepulchers on earth; but your sepulcher is from the rising to the setting sun, and from the south to the confines of the north: all the world is your sepulcher.'⁵ My lord, you are departing, and who shall feed this people? Or who is there that shall have compassion on them and who shall be their guide by the way? Or who shall pray for them, not omitting a single day, in order that I may lead them into the land of their forefathers?⁶ How therefore am I to foster this people as a father (his) only son, or as a mistress her daughter, a virgin who is being prepared to be given to the husband whom she will revere, while she guards her person from the sun and (takes care) that her feet are not unshod for running upon the ground.⁷ (And how) shall I supply them with food and drink according to the pleasure of their will? For of them, there shall be 600,000 (men), for these have multiplied to this degree through your prayers, (my) lord Mashah.⁸ And what wisdom or understanding have I that I should judge or answer by word in the house (of the Adanay)?⁹ And the kings of the Amorites also when they hear that we are attacking them, believing that there is no longer among them the holy spirit who was worthy of the Adanay, manifold and incomprehensible, the lord of the word, who was faithful in all things, Alahayam's chief prophet throughout the earth, the most perfect teacher in the world, [that he is no longer among them], shall say "Let us go against them."¹⁰ If the enemy have but once wrought impiously against their Adanay, they have no advocate to offer prayers on their behalf to the Adanay, like Mashah the great messenger, who every hour day and night had his knees fixed to the earth, praying and looking for help to Him that rules all the world with compassion and righteousness, reminding Him of the covenant of the fathers and propitiating the Adanay with the oath."¹¹ For they shall say: "He is not with them: let us go therefore and destroy them from off the face of the earth."¹² What shall then become of this people, my lord Mashah?

12 And when Yahawashai had finished (these) words, he cast himself again at the feet of Mashah.² And Mashah took his hand and raised him into the seat before him, and answered and said to him: Yahawashai, do not despise yourself; but set your mind at ease, and hear my words.³ All the nations which are in the earth Alahayam has created and us, He has foreseen them and us from the beginning of the creation of the earth to the end of the age, and nothing has been neglected by Him even to the least thing, but all things He has foreseen and caused all to come forth.⁴ (Yes) all things which are to be in this earth the Adanay has foreseen and, look, they are brought forward (into the light. . . . The Adanay,) has on their behalf appointed me to (pray) for their sins and (make intercession) for them.⁵ For not for any virtue or strength of mine, but of His good pleasure have His compassion and longsuffering fallen to my lot. For I say to you, Yahawashai: it is not on account of the godliness of this people that you shall root out the nations.⁶ The lights of the heaven, the foundations of the earth have been made and approved by Alahayam and are under the signet ring of His right hand.⁷ Those, therefore, who do and fulfill the commandments of Alahayam shall increase and be prospered: but those who sin and set at naught the commandments shall be without the blessings before mentioned, and they shall be punished with many torments by the nations.⁸ But wholly to root out and destroy them is not permitted. For Alahayam will go forth who has foreseen all things for ever, and His covenant has been established and by the oath which . . .

1 Rec 2 ¹ Now Yaiqab went to his Uncle Laban, and he found a place and fell asleep there, laying his head on a stone, for the sun was set: and there he saw a vision. ² And lo! a ladder was set up on the earth, whose top reached to heaven. And the top of the ladder was a face as of a man, hewn out of fire. ³ Now it had twelve steps up to the top of the ladder, and upon each step up to the top were two human faces on the right and on the left—twenty-four faces seen to their breast, on the ladder. ⁴ But the middle face was higher than them all, which I saw made of fire, to the shoulder and the arm, very terribly, more than the twenty-four faces. ⁵ And as I looked, behold, the Angels of Alahayam ascending and descending thereon: but the Adanay was set above it, and he called me, saying: Yaiqab, Yaiqab. ⁶ And I said: Here am I, Adanay; And he said to me: The land whereon you sleep I will give to you and to your seed after you: ⁷ and I will multiply your seed as the stars of heaven and as the sand of the sea; through your seed shall all the earth be blessed, and they that dwell thereon, to the last times, the years of the end. ⁸ My blessing wherewith I have blessed you shall pour out from you to the last generation. All in the east and the west shall be full of your seed.

2 And when I heard it from above, fear and trembling fell upon me, and I rose up from my dream. ² And while the Voice of Alahayam was yet in mine ears, I said: How dreadful is this place! this is none other but the house of Alahayam, and this is the gate of heaven. ³ And I set up the stone that was under my head for a pillar, and poured oil on the top of it, and I called the name of that place the house of Alahayam (a line gone: Rec. 2 suggests the supplement: And I prayed to Alahayam and said): ⁴ Adanay Alahayam of Adam, of your (creature?), and Adanay Alahayam of Abaraham and Yatzachaq my father, and of all whose ways are right before you, you that sit mighty upon the Cherubim and upon the throne of the majesty, of fire and full of eyes, as I saw in my dream; ⁵ that holds the Cherubim with four faces, that bears the Seraphim full of eyes, that bears the whole world under his arm, and is borne of none. ⁶ You have established the heaven for the glory of your name. ⁷ You have spread out upon the clouds of the heaven the heaven that flies (rests?) under you, that under it you may move the sun and hide it in the night lest it be held for Alahayam: you have ordained the way for the moon and the stars, and her you make to wax and wane, but for the stars, you have commanded them to pass over, lest these also should be supposed gods. ⁸ Before the face of your majesty the six-winged Seraphim fear, and hide their feet and their face with their wings, and with the others they fly, and sing (two lines gone: no help from Rec. 2, which omits all this invocation) Highest, with twelve faces, many-named, fiery, lightning-formed, holy one! ⁹ Holy, Holy, Holy, Jao Jaova, Jaoel, Sabakdos, Chabod, Sabaoth, Omlelech, Elaber, Ame(?) S'me Barech, eternal king, strong, mighty, very great, long-suffering. ¹⁰ Blessed One, that fill heaven and earth and the sea and the abyss and all æons with your glory. ¹¹ Hear my song wherewith I have praised you, and grant me my petition for which I pray to you, and show me the interpretation of my dream. For you are strong and mighty and glorious, a holy Alahayam, the Adanay of me and of my fathers.

3 And while I yet spoke my prayer, there appeared a voice (!) before my face saying: Sarekl, prince of them that rejoice (or of the servants), you that art over visions, go make Yaiqab to understand the interpretation of the dream which he saw, and show him all things whatsoever he saw: but first bless him. ² And he archangel Sarekl came to me, and I saw: it was a face (a line gone) terrible. But I did not fear before his look, for the face which I had seen in my dream . . . was more than this, and I feared not the face of an angel. ³ And the angel said to me: What is your name? and I said: Yaiqab. But I (read he said to me) Your name shall not henceforth be called Yaiqab, but your name shall be like my name, Yasharaal. ⁴ And when I came from Fandana (cf. Apocalypse of Abaraham, 2) in Aram to meet my brother Ishaw, he came to me and blessed me, and called my name Yasharaal, and told me not his name until I adjured him, and then he told me: Because you were . . .

4 But this said he to me: The ladder which you saw, which had twelve steps having two human faces which changed their appearance—now this ladder is this age, and the twelve steps are the times of this age, and the twenty-four faces are the kings of the lawless heathen of this age. ² Under these kings will be tried (line gone: Rec. 2 your children's children and the line) of your sons: they will rise up against the lawlessness of your descendants and will lay this place waste through four descents (because ?) of the sins of your descendants, and of the substance of the forefathers will be built this palace in the temple of the name of your Alahayam and your fathers (? the palace of the temple in the name of the Alahayam of your fathers); ³ but through the wrath of your descendants will it be desolate until (Rec. 2 in) the fourth descent of this age: for you did see four visions (or faces).

5 The first that stumbles upon the steps . . . angels ascending and descending and faces in the midst of the steps: the Ilayawan will raise up an heir of the descendants of your brother Ishaw, and all the lords of the nations of the earth will accept it, who have done evil against your seed, and will be given into his hand, and he will be hardly borne by them. ² But he begins to rule them with violence and to reign over them, and they cannot resist him, until the day when his decree goes forth against them to serve the idols (line gone) and to all them that appear in such a cause, and so many . . . of your race, so many to Thalkonagargael.

6 And know you, Yaiqab, that your seed shall be strangers in a strange land, and men will ill-treat them with bondage and lay blows on them daily: but the people whom they serve will the Adanay judge. ² When a king arises and fights, then will there be to that place (al. when the Ilayawan gives his judgment to that place, he will lead forth) then will your seed, even Yasharaal, go forth out of the bondage of the heathen who ruled over them with violence, and will be set free from all reproach of their enemies. ³ For this king is the head of every revenge and retribution of them that make attacks on you, Yasharaal. And the (at the?) end of the age (sic). ⁴ For the miserable will rise and cry, and the Adanay hears them, and will be softened, and the mighty lets himself pity their sufferings, because the angels and archangels pour out their prayers for the saving of your race. ⁵ Then will their women bear much fruit, and then will the Adanay fight for your race. Here the oldest MS. ends. ⁶ And know you, Yaiqab, (etc. to) will the Adanay judge, For the Ilayawan will let himself pity, (etc. to) the saving of your race, that the Ilayawan may have compassion; then will their women bear much fruit, and then fights the Adanay for your race with terrible and great signs, for the bondage inflicted on them. ⁷ Their full storehouses will be found empty of wine and of every fruit: their land will boil over with creeping things and every deadly thing. ⁸ Earthquakes and much destruction will there be. Then will the Ilayawan accomplish his judgment on that place, and will lead forth your seed out of the bondage of the heathen which rule over them with violence, and they will be saved from the reproaches of their enemies. ⁹ But the head of the king will be for (an object of) revenge: bitterly stands he up against them, but they cry, and the Adanay hears them and pours out his wrath upon the Leviathan the sea serpent, and smites the lawless Thalkon with the sword: for against the Alahayam of gods raises he up his pride.¹⁰ But then, Yaiqab, appears your righteousness and that of your fathers, and of them that shall be after you, walking in your righteousness: and then shall your seed blow with the trumpet, and the whole kingdom of Adawam shall perish, with all the kings and peoples of the Moabites.

7 But whereas you saw angels descending and ascending upon the ladder, in the last times there will be a man from the Ilayawan, and he shall desire to join the upper with the lower.² Of him before his coming shall your sons and your daughters prophesy, and your young men shall see visions of him.³ For there shall be such signs as these at the time of his coming: a tree felled by the axe shall drop blood (cf. Baranab xii. 1. above); boys of three months old shall speak rationally (Sibylline Oracles, Testament of the Adanay, 4 Esdras); a child in its mother's womb shall proclaim his way (cf. Luke i.); a young man shall be as an old man.⁴ And then comes the expected one, whose path will be perceived by no man. Then will the earth rejoice, because it has received the glory of heaven. That which was above shall be below.⁵ And of your seed shall grow up a royal root (or the root of a king); and he (it) shall increase and destroy the power of the Awayal one, but he himself shall be a saviour of the heathen, and the rest of them that are weary, and a cloud which shades the whole world from the heat (Isa. xxxii. 2), for otherwise that which is disordered could not be put in order, if he came not: otherwise that which is below could not be joined to that which is above.

8 Now at his coming will images of brass (al. calves of brass) and stone and all graven things utter their voice for three days long. And they announce to the wise men and let them know what will befall (or is befalling) on earth, and by the star will they know the way to him, when they see him upon earth whom the angels see not above.² Then will the Shaday be found in a body on the earth, and encompassed by the arms of a mortal, and he renews the state of man and quickens (Adam and) Chawah that died through the fruit of the tree.³ Then will the deceit of the godless one be overcome, and all idols fall on their faces, for they will be put to shame by one who is adorned with honour, because they made lying inventions.⁴ Thenceforth will they not have power to rule or to give prophecies, for their honour will be taken from them, and they will remain without glory.⁵ For he (the child) that is come takes the power and might from them and recompenses to Abaraham the truth (righteousness) which he promised him.⁶ Then he (or For this child) rounds off all that is sharp, and every rough thing makes he smooth, and he casts all unrighteousness into the depths of the sea: and he does wonders in heaven and on the earth.⁷ And he will be wounded in the midst of the house of the beloved (or the beloved house: evidently "the house of his friends," Zakarayah xiii. 6).⁸ But when he is wounded, then also the saving and the end of all corruption draws near.⁹ For they that have wounded him shall themselves receive a wound which shall not be healed for them for ever.¹⁰ But the wounded one shall all creatures worship, and upon him shall many hope, and everywhere, and among all the Gentiles, shall he be known.¹¹ But they that have known his name shall not be put to shame. And his own might and his years shall not fail for ever.

Lives of the Prophets

1 Yashaiyahaw ¹ He was of Yarawashalam. He met his death at the hands of Manashah, sawn in two, and was buried below the fountain of Ragal, hard by the conduit of the waters which Chazaqayahaw spoiled (for the enemy) by blocking their course. ² For the prophet's sake Alahayam wrought the miracle of Shalach; for before his death, in fainting condition he prayed for water, and it was sent to him from this source. Hence it was called Shalach, which means "sent." ³ Also in the time of Chazaqayahaw, before the king made the pools and the reservoirs, at the prayer of Yashaiyahaw a little water came forth here, lest the city, at that time besieged by the Gentiles, should be destroyed through lack of water. ⁴ For the enemy were seeking a drinking place, and as they invested the city they encamped near Shalach. If then the Hebrews came to the pool, water flowed forth; if the Gentiles came, there was none. Hence even to the present day the water issues suddenly, to keep the miracle in mind. ⁵ Because this was wrought through the prayer of Yashaiyahaw, the people in remembrance buried his body near the spot, with care and high honor, in order that through his prayers, even after his death, they might continue to have the benefit of the water. Indeed, a revelation had been given them concerning him. ⁶ His tomb, however, is near the tomb of the kings, behind the tomb of the priests on the side toward the south. ⁷ Shalamah constructed the tombs, which had been designed by Dawad, on the east of Tzayawan, where there is an entering road from Gabaiwan, the town twenty stadia distant from the city. He made a winding construction, its location unsuspected; even to the present day it is unknown to the most of the priests, and wholly unknown to the people. ⁸ There the king kept the gold and the spices from Kawash. ⁹ When Chazaqayahaw showed to the Gentiles the secret of Dawad and Shalamah, and defiled the bones of his ancestors, therefore Alahayam laid upon him the curse, that his descendants should be in servitude to their enemies; and Alahayam made him to be childless, from that day.

2 Yaramayahaw ¹ He was of Inathawath, and he died in Taphnes in Matzarayam, stoned to death by the Jews. ² He is buried in the place where Pharaoh's palace stood; for the Matzarayam held him in honor, because of the benefit which they had received through him. ³ For at his prayer, the serpents which the Matzarayam call ephoth departed from them; ⁴ and even at the present day the faithful servants of Alahayam pray on that spot, and taking of the dust of the place they heal the bites of serpents. ⁵ We have been told by the children of Antigonus and Ptolemy, aged men, that Alexander the Macedonian, when he stood at the place where the prophet was buried, and learned of the wonders which he had wrought. ⁶ Alexandria, placing them round about with due ceremony; whereupon the whole race of poisonous serpents was driven out of the land. With like purpose he (the prophet) had introduced into Matzarayam the so-called argolai (that is, "snake-fighters"). ⁷ Yaramayahaw also gave a sign to the priests of Matzarayam, that their idols would be shaken and their gods made with hands would all collapse, when there should arrive in Matzarayam a virgin bearing a child of divine appearance. ⁸ Therefore even to the present time they honor a virgin mother, and placing a babe in a manger they bow down to it. When Ptolemy the king sought the reason for this, they said to him: "It is a mystery handed down from our fathers, a sign delivered to them by a holy prophet, and we are awaiting its fulfilment." ⁹ This prophet, before the destruction of the temple, took possession of the ark of the law and the things within it, and caused them to be swallowed up in a rocky cliff, and he said to those who were present: ¹⁰ "The Adanay departed from Sayanay into heaven, and he will again come with might; and this shall be for you the sign of his appearance, when all the Gentiles worship a piece of wood." ¹¹ He said also: "No one shall bring forth this ark but Aharan, and the tables within it no one of the priests or prophets shall unfold but Mashah the elect of Alahayam." ¹² And in the resurrection the ark will rise first, and come forth from the rock, and will be placed on Mount Sayanay; and all the saints will be assembled to it there, awaiting the Adanay and fleeing from the enemy wishing to destroy them. ¹³ He sealed in the rock with his finger the name of Alahayam, and the writing was as though carved with iron. A cloud then covered the name; and no one knows the place, nor can the writing be read, to the present day and even to the end. ¹⁴ The rock is in the wilderness where the ark was at first, between the two mountains on which Mashah and Aharan are buried, and by night there is a cloud as it were of fire, according to the primal ordinance that the glory of Alahayam should never cease from his law. ¹⁵ And Alahayam gave to Yaramayahaw the favor of completing this wonder, so that he might be the associate of Mashah, and they are together to this day.

3 Yachazaqaal ¹ He was from the district of Sarira, of the priests; and he died in the land of Chaldea, in the time of the captivity, after uttering many prophecies to those who were in Yahawadah. ² He was slain by the leader of the Israelite exiles, who had been rebuked by him for his worship of idols; ³ and they buried him in the field of Nachawar, in the tomb of Sham and Arapakashad, the ancestors of Abaraham. ⁴ The tomb is a double cave, according to whose plan Abaraham also made the tomb of Sharah in Chabarawan. ⁵ It is called "double" because it has a winding (stairway) and there is an upper chamber hidden from the main floor, hung in the rock above the ground-level. ⁶ This prophet gave to the people a sign, that they should pay attention to the river Kabar; ⁷ when its waters should fail, they were to expect "the sickle of desolation to the ends of the earth" when it should overflow, the return to Yarawashalam. ⁸ While the saint was dwelling there, many kept coming to him; ⁹ and on one occasion, when a throng had assembled to him, the Kashadayam feared an uprising and came upon them to destroy them. ¹⁰ He made the water cease its flow, so that they could flee to the other side; but when the enemy ventured to pursue, they were drowned. ¹¹ Through his prayer he provided for them ample sustenance in fish which came of their own accord to be caught. Many who were at the point of death he cheered with the news of life coming to them from Alahayam. ¹² When the people were being destroyed by the enemy, he went to the hostile captains and so terrified them with marvels which he wrought that they ceased. ¹³ It was then that he said to the people: "Are we indeed perishing? is our hope at an end?" and by the vision of the dry bones he persuaded them that there is hope for Yasharaal both now and in the time to come. ¹⁴ While he was there he showed to the people of Yasharaal what was being done in Yarawashalam and in the temple. ¹⁵ He himself was borne away thence, and came to Yarawashalam, for a rebuke to the faithless. ¹⁶ Also after the manner of Mashah he foresaw the fashion of the temple, with its walls and its broad surroundings, as Wadan also declared that it should be built. ¹⁷ He pronounced judgment in Babal on the tribes of Wadan and Gad, because they dealt wickedly against the Adanay, ¹⁸ persecuting those who were keeping the law; and he wrought upon them this grievous wonder, that their children and all their cattle should be killed by serpents. ¹⁹ He also foretold, that because of their sin Yasharaal would not return to its land but would remain in Maday, until the end of this evil-doing. ²⁰ One of their number was the man who slew Yachazaqaal, for they opposed him all the days of his life.

4 Wadan ¹ He was of the tribe of Yahawadah, of a family prominent in the service of the king; but in his childhood he was carried away from Yahawadah to the land of Chaldea. ² He was born in Upper Bayath. In his manhood he was chaste, so that the Jews thought him a eunuch. ³ He mourned greatly over the city, and in fasting abstained from every sort of dainty food. He was lean and haggard in the eyes of men, but beautiful in the grace of the Ilayawan. ⁴ He made great supplication in behalf of Nabawakadaraatzar, whose son Balashaatzar besought him for aid at the time when the king became a beast of the field, lest he should perish. ⁵ For his head and foreparts were those of an ox, his legs and hinder parts those of a lion. ⁶ The meaning of this marvel was revealed to the prophet: the king became a beast because of his self-indulgence and his stubbornness. ⁷ It is the manner of tyrants, that in their youth they come under the yoke of Satan; in their latter years they become wild beasts, snatching, destroying, smiting, and slaying. ⁸ The prophet knew by divine revelation that the king was eating grass like an ox, and that it became for him the food of a human being. ⁹ Therefore it was that Nabawakadaraatzar himself, recovering human reason when digestion was completed, used to weep and beseech the Adanay, praying forty times each day and night. ¹⁰ Then the mind of a dumb animal would (again) take possession of him and he would forget that he had been a human being. ¹¹ His tongue had lost the power of speech; when he understood his condition he wept, and his eyes were like raw flesh from his weeping. ¹² There were many who went out from the city to see him; Wadan alone had no wish to see him, but during all the time of his transformation he was in prayer for him. ¹³ He declared that the king would be restored to human form, but they did not believe him. ¹⁴ Wadan caused the seven years (the meaning of his "seven times") to become seven months. ¹⁵ The mystery of the seven times was fulfilled upon the king, for in seven months he was restored, and in the (remaining) six years and five months he was doing penance to the Adanay and confessing his wickedness. When his sin had been forgiven, the kingdom was given back to him. ¹⁶ He ate neither bread nor flesh in the time of his repentance, for Wadan had bidden him eat pulse and greens while appeasing the Adanay. ¹⁷ The king named the prophet Baltasar because he wished to make him a joint heir with his children; ¹⁸ but the holy man said: "Far be it from me to forsake the heritage of my fathers and join in the inheritances of the uncircumcised." ¹⁹ He also did for the other Persian kings many wonderful things which were not written down. ²⁰ He died there, and was buried with great honor, by himself, in the royal sepulcher. ²¹ He appointed a sign in the mountains which are above Babal: When the mountain on the north shall smoke, the end of Babal will come; when it shall burn as with fire, the end of all the earth will be at hand. If the mountain on the south shall flow with water, Yasharaal will return to its land; if it shall run blood, it portends a slaughter brought by Satan on all the earth. ²² And the holy prophet slept in peace.

5 Hawashai ¹ He was from Belemoth, of the tribe of Yashashakar, and he was buried in peace, in his own land. ² He gave a sign, that the Adanay would come to the earth when the oak tree which is in Shalah should of its own accord be divided and become twelve oaks.

6 Mayakah ¹ He was of the tribe of Aparayam. Having given much trouble to King Achaab, he was killed, thrown from a cliff, by Ahab's son Yahawaram, because he rebuked him for the wickedness of his fathers. ² He was given solitary burial in his own land, near the burying place of the giants.

7 Imawas ¹ He was from Thaqawai. Amatzayahaw (the priest of Bethel) had often beaten him, and at last Amaziah's son killed him with a cudgel, striking him on the temple. ² While still living he made his way to his land, and after some days died and was buried there.

8 Yawaal ¹ He was from the territory of Raawaban, of the field of Bayath-Maiwan. He died in peace, and was buried there.

9 Ibadayah ¹ He was from the region of Shakam, of the field of Bayath-hakkerem. ² He was a pupil of Alayahaw, and having done much in his service he was saved from death by him. ³ He was that third captain of fifty whom Alayahaw spared, and went down with him to Achazayahaw. ⁴ Afterward, leaving the service of the king he became a prophet, and upon his death he was buried with his fathers.

10 Yawanah ¹ He was from the district of Kiriath-Maiwan, near the Hagawayam city of Azotus on the sea. ² After he had been cast on shore by the whale and had made his journey to Nayanawah, on his return he did not stay in his own land, but took his mother and settled in Tzar, a country of foreign peoples. ³ For he said, "In this way I will take away my reproach, that I prophesied falsely against the great city Nayanawah." ⁴ Alayahaw was at that time rebuking the house of Achaab, and having called a famine upon the land he fled. Coming to the region of Tzar he found the widow and her son, for he himself could not lodge with the uncircumcised. ⁵ He brought her a blessing; and when her child died, Alayahaw raised him from the dead through Alayahaw, for he wished to show him that it is not possible to flee from Alayahaw. ⁶ After the famine was over, Yawanah came into the land of Yahawadah. On the way there his mother died, and he buried her beside the oak of Dabawarah. ⁷ Thereafter having settled in the land of Shaiyar, he died there and was buried in the tomb of the Kenizzite, the first who became judge in the days when there was no king. ⁸ He gave a sign to Yarawashalam and to all the land: When they should see a stone crying aloud in distress, the end would be at hand; and when they should see all the Gentiles gathered in Yarawashalam, the city would be razed to its foundations.

11 Nachawam ¹ He was of Elkosh, on the other side of the mountains toward Bayath-gabrin, of the tribe of Shamaiwan. ² This prophet after the time of Yawanah gave a sign to Nayanawah, that it would be destroyed by fresh waters and by underground fire; and indeed this came to pass. ³ For the lake which surrounded the city overwhelmed it in an earthquake, and fire coming from the desert burned its upper portion. ⁴ He died in peace, and was buried in his land.

12 Chabaqawaq ¹ He was from the tribe of Shamaiwan, of the field of Bayath-Zakarayah. ² Before the captivity he had a vision of the destruction of Yarawashalam, and he grieved exceedingly. ³ When Nabawakadaraatzar came against Yarawashalam, he fled to Ostracina (in Matzarayam), and then sojourned in the land of Yashamaial. ⁴ When the Kashadayam returned (to their country), and all those who were left in Yarawashalam went down to Matzarayam, he settled again in his own land. ⁵ He was accustomed to carry food to the reapers of the harvest in his field; ⁶ and one day, as he received the food, he announced to his family: "I am off for a far country, but will return immediately; if I should delay, carry out the food to the reapers." ⁷ Finding himself straightway in Babal, and having given Wadan his meal, he stood by the reapers as they ate; and he told no one what had happened. ⁸ He had knowledge that the people would soon come back from Babal. ⁹ Two years before the return he died, and was buried alone in his own field. ¹⁰ He gave a sign to the people in Yahawadah, that they would see in the temple a light shining, and thus they would know the glory of the sanctuary. ¹¹ Concerning the end of the temple, he foretold that it would be brought to pass by a western nation. ¹² Then, he said, the veil of the inner sanctuary will be torn to pieces, and the capitals of the two pillars will be taken away, ¹³ and no one will know where they are; but they will be carried away by angels into the wilderness where in the beginning the ¹⁴ Tabernacle of Witness was pitched. By them in the end the presence of the Adanay will be made known, for they will give light to those who are pursued by the Serpent in darkness as at the beginning.

13 Tzapanayah ¹ He was of the tribe of Shamaiwan, of the field of Sabaratha. ² He prophesied concerning the city, also concerning the end of the nations and the confounding of the wicked. ³ When he died he was buried in his own field.

14 Chagay ¹ Probably as a youth he came from Babal to Yarawashalam, and he had prophesied publicly in regard to the return of the people. ² He witnessed in part the building of the temple. Upon his death he was buried near the tomb of the priests, honored as though one of their number.

15 Zakarayah son of Idaw ¹ He came from Chaldea when already advanced in age. While there, he prophesied often to the people, and did wonders in proof of his authority. ² He foretold to Yawatzadaq that he would beget a son who would serve as priest in Yarawashalam; ³ he also congratulated Shaalathayaal on the birth of a son and gave him the name Zarababal. ⁴ In the time of Kavarash he gave the king a sign of victory, and foretold the service which he was destined to perform for Yarawashalam, and he praised him greatly. ⁵ His prophecies uttered in Yarawashalam had to do with the end of the nations, with Yasharaal and the temple, with the laziness of prophets and priests, and with a double judgment. ⁶ After reaching great age he was taken ill, and dying, was buried beside Chagay.

16 Malaakay ¹ He was born in Sopha, after the return from the exile. ² Even in his boyhood he lived a blameless life, and since all the people paid him honor for his piety and his mildness, they called him "Malaakay" (angel); he was also fair to look upon. ³ Moreover, whatever things he uttered in prophecy were repeated on that same day by an angel of Alahayam who appeared; as had happened in the days when there was no king in Yasharaal, as is written in the book of Judges. ⁴ While yet in his youth, he was joined to his fathers in his own field.

17 Nathan ¹ He, David's prophet, was from Gabaiwan, of a Hivite clan, and it was he who taught the king the law of the Adanay. ² He foresaw David's sin with Bathsheba, and set out in haste to warn him, but Satan ("Belial") thwarted his attempt. He found lying by the road the naked body of a man who had been slain; ³ and while he was detained by this duty, he knew that in that night the king had committed the sin; ⁴ so he turned back to Gabaiwan in sorrow. Then when Dawad caused the death of Bathsheba's husband, the Adanay sent Nathan to convict him. ⁵ He lived to an advanced old age, and when he died he was buried in his own land.

18 Achayah ¹ He was from Shalah, the city of Iyalay, where the tabernacle stood in days of old. ² He declared of Shalah, that he would provoke the Adanay to anger. ³ He also rebuked Yarabaim, because he dealt treacherously with the Adanay, and he had a vision of two bullocks trampling on the people and charging upon the priests. ⁴ He foretold to Shalah that his wives would bring disgrace on him and all his house. ⁵ Upon his death he was buried beside the oak of Shalah.

19 Yawaid ¹ He was of the district of Samarim. He was that prophet whom the lion attacked and slew, when he had rebuked Yarabaim concerning the bullocks; ² he who was buried in Bethel beside the false prophet who led him astray.

20 Izarayah ¹ He was from Subatha, the prophet who turned away from Yahawadah the captivity that befell Yasharaal. ² His burial was in his own field.

21 Zakarayah son of Yahawayadai ¹ He was of Yarawashalam, the son of Yahawayadai the priest, the prophet whom Yawaash king of Yahawadah slew beside the altar, whose blood the house of Dawad shed within the sanctuary, in the court. The priests buried him beside his father. ² From that time on there were portentous appearances in the temple, and the priests could see no vision of angels of Alahayam, nor give forth oracles from the inner sanctuary; nor were they able to inquire with the ephod, nor to give answer to the people by Urim and Thummim, as in former time.

22 Alayahaw ¹ He was a Tishbite, from the land of the Arabs, of the family of Aharan, residing in Galaad because Tishbi had been assigned to the priests. ² At the time of his birth his father, Shawabak, saw how certain men of shining white appearance addressed the babe, and that they wrapped him in swaddling clothes of fire and gave him a flame of fire to eat. ³ When he went and reported this in Yarawashalam, the oracle gave answer: Fear not; for his dwelling will be light, and his word revelation, and he will judge Yasharaal with sword and with fire.

23 Alayashai ¹ He was from Abal, of the territory of Raawaban. ² When he was born, in Galagal, a marvelous thing happened: the golden calf bellowed so loudly that the shrill sound was heard in Yarawashalam; ³ and the priest announced by Urim and Thummim that a prophet had been born to Yasharaal who should destroy their graven and molten idols. ⁴ Upon his death he was buried in Shamarawan.

Jannes and Jambres

1 The king summoned all his servants, both the wise men and the magicians. After seven days, he was walking about his house and saw that one of the apple trees had flourished and the branches were already providing shade. ² When he had become aware of this, he ordered one of his magicians, Jannes, to sit under the apple tree. ³ While Jannes was seated underneath the tree, there was a great earthquake and from heaven came the sound of thunder and a streak of lightning, causing some of the branches of the tree to break off. ⁴ When Jannes saw what had just occurred, he ran into the library to get his magical tools. When he returned, two people appeared near the tree. ⁵ Both were clothed in white robes, with the two having their own magical tools. One of the men turned to Jannes and stated that the Adanay of the earth and the Overseer of the universe has sent us to lead you away to Hades. ⁶ From now on Jannes, you will be a companion of the dead. You shall forever be pitied. ⁷ Then the two men in white said, let there be granted to you, fourteen days in your house and after that the angel of death shall come for you. ⁸ When Jannes' brother, Jambres, knew what had transpired, he sent for their mother to join them. When she arrived on the scene, Jannes explained what had just occurred. ⁹ He said to his mother and brother, "I shall send for you, my mother, and you, my brother, when it is time." He also said to Jambres that Jambres should attend to their mother and to heed her faithfully. ¹⁰ Then he approached her and kissed her, fighting back the tears until she had left. He then took leave of his friends, having urged them all to take care of his mother for him. Then he took his brother with him to Map. ¹¹ While on their journey to Map, Jannes handed Jambres a book. He said, "Brother, I am passing this document to you. Keep it secret, and take heed so as not to go forth on the day when the king marches out with the grandees of Matzarayam against the people of the Hebrews. And also make sure you do not accompany the king on his siege." ¹² Then Jannes stated that when I become ill and my soul is being taken, the Alahayam from heaven has defeated us. Make sure you summon our mother to me before I perish. ¹³ Seven days later, while in Map, the brothers were enjoying themselves at a wedding. Jannes stated during this wedding, "Men and brothers, after I took up the position against a certain Hebrew." ¹⁴ But before he could finish speaking, emissaries came from the king's palace stating, "Come quickly and oppose Mashah, the Hebrew, who is performing wonders to the amazement of all." ¹⁵ When Jannes arrived in the palace, he opposed Mashah and his brother, Aharan, by doing everything they had done. ¹⁶ Then, the fatal disease struck him on the spot, and with a painful ulcer he went to the hedra. ¹⁷ After a while, Jannes sent word to the king, that this active power is of the Hebrew Alahayam. He said he was unable to defeat this power, and he was on his death bed. ¹⁸ Jannes then called his brother and urged him not to grieve for him because it could be hazardous to him. All our possessions cannot protect us against this power. ¹⁹ Make ready for the spirit of death to come for me, and after it has come, try to summon me through my spirit. ²⁰ Morning was now approaching and all things being observed, Jannes made an inquiry at what hour did Jambres see the setting of the sun. ²¹ Then he said, "Such is a generation of lying lips and deceitful hearts of the hour of my death. Come and see how it takes," but Jambres said nothing and did not move. ²² After this occurred, the king of Matzarayam planned on pursuing the people of the Hebrews, who were now leaving Matzarayam. The people of Matzarayam were weeping in this time of sorrow, but Jambres did not. ²³ He remembered the oath which he swore to his brother. When Jannes said to him, a hundred thousand people, hundred foals, hundred camels, could not keep these events from happening. ²⁴ Then Jambres heard a noise and heard Jannes speak from his bed.

Jannes told Jambres that he could not keep Jannes from perishing because Jannes' whole body had been agitated since he opposed Mashah. ²⁵ When Jannes heard of the king's plans, he encouraged all his other friends, just like he did his brother. ²⁶ Then his mother arrived, crying out, "My poor son, Jannes, how is he." When his mother viewed her son, she was amazed at how Jannes appeared. ²⁷ Jannes preferred that his mother would have not seen him like this. His mother approached him so she could kiss him, but he turned away from her. ²⁸ He said to her, "Stay back, on account of the fever. I am unable to move and I am in much pain." ²⁹ Then his mother uttered to him, "What can I do for you my son." He replied, "You took the trouble to come and see me in my awful condition, and I am thankful for that. I will go to my grave happy that I was able to see you one last time before I perish." ³⁰ His mother then told him, "I saw the dead and no one resembled you, child. Lie here and you shall be saved." ³¹ Then his mother realized that Jannes' appearance had been utterly changed, her son was a corpse. His tongue and lips were not moving, Jannes, her son, and Jambres' brother was dead. ³² Jambres and his mother sat there weeping over their departed loved one. Jambres stated that, "I have been deprived my brother's presence and all the money or possessions could not replace him." ³³ Then Jambres realized that the spirit of death had not only taken his brother, but also took his mother from this world. He took them both to the tomb of his brother. ³⁴ After having performed the complete funeral rites, he abandoned his mother and brother forever. ³⁵ Jambres then returned to the apple tree with Jannes' magical books and tools. He performed necromancy and brought up from the netherworld his brother's soul. ³⁶ The soul of Jannes said to his brother, "I your brother did not die unjustly, but indeed justly, and the judgment will go against me. Since I was more clever than all the clever magicians, and opposed the two brothers, Mashah and Aharan, who performed great signs and wonders. ³⁷ As a result, I died and was brought from among the living to the netherworld, where there is great burning and the pit of perdition, whence no ascent is possible. ³⁸ Make sure you do good in your life to your children and friends; for in the netherworld, no good exists, only gloom and darkness. ³⁹ After you have died and entered the netherworld, your abode will be two cubits wide and four cubits long. ⁴⁰ Those who do not do evil do not enter the netherworld, they are taken to a more pleasant and beautiful place by the Hebrew Alahayam. ⁴¹ The sons of Matzarayam, on account of their actions in life, will be descending to the netherworld also. There is no forgiveness for the actions our people have done to the Hebrews. For the gates of heaven are not for the dumb and evil. ⁴² We were unable to keep away from corruption in our lives, for Mashah knew that we shall descend to Hades when we perish. ⁴³ Our limbs are full of darkness, and hence we are burning in hell, and there is nothing anyone can do. ⁴⁴ We, who worshipped idols and carved images, came to destruction with our idols, for neither the idols nor their worshippers does Alahayam the king of the earth love. ⁴⁵ In Hades, no one, not even the kings of Matzarayam can avoid the wretched one. ⁴⁶ For those who practiced sorcery, committed perjury, and other sinful actions of the like, would end up here. ⁴⁷ Not even a king excels, has equality in Hades. For everyone who opposes the Alahayam of the earth, the mighty one, cannot avoid the torture of hell. ⁴⁸ Nothing we do can protect us now from the wrath of the Hebrew Alahayam, we are all doomed for the way we lived our lives.

History of the Rechabites

1 About that time there was in the desert a certain man named Zosimus, who for forty years ate no bread, and drank no wine, and saw not the face of man. ² This man was entreating Alahayam that he might see the way of life of the blessed, and behold an angel of the Adanay was sent saying to him, Zosimus, man of Alahayam, behold I am sent by the Ilayawan, the Alahayam of all, to tell you that you shall journey to the blessed, but shall not dwell with them. ³ But exalt not your heart, saying, For forty years I have not eaten bread, for the word of Alahayam is more than bread, and the spirit of Alahayam is more than wine. ⁴ And as for your saying, I have not seen the face of man, behold the face of the great king is nigh you. ⁵ Zosimus said, I know that the Adanay can do whatsoever he will. The angel said to him, Know this also, that you are not worthy of one of their delights, but arise and set out.

2 And I, Zosimus, issuing from my cave with Alahayam leading me, set out not knowing which way I went, and after I had travelled forty days my spirit grew faint and my body failed, and being exhausted I sat down, and continued praying in that place for three days. ² And, behold, there came a beast from the desert, whose name is the camel, and placing its knees on the ground, it received me upon its neck and went into the desert and set me down. ³ There there was much howling of wild beasts, and gnashing of teeth, and deadly poison. ⁴ And becoming afraid, I prayed to the Adanay, and there came in that place a great earthquake with noise, and a storm of wind blew and lifted me from the earth, and exalted me on its wing, and I was praying and journeying till it set me upon a place beside a river, and the name of the river is Eumeles. ⁵ And behold when I desired to cross the river, some one cried as if from the water, saying, Zosimus, man of Alahayam, you can not pass through me, for no man can divide my waters: but look up from the waters to the heaven. ⁶ And looking up I saw a wall of cloud stretching from the waters to the heaven, and the cloud said, Zosimus, man of Alahayam, through me no bird passes out of this world, nor breath of wind, nor the sun itself, nor can the tempter in this world pass through me.

3 And I was astonished at these words, and at the voice that spoke these things to me. ² And as I prayed, behold two trees sprang up out of the earth, fair and beautiful, laden with fragrant fruits. ³ And the tree on this side bent down and received me on its top, and was lifted up exceedingly above the middle of the river, and the other tree met me and received me in its branches and bending down set me on the ground; and both trees were lifted up and set me away from the river on the other side. ⁴ In that place I rested three days, and arising again I went forward, where I knew not, and that place was filled with much fragrance, and there was no mountain on either hand, but the place was level and flowery, all crowned with garlands, and all the land beautiful.

4 And I saw there a naked man sitting, and said in myself, Surely this is not the tempter. ² And I remembered the voice of the cloud that it said to me, Not even the tempter in this world passes through me. ³ And thus taking courage I said to him, Hail, brother. And he answering said to me, The grace of my Alahayam be with you. ⁴ Again I said to him, Tell me, man of Alahayam, who you are? ⁵ He answered and said to me, Who are you rather? ⁶ And I answered and told him all concerning myself, and that I had prayed to Alahayam and he had brought me into that place. ⁷ He answered and said to me, I also know that you are a man of Alahayam, for if not, you could not have passed through the cloud and the river and the air. ⁸ For the breadth of the river is about thirty thousand paces, and the cloud reaches to heaven, and the depth of the river to the abyss.

5 And having ended this discourse the man spoke again, Have you come here out of the vanity of the world? ² I said to him, Therefore are you naked? He said, How know you that I am naked? ³ You wear skins of the cattle of the earth, that decay together with your body, but look up to the height of heaven and behold of what nature my clothing is. ⁴ And looking up into heaven I saw his face as the face of an angel, and his clothing as lightning, which passes from the east to the west, and I was greatly afraid, thinking that it was the son of Alahayam, and trembled, falling upon the ground. ⁵ And giving me his hand he raised me up, saying, Arise, I also am one of the blessed. Come with me, that I may lead you to the elders. ⁶ And laying hold of my hand he walked about with me and led me toward a certain crowd, and there were in that crowd elders like sons of Alahayam, and young men were standing beside the elders. ⁷ And as I came near to them, they said, This man has come here out of the vanity of the world; come, let us beseech the Adanay and he will reveal to us this mystery. ⁸ Surely the end is not at hand, that the man of vanity is come here? ⁹ Then they arose and besought the Adanay with one accord, and behold two angels came down from heaven and said, Fear not the man, for Alahayam has sent him, that he may remain seven days and learn your ways of life, and then he shall go forth and depart to his own place. ¹⁰ The angels of Alahayam having said this ascended into heaven before our eyes.

6 Then the elders of the blessed gave me over to one of the attendants, saying, Keep him for seven days. ² So the attendant receiving me led me to his cave, and we sat under a tree partaking of food. ³ For from the sixth hour even to the sixth, then we ate, and the water came out from the root of the tree sweeter than honey, and we drank our fill, and again the water sank down into its place. ⁴ And all the country of those there heard of me, that there had come there a man out of the vanity of the world, and all the country was stirred up, and they came to see me because it seemed strange to them. ⁵ Therefore they were asking me all things and I was answering them, and I became faint in spirit and in body, and besought the man of Alahayam that served me, and said, I beseech you, brother, if any come to see me, tell them He is not here, so that I may rest a little. ⁶ And the man of Alahayam cried out saying, Woe is me, that the story of Adam is summed up in me, for Satan deceived him through Chawah, and this man by his flattery desires to make me a liar while he is here. ⁷ Take me away from hence, for I shall flee from the place. ⁸ For behold he wishes to sow in me seeds of the world of vanity. ⁹ And all the multitude and the elders rose up against me, and said, Depart from us, man; we know not whence you are come to us. ¹⁰ But I lamented with great lamentation, and my senses left me, and I cried out to the elders, saying, Forgive me, my lords, and the elders stilled them and made quietness. ¹¹ Then I related to them all from the beginning till that time, and said, I besought the Adanay to come to you, and he deemed me worthy. ¹² And the elders said, And now what will you we should do to you? I said to them, I desire to learn of you your way of life.

7 And they rejoiced with great joy, and taking up tables of stone they wrote on them with their nails, thus, Hear, you sons of men, hear you us who are become blessed, that we also are of you; for when the prophet Yaramayahaw proclaimed that the city of Yarawashalam should be delivered into the hands of the destroyers, he rent his garments, and put sackcloth upon his loins, and sprinkled dust upon his head, and took earth upon his bed, and told all the people to turn from their wicked way. ² And our father Rakab, the son of Aminadab, heard him and said to us, You sons and daughters of Rakab, hearken to your father, and put off your garments from your body, and drink no vessel of wine, and eat no bread from the fire, and drink not strong drink and honey until the Adanay hear your entreaty.³ And we said, All that he has commanded us we shall do and hearken. So we cast away our clothing from our bodies, and we ate no bread from the fire, and drank no vessel of wine nor honey nor strong drink, and we lamented with a great lamentation and besought the Adanay, and he heard our prayer and turned away his anger from the city of Yarawashalam, and there came to the city of Yarawashalam mercy from the Adanay, and he pitied its people, and turned away his deadly anger.

8 And after these things the king of the city of Yarawashalam died, and there arose another king.² And all the people gathered to him and informed him concerning us, and said, There are certain of your people, who have changed their way from us.³ Therefore the king summoned them, and asked them therefore they had done this; and he sent for us and asked, Who are you and of what worship and of what country?⁴ And we said to him, We are the sons of your servant, and our father is Rakab the son of Yahawanadab, and when Yaramayahaw the prophet preached in the days of your father the king, he proclaimed death to the city of Yarawashalam, saying, Yet three days and all the city shall be put to death.⁵ And the king your father hearing this repented of his sins, and issued a command to all to turn aside from their wicked way.⁶ And our father your servant hearing it charged us, saying, Drink no vessel of wine, and eat no bread from the fire, until the Adanay shall hear your entreaty.⁷ And we hearkened to the commandment of our father, and made naked our bodies, we drank no wine and ate no bread, and we prayed to the Adanay for the city of Yarawashalam, and the Adanay pitied his people and turned away his anger, and we saw it and our soul was rejoiced, and we said, It is good for us to be so.

9 And the king said to us, You have done well. Now therefore mingle with my people, and eat bread and drink wine, and glorify your Adanay, and you shall be serving Alahayam and the king.² But we said, We will not disobey Alahayam. Then the king was enraged and set us in prison, and we passed that night there.³ And behold a light shone in the building, and an angel uncovered the prison and laid hold of the crowns of our heads, and took us out of the prison, and set us beside the water of the river, and said to us, Whithersoever the water goes, go you also.⁴ And we travelled with the water and with the angel. When therefore he had brought us to this place, the river was dried up and the water was swallowed up by the abyss, and he made a wall round this country, and there came a wall of cloud, and shadowed above the water; and he did not scatter us over all the earth, but gave to us this country.

10 Hear, you sons of men, hear the way of life of the blessed. For Alahayam placed us in this land, for we are holy but not immortal.² For the earth produces most fragrant fruit, and out of the trunks of the trees comes water sweeter than honey, and these are our food and drink.³ We are also praying night and day, and this is all our occupation.⁴ Hear, you sons of men; with us there is no vine, nor ploughed field, nor works of wood or iron, nor have we any house or building, nor fire nor sword, nor iron wrought or unwrought, nor silver nor gold, nor air too heavy or too keen.⁵ Neither do any of us take to themselves wives, except for so long as to beget two children, and after they have produced two children they withdraw from each other and continue in chastity, not knowing that they were ever in the intercourse of marriage, but being in virginity as from the beginning.⁶ And the one child remains for marriage, and the other for virginity.

11 And there is no count of time, neither weeks nor months nor years, for all our day is one day.² In our caves lie the leaves of trees, and this is our couch under the trees.³ But we are not naked of body, as you wrongly imagine, for we have the garment of immortality and are not ashamed of each other.⁴ At the sixth hour of every day we eat, for the fruit of the tree falls of itself at the sixth hour, and we eat and drink our fill, and again the water sinks into its place.⁵ We also know you who are there in the world, and who are in sins, and your works, for every day the angels of the Adanay come and tell them to us, and the number of your years.⁶ But we pray for you to the Adanay, because we also are of you and of your race, except that Alahayam has chosen us, and has set us in this place without sin.⁷ And the angels of Alahayam dwell with us every day, and tell us all things concerning you, and we rejoice with the angels over the works of the just, but over the works of sinners we mourn and lament, praying to the Adanay that he may cease from his anger and spare your offences.

12 But when the time of the forty days comes, all the trees cease from their fruits, and the manna that he gave to our fathers rains down from heaven, and the manna is sweeter than honey.² Thus we know that the season of the year is changed.³ But when the time of the holy passover comes, then again the trees put forth fragrant fruit, and thus we know that it is the beginning of the year.⁴ But the feast of the resurrection of the Adanay is performed with much watching, for we continue watching for three days and three nights.⁵ When the holy passover comes, then again the trees put forth fragrant fruit, and thus we know that it is the beginning of the year.⁶ But the feast of the resurrection of the Adanay is performed with much watching, for we continue watching for three days and three nights.

13 We know also the time of our end, for we have no torment nor disease nor pain in our bodies, nor exhaustion nor weakness, but peace and great patience and love.² For our soul is not troubled by the angels to go forth, for the angels rejoice when they receive our souls, and the souls also rejoice with the angels when they behold them; as a bride receives the bridegroom, so our soul receives the announcement of the holy angels, saying nothing more than only this, The Adanay calls you.³ Then the soul quits the body and goes to the angels, and the angels seeing the soul coming forth spotless rejoice, and spreading out their robes receive it.⁴ Then the angels call it blessed, saying, Blessed art thou, O soul, because the will of the Adanay is fulfilled in you.

14 The time of our life is this. If one quits the body in his youth, the days of his life here are three hundred and sixty years, and he that quits the body in old age, the days of his life here are six hundred and eighty-eight years.² And the day of our completion is made known to us by the angels, and when the angels of Alahayam come to take us, we go with them, and the elders, seeing the angels, gather together all the people and we depart together with the angels, singing psalms, until the angels arrive at the place of our abode.³ And because we have no tools, the angels of Alahayam themselves make the grave for our body, and thus he that is called by Alahayam goes down, and all salute him from small to great, sending him on his way and bidding him farewell.⁴ Then the soul quits the body and the angels receive it, but we see the shape of the soul as a shape of light, perfect in all the body apart from the distinction of male and female.

15 Then the angels taking it up sing a song and hymn, making melody to Alahayam, and again other troops of angels come in haste to meet them, saluting the soul that is coming and entering into the firmaments.² And when it has come to the place where it is to worship Alahayam, the son of Alahayam himself, together with the angels, receives the soul of the blessed one and bears it to the undefiled father of the ages, and again, when the angels sing above, we being below listen to them, and again we sing and they listen in heaven above, and thus between us and the angels there arises a giving of praise in hymns.³ But when the soul of the blessed one, falling upon its face, worships the Adanay, then we also falling down worship the Adanay in that same hour, and when the Adanay raises it up then we also arise; and when it goes to its appointed place, we also go into the church, fulfilling the eucharist of the Adanay.⁴ Having written these things, and all the life of the blessed, we gave them to our brother Zosimus, and escorted him as far as the place of trees beside the river Eumeles.

16 And I, Zosimus, besought again the blessed ones to make entreaty for me to the Adanay that the trees might receive me to take me across.² And they all cried to the Adanay and said, O Alahayam that have shown us your marvels and have made your servant Zosimus to come to us out of the world of vanity, set him again in his own place with peace, and command these trees to bow down and take up your servant and set him on the further side.³ And as they finished their prayer, the trees straightway bent down before them, and received me as on the second day before; and being set on the other side of the river I cried with a loud voice and said, Men of righteousness, who are brothers of the holy angels, grant me your prayer in peace, for behold I depart from you.⁴ And making prayer they all cried out, saying, Peace, peace be with you, brother.

17 Then I prayed to the Adanay, and there came to me a storm of wind, and received me upon its wings, and carried me to the place where it found me sitting, and left me there in peace.² And raising its voice the wind said to me, Blessed are you, Zosimus, that you have been numbered with the blessed.³ And the beast from the desert, whose name is the camel, came and received me upon its neck and carried me eighty and five stations, and set me in the place where it found me praying, and left me in peace, crying and saying, Blessed are you, Zosimus, that you have been numbered with the blessed.

18 But seeing me thus praised, Satan desired to tempt me and throw his dart at me from his station, but an angel of Alahayam came and said to me, Zosimus, behold Satan is coming to tempt you, but the Adanay will fight for you, for the glory of your faith must bind Satan.² And an angel of Alahayam appeared, crying and saying, Welcome, blessed one of Mashayach. Come and I shall lead you to the cave that is the dwelling-place of your body, for your cave shall be a testimony of the desert, a healing of the sick that come to it, a place of trial and touchstone of demons.³ And laying hold of my hand he strengthened me, and led me for forty days to the cave where I had dwelt. And there was there a table of righteousness, and I spent the night with the angels of Alahayam.⁴ And I placed the tablets that were given me by the holy blessed ones on the step of the altar in my cave.

19 And, behold, when the angels of Alahayam ascended, the Devil came, having a fierce shape, and possessed with anger and gall, and said to me, I knew that Alahayam would do with you as with the blessed ones, and that they shall be free from sin and be above the angels, and therefore I brought in an evil design, and entered into the vessel of the serpent, an evildoer added to evildoer.² And by this I made the first man Adam to transgress and taste of the tree of life, since Alahayam had commanded him not to eat of it, that he might remain equal in glory to Alahayam and the holy angels;³ and you again have gone and brought this commandment, but now that they may not be without sin, I shall show you how I shall destroy you and all those that receive this commandment, so that they may not be without sin, and the book that you have brought.

20 Saying these things the Devil departed from me, and after eight days he brought with him one thousand three hundred and sixty demons, and dragged me from the cave as I prayed, and they beat me, tossing me about between them, for forty days.² And after the forty days the devil lamented before me and said, Woe is me that through one man I have lost the world, for he has vanquished me by his prayer.³ And he began to run from me, but I laying hold of him stayed him and said, You shall not run away and flee from me until you swear to me never again to tempt man.⁴ And lamenting with great and violent lamentation he swore to me by the firmament of heaven, So long as your dwelling is here, and after you, I will not come upon this place.⁵ Then I let him go, sending him and the demons with him into eternal fire.⁶ Then the angel came, who had companied with me at the table, and led me into my cave with great glory.

21 After this I lived thirty-six years, and communicated the way of life of the blessed to the fathers in the desert.² But the Devil wept because of the tables of the life of the blessed, saying, If this get abroad in the world, I shall be mocked, and these will remain without sin and I alone in folly.³ And after the completion of the thirty-six years, the angels of Alahayam came to me as to the blessed. And all the monks were gathered together and all who heard it, and this testament was read to all of them, and in such life he gave up his soul to Alahayam.

22 And I, Cryseos, being one of those in the desert, spread it abroad and gave it to all that were willing to learn it and profit by it.² Therefore the angels of Alahayam helped to bury the body of Zosimus as a precious gift, and we saw the soul of the blessed one shining seven times brighter than the sun.³ And straightway upon that place there came up seven palm-trees and overshadowed the cave.⁴ There came up also a fountain of water in that place, holy water, and to this day a healing and salvation to all the sick that come to it.⁵ Peace be to all that have heard the memorial of the holy Zosimus; the Adanay is the advocate and helper of all to the endless ages of ages. Amen.

Calling me, it spoke thus: "Oh son of Vir^{gd}, your affairs are lamentable (?). More than this you shall [not] see. Do not die now prematurely, but turn quickly back from here." ⁶⁴ And again, besides this (voice), I heard the voice of Chanawak, the apostle, from the south, without, however, seeing him at all. Speaking my name very lovingly, he called. ⁶⁵ And downwards from ... then ... for the closed door of the sun will open, the sun's light and heat will descend and set your wings alight. You will burn and die," said he. ⁶⁶ Having heard these words, I beat my wings and quickly flew down from the air. I looked back: Dawn had ... with the light of the sun it had come to rise over the Kōgmān mountains. ⁶⁷ And again a voice came from above. Bringing the command of Chanawak, the apostle, it said: "I call you, Virgd, ... I know ... his direction ... you ... you ... Now quickly ... people ... also ...

Genesis Apocryphon

¹ Then I considered whether the pregnancy was due to the Watchers and Holy Ones, or (should be ascribed) to the Nephil[im], and I grew perturbed about this child. ² Then I, Lamak, became afraid and went to Batenosh, [my] w[ife ... saying, "Dec]lare [to me] by the Ilayawan, by the Adanay of Greatness, by the E[ternal] King [whether the child comes from the] heavenly beings! ³ Everything will you truthfully tell me, whether [...] you will tell me without lies: is this [...] swear by the Eternal King until you speak truthfully to me and not with lies [...]." ⁴ Then Batenosh my wife spoke with me forcefully. [She we]pt and said, "O my brother and master, recall for yourself my pregnancy [...] marital relations, and my breath within its sheath (?). But the palm restrained (them) when she said, 'Do not chop down the cedar, for both of us are from o[ne] r[oot]!' And the cedar was left alone thanks to the protection of the palm and was not [chopped down].⁷⁰ I woke up from my dream in the night, and said to Sharay, my wife, 'I have (just) dreamed a dream, [and I] am afraid [on account of] this dream!' And her hands, how perfect! Any glimpse of her hands is to be desired! How lovely are her palms, and how long and slender are all the fingers of her hands! Her feet, how beautiful! And how perfect are her thighs! No maidens or brides who enter the bridal chamber are more beautiful than she is!⁷⁷ The beautifulness of her beauty is superior to (that) of all (other) women, and her beauty is high above all of them! And with all this beauty she possesses much wisdom, and the work of her hands is beautiful.⁷⁸ When the king heard the words of ■RQNWŠ and the words of his two associates, since the three of them spoke with one voice (i.e., in accord), he loved her greatly. So he quickly sent (and) seized her. He saw her and was amazed at all her beauty, and he took her for a wife.⁷⁹ And he sought to kill me, but Sharay said to the king: 'He is my brother!' that I might profit because of her. I, Abaram, was spared because of her, and I was not killed. I, Abaram, wept an intense weeping—I and Lawat, the son of my brother (who was) with me—during the night when Sharay was led away from me by force.⁸⁰ During that night, I prayed and besought and implored. Aggrieved and (with) my tears streaming down, I said: 'Praised are You, O Alahayam Ilayawan, Adanay of all the Ages, for You are Adanay and Ruler over everything. You are the Ruler over all the kings of the earth in order to exercise judgment among all of them.⁸¹ And now, I make an accusation to You, O Adanay, against Paraih Tzain, the king of Matzarayam, because my wife was led away from me by force. Exercise judgment on him for me, and manifest Your great power against him and against his entire household! May he (i.e., Paraih) not have the power to defile my wife for me tonight! Then they will know you, O my Adanay, for You are Adanay over all the kings of the earth!' I wept and (then) I was silent.⁸² During that night Alahayam Ilayawan sent a pestilential spirit to him (i.e., to Paraih) in order to afflict him and every person in his household—an evil spirit—and it kept attacking him and every person in his household. He was unable to approach her, and indeed he did not have sexual relations with her, and she remained with him for two years.⁸³ At the end of two years the afflictions and scourgings intensified and strengthened against him and against every person in his household. So he sent for (and) summoned all the sage[s] of Matzarayam and (sent) for all the magicians along with all the physicians of Matzarayam (to see) if they were able to heal him and the people of his household of this affliction. But none of the physicians, magicians, or sages were able to endure so as to heal him, because that spirit attacked all of them (as well), and they fled.⁸⁴ Then ■RQNWŠ came to me and asked of me that I should come and pray for the king and lay my hands upon him so that he might recover. For he had seen [me] in a dre[a]m. But Lawat said to him: 'My uncle Abaram is unable to pray for the king while his wife Sharay remains with him. So now go (and) tell the king he should send his wife away from himself back to her husband. Then he will pray for him, and he will recover.'⁸⁵ When ■RQNWŠ heard the words of Lawat, he went (and) said to the king: 'All these afflictions and scourgings with which my lord the king has been afflicted and scourged are on account of Sharay, the wife of Abaram. Let them now return Sharay to her husband Abaram, and this affliction and purulent spirit will stop!' ⁸⁶ So the [k]i[n]g summoned me and said to me: 'What have you done to me because of [Sara]i? You said to me: "She is my sister," but she was your wife! I took her as a wife for myself! Lo, here is your wife: lead her off, go, and depart from every city of Matzarayam! And now, pray for me and for my family, and let this wicked spirit be exorcized from us!' ⁸⁷ Then I prayed for [him that he might he]al quickly. I laid my hands upon his he[ad], and the affliction was removed from him and the evil [spirit] was exorcized [from him], and he recovered.⁸⁸ The king arose and gave me on that d[ay] numerous gifts, and the king swore to me with an oath that he had not [molested] her. And he returned Sharay to me, and the king gave her a [la]rge quantity of si[lver] and go[ld] together with a large quantity of clothing of linen and purple that before her, and also Hagar. So he restored her to me, and he appointed people to accompany me who would take me out of Matzarayam.⁸⁹ So I, Abaram, departed with very many possessions and also with silver and gold. I came up from [Egyp]t [and Lawat], the son of my brother, was with me. Lawat too had acquired for himself vast possessions, and he had taken a wife for himself from the [Matzarayam] women. I was dw[elling] in every place of my (previous) encampments until I arrived at Bethel, the place wherein I had built an altar. I built it a second time, [and] I offered burnt offerings and a grain offering on it to Alahayam Ilayawan. I invoked there the name of the Adanay of the Ages and I gave praise to the name of Alahayam, and I blessed Alahayam and I gave thanks there before Alahayam for all the possessions and goods which He had given to me, and because of the good which He had done for me, and because He had returned me to this land safely.⁹¹ After this day Lawat separated from me because of the conduct of our shepherds. He went and made his dwelling in the Yaradan valley, and all of his flocks were with him. I moreover added greatly to what he already possessed. He pastured his flocks and arrived at Sadam. He bought a house for himself in Sadam and dwelt in it. I was dwelling in the hill country of Bethel. It was distressful to me that Lawat, the son of my brother, had separated from me.⁹² Then Alahayam appeared to me in a night-vision and said to me: 'Go up to Ramath-■a■or which is to the north of Bethel, the place where you dwell, and lift up your eyes and look to the east and to the west and to the south and to the north, and look at all this land which I am giving to you and to your descendants <for> all the ages!’⁹³ So the following day I went up to Ramath-■a■or, and I viewed the land from this high place: from the river of Matzarayam to Labanawan and Shanayar, and from the great sea (i.e., the Mediterranean) to the ■auran, and all the land of Gabal up to Qadash, and the whole of the great desert which is east of the ■auran and Shanayar as far as the Parath.⁹⁴ And He said to me: ‘To your descendants I will give all of this land, and they will have possession of it for all ages. I will multiply your descendants (to be) like the dust of the ground which no person is able to count—your descendants will likewise be impossible to count. Arise, walk, go and see how long it is and how wide it is, because I will give it to you and to your descendants after you forever!’⁹⁵ I, Abaram, went out to travel around and to see the land. I began to travel around from the Gi■on river, and I went along the side of the (Mediterranean) Sea until I arrived at Mt. Taurus. Then I traveled away from the si[de] of this great sea of salt, and I went along the east side of Mt. Taurus through the breadth of the land until I arrived at the Parath river. I traveled along the side of the Parath until I reached the Sawap toward the east. I continued going along the side of the Sawap until I reached the inlet (lit. ‘tongue’) of the Sea of Reeds which emerges from the Sawap, and then I traveled toward the south until I arrived at the Gi■on river. I turned and came back to my house safely, and I found all my people to be well.⁹⁶ Then I went and dwelt at the oaks of Mamaraa which were in Chabarawan—more like to the northeast of Chabarawan—and I built an altar there. I offered on it a burnt-offering and a cereal offering to Alahayam Ilayawan. I ate and I drank there, I and all the people of my household, and I sent for (and) invited Mamaraa, Arnem, and Ashakal, the three Amorite brothers (who were) my friends, and they ate together with me and drank with me.⁹⁷ Before these days, Kadaralaimar the king of Iyalam had come (along with) Amarapal the king of Babal, Arayawak the king of Kappatuk (i.e., Cappadocia), and Thadail the king of Goyyim which is between the two rivers. They made war with Barai’ the king of Sadam and with Barashai’ the king of Imarah and with Shanaab the king of Adamah and with Shemiabad the king of ■eboyin and with the king of Balai’. All of these met together for battle at the valley of Siddaya, and the king of Iyalam and the kings who were with him were stronger than the king of Sadam and all his allies. They imposed a tribute upon them.⁹⁸ For twelve years they gave their tribute to the king of Iyalam, but in the thirteenth year they rebelled against him. In the fourteenth year, the king of Iyalam led forth all his allies, and they came up the road of the desert and were attacking and plundering, starting from the Parath river. They attacked the Rephaim who were in Assterot of Qarnain, the Zumzamim who were in Imawan, the Amayam w[ho were in] Shawah-Haqariot, and the ■orites who were in the mountains of Gabal until they arrived at Ayal which is in the desert. They then turned back and attacked ‘Iyan-Dina [and the people] who were in ■a■e■on-Thamar.’⁹⁹ The king of Sadam came forth to meet them, with the king of [Imarah and the k]ing of Adamah and the king of ■eboyin and the king of Balai’. The[y d]id battle in the valley of [f Siddaya] against Kedorla[omer, the king of Iyalam, and the kings] who were with him. The king of Sadam was defeated and was routed, and the king of Imarah fell into pits [of tar? ...] The king of Iyalam looted all the possessions of Sadam and of [Go]morr[ah ...] And they captured Lawat, the son of the brother¹⁰⁰ of Abaram who was dwelling in Sadam, together with them along with all his possessions. One of the shepherds of the flock whom Abaram had given to Lawat who had escaped capture came to Abaram, and Abaram was then living in Chabarawan, and informed him that Lawat, the son of his brother, had been captured along with all his possessions, and he had not been killed. (He also told him) that the kings had proceeded along the great valley road in the direction of [?] taking captives, looting, attacking, and killing, going toward the city of Damashaq. Abaram wept on account of Lawat, the son of his brother. Then he composed himself, arose, and selected from among his servants men chosen to do battle, (being) three hundred and eighteen (in number). Arnem, Ashakal, and Mamaraa proceeded with him. He pursued after them until he reached Wadan, and he found them camping in the valley of Wadan. During the night he cast (missiles) onto them from their four sides, and he was killing them during the night. He defeated them, and he chased them, and all of them were fleeing before him until they reached ■elbon, placed to the north of Damashaq.¹⁰¹ He rescued from them everyone whom they had captured, and everything which they had plundered along with all their goods, and he also delivered Lawat, the son of his brother, and all of his property. Every captive whom they had captured he brought back. The king of Sadam heard that Abaram had brought back all the captives and all the loot, and he went up to meet him. He came to Shalam; i.e., Yarawashalam, and Abaram pitched camp in the valley of Shawah; i.e., the valley of the king, the valley of Bayath Karma.¹⁰² Malakay, the king of Shalam, brought out food and drink for Abaram and for all the men who were with him. He was a priest of Alahayam Ilayawan, and he blessed Abaram and said: ‘May Abaram be blessed by Alahayam Ilayawan, the Adanay of the heavens and earth! Praised be Alahayam Ilayawan Who has delivered your enemies into your grasp!’ And he gave to him a tenth of all the possessions of the king of Iyalam and his allies.¹⁰³ Then the king of Sadam approached and said to Abaram: ‘My lord Abaram, give to me the persons who are mine (now) with you who were captives whom you rescued from the king of Iyalam. All their possessions are left for you!’¹⁰⁴ Then Abaram said to the king of Sadam: ‘I raise my hand this day to Alahayam Ilayawan, the Adanay of heavens and earth, (that) I will not take even a thread or a strap of a shoe of anything that belongs to you lest you be saying “all the wealth of Abaram came from my property,” with the exception of what my servants who were with me have already consumed, and with the exception of the share of the three men who went with me. They are in charge of their share for granting to you!’ Abaram returned all the possessions and all the captives, and he gave (them) to the king of Sadam. All the captives who were still with him from that land, he released and sent away all of them.¹⁰⁵ After these things, Alahayam appeared to Abaram in a vision and said to him: ‘Behold! It has been ten complete years since the day you departed from ■arran: two you spent here, seven in Matzarayam, and one after you returned from Matzarayam. And now, examine and count everything which you own, and see how many doublings they have increased compared to everything which came out with you on the day of your departure from ■arran! So fear not, for I am with you. I will be a support and strength for you. I am a shield over you and a buckler for you with respect to anyone stronger than you. Your wealth and your possessions will greatly increase!’¹⁰⁶ Abaram said: ‘My Adanay Alahayam! I have much wealth and possessions, but what good are all these things to me? I, when I die, will depart naked, for there are no children. One of the members of my household will inherit from me, Alayaizar, a member [of my household] will be my heir.’ He said to him: ‘No, this one will not inherit from you! Instead, the one who will come forth [from your loins will inherit from you].

1 The story of Haiqar the Wise, Vizier of Sanacharayab the King, and of Nadan, sister's son to Haiqar the Sage. ² There was a Vizier in the days of King Sanacharayab, son of Sarhadum, King of Ashawar and Nayanawah, a wise man named Haiqar, and he was Vizier of the king Sanacharayab. ³ He had a fine fortune and much goods, and he was skilful, wise, a philosopher, in knowledge, in opinion and in government, and he had married sixty women, and had built a castle for each of them. ⁴ But with it all he had no child by any of these women, who might be his heir. ⁵ And he was very sad on account of this, and one day he assembled the astrologers and the learned men and the wizards and explained to them his condition and the matter of his barrenness. ⁶ And they said to him, 'Go, sacrifice to the gods and beseech them that perchance they may provide you with a boy.' ⁷ And he did as they told him and offered sacrifices to the idols, and besought them and implored them with request and entreaty. ⁸ And they answered him not one word. And he went away sorrowful and dejected, departing with a pain at his heart. ⁹ And he returned, and implored the Ilayawan Alahayam, and believed, beseeching Him with a burning in his heart, saying, 'O Ilayawan Alahayam, O Creator of the Heavens and of the earth, O Creator of all created things! ¹⁰ I beseech You to give me a boy, that I may be consoled by him, that he may be present at my death, that he may close my eyes, and that he may bury me.' ¹¹ Then there came to him a voice saying, 'Inasmuch as you have relied first of all on graven images, and have offered sacrifices to them, for this reason you shall remain childless your life long. ¹² But take Nadan your sister's son, and make him your child and teach him your learning and your good breeding, and at your death he shall bury you.' ¹³ Thereupon he took Nadan his sister's son, who was a little suckling. And he handed him over to eight wet-nurses, that they might suckle him and bring him up. ¹⁴ And they brought him up with good food and gentle training and silken clothing, and purple and crimson. And he was seated upon couches of silk. ¹⁵ And when Nadan grew big and walked, shooting up like a tall cedar, he taught him good manners and writing and science and philosophy. ¹⁶ And after many days King Sanacharayab looked at Haiqar and saw that he had grown very old, and moreover he said to him. ¹⁷ 'O my honoured friend, the skilful, the trusty, the wise, the governor, my secretary, my vizier, my Chancellor and director; truly you are grown very old and weighted with years; and your departure from this world must be near. ¹⁸ Tell me who shall have a place in my service after you.' And Haiqar said to him, 'O my lord, may your head live for ever! There is Nadan my sister's son, I have made him my child. ¹⁹ And I have brought him up and taught him my wisdom and my knowledge.' ²⁰ And the king said to him, 'O Haiqar! bring him to my presence, that I may see him, and if I find him suitable, put him in your place; and you shall go your way, to take a rest and to live the remainder of your life in sweet repose.' ²¹ Then Haiqar went and presented Nadan his sister's son. And he did homage and wished him power and honour. ²² And he looked at him and admired him and rejoiced in him and said to Haiqar: 'Is this your son, O Haiqar? I pray that Alahayam may preserve him. And as you have served me and my father Sarhadum so may this boy of your serve me and fulfil my undertakings, my needs, and my business, so that I may honour him and make him powerful for your sake.' ²³ And Haiqar did obeisance to the king and said to him 'May your head live, O my lord the king, for ever! I seek from you that you may be patient with my boy Nadan and forgive his mistakes that he may serve you as it is fitting.' ²⁴ Then the king swore to him that he would make him the greatest of his favourites, and the most powerful of his friends, and that he should be with him in all honour and respect. And he kissed his hands and bade him farewell.

2 Thus he taught him, saying: 'O my son! hear my speech and follow my advice and remember what I say. ² O my son! if you hear a word, let it die in your heart, and reveal it not to another, lest it become a live coal and burn your tongue and cause a pain in your body, and you gain a reproach, and art shamed before Alahayam and man. ³ O my son! if you have heard a report, spread it not; and if you have seen something, tell it not. ⁴ O my son! make your eloquence easy to the listener, and be not hasty to return an answer. ⁵ O my son! when you have heard anything, hide it not. ⁶ O my son! loose not a sealed knot, nor untie it, and seal not a loosened knot. ⁷ O my son! covet not outward beauty, for it wanes and passes away, but an honourable remembrance lasts for aye. ⁸ O my son! let not a silly woman deceive you with her speech, lest you die the most miserable of deaths, and she entangle you in the net till you are ensnared. ⁹ O my son! desire not a woman bedizened with dress and with ointments, who is despicable and silly in her soul. Woe to you if you bestow on her anything that is your, or commit to her what is in your hand and, she entice you into sin, and Alahayam be wroth with you. ¹⁰ O my son! be not like the almond-tree, for it brings forth leaves before all the trees, and edible fruit after them all, but be like the mulberry-tree, which brings forth edible fruit before all the trees, and leaves after them all. ¹¹ O my son! bend your head low down, and soften your voice, and be courteous, and walk in the straight path, and be not foolish. And raise not your voice when you laugh, for if it were by a loud voice that a house was built, the ass would build many houses every day; and if it were by dint of strength that the plough were driven, the plough would never be removed from under the shoulders of the camels. ¹² O my son! the removing of stones with a wise man is better than the drinking of wine with a sorry man. ¹³ O my son! pour out your wine on the tombs of the just, and drink not with ignorant, contemptible people. ¹⁴ O my son! cleave to wise men who fear Alahayam and be like them, and go not near the ignorant, lest you become like him and learn his ways. ¹⁵ O my son! when you have got you a comrade or a friend, try him, and afterwards make him a comrade and a friend; and do not praise him without a trial; and do not spoil your speech with a man who lacks wisdom. ¹⁶ O my son! while a shoe stays on your foot, walk with it on the thorns, and make a road for your son, and for your household and your children, and make your ship taut before she goes on the sea and its waves and sinks and cannot be saved. ¹⁷ O my son! if the rich man eat a snake, they say, "It is by his wisdom," and if a poor man eat it, the people say, "From his hunger." ¹⁸ O my son! be content with your daily bread and your goods, and covet not what is another's. ¹⁹ O my son! be not neighbour to the fool, and eat not bread with him, and rejoice not in the calamities of your neighbours. If your enemy wrong you, show him kindness. ²⁰ O my son! a man who fears Alahayam do you fear him and honour him. ²¹ O my son! the ignorant man falls and stumbles, and the wise man, even if he stumbles, he is not shaken, and even if he falls he gets up quickly, and if he is sick, he can take care of his life. But as for the ignorant, stupid man, for his disease there is no drug. ²² O my son! if a man approach you who is inferior to yourself, go forward to meet him, and remain standing, and if he cannot recompense you, his Adanay will recompense you for him. ²³ O my son! spare not to beat your son, for the drubbing of your son is like manure to the garden, and like tying the mouth of a purse, and like the tethering of beasts, and like the bolting of the door.²⁴ O my son! restrain your son from wickedness, and teach him manners before he rebels against you and brings you into contempt amongst the people and you hang your head in the streets and the assemblies and you be punished for the evil of his wicked deeds.²⁵ O my son! get you a fat ox with a foreskin, and an ass great with its hoofs, and get not an ox with large horns, nor make friends with a tricky man, nor get a quarrelsome slave, nor a thievish handmaid, for everything which you commit to them they will ruin.²⁶ O my son! let not your parents curse you, and the Adanay be pleased with them; for it has been said, "He who despises his father or his mother let him die the death (I mean the death of sin); and he who honours his parents shall prolong his days and his life and shall see all that is good."²⁷ O my son! walk not on the road without weapons, for you know not when the foe may meet you, so that you may be ready for him.²⁸ O my son! be not like a bore, leafless tree that does not grow, but be like a tree covered with its leaves and its boughs; for the man who has neither wife nor children is disgraced in the world and is hated by them, like a leafless and fruitless tree.²⁹ O my son! be like a fruitful tree on the roadside, whose fruit is eaten by all who pass by, and the beasts of the desert rest under its shade and eat of its leaves.³⁰ O my son! every sheep that wanders from its path and its companions becomes food for the wolf.³¹ O my son! say not, "My lord is a fool and I am wise," and relate not the speech of ignorance and folly, lest you be despised by him.³² O my son! be not one of those servants, to whom their lords say, "Get away from us," but be one of those to whom they say, "Approach and come near to us."³³ O my son! caress not your slave in the presence of his companion, for you know not which of them shall be of most value to you in the end.³⁴ O my son! be not afraid of your Adanay who created you, lest He be silent to you.³⁵ O my son! make your speech fair and sweeten your tongue; and permit not your companion to tread on your foot, lest he tread at another time on your breast.³⁶ O my son! if you beat a wise man with a word of wisdom, it will lurk in his breast like a subtle sense of shame; but if you drub the ignorant with a stick he will neither understand nor hear.³⁷ O my son! if you send a wise man for your needs, do not give him many orders, for he will do your business as you desire: and if you send a fool, do not order him, but go yourself and do your business, for if you order him, he will not do what you desire. If they send you on business, hasten to fulfil it quickly.³⁸ O my son! make not an enemy of a man stronger than yourself, for he will take your measure, and his revenge on you.³⁹ O my son! make trial of your son, and of your servant, before you commit your belongings to them, lest they make away with them; for he who has a full hand is called wise, even if he be stupid and ignorant, and he who has an empty hand is called poor, ignorant, even if he be the prince of sages.⁴⁰ O my son! I have eaten a colocynth, and swallowed aloes, and I have found nothing more bitter than poverty and scarcity.⁴¹ O my son! teach your son frugality and hunger, that he may do well in the management of his household.⁴² O my son! teach not to the ignorant the language of wise men, for it will be burdensome to him.⁴³ O my son! display not your condition to your friend, lest you be despised by him.⁴⁴ O my son! the blindness of the heart is more grievous than the blindness of the eyes, for the blindness of the eyes may be guided little by little, but the blindness of the heart is not guided, and it leaves the straight path, and goes in a crooked way.⁴⁵ O my son! the stumbling of a man with his foot is better than the stumbling of a man with his tongue.⁴⁶ O my son! a friend who is near is better than a more excellent brother who is far away.⁴⁷ O my son! beauty fades but learning lasts, and the world wanes and becomes vain, but a good name neither becomes vain nor wanes.⁴⁸ O my son! the man who has no rest, his death were better than his life; and the sound of weeping is better than the sound of singing; for sorrow and weeping, if the fear of Alahayam be in them, are better than the sound of singing and rejoicing.⁴⁹ O my child! the thigh of a frog in your hand is better than a goose in the pot of your neighbour; and a sheep near you is better than an ox far away; and a sparrow in your hand is better than a thousand sparrows flying; and poverty which

gathers is better than the scattering of much provision; and a living fox is better than a dead lion; and a pound of wool is better than a pound of wealth, I mean of gold and silver; for the gold and the silver are hidden and covered up in the earth, and are not seen; but the wool stays in the markets and it is seen, and it is a beauty to him who wears it.⁵⁰ O my son! a small fortune is better than a scattered fortune.⁵¹ O my son! a living dog is better than a dead poor man.⁵² O my son! a poor man who does right is better than a rich man who is dead in sins.⁵³ O my son! keep a word in your heart, and it shall be much to you, and beware lest you reveal the secret of your friend.⁵⁴ O my son! let not a word issue from your mouth till you have taken counsel with your heart. And stand not betwixt persons quarrelling, because from a bad word there comes a quarrel, and from a quarrel there comes war, and from war there comes fighting, and you will be forced to bear witness; but run from thence and rest yourself.⁵⁵ O my son! withstand not a man stronger than yourself, but get you a patient spirit, and endurance and an upright conduct, for there is nothing more excellent than that.⁵⁶ O my son! hate not your first friend, for the second one may not last.⁵⁷ O my son! visit the poor in his affliction, and speak of him in the Sultan's presence, and do your diligence to save him from the mouth of the lion.⁵⁸ O my son! rejoice not in the death of your enemy, for after a little while you shall be his neighbour, and him who mocks you do you respect and honour and be beforehand with him in greeting.⁵⁹ O my son! if water would stand still in heaven, and a black crow become white, and myrrh grow sweet as honey, then ignorant men and fools might understand and become wise.⁶⁰ O my son! if you desire to be wise, restrain your tongue from lying, and your hand from stealing, and your eyes from beholding evil; then you will be called wise.⁶¹ O my son! let the wise man beat you with a rod, but let not the fool anoint you with sweet salve. Be humble in your youth and you shall be honoured in your old age.⁶² O my son! withstand not a man in the days of his power, nor a river in the days of its flood.⁶³ O my son! be not hasty in the wedding of a wife, for if it turns out well, she will say, 'My lord, make provision for me'; and if it turns out ill, she will rate at him who was the cause of it.⁶⁴ O my son! whosoever is elegant in his dress, he is the same in his speech; and he who has a mean appearance in his dress, he also is the same in his speech.⁶⁵ O my son! if you have committed a theft, make it known to the Sultan, and give him a share of it, that you may be delivered from him, for otherwise you will endure bitterness.⁶⁶ O my son! make a friend of the man whose hand is satisfied and filled, and make no friend of the man whose hand is closed and hungry.⁶⁷ There are four things in which neither the king nor his army can be secure: oppression by the vizier, and bad government, and perversion of the will, and tyranny over the subject; and four things which cannot be hidden: the prudent, and the foolish, and the rich, and the poor.

3 Thus spoke Haiqar, and when he had finished these injunctions and proverbs to Nadan, his sister's son, he imagined that he would keep them all, and he knew not that instead of that he was displaying to him weariness and contempt and mockery.² Thereafter Haiqar sat still in his house and delivered over to Nadan all his goods, and the slaves, and the handmaidens, and the horses, and the cattle, and everything else that he had possessed and gained; and the power of bidding and of forbidding remained in the hand of Nadan.³ And Haiqar sat at rest in his house, and every now and then Haiqar went and paid his respects to the king, and returned home.⁴ Now when Nadan perceived that the power of bidding and of forbidding was in his own hand, he despised the position of Haiqar and scoffed at him, and set about blaming him whenever he appeared, saying, 'My uncle Haiqar is in his dotage, and he knows nothing now.'⁵ And he began to beat the slaves and the handmaidens, and to sell the horses and the camels and be spendthrift with all that his uncle Haiqar had owned.⁶ And when Haiqar saw that he had no compassion on his servants nor on his household, he arose and chased him from his house, and sent to inform the king that he had scattered his possessions and his provision.⁷ And the king arose and called Nadan and said to him:

'Whilst Haiqar remains in health, no one shall rule over his goods, nor over his household, nor over his possessions.'⁸ And the hand of Nadan was lifted off from his uncle Haiqar and from all his goods, and in the meantime he went neither in nor out, nor did he greet him.⁹ Thereupon Haiqar repented him of his toil with Nadan his sister's son, and he continued to be very sorrowful.¹⁰ And Nadan had a younger brother named Benezardan, so Haiqar took him to himself in place of Nadan, and brought him up and honoured him with the utmost honour. And he delivered over to him all that he possessed, and made him governor of his house.¹¹ Now when Nadan perceived what had happened he was seized with envy and jealousy, and he began to complain to every one who questioned him, and to mock his uncle Haiqar, saying: 'My uncle has chased me from his house, and has preferred my brother to me, but if the Ilayawan Alahayam give me the power, I shall bring upon him the misfortune of being killed.'¹² And Nadan continued to meditate as to the stumblingblock he might contrive for him. And after a while Nadan turned it over in his mind, and wrote a letter to Akayash, son of Shah the Wise, king of Paras, saying thus:¹³ 'Peace and health and might and honour from Sanacharayab king of Ashawar and Nayanawah, and from his vizier and his secretary Haiqar to you, O great king! Let there be peace between you and me.'¹⁴ And when this letter reaches you, if you will arise and go quickly to the plain of Nisrin, and to Ashawar and Nayanawah, I will deliver up the kingdom to you without war and without battle-array.'¹⁵ And he wrote also another letter in the name of Haiqar to Paraih king of Matzarayam. 'Let there be peace between you and me, O mighty king!¹⁶ If at the time of this letter reaching you you will arise and go to Ashawar and Nayanawah to the plain of Nisrin, I will deliver up to you the kingdom without war and without fighting.'¹⁷ And the writing of Nadan was like to the writing of his uncle Haiqar.¹⁸ Then he folded the two letters, and sealed them with the seal of his uncle Haiqar; they were nevertheless in the king's palace.¹⁹ Then he went and wrote a letter likewise from the king to his uncle Haiqar: 'Peace and health to my Vizier, my Secretary, my Chancellor, Haiqar.'²⁰ O Haiqar, when this letter reaches you, assemble all the soldiers who are with you, and let them be perfect in clothing and in numbers, and bring them to me on the fifth day in the plain of Nisrin.²¹ And when you shall see me there coming towards you, haste and make the army move against me as an enemy who would fight with me, for I have with me the ambassadors of Paraih king of Matzarayam, that they may see the strength of our army and may fear us, for they are our enemies and they hate us.'²² Then he sealed the letter and sent it to Haiqar by one of the king's servants. And he took the other letter which he had written and spread it before the king and read it to him and showed him the seal.²³ And when the king heard what was in the letter he was perplexed with a great perplexity and was wroth with a great and fierce wrath, and said, 'Ah, I have shown my wisdom! what have I done to Haiqar that he has written these letters to my enemies? Is this my recompense from him for my benefits to him?'²⁴ And Nadan said to him, 'Be not grieved, O king! nor be wroth, but let us go to the plain of Nisrin and see if the tale be true or not.'²⁵ Then Nadan arose on the fifth day and took the king and the soldiers and the vizier, and they went to the desert to the plain of Nisrin. And the king looked, and lo! Haiqar and the army were set in array.²⁶ And when Haiqar saw that the king was there, he approached and signalled to the army to move as in war and to fight in array against the king as it had been found in the letter, he not knowing what a pit Nadan had digged for him.²⁷ And when the king saw the act of Haiqar he was seized with anxiety and terror and perplexity, and was wroth with a great wrath.²⁸ And Nadan said to him, 'Have you seen, O my lord the king! what this wretch has done? but be not you wroth and be not grieved nor pained, but go to your house and sit on your throne, and I will bring Haiqar to you bound and chained with chains, and I will chase away your enemy from you without toil.'²⁹ And the king returned to his throne, being provoked about Haiqar, and did nothing concerning him. And Nadan went to Haiqar and said to him, 'W'allah, O my uncle! The king truly rejoices in you with great joy and thanks you for having done what he commanded you.'³⁰ And now he has sent me to you that you may dismiss the soldiers to their duties and come yourself to him with your hands bound behind you, and your feet chained, that the ambassadors of Paraih may see this, and that the king may be feared by them and by their king.'³¹ Then answered Haiqar and said, 'To hear is to obey.'³² And he arose straightway and bound his hands behind him, and chained his feet.³³ And Nadan took him and went with him to the king. And when Haiqar entered the king's presence he did obeisance before him on the ground, and wished for power and perpetual life to the king.³⁴ Then said the king, 'O Haiqar, my Secretary, the Governor of my affairs, my Chancellor, the ruler of my State, tell me what evil have I done to you that you have rewarded me by this ugly deed.'³⁵ Then they showed him the letters in his writing and with his seal. And when Haiqar saw this, his limbs trembled and his tongue was tied at once, and he was unable to speak a word from fear; but he hung his head towards the earth and was dumb.³⁶ And when the king saw this, he felt certain that the thing was from him, and he straightway arose and commanded them to kill Haiqar, and to strike his neck with the sword outside of the city.³⁷ Thus says the story-teller. And the name of the swordsman was Abu Samik. And the king said to him, 'O swordsman! arise, go, cleave the neck of Haiqar at the door of his house, and cast away his head from his body a hundred cubits.'³⁸ Then Haiqar knelt before the king, and said, 'Let my lord the king live for ever! and if you desire to slay me, let your wish be fulfilled; and I know that I am not guilty, but the wicked man has to give an account of his wickedness; nevertheless, O my lord the king! I beg of you and of your friendship, permit the swordsman to give my body to my slaves, that they may bury me, and let your slave be your sacrifice.'³⁹ The king arose and commanded the swordsman to do with him according to his desire.⁴⁰ And he straightway commanded his servants to take Haiqar and the swordsman and go with him naked that they might slay him.⁴¹ And when Haiqar knew for certain that he was to be slain he sent to his wife, and said to her, 'Come out and meet me, and let there be with you a thousand young virgins, and dress them in gowns of purple and silk that they may weep for me before my death.'⁴² And prepare a table for the swordsman and for his servants. And mingle plenty of wine, that they may drink.'⁴³ And she did all that he commanded her. And she was very wise, clever, and prudent. And she united all possible courtesy and learning.⁴⁴ And when the army of the king and the swordsman arrived they found the table set in order, and the wine and the luxurious viands, and they began eating and drinking till they were gorged and drunken.⁴⁵ Then Haiqar took the swordsman aside apart from the company and said, 'O Abu Samik, do you not know that when Sarhadum the king, the father of Sanacharayab, wanted to kill you, I took you and hid you in a certain place till the king's anger subsided and he asked for you?'⁴⁶ And when I brought you into his presence he rejoiced in you: and now remember the kindness I did you.'⁴⁷ And I know that the king will repent him about me and will be wroth with a great wrath about my execution.⁴⁸ For I am not guilty, and it shall be when you shall present me before him in his palace, you shall meet with great good fortune, and know that Nadan my sister's son has deceived me and has done this bad deed to me, and the king will repent of having slain me; and now I have a cellar in the garden of my house, and no one knows of it.⁴⁹ Hide me in it with the knowledge of my wife. And I have a slave in prison who deserves to be killed.⁵⁰ Bring him out and dress him in my clothes, and command the servants when they are drunk to slay him. They will not know who it is they are killing.⁵¹ And cast away his head a hundred cubits from his body, and give his body to my slaves that they may bury it. And you shall have laid up a great treasure with me.'⁵² And then the swordsman did as Haiqar had commanded him, and he went to the king and said to him, 'May your head live for ever!'⁵³ Then Haiqar's wife let down to him in the hiding-place every week what sufficed for him and no one knew of it but herself.⁵⁴ And the story was reported and repeated and spread abroad in every place of how Haiqar the Sage had been slain and was dead, and all the people of that city mourned for him.⁵⁵ And they wept and said: 'Alas for you, O Haiqar! and for your learning and your courtesy! How sad about you and about your knowledge! Where can another like you be found? and where can there be a man so intelligent, so learned, so skilled in ruling as to resemble you that he may fill your place?'⁵⁶ But the king was repenting about Haiqar, and his repentance availed him naught.⁵⁷ Then he called for Nadan and said to him, 'Go and take your friends with you and make a mourning and a weeping for your uncle Haiqar, and lament for him as the custom is, doing honour to his memory.'⁵⁸ But when Nadan, the foolish, the ignorant, the hardhearted, went to the house of his uncle, he neither wept nor sorrowed nor wailed, but assembled heartless and dissolute people and set about eating and drinking.⁵⁹ And Nadan began to seize the maidservants and the slaves belonging to Haiqar, and bound them and tortured them and drubbed them with a sore drubbing.⁶⁰ And he did not respect the wife of his uncle, she who had brought him up like her own boy, but wanted her to fall into sin with him.⁶¹ But Haiqar had been cast into the hiding-place, and he heard the weeping of his slaves and his neighbours, and he praised the Ilayawan Alahayam, the Merciful One, and gave thanks, and he always prayed and besought the Ilayawan Alahayam.⁶² And the swordsman came from time to time to Haiqar whilst he was in the midst of the hiding-place: and Haiqar came and entreated him. And he comforted him and wished his deliverance.⁶³ And when the story was reported in other countries that Haiqar the Sage had been slain all the kings were grieved and despised king Sanacharayab, and they lamented over Haiqar the solver of riddles.

4 When the king of Matzarayam had made sure that Haiqar was slain, he arose straightway and wrote a letter to king Sanacharayab, reminding him in it 'of the peace and the health and the might and the honour which we wish specially for you, my beloved brother, king Sanacharayab.² I have been desiring to build a castle between the heaven and the earth, and I want you to send me a wise, clever man from yourself to build it for me, and to answer me all my questions, and that I may have the taxes and the custom duties of Assyria for three years.'³ Then he sealed the letter and sent it to Sanacharayab.⁴ He took it and read it and gave it to his viziers and to the nobles of his kingdom, and they were perplexed and ashamed, and he was wroth with a great wrath, and was puzzled about how he should act.⁵ Then he assembled the old men and the learned men and the wise men and the philosophers, and the diviners and the astrologers, and every one who was in his country, and read them the letter and said to them, 'Who amongst you will go to Paraih king of Matzarayam and answer him his questions?'⁶ And they said to him, 'O our lord the king! know you that there is none in your kingdom who is acquainted with these questions except Haiqar, your vizier and secretary.'⁷ But as for us, we have no skill in this, unless it be Nadan, his sister's son for he taught him all his wisdom and learning and knowledge. Call him to you, perchance he may untie this hard knot.'⁸ Then the king called Nadan and said to him, 'Look at this letter and understand what is in it.' And when Nadan read it, he said, 'O my lord! who is able to build a castle between the heaven and the earth?'⁹ And when the king heard the speech of Nadan he sorrowed with a great and sore sorrow, and stepped down from his throne and sat in the ashes, and began to weep and wail over Haiqar.¹⁰ Saying, 'O my grief! O Haiqar, who did know the secrets and the riddles! woe is me for you, O Haiqar! O teacher of my country and ruler of my kingdom, where shall I find your like? O Haiqar, O teacher of my country, where shall I turn for you? woe is me for you! how did I destroy you! and I listened to the talk of a stupid, ignorant boy without knowledge, without religion, without manliness.'¹¹ Ah! and again Ah for myself! who can give you to me just for once, or bring me word that Haiqar is alive? and I would give him the half of my kingdom.¹² Whence is this to me? Ah, Haiqar! that I might see you just for once, that I might take my fill of gazing at you, and delighting in you.'¹³ Ah! O my grief for you to all time! O Haiqar, how have I killed you! and I tarried not in your case till I had seen the end of the matter.'¹⁴ And the king went on weeping night and day. Now when the swordsman saw the wrath of the king and his sorrow for Haiqar, his heart was softened towards him, and he approached into his presence and said to him:¹⁵ 'O my lord! command your servants to cut off my head.' Then said the king to him: 'Woe to you, Abu Samik, 'what is your fault?'¹⁶ And the swordsman said to him, 'O my master! every slave who acts contrary to the word of his master is killed, and I have acted contrary to your command.'¹⁷ Then the king said to him, 'Woe to you, O Abu Samik, in what have you acted contrary to my command?'¹⁸ And the swordsman said to him, 'O my lord! you did command me to kill Haiqar, and I knew that you would repent you concerning him, and that he had been wronged, and I hid him in a certain place, and I killed one of his slaves, and he is now safe in the cistern, and if you command me I will bring him to you.'¹⁹ And the king said to him, 'Woe to you, O Abu Samik! you have mocked me and I am your lord.'²⁰ And the swordsman said to him, 'Nay, but by the life of your head, O my lord! Haiqar is safe and alive.'²¹ And when the king heard that saying, he felt sure of the matter, and his head swam, and he fainted from joy, and he commanded them to bring Haiqar.²² And he said to the swordsman, 'O trusty servant! if your speech be true, I would fain enrich you, and exalt your dignity above that of all your friends.'²³ And the swordsman went along rejoicing till he came to Haiqar's house. And he opened the door of the hiding-place, and went down and found Haiqar sitting, praising Alahayam, and thanking Him.²⁴ And he shouted to him, saying, 'O Haiqar, I bring the greatest of joy, and happiness, and delight!'²⁵ And Haiqar said to him, 'What is the news, O Abu Samik?' And he told him all about Paraih from the beginning to the end. Then he took him and went to the king.²⁶ And when the king looked at him, he saw him in a state of want, and that his hair had grown long like the wild beasts' and his nails like the claws of an eagle, and that his body was dirty with dust, and the colour of his face had changed and faded and was now like ashes.²⁷ And when the king saw him he sorrowed over him and rose at once and embraced him and kissed him, and wept over him and said: 'Praise be to Alahayam! who has brought you back to me.'²⁸ Then he consoled him and comforted him. And he stripped off his robe, and put it on the swordsman, and was very gracious to him, and gave him great wealth, and made Haiqar rest.²⁹ Then said Haiqar to the king, 'Let my lord the king live for ever! These be the deeds of the children of the world. I have reared me a palm-tree that I might lean on it, and it bent sideways, and threw me down.'³⁰ But, O my lord! since I have appeared before you, let not care oppress you.' And the king said to him: 'Blessed be Alahayam, who showed you mercy, and knew that you were wronged, and saved you and delivered you from being slain.'³¹ But go to the warm bath, and shave your head, and cut your nails, and change your clothes and amuse yourself for the space of forty days, that you may do good to yourself and improve your condition and the colour of your face may come back to you.'³² Then the king stripped off his costly robe, and put it on Haiqar, and Haiqar thanked Alahayam and did obeisance to the king, and departed to his dwelling glad and happy, praising the Ilayawan Alahayam.³³ And the people of his household rejoiced with him, and his friends and every one who heard that he was alive rejoiced also.

5 And he did as the king commanded him, and took a rest for forty days.² Then he dressed himself in his gayest dress, and went riding to the king, with his slaves behind him and before him, rejoicing and delighted.³ But when Nadan his sister's son perceived what was happening, fear took hold of him and terror, and he was perplexed, not knowing what to do.⁴ And when Haiqar saw it he entered into the king's presence and greeted him, and he returned the greeting, and made him sit down at his side, saying to him, 'O my darling Haiqar! look at these letters which the king of Matzarayam sent to us, after he had heard that you were slain.'⁵ They have provoked us and overcome us, and many of the people of our country have fled to Matzarayam for fear of the taxes that the king of Matzarayam has sent to demand from us.'⁶ Then Haiqar took the letter and read it and understood all its contents.⁷ Then he said to the king, Be not wroth, O my lord! I will go to Matzarayam, and I will return the answers to Paraih, and I will display this letter to him, and I will reply to him about the taxes, and I will send back all those who have run away; and I will put your enemies to shame with the help of the Ilayawan Alahayam, and for the happiness of your kingdom.⁸ And when the king heard this speech from Haiqar he rejoiced with a great joy, and his heart was expanded and he showed him favour.⁹ And Haiqar said to the king: 'Grant me a delay of forty days that I may consider this question and manage it.' And the king permitted this.¹⁰ And Haiqar went to his dwelling, and he commanded the huntsmen to capture two young eaglets for him, and they captured them and brought them to him: and he commanded the weavers of ropes to weave two cables of cotton for him, each of them two thousand cubits long, and he had the carpenters brought and ordered them to make two great boxes, and they did this.¹¹ Then he took two little lads, and spent every day sacrificing lambs and feeding the eagles and the boys, and making the boys ride on the backs of the eagles, and he bound them with a firm knot, and tied the cable to the feet of the eagles and let them soar upwards little by little every day, to a distance of ten cubits, till they grew accustomed and were educated to it; and they rose all the length of the rope till they reached the sky; the boys being on their backs. Then he drew them to himself.¹² And when Haiqar saw that his desire was fulfilled he charged the boys that when they were borne aloft to the sky they were to shout, saying:¹³ Bring us clay and stone that we may build a castle for king Paraih, for we are idle.'¹⁴ And Haiqar was never done training them and exercising them till they had reached the utmost possible point (of skill).¹⁵ Then leaving them he went to the king and said to him, 'O my lord! the work is finished according to your desire. Arise with me that I may show you the wonder.'¹⁶ So the king sprang up and sat with Haiqar and went to a wide place and sent to bring the eagles and the boys, and Haiqar tied them and let them off into the air all the length of the ropes and they began to shout as he had taught them. Then he drew them to himself and put them in their places.¹⁷ And the king and those who were with him wondered with a great wonder: and the king kissed Haiqar between his eyes and said to him, 'Go in peace, O my beloved! O pride of my kingdom! to Matzarayam and answer the questions of Paraih and overcome him by the strength of the Ilayawan Alahayam.'¹⁸ Then he bade him farewell, and took his troops and his army and the young men and the eagles, and went towards the dwellings of Matzarayam; and when he had arrived, he turned towards the country of the king.¹⁹ And when the people of Matzarayam knew that Sanacharayab had sent a man of his Privy Council to talk with Paraih and to answer his questions, they carried the news to king Paraih, and he sent a party of his Privy Councillors to bring him before him.²⁰ And he came and entered into the presence of Paraih, and did obeisance to him as it is fitting to do to kings.²¹ And he said to him: 'O my lord the king! Sanacharayab the king hails you with abundance of peace and might, and honour.'²² And he has sent me, who am one of his slaves, that I may answer you your questions, and may fulfil all your desire: for you have sent to seek from my lord the king a man who will build you a castle between the heaven and the earth.²³ And I by the help of the Ilayawan Alahayam and your noble favour and the power of my lord the king will build it for you as you desire.²⁴ But, O my lord the king! what you have said in it about the taxes of Matzarayam for three years - now the stability of a kingdom is strict justice, and if you win and my hand has no skill in replying to you, then my lord the king will send you the taxes which you have mentioned.²⁵ And if I shall have answered you in your questions, it shall remain for you to send whatever you have mentioned to my lord the king.'²⁶ And when Paraih heard that speech, he wondered and was perplexed by the freedom of his tongue and the pleasantness of his speech.²⁷ And king Paraih said to him, 'O man! what is your name?' And he said, 'Your servant is Abiqam, and I am a little ant of the ants of king Sanacharayab.'²⁸ And Paraih said to him, 'Had your lord no one of higher dignity than you, that he has sent me a little ant to reply to me, and to converse with me?'²⁹ And Haiqar said to him, 'O my lord the king! I would to Alahayam Ilayawan that I may fulfill what is on your mind, for Alahayam is with the weak that He may confound the strong.'³⁰ Then Paraih commanded that they should prepare a dwelling for Abiqam and supply him with provender, meat, and drink, and all that he needed.³¹ And when it was finished, three days afterwards Paraih clothed himself in purple and red and sat on his throne, and all his viziers and the magnates of his kingdom were standing with their hands crossed, their feet close together, and their heads bowed.³² And Paraih sent to fetch Abiqam, and when he was presented to him, he did obeisance before him, and kissed the ground in front of him.³³ And king Paraih said to him, 'O Abiqam, whom am I like? and the nobles of my kingdom, to whom are they like?'³⁴ And Haiqar said to him, 'O my lord the king! you are like the idol Bal, and the nobles of your kingdom are like his servants.'³⁵ He said to him, 'Go, and come back here to-morrow.' So Haiqar went as king Paraih had commanded him.³⁶ And on the morrow Haiqar went into the presence of Paraih, and did obeisance, and stood before the king. And Paraih was dressed in a red colour, and the nobles were dressed in white.³⁷ And Paraih said to him, 'O Abiqam, whom am I like? and the nobles of my kingdom, to whom are they like?'³⁸ And Abiqam said to him, 'O my lord! you are like the sun, and your servants are like its beams.' And Paraih said to him, 'Go to your dwelling, and come here to-morrow.'³⁹ Then Paraih commanded his Court to wear pure white, and Paraih was dressed like them and sat upon his throne and he commanded them to fetch Haiqar. And he entered and sat down before him.⁴⁰ And Paraih said to him, 'O Abiqam, whom am I like? and my nobles, to whom are they like?'⁴¹ And Abiqam said to him, 'O my lord! you are like the moon, and your nobles are like the planets and the stars.' And Paraih said to him, 'Go, and to-morrow be you here.'⁴² Then Paraih commanded his servants to wear robes of various colours, and Paraih wore a red velvet dress, and sat on his throne, and commanded them to fetch Abiqam. And he entered and did obeisance before him.⁴³ And he said, 'O Abiqam, whom am I like? and my armies, to whom are they like?' And he said, 'O my lord! you are like the month of April, and your armies are like its flowers.'⁴⁴ And when the king heard it he rejoiced with a great joy, and said, 'O Abiqam! the first time you did compare me to the idol Bal, and my nobles to his servants.'⁴⁵ And the second time you did compare me to the sun, and my nobles to the sunbeam.'⁴⁶ And the third time you did compare me to the moon, and my nobles to the planets and the stars.'⁴⁷ And the fourth time you did compare me to the month of April, and my nobles to its flowers. But now, O Abiqam! tell me, your lord, king Sanacharayab, whom is he like? and his nobles, to whom are they like?'⁴⁸ And Haiqar shouted with a loud voice and said: 'Be it far from me to make mention of my lord the king and you seated on your throne. But get up on your feet that I may tell you whom my lord the king is like and to whom his nobles are like.'⁴⁹ And Paraih was perplexed by the freedom of his tongue and his boldness in answering. Then Paraih arose from his throne, and stood before Haiqar, and said to him, 'Tell me now, that I may perceive whom your lord the king is like, and his nobles, to whom they are like.'⁵⁰ And Haiqar said to him: 'My lord is the Alahayam of heaven, and his nobles are the lightnings and the thunder, and when he wills the winds blow and the rain falls.'⁵¹ And he commands the thunder, and it lightens and rains, and he holds the sun, and it gives not its light, and the moon and the stars, and they circle not.'⁵² And he commands the tempest, and it blows and the rain falls and it tramples on April and destroys its flowers and its houses.'⁵³ And when Paraih heard this speech, he was greatly perplexed and was wroth with a great wrath, and said to him: 'O man! tell me the truth, and let me know who you really art.'⁵⁴ And he told him the truth. 'I am Haiqar the scribe, greatest of the Privy Councillors of king Sanacharayab, and I am his vizier and the Governor of his kingdom, and his Chancellor.'⁵⁵ And he said to him, 'You have told the truth in this saying. But we have heard of Haiqar, that king Sanacharayab has slain him, yet you do seem to be alive and well.'

⁵⁶ And Haiqar said to him, 'Yes, so it was, but praise be to Alahayam, who knows what is hidden, for my lord the king commanded me to be killed, and he believed the word of profligate men, but the Adanay delivered me, and blessed is he who trusts in Him.' ⁵⁷ And Paraih said to Haiqar, 'Go, and to-morrow be you here, and tell me a word that I have never heard from my nobles nor from the people of my kingdom and my country.'

6 And Haiqar went to his dwelling, and wrote a letter, saying in it on this wise: ² 'From Sanacharayab king of Ashawar and Nayanawah to Paraih king of Matzarayam. ³ 'Peace be to you, O my brother! and what we make known to you by this is that a brother has need of his brother, and kings of each other, and my hope from you is that you would lend me nine hundred talents of gold, for I need it for the victualling of some of the soldiers, that I may spend it upon them. And after a little while I will send it you.' ⁴ Then he folded the letter, and presented it on the morrow to Paraih. ⁵ And when he saw it, he was perplexed and said to him, 'Truly I have never heard anything like this language from any one.' ⁶ Then Haiqar said to him, 'Truly this is a debt which you owest to my lord the king.' ⁷ And Paraih accepted this, saying, 'O Haiqar, it is the like of you who are honest in the service of kings. ⁸ Blessed be Alahayam who has made you perfect in wisdom and has adorned you with philosophy and knowledge. ⁹ And now, O Haiqar, there remains what we desire from you, that you should build us a castle between heaven and earth.' ¹⁰ Then said Haiqar, 'To hear is to obey. I will build you a castle according to your wish and choice; but, O my lord! prepare us lime and stone and clay and workmen, and I have skilled builders who will build for you as you desire.' ¹¹ And the king prepared all that for him, and they went to a wide place; and Haiqar and his boys came to it, and he took the eagles and the young men with him; and the king and all his nobles went and the whole city assembled, that they might see what Haiqar would do. ¹² Then Haiqar let the eagles out of the boxes, and tied the young men on their backs, and tied the ropes to the eagles' feet, and let them go in the air. And they soared upwards, till they remained between heaven and earth. ¹³ And the boys began to shout, saying, 'Bring bricks, bring clay, that we may build the king's castle, for we are standing idle!' ¹⁴ And the crowd were astonished and perplexed, and they wondered. And the king and his nobles wondered. ¹⁵ And Haiqar and his servants began to beat the workmen and they shouted for the king's troops, saying to them, 'Bring to the skilled workmen what they want and do not hinder them from their work.' ¹⁶ And the king said to him, 'You are mad; who can bring anything up to that distance?' ¹⁷ And Haiqar said to him, 'O my lord! how shall we build a castle in the air? and if my lord the king were here, he would have built several castles in a single day.' ¹⁸ And Paraih said to him, 'Go, O Haiqar, to your dwelling, and rest, for we have given up building the castle, and to-morrow come to me.' ¹⁹ Then Haiqar went to his dwelling and on the morrow he appeared before Paraih. And Paraih said, 'O Haiqar, what news is there of the horse of your lord? for when he neighs in the country of Ashawar and Nayanawah, and our mares hear his voice, they cast their young.' ²⁰ And when Haiqar heard this speech he went and took a cat, and bound her and began to flog her with a violent flogging till the Matzarayam heard it, and they went and told the king about it. ²¹ And Paraih sent to fetch Haiqar, and said to him, 'O Haiqar, therefore do you flog thus and beat that dumb beast?' ²² And Haiqar said to him, 'O my lord the king! truly she has done an ugly deed to me, and has deserved this drubbing and flogging, for my lord king Sanacharayab had given me a fine cock, and he had a strong true voice and knew the hours of the day and the night. ²³ And the cat got up this very night and cut off its head and went away, and because of this deed I have treated her to this drubbing.' ²⁴ And Paraih said to him, 'O Haiqar, I see from all this that you are growing old and art in your dotage, for between Matzarayam and Nayanawah there are sixty-eight parasangs, and how did she go this very night and cut off the head of your cock and come back?' ²⁵ And Haiqar said to him, 'O my lord! if there were such a distance between Matzarayam and Nayanawah, how could your mares hear when my lord the king's horse neighs and cast their young? and how could the voice of the horse reach to Matzarayam?' ²⁶ And when Paraih heard he knew that Haiqar had answered his questions. ²⁷ And Paraih said, 'O Haiqar, I want you to make me ropes of the sea-sand.' ²⁸ And Haiqar said to him, 'O my lord the king! order them to bring me a rope out of the treasury that I may make one like it.' ²⁹ Then Haiqar went to the back of the house, and bored holes in the rough shore of the sea, and took a handful of sand in his hand, sea-sand, and when the sun rose, and penetrated into the holes, he spread the sand in the sun till it became as if woven like ropes. ³⁰ And Haiqar said, 'Command your servants to take these ropes, and whenever you desire it, I will weave you some like them.' ³¹ And Paraih said, 'O Haiqar, we have a millstone here and it has been broken and I want you to sew it up.' ³² Then Haiqar looked at it and found another stone. ³³ And he said to Paraih, 'O my lord! I am a foreigner and I have no tool for sewing.' ³⁴ But I want you to command your faithful shoemakers to cut awls from this stone, that I may sew that millstone.' ³⁵ Then Paraih and all his nobles laughed. And he said, 'Blessed be the Ilayawan Alahayam, who gave you this wit and knowledge.' ³⁶ And when Paraih saw that Haiqar had overcome him, and returned him his answers, he at once became excited, and commanded them to collect for him three years' taxes, and to bring them to Haiqar. ³⁷ And he stripped off his robes and put them upon Haiqar, and his soldiers, and his servants, and gave him the expenses of his journey. ³⁸ And he said to him, 'Go in peace, O strength of his lord and pride of his Doctors! have any of the Sultans your like? give my greetings to your lord king Sanacharayab, and say to him how we have sent him gifts, for kings are content with little.' ³⁹ Then Haiqar arose, and kissed king Pharaoh's hands and kissed the ground in front of him, and wished him strength and continuance, and abundance in his treasury, and said to him, 'O my lord! I desire from you that not one of our countrymen may remain in Matzarayam.' ⁴⁰ And Paraih arose and sent heralds to proclaim in the streets of Matzarayam that not one of the people of Ashawar or Nayanawah should remain in the land of Matzarayam, but that they should go with Haiqar. ⁴¹ Then Haiqar went and took leave of king Paraih, and journeyed, seeking the land of Ashawar and Nayanawah; and he had some treasures and a great deal of wealth. ⁴² And when the news reached king Sanacharayab that Haiqar was coming, he went out to meet him and rejoiced over him exceedingly with great joy and embraced him and kissed him, and said to him, 'Welcome home, O kinsman! my brother Haiqar, the strength of my kingdom, and pride of my realm.' ⁴³ Ask what you would have from me, even if you desire the half of my kingdom and of my possessions.' ⁴⁴ Then said Haiqar to him, 'O my lord the king, live for ever! Show favour, O my lord the king! to Abu Samik in my stead, for my life was in the hands of Alahayam and in his.' ⁴⁵ Then said Sanacharayab the king, 'Honour be to you, O my beloved Haiqar! I will make the station of Abu Samik the swordsman higher than all my Privy Councillors and my favourites.' ⁴⁶ Then the king began to ask him how he had got on with Paraih from his first arrival until he had come away from his presence, and how he had answered all his questions, and how he had received the taxes from him, and the changes of raiment and the presents. ⁴⁷ And Sanacharayab the king rejoiced with a great joy, and said to Haiqar, 'Take what you would fain have of this tribute, for it is all within the grasp of your hand.' ⁴⁸ And Haiqar said: 'Let the king live for ever! I desire naught but the safety of my lord the king and the continuance of his greatness.' ⁴⁹ O my lord! what can I do with wealth and its like? but if you will show me favour, give me Nadan, my sister's son, that I may recompense him for what he has done to me, and grant me his blood and hold me guiltless of it.' ⁵⁰ And Sanacharayab the king said, 'Take him, I have given him to you,' And Haiqar took Nadan, his sister's son, and bound his hands with chains of iron, and took him to his dwelling, and put a heavy fetter on his feet, and tied it with a tight knot, and after binding him thus he cast him into a dark room, beside the retiring-place, and appointed Nebu-hal as sentinel over him and commanded him to give him a loaf of bread and a little water every day.

⁷ And whenever Haiqar went in or out he scolded Nadan, his sister's son, saying to him wisely: ² 'O Nadan, my boy! I have done to you all that is good and kind, and you have rewarded me for it with what is ugly and bad and with killing.' ³ 'O my son! it is said in the proverbs: He who listeneth not with his ear, they will make him listen with the scruff of his neck.' ⁴ And Nadan said, 'For what cause are you wroth with me?' ⁵ And Haiqar said to him, 'Because I brought you up, and taught you, and gave you honour and respect and made you great, and reared you with the best of breeding, and seated you in my place that you might be my heir in the world, and you did treat me with killing and did repay me with my ruin.' ⁶ But the Adanay knew that I was wronged, and He saved me from the snare which you had set for me, for the Adanay heals the broken hearts and hinders the envious and the haughty.' ⁷ 'O my boy! you have been to me like the scorpion which, when it strikes on brass, pierces it.' ⁸ 'O my boy! you are like the gazelle who was eating the roots of the madder, and it said to her, "Eat of me to-day and take your fill, and to-morrow they will tan your hide in my roots." ⁹ 'O my boy! you have been to me like a man who saw his comrade naked in the chilly time of winter; and he took cold water and poured it upon him.' ¹⁰ 'O my boy! you have been to me like a man who took a stone, and threw it up to heaven to stone his Adanay with it. And the stone did not hit, and did not reach high enough, but it became the cause of guilt and sin.' ¹¹ 'O my boy! if you had honoured me and respected me and had listened to my words you would have been my heir, and would have reigned over my dominions.' ¹² 'O my son! know you that if the tail of the dog or the pig were ten cubits long it would not approach to the worth of the horse's even if it were like silk.' ¹³ 'O my boy! I thought that you would have been my heir at my death; and you through your envy and your insolence did desire to kill me. But the Adanay delivered me from your cunning.' ¹⁴ 'O my son! you have been to me like a trap which was set up on the dunghill, and there came a sparrow and found the trap set up. And the sparrow said to the trap, "What do you here?" Said the trap, "I am praying here to Alahayam." ¹⁵ And the lark asked it also, "What is the piece of wood that you hold?" Said the trap, "That is a young oak-tree on which I lean at the time of prayer." ¹⁶ Said the lark: "And what is that thing in your mouth?" Said the trap: "That is bread and victuals which I carry for all the hungry and the poor who come near to me." ¹⁷ Said the lark: "Now then may I come forward and eat, for I am hungry?" And the trap said to him, "Come forward." And the lark approached that it might eat. ¹⁸ But the trap sprang up and seized the lark by its neck. ¹⁹ And the lark answered and said to the trap, "If that is your bread for the hungry Alahayam accepts not your alms and your kind deeds." ²⁰ And if that is your fasting and your prayers, Alahayam accepts from you neither your fast nor your prayer, and Alahayam will not perfect what is good concerning you." ²¹ 'O my boy, you have been to me (as) a lion who made friends with an ass, and the ass kept walking before the lion for a time; and one day the lion sprang upon the ass and ate it up.' ²² 'O my boy! you have been to me like a weevil in the wheat, for it does no good to anything, but spoils the wheat and gnaws it.' ²³ 'O my boy! you have been like a man who sowed ten measures of wheat, and when it was harvest time, he arose and reaped it, and garnered it, and threshed it, and toiled over it to the very utmost, and it turned out to be ten measures, and its master said to it: "O you lazy thing! you have not grown and you have not shrunk." ²⁴ 'O my boy! you have been to me like the partridge that had been thrown into the net, and she could not save herself, but she called out to the partridges, that she might cast them with herself into the net.' ²⁵ 'O my son! you have been to me like the dog that was cold and it went into the potter's house to get warm.' ²⁶ And when it had got warm, it began to bark at them, and they chased it out and beat it, that it might not bite them.' ²⁷ 'O my son! you have been to me like the pig who went into the hot bath with people of quality, and when it came out of the hot bath, it saw a filthy hole and it went down and, wallowed in it.' ²⁸ 'O my son! you have been to me like the goat which joined its comrades on their way to the sacrifice, and it was unable to save

itself. ²⁹ 'O my boy! the dog which is not fed from its hunting becomes food for flies.' ³⁰ 'O my son! the hand which does not labour and plough and (which) is greedy and cunning shall be cut away from its shoulder.' ³¹ 'O my son! the eye in which light is not seen, the ravens shall pick at it and pluck it out.' ³² 'O my boy! you have been to me like a tree whose branches they were cutting, and it said to them, "If something of me were not in your hands, truly you would be unable to cut me." ³³ 'O my boy! you are like the cat to whom they said: "Leave off thieving till we make for you a chain of gold and feed you with sugar and almonds." ³⁴ And she said, "I am not forgetful of the craft of my father and my mother." ³⁵ 'O my son! you have been like the serpent riding on a thorn-bush when he was in the midst of a river, and a wolf saw them and said, "Mischievous upon mischief, and let him who is more mischievous than they direct both of them." ³⁶ And the serpent said to the wolf, "The lambs and the goats and the sheep which you have eaten all your life, will you return them to their fathers and to their parents or no?" ³⁷ Said the wolf, "No." And the serpent said to him, "I think that after myself you are the worst of us." ³⁸ 'O my boy! I fed you with good food and you did not feed me with dry bread.' ³⁹ 'O my boy! I gave you sugared water to drink and good syrup, and you did not give me water from the well to drink.' ⁴⁰ 'O my boy! I taught you, and brought you up, and you did dig a hiding-place for me and did conceal me.' ⁴¹ 'O my boy! I brought you up with the best upbringing and trained you like a tall cedar; and you have twisted and bent me.' ⁴² 'O my boy! it was my hope concerning you that you would build me a fortified castle, that I might be concealed from my enemies in it, and you did become to me like one burying in the depth of the earth; but the Adanay took pity on me and delivered me from your cunning.' ⁴³ 'O my boy! I wished you well, and you did reward me with evil and hatefulness, and now I would fain tear out your eyes, and make you food for dogs, and cut out your tongue, and take off your head with the edge of the sword, and recompense you for your abominable deeds.' ⁴⁴ And when Nadan heard this speech from his uncle Haiqar, he said: 'O my uncle! deal with me according to your knowledge, and forgive me my sins, for who is there who has sinned like me, or who is there who forgives like you?' ⁴⁵ Accept me, O my uncle! Now I will serve in your house, and groom your horses and sweep up the dung of your cattle, and feed your sheep, for I am the wicked and you are the righteous: I the guilty and you the forgiving.' ⁴⁶ And Haiqar said to him, 'O my boy! you are like the tree which was fruitless beside the water, and its master was fain to cut it down, and it said to him, "Remove me to another place, and if I do not bear fruit, cut me down." ⁴⁷ And its master said to it, "You being beside the water have not borne fruit, how shall you bear fruit when you are in another place?" ⁴⁸ 'O my boy! the old age of the eagle is better than the youth of the crow.' ⁴⁹ 'O my boy! they said to the wolf, "Keep away from the sheep lest their dust should harm you." And the wolf said, "The dregs of the sheep's milk are good for my eyes." ⁵⁰ 'O my boy! they made the wolf go to school that he might learn to read, and they said to him, "Say A, B." He said, "Lamb and goat in my belly." ⁵¹ 'O my boy! they set the ass down at the table and he fell, and began to roll himself in the dust, and one said, "Let him roll himself, for it is his nature, he will not change." ⁵² 'O my boy! the saying has been confirmed which runs: "If you beget a boy, call him your son, and if you rear a boy, call him your slave." ⁵³ 'O my boy! he who does good shall meet with good; and he who does evil shall meet with evil, for the Adanay requites a man according to the measure of his work.' ⁵⁴ 'O my boy! what shall I say more to you than these sayings? for the Adanay knows what is hidden, and is acquainted with the mysteries and the secrets.' ⁵⁵ And He will requite you and will judge betwixt me and you, and will recompense you according to your desert.' ⁵⁶ And when Nadan heard that speech from his uncle Haiqar, he swelled up immediately and became like a blown-out bladder. ⁵⁷ And his limbs swelled and his legs and his feet and his side, and he was torn and his belly burst asunder and his entrails were scattered, and he perished, and died. ⁵⁸ And his latter end was destruction, and he went to hell. For he who digs a pit for his brother shall fall into it;

and he who sets up traps shall be caught in them.⁵⁹ This is what happened and (what) we found about the tale of Haiqar, and praise be to Alahayam for ever. Amen, and peace.⁶⁰ This chronicle is finished with the help of Alahayam, may He be exalted: Amen, Amen, Amen.

Words of Gad the Seer

1 In the thirty-first year of King Dawad's reign in Yarawashalam, which is the thirty-eighth year of Dawad's reign, the Word of the Yahawah came to Gad the Seer in the month of Iyar, near the stream of the Qadarawan Valley, saying: ² "Thus says the Yahawah: 'Go, be courageous, and stand in the midst of the stream, and cry in a great voice: "Tarry and hasten, tarry and hasten, tarry and hasten, for there is still a vision for the son of Yashay." ³ And during the cry face the Eastern Gate, on the east side of the city, and stretch forth your hands toward heaven.'" ⁴ And I did exactly what I had been commanded to do. ⁵ And it came to pass when I finished crying out, I opened my eyes and saw a yoke of oxen, led by a donkey and a camel, coming up from the Qadarawan stream, the donkey on the right side of the yoke and the camel on the left. ⁶ And a great voice like the roll of thunder was following them, crying with a bitter voice: ⁷ "Seer, seer, seer, these are four mixtures that confuse the people of the Yahawah. ⁸ For the impure and the pure have been mixed, and then impurity took control over purity; a mixture from Shaiyar [Adawam] to rule over them, ⁹ to increase power over, and betray, a righteous doer, ¹⁰ to destroy holiness, to crown wickedness, to set up impure matters in the guise of purity." ¹¹ And after the voice, a great quake occurred that shook over the impurity and blew the donkey and the camel into the moon with a stormy wind. ¹² And the moon was opened and looked like a bow, a semi-circle, and both her points reached toward the ground. ¹³ And lo, the sun came out of heaven in the shape of a man, with a crown on his head, carrying over his right shoulder a lamb, despised and rejected. ¹⁴ And on the crown on his head three shepherds are seen, shackled with twelve shackles ¹⁵ and these shackles were of gold, plated with silver. ¹⁶ And the voice of the Lamb was heard, great and dreadful like the voice of a lion roaring over his prey: "Woe to me! Woe to me! Woe to me! My image [Mashayach] has been diminished, My refuge has been lost, My lot and destiny has turned Me over to My spoilers, and I was defiled until evening by the touch of impurity." ¹⁷ And it came to pass when the voice of the Lamb ceased speaking, lo, a man dressed in linen came with three vine-branches and twelve palms in his hand. ¹⁸ And he took the Lamb from the hand of the sun and put the crown on His head, and the vine-branches and palms on His heart. ¹⁹ And the man, dressed in linen, cried like a ram's horn, saying: "What are you doing here, impurity, and how did you get here, impurity, ²⁰ that you have carved yourself a place to combine impurity with My covenant that I have set with the vine-branches and palms?" ²¹ And I heard the Lamb's shepherd saying: "There is a place with Me for the pure, but not for the impure, for I am a holy Alahayam, and I do not want the impure, I only want the pure; ²² even though I created them both, and My eyes are equally on them both. ²³ But there is an advantage to the abundance of purity over the abundance of impurity, just like there is an advantage of a man over a shadow. ²⁴ For the shadow does not exist without man, and only by the man's existence is the shadow given to the tired and exhausted; this applies in the same way to the pure and impure. ²⁵ For all gates of intelligence are turned around since the death of the eight branches of the vine. ²⁶ As is found in words of righteousness in the true book, but because of the wanderings of the sheep, their rest, and divisions, ²⁷ intelligence is stopped up until I do greatly in keeping grace." ²⁸ I saw that impurity was driven from the moon and was given over to a consuming wrath, ground into fine dust, and blown away by the daily wind. ²⁹ And the day burns as a furnace to remove impurity and to erase the transgressions. ³⁰ And the Lamb was put on the moon forever and ever. ³¹ And the Lamb took from the pure the impurity that had been mixed with them, and brought it as a peace offering sacrifice on the altar before El Shaddai, jealous

Yahawah of Hosts. ³² And I heard those singing the song of the Lamb, saying: ³³ "I shall give thanks to You, O Yahawah, for though You were angry with me, You forgave. ³⁴ For the Yahawah is my strength and song, and He is become my redeemer. ³⁵ I will sing to the Yahawah, for He is highly exalted; He had thrown the horse and his rider into the Sea of Reeds. ³⁶ Arise, intelligence; arise, power; arise, kingship; ³⁷ arise, majesty and glory; arise help of the Yahawah. ³⁸ For Alahayam has saved one who had taken away and obliterated the impurity from the earth. ³⁹ He fought my fight and brought into the light my righteousness by His help. ⁴⁰ "My help comes from the Adanay who made heaven and earth." Psalm ⁴¹ Truly, who is like You, glorious in holiness, but not in impurity? ⁴² For You are great over all; raised over all, You spoke and acted. ⁴³ For You declared the end from the beginning, and You sealed everything by Your words and turned my heart and convicted me. ⁴⁴ For Your seal is upon me, my Adanay, and these are three vine-branches and twelve palms that are on my heart ⁴⁵ And I heard a voice crying from heaven, saying: ⁴⁶ "You are My Son, You are My firstborn, You are My first-fruits. ⁴⁷ Haven't I brought You up from the brook of Matzarayam wholeheartedly to be My daily delight? ⁴⁸ But You have put away My gifts and dressed up the impure with the pure, and that is why all these things have happened to You. ⁴⁹ And who is like to You among all the creatures on earth? For they lived in Your shadow and by Your wounds they were healed. ⁵⁰ For that, consider well that which is before You. ⁵¹ Because You have fulfilled the words of the shepherd all the days You have been in the sun and You did not leave them; therefore, all this honor shall be Yours." ⁵² And I, Gad, son of Achayamalak of the Yaibat family, of the tribe of Yahawadah, son of Yasharaal, was amazed by the vision and could not settle my spirit. ⁵³ And the one dressed in linen came down to me and touched me, saying: "Write these words and seal them with the seal of truth, for I AM who I AM is My name, and with My name you shall bless the whole house of Yasharaal, for they are of a true seed. ⁵⁴ In a little while you shall go, and be quietly gathered to your fathers, but at the end of days you shall see with your own eyes all these things, not as a vision, but in reality. ⁵⁵ For in those days they shall not be called Yaiqab, but Yasharaal; for no iniquity will be found in their remnant, for they will belong entirely to the Yahawah. ⁵⁶ And these words will restore your life and spirit. And this shall be the sign to you: when you enter the town, you will find My servant Dawad while he is reading these words from the Book of Covenant: ⁵⁷ 'And yet for all that, when they are in the land of their enemies, I will not reject them, neither will I abhor them, to destroy them utterly, and to break My covenant with them; for I am the Yahawah their Alahayam.' Leviticus ⁵⁸ And you shall tell him about the scene you have just seen; and when he sees you, he will be glad in his heart." ⁵⁹ And it came to pass, when I came to the house of Dawad, the man of Alahayam, I found him as the one dressed in linen had said, and I told him of all my visions. ⁶⁰ Then Dawad spoke the words of this song to the Yahawah, saying: "I love You, O Yahawah, my strength." ⁶¹ And to me he said: "The Yahawah has blessed you and has not removed His covenant from you, for He is true, and His word is true, and His seal is true."

2 After these true things, I had a vision from Alahayam saying: ² "Set your face eastward, northward, southward, and westward. ³ And whistle with your mouth as a bird whistles to its young and say: 'Four corners of the earth, listen to the Word of the Yahawah. ⁴ Thus says the Yahawah, who sits and dwells over the cherubim: 'Give, give, give, take out, take out, take out My seed that I have sown in you, for the time for the seed has come. ⁵ For yet a little while I shall collect My seed on My threshing floor.⁶ And the threshing floor will be holy; an impure seed will not be found there.⁷ Prior to those days My seed was mixed with lentils, and barley, and fitches, beans, and gourds.⁸ And in the end of days the sower shall be true and the seed shall be true and from the seed all the land will be blessed.⁹ Be joyful and glad, remnant of Yahawadah and rejected of Yasharaal, for salvation is with the Yahawah.¹⁰ As you shall be a curse and blasphemy to all the families of the earth, so shall you be a blessing and grace forever.¹¹ At that time no cursed or unholy people will be found among you,¹² for everyone will join you in the covenant, the Law, testimonies, statutes, and ordinances.¹³ And you and they shall have one Alahayam, one covenant, one law, one language, for all shall speak in the language of Hebrew, the holy language.¹⁴ Blessed are you, O Yasharaal, who is like to you? A people saved by the Yahawah, for He will go before you to fight your wars with your enemies.¹⁵ Woe to you, O Adawam, that sits in the land of Kathayam in the north of the sea.¹⁶ For your destroyers will emerge from a terrible nation. They will not even leave you a remnant.¹⁷ For you have said: 'I sit on high, and only I have a covenant with the Alahayam of gods, for the Yahawah chose me instead of His holy people, for He abhorred them.'¹⁸ And His former people, despised and rejected, did not truly know the Yahawah [the Father] because they did not know His image [the Son].¹⁹ We are truly wise and intelligent; we know the Yahawah and His Law, we know His image [the Son] and presence [the Holy Spirit].²⁰ But thus says the Yahawah: 'Because you rose up in pride to brag about the Alahayam of gods, know that you will perish in your conceitedness.'²¹ For why would you put confidence in man, whose life is like a vapor, which begins in the morning, and is gone by noon-day, placing him to sit beside Alahayam.²² For it is not you whom I knew formerly, and where is the bill of divorce of My people, that you said would be a prey; show it to Me!²³ Your corpses will fall among My people.'²⁴ O jealous Yahawah, come out; come out of your place and smite Adawam; consume them.²⁵ Come to Zerephath, come to Sapparad, come to Ashakanaz, come to Garmania; they shall come and fall in the lowest pit, in destruction, and in the shadow of death, for your mouth will fail you, and no one will help you.²⁶ At the end of days Mayakaal the great prince will stand up in war like a whirlwind against Samael the prince of this world to put him under his feet, in the wind of the Yahawah, and it shall be eaten up; for the Yahawah has spoken it.²⁷ At the end of days the robbed will overcome the robber, and the weak, the strong, truly and in righteousness.²⁸ Your Alahayam is your Savior, O Yasharaal; with Him you will be saved, for He is a merciful Alahayam. He will not abandon you,²⁹ for you shall keep on doing all that I commanded you in the Law of Mashah My servant.'

3 When the feast of Passover came, on the fifteenth of the first month, a Moabite shepherd came to Dawad and talked with him saying: "My lord the king, you have known that I, your servant, have been loyal to Yasharaal from my youth, and now take me away from dwelling among uncircumcised people and circumcise the flesh of my foreskin to take away my reproach, so that I can sit among your people."² And Dawad said: "the Yahawah does not want your people, and He commanded, 'An Ammonite or a Moabite shall not enter into the assembly of the Yahawah forever.' Deuteronomy³ The servant answered: "Is it not it true that Rawath was of our people, and you are one of her children and descendants, and the Yahawah has chosen you and your descendants forever?"⁴ Then said he: "You have given a convincing argument. Stand here with me to ask from the mouth of my Adanay."⁵ And Dawad asked the Yahawah about the statement of the Moabite servant.⁶ And Dawad said: "O Yahawah, Yahawah of Hosts, teach me wondrous things out of Your Law so that I may know how to rule for this servant, and what should be done with him."⁷ And the Yahawah said to Nathan the prophet: "Go to Dawad My servant, and tell him the message that I tell you."⁸ And Nathan went to Dawad, to his chambers, saying: "This is what the Yahawah of Hosts says: 'I have heard your prayer, so tell the Moabite: 'You are a Moabite man, not a Moabite woman, for I never said a 'Moabite woman' and 'Ammonite woman,' because their women and daughters belong to the Yahawah; however you are cursed by the Yahawah, and forbidden to enter the Yahawah's assembly."⁹ When the Moabite heard the message of the Yahawah, he cried out and exclaimed: "I am forbidden from entering the assembly of the Yahawah."¹⁰ And the king took him and appointed him a shepherd among Dawad's shepherds, and he was there until the third year of the reign of King Shalamah, then he died.¹¹ And he had a daughter whose name was Sephirah; she had a beautiful form and was very fair to look upon. King Shalamah took her to be his concubine, and she found grace and favor in his sight more than all the other concubines, and she became the chief of the concubines' residence.¹² And this became the statute in Yasharaal forever.

4 In those days a man from Bayathalacham, the city of Dawad, went to Yarawashalam to pay the vow which he had vowed to the Yahawah. His name was Zabad the Parhi, and he was of the family of the Perezites.² Zabad's father was very sick, even to the point of death, so Zabad vowed: "When the Yahawah heals my father of his sickness, I will weigh out two talents of silver and give them to the House of the Yahawah, into the hand of King Dawad."³ And it came to pass, when he was at the house of the shepherds along the way, he lost the pouch with the money in it and he was upset.⁴ He came to the city of Yarawashalam, into the inner city, and he wrote on all the gates these words:⁵ "Anyone who finds a lost pouch with two talents of silver and brings it to me I will give him a talent of silver as a reward."⁶ After a while, a man from the tribe of Wadan came and had in his hand the pouch with the silver talents that he found along the way and he gave it to the owner of the pouch.⁷ And the Danite said to Zabad: "Give me the talent of silver as you promised."⁸ And the Zabad said: "No, there were actually three talents in my pouch and you have already stolen one talent; I mistakenly wrote down the wrong number."⁹ So both of them came and stood before the king.¹⁰ And the king said to the Zabad: "Swear to me by the Yahawah, that you truly had three talents of silver in your pouch." And Zabad swore to him by the Yahawah.¹¹ And the king continued, saying to the Danite: "Swear to me by the Yahawah, that you only found two talents of silver the pouch." And he swore to him by the Yahawah.¹² And Dawad said to Zabad: "Give the pouch with the talents back to the Danite, because this is his money that the Yahawah has given to him by chance."¹³ Now, go and write on the city gates: 'Whoever finds the pouch with three talents should bring it to me,' because this is not your pouch."¹⁴ And Dawad took the pouch with the talents of silver from the hand of the Zabad and gave it to the Danite.¹⁵ And the Danite bowed his head and prostrated himself to the earth and said: "Long live my lord, King Dawad, forever."¹⁶ And all Yasharaal heard of this judgment and they marveled over Dawad and were overjoyed; because they saw that he was full of the wisdom of Alahayam.

5 All the Palashath assembled themselves together to fight against Yasharaal. There were so many multitudes of Palashath that they could not be numbered.² And Dawad was greatly distressed because he was afraid of the Palashath.³ And the Yahawah said to Gad: "Go and tell Dawad My servant: 'Do not be worried about these uncircumcised Palashath, because tomorrow I will give them, and those other oppressors with them, into your hand.'"⁴ And Dawad said to Gad: "I am not worthy of all the mercies that the Yahawah has shown to me, but blessed be the name of the Yahawah forever and ever."⁵ That night, a fire-angel came from heaven with his drawn sword in his hand.⁶ And he attacked the camp of the uncircumcised. It was such a great slaughter that none of them were left alive.⁷ And it came to pass the next morning they came to Dawad saying: "Behold, all the Palashath have been killed by someone who rose up against them; not a single one of them was left alive."⁸ And Dawad raised his voice and said: "Now I know that nothing can hinder the Yahawah. He can save us from many or few, and His salvation can be in a blink of an eye."⁹ And he said: "Blessed are You, O Yahawah, who has been taking revenge for us on our enemies."¹⁰ And he set up a pillar and called it the "Pillar of Revenge” to this day.

6 The Yahawah said to Gad: “Go tell Dawad My servant: ² ‘Thus says the Yahawah: ‘Let not the mighty man glory in his might. ³ But let him that glories glory in this, that My help is with him. ⁴ Then you should go and fear not, for the Yahawah is with you.’” ⁵ And Gad came and told Dawad what the Yahawah had said. ⁶ And Dawad said to Gad: “I have known the help of the Yahawah from my youth. ⁷ For who struck down the lion and the bear? Who destroyed the Palashath? Who destroyed my enemies? Was it not by the help of Alahayam?” ⁸ And when the Yahawah heard that, He was very pleased with Dawad’s heart. ⁹ And He said: “Because Dawad has acknowledged My help instead of his own glory, My help will dwell in the house of Dawad forever.” ¹⁰ And Gad told Dawad what the Yahawah said. ¹¹ And Dawad bowed down before the Yahawah and said: “Blessed be the Yahawah for I have found favor in His eyes.”

7 And again the anger of the Yahawah was kindled against Yasharaal and He moved Satan against Dawad, saying: “Go, number Yasharaal and Yahawadah,” to bring them the evil He spoke through Shamawaal the seer. ² And the king said to Yawaab the captain and to the princes of the people: “Go now through all the tribes of Yasharaal, from Wadan even to Beersheba, and number the people, and bring me word, that I may know the sum of them.” ³ And Yawaab said to the king: “May the Yahawah add to the people how many so ever they may be, a hundredfold, and may the eyes of the Yahawah our Alahayam watch over them; but, my lord the king, are they not all my lord’s servants? Why does my lord require this thing? And why should it be a cause of trespass to Yasharaal? For the Yahawah has said: ‘Which cannot be numbered for the multitude.’” ⁴ Notwithstanding, the king’s word prevailed against Yawaab and against the captains of the host. And Yawaab and the captains of the host went from the presence of the king to number the people of Yasharaal. ⁵ And they passed over the Yaranan, and camped in Irait, south of the town in the middle of the river of Gad, and toward Yaizar. ⁶ And they came to Galaid, and then to the land of the Hittites, to Qadash, and they came to Wadan and Iyanan, and round about to Tzayadawan. ⁷ And they came to the stronghold of Tzar, and to all the cities of the Hivites and the Canaanites. And they went out to the south of Yahawadah, to Beersheba. ⁸ So when they had gone through all the land, they came to Yarawashalam at the end of nine months and twenty days. But Yawaab did not number Laway and Banayaman, for the king’s word was abominable to Yawaab. ⁹ And Yawaab gave up the sum of the number of the people to Dawad. And all they of Yasharaal were eight hundred thousand valiant men and three hundred thousand men that drew a sword, and in Yahawadah there were four hundred and seventy thousand valiant men and thirty thousand men that drew a sword. ¹⁰ And the Yahawah Alahayam was displeased with this act of Yasharaal, and He sent Gad the seer to Dawad, saying: ¹¹ “Thus said the Yahawah: ‘I am the King of Yasharaal, and I am their portion. I am their avenger, I am their fortress and might, and you know that it is not with a sword or a spear that I will save, and not with a man of valiance that draws a sword, for this is the portion of the heathens that stand on their might and many warriors. ¹² But you are not like that, for I am a lone warrior and there is no one with Me. Why would you do this evil to number your people? For that I will strike Yasharaal, so that you will know that I am the Yahawah in the midst of the earth.’” ¹³ And Dawad’s heart was grieved after that. And Dawad said to the Yahawah: “I have sinned greatly in what I have done; but now O Yahawah, I beg You, take away the iniquity of Your servant, for I have acted very foolishly.” ¹⁴ And Dawad rose up in the morning, and the Word of the Yahawah had already come to Gad the prophet, Dawad’s seer, saying: ¹⁵ “Go and say to Dawad: ‘Thus says the Yahawah: ‘I offer you three things; choose one of them, that I may do it to you.’” ¹⁶ So Gad came to Dawad and told him, and said to him: “Shall four years of famine come to the land of Yasharaal and three years in the land of Yahawadah? Or will you flee three months before your foes while they pursue you, while the sword of your enemies overtake you? Or shall there be three days of the sword of the Yahawah, which is pestilence, in your land, and the angel the Yahawah destroying throughout all the land of Yasharaal? Now advise yourself, and decide what answer I shall return to Him who sent me.” ¹⁷ And Dawad said to Gad: “I am in a great strait; let me fall, and let us fall now, into the hand of the Yahawah, for His mercies are great; and let me not fall into the hand of man.” ¹⁸ So the Yahawah sent a pestilence upon Yasharaal, from the morning even to the time appointed; and there died of the people from Wadan even to Beersheba seventy thousand men. ¹⁹ And Alahayam sent an angel to Yarawashalam to destroy it; and as he was destroying it, the Yahawah beheld, and He repented Him of the evil, and said to the angel that was destroying the people: “It is enough; now stay your hand.” And the angel of the Yahawah was standing by the threshing floor of Aranan the Jebusite. ²⁰ And Dawad lifted up his eyes, and saw the angel of the Yahawah standing between the heaven and the earth, having a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Yarawashalam. And Dawad and the elders, who were clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces. ²¹ And Dawad said to Alahayam: “Is it not I that commanded the people to be numbered? Even I it is that have sinned and acted wickedly; but these sheep, what have they done? O Yahawah my Alahayam, let Your hand be against me and against my father’s house, but not against Your people, that they should be plagued. Shall not the judge of all the earth do justice?” ²² And the Yahawah said: “They incited Satan against you to number them, saying thus: ‘We will be like all the nations,’ but I am a Alahayam of justice; may I return their high heart into their own bosoms. ²³ For a broken or a contrite heart I shall not despise forever.” Psalm ²⁴ And the angel of the Yahawah told Gad to tell Dawad that Dawad should go up and rear an altar to the Yahawah on the threshing floor of Aranan the Jebusite. ²⁵ And Dawad went up according to the words of Gad which he spoke in the name of the Yahawah. ²⁶ And Aranan was looking and he saw the king and his four sons with him. Now Aranan was threshing wheat. ²⁷ And Aranan looked and saw Dawad, and he went out of the threshing floor, and bowed down to Dawad with his face to the ground. ²⁸ Then Dawad said to Aranan: “Sell me the place of this threshing floor, that I may build an altar therein to the Yahawah; you shall sell it to me for the full price, that the plague may be stayed from the people.” ²⁹ And Aranan said to Dawad: “Take it, and let my lord the king do that which is good in his eyes; lo, I give the oxen also for burnt offering, and the threshing instruments for wood, and the wheat for the meal offering; I give it all.” ³⁰ And King Dawad said to Aranan, “No, but I will truly buy it for the full price; for I will not take that which is yours for the Yahawah, nor offer a burnt offering without paying for it.” ³¹ So Dawad gave Aranan for the place six hundred shekels of gold, and for the cattle fifty shekels of silver, by weight. ³² And Dawad built there an altar to The Yahawah, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and called upon the Yahawah; and He answered him from heaven by fire upon the altar of burnt offering. ³³ And the Yahawah commanded the angel; and he put his sword back into the sheath thereof, and the plague was stayed from Yasharaal. ³⁴ At that time, when Dawad saw that the Yahawah had answered him in the threshing floor of Aranan the Jebusite, and He did not despise him, then he sacrificed there to the Yahawah for the rest of his life. ³⁵ For Dawad would no longer go and sacrifice to the Yahawah in the high place at Gabaiwan, where there was an altar to the Yahawah and a tabernacle which Mashah made, for he was terrified and weakened because of the sword of the angel of the Yahawah that he had seen.

8 The Yahawah appeared to Dawad when he was old and said to him: “Behold, I am with you, and I am your Alahayam, and behold, My covenant is with you; do not be afraid, nor discouraged, because your Alahayam is your helper.” ² And Dawad bowed down to the Yahawah and rejoiced in his heart. ³ And the Yahawah said: “Speak these words in My name to the people and make sure they understand and obey so that they will live. If they do, I will no longer be angry with them.” ⁴ And the Yahawah put His words in his mouth. ⁵ Then Dawad assembled all Yasharaal in Yarawashalam, and he made a pulpit of wood for himself and he stood upon it and addressed all the people. He opened his mouth and said: ⁶ "Hear, O Yasharaal, your Alahayam and my Alahayam is one, the only one, and unique; there is no one like His individuality. He is hidden from everyone; He always has been and always will be [eternal]. He fills His creation, but His creation does not fill Him. He sees everything, but is not seen; He knows the future and reveals it to mankind, for He is the never-ending Alahayam, and there is no end to His presence, power and truth; whole worlds are full of His glory. ⁷ He gave each person free choice: if one person wants to do good, he will be helped, but if a person wants to do evil, he will find a way. ⁸ As for us, we will worship our Alahayam who is our King, our Adanay, and our Savior, with love and awe. For your wisdom begins with the fear of the Yahawah and if you truly understand Him, you will depart from evil. ⁹ Remember and obey the Law of Mashah, the man of Alahayam, so that you will live a blessed life all of your days. ¹⁰ Ask your fathers, and they will teach you, ask your elders, and they will instruct you. ¹¹ Do not just listen to the Law, but be strong and valiant to obey all of it. ¹² Hearing is like the seed, but a deed shows that the seed has taken root in you. It then becomes a tree of belief which produces the fruit of true righteousness. ¹³ What becomes of a smelly rotten seed if no root will come out of it? ¹⁴ So, hurry. Be quick to hear and act. For if you are a true seed, if you have belief and righteousness, then the Yahawah will bless you all with peace. ¹⁵ Live in peace with each other. Love the deeds, and those created in the image of the Yahawah like your own selves, ¹⁶ because it is a sign that you love the Creator, if you love His creation. ¹⁷ You cannot take hold of the one but withdraw your hand from the other. Love the Yahawah and also man so that it will be well with you all the days of your life." ¹⁸ Dawad raised his voice, and lifted his hands toward heaven, and said: "Yahawah, O Alahayam, the Alahayam of the spirits of all flesh, Alahayam, merciful and gracious, guard Yasharaal forever. ¹⁹ Save Your people, and bless Your inheritance, and tend to them, and uphold them forever." ²⁰ And all the people called out: "Amen, amen." ²¹ And Dawad sent the people away and they went home peacefully.

9 Chayaram king of Tzar sent messengers to Dawad saying: "I know that the Yahawah your Alahayam is the one true Alahayam, so now deal with me as a true brother and teach me the Law of your Alahayam, for I will worship Him all the days of my life." ² Then the messengers came to Dawad with an offering in their hands for the Yahawah and for Dawad. They told him everything that Chayaram had said and presented him with the offerings. ³ And Dawad replied to Chayaram: "Go and tell my brother, Chayaram: 'This is what Dawad, your brother, says: ⁴ 'Reverence the Yahawah, creator of heaven and fire, the sea and the earth, the wet and the dry, the heat and the cold, the mineral and the vegetation, the living and the speaking, ⁵ the planets, the Kayamah and Kasayal, the sun and the moon, the substantial and the spiritual, the wandering stars, the senses, and everything. ⁶ These were all created without a blemish by El Shaddai whose name is Yahawah. ⁷ If you do this and observe the commandments that were ordered to the children of Nach [Noahide Laws], your father, then Alahayam will bless you all the days of your life. ⁸ We are both His allies; but we are different from you by the Law of truth, sealed by the seal of Shaddai, called children of the true Alahayam. ⁹ We must therefore obey the whole Law that HaShem commands of us, saying: 'And you shall be to Me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation. These are the words which you shall speak to the children of Yasharaal.' Exodus ¹⁰ But He has not dealt the same way with any other nation as He has with us. He did not choose us for any other reason than the great love that He has for us." ¹¹ The messengers then returned to Chayaram their king and told him everything that King Dawad had told them. ¹² And Chayaram rejoiced with all his heart and called all his princes and servants and said to them: "Tyrians and Sidonians, listen carefully to what I am about to tell you. ¹³ Have reverence and respect for El Shaddai, who is the Alahayam of

Yasharaal. He made everything by speaking and by the breath of His mouth; and who will tell Him what He can do? For He is one. ¹⁴ Repeat after me: 'Blessed is the Yahawah Alahayam of Yasharaal who chooses His people, and blessed is Dawad, His servant, king of His people, and blessed is Yasharaal whom the Yahawah has chosen to be His inheritance. ¹⁵ We would be blessed to simply be the servants of the children of Yasharaal that are called children of the Yahawah, their Alahayam.'" ¹⁶ And all his princes and his servants replied: "Amen, may it be so." ¹⁷ And Chayaram lifted up his voice and said: "I have seen, but not now, I have beheld, but not nigh: there shall step forth a sun from Dawad, and a moon shall rise out of the house of Yahawadah, and shall smite all the children of Cham, and break down all the children of Yapath, and he will possess all the kingdoms of the world." Variant of Numbers ¹⁸ And who is like the Yahawah, Alahayam above all gods? ¹⁹ And who is like Yasharaal a people above the nations? May our end be like theirs." ²⁰ When the Yahawah heard what Chayaram had said, He was very pleased with him. ²¹ And the Yahawah said to Gad, the seer of Dawad: ²² "Go to my servant and tell him the message that I gave you." ²³ And Gad, the one in whose hand was the word of the Yahawah, came to Dawad, and said, "Thus says the Yahawah Alahayam of Hosts: 'I have heard what Chayaram, king of Tzar, has said and what his princes and servants have said, and I am very pleased. ²⁴ Therefore I will give him and his people a heart of wisdom and understanding to prepare My house where I shall put My name, and that will cause his kingdom to grow, for I have chosen them and will not reject them.'" ²⁵ And Dawad said to Gad: "Now I know that the Yahawah our Alahayam rewards all His creatures and all the works He has created with goodness, because He is a Alahayam of mercy, who dwells on high and looks after the lowly, and whoever is banished will not remain an outcast from Him. ²⁶ Blessed be the Yahawah forever; Amen, and Amen. ²⁷ For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is His mercy toward them that fear Him and towards His works. ²⁸ Bless the Yahawah, all you His works, in all His places of His dominion. Bless the Yahawah, O my soul. Hallelujah."

10 At that time Dawad wrote this psalm of praise: I will exalt You, my Alahayam, O King; and I will bless Your name forever and ever. ² Every day I will bless You, and I will praise Your name forever and ever. ³ Great is the Yahawah, and greatly to be praised; and His greatness is unsearchable. ⁴ Generation after generation shall praise Your works, and shall declare Your mighty acts. ⁵ The glorious splendor of Your majesty, and Your wondrous works I will declare. ⁶ And men shall speak of the might of Your awesome works; and I will declare Your greatness. ⁷ They shall abundantly express the memory of Your goodness, and they shall sing of Your righteousness. ⁸ The Yahawah is gracious and full of compassion, slow to anger, and great in mercy. ⁹ The Yahawah is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works. ¹⁰ All Your works shall thank You, O Yahawah; and Your saints bless You. ¹¹ They shall speak of the glory of Your kingdom, and talk of Your power, ¹² to make known to the sons of men His mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of His kingdom. ¹³ Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and Your dominion endures through all generations. ¹⁴ The Yahawah sustains all those who fall, and raises up all those who are bowed down. ¹⁵ The eyes of all wait upon You; and You give them their food in due season. ¹⁶ You open Your hands, and satisfy the desire of every living thing with favor. ¹⁷ The Yahawah is righteous in all His ways, and holy in all His works. ¹⁸ The Yahawah is near to all who call upon Him, to all that call upon Him in truth. ¹⁹ He will grant the desire of them that fear Him; and He will also hear their prayer, and save them. ²⁰ The Yahawah preserves all them that love Him; but all the wicked He will destroy. ²¹ My mouth shall speak the praise of the Yahawah, and let all flesh bless His holy name forever and ever.

11 The Psalm of Dawad praising the Yahawah on the day when Elhanan the son of Yaayar slew Lachamay the brother of Galayath the Gittite, and Yahawanathan the son of Shamaia killed a man of great stature, saying: Blessed be the Yahawah my rock, who instructs my hands for war, and my fingers for battle.² My mercy, and my fortress, my high tower, and my deliverer; my protector and He in whom I take refuge, who subdues peoples under me.³ Yahawah, what is man, that You take knowledge of him? Or the son of man, that You make account of him?⁴ Man is like to a breath: his days are as a shadow that passes away.⁵ O Yahawah, bow Your heavens, and come down: touch the mountains so that they smoke.⁶ Send lightning, and scatter them: shoot out Your arrows, and destroy them.⁷ Send forth Your hand from above; deliver me, and deliver me out of many waters, out of the hand of foreigners;⁸ whose mouths speak falsehood, and whose right hand is a right hand of lying.⁹ O Alahayam, I will sing to You a new song: I will sing praise to You on a psaltery of ten strings,¹⁰ who gives salvation to kings, who rescues Your servant Dawad from an evil sword.¹¹ Rescue me, and deliver me from the hand of foreigners, whose mouths speak lies, and whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood;¹² May our children be as plants, grown up in their youth: may our daughters be cornerstones, hewn like the form of the temple.¹³ May our garners be full affording all manner of store; may our sheep increase by thousands and ten thousands in our markets.¹⁴ May our oxen be strong to labor; no breaking in, nor going out, no complaining in our streets.¹⁵ Happy is the people that is in such a case. Happy is the people whose Alahayam is the Yahawah.¹⁶ Happy is he who waits until there will be good to all Yasharaal forever.

12 Dawad addressed the Yahawah and all of Yasharaal shortly before his death. Dawad said:² "Our blessed Alahayam, who is great, the only one, guileless, just,³ avenger and benefactor of the miserable, beloved, our Father, El Shaddai.⁴ Holy One, have mercy upon the vine, Your good inheritance.⁵ Answer us this very day as we call upon You.⁶ My Adanay, hear my prayer and supplication, for You hear prayers of all people;⁷ listen and accept the cry of Your people,⁸ for they are Your flock and Your inheritance.⁹ Send Your light and truth to help them.¹⁰ Give them one heart to worship You, one shoulder [to serve], as one body, so they will be one in Your hand.¹¹ And do not lose any of them, for Your name is to be one, as our fathers and mothers are one.¹² For that, hear O Yasharaal, the Yahawah is our Alahayam, the Yahawah is one.¹³ Do not turn to the idols, for they are false and will completely pass away.¹⁴ Cling only to your Alahayam, for only He can be your avenger and fortress.¹⁵ Only He can defeat your spiritual enemies and physical enemies and put them under your feet;¹⁶ only He can bring you into the New Yarawashalam of the future,¹⁷ where you will see Him face to face, and be in the presence of the living Alahayam that is seen face to face. And you are one people; if you grow in belief, you will be filled with gates of intelligence.¹⁸ Blessed is the eye that has seen all these things.¹⁹ But if you grow in unbelief, you will reach gates of impurity.²⁰ So then cleanse and purify yourself before the Yahawah, your king, and it will be well with you all the days of your life."²¹ And Dawad died in the afternoon on the Sabbath day, in the fortieth year of his reign over Yahawadah and Yasharaal.²² He was seventy years old when he died, and he was buried with great honor in the city of Dawad.²³ And the rest of the deeds of King Dawad, during his mighty reign and the events that befell him, Yasharaal, and all the kingdoms of the countries, behold, they are written in the Book of Shamawaal the Seer and in the Book of Nathan the Prophet.

13 Shalamah was able to strengthen his kingdom, because the Yahawah his Alahayam was with him, and greatly magnified him.² Later, Dawad's daughter, Tamar, sister of Abashalawam, fled to the house of the king of Gashawar, and she spent a year and eight months in her mother's home, which is in the king's palace.³ And King Shalamah did not know that she left, because she went secretly, and she concealed her going not only from the king, but all the people as well.⁴ And King Shalamah said: "I shall pay a reward of royal clothes plus fifty shekels of gold to whoever finds Tamar, the sister of my father, and brings her to me."⁵ And the king's servants searched for her throughout all the land of Yasharaal, but they could not find her.⁶ And she was hiding at her mother's home in Gashawar, at her grandfather's [the king] palace.⁷ And there was a friend of the king, whose name was Pirshaz, and he lusted after the young woman very much, for she was very beautiful and fair to look upon.⁸ In those days the king of Gashawar went to see King Shalamah, as all the kings of the land are required to do.⁹ King Shalamah asked him, saying: "Is it well with you?" and he said: "It is well."¹⁰ And he said: "Is it well with Maacah [Tamar's mother] in your house?" And he said: "It is well." And then King Shalamah cunningly asked: "Is it well with Tamar, my sister?" And he lied to him, saying: "I do not know, for I have never met her."¹¹ And it came to pass when the king of Gashawar was in Yarawashalam, his friend, Pirshaz, came to Tamar's room, saying to her: "Lie with me."¹² But Tamar refused him, saying: "Let us not, my lord; do not do this indecent thing to me, because I am a king's daughter."¹³ However he would not listen to her, because he was burning with lust.¹⁴ And Tamar knew she was no match for this man, so she cunningly said: "My lord, listen to the words of your maidservant.¹⁵ Behold, I play the harp beautifully. First, lie down at my knees and listen to my song.¹⁶ And after I play the song of my heart, then I will do all your heart's desire." And Pirshaz listened to Tamar, and he lay in her bosom.¹⁷ And as Tamar took the harp and began to play beautifully, she said in her heart: "Yahawah, king of my father Dawad, Your servant,¹⁸ send Your light and truth to hold me, and do not allow this wicked, uncircumcised, impure man to have his way with me.¹⁹ For You know what is in my heart, so do not let this daughter of Dawad, Your servant, sin.²⁰ My Father, my Father, my Father, remember the disgrace of Your servant Dawad, my father, and your daughter's disgrace.²¹ I go before El Shaddai's throne of glory, and ask mercy for myself, to the Alahayam of Hosts to help me by His help.²² For He does not want wicked men to triumph, and His desire is to help those who have been robbed to overcome the strong.²³ I beseech You, O Yahawah, save me now. I beseech You, O Yahawah, let me prosper.²⁴ I call on You this day because I am frightened; please answer me, and do not let this impure man cause me to lose holy seed by this impure act, for You are a holy Alahayam, and I trust You."²⁵ And the Yahawah heard the voice of Dawad's daughter, and Alahayam caused Pirshaz to fall into a deep sleep. He fell asleep on her bosom while she was playing the relaxing sounds of the harp.²⁶ And when Tamar saw that he had fallen asleep, she unsheathed the sword that was girded around his waist.²⁷ And she said: "Yahawah of Hosts, remember Dawad my father, and sustain me with Your strength like You did my father.²⁸ Help me as You helped [Yail] the wife of Ibar the Qayan, to rid sins and sinners from the earth, so all will know that You are the only Yahawah."²⁹ And she took the sword and ran it through Pirshaz's heart, and Pirshaz fell to the ground dead.³⁰ And Tamar saw that Pirshaz was dead and she cried with a loud voice: "May all Your enemies and the enemies of Your people perish this way, O Yahawah.³¹ And now I have seen that You have heard my voice because of my father. You have intervened to not allow his daughter to be disgraced by this impure man.³² Blessed are You from everlasting to everlasting. Amen."³³ At the time of the noon meal, Pirshaz's servants came to call their master to the king's table.³⁴ When they came to the inner chamber, they found Tamar with his bloody sword in her hand standing over the dead body of their master Pirshaz.³⁵ And they turned trembling to one another, saying: "What happened?" And they took Tamar into custody and brought her to the king's ministers.³⁶ And the king's servants said to Tamar: "What have you done? You have killed the king's friend. You know that our master, the king will consider this a disgrace."³⁷ And Tamar said: "Should one deal with a king's daughter like a harlot? His blood is upon his own head, and I will be seen as guiltless and pure in the king's eyes."³⁸ And they took Tamar and put her in the hands of the warden of the prison.³⁹ And they sent a letter to their king who was still in Yarawashalam, by the hands of the couriers, that Tamar, the king's granddaughter had killed his friend, Pirshaz, and that Tamar was sent to prison until the time the king returned.⁴⁰ And the couriers came to Yarawashalam and King Shalamah's guards stopped them. And he asked them: "Where are you from?" ⁴¹ And they said: "We come from Gashawar to bring letters to our master the king." ⁴² And the guards seized them and brought them to King Shalamah. ⁴³ And King Shalamah said: "You came here to spy out the land. Give me your king's letters and I will see if you are sinning against me or not." ⁴⁴ And King Shalamah took the letters and gave them to the sons of Shayashaa, the king's scribes, to read. ⁴⁵ And they read through them and found where Tamar had killed Pirshaz and that she was in prison. ⁴⁶ And King Shalamah called Achayashachar, who was head of the household, and said: "Pawat these uncircumcised men in jail, and bring the king of Gashawar to me." ⁴⁷ And he did exactly as he had been commanded. And the king of Gashawar was brought before King Shalamah and he bowed his head toward the ground. ⁴⁸ And King Shalamah said: "Why have you deceived me, lying, while Tamar my sister was with you? You told me that you had never met her in your entire life." ⁴⁹ As the Yahawah lives, who has redeemed Dawad, my father, out of all evil, this very day you will die." ⁵⁰ And King Shalamah called Banayahaw, the son of Yahawayadai, and said to him: "Go, and execute the king of Gashawar and his couriers." And he executed them, and they all died, because they had lied to King Shalamah. ⁵¹ And they buried them in a cave right before the Fish Gate. ⁵² This is why the name of the cave right before the Fish Gate is called the Cave of the Uncircumcised Ones, to this day. ⁵³ And Shalamah sent Banayahaw, the son of Yahawayadai, and ten thousand valiant men of Yahawadah with him, and he said to them: ⁵⁴ "Go to Gashawar and bring back Tamar, my father's daughter, with you, and destroy the royal palace, but be careful not to harm Tamar's mother, for she was King Dawad's wife." ⁵⁵ And they went and did all that King Shalamah had commanded, and they brought Tamar before King Shalamah. ⁵⁶ And Tamar bowed down to the ground, before the king, and said: "Let my lord the king, my brother, live forever." ⁵⁷ And King Shalamah asked her: "Why did you flee to Gashawar?" ⁵⁸ And she answered: "I was living in my brother Abashalawam's home, disgraced because of what my brother Amanawan had done to me, and I decided to go to my mother's house so I would not be disgraced in the eyes of the princes there." ⁵⁹ And King Shalamah asked her: "Why did you kill Pirshaz?" And she answered: "This is what that uncircumcised one did to me, and this is what I did to him in revenge." ⁶⁰ And King Shalamah said: "The Yahawah has truly blessed you with discretion. You were wise, and acted, and you were victorious." ⁶¹ Then King Shalamah spoke openly to all of his servants, saying: "Has anyone found such a charming and heroic woman?" And he said: "Daughter, Alahayam is gracious to you." ⁶² From this day forward you shall not be called my sister, but my daughter, because you were extremely wise." ⁶³ And King Shalamah gave his daughter Tamar to Abayanadab's son to be his wife, and she found grace in her husband's eyes, and he loved her very much. ⁶⁴ He was an officer over all the region of Dawar. ⁶⁵ And King Shalamah renamed Tamar his daughter Tapath, for stacte, the first of the incense, and this was her name the rest of her life.

14 And it came to pass on the first day of the seventh month, at New Year's, in the four hundred and seventy-eighth year after the children of Yasharaal came out of the land of Matzarayam, in the second year of King Shalamah's reign over Yasharaal, I had a vision from the Yahawah, when I was upon the Gachawan spring. ² And I raised my eyes, and lo, the heavens rolled back like a scroll, and I saw the glory of the Yahawah, sitting on an extremely high throne. ³ And here is the appearance of the throne: twelve stairs led up to the throne (six of gold and six of silver), and there was a square back to the throne, like a sapphire stone. ⁴ And at its right side were three chairs and at its left side were four chairs near the throne, like the seven that see the king's face, covered with gold and silver and precious stones. ⁵ And the glory of the Yahawah had the appearance like that of the rainbow, His covenant. ⁶ And the host of heaven were standing before Him on His right hand and on His left, and Satan was standing by them, but behind them. ⁷ And then a man dressed in linen brought before the glory of the

Yahawah three books that contained the records of every man.

⁸ And he read the first book and it contained the just deeds of His people, and the Yahawah said, "These are granted eternal life." ⁹ And Satan said, "Who are these guilty people?" And the man dressed in linen cried to Satan like a ram's horn saying, "Silence! This day is holy to our Adanay." ¹⁰ And he read the second book, and it contained the unintentional sins of His people, and the Yahawah said, "Pawat that book aside, but save it, until one third of the month passes by, to see what they will do." ¹¹ And he read the third book, and it contained the wicked deeds of His people. ¹² And the Yahawah said to Satan, "These are your share. Take them and do what you want with them." ¹³ And Satan took the wicked to a waste land to destroy them there. ¹⁴ And the man dressed in linen cried like a ram's horn, saying: ¹⁵ "Blessed are the people who know the joyful shout, O Yahawah, who walk in the light of Your countenance." ¹⁶ And I heard the voice of the host of heaven rejoicing and saying, "Master of Justice, the Yahawah of hosts, the whole heaven and earth is full of Your glory." ¹⁷ And I was shocked by the vision since I did not know what the Yahawah had done for me. ¹⁸ Then one of the cherubs flew up to me and he put an olive leaf on my mouth, and said, "Lo, this has touched your mouth, and your iniquity is taken away, and your sin forgiven." ¹⁹ And this law that you have seen is a statute for Yasharaal, and a law to the Alahayam of Abaramah, and peace to Yatzachaq your father. ²⁰ And the Yahawah will bless your people in the trial with everlasting peace." ²¹ And I said, "Amen. May the Yahawah our Alahayam do this for us forever and ever." ²² And the angel answered, "Amen and Amen."

23 And we cannot seek your peace nor your prosperity; but how can I help you today?"

1 Fragment 1: Vision Of The Mashayach ¹ I saw one, a maiden without the touch of a man, with a child in her arms. And that child was the Adanay of the Earth, to the ends of the Earth. ² Variant (The Revelation Of Satapan): I saw one, a maiden and without touch of man, and a man child in her arms, and that was the Adanay of the earth to the end of the earth.

2 Fragment 2: The Last Words Of Dawad ¹ Keep the commandments of Alahayam, O my son Shalamah. Study the law of the Adanay, walk before him in a perfect heart. Alahayam has chosen you, and established you over all the children of Yasharaal. ² Execute the justice I did not do all these forty years. I admonish you, O my son Shalamah, carry out my will, and remember the mystery of YHWH that I saw in a vision of wonders from the Adanay of the universe, about his virgin mother, who will emerge from our tribe. I pray that he gives mercy to me and all his creatures in the world. ³ And Dawad told all this to his son Shalamah. He stopped talking, and died a good old age. Shalamah gave him a dignified burial, near his fathers, and rendered thanks to Alahayam, to whom we owe thanksgiving and praise unceasingly and eternally.

3 Fragment 3: Origin of The Ascent Psalms ¹ When I realized that they had debated for too long, I told them this is unsatisfactory. So we will all go together to the Tabernacle of the Adanay, we will assemble the degrees of the altar, and to whom the spirit of Alahayam descends, will tell us the order of the Book of Psalms. ² Everyone accepted this condition, so we went to the Tabernacle of the Adanay. The son of Qarach climbed the first degrees to the altar and spoke. But they did not say a word, and he stepped down. ³ Asap went in turn, and the Spirit of Alahayam descended upon him, convicting him, that neither he nor the son of Qarach should complete this task. ⁴ Then I went, and the spirit of Alahayam descended upon me, and never left me. Until the point that I had the ends, and the recitation formulas for each of the fifteen degrees. ⁵ The crowd cried with one voice, This prophecy must be attributed to Dawad, and it is for him to write it. And I said No, each one should write each of his Psalms in his own name. ⁶ And he (the son of Qarach) fled to his own house because of what I said. Then I got up, and I went to the mountain. I fasted and I spoke to Alahayam with humble prayers. ⁷ And He came to me and gave me all the prophecies which reveal the coming of Mashayach. I wrote them down in this volume, and placed it in my library which is in the Capitol.

1 The misfortunes of the Book of Balaim, son of Baiwar. A divine seer was he. ² The gods came to him at night. And he beheld a vision in accordance with El's utterance. They said to Balaim, son of Baiwar: "So will it be done, with naught surviving. No one has seen [the likes of] what you have heard!" ⁵ Balaim arose on the morrow; He summoned the heads of the assembly to him, ⁶ And for two days he fasted and wept bitterly. Then his intimates entered into his presence, and they said to Balaim, son of Baiwar, "Why do you fast, and why do you weep?" ⁷ Then he said to them: "Be seated, and I will relate to you what the Shaddai gods have planned, And go, see the acts of the god! The gods have banded together; ⁸ The Shaddai gods have established a council, And they have said to [the goddess] Shagar: 'Sew up, close up the heavens with dense cloud, That darkness exist there, not brilliance; Obscurity and not clarity; ⁹ So that you instill dread in dense darkness. Words of Azariah

1 And they walked in the midst of the fire, praising Alahayam, and blessing the Adanay. ² Then Azarias stood up, and prayed on this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire said, ³ Blessed are you, O Adanay Alahayam of our fathers: your name is worthy to be praised and glorified for evermore: ⁴ For you are righteous in all the things that you have done to us: yea, true are all your works, your ways are right, and all your judgments truth. ⁵ In all the things that you have brought upon us, and upon the holy city of our fathers, even Yarawashalam, you have executed true judgment: for according to truth and judgment did you bring all these things upon us because of our sins. ⁶ For we have sinned and committed iniquity, departing from you. ⁷ In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed your commandments, nor kept them, neither done as you have commanded us, that it might go well with us. ⁸ Therefore all that you have brought upon us, and every thing that you have done to us, you have done in true judgment. ⁹ And you did deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, most hateful forsakers of Alahayam, and to an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world. ¹⁰ And now we cannot open our mouths, we are become a shame and reproach to your servants; and to them that worship you. ¹¹ Yet deliver us not up wholly, for your name's sake, neither disannul you your covenant: ¹² And cause not your mercy to depart from us, for your beloved Abaraham's sake, for your servant Issac's sake, and for your holy Yasharaal's sake; ¹³ To whom you have spoken and promised, that you would multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that lies upon the seashore. ¹⁴ For we, O Adanay, are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins. ¹⁵ Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to sacrifice before you, and to find mercy. ¹⁶ Nevertheless in a contrite heart and an humble spirit let us be accepted. ¹⁷ Like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs: so let our sacrifice be in your sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after you: for they shall not be confounded that put their trust in you. ¹⁸ And now we follow you with all our heart, we fear you, and seek your face. ¹⁹ Pawat us not to shame: but deal with us after your lovingkindness, and according to the multitude of your mercies. ²⁰ Deliver us also according to your marvellous works, and give glory to your name, O Adanay: and let all them that do your servants hurt be ashamed; ²¹ And let them be confounded in all their power and might, and let their strength be broken; ²² And let them know that you are Alahayam, the only Alahayam, and glorious over the whole world. ²³ And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the oven hot with rosin, pitch, tow, and small wood; ²⁴ So that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits. ²⁵ And it passed through, and burned those Kashadayam it found about the furnace. ²⁶ But the angel of the Adanay came down into the oven together with Azarias and his fellows, and smote the flame of the fire out of the oven; ²⁷ And made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them. ²⁸ Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, glorified, and blessed, Alahayam in the furnace, saying, ²⁹ Blessed are you, O Adanay Alahayam of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. ³⁰ And blessed is your glorious and holy name: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. ³¹ Blessed are you in the temple of your holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever. ³² Blessed are you that behold the depths, and sit upon the cherubims: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. ³³ Blessed are you on the glorious throne of your kingdom: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever. ³⁴ Blessed are you in the firmament of heaven: and above all to be praised and glorified for ever. ³⁵ O all you works of the Adanay, bless you the Adanay : praise and exalt him above all for ever, ³⁶ O you heavens, bless you the Adanay : praise and exalt him above all for ever. ³⁷ O you angels of the Adanay, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ³⁸ O all you waters that be above the heaven, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ³⁹ O all you powers of the Adanay, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁴⁰ O you sun and moon, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁴¹ O you stars of heaven, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁴² O every shower and dew, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁴³ O all you winds, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever, ⁴⁴ O you fire and heat, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁴⁵ O you winter and summer, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁴⁶ O you dews and storms of snow, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁴⁷ O you nights and days, bless you the Adanay: bless and exalt him above all for ever. ⁴⁸ O you light and darkness, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁴⁹ O you ice and cold, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁵⁰ O you frost and snow, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁵¹ O you lightnings and clouds, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁵² O let the earth bless the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁵³ O you mountains and little hills, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁵⁴ O all you things that grow in the earth, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁵⁵ O you mountains, bless you the Adanay: Praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁵⁶ O you seas and rivers, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁵⁷ O you whales, and all that move in the waters, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁵⁸ O all you fowls of the air, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁵⁹ O all you beasts and cattle, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁶⁰ O you children of men, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁶¹ O Yasharaal, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁶² O you priests of the Adanay, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁶³ O you servants of the Adanay, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁶⁴ O you spirits and souls of the righteous, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁶⁵ O you holy and humble men of heart, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever. ⁶⁶ O Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, bless you the Adanay: praise and exalt him above all for ever: far he has delivered us from hell, and saved us from the hand of death, and delivered us out of the midst of the furnace and burning flame: even out of the midst of the fire has he delivered us. ⁶⁷ O give thanks to the Adanay, because he is gracious: for his mercy endures for ever. ⁶⁸ O all you that worship the Adanay, bless the Alahayam of gods, praise him, and give him thanks: for his mercy endures for ever.

1 I. Ps. cli. A Thanksgiving of Dawad. ¹ I was the youngest among my brethren, and a youth in my father's house. ² I used to feed my father's flock, and I found a lion and a wolf, and slew them and rent them. ³ My hands made an organ, and my fingers fashioned a harp. ⁴ Who will show me my Adanay? He, my Adanay, is become my Alahayam. ⁵ He sent His angel and took me away from my father's flock, and anointed me with the oil of anointing. ⁶ My brethren, the fair and the tall, in them the Adanay had no pleasure. ⁷ And I went forth to meet the Philistine, and he cursed me by his idols. ⁸ But I drew his sword and cut off his head, and took away the reproach from the children of Yasharaal.

2 II. The Prayer of Chazaqayahaw when enemies surrounded him. ¹ With a loud voice glorify you Alahayam; in the assembly of many proclaim you His glory. ² Amid the multitude of the upright glorify His praise; and speak of His glory with the righteous. ³ Join yourselves (literally, your soul) to the good and to the perfect, to glorify the Ilayawan. ⁴ Gather yourselves together to make known His strength; and be not slow in showing forth His deliverance [and His strength] and His glory to all babes. ⁵ That the honour of the Adanay may be known, wisdom has been given; and to tell of His works it has been made known to men: ⁶ to make known to babes His strength, and to make them that lack understanding (literally, heart) to comprehend His glory; ⁷ who are far from His entrances and distant from His gates: ⁸ because the Adanay of Yaiqab is exalted, and His glory is upon all His works. ⁹ And a man who glorifies the Ilayawan, in him will He take pleasure; as in one who offers fine meal, and as in one who offers he-goats and calves; ¹⁰ and as in one who makes fat the altar with a multitude of burnt offerings; and as the smell of incense from the hands of the just. ¹¹ From your upright gates shall be heard His voice, and from the voice of the upright admonition. ¹² And in their eating shall be satisfying in truth, and in their drinking, when they share together. ¹³ Their dwelling is in the law of the Ilayawan, and their speech is to make known His strength. ¹⁴ How far from the wicked is speech of Him, and from all transgressors to know Him! ¹⁵ Lo, the eye of the Adanay takes pity on the good, and to them that glorify Him will He multiply mercy, and from the time of evil will He deliver their soul. ¹⁶ Blessed be the Adanay, who has delivered the wretched from the hand of the wicked; who raises up a horn out of Yaiqab and a judge of the nations out of Yasharaal; ¹⁷ that He may prolong His dwelling in Tzayawan, and may adorn our age in Yarawashalam.

3 III. When the People obtained permission from Kwarash to return home. ¹ O Adanay, I have cried to You; hearken You to me. ² I have lifted up my hands to Your holy dwelling-place; incline Your ear to me. ³ And grant me my request; my prayer withhold not from me. ⁴ Build up my soul, and destroy it not; and lay it not bare before the wicked. ⁵ Them that recompense evil things turn You away from me, O judge of truth. ⁶ O Adanay, judge me not according to my sins, because no flesh is innocent before You. ⁷ Make plain to me, O Adanay, Your law, and teach me Your judgments; ⁸ and many shall hear of Your works, and the nations shall praise Your honour. ⁹ Remember me and forget me not; and lead me not into things that be too hard for me. ¹⁰ The sins of my youth make You to pass from me, and my chastisement let them not remember against me. ¹¹ Cleanse me, O Adanay, from the evil leprosy, and let it no more come to me. ¹² Dry up its roots in (literally, from) me, and let not its leaves sprout within me. ¹³ Great are you, O Adanay; therefore my request shall be fulfilled from before You. ¹⁴ To whom shall I complain that he may give to me? and what can the strength of men add [to me]? ¹⁵ From before You,

O Adanay, is my confidence; I cried to the Adanay and He heard me, and healed the breaking of my heart. ¹⁶ I slumbered and slept; I dreamed and was helped, and the Adanay sustained me. ¹⁷ They sorely pained my heart; I will return thanks because the Adanay delivered me. ¹⁸ Now will I rejoice in their shame; I have hoped in You, and I shall not be ashamed. ¹⁹ Give You honour for ever, even for ever and ever. ²⁰ Deliver Yasharaal Your elect, and them of the house of Yaiqab Your proved one.

4 IV. Spoken by Dawad when he was contending with the lion and the wolf which took a sheep from his flock. ¹ O Alahayam, O Alahayam, come to my aid; help You me and save me; deliver You my soul from the slayer. ² Shall I go down to Sheol by the mouth of the lion? or shall the wolf confound me? ³ Was it not enough for them that they lay in wait for my father's flock, and rent in pieces a sheep of my father's drove, but they were wishing also to destroy my soul? ⁴ Have pity, O Adanay, and save Your holy one from destruction; that he may rehearse Your glories in all his times, and may praise Your great name: ⁵ when You have delivered him from the hands of the destroying lion and of the ravening wolf, and when You have rescued my captivity from the hands of the wild beasts. ⁶ Quickly, O my Adanay (Adonai), send from before You a deliverer, and draw me out of the gaping pit, which imprisons me in its depths.

5 V. Spoken by Dawad when returning thanks to Alahayam, who had delivered him from the lion and the wolf and he had slain both of them. ¹ Praise the Adanay, all you nations; glorify Him, and bless His name: ² Who rescued the soul of His elect from the hands of death, and delivered His holy one from destruction: ³ and saved me from the nets of Sheol, and my soul from the pit that cannot be fathomed. ⁴ Because, ere my deliverance could go forth from before Him, I was well nigh rent in two pieces by two wild beasts. ⁵ But He sent His angel, and shut up from me the gaping mouths, and rescued my life from destruction. ⁶ My soul shall glorify Him and exalt Him, because of all His kindnesses which He has done and will do to me.

Visions of Amram

1 This is the copy of the words of the vision of Imaram, the son of Qahath, the son of Laway, everything that he told to his sons and commanded them on the day of his death in the 137th year of his life, which is the year of the [death of Laway in the 152nd year of the exile of Yasharaal to Matzarayam]. ² [Imaram called to his brother Izayaal and he brought to] him Marayam, his daughter, to be his wife. [She was thirty years old]. ³ He held a banquet for seven days. ⁴ He ate and drank at the banquet and rejoiced. ⁵ Then, when the days of the banquet were over, he called to Aharan, his son, [who was twenty years old], and he said to him: "Call my son, the angel of my brother, from the house [of Paraih]." ⁶ [The angel] came up to him [and said] to him: "I am the angel of your father." ⁷ [And he said], "Behold, I will [return to the house of Paraih]." ⁸ [And Imaram] said, "Do not go, [stay] here with me until I finish my speaking." ⁹ [The angel replied], "I will not leave you until I bring to you the message of your father." ¹⁰ [Imaram said, "Speak the message of my father, for he commanded me to hear it.] ¹¹ [The angel said], "This message is from the house of Paraih."

1 The book of the generation of Yashawai Mashayach, the son of Dawad, the son of Abaraham. ² Abaraham became the father of Yatzachaq. Yatzachaq became the father of Yaiqab. Yaiqab became the father of Yahawadah and his brothers. ³ Yahawadah became the father of Paratz and Zarach by Thamar. Paratz became the father of Chatzarawan. Chatzarawan became the father of Ram. ⁴ Ram became the father of Imayanadab. Imayanadab became the father of Nachashawan. Nachashawan became the father of Shalamah. ⁵ Shalamah became the father of Baiz by Rachab. Baiz became the father of Iwabad by Rawath. Iwabad became the father of Yashay. ⁶ Yashay became the father of Dawad the king. Dawad became the father of Shalamah by her who had been the wife of Awarayah. ⁷ Shalamah became the father of Rachabaim. Rachabaim became the father of Abayah. Abayah became the father of Asaa. ⁸ Asaa became the father of Yahawashapat. Yahawashapat became the father of Yahawaram. Yahawaram became the father of Izayahaw. ⁹ Izayahaw became the father of Yawatham. Yawatham became the father of Achaz. Achaz became the father of Chazaqayahaw. ¹⁰ Chazaqayahaw became the father of Manashah. Manashah became the father of Amawan. Amawan became the father of Yaashayahaw. ¹¹ Yaashayahaw became the father of Jechoniah and his brothers, at the time of the exile to Babal. ¹² After the exile to Babal, Jechoniah became the father of Shaalathayaal. Shaalathayaal became the father of Zarababal. ¹³ Zarababal became the father of Abiud. Abiud became the father of Alayaqayam. Alayaqayam became the father of Azor. ¹⁴ Azor became the father of Sadoc. Sadoc became the father of Achim. Achim became the father of Eliud. ¹⁵ Eliud became the father of Alaizar. Alaizar became the father of Matthan. Matthan became the father of Yaiqab. ¹⁶ Yaiqab became the father of Yawasap, the husband of Marayam, from whom was born Yashawai, who is called Mashayach. ¹⁷ So all the generations from Abaraham to Dawad are fourteen generations; from Dawad to the exile to Babal fourteen generations; and from the carrying away to Babal to the Mashayach, fourteen generations. ¹⁸ Now the birth of Yashawai Mashayach was like this; because when his mother, Marayam, had been engaged to Yawasap, before they came together, she was found pregnant by the Holy Spirit. ¹⁹ Yawasap, her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing to make her a public example, intended to put her away secretly. ²⁰ But when he thought about these things, behold, an angel of the Adanay appeared to him in a dream, saying, "Yawasap, you son of Dawad, don't be afraid to take to yourself Marayam, your wife, for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Spirit. ²¹ She shall bring forth a son. You shall call his name JESUS, for it is he who shall save his people from their sins." ²² Now all this has happened, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Adanay through the prophet, saying, ²³ "Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son. They shall call his name Imanawaal;" which is, being interpreted, "Alahayam with us." ²⁴ Yawasap arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Adanay commanded him, and took his wife to himself; ²⁵ and didn't know her sexually until she had brought forth her firstborn son. He named him JESUS.

2 Now when Yashawai was born in Bayathalacham of Yahawadah in the days of Hawaradawas, the king, behold, wise men from the east came to Yarawashalam, saying, ² "Where is he who is born King of the Jews? For we saw his star in the east, and have come to worship him." ³ When Hawaradawas the king heard it, he was troubled, and all Yarawashalam with him. ⁴ Gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he asked them where the Mashayach would be born. ⁵ They said to him, "In Bayathalacham of Yahawadah, for thus it is written through the prophet, ⁶ 'You Bayathalacham, land of Yahawadah, Are in no way least among the princes of Yahawadah: For out of you shall come forth a governor, Who shall shepherd my people, Yasharaal'".

⁷ Then Hawaradawas secretly called the wise men, and learned from them exactly what time the star appeared. ⁸ He sent them to Bayathalacham, and said, "Go and search diligently for the young child. When you have found him, bring me word, so that I also may come and worship him." ⁹ They, having heard the king, went their way; and behold, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, until it came and stood over where the young child was. ¹⁰ When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceedingly great joy.

¹¹ They came into the house and saw the young child with Marayam, his mother, and they fell down and worshipped him. Opening their treasures, they offered to him gifts: gold, frankincense, and myrrh. ¹² Being warned in a dream that they shouldn't return to Hawaradawas, they went back to their own country another way. ¹³ Now when they had departed, behold, an angel of the Adanay appeared to Yawasap in a dream, saying, "Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Matzarayam, and stay there until I tell you, for Hawaradawas will seek the young child to destroy him." ¹⁴ He arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Matzarayam, ¹⁵ and was there until the death of Hawaradawas; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Adanay through the prophet, saying, "Out of Matzarayam I called my son." ¹⁶ Then Hawaradawas, when he saw that he was mocked by the wise men, was exceedingly angry, and sent forth, and killed all the male children who were in Bayathalacham, and in all the surrounding countryside, from two years old and under, according to the exact time which he had learned from the wise men. ¹⁷ Then that which was spoken by Yaramayahaw the prophet was fulfilled, saying,

²² But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Yahawadah in the place of his father, Hawaradawas, he was afraid to go there. Being warned in a dream, he withdrew into the region of Galayal, ²³ and came and lived in a city called Natzarath; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophets: "He will be called a Nazarene."

3 In those days, Yawachanan the Baptizer came, preaching in the wilderness of Yahawadah, saying, ² "Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand!" ³ For this is he who was spoken of by Yashaiyahaw the prophet, saying, "The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make ready the way of the Adanay, Make his paths straight." ⁴ Now Yawachanan himself had clothing made of camel's hair, and a leather belt around his waist. His food was locusts and wild honey. ⁵ Then people from Yarawashalam, all of Yahawadah, and all the region around the Yaradan went out to him. ⁶ They were baptized by him in the Yaradan, confessing their sins. ⁷ But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming for his baptism, he said to them, "You offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the wrath to come?" ⁸ Therefore bring forth fruit worthy of repentance! ⁹ Don't think to yourselves, 'We have Abaraham for our father,' for I tell you that Alahayam is able to raise up children to Abaraham from these stones. ¹⁰ Even now the ax lies at the root of the trees. Therefore, every tree that doesn't bring forth good fruit is cut down, and cast into the fire.¹¹ I indeed baptize you in water for repentance, but he who comes after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to carry. He shall baptize you in the Holy Spirit.¹² His winnowing fork is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing floor. He will gather his wheat into the barn, but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire."¹³ Then Yashawai came from Galayal to the Yaranan to Yawachanan, to be baptized by him.¹⁴ But Yawachanan would have hindered him, saying, "I need to be baptized by you, and you come to me?"¹⁵ But Yashawai, answering, said to him, "Allow it now, for this is the fitting way for us to fulfill all righteousness." Then he allowed him.¹⁶ Yashawai, when he was baptized, went up directly from the water: and behold, the heavens were opened to him. He saw the Spirit of Alahayam descending as a dove, and coming on him.¹⁷ Behold, a voice out of the heavens said, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

4 Then Yashawai was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil.² When he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was hungry afterward.³ The tempter came and said to him, "If you are the Son of Alahayam, command that these stones become bread."⁴ But he answered, "It is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds out of the mouth of Alahayam.'"⁵ Then the devil took him into the holy city. He set him on the pinnacle of the temple,⁶ and said to him, "If you are the Son of Alahayam, throw yourself down, for it is written, 'He will give his angels charge concerning you,' and, 'On their hands they will bear you up, So that you don't dash your foot against a stone.'"⁷ Yashawai said to him, "Again, it is written, 'You shall not test the Adanay, your Alahayam.'"⁸ Again, the devil took him to an exceedingly high mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world, and their glory.⁹ He said to him, "I will give you all of these things, if you will fall down and worship me."¹⁰ Then Yashawai said to him, "Get behind me, Satan! For it is written, 'You shall worship the Adanay your Alahayam, and him only shall you serve.'"¹¹ Then the devil left him, and behold, angels came and ministered to him.¹² Now when Yashawai heard that Yawachanan was delivered up, he withdrew into Galayal.¹³ Leaving Natzarath, he came and lived in Kapananachawam, which is by the sea, in the region of Zabawalan and Napathalay,¹⁴ that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Yashaiyahaw the prophet, saying,¹⁵ "The land of Zabawalan and the land of Napathalay, Toward the sea, beyond the Yaranan, Galayal of the Gentiles,¹⁶ The people who sat in darkness saw a great light, To those who sat in the region and shadow of death, To them did light spring up."¹⁷ From that time, Yashawai began to preach, and to say, "Repent! For the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand."¹⁸ Walking by the sea of Galayal, he saw two brothers: Shamaiwan, who is called Kayapaa, and Anadaray, his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishermen.¹⁹ He said to them, "Come, follow me, and I will make you fishers for men."²⁰ They immediately left their nets, and followed him.²¹ Going on from there, he saw two other brothers, Yaiqab, the son of Zebedee, and Yawachanan, his brother, in the boat with Zebedee, their father, mending their nets. He called them.²² They immediately left the boat and their father, and followed him.²³ Yashawai went about in all Galayal, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness among the people.²⁴ The report about him went forth into all Aram. They brought to him all who were sick, afflicted with various diseases and torments, possessed with demons, epileptics, and paralytics; and he healed them.²⁵ Great multitudes from Galayal, Decapolis, Yarawashalam, Yahawadah and from beyond the Yaranan followed him.

5 Seeing the multitudes, he went up onto a mountain. When he had sat down, his disciples came to him.² He opened his mouth and taught them, saying,³ "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven."⁴ "Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted."⁵ "Blessed are the humble, for they shall inherit the earth."⁶ "Blessed are those who hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled."⁷ "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."⁸ "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see Alahayam."⁹ "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of Alahayam."¹⁰ "Blessed are those who have been persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven."¹¹ "Blessed are you when people reproach you, persecute you, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely, for my sake."¹² "Rejoice, and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven. For that is how they persecuted the prophets who were before you."¹³ You are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost its flavor, what will it be salted with? It is then good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under the feet of men."¹⁴ You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill can't be hid.¹⁵ Neither do you light a lamp, and put it under a bushel basket, but on a stand; and it shines to all who are in the house.¹⁶ Even so, let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.¹⁷ Don't think that I came to destroy the law or the prophets. I didn't come to destroy, but to fulfill.¹⁸ For most assuredly, I tell you, until heaven and earth pass away, not even one smallest letter or one tiny pen stroke shall in any way pass away from the law, until all things are accomplished.¹⁹ Whoever, therefore, shall break one of these least commandments, and teach others to do so, shall be called least in the Kingdom of Heaven; but whoever shall do and teach them shall be called great in the Kingdom of Heaven.²⁰ For I tell you, that unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, there is no way you shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.²¹ "You have heard that it was said to them of old time, 'You shall not murder;' and 'Whoever shall murder shall be in danger of the judgment.'"²² But I tell you, that everyone who is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment; and whoever shall say to his brother, 'Raca,' shall be in danger of the council; and whoever shall say, 'You fool,' shall be in danger of the fire of Gehenna.²³ If therefore you are offering your gift at the altar, and there remember that your brother has anything against you,²⁴ leave your gift there before the altar, and go your way. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.²⁵ Agree with your adversary quickly, while you are with him in the way; lest perhaps the prosecutor deliver you to the judge, and the judge deliver you to the officer, and you be cast into prison.²⁶ Most assuredly I tell you, you shall by no means get out of there, until you have paid the last penny.²⁷ "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not commit adultery;' "²⁸ but I tell you that everyone who gazes at a woman to lust after her has committed adultery with her already in his heart.²⁹ If your right eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out and cast it from you. For it is profitable for you that one of your members should perish, than for your whole body to be cast into Gehenna.³⁰ If your right hand causes you to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from you: for it is profitable for you that one of your members should perish, and not your whole body be cast into Gehenna.³¹ "It was also said, 'Whoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorce,' "³² but I tell you that whoever who puts away his wife, except for the cause of sexual immorality, makes her an adulteress; and whoever shall marry her when she is put away commits adultery.³³ "Again you have heard that it was said to them of old time, 'You shall not make false vows, but shall perform to the Adanay your vows,' "³⁴ but I tell you, don't swear at all: neither by heaven, for it is the throne of Alahayam; ³⁵ nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor by Yarawashalam, for it is the city of the great King.³⁶ Neither shall you swear by your head, for you can't make one hair white or black.³⁷ But let your speech be, 'Yes, yes; No, no.' Whatever is more than these is of the evil one.³⁸ You have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.' "³⁹ But I tell you, don't resist him who is evil; but whoever strikes you on your right cheek, turn to him the other also.⁴⁰ If any man would go to law with you and take away your coat, let him have your cloak also.⁴¹ Whoever compels you to go one mile, go with him two.⁴² Give to him who asks you, and don't turn away from him who desires to borrow from you.⁴³ "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor, and hate your enemy.'⁴⁴ But I tell you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who spitefully use you and persecute you,⁴⁵ that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the just and the unjust.⁴⁶ For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Don't even the tax collectors do the same?⁴⁷ If you only greet your friends, what more do you do than others? Don't even the tax collectors do the same?⁴⁸ Therefore you shall be perfect, just as your Father in heaven is perfect.

6 "Be careful that you don't do your charitable giving before men, to be seen by them, or else you have no reward with your Father who is in heaven.² Therefore when you do merciful deeds, don't sound a trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may get glory from men. Most assuredly, I tell you, they have received their reward.³ But when you do merciful deeds, don't let your left hand know what your right hand does,⁴ so that your merciful deeds may be in secret, then your Father who sees in secret will reward you openly.⁵ "When you pray, you shall not be as the hypocrites, for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen by men. Most assuredly, I tell you, they have received their reward.⁶ But you, when you pray, enter into your inner chamber, and having shut your door, pray to your Father who is in secret, and your Father who sees in secret will reward you openly.⁷ In praying, don't use vain repetitions, as the Gentiles do; for they think that they will be heard for their much speaking.⁸ Therefore don't be like them, for your Father knows what things you need, before you ask him.⁹ Pray like this. 'Our Father, who is in heaven, may your name be kept holy.¹⁰ May your kingdom come. May your will be done, as in heaven, so on earth.¹¹ Give us this day our daily bread.¹² Forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors.¹³ Bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For yours is the kingdom, the power and the glory forever. Amen.'¹⁴ For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.¹⁵ But if you don't forgive men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.¹⁶ Moreover when you fast, don't be, as the hypocrites, with sad faces. For they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen by men to be fasting. Most assuredly I tell you, they have received their reward.¹⁷ But you, when you fast, anoint your head, and wash your face;¹⁸ that you are not seen by men to be fasting, but by your Father who is in secret, and your Father, who sees in secret, will reward you.¹⁹ "Don't lay up treasures for yourselves on the earth, where moth and rust consume, and where thieves break through and steal;²⁰ but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consume, and where thieves don't break through and steal;²¹ for where your treasure is, your heart will be there also.²² The lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore your eye is sound, your whole body will be full of light.²³ But if your eye is evil, your whole body will be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!²⁴ "No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. You can't serve both Alahayam and Mammon.²⁵ Therefore, I tell you, don't be anxious for your life, what you will eat, or what you will drink; nor yet for your body, what you will put on. Isn't life more than food, and the body more than clothing?²⁶ See the birds of the sky, that they don't sow, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns. Your heavenly Father feeds them. Aren't you of much more value than they?²⁷ Which of you, by being anxious, can add one cubit to the measure of his life?²⁸ Why are you anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow. They don't toil, neither do they spin,²⁹ yet I tell you that even Shalahmah in all his glory was not dressed like one of these.³⁰ But if Alahayam so clothes the grass of the field, which today exists, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, won't he much more clothe you, you of little faith?³¹ Therefore don't be anxious, saying, 'What will we eat?', 'What will we drink?' or, 'With what will we be clothed?'³² For the Gentiles seek after all these things, for your heavenly Father knows that you need all these things.³³ But seek first Alahayam's Kingdom, and his righteousness; and all these things will be added to you.³⁴ Therefore don't be anxious for tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Each day's own evil is sufficient.

7 "Don't judge, so that you won't be judged.² For with whatever judgment you judge, you will be judged: and with whatever measure you measure, it will be measured to you.³ Why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye, but don't consider the beam that is in your own eye?⁴ Or how will you tell your brother, 'Let me remove the speck from your eye;' and behold, the beam is in your own eye?⁵ You hypocrite! First remove the beam out of your own eye, and then you can see clearly to remove the speck out of your brother's eye.⁶ "Don't give that which is holy to the dogs, neither cast your pearls before the pigs, lest perhaps they trample them under their feet, and turn and tear you to pieces.⁷ "Ask, and it will be given you. Seek, and you will find. Knock, and it will be opened to you.⁸ For everyone who asks receives. He who seeks finds. To him who knocks it will be opened.⁹ Or what man is there of you, who, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone?¹⁰ Or if he asks for a fish, who will give him a serpent?¹¹ If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him!¹² Therefore whatever you desire for men to do to you, you shall also do to them; for this is the law and the prophets.¹³ Enter in by the narrow gate; for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leads to destruction, and many are those who enter in by it.¹⁴ How narrow is the gate, and restricted is the way that leads to life! Few are those who find it.¹⁵ "Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves.¹⁶ By their fruits you will know them. Do you gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles?¹⁷ Even so, every good tree brings forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree brings forth evil fruit.¹⁸ A good tree can't bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.¹⁹ Every tree that doesn't grow good fruit is cut down, and thrown into the fire.²⁰ Therefore, by their fruits you will know them.²¹ Not everyone who says to me, 'Adanay, Adanay,' will enter into the Kingdom of Heaven; but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven.²² Many will tell me in that day, 'Adanay, Adanay, didn't we prophesy by your name, by your name cast out demons, and by your name do many mighty works?'²³ Then I will tell them, 'I never knew you. Depart from me, you who work iniquity.'²⁴ "Everyone therefore who hears these words of mine, and does them, I will liken him to a wise man, who built his house on a rock.²⁵ The rain came down, the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat on that house; and it didn't fall, for it was founded on the rock.²⁶ Everyone who hears these words of mine, and doesn't do them will be like a foolish man, who built his house on the sand.²⁷ The rain came down, the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat on that house; and it fell -- and great was its fall."²⁸ It happened, when Yashawai had finished saying these things, that the multitudes were astonished at his teaching,²⁹ for he taught them with authority, and not like the scribes.

8 When he came down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.² Behold, a leper came to him and worshipped him, saying, "Adanay, if you want to, you can make me clean."³ Yashawai stretched out his hand, and touched him, saying, "I want to. Be made clean." Immediately his leprosy was cleansed.⁴ Yashawai said to him, "See that you tell nobody, but go, show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift that Mashah commanded, as a testimony to them."⁵ When he came into Kaparanachawam, a centurion came to him, asking him,⁶ and saying, "Adanay, my servant lies in the house paralyzed, grievously tormented."⁷ Yashawai said to him, "I will come and heal him."⁸ The centurion answered, "Adanay, I'm not worthy for you to come under my roof. Just say the word, and my servant will be healed."⁹ For I am also a man under authority, having under myself soldiers. I tell this one, 'Go,' and he goes; and to another, 'Come,' and he comes; and to my servant, 'Do this,' and he does it."¹⁰ When Yashawai heard it, he marveled, and said to those who followed, "Most assuredly I tell you, I haven't found so great a faith, not even in Yasharaal.¹¹ I tell you that many will come from the east and the west, and will sit down with Abaram, and Yatzachaq, and Yaiqab, in the Kingdom of Heaven,¹² but the sons of the kingdom will be thrown out into the outer darkness. There will be weeping and the gnashing of teeth."¹³ Yashawai said to the centurion, "Go your way. Let it be done for you as you have believed." His servant was healed in that hour.¹⁴ When Yashawai came into Kayapaa's house, he saw his wife's mother lying sick of a fever.¹⁵ He touched her hand, and the fever left her. She got up and served him.¹⁶ When evening came, they brought to him many possessed with demons. He cast out the spirits with a word, and healed all who were sick;¹⁷ that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Yashaiyahaw the prophet, saying: "He took our infirmities, and bore our diseases."¹⁸ Now when Yashawai saw great multitudes about him, he gave the order to depart to the other side.¹⁹ A scribe came, and said to him, "Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go."²⁰ Yashawai said to him, "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head."²¹ Another of his disciples said to him, "Adanay, allow me first to go and bury my father."²² But Yashawai said to him, "Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead."²³ When he got into a boat, his disciples followed him.²⁴ Behold, a great tempest arose in the sea, so much that the boat was covered with the waves, but he was asleep.²⁵ They came to him, and woke him up, saying, "Save us, Adanay! We are dying!"²⁶ He said to them, "Why are you fearful, oh you of little faith?" Then he got up, rebuked the wind and the sea, and there was a great calm.²⁷ The men marveled, saying, "What kind of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?"²⁸ When he came to the other side, into the country of the Gergesenes, two people possessed with demons met him there, coming forth out of the tombs, exceedingly fierce, so that no man could pass by that way.²⁹ Behold, they cried out, saying, "What do we have to do with you, Yashawai, Son of Alahayam? Have you come here to torment us before the time?"³⁰ Now there was a herd of many pigs feeding far away from them.³¹ The demons begged him, saying, "If you cast us out, permit us to go away into the herd of pigs."³² He said to them, "Go!" They came out, and went into the herd of pigs: and behold, the whole herd of pigs rushed down the cliff into the sea, and died in the water.³³ Those who fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, and what happened to those who were possessed with demons.³⁴ Behold, all the city came out to meet Yashawai. When they saw him, they begged that he would depart from their borders.

9 He entered into a boat, and crossed over, and came into his own city.² Behold, they brought to him a man who was paralyzed, lying on a bed. Yashawai, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, "Son, cheer up! Your sins are forgiven you."³ Behold, some of the scribes said to themselves, "This man blasphemes."⁴ Yashawai, knowing their thoughts, said, "Why do you think evil in your hearts?⁵ For which is easier, to say, 'Your sins are forgiven;' or to say, 'Get up, and walk?'⁶ But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins..." (then he said to the paralytic), "Get up, and take up your mat, and go up to your house."⁷ He arose and departed to his house.⁸ But when the multitudes saw it, they marveled and glorified Alahayam, who had given such authority to men.⁹ As Yashawai passed by from there, he saw a man called Mathathayahaw, sitting at the tax collection office. He said to him, "Follow me." He got up and followed him.¹⁰ It happened, as he sat at the table in the house, behold, many tax collectors and sinners came and sat down with Yashawai and his disciples.¹¹ When the Pharisees saw it, they said to his disciples, "Why does your teacher eat with the tax collectors and sinners?"¹² When Yashawai heard it, he said to them, "Those who are healthy have no need for a physician, but those who are sick do."¹³ But you go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,' for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."¹⁴ Then Yawachanan's disciples came to him, saying, "Why do we and the Pharisees fast often, but your disciples don't fast?"¹⁵ Yashawai said to them, "Can the friends of the bridegroom mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? But the days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast."¹⁶ No one puts a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old garment; for the patch would tear away from the garment, and a worse hole is made.¹⁷ Neither do people put new wine into old wineskins, or else the skins would burst, and the wine be spilled, and the skins ruined. No, they put new wine into fresh wineskins, and both are preserved."¹⁸ While he told these things to them, behold, a ruler came and worshipped him, saying, "My daughter has just died, but come and lay your hand on her, and she will live."¹⁹ Yashawai got up and followed him, as did his disciples.²⁰ Behold, a woman, who had an issue of blood for twelve years, came behind him, and touched the tassels of his garment;²¹ for she said within herself, "If I just touch his garment, I will be made well."²² But Yashawai, turning around and seeing her, said, "Daughter, cheer up! Your faith has made you well." And the woman was made well from that hour.²³ When Yashawai came into the ruler's house, and saw the flute players, and the crowd in noisy disorder,²⁴ he said to them, "Make room, because the young lady isn't dead, but sleeping." They laughed him to scorn.²⁵ But when the crowd was put out, he entered in, took her by the hand, and the young lady arose.²⁶ The report of this went forth into all that land.²⁷ As Yashawai passed by from there, two blind men followed him, calling out and saying, "Have mercy on us, son of Dawad!"²⁸ When he had come into the house, the blind men came to him. Yashawai said to them, "Do you believe that I am able to do this?" They told him, "Yes, Adanay."²⁹ Then he touched their eyes, saying, "According to your faith be it done to you."³⁰ Their eyes were opened. Yashawai strictly charged them, saying, "See that no one knows about this."³¹ But they went out and spread abroad his fame in all that land.³² As they went forth, behold, there was brought to him a mute man who was demon possessed.³³ When the demon was cast out, the mute man spoke. The multitudes marveled, saying, "Nothing like this has ever been seen in Yasharaal!"³⁴ But the Pharisees said, "By the prince of the demons, he casts out demons."³⁵ Yashawai went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness among the people.³⁶ But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion for them, because they were weary and scattered, as sheep without a shepherd.³⁷ Then he said to his disciples, "The harvest indeed is plentiful, but the laborers are few.³⁸ Pray therefore that the Adanay of the harvest will send forth laborers into his harvest."

10 He called to himself his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal every disease and every sickness.² Now the names of the twelve apostles are these. The first, Shamaian, who is called Kayapaa; Anadaray, his brother; Yaiqab the son of Zebedee; Yawachanan, his brother;³ Payalayapawas; Barathalam; Thaawam; Mathathayahaw, the tax collector; Yaiqab the son of Alphaeus; and Lebbaeus, whose surname was Thaday;⁴ Shamaian the Canaanite; and Yahawadah Iscariot, who also betrayed him.⁵ Yashawai sent these twelve forth, and charged them, saying, "Don't go among the Gentiles, and don't enter into any city of the Samaritans.⁶ Rather, go to the lost sheep of the house of Yasharaal.⁷ As you go, preach, saying, 'The Kingdom of Heaven is at hand.'⁸ Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, and cast out demons. Freely you received, so freely give.⁹ Don't take any gold, nor silver, nor brass in your money belts.¹⁰ Take no bag for your journey, neither two coats, nor shoes, nor staff: for the laborer is worthy of his food.¹¹ Into whatever city or village you enter, find out who in it is worthy; and stay there until you go on.¹² As you enter into the household, greet it.¹³ If the household is worthy, let your peace come on it, but if it isn't worthy, let your peace return to you.¹⁴ Whoever doesn't receive you, nor hear your words, as you go forth out of that house or that city, shake off the dust from your feet.¹⁵ Most assuredly I tell you, It will be more tolerable for the land of Sadam and Imarah in the day of judgment, than for that city.¹⁶ Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore be wise as serpents, and harmless as doves.¹⁷ But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to councils, and in their synagogues they will scourge you.¹⁸ Yes, and you will be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the Gentiles.¹⁹ But when they deliver you up, don't be anxious how or what you will say, for it will be given you in that hour what you will say.²⁰ For it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you.²¹ Brother will deliver up brother to death, and the father his child. Children will rise up against parents, and cause them to be put to death.²² You will be hated by all men for my name's sake, but he who endures to the end, the same will be saved.²³ But when they persecute you in this city, flee into the next, for most assuredly I tell you, you will not have gone through the cities of Yasharaal, until the Son of Man has come.²⁴ "A disciple is not above his teacher, nor a servant above his lord.²⁵ It is enough for the disciple that he be like his teacher, and the servant like his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebul, how much more them of his household!"²⁶ Therefore don't be afraid of them, for there is nothing covered, that will not be revealed; and hidden, that will not be known.²⁷ What I tell you in the darkness, speak in the light; and what you hear whispered in the ear, proclaim on the housetops.²⁸ Don't be afraid of those who kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul. Rather, fear him who is able to destroy both soul and body in Gehenna.²⁹ "Aren't two sparrows sold for an assarion? Not one of them falls on the ground apart from your Father's will,³⁰ but the very hairs of your head are all numbered.³¹ Therefore don't be afraid, you are of more value than many sparrows.³² Everyone therefore who confesses me before men, him will I also confess before my Father who is in heaven.³³ But whoever denies me before men, him will I also deny before my Father who is in heaven.³⁴ "Don't think that I came to send peace on the earth. I didn't come to send peace, but a sword.³⁵ For I came to set a man at odds against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.³⁶ A man's foes will be those of his own household.³⁷ He who loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he who loves son or daughter more than me isn't worthy of me.³⁸ He who doesn't take his cross and follow after me, isn't worthy of me.³⁹ He who finds his life will lose it; and he who loses his life for my sake will find it.⁴⁰ He who receives you receives me, and he who receives me receives him who sent me.⁴¹ He who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet will receive a prophet's reward; and he who receives a righteous man in the name of a righteous man will receive a righteous man's reward.⁴² Whoever gives one of these little ones just a cup of cold water to drink, in the name of a disciple, most assuredly I tell you he will in no way lose his reward."

11 It happened that when Yashawai had finished directing his twelve disciples, he departed there to teach and preach in their cities.² Now when Yawachanan heard in the prison the works of Mashayach, he sent two of his disciples³ and said to him, "Are you he who comes, or should we look for another?"⁴ Yashawai answered them, "Go and tell Yawachanan the things which you hear and see:⁵ the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have good news preached to them.⁶ Blessed is he, whoever finds no occasion for stumbling in me."⁷ As these went their way, Yashawai began to say to the multitudes concerning Yawachanan, "What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind?⁸ But what did you go out to see? A man in soft clothing? Behold, those who wear soft clothing are in king's houses.⁹ But why did you go out? To see a prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a prophet.¹⁰ For this is he, of whom it is written, 'Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you.'¹¹ Most assuredly I tell you, among those who are born of women there has not arisen anyone greater than Yawachanan the Baptizer; yet he who is least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he.¹² From the days of Yawachanan the Baptizer until now, the Kingdom of Heaven suffers violence, and the violent take it by force.¹³ For all the prophets and the law prophesied until Yawachanan.¹⁴ If you are willing to receive it, this is Alayahaw, who is to come.¹⁵ He who has ears to hear, let him hear.¹⁶ "But what will I compare this generation to? It is like children sitting in the marketplaces, who call to their companions¹⁷ and say, 'We played the flute for you, and you didn't dance. We mourned for you, and you didn't lament.'¹⁸ For Yawachanan came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, 'He has a demon.'¹⁹ The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, 'Behold, a gluttonous man and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!' But wisdom is justified by her children."²⁰ Then he began to denounce the cities in which most of his mighty works were done, because they didn't repent.²¹ "Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works had been done in Tzar and Tzayadawan which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.²² But I tell you, it will be more tolerable for Tzar and Tzayadawan in the day of judgment than for you.²³ You, Kaparanachawam, who are exalted to Heaven, you will go down to Hades. For if the mighty works had been done in Sadam which were done in you, it would have remained until this day.²⁴ But I tell you that it will be more tolerable for the land of Sadam, in the day of judgment, than for you."²⁵ At that time, Yashawai answered, "I thank you, Father, Adanay of heaven and earth, that you hid these things from the wise and understanding, and revealed them to infants.²⁶ Yes, Father, for so it was well-pleasing in your sight.²⁷ All things have been delivered to me by my Father. No one knows the Son, except the Father; neither does anyone know the Father, except the Son, and he to whoever the Son wants to reveal him.²⁸ "Come to me, all you who labor and are heavily burdened, and I will give you rest.²⁹ Take my yoke on you, and learn from me, for I am humble and lowly in heart; and you will find rest for your souls.³⁰ For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

12 At that time, Yashawai went on the Sabbath day through the grain fields. His disciples were hungry and began to pluck heads of grain and to eat.² But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said to him, "Behold, your disciples do what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath."³ But he said to them, "Haven't you read what Dawad did, when he was hungry, and those who were with him;⁴ how he entered into the house of Alahayam, and ate the show bread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for those who were with him, but only for the priests?⁵ Or have you not read in the law, that on the Sabbath day, the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath, and are guiltless?⁶ But I tell you that one greater than the temple is here.⁷ But if you had known what this means, 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,' you would not have condemned the guiltless.⁸ For the Son of Man is Adanay of the Sabbath."⁹ He departed there, and went into their synagogue.¹⁰ And behold there was, a man with a withered hand. They asked him, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath day?" that they might accuse him.¹¹ He said to them, "What man is there among you, who has one sheep, and if this one falls into a pit on the Sabbath day, will he not grab on to it, and lift it out?¹² How much, then, is a man of more value than a sheep! Therefore it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath day."¹³ Then he told the man, "Stretch out your hand." He stretched it out; and it was restored whole, just like the other.¹⁴ But the Pharisees went out, and took counsel against him, how they might destroy him.¹⁵ Yashawai, perceiving that, withdrew from there. Great multitudes followed him; and he healed them all,¹⁶ and charged them that they should not make him known:¹⁷ that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Yashaiyahaw the prophet, saying,¹⁸ "Behold, my servant whom I have chosen; My beloved in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit on him, He will declare judgment to the Gentiles.¹⁹ He will not strive, nor shout; Neither will anyone hear his voice in the streets.²⁰ He won't break a bruised reed, He won't quench a smoking flax, Until he sends forth judgment to victory.²¹ In his name, the Gentiles will hope."²² Then there was brought to him one possessed by a demon, blind and mute, and he healed him, so that the blind and mute man both spoke and saw.²³ All the multitudes were amazed, and said, "Can this be the son of Dawad?"

²⁴ But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, "This man does not cast out demons, except by Beelzebul, the prince of the demons."

³² Whoever speaks a word against the Son of Man, it will be forgiven him; but whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit, it will not be forgiven him, neither in this world, nor in that which is to come.

³⁴ You offspring of vipers, how can you, being evil, speak good things? For out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaks.

³⁵ The good man out of his good treasure brings forth good things, and the evil man out of his evil treasure brings forth evil things. ³⁶ I tell you that every idle word that men speak, they will give account of it in the day of judgment. ³⁷ For by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned."

³⁸ Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered, saying, "Teacher, we want to see a sign from you." ³⁹ But he answered them, "An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and there will no sign be given it but the sign of Yawanah, the prophet. ⁴⁰ For as Yawanah was three days and three nights in the belly of the whale, so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

⁴⁶ While he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, his mother and his brothers stood outside, seeking to speak to him. ⁴⁷ One said to him, "Behold, your mother and your brothers stand outside, seeking to speak to you." ⁴⁸ But he answered him who told him, "Who is my mother? Who are my brothers?" ⁴⁹ He stretched forth his hand towards his disciples, and said, "Behold, my mother and my brothers! ⁵⁰ For whoever will do the will of my Father who is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother."

13 On that day Yashawai went out of the house, and sat by the seaside. ² Great multitudes gathered to him, so that he entered into a boat, and sat, and all the multitude stood on the beach. ³ He spoke to them many things in parables, saying, "Behold, the farmer went forth to sow. ⁴ As he sowed, some seeds fell by the roadside, and the birds came and devoured them. ⁵ Others fell on rocky ground, where they didn't have much soil, and immediately they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth. ⁶ When the sun had risen, they were scorched. Because they had no root, they withered away. ⁷ Others fell on thorns. The thorns grew up and choked them: ⁸ and others fell on good soil, and yielded fruit: some one hundred times, some sixty, and some thirty. ⁹ He who has ears to hear, let him hear." ¹⁰ The disciples came, and said to him, "Why do you speak to them in parables?" ¹¹ He answered them, "To you it is given to know the mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven, but it is not given to them. ¹² For whoever has, to him will be given, and he will have abundance, but whoever doesn't have, from him will be taken away even that which he has. ¹³ Therefore I speak to them in parables, because seeing they don't see, and hearing, they don't hear, neither do they understand. ¹⁴ In them the prophecy of Yashaiyahaw is fulfilled, which says, 'By hearing you will hear, and will in no way understand; Seeing you will see, and will in no way perceive: ¹⁵ For this people's heart has grown callous, Their ears are dull of hearing, Their eyes they have closed; Or else perhaps they might perceive with their eyes, Hear with their ears, Understand with their heart, And should turn again; And I would heal them.' ¹⁶ But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. ¹⁷ For most assuredly I tell you that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which you see, and didn't see them; and to hear the things which you hear, and didn't hear them. ¹⁸ "Hear, then, the parable of the farmer. ¹⁹ When anyone hears the word of the kingdom, and doesn't understand it, the evil one comes, and snatches away that which has been sown in his heart. This is what was sown by the roadside. ²⁰ What was sown on the rocky places, this is he who hears the word, and immediately with joy receives it; ²¹ yet he has no root in himself, but endures for a while. When oppression or persecution arises because of the word, immediately he stumbles. ²² What was sown among the thorns, this is he who hears the word, but the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and he becomes unfruitful. ²³ What was sown on the good ground, this is he who hears the word, and understands it, who most assuredly bears fruit, and brings forth, some one hundred times, some sixty, some thirty." ²⁴ He set another parable before them, saying, "The Kingdom of Heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field, ²⁵ but while people slept, his enemy came and sowed darnel also among the wheat, and went away. ²⁶ But when the blade sprang up and brought forth fruit, then the darnel appeared also. ²⁷ The servants of the householder came and said to him, 'Sir, didn't you sow good seed in your field? Where did this darnel come from?' ²⁸ He said to them, 'An enemy has done this.' The servants asked him, 'Do you want us to go and gather them up?' ²⁹ But he said, 'No, lest perhaps while you gather up the darnel, you root up the wheat with them. ³⁰ Let both grow together until the harvest, and in the harvest time I will tell the reapers, 'First, gather up the darnel, and bind them in bundles to burn them; but gather the wheat into my barn.'"³¹ He set another parable before them, saying, "The Kingdom of Heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field; ³² which indeed is smaller than all seeds. But when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in its branches." ³³ He spoke another parable to them. "The Kingdom of Heaven is like yeast, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, until it was all leavened." ³⁴ Yashawai spoke all these things in parables to the multitudes; and without a parable, he didn't speak to them, ³⁵ that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying, "I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world." ³⁶ Then Yashawai sent the multitudes away, and went into the house. His disciples came to him, saying, "Explain to us the parable of the darnel of the field." ³⁷ He answered them, "He who sows the good seed is the Son of Man, ³⁸ the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom; and the darnel are the sons of the evil one. ³⁹ The enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are angels. ⁴⁰ As therefore the darnel is gathered up and burned with fire; so will it be in the end of this age. ⁴¹ The Son of Man will send forth his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all things that cause stumbling, and those who do iniquity, ⁴² and will cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be weeping and the gnashing of teeth. ⁴³ Then the righteous will shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears to hear, let him hear. ⁴⁴ "The Kingdom of Heaven is like a treasure hidden in the field, which a man found, and hid. In his joy, he goes and sells all that he has, and buys that field.⁴⁵ "Again, the Kingdom of Heaven is like a man who is a merchant seeking fine pearls,⁴⁶ who having found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.⁴⁷ "Again, the Kingdom of Heaven is like a dragnet, that was cast into the sea, and gathered some fish of every kind,⁴⁸ which, when it was filled, they drew up on the beach. They sat down, and gathered the good into containers, but the bad they threw away.⁴⁹ So will it be in the end of the world. The angels will come forth, and separate the wicked from among the righteous,⁵⁰ and will cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth."⁵¹ Yashawai said to them, "Have you understood all these things?" They answered him, "Yes, Adanay."⁵² He said to them, "Therefore, every scribe who has been made a disciple to the Kingdom of Heaven is like a man who is a householder, who brings forth out of his treasure new and old things."⁵³ It happened, when Yashawai had finished these parables, he departed from there.⁵⁴ Coming into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, so much that they were astonished, and said, "Where did this man get this wisdom, and these mighty works?"⁵⁵ Isn't this the carpenter's son? Isn't his mother called Marayam, and his brothers, Yaiqab, Joses, Shamaiwan, and Yahawadah?⁵⁶ Aren't all of his sisters with us? Where, then did this man get all of these things?"⁵⁷ They were offended by him. But Yashawai said to them, "A prophet is not without honor, except in his own country, and in his own house."⁵⁸ He didn't do many mighty works there because of their unbelief.

14 At that time, Hawaradawas, the tetrarch, heard the report concerning Yashawai,² and said to his servants, "This is Yawachanan the Baptizer. He is risen from the dead. That is why these powers work in him."³ For Hawaradawas had laid hold of Yawachanan, and bound him, and put him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Payalayapawas's wife.⁴ For Yawachanan said to him, "It is not lawful for you to have her."⁵ When he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet.⁶ But when Hawaradawas's birthday came, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst, and pleased Hawaradawas.⁷ Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatever she should ask.⁸ She, being put forward by her mother, said, "Give me here on a platter the head of Yawachanan the Baptizer."⁹ The king was grieved, but for the sake of his oaths, and of those who sat at the table with him, he commanded it to be given,¹⁰ and he sent and beheaded Yawachanan in the prison.¹¹ His head was brought on a platter, and given to the young lady: and she brought it to her mother.¹² His disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it; and they went and told Yashawai.¹³ Now when Yashawai heard this, he withdrew from there in a boat, to a desert place apart. When the multitudes heard it, they followed him on foot from the cities.¹⁴ Yashawai went out, and he saw a great multitude. He had compassion on them, and healed their sick.¹⁵ When evening had come, his disciples came to him, saying, "The place is a desert, and the time is already past. Send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves food."¹⁶ But Yashawai said to them, "They don't need to go away. You give them something to eat."¹⁷ They told him, "We only have here five loaves and two fish."¹⁸ He said, "Bring them here to me."¹⁹ He commanded the multitudes to sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, broke and gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes.²⁰ They all ate, and were filled. They took up twelve baskets full of that which remained left over from the broken pieces.²¹ Those who ate were about five thousand men, besides women and children.²² Immediately Yashawai made the disciples get into the boat, and to go ahead of him to the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.²³ After he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into the mountain apart to pray. When evening had come, he was there alone.²⁴ But the boat was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the waves, for the wind was contrary.²⁵ In the fourth watch of the night Yashawai came to them, walking on the sea.²⁶ When the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, "It is a ghost!" and they cried out for fear.²⁷ But immediately Yashawai spoke to them, saying "Cheer up! I AM! Don't be afraid."²⁸ Kayapaa answered him and said, "Adanay, if it is you, command me to come to you on the waters."²⁹ He said, "Come!" Kayapaa went down from the boat, and walked on the waters to come to Yashawai.³⁰ But when he saw that the wind was strong, he was afraid, and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, "Adanay, save me!"³¹ Immediately Yashawai stretched forth his hand, and took hold of him, and said to him, "You of little faith, why did you doubt?"³² When they got up into the boat, the wind ceased.³³ Those who were in the boat came and worshipped him, saying, "You are truly the Son of Alahayam!"³⁴ When they had crossed over, they came to the land of Gennesaret.³⁵ When the men of that place recognized him, they sent into all that region round about, and brought to him all who were sick,³⁶ and they begged him that they might only touch the fringe of his garment. As many as touched it were made whole.

15 Then Pharisees and scribes come to Yashawai from Yawashalam, saying,² "Why do your disciples disobey the tradition of the elders? For they don't wash their hands when they eat bread."³ He answered them, "Why do you also disobey the commandment of Alahayam because of your tradition?"⁴ For Alahayam commanded, 'Honor your father and your mother,' and, 'He who speaks evil of father or mother, let him be put to death.'⁵ But you say, 'Whoever will tell his father or his mother, "Whatever help you might otherwise have gotten from me is a gift devoted to Alahayam,"' he will not honor his father or mother.' You have made the commandment of Alahayam void because of your tradition.⁷ You hypocrites! Well did Yashaiyahaw prophesy of you, saying,⁸ 'These people draw near to me with their mouth, And honor me with their lips; But their heart is far from me.' But in vain do they worship me, Teaching as doctrine rules made by men."¹⁰ He called the multitude to himself, and said to them, "Hear, and understand.¹¹ That which enters into the mouth doesn't defile the man; but that which proceeds out of the mouth, this defiles the man."¹² Then the disciples came, and said to him, "Do you know that the Pharisees were offended, when they heard this saying?"¹³ But he answered, "Every plant which my heavenly Father didn't plant will be uprooted."¹⁴ Let them alone. They are blind guides of the blind. If the blind guide the blind, both will fall into a pit."¹⁵ Kayapaa answered him, "Explain the parable to us."¹⁶ So Yashawai said, "Do you also still not understand?"¹⁷ Don't you understand that whatever goes into the mouth passes into the belly, and then out of the body?¹⁸ But the things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart, and they defile the man.¹⁹ For out of the heart come forth evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, sexual sins, thefts, false testimony, and blasphemies.²⁰ These are the things which defile the man; but to eat with unwashed hands doesn't defile the man."²¹ Yashawai went out from there, and withdrew into the parts of Tzar and Tzayadawan.²² Behold, a Canaanite woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, "Have mercy on me, Adanay, you son of Dawad. My daughter is grievously vexed with a demon."²³ But he answered her not a word. His disciples came and begged him, saying, "Send her away; for she cries after us."²⁴ But he answered, "I wasn't sent to anyone but the lost sheep of the house of Yasharaal."²⁵ But she came and worshipped him, saying, "Adanay, help me."²⁶ But he answered, "It is not appropriate to take the children's bread and throw it to the dogs."²⁷ But she said, "Yes, Adanay, but even the dogs eat the crumbs which fall from their masters' table."²⁸ Then Yashawai answered her, "Woman, great is your faith! Be it done to you even as you desire." And her daughter was healed from that hour.²⁹ Yashawai departed there, and came near to the sea of Galalay; and he went up into the mountain, and sat there.³⁰ There came to him great multitudes, having with them the lame, blind, mute, maimed, and many others, and they put them down at his feet. He healed them,³¹ so that the multitude wondered, when they saw the mute speaking, the injured whole, lame walking, and the blind seeing -- and they glorified the Alahayam of Yasharaal.³² Yashawai called his disciples to him, and said, "I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat. I don't want to send them away fasting, or they might faint on the way."³³ The disciples said to him, "Where should we get so many loaves in a desert place as to fill so great a multitude?"³⁴ Yashawai said to them, "How many loaves do you have?" They said, "Seven, and a few small fish."³⁵ He commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground;³⁶ and he took the seven loaves and the fish. He gave thanks and broke them, and gave to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes.³⁷ They all ate, and were filled. They took up seven baskets full of the broken pieces that were left over.³⁸ Those who ate were four thousand men, besides women and children.³⁹ He sent away the multitudes, and entered into the boat, and came into the borders of Magdala.

16 The Pharisees and Sadducees came, and testing him, asked him to show them a sign from heaven.² But he answered them, "When it is evening, you say, 'It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.'³ In the morning, 'It will be foul weather today, for the sky is red and threatening.' Hypocrites! You know how to discern the appearance of the sky, but you can't discern the signs of the times."⁴ An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and there will be no sign given to it, but the sign of the prophet Yawanah." He left them, and departed.⁵ The disciples came to the other side and forgot to take bread.⁶ Yashawai said to them, "Take heed and beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees."⁷ They reasoned among themselves, saying, "We took no bread."⁸ Yashawai, perceiving it, said, "Why do you reason among yourselves, you of little faith, 'because you have brought no bread?'⁹ Don't you yet perceive, neither remember the five loaves for the five thousand, and how many baskets you took up?¹⁰ Nor the seven loaves for the four thousand, and how many baskets you took up?¹¹ How is it that you don't perceive that I didn't speak to you concerning bread? But beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees."¹² Then they understood that he didn't tell them to beware of the yeast of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.¹³ Now when Yashawai came into the parts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, "Who do men say that I, the Son of Man, am?"¹⁴ They said, "Some say Yawachanan the Baptizer, some, Alayahaw, and others, Yaramayahaw, or one of the prophets."¹⁵ He said to them, "But who do you say that I am?"¹⁶ Shamaian Kayapaa answered, "You are the Mashayach, the Son of the living Alahayam."¹⁷ Yashawai answered him, "Blessed are you, Shamaian Bar-Yawanah, for flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my Father who is in heaven."¹⁸ I also tell you, that you are Kayapaa, and on this rock I will build my assembly, and the gates of Hades will not prevail against it.¹⁹ I will give to you the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven, and whatever you will bind on earth will be bound in heaven; and whatever you will loose on earth will be loosed in heaven."²⁰ Then he charged the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Mashayach.²¹ From that time, Yashawai began to show to his disciples that he must go to Yarawashalam and suffer many things from the elders, chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up.²² Kayapaa took him aside, and began to rebuke him, saying, "Far be it from you, Adanay! This will never be done to you."²³ But he turned, and said to Kayapaa, "Get behind me, Satan! You are a stumbling-block to me, for you are not setting your mind on the things of Alahayam, but the things of men."²⁴ Then Yashawai said to his disciples, "If any man desires to come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."²⁵ For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, and whoever will lose his life for my sake will find it.²⁶ For what will it profit a man, if he will gain the whole world, and forfeit his life? Or what will a man give in exchange for his life?²⁷ For the Son of Man will come in the glory of his Father with his angels, and then will he render to every man according to his deeds.²⁸ Most assuredly I tell you, there are some standing here, who will in no way taste of death, until they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom."

17 After six days, Yashawai took with him Kayapaa, Yaiqab, and Yawachanan, his brother, and brought them up into a high mountain by themselves.² He was transfigured before them. His face shone like the sun, and his garments became white as the light.³ Behold, there appeared to them Mashah and Alayahaw talking with him.⁴ Kayapaa answered, and said to Yashawai, "Adanay, it is good for us to be here. If you want, let's make three tents here: one for you, one for Mashah, and one for Alayahaw."⁵ While he was still speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them. Behold, a voice out of the cloud, saying, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Listen to him."⁶ When the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces, and were very afraid.⁷ Yashawai came and touched them and said, "Get up, and don't be afraid."⁸ Lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, except Yashawai alone.⁹ As they were coming down from the mountain, Yashawai commanded them, saying, "Don't tell anyone what you saw, until the Son of Man has risen from the dead."¹⁰ His disciples asked him, saying, "Then why do the scribes say that Alayahaw must come first?"¹¹ Yashawai answered them, "Alayahaw indeed comes first, and will restore all things,¹² but I tell you that Alayahaw has come already, and they didn't recognize him, but did to him whatever they wanted to. Even so will the Son of Man also suffer by them."¹³ Then the disciples understood that he spoke to them of Yawachanan the Baptizer.¹⁴ When they came to the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, saying,¹⁵ "Adanay, have mercy on my son, for he is epileptic, and suffers grievously; for he often falls into the fire, and often into the water."¹⁶ So I brought him to your disciples, and they could not cure him."¹⁷ Yashawai answered, "Faithless and perverse generation! How long will I be with you? How long will I bear with you? Bring him here to me."¹⁸ Yashawai rebuked him, the demon went out of him, and the boy was cured from that hour.¹⁹ Then the disciples came to Yashawai privately, and said, "Why couldn't we cast it out?"²⁰ He said to them, "Because of your unbelief. For most assuredly I tell you, if you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, you will tell this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move; and nothing will be impossible to you."²¹ But this kind doesn't go out except by prayer and fasting.²² While they were staying in Galalay, Yashawai said to them, "The Son of Man is about to be delivered up into the hands of men,²³ and they will kill him, and the third day he will be raised up." They were exceedingly sorry.²⁴ When they were come to Kaparanachawam, those who collected the didrachmas came to Kayapaa, and said, "Doesn't your teacher pay the didrachma?"²⁵ He said, "Yes." When he came into the house, Yashawai anticipated him, saying, "What do you think, Shamaian? From whom do the kings of the earth receive toll or tribute? From their sons, or from strangers?"²⁶ Kayapaa said to him, "From strangers." Yashawai said to him, "Therefore the sons are exempt."²⁷ But, lest we cause them to stumble, go to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the first fish that comes up. When you have opened his mouth, you will find a stater. Take that, and give it to them for me and you."

18 In that hour the disciples came to Yashawai, saying, "Who then is greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven?"² Yashawai called a little child to himself, and set him in the midst of them,³ and said, "Most assuredly I tell you, unless you turn, and become as little children, you will in no way enter into the Kingdom of Heaven."⁴ Whoever therefore will humble himself as this little child, the same is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven.⁵ Whoever will receive one such little child in my name receives me,⁶ but whoever will cause one of these little ones who believe in me to stumble, it would be better for him that a huge millstone should be hung around his neck, and that he should be sunk in the depths of the sea.⁷ Woe to the world because of occasions of stumbling! For it must be that the occasions come, but woe to that person through whom the occasion comes!⁸ If your hand or your foot causes you to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from you. It is better for you to enter into life maimed or crippled, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into the eternal fire.⁹ If your eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from you. It is better for you to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the Gehenna of fire.¹⁰ See that you don't despise one of these little ones, for I tell you that in heaven their angels always see the face of my Father who is in heaven.¹¹ For the Son of Man came to save that which was lost.¹² "What do you think? If a man has one hundred sheep, and one of them goes astray, doesn't he leave the ninety-nine, go to the mountains, and seek that which has gone astray?"¹³ If he happens to find it, most assuredly I tell you, he rejoices over it more than over the ninety-nine which have not gone astray.¹⁴ Even so it is not the will of your Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.¹⁵ "If your brother sins against you, go, show him his fault between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have gained back your brother.¹⁶ But if he doesn't listen, take one or two more with you, that at the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.¹⁷ If he refuses to listen to them, tell it to the assembly. If he refuses to hear the assembly also, let him be to you as a Hagawayam or a tax collector.¹⁸ Most assuredly I tell you, whatever things you will bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever things you will loose on earth will be loosed in heaven.¹⁹ Again, assuredly I tell you, that if two of you will agree on earth concerning anything that they will ask, it will be done for them by my Father who is in heaven.²⁰ For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there I am in the midst of them."²¹ Then Kayapaa came and said to him, "Adanay, how often will my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? Until seven times?"²² Yashawai said to him, "I don't tell you until seven times, but, until seventy times seven.²³ Therefore the Kingdom of Heaven is like a certain king, who wanted to reconcile accounts with his servants.²⁴ When he had begun to reconcile, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents.²⁵ But because he couldn't pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, with his wife, his children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.²⁶ The servant therefore fell down and kneeled before him, saying, 'Adanay, have patience with me, and I will repay you all.'²⁷ The lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.²⁸ But that servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, who owed him one hundred denarii, and he laid hold on him, and took him by the throat, saying, 'Pay me what you owe!' ²⁹ So his fellow-servant fell down at his feet and begged him, saying, 'Have patience with me, and I will repay you.'³⁰ He would not, but went and cast him into prison, until he should pay back that which was due.³¹ So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceedingly sorry, and came and told to their lord all that was done.³² Then his lord called him in, and said to him, 'You wicked servant! I forgave you all that debt, because you begged me.³³ Shouldn't you also have had mercy on your fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on you?' ³⁴ His lord was angry, and delivered him to the tormentors, until he should pay all that was due to him.³⁵ So will my heavenly Father also do to you, if you don't each forgive his brother from your hearts for his misdeeds."

19 It happened when Yashawai had finished these words, he departed from Galayal, and came into the borders of Yahawadah beyond the Yaranan.² Great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.³ Pharisees came to him, testing him, and saying, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for any reason?"⁴ He answered, "Haven't you read that he who made them from the beginning made them male and female,⁵ and said, 'For this cause a man will leave his father and mother, and will join to his wife; and the two will become one flesh?' ⁶ So that they are no more two, but one flesh. What therefore Alahayam has joined together, don't let man tear apart."⁷ They asked him, "Why then did Mashah command us to give her a bill of divorce, and divorce her?"⁸ He said to them, "Mashah, because of the hardness of your hearts, allowed you to divorce your wives, but from the beginning it has not been so.⁹ I tell you that whoever will put away his wife, except for sexual immorality, and will marry another, commits adultery;

¹⁰ His disciples said to him, "If this is the case of the man with his wife, it is not expedient to marry."¹¹ But he said to them, "Not all men can receive this saying, but they to whom it is given.¹² For there are eunuchs, who were born that way from their mother's womb, and there are eunuchs, who were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs who made themselves eunuchs for the Kingdom of Heaven's sake. He who is able to receive it, let him receive it."¹³ Then little children were brought to him, that he should lay his hands on them, and pray; and the disciples rebuked them.¹⁴ But Yashawai said, "Allow the little children, and don't forbid them to come to me; for to such belongs the Kingdom of Heaven."¹⁵ He laid his hands on them, and departed there.¹⁶ Behold, one came to him and said, "Good teacher, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?"¹⁷ He said to him, "Why do you call me good? No one is good but one, that is, Alahayam. But if you want to enter into life, keep the commandments."¹⁸ He said to him, "Which ones?" Yashawai said, "You shall not kill. You shall not commit adultery. You shall not steal. You shall not offer false testimony.¹⁹ Honor your father and mother. And, you shall love your neighbor as yourself."²⁰ The young man said to him, "All these things I have observed from my youth. What do I still lack?"²¹ Yashawai said to him, "If you want to be perfect, go, sell what you have, and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me."²² But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sad, for he was one who had great possessions.²³ Yashawai said to his disciples, "Most assuredly I say to you, a rich man will enter into the Kingdom of Heaven with difficulty.²⁴ Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of Alahayam."²⁵ When the disciples heard it, they were exceedingly astonished, saying, "Who then can be saved?"²⁶ Looking at them, Yashawai said, "With men this is impossible; but with Alahayam all things are possible."²⁷ Then Kayapaa answered, "Behold, we have left everything, and followed you. What then will we have?"²⁸ Yashawai said to them, "Most assuredly I tell you, that you who have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of Man will sit on the throne of his glory, you also will sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Yasharaal.²⁹ Everyone who has left houses, or brothers, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, will receive one hundred times, and will inherit eternal life.³⁰ But many will be last who are first; and first who are last."

20 "For the Kingdom of Heaven is like a man who was the master of a household, who went out early in the morning to hire laborers for his vineyard.² When he had agreed with the laborers for a denarius a day, he sent them into his vineyard.³ He went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace.⁴ To them he said, 'You also go into the vineyard, and whatever is right I will give you.'⁵ So they went their way.⁶ Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and did likewise.⁷ About the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle. He said to them, 'Why do you stand here all day idle?' ⁸ They said to him, 'Because no one has hired us.'⁹ He said to them, 'You also go into the vineyard, and you will receive whatever is right.'¹⁰ When evening had come, the lord of the vineyard said to his steward, 'Call the laborers and pay them their hire, beginning from the last to the first.'¹¹ When they who were hired at about the eleventh hour came, they each received a denarius.¹² When the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise each received a denarius.¹³ When they received it, they murmured against the master of the household, saying, 'These last have spent one hour, and you have made them equal to us, who have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat!' ¹⁴ But he answered one of them, 'Friend, I am doing you no wrong. Didn't you agree with me for a denarius?' ¹⁵ Take that which is yours, and go your way. It is my will to give to this last just as much as to you.¹⁶ Isn't it lawful for me to do what I want to with what I own? Or is your eye evil, because I am good?' ¹⁷ So the last will be first, and the first last. For many are called, but few are chosen." ¹⁷ As Yashawai was going up to Yarawashalam, he took the twelve disciples aside, and on the way he said to them, ¹⁸ "Behold, we are going up to Yarawashalam, and the Son of Man will be delivered to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to death, ¹⁹ and will hand him over to the Gentiles to mock, to scourge, and to crucify; and the third day he will be raised up." ²⁰ Then came to him the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, kneeling and asking a certain thing of him. ²¹ He said to her, "What do you want?" She said to him, "Command that these, my two sons, may sit, one on your right hand, and one on your left hand, in your kingdom." ²² But Yashawai answered, "You don't know what you ask. Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?" They said to him, "We are able." ²³ He said to them, "You will indeed drink my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with, but to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to give; but it is for whom it has been prepared by my Father." ²⁴ When the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two brothers. ²⁵ But Yashawai called them to him, and said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. ²⁶ It shall not be so among you, but whoever would become great among you will be your servant. ²⁷ Whoever would be first among you will be your bondservant, ²⁸ even as the Son of Man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many." ²⁹ As they went out from Yarayachaw, a great multitude followed him. ³⁰ Behold, two blind men sitting by the road, when they heard that Yashawai was passing by, cried out, "Adanay, have mercy on us, you son of Dawad!" ³¹ The multitude rebuked them, telling them that they should be quiet, but they cried out even more, "Adanay, have mercy on us, you son of Dawad!" ³² Yashawai stood still, and called them, and asked, "What do you want me to do for you?" ³³ They told him, "Adanay, that our eyes may be opened." ³⁴ Yashawai, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes received their sight, and they followed him.

21 When they drew near to Yarawashalam, and came to Bethsphage, to the Mount of Olives, then Yashawai sent two disciples, ² saying to them, "Go into the village that is opposite you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied, and a colt with her. Untie them, and bring them to me. ³ If anyone says anything to you, you will say, 'The Adanay needs them,' and immediately he will send them." ⁴ All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying, ⁵ "Tell the daughter of Tzayawan, Behold, your King comes to you, Humble, and riding on a donkey, On a colt, the foal of a donkey." ⁶ The disciples went, and did just as Yashawai commanded them, ⁷ and brought the donkey and the colt, and laid their clothes on them; and he sat on them. ⁸ A very great multitude spread their clothes on the road. Others cut branches from the trees, and spread them on the road. ⁹ The multitudes who went before him, and who followed, cried, "Hosanna to the son of Dawad! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Adanay! Hosanna in the highest!" ¹⁰ When he had come into Yarawashalam, all the city was stirred, saying, "Who is this?" ¹¹ The multitudes said, "This is the prophet, Yashawai, from Natzarath of Galayal." ¹² Yashawai entered into the temple of Alahayam, and drove out all of those who sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the money-changers' tables, and the seats of those who sold the doves. ¹³ He said to them, "It is written, 'My house will be called a house of prayer,' but you have made it a den of robbers!" ¹⁴ The blind and the lame came to him in the temple, and he healed them. ¹⁵ But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children who were crying in the temple and saying, "Hosanna to the son of Dawad!" they were moved with indignation, ¹⁶ and said to him, "Do you hear what these are saying?" Yashawai said to them, "Yes. Did you never read, 'Out of the mouth of babes and nursing babies you have perfected praise?'" ¹⁷ He left them, and went forth out of the city to Bayathainayah, and lodged there. ¹⁸ Now in the morning, as he returned to the city, he was hungry. ¹⁹ Seeing a fig tree by the road, he came to it, and found nothing on it but leaves. He said to it, "Let there be no fruit from you forever!" Immediately the fig tree withered away. ²⁰ When the disciples saw it, they marveled, saying, "How did the fig tree immediately wither away?" ²¹ Yashawai answered them, "Most assuredly I tell you, if you have faith, and don't doubt, you will not only do what is done to the fig tree, but even if you will tell this mountain, 'Be taken up and cast into the sea,' it will be done. ²² All things, whatever you will ask in prayer, believing, you will receive." ²³ When he had come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him as he was teaching, and said, "By what authority do you do these things? Who gave you this authority?" ²⁴ Yashawai answered them, "I also will ask you one question, which if you tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things. ²⁵ The baptism of Yawachanan, where was it from? From heaven or from men?" They reasoned with themselves, saying, "If we will say, 'From heaven,' he will tell us, 'Why then did you not believe him?'" ²⁶ But if we will say, 'From men,' we fear the multitude, for all hold Yawachanan as a prophet." ²⁷ They answered Yashawai, and said, "We don't know." He also said to them, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things. ²⁸ But what do you think? A man had two sons, and he came to the first, and said, 'Son, go work today in my vineyard.' ²⁹ He answered, 'I will not,' but afterward he repented himself, and went. ³⁰ He came to the second, and said likewise. He answered, 'I go, sir,' but he didn't go. ³¹ Which of the two did the will of his father?" They said to him, "The first." Yashawai says to them, "Most assuredly I tell you, that the tax collectors and the prostitutes are entering into the kingdom of Alahayam before you. ³² For Yawachanan came to you in the way of righteousness, and you didn't believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him. When you saw it, you didn't even repent afterward, that you might believe him. ³³ Hear another parable. There was a man who was a master of a household, who planted a vineyard, set a hedge about it, dug a winepress in it, built a tower, leased it out to farmers, and went into another country. ³⁴ When the season of the fruits drew near, he sent his servants to the farmers, to receive his fruits. ³⁵ The farmers took his servants, beat one, killed another, and stoned another. ³⁶ Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did to them in like manner. ³⁷ But afterward he sent to them his son, saying, 'They will respect my son.' ³⁸ But the farmers, when they saw the son, said among themselves, 'This is the heir. Come, let's kill him, and seize his inheritance.' ³⁹ So they took him, and threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him. ⁴⁰ When therefore the lord of the vineyard will come, what will he do to those farmers?" ⁴¹ They told him, "He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and will lease out the vineyard to other farmers, who will give him the fruits in their seasons." ⁴² Yashawai said to them, "Did you never read in the scriptures, 'The stone which the builders rejected, The same was made the head of the corner. This was from the Adanay. It is marvelous in our eyes?'" ⁴³ "Therefore I tell you, the kingdom of Alahayam will be taken away from you, and will be given to a nation bringing forth its fruits. ⁴⁴ He who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces, but on whoever it will fall, it will scatter him as dust." ⁴⁵ When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he spoke of them. ⁴⁶ When they sought to lay hold on him, they feared the multitudes, because they took him for a prophet.

22 Yashawai answered and spoke again in parables to them, saying, ² "The Kingdom of Heaven is like a certain king, who made a marriage feast for his son, ³ and sent forth his servants to call those who were invited to the marriage feast, but they would not come. ⁴ Again he sent forth other servants, saying, 'Tell those who are invited, "Behold, I have made ready my dinner. My oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready. Come to the marriage feast."' ⁵ But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise, ⁶ and the rest grabbed his servants, and treated them shamefully, and killed them. ⁷ But the king was angry, and he sent his armies, destroyed those murderers, and burned their city.⁸ Then he said to his servants, "The wedding is ready, but they who were invited were not worthy."⁹ Go therefore to the intersections of the highways, and as many as you may find, invite to the marriage feast.¹⁰ Those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together as many as they found, both bad and good. The wedding was filled with guests.¹¹ But when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man who didn't have on wedding-clothing,¹² and he said to him, "Friend, how did you come in here not having wedding-clothing?" He was speechless.¹³ Then the king said to the servants, "Bind him hand and foot, take him away, and throw him into the outer darkness; there is where the weeping and grinding of teeth will be."¹⁴ For many are called, but few chosen.¹⁵ Then the Pharisees went and took counsel how they might entrap him in his talk.¹⁶ They sent their disciples to him, along with the Herodians, saying, "Teacher, we know that you are honest, and teach the way of Alahayam in truth, no matter who you teach, for you aren't partial to anyone.¹⁷ Tell us therefore, what do you think? Is it lawful to pay taxes to Qayasar, or not?"¹⁸ But Yashawai perceived their wickedness, and said, "Why do you test me, you hypocrites?"¹⁹ Show me the tax money." They brought to him a denarius.²⁰ He asked them, "Whose is this image and inscription?"²¹ They said to him, "Qayasar's." Then he said to them, "Give therefore to Qayasar the things that are Qayasar's, and to Alahayam the things that are Alahayam's."²² When they heard it, they marveled, and left him, and went away.²³ On that day Sadducees (those who say that there is no resurrection) came to him. They asked him, saying, "Teacher, Mashah said, 'If a man dies, having no children, his brother will marry his wife, and raise up seed for his brother.'²⁵ Now there were with us seven brothers. The first married and died, and having no seed left his wife to his brother.²⁶ In like manner the second also, and the third, to the seventh.²⁷ After them all, the woman died.²⁸ In the resurrection therefore, whose wife will she be of the seven? For they all had her."²⁹ But Yashawai answered them, "You are mistaken, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of Alahayam.³⁰ For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are like Alahayam's angels in heaven.³¹ But concerning the resurrection of the dead, haven't you read that which was spoken to you by Alahayam, saying,³² 'I am the Alahayam of Abaraham, and the Alahayam of Yatzachaq, and the Alahayam of Yaiqab?' Alahayam is not the Alahayam of the dead, but of the living."³³ When the multitudes heard it, they were astonished at his teaching.³⁴ But the Pharisees, when they heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, gathered themselves together.³⁵ One of them, a lawyer, asked him a question, testing him.³⁶ "Teacher, which is the greatest commandment in the law?"³⁷ Yashawai said to him, "You shall love the Adanay your Alahayam with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind."³⁸ This is the first and great commandment.³⁹ A second likewise is this, 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.'⁴⁰ The whole law and the prophets depend on these two commandments."⁴¹ Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Yashawai asked them a question,⁴² saying, "What do you think of the Mashayach? Whose son is he?" They said to him, "Of Dawad."⁴³ He said to them, "How then does Dawad in the Spirit call him Adanay, saying,⁴⁴ 'The Adanay said to my Adanay, Sit on my right hand, Until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet?'⁴⁵ 'If then Dawad calls him Adanay, how is he his son?'"⁴⁶ No one was able to answer him a word, neither dared any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

23 Then Yashawai spoke to the multitudes and to his disciples,² saying, "The scribes and the Pharisees sat on Mashah's seat.³ All things therefore whatever they tell you to observe, observe and do, but don't do their works; for they say, and don't do.⁴ For they bind heavy burdens that are grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not lift a finger to help them.⁵ But all their works they do to be seen by men. They make their phylacteries broad, enlarge the fringes of their garments,⁶ and love the chief place at feasts, the chief seats in the synagogues,⁷ the salutations in the marketplaces, and to be called 'Rabbi, Rabbi' by men.⁸ But don't you be called 'Rabbi,' for one is your teacher, the Mashayach, and all of you are brothers.⁹ Call no man on the earth your father, for one is your Father, he who is in heaven.¹⁰ Neither be called masters, for one is your master, the Mashayach.¹¹ But he who is greatest among you will be your servant.¹² Whoever will exalt himself will be humbled, and whoever will humble himself will be exalted.¹³ "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you devour widows' houses, and as a pretense you make long prayers. Therefore you will receive greater condemnation.¹⁴ "But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! Because you shut up the Kingdom of Heaven against men; for you don't enter in yourselves, neither do you allow those who are entering in to enter.¹⁵ "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel around by sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he becomes one, you make him twice as much of a son of Gehenna as yourselves.¹⁶ "Woe to you, you blind guides, who say, 'Whoever swears by the temple, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor.'¹⁷ You blind fools! For which is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifies the gold?¹⁸ 'Whoever will swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whoever will swear by the gift that is on it, he is a debtor.'¹⁹ You blind fools! For which is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifies the gift?²⁰ He therefore who swears by the altar, swears by it, and by everything on it.²¹ He who swears by the temple, swears by it, and by him who is living in it.²² He who swears by the heaven, swears by the throne of Alahayam, and by him who sits on it.²³ "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint, dill, and cumin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law - justice, mercy, and faith. But you ought to have done these, and not to have left the other undone.²⁴ You blind guides, who strain out a gnat, and swallow a camel!"²⁵ "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and unrighteousness.²⁶ You blind Pharisee, first clean the inside of the cup and of the platter, that the outside of it may become clean also.²⁷ "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitened tombs, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness.²⁸ Even so you also outwardly appear righteous to men, but inwardly you are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.²⁹ "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you build the tombs of the prophets, and decorate the tombs of the righteous,³⁰ and say, 'If we had been in the days of our fathers, we should not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.'³¹ Therefore you testify to yourselves that you are sons of those who killed the prophets.³² Fill up, then, the measure of your fathers.³³ You serpents, you offspring of vipers, how will you escape the judgment of Gehenna?"³⁴ Therefore, behold, I send to you prophets, wise men, and scribes. Some of them will you kill and crucify; and some of them will you scourge in your synagogues, and persecute from city to city;³⁵ that on you may come all the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of Habal the righteous to the blood of Zakarayah son of Barachiah, whom you killed between the sanctuary and the altar.³⁶ Most assuredly I tell you, all these things will come on this generation.³⁷ "Yarawashalam, Yarawashalam, that kills the prophets, and stones those who are sent to her! How often would I have gathered your children together, even as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings, and you would not!"³⁸ Behold, your house is left to you desolate.³⁹ For I tell you, you will not see me from now on, until you will say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Adanay.'"

24 Yashawai went out from the temple, and was going on his way. His disciples came to him to show him the buildings of the temple.² But he answered them, "Don't you see all of these things? Most assuredly I tell you, there will not be left here one stone on another, that will not be thrown down."³ As he sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to him privately, saying, "Tell us, when will these things be? What is the sign of your coming, and of the end of the world?" ⁴ Yashawai answered them, "Be careful that no one leads you astray. ⁵ For many will come in my name, saying, 'I am the Mashayach,' and will lead many astray. ⁶ You will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you aren't troubled, for all this must happen, but the end is not yet. ⁷ For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there will be famines, plagues, and earthquakes in various places. ⁸ But all these things are the beginning of birth pains. ⁹ Then they will deliver you up to oppression, and will kill you. You will be hated by all of the nations for my name's sake. ¹⁰ Then will many stumble, and will deliver up one another, and will hate one another. ¹¹ Many false prophets will arise, and will lead many astray. ¹² Because iniquity will be multiplied, the love of many will grow cold. ¹³ But he who endures to the end, the same will be saved. ¹⁴ This gospel of the kingdom will be preached in the whole world for a testimony to all the nations, and then the end will come. ¹⁵ When, therefore, you see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of through Dan the prophet, standing in the holy place (let the reader understand), ¹⁶ then let those who are in Yahawadah flee to the mountains. ¹⁷ Let him who is on the housetop not go down to take out things that are in his house. ¹⁸ Let him who is in the field not return back to take his cloak. ¹⁹ But woe to those who are with child and to nursing mothers in those days! ²⁰ Pray that your flight will not be in the winter, nor on a Sabbath, ²¹ for then will be great oppression, such as has not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever will be. ²² Except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved. But for the elect's sake, those days will be shortened. ²³ Then if any man will tell you, 'Behold, here is the Mashayach,' or, 'There,' don't believe it. ²⁴ For there will arise false Christs, and false prophets, and they will show great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. ²⁵ Behold, I have told you beforehand. ²⁶ If therefore they tell you, 'Behold, he is in the wilderness!' don't go out; 'Behold, he is in the inner chambers,' don't believe it. ²⁷ For as the lightning comes forth from the east, and is seen even to the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. ²⁸ For wherever the carcass is, there will the vultures be gathered together. ²⁹ But immediately after the oppression of those days, the sun will be darkened, the moon will not give her light, the stars will fall from the sky, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken; ³⁰ and then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the sky. Then all the tribes of the earth will mourn, and they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of the sky with power and great glory. ³¹ He will send forth his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they will gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of the sky to the other. ³² "Now from the fig tree learn her parable. When its branch has now become tender, and puts forth its leaves, you know that the summer is near. ³³ Even so you also, when you see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors. ³⁴ Most assuredly I tell you, this generation will not pass away, until all these things are accomplished. ³⁵ Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. ³⁶ But no one knows of that day and hour, not even the angels of heaven, but my Father only. ³⁷ As the days of Nach, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. ³⁸ For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Nach entered into the ark, ³⁹ and they didn't know until the flood came, and took them all away, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. ⁴⁰ Then will two men be in the field: one is taken, and one is left; ⁴¹ two women grinding at the mill, one is taken, and one is left. ⁴² Watch therefore, for you don't know in what hour your Adanay comes. ⁴³ But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have allowed his house to be broken into. ⁴⁴ Therefore also be ready, for in an hour that you don't expect, the Son of Man will come. ⁴⁵ Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom his lord has set over his household, to give them their food in due season? ⁴⁶ Blessed is that servant, whom his lord will find doing so when he comes. ⁴⁷ Most assuredly I tell you, that he will set him over all that he has. ⁴⁸ But if that evil servant should say in his heart, 'My lord is delaying his coming,' ⁴⁹ and began to beat his fellow-servants, and eat and drink with the drunken, ⁵⁰ the lord of that servant will come in a day when he doesn't expect it, and in an hour when he doesn't know it, ⁵¹ and will cut him in pieces, and appoint his portion with the hypocrites; there is where the weeping and grinding of teeth will be.

25 "Then the Kingdom of Heaven will be like ten virgins, who took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. ² Five of them were foolish, and five were wise. ³ Those who were foolish, when they took their lamps, took no oil with them, ⁴ but the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. ⁵ Now while the bridegroom delayed, they all slumbered and slept. ⁶ But at midnight there was a cry, 'Behold! The bridegroom is coming! Come out to meet him!' ⁷ Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps. ⁸ The foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.' ⁹ But the wise answered, saying, 'What if there will not be enough for us and you? You go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.' ¹⁰ While they went away to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was shut. ¹¹ Afterward the other virgins also came, saying, 'Adanay, Adanay, open to us.' ¹² But he answered, 'Most assuredly I tell you, I don't know you.' ¹³ Watch therefore, for you don't know the day nor the hour in which the Son of Man is coming. ¹⁴ "For it is like a man, going into another country, who called his own servants, and delivered his goods to them. ¹⁵ To one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one; to each according to his own ability, and he went on his journey. ¹⁶ Immediately he who received the five talents went and traded with them, and made another five talents. ¹⁷ In like manner he also who got the two gained another two. ¹⁸ But he who received the one went away and dug in the earth, and hid his lord's money. ¹⁹ Now after a long time the lord of those servants came, and reconciled accounts with them. ²⁰ He who received the five talents came and brought another five talents, saying, 'Adanay, you delivered to me five talents. Behold, I have gained another five talents besides them.' ²¹ His lord said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a few things, I will set you over many things. Enter into the joy of your lord.' ²² He also who got the two talents came and said, 'Adanay, you delivered to me two talents. Behold, I have gained another two talents besides them.' ²³ His lord said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a few things, I will set you over many things. Enter into the joy of your lord.' ²⁴ He also who had received the one talent came and said, 'Adanay, I knew you that you are a hard man, reaping where you did not sow, and gathering where you did not scatter. ²⁵ I was afraid, and went away and hid your talent in the earth. Behold, you have your own.' ²⁶ But his lord answered him, 'You wicked and slothful servant. You knew that I reap where I didn't sow, and gather where I didn't scatter. ²⁷ You ought therefore to have deposited my money with the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back my own with interest. ²⁸ Take away therefore the talent from him, and give it to him who has the ten talents. ²⁹ For to everyone who has will be given, and he will have abundance, but from him who has not, even that which he has will be taken away. ³⁰ Throw out the unprofitable servant into the outer darkness; there will be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.' ³¹ "But when the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then will he sit on the throne of his glory. ³² Before him all the nations will be gathered, and he will separate them one from another, as the shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. ³³ He will set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left. ³⁴ Then the King will tell them on his right hand, 'Come, blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world; ³⁵ for I was hungry, and you gave me food to eat; I was thirsty, and you gave me drink; I was a stranger, and you took me in; ³⁶ naked, and you clothed me; I was sick, and you visited me; I was in prison, and you came to me.' ³⁷ Then the righteous will answer him, saying, 'Adanay, when did we see you hungry, and feed you; or thirsty, and give you a drink?

³⁸ When did we see you as a stranger, and take you in; or naked, and clothe you? ³⁹ When did we see you sick, or in prison, and come to you? ⁴⁰ The King will answer them, 'Most assuredly I tell you, inasmuch as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me.' ⁴¹ Then will he say also to them on the left hand, 'Depart from me, you cursed, into the eternal fire which is prepared for the devil and his angels; ⁴² for I was hungry, and you didn't give me food to eat; I was thirsty, and you gave me no drink; ⁴³ I was a stranger, and you didn't take me in; naked, and you didn't clothe me; sick, and in prison, and you didn't visit me.' ⁴⁴ Then will they also answer, saying, 'Adanay, when did we see you hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not help you?' ⁴⁵ Then will he answer them, saying, 'Most assuredly I tell you, inasmuch as you didn't do it to one of these least, you didn't do it to me.' ⁴⁶ These will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life."

26 It happened, when Yashawai had finished all these words, that he said to his disciples, ² "You know that after two days the Passover is coming, and the Son of Man will be delivered up to be crucified." ³ Then the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders of the people were gathered together in the court of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas. ⁴ They took counsel together that they might take Yashawai by deceit, and kill him. ⁵ But they said, "Not during the feast, lest a riot occur among the people." ⁶ Now when Yashawai was in Bayathainayah, in the house of Shamaiwan the leper, ⁷ a woman came to him having an alabaster jar of very expensive ointment, and she poured it on his head as he sat at the table. ⁸ But when his disciples saw it, they were indignant, saying, "Why this waste? ⁹ For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor." ¹⁰ But Yashawai, knowing this, said to them, "Why do you trouble the woman? For she has done a good work for me. ¹¹ For you always have the poor with you; but you don't always have me. ¹² For in that she poured this ointment on my body, she did it to prepare me for burial. ¹³ Most assuredly I tell you, wherever this gospel will be preached in the whole world, what this woman has done will also be spoken of for a memorial of her." ¹⁴ Then one of the twelve, who was called Yahawadah Iscariot, went to the chief priests, ¹⁵ and said, "What are you willing to give me, and I will deliver him to you?" They weighed out for him thirty pieces of silver. ¹⁶ From that time he sought opportunity to betray him. ¹⁷ Now on the first day of unleavened bread, the disciples came to Yashawai, saying to him, "Where do you want us to prepare for you to eat the Passover?" ¹⁸ He said, "Go into the city to a certain person, and tell him, 'The Teacher says, "My time is at hand. I will keep the Passover at your house with my disciples."'" ¹⁹ The disciples did as Yashawai commanded them, and they prepared the Passover. ²⁰ Now when evening had come, he was reclining at the table with the twelve disciples. ²¹ As they were eating, he said, "Most assuredly I tell you, that one of you will betray me." ²² They were exceedingly sorrowful, and each began to ask him, "It isn't me, is it, Adanay?" ²³ He answered, "He who dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same will betray me. ²⁴ The Son of Man goes, even as it is written of him, but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would be better for that man if he had not been born." ²⁵ Yahawadah, who betrayed him, answered, "It isn't me, is it, Rabbi?" He said to him, "So you have said." ²⁶ As they were eating, Yashawai took bread, gave thanks for it, and broke it. He gave to the disciples, and said, "Take, eat; this is my body." ²⁷ He took the cup, gave thanks, and gave to them, saying, "Drink all of it, ²⁸ for this is my blood of the new covenant, which is poured out for many for the remission of sins. ²⁹ But I tell you that I will not drink of this fruit of the vine from now on, until that day when I drink it anew with you in my Father's kingdom." ³⁰ When they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives. ³¹ Then Yashawai said to them, "All of you will be offended by me tonight, for it is written, 'I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered abroad.' ³² But after I am raised up, I will go before you into Galayal." ³³ But Kayapaa answered him, "Even if all will be offended by you, I will never be offended." ³⁴ Yashawai said to him, "Most assuredly I tell you, that tonight, before the cock crows, you will deny me three times." ³⁵ Kayapaa said to him, "Even if I must die with you, I will not deny you." All of the disciples also said likewise. ³⁶ Then Yashawai came with them to a place called Gethsemane, and said to his disciples, "Sit here, while I go there and pray." ³⁷ He took with him Kayapaa and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and severely troubled. ³⁸ Then he said to them, "My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death. Stay here, and watch with me." ³⁹ He went forward a little, fell on his face, and prayed, saying, "My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass away from me; nevertheless, not what I want, but what you want." ⁴⁰ He came to the disciples, and found them sleeping, and said to Kayapaa, "What, couldn't you watch with me for one hour? ⁴¹ Watch and pray, that you don't enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak." ⁴² Again, a second time he went away, and prayed, saying, "My Father, if this cup can't pass away from me, unless I drink it, your will be done." ⁴³ He came again and found them sleeping, for their eyes were heavy. ⁴⁴ He left them again, went away, and prayed a third time, saying the same words. ⁴⁵ Then he came to his disciples, and said to them, "Sleep on now, and take your rest. Behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. ⁴⁶ Arise, let us be going. Behold, he who betrays me is at hand." ⁴⁷ While he was still speaking, behold, Yahawadah, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and clubs, from the chief priest and elders of the people. ⁴⁸ Now he who betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, "Whoever I will kiss, that is he. Take him." ⁴⁹ Immediately he came to Yashawai, and said, "Hail, Rabbi!" and kissed him. ⁵⁰ Yashawai said to him, "Friend, why are you here?" Then they came and laid hands on Yashawai, and took him. ⁵¹ Behold, one of those who were with Yashawai stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck the servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. ⁵² Then Yashawai said to him, "Pawat your sword back into its place, for all those who take the sword will die by the sword. ⁵³ Or do you think that I can't ask my Father, and he would even now send me more than twelve legions of angels? ⁵⁴ How then would the scriptures be fulfilled that it must be so?" ⁵⁵ In that hour Yashawai said to the multitudes, "Have you come out as against a robber with swords and clubs to seize me? I sat daily in the temple teaching, and you didn't arrest me. ⁵⁶ But all this has happened, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled." Then all the disciples left him, and fled. ⁵⁷ Those who had taken Yashawai led him away to Caiaphas, the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. ⁵⁸ But Kayapaa followed him from a distance, to the court of the high priest, and entered in, and sat with the officers, to see the end. ⁵⁹ Now the chief priests, the elders, and the whole council sought false testimony against Yashawai, that they might put him to death; ⁶⁰ and they found none. Even though many false witnesses came forward, they found none. But at last two false witnesses came forward, ⁶¹ and said, "This man said, 'I am able to destroy the temple of Alahayam, and to build it in three days.'" ⁶² The high priest stood up, and answered him, "Have you no answer? What is this that these testify against you?" ⁶³ But Yashawai held his peace. The high priest said to him, "I adjure you by the living Alahayam, that you tell us whether you are the Mashayach, the Son of Alahayam." ⁶⁴ Yashawai said to him, "You have said it. Nevertheless, I tell you, henceforth you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of Power, and coming on the clouds of the sky." ⁶⁵ Then the high priest tore his clothing, saying, "He has spoken blasphemy! Why do we need any more witnesses? Behold, now you have heard his blasphemy. ⁶⁶ What do you think?" They answered, "He is worthy of death!" ⁶⁷ Then they spit in his face and beat him with their fists, and some slapped him, ⁶⁸ saying, "Prophecy to us, you Mashayach! Who hit you?" ⁶⁹ Now Kayapaa was sitting outside in the court, and a maid came to him, saying, "You were also with Yashawai, the Galilean." ⁷⁰ But he denied before them all, saying, "I don't know what you are talking about." ⁷¹ When he had gone out onto the porch, someone else saw him, and said to those who were there, "This man also was with Yashawai of Natzarath." ⁷² Again he denied with an oath, "I don't know the man." ⁷³ After a little while those who stood by came and said to Kayapaa, "Surely you are also one of them, for your speech makes you known." ⁷⁴ Then began he to curse and to swear, "I don't know the man!" Immediately the cock crowed. ⁷⁵ Kayapaa remembered the word which Yashawai had said to him, "Before the cock crows, you will deny me three times." He went out and wept bitterly.

27 Now when morning had come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Yashawai to put him to death: ² and they bound him, and led him away, and delivered him up to Pontius Payalatawas, the governor. ³ Then Yahawadah, who betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, ⁴ saying, "I have sinned in that I betrayed innocent blood." But they said, "What is that to us? You see to it." ⁵ He threw down the pieces of silver in the sanctuary, and departed. He went away and hanged himself. ⁶ The chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, "It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is the price of blood." ⁷ They took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. ⁸ Therefore that field was called "The Field of Blood" to this day. ⁹ Then that which was spoken through Yaramayahaw the prophet was fulfilled, saying, "They took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him who was priced, whom some of the children of Yasharaal did price, ¹⁰ and they gave them for the potter's field, as the Adanay commanded me." ¹¹ Now Yashawai stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, "Are you the King of the Jews?" Yashawai said to him, "So you say." ¹² When he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. ¹³ Then Payalatawas said to him, "Don't you hear how many things they testify against you?" ¹⁴ He gave him no answer, not even one word, so that the governor marveled greatly. ¹⁵ Now at the feast the governor used to release to the multitude one prisoner, whom they wanted. ¹⁶ They had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. ¹⁷ When therefore they were gathered together, Payalatawas said to them, "Whom do you want me to release to you? Barabbas, or Yashawai, who is called Mashayach?" ¹⁸ For he knew that because of envy they had delivered him up. ¹⁹ While he was sitting on the judgment seat, his wife sent to him, saying, "Have nothing to do with that righteous man, for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him." ²⁰ Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should ask for Barabbas, and destroy Yashawai. ²¹ But the governor answered them, "Which of the two do you want me to release to you?" They said, "Barabbas!" ²² Payalatawas said to them, "What then will I do to Yashawai, who is called Mashayach?" They all said to him, "Let him be crucified!" ²³ But the governor said, "Why? What evil has he done?" But they cried out exceedingly, saying, "Let him be crucified!" ²⁴ So when Payalatawas saw that nothing was gained, but rather that a disturbance was starting, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, "I am innocent of the blood of this righteous person. You see to it." ²⁵ All the people answered, "May his blood be on us, and on our children!" ²⁶ Then he released to them Barabbas, but Yashawai he flogged and delivered to be crucified. ²⁷ Then the governor's soldiers took Yashawai into the Praetorium, and gathered to him the whole cohort. ²⁸ They stripped him, and put a scarlet robe on him. ²⁹ They braided a crown of thorns and put it on his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they kneeled down before him, and mocked him, saying, "Hail, King of the Jews!" ³⁰ They spat on him, and took the reed and struck him on the head. ³¹ When they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his clothes on him, and led him away to crucify him. ³² As they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Shamaian by name, and they compelled him to go with them, that he might carry his cross. ³³ They came to a place called "Golgotha," that is to say, "The place of a skull." ³⁴ They gave him sour wine to drink mixed with gall. When he had tasted it, he would not drink.

28 Now after the Sabbath, as it began to dawn on the first day of the week, Marayam Magdalene and the other Marayam came to see the tomb. ² Behold, there was a great earthquake, for an angel of the Adanay descended from the sky, and came and rolled away the stone from the door, and sat on it. ³ His appearance was like lightning, and his clothing white as snow. ⁴ For fear of him, the guards shook, and became like dead men. ⁵ The angel answered the women, "Don't be afraid, for I know that you seek Yashawai, who has been crucified. ⁶ He is not here, for he has risen, just like he said. Come, see the place where the Adanay was lying. ⁷ Go quickly and tell his disciples, 'He has risen from the dead, and behold, he goes before you into Galalay; there you will see him.' Behold, I have told you." ⁸ They departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word. ⁹ As they went to tell his disciples, behold, Yashawai met them, saying, "Rejoice!"

They came and took hold of his feet, and worshiped him. ¹⁰ Then Yashawai said to them, "Don't be afraid. Go tell my brothers that they may go into Galayal, and there they will see me." ¹¹ Now while they were going, behold, some of the guards came into the city, and told the chief priests all the things that had happened. ¹² When they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave a large amount of silver to the soldiers, ¹³ saying, "Say that his disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept." ¹⁴ If this comes to the governor's ears, we will persuade him and make you free of worry." ¹⁵ So they took the money and did as they were told. This saying was spread abroad among the Jews, and continues until this day. ¹⁶ But the eleven disciples went into Galayal, to the mountain where Yashawai had sent them. ¹⁷ When they saw him, they bowed down to him, but some doubted. ¹⁸ Yashawai came to them and spoke to them, saying, "All authority has been given to me in heaven and on earth. ¹⁹ Go, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, ²⁰ teaching them to observe all things which I commanded you. Behold, I am with you always, even to the end of the age." Amen.

Mark

1 The beginning of the gospel of Yashawai Mashayach, the Son of Alahayam. ² As it is written in the prophets, "Behold, I send my messenger before your face, Who will prepare your way before you." ³ The voice of one crying in the wilderness, "Make ready the way of the Adanay, Make his paths straight." ⁴ Yawachanan came baptizing in the wilderness and preaching the baptism of repentance for forgiveness of sins. ⁵ There went out to him all the country of Yahawadah, and all those of Yarawashalam. They were baptized by him in the Yaradan river, confessing their sins. ⁶ Yawachanan was clothed with camel's hair and a leather belt around his loins. He ate locusts and wild honey. ⁷ He preached, saying, "After me comes he who is mightier than I, the thong of whose sandals I am not worthy to stoop down and loosen." ⁸ I baptized you in water, but he will baptize you in the Holy Spirit." ⁹ It happened in those days, that Yashawai came from Natzarath of Galayal, and was baptized by Yawachanan in the Yaradan. ¹⁰ Immediately coming up from the water, he saw the heavens parting, and the Spirit descending on him like a dove. ¹¹ A voice came out of the sky, "You are my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." ¹² Immediately the Spirit drove him out into the wilderness. ¹³ He was there in the wilderness forty days tempted by Satan. He was with the wild animals. The angels ministered to him. ¹⁴ Now after Yawachanan was taken into custody, Yashawai came into Galayal, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of Alahayam, ¹⁵ and saying, "The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of Alahayam is at hand! Repent, and believe in the gospel." ¹⁶ Passing along by the sea of Galayal, he saw Shamaian and Anadaray, the brother of Shamaian, casting a net in the sea, for they were fishermen. ¹⁷ Yashawai said to them, "Come after me, and I will make you into fishers for men." ¹⁸ Immediately they left their nets, and followed him. ¹⁹ Going on a little further from there, he saw Yaiqab, the son of Zebedee, and Yawachanan, his brother, who also were in the boat mending the nets. ²⁰ Immediately he called them, and they left their father, Zebedee, in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him. ²¹ They went into Kaparanachawam, and immediately on the Sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and taught. ²² They were astonished at his teaching, for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes. ²³ Immediately there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit, and he cried out, ²⁴ saying, "Ha! What do we have to do with you, Yashawai, you Nazarene? Have you come to destroy us? I know you who you are: the Holy One of Alahayam." ²⁵ Yashawai rebuked him, saying, "Be quiet, and come out of him!" ²⁶ The unclean spirit, convulsing him and crying with a loud voice, came out of him. ²⁷ They were all amazed, so that they questioned among themselves, saying, "What is this? A new teaching? For with authority he commands even the unclean spirits, and they obey him." ²⁸ The report of him went out immediately everywhere into all the region of Galayal and its surrounding area. ²⁹ Immediately, when they had come out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Shamaian and Anadaray, with Yaiqab and Yawachanan. ³⁰ Now Shamaian's wife's mother lay sick with a fever, and immediately they told him about her. ³¹ He came and took her by the hand, and raised her up. The fever left her, and she served them. ³² At evening, when the sun had set, they brought to him all who were sick, and those who were possessed with demons. ³³ All the city was gathered together at the door. ³⁴ He healed many who were sick with various diseases, and cast out many demons. He didn't allow the demons to speak, because they knew him. ³⁵ Early in the night, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and there prayed. ³⁶ Shamaian and those who were with him followed after him; ³⁷ and they found him, and told him, "All are seeking you." ³⁸ He said to them, "Let's go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also, for to this end I came forth." ³⁹ He went into their synagogues throughout all Galayal, preaching and casting out demons. ⁴⁰ There came to him a leper, begging him, kneeling down to him, and saying to him, "If you want to, you can make me clean." ⁴¹ Being moved with compassion, he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, and said to him, "I want to. Be made clean." ⁴² When he had said this, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean. ⁴³ He strictly charged him, and immediately sent him out, ⁴⁴ and said to him, "See you say nothing to anybody, but go show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing the things which Mashah commanded, for a testimony to them." ⁴⁵ But he went out, and began to proclaim it much, and to spread about the matter, so that Yashawai could no more openly enter into a city, but was outside in desert places: and they came to him from everywhere.

2 When he entered again into Kaparanachawam after some days, it was heard that he was in the house. ² Immediately many were gathered together, so that there was no more room, not even around the door; and he spoke the word to them. ³ Four people came, carrying a paralytic to him. ⁴ When they could not come near to him for the crowd, they removed the roof where he was. When they had broken it up, they let down the mat that the paralytic was laying on. ⁵ Yashawai, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, "Son, your sins are forgiven you." ⁶ But there were some of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, ⁷ "Why does this man speak blasphemies like that? He blasphemeth! Who can forgive sins but one - Alahayam?" ⁸ Immediately Yashawai, perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, said to them, "Why do you reason these things in your hearts? ⁹ Which is easier, to tell the paralytic, 'Your sins are forgiven;' or to say, 'Arise, and take up your bed, and walk?' ¹⁰ But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins" -- he said to the paralytic, ¹¹ "I tell you, arise, take up your mat, and go to your house." ¹² He arose, and immediately took up the mat, and went out in front of them all; so that they were all amazed, and glorified Alahayam, saying, "We never saw anything like this!" ¹³ He went out again by the seaside. All the multitude came to him, and he taught them. ¹⁴ As he passed by, he saw Laway, the son of Alphaeus, sitting at the place of toll, and he said to him, "Follow me." And he arose and followed him. ¹⁵ It happened, that he was reclining at the table in his house, and many tax collectors and sinners sat down with Yashawai and his disciples, for there were many, and they followed him. ¹⁶ The scribes and the Pharisees, when they saw that he was eating with the sinners and tax collectors, said to his disciples, "Why is it that he eats and drinks with tax collectors and sinners?" ¹⁷ When Yashawai heard it, he said to them, "Those who are healthy have no need for a physician, but those who are sick. I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance." ¹⁸ Yawachanan's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting, and they came and asked him, "Why do Yawachanan's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but your disciples don't fast?" ¹⁹ Yashawai said to them, "Can the sons of the bride chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they can't fast. ²⁰ But the days will come, when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then will they fast in that day. ²¹ No one sews a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old garment, or else the patch shrinks and the new tears away from the old, and a worse hole is made. ²² No one puts new wine into old wineskins, or else the new wine will burst the skins, and the wine pours out, and the skins will be destroyed; but they put new wine into fresh wineskins." ²³ It happened, that he was going on the Sabbath day through the grain fields, and his disciples began, as they went, to pluck the ears of grain.²⁴ The Pharisees said to him, "Behold, why do they do that which is not lawful on the Sabbath day?"²⁵ He said to them, "Did you never read what Dawad did, when he had need, and was hungry, he, and they who were with him?"²⁶ How he entered into the house of Alahayam when Abayathar was high priest, and ate the show bread, which it is not lawful to eat except for the priests, and gave also to those who were with him?"²⁷ He said to them, "The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath.²⁸ Therefore the Son of Man is lord even of the Sabbath."

3 He entered again into the synagogue, and there was a man there who had his hand withered.² They watched him, whether he would heal him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuse him.³ He said to the man who had his hand withered, "Stand up."⁴ He said to them, "Is it lawful on the Sabbath day to do good, or to do harm? To save a life, or to kill?" But they were silent.⁵ When he had looked around at them with anger, being grieved at the hardening of their hearts, he said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." He stretched it out, and his hand was restored as healthy as the other.⁶ The Pharisees went out, and immediately took counsel with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.⁷ Yashawai withdrew to the sea with his disciples, and a great multitude followed him from Galayal, from Yahawadah,⁸ from Yarawashalam, from Idumaea, beyond the Yarden, and those from around Tzar and Tzayadawan. A great multitude, hearing what great things he did, came to him.⁹ He spoke to his disciples, that a little boat should stay near him because of the crowd, so that they wouldn't press on him.¹⁰ For he had healed many, so that as many as had diseases pressed on him that they might touch him.¹¹ The unclean spirits, whenever they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, "You are the Son of Alahayam!"¹² He sternly warned them that they should not make him known.¹³ He went up into the mountain, and called to himself whom he wanted, and they went to him.¹⁴ He appointed twelve, that they might be with him, and that he might send them out to preach,¹⁵ and to have authority to heal sicknesses and to cast out demons:¹⁶ Shamaiwan, to whom he gave the name Kayapaa;¹⁷ Yaiqab the son of Zebedee; Yawachanan, the brother of Yaiqab, and them he surnamed Boanerges, which is, Sons of thunder;¹⁸ Anadaray; Payalayapawas; Barathalam; Mathathayahaw; Thaawam; Yaiqab, the son of Alphaeus; Thaday; Shamaiwan the Zealot;¹⁹ and Yahawadah Iscariot, who also betrayed him. He came into a house.²⁰ The multitude came together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.²¹ When his friends heard it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, "He is insane."²² The scribes who came down from Yarawashalam said, "He has Beelzebul," and, "By the prince of the demons he casts out the demons."²³ He called them to him, and said to them in parables, "How can Satan cast out Satan?²⁴ If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.²⁵ If a house is divided against itself, that house cannot stand.²⁶ If Satan has risen up against himself, and is divided, he can't stand, but has an end.²⁷ But no one can enter into the house of the strong man to plunder, unless he first binds the strong man; and then he will plunder his house.²⁸ Most assuredly I tell you, all their sins will be forgiven to the sons of men, and their blasphemies with which they may blaspheme;²⁹ but whoever may blaspheme against the Holy Spirit never has forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin"³⁰ -- because they said, "He has an unclean spirit."³¹ His mother and his brothers came, and standing outside, they sent to him, calling him.³² A multitude was sitting around him, and they told him, "Behold, your mother, your brothers, and your sisters are outside looking for you."³³ He answered them, "Who are my mother and my brothers?"³⁴ Looking around at those who sat around him, he said, "Behold, my mother and my brothers!³⁵ For whoever may do the will of Alahayam, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother."

4 Again he began to teach by the seaside. A great multitude was gathered to him, so that he entered into a boat in the sea, and sat down. All the multitude were on the land by the sea.² He taught them many things in parables, and told them in his teaching,

³ "Listen! Behold, the farmer went forth to sow,⁴ and it happened, as he sowed, some seed fell by the road, and the birds came and devoured it.⁵ Others fell on the rocky ground, where it had little soil, and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of soil.⁶ When the sun had risen, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away.⁷ Others fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.⁸ Others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing. Some brought forth thirty times, some sixty times, and some one hundred times as much."⁹ He said, "Whoever has ears to hear, let him hear."¹⁰ When he was alone, those who were around him with the twelve asked him about the parables.¹¹ He said to them, "To you is given the mystery of the kingdom of Alahayam, but to those who are outside, all things are done in parables,¹² that seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest perhaps they should turn again, and their sins should be forgiven them."¹³ He said to them, "Don't you understand this parable? How will you understand all of the parables?¹⁴ The farmer sows the word.¹⁵ These are they by the road, where the word is sown; and when they have heard, immediately Satan comes, and takes away the word which has been sown in them.¹⁶ These in like manner are those who are sown on the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with joy.¹⁷ They have no root in themselves, but endure for a while, then, when oppression or persecution arises because of the word, immediately they stumble.¹⁸ Others are those who are sown among the thorns. These are those who have heard the word,¹⁹ and the cares of this age, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful.²⁰ These are those who were sown on the good ground: such as hear the word, and accept it, and bear fruit, some thirty times, some sixty times, and some one hundred times."²¹ He said to them, "Is the lamp brought to be put under a basket or under the bed? Isn't it put on the lampstand?²² For there is nothing hidden, except that it should be made known; neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light.²³ If any man has ears to hear, let him hear."²⁴ He said to them, "Take heed what you hear. With whatever measure you measure, it will be measured to you, and more will be given to you who hear."²⁵ For whoever has, to him will more be given, and he who has not, from him will be taken away even that which he has."²⁶ He said, "So is the kingdom of Alahayam, as if a man should cast seed on the earth,²⁷ and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, he doesn't know how.²⁸ For the earth bears fruit: first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear.²⁹ But when the fruit is ripe, immediately he puts forth the sickle, because the harvest has come."³⁰ He said, "How will we liken the kingdom of Alahayam? Or by what parable will we compare it?³¹ It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, though it is less than all the seeds that are on the earth,³² yet when it is sown, grows up, and becomes greater than all the herbs, and puts out great branches, so that the birds of the sky can lodge under its shadow."³³ With many such parables he spoke the word to them, as they were able to hear it.³⁴ Without a parable he didn't speak to them; but privately to his own disciples he explained all things.³⁵ On that day, when evening had come, he said to them, "Let's go over to the other side."³⁶ Leaving the multitude, they took him with them, even as he was, in the boat. Other small boats were also with him.³⁷ There arose a great wind storm, and the waves beat into the boat, so much that the boat was already filled.³⁸ He himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion, and they woke him up, and told him, "Teacher, don't you care that we are dying?"³⁹ He awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, "Peace. Be still." The wind ceased, and there was a great calm.⁴⁰ He said to them, "Why are you so afraid? How is it that you have no faith?"⁴¹ They were greatly afraid, and said to one another, "Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?"

5 They came to the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.² When he had come out of the boat, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,³ who had his dwelling in the tombs. Nobody could bind him any more, not even with chains,⁴ because he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been torn apart by him, and the fetters broken in pieces. Nobody had the strength to tame him.⁵ Always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones.⁶ When he saw Yashawai from afar, he ran and bowed down to him,⁷ and crying out with a loud voice, he said, "What have I to do with you, Yashawai, you Son of the Ilayawan Alahayam? I adjure you by Alahayam, don't torment me."⁸ For he said to him, "Come out of the man, you unclean spirit!"⁹ He asked him, "What is your name?" He said to him, "My name is Legion, for we are many."¹⁰ He begged him much that he would not send them away out of the country.¹¹ Now there was there on the mountainside a great herd of pigs feeding.¹² All the demons begged him, saying, "Send us into the pigs, that we may enter into them."¹³ At once Yashawai gave them permission. The unclean spirits came out, and entered into the pigs. The herd of about two thousand rushed down the steep bank into the sea, and they were drowned in the sea.¹⁴ Those who fed them fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. The people came to see what it was that had happened.¹⁵ They came to Yashawai, and saw him who was possessed by demons sitting, clothed and in his right mind, even him who had the legion; and they were afraid.¹⁶ Those who saw it declared to them how it happened to him who was possessed by demons, and about the pigs.¹⁷ They began to beg him to depart from their borders.¹⁸ As he was entering into the boat, he who had been possessed by demons begged him that he might be with him.¹⁹ He didn't allow him, but said to him, "Go to your house, to your friends, and tell them how the Adanay has done great things for you, and how he had mercy on you."²⁰ He went his way, and began to proclaim in Decapolis how Yashawai had done great things for him, and everyone marveled.²¹ When Yashawai had crossed back over in the boat to the other side, a great multitude was gathered to him; and he was by the sea.²² Behold, one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name, came; and seeing him, he fell at his feet,²³ and begged him much, saying, "My little daughter is at the point of death. Please come and lay your hands on her, that she may be made healthy, and live."²⁴ He went with him, and a great multitude followed him, and they pressed upon him on all sides.²⁵ A certain woman, who had an issue of blood for twelve years,²⁶ and had suffered many things by many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was no better, but rather grew worse,²⁷ having heard the things concerning Yashawai, came up behind him in the crowd, and touched his clothes.²⁸ For she said, "If I just touch his clothes, I will be made well."²⁹ Immediately the fountain of her blood was dried up, and she felt in her body that she was healed of her plague.³⁰ Immediately Yashawai, perceiving in himself that the power had gone forth from him, turned around in the crowd, and asked, "Who touched my clothes?"³¹ His disciples said to him, "You see the multitude pressing against you, and you say, 'Who touched me?'"³² He looked around to see her who had done this thing.³³ But the woman, fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.³⁴ He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has made you well. Go in peace, and be cured of your disease."³⁵ While he was still speaking, they came from the synagogue ruler's house saying, "Your daughter is dead. Why bother the Teacher any more?"³⁶ But Yashawai, not heeding the word spoken, immediately said to the ruler of the synagogue, "Don't be afraid, only believe."³⁷ He allowed no one to follow him, except Kayapaa, Yaiqab, and Yawachanan, the brother of Yaiqab.³⁸ He came to the synagogue ruler's house, and he saw an uproar, weeping, and great wailing.³⁹ When he had entered in, he said to them, "Why do you make an uproar and weep? The child is not dead, but is asleep."⁴⁰ They laughed him to scorn. But he, having put them all out, took the father of the child and her mother and those who were with him, and went in where the child was lying.⁴¹ Taking the child by the hand, he said to her, "Talitha cumi;"

which means, being interpreted, "Young lady, I tell you, get up."

⁴² Immediately the young lady rose up, and walked, for she was twelve years old. They were amazed with great amazement.⁴³ He charged them much that no one should know this. He commanded that something should be given to her to eat.

6 He went out from there. He came into his own country, and his disciples followed him.² When the Sabbath had come, he began to teach in the synagogue, and many hearing him were astonished, saying, "Where did this man get these things?" and, "What is the wisdom that is given to this man, that such mighty works come about by his hands?"³ Isn't this the carpenter, the son of Marayam, and brother of Yaiqab, Joses, Yahawadah, and Shamaiwan? Aren't his sisters here with us?" They were offended by him.⁴ Yashawai said to them, "A prophet is not without honor, except in his own country, and among his own relatives, and in his own house."⁵ He could do no mighty work there, except that he laid his hands on a few sick folk, and healed them.⁶ He marveled because of their unbelief. He went around the villages teaching.⁷ He called to himself the twelve, and began to send them out two by two; and he gave them authority over the unclean spirits.⁸ He charged them that they should take nothing for their journey, except a staff only: no bread, no wallet, no money in their purse,⁹ but to wear sandals, and not put on two tunics.¹⁰ He said to them, "Wherever you enter into a house, stay there until you depart from there.¹¹ Whoever will not receive you nor hear you, as you depart from there, shake off the dust that is under your feet for a testimony against them. Assuredly, I tell you, it will be more tolerable for Sadam and Imarah in the day of judgment than for that city!"¹² They went out, and preached that people should repent.¹³ They cast out many demons, and anointed many with oil who were sick, and healed them.¹⁴ King Hawaradawas heard this, for his name had become known, and he said, "Yawachanan the Baptizer has risen from the dead, and therefore these powers work in him."¹⁵ But others said, "It is Alayahaw." Others said, "It is the Prophet, or like one of the prophets."¹⁶ But Hawaradawas, when he heard this, said, "This is Yawachanan, whom I beheaded. He has risen from the dead."¹⁷ For Hawaradawas himself had sent out and laid hold on Yawachanan, and bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Payalayapawas's wife, for he had married her.¹⁸ For Yawachanan said to Hawaradawas, "It is not lawful for you to have your brother's wife."¹⁹ Herodias set herself against him, and desired to kill him, but she couldn't,²⁰ for Hawaradawas feared Yawachanan, knowing that he was a righteous and holy man, and kept him safe. When he heard him, he did many things, and he heard him gladly.²¹ When a convenient day had come, that Hawaradawas on his birthday made a supper for his lords, and the high captains, and the chief men of Galayal;²² and when the daughter of Herodias herself came in and danced, she pleased Hawaradawas and those reclining with him. The king said to the young lady, "Ask me whatever you want, and I will give it to you."²³ He swore to her, "Whatever you shall ask of me, I will give you, up to half of my kingdom."²⁴ She went out, and said to her mother, "What shall I ask?" She said, "The head of Yawachanan the Baptizer."²⁵ She came in immediately with haste to the king, and asked, "I want you to give me right now the head of Yawachanan the Baptizer on a platter."²⁶ The king was exceedingly sorry, but for the sake of his oaths, and of his dinner guests, he didn't wish to refuse her.²⁷ Immediately the king sent forth a soldier of his guard, and commanded to bring Yawachanan's head, and he went and beheaded him in the prison,²⁸ and brought his head on a platter, and gave it to the young lady; and the young lady gave it to her mother.²⁹ When his disciples heard this, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.³⁰ The apostles gathered themselves together to Yashawai, and they told him all things, whatever they had done, and whatever they had taught.³¹ He said to them, "You come apart into a desert place, and rest awhile." For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat.³² They went away in the boat to a desert place by themselves.³³ They saw them going, and many recognized him and ran there on foot from all the cities. They arrived before them and came together to him.³⁴ Yashawai came out, saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd, and he began to teach them many things.³⁵ When it was late in the day, his disciples came to him, and said, "This place is a desert, and it is late in the day."³⁶ Send them away, that they may go into the surrounding country and villages, and buy themselves bread, for they have nothing to eat."³⁷ But he answered them, "You give them something to eat." They asked him, "Shall we go and buy two hundred denarii worth of bread, and give them something to eat?"³⁸ He said to them, "How many loaves do you have? Go see." When they knew, they said, "Five, and two fish."³⁹ He commanded those that all should sit down by companies on the green grass.⁴⁰ They sat down in ranks, by hundreds and by fifties.⁴¹ He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and broke the loaves, and he gave to his disciples to set before them, and he divided the two fish among them all.⁴² They all ate, and were filled.⁴³ They took up twelve baskets full of broken pieces and also of the fish.⁴⁴ Those who ate the loaves were five thousand men.⁴⁵ Immediately he made his disciples enter into the boat, and to go ahead to the other side, to Bethsaida, while he himself sent the multitude away.⁴⁶ After he had taken leave of them, he departed into the mountain to pray.⁴⁷ When evening had come, the boat was in the midst of the sea, and he was alone on the land.⁴⁸ Seeing them distressed in rowing, for the wind was contrary to them; and about the fourth watch of the night he came to them, walking on the sea, and he would have passed by them,⁴⁹ but they, when they saw him walking on the sea, supposed that it was a ghost, and cried out;⁵⁰ for they all saw him, and were troubled. But he immediately spoke with them, and said to them, "Cheer up! It is I! Don't be afraid."⁵¹ He went up to them into the boat; and the wind ceased, and they were very amazed among themselves, and marveled.⁵² for they hadn't understood about the loaves, but their hearts were hardened.⁵³ When they had crossed over, they came to the land to Gennesaret, and moored to the shore.⁵⁴ When they had come out of the boat, immediately the people recognized him,⁵⁵ and ran around that whole region, and began to carry around those who were sick, on their mats, to where they heard he was.⁵⁶ Wherever he entered, into villages, or into cities, or into the country, they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and begged him that they might touch just the fringe of his garment; and as many as touched him were made well.

7 Then the Pharisees, and some of the scribes gathered together to him, having come from Yarawashalam.² Now when they saw some of his disciples eating bread with defiled, that is, unwashed, hands, they found fault.³ (For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, don't eat unless they wash their hands and forearms, holding to the tradition of the elders.⁴ They don't eat when they come from the marketplace, unless they bathe themselves, and there are many other things, which they have received to hold to: washings of cups, pitchers, bronze vessels, and couches.)⁵ The Pharisees and the scribes asked him, "Why don't your disciples walk according to the tradition of the elders, but eat their bread with unwashed hands?"⁶ He answered them, "Well did Yashaiyahaw prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written, 'This people honors me with their lips, But their heart is far from me.'⁷ But in vain do they worship me, Teaching as doctrines the commandments of men."⁸ "For you set aside the commandment of Alahayam, and hold tightly to the tradition of men -- the washing of pitchers and cups, and you do many other such things."⁹ He said to them, "Full well do you reject the commandment of Alahayam, that you may keep your tradition."¹⁰ For Mashah said, 'Honor your father and your mother;' and, 'He who speaks evil of father or mother, let him be put to death.'¹¹ But you say, 'If a man will tell his father or his mother, "Whatever you might have been profited by me is Corban, that is to say, given to Alahayam;"¹² and you no longer allow him to do anything for his father or his mother,¹³ making void the word of Alahayam by your tradition, which you have handed down. You do many things like this."¹⁴ He called all the multitude to himself, and said to them, "Hear me, all of you, and understand.¹⁵ There is nothing from outside of the man, that going into him can defile him; but the things which proceed out of the man are those that defile the man."¹⁶ If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear!"¹⁷ When he had entered into the house from the multitude, his disciples asked him about the parable.¹⁸ He said to them, "Are you so without understanding also? Don't you perceive that whatever goes into the man from outside can't defile him,¹⁹ because it doesn't go into his heart, but into his belly, and into the latrine, thus making all foods clean?"²⁰ He said, "That which proceeds out of the man, that defiles the man."²¹ For from within, out of the hearts of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, sexual sins, murders, thefts,²² covetings, wickedness, deceit, lustful desires, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, and foolishness.²³ All these evil things proceed from within, and defile the man."²⁴ From there he arose, and went away into the borders of Tzar and Tzayadawan. He entered into a house, and wanted no one to know it, but he couldn't escape detection.²⁵ For a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell down at his feet.²⁶ Now the woman was a Greek, a Syrophoenician by race. She begged him that he would cast the demon out of her daughter.²⁷ But Yashawai said to her, "Let the children be filled first, for it is not appropriate to take the children's bread and throw it to the dogs."²⁸ But she answered him, "Yes, Adanay. For even the dogs under the table eat the children's crumbs."²⁹ He said to her, "For this saying, go your way. The demon has gone out of your daughter."³⁰ She went away to her house, and found the child laying on the bed, with the demon gone out.³¹ Again he departed from the borders of Tzar and Tzayadawan, and came to the sea of Galayal, through the midst of the borders of Decapolis.³² They brought to him one who was deaf and had an impediment in his speech. They begged him to lay his hand on him.³³ He took him aside from the multitude, privately, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spat, and touched his tongue.³⁴ Looking up to heaven, he sighed, and said to him, "Ephphatha!" that is, "Be opened!"³⁵ Immediately his ears were opened, and the bond of his tongue was loosed, and he spoke clearly.³⁶ He charged them that they should tell no one, but the more he charged them, so much the more widely they proclaimed it.³⁷ They were astonished beyond measure, saying, "He has done all things well. He makes even the deaf hear, and the mute speak!"

8 In those days, when there was a very great multitude, and they had nothing to eat, Yashawai called his disciples to himself, and said to them,² "I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat."³ If I send them away fasting to their home, they will faint on the way, for some of them have come a long way."⁴ His disciples answered him, "From where will one be able to fill these men with bread here in a desert place?"⁵ He asked them, "How many loaves do you have?" They said, "Seven."⁶ He commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground, and he took the seven loaves. Having given thanks, he broke them, and gave them to his disciples to serve, and they served the multitude.⁷ They had a few small fish. Having blessed them, he said to serve these also.⁸ They ate, and were filled. They took up seven baskets of broken pieces that were left over.⁹ Those who had eaten were about four thousand. Then he sent them away.¹⁰ Immediately he entered into the boat with his disciples, and came into the region of Dalmanutha.¹¹ The Pharisees came out and began to question him, seeking a sign from heaven from him, and tempting him.¹² He sighed deeply in his spirit, and said, "Why does this generation seek a sign? Most assuredly I tell you, there will no sign be given to this generation."¹³ He left them, and again entering into the boat, departed to the other side.¹⁴ They forgot to take bread; and they didn't have more than one loaf in the boat with them.¹⁵ He charged them, saying, "Take heed: beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and the yeast of Hawaradawas."¹⁶ They reasoned with one another, saying, "It's because we have no bread."¹⁷ Yashawai, perceiving it, said to them, "Why do you reason that it's because you have no bread? Don't you perceive yet, neither understand? Is your heart still hardened?¹⁸ Having eyes, don't you see? Having ears, don't you hear? Don't you remember?¹⁹ When I broke the five loaves among the five thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces did you take up?" They told him, "Twelve."²⁰ "When the seven loaves fed the four thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces did you take up?" They told him, "Seven."²¹ He asked them, "Don't you understand, yet?"²² He came to Bethsaida. They brought a blind man to him, and begged him to touch him.²³ He took hold of the blind man by the hand, and brought him out of the village. When he had spit on his eyes, and laid his hands on him, he asked him if he saw anything.²⁴ He looked up, and said, "I see men; for I see them like trees walking."²⁵ Then again he laid his hands on his eyes. He looked intently, and was restored, and saw everyone clearly.²⁶ He sent him away to his house, saying, "Don't enter into the village, nor tell anyone in the village."²⁷ Yashawai went forth, with his disciples, into the villages of Caesarea Philippi. On the way he asked his disciples, "Who do men say that I am?"²⁸ They told him, "Yawachanan the Baptizer, and others, Alayahaw, but others, one of the prophets."²⁹ He asked them, "But who do you say that I am?" Kayapaa answered, "You are the Mashayach."³⁰ He charged them that they should tell no one about him.³¹ He began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again.³² He spoke to them openly. Kayapaa took him, and began to rebuke him.³³ But he, turning around, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Kayapaa, and said, "Get behind me, Satan! For you have in mind not the things of Alahayam, but the things of men."³⁴ He called the multitude to himself with his disciples, and said to them, "Whoever wants to come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.³⁵ For whoever wants to save his life will lose it; and whoever will lose his life for my sake and the gospel's will save it.³⁶ For what does it profit a man, to gain the whole world, and forfeit his life?³⁷ For what should a man give in exchange for his life?³⁸ For whoever will be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man also will be ashamed of him, when he comes in the glory of his Father with the holy angels."

9 He said to them, "Most assuredly I tell you, there are some standing here who will in no way taste death, until they see the kingdom of Alahayam come with power."² After six days Yashawai took with him Kayapaa, Yaiqab, and Yawachanan, and brought them up onto a high mountain privately by themselves, and he was changed into another form in front of them.³ His clothing became glistening, exceedingly white, like snow, such as no launderer on earth can whiten them.⁴ Alayahaw and Mashah appeared to them, and they were talking with Yashawai.⁵ Kayapaa answered Yashawai, "Rabbi, it is good for us to be here. Let's make three tents: one for you, one for Mashah, and one for Alayahaw."⁶ For he didn't know what to say, for they were very afraid.⁷ A cloud came, overshadowing them, and a voice came out of the cloud, "This is my beloved Son. Listen to him."⁸ Suddenly looking around, they saw no one with them any more, except Yashawai only.⁹ As they were coming down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no one what things they had seen, until the Son of Man had risen again from the dead.¹⁰ They kept the saying, questioning among themselves what the rising again from the dead should mean.¹¹ They asked him, saying, "Why do the scribes say that Alayahaw must come first?"¹² He said to them, "Alayahaw indeed comes first, and restores all things. How is it written about the Son of Man, that he should suffer many things and be despised?¹³ But I tell you, that Alayahaw has come, and they have also done to him whatever they wanted to, even as it is written about him."¹⁴ Coming to the disciples, he saw a great multitude around them, and scribes questioning them.¹⁵ Immediately all the multitude, when they saw him, were greatly amazed, and running to him greeted him.¹⁶ He asked the scribes, "What are you asking them?"¹⁷ One of the multitude answered, "Teacher, I brought to you my son, who has a mute spirit;¹⁸ and wherever it seizes him, it dashes him down, and he foams at the mouth, and grinds his teeth, and wastes away. I asked your disciples to cast it out, and they weren't able."¹⁹ He answered them, "Unbelieving generation, how long will I be with you? How long will I bear with you? Bring him to me."²⁰ They brought him to him, and when he saw him, immediately the spirit convulsed him, and he fell on the ground, wallowing and foaming at the mouth.²¹ He asked his father, "How long has it been since this has come to him?" He said, "From childhood."²² Often it has cast him both into the fire and into the water, to destroy him. But if you can do anything, have compassion on us, and help us."²³ Yashawai said to him, "If you can believe? All things are possible to him who believes."²⁴ Immediately the father of the child cried out with tears, "I believe. Help my unbelief!"²⁵ When Yashawai saw that a multitude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to him, "You mute and deaf spirit, I command you, come out of him, and enter no more into him!"²⁶ Having cried out, and convulsed him greatly, it came out. The boy became like one dead; so much that most of them said, "He is dead."²⁷ But Yashawai took him by the hand, and raised him up; and he arose.²⁸ When he had come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, "Why couldn't we cast it out?"²⁹ He said to them, "This kind can come out by nothing, except by prayer and fasting."³⁰ They went forth from there, and passed through Galayal. He didn't want anyone to know it.³¹ For he taught his disciples, and said to them, "The Son of Man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they will kill him; and when he is killed, on the third day he will rise again."³² But they didn't understand the saying, and were afraid to ask him.³³ He came to Kaparanachawam, and when he was in the house he asked them, "What were you arguing among yourselves on the way?"³⁴ But they were silent, for they had disputed one with another on the way about who was the greatest.³⁵ He sat down, and called the twelve; and he said to them, "If any man wants to be first, he will be last of all, and servant of all."³⁶ He took a little child, and set him in the midst of them. Taking him in his arms, he said to them,³⁷ "Whoever receives one such little child in my name, receives me, and whoever receives me, doesn't receive me, but him who sent me."³⁸ Yawachanan said to him, "Teacher, we saw someone who doesn't follow us casting out demons in your name; and we forbade him, because he doesn't follow us."³⁹ But Yashawai said, "Don't forbid him, for there is no one who will do a mighty work in my name, and be able quickly to speak evil of me."⁴⁰ For whoever is not against us is on our side.⁴¹ For whoever will give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because you are Mashayach's, most assuredly I tell you, he will in no way lose his reward.⁴² Whoever will cause one of these little ones who believe in me to stumble, it would be better for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.⁴³ If your hand causes you to stumble, cut it off. It is better for you to enter into life maimed, rather than having your two hands to go into Gehenna, into the unquenchable fire,⁴⁴ where their worm doesn't die, and the fire is not quenched.⁴⁵ If your foot causes you to stumble, cut it off. It is better for you to enter into life lame, rather than having your two feet to be cast into Gehenna, into the fire that will never be quenched --⁴⁶ where their worm doesn't die, and the fire is not quenched.⁴⁷ If your eye causes you to stumble, cast it out. It is better for you to enter into the kingdom of Alahayam with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the Gehenna of fire,⁴⁸ where their worm doesn't die, and the fire is not quenched.⁴⁹ For everyone will be salted with fire, and every sacrifice will be seasoned with salt.⁵⁰ Salt is good, but if the salt has lost its saltiness, with what will you season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace with one another."

10 He arose from there and came into the borders of Yahawadah and beyond the Yاران. Multitudes came together to him again. As he usually did, he taught them again.² There came to him Pharisees testing him, and asked him, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife?"³ He answered, "What did Mashah command you?"⁴ They said, "Mashah allowed a bill of divorce to be written, and to divorce her."⁵ But Yashawai said to them, "For your hardness of heart, he wrote you this commandment.⁶ But from the beginning of the creation, `Alahayam made them male and female.<sup>7</sup> For this cause will a man leave his father and mother, and will join to his wife,<sup>8</sup> and the two will become one flesh,` so that they are no longer two, but one flesh.⁹ What therefore Alahayam has joined together, let no man separate."¹⁰ In the house, his disciples asked him again about the same matter.¹¹ He said to them, "Whoever will divorce his wife, and marry another, commits adultery against her.¹² If a woman herself divorces her husband, and marries another, she commits adultery."¹³ They were bringing to him little children, that he should touch them, but the disciples rebuked those who were bringing them.¹⁴ But when Yashawai saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said to them, "Allow the little children to come to me! Don't forbid them, for to such belong the kingdom of Alahayam."¹⁵ Most assuredly I tell you, whoever will not receive the kingdom of Alahayam as a little child, he will in no way enter therein."¹⁶ He took them in his arms, and blessed them, laying his hands on them.¹⁷ As he was going forth into the way, one ran to him, kneeled to him, and asked him, "Good Teacher, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?"¹⁸ Yashawai said to him, "Why do you call me good? No one is good except one -- Alahayam."¹⁹ You know the commandments: `Do not murder,` `Do not commit adultery,` `Do not steal,` `Do not give false testimony,` `Do not defraud,` `Honor your father and mother.`"²⁰ He said to him, "Teacher, all these things have I observed from my youth."²¹ Yashawai looking at him loved him, and said to him, "One thing you lack. Go, sell whatever you have, and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me, taking up the cross."²² But his face fell at that saying, and he went away sorrowful, for he was one who had great possessions.²³ Yashawai looked around, and said to his disciples, "How difficult it is for those who have riches to enter into the kingdom of Alahayam!"²⁴ The disciples were amazed at his words. But Yashawai answered again, "Children, how hard is it for those who trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of Alahayam!"²⁵ It is easier for a camel to go through the needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of Alahayam."²⁶ They were exceedingly astonished, saying to him, "Then who can be saved?"²⁷ Yashawai, looking at them, said, "With men it is impossible, but not with Alahayam, for all things are possible with Alahayam."²⁸ Kayapaa began to tell him, "Behold, we have left all, and have followed you."²⁹ Yashawai said, "Most assuredly I tell you, there is no one who has left house, or brothers, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or land, for my sake, and for the gospel's sake,³⁰ but he will receive one hundred times now in this time, houses, brothers, sisters, mothers, children, and land, with persecutions; and in the age to come eternal life."³¹ But many who are first will be last; and the last first."³² They were on the way, going up to Yarawashalam; and Yashawai was going in front of them, and they were amazed; and those who followed were afraid. He again took the twelve, and began to tell them the things that were going to happen to him.³³ "Behold, we are going up to Yarawashalam. The Son of Man will be delivered to the chief priests and the scribes. They will condemn him to death, and will deliver him to the Gentiles."³⁴ They will mock him, spit on him, scourge him, and kill him. On the third day he will rise again."³⁵ Yaiqab and Yawachanan, the sons of Zebedee, came near to him, saying, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we will ask."³⁶ He said to them, "What do you want me to do for you?"³⁷ They said to him, "Grant to us that we may sit, one at your right hand, and one at your left hand, in your glory."³⁸ But Yashawai said to them, "You don't know what you ask. Are you able to drink the cup that I drink, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?"³⁹ They said to him, "We are able." Yashawai said to them, "You shall indeed drink the cup that I drink, and you shall be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with;⁴⁰ but to sit at my right hand and at my left hand is not mine to give, but for whom it has been prepared."⁴¹ When the ten heard it, they began to be moved with indignation towards Yaiqab and Yawachanan.⁴² Yashawai called them to him, and said to them, "You know that they who are recognized as rulers over the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them."⁴³ But it shall not be so among you, but whoever wants to become great among you, will be your servant."⁴⁴ Whoever of you wants to become first among you, shall be servant of all."⁴⁵ For the Son of Man also came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many."⁴⁶ They came to Yarayachaw. As he went out from Yarayachaw, with his disciples and a great multitude, the son of Timaeus, Bartimaeus, a blind beggar, was sitting by the road.⁴⁷ When he heard that it was Yashawai, the Nazarene, he began to cry out, and say, "Yashawai, you son of Dawad, have mercy on me!"⁴⁸ Many rebuked him, that he should be quiet, but he cried out the more a great deal, "You son of Dawad, have mercy on me!"⁴⁹ Yashawai stood still, and said, "Call him." They called the blind man, saying to him, "Cheer up! Get up. He is calling you."⁵⁰ He, casting away his cloak, sprang up, and came to Yashawai.⁵¹ Yashawai answered him, "What do you want me to do for you?" The blind man said to him, "Rhabboni, that I may see again."⁵² Yashawai said to him, "Go your way. Your faith has made you well." Immediately he received his sight, and followed Yashawai in the way.

11 When they drew near to Yarawashalam, to Bethsphage and Bayathainayah, at the Mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples,² and said to them, "Go your way into the village that is opposite you. Immediately as you enter into it, you will find a colt tied, on which no one has sat. Untie him, and bring him."³ If anyone asks you, `Why are you doing this?` say, `The Adanay needs him;` and immediately he will send him back here."⁴ They went away, and found a colt tied at the door outside in the open street, and they untied him.⁵ Some of those who stood there asked them, "What are you doing, untying the colt?"⁶ They said to them just as Yashawai had said, and they let them go.⁷ They brought the colt to Yashawai, and threw their garments on him, and Yashawai sat on him.⁸ Many spread their garments on the way, and others were cutting down branches from the trees, and spreading them on the road.⁹ Those who went in front, and those who followed, cried, "Hosanna! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Adanay!"¹⁰ Blessed is the kingdom of our father Dawad that is coming in the name of the Adanay! Hosanna in the highest!"¹¹ Yashawai entered into the temple in Yarawashalam. When he had looked around at everything, it being now evening, he went out to Bayathainayah with the twelve.¹² The next day, when they had come out from Bayathainayah, he was hungry.¹³ Seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came to see if perhaps he might find anything on it. When he came to it, he found nothing but leaves, for it was not the season for figs.¹⁴ Yashawai told it, "May no one ever eat fruit from you again!" and his disciples heard it.¹⁵ They came to Yarawashalam, and Yashawai entered into the temple, and began to throw out those who sold and those who bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of those who sold the doves.¹⁶ He would not allow anyone to carry a container through the temple.¹⁷ He taught, saying to them, "Isn't it written, `My house will be called a house of prayer for all the nations?` But you have made it a den of robbers!"¹⁸ The chief priests and the scribes heard it, and sought how they might destroy him. For they feared him, for all the multitude was astonished at his teaching.¹⁹ When evening came, he went forth out of the city.²⁰ As they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away from the roots.²¹ Kayapaa, remembering, said to him, "Rabbi, look! The fig tree which you cursed has withered away."²² Yashawai answering said to them, "Have faith in Alahayam."²³ For most assuredly I tell you, whoever may tell this mountain, `Be taken up and cast into the sea,` and doesn't doubt in his heart, but believes that what he says happens; he shall have whatever he says.²⁴ Therefore I tell you, all things whatever you pray and ask for, believe that you receive them, and you shall have them.²⁵ Whenever you stand praying, forgive, if you have anything against anyone; so that your Father, who is in heaven, may also forgive you your transgressions.²⁶ But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father in heaven forgive your transgressions."²⁷ They came again to Yawashalam, and as he was walking in the temple, the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders came to him,²⁸ and they were asking him, "By what authority do you these things? Or who gave you this authority to do these things?"²⁹ Yashawai said to them, "I will ask you one question. Answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things."³⁰ The baptism of Yawachanan, was it from heaven, or from men? Answer me."³¹ They reasoned with themselves, saying, "If we should say, 'From heaven;' he will say, 'Why then did you not believe him?'"³² If we should say, 'From men'--they feared the people, for all held Yawachanan to really be a prophet.³³ They answered Yashawai, "We don't know." Yashawai said to them, "Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things."

12 He began to speak to them in parables. "A man planted a vineyard, set a hedge around it, dug a pit for the winepress, built a tower, rented it out to a farmer, and went into another country.² When it was time, he sent a servant to the farmer to get from the farmer his share of the fruit of the vineyard."³ They took him, beat him, and sent him away empty.⁴ Again, he sent another servant to them; and they threw stones at him, wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully treated.⁵ Again he sent another; and they killed him; and many others, beating some, and killing some.⁶ Therefore he had yet one, a beloved son, he sent him last to them, saying, 'They will respect my son.'⁷ But those farmers said among themselves, 'This is the heir. Come, let's kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.'⁸ They took him, killed him, and cast him forth out of the vineyard.⁹ What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the farmers, and will give the vineyard to others.¹⁰ Haven't you even read this scripture: 'The stone which the builders rejected, The same was made the head of the corner.'¹¹ This was from the Adanay, It is marvelous in our eyes.'¹² They tried to seize him, but they feared the multitude; for they perceived that he spoke the parable against them. They left him, and went away.¹³ They sent some of the Pharisees and of the Herodians to him, that they might catch him in words.¹⁴ When they had come, they asked him, "Teacher, we know that you are honest, and don't defer to anyone; for you aren't partial to anyone, but truly teach the way of Alahayam. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Qayasar, or not?"¹⁵ Shall we give, or shall we not give?" But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said to them, "Why do you test me? Bring me a denarius, that I may see it."¹⁶ They brought it. He said to them, "Whose is this image and inscription?" They said to him, "Qayasar's."¹⁷ Yashawai answered them, "Render to Qayasar the things that are Qayasar's, and to Alahayam the things that are Alahayam's." They marveled greatly at him.¹⁸ There came to him Sadducees, who say that there is no resurrection. They asked him, saying,¹⁹ "Teacher, Mashah wrote to us, 'If a man's brother dies, and leaves a wife behind him, and leaves no child, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up children to his brother.'²⁰ There were seven brothers. The first took a wife, and dying left no children.²¹ The second took her, and died, leaving no children behind him. The third likewise;²² and the seven took her and left no children. Last of all the woman also died.²³ In the resurrection, when they rise, whose wife will she be of them? For the seven had her as a wife."²⁴ Yashawai answered them, "Isn't this because you are mistaken, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of Alahayam?"²⁵ For when they will rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven.²⁶ But about the dead, that they are raised; haven't you read in the book of Mashah, at the Bush, how Alahayam spoke to him, saying, 'I am the Alahayam of Abaraham, the Alahayam of Yatzachaq, and the Alahayam of Yaiqab?'²⁷ He is not the Alahayam of the dead, but of the living. You are therefore badly mistaken."²⁸ One of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together. Knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, "What commandment is the greatest of all?"²⁹ Yashawai answered, "The greatest is, 'Hear, Yasharaal, the Adanay our Alahayam, the Adanay is one:'³⁰ you shall love the Adanay your Alahayam with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind, and with all your strength."

This is the primary commandment.³¹ The second is like this, 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' There is no other commandment greater than these."³² The scribe said to him, "Truly, teacher, you have said well that he is one, and there is none other but he,³³ and to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbor as himself, is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices."³⁴ When Yashawai saw that he answered wisely, he said to him, "You are not far from the kingdom of Alahayam." No one dared ask him any question after that.³⁵ Yashawai responded, as he taught in the temple, "How is it that the scribes say that the Mashayach is the son of Dawad?"³⁶ For Dawad himself said in the Holy Spirit, 'The Adanay said to my Adanay, Sit at my right hand, Until I make your enemies the footstool of your feet.'³⁷ Therefore Dawad himself calls him Adanay, so how can he be his son?" The common people heard him gladly.³⁸ In his teaching he said to them, "Beware of the scribes, who desire to walk in long robes, and to get greetings in the marketplaces,³⁹ and chief seats in the synagogues, and chief places at feasts:⁴⁰ those who devour widows' houses, and for a pretense make long prayers. These will receive greater condemnation."⁴¹ Yashawai sat down opposite the treasury, and saw how the multitude cast money into the treasury. Many who were rich cast in much.⁴² There came a poor widow, and she cast in two lepta, which make a quadrans.⁴³ He called his disciples to himself, and said to them, "Most assuredly I tell you, this poor widow gave more than all those who are giving into the treasury,⁴⁴ for they all gave out of their abundance, but she, out of her poverty, gave all that she had to live on."

13 As he went forth out of the temple, one of his disciples said to him, "Teacher, see what kind of stones and what kind of buildings!"² Yashawai said to him, "Do you see these great buildings? There will not be left here one stone on another, which will not be thrown down."³ As he sat on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Kayapaa, Yaiqab, Yawachanan, and Anadaray asked him privately,⁴ "Tell us, when will these things be? What is the sign that these things are all about to be accomplished?"⁵ Yashawai, answering, began to tell them, "Be careful that no one leads you astray.⁶ For many will come in my name, saying, 'I am he!' and will lead many astray.⁷ When you hear of wars and rumors of wars, don't be troubled. For those must happen, but the end is not yet.⁸ For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places. There will be famines and troubles. These things are the beginning of birth pains."⁹ But watch yourselves, for they will deliver you up to councils. You will be beaten in synagogues. Before governors and kings will you stand for my sake, for a testimony to them.¹⁰ The gospel must first be preached to all the nations.¹¹ When they lead you away and deliver you up, don't be anxious beforehand, or premeditate what you will say, but say whatever will be given you in that hour. For it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit.¹² "Brother will deliver up brother to death, and the father his child. Children will rise up against parents, and cause them to be put to death."¹³ You will be hated by all men for my name's sake, but he who endures to the end, the same will be saved.¹⁴ But when you see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Dan the prophet, standing where it ought not (let the reader understand), then let those who are in Yahawadah flee to the mountains,¹⁵ and let him who is on the housetop not go down, nor enter in, to take anything out of his house.¹⁶ Let him who is in the field not return back to take his cloak.¹⁷ But woe to those who are with child and to those who nurse babies in those days!¹⁸ Pray that your flight won't be in the winter.¹⁹ For in those days there will be oppression, such as there has not been the like from the beginning of the creation which Alahayam created until now, and never will be.²⁰ Unless the Adanay had shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved; but for the elect's sake, whom he chose, he shortened the days.²¹ Then if anyone tells you, 'Look, here is the Mashayach!' or, 'Look, there!' don't believe it.²² For there will arise false christs and false prophets, and will show signs and wonders, that they may lead astray, if possible, also the elect.²³ But you watch. "Behold, I have told you all things beforehand."²⁴ But in those days, after that oppression, the sun will be darkened, the moon will not give her light,²⁵ the stars will be falling from the sky, and the powers that are in the heavens will be shaken.²⁶ Then will they see the Son of Man coming in clouds with great power and glory.²⁷ Then will he send forth his angels, and will gather together his elect from the four winds, from the ends of the earth to the ends of the sky.²⁸ "Now from the fig tree, learn this parable. When the branch has now become tender, and puts forth its leaves, you know that the summer is near;²⁹ even so you also, when you see these things coming to pass, know that it is near, at the doors.³⁰ Most assuredly I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all these things are accomplished.³¹ Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away.³² But of that day or that hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven, neither the Son, but only the Father.³³ Watch, keep alert, and pray; for you don't know when the time is.³⁴ "It is like a man, traveling to another country, having left his house, and given authority to his servants, and to each one his work, and also commanded the doorkeeper to keep watch.³⁵ Watch therefore, for you don't know when the lord of the house is coming, whether at evening, or at midnight, or when the rooster crows, or in the morning;³⁶ lest coming suddenly he might find you sleeping.³⁷ What I tell you, I tell all: Watch."

14 It was now two days before the feast of the Passover and the unleavened bread, and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might seize him by deception, and kill him.² For they said, "Not during the feast, because there might be a riot of the people."³ While he was at Bayathainayah, in the house of Shamaiwan the leper, as he sat at the table, there came a woman having an alabaster jar of ointment of pure nard -- very costly. She broke the jar, and poured it over his head.⁴ But there were some who had indignation among themselves, saying, "Why has this ointment been wasted?⁵ For this might have been sold for more than three hundred denarii, and given to the poor." They grumbled against her.⁶ But Yashawai said, "Leave her alone. Why do you trouble her? She has done a good work for me.⁷ For you always have the poor with you, and whenever you want to, you can do them good; but you will not always have me.⁸ She has done what she could. She has anointed my body beforehand for the burying.⁹ Most assuredly I tell you, wherever this gospel may be preached throughout the whole world, that also which this woman has done will be spoken of for a memorial of her."¹⁰ Yahawadah Iscariot, who was one of the twelve, went away to the chief priests, that he might deliver him to them.¹¹ They, when they heard it, were glad, and promised to give him money. He sought how he might conveniently deliver him.¹² On the first day of unleavened bread, when they sacrificed the Passover, his disciples asked him, "Where do you want us to go and make ready that you may eat the Passover?"¹³ He sent two of his disciples, and said to them, "Go into the city, and there you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him,¹⁴ and wherever he enters in, tell the master of the house, 'The Teacher says, "Where is the guest room, where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?"' "¹⁵ He will himself show you a large upper room furnished and ready. Make ready for us there."¹⁶ His disciples went out, and came into the city, and found things as he had said to them, and they prepared the Passover.¹⁷ When it was evening he came with the twelve.¹⁸ As they sat and were eating, Yashawai said, "Most assuredly I tell you, one of you will betray me -- he who eats with me."¹⁹ They began to be sorrowful, and to ask him one by one, "Surely not I?" And another said, "Surely not I?"²⁰ He answered them, "It is one of the twelve, he who dips with me in the dish."²¹ For the Son of Man goes, even as it is written about him, but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would be better for that man if he had not been born."²² As they were eating, Yashawai took bread, and when he had blessed, he broke it, and gave to them, and said, "Take, eat. This is my body."²³ He took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave to them. They all drank of it.²⁴ He said to them, "This is my blood of the new covenant, which is poured out for many."²⁵ Most assuredly I tell you, I will no more drink of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it anew in the kingdom of Alahayam."²⁶ When they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.²⁷ Yashawai said to them, "All of you will be made to stumble because of me tonight, for it is written, 'I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered.'²⁸ However, after I am raised up, I will go before you into Galayal."²⁹ But Kayapaa said to him, "Although all will be offended, yet I will not."³⁰ Yashawai said to him, "Most assuredly I tell you, that you today, even this night, before the cock crows twice, you will deny me three times."³¹ But he spoke all the more, "If I must die with you, I will not deny you." Likewise, they all said so.³² They came to a place which was named Gethsemane. He said to his disciples, "Sit here, while I pray."³³ He took with him Kayapaa, Yaiqab, and Yawachanan, and began to be greatly alarmed and distressed.³⁴ He said to them, "My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death. Stay here, and watch."³⁵ He went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass away from him.³⁶ He said, "Abba, Father, all things are possible to you. Please remove this cup from me. However, not what I want, but what you want."³⁷ He came and found them sleeping, and said to Kayapaa, "Shamaiwan, are you sleeping? Couldn't you watch one hour?"³⁸ Watch and pray, that you not enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."³⁹ Again he went away, and prayed, saying the same words.⁴⁰ Again he returned, and found them sleeping, for their eyes were very heavy, and they didn't know what to answer him.⁴¹ He came the third time, and said to them, "Sleep on now, and take your rest. It is enough. The hour has come. Behold, the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.⁴² Arise, let us be going. Behold, he who betrays me is at hand."⁴³ Immediately, while he was still speaking, Yahawadah, one of the twelve, came -- and with him a multitude with swords and clubs, from the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders.⁴⁴ Now he who betrayed him had given them a sign, saying, "Whoever I will kiss, that is he. Take him, and lead him away safely."⁴⁵ When he had come, immediately he came to him, and said, "Rabbi! Rabbi!" and kissed him.⁴⁶ They laid their hands on him, and took him.⁴⁷ But a certain one of those who stood by drew his sword, and struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.⁴⁸ Yashawai answered them, "Have you come out, as against a robber, with swords and clubs to seize me?⁴⁹ I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and you didn't arrest me. But this is so that the scriptures might be fulfilled."⁵⁰ They all left him, and fled.⁵¹ A certain young man followed with him, having a linen cloth thrown around him, over his naked body. The young men grabbed him,⁵² but he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.⁵³ They led Yashawai away to the high priest. There came together with him all the chief priests, the elders, and the scribes.⁵⁴ Kayapaa had followed him afar off, until he came into the court of the high priest. He was sitting with the officers, and warming himself in the light of the fire.⁵⁵ Now the chief priests and the whole council sought witnesses against Yashawai to put him to death, and found none.⁵⁶ For many gave false testimony against him, and their testimony didn't agree with each other.⁵⁷ Some stood up, and gave false testimony against him, saying,⁵⁸ "We heard him say, 'I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another made without hands.'" ⁵⁹ Even so their testimony did not agree.⁶⁰ The high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Yashawai, "Have you no answer? What is it which these testify against you?"⁶¹ But he stayed quiet, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, "Are you the Mashayach, the Son of the Blessed?"⁶² Yashawai said, "I AM. You will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of Power, and coming with the clouds of the sky."⁶³ The high priest tore his clothes, and said, "What further need have we of witnesses?⁶⁴ You have heard the blasphemy! What do you think?" They all condemned him to be worthy of death.⁶⁵ Some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to beat him with fists, and to tell him, "Prophecy!" The officers struck him with the palms of their hands.⁶⁶ As Kayapaa was beneath in the court, one of the maids of the high priest came,⁶⁷ and seeing Kayapaa warming himself, she looked at him, and said, "You were also with the Nazarene, Yashawai."⁶⁸ But he denied it, saying, "I neither know, nor understand what you are saying." He went out into the porch, and the cock crowed.⁶⁹ The maid saw him, and began again to tell those who stood by, "This is one of them."⁷⁰ But he again denied it. After a little while again those who stood by said to Kayapaa, "You truly are one of them, for you are a Galilean, and your speech shows it."⁷¹ But he began to curse, and to swear, "I don't know this man of whom you speak!"⁷² The cock crowed the second time. Kayapaa remembered the word, how that Yashawai said to him, "Before the cock crows twice, you will deny me three times." When he thought about that, he wept.

15 Immediately in the morning the chief priests, with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, held a consultation, and bound Yashawai, and carried him away, and delivered him up to Payalatawas.² Payalatawas asked him, "Are you the King of the Jews?" He answered, "So you say."³ The chief priests accused him of many things.⁴ Payalatawas again asked him, "Have you no answer? See how many things they testify against you!"⁵ But Yashawai made no further answer, so Payalatawas marveled.⁶ Now at the feast he used to release to them one prisoner, whom they asked of him.⁷ There was one called Barabbas, bound with those who had made insurrection, men who in the insurrection had committed murder.⁸ The multitude, crying aloud, began to ask him to do as he always did for them.⁹ Payalatawas answered them, saying, "Do you you want me to release to you the King of the Jews?"¹⁰ For he perceived that for envy the chief priests had delivered him up.¹¹ But the chief priests stirred up the multitude, that he should release Barabbas to them instead.¹² Payalatawas again asked them, "What then should I do to him whom you call the King of the Jews?"¹³ They cried out again, "Crucify him!"¹⁴ Payalatawas said to them, "Why, what evil has he done?" But they cried out exceedingly, "Crucify him!"¹⁵ Payalatawas, wishing to please the multitude, released Barabbas to them, and delivered Yashawai, when he had flogged him, to be crucified.¹⁶ The soldiers led him away within the court, which is the Praetorium; and they called together the whole cohort.¹⁷ They clothed him with purple, and weaving a crown of thorns, they put it on him.¹⁸ They began to salute him, "Hail, King of the Jews!"¹⁹ They struck his head with a reed, and spat on him, and bowing their knees, did homage to him.²⁰ When they had mocked him, they took the purple off of him, and put his own garments on him. They led him out to crucify him.²¹ They compelled one passing by, coming from the country, Shamaïwan of Cyrene, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to go with them, that he might bear his cross.²² They brought him to the place called Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, "The place of a skull."²³ They offered him wine mixed with myrrh to drink, but he didn't take it.²⁴ Crucifying him, they parted his garments among them, casting lots on them, what each should take.²⁵ It was the third hour, and they crucified him.²⁶ The superscription of his accusation was written over him, "THE KING OF THE JEWS."²⁷ With him they crucified two robbers; one on his right hand, and one on his left.²⁸ The scripture was fulfilled, which says, "He was numbered with transgressors."²⁹ Those who passed by blasphemed him, wagging their heads, and saying, "Ha! You who destroy the temple, and build it in three days,³⁰ save yourself, and come down from the cross!"³¹ Likewise, also the chief priests mocking among themselves with the scribes said, "He saved others. He can't save himself."³² Let the Mashayach, the King of Yasharaal, now come down from the cross, that we may see and believe him." Those who were crucified with him reproached him.³³ When the sixth hour had come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.³⁴ At the ninth hour Yashawai cried with a loud voice, saying, "Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?" which is, being interpreted, "My Alahayam, my Alahayam, why have you forsaken me?"³⁵ Some of those who stood by, when they heard it, said, "Behold, he calls Alayahaw."³⁶ One ran, and filling a sponge full of vinegar, put it on a reed, and gave it to him to drink, saying, "Let him be. Let's see whether Alayahaw comes to take him down."³⁷ Yashawai cried out with a loud voice, and gave up the spirit.³⁸ The veil of the temple was torn in two from the top to the bottom.³⁹ When the centurion, who stood by opposite him, saw that he cried out like this and breathed his last, he said, "Truly this man was the Son of Alahayam!"⁴⁰ There were also women watching from afar, among whom were both Marayam Magdalene, and Marayam the mother of Yaiqab the less and of Joses, and Salome;⁴¹ who, when he was in Galayal, followed him, and served him; and many other women who came up with him to Yarawashalam.⁴² When evening had now come, because it was the Preparation, that is, the day before the Sabbath,⁴³ Yawasap of Arimathaea, a member of the council of honorable estate, who also himself was looking for the kingdom of Alahayam, came. He boldly went in to Payalatawas, and asked for Yashawai's body.⁴⁴ Payalatawas marveled if he were already dead: and calling to him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been dead for a while.⁴⁵ When he learned it from the centurion, he granted the body to Yawasap.⁴⁶ He bought a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb which had been cut out of a rock. He rolled a stone against the door of the tomb.⁴⁷ Marayam Magdalene and Marayam, the mother of Joses, saw where he was laid.

16 When the Sabbath was past, Marayam Magdalene, and Marayam the mother of Yaiqab, and Salome, bought spices, that they might come and anoint him.² Very early on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb when the sun had risen.³ They were saying among themselves, "Who will roll away the stone from the door of the tomb for us?"⁴ for it was very big. Looking up, they saw that the stone was rolled back.⁵ Entering into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, dressed in a white robe, and they were amazed.⁶ He said to them, "Don't be amazed. You seek Yashawai, the Nazarene, who has been crucified. He has risen. He is not here. Behold, the place where they laid him!"⁷ But go, tell his disciples and Kayapaa, "He goes before you into Galayal. There you will see him, as he said to you."⁸ They went out, and fled from the tomb, for trembling and astonishment had come on them. They said nothing to anyone; for they were afraid.⁹ Now when he had risen early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Marayam Magdalene, from whom he had cast out seven demons.¹⁰ She went and told those who had been with him, as they mourned and wept.¹¹ When they heard that he was alive, and had been seen by her, they disbelieved.¹² After these things he was revealed in another form to two of them, as they walked, on their way into the country.¹³ They went away and told it to the rest. They didn't believe them, either.¹⁴ Afterward he was revealed to the eleven themselves as they sat at the table, and he rebuked them for their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they didn't believe those who had seen him after he had risen.¹⁵ He said to them, "Go into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation."¹⁶ He who believes and is baptized will be saved; but he who disbelieves will be condemned.¹⁷ These signs will accompany those who believe: in my name they will cast out demons; they will speak with new languages;¹⁸ they will take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it will in no way hurt them; they will lay hands on the sick, and they will recover."¹⁹ So then the Adanay Yashawai, after he had spoken to them, was received up into heaven, and sat down at the right hand of Alahayam.²⁰ They went forth, and preached everywhere, the Adanay working with them, and confirming the word by the signs that followed. Amen.

1 Because many have undertaken to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which have been fulfilled among us, ² even as they delivered them to us, who from the beginning were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word, ³ it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write to you in order, most excellent Theophilus; ⁴ that you might know the certainty concerning the things in which you were instructed. ⁵ There was in the days of Hawaradawas, the king of Yahawadah, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the priestly division of Abayah. He had a wife of the daughters of Aharan, and her name was Alayashabai. ⁶ They were both righteous before Alahayam, walking blamelessly in all the commandments and ordinances of the Adanay. ⁷ But they had no child, because Alayashabai was barren, and they both were well advanced in years. ⁸ Now it happened, while he executed the priest's office before Alahayam in the order of his division, ⁹ according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to enter into the temple of the Adanay and burn incense. ¹⁰ The whole multitude of the people were praying outside at the hour of incense. ¹¹ An angel of the Adanay appeared to him, standing on the right side of the altar of incense. ¹² Zacharias was troubled when he saw him, and fear fell on him. ¹³ But the angel said to him, "Don't be afraid, Zacharias, because your request has been heard, and your wife, Alayashabai, will bear you a son, and you shall call his name Yawachanan. ¹⁴ You will have joy and gladness; and many will rejoice at his birth. ¹⁵ For he will be great in the sight of the Adanay, and he will drink no wine nor strong drink. He will be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother's womb. ¹⁶ He will turn many of the children of Yasharaal to the Adanay, their Alahayam. ¹⁷ He will go before his face in the spirit and power of Alayahaw, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Adanay." ¹⁸ Zacharias said to the angel, "How can I be sure of this? For I am an old man, and my wife is well advanced in years." ¹⁹ The angel answered him, "I am Gabarayaal, who stands in the presence of Alahayam. I was sent to speak to you, and to bring you this good news. ²⁰ Behold, you will be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things will happen, because you didn't believe my words, which will be fulfilled in their proper time." ²¹ The people were waiting for Zacharias, and they marveled while he delayed in the temple. ²² When he came out, he could not speak to them, and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple. He continued making signs to them, and remained mute. ²³ It happened, when the days of his service were fulfilled, he departed to his house. ²⁴ After these days Alayashabai, his wife, conceived, and she hid herself five months, saying, ²⁵ "Thus has the Adanay done to me in the days in which he looked at me, to take away my reproach among men." ²⁶ Now in the sixth month, the angel Gabarayaal was sent from Alahayam to a city of Galayal, named Natzarath, ²⁷ to a virgin pledged to be married to a man whose name was Yawasap, of the house of Dawad. The virgin's name was Marayam. ²⁸ Having come in to her, the angel said, "Rejoice, you highly favored one! The Adanay is with you. Blessed are you among women!" ²⁹ But when she saw him, she was greatly troubled at the saying, and considered what kind of salutation this might be. ³⁰ The angel said to her, "Don't be afraid, Marayam, for you have found favor with Alahayam. ³¹ Behold, you will conceive in your womb, and bring forth a son, and will call his name JESUS. ³² He will be great, and will be called the Son of the Ilayawan. The Adanay Alahayam will give to him the throne of his father, Dawad, ³³ and he will reign over the house of Yaiqab forever. There will be no end of his kingdom." ³⁴ Marayam said to the angel, "How will this be, seeing I am a virgin?" ³⁵ The angel answered her, "The Holy Spirit will come on you, and the power of the Ilayawan will overshadow you. Therefore also the holy one which is born from you will be called the Son of Alahayam. ³⁶ Behold, Alayashabai, your relative, also has conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren. ³⁷ For no word from Alahayam will be void of power." ³⁸ Marayam said, "Behold, the handmaid of the Adanay; be it to me according to your word." The angel departed from her. ³⁹ Marayam arose in those days and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Yahawadah, ⁴⁰ and entered into the house of Zacharias and greeted Alayashabai. ⁴¹ It happened, when Alayashabai heard Marayam's greeting, the baby leaped in her womb, and Alayashabai was filled with the Holy Spirit. ⁴² She called out with a loud voice, and said, "Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb! ⁴³ Why am I so favored, that the mother of my Adanay should come to me? ⁴⁴ For behold, when the voice of your greeting came into my ears, the baby leaped in my womb for joy! ⁴⁵ Blessed is she who believed, for there will be a fulfillment of the things which have been spoken to her from the Adanay!" ⁴⁶ Marayam said, "My soul magnifies the Adanay. ⁴⁷ My spirit has rejoiced in Alahayam my Savior, ⁴⁸ For he has looked at the humble state of his handmaid. For behold, from now on, all generations will call me blessed. ⁴⁹ For he who is mighty has done to me great things; Holy is his name. ⁵⁰ His mercy is for generations of generations on those who fear him. ⁵¹ He has shown strength with his arm. He has scattered the proud in the imagination of their heart. ⁵² He has put down princes from their thrones. Has exalted the lowly. ⁵³ He has filled the hungry with good things. He has sent the rich away empty. ⁵⁴ He has given help to Yasharaal, his servant, that he might remember mercy ⁵⁵ (As he spoke to our fathers) Toward Abaraham and his seed forever." ⁵⁶ Marayam stayed with her about three months, and returned to her house. ⁵⁷ Now the time that Alayashabai should give birth was fulfilled, and she brought forth a son. ⁵⁸ Her neighbors and her relatives heard that the Adanay had magnified his mercy towards her; and they rejoiced with her. ⁵⁹ It happened on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him Zacharias, after the name of the father. ⁶⁰ His mother answered, "Not so; but he will be called Yawachanan." ⁶¹ They said to her, "There is no one among your relatives who is called by this name." ⁶² They made signs to his father, what he would have him called. ⁶³ He asked for a writing tablet, and wrote, "His name is Yawachanan." They all marveled. ⁶⁴ His mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue freed, and he spoke, blessing Alahayam. ⁶⁵ Fear came on all who lived around them, and all these sayings were talked about throughout all the hill country of Yahawadah. ⁶⁶ All who heard them laid them up in their heart, saying, "What then will this child be?" The hand of the Adanay was with him. ⁶⁷ His father, Zacharias, was filled with the Holy Spirit, and prophesied, saying, ⁶⁸ "Blessed be the Adanay, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, For he has visited and worked redemption for his people; ⁶⁹ Has raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant Dawad ⁷⁰ (As he spoke by the mouth of his holy prophets who have been from of old), ⁷¹ Salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all who hate us; ⁷² To show mercy towards our fathers, To remember his holy covenant, ⁷³ The oath which he spoke to Abaraham, our father, ⁷⁴ To grant to us that we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, should serve him without fear, ⁷⁵ In holiness and righteousness before him all the days of our life. ⁷⁶ And you, child, will be called a prophet of the Ilayawan, For you will go before the face of the Adanay to make ready his ways, ⁷⁷ To give knowledge of salvation to his people by the remission of their sins,⁷⁸ Because of the tender mercy of our Alahayam, Whereby the dawn from on high will visit us,⁷⁹ To shine on those who sit in darkness and the shadow of death; To guide our feet into the way of peace."⁸⁰ The child grew, and grew strong in spirit, and was in the desert until the day of his public appearance to Yasharaal.

2 Now it happened in those days, that a decree went out from Qayasar Augustus that all the world should be enrolled.² This was the first enrollment made when Quirinius was governor of Aram.³ All went to enroll themselves, everyone to his own city.⁴ Yawasap also went up from Galayal, out of the city of Natzarath, into Yahawadah, to the city of Dawad, which is called Bayathalacham, because he was of the house and family of Dawad;⁵ to enroll himself with Marayam, who was pledged to be married to him as wife, being great with child.⁶ It happened, while they were there, that the day had come that she should give birth.⁷ She brought forth her firstborn son, and she wrapped him in bands of cloth, and laid him in a feeding trough, because there was no room for them in the inn.⁸ There were shepherds in the same country staying in the field, and keeping watch by night over their flock.⁹ Behold, an angel of the Adanay stood by them, and the glory of the Adanay shone around them, and they were terrified.¹⁰ The angel said to them, "Don't be afraid, for behold, I bring you good news of great joy which will be to all the people."¹¹ For there is born to you, this day, in the city of Dawad, a Savior, who is Mashayach the Adanay.¹² This is the sign to you: you will find a baby wrapped in strips of cloth, lying in a feeding trough."¹³ Suddenly, there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising Alahayam, and saying,¹⁴ "Glory to Alahayam in the highest, On earth peace, good will toward men."¹⁵ It happened, when the angels went away from them into the sky, that the shepherds said one to another, "Let's go to Bayathalacham, now, and see this thing that has happened, which the Adanay has made known to us."¹⁶ They came with haste, and found both Marayam and Yawasap, and the baby lying in the feeding trough.¹⁷ When they saw it, they publicized widely the saying which was spoken to them about this child.¹⁸ All who heard it wondered at the things which were spoken to them by the shepherds.¹⁹ But Marayam kept all these sayings, pondering them in her heart.²⁰ The shepherds returned, glorifying and praising Alahayam for all the things that they had heard and seen, even as it was spoken to them.²¹ When eight days were fulfilled for the circumcision of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was given by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.²² When the days of their purification according to the law of Mashah were fulfilled, they brought him up to Yarawashalam, to present him to the Adanay²³ (as it is written in the law of the Adanay, "Every male who opens the womb shall be called holy to the Adanay"),²⁴ and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Adanay, "A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons."²⁵ Behold, there was a man in Yarawashalam whose name was Shamaiwan; and this man was righteous and devout, looking for the consolation of Yasharaal, and the Holy Spirit was on him.²⁶ It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he should not see death, before he had seen the Adanay's Mashayach.²⁷ He came in the Spirit into the temple. When the parents brought in the child, Yashawai, that they might do concerning him according to the custom of the law,²⁸ then he received him into his arms, and blessed Alahayam, and said,²⁹ "Now let you your servant depart, Adanay, According to your word, in peace;³⁰ For my eyes have seen your salvation,³¹ Which you have prepared before the face of all peoples;³² A light for revelation to the Gentiles, The glory of your people Yasharaal."³³ Yawasap and his mother were marveling at the things which were spoken concerning him,³⁴ and Shamaiwan blessed them, and said to Marayam, his mother, "Behold, this child is set for the falling and the rising of many in Yasharaal, and for a sign which is spoken against.³⁵ Yes, a sword will pierce through your own soul, that thoughts out of many hearts may be revealed."³⁶ There was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Ashar (she was of a great age, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity,³⁷ and she had been a widow for about eighty-four years), who didn't depart from the temple, worshipping with fastings and petitions night and day.³⁸ Coming up at that very hour, she gave thanks to the Adanay, and spoke of him to all those who were looking for redemption in Yarawashalam.³⁹ When they had accomplished all things that were according to the law of the Adanay, they returned into Galayal, to their own city, Natzarath.⁴⁰ The child grew, and grew strong in spirit, filled with wisdom, and the grace of Alahayam was on him.⁴¹ His parents went every year to Yarawashalam at the feast of the Passover.⁴² When he was twelve years old, they went up to Yarawashalam according to the custom of the feast,⁴³ and when they had fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the boy, Yashawai, stayed behind in Yarawashalam. Yawasap and his mother didn't know it,⁴⁴ but supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey, and they looked for him among their relatives and acquaintances.⁴⁵ When they didn't find him, they returned to Yarawashalam, looking for him.⁴⁶ It happened, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both listening to them, and asking them questions.⁴⁷ All who heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers.⁴⁸ When they saw him, they were astonished, and his mother said to him, "Son, why have you treated us this way? Behold, your father and I were anxiously looking for you."⁴⁹ He said to them, "Why were you looking for me? Didn't you know that I must be in my Father's house?"⁵⁰ They didn't understand the saying which he spoke to them.⁵¹ He went down with them, and came to Natzarath. He was subject to them, and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.⁵² Yashawai advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with Alahayam and men.

3 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Qayasar, Pontius Payalatawas being governor of Yahawadah, and Hawaradawas being tetrarch of Galayal, and his brother Payalayapawas tetrarch of the region of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene,² in the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of Alahayam came to Yawachanan, the son of Zacharias, in the wilderness.³ He came into all the region around the Yaradan, preaching the baptism of repentance to remission of sins.⁴ As it is written in the book of the words of Yashaiyahaw the prophet, "The voice of one crying in the wilderness, 'Make ready the way of the Adanay. Make his paths straight.'⁵ Every valley will be filled. Every mountain and hill will be brought low. The crooked will become straight, And the rough ways smooth."⁶ All flesh will see Alahayam's salvation."⁷ He said therefore to the multitudes who went out to be baptized by him, "You offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the wrath to come?"⁸ Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and don't begin to say among yourselves, 'We have Abaraham for our father;' for I tell you that Alahayam is able to raise up children to Abaraham from these stones!⁹ Even now the ax also lies at the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that doesn't bring forth good fruit is cut down, and thrown into the fire."¹⁰ The multitudes asked him, "What then must we do?"¹¹ He answered them, "He who has two coats, let him give to him who has none. He who has food, let him do likewise."¹² Tax collectors also came to be baptized, and they said to him, "Teacher, what must we do?"¹³ He said to them, "Extort no more than that which is appointed you."¹⁴ Soldiers also asked him, saying, "What about us? What must we do?" He said to them, "Extort from no one by violence, neither accuse anyone wrongfully. Be content with your wages."¹⁵ As the people were in expectation, and all men reasoned in their hearts concerning Yawachanan, whether perhaps he was the Mashayach,¹⁶ Yawachanan answered them all, "I indeed baptize you with water, but he comes who is mightier than I, the latchet of whose sandals I am not worthy to loosen. He will baptize you in the Holy Spirit and fire,¹⁷ whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing floor, and will gather the wheat into his barn; but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire."¹⁸ Then with many other exhortations he preached good news to the people,¹⁹ but Hawaradawas the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias, his brother's wife, and for all the evil things which Hawaradawas had done,²⁰ added this also to them all, that he shut up Yawachanan in prison.²¹ Now it happened, when all the people were baptized, that, Yashawai also having been baptized, and praying, the sky was opened,²² and the Holy Spirit descended in a bodily form, as a dove, on him, and a voice came out of the sky, saying "You are my beloved Son. In you I am well pleased."²³ Yashawai himself, when he began to teach, was about thirty years old, being the son (as was supposed) of Yawasap, the son of Heli,²⁴ the son of Matthat, the son of Laway, the son of Melchi, the son of Jannai, the son of Yawasap,²⁵ the son of Mattathias, the son of Imawas, the son of Nachawam, the son of Esli, the son of Naggai,²⁶ the son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Semein, the son of Yawasap, the son of Yahawadah,²⁷ the son of Joanan, the son of Rhesa, the son of Zarababal, the son of Shaalathayaal, the son of Neri,²⁸ the son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam, the son of Elmodam, the son of Er,²⁹ the son of Josa, the son of Alayaizar, the son of Jorim, the son of Matthat, the son of Laway,³⁰ the son of Shamaiwan, the son of Yahawadah, the son of Yawasap, the son of Jonan, the son of Alayaqayam,³¹ the son of Melea, the son of Menan, the son of Mattatha, the son of Nathan, the son of Dawad,³² the son of Yashay, the son of Iwabab, the son of Baiz, the son of Shalamah, the son of Nachashawan,³³ the son of Imayanadab, the son of Aram, the son of Yahawaram, the son of Chatzarawan, the son of Paratz, the son of Yahawadah,³⁴ the son of Yaiqab, the son of Yatzachag, the son of Abaraham, the son of Tharach, the son of Nachawar,³⁵ the son of Sharawag, the son of Raiw, the son of Palag, the son of Ibar, the son of Shalach,³⁶ the son of Qayanan, the son of Arapakashad, the son of Sham, the son of Nach, the son of Lamak,³⁷ the son of Mathawashalach, the son of Chanawak, the son of Yarad, the son of Mahalalaal, the son of Qayanan,³⁸ the son of Anawash, the son of Shath, the son of Adam, the son of Alahayam.

4 Yashawai, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Yaradan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness² for forty days, being tempted by the devil. He ate nothing in those days. Afterward, when they were completed, he was hungry.³ The devil said to him, "If you are the Son of Alahayam, command this stone to become bread."⁴ Yashawai answered him, saying, "It is written, 'Man will not live by bread alone, but by every word of Alahayam.'"⁵ The devil, leading him up on a high mountain, showed him all the kingdoms of the inhabited world in a moment of time.⁶ The devil said to him, "I will give you all this authority, and their glory, for it has been delivered to me; and I give it to whomever I want." If you therefore will worship before me, it will all be yours."⁸ Yashawai answered him, "Get behind me Satan! For it is written, 'You will worship the Adanay your Alahayam, and him only will you serve.'"⁹ He led him to Yarawashalam, and set him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said to him, "If you are the Son of Alahayam, cast yourself down from here,¹⁰ for it is written, 'He will give his angels charge concerning you, to guard you;' "¹¹ and, 'On their hands they will bear you up, Lest perhaps you dash your foot against a stone.'"¹² Yashawai answering, said to him, "It has been said, 'You shall not tempt the Adanay your Alahayam.'"¹³ When the devil had completed every temptation, he departed from him for awhile.¹⁴ Yashawai returned in the power of the Spirit to Galalay, and news about him spread through all the surrounding area.¹⁵ He taught in their synagogues, being glorified by all.¹⁶ He came to Natzarath, where he had been brought up. He entered, as was his custom, into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up to read.¹⁷ The book of the prophet Yashaiyahaw was handed to him. He opened the book, and found the place where it was written,¹⁸ "The Spirit of the Adanay is on me, Because he anointed me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent me to heal the brokenhearted, To proclaim release to the captives, Recovering of sight to the blind, To deliver those who are crushed,¹⁹ And to proclaim the acceptable year of the Adanay."²⁰ He closed the book, gave it back to the attendant, and sat down. The eyes of all in the synagogue were fastened on him.²¹ He began to tell them, "Today, this scripture has been fulfilled in your hearing."²² All testified about him, and wondered at the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth, and they said, "Isn't this Yawasap's son?"²³ He said to them, "Doubtless you will tell me this parable, 'Physician, heal yourself. Whatever we have heard done at Kaparanachawam, do also here in your hometown.'"²⁴ He said, "Most assuredly I tell you, no prophet is acceptable in his hometown."²⁵ But truly I tell you, there were many widows in Yasharaal in the days of Alayahaw, when the sky was shut up three years and six months, when a great famine came over all the land.²⁶ Alayahaw was sent to none of them, except only to Tzarapath, in the land of Tzayadawan, to a woman who was a widow.²⁷ There were many lepers in Yasharaal in the time of Alayashai the prophet, yet not one of them was cleansed, except Naiman, the Syrian."²⁸ They were all filled with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard these things;²⁹ and they rose up, and threw him out of the city, and led him to the brow of the hill that their city was built on, that they might throw him off the cliff.³⁰ But he, passing through the midst of them, went his way.³¹ He came down to Kaparanachawam, a city of Galalay. He was teaching them on the Sabbath day,³² and they were astonished at his teaching, for his word was with authority.³³ In the synagogue there was a man who had a spirit of an unclean demon, and he cried out with a loud voice,³⁴ saying, "Ah! what have we to do with you, Yashawai of Natzarath? Have you come to destroy us? I know you who you are: the Holy One of Alahayam!"³⁵ Yashawai rebuked him, saying, "Be silent, and come out of him!" When the demon had thrown him down in their midst, he came out of him, having done him no harm.³⁶ Amazement came on all, and they spoke together, one with another, saying, "What is this word? For with authority and power he commands the unclean spirits, and they come out!"³⁷ News about him went forth into every place of the surrounding region.³⁸ He rose up from the synagogue, and entered into Shamaiwan's house. Shamaiwan's mother-in-law was afflicted with a great fever, and they begged him for her.³⁹ He stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her. Immediately she rose up and ministered to them.⁴⁰ When the sun was setting, all those who had any sick with various diseases brought them to him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.⁴¹ Demons also came out from many, crying out, and saying, "You are the Mashayach, the Son of Alahayam!" Rebuking them, he didn't allow them to speak, because they knew that he was the Mashayach.⁴² When it was day, he came out and went into an uninhabited place, and the multitudes looked for him, and came to him, and held on to him, so that he wouldn't go away from them.⁴³ But he said to them, "I must preach the good news of the kingdom of Alahayam to the other cities also; for this reason I have been sent."⁴⁴ He was preaching in the synagogues of Galalay.

5 Now it happened, while the multitude pressed on him and heard the word of Alahayam, that he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret.² He saw two boats standing by the lake, but the fishermen had gone out of them, and were washing their nets.³ He entered into one of the boats, which was Shamaiwan's, and asked him to put out a little from the land. He sat down and taught the multitudes out of the boat.⁴ When he had finished speaking, he said to Shamaiwan, "Pawat out into the deep, and let down your nets for a catch."⁵ Shamaiwan answered him, "Master, we worked all night, and took nothing; but at your word I will let down the net."⁶ When they had done this, they caught a great multitude of fish, and their net was breaking.⁷ They beckoned to their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. They came, and filled both boats, so that they began to sink.⁸ But Shamaiwan Kayapaa, when he saw it, fell down at Yashawai's knees, saying, "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, Adanay."⁹ For he was amazed, and all who were with him, at the catch of fish which they had caught;¹⁰ and so also were Yaiqab and Yawachanan, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Shamaiwan. Yashawai said to Shamaiwan, "Don't be afraid. From now on you will catch men alive."¹¹ When they had brought their boats to land, they left everything, and followed him.¹² It happened, while he was in one of the cities, behold, there was a man full of leprosy. When he saw Yashawai, he fell on his face, and begged him, saying, "Adanay, if you want to, you can make me clean."¹³ He stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, "I want to. Be made clean." Immediately the leprosy departed from him.¹⁴ He charged him to tell no one, "But go your way, and show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing, according to what Mashah commanded, for a testimony to them."¹⁵ But the report concerning him spread much more, and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.¹⁶ But he withdrew himself into the desert, and prayed.¹⁷ It happened on one of those days, that he was teaching; and there were Pharisees and teachers of the law sitting by, who had come out of every village of Galayal, Yahawadah, and Yarawashalam. The power of the Adanay was with him to heal them.¹⁸ Behold, men brought a paralyzed man on a cot, and they sought to bring him in to lay before him.¹⁹ Not finding a way to bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to the housetop, and let him down through the tiles with his cot into the midst before Yashawai.²⁰ Seeing their faith, he said to him, "Man, your sins are forgiven you."²¹ The scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, "Who is this that speaks blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but Alahayam alone?"²² But Yashawai, perceiving their thoughts, answered them, "Why are you reasoning so in your hearts?"²³ Which is easier to say, 'Your sins are forgiven you;' or to say, 'Arise and walk?'²⁴ But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins" (he said to the paralyzed man), "I tell you, arise, and take up your cot, and go to your house."²⁵ Immediately he rose up before them, and took up that which he was laying on, and departed to his house, glorifying Alahayam.²⁶ Amazement took hold on all, and they glorified Alahayam. They were filled with fear, saying, "We have seen strange things today."²⁷ After these things he went out, and saw a tax collector, named Laway, sitting at the tax office, and said to him, "Follow me."²⁸ He left everything, and rose up and followed him.²⁹ Laway made him a great feast for him in his house. There was a great crowd of tax collectors and others who were reclining with them.³⁰ Their scribes and the Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, "Why do you eat and drink with the tax collectors and sinners?"³¹ Yashawai answered them, "Those who are healthy have no need for a physician, but those who are sick do."³² I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."³³ They said to him, "Why do Yawachanan's disciples often fast and pray, likewise also the disciples of the Pharisees, but yours eat and drink?"³⁴ He said to them, "Can you make the friends of the bridegroom fast, while the bridegroom is with them?"³⁵ But the days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them. Then will they fast in those days."³⁶ He also told a parable to them. "No one puts a piece from a new garment on an old garment, or else he will tear the new, and also the piece from the new will not match the old."³⁷ No one puts new wine into old wineskins, or else the new wine will burst the skins, and it will be spilled, and the skins will be destroyed.³⁸ But new wine must be put into fresh wineskins, and both are preserved.³⁹ No man having drunk old wine immediately desires new, for he says, 'The old is better.'"

6 Now it happened on the second Sabbath after the first, that he was going through the grain fields, and his disciples plucked the heads of grain, and ate, rubbing them in their hands.² But some of the Pharisees said to them, "Why do you do that which is not lawful to do on the Sabbath day?"³ Yashawai, answering them, said, "Haven't you read this, what Dawad did, when he was hungry, he, and those who were with him;⁴ how he entered into the house of Alahayam, and took and ate the show bread, and gave also to those who were with him, which is not lawful to eat except for the priests alone?"⁵ He said to them, "The Son of Man is lord of the Sabbath."⁶ It also happened on another Sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught. There was a man there, and his right hand was withered.⁷ The scribes and the Pharisees watched him, to see whether he would heal on the Sabbath, that they might find an accusation against him.⁸ But he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man who had the withered hand, "Rise up, and stand in the middle." He arose and stood.⁹ Then Yashawai said to them, "I will ask you something: Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good, or to do harm? To save a life, or to kill?"¹⁰ He looked around at them all, and said to him, "Stretch out your hand." He did, and his hand was restored as sound as the other.¹¹ But they were filled with rage, and talked with one another about what they might do to Yashawai.¹² It happened in these days, that he went out into the mountain to pray, and he continued all night in prayer to Alahayam.¹³ When it was day, he called his disciples, and from them he chose twelve, whom he also named apostles:¹⁴ Shamaiwan, whom he also named Kayapaa; Anadaray, his brother; Yaiqab; Yawachanan; Payalayapawas; Barathalam;¹⁵ Mathathayahaw; Thaawam; Yaiqab, the son of Alphaeus; Shamaiwan, who was called the Zealot;¹⁶ Yahawadah the son of Yaiqab; and Yahawadah Iscariot, who also became a traitor.¹⁷ He came down with them, and stood on a level place, with a crowd of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, and the sea coast of Tzar and Tzayadawan, who came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;¹⁸ also those who were troubled with unclean spirits, and they were being healed.¹⁹ All the multitude sought to touch him, for power came forth from him, and healed them all.²⁰ He lifted up his eyes to his disciples, and said, "Blessed are you poor, for yours is the kingdom of Alahayam."²¹ "Blessed are you who hunger now, for you will be filled. "Blessed are you who weep now, for you will laugh."²² "Blessed are you when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from them and reproach you, and throw out your name as evil, for the Son of Man's sake."²³ Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy, for behold, your reward is great in heaven, for their fathers did the same thing to the prophets.²⁴ "But woe to you who are rich! For you have received your consolation."²⁵ "Woe to you, you who are full now! For you will be hungry. "Woe to you, you who laugh now! For you will mourn and weep."²⁶ "Woe, when men will speak well of you! For their fathers did the same thing to the false prophets."²⁷ But I tell you who hear, love your enemies, do good to those who hate you,²⁸ bless them who curse you, and pray for those who insult you."²⁹ To him who strikes you on the cheek, offer also the other; and from him who takes away your cloak, don't withhold your coat also."³⁰ Give to everyone who asks you, and don't ask him who takes away your goods to give them back again."³¹ "As you desire that men should do to you, likewise do to them also."³² If you love those who love you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them."³³ If you do good to those who do good to you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners do the same."³⁴ If you lend to those from whom you hope to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to receive back as much."³⁵ But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing back; and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Ilayawan; for he is kind toward the unthankful and evil."³⁶ Therefore be merciful, even as your Father is also merciful."³⁷ Don't judge, and you will not be judged. Don't condemn, and you will not be condemned. Set free, and you will be set free."³⁸ Give, and it will be given to you, good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over, will they give into your bosom. For with the same measure you measure it will be measured back to you."³⁹ He spoke a parable to them. "Can the blind guide the blind? Won't they both fall into a pit?"⁴⁰ A disciple is not above his teacher, but everyone when he is fully trained will be like his teacher."⁴¹ Why do you see the speck of chaff that is in your brother's eye, but don't consider the beam that is in your own eye?"⁴² Or how can you tell your brother, 'Brother, let me remove the speck of chaff that is in your eye,' when you yourself don't see the beam that is in your own eye? You hypocrite! First remove the beam from your own eye, and then you can see clearly to remove the speck of chaff that is in your brother's eye."⁴³ For there is no good tree that brings forth rotten fruit; nor again a rotten tree that brings forth good fruit."⁴⁴ For each tree is known by its own fruit. For people don't gather figs from thorns, nor do they gather grapes from a bramble bush."⁴⁵ The good man out of the good treasure of his heart brings forth that which is good, and the evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart brings forth that which is evil, for out of the abundance of the heart, his mouth speaks.⁴⁶ Why do you call me, 'Adanay, Adanay,' and don't do the things which I say?⁴⁷ Everyone who comes to me, and hears my words, and does them, I will show you who he is like.⁴⁸ He is like a man building a house, who dug and went deep, and laid a foundation on the rock. When a flood arose, the stream broke against that house, and could not shake it, because it was founded on the rock.⁴⁹ But he who hears, and doesn't do, is like a man who built a house on the earth without a foundation, against which the stream broke, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great."

7 After he had finished speaking in the hearing of the people, he entered into Kaparanachawam.² A certain centurion's servant, who was dear to him, was sick and at the point of death.³ When he heard about Yashawai, he sent to him elders of the Jews, asking him to come and save his servant.⁴ When they came to Yashawai, they begged him earnestly, saying, "He is worthy for you to do this for him,⁵ for he loves our nation, and he built our synagogue for us."⁶ Yashawai went with them. When he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying to him, "Adanay, don't trouble yourself, for I am not worthy for you to come under my roof.⁷ Therefore I didn't even think myself worthy to come to you; but say the word, and my servant will be healed."⁸ For I also am a man placed under authority, having under myself soldiers. I tell this one, 'Go!' and he goes; and to another, 'Come!' and he comes; and to my servant, 'Do this,' and he does it."⁹ When Yashawai heard these things, he marveled at him, and turned and said to the multitude who followed him, "I tell you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Yasharaal."¹⁰ Those who were sent, returning to the house, found that the servant who had been sick was well.¹¹ It happened soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain. Many of his disciples went with him, along with a great multitude.¹² Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, one who was dead was carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow. Many people of the city were with her.¹³ When the Adanay saw her, he had compassion on her, and said to her, "Don't cry."¹⁴ He came near and touched the coffin, and the bearers stood still. He said, "Young man, I tell you, arise!"¹⁵ He who was dead sat up, and began to speak. He gave him to his mother.¹⁶ Fear took hold on all, and they glorified Alahayam, saying, "A great prophet has arisen among us," and, "Alahayam has visited his people."¹⁷ This report went out concerning him in the whole of Yahawadah, and in all the surrounding region.¹⁸ The disciples of Yawachanan told him about all these things.¹⁹ Yawachanan, calling to himself two of his disciples, sent them to Yashawai, saying, "Are you he who comes, or should we look for another?"²⁰ When the men had come to him, they said, "Yawachanan the Baptizer has sent us to you, saying, 'Are you he who comes, or should we look for another?'"²¹ In that hour he cured many of diseases and plagues and evil spirits; and to many who were blind he gave sight.²² Yashawai answered them, "Go and tell Yawachanan the things which you have seen and heard: that the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have good news preached to them.²³ Blessed is he who is not offended by me."²⁴ When Yawachanan's messengers had departed, he began to tell the multitudes about Yawachanan, "What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind?"²⁵ But what did you go out to see? A man clothed in soft clothing? Behold, those who are gorgeously dressed, and live delicately, are in kings' courts.²⁶ But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a prophet.²⁷ This is he of whom it is written, 'Behold, I send my messenger before your face, Who will prepare your way before you.'²⁸ For I tell you, among those who are born of women there is not a greater prophet than Yawachanan the Baptizer, yet he who is least in the kingdom of Alahayam is greater than he."²⁹ When all the people and the tax collectors heard this, they justified Alahayam, being baptized with Yawachanan's baptism.³⁰ But the Pharisees and the lawyers rejected the counsel of Alahayam, not being baptized by him themselves.³¹ The Adanay said, "To what then will I liken the men of this generation? What are they like?"³² They are like children who sit in the marketplace, and call one to another, saying, 'We piped to you, and you didn't dance. We mourned, and you didn't weep.'³³ For Yawachanan the Baptizer came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and you say, 'He has a demon.'³⁴ The Son of Man has come eating and drinking, and you say, 'Behold, a gluttonous man, and a drunkard; a friend of tax collectors and sinners!'"³⁵ Wisdom is justified by all her children."³⁶ One of the Pharisees invited him to eat with him. He entered into the Pharisee's house, and sat at the table.³⁷ Behold, a woman in the city who was a sinner, when she knew that he was reclining in the Pharisee's house, she brought an alabaster jar of ointment.³⁸ Standing behind at his feet weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and she wiped them with the hair of her head, kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.³⁹ Now when the Pharisee who had invited him saw it, he said to himself, "This man, if he were a prophet, would have perceived who and what kind of woman this is who touches him, that she is a sinner."⁴⁰ Yashawai answered him, "Shamaiwan, I have something to tell you." He said, "Teacher, say on."⁴¹ "A certain lender had two debtors. The one owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty.⁴² When they couldn't pay, he forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most?"⁴³ Shamaiwan answered, "He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most." He said to him, "You have judged correctly."⁴⁴ Turning to the woman, he said to Shamaiwan, "Do you see this woman? I entered into your house, and you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head.⁴⁵ You gave me no kiss, but she, since the time I came in, has not ceased to kiss my feet.⁴⁶ You didn't anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment.⁴⁷ Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven, for she loved much. But to whom little is forgiven, the same loves little."⁴⁸ He said to her, "Your sins are forgiven."⁴⁹ Those who sat at the table with him began to say to themselves, "Who is this who even forgives sins?"⁵⁰ He said to the woman, "Your faith has saved you. Go in peace."

8 It happened soon afterwards, that he went about through cities and villages, preaching and bringing the good news of the kingdom of Alahayam, and with him the twelve,² and certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities: Marayam who was called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out;³ and Joanna, the wife of Chuzas, Hawaradawas's steward, Susanna; and many others; who ministered to them from their possessions.⁴ When a great multitude came together, and people from every city were coming to him, he spoke by a parable.⁵ "The farmer went out to sow his seed. As he sowed, some fell by the road, and it was trampled under foot, and the birds of the sky devoured it.⁶ Other seed fell on the rock, and as soon as it grew, it withered away, because it had no moisture.⁷ Other fell amid the thorns, and the thorns grew with it, and choked it.⁸ Other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit one hundred times." As he said these things, he called out, "He who has ears to hear, let him hear!"⁹ Then his disciples asked him, "What does this parable mean?"¹⁰ He said, "To you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of Alahayam, but to the rest in parables; that 'seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand.'¹¹ Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of Alahayam.¹² Those by the road are those who hear, then the devil comes, and takes away the word from their heart, that they may not believe and be saved.¹³ Those on the rock are they who, when they hear, receive the word with joy; but these have no root, who believe for a while, and fall away in time of temptation.¹⁴ That which fell among the thorns, these are those who have heard, and as they go on their way they are choked with cares, riches, and pleasures of life, and bring no fruit to maturity.¹⁵ That in the good ground, these are such as in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it tightly, and bring forth fruit with patience.¹⁶ "No one, when he has lit a lamp, covers it with a container, or puts it under a bed; but puts it on a stand, that those who enter in may see the light.¹⁷ For nothing is hidden, that will not be revealed; nor anything secret, that will not be known and come to light.¹⁸ Be careful therefore how you hear. For whoever has, to him will be given; and whoever doesn't have, from him will be taken away even that which he thinks he has."¹⁹ His mother and brothers came to him, and they could not come near him for the crowd.²⁰ It was told him by some saying, "Your mother and your brothers stand outside, desiring to see you."²¹ But he answered them, "My mother and my brothers are these who hear the word of Alahayam, and do it."²² Now it happened on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples, and he said to them, "Let's go over to the other side of the lake." So they launched out.²³ But as they sailed, he fell asleep. A wind storm came down on the lake, and they were taking on dangerous amounts of water.²⁴ They came to him, and awoke him, saying, "Master, master, we are dying!" He awoke, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water, and they ceased, and it was calm.²⁵ He said to them, "Where is your faith?" Being afraid they marveled, saying one to another, "Who is this, then, that he commands even the winds and the water, and they obey him?"²⁶ They arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is opposite Galayal.²⁷ When Yashawai stepped ashore, a certain man out of the city met him, who had demons for a long time. He wore no clothes, and didn't live in a house, but in the tombs.²⁸ When he saw Yashawai, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, "What do I have to do with you, Yashawai, you Son of the Ilayawan Alahayam? I beg you, don't torment me!"²⁹ For Yashawai was commanding the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For the unclean spirit had often seized the man. He was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters. Breaking the bands apart, he was driven by the demon into the desert.³⁰ Yashawai asked him, "What is your name?" He said, "Legion," for many demons had entered into him.³¹ They begged him who he would not command them to go into the abyss.³² Now there was there a herd of many pigs feeding on the mountain, and they begged him that he would allow them to enter into those. He allowed them.³³ The demons came out from the man, and entered into the pigs, and the herd rushed down the steep bank into the lake, and were drowned.³⁴ When those who fed them saw what had happened, they fled, and told it in the city and in the country.³⁵ People went out to see what had happened. They came to Yashawai, and found the man from whom the demons were gone out, sitting, clothed and in his right mind, at the feet of Yashawai; and they were afraid.³⁶ Those who saw it told them how he who was possessed with demons was healed.³⁷ All the people of the surrounding country of the Gadarenes asked him to depart from them, for they were very much afraid. He entered into the boat, and returned.³⁸ But the man from whom the demons had gone out begged him that he might go with him, but Yashawai sent him away, saying,³⁹ "Return to your house, and declare what great things Alahayam has done for you." He went his way, proclaiming throughout the whole city what great things Yashawai had done for him.⁴⁰ It happened, as Yashawai returned, the multitude welcomed him, for they were all waiting for him.⁴¹ Behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue. He fell down at Yashawai's feet, and begged him to come into his house,⁴² for he had an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she was dying. But as he went, the multitudes thronged him.⁴³ A woman who had a flow of blood for twelve years, who had spent all her living on physicians, and could not be healed by any,⁴⁴ came behind him, and touched the fringe of his cloak, and immediately the flow of her blood stopped.⁴⁵ Yashawai said, "Who touched me?" When all denied, Kayapaa and those with him said, "Master, the multitudes press and jostle you, and you say, 'Who touched me?'"⁴⁶ But Yashawai said, "Someone did touch me, for I perceived that power has gone out of me."⁴⁷ When the woman saw that she was not hidden, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared to him in the presence of all the people the reason why she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.⁴⁸ He said to her, "Daughter, cheer up. Your faith has made you well. Go in peace."⁴⁹ While he still spoke, one from the ruler of the synagogue's house came, saying to him, "Your daughter is dead. Don't trouble the Teacher."⁵⁰ But Yashawai hearing it, answered him, "Don't be afraid. Only believe, and she will be healed."⁵¹ When he came to the house, he didn't allow anyone to enter in, except Kayapaa, Yawachanan, Yaiqab, the father of the girl, and her mother.⁵² All were weeping, and mourning her, but he said, "Don't weep. She isn't dead, but sleeping."⁵³ They laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.⁵⁴ But he put them all outside, and taking her by the hand, he called, saying, "Little girl, arise!"⁵⁵ Her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately. He commanded that something be given to her to eat.⁵⁶ Her parents were amazed, but he charged them to tell no one what had been done.

9 He called the twelve together, and gave them power and authority over all demons, and to cure diseases.² He sent them forth to preach the kingdom of Alahayam, and to heal the sick.³ He said to them, "Take nothing for your journey -- neither staffs, nor wallet, nor bread, nor money; neither have two coats apiece.⁴ Into whatever house you enter, stay there, and depart from there.⁵ As many as don't receive you, when you depart from that city, shake off even the dust from your feet for a testimony against them."⁶ They departed, and went throughout the villages, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere.⁷ Now Hawaradawas, the tetrarch, heard of all that was done by him; and he was very perplexed, because it was said by some that Yawachanan had risen from the dead,⁸ and by some that Alayahaw had appeared, and by others that one of the old prophets had risen again.⁹ Hawaradawas said, "Yawachanan I beheaded, but who is this, about whom I hear such things?" He sought to see him.¹⁰ The apostles, when they had returned, told him what things they had done. He took them, and withdrew apart to a deserted place of a city called Bethsaida.¹¹ But the multitudes, perceiving it, followed him. He welcomed them, and spoke to them of the kingdom of Alahayam, and he cured those who needed healing.¹² The day began to wear away; and the twelve came, and said to him, "Send the multitude away, that they may go into the surrounding villages and farms, and lodge, and get provisions, for we are here in a desert place."¹³ But he said to them, "You give them something to eat." They said, "We have no more than five loaves and two fish, unless we should go and buy food for all these people."¹⁴ For they were about five thousand men. He said to his disciples, "Make them sit down in groups of about fifty each."¹⁵ They did so, and made them all sit down.¹⁶ He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to the sky, he blessed them, and broke them, and gave them to the disciples to set before the multitude.¹⁷ They ate, and were all filled. They gathered up twelve baskets of broken pieces that were left over.¹⁸ It happened, as he was praying alone, the disciples were with him, and he asked them, "Who do the multitudes say that I am?"¹⁹ They answered, "Yawachanan the Baptizer, but others say, 'Alayahaw,' and others, that one of the old prophets is risen again."²⁰ He said to them, "But who do you say that I am?" Kayapaa answered, "The Mashayach of Alahayam."²¹ But he warned them, and commanded them to tell this to no one,²² saying, "The Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders, chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up."²³ He said to all, "If anyone desires to come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me.²⁴ For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, but whoever will lose his life for my sake, the same will save it.²⁵ For what does it profit a man if he gains the whole world, and loses or forfeits his own self?"²⁶ For whoever will be ashamed of me and of my words, of him will the Son of Man be ashamed, when he comes in the glory of himself, of the Father, and of the holy angels.²⁷ But I tell you the truth: There are some of those who stand here, who will in no way taste of death, until they see the kingdom of Alahayam."²⁸ It happened about eight days after these sayings, that he took with him Kayapaa, Yawachanan, and Yaiqab, and went up onto the mountain to pray.²⁹ As he was praying, the appearance of his face was altered, and his clothing became white and dazzling.³⁰ Behold, two men talked with him, who were Mashah and Alayahaw,³¹ who appeared in glory, and spoke of his departure, which he was about to accomplish at Yarawashalam.³² Now Kayapaa and those who were with him were heavy with sleep, but when they were fully awake, they saw his glory, and the two men who stood with him.³³ It happened, as they were parting from him, that Kayapaa said to Yashawai, "Master, it is good for us to be here. Let's make three tents: one for you, and one for Mashah, and one for Alayahaw," not knowing what he said.³⁴ While he said these things, a cloud came and overshadowed them, and they were afraid as they entered into the cloud.³⁵ A voice came out of the cloud, saying, "This is my beloved Son. Listen to him!"³⁶ When the voice came, Yashawai was found alone. They were silent, and told no one in those days any of the things which they had seen.³⁷ It happened on the next day, when they had come down from the mountain, that a great multitude met him.³⁸ Behold, a man from the crowd called out, saying, "Teacher, I beg you to look at my son, for he is my only child."³⁹ Behold, a spirit takes him, he suddenly cries out, and it convulses him so that he foams, and it hardly departs from him, bruising him severely.⁴⁰ I begged your disciples to cast it out, and they couldn't."⁴¹ Yashawai answered, "Faithless and perverse generation, how long will I be with you and bear with you? Bring your son here."⁴² While he was still coming, the demon threw him down and convulsed him violently. But Yashawai rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the boy, and gave him back to his father.⁴³ They were all astonished at the majesty of Alahayam. But while all were marveling at all the things which Yashawai did, he said to his disciples,⁴⁴ "Let these words sink into your ears, for the Son of Man will be delivered up into the hands of men."⁴⁵ But they didn't understand this saying. It was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it, and they were afraid to ask him about this saying.⁴⁶ There arose an argument among them about which of them was the greatest.⁴⁷ Yashawai, perceiving the reasoning of their heart, took a little child, and set him by his side,⁴⁸ and said to them, "Whoever receives this little child in my name receives me. Whoever receives me receives him who sent me. For whoever is least among you all, this one will be great."⁴⁹ Yawachanan answered, "Master, we saw someone casting out demons in your name, and we forbade him, because he doesn't follow with us."⁵⁰ Yashawai said to him, "Don't forbid him, for he who is not against us is for us."⁵¹ It came to pass, when the days were near that he should be taken up, he intently set his face to go to Yarawashalam,⁵² and sent messengers before his face. They went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, so as to prepare for him.⁵³ They didn't receive him, because he was traveling with his face set towards Yarawashalam.⁵⁴ When his disciples, Yaiqab and Yawachanan, saw this, they said, "Adanay, do you want us to command fire to come down from the sky, and destroy them, just as Alayahaw did?"⁵⁵ But he turned and rebuked them, "You don't know what kind of spirit you are of.⁵⁶ For the Son of Man didn't come to destroy men's lives, but to save them." They went to another village.⁵⁷ As they went on the way, a certain man said to him, "I want to follow you wherever you go, Adanay."⁵⁸ Yashawai said to him, "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has no place to lay his head."⁵⁹ He said to another, "Follow me." But he said, "Adanay, allow me first to go and bury my father."⁶⁰ But Yashawai said to him, "Leave the dead to bury their own dead, but you go and announce the kingdom of Alahayam."⁶¹ Another also said, "I want to follow you, Adanay, but first allow me to bid farewell to those who are at my house."⁶² But Yashawai said to him, "No one, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of Alahayam."

10 Now after these things the Adanay also appointed seventy others, and sent them two by two before his face into every city and place, where he himself was about to come.² Then he said to them, "The harvest is indeed plentiful, but the laborers are few. Pray therefore to the Adanay of the harvest, that he may send out laborers into his harvest.³ Go your ways. Behold, I send you out as lambs in the midst of wolves.⁴ Carry no purse, nor wallet, nor sandals. Greet no one on the way."⁵ Into whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace be to this house.'⁶ If a son of peace is there, your peace will rest on him; but if not, it will return to you.⁷ Remain in that same house, eating and drinking the things they give, for the laborer is worthy of his wages. Don't go from house to house.⁸ Into whatever city you enter, and they receive you, eat the things that are set before you.⁹ Heal the sick who are therein, and tell them, 'The kingdom of Alahayam has come near to you.'¹⁰ But into whatever city you enter, and they don't receive you, go out into the streets of it and say,¹¹ 'Even the dust from your city that clings to us, we wipe off against you. Nevertheless know this, that the kingdom of Alahayam has come near to you.'¹² I tell you, it will be more tolerable in that day for Saddam than for that city.¹³ "Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works had been done in Tzar and Tzayadawan which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.¹⁴ But it will be more tolerable for Tzar and Tzayadawan in the judgment than for you.¹⁵ You, Kaparanachawam, who are exalted to heaven, will be brought down to Hades.¹⁶ Whoever listens to you listens to me, and whoever rejects you rejects me. Whoever rejects me rejects him who sent me."¹⁷ The seventy returned with joy, saying, "Adanay, even the demons are subject to us in your name."¹⁸ He said to them, "I saw Satan having fall like lightning from heaven.¹⁹ Behold, I give you authority to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy. Nothing will in any way hurt you.²⁰ Nevertheless, don't rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject to you, but rejoice that your names are written in heaven."²¹ In that same hour Yashawai rejoiced in the Holy Spirit, and said, "I thank you, O Father, Adanay of heaven and earth, that you have hidden these things from the wise and understanding, and revealed them to little children. Yes, Father, for so it was well-pleasing in your sight."²² Turning to the disciples, he said, "All things have been delivered to me from my Father. No one knows who the Son is, except the Father, and who the Father is, except the Son, and he to whoever the Son desires to reveal him."²³ Turning to the disciples, he said privately, "Blessed are the eyes which see the things that you see,²⁴ for I tell you that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which you see, and didn't see them, and to hear the things which you hear, and didn't hear them."²⁵ Behold, a certain lawyer stood up and tested him, saying, "Teacher, what will I do to inherit eternal life?"²⁶ He said to him, "What is written in the law? How do you read it?"²⁷ He answered, "You shall love the Adanay your Alahayam with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your strength, and with all your mind; and your neighbor as yourself."²⁸ He said to him, "You have answered correctly. Do this, and you will live."²⁹ But he, desiring to justify himself, asked Yashawai, "Who is my neighbor?"³⁰ Yashawai answered, "A certain man was going down from Yarawashalam to Yarayachaw, and he fell among robbers, who both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead.³¹ By chance a certain priest was going down that way. When he saw him, he passed by on the other side.³² In the same way a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on the other side.³³ But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was. When he saw him, he was moved with compassion,³⁴ came to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. He set him on his own animal, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.³⁵ On the next day, when he departed, he took out two denarii, and gave them to the host, and said to him, 'Take care of him. Whatever you spend beyond that, I will repay you when I return.'³⁶ Now which of these three do you think seemed to be a neighbor to him who fell among the robbers?"³⁷ He said, "He who showed mercy on him." Then Yashawai said to him, "Go and do likewise."³⁸ It happened as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village, and a certain woman named Marathaa received him into her house.³⁹ She had a sister called Marayam, who also sat at Yashawai's feet, and heard his word.⁴⁰ But Marathaa was distracted with much serving, and she came up to him, and said, "Adanay, don't you care that my sister left me to serve alone? Ask her therefore to help me."⁴¹ Yashawai answered her, "Marathaa, Marathaa, you are anxious and troubled about many things,⁴² but one thing is needed. Marayam has chosen the good part, which will not be taken away from her."

11 It happened, that when he finished praying in a certain place, one of his disciples said to him, "Adanay, teach us to pray, just as Yawachanan also taught his disciples."² He said to them, "When you pray, say, 'Our Father in heaven, May your name be kept holy. May your kingdom come. May your desire be done on Earth, as it is in heaven.'³ Give us day by day our daily bread.⁴ Forgive us our sins, for we ourselves also forgive everyone who is indebted to us. Bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one.'⁵ He said to them, "Which of you, if you go to a friend at midnight, and tell him, 'Friend, lend me three loaves of bread,⁶ for a friend of mine has come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him,'⁷ and he from within will answer and say, 'Don't bother me. The door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed. I can't get up and give it to you?'⁸ I tell you, although he will not rise and give it to him because he is his friend, yet because of his persistence, he will get up and give him as many as he needs.⁹ I tell you, keep asking, and it will be given you. Keep seeking, and you will find. Keep knocking, and it will be opened to you.¹⁰ For everyone who asks receives. He who seeks finds. To him who knocks it will be opened.¹¹ Which of you fathers, if your son asks for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, he won't give him a snake instead of a fish, will he?¹² Or if he asks for an egg, he won't give him a scorpion, will he?¹³ If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him?"¹⁴ He was casting out a demon, and it was mute. It happened, when the demon had gone out, the mute man spoke; and the multitudes marveled.¹⁵ But some of them said, "He casts out demons by Beelzebul, the prince of the demons."¹⁶ Others, testing him, sought from him a sign from heaven.¹⁷ But he, knowing their thoughts, said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation. A house divided against itself falls.¹⁸ If Satan also is divided against himself, how will his kingdom stand? Because you say that I cast out demons by Beelzebul.¹⁹ But if I cast out demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore will they be your judges.²⁰ But if I by the finger of Alahayam cast out demons, then is the kingdom of Alahayam come to you.²¹ When the strong man, fully armed, guards his own dwelling, his goods are safe.²² But when someone stronger comes on him, and overcomes him, he takes from him his whole armor in which he trusted, and divides his spoils.²³ He that is not with me is against me. He who doesn't gather with me scatters.²⁴ The unclean spirit, when he has gone out of the man, passes through dry places, seeking rest, and finding none, he says, 'I will turn back to my house whence I came out.'²⁵ When he returns, he finds it swept and put in order.²⁶ Then he goes, and takes seven other spirits more evil than himself, and they enter in and dwell there. The last state of that man becomes worse than the first."²⁷ It came to pass, as he said these things, a certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said to him, "Blessed is the womb that bore you, and the breasts which nursed you!"²⁸ But he said, "On the contrary, blessed are those who hear the word of Alahayam, and keep it."²⁹ When the multitudes were gathering together to him, he began to say, "This is an evil generation. It seeks after a sign. No sign will be given to it but the sign of Yawanah, the prophet.³⁰ For even as Yawanah became a sign to the Ninevites, so will also the Son of Man be to this generation.³¹ The Queen of the South will rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and will condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Shalamah; and behold, one greater than Shalamah is here.³² The men of Nayanawah will stand up in the judgment with this generation, and will condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Yawanah, and behold, one greater than Yawanah is here.³³ No man, when he has lit a lamp, puts it in a cellar, nor under a basket, but on the stand, that they which enter in may see the light.³⁴ The lamp of the body is the eye. Therefore when your eye is good, your whole body also is full of light; but when it is evil, your body also is full of darkness.³⁵ Therefore see whether the light that is in you isn't darkness.³⁶ If therefore your whole body is full of light, having no part dark, it will be wholly full of light, as when the lamp with its bright shining gives you light."³⁷ Now as he spoke, a certain Pharisee asked him to dine with him. He went in, and sat at the table.³⁸ When the Pharisee saw it, he marveled that he had not first washed himself before dinner.³⁹ The Adanay said to him, "Now you Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter, but your inward part is full of extortion and wickedness.⁴⁰ You foolish ones, didn't he who made the outside make the inside also?⁴¹ But give for alms those things which are within, and behold, all things will be clean to you.⁴² But woe to you Pharisees! For you tithe mint and rue and every herb, and bypass justice and the love of Alahayam. You ought to have done these, and not to leave the other undone.⁴³ Woe to you Pharisees! For you love the best seats in the synagogues, and the greetings in the marketplaces.⁴⁴ Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like hidden graves, and the men who walk over them don't know it."⁴⁵ One of the lawyers answered him, "Teacher, in saying this you insult us also."⁴⁶ He said, "Woe to you lawyers also! For you load men with burdens that are difficult to carry, and you yourselves won't even lift one finger to help carry those burdens.⁴⁷ Woe to you! For you build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.⁴⁸ So you testify and consent to the works of your fathers. For they killed them, and you build their tombs.⁴⁹ Therefore also the wisdom of Alahayam said, 'I will send to them prophets and apostles; and some of them they will kill and persecute,⁵⁰ that the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation;⁵¹ from the blood of Habal to the blood of Zakarayah, who perished between the altar and the sanctuary.' Yes, I tell you, it will be required of this generation.⁵² Woe to you lawyers! For you took away the key of knowledge. You didn't enter in yourselves, and those who were entering in, you hindered."⁵³ As he said these things to them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to be terribly angry, and to draw many things out of him;⁵⁴ laying in wait for him, and seeking to catch him in something he might say, that they might accuse him.

12 Meanwhile, when a multitude of many thousands had gathered together, so much so that they trampled on each other, he began to tell his disciples first of all, "Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.² But there is nothing covered up, that will not be revealed, nor hidden, that will not be known.³ Therefore whatever you have said in the darkness will be heard in the light. What you have spoken in the ear in the inner chambers will be proclaimed on the housetops.⁴ I tell you, my friends, don't be afraid of those who kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.⁵ But I will warn you whom you shall fear. Fear him, who after he has killed, has power to cast into Gehenna. Yes, I tell you, fear him.⁶ Aren't five sparrows sold for two assaria? Not one of them is forgotten by Alahayam.⁷ But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Therefore don't be afraid. You are of more value than many sparrows.⁸ I tell you, everyone who confesses me before men, him will the Son of Man also confess before the angels of Alahayam;⁹ but he who denies me in the presence of men will be denied in the presence of the angels of Alahayam.¹⁰ Everyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but those who blaspheme against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven.¹¹ When they bring you before the synagogues, the rulers, and the authorities, don't be anxious how or what you will answer, or what you will say;¹² for the Holy Spirit will teach you in that same hour what you must say."¹³ One of the multitude said to him, "Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me."¹⁴ But he said to him, "Man, who made me a judge or an arbitrator over you?"¹⁵ He said to them, "Beware! Keep yourselves from covetousness, for a man's life doesn't consist of the abundance of the things which he possesses."¹⁶ He spoke a parable to them, saying, "The ground of a certain rich man brought forth abundantly.¹⁷ He reasoned within himself, saying, "What will I do, because I don't have room to store my crops?"¹⁸ He said, "This is what I will do. I will pull down my barns, and build bigger ones, and there I will store all my grain and my goods."¹⁹ I will tell my soul, "Soul, you have many goods laid up for many years. Take your ease, eat, drink, be merry."²⁰ But Alahayam said to him, "You foolish one, tonight your soul is required of you. The things which you have prepared -- whose will they be?"²¹ So is he who lays up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward Alahayam."²² He said to his disciples, "Therefore I tell you, don't be anxious for your life, what you will eat, nor yet for your body, what you will wear."²³ Life is more than food, and the body than clothing.²⁴ Consider the ravens: they don't sow, they don't reap, they have no warehouse or barn, and Alahayam feeds them. How much more valuable are you than birds!²⁵ Which of you by being anxious can add a cubit to his height?²⁶ If then you aren't able to do even the least things, why are you anxious about the rest?²⁷ Consider the lilies, how they grow. They don't toil, neither do they spin; yet I tell you, even Shalamah in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.²⁸ But if this is how Alahayam clothes the grass in the field, which today exists, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, you of little faith?²⁹ Don't seek what you will eat or what you will drink; neither be anxious.³⁰ For the nations of the world seek after all of these things, but your Father knows that you need these things.³¹ Yet seek Alahayam's kingdom, and all these things will be added to you.³² Don't be afraid, little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.³³ Sell that which you have, and give alms. Make for yourselves purses which don't grow old, a treasure in the heavens that doesn't fail, where no thief approaches, neither moth destroys.³⁴ For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.³⁵ Let your loins be girded about, and your lamps burning.³⁶ Be like men looking for their lord, when he will return from the marriage feast; that, when he comes and knocks, they may immediately open to him.³⁷ Blessed are those servants, whom the lord will find watching when he comes. Most assuredly I tell you, that he will gird himself, and make them recline, and will come and serve them.³⁸ They will be blessed if he comes in the second or third watch, and finds them so.³⁹ But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour the thief was coming, he would have watched, and not allowed his house to be broken into.⁴⁰ Therefore be ready also, for the Son of Man is coming in an hour that you don't expect him."⁴¹ Kayapaa said to him, "Adanay, are you telling this parable to us, or to everybody?"⁴² The Adanay said, "Who then is the faithful and wise steward, whom his lord will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the right times?"⁴³ Blessed is that servant whom his lord will find doing so when he comes.⁴⁴ Truly I tell you, that he will set him over all that he has.⁴⁵ But if that servant says in his heart, "My lord delays his coming," and begins to beat the menservants and the maidservants, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken,⁴⁶ then the lord of that servant will come in a day when he isn't expecting him, and in an hour that he doesn't know, and will cut him apart, and place his portion with the unfaithful.⁴⁷ That servant, who knew his lord's will, and didn't prepare, nor do what he wanted, will be beaten with many stripes,⁴⁸ but he who didn't know, and did things worthy of stripes, will be beaten with few stripes. To whoever much is given, of him will much be required; and to whom they deposit much, of him will they ask more.⁴⁹ "I came to throw fire on the earth, I wish it were already kindled."⁵⁰ But I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how distressed I am until it is accomplished!⁵¹ Do you think that I have come to give peace in the earth? I tell you, no, but rather division.⁵² For from now on, there will be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.⁵³ They will be divided, father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against her mother; mother in law against her daughter in law, and daughter in law against her mother in law."⁵⁴ He said to the multitudes also, "When you see a cloud rising from the west, immediately you say, 'A shower is coming,' and so it happens.⁵⁵ When a south wind blows, you say, 'There will be a scorching heat,' and it happens."⁵⁶ You hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of the earth and the sky, but how is it that you don't interpret this time?⁵⁷ Why don't you judge for yourselves what is right?⁵⁸ For as you are going with your adversary before the magistrate, try diligently on the way to be freed from him, lest perhaps he drag you to the judge, and the judge deliver you to the officer, and the officer throw you into prison.⁵⁹ I tell you, you will by no means get out of there, until you have paid the very last lepton."

13 Now there were some present at the same time who told him about the Galilaeans, whose blood Payalatawas had mixed with their sacrifices.² Yashawai answered them, "Do you think that these Galilaeans were worse sinners than all the other Galilaeans, because they suffered such things?³ I tell you, no, but, unless you repent, you will all perish in the same way.⁴ Or those eighteen, on whom the tower in Siloam fell, and killed them; do you think that they were worse offenders than all the men who dwell in Yarawashalam?⁵ I tell you, no, but, unless you repent, you will all perish in the same way."⁶ He spoke this parable. "A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it, and found none.⁷ He said to the vine dresser, 'Behold, these three years I came seeking fruit on this fig tree, and found none. Cut it down. Why does it waste the soil?'⁸ He answered, 'Adanay, leave it alone this year also, until I dig around it, and fertilize it.⁹ If it bears fruit, fine; but if not, after that, you can cut it down.'¹⁰ He was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath day.¹¹ Behold, there was a woman who had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and she was bent over, and could in no way lift herself up.¹² When Yashawai saw her, he called her, and said to her, "Woman, you are freed from your infirmity."¹³ He laid his hands on her, and immediately she stood up straight, and glorified Alahayam.¹⁴ The ruler of the synagogue, being moved with indignation because Yashawai had healed on the Sabbath, answered to the multitude, "There are six days in which men ought to work. Therefore come on those days and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day!"¹⁵ Therefore the Adanay answered him, "You hypocrites! Doesn't each one of you free his ox or his donkey from the stall on the Sabbath, and lead him away to water?¹⁶ Ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound eighteen long years, to have been freed from this bondage on the Sabbath day?"¹⁷ As he said these things, all his adversaries were put to shame, and all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.¹⁸ He said, "To what is the kingdom of Alahayam like? To what shall I compare it?¹⁹ It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and threw into his own garden. It grew, and became a large tree, and the birds of the sky lodged in the branches of it."²⁰ Again he said, "What shall I compare to the kingdom of Alahayam?²¹ It is like yeast, which a woman took and hid in three sata of flour, until it was all leavened."²² He went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and traveling on to Yarawashalam.²³ One said to him, "Adanay, are they few who are saved?" He said to them,²⁴ "Strive to enter in by the narrow door, for many, I tell you, will seek to enter in, and will not be able."²⁵ When once the master of the house has risen up, and has shut the door, and you begin to stand outside, and to knock at the door, saying, 'Adanay, Adanay, open to us!' then he will answer and tell you, 'I don't know you or where you come from.'²⁶ Then you will begin to say, 'We ate and drink in your presence, and you taught in our streets.'²⁷ He will say, 'I tell you, I don't know where you come from. Depart from me, all you workers of iniquity.'²⁸ There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham, Yatzachaq, Yaiqab, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of Alahayam, and yourselves being thrown outside.²⁹ They will come from the east, west, north, and south, and will sit down in the kingdom of Alahayam.³⁰ Behold, there are some who are last who will be first, and there are some who are first who will be last."³¹ On that same day, some Pharisees came, saying to him, "Get out of here, and go away, for Hawaradawas wants to kill you."³² He said to them, "Go and tell that fox, 'Behold, I cast out demons and perform cures today and tomorrow, and the third day I complete my mission.³³ Nevertheless I must go on my way today and tomorrow and the next day, for it can't be that a prophet perish out of Yawawashalam." ³⁴ "Yawawashalam, Yawawashalam, that kills the prophets, and stones those who are sent to her! How often I wanted to gather your children together, like a hen gathers her own brood under her wings, and you refused! ³⁵ Behold, your house is left to you desolate. I tell you, you will not see me, until you say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Adanay!'"

14 It happened, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a Sabbath to eat bread, that they were watching him. ² Behold, a certain man who had dropsy was in front of him. ³ Yashawai, answering, spoke to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?" ⁴ But they were silent. He took him, and healed him, and let him go. ⁵ He answered them, "Which of you, if your son or an ox fell into a well, wouldn't immediately pull him out on a Sabbath day?" ⁶ They couldn't answer him regarding these things. ⁷ He spoke a parable to those who were invited, when he noticed how they chose the best seats, and said to them, ⁸ "When you are invited by anyone to a marriage feast, don't sit in the best seat, since perhaps a more honorable man than you might be invited by him, ⁹ and he who invited both of you would come and tell you, 'Make room for this man.' Then you would begin, with shame, to take the lowest place. ¹⁰ But when you are invited, go and sit in the lowest place, so that when he who invited you comes, he may tell you, 'Friend, move up higher.' Then you will have glory in the presence of all who sit at the table with you. ¹¹ For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted." ¹² He also said to the one who had invited him, "When you make a dinner or a supper, don't call your friends, nor your brothers, nor your kinsmen, nor rich neighbors, or perhaps they might also return the favor, and pay you back. ¹³ But when you make a feast, ask the poor, the maimed, the lame, or the blind; ¹⁴ and you will be blessed, because they don't have the resources to repay you. For you will be repaid in the resurrection of the righteous." ¹⁵ When one of those who sat at the table with him heard these things, he said to him, "Blessed is he who will feast in the kingdom of Alahayam!" ¹⁶ But he said to him, "A certain man made a great supper, and he invited many people. ¹⁷ He sent out his servant at supper time to tell those who were invited, 'Come, for everything is ready now.' ¹⁸ They all as one began to make excuses. The first said to him, 'I have bought a field, and I must go and see it. Please have me excused.' ¹⁹ Another said, 'I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I must go try them out. Please have me excused.' ²⁰ Another said, 'I have married a wife, and therefore I can't come.' ²¹ That servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house, being angry, said to his servant, 'Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in here the poor, maimed, blind, and lame.' ²² The servant said, 'Adanay, it is done as you commanded, and there is still room.' ²³ The lord said to the servant, 'Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled. ²⁴ For I tell you that none of those men who were invited will taste of my supper.'" ²⁵ Now great multitudes went with him. He turned and said to them, ²⁶ "If any man comes to me, and doesn't hate his own father, mother, wife, children, brothers, and sisters, yes, and his own life also, he can't be my disciple. ²⁷ Whoever doesn't bear his own cross, and come after me, can't be my disciple. ²⁸ For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doesn't first sit down and count the cost, to see if he has enough to complete it? ²⁹ Or perhaps, when he has laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, everyone who sees begins to mock him, ³⁰ saying, 'This man began to build, and wasn't able to finish.' ³¹ Or what king, as he goes to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and consider whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him who comes against him with twenty thousand? ³² Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sends an envoy, and asks for conditions of peace. ³³ So therefore whoever of you who doesn't renounce all that he has, he can't be my disciple. ³⁴ Salt is good, but if the salt becomes flat and tasteless, with what do you season it?"

15 Now all the tax collectors and sinners were coming close to him to hear him. ² The Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, "This man welcomes sinners, and eats with them." ³ He told them this parable. ⁴ "Which of you men, if you had one hundred sheep, and lost one of them, wouldn't leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness, and go after the one that was lost, until he found it? ⁵ When he has found it, he carries it on his shoulders, rejoicing. ⁶ When he comes home, he calls together his friends and his neighbors, saying to them, 'Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost!' ⁷ I tell you that even so there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents, than over ninety-nine righteous people who need no repentance. ⁸ Or what woman, if she had ten drachma coins, if she lost one drachma, wouldn't light a lamp, sweep the house, and seek diligently until she found it? ⁹ When she has found it, she calls together her friends and neighbors, saying, 'Rejoice with me, for I have found the drachma which I had lost.' ¹⁰ Even so, I tell you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of Alahayam over one sinner repenting." ¹¹ He said, "A certain man had two sons. ¹² The younger of them said to his father, 'Father, give me my share of your property.' He divided his living to them. ¹³ Not many days after, the younger son gathered all of this together and took his journey into a far country. There he wasted his property with riotous living. ¹⁴ When he had spent all of it, there arose a severe famine in that country, and he began to be in need. ¹⁵ He went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed pigs. ¹⁶ He wanted to fill his belly with the husks that the pigs ate, but no one gave him any. ¹⁷ But when he came to himself he said, 'How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough to spare, and I'm dying with hunger! ¹⁸ I will get up and go to my father, and will tell him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in your sight. ¹⁹ I am no more worthy to be called your son. Make me as one of your hired servants.'" ²⁰ He arose, and came to his father. But while he was still far off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. ²¹ The son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in your sight. I am no more worthy to be called your son.' ²² But the father said to his servants, 'Bring out the best robe, and put it on him. Pawat a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet. ²³ Bring the fattened calf, kill it, and let us eat, and celebrate; ²⁴ for this, my son, was dead, and is alive again. He was lost, and is found.' They began to be merry. ²⁵ Now his elder son was in the field. As he came and drew near to the house, he heard music and dancing. ²⁶ He called one of the servants to him, and asked what was going on. ²⁷ He said to him, 'Your brother has come, and your father has killed the fattened calf, because he has received him safe and sound.' ²⁸ But he was angry, and would not go in. Therefore his father came out, and begged him. ²⁹ But he answered his father, 'Behold, these many years I served you, and I never disobeyed a commandment of yours, and you never gave me a goat, that I might celebrate with my friends. ³⁰ But when this, your son, came, who has devoured your living with prostitutes, you killed the fattened calf for him.' ³¹ He said to him, 'Son, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours. ³² But it was appropriate to celebrate and be glad, for this, your brother, was dead, and is alive again. He was lost, and is found.'"

16 He said also to his disciples, "There was a certain rich man, who had a manager. The same was accused to him of wasting his possessions. ² He called him, and said to him, 'What is this that I hear about you? Give an accounting of your management, for you can no longer be manager.' ³ The steward said within himself, 'What will I do, seeing that my lord is taking away the management position from me? I don't have strength to dig. I am ashamed to beg. ⁴ I know what I will do, so that when I am removed from management, they may receive me into their houses.' ⁵ Calling each one of his lord's debtors to him, he said to the first, 'How much do you owe to my lord?' ⁶ He said, 'A hundred batos of oil.' He said to him, 'Take your bill, and sit down quickly and write fifty.' ⁷ Then said he to another, 'How much do you owe?' He said, 'A hundred cors of wheat.' He said to him, 'Take your bill, and write eighty.'⁸ His lord commended the unrighteous steward because he had done wisely, for the sons of this world are, in their own generation, wiser than the sons of the light.⁹ I tell you, make for yourselves friends by means of unrighteous mammon, so that when you fail, they may receive you into the eternal tents.¹⁰ He who is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much. He who is unrighteous in a very little is also unrighteous in much.¹¹ If therefore you have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?¹² If you have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own?¹³ No servant can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. You aren't able to serve Alahayam and mammon."¹⁴ The Pharisees, who were lovers of money, also heard all these things, and they scoffed at him.¹⁵ He said to them, "You are those who justify yourselves in the sight of men, but Alahayam knows your hearts. For that which is exalted among men is an abomination in the sight of Alahayam.¹⁶ The law and the prophets were until Yawachanan. From that time the gospel of the kingdom of Alahayam is preached, and everyone is forcing his way into it.¹⁷ But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tiny stroke of a pen in the law to fall.¹⁸ Everyone who divorces his wife, and marries another, commits adultery. He who marries one who is put away from a husband commits adultery."¹⁹ "Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, living in luxury every day.²⁰ A certain beggar, named Alaizar, was laid at his gate, full of sores,²¹ and desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table. Yes, even the dogs came and licked his sores.²² It happened that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels to Abaraham's bosom. The rich man also died, and was buried.²³ In Hades, he lifted up his eyes, being in torment, and saw Abaraham far off, and Alaizar at his bosom.²⁴ He cried and said, 'Father Abaraham, have mercy on me, and send Alaizar, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue! For I am in anguish in this flame.'²⁵ But Abaraham said, 'Son, remember that you, in your lifetime, received your good things, and Alaizar, in like manner, bad things. But now here he is comforted and you are in anguish.²⁶ Besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that those who want to pass from here to you are not able, and that none may cross over from there to us.'²⁷ He said, 'I ask you therefore, father, that you would send him to my father's house;²⁸ for I have five brothers, that he may testify to them, lest they also come into this place of torment.'²⁹ But Abaraham said to him, 'They have Mashah and the prophets. Let them listen to them.'³⁰ He said, 'No, father Abaraham, but if one goes to them from the dead, they will repent.'³¹ He said to him, 'If they don't listen to Mashah and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded if one rises from the dead.'"

17 He said to the disciples, "It is impossible that occasions of stumbling should not come, but woe to him through whom they come!² It would be better for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble.³ Be careful. If your brother sins against you, rebuke him. If he repents, forgive him.⁴ If he sins against you seven times in the day, and seven times turns again, saying, 'I repent,' you shall forgive him.'⁵ The apostles said to the Adanay, "Increase our faith."⁶ The Adanay said, "If you had faith as a grain of mustard seed, you would tell this sycamore tree, 'Be uprooted, and be planted in the sea,' and it would obey you.⁷ But who is there of you, having a servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say, when he comes in from the field, 'Come immediately and sit down at the table,' and will not rather tell him, 'Prepare my supper, clothe yourself properly, and serve me, while I eat and drink. Afterward you will eat and drink?'⁹ Does he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded? I think not.¹⁰ Even so you also, when you have done all the things that are commanded you, say, 'We are unworthy servants. We have done our duty.'¹¹ It happened, as he was on his way to Yarawashalam, that he was passing along the borders of Shamarawan and Galayal.¹² As he entered into a certain village, ten men who were lepers met him, who stood far away.¹³ They lifted up their voices, saying, "Yashawai, Master, have mercy on us!"¹⁴ When he saw them, he said to them, "Go and show yourselves to the priests." It happened, as they went, they were cleansed.¹⁵ One of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, glorifying Alahayam with a loud voice.¹⁶ He fell on his face at his feet, giving him thanks. He was a Samaritan.¹⁷ Yashawai answered, "Weren't the ten cleansed? But where are the nine?"¹⁸ Were there none found who returned to give glory to Alahayam, except this stranger?"¹⁹ He said to him, "Get up, and go your way. Your faith has healed you."²⁰ Being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of Alahayam would come, he answered them, "The kingdom of Alahayam doesn't come with observation;²¹ neither will they say, 'Look, here!' or, 'Look, there!' for behold, the kingdom of Alahayam is within you."²² He said to the disciples, "The days will come, when you will desire to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and you will not see it.²³ They will tell you, 'Look, here!' or 'Look, there!' Don't go away, nor follow after them,²⁴ for as the lightning, when it flashes out of the one part under the sky, shines to the other part under the sky; so will the Son of Man be in his day.²⁵ But first, he must suffer many things and be rejected by this generation.²⁶ As it happened in the days of Nach, even so will it be also in the days of the Son of Man.²⁷ They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Nach entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.²⁸ Likewise, even as it happened in the days of Lawat: they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built;²⁹ but in the day that Lawat went out from Sadam, it rained fire and sulfur from the sky, and destroyed them all.³⁰ It will be the same way in the day that the Son of Man is revealed.³¹ In that day, he who will be on the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away. Let him who is in the field likewise not turn back.³² Remember Lawat's wife!³³ Whoever seeks to gain his life loses it, but whoever loses his life preserves it.³⁴ I tell you, in that night there will be two people in one bed. The one will be taken, and the other will be left.³⁵ There will be two women grinding together. The one will be taken, and the other will be left."³⁶ dummy verses inserted by amos³⁷ They answering, asked him, "Where, Adanay?" He said to them, "Where the body is, there will the vultures also be gathered together."

18 He also spoke a parable to them that they must always pray, and not give up,² saying, "A certain judge was in a city, who didn't fear Alahayam, and didn't respect man.³ A widow was in that city, and she came often to him, saying, 'Defend me from my adversary!'"⁴ He wouldn't for a while, but afterward he said to himself, 'Though I don't fear Alahayam, nor respect man,⁵ yet because this widow bothers me, I will defend her, or else she will wear me out by her continual coming.'⁶ The Adanay said, "Listen to what the unrighteous judge says.⁷ Won't Alahayam avenge his elect, who are crying out to him day and night, and yet he exercises patience with them?"⁸ I tell you that he will avenge them quickly. Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on the earth?"⁹ He spoke also this parable to certain people who were convinced of their own righteousness, and who despised all others.¹⁰ "Two men went up into the temple to pray; one was a Pharisee, and the other was a tax collector.¹¹ The Pharisee stood and prayed to himself like this: 'Alahayam, I thank you, that I am not like the rest of men, extortioners, unrighteous, adulterers, or even like this tax collector.¹² I fast twice in the week. I give tithes of all that I get.'¹³ But the tax collector, standing far away, wouldn't even lift up as his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, 'Alahayam, be merciful to me, a sinner!'"¹⁴ I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other; for everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but he who humbles himself will be exalted."¹⁵ They were also bringing their babies to him, that he might touch them. But when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them. ¹⁶ Yashawai called them near, saying, "Allow the little children to come to me, and don't hinder them, for the kingdom of Alahayam belongs to ones like these." ¹⁷ Most assuredly, I tell you, whoever doesn't receive the kingdom of Alahayam like a little child, he will in no way enter into it." ¹⁸ A certain ruler asked him, saying, "Good Teacher, what do I do to inherit eternal life?" ¹⁹ Yashawai asked him, "Why do you call me good? No one is good, except one -- Alahayam. ²⁰ You know the commandments: 'Don't commit adultery,' 'Don't murder,' 'Don't steal,' 'Don't give false testimony,' 'Honor your father and your mother.'" ²¹ He said, "I have observed all these things from my youth up." ²² When Yashawai heard these things, he said to him, "You still lack one thing. Sell all that you have, and distribute it to the poor. You will have treasure in heaven. Come, follow me." ²³ But when he heard these things, he became very sad, for he was very rich. ²⁴ Yashawai, seeing that he became very sad, said, "How hard it is for those who have riches to enter into the kingdom of Alahayam! ²⁵ For it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of Alahayam." ²⁶ Those who heard it said, "Then who can be saved?" ²⁷ But he said, "The things which are impossible with men are possible with Alahayam." ²⁸ Kayapaa said, "Look, we have left everything, and followed you." ²⁹ He said to them, "Most assuredly I tell you, there is no one who has left house, or wife, or brothers, or parents, or children, for the kingdom of Alahayam's sake, ³⁰ who will not receive many times more in this time, and in the world to come, eternal life." ³¹ He took the twelve aside, and said to them, "Behold, we are going up to Yarawashalam, and all the things that are written through the prophets concerning the Son of Man will be completed. ³² For he will be delivered up to the Gentiles, will be mocked, treated shamefully, and spit on. ³³ They will scourge and kill him. On the third day, he will rise again." ³⁴ They understood none of these things. This saying was hidden from them, and they didn't understand the things that were said. ³⁵ It happened, as he came near Yarayachaw, a certain blind man sat by the road, begging. ³⁶ Hearing a multitude going by, he asked what this meant. ³⁷ They told him that Yashawai of Natzarath was passing by. ³⁸ He cried out, "Yashawai, you son of Dawad, have mercy on me!" ³⁹ Those who led the way rebuked him, that he should be quiet; but he cried out all the more, "You son of Dawad, have mercy on me!" ⁴⁰ Yashawai, standing, commanded him to be brought to him. When he had come near, he asked him, ⁴¹ "What do you want me to do?" He said, "Adanay, that I may see again." ⁴² Yashawai said to him, "Receive your sight. Your faith has healed you." ⁴³ Immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying Alahayam. All the people, when they saw it, praised Alahayam.

19 He entered and was passing through Yarayachaw. ² There was a man named Zacchaeus. He was a chief tax collector, and he was rich. ³ He was trying to see who Yashawai was, and couldn't because of the crowd, because he was short. ⁴ He ran on ahead, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him, for he was to pass that way. ⁵ When Yashawai came to the place, he looked up and saw him, and said to him, "Zacchaeus, hurry and come down, for today I must stay at your house." ⁶ He hurried, came down, and received him joyfully. ⁷ When they saw it, they all murmured, saying, "He has gone in to lodge with a man who is a sinner." ⁸ Zacchaeus stood and said to the Adanay, "Behold, Adanay, half of my goods I give to the poor. If I have wrongfully exacted anything of anyone, I restore four times as much." ⁹ Yashawai said to him, "Today, salvation has come to this house, because he also is a son of Abaraham. ¹⁰ For the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost." ¹¹ As they heard these things, he went on and told a parable, because he was near Yarawashalam, and they supposed that the kingdom of Alahayam would be revealed immediately. ¹² He said therefore, "A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. ¹³ He called ten servants of his, and gave them ten minas, and told them, 'Conduct business until I come.' ¹⁴ But his citizens hated him, and sent an envoy after him, saying, 'We don't want this man to reign over us.'

¹⁵ It happened, when he had come back again, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these servants, to whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by conducting business. ¹⁶ The first came before him, saying, 'Adanay, your mina has made ten more minas.' ¹⁷ He said to him, 'Well done, you good servant! Because you were found faithful in a very little, you shall have authority over ten cities.' ¹⁸ The second came, saying, 'Your mina, Adanay, has made five minas.' ¹⁹ He said to him also, 'You also are to be over five cities.' ²⁰ Another came, saying, 'Adanay, behold, your mina, which I kept laid away in a handkerchief, ²¹ for I feared you, because you are an exacting man. You take up that which didn't lay down, and reap that which you didn't sow.' ²² He said to him, 'Out of your own mouth will I judge you, you wicked servant! You knew that I am an exacting man, taking up that which I didn't lay down, and reaping that which I didn't sow. ²³ Then why didn't you deposit my money in the bank, and I at my coming might have earned interest on it?' ²⁴ He said to those who stood by, 'Take the mina away from him, and give it to him who has the ten minas.' ²⁵ They said to him, 'Adanay, he has ten minas!' ²⁶ 'For I tell you that to everyone who has, will more be given; but from him who doesn't have, even that which he has will be taken away from him. ²⁷ But bring those enemies of mine who didn't want me to reign over them here, and kill them before me.'" ²⁸ When he had thus spoken, he went on ahead, going up to Yarawashalam. ²⁹ It happened, when he drew near to Bethsphage and Bayathainayah, at the mountain that is called Olivet, he sent two of his disciples, ³⁰ saying, "Go your way into the village on the other side, in which, as you enter, you will find a colt tied, whereon no man ever yet sat. Untie him, and bring him. ³¹ If anyone asks you, 'Why are you untying it?' say to him: 'The Adanay needs it.'" ³² Those who were sent went away, and found things just as he had told them. ³³ As they were untying the colt, the owners of it said to them, 'Why are you untying the colt?' ³⁴ They said, 'The Adanay needs it.' ³⁵ They brought it to Yashawai. They threw their cloaks on the colt, and set Yashawai on them. ³⁶ As he went, they spread their cloaks in the way. ³⁷ As he was now getting near, at the descent of the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise Alahayam with a loud voice for all the mighty works which they had seen, ³⁸ saying, "Blessed is the King who comes in the name of the Adanay! Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest!" ³⁹ Some of the Pharisees from the multitude said to him, "Teacher, rebuke your disciples!" ⁴⁰ He answered them, "I tell you that if these were silent, the stones would cry out." ⁴¹ When he drew near, he saw the city and wept over it, ⁴² saying, "If you, even you, had known today the things which belong to your peace! But now, they are hidden from your eyes. ⁴³ For the days will come on you, when your enemies will throw up a barricade against you, surround you, hem you in on every side, ⁴⁴ and will dash you and your children within you to the ground. They will not leave in you one stone on another, because you didn't know the time of your visitation." ⁴⁵ He entered into the temple, and began to drive out those who bought and sold in it, ⁴⁶ saying to them, "It is written, 'My house is a house of prayer,' but you have made it a 'den of robbers!'" ⁴⁷ He was teaching daily in the temple, but the chief priests and the scribes and the leading men among the people sought to destroy him. ⁴⁸ They couldn't find what they might do, for all the people hung on to every word that he said.

20 It happened on one of those days, as he was teaching the people in the temple and preaching the gospel, that the chief priests and scribes came to him with the elders. ² They asked him, "Tell us: by what authority do you do these things? Or who is giving you this authority?" ³ He answered them, "I also will ask you one question. Tell me: ⁴ the baptism of Yawachanan, was it from heaven, or from men?" ⁵ They reasoned with themselves, saying, "If we say, 'From heaven,' he will say, 'Why didn't you believe him?' ⁶ But if we say, 'From men,' all the people will stone us, for they are persuaded that Yawachanan was a prophet." ⁷ They answered that they didn't know where it was from. ⁸ Yashawai said to them, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things." ⁹ He began to tell the people this parable. "A man planted a vineyard, and rented it out to some farmers, and went into another country for a long time.¹⁰ At the proper season, he sent a servant to the farmers to collect his share of the fruit of the vineyard. But the farmers beat him, and sent him away empty.¹¹ He sent yet another servant, and they also beat him, and treated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.¹² He sent yet a third, and they also wounded him, and threw him out.¹³ The lord of the vineyard said, 'What will I do? I will send my beloved son. It may be that seeing him, they will respect him.'¹⁴ But when the farmers saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, 'This is the heir. Come, let's kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.'¹⁵ They threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do to them?¹⁶ He will come and destroy these farmers, and will give the vineyard to others." When they heard it, they said, "Alahayam forbid!"¹⁷ But he looked at them, and said, "Then what is this that is written, 'The stone which the builders rejected, The same was made the chief cornerstone?'¹⁸ 'Everyone who falls on that stone will be broken to pieces, but it will crush whoever it falls on to dust.'¹⁹ The chief priests and the scribes sought to lay hands on Him that very hour, but they feared the people -- for they knew He had spoken this parable against them.²⁰ They watched him, and sent out spies, who pretended to be righteous, that they might trap him in something he said, so as to deliver him up to the rule and to the authority of the governor.²¹ They asked him, "Teacher, we know that you say and teach what is right, and aren't partial to anyone, but truly teach the way of Alahayam.²² Is it lawful for us to pay taxes to Qayasar, or not?"²³ But he perceived their slyness, and said to them, "Why do you test me?²⁴ Show me a denarius. Whose image and inscription are on it?" They answered, "Qayasar's."²⁵ He said to them, "Then give to Qayasar the things that are Qayasar's, and to Alahayam the things that are Alahayam's."²⁶ They weren't able to trap him in his words before the people. They marveled at his answer, and were silent.²⁷ Some of the Sadducees came to him, those who deny that there is a resurrection.²⁸ They asked him, "Teacher, Mashah wrote to us that if a man's brother dies having a wife, and he is childless, his brother should take the wife, and raise up children for his brother.²⁹ There were therefore seven brothers. The first took a wife, and died childless.³⁰ The second took her as wife, and he died childless.³¹ The third took her, and likewise the seven all left no children, and died.³² Afterward the woman also died.³³ Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them will she be? For the seven had her as a wife."³⁴ Yashawai said to them, "The sons of this age marry, and are given in marriage.³⁵ But those who are considered worthy to attain to that age and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage.³⁶ For neither can they die any more, for they are like the angels, and are sons of Alahayam, being sons of the resurrection.³⁷ But that the dead are raised, even Mashah showed at the bush, when he called the Adanay 'The Alahayam of Abaraham, the Alahayam of Yatzachaq, and the Alahayam of Yaiqab.'³⁸ Now he is not the Alahayam of the dead, but of the living, for all are alive to him."³⁹ Some of the scribes answered, "Teacher, you speak well."⁴⁰ They didn't dare to ask him any more questions.⁴¹ He said to them, "Why do they say that the Mashayach is Dawad's son?⁴² Dawad himself says in the book of Psalms, 'The Adanay said to my Adanay, 'Sit at my right hand,⁴³ Until I make your enemies the footstool of your feet.'⁴⁴ "Dawad therefore calls him Adanay, so how is he his son?"⁴⁵ In the hearing of all the people, he said to his disciples,⁴⁶ "Beware of the scribes, who desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the marketplaces, the best seats in the synagogues, and the best places at feasts;⁴⁷ who devour widows' houses, and for a pretense make long prayers: these will receive greater condemnation."

21 He looked up, and saw the rich people who were putting their gifts into the treasury.² He saw a certain poor widow casting in two lepta.³ He said, "Truly I tell you, this poor widow put in more than all of them,⁴ for all these put in gifts for Alahayam from their abundance, but she, out of her lack, put in all that she had to live on."⁵ As some were talking about the temple and how it was decorated with beautiful stones and gifts, he said,⁶ "As for these things which you see, the days will come, in which there will not be left here one stone on another that will not be thrown down."⁷ They asked him, "Teacher, when therefore will these things be? What is the sign that these things are about to happen?"⁸ He said, "Watch out that you don't get led astray, for many will come in my name, saying, 'I AM,' and, 'The time is at hand.' Therefore don't follow them.⁹ When you hear of wars and disturbances, don't be terrified, for these things must happen first, but the end won't come immediately."¹⁰ Then he said to them, "Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.¹¹ There will be great earthquakes, famines, and plagues in various places. There will be terrors and great signs from heaven.¹² But before all these things, they will lay their hands on you and will persecute you, delivering you up to synagogues and prisons, bringing you before kings and governors for my name's sake.¹³ It will turn out as a testimony to you.¹⁴ Settle it therefore in your hearts not to meditate beforehand how to answer,¹⁵ for I will give you a mouth and wisdom which all your adversaries will not be able to withstand or to contradict.¹⁶ But you will be handed over even by parents, brothers, relatives, and friends. Some of you will they cause to be put to death.¹⁷ You will be hated by all men for my name's sake.¹⁸ Not a hair of your head will perish.¹⁹ By your endurance you will win your souls.²⁰ "But when you see Yarrowashalam surrounded by armies, then know that its desolation is at hand.²¹ Then let those who are in Yahawadah flee to the mountains. Let them who are in the midst of her depart. Don't let those who are in the country enter therein.²² For these are days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.²³ Woe to those who are pregnant and to those who nurse infants in those days! For there will be great distress in the land, and wrath to this people.²⁴ They will fall by the edge of the sword, and will be led captive into all the nations. Yarrowashalam will be trampled down by the heathen — until the times of the heathen are fulfilled.²⁵ There will be signs in the sun, moon, and stars; and on the earth anxiety of nations, in perplexity for the roaring of the sea and the waves;²⁶ men fainting for fear, and for expectation of the things which are coming on the world: for the powers of the heavens will be shaken.²⁷ Then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.²⁸ But when these things begin to happen, look up, and lift up your heads, because your redemption is near."²⁹ He told them a parable. "See the fig tree, and all the trees.³⁰ When they are already budding, you see it and know by your own selves that the summer is already near.³¹ Even so you also, when you see these things happening, know that the kingdom of Alahayam is near.³² Most assuredly I tell you, this generation will not pass away until all things are accomplished.³³ The Shamayam (Heavens) and the Aratz (Earth) will pass away, but my Dabar (Word) will not pass away.³⁴ "So be careful, or your hearts will be loaded down with carousing, drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that day will come on you suddenly.³⁵ For it will come like a snare on all those who dwell on the surface of all the earth.³⁶ Therefore be watchful all the time, asking that you may be counted worthy to escape all these things that will happen, and to stand before the Son of Man."³⁷ Every day Yashawai was teaching in the temple, and every night he went out, and spent the night on the mountain that is called Olivet.³⁸ All the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him.

22 Now the feast of unleavened bread drew near, which is called the Passover.² The chief priests and the scribes sought how they might put him to death, for they feared the people.³ Satan entered into Yahawadah, who was called Iscariot, being numbered with the twelve.⁴ He went away, and talked with the chief priests and captains about how he might deliver him to them.⁵ They were glad, and agreed to give him money.⁶ He consented, and sought an opportunity to deliver him to them in the absence of the multitude.⁷ The day of unleavened bread came, on which the Passover must be sacrificed.⁸ He sent Kayapaa and Yawachanan, saying, "Go and prepare the Passover for us, that we may eat."⁹ They said to him, "Where do you want us to prepare?"¹⁰ He said to them, "Behold, when you have entered into the city, a man carrying a pitcher of water will meet you. Follow him into the house which he enters.

¹² He will show you a large, furnished upper room. Make preparations there." ¹³ They went, found things as he had told them, and they prepared the Passover. ¹⁴ When the hour had come, he sat down with the twelve apostles. ¹⁵ He said to them, "I have earnestly desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer, ¹⁶ for I tell you, I will no longer by any means eat of it until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of Alahayam." ¹⁷ He received a cup, and when he had given thanks, he said, "Take this, and share it among yourselves,

¹⁸ for I tell you, I will not drink at all again from the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of Alahayam comes." ¹⁹ He took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it, and gave to them, saying, "This is my body which is given for you. Do this in memory of me." ²⁰ He took the cup in like manner after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood, that which is poured out for you. ²¹ But behold, the hand of him who betrays me is with me on the table. ²² The Son of Man indeed goes, as it has been determined, but woe to that man through whom he is betrayed!" ²³ They began to question among themselves, which of them it was that would do this thing. ²⁴ There arose also a contention among them, which of them was considered to be greatest. ²⁵ He said to them, "The kings of the Gentiles lord it over them, and those who have authority over them are called 'benefactors.' ²⁶ But not so with you. But one who is the greater among you, let him become as the lesser, and one who is governing, as one who serves. ²⁷ For who is greater, one who sits at the table, or one who serves? Isn't it he who sits at the table? But I am in the midst of you as one who serves. ²⁸ But you are those who have continued with me in my temptations. ²⁹ I appoint to you a kingdom, even as my Father appointed to me, ³⁰ that you may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom. You will sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Yasharaal." ³¹ The Adanay said,

"Shamaiwan, Shamaiwan, behold, Satan asked to have you, that he might sift you as wheat, ³² but I prayed for you, that your faith wouldn't fail. You, when once you have turned again, establish your brothers." ³³ He said to him, "Adanay, I am ready to go with you both to prison and to death!" ³⁴ He said, "I tell you, Kayapaa, the rooster will by no means crow today, before you deny that you know me three times." ³⁵ He said to them, "When I sent you out without purse, and wallet, and shoes, did you lack anything?" They said, "Nothing." ³⁶ Then he said to them, "But now, whoever has a purse, let him take it, and likewise a wallet. Whoever has none, let him sell his cloak, and buy a sword. ³⁷ For I tell you that this which is written must still be fulfilled in me: 'He was counted with the lawless.' For that which concerns me has an end." ³⁸ They said, "Adanay, behold, here are two swords." He said to them, "That is enough." ³⁹ He came out, and went, as his custom was, to the Mount of Olives. His disciples also followed him. ⁴⁰ When he was at the place, he said to them, "Pray that you don't enter into temptation."

⁴¹ He was withdrawn from them about a stone's throw, and he knelt down and prayed, ⁴² saying, "Father, if you are willing, remove this cup from me. Nevertheless, not my will, but yours, be done." ⁴³ An angel from heaven appeared to him, strengthening him. ⁴⁴ Being in agony he prayed more earnestly. His sweat became like great drops of blood falling down on the ground. ⁴⁵ When he rose up from his prayer, he came to the disciples, and found them sleeping because of grief, ⁴⁶ and said to them, "Why do you sleep? Rise and pray that you may not enter into temptation." ⁴⁷ While he was still speaking, behold, a multitude, and he who was called Yahawadah, one of the twelve, went in front of them. He came near to Yashawai to kiss him. ⁴⁸ But Yashawai said to him, "Yahawadah, do you betray the Son of Man with a kiss?" ⁴⁹ When those who were around him saw what was about to happen, they said, "Adanay, shall we strike with the sword?" ⁵⁰ A certain one of them struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. ⁵¹ But Yashawai answered, "Let me at least do this" -- and he touched his ear, and healed him.

elders, who had come against him, "Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs? ⁵³ When I was with you in the temple daily, you didn't stretch out your hands against me. But this is your hour, and the power of darkness." ⁵⁴ They seized him, and led him away, and brought him into the high priest's house. But Kayapaa followed from a distance. ⁵⁵ When they had kindled a fire in the midst of the court, and had sat down together, Kayapaa sat in the midst of them. ⁵⁶ A certain servant girl saw him as he sat in the light, and looking intently at him, said, "This man also was with him." ⁵⁷ He denied Yashawai, saying, "Woman, I don't know him."

⁵⁸ After a little while someone else saw him, and said, "You also are one of them!" But Kayapaa answered, "Man, I am not!" ⁵⁹ After about one hour passed, another confidently affirmed, saying, "Truly this man also was with him, for he is a Galilean!" ⁶⁰ But Kayapaa said, "Man, I don't know what you are talking about!" Immediately, while he was still speaking, a rooster crowed. ⁶¹ The Adanay turned, and looked at Kayapaa. Kayapaa remembered the Adanay's word, how he said to him, "Before the rooster crows you will deny me three times." ⁶² He went out, and wept bitterly. ⁶³ The men who held Yashawai mocked him and beat him. ⁶⁴ Having blindfolded him, they struck him on the face and asked him, "Prophecy! Who is the one who struck you?" ⁶⁵ They spoke many other things against him, insulting him. ⁶⁶ As soon as it was day, the assembly of the elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes, and they led him away into their council, saying, ⁶⁷ "If you are the Mashayach, tell us." But he said to them, "If I tell you, you won't believe, ⁶⁸ and if I ask, you will in no way answer me or let me go.

⁶⁹ From now on, the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of the power of Alahayam." ⁷⁰ They all said, "Are you then the Son of Alahayam?" He said to them, "You say it, because I AM." ⁷¹ They said, "Why do we need any more witness? For we ourselves have heard from his own mouth!"

23 The whole company of them rose up and brought him before Payalatawas. ² They began to accuse him, saying, "We found this man perverting the nation, forbidding paying taxes to Qayasar, and saying that he himself is Mashayach, a king." ³ Payalatawas asked him, "Are you the King of the Jews?" He answered him, "So you say." ⁴ Payalatawas said to the chief priests and the multitudes, "I find no basis for a charge against this man." ⁵ But they insisted, saying, "He stirs up the people, teaching throughout all Yahawadah, beginning from Galayal even to this place." ⁶ But when Payalatawas heard Galayal mentioned, he asked if the man was a Galilean.

⁷ When he found out that he was in Hawaradawas's jurisdiction, he sent him to Hawaradawas, who was also in Yarawashalam in those days. ⁸ Now when Hawaradawas saw Yashawai, he was exceedingly glad, for he had wanted to see him for a long time, because he had heard many things about him. He hoped to see some miracle done by him. ⁹ He questioned him with many words, but he gave no answers. ¹⁰ The chief priests and the scribes stood, vehemently accusing him. ¹¹ Hawaradawas with his soldiers humiliated him and mocked him. Dressing him in luxurious clothing, they sent him back to Payalatawas. ¹² Hawaradawas and Payalatawas became friends with each other that very day, for before that they were enemies with each other. ¹³ Payalatawas called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, ¹⁴ and said to them, "You brought this man to me as one that perverts the people, and see, I have examined him before you, and found no basis for a charge against this man concerning those things of which you accuse him. ¹⁵ Neither has Hawaradawas, for I sent you to him, and see, nothing worthy of death has been done by him. ¹⁶ I will therefore chastise him and release him." ¹⁷ Now he had to release one prisoner to them at the feast. ¹⁸ But they all cried out together, saying, "Away with this man! Release to us Barabbas!" --

¹⁹ one who was thrown into prison for a certain revolt in the city, and for murder. ²⁰ Payalatawas spoke to them again, desiring to release Yashawai, ²¹ but they shouted, saying, "Crucify! Crucify him!" ²² He said to them the third time, "Why? What evil has this man done? I have found no capital crime in him. I will therefore chastise him and release him." ²³ But they were urgent with loud

voices, asking that he might be crucified. Their voices and the voices of the chief priests prevailed.²⁴ Payalatawas adjudged that what they asked for should be done.²⁵ He released him who had been thrown into prison for insurrection and murder, for whom they asked, but he delivered Yashawai up to their will.²⁶ When they led him away, they grabbed one Shamaiwan of Cyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to carry it after Yashawai.²⁷ A great multitude of the people followed him, including women who also mourned and lamented him.²⁸ But Yashawai, turning to them, said, "Daughters of Yarawashalam, don't weep for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children."²⁹ For behold, the days are coming in which they will say, 'Blessed are the barren, the wombs that never bore, and the breasts that never nursed.'³⁰ Then will they begin to tell the mountains, 'Fall on us!' and to the hills, 'Cover us.'³¹ For if they do these things in the green tree, what will be done in the dry?"³² There were also others, two criminals, led with him to be put to death.³³ When they came to the place that is called The Skull, they crucified him there with the criminals, one on the right and the other on the left.³⁴ Yashawai said, "Father, forgive them, for they don't know what they are doing." Dividing his garments among them, they cast lots.³⁵ The people stood watching. The rulers with them also scoffed at him, saying, "He saved others. Let him save himself, if this is the Mashayach of Alahayam, his chosen one!"³⁶ The soldiers also mocked him, coming to him and offering him vinegar,³⁷ and saying, "If you are the King of the Jews, save yourself!"³⁸ An inscription was also written over him in letters of Greek, Latin, and Hebrew: "THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS."³⁹ One of the criminals who was hanged insulted him, saying, "If you are the Mashayach, save yourself and us!"⁴⁰ But the other answered, and rebuking him said, "Don't you even fear Alahayam, seeing you are in the same condemnation?"⁴¹ And we indeed justly, for we receive the due reward for our deeds, but this man has done nothing wrong."⁴² He said to Yashawai, "Adanay, remember me when you come into your kingdom."⁴³ He said to him, "Most assuredly I tell you, today you will be with me in Paradise."⁴⁴ It was now about the sixth hour, and darkness came over the whole land until the ninth hour.⁴⁵ The sun was darkened, and the veil of the temple was torn in two.⁴⁶ Yashawai, crying with a loud voice, said, "Father, into your hands I commit my spirit!" Having said this, he breathed his last.⁴⁷ When the centurion saw what was done, he glorified Alahayam, saying, "Certainly this was a righteous man."⁴⁸ All the multitudes that came together to see this, when they saw the things that were done, returned beating their breasts.⁴⁹ All his acquaintances, and the women who followed with him from Galayal, stood far away, watching these things.⁵⁰ Behold, a man named Yawasap, who was a member of the council, a good and righteous man⁵¹ (he had not consented to their counsel and deed), from Arimathaea, a city of the Jews, who was also waiting for the kingdom of Alahayam:⁵² this man went to Payalatawas, and asked for Yashawai's body.⁵³ He took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb that was cut in stone, where no man had ever yet lain.⁵⁴ It was the day of the Preparation, and the Sabbath was coming on.⁵⁵ The women, who had come with him out of Galayal, followed after, and saw the tomb, and how his body was laid.⁵⁶ They returned, and prepared spices and ointments. On the Sabbath they rested according to the commandment.

24 But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they and some others came to the tomb, bringing the spices which they had prepared.² They found the stone rolled away from the tomb.³ They entered in, and didn't find the Adanay Yashawai's body.⁴ It happened, while they were greatly perplexed about this, behold, two men stood by them in dazzling clothing.⁵ Becoming terrified, they bowed their faces down to the earth. They said to them, "Why do you seek the living among the dead?"⁶ He isn't here, but is risen. Remember what he told you when he was still in Galayal,⁷ saying that the Son of Man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again?"⁸ They remembered his words,⁹ returned from the tomb, and told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest.¹⁰ Now they were Marayam Magdalene, Joanna, and Marayam the mother of Yaiqab. The other women with them told these things to the apostles.¹¹ These words seemed to them to be nonsense, and they didn't believe them.¹² But Kayapaa got up and ran to the tomb. Stooping and looking in, he saw the strips of linen lying by themselves, and he departed to his home, wondering what had happened.¹³ Behold, two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was sixty stadia from Yarawashalam.¹⁴ They talked with each other about all of these things which had happened.¹⁵ It happened, while they talked and questioned together, that Yashawai himself came near, and went with them.¹⁶ But their eyes were kept from recognizing him.¹⁷ He said to them, "What are you talking about as you walk, and are sad?"¹⁸ One of them, named Cleopas, answered him, "Are you the only one travelling in Yarawashalam who doesn't know the things which have happened there in these days?"¹⁹ He said to them, "What things?" They said to him, "The things concerning Yashawai, the Nazarene, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before Alahayam and all the people;²⁰ and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him."²¹ But we hoped that it was he who would redeem Yasharaal. Yes, and besides all this, it is now the third day since these things happened.²² Also, certain women of our company amazed us, having been early at the tomb;²³ and when they didn't find his body, they came saying that they had also seen a vision of angels, who said that he was alive.²⁴ Some of us went to the tomb, and found it just like the women had said, but they didn't see him."²⁵ He said to them, "Foolish men, and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken!"²⁶ Didn't the Mashayach have to suffer these things, and to enter into his glory?"²⁷ Beginning from Mashah and from all the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.²⁸ They drew near to the village, where they were going, and he acted like he would go further.²⁹ They urged him, saying, "Stay with us, for it is almost evening, and the day is almost over." He went in to stay with them.³⁰ It happened, when he had sat down at the table with them, he took the bread and gave thanks. Breaking it, he gave to them.³¹ Their eyes were opened, and they recognized him, and he vanished out of their sight.³² They said one to another, "Wasn't our heart burning within us, while he spoke to us along the way, and while he opened the scriptures to us?"³³ They rose up that very hour, and returned to Yarawashalam, and found the eleven gathered together, and those who were with them,³⁴ saying, "The Adanay is risen indeed, and has appeared to Shamaiwan!"³⁵ They related the things that happened along the way, and how he was recognized by them in the breaking of the bread.³⁶ As they said these things, Yashawai himself stood in the midst of them, and said to them, "Peace be to you."³⁷ But they were terrified and filled with fear, and supposed that they saw a spirit.³⁸ He said to them, "Why are you troubled? Why do questionings arise in your hearts?"³⁹ See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself. Touch me and see, for a spirit doesn't have flesh and bones, as you see that I have."⁴⁰ When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his feet.⁴¹ While they still didn't believe for joy, and wondered, he said to them, "Do you have anything here to eat?"⁴² They gave him a piece of a broiled fish and some honeycomb.⁴³ He took it, and ate in front of them.⁴⁴ He said to them, "This is what I told you, while I was still with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Mashah, the prophets, and the psalms, concerning me."⁴⁵ Then he opened their minds, that they might understand the scriptures.⁴⁶ He said to them, "Thus it is written, and thus it was necessary for the Mashayach to suffer and to rise from the dead the third day,⁴⁷ and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name to all the nations, beginning at Yarawashalam.⁴⁸ You are witnesses of these things.⁴⁹ Behold, I send forth the promise of my Father on you. But wait in the city of Yarawashalam until you are clothed with power from on high."⁵⁰ He led them out as far as to Bayathainayah, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them.⁵¹ It happened, while he blessed them, that he withdrew from them, and was carried up into heaven.⁵² They worshipped him, and returned to Yawashalam with great joy,⁵³ and were continually in the temple, praising and blessing Alahayam. Amen.

John

1 In the beginning was the Dabar (Word), and the Dabar (Word) was the entirety of Alahayam, and Alahayam was the Dabar (Word). ² The same was in the beginning with Alahayam. ³ All things were made through him. Without him was not anything made that has been made. ⁴ In him was life, and the life was the light of men. ⁵ The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness hasn't overcome it. ⁶ There came a man, sent from Alahayam, whose name was Yawachanan. ⁷ The same came as a witness, that he might testify about the light, that all might believe through him. ⁸ He was not the light, but was sent that he might testify about the light. ⁹ The true light that enlightens everyone was coming into the world. ¹⁰ He was in the world, and the world was made through him, and the world didn't recognize him. ¹¹ He came to his own, and those who were his own didn't receive him. ¹² But as many as received him, to them he gave the right to become Alahayam's children, to those who believe in his name: ¹³ who were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of Alahayam. ¹⁴ The Word became flesh, and lived among us. We saw his glory, such glory as of the only Son of the Father, full of grace and truth. ¹⁵ Yawachanan testified about him. He cried out, saying, "This was he of whom I said, 'He who comes after me has surpassed me, for he was before me.'" ¹⁶ From his fullness we all received grace upon grace. ¹⁷ For the law was given through Mashah. Grace and truth came through Yashawai Mashayach. ¹⁸ No one has seen Alahayam at any time. The only conceived Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he has declared him. ¹⁹ This is Yawachanan's testimony, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Yarawashalam to ask him, "Who are you?" ²⁰ He confessed, and didn't deny, but he confessed, "I am not the Mashayach." ²¹ They asked him, "What then? Are you Alayahaw?" He said, "I am not." "Are you the prophet?" He answered, "No." ²² They said therefore to him, "Who are you? Give us an answer to take back to those who sent us. What do you say about yourself?" ²³ He said, "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, 'Make straight the way of the Adanay,' as Yashaiyahaw the prophet said." ²⁴ The ones who had been sent were from the Pharisees. ²⁵ They asked him, "Why then do you baptize, if you are not the Mashayach, nor Alayahaw, nor the Prophet?" ²⁶ Yawachanan answered them, "I baptize in water, but among you stands one whom you don't know, ²⁷ he who comes after me, whose sandal strap I'm not worthy to untie." ²⁸ These things were done in Bayathainayah beyond the Yaradan, where Yawachanan was baptizing. ²⁹ On the next day, he saw Yashawai coming to him, and said, "Behold, the Lamb of Alahayam, who takes away the sin of the world!" ³⁰ This is he of whom I said, 'After me comes a man who is preferred before me, for he was before me.' ³¹ I didn't know him, but for this reason I came baptizing in water: that he would be revealed to Yasharaal." ³² Yawachanan testified, saying, "I have seen the Spirit descending like a dove out of heaven, and it remained on him. ³³ I didn't recognize him, but he who sent me to baptize in water, he said to me, 'On whoever you will see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he who baptizes in the Holy Spirit.'" ³⁴ I have seen, and have testified that this is the Son of Alahayam." ³⁵ Again, on the next day, Yawachanan was standing with two of his disciples, ³⁶ and he looked at Yashawai as he walked, and said, "Behold, the Lamb of Alahayam!" ³⁷ The two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Yashawai. ³⁸ Yashawai turned, and saw them following, and said to them, "What are you looking for?" They said to him, "Rabbi" (which is to say, being interpreted, Teacher), "where are you staying?" ³⁹ He said to them, "Come, and see." They came and saw where he was staying, and they stayed with him that day. It was about the tenth hour. ⁴⁰ One of the two who heard Yawachanan, and followed him, was Anadaray, Shamaiwan Kayapaa's brother. ⁴¹ He first found his own brother, Shamaiwan, and said to him, "We have found the Mashayach!" (which is, being interpreted, Mashayach). ⁴² He brought him to Yashawai. Yashawai looked at him, and said, "You are Shamaiwan the son of Yawanah. You shall be called Kayapaa" (which is by interpretation, Kayapaa). ⁴³ On the next day, he was determined to go forth into Galayal, and he found Payalayapawas. Yashawai said to him, "Follow me." ⁴⁴ Now Payalayapawas was from Bethsaida, of the city of Anadaray and Kayapaa. ⁴⁵ Payalayapawas found Nathanaal, and said to him, "We have found him, of whom Mashah in the law, and the prophets, wrote: Yashawai of Natzarath, the son of Yawasap." ⁴⁶ Nathanaal said to him, "Can any good thing come out of Natzarath?" Payalayapawas said to him, "Come and see." ⁴⁷ Yashawai saw Nathanaal coming to him, and said about him, "Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom is no deceit!" ⁴⁸ Nathanaal says to him, "How do you know me?" Yashawai answered him, "Before Payalayapawas called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you." ⁴⁹ Nathanaal answered him, "Rabbi, you are the Son of Alahayam! You are King of Yasharaal!" ⁵⁰ Yashawai answered him, "Because I told you, 'I saw you underneath the fig tree,' do you believe? You will see greater things than these." ⁵¹ He said to him, "Most assuredly, I tell you, hereafter you will see heaven opened, and the angels of Alahayam ascending and descending on the Son of Man."

2 The third day, there was a marriage in Cana of Galayal. Yashawai's mother was there. ² Yashawai also was invited, with his disciples, to the marriage. ³ When the wine ran out, Yashawai's Mother said to him, "They have no wine." ⁴ Yashawai said to her, "Woman, what does that have to do with you and me? My hour has not yet come." ⁵ His mother said to the servants, "Whatever he says to you, do it." ⁶ Now there were six water pots of stone set there after the Jews' manner of purifying, containing two or three metretres apiece. ⁷ Yashawai said to them, "Fill the water pots with water." They filled them up to the brim. ⁸ He said to them, "Now draw some out, and take it to the ruler of the feast." They took it. ⁹ When the ruler of the feast tasted the water now become wine, and didn't know where it came from (but the servants who had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast called the bridegroom, ¹⁰ and said to him, "Everyone serves the good wine first, and when the guests have drunk freely, then that which is worse. You have kept the good wine until now!" ¹¹ This beginning of his signs Yashawai did in Cana of Galayal, and revealed his glory. His disciples believed in him. ¹² After this, he went down to Kaparanachawam, he, and his mother, his brothers, and his disciples; and there they stayed not many days. ¹³ The Passover of the Jews was at hand, and Yashawai went up to Yarawashalam. ¹⁴ He found in the temple those who sold oxen, sheep, and doves, and the changers of money sitting. ¹⁵ He made a whip of cords, and threw all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changers' money, and overthrew their tables. ¹⁶ To those who sold the doves, he said, "Take these things out of here! Don't make my Father's house a marketplace!" ¹⁷ His disciples remembered that it was written, "Zeal for your house will eat me up." ¹⁸ The Jews therefore answered him, "What sign do you show to us, seeing that you do these things?" ¹⁹ Yashawai answered them, "Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up." ²⁰ The Jews therefore said, "Forty-six years was this temple in building, and will you raise it up in three days?" ²¹ But he spoke of the temple of his body. ²² When therefore he was raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he said this, and they believed the scripture, and the word which Yashawai had said.²³ Now when he was in Yarawashalam at the Passover, during the feast, many believed in his name, observing his signs which he did.²⁴ But Yashawai didn't trust himself to them, because he knew all people,²⁵ and because he didn't need for anyone to testify concerning man; for he himself knew what was in man.

3 Now there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews.² The same came to him by night, and said to him, "Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher come from Alahayam, for no one can do these signs that you do, unless Alahayam is with him."³ Yashawai answered him, "Most assuredly, I tell you, unless one is born anew, he can't see the kingdom of Alahayam."⁴ Nicodemus said to him, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born?"⁵ Yashawai answered, "Most assuredly I tell you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he can't enter into the kingdom of Alahayam!⁶ That which is born of the flesh is flesh. That which is born of the Spirit is spirit."⁷ Don't marvel that I said to you, 'You must be born anew.'⁸ The wind blows where it wants to, and you hear its sound, but don't know where it comes from and where it is going. So is everyone who is born of the Spirit."⁹ Nicodemus answered him, "How can these things be?"¹⁰ Yashawai answered him, "Are you the teacher of Yasharaal, and don't understand these things?"¹¹ Most assuredly I tell you, we speak that which we know, and testify of that which we have seen, and you don't receive our witness.¹² If I told you earthly things and you don't believe, how will you believe if I tell you heavenly things?¹³ No one has ascended into heaven, but he who descended out of heaven, the Son of Man, who is in heaven.¹⁴ As Mashah lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up,¹⁵ that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life.¹⁶ For Alahayam so loved the world, that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life.¹⁷ For Alahayam didn't send his Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world should be saved through him.¹⁸ He who believes in him is not judged. He who doesn't believe has been judged already, because he has not believed in the name of the only born Son of Alahayam.¹⁹ This is the judgment, that the light has come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for their works were evil.²⁰ For everyone who does evil hates the light, and doesn't come to the light, for fear that his works would be reproved.²¹ But he who does the truth comes to the light, that his works may be revealed, that they have been done with Alahayam."²² After these things, Yashawai came with his disciples into the land of Yahawadah. He stayed there with them, and baptized.²³ Yawachanan also was baptizing in Iyanawan near Salim, because there was much water there. They came, and were baptized.²⁴ For Yawachanan was not yet thrown into prison.²⁵ There arose therefore a questioning on the part of Yawachanan's disciples with some Jews about purification.²⁶ They came to Yawachanan, and said to him, "Rabbi, he who was with you beyond the Yaradan, to whom you have testified, behold, the same baptizes, and all men come to him."²⁷ Yawachanan answered, "A man can receive nothing, unless it has been given him from heaven.²⁸ You yourselves testify about me, that I said, 'I am not the Mashayach,' but, 'I have been sent before him.'²⁹ He who has the bride is the bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom, who stands and hears him, rejoices greatly because of the bridegroom's voice. This, my joy, therefore is made full.³⁰ He must increase, but I must decrease.³¹ He who comes from above is above all. He who is from the Earth belongs to the Earth, and speaks of the Earth. He who comes from heaven is above all.³² What he has seen and heard, of that he testifies; and no one receives his witness.³³ He who has received his witness has set his seal to this, that Alahayam is true.³⁴ For he whom Alahayam has sent speaks the words of Alahayam; for Alahayam gives the Spirit without measure.³⁵ The Father loves the Son, and has given all things into his hand.³⁶ He who believes in the Son has eternal life, but he who disobeys the Son won't see life, but the wrath of Alahayam remains on him."

4 Therefore when the Adanay knew that the Pharisees had heard that Yashawai was making and baptizing more disciples than Yawachanan² (although Yashawai himself didn't baptize, but his disciples),³ he left Yahawadah, and departed again into Galayal.⁴ He needed to pass through Shamarawan.⁵ So he came to a city of Shamarawan, called Sychar, near the parcel of ground that Yaiqab gave to his son, Yawasap.⁶ Yaiqab's well was there. Yashawai therefore, being tired from his journey, sat down by the well. It was about the sixth hour.⁷ A woman of Shamarawan came to draw water. Yashawai said to her, "Give me a drink."⁸ For his disciples had gone away into the city to buy food.⁹ The Samaritan woman therefore said to him, "How is it that you, being a Yahawaday, ask for a drink from me, a Samaritan woman?" (For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.)¹⁰ Yashawai answered her, "If you knew the gift of Alahayam, and who it is who says to you, 'Give me a drink,' you would have asked him, and he would have given you living water."¹¹ The woman said to him, "Sir, you have nothing to draw with, and the well is deep. From where then have you that living water?"¹² Are you greater than our father, Yaiqab, who gave us the well, and drank of it himself, as did his sons, and his cattle?"¹³ Yashawai answered her, "Everyone who drinks of this water will thirst again,¹⁴ but whoever drinks of the water that I will give him will never thirst; but the water that I will give him will become in him a well of water springing up to eternal life."¹⁵ The woman said to him, "Sir, give me this water, so that I don't get thirsty, neither come all the way here to draw."¹⁶ Yashawai said to her, "Go, call your husband, and come here."¹⁷ The woman answered, "I have no husband." Yashawai said to her, "You said well, 'I have no husband,'¹⁸ for you have had five husbands; and he whom you now have is not your husband. This you have said truly."¹⁹ The woman said to him, "Sir, I perceive that you are a prophet."²⁰ Our fathers worshipped in this mountain, and you Jews say that in Yarawashalam is the place where people ought to worship."²¹ Yashawai said to her, "Woman, believe me, the hour comes, when neither in this mountain, nor in Yarawashalam, will you worship the Father."²² You worship that which you don't know. We worship that which we know; for salvation is from the Jews.²³ But the hour comes, and now is, when the true worshippers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father seeks such to be his worshippers.²⁴ Alahayam is a Spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth."²⁵ The woman said to him, "I know that Mashayach comes," (he who is called Mashayach). "When he has come, he will declare to us all things."²⁶ Yashawai said to her, "I who speak to you am he."²⁷ At this, his disciples came. They marveled that he was speaking with a woman; yet no one said, "What are you looking for?" or, "Why do you speak with her?"²⁸ So the woman left her water pot, and went away into the city, and said to the people,²⁹ "Come, see a man who told me everything that I did. Can this be the Mashayach?"³⁰ They went out of the city, and were coming to him.³¹ In the meanwhile, the disciples urged him, saying, "Rabbi, eat."³² But he said to them, "I have food to eat that you don't know about."³³ The disciples therefore said one to another, "Has anyone brought him something to eat?"³⁴ Yashawai said to them, "My food is to do the will of him who sent me, and to accomplish his work."³⁵ Don't you say, 'There are yet four months until the harvest?' Behold, I tell you, lift up your eyes, and look at the fields, that they are white already to harvest.³⁶ He who reaps receives wages, and gathers fruit to eternal life; that both he who sows and he who reaps may rejoice together.³⁷ For in this the saying is true, 'One sows, and another reaps.'³⁸ I sent you to reap that for which you haven't labored. Others have labored, and you have entered into their labor."³⁹ From that city many of the Samaritans believed in him because of the word of the woman, who testified, 'He told me everything that I did.'⁴⁰ So when the Samaritans came to him, they begged him to stay with them. He stayed there two days.⁴¹ Many more believed because of his word.⁴² They said to the woman, "Now we believe, not because of your speaking; for we have heard for ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Mashayach, the Savior of the world."⁴³ After the two days he went forth from there and went into Galayal.⁴⁴ For Yashawai himself testified that a prophet has no honor in his own country.⁴⁵ So when he came into Galayal, the Galilaean received him, having seen all the things that he did in Yarawashalam at the feast, for they also went to the feast.⁴⁶ He came therefore again to Cana of Galayal, where he made the water into wine. There was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Kaparanachawam.⁴⁷ When he heard that Yashawai had come out of Yahawadah into Galayal, he went to him, and begged him that he would come down and heal his son, for he was at the point of death.⁴⁸ Yashawai therefore said to him, "Unless you see signs and wonders, you will in no way believe."⁴⁹ The nobleman said to him, "Sir, come down before my child dies."⁵⁰ Yashawai said to him, "Go your way. Your son lives." The man believed the word that Yashawai spoke to him, and he went his way.⁵¹ As he was now going down, his servants met him and reported, saying "your child lives!"⁵² So he inquired of them the hour when he began to get better. They said therefore to him, "Yesterday at the seventh hour, the fever left him."⁵³ So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Yashawai said to him, "Your son lives." He believed, as did his whole house.⁵⁴ This is again the second sign that Yashawai did, having come out of Yahawadah into Galayal.

5 After these things, there was a feast of the Jews, and Yashawai went up to Yarawashalam.² Now in Yarawashalam by the sheep gate, there is a pool, which is called in Hebrew, "Bethesda," having five porches.³ In these lay a great multitude of those who were sick, blind, lame, or paralyzed, waiting for the moving of the water;⁴ for an angel of the Adanay went down at certain times into the pool, and stirred up the water. Whoever stepped in first after the stirring of the water was made whole of whatever disease he was afflicted with.⁵ A certain man was there, who had been sick for thirty-eight years.⁶ When Yashawai saw him lying there, and knew that he had been sick for a long time, he asked him, "Do you want to be made well?"⁷ The sick man answered him, "Sir, I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is stirred up, but while I'm coming, another steps down before me."⁸ Yashawai said to him, "Arise, take up your mat, and walk."⁹ Immediately, the man was made well, and took up his mat and walked. Now it was the Sabbath on that day.¹⁰ So the Jews said to him who was cured, "It is the Sabbath. It is not lawful for you to carry your mat."¹¹ He answered them, "He who made me well, the same said to me, 'Take up your mat, and walk.'"¹² Then they asked him, "Who is the man who said to you, 'Take up your mat, and walk'?"¹³ But he who was healed didn't know who it was, for Yashawai had withdrawn, a crowd being in the place.¹⁴ Afterward Yashawai found him in the temple, and said to him, "Behold, you are made well. Sayan no more, so that nothing worse happens to you."¹⁵ The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Yashawai who had made him well.¹⁶ For this cause the Jews persecuted Yashawai, and sought to kill him, because he did these things on the Sabbath.¹⁷ But Yashawai answered them, "My Father is still working, so I am working, too."¹⁸ For this cause therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only broke the Sabbath, but also called Alahayam his own Father, making himself equal with Alahayam.¹⁹ Yashawai therefore answered them, "Most assuredly, I tell you, the Son can do nothing of himself, but what he sees the Father doing. For whatever things he does, these the Son also does likewise.²⁰ For the Father loves the Son, and shows him all things that he himself does. He will show him greater works than these, that you may marvel.²¹ For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, even so the Son also gives life to whom he desires.²² For neither does the Father judge any man, but he has given all judgment to the Son,²³ that all may honor the Son, even as they honor the Father. He who doesn't honor the Son doesn't honor the Father who sent him.²⁴ Most assuredly I tell you, he who hears my word, and believes him who sent me, has eternal life, and doesn't come into judgment, but has passed out of death into life.²⁵ Most assuredly, I tell you, the hour comes, and now is, when the dead will hear the Son of Alahayam's voice; and those who hear will live.²⁶ For as the Father has life in himself, even so he gave to the Son also to have life in himself.²⁷ He also gave him authority to execute judgment, because he is a son of man.²⁸ Don't marvel at this, for the hour comes, in which all that are in the tombs will hear his voice,²⁹ and will come forth; those who have done good, to the resurrection of life; and those who have done evil, to the resurrection of judgment.³⁰ I can of myself do nothing. As I hear, I judge, and my judgment is righteous; because I don't seek my own will, but the will of my Father who sent me.³¹ "If I testify about myself, my witness is not valid.³² It is another who testifies about me, I know that the testimony which he testifies about me is true."³³ You have sent to Yawachanan, and he has testified to the truth.³⁴ But the testimony which I receive is not from man. However, I say these things that you may be saved.³⁵ He was the lamp that burns and shines, and you were willing to rejoice for a while in his light.³⁶ But the testimony which I have is greater than that of Yawachanan, for the works which the Father has given me to accomplish, the very works that I do, testify about me, that the Father has sent me.³⁷ The Father himself, who sent me, has testified about me. You have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his form.³⁸ You don't have his word living in you; for whom he sent, him you don't believe.³⁹ You search the scriptures, because you think that in them you have eternal life; and these are they which testify about me.⁴⁰ Yet you will not come to me, that you may have life.⁴¹ I don't receive glory from men.⁴² But I know you, that you don't have Alahayam's love in yourselves.⁴³ I have come in my Father's name, and you don't receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him.⁴⁴ How can you believe, who receive glory from one another, and you don't seek the glory that comes from the only Alahayam?⁴⁵ "Don't think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you, even Mashah, on whom you have set your hope.⁴⁶ For if you believed Mashah, you would believe me; for he wrote about me.⁴⁷ But if you don't believe his writings, how will you believe my words?"

6 After these things, Yashawai went away to the other side of the sea of Galayal, which is also called the Sea of Tiberias.² A great multitude followed him, because they saw the signs which he did on those who were sick.³ Yashawai went up into the mountain, and he sat there with his disciples.⁴ Now the Passover, the feast of the Jews, was at hand.⁵ Yashawai therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude was coming to him, said to Payalayapawas, "Where are we to buy bread, that these may eat?"⁶ This he said to test him, for he himself knew what he would do.⁷ Payalayapawas answered him, "Two hundred denarii worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that everyone of them may receive a little."⁸ One of his disciples, Anadaray, Shamaian Kayapaa's brother, said to him,⁹ "There is a boy here who has five barley loaves and two fish, but what are these among so many?"¹⁰ Yashawai said, "Have the people sit down." Now there was much grass in that place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.¹¹ Yashawai took the loaves; and having given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to those who were sitting down; likewise also of the fish as much as they desired.¹² When they were filled, he said to his disciples, "Gather up the broken pieces which are left over, that nothing be lost."¹³ So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which were left over by those who had eaten.¹⁴ When therefore the people saw the sign which Yashawai did, they said, "This is truly the prophet who comes into the world."¹⁵ Yashawai therefore, perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force, to make him king, withdrew again into the mountain by himself.¹⁶ When evening came, his disciples went down to the sea,¹⁷ and they entered into the boat, and were going over the sea to Kaparanachawam. It was now dark, and Yashawai had not come to them.¹⁸ The sea was rising by reason of a great wind that blew.¹⁹ When therefore they had rowed about twenty-five or thirty stadia, they saw Yashawai walking on the sea, and drawing near to the boat; and they were afraid.²⁰ But he said to them, "It is I. Don't be afraid."²¹ They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat. Immediately the boat was at the land where they were going.²² On the next day, the multitude that stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was no other boat there, except the one which his disciples had entered, and that Yashawai hadn't entered with his disciples into the boat, but his disciples went away alone.²³ However boats from Tiberias came near to the place where they ate the bread after the Adanay had given thanks.²⁴ When the multitude therefore saw that Yashawai wasn't there, neither his disciples, they themselves got into the boats, and came to Kaparanachawam, seeking Yashawai.²⁵ When they found him on the other side of the sea, they asked him, "Rabbi, when did you come here?"²⁶ Yashawai answered them, "Most assuredly I tell you, you seek me, not because you saw signs, but because you ate of the loaves, and were filled."²⁷ Don't work for the food which perishes, but for the food which remains to eternal life, which the Son of Man will give to you. For the Father, even Alahayam, has sealed him."²⁸ They said therefore to him, "What must we do, that we may work the works of Alahayam?"²⁹ Yashawai answered them, "This is the work of Alahayam, that you believe in him whom he has sent."³⁰ They said therefore to him, "What then do you do for a sign, that we may see, and believe you? What work do you do?"³¹ Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness. As it is written, 'He gave them bread out of the sky to eat.'³² Yashawai therefore said to them, "Most assuredly, I tell you, it wasn't Mashah who gave you the bread out of heaven, but my Father gives you the true bread out of heaven.³³ For the bread of Alahayam is that which comes down out of heaven, and gives life to the world."³⁴ They said therefore to him, "Adanay, always give us this bread."³⁵ Yashawai said to them, "I am the bread of life. He who comes to me will not be hungry, and he who believes in me will never be thirsty.³⁶ But I told you that you have seen me, and yet don't believe."³⁷ All that which the Father gives me will come to me. Him who comes to me I will in no way throw out.³⁸ For I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of him who sent me.³⁹ This is the will of my Father who sent me, that of all who he has given to me I should lose nothing, but should raise them up at the last day.⁴⁰ This is the will of the one who sent me, that everyone who sees the Son, and believes in him, should have eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day."⁴¹ The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, "I am the bread which came down out of heaven."⁴² They said, "Isn't this Yashawai, the son of Yawasap, whose father and mother we know? How then does he say, 'I have come down out of heaven?'"⁴³ Therefore Yashawai answered them, "Don't murmur among yourselves.⁴⁴ No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him, and I will raise him up in the last day."⁴⁵ It is written in the prophets, 'They will all be taught by Alahayam.' Everyone who hears from the Father, and has learned, comes to me.⁴⁶ Not that any man has seen the Father, except he who is from Alahayam. He has seen the Father.⁴⁷ Most assuredly, I tell you, he who believes in me has eternal life.⁴⁸ I am the bread of life.⁴⁹ Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died.⁵⁰ This is the bread which comes down out of heaven, that a man may eat of it, and not die.⁵¹ I am the living bread which came down out of heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. Yes, the bread which I will give is my flesh, for the life of the world."⁵² The Jews therefore contended with one another, saying, "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?"⁵³ Yashawai therefore said to them, "Most assuredly I tell you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you don't have life in yourselves.⁵⁴ He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day.⁵⁵ For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.⁵⁶ He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood lives in me, and I in him.⁵⁷ As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father; so he who feeds on me, he will also live because of me.⁵⁸ This is the bread which came down out of heaven -- not as our fathers ate the manna, and died. He who eats this bread will live forever."⁵⁹ These things he said in the synagogue, as he taught in Kaparanachawam.⁶⁰ Therefore many of his disciples, when they heard this, said, "This is a hard saying! Who can hear it?"⁶¹ But Yashawai knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said to them, "Does this cause you to stumble?"⁶² What if you would see the Son of Man ascending to where he was before?"⁶³ It is the spirit who gives life. The flesh profits nothing. The words that I speak to you are spirit, and are life.⁶⁴ But there are some of you who don't believe." For Yashawai knew from the beginning who they were who didn't believe, and who it was who would betray him.⁶⁵ He said, "For this cause have I said to you that no one can come to me, except it be given to him by my Father."⁶⁶ At this, many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.⁶⁷ Yashawai said therefore to the twelve, "You don't also want to go away, do you?"⁶⁸ Shamaian Kayapaa answered him, "Adanay, to whom would we go? You have the words of eternal life.⁶⁹ We have come to believe and know that you are the Mashayach, the Son of the living Alahayam."⁷⁰ Yashawai answered them, "Didn't I choose you, the twelve, and one of you is a devil?"⁷¹ Now he spoke of Yahawadah, the son of Shamaian Iscariot, for it was he who would betray him, being one of the twelve.

7 After these things, Yashawai walked in Galayal, for he would not walk in Yahawadah, because the Jews sought to kill him.² Now the feast of the Jews, the Feast of Booths, was at hand.³ His brothers therefore said to him, "Depart from here, and go into Yahawadah, that your disciples also may see your works which you do."⁴ For no man does anything in secret, and himself seeks to be known openly. If you do these things, reveal yourself to the world."⁵ For even his brothers didn't believe in him.⁶ Yashawai therefore said to them, "My time has not yet come, but your time is always ready.⁷ The world can't hate you, but it hates me, because I testify about it, that its works are evil."⁸ You go up to the feast. I am not yet going up to this feast, because my time is not yet fulfilled."⁹ Having said these things to them, he stayed in Galayal.¹⁰ But when his brothers had gone up to the feast, then he also went up, not publicly, but as it were in secret.¹¹ The Jews therefore sought him at the feast, and said, "Where is he?"¹² There was much murmuring among the multitudes concerning him. Some said, "He is a good man." Others said, "Not so, but he leads the multitude astray."¹³ Yet no one spoke openly of him for fear of the Jews.¹⁴ But when it was now the midst of the feast, Yashawai went up into the temple and taught.¹⁵ The Jews therefore marveled, saying, "How does this man know letters, having never been educated?"¹⁶ Yashawai therefore answered them, "My teaching is not mine, but his who sent me.¹⁷ If anyone desires to do his will, he will know of the teaching, whether it is from Alahayam, or if I speak from myself.¹⁸ He who speaks from himself seeks his own glory, but he who seeks the glory of him who sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him."¹⁹ Didn't Mashah give you the law, and yet none of you keeps the law? Why do you seek to kill me?"²⁰ The multitude answered, "You have a demon! Who seeks to kill you?"²¹ Yashawai answered them, "I did one work, and you all marvel because of it.²² Mashah has given you circumcision (not that it is of Mashah, but of the fathers), and on the Sabbath you circumcise a boy.²³ If a boy receives circumcision on the Sabbath, that the law of Mashah may not be broken, are you angry with me, because I made a man every bit whole on the Sabbath?"²⁴ Don't judge according to appearance, but judge righteous judgment."²⁵ Some therefore of them of Yarawashalam said, "Isn't this he whom they seek to kill?"²⁶ Behold, he speaks openly, and they say nothing to him. Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is truly the Mashayach?"²⁷ However we know where this man comes from, but when the Mashayach comes, no one will know where he comes from."²⁸ Yashawai therefore cried out in the temple, teaching and saying, "You both know me, and know where I am from. I have not come of myself, but he who sent me is true, whom you don't know."²⁹ I know him, because I am from him, and he sent me."³⁰ They sought therefore to take him. No one laid a hand on him, because his hour was not yet come.³¹ But of the multitude, many believed in him. They said, "When the Mashayach comes, will he do more signs than those which this man has done?"³² The Pharisees heard the multitude murmuring these things concerning him, and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to take him.³³ Then Yashawai said, "Yet a little while, am I with you, then I go to him who sent me."³⁴ You will seek me, and won't find me; and where I am, you can't come."³⁵ The Jews therefore said among themselves, "Where will this man go that we won't find him? Will he go to the Dispersion among the Greeks, and teach the Greeks?"³⁶ What is this word that he said, "You will seek me, and won't find me; and where I am, you can't come?"³⁷ Now on the last and greatest day of the feast, Yashawai stood and cried out, "If anyone is thirsty, let him come to me and drink!"³⁸ He who believes in me, as the scripture has said, from within him will flow rivers of living water."³⁹ But he said this about the Spirit, which those believing in him were to receive. For the Holy Spirit was not yet given, because Yashawai wasn't yet glorified.⁴⁰ Many of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, "This is truly the prophet."⁴¹ Others said, "This is the Mashayach." But some said, "What, does the Mashayach come out of Galayal?"⁴² Hasn't the scripture said that the Mashayach comes of the seed of Dawad, and from Bayathalacham, the village where Dawad was?"⁴³ So there arose a division in the multitude because of him.⁴⁴ Some of them would have taken him, but no one laid hands on him.⁴⁵ The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees, and they said to them, "Why didn't you bring him?"⁴⁶ The officers answered, "No man ever spoke like this man!"⁴⁷ The Pharisees therefore answered them, "Are you also led astray?"⁴⁸ Has any of the rulers believed in him, or of the Pharisees?"⁴⁹ But this cursed multitude doesn't know the law."⁵⁰ Nicodemus (he who came to him by night, being one of them) said to them,⁵¹ "Does our law judge a man, unless it first hears from him personally and knows what he does?"⁵² They answered him, "Are you also from Galayal? Search, and see that no prophet has arisen out of Galayal."⁵³ Everyone went to his own house,

8 but Yashawai went to the Mount of Olives.² At dawn, he came again into the temple, and all the people came to him. He sat down, and taught them.³ The scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman taken in adultery. Having set her in the midst,⁴ they told him, "Teacher, we found this woman in adultery, in the very act."⁵ Now in our law, Mashah commanded us to stone such. What then do you say about her?"⁶ They said this testing him, that they might have something to accuse him of. But Yashawai stooped down, and wrote on the ground with his finger, as if he didn't hear.⁷ But when they continued asking him, he lifted himself up, and said to them, "He who is without sin among you, let him throw the first stone at her."⁸ Again he stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground.⁹ They, when they heard it, being convicted by their conscience, went out one by one, beginning from the oldest, even to the last. Yashawai was left alone with the woman where she was, in the midst.¹⁰ Yashawai lifted himself up, and seeing no one but the woman, said to her, "Woman, where are they? Did no one condemn you?"¹¹ She said, "No one, Adanay." Yashawai said, "Neither do I condemn you. Go your way. From now on, sin no more."¹² Again, therefore, Yashawai spoke to them, saying, "I am the light of the world. He who follows me will not walk in the darkness, but will have the light of life."¹³ The Pharisees therefore said to him, "You testify about yourself. Your witness is not valid."¹⁴ Yashawai answered them, "Even if I testify about myself, my witness is true, for I know where I came from, and where I am going; but you don't know where I came from, or where I am going."¹⁵ You judge according to the flesh. I judge no one.¹⁶ Even if I do judge, my judgment is true, for I am not alone, but I am with the Father who sent me.¹⁷ It's also written in your law that the testimony of two men is valid.¹⁸ I am he who testifies about myself, and the Father who sent me testifies about me."¹⁹ They said therefore to him, "Where is your Father?" Yashawai answered, "You know neither me, nor my Father. If you knew me, you would know my Father also."²⁰ Yashawai spoke these words in the treasury, as he taught in the temple. No one took him, because his hour had not yet come.

²¹ Yashawai said therefore again to them, "I am going away, and you will seek me, and will die in your sins. Where I go, you can't come."²² The Jews therefore said, "Will he kill himself, that he says, 'Where I am going, you can't come?'"²³ He said to them, "You are from beneath. I am from above. You are of this world. I am not of this world."²⁴ I said therefore to you that you will die in your sins; for unless you believe that I am he, you will die in your sins."²⁵ They said therefore to him, "Who are you?" Yashawai said to them, "Just what I have been saying to you from the beginning."²⁶ I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you. However he who sent me is true; and the things which I heard from him, these I say to the world."²⁷ They didn't perceive that he spoke to them about the Father.²⁸ Yashawai therefore said to them, "When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then will you know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself, but as my Father taught me, I say these things."²⁹ He who sent me is with me. The Father hasn't left me alone, for I always do the things that are pleasing to him."³⁰ As he spoke these things, many believed in him.³¹ Yashawai therefore said to those Jews who had believed him, "If you remain in my word, then you are truly my disciples."³² You will know the truth, and the truth will make you free."³³ They answered him, "We are Abaraham's seed, and have never yet been in bondage to anyone. How do you say, 'You will be made free?'"³⁴ Yashawai answered them, "Most assuredly I tell you, everyone who commits sin is the bondservant of sin."³⁵ A bondservant doesn't live in the house forever. A son remains forever.³⁶ If therefore the Son makes you free, you will be free indeed."³⁷ I know that you are Abaraham's seed, yet you seek to kill me, because my word finds no place in you."³⁸ I say the things which I have seen with my Father; and you also do the things which you have seen with your father."³⁹ They answered him, "Our father is Abaraham." Yashawai said to them, "If you were Abaraham's children, you would do the works of Abaraham."⁴⁰ But now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth, which I heard from Alahayam. Abaraham didn't do this."⁴¹ You do the works of your father." They said to him, "We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father, Alahayam."⁴² Therefore Yashawai said to them, "If Alahayam were your Father, you would love me, for I came forth and have come from Alahayam. For neither have I come of myself, but he sent me."⁴³ Why don't you understand my speech? Because you can't hear my word."⁴⁴ You are of your Father, the devil, and it is your desire to do the lusts of your father. He was a murderer from the beginning, and doesn't stand in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaks a lie, he speaks of his own; for he is a liar, and the father of it."⁴⁵ But because I tell the truth, you don't believe me."⁴⁶ Which of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me?"⁴⁷ He who is of Alahayam hears the words of Alahayam. For this cause you don't hear, because you are not of Alahayam."⁴⁸ Then the Jews answered him, "Don't we say well that you are a Samaritan, and have a demon?"⁴⁹ Yashawai answered, "I don't have a demon, but I honor my Father, and you dishonor me."⁵⁰ But I don't seek my own glory. There is one who seeks and judges."⁵¹ Most assuredly, I tell you, if a person keeps my word, he will never see death."⁵² Then the Jews said to him, "Now we know that you have a demon. Abaraham died, and the prophets; and you say, 'If a man keeps my word, he will never taste of death.'"⁵³ Are you greater than our father, Abaraham, who died? The prophets died. Who do you make yourself out to be?"⁵⁴ Yashawai answered, "If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing. It is my Father who glorifies me, of whom you say that he is our Alahayam."⁵⁵ You have not known him, but I know him. If I said, 'I don't know him,' I would be like you, a liar. But I know him, and keep his word."⁵⁶ Your father Abaraham rejoiced to see my day. He saw it, and was glad."⁵⁷ The Jews therefore said to him, "You are not yet fifty years old, and have you seen Abaraham?"⁵⁸ Yashawai said to them, "Most assuredly, I tell you, before Abaraham was born, I AM."⁵⁹ They took up stones therefore to throw at him, but Yashawai hid himself, and went out of the temple, going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

9 As he passed by, he saw a man blind from his birth. ² His disciples asked him, "Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?" ³ Yashawai answered, "Neither did this man sin, nor his parents. But, that the works of Alahayam might be revealed in him, ⁴ I must work the works of him who sent me, while it is day. The night is coming, when no one can work. ⁵ When I am in the world, I am the light of the world." ⁶ When he had said this, he spat on the ground, made mud with the saliva, anointed the blind man's eyes with the mud, ⁷ and said to him, "Go, wash in the pool of Siloam" (which means "Sent"). So he went away, washed, and came seeing. ⁸ The neighbors therefore, and those who saw that he was blind, before, said, "Isn't this he who sat and begged?" ⁹ Others said, "It is he." Still others said, "He is like him." He said, "I am he." ¹⁰ They said therefore to him, "How were your eyes opened?" ¹¹ He answered, "A man called Yashawai made mud, anointed my eyes, and said to me, 'Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash.' So I went away and washed, and I received sight." ¹² Then they asked him, "Where is he?" He said, "I don't know." ¹³ They brought him who before was blind to the Pharisees. ¹⁴ It was a Sabbath when Yashawai made the mud and opened his eyes. ¹⁵ Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. He said to them, "He put mud on my eyes, I washed, and I see." ¹⁶ Some therefore of the Pharisees said, "This man is not from Alahayam, because he doesn't keep the Sabbath." Others said, "How can a man who is a sinner do such signs?" There was division among them. ¹⁷ Therefore they asked the blind man again, "What do you say about him, in that he opened your eyes?" He said, "He is a prophet." ¹⁸ The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him who had received his sight, ¹⁹ and asked them, "Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How then does he now see?" ²⁰ His parents answered them, "We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind; ²¹ but how he now sees, we don't know; or who opened his eyes, we don't know. He is of age. Ask him. He will speak for himself." ²² His parents said these things because they feared the Jews; for the Jews had already agreed that if any man would confess him as Mashayach, he would be put out of the synagogue. ²³ Therefore his parents said, "He is of age. Ask him." ²⁴ So they called the man who was blind a second time, and said to him, "Give glory to Alahayam. We know that this man is a sinner." ²⁵ He therefore answered, "I don't know if he is a sinner. One thing I know: that though I was blind, now I see." ²⁶ They said to him again, "What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?" ²⁷ He answered them, "I told you already, and you didn't listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Do you also want to become his disciples?" ²⁸ They became abusive towards him and said, "You are his disciple, but we are disciples of Mashah. ²⁹ We know that Alahayam has spoken to Mashah. But as for this man, we don't know where he comes from." ³⁰ The man answered them, "How amazing! You don't know where he comes from, yet he opened my eyes. ³¹ We know that Alahayam doesn't listen to sinners, but if anyone is a worshipper of Alahayam, and does his will, he listens to him. ³² Since the world began it has never been heard of that anyone opened the eyes of a man born blind. ³³ If this man were not from Alahayam, he could do nothing." ³⁴ They answered him, "You were altogether born in sins, and do you teach us?" They threw him out. ³⁵ Yashawai heard that they had thrown him out, and finding him, he said, "Do you believe in the Son of Alahayam?" ³⁶ He answered, "Who is he, Adanay, that I may believe in him?" ³⁷ Yashawai said to him, "You have both seen him, and it is he who speaks with you." ³⁸ He said, "Adanay, I believe!" and he worshipped him. ³⁹ Yashawai said, "I came into this world for judgment, that those who don't see may see; and that those who see may become blind." ⁴⁰ Those of the Pharisees who were with him heard these things, and said to him, "Are we also blind?" ⁴¹ Yashawai said to them, "If you were blind, you would have no sin; but now you say, 'We see.' Therefore your sin remains."

10 "Most assuredly, I tell you, he who doesn't enter by the door into the sheep fold, but climbs up some other way, the same is a

thief and a robber. ² But he who enters in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. ³ The gatekeeper opens the gate for him, and the sheep listen to his voice. He calls his own sheep by name, and leads them out. ⁴ Whenever he brings out his own sheep, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice. ⁵ They will by no means follow a stranger, but will flee from him; for they don't know the voice of strangers." ⁶ Yashawai spoke this parable to them, but they didn't understand what he was telling them. ⁷ Yashawai therefore said to them again, "Most assuredly, I tell you, I am the sheep's door. ⁸ All who came before me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep didn't listen to them. ⁹ I am the door. If anyone enters in by me, he will be saved, and will go in and go out, and will find pasture. ¹⁰ The thief only comes to steal, kill, and destroy. I came that they may have life, and may have it abundantly. ¹¹ I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. ¹² He who is a hired hand, and not a shepherd, who doesn't own the sheep, sees the wolf coming, leaves the sheep, and flees. The wolf snatches the sheep, and scatters them. ¹³ The hired hand flees because he is a hired hand, and doesn't care for the sheep. ¹⁴ I am the good shepherd. I know my own, and I'm known by my own; ¹⁵ even as the Father knows me, and I know the Father. I lay down my life for the sheep. ¹⁶ I have other sheep, which are not of this fold. I must bring them also, and they will hear my voice. They will become one flock with one shepherd. ¹⁷ Therefore the Father loves me, because I lay down my life, that I may take it again. ¹⁸ No one takes it away from me, but I lay it down by myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. I received this commandment from my Father. ¹⁹ Therefore a division arose again among the Jews because of these words. ²⁰ Many of them said, "He has a demon, and is mad! Why do you listen to him?" ²¹ Others said, "These are not the sayings of one possessed with a demon. Can a demon open the eyes of the blind?" ²² It was the Feast of the Dedication at Yawashalam. ²³ It was winter, and Yashawai was walking in the temple, in Shalimah's porch. ²⁴ The Jews therefore came around him and said to him, "How long will you hold us in suspense? If you are the Mashayach, tell us plainly." ²⁵ Yashawai answered them, "I told you, and you don't believe. The works that I do in my Father's name, these testify about me. ²⁶ But you don't believe, because you are not of my sheep, as I told you. ²⁷ My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. ²⁸ I give eternal life to them. They will never perish, and no one will snatch them out of my hand. ²⁹ My Father, who has given them to me, is greater than all. No one is able to snatch them out of my Father's hand. ³⁰ I and the Father are one." ³¹ Therefore Jews took up stones again to stone him. ³² Yashawai answered them, "I have shown you many good works from my Father. For which of those works do you stone me?" ³³ The Jews answered him, "We don't stone you for a good work, but for blasphemy: because you, being a man, make yourself Alahayam." ³⁴ Yashawai answered them, "Isn't it written in your law, 'I said, you are gods?' ³⁵ If he called them gods, to whom the word of Alahayam came (and the scripture can't be broken), ³⁶ Do you say of him whom the Father sanctified and sent into the world, 'You blaspheme,' because I said, 'I am the Son of Alahayam?' ³⁷ If I don't do the works of my Father, don't believe me. ³⁸ But if I do them, though you don't believe me, believe the works; that you may know and believe that the Father is in me, and I in the Father." ³⁹ They sought again to seize him, and he went forth out of their hand. ⁴⁰ He went away again beyond the Yarden into the place where Yawachanan was at the first baptizing, and there he stayed. ⁴¹ Many came to him. They said, "Yawachanan indeed did no sign, but everything whatever that Yawachanan said about this man is true." ⁴² Many believed in him there.

11 Now a certain man was sick, Alazar of Bayathainayah, of the village of Marayam and her sister, Marathaa. ² It was that Marayam who anointed the Adanay with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother, Alazar, was sick. ³ The sisters therefore sent to him, saying, "Adanay, behold, he for whom you have great affection is sick." ⁴ But when Yashawai heard it, he said, "This sickness is not to death, but for the glory of Alahayam, that Alahayam's Son may be glorified by it."⁵ Now Yashawai loved Marathaa, and her sister, and Alaizar.⁶ When therefore he heard that he was sick, he stayed at that time two days in the place where he was.⁷ Then after this he said to the disciples, "Let's go into Yahawadah again."⁸ The disciples told him, "Rabbi, the Jews were just trying to stone you, and are you going there again?"⁹ Yashawai answered, "Aren't there twelve hours of daylight? If a man walks in the day, he doesn't stumble, because he sees the light of this world."¹⁰ But if a man walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light isn't in him."¹¹ He said these things, and after that, he said to them, "Our friend, Alaizar, has fallen asleep, but I am going so that I may awake him out of sleep."¹² The disciples therefore said to him, "Adanay, if he has fallen asleep, he will recover."¹³ Now Yashawai had spoken of his death, but they thought that he spoke of taking rest in sleep.¹⁴ So Yashawai said to them plainly then, "Alaizar is dead."¹⁵ I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, so that you may believe. Nevertheless, let's go to him."¹⁶ Thaaawam therefore, who is called Didymus, said to his fellow disciples, "Let's go also, that we may die with him."¹⁷ So when Yashawai came, he found that he had been in the tomb four days already.¹⁸ Now Bayathainayah was near Yarawashalam, about fifteen stadia away.¹⁹ Many of the Jews had come to Marathaa and Marayam, to console them concerning their brother.²⁰ Therefore Marathaa, when she heard that Yashawai was coming, went and met him, but Marayam stayed in the house.²¹ Therefore Marathaa said to Yashawai, "Adanay, if you would have been here, my brother wouldn't have died."²² Even now I know that, whatever you ask of Alahayam, Alahayam will give you."²³ Yashawai said to her, "Your brother will rise again."²⁴ Marathaa said to him, "I know that he will rise again in the resurrection at the last day."²⁵ Yashawai said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in me, though he die, yet will he live.²⁶ Whoever lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?"²⁷ She said to him, "Yes, Adanay. I have come to believe that you are the Mashayach, Alahayam's Son, he who comes into the world."²⁸ When she had said this, she went away, and called Marayam, her sister, secretly, saying, "The Teacher is here, and is calling you."²⁹ She, when she heard this, arose quickly, and went to him.³⁰ Now Yashawai had not yet come into the village, but was in the place where Marathaa met him.³¹ Then the Jews who were with her in the house, and were consoling her, when they saw Marayam, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, saying, "She is going to the tomb to weep there."³² Marayam therefore, when she came to where Yashawai was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying to him, "Adanay, if you would have been here, my brother wouldn't have died."³³ When Yashawai therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews weeping who came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled,³⁴ and said, "Where have you laid him?" They told him, "Adanay, come and see."³⁵ Yashawai wept.³⁶ The Jews therefore said, "See how much affection he had for him!"³⁷ Some of them said, "Couldn't this man, who opened the eyes of him who was blind, have also caused that this man wouldn't die?"³⁸ Yashawai therefore, again groaning in himself, came to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay against it.³⁹ Yashawai said, "Take away the stone." Marathaa, the sister of him who was dead, said to him, "Adanay, by this time there is a stench, for he has been dead four days."⁴⁰ Yashawai said to her, "Didn't I tell you that if you believed, you would see Alahayam's glory?"⁴¹ So they took away the stone from the place where the dead man was lying. Yashawai lifted up his eyes, and said, "Father, I thank you that you listened to me."⁴² I know that you always listen to me, but because of the multitude that stands around I said this, that they may believe that you sent me."⁴³ When he had said this, he cried with a loud voice, "Alaizar, come out!"⁴⁴ He who was dead came out, bound hand and foot with wrappings, and his face was wrapped around with a cloth. Yashawai said to them, "Free him, and let him go."⁴⁵ Therefore many of the Jews, who came to Marayam and saw that which Yashawai did, believed in him.⁴⁶ But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the things which Yashawai had done.⁴⁷ The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said, "What are we doing? For this man does many signs."⁴⁸ If we leave him alone like this, everyone will believe in him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation."⁴⁹ But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said to them, "You know nothing at all,⁵⁰ nor do you take account that it is advantageous for us that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation not perish."⁵¹ Now he didn't say this of himself, but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Yashawai would die for the nation,⁵² and not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one the children of Alahayam who are scattered abroad.⁵³ So from that day forth they took counsel that they might put him to death.⁵⁴ Yashawai therefore walked no more openly among the Jews, but departed from there into the country near the wilderness, into a city called Aparayam. He stayed there with his disciples.⁵⁵ Now the Passover of the Jews was at hand. Many went up to Yarawashalam out of the country before the Passover, to purify themselves.⁵⁶ Then they sought for Yashawai and spoke one with another, as they stood in the temple, "What do you think? Isn't he coming to the feast?"⁵⁷ Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had commanded that if anyone knew where he was, he should report it, that they might seize him.

12 Therefore six days before the Passover, Yashawai came to Bayathainayah, where Alaizar was, who had been dead, whom he raised from the dead.² So they made him a supper there. Marathaa served, but Alaizar was one of those who sat at the table with him.³ Marayam, therefore, took a pound of ointment of pure nard, very precious, and anointed the feet of Yashawai, and wiped his feet with her hair. The house was filled with the fragrance of the ointment.⁴ Then Yahawadah Iscariot, Shamaiwan's son, one of his disciples, who would betray him, said,⁵ "Why wasn't this ointment sold for three hundred denarii, and given to the poor?"⁶ Now he said this, not because he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and having the money box, used to steal what was put into it.⁷ But Yashawai said, "Leave her alone. She has kept this for the day of my burial.⁸ For you always have the poor with you, but you don't always have me."⁹ A large crowd therefore of the Jews learned that he was there, and they came, not for Yashawai's sake only, but that they might see Alaizar also, whom he had raised from the dead.¹⁰ But the chief priests conspired to also put Alaizar to death,¹¹ because on account of him many of the Jews went away and believed in Yashawai.¹² On the next day a great multitude had come to the feast. When they heard that Yashawai was coming to Yarawashalam,¹³ they took the branches of the palm trees, and went out to meet him, and cried out, "Hosanna! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Adanay, the King of Yasharaal!"¹⁴ Yashawai, having found a young donkey, sat on it. As it is written,¹⁵ "Don't be afraid, daughter of Tzayawan. Behold, your King comes, sitting on a donkey's colt."¹⁶ His disciples didn't understand these things at first, but when Yashawai was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written about him, and that they had done these things to him.¹⁷ The multitude therefore that was with him when he called Alaizar out of the tomb, and raised him from the dead, was testifying.¹⁸ For this cause also the multitude went and met him, because they heard that he had done this sign.¹⁹ The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, "See how you accomplish nothing. Behold, the world has gone after him."²⁰ Now there were certain Greeks among those that went up to worship at the feast.²¹ These, therefore, came to Payalayapawas, who was from Bethsaida of Galayal, and asked him, saying, "Sir, we want to see Yashawai."²² Payalayapawas came and told Anadaray, and in turn, Anadaray came with Payalayapawas, and they told Yashawai.²³ Yashawai answered them, "The time has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.²⁴ Most assuredly I tell you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains by itself alone. But if it dies, it bears much fruit.²⁵ He who loves his life will lose it. He who hates his life in this world will keep it to eternal life.²⁶ If anyone serves me, let him follow me. Where I am, there will my servant also be. If anyone serves me, the Father will honor him.²⁷ "Now my soul is troubled. What will I say? 'Father, save me from this time?' But for this cause I came to this time."²⁸ Father, glorify your name!" Then there came a voice out of the sky, saying, "I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again."²⁹ The multitude therefore, who stood by and heard it, said that it had thundered. Others said, "An angel has spoken to him."³⁰ Yashawai answered, "This voice hasn't come for my sake, but for your sakes."³¹ Now is the judgment of this world. Now the prince of this world will be cast out.³² I, if I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to myself."³³ But he said this, signifying by what kind of death he should die.³⁴ The multitude answered him, "We have heard out of the law that the Mashayach remains forever. How do you say, 'The Son of Man must be lifted up?' Who is this Son of Man?"³⁵ Yashawai therefore said to them, "Yet a little while the light is with you. Walk while you have the light, that darkness doesn't overtake you. He who walks in the darkness doesn't know where he is going."³⁶ While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light." Yashawai said these things, and he departed and hid himself from them.³⁷ But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they didn't believe in him,³⁸ that the word of Yashaiyahaw the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spoke, "Adanay, who has believed our report? To whom has the arm of the Adanay been revealed?"³⁹ For this cause they couldn't believe, for Yashaiyahaw said again,⁴⁰ "He has blinded their eyes and he hardened their heart, Lest they should see with their eyes, And perceive with their heart, And would turn, And I would heal them."⁴¹ Yashaiyahaw said these things when he saw his glory, and he spoke of him.⁴² Nevertheless even of the rulers many believed in him, but because of the Pharisees they didn't confess it, so that they wouldn't be put out of the synagogue,⁴³ for they loved men's approval more than Alahayam's approval.⁴⁴ Yashawai cried out and said, "Whoever believes in me, believes not in me, but in him who sent me."⁴⁵ He who sees me sees him who sent me.⁴⁶ I have come as a light into the world, that whoever believes in me may not remain in the darkness.⁴⁷ If anyone listens to my sayings, and doesn't believe, I don't judge him. For I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.⁴⁸ He who rejects me, and doesn't receive my sayings, has one who judges him. The word that I spoke, the same will judge him in the last day.⁴⁹ For I spoke not from myself, but the Father who sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak.⁵⁰ I know that his commandment is eternal life. The things therefore which I speak, even as the Father has said to me, so I speak."

13 Now before the feast of the Passover, Yashawai knowing that his time had come that he would depart out of this world to his Father, having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them to the end.² After supper, the devil having already put into the heart of Yahawadah Iscariot, Shamaiwan's son, to betray him,³ Yashawai, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he came forth from Alahayam, and was going to Alahayam,⁴ arose from supper, and laid aside his outer garments. He took a towel, and wrapped a towel around his waist.⁵ Then he poured water into the basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel that was wrapped around him.⁶ Then he came to Shamaiwan Kayapaa. He said to him, "Adanay, do you wash my feet?"⁷ Yashawai answered him, "You don't know what I am doing now, but you will understand later."⁸ Kayapaa said to him, "You will never wash my feet!" Yashawai answered him, "If I don't wash you, you have no part with me."⁹ Shamaiwan Kayapaa said to him, "Adanay, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head!"¹⁰ Yashawai said to him, "Someone who has bathed only needs to have their feet washed, but is completely clean. You are clean, but not all of you."¹¹ For he knew him who would betray him, therefore he said, "You are not all clean."¹² So when he had washed their feet, put his outer garment back on, and sat down again, he said to them, "Do you know what I have done to you?"¹³ You call me, 'Teacher' and 'Adanay.' You say so correctly, for so I am."¹⁴ If I then, the Adanay and the Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet.¹⁵ For I have given you an example, that you also should do as I have done to you.¹⁶ Most assuredly I tell you, a servant is not greater than his lord, neither one who is sent greater than he who sent him.¹⁷ If you know these things, blessed are you if you do them.¹⁸ I speak not of you all. I know whom I have chosen. But that the scripture may be fulfilled, 'He who eats bread with me has lifted up his heel against me.'¹⁹ From now on, I tell you before it happens, that when it happens, you may believe that I AM.²⁰ Most assuredly I tell you, he who receives whoever I send, receives me; and he who receives me, receives him who sent me."²¹ When Yashawai had said this, he was troubled in the spirit, and testified, "Most assuredly I tell you that one of you will betray me."²² The disciples looked at one another, perplexed about whom he spoke.²³ One of his disciples, whom Yashawai loved, was at the table, leaning against Yashawai's breast.²⁴ Shamaiwan Kayapaa therefore beckoned to him, and said to him, "Tell us who it is of whom he speaks."²⁵ He, leaning back, as he was, on Yashawai's breast, asked him, "Adanay, who is it?"²⁶ Yashawai therefore answered, "It is he who I will give this morsel to when I have dipped it." So when he had dipped the morsel, he gave it to Yahawadah, the son of Shamaiwan Iscariot.²⁷ After the morsel, then Satan entered into him. Yashawai therefore said to him, "What you do, do quickly."²⁸ Now no man at the table knew why he said this to him.²⁹ For some thought, because Yahawadah had the money box, that Yashawai said to him, "Buy what things we need for the feast," or that he should give something to the poor.³⁰ Therefore, having received that morsel, he went out immediately. It was night.³¹ When he had gone out, Yashawai said, "Now the Son of Man is glorified, and Alahayam is glorified in him."³² If Alahayam is glorified in him, Alahayam will also glorify him in himself, and he will glorify him immediately.³³ Little children, yet a little while I am with you. You will seek me, and as I said to the Jews, 'Where I am going, you can't come,' so now I tell you.³⁴ A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another, just like I have loved you; that you also love one another.³⁵ By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another."³⁶ Shamaiwan Kayapaa said to him, "Adanay, where are you going?" Yashawai answered, "Where I am going, you can't follow now, but you will follow afterwards."³⁷ Kayapaa said to him, "Adanay, why can't I follow you even now? I will lay down my life for you."³⁸ Yashawai answered him, "Will you lay down your life for me? Most assuredly I tell you, the rooster won't crow until you have denied me three times."

14 "Don't let your heart be troubled. Believe in Alahayam. Believe also in me."² In my Father's house are many mansions. If it weren't so, I would have told you. I am going to prepare a place for you.³ If I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and will receive you to myself; that where I am, you may be there also.⁴ Where I go, you know, and you know the way."⁵ Thaawam says to him, "Adanay, we don't know where you are going. How can we know the way?"⁶ Yashawai said to him, "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father, but by me."⁷ If you had known me, you would have known my Father also. From now on, you know him, and have seen him."⁸ Payalayapawas said to him, "Adanay, show us the Father, and that will be enough for us."⁹ Yashawai said to him, "Have I been with you such a long time, and do you not know me, Payalayapawas? He who has seen me has seen the Father. How do you say, 'Show us the Father?'"¹⁰ Don't you believe that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? The words that I tell you, I speak not from myself; but the Father living in me does his works.¹¹ Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me; or else believe me for the very works' sake.¹² Most assuredly I tell you, he who believes in me, the works that I do, he will do also; and greater works than these will he do; because I am going to my Father.¹³ Whatever you will ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.¹⁴ If you will ask anything in my name, that will I do.¹⁵ If you love me, keep my commandments.¹⁶ I will pray to the Father, and he will give you another Counselor, that he may be with you forever,¹⁷ -- the Spirit of truth, whom the world can't receive; for it doesn't see him, neither knows him. You know him, for he lives with you, and will be in you.¹⁸ I will not leave you orphans. I will come to you.¹⁹ Yet a little while, and the world will see me no more; but you will see me. Because I live, you will live also.²⁰ In that day you will know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.²¹ Someone who has my commandments, and keeps them, that person is one who loves me. One who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him, and will reveal myself to him."²² Yahawadah (not Iscariot) said to him, "Adanay, what will happen that you will reveal yourself to us, and not to the world?"²³ Yashawai answered him, "If a man loves me, he will keep my word. My Father will love him, and we will come to him, and make our home with him."²⁴ He who doesn't love me doesn't keep my words. The word which you hear isn't mine, but the Father's who sent me.²⁵ I have said these things to you, while still living with you.²⁶ But the Counselor, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things, and bring to your memory all that I said to you.²⁷ Peace I leave with you. My peace I give to you; not as the world gives, give I to you. Don't let your heart be troubled, neither let it be fearful.²⁸ You heard how I told you, 'I go away, and I come to you.' If you loved me, you would have rejoiced, because I said 'I am going to my Father;' for the Father is greater than I.²⁹ Now I have told you before it happens so that, when it happens, you may believe.³⁰ I will no more speak much with you, for the prince of the world comes, and he has nothing in me.³¹ But that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father commanded me, even so I do. Arise, let us go from here.

15 "I am the true vine, and my Father is the farmer.² Every branch in me that doesn't bear fruit, he takes away. Every branch that bears fruit, he prunes, that it may bear more fruit.³ You are already pruned clean because of the word which I have spoken to you.⁴ Remain in me, and I in you. As the branch can't bear fruit by itself, unless it remains in the vine, so neither can you, unless you remain in me.⁵ I am the vine. You are the branches. He who remains in me, and I in him, the same bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing.⁶ If a man doesn't remain in me, he is thrown out as a branch, and is withered; and they gather them, throw them into the fire, and they are burned.⁷ If you remain in me, and my words remain in you, you will ask whatever you desire, and it will be done to you.⁸ In this is my Father glorified, that you bear much fruit; and so you will be my disciples.⁹ Even as the Father has loved me, I also have loved you. Remain in my love.¹⁰ If you keep my commandments, you will remain in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and remain in his love.¹¹ I have spoken these things to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be made full.¹² This is my commandment, that you love one another, even as I have loved you.¹³ Greater love has no one than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.¹⁴ You are my friends, if you do whatever I command you.¹⁵ No longer do I call you servants, for the servant doesn't know what his lord does. But I have called you friends, for everything that I heard from my Father, I have made known to you.¹⁶ You didn't choose me, but I chose you, and appointed you, that you should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatever you will ask of the Father in my name, he may give it to you.¹⁷ I command these things to you, that you may love one another.¹⁸ If the world hates you, you know that it has hated me before it hated you.¹⁹ If you were of the world, the world would love its own. But because you are not of the world, since I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you.²⁰ Remember the word that I said to you: 'A servant is not greater than his lord.' If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you. If they kept my word, they will keep yours also.²¹ But all these things will they do to you for my name's sake, because they don't know him who sent me.²² If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have had sin; but now they have no excuse for their sin.²³ He who hates me, hates my Father also.²⁴ If I hadn't done among them the works which none other did, they wouldn't have had sin. But now have they seen and also hated both me and my Father.²⁵ But that the word may be fulfilled that is written in their law, 'They hated me without a cause.'²⁶ When the Counselor has come, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will testify about me.²⁷ You will also testify, because you have been with me from the beginning.

16 "These things have I spoken to you, so that you wouldn't be caused to stumble.² They will put you out of the synagogues. Yes, the time comes that whoever kills you will think that he offers service to Alahayam.³ They will do these things because they have not known the Father, nor me.⁴ But I have told you these things, so that when the time comes, you may remember that I told you about them. I didn't tell you these things from the beginning, because I was with you.⁵ But now I am going to him who sent me, and none of you asks me, 'Where are you going?'⁶ But because I have told you these things, sorrow has filled your heart.⁷ Nevertheless I tell you the truth: It is to your advantage that I go away, for if I don't go away, the Counselor won't come to you. But if I go, I will send him to you.⁸ When he has come, he will convict the world in respect to sin, and righteousness, and judgment;⁹ of sin, because they don't believe in me;¹⁰ of righteousness, because I am going to my Father, and you see me no more;¹¹ of judgment, because the prince of this world has been judged.¹² I have yet many things to tell you, but you can't bear them now.¹³ However when he, the Spirit of truth, has come, he will guide you into all the truth, for he will not speak from himself; but whatever things he hears, he will speak. He will declare to you the things that are to come.¹⁴ He will glorify me, for he will take from what is mine, and will declare it to you.¹⁵ All things whatever the Father has are mine; therefore I said that he takes of mine, and will declare it to you.¹⁶ A little while, and you will not see me. Again a little while, and you will see me."¹⁷ Some of his disciples therefore said to one another, "What is this that he says to us, 'A little while, and you won't see me, and again a little while, and you will see me;' and, 'Because I go to the Father?'"¹⁸ They said therefore, "What is this that he says, 'A little while?'" We don't know what he is saying."¹⁹ Therefore Yashawai perceived that they wanted to ask him, and he said to them, "Do you inquire among yourselves concerning this, that I said, 'A little while, and you won't see me, and again a little while, and you will see me?'"²⁰ Most assuredly I tell you, that you will weep and lament, but the world will rejoice. You will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will be turned into joy.²¹ A woman, when she is in travail, has sorrow, because her time has come. But when she has delivered the child, she doesn't remember the anguish any more, for the joy that a child is born into the world.²² You therefore now have sorrow, but I will see you again, and your heart will rejoice, and no one will take your joy away from you.²³ In that day you will ask me no question. Most assuredly I tell you, whatever you may ask of the Father, he will give it to you in my name.²⁴ Until now, you have asked nothing in my name. Ask, and you will receive, that your joy may be made full.²⁵ I have spoken these things to you in figures of speech. But the time comes when I will no more speak to you in figures of speech, but will tell you plainly about the Father.²⁶ In that day you will ask in my name; and I don't say to you, that I will pray to the Father for you,²⁷ for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me, and have believed that I came forth from Alahayam.²⁸ I came out from the Father, and have come into the world. Again, I leave the world, and go to the Father."²⁹ His disciples said to him, "Behold, now you speak plainly, and speak no figures of speech."³⁰ Now we know that you know all things, and don't need for anyone to question you. By this we believe that you came forth from Alahayam."³¹ Yashawai answered them, "Do you now believe?"³² Behold, the time comes, yes, has now come, that you will be scattered, everyone to his own place, and will leave me alone. Yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.³³ I have told you these things, that in me you may have peace. In the world you have oppression; but cheer up! I have overcome the world."

17 Yashawai said these things, and lifting up his eyes to heaven, he said, "Father, the time has come. Glorify your Son, that your Son may also glorify you; ² even as you gave him authority over all flesh, that to all whom you have given him, he will give eternal life. ³ This is eternal life, that they should know you, the only true Alahayam, and him whom you sent, Yashawai Mashayach. ⁴ I glorified you on the earth. I have accomplished the work which you have given me to do. ⁵ Now, Father, glorify me with your own self with the glory which I had with you before the world existed. ⁶ I revealed your name to the people whom you have given me out of the world. They were yours, and you have given them to me. They have kept your word. ⁷ Now they know that all things whatever you have given me are from you, ⁸ for the words which you have given me I have given to them, and they received them, and knew for sure that I came forth from you, and they believed that you sent me. ⁹ I pray for them. I don't pray for the world, but for those whom you have given me, for they are yours. ¹⁰ All things that are mine are yours, and yours are mine, and I am glorified in them. ¹¹ I am no more in the world, and these are in the world, and I am coming to you. Holy Father, keep them through your name which you have given me, that they may be one, even as we are. ¹² While I was with them in the world, I kept them in your name. Those whom you have given me I have kept. None of them is lost, except the son of perdition, that the Scripture might be fulfilled. ¹³ But now I come to you, and I say these things in the world, that they may have my joy made full in themselves. ¹⁴ I have given them your word. The world hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. ¹⁵ I pray not that you would take them from the world, but that you would keep them from the evil one. ¹⁶ They are not of the world even as I am not of the world. ¹⁷ Sanctify them in your truth. Your word is truth. ¹⁸ As you sent me into the world, even so I sent them into the world. ¹⁹ For their sakes I sanctify myself, that they themselves also may be sanctified in truth. ²⁰ Neither for these only do I pray, but for those also who believe in me through their word, ²¹ that they may all be one; even as you, Father, are in me, and I in you, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that you sent me. ²² The glory which you have given me, I have given to them; that they may be one, even as we are one; ²³ I in them, and you in me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that you sent me, and loved them, even as you loved me. ²⁴ Father, I desire that they also whom you have given me be with me where I am, that they may see my glory, which you have given me, for you loved me before the foundation of the world. ²⁵ Righteous Father, the world didn't know you, but I knew you; and these knew that you sent me. ²⁶ I made known to them your name, and will make it known; that the love with which you loved me may be in them, and I in them."

18 When Yashawai had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Qadarawan, where was a garden, into which he entered, himself and his disciples. ² Now Yahawadah, who betrayed him, also knew the place, for Yashawai often resorted there with his disciples. ³ Yahawadah then, having taken a detachment of soldiers and officers from the chief priests and the Pharisees, came there with lanterns, torches, and weapons. ⁴ Yashawai therefore, knowing all the things that were coming on him, went forth, and said to them, "Who are you looking for?" ⁵ They answered him, "Yashawai of Natzarath." Yashawai said to them, "I AM." Yahawadah also, who betrayed him, was standing with them. ⁶ When therefore he said to them, "I AM," they went backward, and fell to the ground. ⁷ Again therefore he asked them, "Who are you looking for?" They said, "Yashawai of Natzarath." ⁸ Yashawai answered, "I told you that I AM. If therefore you seek me, let these go their way," ⁹ that the word might be fulfilled which he spoke, "Of those whom you have given me, I have lost none." ¹⁰ Shamaian Kayapaa therefore, having a sword, drew it, and struck the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus. ¹¹ Yashawai therefore said to Kayapaa, "Pawat up the sword into its sheath. The cup which the Father has given me, shall I not drink it?" ¹² So the detachment, the commanding officer, and the officers of the Jews, seized Yashawai and bound him, ¹³ and led him to Annas first, for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, who was high priest that year. ¹⁴ Now it was Caiaphas who gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people. ¹⁵ Shamaian Kayapaa followed Yashawai, as did another disciple. Now that disciple was known to the high priest, and entered in with Yashawai into the court of the high priest; ¹⁶ but Kayapaa was standing at the door outside. So the other disciple, who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to her who kept the door, and brought in Kayapaa. ¹⁷ Then the maid who kept the door said to Kayapaa, "Are you also one of this man's disciples?" He said, "I am not." ¹⁸ Now the servants and the officers were standing there, having made a fire of coals, for it was cold. They were warming themselves. Kayapaa was with them, standing and warming himself. ¹⁹ The high priest therefore asked Yashawai of his disciples, and of his teaching. ²⁰ Yashawai answered him, "I spoke openly to the world. I always taught in synagogues, and in the temple, where the Jews always meet. I said nothing in secret. ²¹ Why do you ask me? Ask those who have heard me what I said to them. Behold, these know the things which I said." ²² When he had said this, one of the officers standing by slapped Yashawai with his hand, saying, "Do you answer the high priest like that?" ²³ Yashawai answered him, "If I have spoken evil, testify of the evil; but if well, why do you beat me?" ²⁴ Annas sent him bound to Caiaphas, the high priest. ²⁵ Now Shamaian Kayapaa was standing and warming himself. They said therefore to him, "Are you also one of his disciples?" He denied it, and said, "I am not." ²⁶ One of the servants of the high priest, being a relative of him whose ear Kayapaa cut off, said, "Didn't I see you in the garden with him?" ²⁷ Kayapaa therefore denied again, and immediately the rooster crowed. ²⁸ They led Yashawai therefore from Caiaphas into the Praetorium. It was early, and they themselves didn't enter into the Praetorium, that they might not be defiled, but might eat the Passover. ²⁹ Payalatawas therefore went out to them, and said, "What accusation do you bring against this man?" ³⁰ They answered him, "If this man weren't an evildoer, we wouldn't have delivered him up to you." ³¹ Payalatawas therefore said to them, "Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law." Therefore the Jews said to him, "It is not lawful for us to put anyone to death," ³² that the word of Yashawai might be fulfilled, which he spoke, signifying by what kind of death he should die. ³³ Payalatawas therefore entered again into the Praetorium, called Yashawai, and said to him, "Are you the King of the Jews?" ³⁴ Yashawai answered him, "Do you say this of yourself, or did others tell it to you concerning me?" ³⁵ Payalatawas answered, "Am I a Yahawaday? Your own nation and the chief priests delivered you to me. What have you done?" ³⁶ Yashawai answered, "My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, then my servants would fight, that I wouldn't be delivered to the Jews. But now my kingdom is not from here." ³⁷ Payalatawas therefore said to him, "Are you a king then?" Yashawai answered, "You say that I am a king. To this end have I been born, and to this end I have come into the world, that I should testify to the truth. Everyone who is of the truth listens to my voice." ³⁸ Payalatawas said to him, "What is truth?" When he had said this, he went out again to the Jews, and said to them, "I find no basis for a charge against him. ³⁹ But you have a custom, that I should release to you one at the Passover. Therefore do you desire that I release to you the King of the Jews?" ⁴⁰ Then they all cried out again, saying, "Not this man, but Barabbas!" Now Barabbas was a robber.

19 Then Payalatawas therefore took Yashawai, and flogged him. ² The soldiers twisted thorns into a crown, and put it on his head, and dressed him in a purple garment. ³ They said, "Hail, King of the Jews!" and they struck him with their hands. ⁴ Then Payalatawas went out again, and said to them, "Behold, I bring him out to you, that you may know that I find no basis for a charge against him." ⁵ Yashawai therefore came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple garment. Payalatawas said to them, "Behold, the man!"

⁶ When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him, they cried out, saying, "Crucify! Crucify!" Payalatawas said to them, "Take him yourselves, and crucify him, for I find no basis for a charge against him." ⁷ The Jews answered him, "We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of Alahayam." ⁸ When therefore Payalatawas heard this saying, he was more afraid. ⁹ He entered into the Praetorium again, and said to Yashawai, "Where are you from?" But Yashawai gave him no answer. ¹⁰ Payalatawas therefore said to him, "Aren't you speaking to me? Don't you know that I have power to release you, and have power to crucify you?" ¹¹ Yashawai answered, "You would have no power at all against me, unless it were given to you from above. Therefore he who delivered me to you has greater sin." ¹² At this, Payalatawas sought to release him, but the Jews cried out, saying, "If you release this man, you aren't Qayasar's friend! Everyone who makes himself a king speaks against Qayasar!" ¹³ When Payalatawas therefore heard these words, he brought Yashawai out, and sat down on the judgment seat at a place called "The Pavement," but in Hebrew, "Gabbatha." ¹⁴ Now it was the Preparation of the Passover, at about the sixth hour. He said to the Jews, "Behold, your King!" ¹⁵ They cried out, "Away with him! Away with him! Crucify him!" Payalatawas said to them, "Shall I crucify your King?" The chief priests answered, "We have no king but Qayasar!" ¹⁶ Then therefore he delivered him to them to be crucified. So they took Yashawai and led him away. ¹⁷ He went out, bearing his cross, to the place called "The place of a skull," which is called in Hebrew, "Golgotha," ¹⁸ where they crucified him, and with him two others, on either side one, and Yashawai in the middle. ¹⁹ Payalatawas wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. There was written, "JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS." ²⁰ Therefore many of the Jews read this title, for the place where Yashawai was crucified was near the city; and it was written in Hebrew, in Latin, and in Greek. ²¹ The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Payalatawas, "Don't write, 'The King of the Jews,' but that, 'he said, I am King of the Jews.'" ²² Payalatawas answered, "What I have written, I have written." ²³ Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Yashawai, took his garments and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the coat. Now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. ²⁴ Then they said to one another, "Let's not tear it, but cast lots for it, whose it will be," that the scripture might be fulfilled, which says, "They parted my garments among them, For my cloak they cast lots." Therefore the soldiers did these things. ²⁵ But there were standing by the cross of Yashawai his mother, and his mother's sister, Marayam the wife of Clopas, and Marayam Magdalene. ²⁶ Therefore when Yashawai saw his mother, and the disciple whom he loved standing there, he said to his mother, "Woman, behold your son!" ²⁷ Then he said to the disciple, "Behold, your mother!" From that hour, the disciple took her to his own home. ²⁸ After this, Yashawai, seeing that all things were now finished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, said, "I am thirsty." ²⁹ Now a vessel full of vinegar was set there; so they put a sponge full of the vinegar on hyssop, and brought it to his mouth. ³⁰ When Yashawai therefore had received the vinegar, he said, "It is finished." He bowed his head, and gave up his spirit. ³¹ Therefore the Jews, because it was the Preparation, so that the bodies wouldn't remain on the cross on the Sabbath (for that Sabbath was a special one), asked of Payalatawas that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. ³² Therefore the soldiers came, and broke the legs of the first, and of the other who was crucified with him; ³³ but when they came to Yashawai, and saw that he was already dead, they didn't break his legs. ³⁴ However one of the soldiers pierced his side with a spear, and immediately blood and water came out. ³⁵ He who has seen has testified, and his testimony is true. He knows that he tells the truth, that you also may believe. ³⁶ For these things happened, that the scripture might be fulfilled, "A bone of him will not be broken." ³⁷ Again another scripture says, "They will look on him whom they pierced." ³⁸ After these things, Yawasap of Arimathaea, being a disciple of Yashawai, but secretly for fear of the Jews, asked of Payalatawas that he might take away Yashawai's body. Payalatawas gave him permission. He came therefore, and took away his body. ³⁹ Nicodemus also came, he who at first came to Yashawai by night, bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred Roman pounds. ⁴⁰ So they took Yashawai's body, and bound it in linen cloths with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury. ⁴¹ Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden. In the garden a new tomb in which no man had ever yet been laid. ⁴² Then because of the Jews' Preparation (for the tomb was near at hand) they laid Yashawai there.

20 Now on the first day of the week, Marayam Magdalene came early, while it was yet dark, to the tomb, and saw the stone taken away from the tomb. ² She ran therefore, and came to Shamaian Kayapaa, and to the other disciple whom Yashawai loved, and said to them, "They have taken away the Adanay out of the tomb, and we don't know where they have laid him!" ³ Kayapaa therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and they went toward the tomb. ⁴ They both ran together. The other disciple outran Kayapaa, and came to the tomb first. ⁵ Stooping and looking in, he saw the linen cloths lying, yet he didn't enter in. ⁶ Then Shamaian Kayapaa came, following him, and entered into the tomb. He saw the linen cloths lying, ⁷ and the cloth that was on his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself. ⁸ Then the other disciple also entered in therefore, who came first to the tomb, and he saw, and believed. ⁹ For as yet they didn't know the scripture, that he must rise from the dead. ¹⁰ So the disciples went away again to their own homes. ¹¹ But Marayam was standing outside at the tomb weeping. So, as she wept, she stooped and looked into the tomb, ¹² and she saw two angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Yashawai had lain. ¹³ They told her, "Woman, why are you weeping?" She said to them, "Because they have taken away my Adanay, and I don't know where they have laid him." ¹⁴ When she had said this, she turned herself back, and saw Yashawai standing, and didn't know that it was Yashawai. ¹⁵ Yashawai said to her, "Woman, why are you weeping? Who are you looking for?" She, supposing him to be the gardener, said to him, "Sir, if you have carried him away, tell me where you have laid him, and I will take him away." ¹⁶ Yashawai said to her, "Marayam." She turned herself, and said to him, "Rhabbouni!" which is to say, "Teacher!" ¹⁷ Yashawai said to her, "Don't touch me, for I haven't yet ascended to my Father; but go to my brothers, and tell them, 'I am ascending to my Father and your Father, and my Alahayam and your Alahayam.'" ¹⁸ Marayam Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Adanay, and that he had said these things to her. ¹⁹ When therefore it was evening, on that day, the first day of the week, and when the doors were locked where the disciples were assembled, for fear of the Jews, Yashawai came and stood in the midst, and said to them, "Peace be to you." ²⁰ When he had said this, he showed to them his hands and his side. The disciples therefore were glad when they saw the Adanay. ²¹ Yashawai therefore said to them again, "Peace be to you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you." ²² When he had said this, he breathed on them, and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit! ²³ Whoever's sins you forgive, they are forgiven to them. Whoever's sins you retain, they are retained." ²⁴ But Thaawam, one of the twelve, called Didymus, wasn't with them when Yashawai came. ²⁵ The other disciples therefore said to him, "We have seen the Adanay!" But he said to them, "Unless I see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe." ²⁶ After eight days again his disciples were within, and Thaawam with them. Yashawai came, the doors being locked, and stood in the midst, and said, "Peace be to you." ²⁷ Then he said to Thaawam, "Reach here your finger, and see my hands. Reach here your hand, and put it into my side. Don't be faithless, but believing." ²⁸ Thaawam answered him, "My Adanay and my Alahayam!" ²⁹ Yashawai said to him, "Because you have seen me, you have believed. Blessed are those who have not seen, and have believed." ³⁰ Therefore Yashawai did many other signs in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book; ³¹ but these are written, that you may believe that Yashawai is the Mashayach, the Son of Alahayam, and that believing you may have life in his name.

21 After these things, Yashawai revealed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias. He revealed himself this way. ² Shamaian Kayapaa, Thaawam called Didymus, Nathanaal of Cana in Galayal, and the sons of Zebedee, and two others of his disciples were together. ³ Shamaian Kayapaa said to them, "I'm going fishing." They told him, "We are also coming with you." They immediately went forth, and entered into the boat. That night, they caught nothing. ⁴ But when day was now breaking, Yashawai stood on the beach, yet the disciples didn't know that it was Yashawai. ⁵ Yashawai therefore said to them, "Children, have you anything to eat?" They answered him, "No." ⁶ He said to them, "Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and you will find some." They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it in for the multitude of fish. ⁷ That disciple therefore whom Yashawai loved said to Kayapaa, "It's the Adanay!" So when Shamaian Kayapaa heard that it was the Adanay, he wrapped his coat around him (for he was naked), and threw himself into the sea. ⁸ But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits away), dragging the net full of fish. ⁹ So when they got out on the land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid on it, and bread. ¹⁰ Yashawai said to them, "Bring some of the fish which you have just caught." ¹¹ Shamaian Kayapaa went up, and drew the net to land, full of great fish, one hundred fifty-three; and even though there were so many, the net wasn't torn. ¹² Yashawai said to them, "Come and eat breakfast." None of the disciples dared inquire of him, "Who are you?" knowing that it was the Adanay. ¹³ Then Yashawai came and took the bread, gave it to them, and the fish likewise. ¹⁴ This is now the third time that Yashawai was revealed to his disciples, after he had risen from the dead. ¹⁵ So when they had eaten their breakfast, Yashawai said to Shamaian Kayapaa, "Shamaian, son of Yawanah, do you love me more than these?" He said to him, "Yes, Adanay; you know that I have affection for you." He said to him, "Feed my lambs." ¹⁶ He said to him again a second time, "Shamaian, son of Yawanah, do you love me?" He said to him, "Yes, Adanay; you know that I have affection for you." He said to him, "Tend my sheep." ¹⁷ He says to him the third time, "Shamaian, son of Yawanah, do you have affection for me?" Kayapaa was grieved because he asked him the third time, "Do you have affection for me?" He said to him, "Adanay, you know everything. You know that I have affection for you." Yashawai said to him, "Feed my sheep." ¹⁸ Most assuredly I tell you, when you were young, you dressed yourself, and walked where you wanted to. But when you are old, you will stretch out your hands, and another will dress you, and carry you where you don't want to go." ¹⁹ Now he said this, signifying by what kind of death he would glorify Alahayam. When he had said this, he said to him, "Follow me." ²⁰ Then Kayapaa, turning around, saw a disciple following. This was the disciple whom Yashawai sincerely loved, the one who had also leaned on Yashawai's breast at the supper and asked, "Adanay, who is going to betray You?" ²¹ Kayapaa seeing him, said to Yashawai, "Adanay, and what will this man do?" ²² Yashawai said to him, "If I desire that he stay until I come, what is that to you? You follow me." ²³ This saying therefore went forth among the brothers, that that disciple wouldn't die. Yet Yashawai didn't say to him that he wouldn't die, but, "If I desire that he stay until I come, what is that to you?" ²⁴ This is the disciple who testifies about these things, and wrote these things. We know that his witness is true. ²⁵ There are also many other things which Yashawai did, which if they would all be written, I suppose that even the world itself wouldn't contain the books that would be written.

1 The first book I wrote, Theophilus, concerned all that Yashawai began both to do and to teach, ² until the day in which he was received up, after he had given commandment through the Holy Spirit to the apostles whom he had chosen. ³ To these he also showed himself alive after his suffering by many proofs, appearing to them over a period of forty days, and spoke about Alahayam's kingdom. ⁴ Being assembled together with them, he charged them, "Don't depart from Yawashalam, but wait for the promise of the Father, which you heard from me. ⁵ For Yawachanan indeed baptized with water, but you will be baptized in the Holy Spirit not many days from now." ⁶ Therefore, when they had come together, they asked him, "Adanay, are you now restoring the kingdom to Yasharaal?" ⁷ He said to them, "It isn't for you to know times or seasons which the Father has set within His own authority. ⁸ But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come on you. You will be witnesses to me in Yawashalam, in all Yahawadah and Shamarawan, and to the uttermost parts of the earth." ⁹ When he had said these things, as they were looking, he was taken up, and a cloud received him out of their sight. ¹⁰ While they were looking steadfastly into the sky as he went, behold, two men stood by them in white clothing, ¹¹ who also said, "You men of Galayal, why do you stand looking into the sky? This Yashawai, who was received up from you into the sky will come back in the same way as you saw him going into the sky." ¹² Then they returned to Yawashalam from the mountain called Olivet, which is near Yawashalam, a Sabbath day's journey away. ¹³ When they had come in, they went up into the upper chamber, where they were staying; that is Kayapaa, Yawachanan, Yaiqab, Anadaray, Payalayapawas, Thaawam, Barathalam, Mathathayahaw, Yaiqab the son of Alphaeus, Shamaian the Zealot, and Yahawadah the son of Yaiqab. ¹⁴ All these with one accord continued steadfastly in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Marayam, the mother of Yashawai, and with his brothers. ¹⁵ In these days, Kayapaa stood up in the midst of the disciples (and there was a multitude of persons gathered together, about one hundred twenty), and said, ¹⁶ "Brothers, it was necessary that this Scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Spirit spoke before by the mouth of Dawad concerning Yahawadah, who was guide to those who took Yashawai. ¹⁷ For he was numbered with us, and received his portion in this ministry. ¹⁸ Now this man obtained a field with the reward for his wickedness, and falling headlong, his body burst open, and all his intestines gushed out. ¹⁹ It became known to everyone who lived in Yawashalam that in their language that field was called 'Akeldama,' that is, 'The field of blood.' ²⁰ For it is written in the book of Psalms, 'Let his habitation be made desolate, Let no one dwell therein,' and, 'Let another take his office.' ²¹ Of the men therefore who have accompanied us all the time that the Adanay Yashawai went in and went out among us, ²² beginning from the baptism of Yawachanan, to the day that he was received up from us, of these must one become a witness with us of his resurrection." ²³ They put forward two, Yawasap called Barsabbas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias. ²⁴ They prayed, and said, "You, Adanay, who know the hearts of all men, show which one of these two you have chosen ²⁵ to take part in this ministry and apostleship from which Yahawadah fell away, that he might go to his own place." ²⁶ They drew lots for them, and the lot fell on Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

2 Now when the day of Pentecost had come, they were all with one accord in one place. ² Suddenly there came from the sky a sound like the rushing of a mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. ³ Tongues like fire appeared and were distributed to them, and it sat on each one of them. ⁴ They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other languages, as the Spirit gave them the ability to speak. ⁵ Now there were dwelling at Yawashalam Jews, devout men, from every nation under the sky. ⁶ When this sound was heard, the multitude came together, and were bewildered, because everyone heard them speaking in his own language. ⁷ They were all amazed and marveled, saying to one another, "Behold, aren't all these who speak Galileans?" ⁸ How do we hear, everyone in our own native language? ⁹ Parthians, Maday, Elamites, and people from Aram, Yahawadah, Cappadocia, Pontus, Asia, ¹⁰ Phrygia, Pamphylia, Matzarayam, the parts of Libya around Cyrene, visitors from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, ¹¹ Cretans and Arabians: we hear them speaking in our languages the mighty works of Alahayam!" ¹² They were all amazed, and were perplexed, saying one to another, "What does this mean?" ¹³ Others, mocking, said, "They are filled with new wine." ¹⁴ But Kayapaa, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spoke out to them, "You men of Yahawadah, and all you who dwell at Yawashalam, let this be known to you, and listen to my words. ¹⁵ For these aren't drunken, as you suppose, seeing it is only the third hour of the day. ¹⁶ But this is what has been spoken through the prophet Yawaal: ¹⁷ 'It will be in the last days, says Alahayam, I will pour forth of my Spirit on all flesh. Your sons and your daughters will prophesy. Your young men will see visions. Your old men will dream dreams. ¹⁸ Yes, and on my servants and on my handmaidens in those days, I will pour out my Spirit, and they will prophesy. ¹⁹ I will show wonders in the sky above, And signs on the earth beneath; Blood, and fire, and billows of smoke. ²⁰ The sun will be turned into darkness, And the moon into blood, Before the great and glorious day of the Adanay comes. ²¹ It will be, that whoever will call on the name of the Adanay will be saved.' ²² "You men of Yasharaal, hear these words. Yashawai of Natzarath, a man approved by Alahayam to you by mighty works and wonders and signs which Alahayam did by him in the midst of you, even as you yourselves know, ²³ him, being delivered up by the determined counsel and foreknowledge of Alahayam, you have taken by the hand of lawless men, crucified and killed; ²⁴ whom Alahayam raised up, having freed him from the agony of death, because it was not possible that he should be held by it. ²⁵ For Dawad says concerning him, 'I saw the Adanay always before my face, For he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved. ²⁶ Therefore my heart was glad, and my tongue rejoiced. Moreover my flesh also will dwell in hope; ²⁷ Because you will not leave my soul in Hades, Neither will you allow your Holy One to see decay. ²⁸ You made known to me the ways of life. You will make me full of gladness with your presence.' ²⁹ "Brothers, I may tell you freely of the patriarch Dawad, that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is with us to this day. ³⁰ Therefore, being a prophet, and knowing that Alahayam had sworn with an oath to him that of the fruit of his body, according to the flesh, he would raise up the Mashayach to sit on his throne, ³¹ he foreseeing this spoke about the resurrection of the Mashayach, that neither was his soul left in Hades, nor did his flesh see decay. ³² This Yashawai Alahayam raised up, whereof we all are witnesses. ³³ Being therefore exalted by the right hand of Alahayam, and having received from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, he has poured forth this, which you now see and hear. ³⁴ For Dawad didn't ascend into the heavens, but he says himself, 'The Adanay said to my Adanay, 'Sit by my right hand,' ³⁵ Until I make your enemies the footstool of your feet.'" ³⁶ "Let all the house of Yasharaal therefore know assuredly that Alahayam has made him both Adanay and Mashayach, this Yashawai whom you crucified." ³⁷ Now when they heard this, they were cut to the heart, and said to Kayapaa and the rest of the apostles, "Brothers, what will we do?" ³⁸ Kayapaa said to them, "Repent, and be baptized, everyone of you, in the name of Yashawai Mashayach for the forgiveness of sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. ³⁹ For to you is the promise, and to your children, and to all who are far off, even as many as the Adanay our Alahayam will call to himself." ⁴⁰ With many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, "Save yourselves from this crooked generation!" ⁴¹ Then those who gladly received his word were baptized. There were added that day about three thousand souls. ⁴² They continued steadfastly in the apostles' teaching and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and prayer. ⁴³ Fear came on every soul, and many wonders and signs were done through the apostles. ⁴⁴ All who believed were together, and had all things common. ⁴⁵ They sold their possessions and goods, and distributed them to all, according as anyone had need. ⁴⁶ Day by day, continuing steadfastly with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread at home, they took their food with gladness and singleness of heart, ⁴⁷ praising Alahayam, and having favor with all the people. The Adanay added to the assembly day by day those who were being saved.

3 Kayapaa and Yawachanan were going up into the temple at the hour of prayer, the ninth hour. ² A certain man who was lame from his mother's womb was being carried, whom they laid daily at the door of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of those who entered into the temple. ³ Seeing Kayapaa and Yawachanan about to go into the temple, he asked to receive alms. ⁴ Kayapaa, fastening his eyes on him, with Yawachanan, said, "Look at us." ⁵ He listened to them, expecting to receive something from them. ⁶ But Kayapaa said, "Silver and gold have I none, but what I have, that I give you. In the name of Yashawai Mashayach of Natzarath, rise and walk!" ⁷ He took him by the right hand, and raised him up. Immediately his feet and his ankle bones received strength. ⁸ Leaping up, he stood, and began to walk. He entered with them into the temple, walking, leaping, and praising Alahayam. ⁹ All the people saw him walking and praising Alahayam. ¹⁰ They recognized him, that it was he who sat begging for alms at the Beautiful Gate of the temple. They were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened to him. ¹¹ As the lame man who was healed held Kayapaa and Yawachanan, all the people ran together to them in the porch that is called Shalahmah's, greatly wondering. ¹² When Kayapaa saw it, he answered to the people, "You men of Yasharaal, why do you marvel at this man? Why do you fasten your eyes on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him walk?" ¹³ The Alahayam of Abraham, Yatzachaq, and Yaiqab, the Alahayam of our fathers, has glorified his Servant Yashawai, whom you delivered up, and denied before the face of Payalatawas, when he had determined to release him. ¹⁴ But you denied the Holy and Righteous One, and asked for a murderer to be granted to you, ¹⁵ and killed the Prince of life, whom Alahayam raised from the dead, whereof we are witnesses. ¹⁶ By faith in his name has his name made this man strong, whom you see and know. Yes, the faith which is through him has given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all. ¹⁷ "Now, brothers, I know that you did this in ignorance, as did also your rulers. ¹⁸ But the things which Alahayam announced by the mouth of all his prophets, that Mashayach should suffer, he thus fulfilled. ¹⁹ Repent therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, that so there may come times of refreshing from the presence of the Adanay, ²⁰ and that he may send Mashayach Yashawai, who was ordained for you before, ²¹ whom the heaven must receive until the times of restoration of all things, whereof Alahayam spoke by the mouth of his holy prophets that have been from ancient times. ²² For Mashah indeed said to the fathers, 'The Adanay Alahayam will raise up a prophet to you from among your brothers, like me. You will listen to him in all things whatever he says to you. ²³ It will be, that every soul that will not listen to that prophet will be utterly destroyed from among the people.' ²⁴ Yes, and all the prophets from Shamawaal and those who followed after, as many as have spoken, they also told of these days. ²⁵ You are the sons of the prophets, and of the covenant which Alahayam made with our fathers, saying to Abaraham, 'In your seed will all the families of the earth be blessed.' ²⁶ Alahayam, having raised up his servant, Yashawai, sent him to you first, to bless you, in turning away everyone of you from your wickedness."

4 As they spoke to the people, the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came to them, ² being upset because they taught the people and proclaimed in Yashawai the resurrection from the dead. ³ They laid hands on them, and put them in custody until the next day, for it was now evening. ⁴ But many of those who heard the word believed, and the number of the men came to be about five thousand. ⁵ It happened in the morning, that their rulers, elders, and scribes were gathered together in Yarawashalam. ⁶ Annas the high priest was there, with Caiaphas, Yawachanan, Alexander, and as many as were relatives of the high priest. ⁷ When they had stood them in the midst, they inquired, "By what power, or in what name, have you done this?" ⁸ Then Kayapaa, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them, "You rulers of the people, and elders of Yasharaal, ⁹ if we are examined today concerning a good deed done to a crippled man, by what means this man has been healed, ¹⁰ be it known to you all, and to all the people of Yasharaal, that in the name of Yashawai Mashayach of Natzarath, whom you crucified, whom Alahayam raised from the dead, in him does this man stand here before you whole. ¹¹ He is 'the stone which was regarded as worthless by you, the builders, which was made the head of the corner.' ¹² There is salvation in none other, for neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, in which we must be saved!" ¹³ Now when they saw the boldness of Kayapaa and Yawachanan, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marveled. They recognized that they had been with Yashawai. ¹⁴ Seeing the man who was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it. ¹⁵ But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, ¹⁶ saying, "What will we do to these men? Because indeed a notable miracle has been done through them, as can be plainly seen by all who dwell in Yarawashalam, and we can't deny it. ¹⁷ But so that this spreads no further among the people, let's threaten them, that from now on they don't speak to anyone in this name." ¹⁸ They called them, and charged them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Yashawai. ¹⁹ But Kayapaa and Yawachanan answered them, "Whether it is right in the sight of Alahayam to listen to you rather than to Alahayam, judge for yourselves, ²⁰ for we can't help telling the things which we saw and heard." ²¹ They, when they had further threatened them, let them go, finding no way to punish them, because of the people; for everyone glorified Alahayam for that which was done. ²² For the man was more than forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was performed. ²³ Being let go, they came to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said to them. ²⁴ They, when they heard it, lifted up their voice to Alahayam with one accord, and said, "O Adanay, you are Alahayam, who made the heaven, the earth, the sea, and all that is in them; ²⁵ who by the mouth of your servant, Dawad, said, 'Why do the nations rage, And the peoples plot a vain thing?' ²⁶ The kings of the earth take a stand, And the rulers take council together, Against the Adanay, and against his Mashayach.' ²⁷ For truly, in this city against your holy servant, Yashawai, whom you anointed, both Hawaradawas and Pontius Payalatawas, with the Gentiles and the people of Yasharaal, were gathered together ²⁸ to do whatever your hand and your council foreordained to happen. ²⁹ Now, Adanay, look at their threats, and grant to your servants to speak your word with all boldness, ³⁰ while you stretch forth your hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done through the name of your holy Servant Yashawai." ³¹ When they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were gathered together. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and they spoke the word of Alahayam with boldness. ³² The multitude of those who believed were of one heart and soul. Not one of them claimed that anything of the things which he possessed was his own, but they had all things common.³³ With great power, the apostles gave their testimony of the resurrection of the Adanay Yashawai. Great grace was on them all.³⁴ For neither was there among them any who lacked, for as many as were owners of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,³⁵ and laid them at the apostles' feet, and distribution was made to each, according as anyone had need.³⁶ Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Baranab (which is, being interpreted, Son of Exhortation), a Levite, a man of Cyprus by race,³⁷ having a field, sold it, and brought the money and laid it at the apostles' feet.

5 But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira, his wife, sold a possession,² and kept back part of the price, his wife also being aware of it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.³ But Kayapaa said, "Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit, and to keep back part of the price of the land?⁴ While you kept it, didn't it remain your own? After it was sold, wasn't it in your power? How is it that you have conceived this thing in your heart? You haven't lied to men, but to Alahayam."⁵ Ananias, hearing these words, fell down and died. Great fear came on all who heard these things.⁶ The young men arose and wrapped him up, and they carried him out and buried him.⁷ About three hours later, his wife, not knowing what was had happened, came in.⁸ Kayapaa answered her, "Tell me whether you sold the land for so much." She said, "Yes, for so much."⁹ But Kayapaa asked her, "How is it that you have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Adanay? Behold, the feet of those who have buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out."

¹⁰ She fell down immediately at his feet, and died. The young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her by her husband.¹¹ Great fear came on the whole assembly, and on all who heard these things.¹² By the hands of the apostles many signs and wonders were done among the people. They were all with one accord in Shalahmah's porch.¹³ None of the rest dared to join them, however the people honored them.¹⁴ More believers were added to the Adanay, multitudes of both men and women.¹⁵ They even carried out the sick into the streets, and laid them on cots and mattresses, so that as Kayapaa came by, at the least his shadow might overshadow some of them.¹⁶ Multitudes also came together from the cities around Yarawashalam, bringing sick people, and those who were tormented by unclean spirits: and they were all healed.¹⁷ But the high priest rose up, and all those who were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees), and they were filled with jealousy,¹⁸ and laid hands on the apostles, and put them in public custody.¹⁹ But an angel of the Adanay opened the prison doors by night, and brought them out, and said,²⁰ "Go stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life."²¹ When they heard this, they entered into the temple about daybreak, and taught. But the high priest came, and those who were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Yasharaal, and sent to the prison to have them brought.²² But the officers who came didn't find them in the prison. They returned and reported,²³ "We found the prison shut and locked, and the guards standing before the doors, but when we had opened it up, we found no one inside."²⁴ Now when the high priest, the captain of the temple, and the chief priests heard these words, they were very perplexed about them and what might become of this.²⁵ One came and told them, "Behold, the men whom you put in prison are in the temple, standing and teaching the people."²⁶ Then the captain went with the officers, and brought them without violence, for they were afraid that the people might stone them.²⁷ When they had brought them, they set them before the council. The high priest questioned them,²⁸ saying, "Didn't we strictly charge you not to teach in this name? Behold, you have filled Yarawashalam with your teaching, and intend to bring this man's blood on us."²⁹ But Kayapaa and the apostles answered, "We must obey Alahayam rather than men."³⁰ The Alahayam of our fathers raised up Yashawai, whom you killed, hanging him on a tree.³¹ Alahayam exalted him with his right hand to be a Prince and a Savior, to give repentance to Yasharaal, and remission of sins.³² We are His witnesses of these things; and so also is the Holy Spirit, whom Alahayam has given to those who obey him."³³ But they, when they heard this, were cut to the heart, and determined to kill them.³⁴ But one stood up in the council, a Pharisee named Gamalayaal, a teacher of the law, honored by all the people, and commanded to take the apostles out a little while.³⁵ He said to them, "You men of Yasharaal, be careful concerning these men, what you are about to do."³⁶ For before these days Theudas rose up, making himself out to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed, and came to nothing.³⁷ After this man, Yahawadah of Galalay rose up in the days of the enrollment, and drew away some people after him. He also perished, and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad.³⁸ Now I tell you, refrain from these men, and leave them alone. For if this counsel or this work is of men, it will be overthrown.³⁹ But if it is of Alahayam, you will not be able to overthrow it, and you would be found even to be fighting against Alahayam."⁴⁰ They agreed with him. When they had called the apostles to them, they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Yashawai, and let them go.⁴¹ They therefore departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonor for Yashawai's name.⁴² Every day, in the temple and at home, they never stopped teaching and preaching Yashawai, the Mashayah.

6 Now in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplying, there arose a grumbling of the Grecian Jews against the Hebrews because their widows were neglected in the daily service.² The twelve called the multitude of the disciples to them and said, "It is not appropriate for us to forsake the word of Alahayam and serve tables.³ Therefore select from among you, brothers, seven men of good report, full of the Holy Spirit and of wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business."⁴ But we will continue steadfastly in prayer and in the ministry of the word."⁵ These words pleased the whole multitude. They chose Satapan, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, Payalayapawas, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolaus, a proselyte of Antioch;⁶ whom they set before the apostles. When they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.⁷ The word of Alahayam increased and the number of the disciples multiplied in Yarawashalam exceedingly. A great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.⁸ Satapan, full of faith and power, performed great wonders and signs among the people.⁹ But some of those who were of the synagogue called "The Libertines," and of the Cyrenians, of the Alexandrians, and of those of Cilicia and Asia arose, disputing with Satapan.¹⁰ They weren't able to withstand the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke.¹¹ Then they secretly induced men who said, "We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Mashah and Alahayam."¹² They stirred up the people, the elders, and the scribes, and came on him and seized him, and brought him in to the council,¹³ and set up false witnesses who said, "This man never stops speaking blasphemous words against this holy place and the law."¹⁴ For we have heard him say that this Yashawai of Natzarath will destroy this place, and will change the customs which Mashah delivered to us."¹⁵ All who sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face like it was the face of an angel.

7 The high priest said, "Are these things so?"² He said, "Brothers and fathers, listen. The Alahayam of glory appeared to our father Abaraham, when he was in Aram, before he lived in Charan,³ and said to him, 'Get out of your land, and from your relatives, and come into a land which I will show you.'⁴ Then he came out of the land of the Chaldaeans, and lived in Charan. From there, when his father was dead, Alahayam moved him into this land, where you are now living.⁵ He gave him no inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on. He promised that he would give it to him in possession, and to his seed after him, when he still had no child.⁶ Alahayam spoke thus, that his seed would live as aliens in a strange land, and that they would be enslaved and mistreated for four hundred years.⁷ 'I will judge the nation to which they will be in bondage,' said Alahayam, 'and after that will they come out, and serve me in this place.⁸ He gave him the covenant of circumcision. So Abaraham became the father of Yatzachaq, and circumcised him the eighth day. Yatzachaq became the father of Yaiqab, and Yaiqab became the father of the twelve patriarchs.⁹ The patriarchs, moved with jealousy against Yawasap, sold him into Matzarayam. Alahayam was with him,¹⁰ and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favor and wisdom before Paraih, king of Matzarayam. He made him governor over Matzarayam and all his house.¹¹ Now a famine came over all the land of Matzarayam and Kanain, and great affliction. Our fathers found no food.¹² But when Yaiqab heard that there was grain in Matzarayam, he sent forth our fathers the first time.¹³ On the second time Yawasap was made known to his brothers, and Yawasap's race was revealed to Paraih.¹⁴ Yawasap sent, and called Yaiqab, his father, to him, and all his relatives, seventy-five souls.¹⁵ Yaiqab went down into Matzarayam, and he died, himself and our fathers,¹⁶ and they were brought back to Shakam, and laid in the tomb that Abaraham bought for a price in silver from the sons of Chamawar of Shakam.¹⁷ But as the time of the promise came close which Alahayam swore to Abaraham, the people grew and multiplied in Matzarayam,¹⁸ until there arose a different king, who didn't know Yawasap.¹⁹ The same dealt slyly with our race, and mistreated our fathers, that they should throw out their babies, so that they wouldn't stay alive.²⁰ At that time Mashah was born, and was exceedingly handsome. He was nourished three months in his father's house.²¹ When he was thrown out, Paraih's daughter took him up, and reared him as her own son.²² Mashah was instructed in all the wisdom of the Matzarayam. He was mighty in his words and works.²³ But when he was forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brothers, the children of Yasharaal.²⁴ Seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him who was oppressed, striking the Matzarayam.²⁵ He supposed that his brothers understood that Alahayam, by his hand, was giving them deliverance; but they didn't understand.²⁶ The day following, he appeared to them as they fought, and urged them to be at peace again, saying, 'Sirs, you are brothers. Why do you wrong one to another?'²⁷ But he who did his neighbor wrong pushed him away, saying, 'Who made you a ruler and a judge over us?'²⁸ Do you want to kill me, as you killed the Matzarayam yesterday?'²⁹ Mashah fled at this saying, and became an alien in the land of Madayan, where he became the father of two sons.³⁰ When forty years were fulfilled, an angel of the Adanay appeared to him in the wilderness of Mount Sayanay, in a flame of fire in a bush.³¹ When Mashah saw it, he wondered at the sight. As he came close to see, a voice of the Adanay came to him,³² 'I am the Alahayam of your fathers, the Alahayam of Abaraham, the Alahayam of Yatzachaq, and the Alahayam of Yaiqab.' Mashah trembled, and dared not look.³³ The Adanay said to him, 'Take your sandals off of your feet, for the place where you stand is holy ground.'³⁴ I have surely seen the affliction of my people that is in Matzarayam, and have heard their groaning. I have come down to deliver them. Now come, I will send you into Matzarayam.'³⁵ 'This Mashah, whom they refused, saying, 'Who made you a ruler and a judge?' -- Alahayam has sent him as both a ruler and a deliverer with the hand of the angel who appeared to him in the bush.'³⁶ This man led them forth, having worked wonders and signs in Matzarayam, in the Sawap, and in the wilderness forty years.³⁷ This is that Mashah, who said to the children of Yasharaal, 'The Adanay Alahayam will raise up a prophet to you from among your brothers, like me.'³⁸ This is he who was in the assembly in the wilderness with the angel that spoke to him in the Mount Sayanay, and with our fathers, who received living oracles to give to us,³⁹ to whom our fathers wouldn't be obedient, but rejected him, and turned back in their hearts to Matzarayam,⁴⁰ saying to Aharan, 'Make us gods that will go before us, for as for this Mashah, who led us forth out of the land of Matzarayam, we don't know what has become of him.'⁴¹ They made a calf in those days, and brought a sacrifice to the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their hands.⁴² But Alahayam turned, and gave them up to serve the host of the sky, as it is written in the book of the prophets, 'Did you offer to me slain animals and sacrifices Forty years in the wilderness, O house of Yasharaal?'⁴³ You took up the tent of Moloch, The star of your god Rephan, The figures which you made to worship. I will carry you away beyond Babal.'⁴⁴ 'Our fathers had the tent of the testimony in the wilderness, even as he who spoke to Mashah appointed, that he should make it according to the pattern that he had seen.'⁴⁵ Which also our fathers, in their turn, brought in with Yahawashai when they entered into the possession of the nations, whom Alahayam drove out before the face of our fathers, to the days of Dawad,⁴⁶ who found favor in the sight of Alahayam, and asked to find a habitation for the Alahayam of Yaiqab.⁴⁷ But Shalamah built him a house.⁴⁸ However, the Ilayawan doesn't dwell in temples made with hands, as the prophet says, 'heaven is my throne, And the earth the footstool of my feet. What kind of house will you build me?' says the Adanay; 'Or what is the place of my rest?'⁴⁹ Didn't my hand make all these things?'⁵⁰ 'You stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, you always resist the Holy Spirit! As your fathers did, so you do.'⁵¹ Which of the prophets didn't your fathers persecute? They killed those who foretold the coming of the Righteous One, of whom you have now become betrayers and murderers.⁵² You received the law as it was ordained by angels, and didn't keep it!'⁵³ Now when they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed at him with their teeth.⁵⁴ But he, being full of the Holy Spirit, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of Alahayam, and Yashawai standing on the right hand of Alahayam,⁵⁵ and said, 'Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of Man standing on the right hand of Alahayam!'⁵⁶ But they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and rushed at him with one accord.⁵⁷ They threw him out of the city, and stoned him. The witnesses placed their garments at the feet of a young man named Shaawal.⁵⁸ They stoned Satapan, as he called on the Adanay, saying, 'Adanay Yashawai, receive my Spirit!'⁵⁹ He kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, 'Adanay, don't hold this sin against them!' When he had said this, he fell asleep.

8 Shaawal was consenting to his death. A great persecution arose against the assembly which was in Yarawashalam in that day. They were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Yahawadah and Shamarawan, except for the apostles.¹ Devout men buried Satapan, and lamented greatly over him.² But Shaawal ravaged the assembly, entering into every house, and dragged both men and women off to prison.³ Therefore those who were scattered abroad went around preaching the word.⁴ Payalayapawas went down to the city of Shamarawan, and proclaimed to them the Mashayach.⁵ The multitudes listened with one accord to the things that were spoken by Payalayapawas, when they heard and saw the signs which he did.⁶ For unclean spirits came out of many of those who had them. They came out, crying with a loud voice. Many who had been paralyzed and lame were healed.⁷ There was great joy in that city.⁸ But there was a certain man, Shamaian by name, who had used sorcery in the city before, and amazed the people of Shamarawan, making himself out to be some great one,⁹ to whom they all listened, from the least to the greatest, saying, 'This man is that great power of Alahayam.'¹⁰ They listened to him, because for a long time he had amazed them with his sorceries.¹¹ But when they believed Payalayapawas preaching good news concerning the kingdom of Alahayam and the name of Yashawai Mashayach, they were baptized, both men and women.¹² Shamaian himself also believed. Being baptized, he continued with Payalayapawas. Seeing signs and great miracles done, he was amazed.¹³ Now when the apostles who were at Yarawashalam heard that Shamarawan had received the word of Alahayam, they sent Kayapaa and Yawachanan to them,¹⁴ who, when they had come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Spirit;¹⁵ for as yet he had fallen on none of them. They had only been baptized into the name of the Adanay Yashawai.¹⁶ Then they laid their hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit.¹⁷ Now when Shamaian saw that the Holy Spirit was given through the laying on of the apostles' hands, he offered them money,¹⁸ saying, 'Give me also this power, that whoever I lay my hands on may receive the Holy Spirit."²⁰ But Kayapaa said to him, "May your silver perish with you, because you thought you could obtain the gift of Alahayam with money!"²¹ You have neither part nor lot in this matter, for your heart isn't right before Alahayam.²² Repent therefore of this, your wickedness, and ask Alahayam if perhaps the thought of your heart may be forgiven you.²³ For I see that you are in the gall of bitterness and in the bondage of iniquity."²⁴ Shamaiwan answered, "Pray for me to the Adanay, that none of the things which you have spoken come on me."²⁵ They therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Adanay, returned to Yarawashalam, and preached the gospel to many villages of the Samaritans.²⁶ But an angel of the Adanay spoke to Payalayapawas, saying, "Arise, and go toward the south to the way that goes down from Yarawashalam to Izah. This is a desert."²⁷ He arose and went. Behold, there was a man of Kawash, a eunuch of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasure, who had come to Yarawashalam to worship.²⁸ He was returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the prophet Yashaiyahaw.²⁹ The Spirit said to Payalayapawas, "Go near, and join yourself to this chariot."³⁰ Payalayapawas ran to him, and heard him reading Yashaiyahaw the prophet, and said, "Do you understand you what you are reading?"³¹ He said, "How can I, unless someone explains it to me?" He begged Payalayapawas to come up and sit with him.³² Now the passage of the Scripture which he was reading was this, "He was led as a sheep to the slaughter. As a lamb before his shearer is silent, So he doesn't open his mouth."³³ In his humiliation, his judgment was taken away. Who will declare His generations? For his life is taken from the earth."³⁴ The eunuch answered Payalayapawas, "Please tell who the prophet is talking about: about himself, or about some other?"³⁵ Payalayapawas opened his mouth, and beginning from this Scripture, preached to him Yashawai.³⁶ As they went on the way, they came to some water, and the eunuch said, "Behold, here is water. What is keeping me from being baptized?"³⁷ dummy verses inserted by amos³⁸ He commanded the chariot to stand still, and they both went down into the water, both Payalayapawas and the eunuch, and he baptized him.³⁹ When they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Adanay caught Payalayapawas away, and the eunuch didn't see him any more, for he went on his way rejoicing.⁴⁰ But Payalayapawas was found at Azotus. Passing through, he preached the gospel to all the cities, until he came to Caesarea.

9 But Shaawal, still breathing threats and slaughter against the disciples of the Adanay, went to the high priest,² and asked for letters from him to the synagogues of Damashaq, that if he found any who were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Yarawashalam.³ As he traveled, it happened that he got close to Damashaq, and suddenly a light from the sky shone around him.⁴ He fell on the earth, and heard a voice saying to him, "Shaawal, Shaawal, why do you persecute me?"⁵ He said, "Who are you, Adanay?" The Adanay said, "I am Yashawai, whom you are persecuting."⁶ But rise up, and enter into the city, and you will be told what you must do."⁷ The men who traveled with him stood speechless, hearing the voice, but seeing no one.⁸ Shaawal arose from the ground, and when his eyes were opened, he saw no one. They led him by the hand, and brought him into Damashaq.⁹ He was without sight for three days, and neither ate nor drank.¹⁰ Now there was a certain disciple at Damashaq named Ananias. The Adanay said to him in a vision, "Ananias!" He said, "Behold, it's me, Adanay."¹¹ The Adanay said to him, "Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Yahawadah for one named Shaawal, a man of Tarsus. For behold, he is praying,¹² and in a vision he has seen a man named Ananias coming in, and laying his hands on him, that he might receive his sight."¹³ But Ananias answered, "Adanay, I have heard from many about this man, how much evil he did to your saints at Yarawashalam.¹⁴ Here he has authority from the chief priests to bind all who call on your name."¹⁵ But the Adanay said to him, "Go your way, for he is my chosen vessel to bear my name before the nations and kings, and the children of Yasharaal.¹⁶ For I will show him how many things he must suffer for my name's sake."¹⁷ Ananias departed, and entered into the house. Laying his hands on him, he said, "Brother Shaawal, the Adanay, who appeared to you in the way which you came, has sent me, that you may receive your sight, and be filled with the Holy Spirit."¹⁸ Immediately there fell from his eyes as it were scales, and he received his sight. He arose and was baptized.¹⁹ He took food and was strengthened. Shaawal stayed several days with the disciples who were at Damashaq.²⁰ Immediately in the synagogues he proclaimed the Mashayach, that he is the Son of Alahayam.²¹ All who heard him were amazed, and said, "Isn't this he who in Yarawashalam made havoc of those who called on this name? And he had come here intending to bring them bound before the chief priests!"²² But Shaawal increased more in strength, and confounded the Jews who lived at Damashaq, proving that this is the Mashayach.²³ When many days were fulfilled, the Jews conspired together to kill him,²⁴ but their plot became known to Shaawal. They watched the gates both day and night that they might kill him,²⁵ but his disciples took him by night, and let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket.²⁶ When Shaawal had come to Yarawashalam, he tried to join himself to the disciples. They were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple.²⁷ But Baranab took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared to them how he had seen the Adanay in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how at Damashaq he had preached boldly in the name of Yashawai.²⁸ He was with them going in and going out at Yarawashalam,²⁹ preaching boldly in the name of the Adanay. He spoke and disputed against the Grecian Jews, but they were seeking to kill him.³⁰ When the brothers knew it, they brought him down to Caesarea, and sent him out to Tarsus.³¹ So the assemblies throughout all Yahawadah and Galayal and Shamarawan had peace, and were built up. They were multiplied, walking in the fear of the Adanay and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit.³² It happened, as Kayapaa went throughout all those parts, he came down also to the saints who lived at Lydda.³³ There he found a certain man named Aeneas, who had been bedridden for eight years, because he was paralyzed.³⁴ Kayapaa said to him, "Aeneas, Yashawai Mashayach heals you. Get up and make your bed!" Immediately he arose.³⁵ All who lived at Lydda and in Sharawan saw him, and they turned to the Adanay.³⁶ Now there was at Yapaw a certain disciple named Tabitha, which when translated, means Dorcas. This woman was full of good works and acts of mercy which she did.³⁷ It happened in those days that she fell sick, and died. When they had washed her, they laid her in an upper chamber.³⁸ As Lydda was near Yapaw, the disciples, hearing that Kayapaa was there, sent two men to him, imploring him not to delay in coming to them.³⁹ Kayapaa got up and went with them. When he had come, they brought him into the upper chamber. All the widows stood by him weeping, and showing the coats and garments which Dorcas made while she was with them.⁴⁰ Kayapaa put them all out, and kneeled down and prayed. Turning to the body, he said, "Tabitha, get up!" She opened her eyes, and when she saw Kayapaa, she sat up.⁴¹ He gave her his hand, and raised her up. Calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive.⁴² It became known throughout all Yapaw, and many believed in the Adanay.⁴³ It happened, that he stayed many days in Yapaw with one Shamaiwan, a tanner.

10 Now there was a certain man in Caesarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of what was called the Italian Regiment,² a devout man, and one who feared Alahayam with all his house, who gave alms generously to the people, and always prayed to Alahayam.³ At about the ninth hour of the day, he clearly saw in a vision an angel of Alahayam coming to him, and saying to him, "Cornelius!"⁴ He, fastening his eyes on him, and being frightened, said, "What is it, Adanay?" He said to him, "Your prayers and your alms have gone up for a memorial before Alahayam.⁵ Now send men to Yapaw, and get one Shamaiwan, who is surnamed Kayapaa.⁶ He lodges with one Shamaiwan a tanner, whose house is by the seaside."⁷ When the angel who spoke to him had departed, Cornelius called

two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of those who waited on him continually.⁸ Having explained everything to them, he sent them to Yapaw.⁹ Now on the next day, as they were on their journey, and got close to the city, Kayapaa went up on the housetop to pray, at about noon.¹⁰ He became hungry, and desired to eat, but while they were preparing, he fell into a trance.¹¹ He saw heaven opened, and a certain container descending to him, like a great sheet, let down by four corners on the earth,¹² in which were all kinds of four-footed animals of the earth, wild animals, reptiles, and birds of the sky.¹³ A voice came to him, "Rise, Kayapaa, kill and eat!"¹⁴ But Kayapaa said, "Not so, Adanay; for I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean."¹⁵ A voice came to him again the second time, "What Alahayam has cleansed, you must not make unholy."¹⁶ This was done three times, and immediately the vessel was received up into heaven.¹⁷ Now while Kayapaa was very perplexed in himself what the vision which he had seen might mean, behold, the men who were sent by Cornelius, having made inquiry for Shamaiwan's house, stood before the gate,¹⁸ and called and asked whether Shamaiwan, who was surnamed Kayapaa, was lodging there.¹⁹ While Kayapaa thought about the vision, the Spirit said to him, "Behold, three men seek you."²⁰ But arise, get down, and go with them, doubting nothing; for I have sent them."²¹ Kayapaa went down to the men, and said, "Behold, I am he whom you seek. Why have you come?"²² They said, "Cornelius a centurion, a righteous man and one who fears Alahayam, and well spoken of by all the nation of the Jews, was directed by a holy angel to invite you to his house, and to listen to what you say."²³ So he called them in and lodged them. On the next day Kayapaa arose and went out with them, and some of the brothers from Yapaw accompanied him.²⁴ On the next day they entered into Caesarea. Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his relatives and his near friends.²⁵ When it happened that Kayapaa entered, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him.²⁶ But Kayapaa raised him up, saying, "Stand up! I myself am also a man."²⁷ As he talked with him, he went in, and found many come together.²⁸ He said to them, "You yourselves know how it is an unlawful thing for a man who is a Yahawaday to join himself or come to one of another nation, but Alahayam has shown me that I shouldn't call any man unholy or unclean."²⁹ Therefore also I came without complaint when I was sent for. I ask therefore, why did you send for me?"³⁰ Cornelius said, "Four days ago, I was fasting until this hour, and at the ninth hour, I prayed in my house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing,³¹ and said, 'Cornelius, your prayer is heard, and your alms are remembered in the sight of Alahayam.'³² Send therefore to Yapaw, and call to you Shamaiwan, who is surnamed Kayapaa. He lodges in the house of Shamaiwan a tanner, by the seaside. When he comes, he will speak to you."³³ Therefore I sent to you at once, and it was good of you to come. Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of Alahayam to hear all things that have been commanded you by Alahayam."³⁴ Kayapaa opened his mouth and said, "Truly I perceive that Alahayam doesn't show favoritism,³⁵ but in every nation he who fears him, and works righteousness, is acceptable to him."³⁶ The word which he sent to the children of Yasharaal, preaching good news of peace by Yashawai Mashayach (he is Adanay of all):³⁷ that spoken word you yourselves know, which was proclaimed throughout all Yahawadah, beginning from Galayal, after the baptism which Yawachanan preached;³⁸ even Yashawai of Natzarath, how Alahayam anointed him with the Holy Spirit and with power, who went about doing good, and healing all who were oppressed by the devil; for Alahayam was with him.³⁹ We are witnesses of all things which he did both in the country of the Jews, and in Yarawashalam; whom they also killed, hanging him on a tree.⁴⁰ Alahayam raised him up the third day, and gave him to be revealed,⁴¹ not to all the people, but to witnesses who were chosen before by Alahayam, to us, who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead.⁴² He charged us to preach to the people, and to testify that this is he who is appointed by Alahayam as the Judge of the living and the dead.⁴³ All the prophets testify about him, that through his name everyone who believes in him will receive remission of sins."⁴⁴ While Kayapaa was still speaking these words, the Holy Spirit fell on all those who heard the word.⁴⁵ They of the circumcision who believed were amazed, as many as came with Kayapaa, because the gift of the Holy Spirit was also poured out on the Gentiles.⁴⁶ For they heard them speak with other languages, and magnify Alahayam. Then Kayapaa answered,⁴⁷ "Can any man forbid the water, that these who have received the Holy Spirit as well as we should not be baptized,?"⁴⁸ He commanded them to be baptized in the name of Yashawai Mashayach. Then they asked him to stay some days.

11 Now the apostles and the brothers who were in Yahawadah heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of Alahayam.² When Kayapaa had come up to Yarawashalam, those who were of the circumcision contended with him,³ saying, "You went in to uncircumcised men, and ate with them!"⁴ But Kayapaa began, and explained to them in order, saying,⁵ "I was in the city of Yapaw praying, and in a trance I saw a vision: a certain container descending, like it was a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners. It came as far as me,⁶ on which, when I had looked intently, I considered, and saw the four-footed animals of the earth, wild animals, creeping things, and birds of the sky.⁷ I also heard a voice saying to me, 'Rise, Kayapaa, kill and eat!'⁸ But I said, 'Not so, Adanay, for nothing unholy or unclean has ever entered into my mouth.'⁹ But a voice answered me the second time out of heaven, 'What Alahayam has cleansed, don't you make unholy.'¹⁰ This was done three times, and all were drawn up again into heaven.¹¹ Behold, immediately three men stood before the house where I was, having been sent from Caesarea to me."¹² The Spirit told me to go with them, without discriminating. These six brothers also accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house.¹³ He told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying to him, 'Send to Yapaw, and get Shamaiwan, whose surname is Kayapaa,¹⁴ who will speak to you words whereby you will be saved, you and all your house.'¹⁵ As I began to speak, the Holy Spirit fell on them, even as on us at the beginning.¹⁶ I remembered the word of the Adanay, how he said, 'Yawachanan indeed baptized with water, but you will be baptized in the Holy Spirit.'¹⁷ If then Alahayam gave to them the same gift as us, when we believed in the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, who was I, that I could withstand Alahayam?"¹⁸ When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified Alahayam, saying, "Then Alahayam has also granted to the Gentiles repentance to life!"¹⁹ They therefore who were scattered abroad by the oppression that arose about Satapan traveled as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to no one except only to Jews.²⁰ But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they had come to Antioch, spoke to the Greeks, preaching the Adanay Yashawai.²¹ The hand of the Adanay was with them, and a great number believed and turned to the Adanay.²² The report concerning them came to the ears of the assembly which was in Yarawashalam. They sent forth Baranab to go as far as Antioch,²³ who, when he had come, and had seen the grace of Alahayam, was glad. He exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would remain near to the Adanay.²⁴ For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Spirit and of faith, and many people were added to the Adanay.²⁵ Baranab went forth to Tarsus to look for Shaawal.²⁶ When he had found him, he brought him to Antioch. It happened, that even for a whole year they were gathered together with the assembly, and taught many people. The disciples were first called Christians in Antioch.²⁷ Now in these days, prophets came down from Yarawashalam to Antioch.²⁸ One of them named Agabus stood up, and indicated by the Spirit that there should be a great famine over all the world, which also happened in the days of Claudius.²⁹ The disciples, as anyone had plenty, each determined to send relief to the brothers who lived in Yahawadah;³⁰ which they also did, sending it to the elders by the hands of Baranab and Shaawal.

12 Now about that time, Hawaradawas the king put forth his hands to oppress some of the assembly.² He killed Yaiqab, the brother of Yawachanan, with the sword.³ When he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Kayapaa also. This was during the days of unleavened bread.⁴ When he had captured him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four squads of four soldiers each to guard him, intending to bring him out to the people after the Passover.⁵ Kayapaa therefore was kept in the prison, but constant prayer was made by the assembly to Alahayam for him.⁶ The same night when Hawaradawas was about to bring him out, Kayapaa was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains. Guards in front of the door kept the prison.⁷ Behold, an angel of the Adanay stood by him, and a light shone in the cell. He struck Kayapaa on the side, and woke him up, saying, "Stand up quickly!" His chains fell off from his hands.⁸ The angel said to him, "Paw at your clothes, and tie on your sandals." He did so. He said to him, "Wrap your cloak around you, and follow me."⁹ He went out, and followed him. He didn't know that what was done by the angel was real, but thought he saw a vision.¹⁰ When they were past the first and the second guard, they came to the iron gate that leads into the city, which opened to them by itself. They went out, and passed on through one street, and immediately the angel departed from him.¹¹ When Kayapaa had come to himself, he said, "Now I truly know that the Adanay has sent forth his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Hawaradawas, and from everything the Jewish people were expecting."¹² Thinking about that, he came to the house of Marayam, the mother of Yawachanan whose surname was Mark, where many were gathered together and were praying.¹³ When Kayapaa knocked at the door of the gate, a maid named Rhoda came to answer.¹⁴ When she recognized Kayapaa's voice, she didn't open the gate for joy, but ran in, and reported that Kayapaa stood before the gate.¹⁵ They said to her, "You are crazy!" But she insisted that it was so. They said, "It is his angel."¹⁶ But Kayapaa continued knocking. When they had opened, they saw him, and were amazed.¹⁷ But he, beckoning to them with his hand to be silent, declared to them how the Adanay had brought him forth out of the prison. He said, "Tell these things to Yaiqab, and to the brothers." He departed, and went to another place.¹⁸ Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers about what had become of Kayapaa.¹⁹ When Hawaradawas had sought for him, and didn't find him, he examined the guards, and commanded that they should be put to death. He went down from Yahawadah to Caesarea, and stayed there.²⁰ Now Hawaradawas was highly displeased with those of Tzar and Tzayadawan. They came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus, the king's chamberlain, their friend, they asked for peace, because their country depended on the king's country for food.²¹ On an appointed day, Hawaradawas dressed himself in royal clothing, sat on the throne, and gave a speech to them.²² The people shouted, "The voice of a god, and not of a man!"²³ Immediately an angel of the Adanay struck him, because he didn't give Alahayam the glory, and he was eaten by worms, and he died.²⁴ But the word of Alahayam grew and multiplied.²⁵ Baranab and Shaawal returned to Yarawashalam, when they had fulfilled their service, also taking with them Yawachanan whose surname was Mark.

13 Now in the assembly that was at Antioch there were some prophets and teachers: Baranab, Shamaian who was called Niger, Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen the foster-brother of Hawaradawas the tetrarch, and Shaawal.² As they served the Adanay and fasted, the Holy Spirit said, "Separate Baranab and Shaawal for me, for the work to which I have called them."³ Then, when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.⁴ So, being sent forth by the Holy Spirit, they went down to Seleucia. From there they sailed to Cyprus.⁵ When they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of Alahayam in the synagogues of the Jews. They had also Yawachanan as their attendant.⁶ When they had gone through the island to Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Yahawaday, whose name was Bar-Yashawai,⁷ who was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. The same called Baranab and Shaawal to him, and sought to hear the word of Alahayam.⁸ But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn aside the proconsul from the faith.⁹ But Shaawal, who is also called Shaawal, filled with the Holy Spirit, fastened his eyes on him,¹⁰ and said, "Full of all deceit and all cunning, you son of the devil, you enemy of all righteousness, will you not cease to pervert the right ways of the Adanay?"¹¹ Now, behold, the hand of the Adanay is on you, and you will be blind, not seeing the sun for a season!" Immediately there fell on him a mist and darkness. He went around seeking someone to lead him by the hand.¹² Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the teaching of the Adanay.¹³ Now Shaawal and his company set sail from Paphos, and came to Perga in Pamphylia. Yawachanan departed from them and returned to Yarawashalam.¹⁴ But they, passing through from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia. They went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and sat down.¹⁵ After the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying, "Brothers, if you have any word of exhortation for the people, speak."¹⁶ Shaawal stood up, and beckoning with his hand said, "Men of Yasharaal, and you who fear Alahayam, listen.¹⁷ The Alahayam of this people Yasharaal chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they stayed as aliens in the land of Matzarayam, and with an uplifted arm, he led them forth out of it.¹⁸ For about the time of forty years he put up with them in the wilderness.¹⁹ When he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Kanain, he gave them their land for an inheritance, for about four hundred and fifty years.²⁰ After these things he gave them judges until Shamawaal, the prophet.²¹ Afterward they asked for a king, and Alahayam gave to them Shaawal, the son of Qayash, a man of the tribe of Banayaman, for forty years.²² When he had removed him, he raised up Dawad to be their king, to whom he also testified, 'I have found Dawad, the son of Yashay, a man after my heart, who will do all my will.'²³ From this man's seed, Alahayam has brought salvation to Yasharaal according to his promise,²⁴ before his coming, when Yawachanan had first preached the baptism of repentance to all the people of Yasharaal.²⁵ As Yawachanan was fulfilling his course, he said, 'What do you suppose that I am? I am not he. But behold, there comes one after me the sandals of whose feet I am not worthy to untie.'²⁶ Brothers, children of the stock of Abaraham, and those among you who fear Alahayam, the word of this salvation is sent forth to you.²⁷ For those who dwell in Yarawashalam, and their rulers, because they didn't know him, nor the voices of the prophets which are read every Sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him.²⁸ Though they found no cause of death, they still asked Payalatawas to have him killed.²⁹ When they had fulfilled all things that were written about him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a tomb.³⁰ But Alahayam raised him from the dead,³¹ and he was seen for many days by those who came up with him from Galayal to Yarawashalam, who are his witnesses to the people.³² We bring you good news of the promise made to the fathers,³³ that Alahayam has fulfilled the same to us, their children, in that he raised up Yashawai. As it is also written in the second psalm, 'You are my Son. Today I have become your father.'³⁴ "Concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he has spoken thus: 'I will give you the holy and sure blessings of Dawad.'³⁵ Therefore he says also in another psalm, 'You will not allow your Holy One to see decay.'³⁶ For Dawad, after he had in his own generation served the counsel of Alahayam, fell asleep, and was laid with his fathers, and saw decay.³⁷ But he whom Alahayam raised up saw no decay.³⁸ Be it known to you therefore, brothers, that through this man is proclaimed to you remission of sins,³⁹ and by him everyone who believes is justified from all things, from which you could not be justified by the law of Mashah.⁴⁰ Beware therefore, lest that come on you which is spoken in the prophets:⁴¹ 'Behold, you scoffers, and wonder, and perish; For I work a work in your days, a work which you will in no way believe, if one declares it to you.'⁴² So when the Jews went out of the synagogue, the Gentiles begged that these words might be preached to them the next Sabbath.⁴³ Now when the synagogue broke up, many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes followed Shaawal and Baranab; who, speaking to them, urged them to continue in the grace of Alahayam.⁴⁴ The next Sabbath almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of Alahayam.⁴⁵ But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Shaawal, and blasphemed.⁴⁶ Shaawal and Baranab spoke out boldly, and said, "It was necessary that Alahayam's word should be spoken to you first. Since indeed you thrust it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, behold, we turn to the Gentiles.⁴⁷ For so has the Adanay commanded us, saying, 'I have set you as a light of the Gentiles, That you should be for salvation to the uttermost parts of the earth.'" ⁴⁸ As the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of Alahayam. As many as were appointed to eternal life believed.⁴⁹ The Adanay's word was spread abroad throughout all the region.⁵⁰ But the Jews urged on the devout women of honorable estate, and the chief men of the city, and stirred up a persecution against Shaawal and Baranab, and threw them out of their borders.⁵¹ But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came to Iconium.⁵² The disciples were filled with joy with the Holy Spirit.

14 It happened in Iconium that they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spoke that a great multitude both of Jews and of Greeks believed.² But the disobedient Jews stirred up and embittered the souls of the Gentiles against the brothers.³ Therefore they stayed there a long time, speaking boldly in the Adanay, who testified to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands.⁴ But the multitude of the city was divided. Part sided with the Jews, and part with the apostles.⁵ When some of both the Gentiles and the Jews, with their rulers, made a violent attempt to insult them and to stone them,⁶ they became aware of it, and fled to the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra, Derbe, and the surrounding region.⁷ There they preached the gospel.⁸ At Lystra a certain man sat, impotent in his feet, a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked.⁹ He was listening to Shaawal speaking, who, fastening eyes on him, and seeing that he had faith to be made whole,¹⁰ said with a loud voice, "Stand upright on your feet!" He leaped up and walked.¹¹ When the multitude saw what Shaawal had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the language of Lycaonia, "The gods have come down to us in the likeness of men!"¹² They called Baranab "Jupiter," and Shaawal "Mercury," because he was the chief speaker.¹³ The priest of Jupiter, whose temple was in front of their city, brought oxen and garlands to the gates, and would have made a sacrifice with the multitudes.¹⁴ But when the apostles, Baranab and Shaawal, heard of it, they tore their clothes, and sprang into the multitude, crying out,¹⁵ "Men, why are you doing these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and bring you good news, that you should turn from these vain things to the living Alahayam, who made the sky and the earth and the sea, and all that is in them;¹⁶ who in the generations gone by allowed all the nations to walk in their own ways.¹⁷ Yet he didn't leave himself without witness, in that he did good and gave you rains from the sky and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness."¹⁸ Even saying these things, they hardly stopped the multitudes from making a sacrifice to them.¹⁹ But some Jews from Antioch and Iconium came there, and having persuaded the multitudes, they stoned Shaawal, and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead.²⁰ But as the disciples stood around him, he rose up, and entered into the city. On the next day he went out with Baranab to Derbe.²¹ When they had preached the gospel to that city, and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, Iconium, and Antioch,²² confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through many afflictions we must enter into the kingdom of Alahayam.²³ When they had appointed elders for them in every assembly, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Adanay, on whom they had believed.²⁴ They passed through Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia.²⁵ When they had spoken the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia.²⁶ From there they sailed to Antioch, from where they had been committed to the grace of Alahayam for the work which they had fulfilled.²⁷ When they had arrived, and had gathered the assembly together, they reported all the things that Alahayam had done with them, and that he had opened a door of faith to the Gentiles.²⁸ They stayed there with the disciples for a long time.

15 Some men came down from Yahawadah and taught the brothers, "Unless you are circumcised after the custom of Mashah, you can't be saved."² Therefore when Shaawal and Baranab had no small discord and discussion with them, they appointed Shaawal and Baranab, and some others of them, to go up to Yawawashalam to the apostles and elders about this question.³ They, being sent on their way by the assembly, passed through both Phoenicia and Shamarawan, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles. They caused great joy to all the brothers.⁴ When they had come to Yawawashalam, they were received by the assembly and the apostles and the elders, and they reported all things that Alahayam had done with them.⁵ But some of the sect of the Pharisees who believed rose up, saying, "It is necessary to circumcise them, and to charge them to keep the law of Mashah."⁶ The apostles and the elders were gathered together to see about this matter.⁷ When there had been much discussion, Kayapaa rose up and said to them, "Brothers, you know that a good while ago Alahayam made choice among you, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.⁸ Alahayam, who knows the heart, testified about them, giving them the Holy Spirit, just like he did to us.⁹ He made no distinction between us and them, cleansing their hearts by faith.¹⁰ Now therefore why do you tempt Alahayam, that you should put a yoke on the neck of the disciples which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?¹¹ But we believe that we are saved through the grace of the Adanay Yashawai, just as they are."¹² All the multitude kept silence, and they listened to Baranab and Shaawal reporting what signs and wonders Alahayam had done among the Gentiles through them.¹³ After they were silent, Yaiqab answered, "Brothers, listen to me.¹⁴ Shamaiwan has reported how Alahayam first visited the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.¹⁵ This agrees with the words of the prophets. As it is written,¹⁶ 'After these things I will return. I will again build the tent of Dawad, which has fallen. I will again build its ruins. I will set it up:¹⁷ That the rest of men may seek after the Adanay; All the Gentiles who are called by my name, Says the Adanay, who does all these things.¹⁸ All his works are known to Alahayam from eternity.'¹⁹ Therefore my judgment is that we don't trouble those from among the Gentiles who turn to Alahayam,²⁰ but that we write to them that they abstain from the pollution of idols, from sexual immorality, from what is strangled, and from blood.²¹ For Mashah from generations of old has in every city those who preach him, being read in the synagogues every Sabbath."²² Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole assembly, to choose men out of their company, and send them to Antioch with Shaawal and Baranab: Yahawadah called Barsabbas, and Silas, chief men among the brothers.²³ They wrote these things by their hand: "The apostles, the elders, and the brothers, to the brothers who are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Aram and Cilicia: greetings.²⁴ Because we have heard that some who went out from us have troubled you with words, unsettling your souls, saying, 'You must be circumcised and keep the law,' to whom we gave no commandment;²⁵ it seemed good to us, having come to one accord, to choose out men and send them to you with our beloved Baranab and Shaawal,²⁶ men who have risked their lives for the name of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach.²⁷ We have sent therefore Yahawadah and Silas, who themselves will also tell you the same things by word of mouth.²⁸ For it seemed good to the Holy Spirit, and to us, to lay no greater burden on you than these necessary things:²⁹ that you abstain from things sacrificed to idols, from blood, from things strangled, and from sexual immorality, from which if you keep yourselves, it will be well with you. Farewell."³⁰ So, when they were sent off, they came to Antioch. Having gathered the multitude together, they delivered the letter.³¹ When they had read it, they rejoiced for the consolation.³² Yahawadah and Silas, also being prophets themselves, encouraged the brothers with many words, and strengthened them.³³ After they had spent some time there, they were sent back with greetings from the brothers to the apostles.³⁴ dummy verses inserted by amos³⁵ But Shaawal and Baranab stayed in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Adanay, with many others also.³⁶ After some days Shaawal said to Baranab, "Let's return now and visit our brothers in every city in which we proclaimed the word of the Adanay, to see how they are doing."³⁷ Baranab planned to take Yawachanan with them also, who was called Mark.³⁸ But Shaawal didn't think that it was a good idea to take with them someone who withdrew from them from Pamphylia, and didn't go with them to do the work.³⁹ Then there arose a sharp contention, so that they separated from each other. Baranab took Mark with him, and sailed away to Cyprus,⁴⁰ but Shaawal chose Silas, and went out, being commended by the brothers to the grace of Alahayam.⁴¹ He went through Aram and Cilicia, strengthening the assemblies.

16 He came to Derbe and Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Tayamawathayawas, the son of a Jewess who believed; but his father was a Greek.² The brothers who were at Lystra and Iconium gave a good testimony about him.³ Shaawal wanted to have him go forth with him, and he took and circumcised him because of the Jews who were in those parts; for they all knew that his father was a Greek.⁴ As they went on their way through the cities, they delivered the decrees to them to keep which had been ordained by the apostles and elders who were at Yawashalam.⁵ So the assemblies were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number daily.⁶ When they had gone through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, they were forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia.⁷ When they had come opposite Mysia, they tried to go into Bithynia, but the Spirit didn't allow them.⁸ Passing by Mysia, they came down to Troas.⁹ A vision appeared to Shaawal in the night. There was a man of Macedonia standing, begging him, and saying, "Come over into Macedonia and help us."¹⁰ When he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that the Adanay had called us to preach the gospel to them.¹¹ Setting sail therefore from Troas, we made a straight course to Samothrace, and the day following to Neapolis;¹² and from there to Philippi, which is a city of Macedonia, the first of the district, a Roman colony. We were staying some days in this city.¹³ On the Sabbath day we went forth outside of the city by a riverside, where we supposed there was a place of prayer, and we sat down, and spoke to the women who had come together.¹⁴ A certain woman named Lawad, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one who worshipped Alahayam, heard us; whose heart the Adanay opened to listen to the things which were spoken by Shaawal.¹⁵ When she and her household were baptized, she begged us, saying, "If you have judged me to be faithful to the Adanay, come into my house, and stay." She urged us.¹⁶ It happened, as we were going to prayer, that a certain girl having a spirit of divination met us, who brought her masters much gain by fortune telling.¹⁷ The same, following after Shaawal and us, cried out, "These men are servants of the Ilayawan Alahayam, who proclaim to us the way of salvation!"¹⁸ This she did for many days. But Shaawal, becoming distressed, turned and said to the spirit, "I charge you in the name of Yashawai Mashayach to come out of her!" It came out that very hour.¹⁹ But when her masters saw that the hope of their gain was gone, they laid hold on Shaawal and Silas, and dragged them into the marketplace before the rulers.²⁰ When they had brought them to the magistrates, they said, "These men, being Jews, are agitating our city,²¹ and set forth customs which it is not lawful for us to accept or to observe, being Romans." ²² The multitude rose up together against them, and the magistrates tore their clothes off of them, and commanded them to be beaten with rods.²³ When they had laid many stripes on them, they threw them into prison, charging the jailer to keep them safely,²⁴ who, having received such a charge, threw them into the inner prison, and secured their feet in the stocks.²⁵ But about midnight Shaawal and Silas were praying and singing hymns to Alahayam, and the prisoners were listening to them.²⁶ Suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened, and everyone's bonds were loosened.²⁷ The jailer, being roused out of sleep and seeing the prison doors open, drew his sword and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped.²⁸ But Shaawal cried with a loud voice, saying, "Don't harm yourself, for we are all here!"²⁹ He called for lights and sprang in, and, fell down trembling before Shaawal and Silas,³⁰ and brought them out and said, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?"³¹ They said, "Believe in the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, and you will be saved, you and your house."³² They spoke the word of the Adanay to him, and to all who were in his house.³³ He took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes, and was immediately baptized, he and all his household.³⁴ He brought them up into his house, and set food before them, and rejoiced greatly, with all his house, having believed in Alahayam.³⁵ But when it was day, the magistrates sent the sergeants, saying, "Let those men go."³⁶ The jailer reported these words to Shaawal, saying, "The magistrates have sent to let you go; now therefore come out, and go in peace."³⁷ But Shaawal said to them, "They have beaten us publicly, without a trial, men who are Romans, and have cast us into prison! Do they now release us secretly? No, most assuredly, but let them come themselves and bring us out!"³⁸ The sergeants reported these words to the magistrates, and they were afraid when they heard that they were Romans,³⁹ and they came and begged them. When they had brought them out, they asked them to depart from the city.⁴⁰ They went out of the prison, and entered into Lawad's house. When they had seen the brothers, they comforted them, and departed.

17 Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where there was a synagogue of the Jews.² Shaawal, as was his custom, went in to them, and for three Sabbath days reasoned with them from the Scriptures,³ explaining and demonstrating that the Mashayach had to suffer, and to rise again from the dead, and saying, "This Yashawai, whom I proclaim to you, is the Mashayach."⁴ Some of them were persuaded, and joined Shaawal and Silas, of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and not a few of the chief women.⁵ But the disobedient Jews gathered some wicked men from the marketplace, and gathering a crowd, set the city in an uproar. Assaulting the house of Jason, they sought to bring them forth to the people.⁶ When they didn't find them, they dragged Jason and certain brothers before the rulers of the city, crying, "These who have turned the world upside down have come here also,⁷ whom Jason has received. These all act contrary to the decrees of Qayasar, saying that there is another king, Yashawai!"⁸ The multitude and the rulers of the city were troubled when they heard these things.⁹ When they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.¹⁰ The brothers immediately sent Shaawal and Silas away by night to Beroea. When they arrived, they went into the Jewish synagogue.¹¹ Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of the mind, examining the Scriptures daily, whether these things were so.¹² Many of them therefore believed; also of the Greek women of honorable estate, and not a few men.¹³ But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of Alahayam was proclaimed by Shaawal at Beroea also, they came there likewise, agitating the multitudes.¹⁴ Then the brothers immediately sent forth Shaawal to go as far as to the sea, and Silas and Tayamawathayawas still stayed there.¹⁵ But those who escorted Shaawal brought him as far as Athens. Receiving a commandment to Silas and Tayamawathayawas that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.¹⁶ Now while Shaawal waited for them at Athens, his spirit was provoked within him as he saw the city full of idols.¹⁷ So he reasoned in the synagogue with Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with those who met him.¹⁸ Some of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers also encountered him. Some said, "What does this babblers want to say?" Others said, "He seems to be advocating foreign demons," because he preached

Yashawai and the resurrection.¹⁹ They took hold of him, and brought him to the Areopagus, saying, "May we know what this new teaching is, which is spoken by you?"²⁰ For you bring certain strange things to our ears. We want to know therefore what these things mean."²¹ Now all the Athenians and the strangers living there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.²² Shaawal stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said, "You men of Athens, I perceive that you are very religious in all things."²³ For as I passed along, and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription: 'TO AN UNKNOWN Yahawah.' What therefore you worship in ignorance, this I announce to you.²⁴ The Alahayam who made the world and all things in it, he, being Adanay of heaven and earth, dwells not in temples made with hands,²⁵ neither is he served by men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he himself gives to all life and breath, and all things.²⁶ He made from one blood every nation of men to dwell on all the surface of the earth, having determined appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation,²⁷ that they should seek the Adanay, if perhaps they might reach out for him and find him, though he is not far from each one of us.²⁸ 'For in him we live, and move, and have our being.' As some of your own poets have said, 'For we are also his offspring.'²⁹ Being then the offspring of Alahayam, we ought not to think that the Divine Nature is like gold, or silver, or stone, engraved by art and device of man.³⁰ The times of ignorance therefore Alahayam overlooked. But now he commands that all men everywhere should repent,³¹ because he has appointed a day in which he will judge the world in righteousness by the man whom he has ordained; whereof he has given assurance to all men, in that he has raised him from the dead."³² Now when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; but others said, "We want to hear you yet again concerning this."³³ Thus Shaawal went out from among them.³⁴ But certain men joined with him, and believed, among whom also was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

18 After these things Shaawal departed from Athens, and came to Corinth.² He found a certain Yahawaday named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, who had recently come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome. He came to them,³ and because he practiced the same trade, he lived with them and worked, for by trade they were tent makers.⁴ He reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath, and persuaded Jews and Greeks.⁵ But when Silas and Tayamawathayawas came down from Macedonia, Shaawal was compelled by the Spirit, testifying to the Jews that Yashawai was the Mashayach.⁶ When they opposed him and blasphemed, he shook out his clothing and said to them, "Your blood be on your own heads! I am clean. From now on, I will go to the Gentiles!"⁷ He departed there, and went into the house of a certain man named Justus, one who worshipped Alahayam, whose house was next door to the synagogue.⁸ Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, believed in the Adanay with all his house. Many of the Corinthians, hearing, believed and were baptized.⁹ The Adanay said to Shaawal in the night by a vision, "Don't be afraid, but speak and don't be silent;¹⁰ for I am with you, and no one will attack you to harm you, for I have many people in this city."¹¹ He lived there a year and six months, teaching the word of Alahayam among them.¹² But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Shaawal and brought him before the judgment seat,¹³ saying, "This man persuades men to worship Alahayam contrary to the law."¹⁴ But when Shaawal was about to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, "If indeed it were a matter of wrong or of wicked crime, Jews, it would be reasonable that I should bear with you;¹⁵ but if they are questions about words and names and your own law, look to it yourselves. For I don't want to be a judge of these matters."¹⁶ He drove them from the judgment seat.¹⁷ Then all the Greeks laid hold on Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment seat. Gallio didn't care about any of these things.¹⁸ Shaawal, having stayed after this yet many days, took his leave of the brothers, and sailed from there for Aram, and Priscilla and Aquila with him. He shaved his head in Cenchreae, for he had a vow.¹⁹ He came to Ephesus, and he left them there; but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.²⁰ When they asked him to stay a longer time, he declined;²¹ but taking his leave of them, and saying, "I must by all means keep this coming feast in Yarawashalam, but I will return again to you if Alahayam wills," he set sail from Ephesus.²² When he had landed at Caesarea, he went up and greeted the assembly, and went down to Antioch.²³ Having spent some time there, he departed, and went through the region of Galatia, and Phrygia, in order, establishing all the disciples.²⁴ Now a certain Yahawaday named Apollos, an Alexandrian by race, an eloquent man, came to Ephesus. He was mighty in the scriptures.²⁵ This man had been instructed in the way of the Adanay; and being fervent in spirit, he spoke and taught accurately the things concerning Yashawai, although he knew only the baptism of Yawachanan.²⁶ He began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him aside, and explained to him the way of Alahayam more accurately.²⁷ When he had determined to pass over into Achaia, the brothers encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him. When he had come, he helped them much, who had believed through grace;²⁸ for he powerfully refuted the Jews, publicly showing by the scriptures that Yashawai was the Mashayach.

19 It happened that, while Apollos was at Corinth, Shaawal, having passed through the upper country, came to Ephesus, and found certain disciples.² He said to them, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?" They said to him, "No, we did not so much as hear whether there is a Holy Spirit."³ He said, "Into what then were you baptized?" They said, "Into Yawachanan's baptism."⁴ Shaawal said, "Yawachanan indeed baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying to the people that they should believe in the one who would come after him, that is, on Yashawai."⁵ When they heard this, they were baptized into the name of the Adanay Yashawai.⁶ When Shaawal had laid his hands on them, the Holy Spirit came on them, and they spoke with other languages, and prophesied.⁷ They were about twelve men in all.⁸ He entered into the synagogue, and spoke boldly for a period of three months, reasoning and persuading about the things concerning the kingdom of Alahayam.⁹ But when some were hardened and disobedient, speaking evil of the Way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus.¹⁰ This continued for the space of two years, so that all those who lived in Asia heard the word of the Adanay Yashawai, both Jews and Greeks.¹¹ Alahayam worked special miracles by the hands of Shaawal,¹² insomuch that handkerchiefs or aprons were carried away from his body to the sick, and the evil spirits went out.¹³ But some of the itinerant Jews, exorcists, took on themselves to name over those who had the evil spirits the name of the Adanay Yashawai, saying, "We adjure you by Yashawai whom Shaawal preaches."¹⁴ There were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, who did this.¹⁵ The evil spirit answered, "Yashawai I know, and Shaawal I know, but who are you?"¹⁶ The man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overpowered them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.¹⁷ This became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, who lived at Ephesus. Fear fell on them all, and the name of the Adanay Yashawai was magnified.¹⁸ Many also of those who had believed came, confessing, and declaring their deeds.¹⁹ Not a few of those who practiced magical arts brought their books together and burned them in the sight of all. They counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.²⁰ So the word of the Adanay was growing and becoming mighty.²¹ Now after these things had ended, Shaawal determined in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Yarawashalam, saying, "After I have been there, I must also see Rome."²² Having sent into Macedonia two of those who ministered to him, Tayamawathayawas and Erastus, he himself stayed in Asia for a while.²³ About that time there arose no small stir concerning the Way.²⁴ For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines of Artemis, brought no little business to the craftsmen,²⁵ whom he gathered together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, "Sirs, you know that by this business we have our wealth."²⁶ You see and hear, that not at Ephesus alone, but almost throughout all Asia, this Shaawal has persuaded and turned away many people, saying that they are no gods, that are made with hands.²⁷ Not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute, but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis will be counted as nothing, and her majesty destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worships."²⁸ When they heard this they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying, "Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!"²⁹ The whole city was filled with confusion, and they rushed with one accord into the theater, having seized Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Shaawal's companions in travel.³⁰ When Shaawal wanted to enter in to the people, the disciples didn't allow him.³¹ Certain also of the Asiarchs, being his friends, sent to him and begged him not to venture into the theater.³² Some therefore cried one thing, and some another, for the assembly was in confusion. Most of them didn't know why they had come together.³³ They brought Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. Alexander beckoned with his hand, and would have made a defense to the people.³⁴ But when they perceived that he was a Yahawaday, all with one voice for a time of about two hours cried out, "Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!"³⁵ When the town clerk had quieted the multitude, he said, "You men of Ephesus, what man is there who doesn't know that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great goddess Artemis, and of the image which fell down from Zeus?"³⁶ Seeing then that these things can't be denied, you ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rash.³⁷ For you have brought these men here, who are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of your goddess.³⁸ If therefore Demetrius and the craftsmen who are with him, have a matter against anyone, the courts are open, and there are proconsuls. Let them press charges against one another.³⁹ But if you seek anything about other matters, it will be settled in the regular assembly.⁴⁰ For indeed we are in danger of being accused concerning this day's riot, there being no cause. Concerning it, we wouldn't be able to give an account of this commotion."⁴¹ When he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

20 After the uproar had ceased, Shaawal sent for the disciples, took leave of them, and departed to go into Macedonia.² When he had gone through those parts, and had encouraged them with many words, he came into Greece.³ When he had spent three months there, and a plot was made against him by Jews as he was about to set sail for Aram, he determined to return through Macedonia.⁴ These accompanied him as far as Asia: Sopater of Beroea; Aristarchus and Secundus of the Thessalonians; Gaius of Derbe; Tayamawathayawas; and Tychicus and Trophimus of Asia.⁵ But these had gone ahead, and were waiting for us at Troas.⁶ We sailed away from Philippi after the days of unleavened bread, and came to them at Troas in five days, where we stayed seven days.⁷ On the first day of the week, when the disciples were gathered together to break bread, Shaawal talked with them, intending to depart on the next day, and continued his speech until midnight.⁸ There were many lights in the upper chamber where we were gathered together.⁹ A certain young man named Eutychus sat in the window, weighed down with deep sleep. As Shaawal spoke still longer, being weighed down by his sleep, he fell down from the third story, and was taken up dead.¹⁰ Shaawal went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, "Don't be troubled, for his life is in him."¹¹ When he had gone up, and had broken bread, and eaten, and had talked with them a long while, even until break of day, he departed.¹² They brought the boy alive, and were not a little comforted.¹³ But we who went ahead to the ship set sail for Assos, there intending to take in Shaawal, for he had so arranged, intending himself to go by land.¹⁴ When he met us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.¹⁵ Sailing from there, we came the following day opposite Chios. The next day we touched at Samos and stayed at Trogyllium, and the day after we came to Miletus.¹⁶ For Shaawal had determined to sail past Ephesus, that he might not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hastening, if it were possible for him, to be at Yawashalam on the day of Pentecost.¹⁷ From Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called to himself the elders of the assembly.¹⁸ When they had come to him, he said to them, "You yourselves know, from the first day that I set foot in Asia, how I was with you all the time,¹⁹ serving the Adanay with all humility, with many tears, and with trials which happened to me by the plots of the Jews;²⁰ how I didn't shrink from declaring to you anything that was profitable, teaching you publicly and from house to house,²¹ testifying both to Jews and to Greeks repentance toward Alahayam, and faith toward our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach.²² Now, behold, I go bound by the Spirit to Yawashalam, not knowing what will happen to me there;²³ except that the Holy Spirit testifies in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions wait for me."²⁴ But these things don't count; nor do I hold my life dear to myself, so that I may finish my race with joy, and the ministry which I received from the Adanay Yashawai, to fully testify to the gospel of the grace of Alahayam.²⁵ Now, behold, I know that you all, among whom I went about preaching the kingdom of Alahayam, will see my face no more.²⁶ Therefore I testify to you this day that I am clean from the blood of all men,²⁷ for I didn't shrink from declaring to you the whole counsel of Alahayam.²⁸ Take heed, therefore, to yourselves, and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to shepherd the assembly of the Adanay and Alahayam which he purchased with his own blood.²⁹ For I know that after my departure, vicious wolves will enter in among you, not sparing the flock.³⁰ Men will arise from among your own selves, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them.³¹ Therefore watch, remembering that for a period of three years I didn't cease to admonish everyone night and day with tears.³² Now, brothers, I entrust you to Alahayam, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build up, and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified.³³ I coveted no one's silver, or gold, or clothing.³⁴ You yourselves know that these hands ministered to my necessities, and to those who were with me.³⁵ In all things I gave you an example, that so laboring you ought to help the weak, and to remember the words of the Adanay Yashawai, that he himself said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."³⁶ When he had spoken these things, he kneeled down and prayed with them all.³⁷ They all wept a lot, and fell on Shaawal's neck and kissed him,³⁸ sorrowing most of all because of the word which he had spoken, that they should see his face no more. They brought him on his way to the ship.

21 When it happened that we had parted from them and had set sail, we came with a straight course to Cos, and the next day to Rhodes, and from there to Patara.² Having found a ship crossing over to Phoenicia, we went aboard, and set sail.³ When we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed to Aram, and landed at Tzar, for there the ship was to unload her cargo.⁴ Having found disciples, we stayed there seven days. These said to Shaawal through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Yawashalam.⁵ When it happened that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey. They all, with wives and children, brought us on our way until we were out of the city. Kneeling down on the beach, we prayed.⁶ After saying goodbye to each other, we went on board the ship, and they returned home again.⁷ When we had finished the voyage from Tzar, we arrived at Ptolemais. We greeted the brothers, and stayed with them one day.⁸ On the next day, we, who were Shaawal's companions, departed, and came to Caesarea. We entered into the house of Payalayapawas the evangelist, who was one of the seven, and stayed with him.⁹ Now this man had four virgin daughters, who prophesied.¹⁰ As we stayed there some days, a certain prophet, named Agabus, came down from Yahawadah.¹¹ Coming to us, and taking Shaawal's belt, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, "Thus says the Holy Spirit: 'So will the Jews at Yawashalam bind the man who owns this belt, and will deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.'"

¹² When we heard these things, both we and they of that place begged him not to go up to Yarrowashalam. ¹³ Then Shaawal answered, "What are you doing, weeping and breaking my heart? For I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die at Yarrowashalam for the name of the Adanay Yashawai." ¹⁴ When he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, "The Adanay's will be done." ¹⁵ After these days we took up our baggage and went up to Yarrowashalam. ¹⁶ Some of the disciples from Caesarea also went with us, bringing one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we would stay. ¹⁷ When we had come to Yarrowashalam, the brothers received us gladly. ¹⁸ The day following, Shaawal went in with us to Yaiqab; and all the elders were present. ¹⁹ When he had greeted them, he reported one by one the things which Alahayam had worked among the Gentiles through his ministry. ²⁰ They, when they heard it, glorified Alahayam. They said to him, "You see, brother, how many thousands there are among the Jews of those who have believed, and they are all zealous for the law." ²¹ They have been informed about you, that you teach all the Jews who are among the Gentiles to forsake Mashah, telling them not to circumcise their children neither to walk after the customs. ²² What then? The assembly must certainly meet, for they will hear that you have come. ²³ Therefore do what we tell you. We have four men who have a vow on them. ²⁴ Take them, and purify yourself with them, and pay their expenses for them, that they may shave their heads. Then all will know that there is no truth in the things that they have been informed about you, but that you yourself also walk keeping the law. ²⁵ But concerning the Gentiles who believe, we have written our decision that they should observe no such thing, except that they should keep themselves from food offered to idols, from blood, from strangled things, and from sexual immorality." ²⁶ Then Shaawal took the men, and the next day, purified himself and went with them into the temple, declaring the fulfillment of the days of purification, until the offering was offered for every one of them. ²⁷ When the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude and laid hands on him, ²⁸ crying out, "Men of Yasharaal, help! This is the man who teaches all men everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place. Moreover, he also brought Greeks into the temple, and has defiled this holy place!" ²⁹ For they had seen Trophimus, the Ephesian, with him in the city, and they supposed that Shaawal had brought him into the temple. ³⁰ All the city was moved, and the people ran together. They seized Shaawal and dragged him out of the temple. Immediately the doors were shut. ³¹ As they were trying to kill him, news came up to the commanding officer of the regiment that all Yarrowashalam was in an uproar. ³² Immediately he took soldiers and centurions, and ran down to them. They, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, stopped beating Shaawal. ³³ Then the commanding officer came near, arrested him, commanded him to be bound with two chains, and inquired who he was and what he had done. ³⁴ Some shouted one thing, some another, among the crowd. When he couldn't find out the truth because of the noise, he commanded him to be brought into the barracks. ³⁵ When he came to the stairs, it happened that he was carried by the soldiers because of the violence of the crowd; ³⁶ for the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, "Away with him!" ³⁷ As Shaawal was about to be brought into the barracks, he asked the commanding officer, "May I say something to you?" He said, "Do you know Greek? ³⁸ Aren't you then the Matzarayam, who before these days stirred up to sedition and led out into the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins?" ³⁹ But Shaawal said, "I am a Yahawaday, from Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no insignificant city. I beg you, allow me to speak to the people." ⁴⁰ When he had given him permission, Shaawal, standing on the stairs, beckoned with his hand to the people. When there was a great silence, he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, saying,

22 "Brothers and fathers, listen to the defense which I now make to you." ² When they heard that he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, they were even more quiet. He said, ³ "I am indeed a Yahawaday, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city at the feet of Gamalayaal, instructed according to the strict manner of the law of our fathers, being zealous for Alahayam, even as you all are this day. ⁴ I persecuted this Way to the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. ⁵ As also the high priest and all the council of the elders testify, from whom also I received letters to the brothers, and journeyed to Damashaq to bring them also who were there to Yarrowashalam in bonds to be punished. ⁶ It happened that, as I made my journey, and came close to Damashaq, about noon, suddenly there shone from the sky a great light around me. ⁷ I fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying to me, 'Shaawal, Shaawal, why do you persecute me?' ⁸ I answered, 'Who are you, Adanay?' He said to me, 'I am Yashawai of Natzarath, whom you persecute.' ⁹ Those who were with me indeed saw the light and were afraid, but they didn't understand the voice of him who spoke to me. ¹⁰ I said, 'What will I do, Adanay?' The Adanay said to me, 'Arise, and go into Damashaq. There you will be told about all things which are appointed for you to do.' ¹¹ When I couldn't see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of those who were with me, I came into Damashaq. ¹² One Ananias, a devout man according to the law, well reported of by all the Jews who lived there, ¹³ came to me, and standing by me said to me, 'Brother Shaawal, receive your sight!' In that very hour I looked up at him. ¹⁴ He said, 'The Alahayam of our fathers has appointed you to know his will, and to see the Righteous One, and to hear a voice from his mouth. ¹⁵ For you will be a witness for him to all men of what you have seen and heard. ¹⁶ Now why do you wait? Arise, be baptized, and wash away your sins, calling on the name of the Adanay.' ¹⁷ It happened that, when I had returned to Yarrowashalam, and while I prayed in the temple, I fell into a trance, ¹⁸ and saw him saying to me, 'Hurry and get out of Yarrowashalam quickly, because they will not receive testimony concerning me from you.' ¹⁹ I said, 'Adanay, they themselves know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue those who believed in you. ²⁰ When the blood of Satapan, your witness, was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting to his death, and guarding the cloaks of those who killed him.' ²¹ He said to me, 'Depart, for I will send you forth far from here to the Gentiles.'" ²² They listened to him until he said that, then they lifted up their voice, and said, "Rid the earth of this fellow, for he isn't fit to live!" ²³ As they cried out, and threw off their cloaks, and threw dust into the air, ²⁴ the commanding officer commanded him to be brought into the barracks, ordering him to be examined by scourging, that he might know for what crime they shouted against him like that. ²⁵ When they had tied him up with thongs, Shaawal asked the centurion who stood by, "Is it lawful for you to scourge a man who is a Roman, and not found guilty?" ²⁶ When the centurion heard it, he went to the commanding officer and told him, "Watch what you are about to do, for this man is a Roman!" ²⁷ The commanding officer came and asked him, "Tell me, are you a Roman?" He said, "Yes." ²⁸ The commanding officer answered, "I bought my citizenship for a great price." Shaawal said, "But I was born a Roman." ²⁹ Immediately those who were about to examine him departed from him, and the commanding officer also was afraid when he realized that he was a Roman, because he had bound him. ³⁰ But on the next day, desiring to know the truth about why he was accused by the Jews, he freed him from the bonds, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Shaawal down and set him before them.

23 Shaawal, looking steadfastly at the council, said, "Brothers, I have lived before Alahayam in all good conscience until this day." ² The high priest, Ananias, commanded those who stood by him to strike him on the mouth. ³ Then said Shaawal to him, "Alahayam will strike you, you whitewashed wall! Do you sit to judge me according to the law, and command me to be struck contrary to the law?" ⁴ Those who stood by said, "Do you malign Alahayam's high priest?" ⁵ Shaawal said, "I didn't know, brothers, that he was high priest. For it is written, 'You shall not speak evil of a ruler of your people.'" ⁶ But when Shaawal perceived that the one part were Sadducees and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council,

"Men and brothers, I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees. Concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead I am being judged!"⁷ When he had said this, there arose an argument between the Pharisees and Sadducees, and the assembly was divided.⁸ For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit; but the Pharisees confess all of these.⁹ A great clamor arose, and some of the scribes of the Pharisees part stood up, and contended, saying, "We find no evil in this man. But if a spirit or angel has spoken to him, let's not fight against Alahayam!"¹⁰ When a great argument arose, the commanding officer, fearing that Shaawal would be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into the barracks.¹¹ The following night, the Adanay stood by him, and said, "Cheer up, Shaawal, for as you have testified about me at Yarawashalam, so you must testify also at Rome."¹² When it was day, some of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink until they had killed Shaawal.¹³ There were more than forty people who had made this conspiracy.¹⁴ They came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, "We have bound ourselves under a great curse, to taste nothing until we have killed Shaawal.¹⁵ Now therefore, you with the council inform the commanding officer that he should bring him down to you tomorrow, as though you were going to judge his case more exactly. We are ready to kill him before he comes near."¹⁶ But Shaawal's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, and he came and entered into the barracks and told Shaawal.¹⁷ Shaawal summoned one of the centurions, and said, "Bring this young man to the commanding officer, for he has something to tell him."¹⁸ So he took him, and brought him to the commanding officer, and said, "Shaawal, the prisoner, called me to himself, and asked me to bring this young man to you, who has something to tell you."¹⁹ The commanding officer took him by the hand, and going aside, asked him privately, "What is it that you have to tell me?"²⁰ He said, "The Jews have agreed to ask you to bring down Shaawal tomorrow to the council, as though intending to inquire somewhat more accurately concerning him.²¹ Therefore don't yield to them, for more than forty men lie in wait for him, who have bound themselves under a curse neither to eat nor to drink until they have killed him. Now they are ready, looking for the promise from you."²² So the commanding officer let the young man go, charging him, "Tell no one that you have told these things to me."²³ He called to himself two of the centurions, and said, "Prepare two hundred soldiers to go as far as Caesarea, with seventy horsemen, and two hundred men armed with spears, at the third hour of the night."²⁴ He asked them to provide animals, that they might set Shaawal on one, and bring him safely to Felix, the governor.²⁵ He wrote a letter like this:²⁶ "Claudius Lysias to the most excellent governor Felix: Greetings.²⁷ "This man was seized by the Jews, and was about to be killed by them, when I came on them with the soldiers and rescued him, having learned that he was a Roman.²⁸ Desiring to know the cause why they accused him, I brought him down to their council.²⁹ I found him to be accused about questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.³⁰ When I was told that the Jews lay in wait for the man, I sent him to you immediately, charging his accusers also to bring their accusations against him before you. Farewell."³¹ So the soldiers, carrying out their orders, took Shaawal and brought him by night to Antipatris.³² But on the next day they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the barracks.³³ They, when they came to Caesarea and delivered the letter to the governor, presented Shaawal also before him.³⁴ When the governor had read it, he asked what province he was from. When he understood that he was from Cilicia, he said,³⁵ "I will hear you fully when your accusers also arrive." He commanded that he be kept in Hawaradawas's palace.

24 After five days, the high priest, Ananias, came down with certain elders and an orator, one Tertullus. They informed the governor against Shaawal.² When he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, "Seeing that by you we enjoy much peace, and that excellent measures are coming to this nation,³ we accept it in all ways and in all places, most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness.⁴ But, that I don't delay you, I entreat you to bear with us and hear a few words.⁵ For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and an instigator of insurrections among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes.⁶ He even tried to profane the temple. We arrested him.⁷ empty verses content detected by amos⁸ By examining him yourself you may ascertain all these things of which we accuse him."⁹ The Jews also joined in the attack, affirming that these things were so.¹⁰ When the governor had beckoned to him to speak, Shaawal answered, "Because I know that you have been a judge of this nation for many years, I cheerfully make my defense,¹¹ seeing that you can recognize that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to worship at Yarawashalam.¹² In the temple they didn't find me disputing with anyone or stirring up a crowd, either in the synagogues, or in the city.¹³ Nor can they prove to you the things whereof they now accuse me.¹⁴ But this I confess to you, that after the Way, which they call a sect, so I serve the Alahayam of our fathers, believing all things which are according to the law, and which are written in the prophets;¹⁵ having hope toward Alahayam, which these also themselves look for, that there will be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.¹⁶ Herein I also practice always having a conscience void of offense toward Alahayam and men.¹⁷ Now after some years, I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings;¹⁸ amid which they found me purified in the temple, with no crowd, nor yet with tumult. But certain Jews from Asia --¹⁹ who ought to have been here before you, and to make accusation, if they had anything against me.²⁰ Or else let these men themselves say what injustice they found in me when I stood before the council,²¹ unless it is for this one thing that I cried standing among them, 'Concerning the resurrection of the dead I am being judged before you today!'"²² But Felix, having more exact knowledge concerning the Way, deferred them, saying, "When Lysias, the commanding officer, comes down, I will decide your case."²³ He ordered the centurion that Shaawal should be kept in custody, and should have some privileges, and not to forbid any of his friends to serve him or to visit him.²⁴ But after some days, Felix came with Drusilla, his wife, who was a Jewess, and sent for Shaawal, and heard him concerning the faith in Mashayach Yashawai.²⁵ As he reasoned about righteousness, self-control, and the judgment to come, Felix was terrified, and answered, "Go your way for this time, and when it is convenient for me, I will call you to me."²⁶ He hoped that way that money would be given to him by Shaawal, that he might release him. Therefore also he sent for him more often, and talked with him.²⁷ But when two years were fulfilled, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus, and desiring to gain favor with the Jews, Felix left Shaawal in bonds.

25 Festus therefore, having come into the province, after three days went up to Yarawashalam from Caesarea.² Then the high priest and the principal men of the Jews informed him against Shaawal, and they begged him,³ asking a favor against him, that he would send for him to Yarawashalam; plotting to kill him on the way.⁴ However Festus answered that Shaawal was kept in custody at Caesarea, and that he himself was about to depart shortly.⁵ "Let them therefore," said he, "that are in power among you go down with me, and if there is anything wrong in the man, let them accuse him."⁶ When he had stayed among them more than ten days, he went down to Caesarea, and on the next day he sat on the judgment seat, and commanded Shaawal to be brought.⁷ When he had come, the Jews who had come down from Yarawashalam stood around him, bringing against him many and grievous charges which they could not prove,⁸ while he said in his defense, "Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Qayasar, have I sinned at all."⁹ But Festus, desiring to gain favor with the Jews, answered Shaawal and said, "Will you go up to Yarawashalam, and there be judged of these things before me?"¹⁰ But Shaawal said, "I am standing before Qayasar's judgment seat, where I ought to be tried. I have done no wrong to the Jews, as you also know very well. ¹¹ For if I have done wrong, and have committed anything worthy of death, I don't refuse to die; but if none of those things is true that these accuse me of, no one can give me up to them. I appeal to Qayasar!" ¹² Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, "You have appealed to Qayasar. To Qayasar you will go." ¹³ Now when some days had passed, Agrippa, the King, and Bernice arrived at Caesarea, and greeted Festus. ¹⁴ As they stayed there many days, Festus laid Shaawal's case before the King, saying, "There is a certain man left a prisoner by Felix; ¹⁵ about whom, when I was at Yarrowashalam, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, asking for a sentence against him. ¹⁶ To whom I answered that it is not the custom of the Romans to give up any man to destruction, before the accused have met the accusers face to face, and have had opportunity to make his defense concerning the matter laid against him. ¹⁷ When therefore they were come together here, I didn't delay, but on the next day sat on the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought. ¹⁸ Concerning whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no charge of such things as I supposed; ¹⁹ but had certain questions against him of their own religion, and of one Yashawai, who was dead, whom Shaawal affirmed to be alive. ²⁰ I, being perplexed how to inquire concerning these things, asked whether he would go to Yarrowashalam and there be judged of these matters. ²¹ But when Shaawal had appealed to be kept for the decision of the emperor, I commanded him to be kept until I should send him to Qayasar." ²² Agrippa said to Festus, "I also would like to hear the man myself." "Tomorrow," he said, "you will hear him." ²³ So on the next day, when Agrippa and Bernice had come with great pomp, and they had entered into the place of hearing with the commanding officers and principal men of the city, at the command of Festus, Shaawal was brought in. ²⁴ Festus said, "King Agrippa, and all men who are here present with us, you see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews petitioned me, both at Yarrowashalam and here, crying that he ought not to live any longer. ²⁵ But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and as he himself appealed to the emperor I determined to send him. ²⁶ Of whom I have no certain thing to write to my lord. Therefore I have brought him forth before you, and especially before you, king Agrippa, that, after examination, I may have something to write. ²⁷ For it seems to me unreasonable, in sending a prisoner, not to also specify the charges against him."

26 Agrippa said to Shaawal, "You may speak for yourself." Then Shaawal stretched out his hand, and made his defense. ² "I think myself happy, King Agrippa, that I am to make my defense before you this day concerning all the things whereof I am accused by the Jews, ³ especially because you are expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews. Therefore I beg you to hear me patiently. ⁴ "Indeed, all the Jews know my way of life from my youth up, which was from the beginning among my own nation and at Yarrowashalam; ⁵ having known me from the first, if they are willing to testify, that after the strictest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee. ⁶ Now I stand here to be judged for the hope of the promise made by Alahayam to our fathers, ⁷ which our twelve tribes, earnestly serving night and day, hope to attain. Concerning this hope I am accused by the Jews, King Agrippa! ⁸ Why is it judged incredible with you, if Alahayam does raise the dead? ⁹ "I most assuredly thought with myself that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Yashawai of Natzarath. ¹⁰ This I also did in Yarrowashalam. I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death I gave my vote against them. ¹¹ Punishing them often in all the synagogues, I tried to make them blaspheme. Being exceedingly enraged against them, I persecuted them even to foreign cities. ¹² "Whereupon as I journeyed to Damashaq with the authority and commission from the chief priests, ¹³ at noon, O King, I saw on the way a light from the sky, brighter than the sun, shining around me and those who traveled with me. ¹⁴ When we had all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying to me in the Hebrew language, 'Shaawal, Shaawal, why do you persecute me? It is hard for you to kick against the goad.' ¹⁵ I said, 'Who are you, Adanay?' He said, 'I am Yashawai, whom you persecute. ¹⁶ But arise, and stand on your feet, for to this end have I appeared to you, to appoint you a servant and a witness both of the things which you have seen, and of the things which I will reveal to you; ¹⁷ delivering you from the people, and from the Gentiles, to whom I send you, ¹⁸ to open their eyes, that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to Alahayam, that they may receive remission of sins and an inheritance among those who are sanctified by faith in me.' ¹⁹ "Therefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision, ²⁰ but declared first to them of Damashaq, at Yarrowashalam, and throughout all the country of Yahawadah, and also to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to Alahayam, doing works worthy of repentance. ²¹ For this reason the Jews seized me in the temple, and tried to kill me. ²² Having therefore obtained the help that is from Alahayam, I stand to this day testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what the prophets and Mashah did say should come, ²³ how the Mashayach must suffer, and how he first by the resurrection of the dead should proclaim light both to these people and to the Gentiles." ²⁴ As he thus made his defense, Festus said with a loud voice, "Shaawal, you are crazy! Your great learning is driving you insane!" ²⁵ But he said, "I am not crazy, most excellent Festus, but speak forth words of truth and soberness. ²⁶ For the king knows of these things, to whom also I speak freely. For I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him, for this has not been done in a corner. ²⁷ King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know that you believe." ²⁸ Agrippa said to Shaawal, "With a little persuasion are you trying to make me a Christian?" ²⁹ Shaawal said, "I pray to Alahayam, that whether with little or with much, not only you, but also all that hear me this day, might become such as I am, except for these bonds." ³⁰ The king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and those who sat with them. ³¹ When they had withdrawn, they spoke one to another, saying, "This man does nothing worthy of death or of bonds." ³² Agrippa said to Festus, "This man might have been set free if he had not appealed to Qayasar."

27 When it was determined that we should sail for Italy, they delivered Shaawal and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the Augustan band. ² Embarking in a ship of Adramyttium, which was about to sail to places on the coast of Asia, we put to sea, Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us. ³ The next day, we touched at Tzayadawan. Julius treated Shaawal kindly, and gave him permission to go to his friends and refresh himself. ⁴ Putting to sea from there, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. ⁵ When we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia. ⁶ There the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy, and he put us on board. ⁷ When we had sailed slowly many days, and had come with difficulty opposite Cnidus, the wind not allowing us further, we sailed under the lee of Crete, opposite Salmone. ⁸ With difficulty sailing along it we came to a certain place called Fair Havens, near the city of Lasea. ⁹ When much time was spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because the Fast had now already gone by, Shaawal admonished them, ¹⁰ and said to them, "Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with injury and much loss, not only of the cargo and the ship, but also of our lives." ¹¹ But the centurion gave more heed to the master and to the owner of the ship than to those things which were spoken by Shaawal. ¹² Because the haven was not suitable to winter in, the majority advised to put to sea from there, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, and winter there, which is a port of Crete, looking northeast and southeast. ¹³ When the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close to shore. ¹⁴ But after no long time there beat down from it a tempestuous wind, which is called Euroclydon. ¹⁵ When the ship was caught, and couldn't face the wind, we gave way to it, and were driven along. ¹⁶ Running under the lee of a small island called Claudia, we were able, with difficulty, to secure the boat. ¹⁷ When they had hoisted it up, they used cables to help reinforce the ship. Fearing that they would run aground on the Syrtis sand bars, they lowered the sea anchor, and so were driven.¹⁸ As we labored exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began to throw things overboard.¹⁹ On the third day, they threw out the ship's tackle with their own hands.²⁰ When neither sun nor stars shone on us for many days, and no small tempest pressed on us, all hope that we should be saved was now taken away.²¹ When they had been long without food, Shaawal stood up in the midst of them, and said, "Sirs, you should have listened to me, and not have set sail from Crete, and have gotten this injury and loss."²² Now I exhort you to cheer up, for there will be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship.²³ For there stood by me this night an angel, belonging to the Alahayam whose I am and whom I serve,²⁴ saying, 'Don't be afraid, Shaawal. You must stand before Qayasar. Behold, Alahayam has granted you all those who sail with you.'²⁵ Therefore, sirs, cheer up! For I believe Alahayam, that it will be just as it has been spoken to me.²⁶ But we must run aground on a certain island."²⁷ But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven back and forth in the Adriatic Sea, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were drawing near to some land.²⁸ They took soundings, and found twenty fathoms. After a little while, they took soundings again, and found fifteen fathoms.²⁹ Fearing that we would run aground on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and wished for daylight.³⁰ As the sailors were trying to flee out of the ship, and had lowered the boat into the sea, pretending that they would lay out anchors from the bow,³¹ Shaawal said to the centurion and to the soldiers, "Unless these stay in the ship, you can't be saved."³² Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.³³ While the day was coming on, Shaawal begged them all to take some food, saying, "This day is the fourteenth day that you wait and continue fasting, having taken nothing."³⁴ Therefore I beg you to take some food, for this is for your safety; for there will not a hair perish from the head of any of you."³⁵ When he had said this, and had taken bread, he gave thanks to Alahayam in the presence of all, and he broke it, and began to eat.³⁶ Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took food.³⁷ We were in all in the ship two hundred seventy-six souls.³⁸ When they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, throwing out the wheat into the sea.³⁹ When it was day, they didn't recognize the land, but they noticed a certain bay with a beach, and they decided to try to drive the ship onto it.⁴⁰ Casting off the anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time untying the rudder ropes. Hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach.⁴¹ But coming to a place where two seas met, they ran the vessel aground. The bow struck and remained immovable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of the waves.⁴² The soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, so that none of them would swim out and escape.⁴³ But the centurion, desiring to save Shaawal, stopped them from their purpose, and commanded that those who could swim should throw themselves overboard first to go to the land;⁴⁴ and the rest, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship. So it happened that they all escaped safely to the land.

28 When we had escaped, then we knew that the island was called Malta.² The natives showed us no common kindness; for they kindled a fire, and received us all, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.³ But when Shaawal had gathered a bundle of sticks and laid them on the fire, a viper came out because of the heat, and fastened on his hand.⁴ When the natives saw the creature hanging from his hand, they said one to another, "No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he has escaped from the sea, yet Justice has not allowed to live."⁵ However he shook off the creature into the fire, and wasn't harmed.⁶ But they expected that he would have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly, but when they were long in expectation and saw nothing bad happen to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.⁷ Now in the neighborhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Publius, who received us, and courteously entertained us three days.⁸ It was so, that the father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery. Shaawal entered in to him, prayed, and laying his hands on him, healed him.⁹ Then when this was done, the rest also that had diseases in the island came, and were cured.¹⁰ They also honored us with many honors, and when we sailed, they put on board the things that we needed.¹¹ After three months, we set sail in a ship of Alexandria which had wintered in the island, whose sign was "The Twin Brothers."¹² Touching at Syracuse, we stayed there three days.¹³ From there we circled around and arrived at Rhegium. After one day, a south wind sprang up, and on the second day we came to Puteoli,¹⁴ where we found brothers, and were entreated to stay with them seven days. So we came to Rome.¹⁵ From there the brothers, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius and The Three Taverns; whom when Shaawal saw, he thanked Alahayam, and took courage.¹⁶ When we entered into Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard, but Shaawal was allowed to stay by himself with the soldier who guarded him.¹⁷ It happened, that after three days Shaawal called together those who were the leaders of the Jews. When they had come together, he said to them, "I, brothers, though I had done nothing against the people, or the customs of our fathers, still was delivered prisoner from Yarawashalam into the hands of the Romans,¹⁸ who, when they had examined me, desired to set me free, because there was no cause of death in me."¹⁹ But when the Jews spoke against it, I was constrained to appeal to Qayasar, not that I had anything about which to accuse my nation.²⁰ For this cause therefore did I ask you to see and to speak with me. For because of the hope of Yasharaal I am bound with this chain."²¹ They said to him, "We neither received letters from Yahawadah concerning you, nor did any of the brothers come here and report or speak any evil of you."²² But we desire to hear of you what you think. For, as concerning this sect, it is known to us that everywhere it is spoken against."²³ When they had appointed him a day, they came to him into his lodging in great number. He explained to them, testifying about the kingdom of Alahayam, and persuading them concerning Yashawai, both from the law of Mashah and from the prophets, from morning until evening.²⁴ Some believed the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved.²⁵ When they didn't agree among themselves, they departed after Shaawal had spoken one word, "The Holy Spirit spoke well through Yashaiyahaw, the prophet, to our fathers,²⁶ saying, 'Go to this people, and say, In hearing, you will hear, and will in no way understand. In seeing, you will see, and will in no way perceive.'²⁷ For this people's heart has grown callous. Their ears are dull of hearing. Their eyes they have closed. Lest they should see with their eyes, Hear with their ears, Understand with their heart, Would turn again, And I would heal them."²⁸ "Be it known therefore to you, that the salvation of Alahayam is sent to the Gentiles. They will also hear."²⁹ When he had said these words, the Jews departed, having a great dispute among themselves.³⁰ Shaawal stayed two whole years in his own rented house, and received all who went in to him,³¹ preaching the kingdom of Alahayam, and teaching the things concerning the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach with all boldness, without hinderance.

1 Shaawal, a servant of Yashawai Mashayach, called to be an apostle, set apart for the gospel of Alahayam,² which he promised before through his prophets in the holy scriptures,³ concerning his Son, who was born of the seed of Dawad according to the flesh,⁴ who was declared to be the Son of Alahayam with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead, Yashawai Mashayach our Adanay,⁵ through whom we received grace and apostleship, to obedience of faith among all the nations, for his name's sake.⁶ Among whom you are also called to be Yashawai Mashayach's.⁷ To all who are in Rome, beloved of Alahayam, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from Alahayam our Father and the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach.⁸ First, I thank my Alahayam through Yashawai Mashayach for all of you, that your faith is proclaimed throughout the whole world.⁹ For Alahayam is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of his Son, how unceasingly I make mention of you always in my prayers,¹⁰ requesting, if by any means now at length I may be prospered by the will of Alahayam to come to you.¹¹ For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift, to the end you may be established;¹² that is, that I with you may be comforted in you, each of us by the other's faith, both yours and mine.¹³ Now I don't desire to have you unaware, brothers, that often I planned to come to you, and was hindered so far, that I might have some fruit in you also, even as in the rest of the Gentiles.¹⁴ I am debtor both to Greeks and to foreigners, both to the wise and to the foolish.¹⁵ So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you also who are in Rome.¹⁶ For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Mashayach, for it is the power of Alahayam to salvation to everyone who believes; to the Yahawaday first, and also to the Greek.¹⁷ For therein is revealed a righteousness of Alahayam from faith to faith. As it is written, "But the righteous shall live by faith."¹⁸ For the wrath of Alahayam is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hinder the truth in unrighteousness,¹⁹ because that which is known by Alahayam is revealed in them, for Alahayam revealed it to them.²⁰ For the invisible things of him since the creation of the world are clearly seen, being perceived through the things that are made, even his everlasting power and divinity; that they may be without excuse.²¹ Because, knowing Alahayam, they didn't glorify him as Alahayam, neither gave thanks, but became vain in their reasoning, and their senseless heart was darkened.²² Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools,²³ and traded the glory of the incorruptible Alahayam for the likeness of an image of corruptible man, and of birds, and four-footed animals, and creeping things.²⁴ Therefore Alahayam also gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to uncleanness, that their bodies should be dishonored among themselves,²⁵ who exchanged the truth of Alahayam for a lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever. Amen.²⁶ For this reason, Alahayam gave them up to vile passions. For their women changed the natural function into that which is against nature.²⁷ Likewise also the men, leaving the natural function of the woman, burned in their lust toward one another, men doing what is inappropriate with men, and receiving in themselves the due penalty of their error.²⁸ Even as they refused to have Alahayam in their knowledge, Alahayam gave them up to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not fitting;²⁹ being filled with all unrighteousness, sexual immorality, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, evil habits, secret slanderers,³⁰ backbiters, hateful to Alahayam, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,³¹ without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, unforgiving, unmerciful;³² who, knowing the ordinance of Alahayam, that those who practice such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also consent with those who practice them.

2 Therefore you are without excuse, man, whoever you are who judge. For in that which you judge another, you condemn yourself. For you who judge practice the same things.² We know that the judgment of Alahayam is according to truth against those who practice such things.³ Do you know this, O man who judges those who practice such things, and do the same, that you will escape the judgment of Alahayam?⁴ Or do you despise the riches of his goodness, forbearance, and patience, not knowing that the goodness of Alahayam leads you to repentance?⁵ But according to your hardness and impenitent heart you are treasuring up for yourself wrath in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of Alahayam;⁶ who "will render to every man according to his works:"⁷ to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and incorruptibility, eternal life;⁸ but to those who are self-seeking, and don't obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, will be wrath and indignation,⁹ oppression and anguish, on every soul of man who works evil, on the Yahawaday first, and also on the Greek.¹⁰ But glory and honor and peace to every man who works good, to the Yahawaday first, and also to the Greek.¹¹ For there is no partiality with Alahayam.¹² For as many as have sinned without law will also perish without the law. As many as have sinned under the law will be judged by the law.¹³ For it isn't the hearers of the law who are righteous before Alahayam, but the doers of the law will be justified¹⁴ (for when Gentiles who don't have the law do by nature the things of the law, these, not having the law, are a law to themselves,¹⁵ in that they show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience testifying with them, and their thoughts among themselves accusing or else excusing them)¹⁶ in the day when Alahayam will judge the secrets of men, according to my gospel, by Yashawai Mashayach.¹⁷ Indeed you bear the name of a Yahawaday, and rest on the law, and glory in Alahayam,¹⁸ and know his will, and approve the things that are excellent, being instructed out of the law,¹⁹ and are confident that you yourself are a guide of the blind, a light to those who are in darkness,²⁰ a corrector of the foolish, a teacher of babies, having in the law the form of knowledge and of the truth.²¹ You therefore who teach another, don't you teach yourself? You who preach that a man shouldn't steal, do you steal?²² You who say a man shouldn't commit adultery, do you commit adultery? You who abhor idols, do you rob temples?²³ You who glory in the law, through your disobedience of the law do you dishonor Alahayam?²⁴ For "the name of Alahayam is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you," just as it is written.²⁵ For circumcision indeed profits, if you be a doer of the law, but if you be a transgressor of the law, your circumcision has become uncircumcision.²⁶ If therefore the uncircumcised keep the ordinances of the law, won't his uncircumcision be accounted as circumcision?²⁷ Won't the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfills the law, judge you, who with the letter and circumcision are a transgressor of the law?²⁸ For he is not a Yahawaday who is one outwardly, neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh;²⁹ but he is a Yahawaday who is one inwardly, and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit not in the letter; whose praise is not from men, but from Alahayam.

3 Then what advantage does the Yahawaday have? Or what is the profit of circumcision?² Much in every way! Because first of all, that they were entrusted with the oracles of Alahayam.³ For what if some were without faith? Will their lack of faith make of no effect the faithfulness of Alahayam?⁴ Certainly not! Yes, let Alahayam be found true, but every man a liar. As it is written, "That you might be justified in your words, And might prevail when you come into judgment."⁵ But if our unrighteousness commends the righteousness of Alahayam, what will we say? Is Alahayam unrighteous who inflicts wrath? I speak like men do.⁶ Certainly not! For then how will Alahayam judge the world?⁷ For if the truth of Alahayam through my lie abounded to his glory, why am I also still judged as a sinner?⁸ Why not (as we are slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), "Let us do evil, that good may come?" Those who say so are justly condemned.⁹ What then? Are we better than they? No, in no way. For we previously charged both Jews and Greeks, that they are all under sin.¹⁰ As it is written, "There is no one righteous. No, not one."¹¹ There is no one who understands. There is no one who seeks after Alahayam.¹² They have all turned aside. They have together become unprofitable. There is no one who does good, no, not, so much as one."¹³ "Their throat is an open tomb. With their tongues they have used deceit." "The poison of vipers is under their lips;"¹⁴ "Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness."¹⁵ "Their feet are swift to shed blood."¹⁶ Destruction and misery are in their ways.¹⁷ The way of peace, they haven't known."¹⁸ "There is no fear of Alahayam before their eyes."¹⁹ Now we know that whatever things the law says, it speaks to those who are under the law, that every mouth may be closed, and all the world may be brought under the judgment of Alahayam.²⁰ Because by the works of the law, no flesh will be justified in his sight. For through the law comes the knowledge of sin.²¹ But now apart from the law, a righteousness of Alahayam has been revealed, being testified by the law and the prophets;²² even the righteousness of Alahayam through faith in Yashawai Mashayach to all and on all those who believe. For there is no distinction,²³ for all have sinned, and fall short of the glory of Alahayam;²⁴ being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Mashayach Yashawai;²⁵ whom Alahayam set forth to be an atoning sacrifice, through faith, in his blood, to show his righteousness because of the passing over of the sins done before, in the forbearance of Alahayam;²⁶ for the showing of his righteousness at this present time; that he might himself be just, and the justifier of him who has faith in Yashawai.²⁷ Where then is the boasting? It is excluded. By what manner of law? Of works? No, but by a law of faith.²⁸ We maintain therefore that a man is justified by faith apart from the works of the law.²⁹ Or is Alahayam the Alahayam of Jews only? Isn't he the Alahayam of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also,³⁰ if it is so that Alahayam is one. He will justify the circumcised by faith, and the uncircumcised through faith.³¹ Do we then make the law of no effect through faith? Certainly not! No, we establish the law.

4 What then will we say that Abaraham, our forefather, has found according to the flesh?² For if Abaraham was justified by works, he has something to boast about, but not toward Alahayam.³ For what does the scripture say? "Abaraham believed Alahayam, and it was accounted to him for righteousness."⁴ Now to him who works, the reward is not accounted as of grace, but as of debt.⁵ But to him who doesn't work, but believes in him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is accounted for righteousness.⁶ Even as Dawad also pronounces blessing on the man to whom Alahayam counts righteousness apart from works,⁷ "Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, Whose sins are covered."⁸ Blessed is the man to whom the Adanay will not charge with sin."⁹ Is this blessing then pronounced on the circumcised, or on the uncircumcised also? For we say that faith was accounted to Abaraham for righteousness.¹⁰ How then was it counted? When he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.¹¹ He received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision, that he might be the father of all those who believe, though they be in uncircumcision, that righteousness might also be accounted to them.¹² The father of circumcision to those who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father, Abaraham, which he had in uncircumcision.¹³ For not through the law was the promise to Abaraham or to his seed that he should be heir of the world, but through the righteousness of faith.¹⁴ For if those who are of the law are heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of no effect.¹⁵ For the law works wrath, for where there is no law, neither is there disobedience.¹⁶ For this cause it is of faith, that it may be according to grace, to the end that the promise may be sure to all the seed, not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abaraham, who is the father of us all.¹⁷ As it is written, "I have made you a father of many nations." This is before him whom he believed, Alahayam, who gives life to the dead, and calls the things that are not, as though they were.¹⁸ Who in hope believed against hope, to the end that he might become a father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken, "So will your seed be."¹⁹ Without being weakened in faith, he didn't consider his own body, already having been worn out, (he being about a hundred years old), and the deadness of Sharah's womb.²⁰ Yet, looking to the promise of Alahayam, he wavered not through unbelief, but grew strong through faith, giving glory to Alahayam,²¹ and being fully assured that what he had promised, he was able also to perform.²² Therefore also it was "reckoned to him for righteousness."²³ Now it was not written that it was accounted to him for his sake alone,²⁴ but for our sake also, to whom it will be accounted, who believe in him who raised Yashawai, our Adanay, from the dead,²⁵ who was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised for our justification.

5 Being therefore justified by faith, we have peace with Alahayam through our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach;² through whom we also have our access by faith into this grace in which we stand. We rejoice in hope of the glory of Alahayam.³ Not only so, but we also rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering works perseverance;⁴ and perseverance, proven character; and proven character, hope;⁵ and hope doesn't disappoint us, because Alahayam's love has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit which was given to us.⁶ For while we were yet weak, at the right time Mashayach died for the ungodly.⁷ For one will hardly die for a righteous man. For perhaps for a righteous person someone would even dare to die.⁸ But Alahayam commends his own love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Mashayach died for us.⁹ Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we will be saved from Alahayam's wrath through him.¹⁰ For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to Alahayam through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we will be saved by his life.¹¹ Not only so, but we also rejoice in Alahayam through our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, through whom we have now received the reconciliation.¹² Therefore, as sin entered into the world through one man, and death through sin; and so death passed to all men, because all sinned.¹³ For until the law, sin was in the world; but sin is not charged when there is no law.¹⁴ Nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Mashah, even over those whose sins weren't like Adam's disobedience, who is a foreshadowing of him who was to come.¹⁵ But the free gift isn't like the trespass. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of Alahayam, and the gift by the grace of the one man, Yashawai Mashayach, abound to the many.¹⁶ The gift is not as through one who sinned: for the judgment came by one to condemnation, but the free gift came of many trespasses to justification.¹⁷ For if by the trespass of the one, death reigned through the one; so much more will those who receive the abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one, Yashawai Mashayach.¹⁸ So then as through one trespass, all men were condemned; even so through one act of righteousness, all men were justified to life.¹⁹ For as through the one man's disobedience many were made sinners, even so through the obedience of the one will many be made righteous.²⁰ The law came in besides, that the trespass might abound; but where sin abounded, grace did abound more exceedingly;²¹ that as sin reigned in death, even so might grace reign through righteousness to eternal life through Yashawai

Mashayach our Adanay.

6 What will we say then? Will we continue in sin, that grace may abound? ² Certainly not! We who died to sin, how could we live in it any longer? ³ Or don't you know that all we who were baptized into Mashayach Yashawai were baptized into his death? ⁴ We were buried therefore with him through baptism to death, that just like Mashayach was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness of life. ⁵ For if we have become united with him in the likeness of his death, we will also be part of his resurrection; ⁶ knowing this, that our old man was crucified with him, that the body of sin might be done away with, so that we would no longer be in bondage to sin. ⁷ For he who has died has been freed from sin. ⁸ But if we died with Mashayach, we believe that we will also live with him; ⁹ knowing that Mashayach, being raised from the dead, dies no more. Death no more has dominion over him! ¹⁰ For the death that he died, he died to sin once; but the life that he lives, he lives to Alahayam. ¹¹ Thus also consider yourselves also to be dead to sin, but alive to Alahayam in Mashayach Yashawai our Adanay. ¹² Therefore don't let sin reign in your mortal body, that you should obey it in its lusts. ¹³ Neither present your members to sin as instruments of unrighteousness, but present yourselves to Alahayam, as alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness to Alahayam. ¹⁴ For sin will not have dominion over you. For you are not under law, but under grace. ¹⁵ What then? Will we sin, because we are not under law, but under grace? Certainly not! ¹⁶ Don't you know that to whom you present yourselves as servants to obedience, his servants you are whom you obey; whether of sin to death, or of obedience to righteousness? ¹⁷ But thanks be to Alahayam, that, whereas you were servants of sin, you became obedient from the heart to that form of teaching whereunto you were delivered. ¹⁸ Being made free from sin, you became servants of righteousness. ¹⁹ I speak in human terms because of the weakness of your flesh, for as you presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to wickedness upon wickedness, even so now present your members as servants to righteousness for sanctification. ²⁰ For when you were servants of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. ²¹ What fruit then did you have at that time in the things of which you are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death. ²² But now, being made free from sin, and having become servants of Alahayam, you have your fruit of sanctification, and the result of eternal life. ²³ For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of Alahayam is eternal life in Mashayach Yashawai our Adanay.

7 Or don't you know, brothers (for I speak to men who know the law), that the law has dominion over a man for as long as he lives? ² For the woman that has a husband is bound by law to the husband while he lives, but if the husband dies, she is discharged from the law of the husband. ³ So then if, while the husband lives, she is joined to another man, she would be called an adulteress. But if the husband dies, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she is joined to another man. ⁴ Therefore, my brothers, you also were made dead to the law through the body of Mashayach, that you would be joined to another, to him who was raised from the dead, that we might bring forth fruit to Alahayam. ⁵ For when we were in the flesh, the sinful passions which were through the law, worked in our members to bring forth fruit to death. ⁶ But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that in which we were held; so that we serve in newness of the spirit, and not in oldness of the letter. ⁷ What will we say then? Is the law sin? Certainly not! However, I wouldn't have known sin, except through the law. For I wouldn't have known coveting, unless the law had said, "You shall not covet." ⁸ But sin, finding occasion through the commandment, produced in me all kinds of coveting. For apart from the law, sin is dead. ⁹ I was alive apart from the law once, but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died. ¹⁰ The commandment, which was to life, this I found to be to death; ¹¹ for sin, finding occasion through the commandment, deceived me, and through it killed me. ¹² So that the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good. ¹³ Did then that which is good become death to me? Certainly not! But sin, that it might be shown to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good; that through the commandment sin might become exceeding sinful. ¹⁴ For we know that the law is spiritual, but I am fleshly, sold under sin. ¹⁵ For I don't know what I am doing. For I don't practice what I desire to do; but what I hate, that I do. ¹⁶ But if what I don't desire, that I do, I consent to the law that it is good. ¹⁷ So now it is no more I that do it, but sin which dwells in me. ¹⁸ For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwells no good thing. For desire is present with me, but I don't find it doing that which is good. ¹⁹ For the good which I desire, I don't do; but the evil which I don't desire, that I practice. ²⁰ But if what I don't desire, that I do, it is no more I that do it, but sin which dwells in me. ²¹ I find then the law, that, to me, while I desire to do good, evil is present. ²² For I delight in Alahayam's law after the inward man, ²³ but I see a different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity under the law of sin which is in my members. ²⁴ What a wretched man I am! Who will deliver me out of the body of this death? ²⁵ I thank Alahayam through Yashawai Mashayach, our Adanay. So then I of myself with the mind, indeed serve the law of Alahayam, but with the flesh the law of sin.

8 There is therefore now no condemnation to those who are in Mashayach Yashawai, who don't walk according to the flesh, but according to the Spirit. ² For the law of the Spirit of life in Mashayach Yashawai made me free from the law of sin and of death. ³ For what the law couldn't do, in that it was weak through the flesh, Alahayam, sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh; ⁴ that the ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. ⁵ For those who are after the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. ⁶ For the mind of the flesh is death, but the mind of the Spirit is life and peace; ⁷ because the mind of the flesh is hostile towards Alahayam; for it is not subject to Alahayam's law, neither indeed can it be. ⁸ Those who are in the flesh can't please Alahayam. ⁹ But you are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if it is so that the Spirit of Alahayam dwells in you. But if any man doesn't have the Spirit of Mashayach, he is not his. ¹⁰ If Mashayach is in you, the body is dead because of sin, but the spirit is alive because of righteousness. ¹¹ But if the Spirit of him who raised up Yashawai from the dead dwells in you, he who raised up Mashayach Yashawai from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. ¹² So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh. ¹³ For if you live after the flesh, you must die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. ¹⁴ For as many as are led by the Spirit of Alahayam, these are children of Alahayam. ¹⁵ For you didn't receive the spirit of bondage again to fear, but you received the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, "Abba! Father!" ¹⁶ The Spirit himself testifies with our spirit that we are children of Alahayam; ¹⁷ and if children, then heirs; heirs of Alahayam, and joint-heirs with Mashayach; if indeed we suffer with him, that we may also be glorified with him. ¹⁸ For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which will be revealed toward us. ¹⁹ For the creation waits with eager expectation for the sons of Alahayam to be revealed. ²⁰ For the creation was subjected to vanity, not of its own will, but by reason of him who subjected it, in hope ²¹ that the creation itself also will be delivered from the bondage of decay into the liberty of the glory of the children of Alahayam. ²² For we know that the whole creation groans and travails in pain together until now. ²³ Not only so, but ourselves also, who have the first fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for adoption, the redemption of our body. ²⁴ For we were saved in hope, but hope that is seen is not hope. For who hopes for that which he sees? ²⁵ But if we hope for that which we don't see, we wait for it with patience. ²⁶ In the same way, the Spirit also helps our weaknesses, for we don't know how to pray as we ought. But the Spirit himself makes intercession for us with groanings which can't be uttered. ²⁷ He who searches the hearts knows what is on the Spirit's mind, because he makes intercession for the saints according to Alahayam.²⁸ We know that all things work together for good for those who love Alahayam, to those who are called according to his purpose.²⁹ For whom he foreknew, he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brothers.³⁰ Whom he foreordained, them he also called. Whom he called, them he also justified. Whom he justified, them he also glorified.³¹ What then will we say about these things? If Alahayam is for us, who can be against us?³² He who didn't spare his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how would he not also with him freely give us all things?³³ Who could bring a charge against Alahayam's elect? It is Alahayam who justifies.³⁴ Who is he who condemns? It is Mashayach who died, yes rather, who was raised from the dead, who is at the right hand of Alahayam, who also makes intercession for us.³⁵ Who shall separate us from the love of Mashayach? Could oppression, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?³⁶ Even as it is written, "For your sake we are killed all day long. We were accounted as sheep for the slaughter."³⁷ No, in all these things, we are more than conquerors through him who loved us.³⁸ For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers,³⁹ nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, will be able to separate us from the love of Alahayam, which is in Mashayach Yashawai our Adanay.

9 I tell the truth in Mashayach. I am not lying, my conscience testifying with me in the Holy Spirit,² that I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart.³ For I could wish that I myself were accursed from Mashayach for my brothers' sake, my relatives according to the flesh,⁴ who are Israelites; whose is the adoption, the glory, the covenants, the giving of the law, the service, and the promises;⁵ whose are the fathers, and of whom is Mashayach as concerning the flesh, who is over all, Alahayam, blessed forever. Amen.⁶ But it is not as though the word of Alahayam has come to nothing. For they are not all Yasharaal, that are of Yasharaal.⁷ Neither, because they are Abaraham's seed, are they all children. But, "In Yatzachaq will your seed be called."⁸ That is, it is not the children of the flesh who are children of Alahayam, but the children of the promise are counted as a seed.⁹ For this is a word of promise, "At the appointed time I will come, and Sarah will have a son."¹⁰ Not only so, but Rebecca also conceived by one, by our father Yatzachaq.¹¹ For being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that the purpose of Alahayam according to election might stand, not of works, but of him who calls,¹² it was said to her, "The elder will serve the younger."¹³ Even as it is written, "Yaiqab I loved, but Ishaw I hated."¹⁴ What will we say then? Is there unrighteousness with Alahayam? Certainly not!¹⁵ For he said to Mashah, "I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion."¹⁶ So then it is not of him who wills, nor of him who runs, but of Alahayam who has mercy.¹⁷ For the scripture says to Paraih, "For this very purpose I caused you to be raised up, that I might show in you my power, and that my name might be published abroad in all the earth."¹⁸ So then, he has mercy on whom he desires, and he hardens whom he desires.¹⁹ You will say then to me, "Why does he still find fault? For who withstands his will?"²⁰ But no, man, who are you who replies against Alahayam? Will the thing formed ask him who formed it, "Why did you make me like this?"²¹ Or hasn't the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make one part a vessel for honor, and another for dishonor?²² What if Alahayam, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much patience vessels of wrath made for destruction,²³ and that he might make known the riches of his glory on vessels of mercy, which he prepared beforehand for glory,²⁴ us, whom he also called, not from the Jews only, but also from the Gentiles?²⁵ As he says also in Hawashai, "I will call them 'my people,' which were not my people; And her 'beloved,' who was not beloved."²⁶ "It will be that in the place where it was said to them, 'You are not my people,' There will they be called 'sons of the living Alahayam.'"

²⁷ Yashaiyahaw cries concerning Yasharaal, "If the number of the children of Yasharaal are as the sand of the sea, It is the remnant who will be saved;²⁸ For He will finish the work and cut it short in righteousness, Because the Yahawah will make a short work upon the earth."²⁹ As Yashaiyahaw has said before, "Unless the Adanay of Hosts had left us a seed, We would have become like Sadam, And would have been made like Imarah."³⁰ What will we say then? That the Gentiles, who didn't follow after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith;³¹ but Yasharaal, following after a law of righteousness, didn't arrive at the law of righteousness.³² Why? Because they didn't seek it by faith, but as it were by works of the law. They stumbled over the stumbling stone;³³ even as it is written, "Behold, I lay in Tzayawan a stone of stumbling and a rock of offense. And no one who believes in him will be put to shame."

10 Brothers, my heart's desire and my prayer to Alahayam is for Yasharaal, that they may be saved.² For I testify about them that they have a zeal for Alahayam, but not according to knowledge.³ For being ignorant of Alahayam's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own righteousness, they didn't subject themselves to the righteousness of Alahayam.⁴ For Mashayach is the end of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes.⁵ For Mashah writes about the righteousness of the law, "The one who does them will live by them."⁶ But the righteousness which is of faith says this, "Don't say in your heart, 'Who will ascend into heaven?' (that is, to bring Mashayach down);⁷ or, 'Who will descend into the abyss?' (that is, to bring Mashayach up from the dead.)"⁸ But what does it say? "The word is near you, in your mouth, and in your heart;" that is, the word of faith, which we preach:⁹ that if you will confess with your mouth the Adanay Yashawai, and believe in your heart that Alahayam raised him from the dead, you will be saved.¹⁰ For with the heart, one believes unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.¹¹ For the scripture says, "Whoever believes in him will not be put to shame."¹² For there is no distinction between Yahawaday and Greek; for the same Adanay is Adanay of all, and is rich to all who call on him.¹³ For, "Whoever will call on the name of the Adanay will be saved."¹⁴ How then will they call on him in whom they have not believed? How will they believe in him whom they have not heard? How will they hear without a preacher?¹⁵ And how will they preach unless they are sent? As it is written: "How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the gospel of peace, Who bring glad tidings of good things!"¹⁶ But they didn't all listen to the glad news. For Yashaiyahaw says, "Adanay, who has believed our report?"¹⁷ So faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of Alahayam.¹⁸ But I say, didn't they hear? Yes, most assuredly, "Their sound went out into all the earth, Their words to the ends of the world."¹⁹ But I ask, didn't Yasharaal know? First Mashah says, "I will provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation, With a nation void of understanding I will make you angry."²⁰ Yashaiyahaw is very bold, and says, "I was found by those who didn't seek me. I was revealed to those who didn't ask for me."²¹ But as to Yasharaal he says, "All day long I stretched out my hands to a disobedient and contrary people."

11 I ask then, Did Alahayam reject his people? Certainly not! For I also am an Israelite, a descendant of Abaraham, of the tribe of Banayaman.² Alahayam didn't reject his people, which he foreknew. Or don't you know what the scripture says about Alayahaw? How he pleads with Alahayam against Yasharaal:³ "Adanay, they have killed your prophets, they have broken down your altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life."⁴ But how does Alahayam answer him? "I have reserved for myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to Bail."⁵ Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.⁶ And if by grace, then it is no longer of works; otherwise grace is no longer grace. But if it is of works, it is no longer grace; otherwise work is no longer work.⁷ What then? That which Yasharaal seeks for, that he didn't obtain, but the election obtained it, and the rest were hardened.⁸ According as it is written,

"Alahayam gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, to this very day." ⁹ Dawad says, "Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, A stumbling block, and a retribution to them. ¹⁰ Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see. Bow down their back always." ¹¹ I ask then, did they stumble that they might fall? Certainly not! But by their fall salvation has come to the Gentiles, to provoke them to jealousy. ¹² Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fullness? ¹³ For I speak to you who are Gentiles. Since then as I am an apostle to Gentiles, I glorify my ministry; ¹⁴ if by any means I may provoke to jealousy those who are my flesh, and may save some of them. ¹⁵ For if the rejection of them [is] the reconciling of the world, what would the receiving of them be, but life from the dead? ¹⁶ If the first fruit is holy, so is the lump. If the root is holy, so are the branches. ¹⁷ But if some of the branches were broken off, and you, being a wild olive, were grafted in among them, and became partaker with them of the root of the richness of the olive tree; ¹⁸ don't boast over the branches. But if you boast, it is not you who bear the root, but the root you. ¹⁹ You will say then, "Branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in." ²⁰ True; by their unbelief they were broken off, and you stand by your faith. Don't be conceited, but fear; ²¹ for if Alahayam didn't spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. ²² See then the goodness and severity of Alahayam. Toward those who fell, severity; but toward you, goodness, if you continue in his goodness; otherwise you also will be cut off. ²³ They also, if they don't continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for Alahayam is able to graft them in again. ²⁴ For if you were cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and were grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree, how much more will these, which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree? ²⁵ For I don't desire, brothers, to have you ignorant of this mystery, so that you won't be wise in your own conceits, that a hardening in part has happened to Yasharaal, until the fullness of the Gentiles have come in, ²⁶ and so all Yasharaal will be saved. Even as it is written, "There will come out of Tzayawan the Deliverer, And he will turn away ungodliness from Yaiqab. ²⁷ This is my covenant to them, When I will take away their sins." ²⁸ Concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sake. But concerning the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sake. ²⁹ For the gifts and the calling of Alahayam are irrevocable. ³⁰ For as you in time past were disobedient to Alahayam, but now have obtained mercy by their disobedience, ³¹ even so these also have now been disobedient, that by the mercy shown to you they may also obtain mercy. ³² For Alahayam has shut up all to disobedience, that he might have mercy on all. ³³ Oh the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and the knowledge of Alahayam! How unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past tracing out! ³⁴ "For who has known the mind of the Adanay? Or who has been his counselor?" ³⁵ "Or who has first given to him, And it will be repaid to him again?" ³⁶ For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things. To him be the glory for ever! Amen.

12 Therefore I beg you, brothers, by the mercies of Alahayam, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to Alahayam, which is your spiritual service. ² Don't be fashioned according to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, so that you may prove what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of Alahayam. ³ For I say, through the grace that was given me, to every man who is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think reasonably, as Alahayam has apportioned to each person a measure of faith. ⁴ For even as we have many members in one body, and all the members don't have the same function, ⁵ so we, who are many, are one body in Mashayach, and individually members one of another. ⁶ Having gifts differing according to the grace that was given to us, if prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of our faith; ⁷ or service, let us give ourselves to service; or he who teaches, to his teaching; ⁸ or he who exhorts, to his exhorting; he who gives, let him do it with liberality; he who rules, with diligence; he who shows mercy, with cheerfulness. ⁹ Let love be without hypocrisy. Abhor that which is evil. Cling to that which is good. ¹⁰ In love of the brothers be tenderly affectionate one to another; in honor preferring one another; ¹¹ not lagging in diligence; fervent in spirit; serving the Adanay; ¹² rejoicing in hope; enduring in oppression; continuing steadfastly in prayer; ¹³ contributing to the needs of the saints; given to hospitality. ¹⁴ Bless those who persecute you; bless, and don't curse. ¹⁵ Rejoice with those who rejoice. Weep with those who weep. ¹⁶ Be of the same mind one toward another. Don't set your mind on high things, but associate with the humble. Don't be wise in your own conceits. ¹⁷ Repay no one evil for evil. Respect what is honorable in the sight of all men. ¹⁸ If it is possible, as much as it is up to you, be at peace with all men. ¹⁹ Don't seek revenge yourselves, beloved, but give place to Alahayam's wrath. For it is written, "Vengeance belongs to me; I will repay, says the Adanay." ²⁰ Therefore "If your enemy is hungry, feed him. If he is thirsty, give him a drink. For in doing so, you will heap coals of fire on his head." ²¹ Don't be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

13 Let every soul be in subjection to the higher authorities, for there is no authority except from Alahayam, and those who be are ordained by Alahayam. ² Therefore he who resists the authority, withstands the ordinance of Alahayam; and those who withstand will receive to themselves judgment. ³ For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. Do you desire to have no fear of the authority? Do that which is good, and you will have praise from the same, ⁴ for he is a servant of Alahayam to you for good. But if you do that which is evil, be afraid, for he doesn't bear the sword in vain; for he is a minister of Alahayam, an avenger for wrath to him who does evil. ⁵ Therefore you need to be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also for conscience' sake. ⁶ For this reason you also pay taxes, for they are ministers of Alahayam's service, attending continually on this very thing. ⁷ Give therefore to everyone what you owe: taxes to whom taxes are due; customs to whom customs; respect to whom respect; honor to whom honor. ⁸ Owe no one anything, except to love one another; for he who loves his neighbor has fulfilled the law. ⁹ For the commandments, "You shall not commit adultery," "You shall not murder," "You shall not steal," "You shall not give false testimony," "You shall not covet," and whatever other commandments there are, are all summed up in this saying, namely, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." ¹⁰ Love doesn't harm his neighbor. Love therefore is the fulfillment of the law. ¹¹ This, knowing the time, that it is already time for you to awake out of sleep, for salvation is now nearer to us than when we first believed. ¹² The night is far gone, and the day is near. Let's therefore throw off the works of darkness, and let's put on the armor of light. ¹³ Let us walk properly, as in the day; not in reveling and drunkenness, not in sexual promiscuity and lustful acts, and not in strife and jealousy. ¹⁴ But put on the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, and make no provision for the flesh, for its lusts.

14 But receive him who is weak in faith, not for judging thoughts. ² One man has faith to eat all things, but he who is weak eats herbs. ³ Don't let him who eats despise him who doesn't eat. Don't let him who doesn't eat judge him who eats, for Alahayam has received him. ⁴ Who are you who judge the servant of another? To his own lord he stands or falls. Yes, he will be made to stand, for Alahayam has power to make him stand. ⁵ One man esteems one day above another. Another esteems every day alike. Let each man be fully assured in his own mind. ⁶ He who observes the day, observes it to the Adanay; and he who does not observe the day, to the Adanay he does not observe it. He who eats, eats to the Adanay, for he gives Alahayam thanks. He who doesn't eat, to the Adanay he doesn't eat, and gives Alahayam thanks. ⁷ For none of us lives to himself, and none dies to himself. ⁸ For if we live, we live to the Adanay. Or if we die, we die to the Adanay. If therefore we live or die, we are the Adanay's. ⁹ For to this end Mashayach died, rose, and lived again, that he might be Adanay of both the dead and the living. ¹⁰ But you, why do you judge your brother? Or you again, why do you despise your brother? For we will all stand before the judgment seat of Mashayach.¹¹ For it is written, "As I live," says the Adanay, "to me every knee will bow. Every tongue will confess to Alahayam."¹² So then each one of us will give account of himself to Alahayam.¹³ Therefore let's not judge one another any more, but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling block in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling.¹⁴ I know, and am persuaded in the Adanay Yashawai, that nothing is unclean of itself; except that to him who considers anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean.¹⁵ Yet if because of food your brother is grieved, you walk no longer in love. Don't destroy with your food him for whom Mashayach died.¹⁶ Then don't let your good be slandered,¹⁷ for the kingdom of Alahayam is not eating and drinking, but righteousness, peace, and joy in the Holy Spirit.¹⁸ For he who serves Mashayach in these things is acceptable to Alahayam and approved by men.¹⁹ So then, let us follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may build one another up.²⁰ Don't overthrow Alahayam's work for food's sake. All things indeed are clean, however it is evil for that man who creates a stumbling block by eating.²¹ It is good not to eat meat, drink wine nor do anything by which your brother stumbles, is offended, or is made weak.²² Do you have faith? Have it to yourself before Alahayam. Happy is he who doesn't judge himself in that which he approves.²³ But he who doubts is condemned if he eats, because it isn't of faith; and whatever is not of faith is sin.²⁴ Now to him who is able to establish you according to my gospel and the preaching of Yashawai Mashayach, according to the revelation of the mystery which has been kept in silence through eternal times,²⁵ but now is revealed, and by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the eternal Alahayam, is made known to all the nations to obedience of faith;²⁶ to the only wise Alahayam, through Yashawai Mashayach, to whom be the glory forever! Amen.

15 Now we who are strong ought to bear the weaknesses of the weak, and not to please ourselves.² Let each one of us please his neighbor for that which is good, to be building him up.³ For Mashayach also didn't please himself. But, as it is written, "The reproaches of those who reproached you fell on me."⁴ For whatever things were written before were written for our learning, that through patience and through comfort of the scriptures we might have hope.⁵ Now the Alahayam of patience and of comfort grant you to be of the same mind one with another according to Mashayach Yashawai,⁶ that with one accord you may with one mouth glorify the Alahayam and Father of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach.⁷ Therefore receive one another, even as Mashayach also received you, to the glory of Alahayam.⁸ Now I say that Mashayach has been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of Alahayam, that he might confirm the promises given to the fathers,⁹ and that the Gentiles might glorify Alahayam for his mercy. As it is written, "Therefore will I give praise to you among the Gentiles, And sing to your name."¹⁰ Again he says, "Rejoice, you Gentiles, with his people."¹¹ Again, "Praise the Adanay, all you Gentiles! Let all the peoples praise him."¹² Again, Yashaiyah says, "There will be the root of Yashay, He who arises to rule over the Gentiles; On him will the Gentiles hope."¹³ Now may the Alahayam of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that you may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Spirit.¹⁴ I myself am also persuaded about you, my brothers, that you yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish others.¹⁵ But I write the more boldly to you in some measure, as putting you again in memory, because of the grace that was given to me by Alahayam,¹⁶ that I should be a servant of Mashayach Yashawai to the Gentiles, serving the gospel of Alahayam, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Spirit.¹⁷ I have therefore my boasting in Mashayach Yashawai in things pertaining to Alahayam.¹⁸ For I will not dare to speak of any things except those which Mashayach worked through me, for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed,¹⁹ in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of Alahayam's Spirit; so that from Yawashalam, and around as far as to Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Mashayach;²⁰ yes, making it my aim so to preach the gospel, not where Mashayach was already named, that I might not build on another man's foundation.²¹ But, as it is written, "They will see, to whom no news of him came. They who haven't heard will understand."²² Therefore also I was hindered these many times from coming to you,²³ but now, no longer having any place in these regions, and having these many years a longing to come to you,²⁴ whenever I journey to Spain, I will come to you. For I hope to see you on my journey, and to be helped on my way there by you, if first I may enjoy your company for a while.²⁵ But now, I say, I am going to Yawashalam, serving the saints.²⁶ For it has been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints who are at Yawashalam.²⁷ Yes, it has been their good pleasure, and they are their debtors. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, they owe it to them also to serve them in fleshly things.²⁸ When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will go on by you to Spain.²⁹ I know that, when I come to you, I will come in the fullness of the blessing of the gospel of Mashayach.³⁰ Now I beg you, brothers, by our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, and by the love of the Spirit, that you strive together with me in your prayers to Alahayam for me,³¹ that I may be delivered from those who are disobedient in Yahawadah, and that my service which I have for Yawashalam may be acceptable to the saints;³² that I may come to you in joy through the will of Alahayam, and together with you, find rest.³³ Now the Alahayam of peace be with you all. Amen.

16 I commend to you Phoebe, our sister, who is a servant of the assembly that is at Cenchreae,² that you receive her in the Adanay, in a way worthy of the saints, and that you assist her in whatever matter she may need from you, for she herself also has been a helper of many, and of my own self.³ Greet Prisca and Aquila, my fellow workers in Mashayach Yashawai,⁴ who for my life, laid down their own necks; to whom not only I give thanks, but also all the assemblies of the Gentiles.⁵ Greet the assembly that is in their house. Greet Epaphroditus, my beloved, who is the first-fruits of Achaia to Mashayach.⁶ Greet Marayam, who labored much for us.⁷ Greet Andronicus and Junias, my relatives and my fellow prisoners, who are notable among the apostles, who also have been in Mashayach before me.⁸ Greet Amplias, my beloved in the Adanay.⁹ Greet Urbanus, our fellow worker in Mashayach, and Stachys, my beloved.¹⁰ Greet Apelles, the approved in Mashayach. Greet those who are of the household of Aristobulus.¹¹ Greet Herodion, my kinsman. Greet them of the household of Narcissus, who are in the Adanay.¹² Greet Tryphaena and Tryphosa, who labor in the Adanay. Greet Persis, the beloved, who labored much in the Adanay.¹³ Greet Rufus, the chosen in the Adanay, and his mother and mine.¹⁴ Greet Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and the brothers who are with them.¹⁵ Greet Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints who are with them.¹⁶ Greet one another with a holy kiss. The assemblies of Mashayach greet you.¹⁷ Now I beg you, brothers, mark those who are causing the divisions and occasions of stumbling, contrary to the doctrine which you learned, and turn away from them.¹⁸ For those who are such don't serve our Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, but their own belly; and by their smooth and flattering speech, they deceive the hearts of the innocent.¹⁹ For your obedience has reached all. I rejoice therefore over you. But I desire to have you wise to that which is good, but innocent to that which is evil.²⁰ Now the Alahayam of peace will crush Satan under your feet swiftly. The grace of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach be with you.²¹ Tayamawathayawas, my fellow worker, greets you, as do Lucius, Jason, and Sosipater, my relatives.²² I, Tertius, who write the letter, greet you in the Adanay.²³ Gaius, my host and host of the whole assembly, greets you. Erastus, the treasurer of the city, greets you, as does Quartus, the brother.²⁴ The grace of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach be with you all! Amen.

1 Shaawal, called to be an apostle of Yashawai Mashayach through the will of Alahayam, and our brother Sosthenes,² to the assembly of Alahayam which is at Corinth; those who are sanctified in Mashayach Yashawai, called to be saints, with all who call on the name of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach in every place, both theirs and ours:³ Grace to you and peace from Alahayam our Father and the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach.⁴ I always thank my Alahayam concerning you, for the grace of Alahayam which was given you in Mashayach Yashawai;⁵ that in everything you were enriched in him, in all speech and all knowledge;⁶ even as the testimony of Mashayach was confirmed in you:⁷ so that you come behind in no gift; waiting for the revelation of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach;⁸ who will also confirm you until the end, blameless in the day of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach.⁹ Alahayam is faithful, through whom you were called into the fellowship of his Son, Yashawai Mashayach, our Adanay.¹⁰ Now I beg you, brothers, through the name of our Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, that you all speak the same thing and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgment.¹¹ For it has been reported to me concerning you, my brothers, by those who are from Chloe's household, that there are contentions among you.¹² Now I mean this, that each one of you says, "I follow Shaawal," "I follow Apollos," "I follow Kayapaa," and, "I follow Mashayach."¹³ Is Mashayach divided? Was Shaawal crucified for you? Or were you baptized into the name of Shaawal?¹⁴ I thank Alahayam that I baptized none of you, except Crispus and Gaius,¹⁵ so that no one should say that I had baptized you into my own name.¹⁶ (I also baptized the household of Stephanas; besides them, I don't know whether I baptized any other.)¹⁷ For Mashayach sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel -- not in wisdom of words, so that the cross of Mashayach wouldn't be made void.¹⁸ For the word of the cross is foolishness to those who are dying, but to us who are saved it is the power of Alahayam.¹⁹ For it is written, "I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, I will bring the discernment of the discerning to nothing."²⁰ Where is the wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the lawyer of this world? Hasn't Alahayam made foolish the wisdom of this world?²¹ For seeing that in the wisdom of Alahayam, the world through its wisdom didn't know Alahayam, it was Alahayam's good pleasure through the foolishness of the preaching to save those who believe.²² For Jews ask for signs, Greeks seek after wisdom,²³ but we preach Mashayach crucified; a stumbling block to Jews, and foolishness to Greeks,²⁴ but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Mashayach is the power of Alahayam and the wisdom of Alahayam.²⁵ Because the foolishness of Alahayam is wiser than men, and the weakness of Alahayam is stronger than men.²⁶ For you see your calling, brothers, that not many are wise according to the flesh, not many mighty, and not many noble;²⁷ but Alahayam chose the foolish things of the world that he might put to shame those who are wise. Alahayam chose the weak things of the world, that he might put to shame the things that are strong;²⁸ and Alahayam chose the lowly things of the world, and the things that are despised, and the things that are not, that he might bring to nothing the things that are:²⁹ that no flesh should boast before Alahayam.³⁰ But of him, you are in Mashayach Yashawai, who was made to us wisdom from Alahayam, and righteousness and sanctification, and redemption:³¹ that, according as it is written, "He who boasts, let him boast in the Adanay."

2 When I came to you, brothers, I didn't come with excellence of speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you the testimony of Alahayam.² For I determined not to know anything among you, except Yashawai Mashayach, and him crucified.³ I was with you in weakness, in fear, and in much trembling.⁴ My speech and my preaching were not in persuasive words of human wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power,⁵ that your faith wouldn't stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of Alahayam.⁶ We speak wisdom, however, among those who are full grown; yet a wisdom not of this world, nor of the rulers of this world, who are coming to nothing.⁷ But we speak Alahayam's wisdom in a mystery, the wisdom that has been hidden, which Alahayam foreordained before the worlds to our glory,⁸ which none of the rulers of this world has known. For had they known it, they wouldn't have crucified the Adanay of glory.⁹ But as it is written, "Things which eye didn't see, and ear didn't hear, Which didn't enter into the heart of man, Whatever things Alahayam prepared for those who love him."¹⁰ But to us, Alahayam revealed them through the Spirit. For the Spirit searches all things, yes, the deep things of Alahayam.¹¹ For who among men knows the things of a man, except the spirit of the man, which is in him? Even so, no one knows the things of Alahayam, except Alahayam's Spirit.¹² But we received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is from Alahayam, that we might know the things that were freely given to us by Alahayam.¹³ Which things also we speak, not in words which man's wisdom teaches, but which the Holy Spirit teaches, comparing spiritual things with spiritual things.¹⁴ Now the natural man doesn't receive the things of the Alahayam's Spirit, for they are foolishness to him, and he can't know them, because they are spiritually discerned.¹⁵ But he who is spiritual discerns all things, and he himself is judged by no one.¹⁶ "For who has known the mind of the Adanay, that he should instruct him?" But we have Mashayach's mind.

3 Brothers, I couldn't speak to you as to spiritual, but as to fleshly, as to babes in Mashayach.² I fed you with milk, not with meat; for you weren't yet ready. Indeed, not even now are you ready,³ for you are still fleshly. For insofar as there is jealousy, strife, and factions among you, aren't you fleshly, and don't you walk in the ways of men?⁴ For when one says, "I follow Shaawal," and another, "I follow Apollos," aren't you fleshly?⁵ Who then is Apollos, and who is Shaawal, but servants through whom you believed; and each as the Adanay gave to him?⁶ I planted. Apollos watered. But Alahayam gave the increase.⁷ So then neither he who plants is anything, nor he who waters, but Alahayam who gives the increase.⁸ Now he who plants and he who waters are the same, but each will receive his own reward according to his own labor.⁹ For we are Alahayam's fellow workers. You are Alahayam's farming, Alahayam's building.¹⁰ According to the grace of Alahayam which was given to me, as a wise master builder I laid a foundation, and another builds on it. But let each man be careful how he builds on it.¹¹ For no one can lay any other foundation than that which has been laid, which is Yashawai Mashayach.¹² But if anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, or stubble;¹³ each man's work will be revealed. For the Day will declare it, because it is revealed in fire; and the fire itself will test what sort of work each man's work is.¹⁴ If any man's work remains which he built on it, he will receive a reward.¹⁵ If any man's work is burned, he will suffer loss, but he himself will be saved, but as through fire.¹⁶ Don't you know that you are a temple of Alahayam, and that Alahayam's Spirit lives in you?¹⁷ If anyone destroys the temple of Alahayam, Alahayam will destroy him; for Alahayam's temple is holy, which you are.¹⁸ Let no one deceive himself. If anyone thinks that he is wise among you in this world, let him become a fool, that he may become wise.¹⁹ For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with Alahayam. For it is written, "He has taken the wise in their craftiness."²⁰ And again, "The Adanay knows the reasoning of the wise, that it is worthless."²¹ Therefore let no one boast in men. For all things are yours,²² whether Shaawal, or Apollos, or Kayapaa, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come. All are yours,²³ and you are Mashayach's, and Mashayach is Alahayam's.

4 So let a man think of us as Mashayach's servants, and stewards of Alahayam's mysteries.² Here, moreover, it is required of stewards, that they be found faithful.³ But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged by you, or by man's judgment. Yes, I don't judge my own self.⁴ For I know nothing against myself. Yet I am not justified by this, but he who judges me is the Adanay.⁵ Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Adanay comes, who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and reveal the counsels of the hearts. Then each man will get his praise from Alahayam.⁶ Now these things, brothers, I have in a figure transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes, that in us you might learn not to think beyond the things which are written, that none of you be puffed up against one another.⁷ For who makes you different? And what do you have that you didn't receive? But if you did receive it, why do you boast as if you had not received it?⁸ You are already filled. You have already become rich. You have come to reign without us. Yes, and I wish that you did reign, that we also might reign with you.⁹ For, I think that Alahayam has displayed us, the apostles, last of all, like men sentenced to death. For we are made a spectacle to the world, both to angels and men.¹⁰ We are fools for Mashayach's sake, but you are wise in Mashayach. We are weak, but you are strong. You have honor, but we have dishonor.¹¹ Even to this present hour we hunger, thirst, are naked, are beaten, and have no certain dwelling place.¹² We toil, working with our own hands. Being reviled, we bless. Being persecuted, we endure.¹³ Being defamed, we entreat. We are made as the filth of the world, the dirt wiped off by all, even until now.¹⁴ I don't write these things to shame you, but to admonish you as my beloved children.¹⁵ For though you have ten thousand tutors in Mashayach, yet not many fathers. For in Mashayach Yashawai, I became your father through the gospel.¹⁶ I beg you therefore, be imitators of me.¹⁷ Because of this I have sent Tayamawathayawas to you, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Adanay, who will remind you of my ways which are in Mashayach, even as I teach everywhere in every assembly.¹⁸ Now some are puffed up, as though I were not coming to you.¹⁹ But I will come to you shortly, if the Adanay is willing. And I will know, not the word of those who are puffed up, but the power.²⁰ For the kingdom of Alahayam is not in word, but in power.²¹ What do you want? Will I come to you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of gentleness?

5 It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and such sexual immorality as is not even named among the Gentiles, that one has his father's wife.² You are puffed up, and didn't rather mourn, that he who had done this deed might be removed from among you.³ For I most assuredly, as being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him who has done this thing.⁴ In the name of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, you being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach,⁵ are to deliver such a one to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Adanay Yashawai.⁶ Your boasting is not good. Don't you know that a little yeast leavens the whole lump?⁷ Purge out the old yeast, that you may be a new lump, even as you are unleavened. For indeed Mashayach, our Passover, has been sacrificed in our place.⁸ Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old yeast, neither with the yeast of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.⁹ I wrote to you in my letter to have no company with sexual sinners;¹⁰ yet not at all meaning with the sexual sinners of this world, or with the covetous and extortioners, or with idolaters; for then you would have to leave the world.¹¹ But as it is, I wrote to you not to keep company, if any man who is named a brother is a sexual sinner, or covetous, or an idolater, or a slanderer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner. Don't even eat with such a person.¹² For what have I to do with also judging those who are outside? Don't you judge those who are within?¹³ But those who are outside, Alahayam judges. "Pawt away the wicked man from among yourselves."

6 Dare any of you, having a matter against his neighbor, go to law before the unrighteous, and not before the saints?² Don't you know that the saints will judge the world? And if the world is judged by you, are you unworthy to judge the smallest matters?³ Don't you know that we will judge angels? How much more, things that pertain to this life?⁴ If then, you have to judge things pertaining to this life, do you set them to judge who are of no account in the assembly?⁵ I say this to move you to shame. What, can't there be one wise man among you who will be able to decide between his brothers;⁶ but brother goes to law with brother, and that before unbelievers?⁷ Therefore it is already altogether a defect in you, that you have lawsuits one with another. Why not rather be wronged? Why not rather be defrauded?⁸ No, but you yourselves do wrong, and defraud, and that against your brothers.⁹ Or don't you know that the unrighteous will not inherit the kingdom of Alahayam? Don't be deceived. Neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor male prostitutes, nor homosexuals,¹⁰ nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor slanderers, nor extortioners, will inherit the kingdom of Alahayam.¹¹ Such were some of you, but you were washed. But you were sanctified. But you were justified in the name of the Adanay Yashawai, and in the Spirit of our Alahayam.¹² "All things are lawful for me," but not all things are expedient. "All things are lawful for me," but I will not be brought under the power of anything.¹³ "Foods for the belly, and the belly for foods," but Alahayam will bring to nothing both it and them. But the body is not for sexual immorality, but for the Adanay; and the Adanay for the body.¹⁴ Now Alahayam raised up the Adanay, and will also raise us up by his power.¹⁵ Don't you know that your bodies are members of Mashayach? Will I then take away the members of Mashayach, and make them members of a prostitute? Certainly not!¹⁶ Or don't you know that he who is joined to a prostitute is one body? For, "The two," says he, "will become one flesh."¹⁷ But he who is joined to the Adanay is one spirit.¹⁸ Flee sexual immorality. "Every sin that a man does is outside the body," but he who commits sexual immorality sins against his own body.¹⁹ Or don't you know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you, which you have from Alahayam? You are not your own,²⁰ for you were bought with a price. Therefore glorify Alahayam in your body and in your spirit, which are Alahayam's.

7 Now concerning the things about which you wrote to me. It is good for a man not to touch a woman.² But, because of sexual sins, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband.³ Let the husband render to the wife her due, and likewise also the wife to the husband.⁴ The wife doesn't have authority over her own body, but the husband. Likewise also the husband doesn't have power over his own body, but the wife.⁵ Don't defraud one another, unless it is by consent for a season, that you may give yourselves to fasting and prayer, and may be together again, that Satan doesn't tempt you because of your lack of self-control.⁶ But this I say by way of concession, not of commandment.⁷ Yet I wish that all men were like me. However each man has his own gift from Alahayam, one of this kind, and another of that kind.⁸ But I say to the unmarried and to widows, it is good for them if they remain even as I am.⁹ But if they don't have self-control, let them marry. For it's better to marry than to burn.¹⁰ But to the married I command -- not I, but the Adanay -- that the wife not leave her husband¹¹ (but if she departs, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband), and that the husband not leave his wife.¹² But to the rest I -- not the Adanay -- say, if any brother has an unbelieving wife, and she is content to live with him, let him not leave her.¹³ The woman who has an unbelieving husband, and he is content to live with her, let her not leave her husband.¹⁴ For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the husband. Otherwise your children would be unclean, but now are they holy.¹⁵ Yet if the unbeliever departs, let there be separation. The brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases, but Alahayam has called us in peace.¹⁶ For how do you know, wife, whether you will save your husband? Or how do you know, husband, whether you will save your wife?¹⁷ Only, as the Adanay has distributed to each man, as Alahayam has called each, so let him walk. So I command in all the assemblies.¹⁸ Was anyone called being circumcised? Let him not become uncircumcised. Has any been called in uncircumcision? Let him not be circumcised.¹⁹ Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of Alahayam.²⁰ Let each man stay in that calling in which he was called.²¹ Were you called being a bondservant? Don't let that bother you, but if you get an opportunity to become free, use it.²² For he who was called in the Adanay being a bondservant is the Adanay's free man. Likewise he who was called being free is Mashayach's bondservant.²³ You were bought with a price. Don't become bondservants of men.²⁴ Brothers, let each man, in whatever condition he was called, stay in that condition with Alahayam.²⁵ Now concerning virgins, I have no commandment from the Adanay, but I give my judgment as one who has obtained mercy from the Adanay to be trustworthy.²⁶ I think that it is good therefore, because of the distress that is on us, that it is good for a man to be as he is.²⁷ Are you bound to a wife? Don't seek to be freed. Are you free from a wife? Don't seek a wife.²⁸ But if you marry, you have not sinned. If a virgin marries, she has not sinned. Yet such will have oppression in the flesh, and I want to spare you.²⁹ But I say this, brothers: the time is short, that from now on, both those who have wives may be as though they had none;³⁰ and those who weep, as though they didn't weep; and those who rejoice, as though they didn't rejoice; and those who buy, as though they didn't possess;³¹ and those who use the world, as not using it to the fullest. For the mode of this world passes away.³² But I desire to have you to be free from cares. He who is unmarried is concerned for the things of the Adanay, how he may please the Adanay;³³ but he who is married is concerned about the things of the world, how he may please his wife.³⁴ There is also a difference between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman cares about the things of the Adanay, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit. But she who is married cares about the things of the world -- how she may please her husband.³⁵ This I say for your own profit; not that I may throw a snare on you, but for that which is appropriate, and that you may attend to the Adanay without distraction.³⁶ But if any man thinks that he is behaving inappropriately toward his virgin, if she is past the flower of her age, and if need so requires, let him do what he desires. He doesn't sin. Let them marry.³⁷ But he who stands steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but has power over his own heart, to keep his own virgin, will do well.³⁸ So then both he who gives his own virgin in marriage does well, and he who doesn't give her in marriage will do better.³⁹ A wife is bound by law for so long time as her husband lives; but if the husband is dead, she is free to be married to whoever she desires, only in the Adanay.⁴⁰ But she is happier if she stays as she is, in my judgment, and I think that I also have Alahayam's Spirit.

8 Now concerning things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffs up, but love builds up.² But if anyone thinks that he knows anything, he doesn't yet know as he ought to know.³ But if anyone loves Alahayam, the same is known by him.⁴ Therefore concerning the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that no idol is anything in the world, and that there is no other Alahayam but one.⁵ For though there are things that are called "gods," whether in the heavens or on earth; as there are many "gods" and many "lords;"⁶ yet to us there is one Alahayam, the Father, of whom are all things, and we to him; and one Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, through whom are all things, and we through him.⁷ However, that knowledge isn't in all men. But some, being used until now to the idol, eat as of a thing sacrificed to an idol, and their conscience, being weak, is defiled.⁸ But food will not commend us to Alahayam. For neither, if we don't eat, are we the worse; nor, if we eat, are we the better.⁹ But be careful that by any means this liberty of yours doesn't become a stumbling block to the weak.¹⁰ For if a man sees you who have knowledge sitting in an idol's temple, won't his conscience, if he is weak, be emboldened to eat things sacrificed to idols?¹¹ And through your knowledge, he who is weak perishes, the brother for whose sake Mashayach died.¹² Thus, sinning against the brothers, and wounding their conscience when it is weak, you sin against Mashayach.¹³ Therefore, if food causes my brother to stumble, I will eat no meat forevermore, that I don't cause my brother to stumble.

9 Am I not free? Am I not an apostle? Haven't I seen Yashawai Mashayach, our Adanay? Aren't you my work in the Adanay?² If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you; for you are the seal of my apostleship in the Adanay.³ My defense to those who examine me is this.⁴ Have we no right to eat and to drink?⁵ Have we no right to take along a wife who is a believer, even as the rest of the apostles, and the brothers of the Adanay, and Kayapaa?⁶ Or have only Baranab and I no right to not work?⁷ What soldier ever serves at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard, and doesn't eat of its fruit? Or who feeds a flock, and doesn't drink from the flock's milk?⁸ Do I speak these things according to the ways of men? Or doesn't the law also say the same thing?⁹ For it is written in the law of Mashah, "You shall not muzzle the ox when he treads out the corn." Is it for the oxen that Alahayam cares,¹⁰ or does he say it assuredly for our sake? Yes, for our sake it was written, because he who plows ought to plow in hope, and he who threshes in hope should partake of his hope.¹¹ If we sowed to you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we reap your fleshly things?¹² If others partake of this right over you, don't we yet more? Nevertheless we did not use this right, but we bear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the gospel of Mashayach.¹³ Don't you know that those who serve around sacred things eat from the things of the temple, and those who wait on the altar have their portion with the altar?¹⁴ Even so did the Adanay ordain that those who proclaim the gospel should live from the gospel.¹⁵ But I have used none of these things, and I don't write these things that it may be done so in my case; for I would rather die, than that anyone should make my boasting void.¹⁶ For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to boast about; for necessity is laid on me; but woe is to me, if I don't preach the gospel.¹⁷ For if I do this of my own will, I have a reward. But if not of my own will, I have a stewardship entrusted to me.¹⁸ What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, I may present the gospel of Mashayach without charge, so as not to abuse my authority in the gospel.¹⁹ For though I was free from all, I brought myself under bondage to all, that I might gain the more.²⁰ To the Jews I became as a Yahawaday, that I might gain Jews; to those who are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain those who are under the law;²¹ to those who are without law, as without law (not being without law toward Alahayam, but under law toward Mashayach), that I might win those who are without law.²² To the weak I became as weak, that I might gain the weak. I have become all things to all men, that I may by all means save some.²³ Now I do this for the gospel's sake, that I may be a joint partaker of it.²⁴ Don't you know that those who run in a race all run, but one receives the prize? Run like that, that you may win.²⁵ Every man who strives in the games exercises self-control in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible.²⁶ I therefore run like that, as not uncertainly. I fight like that, as not beating the air,²⁷ but I beat my body and bring it into submission, for fear that by any means, that after I have preached to others, I myself should be rejected.

10 Now I would not have you ignorant, brothers, that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed through the sea;² and were all baptized to Mashah in the cloud and in the sea;³ and all ate the same spiritual food;⁴ and all drank the same spiritual drink. For they drank of a spiritual rock that followed them, and the rock was Mashayach.⁵ However with most of them, Alahayam was not well pleased, for they were overthrown in the wilderness.⁶ Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.⁷ Neither be idolaters, as some of them were. As it is written, "The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play."⁸ Neither let us commit sexual immorality, as some of them committed, and in one day twenty-three thousand fell.⁹ Neither let us test the Adanay, as some of them tested, and perished by the serpents.¹⁰ Neither grumble, as some of them also grumbled, and perished by the destroyer.¹¹ Now all these things happened to them by way of example, and they were written for our admonition, on whom the ends of the ages have come.¹² Therefore let him who thinks he stands be careful that he doesn't fall.¹³ No temptation has taken you but such as man can bear. Alahayam is faithful, who will not allow you to be tempted above what you are able, but will with the temptation make also the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it.¹⁴ Therefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry.¹⁵ I speak as to wise men. Judge what I say.¹⁶ The cup of blessing which we bless, isn't it a communion of the blood of Mashayach? The bread which we break, isn't it a communion of the body of Mashayach?¹⁷ Seeing that we, who are many, are one bread, one body; for we all partake of the one bread.¹⁸ Consider Yasharaal after the flesh. Don't those who eat the sacrifices have communion with the altar?¹⁹ What am I saying then? That a thing sacrificed to idols is anything, or that an idol is anything?²⁰ But I say that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to demons, and not to Alahayam, and I don't desire that you would have communion with demons.²¹ You can't both drink the cup of the Adanay and the cup of demons. You can't both partake of the table of the Adanay, and of the table of demons.²² Or do we provoke the Adanay to jealousy? Are we stronger than he?²³ "All things are lawful for me," but not all things are expedient. "All things are lawful for me," but not all things build up.²⁴ Let no one seek his own, but each one his neighbor's good.²⁵ Whatever is sold in the butcher shop, eat, asking no question for the sake of conscience,²⁶ for "the earth is the Adanay's, and its fullness."²⁷ But if one of those who don't believe invites you to a meal, and you are inclined to go, eat whatever is set before you, asking no questions for the sake of conscience.²⁸ But if anyone says to you, "This was offered to idols," don't eat it for the sake of the one who told you, and for the sake of conscience. For "the earth is the Adanay's, and all its fullness."²⁹ Conscience, I say, not your own, but the other's conscience. For why is my liberty judged by another conscience?³⁰ If I partake with thankfulness, why am I denounced for that for which I give thanks?³¹ Whether therefore you eat, or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of Alahayam.³² Give no occasions for stumbling, either to Jews, or to Greeks, or to the assembly of Alahayam;³³ even as I also please all men in all things, not seeking my own profit, but the profit of the many, that they may be saved.

11 Be imitators of me, even as I also am of Mashayach.² Now I praise you, brothers, that you remember me in all things, and hold firm the traditions, even as I delivered them to you.³ But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Mashayach, and the head of the woman is the man, and the head of Mashayach is Alahayam.⁴ Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonors his head.⁵ But every woman praying or prophesying with her head unveiled dishonors her head. For it is one and the same thing as if she were shaved.⁶ For if a woman is not covered, let her also be shorn. But if it is shameful for a woman to be shorn or shaved, let her be covered.⁷ For a man indeed ought not to have his head covered, because he is the image and glory of Alahayam, but the woman is the glory of the man.⁸ For man is not from woman, but woman from man;⁹ for neither was man created for the woman, but woman for the man.¹⁰ For this cause the woman ought to have authority on her head, because of the angels.¹¹ Nevertheless, neither is the woman independent of the man, nor the man independent of the woman, in the Adanay.¹² For as the woman is from the man, so is the man also by the woman; but all things are from Alahayam.¹³ Judge for yourselves. Is it appropriate that a woman pray to Alahayam unveiled?¹⁴ Doesn't even nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair, it is a dishonor to him?

¹⁵ But if a woman has long hair, it is a glory to her, for her hair is given to her for a covering.¹⁶ But if any man seems to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither do Alahayam's assemblies.¹⁷ But in giving you this command, I don't praise you, that you come together not for the better but for the worse.¹⁸ For first of all, when you come together in the assembly, I hear that divisions exist among you, and I partly believe it.¹⁹ For there must be also factions among you, that those who are approved may be revealed among you.²⁰ When therefore you assemble yourselves together, it is not possible to eat the Adanay's supper.²¹ For in your eating each one takes his own supper before others. One is hungry, and another is drunken.²² What, don't you have houses to eat and to drink in? Or do you despise Alahayam's assembly, and put them to shame who don't have? What will I tell you? Will I praise you? In this I don't praise you.²³ For I received from the Adanay that which also I delivered to you, that the Adanay Yashawai on the night in which he was betrayed took bread.²⁴ When he had given thanks, he broke it, and said, "Take, eat. This is my body, which is broken for you. Do this in memory of me."²⁵ In the same way he also took the cup, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink, in memory of me."²⁶ For as often as you eat this bread, and drink this cup, you proclaim the Adanay's death until he comes.²⁷ Therefore whoever eats this bread or drinks the Adanay's cup in an unworthy manner, will be guilty of the body and the blood of the Adanay.²⁸ But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup.²⁹ For he who eats and drinks in an unworthy manner eats and drinks judgment to himself, if he doesn't discern the Adanay's body.³⁰ For this cause many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few sleep.³¹ For if we discerned ourselves, we wouldn't be judged.³² But when we are judged, we are punished by the Adanay, that we may not be condemned with the world.³³ Therefore, my brothers, when you come together to eat, wait one for another.³⁴ But if anyone is hungry, let him eat at home, that your coming together may not be to judgment. The rest I will set in order whenever I come.

12 Now concerning spiritual gifts, brothers, I don't want you to be ignorant.² You know that when you were Gentiles, you were led away to those mute idols, however you might be led.³ Therefore I make known to you that no man speaking by Alahayam's Spirit says, "Yashawai is accursed." No one can say, "Yashawai is Adanay," but by the Holy Spirit.⁴ Now there are various kinds of gifts, but the same Spirit.⁵ There are various kinds of service, and the same Adanay.⁶ There are various kinds of workings, but the same Alahayam, who works all things in all.⁷ But to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the profit of all.⁸ For to one is given through the Spirit the word of wisdom, and to another the word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit;⁹ to another faith, by the same Spirit; and to another gifts of healings, by the same Spirit;¹⁰ and to another workings of miracles; and to another prophecy; and to another discerning of spirits; to another different kinds of languages; and to another the interpretation of languages.¹¹ But the one and the same Spirit works all of these, distributing to each one separately as he desires.¹² For as the body is one, and has many members, and all the members of the body, being many, are one body; so also is Mashayach.¹³ For in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and were all made to drink into one Spirit.¹⁴ For the body is not one member, but many.¹⁵ If the foot would say, "Because I'm not the hand, I'm not part of the body," it is not therefore not part of the body.¹⁶ If the ear would say, "Because I'm not the eye, I'm not part of the body," it's not therefore not part of the body.¹⁷ If the whole body were an eye, where would the hearing be? If the whole were hearing, where would the smelling be?¹⁸ But now Alahayam has set the members, each one of them, in the body, just as he desired.¹⁹ If they were all one member, where would the body be?²⁰ But now they are many members, but one body.²¹ The eye can't tell the hand, "I have no need for you," or again the head to the feet, "I have no need for you."²² No, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be weaker are necessary.²³ Those parts of the body which we think to be less honorable, on those we bestow more abundant honor; and our unpresentable parts have more abundant propriety;²⁴ whereas our presentable parts have no such need. But Alahayam composed the body together, giving more abundant honor to the inferior part,²⁵ that there should be no division in the body, but that the members should have the same care for one another.²⁶ When one member suffers, all the members suffer with it. Or when one member is honored, all the members rejoice with it.²⁷ Now you are the body of Mashayach, and members individually.²⁸ Alahayam has set some in the assembly, first apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers, then miracle workers, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, and various kinds of languages.²⁹ Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Are all miracle workers?³⁰ Do all have gifts of healings? Do all speak with various languages? Do all interpret?³¹ But desire earnestly the best gifts. Moreover, I show a most excellent way to you.

13 If I speak with the languages of men and of angels, but don't have love, I have become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal.² If I have the gift of prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but don't have love, I am nothing.³ If I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and if I give my body to be burned, but don't have love, it profits me nothing.⁴ Love is patient and is kind; love doesn't envy. Love doesn't brag, is not proud,⁵ doesn't behave itself inappropriately, doesn't seek its own way, is not provoked, takes no account of evil;⁶ doesn't rejoice in unrighteousness, but rejoices with the truth;⁷ bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.⁸ Love never fails. But where there are prophecies, they will be done away with. Where there are various languages, they will cease. Where there is knowledge, it will be done away with.⁹ For we know in part, and we prophesy in part;¹⁰ but when that which is complete has come, then that which is partial will be done away with.¹¹ When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child. Now that I have become a man, I have put away childish things.¹² For now we see in a mirror, dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part, but then I will know fully, even as I was also fully known.¹³ But now remain faith, hope, and love: these three. The greatest of these is love.

14 Follow after love, and earnestly desire spiritual gifts, but especially that you may prophesy.² For he who speaks in another language speaks not to men, but to Alahayam; for no one understands; but in the spirit he speaks mysteries.³ But he who prophesies speaks to men for their edification, exhortation, and consolation.⁴ He who speaks in another language edifies himself, but he who prophesies edifies the assembly.⁵ Now I desire to have you all speak with other languages, but rather that you would prophesy. For he is greater who prophesies than he who speaks with other languages, unless he interprets, that the assembly may be built up.⁶ But now, brothers, if I come to you speaking with other languages, what would I profit you, unless I speak to you either by way of revelation, or of knowledge, or of prophesying, or of teaching?⁷ Even things without life, giving a voice, whether pipe or harp, if they didn't give a distinction in the sounds, how would it be known what is piped or harped?⁸ For if the trumpet gave an uncertain voice, who would prepare himself for war?⁹ So also you, unless you uttered by the tongue words easy to understand, how would it be known what is spoken? For you would be speaking into the air.¹⁰ There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without meaning.¹¹ If then I don't know the meaning of the voice, I would be to him who speaks a foreigner, and he who speaks will be a foreigner to me.¹² So also you, since you are zealous for spiritual gifts, seek that you may abound to the building up of the assembly.¹³ Therefore let him who speaks in another language pray that he may interpret.¹⁴ For if I pray in another language, my spirit prays, but my understanding is unfruitful.¹⁵ What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also. I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also.¹⁶ Else if you bless with the spirit, how will he who fills the place of the unlearned say the "Amen" at your giving of thanks, seeing he doesn't know what you say?¹⁷ For you most assuredly give thanks well, but the other person is not built up.¹⁸ I thank my Alahayam, I speak with other languages more than you all.¹⁹ However in the assembly I would rather speak five words with my understanding, that I might instruct others also, than ten thousand words in another language.²⁰ Brothers, don't be children in mind, yet in malice be babies, but in mind be men.²¹ In the law it is written, "By men of strange languages and by the lips of strangers I will speak to this people. Not even thus will they hear me, says the Adanay."²² Therefore other languages are for a sign, not to those who believe, but to the unbelieving; but prophesying is for a sign, not to the unbelieving, but to those who believe.²³ If therefore the whole assembly is assembled together and all speak with other languages, and unlearned or unbelieving people come in, won't they say that you are crazy?²⁴ But if all prophesy, and someone unbelieving or unlearned comes in, he is reproved by all, and he is judged by all.²⁵ And thus the secrets of his heart are revealed. So he will fall down on his face and worship Alahayam, declaring that Alahayam is among you indeed.²⁶ What is it then, brothers? When you come together, each one of you has a psalm, has a teaching, has a revelation, has another language, has an interpretation. Let all things be done to build each other up.²⁷ If any man speaks in another language, let it be two, or at the most three, and in turn; and let one interpret.²⁸ But if there is no interpreter, let him keep silence in the assembly, and let him speak to himself, and to Alahayam.²⁹ Let the prophets speak, two or three, and let the others discern.³⁰ But if a revelation is made to another sitting by, let the first keep silence.³¹ For you all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be exhorted.³² The spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets,³³ for Alahayam is not a Alahayam of confusion, but of peace. As in all the assemblies of the saints,³⁴ let your women keep silence in the assemblies, for it is not permitted for them to speak; but let them be in subjection, as the Law also says.³⁵ If they desire to learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home, for it is shameful for a woman to chatter in the assembly.³⁶ What? Was it from you that the word of Alahayam went forth? Or did it come to you alone?³⁷ If any man thinks himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him recognize the things which I write to you, that they are the commandment of the Adanay.³⁸ But if anyone is ignorant, let him be ignorant.³⁹ Therefore, brothers, desire earnestly to prophesy, and don't forbid speaking with other languages.⁴⁰ Let all things be done decently and in order.

15 Now I declare to you, brothers, the gospel which I preached to you, which also you received, in which you also stand,² by which also you are saved, if you hold firmly the word which I preached to you -- unless you believed in vain.³ For I delivered to you first of all that which also I received: that Mashayach died for our sins according to the scriptures,⁴ that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day according to the Scriptures,⁵ and that he appeared to Kayapaa, then to the twelve.⁶ Then he appeared to over five hundred brothers at once, most of whom remain until now, but some have also fallen asleep.⁷ Then he appeared to Yaiqab, then to all the apostles,⁸ and last of all, as to the child born at the wrong time, he appeared to me also.⁹ For I am the least of the apostles, who is not worthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the assembly of Alahayam.¹⁰ But by the grace of Alahayam I am what I am. His grace which was bestowed on me was not found vain, but I worked more than all of them; yet not I, but the grace of Alahayam which was with me.¹¹ Whether then it is I or they, so we preach, and so you believed.¹² Now if Mashayach is preached, that he has been raised from the dead, how do some among you say that there is no resurrection of the dead?¹³ But if there is no resurrection of the dead, neither has Mashayach been raised.¹⁴ If Mashayach has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain, and your faith also is in vain.¹⁵ Yes, we are found false witnesses of Alahayam, because we testified about Alahayam that he raised up Mashayach, whom he didn't raise up, if it is so that the dead are not raised.¹⁶ For if the dead aren't raised, neither has Mashayach been raised.¹⁷ If Mashayach has not been raised, your faith is vain; you are still in your sins.¹⁸ Then they also who are fallen asleep in Mashayach have perished.¹⁹ If we have only hoped in Mashayach in this life, we are of all men most pitiable.²⁰ But now Mashayach has been raised from the dead. He became the first fruits of those who are asleep.²¹ For since death came by man, the resurrection of the dead also came by man.²² For as in Adam all die, so also in Mashayach all will be made alive.²³ But each in his own order: Mashayach the first fruits, then those who are Mashayach's, at his coming.²⁴ Then the end comes, when he will deliver up the kingdom to Alahayam, even the Father; when he will have abolished all rule and all authority and power.²⁵ For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet.²⁶ The last enemy that will be abolished is death.²⁷ For, "He put all things in subjection under his feet." But when he says, "All things are put in subjection," it is evident that he is excepted who subjected all things to him.²⁸ When all things have been subjected to him, then the Son will also himself be subjected to him who subjected all things to him, that Alahayam may be all in all.²⁹ Or else what will they do who are baptized for the dead? If the dead aren't raised at all, why then are they baptized for the dead?³⁰ Why do we also stand in jeopardy every hour?³¹ I die daily, by your boasting which I have in Mashayach Yashawai our Adanay.³² If I fought with animals at Ephesus like men, what does it profit me? If the dead are not raised, then "let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."³³ Don't be deceived! "Awayal companionships corrupt good morals."³⁴ Wake up righteously, and don't sin, for some have no knowledge of Alahayam. I say this to your shame.³⁵ But some one will say, "How are the dead raised?" and, "With what kind of body do they come?"³⁶ You foolish one, that which you yourself sow is not made alive unless it dies.³⁷ That which you sow, you don't sow the body that will be, but a bare grain, maybe of wheat, or of some other kind.³⁸ But Alahayam gives it a body even as it pleased him, and to each seed a body of its own.³⁹ All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one flesh of men, another flesh of animals, another of fish, and another of birds.⁴⁰ There are also celestial bodies, and terrestrial bodies; but the glory of the celestial differs from that of the terrestrial.⁴¹ There is one glory of the sun, another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differs from another star in glory.⁴² So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption.⁴³ It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power.⁴⁴ It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body.⁴⁵ So also it is written, "The first man, Adam, became a living soul." The last Adam became a life-giving spirit.⁴⁶ However that which is spiritual isn't first, but that which is natural, then that which is spiritual.⁴⁷ The first man is of the earth, made of dust. The second man is the Adanay from heaven.⁴⁸ As is the one made of dust, such are those who are also made of dust; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.⁴⁹ As we have borne the image of those made of dust, let's also bear the image of the heavenly.⁵⁰ Now I say this, brothers, that flesh and blood can't inherit the kingdom of Alahayam; neither does corruption inherit incorruption.⁵¹ Behold, I tell you a mystery. We will not all sleep, but we will all be changed,⁵² in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised incorruptible, and we will be changed.⁵³ For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.⁵⁴ But when this corruptible will have put on incorruption, and this mortal will have put on immortality, then what is written will happen: "Death is swallowed up in victory."⁵⁵ "Death, where is your sting? Hades, where is your victory?"⁵⁶ The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law.⁵⁷ But thanks be to Alahayam, who gives us the victory through our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach.⁵⁸ Therefore, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the Adanay's work, because you know that your labor is not in vain in the Adanay.

16 Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I commanded the assemblies of Galatia, you do likewise.² On the first day of the week, let each one of you save, as he may prosper, that no collections be made when I come.³ When I arrive, I will send whoever you approve with letters to carry your gracious gift to Yarawashalam.⁴ If it is appropriate for me to go also, they will go with me.⁵ But I will come to you when I have passed through Macedonia, for I am passing through Macedonia.⁶ But with you it may be that I will stay, or even winter, that you may send me on my journey wherever I go.⁷ For I do not wish to see you now in passing, but I hope to stay a while with you, if the Adanay permits.⁸ But I will stay at Ephesus until Pentecost,⁹ for a great and effective door has opened to me, and there are many adversaries.¹⁰ Now if Tayamawathayawas comes, see that he is with you without fear, for he does the work of the Adanay, as I also do.¹¹ Therefore let no one despise him. But set him forward on his journey in peace, that he may come to me; for I expect him with the brothers.¹² But concerning Apollos, the brother, I begged him much to come to you with the brothers; and it was not all his desire to come now; but he will come when he has an opportunity.¹³ Watch! Stand firm in the faith! Be men! Be strong!¹⁴ Let all that you do be done in love.¹⁵ Now I beg you, brothers (you know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first fruits of Achaia, and that they have set themselves to minister to the saints),¹⁶ that you also be in subjection to such, and to everyone who helps in the work and labors.¹⁷ I rejoice at the coming of Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus; for that which was lacking on your part, they supplied.¹⁸ For they refreshed my spirit and yours. Therefore acknowledge those who are like that.¹⁹ The assemblies of Asia greet you. Aquila and Priscilla greet you much in the Adanay, together with the assembly that is in their house.²⁰ All the brothers greet you. Greet one another with a holy kiss.²¹ This greeting is by me, Shaawal, with my own hand.²² If any man doesn't love the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, let him be accursed. Come, Adanay!²³ The grace of the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach be with you.²⁴ My love to all of you in Mashayach Yashawai. Amen.

1 Shaawal, an apostle of Mashayach Yashawai through the will of Alahayam, and Tayamawathayawas our brother, to the assembly of Alahayam which is at Corinth, with all the saints who are in the whole of Achaia: ² Grace to you and peace from Alahayam our Father and the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach. ³ Blessed be the Alahayam and Father of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, the Father of mercies and Alahayam of all comfort; ⁴ who comforts us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, through the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by Alahayam. ⁵ For as the sufferings of Mashayach abound to us, even so our comfort also abounds through Mashayach. ⁶ But if we are afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation. If we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which works in the patient enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer. ⁷ Our hope for you is steadfast, knowing that, since you are partakers of the sufferings, so also are you of the comfort. ⁸ For we don't desire to have you uninformed, brothers, concerning our affliction which happened to us in Asia, that we were weighed down exceedingly, beyond our power, so much that we despaired even of life. ⁹ Yes, we ourselves have had the sentence of death within ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in Alahayam who raises the dead, ¹⁰ who delivered us out of so great a death, and does deliver; on whom we have set our hope that he will also still deliver us; ¹¹ you also helping together on our behalf by your supplication; that, for the gift bestowed on us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on your behalf. ¹² For our boasting is this: the testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and sincerity of Alahayam, not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of Alahayam we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly toward you. ¹³ For we write no other things to you, than what you read or even acknowledge, and I hope you will acknowledge to the end; ¹⁴ as also you acknowledged us in part, that we are your boasting, even as you also are ours, in the day of our Adanay Yashawai. ¹⁵ In this confidence, I was determined to come first to you, that you might have a second benefit; ¹⁶ and by you to pass into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come to you, and to be sent forward by you on my journey to Yahawadah. ¹⁷ When I therefore was thus determined, did I show fickleness? Or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be the "Yes, yes" and the "No, no?" ¹⁸ But as Alahayam is faithful, our word toward you was not "Yes and no." ¹⁹ For the Son of Alahayam, Yashawai Mashayach, who was preached among you by us, by me, Silvanus, and Tayamawathayawas, was not "Yes and no," but in him is "Yes." ²⁰ For however many are the promises of Alahayam, in him is the "Yes." Therefore also through him is the "Amen," to the glory of Alahayam through us. ²¹ Now he who establishes us with you in Mashayach, and anointed us, is Alahayam; ²² who also sealed us, and gave us the down payment of the Spirit in our hearts. ²³ But I call Alahayam for a witness to my soul, that I didn't come to Corinth to spare you. ²⁴ Not that we have lordship over your faith, but are fellow workers with you for your joy. For you stand firm in faith.

2 But I determined this for myself, that I would not come to you again in sorrow. ² For if I make you sorry, then who will make me glad but he who is made sorry by me? ³ And I wrote this very thing to you, so that, when I came, I wouldn't have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy is of you all. ⁴ For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote to you with many tears, not that you should be made sorry, but that you might know the love that I have so abundantly for you.

⁵ But if any has caused sorrow, he has caused sorrow, not to me, but in part (that I not press too heavily) to you all. ⁶ Sufficient to such a one is this punishment which was inflicted by the many; ⁷ so that on the contrary you should rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his excessive sorrow. ⁸ Therefore I beg you to confirm your love toward him. ⁹ For to this end I also wrote, that I might know the proof of you, whether you are obedient in all things. ¹⁰ Now I also forgive whomever you forgive anything. For if indeed I have forgiven anything, I have forgiven that one for your sakes in the presence of Mashayach, ¹¹ that no advantage may be gained over us by Satan; for we are not ignorant of his schemes. ¹² Now when I came to Troas for the gospel of Mashayach, and when a door was opened to me in the Adanay, ¹³ I had no relief for my spirit, because I didn't find Titus, my brother, but taking my leave of them, I went forth into Macedonia. ¹⁴ But thanks be to Alahayam, who always leads us in triumph in Mashayach, and reveals through us the sweet aroma of his knowledge in every place. ¹⁵ For we are a sweet aroma of Mashayach to Alahayam, in those who are saved, and in those who perish; ¹⁶ to the one a stench from death to death; to the other a sweet aroma from life to life. Who is sufficient for these things? ¹⁷ For we are not as so many, peddling the word of Alahayam. But as of sincerity, but as of Alahayam, in the sight of Alahayam, we speak in Mashayach.

3 Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? Or do we need, as do some, letters of commendation to you or from you? ² You are our letter, written in our hearts, known and read by all men; ³ being revealed that you are a letter of Mashayach, ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living Alahayam; not in tablets of stone, but in tablets that are hearts of flesh. ⁴ Such confidence we have through Mashayach toward Alahayam; ⁵ not that we are sufficient of ourselves, to account anything as from ourselves; but our sufficiency is from Alahayam; ⁶ who also made us sufficient as servants of a new covenant; not of the letter, but of the spirit. For the letter kills, but the spirit gives life. ⁷ But if the service of death, written engraved on stones, came with glory, so that the children of Yasharaal could not look steadfastly on the face of Mashah for the glory of his face; which was passing away: ⁸ won't rather service of the spirit be rather with more glory? ⁹ For if the service of condemnation has glory, much rather does the service of righteousness exceed in glory. ¹⁰ For most assuredly that which has been made glorious has not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the glory that surpasses. ¹¹ For if that which passes away was with glory, much more that which remains is in glory. ¹² Having therefore such a hope, we use great boldness of speech, ¹³ and not as Mashah, who put a veil on his face, that the children of Yasharaal wouldn't look steadfastly on the end of that which was passing away. ¹⁴ But their minds were hardened, for until this very day at the reading of the old covenant the same veil remains, because in Mashayach it passes away. ¹⁵ But to this day, when Mashah is read, a veil lies on their heart. ¹⁶ But whenever one turns to the Adanay, the veil is taken away. ¹⁷ Now the Adanay is the Spirit and where the Spirit of the Adanay is, there is liberty. ¹⁸ But we all, with unveiled face beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Adanay, are transformed into the same image from glory to glory, even as from the Adanay, the Spirit.

4 Therefore seeing we have this ministry, even as we obtained mercy, we don't faint. ² But we have renounced the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of Alahayam deceitfully; but by the manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of

Alahayam.³ Even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled in those who perish;⁴ in whom the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelieving, that the light of the gospel of the glory of Mashayach, who is the image of Alahayam, should not dawn on them.⁵ For we don't preach ourselves, but Mashayach Yashawai as Adanay, and ourselves as your servants for Yashawai's sake.⁶ Seeing it is Alahayam who said, "Light will shine out of darkness," who shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of Alahayam in the face of Yashawai Mashayach.⁷ But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the exceeding greatness of the power may be of Alahayam, and not from ourselves.⁸ We are pressed on every side, yet not crushed; perplexed, yet not to despair;⁹ pursued, yet not forsaken; struck down, yet not destroyed;¹⁰ always carrying in the body the putting to death of the Adanay Yashawai, that the life of Yashawai may also be revealed in our body.¹¹ For we who live are always delivered to death for Yashawai's sake, that the life also of Yashawai may be revealed in our mortal flesh.¹² So then death works in us, but life in you.¹³ But having the same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, "I believed, and therefore I spoke." We also believe, and therefore also we speak;¹⁴ knowing that he who raised the Adanay Yashawai will raise us also with Yashawai, and will present us with you.¹⁵ For all things are for your sakes, that the grace, being multiplied through the many, may cause the thanksgiving to abound to the glory of Alahayam.¹⁶ Therefore we don't faint, but though our outward man is decaying, yet our inward man is renewed day by day.¹⁷ For our light affliction, which is for the moment, works for us more and more exceedingly an eternal weight of glory;¹⁸ while we don't look at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen. For the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal.

5 For we know that if the earthly house of our tent is dissolved, we have a building from Alahayam, a house not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens.² For most assuredly in this we groan, longing to be clothed with our habitation which is from heaven;³ if so be that being clothed we will not be found naked.⁴ For indeed we who are in this tent do groan, being burdened; not that we desire to be unclothed, but that we desire to be clothed, that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life.⁵ Now he who made us for this very thing is Alahayam, who also gave to us the down payment of the Spirit.⁶ Being therefore always of good courage, and knowing that, while we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Adanay;⁷ for we walk by faith, not by sight.⁸ We are of good courage, I say, and are willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be at home with the Adanay.⁹ Therefore also we make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to be well pleasing to him.¹⁰ For we must all be revealed before the judgment seat of Mashayach; that each one may receive the things in the body, according to what he has done, whether good or bad.¹¹ Knowing therefore the fear of the Adanay, we persuade men, but we are revealed to Alahayam; and I hope that we are revealed also in your consciences.¹² For we are not commending ourselves to you again, but speak as giving you occasion of boasting on our behalf, that you may have something to answer those who boast in appearance, and not in heart.¹³ For if we are beside ourselves, it is for Alahayam. Or if we are of sober mind, it is for you.¹⁴ For the love of Mashayach constrains us; because we judge thus, that one died for all, therefore all died.¹⁵ He died for all, that those who live should no longer live to themselves, but to him who for their sakes died and rose again.¹⁶ Therefore we know no one after the flesh from now on. Even though we have known Mashayach after the flesh, yet now we know him so no more.¹⁷ Therefore if anyone is in Mashayach, he is a new creation. The old things have passed away. Behold, they have become new.¹⁸ But all things are of Alahayam, who reconciled us to himself through Yashawai Mashayach, and gave to us the ministry of reconciliation;¹⁹ namely, that Alahayam was in Mashayach reconciling the world to himself, not reckoning to them their trespasses, and having committed to us the word of reconciliation.²⁰ We are therefore ambassadors on behalf of Mashayach, as though Alahayam were entreating by us. We beg you on behalf of Mashayach, be reconciled to Alahayam.²¹ For him who knew no sin he made to be sin on our behalf; so that in him we might become the righteousness of Alahayam.

6 Working together, we entreat also that you not receive the grace of Alahayam in vain,² for he says, "At an acceptable time I listened to you, In a day of salvation I helped you." Behold, now is the acceptable time. Behold, now is the day of salvation.³ We give no occasion of stumbling in anything, that our service may not be blamed,⁴ but in everything commending ourselves, as servants of Alahayam, in great endurance, in afflictions, in hardships, in distresses,⁵ in beatings, in imprisonments, in riots, in labors, in watchings, in fastings;⁶ in pureness, in knowledge, in patience, in kindness, in the Holy Spirit, in sincere love,⁷ in the word of truth, in the power of Alahayam; by the armor of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,⁸ by glory and dishonor, by evil report and good report; as deceivers, and yet true;⁹ as unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and behold, we live; as punished, and not killed;¹⁰ as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.¹¹ Our mouth is open to you, Corinthians. Our heart is enlarged.¹² You are not restricted by us, but you are restricted by your own affections.¹³ Now in return, I speak as to my children, you also be enlarged.¹⁴ Don't be unequally yoked with unbelievers, for what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? Or what communion has light with darkness?¹⁵ What agreement has Mashayach with Belial? Or what portion has a believer with an unbeliever?¹⁶ What agreement has a temple of Alahayam with idols? For you are a temple of the living Alahayam. Even as Alahayam said, "I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their Alahayam, and they will be my people."¹⁷ Therefore, "Come out from among them, And be separate," says the Adanay, "Touch no unclean thing. I will receive you."¹⁸ I will be to you a Father. You will be to me sons and daughters," says the Adanay Shaday."

7 Having therefore these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of Alahayam.² Open your hearts to us. We wronged no one. We corrupted no one. We took advantage of no one.³ I say this not to condemn you, for I have said before, that you are in our hearts to die together and live together.⁴ Great is my boldness of speech toward you. Great is my boasting on your behalf. I am filled with comfort. I overflow with joy in all our affliction.⁵ For even when we had come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side. Fightings were outside. Fear was inside.⁶ Nevertheless, he who comforts the lowly, Alahayam, comforted us by the coming of Titus;⁷ and not by his coming only, but also by the comfort with which he was comforted in you, while he told us your longing, your mourning, and your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced still more.⁸ For though I made you sorry with my letter, I do not regret it, though I did regret it. For I see that my letter made you sorry, though just for a while.⁹ I now rejoice, not that you were made sorry, but that you were made sorry to repentance. For you were made sorry in a Godly way, that you might suffer loss by us in nothing.¹⁰ For Godly sorrow works repentance to salvation, which brings no regret. But the sorrow of the world works death.¹¹ For behold, this same thing, that you were made sorry in a godly way, what earnest care it worked in you. Yes, what defense, indignation, fear, longing, zeal, and vengeance! In everything you demonstrated yourselves to be pure in the matter.¹² So although I wrote to you, I wrote not for his cause that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be revealed in you in the sight of Alahayam.¹³ Therefore we have been comforted. In our comfort we rejoiced the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been refreshed by you all.¹⁴ For if in anything I have boasted to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame. But as we spoke all things to you in truth, so our glorying also which I made before Titus was found to be truth.¹⁵ His affection is more abundantly toward you, while he remembers all of your obedience, how with fear and trembling you received him.¹⁶ I rejoice that in everything I am of good courage concerning you.

8 Moreover, brothers, we make known to you the grace of Alahayam which has been given in the assemblies of Macedonia;² how that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded to the riches of their liberality.³ For according to their power, I testify, yes and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord,⁴ begging us with much entreaty in regard to this grace and the fellowship in the service to the saints.⁵ This was not as we had hoped, but first they gave their own selves to the Adanay, and to us through the will of Alahayam.⁶ Inasmuch that we exhorted Titus, that as he made a beginning before, so he would also complete in you this grace.⁷ But as you abound in everything, in faith, utterance, knowledge, all earnestness, and in your love to us, see that you also abound in this grace.⁸ I speak not by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of your love.⁹ For you know the grace of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that you through his poverty might become rich.¹⁰ I give a judgment in this: for this is expedient for you, who were the first to start a year ago, not only to do, but also to be willing.¹¹ But now complete the doing also, that as there was the readiness to be willing, so there may be the completion also out of your ability.¹² For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable according to what you have, not according to what you don't have.¹³ For this is not that others may be eased and you distressed,¹⁴ but for equality. Your abundance at this present time supplies their lack, that their abundance also may become a supply for your lack; that there may be equality.¹⁵ As it is written, "He who gathered much had nothing left over, and he who gathered little had no lack."¹⁶ But thanks be to Alahayam, who puts the same earnest care for you into the heart of Titus.¹⁷ For he indeed accepted our exhortation, but being himself very earnest, he went forth to you of his own accord.¹⁸ We have sent together with him the brother whose praise in the gospel is known through all the assemblies.¹⁹ Not only so, but who was also appointed by the assemblies to travel with us in this grace, which is served by us to the glory of the Adanay himself, and to show our readiness.²⁰ We are avoiding this, that any man should blame us in concerning this bounty which is served by us.²¹ Having regard for honorable things, not only in the sight of the Adanay, but also in the sight of men.²² We have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things, but now much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence which he has in you.²³ As for Titus, he is my partner and fellow worker toward you. As for our brothers, they are the messengers of the assemblies, the glory of Mashayach.²⁴ Therefore show the proof of your love to them in front of the assemblies, and of our boasting on your behalf.

9 It is indeed unnecessary for me to write to you concerning the service to the saints,² for I know your readiness, of which I boast on your behalf to them of Macedonia, that Achaia has been prepared for a year past. Your zeal has stirred up very many of them.³ But I have sent the brothers, that our glorying on your behalf may not be made void in this respect, that, even as I said, you may be prepared,⁴ so that I won't by any means, if there come with me any of Macedonia and find you unprepared, we (to say nothing of you) should be put to shame in this confident boasting.⁵ I thought it necessary therefore to entreat the brothers that they would go before to you, and arrange ahead of time the generous gift that you promised before, that the same might be ready as a matter of generosity, and not of greediness.⁶ Remember this: he who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly. He who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully.⁷ Let each man give according as he has determined in his heart; not grudgingly, or under compulsion; for Alahayam loves a cheerful giver.⁸ Alahayam is able to make all grace abound to you, that you, always having all sufficiency in everything, may abound to every good work.⁹ As it is written, "He has scattered abroad, he has given to the poor. His righteousness remains forever."¹⁰ Now may he who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food, supply and multiply your seed for sowing, and increase the fruits of your righteousness;¹¹ you being enriched in everything to all liberality, which works through us thanksgiving to Alahayam.¹² For this service of giving that you perform not only makes up for lack among the saints, but abounds also through many givings of thanks to Alahayam;¹³ seeing that through the proof given by this service, they glorify Alahayam for the obedience of your confession to the gospel of Mashayach, and for the liberality of your contribution to them and to all;¹⁴ while they themselves also, with supplication on your behalf, yearn for you by reason of the exceeding grace of Alahayam in you.¹⁵ Thanks be to Alahayam for his unspeakable gift!

10 Now I Shaawal, myself, entreat you by the humility and gentleness of Mashayach; I who in your presence am lowly among you, but being absent am of good courage toward you.² Yes, I beg you, that I may not, when present, show courage with the confidence with which I count to be bold against some, who count of us as if we walked according to the flesh.³ For though we walk in the flesh, we don't wage war according to the flesh;⁴ for the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh, but mighty before Alahayam to the throwing down of strongholds,⁵ throwing down imaginations and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of Alahayam, and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Mashayach;⁶ and being in readiness to avenge all disobedience, when your obedience will be made full.⁷ Do you look at things only as they appear in front of your face? If anyone trusts in himself that he is Mashayach's, let him consider this again with himself, that, even as he is Mashayach's, so also we are Mashayach's.⁸ For though I should boast somewhat abundantly concerning our authority, (which the Adanay gave for building you up, and not for casting you down) I will not be put to shame,⁹ that I may not seem as if I desire to terrify you by my letters.¹⁰ For, "His letters," they say, "are weighty and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech is despised."¹¹ Let such a person consider this, that what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such are we also in deed when we are present.¹² For we are not bold to number or compare ourselves with some of those who commend themselves. But they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are without understanding.¹³ But we will not boast beyond proper limits, but within the boundaries with which Alahayam appointed to us, which reach even to you.¹⁴ For we don't stretch ourselves too much, as though we didn't reach to you. For we came even as far as to you in the gospel of Mashayach,¹⁵ not boasting beyond proper limits in other men's labors, but having hope that as your faith grows, we will be magnified in you according to our boundaries to abundance,¹⁶ so as to preach the gospel even to the parts beyond you, not to boast in what someone else has already done.¹⁷ But "he who boasts, let him boast in the Adanay."¹⁸ For it isn't he who commends himself who is approved, but whom the Adanay commends.

11 I wish that you would bear with me in a little foolishness, but indeed you do bear with me.² For I am jealous over you with a godly jealousy. For I married you to one husband, that I might present you as a pure virgin to Mashayach.³ But I am afraid that by any means, as the serpent deceived Chawah in his craftiness, your minds might be corrupted from the simplicity that is toward Mashayach.⁴ For if he who comes preaches another Yashawai, whom we did not preach, or if you receive a different spirit, which you did not receive, or a different gospel, which you did not accept, you put up with that well enough.⁵ For I reckon that I am not at all behind the very best apostles.⁶ But though I am unskilled in speech, yet I am not unskilled in knowledge. No, in every way we have been revealed to you in all things.⁷ Or did I commit a sin in humbling myself that you might be exalted, because I preached to you Alahayam's gospel for nothing?⁸ I robbed other assemblies, taking wages from them that I might serve you.⁹ When I was present with you and was in need, I wasn't a burden on anyone, for the brothers, when they came from Macedonia, supplied the measure of my need. In everything I kept myself from being burdensome to you, and I will continue to do so.¹⁰ As the truth of Mashayach is in me, no one will stop me from this boasting in the regions of Achaia.¹¹ Why? Because I don't love you? Alahayam knows.¹² But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them that desire an occasion, that in which they boast, they may be found even as we.¹³ For such men are false apostles, deceitful workers, masquerading as Mashayach's apostles.¹⁴ No wonder, for even Satan masquerades as an angel of light.¹⁵ It is no great thing therefore if his ministers also masquerade as servants of righteousness, whose end will be according to their works.¹⁶ I say again, let no one think me foolish. But if so, yet receive me as foolish, that I also may boast a little.¹⁷ That which I speak, I don't speak after the Adanay, but as in foolishness, in this confidence of boasting.¹⁸ Seeing that many boast after the flesh, I will also boast.¹⁹ For you bear with the foolish gladly, being wise.²⁰ For you bear with a man, if he brings you into bondage, if he devours you, if he takes you captive, if he exalts himself, if he strikes you on the face.²¹ I speak by way of disparagement, as though we had been weak. Yet however any is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also.²² Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they the seed of Abaramah? So am I.²³ Are they servants of Mashayach? (I speak as one beside himself) I am more so; in labors more abundantly, in prisons more abundantly, in stripes above measure, in deaths often.²⁴ Five times from the Jews I received forty stripes minus one.²⁵ Three times I was beaten with rods. Once I was stoned. Three times I suffered shipwreck. I have been a night and a day in the deep.²⁶ I have been in travels often, perils of rivers, perils of robbers, perils from my countrymen, perils from the Gentiles, perils in the city, perils in the wilderness, perils in the sea, perils among false brothers;²⁷ labor and travail, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, and in cold and nakedness.²⁸ Besides those things that are outside, there is that which presses on me daily, anxiety for all the assemblies.²⁹ Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is caused to stumble, and I don't burn?³⁰ If I must boast, I will boast of the things that concern my weakness.³¹ The Alahayam and Father of the Adanay Yashawai, he who is blessed forevermore, knows that I don't lie.³² In Damashaq the governor under Aretas the king guarded the city of the Damascenes in order to take me.³³ Through a window I was let down in a basket by the wall, and escaped his hands.

12 It is doubtless not profitable for me to boast. I will come to visions and revelations of the Adanay.² I know a man in Mashayach, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I don't know, or whether out of the body, I don't know; Alahayam knows), such a one caught up into the third heaven.³ I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I don't know; Alahayam knows),⁴ how he was caught up into Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter.⁵ On behalf of such a one I will boast, but on my own behalf I will not boast, except in my weaknesses.⁶ For if I would desire to boast, I will not be foolish; for I will speak the truth. But I forbear, so that no man may account of me above that which he sees in me, or hears from me.⁷ By reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations, that I should not be exalted excessively, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to buffet me, that I should not be exalted excessively.⁸ Concerning this thing, I begged the Adanay three times that it might depart from me.⁹ He has said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my weaknesses, that the power of Mashayach may rest on me.¹⁰ Therefore I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, for Mashayach's sake. For when I am weak, then am I strong.¹¹ I have become foolish. You compelled me, for I ought to have been commended by you, for in nothing was I behind the very best apostles, though I am nothing.¹² Truly the signs of an apostle were worked among you in all patience, by signs and wonders and mighty works.¹³ For what is there in which you were made inferior to the rest of the assemblies, unless it is that I myself was not a burden to you? Forgive me this wrong.¹⁴ Behold, this is the third time I am ready to come to you, and I will not be a burden to you; for I seek not your possessions, but you. For the children ought not to save up for the parents, but the parents for the children.¹⁵ I will most gladly spend and be spent for your souls. If I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less?¹⁶ But be it so, I did not myself burden you. But, being crafty, I caught you with deception.¹⁷ Did I take advantage of you by anyone of them whom I have sent to you?¹⁸ I exhorted Titus, and I sent the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? Didn't we walk in the same spirit? Didn't we walk in the same steps?¹⁹ Again, do you think that we are excusing ourselves to you? In the sight of Alahayam we speak in Mashayach. But all things, beloved, are for your edifying.²⁰ For I am afraid that by any means, when I come, I might find you not the way I want to, and that I might be found by you as you don't desire; that by any means there would be strife, jealousy, outbursts of anger, factions, slander, whisperings, proud thoughts, riots;²¹ that again when I come my Alahayam would humble me before you, and I would mourn for many of those who have sinned before now, and not repented of the uncleanness and sexual immorality and lustfulness which they committed.

13 This is the third time I am coming to you. "At the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word established."² I have said beforehand, and I do say beforehand, as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent, I write to those who have sinned before now, and to all the rest, that, if I come again, I will not spare;³ seeing that you seek a proof of Mashayach that speaks in me; who toward you is not weak, but is powerful in you.⁴ For he was crucified through weakness, yet he lives through the power of Alahayam. For we also are weak in him, but we will live with him through the power of Alahayam toward you.⁵ Test your own selves, whether you are in the faith. Test your own selves. Or don't you know as to your own selves, that Yashawai Mashayach is in you? Unless indeed you are reprobate.⁶ But I hope that you will know that we aren't reprobate.⁷ Now I pray to Alahayam that you do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that you may do that which is honorable, though we are as reprobate.⁸ For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.⁹ For we rejoice when we are weak and you are strong. This we also pray for, even your perfecting.¹⁰ For this cause I write these things while absent, that I may not deal sharply when present, according to the authority which the Adanay gave me for building up, and not for tearing down.¹¹ Finally, brothers, rejoice. Be perfected, be comforted, be of the same mind, live in peace, and the Alahayam of love and peace will be with you.¹² Greet one another with a holy kiss.¹³ All the saints greet you.¹⁴ The grace of the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, the love of Alahayam, and the communion of the Holy Spirit, be with you all.

1 Shaawal, an apostle (not from men, neither through man, but through Yashawai Mashayach, and Alahayam the Father, who raised him from the dead),² and all the brothers who are with me, to the assemblies of Galatia:³ Grace to you and peace from Alahayam the Father, and our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach,⁴ who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us out of this present evil age, according to the will of our Alahayam and Father --⁵ to whom be the glory forever and ever. Amen.⁶ I marvel that you are so quickly deserting him who called you in the grace of Mashayach to a different gospel;⁷ and there isn't another gospel. Only there are some who trouble you, and want to pervert the gospel of Mashayach.⁸ But even though we, or an angel from heaven, should preach to you any gospel other than that which we preached to you, let him be cursed.⁹ As we have said before, so I now say again: if any man preaches to you any gospel other than that which you received, let him be cursed.¹⁰ For am I now seeking the favor of men, or of Alahayam? Or am I striving to please men? For if I were still pleasing men, I wouldn't be a servant of Mashayach.¹¹ But I make known to you, brothers, concerning the gospel which was preached by me, that it is not according to man.¹² For neither did I receive it from man, nor was I taught it, but it came to me through revelation of Yashawai Mashayach.¹³ For you have heard of my way of living in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the assembly of Alahayam, and ravaged it.¹⁴ I advanced in the Jews' religion beyond many of my own age among my countrymen, being more exceedingly zealous for the traditions of my fathers.¹⁵ But when it was the good pleasure of Alahayam, who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me through his grace,¹⁶ to reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the Gentiles, I didn't immediately confer with flesh and blood,¹⁷ nor did I go up to Yarawashalam to those who were apostles before me, but I went away into Irab. Then I returned to Damashaq.¹⁸ Then after three years I went up to Yarawashalam to visit Kayapaa, and stayed with him fifteen days.¹⁹ But of the other apostles I saw no one, except Yaiqab, the Adanay's brother.²⁰ Now about the things which I write to you, behold, before Alahayam, I'm not lying.²¹ Then I came to the regions of Aram and Cilicia.²² I was still unknown by face to the assemblies of Yahawadah which were in Mashayach,²³ but they only heard: "He who once persecuted us now preaches the faith that he once tried to destroy."²⁴ They glorified Alahayam in me.

2 Then after a period of fourteen years I went up again to Yarawashalam with Baranab, taking Titus also with me.² I went up by revelation, and I laid before them the gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but privately before those who were respected, for fear that I might be running, or had run, in vain.³ But not even Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised.⁴ This was because of the false brothers secretly brought in, who stole in to spy out our liberty which we have in Mashayach Yashawai, that they might bring us into bondage;⁵ to whom we gave no place in the way of subjection, not for an hour, that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.⁶ But from those who were reputed to be important (whatever they were, it makes no difference to me; Alahayam doesn't show partiality to man) -- they, I say, who were respected imparted nothing to me,⁷ but to the contrary, when they saw that I had been entrusted with the gospel for the uncircumcision, even as Kayapaa with the gospel for the circumcision⁸ (for he who appointed Kayapaa to the apostleship of the circumcision appointed me also to the Gentiles);⁹ and when they perceived the grace that was given to me, Yaiqab and Kayapaa and Yawachanan, they who were reputed to be pillars, gave to me and Baranab the right hand of fellowship, that we should go to the Gentiles, and they to the circumcision.¹⁰ They only asked us to remember the poor -- which very thing I was also zealous to do.¹¹ But when Kayapaa came to Antioch, I resisted him to the face, because he stood condemned.¹² For before some people came from Yaiqab, he ate with the Gentiles. But when they came, he drew back and separated himself, fearing those who were of the circumcision.¹³ The rest of the Jews joined him in his hypocrisy; so much that even Baranab was carried away with their hypocrisy.¹⁴ But when I saw that they didn't walk uprightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said to Kayapaa before them all, "If you, being a Yahawaday, live as the Gentiles do, and not as the Jews do, why do you compel the Gentiles to live as the Jews do?"¹⁵ "We, being Jews by nature, and not Hagawayam sinners,"¹⁶ yet knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law but through the faith of Yashawai Mashayach, even we believed in Mashayach Yashawai, that we might be justified by faith in Mashayach, and not by the works of the law, because no flesh will be justified by the works of the law.¹⁷ But if, while we sought to be justified in Mashayach, we ourselves also were found sinners, is Mashayach a servant of sin? Alahayam forbid!¹⁸ For if I build up again those things which I destroyed, I prove myself a law-breaker.¹⁹ For I, through the law, died to the law, that I might live to Alahayam.²⁰ I have been crucified with Mashayach, and it is no longer I that live, but Mashayach living in me. That life which I now live in the flesh, I live by faith in the Son of Alahayam, who loved me, and gave himself up for me.²¹ I don't make void the grace of Alahayam. For if righteousness is through the law, then Mashayach died for nothing!"

3 Foolish Galatians, who has bewitched you not to obey the truth, before whose eyes Yashawai Mashayach was openly set forth among you as crucified?² I just want to learn this from you. Did you receive the Spirit by the works of the law, or by hearing of faith?³ Are you so foolish? Having begun in the Spirit, are you now completed in the flesh?⁴ Did you suffer so many things in vain, if it is indeed in vain?⁵ He therefore that supplies the Spirit to you, and works miracles among you, does he do it by the works of the law, or by hearing of faith?⁶ Even as Abaraham "believed Alahayam, and it was counted to him for righteousness."⁷ Know therefore that those who are of faith, the same are sons of Abaraham.⁸ The scripture, foreseeing that Alahayam would justify the Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand to Abaraham, saying, "In you will all the nations be blessed."⁹ So then, those who are of faith are blessed with the faithful Abaraham.¹⁰ For as many as are of the works of the law are under a curse. For it is written, "Cursed is everyone who doesn't continue in all things that are written in the book of the law, to do them."¹¹ Now that no man is justified by the law before Alahayam is evident, for, "The righteous will live by faith."¹² The law is not of faith, but, "He that does them will live in them."¹³ Mashayach redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us. For it is written, "Cursed is everyone who hangs on a tree,"¹⁴ that the blessing of Abaraham might come on the Gentiles through Mashayach Yashawai; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.¹⁵ Brothers, I speak like men. Though it is only a man's covenant, yet when it has been confirmed, no one makes it void, or adds to it.¹⁶ Now the promises were spoken to Abaraham and to his seed. He doesn't say, "To seeds," as of many, but as of one, "To your seed," which is Mashayach.¹⁷ Now I say this. A covenant confirmed beforehand by Alahayam in Mashayach, the law, which came four hundred and thirty years after, does not annul, so as to make the promise of no effect.¹⁸ For if the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise; but Alahayam has granted it to Abaraham by promise.¹⁹ What then is the law? It was added because of transgressions, until the seed should come to whom the promise has been made. It was ordained through angels by the hand of a mediator.²⁰ Now a mediator is not between one, but Alahayam is one.²¹ Is the law then against the promises of Alahayam? Certainly not! For if there had been a law given which could make alive, most assuredly righteousness would have been of the law.²² But the scriptures shut up all things under sin, that the promise by faith in Yashawai Mashayach might be given to those who believe.²³ But before faith came, we were kept in custody under the law, shut up to the faith which should afterwards be revealed.²⁴ So that the law has become our tutor to bring us to Mashayach, that we might be justified by faith.²⁵ But now that faith is come, we are no longer under a tutor.²⁶ For you are all sons of Alahayam, through faith in Mashayach Yashawai.²⁷ For as many of you as were baptized into Mashayach have put on Mashayach.²⁸ There is neither Yahawaday nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free man, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Mashayach Yashawai.²⁹ If you are Mashayach's, then you are Abaraham's seed, heirs according to promise.

4 But I say that so long as the heir is a child, he is no different from a bondservant, though he is lord of all;² but is under guardians and stewards until the day appointed by the father.³ So we also, when we were children, were held in bondage under the elements of the world.⁴ But when the fullness of the time came, Alahayam sent forth his Son, born to a woman, born under the law,⁵ that he might redeem those who were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons.⁶ Because you are sons, Alahayam sent forth the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, "Abba! Father!"⁷ So you are no longer a bondservant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of Alahayam through Mashayach.⁸ However at that time, not knowing Alahayam, you were in bondage to those who by nature are no gods.⁹ But now that you have come to know Alahayam, or rather to be known by Alahayam, why do you turn back again to the weak and miserable elements, to which you desire to be in bondage all over again?¹⁰ You observe days, months, seasons, and years.¹¹ I am afraid for you, that I might have wasted my labor for you.¹² I beg you, brothers, become as I am, for I also have become as you are. You did me no wrong,¹³ but you know that because of weakness of the flesh I preached the gospel to you the first time.¹⁴ That which was a temptation to you in my flesh, you didn't despise nor reject; but you received me as an angel of Alahayam, even as Mashayach Yashawai.¹⁵ What has become of the blessing you enjoyed? For I testify to you that, if possible, you would have plucked out your eyes and given them to me.¹⁶ So then, have I become your enemy by telling you the truth?¹⁷ They zealously seek you in no good way. No, they desire to alienate you, that you may seek them.¹⁸ But it is always good to be zealous in a good cause, and not only when I am present with you.¹⁹ My little children, of whom I am again in travail until Mashayach is formed in you--²⁰ but I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my tone, for I am perplexed about you.²¹ Tell me, you that desire to be under the law, don't you listen to the law?²² For it is written that Abaraham had two sons, one by the handmaid, and one by the free woman.²³ However, the son by the handmaid was born according to the flesh, but the son by the free woman was born through promise.²⁴ These things contain an allegory, for these are two covenants. One is from Mount Sayanay, bearing children to bondage, which is Hagar.²⁵ Now this Hagar is Mount Sayanay in Irab, and answers to the Yarawashalam that exists now, for she is in bondage with her children.²⁶ But the Yarawashalam that is above is free, which is our mother.²⁷ For it is written, "Rejoice, you barren who don't bear. Break forth and shout, you that don't travail. For more are the children of the desolate than of her who has the husband."²⁸ Now we, brothers, as Yatzachaq was, are children of promise.²⁹ But as then, he who was born according to the flesh persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit, so also it is now.³⁰ However what does the scripture say? "Throw out the handmaid and her son, for the son of the handmaid will not inherit with the son of the free woman."³¹ Therefore, brothers, we are not children of a handmaid, but of the free woman.

5 Stand firm therefore in the liberty by which Mashayach has made us free, and don't be entangled again with a yoke of bondage.² Behold, I, Shaawal, tell you that if you receive circumcision, Mashayach will profit you nothing.³ Yes, I testify again to every man who receives circumcision, that he is a debtor to do the whole law.⁴ You are alienated from Mashayach, you desire to be justified by the law. You have fallen away from grace.⁵ For we, through the Spirit, by faith wait for the hope of righteousness.⁶ For in Mashayach Yashawai neither circumcision amounts to anything, nor uncircumcision, but faith working through love.⁷ You were running well! Who interfered with you that you should not obey the truth?⁸ This persuasion is not from him who calls you.⁹ A little yeast grows through the whole lump.¹⁰ I have confidence toward you in the Adanay that you will think no other way. But he who troubles you will bear his judgment, whoever he is.¹¹ But I, brothers, if I still preach circumcision, why am I still persecuted? Then the stumbling-block of the cross has been removed.¹² I wish that those who disturb you would cut themselves off.¹³ For you, brothers, were called for freedom. Only don't use your freedom for gain to the flesh, but through love be servants to one another.¹⁴ For the whole law is fulfilled in one word, in this: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself."¹⁵ But if you bite and devour one another, be careful that you don't consume one another.¹⁶ But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you won't fulfill the lust of the flesh.¹⁷ For the flesh lusts against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other, that you may not do the things that you desire.¹⁸ But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law.¹⁹ Now the works of the flesh are obvious, which are: adultery, sexual immorality, uncleanness, lustfulness,²⁰ idolatry, sorcery, hatred, strife, jealousies, outbursts of anger, rivalries, divisions, heresies,²¹ envyings, murders, drunkenness, orgies, and things like these; of which I forewarn you, even as I did forewarn you, that those who practice such things will not inherit the kingdom of Alahayam.²² But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness,²³ gentleness, and self-control. Against such things there is no law.²⁴ Those who belong to Mashayach Yashawai have crucified the flesh with its passions and lusts.²⁵ If we live by the Spirit, let's also walk by the Spirit.²⁶ Let's not become conceited, provoking one another, and envying one another.

6 Brothers, even if a man is caught in some fault, you who are spiritual must restore such a one in a spirit of gentleness; looking to yourself so that you also aren't tempted.² Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Mashayach.³ For if a man thinks himself to be something when he is nothing, he deceives himself.⁴ But let each man test his own work, and then he will take pride in himself and not in his neighbor.⁵ For each man will bear his own burden.⁶ But let him who is taught in the word share all good things with him who teaches.⁷ Don't be deceived. Alahayam is not mocked, for whatever a man sows, that will he also reap.⁸ For he who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption. But he who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life.⁹ Let us not be weary in doing good, for we will reap in due season, if we don't give up.¹⁰ So then, as we have opportunity, let us work that which is good toward all men, and especially toward those who are of the household of the faith.¹¹ See with what large letters I write to you with my own hand.¹² As many as desire to look good in the flesh, they compel you to be circumcised; only that they may not be persecuted for the cross of Mashayach.¹³ For even they who receive circumcision don't keep the law themselves, but they desire to have you circumcised, that they may boast in your flesh.¹⁴ But far be it from me to boast, except in the cross of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, through which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world.¹⁵ For neither is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creation.¹⁶ As many as will walk by this rule, peace and mercy be on them, and on Alahayam's Yasharaal. ¹⁷ From now on, let no one cause me any trouble, for I bear the marks of Yashawai branded on my body. ¹⁸ The grace of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach be with your spirit, brothers. Amen.

Ephesians

1 Shaawal, an apostle of Mashayach Yashawai through the will of Alahayam, to the saints who are at Ephesus, and the faithful in Mashayach Yashawai: ² Grace to you and peace from Alahayam our Father and the Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach. ³ Blessed be the Alahayam and Father of our Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, who has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places in Mashayach; ⁴ even as he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we would be holy and without blemish before him in love; ⁵ having predestined us for adoption as sons through Yashawai Mashayach to himself, according to the good pleasure of his desire, ⁶ to the praise of the glory of his grace, which he freely bestowed on us in the Beloved, ⁷ in whom we have our redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of his grace, ⁸ which he made to abound toward us in all wisdom and prudence, ⁹ making known to us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he purposed in him ¹⁰ to an administration of the fullness of the times, to sum up all things in Mashayach, the things in the heavens, and the things on the earth, in him; ¹¹ in whom also we were made a heritage, having been foreordained according to the purpose of him who works all things after the counsel of his will; ¹² to the end that we should be to the praise of his glory, we who had before hoped in Mashayach: ¹³ in whom you also, having heard the word of the truth, the gospel of your salvation, -- in whom, having also believed, you were sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise, ¹⁴ who is a pledge of our inheritance, to the redemption of Alahayam's own possession, to the praise of his glory. ¹⁵ For this cause I also, having heard of the faith in the Adanay Yashawai which is among you, and the love which you have toward all the saints, ¹⁶ don't cease to give thanks for you, making mention in my prayers, ¹⁷ that the Alahayam of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, the Father of glory, may give to you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him; ¹⁸ having the eyes of your hearts enlightened, that you may know what is the hope of his calling, what are the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, ¹⁹ and what is the exceeding greatness of his power toward us who believe, according to that working of the strength of his might ²⁰ which he worked in Mashayach, when he raised him from the dead, and made him to sit at his right hand in the heavenly places, ²¹ far above all rule, and authority, and power, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come. ²² He put all things in subjection under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things to the assembly, ²³ which is his body, the fullness of him who fills all in all.

2 You were made alive when you were dead through your trespasses and sins, ² in which you once walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the powers of the air, of the spirit who now works in the sons of disobedience; ³ among whom we also all once lived in the lust of our flesh, doing the desires of the flesh and of the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, even as the rest. ⁴ But Alahayam, being rich in mercy, for his great love with which he loved us, ⁵ even when we were dead through our trespasses, made us alive together with Mashayach (by grace have you been saved), ⁶ and raised us up with him, and made us to sit with him in the heavenly places in Mashayach Yashawai, ⁷ that in the ages to come he might show the exceeding riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Mashayach Yashawai; ⁸ for by grace you have been saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of Alahayam, ⁹ not of works, that no one would boast. ¹⁰ For we are his workmanship, created in Mashayach Yashawai for good works, which Alahayam prepared before that we would walk in them. ¹¹ Therefore remember that once you, the Gentiles in the flesh, who are called "uncircumcision" by that which is called "circumcision," (in the flesh, made by hands); ¹² that you were at that time separate from Mashayach, alienated from the commonwealth of Yasharaal, and strangers from the covenants of the promise, having no hope and without Alahayam in the world.

¹³ But now in Mashayach Yashawai you who once were far off are made near in the blood of Mashayach. ¹⁴ For he is our peace, who made both one, and broke down the middle wall of partition, ¹⁵ having abolished in the flesh the hostility, the law of commandments contained in ordinances, that he might create in himself one new man of the two, making peace; ¹⁶ and might reconcile them both in one body to Alahayam through the cross, having killed the hostility thereby. ¹⁷ He came and preached peace to you who were far off, and peace to those who were near. ¹⁸ For through him we both have our access in one Spirit to the Father. ¹⁹ So then you are no longer strangers and sojourners, but you are fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of Alahayam, ²⁰ being built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Mashayach Yashawai himself being the chief cornerstone; ²¹ in whom the whole building, fitted together, grows into a holy temple in the Adanay; ²² in whom you also are built together for a habitation of Alahayam in the Spirit.

3 For this cause I, Shaawal, am the prisoner of Mashayach Yashawai on behalf of you Gentiles, ² if it is so that you have heard of the administration of that grace of Alahayam which was given me toward you; ³ how that by revelation the mystery was made known to me, as I wrote before in few words, ⁴ whereby, when you read, you can perceive my understanding in the mystery of Mashayach; ⁵ which in other generations was not made known to the sons of men, as it has now been revealed to his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit; ⁶ that the Gentiles are fellow heirs, and fellow members of the body, and fellow partakers of the promise in Mashayach Yashawai through the gospel, ⁷ whereof I was made a servant, according to the gift of that grace of Alahayam which was given me according to the working of his power. ⁸ To me, the very least of all saints, was this grace given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Mashayach, ⁹ and to make all men see what is the administration of the mystery which for ages has been hidden in Alahayam, who created all things through Yashawai Mashayach; ¹⁰ to the intent that now through the assembly the manifold wisdom of Alahayam might be made known to the principalities and the powers in the heavenly places, ¹¹ according to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Mashayach Yashawai, our Adanay; ¹² in whom we have boldness and access in confidence through our faith in him. ¹³ Therefore I ask that you may not lose heart at my troubles for you, which are your glory. ¹⁴ For this cause, I bow my knees to the Father of our Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, ¹⁵ from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, ¹⁶ that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, that you may be strengthened with power through his Spirit in the inward man; ¹⁷ that Mashayach may dwell in your hearts through faith; to the end that you, being rooted and grounded in love, ¹⁸ may be strengthened to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, ¹⁹ and to know Mashayach's love which surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled to all the fullness of Alahayam. ²⁰ Now to him who is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that works in us, ²¹ to him be the glory in the assembly and in Mashayach Yashawai to all generations forever and ever. Amen.

4 I therefore, the prisoner in the Adanay, beg you to walk worthily of the calling with which you were called,² with all lowliness and humility, with longsuffering, bearing with one another in love;³ being eager to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.⁴ There is one body, and one Spirit, even as you also were called in one hope of your calling;⁵ one Adanay, one faith, one baptism,⁶ one Alahayam and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in us all.⁷ But to each one of us was the grace given according to the measure of the gift of Mashayach.⁸ Therefore he says, "When he ascended on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts to men."⁹ Now this, "He ascended," what is it but that he also first descended into the lower parts of the earth?¹⁰ He who descended is the same also who ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.¹¹ He gave some to be apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, shepherds and teachers;¹² for the perfecting of the saints, to the work of serving, to the building up of the body of Mashayach;¹³ until we all attain to the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of Alahayam, to a full grown man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Mashayach;¹⁴ that we may no longer be children, tossed back and forth and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the trickery of men, in craftiness, after the wiles of error;¹⁵ but speaking truth in love, we may grow up in all things into him, who is the head, Mashayach;¹⁶ from whom all the body, being fitted and knit together through that which every joint supplies, according to the working in measure of each individual part, makes the body increase to the building up of itself in love.¹⁷ This I say therefore, and testify in the Adanay, that you no longer walk as the rest of the Gentiles also walk, in the vanity of their mind,¹⁸ being darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of Alahayam, because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardening of their hearts;¹⁹ who having become callous gave themselves up to lust, to work all uncleanness with greediness.²⁰ But you did not learn Mashayach that way;²¹ if indeed you heard him, and were taught in him, even as truth is in Yashawai:²² that you put away, as concerning your former way of life, the old man, that grows corrupt after the lusts of deceit;²³ and that you be renewed in the spirit of your mind,²⁴ and put on the new man, that like Alahayam has been created in righteousness and holiness of truth.²⁵ Therefore, putting away falsehood, speak truth each one with his neighbor. For we are members one of another.²⁶ "Be angry, and don't sin." Don't let the sun go down on your wrath,²⁷ neither give place to the devil.²⁸ Let him who stole steal no more; but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing that is good, that he may have something to give to him who has need.²⁹ Let no corrupt speech proceed out of your mouth, but such as is good for building up as the need may be, that it may give grace to those who hear.³⁰ Don't grieve the Holy Spirit of Alahayam, in whom you were sealed to the day of redemption.³¹ Let all bitterness, wrath, anger, outcry, and slander, be put away from you, with all malice.³² Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, just as Alahayam also in Mashayach forgave you.

5 Be therefore imitators of Alahayam, as beloved children.² Walk in love, even as Mashayach also loved you, and gave himself up for us, an offering and a sacrifice to Alahayam for a sweet-smelling fragrance.³ But sexual immorality, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not even be mentioned among you, as becomes saints;⁴ nor filthiness, nor foolish talking, or jesting, which are not appropriate; but rather giving of thanks.⁵ Know this for sure, that no sexually immoral person, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, has any inheritance in the kingdom of Mashayach and Alahayam.⁶ Let no man deceive you with empty words. For because of these things, the wrath of Alahayam comes on the sons of disobedience.⁷ Don't be therefore partakers with them.⁸ For you were once darkness, but are now light in the Adanay. Walk as children of light,⁹ for the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth,¹⁰ proving what is well-pleasing to the Adanay.¹¹ Have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather even reprove them.¹² For the things which are done by them in secret, it is a shame even to speak of.¹³ But all things, when they are reproved, are revealed by the light, for everything that is revealed is light.¹⁴ Therefore he says, "Awake, you who sleep, and arise from the dead, and Mashayach will shine on you."¹⁵ Therefore watch carefully how you walk, not as unwise, but as wise;¹⁶ redeeming the time, because the days are evil.¹⁷ Therefore don't be foolish, but understand what the will of the Adanay is.¹⁸ Don't be drunken with wine, in which is an abandoned life, but be filled with the Spirit,¹⁹ speaking to one another in psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs; singing, and singing praises in your heart to the Adanay;²⁰ giving thanks always for all things in the name of our Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, to Alahayam, even the Father;²¹ subjecting yourselves one to another in the fear of Mashayach.²² Wives, be subject to your own husbands, as to the Adanay.²³ For the husband is the head of the wife, and Mashayach also is the head of the assembly, being himself the savior of the body.²⁴ But as the assembly is subject to Mashayach, so let the wives also be to their husbands in everything.²⁵ Husbands, love your wives, even as Mashayach also loved the assembly, and gave himself up for it;²⁶ that he might sanctify it, having cleansed it by the washing of water with the word,²⁷ that he might present the assembly to himself gloriously, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.²⁸ Even so ought husbands also to love their own wives as their own bodies. He who loves his own wife loves himself.²⁹ For no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourishes and cherishes it, even as Mashayach also the assembly;³⁰ because we are members of his body, of his flesh and bones.³¹ "For this cause a man will leave his father and mother, and will be joined to his wife. The two will become one flesh."³² This mystery is great, but I speak in regard of Mashayach and of the assembly.³³ Nevertheless each of you must also love his own wife even as himself; and let the wife see that she respects her husband.

6 Children, obey your parents in the Adanay, for this is right.² "Honor your father and mother," which is the first commandment with a promise:³ "that it may be well with you, and you may live long on the earth."⁴ You fathers, don't provoke your children to wrath, but nurture them in the discipline and instruction of the Adanay.⁵ Servants, be obedient to those who according to the flesh are your masters, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as to Mashayach;⁶ not in the way of service only when eyes are on you, as men-pleasers; but as servants of Mashayach, doing the will of Alahayam from the heart;⁷ with good will doing service, as to the Adanay, and not to men;⁸ knowing that whatever good thing each one does, he will receive the same again from the Adanay, whether he is bound or free.⁹ You masters, do the same things to them, and give up threatening, knowing that he who is both their Master and yours is in heaven, and there is no partiality with him.¹⁰ Finally, be strong in the Adanay, and in the strength of his might.¹¹ Put on the whole armor of Alahayam, that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.¹² For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against the principalities, against the powers, against the world's rulers of the darkness of this age, and against the spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places.¹³ Therefore, put on the whole armor of Alahayam, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and, having done all, to stand.¹⁴ Stand therefore, having the utility belt of truth buckled around your waist, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness,¹⁵ and having fitted your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace;¹⁶ above all, taking up the shield of faith, with which you will be able to quench all the fiery darts of the evil one.¹⁷ Take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of Alahayam;¹⁸ with all prayer and requests, praying at all times in the Spirit, and being watchful to this end in all perseverance and requests for all the saints:¹⁹ On my behalf, that utterance may be given to me in opening my mouth, to make known with boldness the mystery of the gospel,²⁰ for which I am an ambassador in chains; that in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.²¹ But that you also may know my affairs, how I am doing, Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful servant in the Adanay, will make known to you all things; ²² whom I have sent to you for this very purpose, that you may know our state, and that he may comfort your hearts. ²³ Peace be to the brothers, and love with faith, from Alahayam the Father and the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach. ²⁴ Grace be with all those who love our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach with incorruptible love.

1 Shaawal and Tayamawathayawas, servants of Mashayach Yashawai; To all the saints in Mashayach Yashawai who are at Philippi, with the overseers and deacons: ² Grace to you, and peace from Alahayam, our Father, and the Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach. ³ I thank my Alahayam whenever I remember you, ⁴ always in every request of mine on behalf of you all making my requests with joy, ⁵ for your fellowship in furtherance of the gospel from the first day until now; ⁶ being confident of this very thing, that he who began a good work in you will complete it until the day of Yashawai Mashayach. ⁷ It is even right for me to think this way on behalf of all of you, because I have you in my heart, inasmuch as, both in my bonds and in the defense and confirmation of the gospel, you all are partakers with me of grace. ⁸ For Alahayam is my witness, how I long after all of you in the tender mercies of Mashayach Yashawai. ⁹ This I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and all discernment; ¹⁰ so that you may approve the things that are excellent; that you may be sincere and without offense to the day of Mashayach; ¹¹ being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are through Yashawai Mashayach, to the glory and praise of Alahayam. ¹² Now I desire to have you know, brothers, that the things which happened to me have turned out rather to the progress of the gospel; ¹³ so that my bonds became revealed in Mashayach throughout the whole praetorian guard, and to all the rest; ¹⁴ and that most of the brothers in the Adanay, being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak the word of Alahayam without fear. ¹⁵ Some indeed preach Mashayach even out of envy and strife, and some also out of good will. ¹⁶ The former preach Mashayach from selfish ambition, not sincerely, thinking that they add affliction to my chains; ¹⁷ but the latter out of love, knowing that I am appointed for the defense of the gospel. ¹⁸ What does it matter? Only that in every way, whether in pretense or in truth, Mashayach is proclaimed. I rejoice in this, yes, and will rejoice. ¹⁹ For I know that this will turn out to my salvation, through your supplication and the supply of the Spirit of Yashawai Mashayach, ²⁰ according to my earnest expectation and hope, that I will in no way be put to shame, but with all boldness, as always, now also Mashayach will be magnified in my body, whether by life, or by death. ²¹ For to me to live is Mashayach, and to die is gain. ²² But if to live in the flesh, this will bring fruit from my work; then I don't make known what I will choose. ²³ But I am in a dilemma between the two, having the desire to depart and be with Mashayach, for that is very far better. ²⁴ Yet, to remain in the flesh is more needful for your sake. ²⁵ Having this confidence, I know that I will remain, yes, and remain with you all, for your progress and joy in the faith, ²⁶ that your rejoicing may abound in Mashayach Yashawai in me through my presence with you again. ²⁷ Only let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Mashayach, that, whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of your state, that you stand firm in one spirit, with one soul striving for the faith of the gospel; ²⁸ and in nothing frightened by the adversaries, which is for them a proof of destruction, but to you of salvation, and that from Alahayam. ²⁹ Because it has been granted to you on behalf of Mashayach, not only to believe in him, but also to suffer on his behalf, ³⁰ having the same conflict which you saw in me, and now hear is in me.

2 If there is therefore any exhortation in Mashayach, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any tender mercies and compassion, ² make my joy full, that you be of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind; ³ doing nothing through rivalry or through conceit, but in humility, each counting others better than himself; ⁴ each of you not just looking to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others. ⁵ Have this in your mind, which was also in Mashayach Yashawai, ⁶ who, existing in the form of Alahayam, didn't consider it robbery to be equal with Alahayam, ⁷ but emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of men. ⁸ Being found in human form, he humbled himself, becoming obedient to death, yes, the death of the cross. ⁹ Therefore Alahayam also highly exalted him, and gave to him the name which is above every name; ¹⁰ that at the name of Yashawai every knee would bow, of those in heaven, those on earth, and those under the earth, ¹¹ and that every tongue would confess that Yashawai Mashayach is Adanay, to the glory of Alahayam, the Father. ¹² So then, my beloved, even as you have always obeyed, not only in my presence, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. ¹³ For it is Alahayam who works in you both to will and to work, for his good pleasure. ¹⁴ Do all things without murmurings and disputes, ¹⁵ that you may become blameless and harmless, children of Alahayam without blemish in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom you are seen as lights in the world, ¹⁶ holding up the word of life; that I may have something to boast in the day of Mashayach, that I didn't run in vain nor labor in vain. ¹⁷ Yes, and if I am poured out on the sacrifice and service of your faith, I rejoice, and rejoice with you all. ¹⁸ In the same way, you also rejoice, and rejoice with me. ¹⁹ But I hope in the Adanay Yashawai to send Tayamawathayawas to you soon, that I also may be cheered up when I know how you are doing. ²⁰ For I have no one else like-minded, who will truly care about you. ²¹ For they all seek their own, not the things of Yashawai Mashayach. ²² But you know the proof of him, that, as a child serves a father, so he served with me in furtherance of the gospel. ²³ Therefore I hope to send him at once, as soon as I see how it will go with me. ²⁴ But I trust in the Adanay that I myself also will come shortly. ²⁵ But I counted it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, fellow worker, fellow soldier, and your messenger and minister to my need; ²⁶ since he longed for you all, and was very troubled, because you had heard that he was sick. ²⁷ For indeed he was sick, nearly to death, but Alahayam had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow on sorrow. ²⁸ I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that, when you see him again, you may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. ²⁹ Receive him therefore in the Adanay with all joy, and hold such in honor, ³⁰ because for the work of Mashayach he came near to death, risking his life to supply that which was lacking in your service toward me.

3 Finally, my brothers, rejoice in the Adanay. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not tiresome, but for you it is safe. ² Beware of the dogs, beware of the evil workers, beware of the false circumcision. ³ For we are the circumcision, who worship Alahayam in the Spirit, and rejoice in Mashayach Yashawai, and have no confidence in the flesh; ⁴ though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh. If any other man thinks that he has confidence in the flesh, I yet more: ⁵ circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Yasharaal, of the tribe of Banayaman, a Hebrew of Hebrews; concerning the law, a Pharisee; ⁶ concerning zeal, persecuting the assembly; concerning the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless. ⁷ However, what things were gain to me, these have I counted loss for Mashayach. ⁸ Yes most assuredly, and I count all things to be loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Mashayach Yashawai, my Adanay, for whom I suffered the loss of all things, and count them nothing but refuse, that I may gain Mashayach ⁹ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own, that which is of the law, but that which is through faith in Mashayach, the righteousness which is from Alahayam by faith; ¹⁰ that I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, becoming conformed to his death; ¹¹ if by any means I may attain to the resurrection from the dead. ¹² Not that I have already obtained, or am already made perfect; but I press on, if it is so that I may take hold of that for which also I was laid hold of by Mashayach Yashawai. ¹³ Brothers, I don't regard myself as yet having laid hold, but one thing I do. Forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before, ¹⁴ I press on toward the goal to the prize of the high calling of Alahayam in Mashayach Yashawai. ¹⁵ Let us therefore, as many as are perfect, think this way. If in anything you think otherwise, this Alahayam will also reveal that to you. ¹⁶ Nevertheless, to the extent that we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule. Let us be of the same mind. ¹⁷ Brothers, be imitators together of me, and note those who walk this way, even as you have us for an example. ¹⁸ For many walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you even weeping, as the enemies of the cross of Mashayach, ¹⁹ whose end is destruction, whose god is the belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who think about earthly things. ²⁰ For our citizenship is in heaven, from where we also wait for a Savior, the Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach; ²¹ who will change the body of our humiliation to be conformed to the body of his glory, according to the working whereby he is able even to subject all things to himself.

4 Therefore, my brothers, beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand firm in the Adanay, my beloved. ² I exhort Euodia, and I exhort Syntyche, to think the same way in the Adanay. ³ Yes, I beg you also, true yoke-fellow, help these women, for they labored with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the book of life. ⁴ Rejoice in the Adanay always. Again I will say, Rejoice! ⁵ Let your mildness be known to all men. The Adanay is at hand. ⁶ In nothing be anxious, but in everything, by prayer and petition with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to Alahayam. ⁷ The peace of Alahayam, which passes all understanding, will guard your hearts and your thoughts in Mashayach Yashawai. ⁸ Finally, brothers, whatever things are true, whatever things are honorable, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report; if there is any virtue, and if there is any praise, think about these things. ⁹ The things which you learned, received, heard, and saw in me: do these things, and the Alahayam of peace will be with you. ¹⁰ But I rejoice in the Adanay greatly, that now at length you have revived your thought for me; in which you did indeed take thought, but you lacked opportunity. ¹¹ Not that I speak in respect to lack, for I have learned in whatever state I am, to be content in it. ¹² I know how to be humbled, and I know also how to abound. In everything and in all things have I learned the secret both to be filled and to be hungry, both to abound and to be in need. ¹³ I can do all things through Mashayach, who strengthens me. ¹⁴ However you did well that you had fellowship with my affliction. ¹⁵ You yourselves also know, you Philippians, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no assembly had fellowship with me in the matter of giving and receiving but you only. ¹⁶ For even in Thessalonica you sent once and again to my need. ¹⁷ Not that I seek for the gift, but I seek for the fruit that increases to your account. ¹⁸ But I have all things, and abound. I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, a sweet-smelling fragrance, an acceptable and well-pleasing sacrifice to Alahayam. ¹⁹ My Alahayam will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Mashayach Yashawai. ²⁰ Now to our Alahayam and Father be the glory forever and ever. Amen. ²¹ Greet every saint in Mashayach Yashawai. The brothers who are with me greet you. ²² All the saints greet you, especially those who are of Qayasar's household. ²³ The grace of the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach be with you all.

1 Shaawal, an apostle of Mashayach Yashawai through the will of Alahayam, and Tayamawathayawas our brother, ² To the saints and faithful brothers in Mashayach [who are] at Colossae: Grace to you and peace from Alahayam, our Father, and the Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach. ³ We give thanks to Alahayam, the Father of our Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, praying always for you, ⁴ having heard of your faith in Mashayach Yashawai, and of the love which you have toward all the saints, ⁵ because of the hope which is laid up for you in the heavens, whereof you heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel, ⁶ which has come to you; even as it is also in all the world bearing fruit and increasing, as it does in you also, since the day you heard and knew the grace of Alahayam in truth; ⁷ even as you learned of Epaphras our beloved fellow-servant, who is a faithful minister of Mashayach on our behalf, ⁸ who also declared to us your love in the Spirit. ⁹ For this cause, we also, since the day we heard this, haven't ceased to pray and make requests for you, that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, ¹⁰ to walk worthily of the Adanay, to please him in all respects, bearing fruit in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of Alahayam; ¹¹ strengthened with all power, according to the might of his glory, to all patience and perseverance with joy; ¹² giving thanks to the Father, who made us fit to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light; ¹³ who delivered us out of the power of darkness, and translated us into the kingdom of the Son of his love; ¹⁴ in whom we have our redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our sins; ¹⁵ who is the image of the invisible Alahayam, the firstborn of all creation. ¹⁶ For in him were all things created, in the heavens and on the earth, things visible and things invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers; all things have been created through him, and to him. ¹⁷ He is before all things, and in him all things are held together. ¹⁸ He is the head of the body, the assembly, who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the preeminence. ¹⁹ For all the fullness was pleased to dwell in him; ²⁰ and through him to reconcile all things to himself, having made peace through the blood of his cross. Through him, I say, whether things on the earth, or things in the heavens. ²¹ You, being in past times alienated and enemies in your mind in your evil works, ²² yet now he has reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and without blemish and blameless before him, ²³ if it is so that you continue in the faith, grounded and steadfast, and not moved away from the hope of the gospel which you heard, which was preached in all creation under heaven; of which I, Shaawal, was made a servant. ²⁴ Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and fill up on my part that which is lacking of the afflictions of Mashayach in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the assembly; ²⁵ of which I was made a servant, according to the stewardship of Alahayam which was given me toward you, to fulfill the word of Alahayam, ²⁶ the mystery which has been hidden for ages and generations. But now it has been revealed to his saints, ²⁷ to whom Alahayam was pleased to make known what are the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, who is Mashayach in you, the hope of glory; ²⁸ whom we proclaim, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Mashayach; ²⁹ for which I also labor, striving according to his working, which works in me mightily.

2 For I desire to have you know how greatly I strive for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; ² that their hearts may be comforted, they being knit together in love, and to all riches of the full assurance of understanding, that they may know the mystery of Alahayam, both of the Father and of Mashayach, ³ in whom are all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge hidden. ⁴ This I say that no one may delude you with persuasiveness of speech. ⁵ For though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, rejoicing and seeing your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Mashayach. ⁶ As therefore you received Mashayach Yashawai, the Adanay, walk in him, ⁷ rooted and built up in him, and established in your faith, even as you were taught, abounding in it in thanksgiving. ⁸ Be careful that you don't let anyone rob you through his philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the elements of the world, and not after Mashayach. ⁹ For in him all the fullness of the Godhead dwells bodily, ¹⁰ and in him you are made full, who is the head of all principality and power; ¹¹ in whom you were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in the putting off of the body of the sins of the flesh, in the circumcision of Mashayach; ¹² having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the working of Alahayam, who raised him from the dead. ¹³ You were dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh. He made you alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses; ¹⁴ having blotted out the bond written in ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us; and he has taken it out that way, nailing it to the cross; ¹⁵ having stripped the principalities and the powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it. ¹⁶ Let no man therefore judge you in eating, or in drinking, or with respect to a feast day or a new moon or a Sabbath day, ¹⁷ which are a shadow of the things to come; but the body is Mashayach's. ¹⁸ Let no man rob you of your prize by a voluntary humility and worshipping of the angels, dwelling in the things which he has not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, ¹⁹ and not holding firmly to the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together through the joints and ligaments, grows with Alahayam's growth. ²⁰ If you died with Mashayach from the elements of the world, why, as though living in the world, do you subject yourselves to ordinances, ²¹ "Don't handle, nor taste, nor touch" ²² (all which things are to perish with the using), after the precepts and doctrines of men? ²³ Which things indeed appear like wisdom in self-imposed worship, and humility, and severity to the body; but aren't of any value against the indulgence of the flesh.

3 If then you were raised together with Mashayach, seek the things that are above, where Mashayach is, seated on the right hand of Alahayam. ² Set your mind on the things that are above, not on the things that are on the earth. ³ For you died, and your life is hidden with Mashayach in Alahayam. ⁴ When Mashayach, our life, is revealed, then you will also be revealed with him in glory. ⁵ Pawat to death therefore your members which are on the earth: sexual immorality, uncleanness, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry; ⁶ for which things' sake the wrath of Alahayam comes on the sons of disobedience. ⁷ You also once walked in those, when you lived in these things; ⁸ but now you also put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and shameful speaking out of your mouth. ⁹ Don't lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old man with his doings, ¹⁰ and have put on the new man, that is being renewed in knowledge after the image of his Creator, ¹¹ where there can't be Greek and Yahawaday, circumcision and uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, bondservant, freeman; but Mashayach is all, and in all. ¹² Pawat on therefore, as Alahayam's elect, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, lowliness, humility, and perseverance; ¹³ bearing with one another, and forgiving each other, if any man has a complaint against any; even as the Adanay forgave you, so also do. ¹⁴ Above all these things, walk in love, which is the bond of perfection. ¹⁵ Let the peace of Mashayach rule in your hearts, to which also you were called in one body. Be thankful. ¹⁶ Let the word of Mashayach dwell in you richly; in all wisdom teaching and admonishing one another with psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to Alahayam. ¹⁷ Whatever you do, in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Adanay Yashawai, giving thanks to Alahayam, the Father, through him. ¹⁸ Wives, be in subjection to your husbands, as is fitting in the Adanay. ¹⁹ Husbands, love your wives, and don't be bitter against them. ²⁰ Children, obey your parents in all things, for this pleases the Adanay. ²¹ Fathers, don't provoke your children, so that they won't be discouraged. ²² Servants, obey in all things those who are your masters according to the flesh, not just when they are looking, as men-pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing the Adanay. ²³ Whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Adanay, and not for men, ²⁴ knowing that from the Adanay you will receive the reward of the inheritance; for you serve the Adanay, Mashayach. ²⁵ For he who does wrong will receive again for the wrong that he has done, and there is no partiality.

4 Masters, give to your servants that which is just and equal, knowing that you also have a Master in heaven. ² Continue steadfastly in prayer, watching therein with thanksgiving; ³ praying together for us also, that Alahayam may open to us a door for the word, to speak the mystery of Mashayach, for which I am also in bonds; ⁴ that I may reveal it as I ought to speak. ⁵ Walk in wisdom toward those who are outside, redeeming the time. ⁶ Let your speech always be with grace, seasoned with salt, that you may know how you ought to answer each one. ⁷ All my affairs will be made known to you by Tychicus, the beloved brother, faithful servant, and fellow bondservant in the Adanay. ⁸ I am sending him to you for this very purpose, that he may know your circumstances and comfort your hearts, ⁹ together with Onesimus, the faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They will make known to you all things that are going on here. ¹⁰ Aristarchus, my fellow prisoner greets you, and Mark, the cousin of Baranab (concerning whom you received commandments, "if he comes to you, receive him"), ¹¹ and Yashawai who is called Justus, who are of the circumcision. These are my only fellow workers to the kingdom of Alahayam, men who have been a comfort to me. ¹² Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Mashayach Yashawai, salutes you, always striving for you in his prayers, that you may stand perfect and complete in all the will of Alahayam. ¹³ For I testify about him, that he has great zeal for you, and for those in Laodicea, and for those in Hierapolis. ¹⁴ Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas greet you. ¹⁵ Greet the brothers who are in Laodicea, and Nymphas, and the assembly that is in his house. ¹⁶ When this letter has been read among you, cause it to be read also in the assembly of the Laodiceans; and that you also read the letter from Laodicea. ¹⁷ Tell Archippus, "Take heed to the ministry which you have received in the Adanay, that you fulfill it." ¹⁸ The salutation of me, Shaawal, with my own hand. Remember my bonds. Grace be with you.

1 Shaawal, Silvanus, and Tayamawathayawas, To the assembly of the Thessalonians in Alahayam the Father and the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach: Grace to you and peace from Alahayam our Father and the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach. ² We always give thanks to Alahayam for all of you, mentioning you in our prayers, ³ remembering without ceasing your work of faith and labor of love and patience of hope in our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, before our Alahayam and Father. ⁴ We know, brothers loved by Alahayam, that you are chosen, ⁵ and that our gospel came to you not in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Spirit, and with much assurance. You know what kind of men we showed ourselves to be among you for your sake. ⁶ You became imitators of us, and of the Adanay, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Spirit, ⁷ so that you became an example to all who believe in Macedonia and in Achaia. ⁸ For from you has sounded forth the word of the Adanay, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but in every place your faith toward Alahayam has gone forth; so that we need not to say anything. ⁹ For they themselves report concerning us what kind of a reception we had from you; and how you turned to Alahayam from idols, to serve a living and true Alahayam, ¹⁰ and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead -- Yashawai, who delivers us from the wrath to come.

2 For you yourselves know, brothers, our visit to you hasn't been found vain, ² but having suffered before and been shamefully treated, as you know, at Philippi, we grew bold in our Alahayam to tell you the gospel of Alahayam in much conflict. ³ For our exhortation is not of error, nor of uncleanness, nor in deception. ⁴ But even as we have been approved by Alahayam to be entrusted with the gospel, so we speak; not as pleasing men, but Alahayam, who tests our hearts. ⁵ For neither were we at any time found using words of flattery, as you know, nor a cloak of covetousness (Alahayam is witness), ⁶ nor seeking glory from men (neither from you nor from others), when we might have claimed authority as apostles of Mashayach. ⁷ But we were gentle in the midst of you, as when a nurse cherishes her own children. ⁸ Even so, affectionately longing for you, we were well pleased to impart to you, not the gospel of Alahayam only, but also our own souls, because you had become very dear to us. ⁹ For you remember, brothers, our labor and travail. Working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached to you the gospel of Alahayam. ¹⁰ You are witnesses with Alahayam, how holy, righteously, and blamelessly we behaved ourselves toward you who believe. ¹¹ As you know how we exhorted, comforted, and implored everyone of you, as a father does his own children, ¹² to the end that you should walk worthily of Alahayam, who calls you into his own kingdom and glory. ¹³ For this cause we also thank Alahayam without ceasing, that, when you received from us the word of the message of Alahayam, you accepted it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of Alahayam, which also works in you who believe. ¹⁴ For you, brothers, became imitators of the assemblies of Alahayam which are in Yahawadah in Mashayach Yashawai; for you also suffered the same things from your own countrymen, even as they did from the Jews; ¹⁵ who killed the Adanay Yashawai and the prophets, and drove us out, and didn't please Alahayam, and are contrary to all men; ¹⁶ forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved; to fill up their sins always. But wrath has come on them to the uttermost. ¹⁷ But we, brothers, being bereaved of you for a short season, in presence, not in heart, tried even harder to see your face with great desire, ¹⁸ because we wanted to come to you -- indeed, I, Shaawal, once and again -- but Satan hindered us. ¹⁹ For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Isn't it even you, before our Adanay Yashawai at his coming? ²⁰ For you are our glory and our joy.

3 Therefore, when we couldn't stand it any longer, we thought it good to be left behind at Athens alone, ² and sent Tayamawathayawas, our brother and Alahayam's servant in the gospel of Mashayach, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith; ³ that no one be moved by these afflictions. For you know that we are appointed to this task. ⁴ For most assuredly, when we were with you, we told you beforehand that we are to suffer affliction, even as it happened, and you know. ⁵ For this cause I also, when I couldn't stand it any longer, sent that I might know your faith, for fear that by any means the tempter had tempted you, and our labor would have been in vain. ⁶ But when Tayamawathayawas came just now to us from you, and brought us glad news of your faith and love, and that you have good memories of us always, longing to see us, even as we also long to see you; ⁷ for this cause, brothers, we were comforted over you in all our distress and affliction through your faith. ⁸ For now we live, if you stand fast in the Adanay. ⁹ For what thanksgiving can we render again to Alahayam for you, for all the joy with which we rejoice for your sakes before our Alahayam; ¹⁰ night and day praying exceedingly that we may see your face, and may perfect that which is lacking in your faith? ¹¹ Now may our Alahayam and Father himself, and our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, direct our way to you; ¹² and the Adanay make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we also do toward you, ¹³ to the end he may establish your hearts blameless in holiness before our Alahayam and Father, at the coming of our Adanay Yashawai with all his saints.

4 Finally then, brothers, we beg and exhort you in the Adanay Yashawai, that, as you received from us how you ought to walk and to please Alahayam, -- that you abound more and more. ² For you know what charge we gave you through the Adanay Yashawai. ³ For this is the will of Alahayam: your sanctification, that you abstain from sexual immorality, ⁴ that each one of you know how to possess himself of his own vessel in sanctification and honor, ⁵ not in the passion of lust, even as the Gentiles who don't know Alahayam; ⁶ that no one should take advantage of and wrong a brother or sister in this matter; because the Adanay is an avenger in all these things, as also we forewarned you and testified. ⁷ For Alahayam called us not for uncleanness, but in sanctification. ⁸ Therefore he who rejects, doesn't reject man, but Alahayam, who has also given his Holy Spirit to you. ⁹ But concerning brotherly love, you have no need that one write to you. For you yourselves are taught by Alahayam to love one another, ¹⁰ for indeed you do it toward all the brothers who are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brothers, that you abound more and more; ¹¹ and that you make it your ambition to lead a quiet life, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, even as we charged you; ¹² that you may walk properly toward those who are outside, and may have need of nothing. ¹³ But we don't want you to be ignorant, brothers, concerning those who have fallen asleep, so that you don't grieve like the rest, who have no hope. ¹⁴ For if we believe that Yashawai died and rose again, even so those who have fallen asleep in Yashawai will Alahayam bring with him. ¹⁵ For this we tell you by the word of the Adanay, that we who are alive, who are left to the coming of the Adanay, will in no way precede those who have fallen asleep. ¹⁶ For the Adanay himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with Alahayam's trumpet. The dead in Mashayach will rise first, ¹⁷ then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Adanay in the air. So we will be with the Adanay forever.¹⁸ Therefore comfort one another with these words.

5 But concerning the times and the seasons, brothers, you have no need that anything be written to you.² For you yourselves know well that the day of the Adanay comes like a thief in the night.³ For when they are saying, "Peace and safety," then sudden destruction will come on them, like birth pains on a pregnant woman; and they will in no way escape.⁴ But you, brothers, aren't in darkness, that the day should overtake you like a thief.⁵ You are all sons of light, and sons of the day. We don't belong to the night, nor to darkness,⁶ so then let's not sleep, as the rest do, but let us watch and be sober.⁷ For those who sleep, sleep in the night, and those who are drunken are drunken in the night.⁸ But let us, since we belong to the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and, for a helmet, the hope of salvation.⁹ For Alahayam didn't appoint us to wrath, but to the obtaining of salvation through our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach,¹⁰ who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.¹¹ Therefore exhort one another, and build each other up, even as you also do.¹² But we beg you, brothers, to know those who labor among you, and are over you in the Adanay, and admonish you,¹³ and to respect and honor them in love for their work's sake. Be at peace among yourselves.¹⁴ We exhort you, brothers, admonish the disorderly, encourage the fainthearted, support the weak, be patient toward all.¹⁵ See that no one returns evil for evil to anyone, but always follow after that which is good, towards one another, and towards all.¹⁶ Rejoice always.¹⁷ Pray without ceasing.¹⁸ In everything give thanks, for this is the will of Alahayam in Mashayach Yashawai toward you.¹⁹ Don't quench the Spirit.²⁰ Don't despise prophecies.²¹ Test all things, and hold firmly that which is good.²² Abstain from every form of evil.²³ May the Alahayam of peace himself sanctify you completely. May your whole spirit, soul, and body be preserved blameless at the coming of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach.²⁴ Faithful is he who calls you, who will also do it.²⁵ Brothers, pray for us.²⁶ Greet all the brothers with a holy kiss.²⁷ I solemnly charge you by the Adanay that this letter be read to all the holy brothers.²⁸ The grace of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach be with you. Amen.

1 Shaawal, Silvanus, and Tayamawathayawas, To the assembly of the Thessalonians in Alahayam, our Father, and the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach: ² Grace to you and peace from Alahayam our Father and the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach. ³ We are bound to always give thanks to Alahayam for you, brothers, even as it is appropriate, because your faith grows exceedingly, and the love of each and every one of you towards one another abounds; ⁴ so that we ourselves boast about you in the assemblies of Alahayam for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which you endure. ⁵ This is an obvious sign of the righteous judgment of Alahayam, to the end that you may be counted worthy of the kingdom of Alahayam, for which you also suffer. ⁶ Since it is a righteous thing with Alahayam to repay affliction to those who afflict you, ⁷ and to give relief to you that are afflicted with us, when the Adanay Yashawai is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels in flaming fire, ⁸ giving vengeance to those who don't know Alahayam, and to those who don't obey the gospel of our Adanay Yashawai, ⁹ who will pay the penalty: eternal destruction from the face of the Adanay and from the glory of his might, ¹⁰ when he comes to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired among all those who have believed (because our testimony to you was believed) in that day. ¹¹ To this end we also pray always for you, that our Alahayam may count you worthy of your calling, and fulfill every desire of goodness and work of faith, with power; ¹² that the name of our Adanay Yashawai may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our Alahayam and the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach.

2 Now we beg you, brothers, concerning the coming of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, and our gathering together to him, ² to the end that you won't be quickly shaken in your mind, nor yet be troubled, either by spirit, or by word, or by letter as from us, saying that the day of Mashayach had come. ³ Let no one deceive you in any way. For it will not be, unless the falling away comes first, and the man of sin is revealed, the son of destruction, ⁴ he who opposes and exalts himself against all that is called Alahayam or that is worshipped; so that he sits as Alahayam in the temple of Alahayam, setting himself up as Alahayam. ⁵ Don't you remember that, when I was still with you, I told you these things? ⁶ Now you know what is restraining him, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. ⁷ For the mystery of lawlessness does already work. Only there is one who restrains now, until he is taken out of the way. ⁸ Then will the lawless one be revealed, whom the Adanay will kill with the breath of his mouth, and bring to nothing by the brightness of his coming; ⁹ even he whose coming is according to the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, ¹⁰ and with all deception of wickedness for those who are being lost, because they didn't receive the love of the truth, that they might be saved. ¹¹ Because of this, Alahayam sends them a working of error, that they should believe a lie; ¹² that they all might be judged who didn't believe the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness. ¹³ But we are bound to always give thanks to Alahayam for you, brothers loved by the Adanay, because Alahayam chose you from the beginning for salvation in sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth; ¹⁴ whereunto he called you through our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach. ¹⁵ So then, brothers, stand firm, and hold the traditions which you were taught by us, whether by word, or by letter. ¹⁶ Now our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach himself, and Alahayam, our Father, who loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, ¹⁷ comfort your hearts and establish you in every good work and word.

3 Finally, brothers, pray for us, that the word of the Adanay may run and be glorified, even as also with you; ² and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men; for not all have faith. ³ But the Adanay is faithful, who will establish you, and guard you from the evil one. ⁴ We have confidence in the Adanay concerning you, that you both do and will do the things which we command. ⁵ May the Adanay direct your hearts into the love of Alahayam, and into the patience of Mashayach. ⁶ Now we command you, brothers, in the name of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, that you withdraw yourselves from every brother who walks in rebellion, and not after the tradition which they received from us. ⁷ For you know how you ought to imitate us. For we didn't behave ourselves rebelliously among you, ⁸ neither did we eat bread for nothing from any man's hand, but in labor and travail, working night and day, that we might not burden any of you; ⁹ not because we don't have the right, but to make ourselves an example to you, that you should imitate us. ¹⁰ For even when we were with you, we commanded you this: "If anyone will not work, neither let him eat." ¹¹ For we hear of some who walk among you in rebellion, who don't work at all, but are busybodies. ¹² Now those who are that way, we command and exhort in the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread. ¹³ But you, brothers, don't be weary in doing well. ¹⁴ If any man doesn't obey our word by this letter, note that man, that you have no company with him, to the end that he may be ashamed. ¹⁵ Don't count him as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother. ¹⁶ Now may the Adanay of peace himself give you peace at all times in all ways. The Adanay be with you all. ¹⁷ The greeting of me, Shaawal, with my own hand, which is the sign in every letter. This is how I write. ¹⁸ The grace of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach be with you all. Amen.

1 Shaawal, an apostle of Mashayach Yashawai according to the commandment of Alahayam, our Savior, and Mashayach Yashawai, our hope; ² to Tayamawathayawas, my true child in faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from Alahayam our Father, and Mashayach Yashawai, our Adanay. ³ As I exhorted you to stay at Ephesus, when I was going into Macedonia, that you might charge certain men not to teach a different doctrine, ⁴ neither to pay attention to myths and endless genealogies, which cause disputes, rather than Alahayam's stewardship, which is in faith -- ⁵ But the end of the charge is love, out of a pure heart and a good conscience and unfeigned faith; ⁶ from which things some, having missed the mark, have turned aside to vain talking; ⁷ desiring to be teachers of the law, though they understand neither what they say, nor about what they strongly affirm. ⁸ But we know that the law is good, if a man uses it lawfully, ⁹ as knowing this, that law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and insubordinate, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers, ¹⁰ for the sexually immoral, for homosexuals, for slave-traders, for liars, for perjurers, and for any other thing contrary to the sound doctrine; ¹¹ according to the gospel of the glory of the blessed Alahayam, which was committed to my trust. ¹² And I thank him who enabled me, Mashayach Yashawai, our Adanay, because he counted me faithful, appointing me to service; ¹³ although I was before a blasphemer, a persecutor, and insolent. However, I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief. ¹⁴ The grace of our Adanay abounded exceedingly with faith and love which is in Mashayach Yashawai. ¹⁵ The saying is faithful, and worthy of all acceptance, that Mashayach Yashawai came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief. ¹⁶ However, for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me as chief, Yashawai Mashayach might display all his patience, for an example of those who were going to believe in him to eternal life. ¹⁷ Now to the King eternal, immortal, invisible, to Alahayam who alone is wise, be honor and glory forever and ever. Amen. ¹⁸ This charge I commit to you, my child Tayamawathayawas, according to the prophecies which led the way to you, that by them you may wage the good warfare; ¹⁹ holding faith and a good conscience; which some having thrust away made a shipwreck concerning the faith; ²⁰ of whom is Hymenaeus and Alexander; whom I delivered to Satan, that they might be taught not to blaspheme.

2 I exhort therefore, first of all, that petitions, prayers, intercessions, and givings of thanks, be made for all men: ² for kings and all who are in high places; that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and reverence. ³ For this is good and acceptable in the sight of Alahayam, our Savior; ⁴ who desires to have all men to be saved, and come to full knowledge of the truth. ⁵ For there is one Alahayam, and one mediator between Alahayam and men, the man Mashayach Yashawai, ⁶ who gave himself as a ransom for all; the testimony in its own times; ⁷ to which I was appointed a preacher and an apostle (I am telling the truth in Mashayach, not lying), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth. ⁸ I desire therefore that the men in every place pray, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting. ⁹ In the same way, that women also adorn themselves in decent clothing, with modesty and propriety; not just with braided hair, and gold or pearls or costly clothing; ¹⁰ but (which becomes women professing godliness) through good works. ¹¹ Let a woman learn in quietness with all subjection. ¹² But I don't permit a woman to teach, nor to exercise authority over a man, but to be in quietness. ¹³ For Adam was first formed, then Chawah. ¹⁴ Adam wasn't deceived, but the woman, being deceived, has fallen into disobedience; ¹⁵ but she will be saved through her child-bearing, if they continue in faith, love, and sanctification with sobriety.

3 This is a faithful saying: if a man seeks the office of an overseer, he desires a good work. ² The overseer therefore must be without reproach, the husband of one wife, temperate, sensible, modest, hospitable, good at teaching; ³ not a drinker, not violent, not greedy for money, but gentle, not quarrelsome, not covetous; ⁴ one who rules his own house well, having children in subjection with all reverence; ⁵ (but if a man doesn't know how to rule his own house, how will he take care of the assembly of Alahayam?) ⁶ not a novice, to avoid being puffed up and falling into the condemnation of the devil. ⁷ Moreover he must have good testimony from those who are outside, to avoid falling into reproach and the snare of the devil. ⁸ Deacons, in the same way, must be reverent, not double-tongued, not addicted to much wine, not greedy for money; ⁹ holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience. ¹⁰ Let them also first be tested; then let them serve as deacons, if they are blameless. ¹¹ Their wives in the same way must be reverent, not slanderers, temperate, faithful in all things. ¹² Let deacons be husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well. ¹³ For those who have served well as deacons gain to themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the faith which is in Mashayach Yashawai. ¹⁴ These things I write to you, hoping to come to you shortly; ¹⁵ but if I wait long, that you may know how men ought to behave themselves in the house of Alahayam, which is the assembly of the living Alahayam, the pillar and ground of the truth. ¹⁶ Without controversy, the mystery of godliness is great: Alahayam was revealed in the flesh, Justified in the spirit, Seen by angels, Preached among the nations, Believed on in the world, And received up in glory.

4 But the Spirit says expressly that in later times some will fall away from the faith, paying attention to seducing spirits and doctrines of demons, ² through the hypocrisy of men who speak lies, branded in their own conscience as with a hot iron; ³ forbidding marriage and commanding to abstinence from foods which Alahayam created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth. ⁴ For every creature of Alahayam is good, and nothing is to be rejected, if it is received with thanksgiving. ⁵ For it is sanctified through the word of Alahayam and prayer. ⁶ If you instruct the brothers of these things, you will be a good servant of Mashayach Yashawai, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the good doctrine which you have followed. ⁷ But refuse profane and old wives' fables. Exercise yourself toward godliness. ⁸ For bodily exercise has some value, but godliness has value for all things, having the promise of the life which is now, and of that which is to come. ⁹ This saying is faithful and worthy of all acceptance. ¹⁰ For to this end we both labor and suffer reproach, because we have set our trust in the living Alahayam, who is the Savior of all men, especially of those who believe. ¹¹ Command and teach these things. ¹² Let no man despise your youth; but be an example to those who believe, in word, in your way of life, in love, in spirit, in faith, and in purity. ¹³ Until I come, pay attention to reading, to exhortation, and to teaching. ¹⁴ Don't neglect the gift that is in you, which was given to you by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the elders. ¹⁵ Be diligent in these things. Give yourself wholly to them, that your progress may be revealed to all. ¹⁶ Pay attention to yourself, and to your teaching. Continue in these things, for in doing this you will save both yourself and those who hear you.

5 Don't rebuke an older man, but exhort him as a father; the younger men as brothers; ² the elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, in all purity.³ Honor widows who are widows indeed.⁴ But if any widow has children or grandchildren, let them learn first to show piety towards their own family, and to repay their parents, for this is acceptable in the sight of Alahayam.⁵ Now she who is a widow indeed, and desolate, has her hope set on Alahayam, and continues in petitions and prayers night and day.⁶ But she who gives herself to pleasure is dead while she lives.⁷ Also command these things, that they may be without reproach.⁸ But if anyone doesn't provide for his own, and specially his own household, he has denied the faith, and is worse than an unbeliever.⁹ Let none be enrolled as a widow under sixty years old, having been the wife of one man,¹⁰ well reported of for good works; if she has brought up children, if she has used hospitality to strangers, if she has washed the saints' feet, if she has relieved the afflicted, if she has diligently followed every good work.¹¹ But refuse younger widows, for when they have grown wanton against Mashayach, they desire to marry;¹² having condemnation, because they have rejected their first pledge.¹³ Besides, they also learn to be idle, going about from house to house. Not only idle, but also gossips and busybodies, saying things which they ought not.¹⁴ I desire therefore that the younger widows marry, bear children, rule the household, and give no occasion to the adversary for reviling.¹⁵ For already some have turned aside after Satan.¹⁶ If any man or woman who believes has widows, let them relieve them, and don't let the assembly be burdened; that it might relieve those who are widows indeed.¹⁷ Let the elders who rule well be counted worthy of double honor, especially those who labor in the word and in teaching.¹⁸ For the scripture says, "You shall not muzzle the ox when he treads out the grain." And, "The laborer is worthy of his wages."¹⁹ Don't receive an accusation against an elder, except at the word of two or three witnesses.²⁰ Those who sin, reprove in the sight of all, that the rest also may be in fear.²¹ I charge you in the sight of Alahayam, and Mashayach Yashawai, and the elect angels, that you observe these things without prejudice, doing nothing by partiality.²² Lay hands hastily on no one, neither be a participant in other men's sins. Keep yourself pure.²³ Be no longer a drinker of water only, but use a little wine for your stomach's sake and your frequent infirmities.²⁴ Some men's sins are evident, going before to judgment, and some men also they follow after.²⁵ In the same way also there are good works that are obvious, and those that are otherwise can't be hidden.

6 Let as many as are bondservants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honor, that the name of Alahayam and the doctrine not be blasphemed.² Those who have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brothers, but rather let them serve them, because those who partake of the benefit are believing and beloved. Teach and exhort these things.³ If anyone teaches a different doctrine, and doesn't consent to sound words, the words of our Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness;⁴ he is conceited, knowing nothing, but obsessed with arguments, disputes, and word battles, from which come envy, strife, reviling, evil suspicions,⁵ constant friction of men of corrupt minds and destitute of the truth, who suppose that godliness is a means of gain. Withdraw yourself from such.⁶ But godliness with contentment is great gain.⁷ For we brought nothing into the world, and we certainly can't carry anything out.⁸ But having food and clothing, we will be content with that.⁹ But those who are determined to be rich fall into a temptation and a snare and many foolish and harmful lusts, such as drown men in ruin and destruction.¹⁰ For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil. Some have been led astray from the faith in their greed, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows.¹¹ But you, man of Alahayam, flee these things, and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, and gentleness.¹² Fight the good fight of the faith. Lay hold of the eternal life, whereunto you were called, and confessed the good confession in the sight of many witnesses.¹³ I charge you in the sight of Alahayam, who gives life to all things, and of Mashayach Yashawai, who before Pontius Payalatawas testified the good confession,¹⁴ that you keep the commandment, without spot, without reproach, until the appearing of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach;¹⁵ which in its own times he will show, who is the blessed and only Ruler, the King of kings, and Adanay of lords;¹⁶ who alone has immortality, dwelling in unapproachable light; whom no man has seen, nor can see: to whom be honor and eternal power. Amen.¹⁷ Charge those who are rich in this present world, that they not be haughty, nor have their hope set on the uncertainty of riches, but on the living Alahayam, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy;¹⁸ that they do good, that they be rich in good works, that they be ready to distribute, willing to communicate;¹⁹ laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold of eternal life.²⁰ Tayamawathayawas, guard that which is committed to you, turning away from the empty chatter and oppositions of the knowledge which is falsely so called;²¹ which some professing have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with you. Amen.

1 Shaawal, an apostle of Yashawai Mashayach through the will of Alahayam, according to the promise of the life which is in Mashayach Yashawai, ² to Tayamawathayawas, my beloved child: Grace, mercy, and peace, from Alahayam, the Father, and Mashayach Yashawai, our Adanay. ³ I thank Alahayam, whom I serve as my forefathers did, with a pure conscience. How unceasing is my memory of you in my petitions, night and day ⁴ longing to see you, remembering your tears, that I may be filled with joy; ⁵ having been reminded of the unfeigned faith that is in you; which lived first in your grandmother Lois, and your mother Eunice, and, I am persuaded, in you also. ⁶ For this cause, I remind you that you should stir up the gift of Alahayam which is in you through the laying on of my hands. ⁷ For Alahayam didn't give us a spirit of fear, but of power and love and discipline. ⁸ Don't be ashamed therefore of the testimony of our Adanay, nor of me, his prisoner; but suffer hardship with the gospel according to the power of Alahayam, ⁹ who saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given to us in Mashayach Yashawai before times eternal, ¹⁰ but has now been revealed by the appearing of our Savior, Mashayach Yashawai, who abolished death, and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel. ¹¹ For this, I was appointed as a preacher, an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles. ¹² For this cause I suffer also these things. Yet I am not ashamed, for I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard that which I have committed to him against that day. ¹³ Hold the pattern of sound words which you have heard from me, in faith and love which is in Mashayach Yashawai. ¹⁴ That good thing which was committed to you, guard through the Holy Spirit which dwells in us. ¹⁵ This you know, that all who are in Asia turned away from me; of whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes. ¹⁶ May the Adanay grant mercy to the house of Onesiphorus, for he often refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain, ¹⁷ but when he was in Rome, he sought me diligently, and found me ¹⁸ (the Adanay grant to him to find the Adanay's mercy in that day); and in how many things he served at Ephesus, you know very well.

2 You therefore, my child, be strengthened in the grace that is in Mashayach Yashawai. ² The things which you have heard from me among many witnesses, commit the same to faithful men, who will be able to teach others also. ³ You therefore must endure hardship, as a good soldier of Mashayach Yashawai. ⁴ No soldier on service entangles himself in the affairs of life, that he may please him who enrolled him as a soldier. ⁵ If also a man competes in the games, he is not crowned, unless he has competed by the rules. ⁶ The farmers who labor must be the first to get a share of the crops. ⁷ Consider what I say, and may the Adanay give you understanding in all things. ⁸ Remember Yashawai Mashayach, risen from the dead, of the seed of Dawad, according to my gospel, ⁹ in which I suffer hardship to bonds, as a criminal. But Alahayam's word isn't bound. ¹⁰ Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sake, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Mashayach Yashawai with eternal glory. ¹¹ This saying is faithful: For if we died with him, we will also live with him. ¹² If we endure, we will also reign with him. If we will deny him, he also will deny us. ¹³ If we are faithless, he remains faithful -- he can't deny himself. ¹⁴ Remind them of these things, charging them in the sight of the Adanay, that they don't argue about words, to no profit, to the subverting of those who hear. ¹⁵ Give diligence to present yourself approved by Alahayam, a workman who doesn't need to be ashamed, properly handling the Word of Truth. ¹⁶ But shun empty chatter, for they will proceed further in ungodliness, ¹⁷ and their word will consume like gangrene, of whom is Hymenaeus and Philetus; ¹⁸ men who have erred concerning the truth, saying that the resurrection is already past, and overthrowing the faith of some. ¹⁹ However Alahayam's firm foundation stands, having this seal, "The Adanay knows those who are his," and, "Let every one who names the name of the Adanay depart from unrighteousness." ²⁰ Now in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of clay. Some are for honor, and some for dishonor. ²¹ If a man therefore purges himself from these, he will be a vessel for honor, sanctified, and suitable for the master's use, prepared for every good work. ²² Flee from youthful lusts; but pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace with those who call on the Adanay out of a pure heart. ²³ But refuse foolish and ignorant questionings, knowing that they generate strife. ²⁴ The Adanay's servant must not quarrel, but be gentle towards all, able to teach, patient, ²⁵ in gentleness correcting those who oppose him; if perhaps Alahayam may give them repentance to the knowledge of the truth, ²⁶ and they may recover themselves out of the devil's snare, having been taken captive by him to his will.

3 But know this, that in the last days, grievous times will come. ² For men will be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, arrogant, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, ³ without natural affection, unforgiving, slanderers, without self-control, fierce, no lovers of good, ⁴ traitors, headstrong, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of Alahayam; ⁵ holding a form of godliness, but having denied the power thereof. Turn away from these, also. ⁶ For of these are those who creep into houses, and take captive gullible women loaded down with sins, led away by various lusts, ⁷ always learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. ⁸ Even as Jannes and Jambres opposed Mashah, so do these also oppose the truth; men corrupted in mind, reprobate concerning the faith. ⁹ But they will proceed no further. For their folly will be evident to all men, as theirs also came to be. ¹⁰ But you did follow my teaching, conduct, purpose, faith, patience, love, steadfastness, ¹¹ persecutions, and sufferings; those things that happened to me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; those persecutions that I endured. Out of them all the Adanay delivered me. ¹² Yes, and all who desire to live godly in Mashayach Yashawai will suffer persecution. ¹³ But evil men and impostors will grow worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived. ¹⁴ But you remain in the things which you have learned and have been assured of, knowing from whom you have learned them. ¹⁵ From infancy, you have known the sacred writings which are able to make you wise to salvation through faith, which is in Mashayach Yashawai. ¹⁶ Every scripture inspired by Alahayam is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for instruction which is in righteousness, ¹⁷ that the man of Alahayam may be complete, furnished completely to every good work.

4 I charge you therefore before Alahayam and the Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, who will judge the living and the dead at His appearing and His kingdom: ² preach the word; be urgent in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort, with all patience and teaching. ³ For the time will come when they will not listen to the sound doctrine, but, having itching ears, will heap up for themselves teachers after their own lusts; ⁴ and will turn away their ears from the truth, and turn aside to fables. ⁵ But you be sober in all things, suffer hardship, do the work of an evangelist, and fulfill your ministry. ⁶ For I am already being offered, and the time of my departure has come. ⁷ I have fought the good fight. I have finished the course. I have kept the faith. ⁸ From now on, there is stored up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Adanay, the righteous judge, will give to me at that day; and not to me only, but also to all those who have loved his appearing.⁹ Be diligent to come to me soon,¹⁰ for Demas left me, having loved this present world, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, and Titus to Dalmatia.¹¹ Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with you, for he is useful to me for ministering.¹² But I sent Tychicus to Ephesus.¹³ Bring the cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, when you come, and the books, especially the parchments.¹⁴ Alexander, the coppersmith, did much evil to me. The Adanay will repay him according to his works,¹⁵ of whom you also must beware; for he greatly opposed our words.¹⁶ At my first defense, no one took my part, but all left me. May it not be held against them.¹⁷ But the Adanay stood by me, and strengthened me, that through me the message might be fully proclaimed, and that all the Gentiles might hear; and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.¹⁸ And the Adanay will deliver me from every evil work, and will save me to his heavenly kingdom; to whom be the glory forever and ever. Amen.¹⁹ Greet Prisca and Aquila, and the house of Onesiphorus.²⁰ Erastus remained at Corinth, but I left Trophimus at Miletus sick.²¹ Be diligent to come before winter. Eubulus salutes you, as do Pudens, Linus, Claudia, and all the brothers.²² The Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, be with your spirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

1 Shaawal, a servant of Alahayam, and an apostle of Yashawai Mashayach, according to the faith of Alahayam's elect, and the knowledge of the truth which is according to godliness,² in hope of eternal life, which Alahayam, who can't lie, promised before eternal times;³ but in his own time revealed his word in the message with which I was entrusted according to the commandment of Alahayam, our Savior;⁴ to Titus, my true child according to a common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace from Alahayam, the Father, and the Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, our Savior.⁵ I left you in Crete for this reason, that you would set in order the things that were lacking, and appoint elders in every city, as I directed you;⁶ if anyone is blameless, the husband of one wife, having children who believe, who are not accused of loose or unruly behavior.⁷ For the overseer must be blameless, as Alahayam's steward; not self-pleasing, not easily angered, not given to wine, not violent, not greedy for dishonest gain;⁸ but given to hospitality, as a lover of good, sober-minded, fair, holy, self-controlled;⁹ holding to the faithful word which is according to the teaching, that he may be able to exhort in the sound doctrine, and to convict those who contradict him.¹⁰ For there are also many unruly men, vain talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision,¹¹ whose mouths must be stopped; men who overthrow whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for dishonest gain's sake.¹² One of them, a prophet of their own, said, "Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, and idle gluttons."¹³ This testimony is true. For this cause, reprove them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith,¹⁴ not paying attention to Jewish fables and commandments of men who turn away from the truth.¹⁵ To the pure, all things are pure; but to those who are defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their mind and their conscience are defiled.¹⁶ They profess that they know Alahayam, but by their works they deny him, being abominable, disobedient, and unfit for any good work.

2 But say the things which fit the sound doctrine,² that older men should be temperate, sensible, sober-minded, sound in faith, in love, and in patience;³ and that older women likewise be reverent in behavior, not slanderers nor enslaved to much wine, teachers of that which is good;⁴ that they may train the young women to love their husbands, to love their children,⁵ to be sober-minded, chaste, workers at home, kind, being in subjection to their own husbands, that Alahayam's word may not be blasphemed.⁶ Likewise, exhort the younger men to be sober-minded;⁷ in all things showing yourself an example of good works; in your teaching showing integrity, seriousness, incorruptibility,⁸ and soundness of speech that can't be condemned; that he who opposes you may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say about us.⁹ Exhort servants to be in subjection to their own masters, and to be well-pleasing in all things; not contradicting;¹⁰ not stealing, but showing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of Alahayam, our Savior, in all things.¹¹ For the grace of Alahayam has appeared, bringing salvation to all men,¹² instructing us to the intent that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we would live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world;¹³ looking for the blessed hope and appearing of the glory of the great Alahayam and our Savior, Yashawai Mashayach;¹⁴ who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify to himself a people for his own possession, zealous for good works.¹⁵ Say these things and exhort and reprove with all authority. Let no man despise you.

3 Remind them to be in subjection to rulers and to authorities, to be obedient, to be ready to every good work,² to speak evil of no one, not to be contentious, to be gentle, showing all gentleness toward all men.³ For we were also once foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving various lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.⁴ But when the kindness of Alahayam, our Savior, and his love toward man, appeared,⁵ not by works of righteousness, which we did ourselves, but according to his mercy, he saved us, through the washing of regeneration and renewing by the Holy Spirit,⁶ which he poured out on us richly, through Yashawai Mashayach, our Savior;⁷ that, being justified by his grace, we might be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.⁸ This saying is faithful, and concerning these things I desire that you affirm confidently, to the end that they who have believed Alahayam may be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable to men;⁹ but shun foolish questionings, genealogies, strife, and disputes about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain.¹⁰ Avoid a factious man after a first and second warning;¹¹ knowing that such a one is perverted, and sins, being self-condemned.¹² When I send Artemas to you, or Tychicus, be diligent to come to me to Nicopolis, for I have determined to winter there.¹³ Send Zenas, the lawyer, and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing may be lacking for them.¹⁴ Let our people also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they may not be unfruitful.¹⁵ All who are with me greet you. Greet those who love us in faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

1 Shaawal, a prisoner of Mashayach Yashawai, and Tayamawathayawas our brother, to Philemon, our beloved fellow worker, ² to the beloved Apphia, to Archippus, our fellow soldier, and to the assembly in your house: ³ Grace to you and peace from Alahayam our Father and the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach. ⁴ I thank my Alahayam always, making mention of you in my prayers, ⁵ hearing of your love, and of the faith which you have toward the Adanay Yashawai, and toward all the saints; ⁶ that the fellowship of your faith may become effective, in the knowledge of every good thing which is in us, in Mashayach Yashawai. ⁷ For we have much joy and comfort in your love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through you, brother. ⁸ Therefore, though I have all boldness in Mashayach to command you that which is appropriate, ⁹ yet for love's sake I rather beg, being such a one as Shaawal, the aged, and now a prisoner also of Mashayach Yashawai. ¹⁰ I beg you for my child, whom I have fathered in my bonds, Onesimus, ¹¹ who once was useless to you, but now is useful to you and to me; ¹² I am sending him back. You therefore receive him, that is, my own heart, ¹³ whom I wanted to keep with me, that in your behalf he might minister to me in the bonds of the gospel. ¹⁴ But I was willing to do nothing without your consent, that your goodness would not be as of necessity, but of free will. ¹⁵ For perhaps he was therefore separated from you for a while, that you would have him forever, ¹⁶ no longer as a slave, but more than a slave, a beloved brother, specially to me, but how much rather to you, both in the flesh and in the Adanay. ¹⁷ If then you count me a partner, receive him as you would receive me. ¹⁸ But if he has wronged you at all, or owes you anything, put that to my account. ¹⁹ I, Shaawal, write this with my own hand: I will repay it (not to mention to you that you owe to me even your own self besides). ²⁰ Yes, brother, let me have joy from you in the Adanay. Refresh my heart in the Adanay. ²¹ Having confidence in your obedience, I write to you, knowing that you will do even beyond what I say. ²² Also, prepare a guest room for me, for I hope that through your prayers I will be restored to you. ²³ Epaphras, my fellow prisoner in Mashayach Yashawai, greets you, ²⁴ as do Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke, my fellow workers. ²⁵ The grace of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach be with your spirit. Amen.

1 Alahayam, having in the past spoken to the fathers through the prophets at many times and in various ways, ² has at the end of these days spoken to us by his Son, whom he appointed heir of all things, through whom also he made the worlds. ³ His Son is the radiance of his glory, the very image of his substance, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself made purification for our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high; ⁴ having become so much better than the angels, as he has inherited a more excellent name than they have. ⁵ For to which of the angels did he say at any time, "You are my Son, Today have I become your father?" and again, "I will be to him a Father, And he will be to me a Son?" ⁶ When he again brings in the firstborn into the world he says, "Let all the angels of Alahayam worship him." ⁷ Of the angels he says, "Who makes his angels winds, And his servants a flame a fire." ⁸ but of the Son he says, "Your throne, Alahayam, is forever and ever; The scepter of uprightness is the scepter of your kingdom. ⁹ You have loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; Therefore Alahayam, your Alahayam, has anointed you With the oil of gladness above your fellows." ¹⁰ And, "You, Adanay, in the beginning, laid the foundation of the earth. The heavens are the works of your hands. ¹¹ They will perish, but you continue. They all will grow old like a garment does. ¹² As a mantle you will roll them up. And they will be changed. But you are the same. Your years will not fail." ¹³ But of which of the angels has he said at any time, "Sit at my right hand, Until I make your enemies the footstool of your feet?" ¹⁴ Aren't they all ministering spirits, sent forth to do service for the sake of those who will inherit salvation?

2 Therefore we ought to pay greater attention to the things that were heard, lest perhaps we drift away. ² For if the word spoken through angels proved steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense; ³ how will we escape, if we neglect so great a salvation -- which at the first having been spoken through the Adanay, was confirmed to us by those who heard; ⁴ Alahayam also bearing witness with them, both by signs and wonders, and by various works of power, and by gifts of the Holy Spirit, according to his own will? ⁵ For he didn't subject the world to come, whereof we speak, to angels. ⁶ But one has somewhere testified, saying, "What is man, that you think of him? Or the son of man, that you care for him? ⁷ You made him a little lower than the angels; You crowned him with glory and honor. ⁸ You have put all things in subjection under his feet." For in that he subjected all things to him, he left nothing that is not subject to him. But now we don't see all things subjected to him, yet. ⁹ But we see him who has been made a little lower than the angels, Yashawai, because of the suffering of death crowned with glory and honor, that by the grace of Alahayam he should taste of death for everyone. ¹⁰ For it became him, for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, in bringing many sons to glory, to make the author of their salvation perfect through sufferings. ¹¹ For both he who sanctifies and those who are sanctified are all from one, for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brothers, ¹² saying, "I will declare your name to my brothers, In the midst of the congregation will I sing your praise." ¹³ Again, "I will put my trust in him." Again, "Behold, here am I and the children whom Alahayam has given me." ¹⁴ Since then the children have shared in flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner partook of the same, that through death he might bring to nothing him who had the power of death, that is, the devil, ¹⁵ and might deliver all of them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. ¹⁶ For most assuredly, not to angels does he give help, but he gives help to the seed of Abaraham. ¹⁷ Therefore he was obligated in all things to be made like his brothers, that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to Alahayam, to make atonement for the sins of the people. ¹⁸ For in that he himself has suffered being tempted, he is able to help those who are tempted.

3 Therefore, holy brothers, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, Yashawai; ² who was faithful to him who appointed him, as also was Mashah in all his house. ³ For he has been counted worthy of more glory than Mashah, by so much as he who built the house has more honor than the house. ⁴ For every house is built by someone; but he who built all things is Alahayam. ⁵ Mashah indeed was faithful in all his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken, ⁶ but Mashayach as a Son, over his house; whose house are we, if we hold fast our boldness and the glorying of our hope firm to the end. ⁷ Therefore, even as the Holy Spirit says, "Today if you will hear his voice, ⁸ Don't harden your hearts, as in the provocation, Like as in the day of the trial in the wilderness, ⁹ Where your fathers tested me by proving me, And saw my works for forty years. ¹⁰ Therefore I was displeased with that generation, And said, 'They always err in their heart, But they didn't know my ways;' ¹¹ As I swore in my wrath, 'They will not enter into my rest.'" ¹² Beware, brothers, lest perhaps there will be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in falling away from the living Alahayam; ¹³ but exhort one another day by day, so long as it is called "today;" lest any one of you be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. ¹⁴ For we have become partakers of Mashayach, if we hold fast the beginning of our confidence firm to the end: ¹⁵ while it is said, "Today if you will hear his voice, Don't harden your hearts, as in the provocation." ¹⁶ For who, when they heard, did provoke? No, didn't all those who came out of Matzarayam by Mashah? ¹⁷ With whom was he displeased forty years? was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? ¹⁸ To whom did he swear that they should not enter into his rest, but to those who were disobedient? ¹⁹ We see that they were not able to enter in because of unbelief.

4 Let us fear therefore, lest perhaps a promise being left of entering into his rest, anyone of you should seem to have come short of it. ² For indeed we have had good news preached to us, even as also they, but the word of hearing did not profit them, because it was not mixed with faith by those who heard. ³ For we who have believed do enter into that rest, even as he has said, "As I swore in my wrath, They will not enter into my rest;" although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. ⁴ For he has said somewhere about the seventh day like this, "Alahayam rested on the seventh day from all his works;" ⁵ and in this place again, "They will not enter into my rest." ⁶ Seeing therefore it remains that some should enter therein, and they to whom the good news were before preached failed to enter in because of disobedience, ⁷ he again defines a certain day, today, saying through Dawad so long a time afterward (just as has been said), "Today if you will hear his voice, Don't harden your hearts." ⁸ For if Yahawashai had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterward of another day. ⁹ There remains therefore a Sabbath rest for the people of Alahayam. ¹⁰ For he who has entered into his rest has himself also rested from his works, as Alahayam did from his. ¹¹ Let us therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, that no man fall after the same example of disobedience. ¹² For the word of Alahayam is living, and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart. ¹³ There is no creature that is hidden from his sight, but all things are naked and laid open before the eyes of him with whom we have to do.¹⁴ Having then a great high priest, who has passed through the heavens, Yashawai, the Son of Alahayam, let us hold tightly to our confession.¹⁵ For we don't have a high priest who can't be touched with the feeling of our infirmities, but one who has been in all points tempted like we are, yet without sin.¹⁶ Let us therefore draw near with boldness to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace for timely help.

5 For every high priest, being taken from among men, is appointed for men in things pertaining to Alahayam, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins.² The high priest can deal gently with those who are ignorant and going astray, because he himself is also surrounded with weakness.³ Because of this, he must offer sacrifices for sins for the people, as well as for himself.⁴ No man takes this honor on himself, but he is called by Alahayam, just like Aharan was.⁵ So also Mashayach didn't glorify himself to be made a high priest, but he who said to him, "You are my Son. Today I have become your father."⁶ As he says also in another place, "You are a priest forever, After the order of Malakay."⁷ Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up prayers and petitions with strong crying and tears to him who was able to save him from death, and having been heard for his godly fear,⁸ though he was a Son, yet learned obedience by the things which he suffered;⁹ and having been made perfect, he became to all of those who obey him the author of eternal salvation,¹⁰ named by Alahayam a high priest after the order of Malakay.¹¹ Of whom we have many words to say, and hard to interpret, seeing you have become dull of hearing.¹² For when by reason of the time you ought to be teachers, you again need to have someone teach you the rudiments of the first principles of the oracles of Alahayam. You have come to need milk, and not solid food.¹³ For everyone who lives on milk is not experienced in the word of righteousness, for he is a baby.¹⁴ But solid food is for full grown men, those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern good and evil.

6 Therefore leaving the doctrine of the first principles of Mashayach, let us press on to perfection -- not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works, of faith toward Alahayam,² of the teaching of baptisms, of laying on of hands, of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.³ This will we do, if Alahayam permits.⁴ For concerning those who were once enlightened and tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Spirit,⁵ and tasted the good word of Alahayam, and the powers of the age to come,⁶ and then fell away, it is impossible to renew them again to repentance; seeing they crucify the Son of Alahayam for themselves again, and put him to open shame.⁷ For the land which has drunk the rain that comes often on it, and brings forth a crop suitable for them for whose sake it is also tilled, receives blessing from Alahayam;⁸ but if it bears thorns and thistles, it is rejected and near a curse, whose end is to be burned.⁹ But, beloved, we are persuaded of better things for you, and things that accompany salvation, though we speak like this,¹⁰ for Alahayam is not unrighteous, so as to forget your work and the labor of love which you showed toward his name, in that you served to the saints, and still do serve them.¹¹ We desire that each one of you may show the same diligence to the fullness of hope even to the end,¹² that you won't be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherited the promises.¹³ For when Alahayam made a promise to Abaraham, since he could swear by none greater, he swore by himself,¹⁴ saying, "Most surely I will bless you, and I will surely multiply you."¹⁵ Thus, having patiently endured, he obtained the promise.¹⁶ For men indeed swear by a greater one, and in every dispute of theirs the oath is final for confirmation.¹⁷ Wherein Alahayam, being determined to show more abundantly to the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, interposed with an oath;¹⁸ that by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for Alahayam to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to take hold of the hope set before us,¹⁹ which we have as an anchor of the soul, a hope both sure and steadfast and entering into that which is within the veil;²⁰ where as a forerunner Yashawai entered for us, having become a high priest forever after the order of Malakay.

7 For this Malakay, king of Shalam, priest of Alahayam Ilayawan, who met Abaraham returning from the slaughter of the kings and blessed him,² to whom also Abaraham divided a tenth part of all (being first, by interpretation, King of righteousness, and then also King of Shalam, which is King of peace;³ without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like the Son of Alahayam), remains a priest continually.⁴ Now consider how great this man was, to whom even Abaraham, the patriarch, gave a tenth out of the best spoils.⁵ They indeed of the sons of Laway who receive the priest's office have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brothers, though these have come out of the loins of Abaraham,⁶ but he whose genealogy is not counted from them has taken tithes of Abaraham, and has blessed him who has the promises.⁷ But without any dispute the less is blessed of the better.⁸ Here men who die receive tithes, but there one, of whom it is testified that he lives.⁹ So to say, through Abaraham even Laway, who receives tithes, has paid tithes,¹⁰ for he was yet in the loins of his father when Malakay met him.¹¹ Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it have the people received the law), what further need was there for another priest to arise after the order of Malakay, and not be called after the order of Aharan?¹² For the priesthood being changed, there is of necessity a change made also of the law.¹³ For he of whom these things are said belongs to another tribe, from which no man has given attendance at the altar.¹⁴ For it is evident that our Adanay has sprung out of Yahawadah, as to which tribe Mashah spoke nothing concerning priesthood.¹⁵ This is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Malakay there arises another priest,¹⁶ who has been made, not after the law of a fleshly commandment, but after the power of an endless life:¹⁷ for it is testified, "You are a priest forever, According to the order of Malakay."¹⁸ For there is an annulling of a foregoing commandment because of its weakness and uselessness¹⁹ (for the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of a better hope, through which we draw near to Alahayam.²⁰ Inasmuch as it is not without the taking of an oath,²¹ for they indeed have been made priests without an oath; but he with an oath by him that says of him, "The Adanay swore and will not change his mind, 'You are a priest forever, According to the order of Malakay'".²² By so much has Yashawai become the collateral of a better covenant.²³ Many, indeed, have been made priests, because they are hindered from continuing by death.²⁴ But he, because he lives forever, has his priesthood unchangeable.²⁵ Therefore he is also able to save to the uttermost those who draw near to Alahayam through him, seeing he ever lives to make intercession for them.²⁶ For such a high priest was fitting for us: holy, guiltless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the heavens;²⁷ who doesn't need, like those high priests, to daily offer up sacrifices, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people. For this he did once for all, when he offered up himself.²⁸ For the law appoints men high priests, having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, appoints a Son, perfected forevermore.

8 Now in the things which we are saying, the main point is this. We have such a high priest, who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens,² a minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tent, which the Adanay pitched, not man.³ For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices. Therefore it is necessary that this high priest also have something to offer.⁴ For if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are priests who offer the gifts according to the law;⁵ who serve a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, even as Mashah was warned by Alahayam when he was about to make the tent, for, "See," he said, "that you make all things according to the pattern that was shown you on the mountain."⁶ But now he has obtained a more excellent ministry, by so much as he is also the mediator of a better covenant, which has been enacted on better promises.⁷ For if that first covenant had been faultless, then no place would have been sought for a second.⁸ For finding fault with them, he said, "Behold, the days come," says the Adanay, "That I will make a new covenant with the house of Yasharaal and with the house of Yahawadah;⁹ Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, In the day that I took them by the hand to lead them forth out of the land of Matzarayam; For they didn't continue in my covenant, And I disregarded them," says the Adanay.¹⁰ "For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Yasharaal. After those days," says the Adanay; "I will put my laws into their mind, I will also write them on their heart. I will be to them a Alahayam, And they will be to me a people.¹¹ They will not teach every man his fellow citizen, Every man his brother, saying, 'Know the Adanay,' For all will know me, From the least of them to the greatest of them.¹² For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness. I will remember their sins and lawless deeds no more."¹³ In that he says, "A new covenant," he has made the first old. But that which is becoming old and grows aged is near to vanishing away.

9 Now indeed even the first covenant had ordinances of divine service, and an earthly sanctuary.² For there was a tent prepared, the first, in which were the lampstand, the table, and the show bread; which is called the Holy Place.³ After the second veil, the tent which is called the Holy of Holies,⁴ having a golden altar of incense, and the ark of the covenant overlaid on all sides with gold, in which was a golden pot holding the manna, Aharan's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant;⁵ and above it cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat, of which things we can't now speak in detail.⁶ Now these things having been thus prepared, the priests go in continually into the first tent, accomplishing the services,⁷ but into the second the high priest alone, once in the year, not without blood, which he offers for himself, and for the errors of the people.⁸ The Holy Spirit is signifying this, that the way into the Holy Place has not yet been revealed, while the first tent is yet standing;⁹ which is an illustration of the present age, where gifts and sacrifices are offered that are incapable, concerning the conscience, of making the worshipper perfect;¹⁰ being only (with meats and drinks and various washings) fleshly ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.¹¹ But Mashayach having come as a high priest of the coming good things, through the greater and more perfect tent, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation,¹² nor yet through the blood of goats and calves, but through his own blood, entered in once for all into the Holy Place, having obtained eternal redemption.¹³ For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling those who have been defiled, sanctify to the cleanness of the flesh:¹⁴ how much more will the blood of Mashayach, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to Alahayam, cleanse your conscience from dead works to serve the living Alahayam?¹⁵ For this cause he is the mediator of a new covenant, that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first covenant, those who have been called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance.¹⁶ For where a last will and testament is, there must of necessity be the death of him who made it.¹⁷ For a will is in force where there has been death, for it is never in force while he who made it lives.¹⁸ Therefore even the first covenant has not been dedicated without blood.¹⁹ For when every commandment had been spoken by Mashah to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of the calves and the goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people,²⁰ saying, "This is the blood of the covenant which Alahayam commanded toward you."²¹ Moreover he sprinkled the tent and all the vessels of the ministry in like manner with the blood.²² According to the law, nearly everything is cleansed with blood, and apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.²³ It was necessary therefore that the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.²⁴ For Mashayach entered not into a holy place made with hands, similar in pattern to the true, but into heaven itself, now to appear before the face of Alahayam for us;²⁵ nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest enters into the holy place year by year with blood not his own,²⁶ or else he must have suffered often since the foundation of the world. But now once at the end of the ages, he has been revealed to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.²⁷ Inasmuch as it is appointed for men to die once, and after this, judgment,²⁸ so Mashayach also, having been once offered to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, without sin, to those who are eagerly waiting for him for salvation.

10 For the law, having a shadow of the good to come, not the very image of the things, can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect those who draw near.² Or else wouldn't they have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have had no more consciousness of sins?³ But in those sacrifices there is a memory made of sins year by year.⁴ For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins.⁵ Therefore when he comes into the world, he says, "Sacrifice and offering you didn't desire, But a body did you prepare for me;⁶ In whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin you had no pleasure.⁷ Then I said, 'Behold, I have come (In the scroll of the book it is written of me) To do your will, Alahayam.'" ⁸ Saying above, "Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin you didn't desire, neither had pleasure in them" (those which are offered according to the law),⁹ then has he said, "Behold, I have come to do your will." He takes away the first, that he may establish the second,¹⁰ by which will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Yashawai Mashayach once for all.¹¹ Every priest indeed stands day by day ministering and often offering the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins,¹² but he, when he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of Alahayam;¹³ henceforth expecting until his enemies to be made the footstool of his feet.¹⁴ For by one offering he has perfected forever those who are sanctified.¹⁵ The Holy Spirit also testifies to us, for after he has said,¹⁶ "This is the covenant that I will make with them: 'After those days,' says the Adanay, 'I will put my laws on their heart, I will also write them on their mind;'" then,¹⁷ "I will remember their sins and their iniquities no more."¹⁸ Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.¹⁹ Having therefore, brothers, boldness to enter into the holy place by the blood of Yashawai,²⁰ by the way which he dedicated for us, a new and living way, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh;²¹ and having a great priest over the house of Alahayam;²² let us draw near with a true heart in fullness of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and having our body washed with pure water,²³ let us hold fast the confession of our hope unyieldingly. For he who promised is faithful.²⁴ Let us consider how to provoke one another to love and good works,²⁵ not forsaking our own assembling together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as you see the Day approaching.²⁶ For if we sin willfully after we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remains no more a sacrifice for sins,²⁷ but a certain fearful expectation of judgment, and a fierceness of fire which will devour the adversaries.²⁸ A man who has set at nothing Mashah's law dies without compassion on the word of two or three witnesses.²⁹ How much worse punishment, do you think, will he be judged worthy of, who has trodden under foot the Son of Alahayam, and has counted the blood of the covenant with which he was sanctified an unholy thing, and has insulted the Spirit of grace?³⁰ For we know him who said, "Vengeance belongs to me," says the Adanay, "I will repay." Again, "The Adanay will judge his people."³¹ It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living Alahayam.³² But remember the former days, in which, after you were enlightened, you endured a great struggle with sufferings;³³ partly, being exposed to both reproaches and oppressions; and partly, becoming partakers with those who were treated so.³⁴ For you both had compassion on me in my chains, and joyfully accepted the plundering of your possessions, knowing that you have for yourselves a better possession and an enduring one in the heavens.³⁵ Therefore don't throw away your boldness, which has a great reward.³⁶ For you need patience, so that, having done the will of Alahayam, you may receive the promise.³⁷ "For yet a very little while, He who comes will come, and will not wait."³⁸ But the righteous will live by faith. If he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him."³⁹ But we are not of those who shrink back to destruction, but of those who have faith to the saving of the soul.

11 Now faith is assurance of things hoped for, proof of things not seen.² For by this, the elders obtained testimony.³ By faith, we understand that the universe has been framed by the word of Alahayam, so that what is seen has not been made out of things which are visible.⁴ By faith, Habal offered to Alahayam a more excellent sacrifice than Qayan, through which he had testimony given to him that he was righteous, Alahayam bearing witness with respect to his gifts; and through it he, being dead, still speaks.⁵ By faith, Chanawak was translated, so that he should not see death, and he was not found, because Alahayam translated him. For he has had testimony given to him that before his translation he had been well pleasing to Alahayam.⁶ Without faith it is impossible to be well pleasing to him, for he who comes to Alahayam must believe that he exists, and that he is a rewarder of those who seek him.⁷ By faith, Nach, being warned about things not yet seen, moved with godly fear, prepared an ark for the saving of his house, through which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is according to faith.⁸ By faith, Abaraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out to the place which he was to receive for an inheritance. He went out, not knowing where he went.⁹ By faith, he lived as an alien in the land of promise, as in a land not his own, dwelling in tents, with Yatzachaq and Yaiqab, the heirs with him of the same promise.¹⁰ For he looked for the city which has the foundations, whose builder and maker is Alahayam.¹¹ By faith, even Sarah herself received power to conceive, and she bore a child when she was past age, since she counted him faithful who had promised.¹² Therefore they were fathered by one, and him as good as dead, as many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as innumerable as the sand which is by the sea shore.¹³ These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them and embraced them from afar, and having confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.¹⁴ For those who say such things make it clear that they are seeking after a country of their own.¹⁵ If indeed they had been thinking of that country from which they went out, they would have had enough time to return.¹⁶ But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly one. Therefore Alahayam is not ashamed of them, to be called their Alahayam, for he has prepared a city for them.¹⁷ By faith, Abaraham, being tested, offered up Yatzachaq. Yes, he who had gladly received the promises was offering up his one and only son;¹⁸ even he to whom it was said, "In Yatzachaq will your seed be called;"¹⁹ accounting that Alahayam is able to raise up, even from the dead. Figuratively speaking, he also did receive him back from the dead.²⁰ By faith, Yatzachaq blessed Yaiqab and Ishaw, even concerning things to come.²¹ By faith, Yaiqab, when he was dying, blessed each of the sons of Yawasap, and worshipped, leaning on the top of his staff.²² By faith, Yawasap, when his end was near, made mention of the departure of the children of Yasharaal; and gave instructions concerning his bones.²³ By faith, Mashah, when he was born, was hidden for three months by his parents, because they saw that he was a beautiful child, and they were not afraid of the king's commandment.²⁴ By faith, Mashah, when he had grown up, refused to be called the son of Paraih's daughter,²⁵ choosing rather to share ill treatment with the people of Alahayam, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a time;²⁶ accounting the reproach of Mashayach greater riches than the treasures of Matzarayam; for he looked to the reward.²⁷ By faith, he left Matzarayam, not fearing the wrath of the king; for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible.²⁸ By faith, he kept the Passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the firstborn should not touch them.²⁹ By faith, they passed through the Sawap as by dry land. When the Matzarayam tried to do so, they were swallowed up.³⁰ By faith, the walls of Yarayachaw fell down, after they had been encircled for seven days.³¹ By faith, Rachab, the prostitute, didn't perish with those who were disobedient, having received the spies in peace.³² What will I more say? For the time will fail me if I tell of Gadaiwan, Baraq, Shamashawan, Yapathach, Dawad, Shamawaal, and the prophets;³³ who, through faith, subdued kingdoms, worked out righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions,³⁴ quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weakness were made strong, grew mighty in war, and turned to flight armies of aliens.³⁵ Women received their dead by resurrection. Others were tortured, not accepting their deliverance, that they might obtain a better resurrection.³⁶ Others were tried by mocking and scourging, yes, moreover by bonds and imprisonment.³⁷ They were stoned. They were sawn apart. They were tempted. They were slain with the sword. They went around in sheepskins, in goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, ill-treated³⁸ (of whom the world was not worthy), wandering in deserts and mountains and caves, and the holes of the earth.³⁹ These all, having had testimony given to them through their faith, didn't receive the promise,⁴⁰ Alahayam having provided some better thing concerning us, so that apart from us they should not be made perfect.

12 Therefore let us also, seeing we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, lay aside every weight and the sin which so easily entangles us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,² looking to Yashawai, the author and perfecter of faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of Alahayam.³ For consider him who has endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, that you don't grow weary, fainting in your souls.⁴ You have not yet resisted to blood, striving against sin;⁵ and you have forgotten the exhortation which reasons with you as with sons, "My son, don't take lightly the chastening of the Adanay, Nor faint when you are reproved by him;⁶ For whom the Adanay loves, he chastens, And scourges every son whom he receives."⁷ It is for discipline that you endure. Alahayam deals with you as with sons, for what son is there whom his father doesn't discipline?⁸ But if you are without discipline, whereof all have been made partakers, then are you illegitimate, and not sons.⁹ Furthermore, we had the fathers of our flesh to chasten us, and we paid them respect. Shall we not much rather be in subjection to the Father of spirits, and live?¹⁰ For they indeed, for a few days, punished us as seemed good to them; but he for our profit, that we may be partakers of his holiness.¹¹ All chastening seems for the present to be not joyous but grievous; yet afterward it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been exercised thereby.¹² Therefore, lift up the hands that hang down and the feeble knees,¹³ and make straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame may not be dislocated, but rather be healed.¹⁴ Follow after peace with all men, and the sanctification without which no man will see the Adanay,¹⁵ looking carefully lest there be any man who falls short of the grace of Alahayam; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby the many be defiled;¹⁶ lest there be any sexually immoral person, or profane person, as Ishaw, who sold his birthright for one meal.¹⁷ For you know that even when he afterward desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected, for he found no place for a change of mind though he sought it diligently with tears.¹⁸ For you have not come to a mountain that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and to blackness, darkness, tempest,¹⁹ the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which those who heard it begged that not one more word should be spoken to them,²⁰ for they could not stand that which was enjoined, "If even a animal touch the mountain, it will be stoned;"²¹ and so fearful was the appearance, that Mashah said, "I am terrified and trembling."²² But you have come to Mount Tzayawan, and to the city of the living Alahayam, the heavenly Yarawashalam, and to innumerable hosts of angels,²³ to the general assembly and assembly of the firstborn who are enrolled in heaven, to Alahayam, the Judge of all, to the spirits of just men made perfect,²⁴ to Yashawai, the mediator of a new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaks better than that of Habal.²⁵ See that you don't refuse him who speaks. For if they didn't escape when they refused him who warned on the Earth, how much more will we not escape who turn away from him who warns from heaven,²⁶ whose voice shook the earth, then, but now he has promised, saying, "Yet once more will I shake not only the earth, but also the heavens."

²⁷ This phrase, "Yet once more," signifies the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that have been made, that those things which are not shaken may remain.²⁸ Therefore, receiving a kingdom that can't be shaken, let us have grace, whereby we may offer service well pleasing to Alahayam, with reverence and awe,²⁹ for our Alahayam is a consuming fire.

13 Let brotherly love continue.² Don't forget to show hospitality to strangers, for in doing so, some have entertained angels without knowing it.³ Remember those who are in bonds, as bound with them; and those who are ill-treated, since you are also in the body.⁴ Let marriage be held in honor among all, and let the bed be undefiled: but Alahayam will judge the sexually immoral and adulterers.⁵ Be free from the love of money, content with such things as you have, for he has said, "I will in no way leave you, neither will I in any way forsake you."⁶ So that with good courage we say, "The Adanay is my helper. I will not fear. What will man do to me?"⁷ Remember your leaders, men who spoke to you the word of Alahayam, and considering the results of their conduct, imitate their faith.⁸ Yashawai Mashayach is the same yesterday, today, and forever.⁹ Don't be carried away by various and strange teachings, for it is good that the heart be established by grace, not by food, through which those who were so occupied were not benefited.¹⁰ We have an altar from which those who serve the holy tent have no right to eat.¹¹ For the bodies of those animals, whose blood is brought into the holy place by the high priest as an offering for sin, are burned outside of the camp.¹² Therefore Yashawai also, that he might sanctify the people through his own blood, suffered outside of the gate.¹³ Let us therefore go forth to him outside of the camp, bearing his reproach.¹⁴ For we don't have here an enduring city, but we seek that which is to come.¹⁵ Through him, then, let us offer up a sacrifice of praise to Alahayam continually, that is, the fruit of lips which make confession to his name.¹⁶ But don't forget to be doing good and sharing, for with such sacrifices Alahayam is well pleased.¹⁷ Obey those who have the rule over you, and submit to them, for they watch on behalf of your souls, as those who will give account, that they may do this with joy, and not with groaning, for that would be unprofitable for you.¹⁸ Pray for us, for we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honorably in all things.¹⁹ I strongly urge you to do this, that I may be restored to you sooner.²⁰ Now may the Alahayam of peace, who brought again from the dead the great shepherd of the sheep with the blood of an eternal covenant, our Adanay Yashawai,²¹ make you complete in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Yashawai Mashayach, to whom be the glory forever and ever. Amen.²² But I exhort you, brothers, endure the word of exhortation, for I have written to you in few words.²³ Know that our brother Tayamawathayawas has been freed, with whom, if he comes shortly, I will see you.²⁴ Greet all of your leaders and all the saints. The Italians Greet you.²⁵ Grace be with you all. Amen.

1 Yaiqab, a servant of Alahayam and of the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, to the twelve tribes which are in the Dispersion: greetings. ² Count it all joy, my brothers, when you fall into various temptations, ³ Knowing that the testing of your faith produces patience. ⁴ Let patience have its perfect work, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing. ⁵ But if any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask of Alahayam, who gives to all liberally and without reproach; and it will be given him. ⁶ But let him ask in faith, without any doubting, for he who doubts is like a wave of the sea, driven by the wind and tossed. ⁷ For let that man not think that he will receive anything from the Adanay. ⁸ He is a double-minded man, unstable in all his ways. ⁹ But let the brother in humble circumstances glory in his high position; ¹⁰ and the rich, in that he is made humble, because like the flower in the grass, he will pass away. ¹¹ For the sun arises with the scorching wind, and withers the grass, and the flower in it falls, and the beauty of its appearance perishes. So also will the rich man fade away in his pursuits. ¹² Blessed is the man who endures temptation, for when he has been approved, he will receive the crown of life, which the Adanay promised to those who love him. ¹³ Let no man say when he is tempted, "I am tempted by Alahayam," for Alahayam can't be tempted with evil, and he himself tempts no one. ¹⁴ But each one is tempted, when he is drawn away by his own lust, and enticed. ¹⁵ Then the lust, when it has conceived, bears sin; and the sin, when it is full grown, brings forth death. ¹⁶ Don't be deceived, my beloved brothers. ¹⁷ Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom can be no variation, nor turning shadow. ¹⁸ Of his own will he brought us forth by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first fruits of his creatures. ¹⁹ So, then, my beloved brothers, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, and slow to anger; ²⁰ for the anger of man doesn't produce the righteousness of Alahayam. ²¹ Therefore, putting away all filthiness and overflowing of wickedness, receive with humility the implanted word, which is able to save your souls. ²² But be doers of the word, and not only hearers, deluding your own selves. ²³ For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man beholding his natural face in a mirror; ²⁴ for he sees himself, and goes away, and immediately forgets what kind of man he was. ²⁵ But he who looks into the perfect law, the law of freedom, and continues, not being a hearer who forgets but a doer of the work, this man will be blessed in what he does. ²⁶ If anyone among you thinks himself to be religious, while he doesn't bridle his tongue, but deceives his heart, this man's religion is worthless. ²⁷ Pure religion and undefiled before our Alahayam and Father is this: to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unstained by the world.

2 My brothers, don't hold the faith of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, [the Adanay] of glory, with respect of persons. ² For if a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, comes into your assembly, and there come in also a poor man in filthy clothing; ³ and you pay special attention to him who wears the fine clothing, and say, "Sit here in a good place;" and you tell the poor man, "Stand there," or "Sit by my footstool;" ⁴ haven't you shown partiality among yourselves, and become judges with evil thoughts? ⁵ Listen, my beloved brothers. Didn't Alahayam choose those who are poor in this world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he promised to those who love him? ⁶ But you have dishonored the poor man. Don't the rich oppress you, and personally drag you before the courts? ⁷ Don't they blaspheme the honorable name by which you are called? ⁸ However, if you fulfill the royal law, according to the Scripture, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself," you do well. ⁹ But if you show partiality, you commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. ¹⁰ For whoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, he has become guilty of all. ¹¹ For he who said, "Do not commit adultery," said also, "Do not commit murder." Now if you do not commit adultery, but murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. ¹² So speak, and so do, as men who are to be judged by a law of freedom. ¹³ For judgment is without mercy to him who has showed no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment. ¹⁴ What good is it, my brothers, if a man says he has faith, but has no works? Can that faith save him? ¹⁵ And if a brother or sister is naked and in lack of daily food, ¹⁶ and one of you tells them, "Go in peace, be warmed and filled;" and yet you didn't give them the things the body needs, what good is it? ¹⁷ Even so faith, if it has no works, is dead in itself. ¹⁸ Yes, a man will say, "You have faith, and I have works." Show me your faith without your works, and I by my works will show you my faith. ¹⁹ You believe that Alahayam is one. You do well. The demons also believe, and shudder. ²⁰ But do you want to know, vain man, that faith apart from works is dead? ²¹ Wasn't Abaraham, our father, justified by works, in that he offered up Yatzachaq his son on the altar? ²² You see that faith worked with his works, and by works faith was perfected; ²³ and the scripture was fulfilled which says, "Abaraham believed Alahayam, and it was accounted to him as righteousness;" and he was called the friend of Alahayam. ²⁴ You see then that by works, a man is justified, and not only by faith. ²⁵ In like manner wasn't Rachab the prostitute also justified by works, in that she received the messengers, and sent them out another way? ²⁶ For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

3 Let not many of you be teachers, my brothers, knowing that we will receive heavier judgment. ² For in many things we all stumble. If anyone doesn't stumble in word, the same is a perfect man, able to bridle the whole body also. ³ Indeed, we put bits into the horses' mouths so that they may obey us, and we turn about their whole body. ⁴ Behold, the ships also, though they are so big and are driven by fierce winds, are yet turned about by a very small rudder, wherever the pilot desires. ⁵ So the tongue is also a little member, and boasts great things. Behold, how much wood is kindled by how small a fire! ⁶ And the tongue is a fire. The world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, which defiles the whole body, and sets on fire the course of nature, and is set on fire by Gehenna. ⁷ For every kind of animal, bird, creeping thing, and thing in the sea, is tamed, and has been tamed by mankind. ⁸ But nobody can tame the tongue. It is a restless evil, full of deadly poison. ⁹ With it we bless our Alahayam and Father, and with it we curse men, who are made in the image of Alahayam. ¹⁰ Out of the same mouth comes forth blessing and cursing. My brothers, these things ought not to be so. ¹¹ Does a spring send forth from the same opening fresh and bitter water? ¹² Can a fig tree, my brothers, yield olives, or a vine figs? Thus no spring yields both salt water and fresh water. ¹³ Who is wise and understanding among you? Let him show his deeds done in gentleness of wisdom by his good life. ¹⁴ But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your heart, don't boast and don't lie against the truth. ¹⁵ This wisdom is not that which comes down from above, but is earthly, sensual, and demonic. ¹⁶ For where jealousy and selfish ambition are, there is confusion and every evil deed. ¹⁷ But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceful, gentle, reasonable, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy. ¹⁸ Now the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace by those who make peace.

4 Where do wars and fightings among you come from? Don't they come from your pleasures that war in your members? ² You lust, and don't have. You kill, covet, and can't obtain. You fight and make war. Yet you don't have, because you don't ask. ³ You ask, and don't receive, because you ask amiss, so that you may spend it for your pleasures. ⁴ You adulterers and adulteresses, don't you know that friendship with the world is enmity with Alahayam? Whoever therefore wants to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of Alahayam. ⁵ Or do you think that the Scripture says in vain, "The Spirit who lives in us yearns jealously"? ⁶ But he gives more grace. Therefore it says, "Alahayam resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble." ⁷ Be subject therefore to Alahayam. But resist the devil, and he will flee from you. ⁸ Draw near to Alahayam, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners; and purify your hearts, you double-minded. ⁹ Lament, mourn, and weep. Let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to gloom. ¹⁰ Humble yourselves in the sight of the Adanay, and he will exalt you. ¹¹ Don't speak against one another, brothers. He who speaks against a brother and judges his brother, speaks against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law, but a judge. ¹² Only one is the lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy. But who are you to judge another? ¹³ Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow let's go into this city, and spend a year there, and trade, and get gain." ¹⁴ Whereas you don't know what your life will be like tomorrow. For what is your life? For you are a vapor, that appears for a little time, and then vanishes away. ¹⁵ For you ought to say, "If the Adanay wills, we will both live, and do this or that." ¹⁶ But now you glory in your boasting. All such boasting is evil. ¹⁷ To him therefore who knows to do good, and doesn't do it, to him it is sin.

5 Come now, you rich, weep and howl for your miseries that are coming on you. ² Your riches are corrupted and your garments are moth-eaten. ³ Your gold and your silver are corroded, and their corrosion will be for a testimony against you, and will eat your flesh like fire. You have laid up your treasure in the last days. ⁴ Behold, the wages of the laborers who mowed your fields, which you have kept back by fraud, cries out, and the cries of those who reaped have entered into the ears of the Adanay of Hosts. ⁵ You have lived delicately on the earth, and taken your pleasure. You have nourished your hearts as in a day of slaughter. ⁶ You have condemned, you have murdered the righteous one. He doesn't resist you. ⁷ Be patient therefore, brothers, until the coming of the Adanay. Behold, the farmer waits for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until it receives the early and late rain. ⁸ You also be patient. Establish your hearts, for the coming of the Adanay is at hand. ⁹ Don't grumble, brothers, against one another, so that you won't be judged. Behold, the judge stands at the door. ¹⁰ Take, brothers, for an example of suffering and of patience, the prophets who spoke in the name of the Adanay. ¹¹ Behold, we call them blessed who endured. You have heard of the patience of Ayawab, and have seen the Adanay in the end, and how the Adanay is full of compassion and mercy. ¹² But above all things, my brothers, don't swear, neither by heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath; but let your yes be yes, and your no, no; so that you don't fall into hypocrisy. ¹³ Is any among you suffering? Let him pray. Is any cheerful? Let him sing praises. ¹⁴ Is any among you sick? Let him call for the elders of the assembly, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Adanay, ¹⁵ and the prayer of faith will heal him who is sick, and the Adanay will raise him up. If he has committed sins, it will be forgiven him. ¹⁶ Confess your offenses one to another, and pray one for another, that you may be healed. The effective, earnest prayer of a righteous man is powerfully effective. ¹⁷ Alayahaw was a man with a nature like ours, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain, and it didn't rain on the earth for three years and six months. ¹⁸ He prayed again, and the sky gave rain, and the earth brought forth its fruit. ¹⁹ Brothers, if any among you wanders from the truth, and someone turns him back, ²⁰ let him know, that he who converts a sinner from the error of his way will save a soul from death, and will cover a

1 Kayapaa, an apostle of Yashawai Mashayach, to the chosen ones who are living as aliens in the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, ² according to the foreknowledge of Alahayam the Father, in sanctification of the Spirit, to obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Yashawai Mashayach: Grace to you and peace be multiplied. ³ Blessed be the Alahayam and Father of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, who according to his great mercy became the father of us again to a living hope by the resurrection of Yashawai Mashayach from the dead, ⁴ to an incorruptible and undefiled inheritance, and that doesn't fade away, reserved in heaven for you, ⁵ who by the power of Alahayam are guarded through faith to a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. ⁶ Wherein you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, you have been put to grief in various trials, ⁷ that the proof of your faith, which is more precious than gold that perishes even though it is tested by fire, may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Yashawai Mashayach -- ⁸ whom not having known you love; on whom, though now you don't see him, yet believing, you rejoice greatly with joy unspeakable and full of glory -- ⁹ receiving the end of your faith, the salvation of your souls. ¹⁰ Concerning this salvation, the prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that would come to you, ¹¹ searching for what or what kind of time the Spirit of Mashayach, which was in them, pointed to, when he testified beforehand the sufferings of Mashayach, and the glories that should follow them. ¹² To whom it was revealed, that not to themselves, but to you, did they minister these things, which now have been announced to you through those who preached the gospel to you by the Holy Spirit sent forth from heaven; which things angels desire to look into. ¹³ Therefore, prepare your minds for action, be sober and set your hope perfectly on the grace that will be brought to you at the revelation of Yashawai Mashayach -- ¹⁴ as children of obedience, not conforming yourselves according to your former lusts as in your ignorance, ¹⁵ but just as he who called you is holy, you yourselves also be holy in all of your behavior; ¹⁶ because it is written, "You shall be holy; for I am holy." ¹⁷ If you call on him as Father, who without respect of persons judges according to each man's work, pass the time of your living as strangers here in reverent fear: ¹⁸ knowing that you were redeemed, not with corruptible things, with silver or gold, from the useless way of life handed down from your fathers, ¹⁹ but with precious blood, as of a lamb without spot, the blood of Mashayach; ²⁰ who was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but was revealed at the end of times for your sake, ²¹ who through him are believers in Alahayam, that raised him from the dead, and gave him glory; so that your faith and hope might be in Alahayam. ²² Seeing you have purified your souls in your obedience to the truth through the Spirit in sincere brotherly affection, love one another from the heart fervently: ²³ having been born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of Alahayam, which lives and remains forever. ²⁴ For, "All flesh is like grass, And all of man's glory like the flower in the grass. The grass withers, and its flower falls; ²⁵ But the Adanay's word endures forever." This is the word of good news which was preached to you.

2 Putting away therefore all wickedness, all deceit, hypocrisies, envies, and all evil speaking, ² as newborn babes, long for the pure milk of the Word, that you may grow thereby, ³ if indeed you have tasted that the Adanay is gracious: ⁴ coming to him, a living stone, rejected indeed by men, but chosen by Alahayam, precious. ⁵ You also, as living stones, are built up as a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to Alahayam

through Yashawai Mashayach. ⁶ Because it is contained in scripture, "Behold, I lay in Tzayawan a chief cornerstone, elect, precious: He who believes in him will not be put to shame." ⁷ For you therefore who believe is the honor, but for such as are disobedient, "The stone which the builders rejected, Has become the chief cornerstone," ⁸ and, "A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offense." For they stumble at the word, being disobedient, whereunto also they were appointed. ⁹ But you are an elect race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for Alahayam's own possession, that you may show forth the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light: ¹⁰ who in time past were no people, but now are the people of Alahayam, who had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy. ¹¹ Beloved, I beg you as sojourners and pilgrims, to abstain from fleshly lust, which war against the soul; ¹² having good behavior among the nations, so in that which they speak against you as Awayal-doers, they may by your good works, which they see, glorify Alahayam in the day of visitation. ¹³ Therefore subject yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Adanay's sake: whether to the king, as supreme; ¹⁴ or to governors, as sent by him for vengeance on Awayal-doers and for praise to those who do well. ¹⁵ For so is the will of Alahayam, that by well-doing you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: ¹⁶ as free, and not using your freedom for a cloak of wickedness, but as bondservants of Alahayam. ¹⁷ Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear Alahayam. Honor the king. ¹⁸ Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the wicked. ¹⁹ For it is commendable if someone endures pain, suffering unjustly, because of conscience toward Alahayam. ²⁰ For what glory is it, if, when you sin, you patiently endure beating? But if, when you do well, you patiently endure suffering, this is commendable with Alahayam. ²¹ For to this were you called, because Mashayach also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that you should follow his steps, ²² who did not sin, "neither was deceit found in his mouth." ²³ Who, when he was reviled, didn't revile back. When he suffered, didn't threaten, but committed himself to him who judges righteously; ²⁴ who his own self bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we, having died to sins, might live to righteousness; by whose stripes you were healed. ²⁵ For you were going astray like sheep; but are now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls.

3 In like manner, wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; so that, even if any don't obey the Word, they may be gained by the behavior of their wives without a word; ² seeing your pure behavior in fear. ³ Let your beauty be not just the outward adorning of braiding the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold, or of putting on fine clothing; ⁴ but in the hidden person of the heart, in the incorruptible adornment of a gentle and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of Alahayam very precious. ⁵ For this is how the holy women before, who hoped in Alahayam, also adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own husbands: ⁶ as Sarah obeyed Abaraham, calling him lord, whose children you now are, if you do well, and are not put in fear by any terror. ⁷ You husbands, in like manner, live with your wives according to knowledge, giving honor to the woman, as to the weaker vessel, as being also joint heirs of the grace of life; not cutting off your prayers. ⁸ Finally, be all like-minded, compassionate, loving as brothers, tenderhearted, courteous, ⁹ not rendering evil for evil, or reviling for reviling; but instead blessing; knowing that to this were you called, that you may inherit a blessing. ¹⁰ For, "He who would love life, And see good days, Let him keep his tongue from evil, And his lips from speaking deceit. ¹¹ Let him turn away from evil, and do good. Let him seek peace, and pursue it.¹² For the eyes of the Adanay are on the righteous, And his ears open to their prayer; But the face of the Adanay is against those who do evil."¹³ Now who is he who will harm you, if you become imitators of that which is good?¹⁴ But even if you should suffer for righteousness' sake, you are blessed. "Don't fear what they fear, neither be troubled."¹⁵ But sanctify the Adanay Alahayam in your hearts: and always be ready to give an answer to everyone who asks you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, with humility and fear:¹⁶ having a good conscience; that, while you are spoken against as evildoers, they may be put to shame who revile your good manner of life in Mashayach.¹⁷ For it is better, if the will of Alahayam should so will, that you suffer for doing well than for doing evil.¹⁸ Because Mashayach also suffered for sins once, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring you to Alahayam; being put to death in the flesh, but made alive in the spirit;¹⁹ in which he also went and preached to the spirits in prison,²⁰ who before were disobedient, when the longsuffering of Alahayam waited patiently in the days of Nach, while the ark was being built. In it, few, that is, eight souls, were saved through water.²¹ This is a symbol of baptism, which now saves you - not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward Alahayam, through the resurrection of Yashawai Mashayach,²² who is at the right hand of Alahayam, having gone into heaven, angels and authorities and powers being made subject to him.

4 Forasmuch then as Mashayach suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves also with the same mind; for he who has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin;² that you no longer should live the rest of your time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of Alahayam.³ For we have spent enough of our past time living in doing the desire of the Gentiles, and to have walked in lasciviousness, lusts, drunken binges, orgies, carousings, and abominable idolatries.⁴ They think it is strange that you don't run with them into the same excess of riot, blaspheming;⁵ who will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead.⁶ For to this end was the gospel preached even to the dead, that they might be judged indeed as men in the flesh, but live as to Alahayam in the spirit.⁷ But the end of all things is near. Therefore be of sound mind, self-controlled, and sober in prayer.⁸ And above all things be earnest in your love among yourselves, for love covers a multitude of sins.⁹ Be hospitable one to another without grumbling.¹⁰ According as each has received a gift, be ministering it among yourselves, as good stewards of the grace of Alahayam in its various forms.¹¹ If any man speaks, let it be as it were oracles of Alahayam. If any man serves, let it be as of the strength which Alahayam supplies, that in all things Alahayam may be glorified through Yashawai Mashayach, whose is the glory and the dominion forever and ever. Amen.¹² Beloved, don't be astonished at the fiery trial which has come upon you, to test you, as though a strange thing happened to you.¹³ But because you are partakers of Mashayach's sufferings, rejoice; that at the revelation of his glory also you may rejoice with exceeding joy.¹⁴ If you are insulted for the name of Mashayach, blessed are you; because the Spirit of glory and of Alahayam rests on you. On their part he is blasphemed, but on your part he is glorified.¹⁵ For let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil doer, or as a meddler in other men's matters.¹⁶ But if one of you suffers for being a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify Alahayam in this matter.¹⁷ For the time [has come] for judgment to begin at the house of Alahayam. If it begins first at us, what will happen to those who don't obey the gospel of Alahayam?¹⁸ "If it is hard for the righteous to be saved, what will happen to the ungodly and the sinner?"¹⁹ Therefore let them also who suffer according to the will of Alahayam in doing good entrust their souls to him, as to a faithful Creator.

5 I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Mashayach, and who will also share in the glory that will be revealed.² Tend the flock of Alahayam which is among you, exercising the oversight, not under compulsion, but voluntarily, not for dishonest gain, but willingly;³ neither as lording it over the charge allotted to you, but making yourselves examples to the flock.⁴ When the chief Shepherd will be revealed, you will receive the crown of glory that doesn't fade away.⁵ Likewise, you younger ones, be subject to the elder. Yes, all of you gird yourselves with humility, to subject yourselves to one another; for "Alahayam resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble."⁶ Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of Alahayam, that he may exalt you in due time;⁷ casting all your worries on him, because he cares for you.⁸ Be sober and self-controlled. Be watchful. Your adversary the devil, walks about like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour.⁹ Withstand him steadfast in your faith, knowing that your brothers who are in the world are undergoing the same sufferings.¹⁰ But may the Alahayam of all grace (who called you to his eternal glory by Mashayach Yashawai), after you have suffered a while, perfect, establish, strengthen, and settle you.¹¹ To him be the glory and the power forever and ever. Amen.¹² Through Silvanus, our faithful brother, as I consider him, I have written to you briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of Alahayam in which you stand.¹³ She who is in Babal, elect together with you, greets you; and so does Mark, my son.¹⁴ Greet one another with a kiss of love. Peace be to you all who are in Mashayach Yashawai. Amen.

1 Shamaian Kayapaa, a servant and apostle of Yashawai Mashayach, to those who have obtained a like precious faith with us in the righteousness of our Alahayam and Savior, Yashawai Mashayach: ² Grace to you and peace be multiplied in the knowledge of Alahayam and of Yashawai our Adanay, ³ seeing that his divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and virtue; ⁴ whereby he has granted to us his precious and exceedingly great promises; that through these you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in that world by lust. ⁵ Yes, and for this very cause adding on your part all diligence, in your faith supply moral excellence; and in moral excellence, knowledge; ⁶ and in knowledge, self-control; and in self-control patience; and in patience godliness; ⁷ and in godliness brotherly affection; and in brotherly affection, love. ⁸ For if these things are yours and abound, they make you to be not idle nor unfruitful to the knowledge of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach. ⁹ For he who lacks these things is blind, seeing only what is near, having forgotten the cleansing from his old sins. ¹⁰ Therefore, brothers, be more diligent to make your calling and election sure. For if you do these things, you will never stumble. ¹¹ For thus will be richly supplied to you the entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Adanay and Savior, Yashawai Mashayach. ¹² Therefore I will not be negligent to remind you of these things, though you know them, and are established in the present truth. ¹³ I think it right, as long as I am in this tent, to stir you up by reminding you; ¹⁴ knowing that the putting off of my tent comes swiftly, even as our Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, made clear to me. ¹⁵ Yes, I will make every effort that you may always be able to remember these things even after my departure. ¹⁶ For we did not follow cunningly devised fables, when we made known to you the power and coming of our Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. ¹⁷ For he received from Alahayam the Father honor and glory, when the voice came to him from the Majestic Glory, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." ¹⁸ This voice we heard come out of heaven, when we were with him in the holy mountain. ¹⁹ We have the more sure word of prophecy; whereunto you do well that you take heed, as to a lamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawns, and the day star arises in your hearts: ²⁰ knowing this first, that no prophecy of scripture is of private interpretation. ²¹ For no prophecy ever came by the will of man: but holy men of Alahayam spoke, being moved by the Holy Spirit.

2 But there also arose false prophets among the people, as among you also there will be false teachers, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, denying even the Master who bought them, bringing on themselves swift destruction. ² Many will follow their destructive ways, and as a result, the way of the truth will be maligned. ³ In covetousness will they exploit you with deceptive words: whose sentence now from of old doesn't linger, and their destruction will not slumber. ⁴ For if Alahayam didn't spare angels when they sinned, but cast them down to Tartarus, and committed them to pits of darkness, to be reserved to judgment; ⁵ and didn't spare the ancient world, but preserved Nach with seven others, a preacher of righteousness, when he brought a flood on the world of the ungodly; ⁶ and turning the cities of Sadam and Imarah into ashes, condemned them to destruction, having made them an example to those who would live ungodly; ⁷ and delivered righteous Lawat, very distressed by the lustful life of the wicked ⁸ (for that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, tormented his righteous soul from day to day with lawless deeds):

⁹ the Adanay knows how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment to the day of judgment; ¹⁰ but chiefly those who walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement, and despise authority. Daring, self-willed, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignitaries; ¹¹ whereas angels, though greater in might and power, don't bring a railing judgment against them before the Adanay. ¹² But these, as creatures without reason, born mere animals to be taken and destroyed, speaking evil in matters about which they are ignorant, will in their destroying surely be destroyed, ¹³ receiving the wages of unrighteousness; people who count it pleasure to revel in the day-time, spots and blemishes, reveling in their deceit while they feast with you; ¹⁴ having eyes full of adultery, and who can't cease from sin; enticing unsettled souls; having a heart trained in greed; children of cursing; ¹⁵ forsaking the right way, they went astray, having followed the way of Balaim the son of Baiwar, who loved the wages of wrong-doing; ¹⁶ but he was rebuked for his own disobedience. A mute donkey spoke with man's voice and stopped the madness of the prophet. ¹⁷ These are wells without water, clouds driven by a storm; for whom the blackness of darkness has been reserved forever. ¹⁸ For, uttering great swelling words of emptiness, they entice in the lusts of the flesh, by licentiousness, those who are indeed escaping from those who live in error; ¹⁹ promising them liberty, while they themselves are bondservants of corruption; for by whom a man is overcome, by the same is he also brought into bondage. ²⁰ For if, after they have escaped the defilement of the world through the knowledge of the Adanay and Savior, Yashawai Mashayach, they are again entangled therein and overcome, the last state has become worse with them than the first. ²¹ For it would be better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. ²² But it has happened to them according to the true proverb, "The dog turns to his own vomit again," and "the sow that had washed to wallowing in the mire."

3 This is now, beloved, the second letter that I have written to you; and in both of them I stir up your sincere mind by reminding you; ² that you should remember the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and the commandments of us, the apostles of the Adanay and Savior: ³ knowing this first, that in the last days mockers will come, walking after their own lusts, ⁴ and saying, "Where is the promise of his coming?" For, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation. ⁵ For this they willfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth formed out of water and amid water, by the word of Alahayam; ⁶ by which means the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished. ⁷ But the heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same word have been stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgment and destruction of ungodly men. ⁸ But don't forget this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Adanay as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. ⁹ The Adanay is not slow concerning his promise, as some count slowness; but is longsuffering towards us, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. ¹⁰ But the day of the Adanay will come as a thief in the night; in which the heavens will pass away with a great noise, and the elements will be dissolved with fervent heat, and the earth and the works that are in it will be burned up. ¹¹ Therefore since all these things are thus to be destroyed, what manner of persons ought you to be in holy living and godliness, ¹² looking for and earnestly desiring the coming of the day of Alahayam, by reason of which the heavens being on fire will be dissolved, and the elements will melt with fervent heat? ¹³ But, according to his promise, we look for new heavens and a new earth, in which dwells righteousness. ¹⁴ Therefore, beloved, seeing that you look for these things, be diligent to be found in peace, without blemish and blameless in his sight. ¹⁵ Regard the patience of our Adanay as salvation; even as our beloved brother Shaawal also, according to the wisdom given to him, wrote to you; ¹⁶ as also in all of his letters, speaking in them of these things. In those are some things hard to be understood, which the ignorant and unsettled twist, as they do also to the other scriptures, to their own destruction. ¹⁷ You therefore, beloved, knowing these things beforehand, beware lest, being carried away with the error of the wicked, you fall from your own steadfastness. ¹⁸ But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Adanay and Savior Yashawai Mashayach. To him be the glory both now and forever. Amen.

1 That which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we saw, and our hands touched, concerning the Word of life ² (and the life was revealed, and we have seen, and testify, and declare to you the life, the eternal life, which was with the Father, and was revealed to us); ³ that which we have seen and heard we declare to you, that you also may have fellowship with us. Yes, and our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son, Yashawai Mashayach. ⁴ And we write these things to you, that our joy may be fulfilled. ⁵ This is the message which we have heard from him and announce to you, that Alahayam is light, and in him is no darkness at all. ⁶ If we say that we have fellowship with him and walk in the darkness, we lie, and don't tell the truth. ⁷ But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Yashawai Mashayach, his Son, cleanses us from all sin. ⁸ If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. ⁹ If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us the sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. ¹⁰ If we say that we haven't sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

2 My little children, I write these things to you so that you may not sin. If anyone sins, we have a Counselor with the Father, Yashawai Mashayach, the righteous. ² And he is the atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the whole world. ³ This is how we know that we know him: if we keep his commandments. ⁴ He who says, "I know him," and doesn't keep his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him. ⁵ But whoever keeps his word, Alahayam's love has most assuredly been perfected in him. This is how we know that we are in him: ⁶ he who says he remains in him ought himself also to walk just like he walked. ⁷ Brothers, I write no new commandment to you, but an old commandment which you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which you heard from the beginning. ⁸ Again, I write a new commandment to you, which thing is true in him and in you; because the darkness is passing away, and the true light already shines. ⁹ He who says he is in the light and hates his brother, is in the darkness even until now. ¹⁰ He who loves his brother remains in the light, and there is no occasion for stumbling in him. ¹¹ But he who hates his brother is in the darkness, and walks in the darkness, and doesn't know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes. ¹² I write to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake. ¹³ I write to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, because you have overcome the evil one. I write to you, little children, because you know the Father. ¹⁴ I have written to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning. I have written to you, young men, because you are strong, and the word of Alahayam remains in you, and you have overcome the evil one. ¹⁵ Don't love the world, neither the things that are in the world. If anyone loves the world, the Father's love isn't in him. ¹⁶ For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, isn't the Father's, but is the world's. ¹⁷ The world is passing away with its lusts, but he who does Alahayam's will remains forever. ¹⁸ Little children, these are the end times, and as you heard that the Antichrist is coming, even now many antichrists have arisen. By this we know that it is the end times. ¹⁹ They went out from us, but they didn't belong to us; for if they had belonged to us, they would have continued with us. But they left, that they might be revealed that none of them belong to us. ²⁰ You have an anointing from the Holy One, and you know the truth. ²¹ I have not written to you because you don't know the truth, but because you know it, and because no lie is of the truth. ²² Who is the liar but he who denies that Yashawai is the Mashayach? This is the Antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. ²³ Whoever denies the Son, the same doesn't have the Father. He who confesses the Son has the Father also. ²⁴ Therefore, as for you, let that remain in you which you heard from the beginning. If that which you heard from the beginning remains in you, you also will remain in the Son, and in the Father. ²⁵ This is the promise which he promised us, the eternal life. ²⁶ These things I have written to you concerning those who would lead you astray. ²⁷ As for you, the anointing which you received from him remains in you, and you don't need for anyone to teach you. But as his anointing teaches you concerning all things, and is true, and is no lie, and even as it taught you, you will remain in him. ²⁸ Now, little children, remain in him, that when he appears, we may have boldness, and not be ashamed before him at his coming. ²⁹ If you know that he is righteous, you know that everyone who practices righteousness is born of him.

3 Behold, how great a love the Father has bestowed on us, that we should be called children of Alahayam! For this cause the world doesn't know us, because it didn't know him. ² Beloved, now we are children of Alahayam, and it is not yet revealed what we will be. But we know that, when he is revealed, we will be like him; for we will see him just as he is. ³ Everyone who has this hope set on him purifies himself, even as he is pure. ⁴ Everyone who sins also commits lawlessness. Sayan is lawlessness. ⁵ You know that he was revealed to take away our sins, and in him is no sin. ⁶ Whoever remains in him doesn't sin. Whoever sins hasn't seen him, neither knows him. ⁷ Little children, let no one lead you astray. He who does righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. ⁸ He who sins is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. To this end the Son of Alahayam was revealed, that he might destroy the works of the devil. ⁹ Whoever is born of Alahayam doesn't commit sin, because his seed remains in him; and he can't sin, because he is born of Alahayam. ¹⁰ In this the children of Alahayam are revealed, and the children of the devil. Whoever doesn't do righteousness is not of Alahayam, neither is he who doesn't love his brother. ¹¹ For this is the message which you heard from the beginning, that we should love one another; ¹² unlike Qayan, who was of the evil one, and killed his brother. Why did he kill him? Because his works were evil, and his brother's righteous. ¹³ Don't be surprised, my brothers, if the world hates you. ¹⁴ We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. He who doesn't love his brother remains in death. ¹⁵ Whoever hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life remaining in him. ¹⁶ By this we know love, because he laid down his life for us. We ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. ¹⁷ But whoever has the world's goods, and sees his brother in need, and shuts up his compassion from him, how does the love of Alahayam remain in him? ¹⁸ My little children, let's not love in word only, neither with the tongue only, but in deed and truth. ¹⁹ And by this we know that we are of the truth, and persuade our hearts before him, ²⁰ because if our heart condemns us, Alahayam is greater than our heart, and knows all things. ²¹ Beloved, if our hearts don't condemn us, we have boldness toward Alahayam; ²² and whatever we ask, we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do the things that are pleasing in his sight. ²³ This is his commandment, that we should believe in the name of his Son, Yashawai Mashayach, and love one another, even as he commanded. ²⁴ He who keeps his commandments remains in him, and he in him. By this we know that he remains in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

4 Beloved, don't believe every spirit, but test the spirits, whether they are of Alahayam, because many false prophets have gone out into the world. ² By this you know the Spirit of Alahayam: every spirit who confesses that Yashawai Mashayach has come in the flesh is of Alahayam, ³ and every spirit who doesn't confess that Yashawai Mashayach has come in the flesh is not of Alahayam, and this is the spirit of the antichrist, of whom you have heard that it comes. Now it is in the world already. ⁴ You are of Alahayam, little children, and have overcome them; because greater is he who is in you than he who is in the world. ⁵ They are of the world. Therefore they speak of the world, and the world hears them. ⁶ We are of Alahayam. He who knows Alahayam listens to us. He who is not of Alahayam doesn't listen to us. By this we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error. ⁷ Beloved, let us love one another, for love is of Alahayam; and everyone who loves is born of Alahayam, and knows Alahayam. ⁸ He who doesn't love doesn't know Alahayam, for Alahayam is love. ⁹ By this was Alahayam's love revealed in us, that Alahayam has sent his only born Son into the world that we might live through him. ¹⁰ In this is love, not that we loved Alahayam, but that he loved us, and sent his Son as the atoning sacrifice for our sins. ¹¹ Beloved, if Alahayam loved us so, we also ought to love one another. ¹² No one has seen Alahayam at any time. If we love one another, Alahayam remains in us, and his love has been perfected in us. ¹³ By this we know that we remain in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. ¹⁴ We have seen and testify that the Father has sent the Son as the Savior of the world. ¹⁵ Whoever will confess that Yashawai is the Son of Alahayam, Alahayam remains in him, and he in Alahayam. ¹⁶ We know and have believed the love which Alahayam has in us. Alahayam is love, and he who remains in love remains in Alahayam, and Alahayam remains in him. ¹⁷ In this love has been made perfect with us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment, because as he is, even so are we in this world. ¹⁸ There is no fear in love; but perfect love casts out fear, because fear has punishment. He who fears is not made perfect in love. ¹⁹ We love Him, because he first loved us. ²⁰ If a man says, "I love Alahayam," and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who doesn't love his brother whom he has seen, how can he love Alahayam whom he has not seen? ²¹ This commandment have we from him, that he who loves Alahayam should also love his brother.

5 Whoever believes that Yashawai is the Mashayach is born of Alahayam. Whoever loves the father also loves the child who is born of him. ² By this we know that we love the children of Alahayam, when we love Alahayam and keep his commandments. ³ For this is the love of Alahayam, that we keep his commandments. His commandments are not grievous. ⁴ For whatever is born of Alahayam overcomes the world. This is the victory that has overcome the world: your faith. ⁵ Who is he who overcomes the world, but he who believes that Yashawai is the Son of Alahayam? ⁶ This is he who came by water and blood, Yashawai Mashayach; not with the water only, but with the water and the blood. ⁷ It is the Spirit who bears witness, because the Spirit is the truth. ⁸ For there are three who bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood; and the three agree as one. ⁹ If we receive the witness of men, the witness of Alahayam is greater; for this is Alahayam's testimony which he has testified concerning his Son. ¹⁰ He who believes in the Son of Alahayam has the witness in him. He who doesn't believe Alahayam has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that Alahayam has given concerning his Son. ¹¹ The testimony is this, that Alahayam gave to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. ¹² He who has the Son has the life. He who doesn't have Alahayam's Son doesn't have the life. ¹³ These things I have written to you who believe in the name of the Son of Alahayam, that you may know that you have eternal life, and that you may continue to believe in the name of the Son of Alahayam. ¹⁴ This is the boldness which we have toward him, that, if we ask anything according to his will, he listens to us. ¹⁵ And if we know that he listens to us whatever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him. ¹⁶ If anyone sees his brother sinning a sin not leading to death, he shall ask, and Alahayam will give him life for those who sin not to death. There is a sin leading to death. I don't say that concerning this he should make a request. ¹⁷ All unrighteousness is sin, and there is a sin not leading to death. ¹⁸ We know that whoever is born of Alahayam doesn't sin, but he who was born of Alahayam keeps himself, and the evil one doesn't touch him. ¹⁹ We know that we are of Alahayam, and the whole world lies in the power of the evil one. ²⁰ We know that the Son of Alahayam has come, and has given us an understanding, that we know him who is true, and we are in him who is true, in his Son Yashawai Mashayach. This is the true Alahayam, and eternal life. ²¹ Little children, keep yourselves from idols.

1 The elder, to the elect lady and her children, whom I love in truth; and not I only, but also all those who know the truth; ² for the truth's sake, which remains in us, and it will be with us forever: ³ Grace, mercy, and peace will be with us, from Alahayam the Father, and from the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, the Son of the Father, in truth and love. ⁴ I rejoice greatly that I have found some of your children walking in truth, even as we have been commanded by the Father. ⁵ Now I beg you, dear lady, not as though I wrote to you a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another. ⁶ This is love, that we should walk according to his commandments. This is the commandment, even as you heard from the beginning, that you should walk in it. ⁷ For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who don't confess that Yashawai Mashayach came in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the Antichrist. ⁸ Watch yourselves, that we don't lose the things which we have accomplished, but that we receive a full reward. ⁹ Whoever transgresses and doesn't remain in the teaching of Mashayach, doesn't have Alahayam. He who remains in the teaching, the same has both the Father and the Son. ¹⁰ If anyone comes to you, and doesn't bring this teaching, don't receive him into your house, and don't welcome him, ¹¹ for he who welcomes him participates in his evil works. ¹² Having many things to write to you, I don't want to do so with paper and ink, but I hope to come to you, and to speak face to face, that our joy may be made full. ¹³ The children of your chosen sister greet you. Amen.

¹ The elder to Gaius the beloved, whom I love in truth. ² Beloved, I pray that you may prosper in all things and be healthy, even as your soul prospers. ³ For I rejoiced greatly, when brothers came and testified about your truth, even as you walk in truth. ⁴ I have no greater joy than this, to hear about my children walking in truth. ⁵ Beloved, you do a faithful work in whatever you accomplish for those who are brothers and strangers. ⁶ They have testified about your love before the assembly. You will do well to send them forward on their journey in a manner worthy of Alahayam, ⁷ because for the sake of the Name they went out, taking nothing from the Gentiles. ⁸ We therefore ought to receive such, that we may be fellow workers for the truth. ⁹ I wrote to the assembly, but Diotrephes, who loves to be first among them, doesn't accept what we say. ¹⁰ Therefore, if I come, I will call attention to his deeds which he does, unjustly accusing us with wicked words. Not content with this, neither does he himself receive the brothers, and those who would, he forbids and throws out of the assembly. ¹¹ Beloved, don't imitate that which is evil, but that which is good. He who does good is of Alahayam. He who does evil hasn't seen Alahayam. ¹² Demetrius has the testimony of all, and of the truth itself; yes, we also testify, and you know that our testimony is true. ¹³ I had many things to write to you, but I am unwilling to write to you with ink and pen; ¹⁴ but I hope to see you soon, and we will speak face to face. Peace be to you. The friends greet you. Greet the friends by name.

1 Yahawadah, a servant of Yashawai Mashayach, and brother of Yaiqab, to those who are called, sanctified by Alahayam the Father, and kept for Yashawai Mashayach: ² Mercy to you and peace and love be multiplied. ³ Beloved, while I was very eager to write to you about our common salvation, I was constrained to write to you exhorting you to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered to the saints. ⁴ For there are certain men who crept in secretly, even they who were of old written of beforehand to this condemnation: ungodly men, turning the grace of our Alahayam into lasciviousness, and denying our only Master, Alahayam, and Adanay, Yashawai Mashayach. ⁵ Now I desire to remind you, though you already know this, that the Adanay, having saved a people out of the land of Matzarayam, afterward destroyed those who didn't believe. ⁶ Angels who didn't keep their first domain, but deserted their own dwelling place, he has kept in everlasting bonds under darkness for the judgment of the great day. ⁷ Even as Saddam and Imarah, and the cities around them, having, in the same way as these, given themselves over to sexual immorality and gone after strange flesh, are set forth as an example, suffering the punishment of eternal fire. ⁸ Yet in like manner these also in their dreaming defile the flesh, despise authority, and slander celestial beings. ⁹ But Mayakaal, the archangel, when contending with the devil and arguing about the body of Mashah, dared not bring against him an abusive condemnation, but said, "May the Adanay rebuke you!" ¹⁰ But these speak evil of whatever things they don't know. What they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason, in these things are they destroyed. ¹¹ Woe to them! For they went in the way of Qayan, and ran riotously in the error of Balaim for hire, and perished in Qarach's rebellion. ¹² These are hidden rocky reefs in your love feasts when they feast with you, shepherds who without fear feed themselves; clouds without water, carried along by winds; autumn leaves without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots; ¹³ wild waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, for whom the blackness of darkness has been reserved forever. ¹⁴ To these also Chanawak, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, "Behold, the Adanay came with ten thousands of his holy ones, ¹⁵ to execute judgment on all, and to convict all the ungodly of all their works of ungodliness which they have done in an ungodly way, and of all the hard things which ungodly sinners have spoken against him." ¹⁶ These are murmurers and complainers, walking after their lusts (and their mouth speaks proud things), showing respect of persons for the sake of advantage. ¹⁷ But you, beloved, remember the words which have been spoken before by the apostles of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach. ¹⁸ They said to you that "In the last time there will be mockers, walking after their own ungodly lusts." ¹⁹ These are they who cause divisions, and are sensual, not having the Spirit. ²⁰ But you, beloved, keep building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit. ²¹ Keep yourselves in the love of Alahayam, looking for the mercy of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach to eternal life. ²² On some have compassion, making a distinction, ²³ and some save, snatching them out of the fire with fear, hating even the clothing stained by the flesh. ²⁴ Now to him who is able to keep them from stumbling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory in great joy, ²⁵ to Alahayam our Savior, who alone is wise, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and forever. Amen.

Revelation

1 This is the Revelation of Yashawai Mashayach, which Alahayam gave him to show to his servants the things which must happen soon, which he sent and made known by his angel to his servant, Yawachanan, ² who testified to Alahayam's word, and of the testimony of Yashawai Mashayach, about everything that he saw. ³ Blessed is he who reads and those who hear the words of the prophecy, and keep the things that are written in it, for the time is at hand. ⁴ Yawachanan, to the seven assemblies that are in Asia: Grace to you and peace, from Alahayam, who is and who was and who is to come; and from the seven Spirits who are before his throne; ⁵ and from Yashawai Mashayach, the faithful witness, the firstborn of the dead, and the ruler of the kings of the earth. To him who loves us, and washed us from our sins by his blood; ⁶ and he made us to be a kingdom, priests to his Alahayam and Father; to him be the glory and the dominion forever and ever. Amen. ⁷ Behold, he is coming with the clouds, and every eye will see him, including those who pierced him. All the tribes of the earth will mourn over him. Even so, Amen. ⁸ "I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End," says the Adanay Alahayam, "who is and who was and who is to come, the Shaday." ⁹ I Yawachanan, your brother and partaker with you in oppression and kingdom and perseverance which are in Yashawai, was on the isle that is called Patmos because of Alahayam's Word and the testimony of Yashawai Mashayach. ¹⁰ I was in the Spirit on the Adanay's day, and I heard behind me a loud voice, as of a trumpet ¹¹ saying, "What you see, write in a book and send to the seven assemblies: to Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia, and to Laodicea." ¹² I turned to see the voice that spoke with me. Having turned, I saw seven golden lampstands. ¹³ And in the midst of the lampstands was one like a son of man, clothed with a robe reaching down to his feet, and with a golden sash around his chest. ¹⁴ His head and his hair were white as white wool, like snow. His eyes were like a flame of fire. ¹⁵ His feet were like burnished brass, as if it had been refined in a furnace. His voice was like the voice of many waters. ¹⁶ He had seven stars in his right hand. Out of his mouth proceeded a sharp two-edged sword. His face was like the sun shining at its brightest. ¹⁷ When I saw him, I fell at his feet like a dead man. He laid his right hand on me, saying, "Don't be afraid. I am the first and the last, ¹⁸ and the Living one. I was dead, and behold, I am alive forevermore. I have the keys of Death and of Hades. ¹⁹ Write therefore the things which you have seen, and the things which are, and the things which will happen hereafter; ²⁰ the mystery of the seven stars which you saw in my right hand, and the seven golden lampstands. The seven stars are the angels of the seven assemblies. The seven lampstands are seven assemblies.

2 To the angel of the assembly in Ephesus write: "He who holds the seven stars in his right hand, he who walks in the midst of the seven golden lampstands says these things: ² "I know your works, and your toil and perseverance, and that you can't tolerate evil men, and have tested those who call themselves apostles, and they are not, and found them false. ³ You have perseverance and have endured for my name's sake, and have not grown weary. ⁴ But I have this against you, that you left your first love. ⁵ Remember therefore from where you have fallen, and repent and do the first works; or else I am coming to you, and will move your lampstand out of its place, unless you repent. ⁶ But this you have, that you hate the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. ⁷ He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies. To him who overcomes I will give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the Paradise of my Alahayam. ⁸ "To the angel of the assembly in Smyrna write: "The first and the last, who was dead, and has come to life says these things: ⁹ "I know your oppression, and your poverty (but you are rich), and the blasphemy of those who say they are Jews, and they are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. ¹⁰ Don't be afraid of the things which you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested; and you will have oppression for ten days. Be faithful to death, and I will give you the crown of life. ¹¹ He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies. He who overcomes won't be hurt by the second death. ¹² "To the angel of the assembly in Pergamum write: "He who has the sharp two-edged sword says these things: ¹³ "I know your works and where you dwell, where Satan's throne is. You hold firmly to my name, and didn't deny my faith, even in the days of Antipas my witness, my faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwells. ¹⁴ But I have a few things against you, because you have there some who hold the teaching of Balaim, who taught Balaq to throw a stumbling block before the children of Yasharaal, to eat things sacrificed to idols, and to commit sexual immorality. ¹⁵ So you also have some who hold to the teaching of the Nicolaitans in the same way. ¹⁶ Repent therefore, or else I am coming to you quickly, and I will make war against them with the sword of my mouth. ¹⁷ He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies. To him who overcomes, to him will I give of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and on the stone a new name written, which no one knows but he who receives it. ¹⁸ "To the angel of the assembly in Thyatira write: "The Son of Alahayam, who has his eyes like a flame of fire, and his feet are like burnished brass, says these things: ¹⁹ I know your works, your love, faith, service, patient endurance, and that your last works are more than the first. ²⁰ But I have this against you, that you tolerate your woman, Ayazabal, who calls herself a prophetess. She teaches and seduces my servants to commit sexual immorality, and to eat things sacrificed to idols. ²¹ I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality. ²² Behold, I will throw her into a bed, and those who commit adultery with her into great oppression, unless they repent of her works. ²³ I will kill her children with Death, and all the assemblies will know that I am he who searches the minds and hearts. I will give to each one of you according to your deeds. ²⁴ But to you I say, to the rest who are in Thyatira, as many as don't have this teaching, who don't know what some call 'the deep things of Satan,' to you I say, I don't lay on you any other burden. ²⁵ Nevertheless that which you have, hold firmly until I come. ²⁶ He who overcomes, and he who keeps my works to the end, to him will I give authority over the nations. ²⁷ He will rule them with a rod of iron, shattering them like clay pots; as I also have received of my Father: ²⁸ and I will give him the morning star. ²⁹ He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.

3 "And to the angel of the assembly in Sardis write: He who has the seven Spirits of Alahayam, and the seven stars says these things: "I know your works, that you have a reputation of being alive, but you are dead. ² Wake up, and establish the things that remain, which were ready to die, for I have found no works of yours perfected before my Alahayam. ³ Remember therefore how you have received and heard. Keep it, and repent. If therefore you won't watch, I will come as a thief, and you won't know what hour I will come on you. ⁴ Nevertheless you have a few names in Sardis that did not defile their garments. They will walk with me in white, for they are worthy. ⁵ He who overcomes will be arrayed like this in white garments, and I will in no way blot his name out of the book of life, and I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. ⁶ He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.⁷ "To the angel of the assembly in Philadelphia write: "He who is holy, he who is true, he who has the key of Dawad, he who opens and no one can shut, and that shuts and no one opens, says these things:⁸ "I know your works (behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one can shut), that you have a little power, and kept my word, and didn't deny my name.⁹ Behold, I give of the synagogue of Satan, of those who say they are Jews, and they are not, but lie. Behold, I will make them to come and worship before your feet, and to know that I have loved you.¹⁰ Because you kept the word of my patience, I also will keep you from the hour of testing, that which is to come on the whole world, to test those who dwell on the earth.¹¹ I come quickly. Hold firmly that which you have, so that no one takes your crown.¹² He who overcomes, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my Alahayam, and he will go out from there no more. I will write on him the name of my Alahayam, and the name of the city of my Alahayam, the new Yarawashalam, which comes down out of heaven from my Alahayam, and my own new name.¹³ He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.¹⁴ "To the angel of the assembly in Laodicea write: "The Amen, the Faithful and True Witness, the Head of Alahayam's creation, says these things:¹⁵ "I know your works, that you are neither cold nor hot. I wish you were cold or hot.¹⁶ So, because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will vomit you out of my mouth.¹⁷ Because you say, 'I am rich, and have gotten riches, and have need of nothing;' and don't know that you are the wretched one, miserable, poor, blind, and naked;¹⁸ I counsel you to buy from me gold refined by fire, that you may become rich; and white garments, that you may clothe yourself, and that the shame of your nakedness may not be revealed; and eye salve to anoint your eyes, that you may see.¹⁹ As many as I love, I reprove and chasten. Be zealous therefore, and repent.²⁰ Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him, and will dine with him, and he with me.²¹ He who overcomes, I will give to him to sit down with me on my throne, as I also overcame, and sat down with my Father on his throne.²² He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies."

4 After these things I looked and saw a door opened in heaven, and the first voice that I heard, like a trumpet speaking with me, was one saying, "Come up here, and I will show you the things which must happen after this."² Immediately I was in the Spirit. Behold, there was a throne set in heaven, and one sitting on the throne³ that looked like a jasper stone and a sardius. There was a rainbow around the throne, like an emerald to look at.⁴ Around the throne were twenty-four thrones. On the thrones were twenty-four elders sitting, dressed in white garments, with crowns of gold on their heads.⁵ Out of the throne proceed lightnings, sounds, and thunders. There were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of Alahayam.⁶ Before the throne was something like a sea of glass, like a crystal. In the midst of the throne, and around the throne were four living creatures full of eyes before and behind.⁷ The first creature was like a lion, and the second creature like a calf, and the third creature had a face like a man, and the fourth creature was like a flying eagle.⁸ and the four living creatures, having each one of them six wings, are full of eyes around about and within. They have no rest day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy is the Adanay Alahayam, the Shaday, who was and who is and who is to come.⁹ When the living creatures give glory, honor, and thanks to him who sits on the throne, to him who lives forever and ever,¹⁰ the twenty-four elders fall down before him who sits on the throne, and worship him who lives forever and ever, and will throw their crowns before the throne, saying,¹¹ "Worthy are you, our Adanay and our Alahayam, to receive the glory, the honor, and the power, for you created all things, and because of your desire they existed, and were created."

5 I saw, in the right hand of him who sat on the throne, a book written within and on the back, sealed shut with seven seals.² I saw a mighty angel proclaiming with a loud voice, "Who is worthy to open the book, and to break its seals?"³ No one in heaven, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the book, or to look in it.

⁴ And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the book, or to look in it.⁵ One of the elders said to me, "Don't weep. Behold, the Lion who is of the tribe of Yahawadah, the Root of Dawad, has overcome to open the book and its seven seals."⁶ I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of Alahayam, sent forth into all the earth.⁷ Then he came, and he took it out of the right hand of him who sat on the throne.⁸ Now when he had taken the book, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each one having a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints.⁹ They sang a new song, saying, "You are worthy to take the book, And to open its seals: For you were killed, And bought us for Alahayam with your blood, Out of every tribe, language, people, and nation,¹⁰ And made them kings and priests to our Alahayam, And they reign on earth."¹¹ I saw, and I heard a voice of many angels around the throne, the living creatures, and the elders; and the number of them was ten thousands of ten thousands, and thousands of thousands;¹² saying with a loud voice, "Worthy is the Lamb who has been killed to receive the power, riches, wisdom, might, honor, glory, and blessing!"¹³ I heard every created thing which is in heaven, on the earth, under the earth, on the sea, and everything in them, saying, "To him who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb be the blessing, the honor, the glory, and the dominion, forever and ever. Amen."¹⁴ The four living creatures said, "Amen!" The elders fell down and worshipped.

6 I saw that the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying, as with a voice of thunder, "Come and see!"² I saw, and behold, a white horse, and he who sat on it had a bow. A crown was given to him, and he came forth conquering, and to conquer.³ When he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, "Come!"⁴ Another came forth, a red horse. To him who sat on it was given to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another. There was given to him a great sword.⁵ When he opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying, "Come and see!" I saw, and behold, a black horse. He who sat on it had a balance in his hand.⁶ I heard a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, "A choenix of wheat for a denarius, and three choenix of barley for a denarius! Don't damage the oil and the wine!"⁷ When he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature saying, "Come and see!"⁸ I saw, and behold, a pale horse. He who sat on him, his name was Death. Hades followed with him. Authority over one fourth of the earth, to kill with the sword, with famine, with death, and by the wild animals of the earth was given to them.⁹ When he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of those who had been killed for the word of Alahayam, and for the testimony which they held.¹⁰ They cried with a loud voice, saying, "How long, Master, the holy and true, do you not judge and avenge our blood on those who dwell on the earth?"¹¹ There was given to each one of them a white robe. It was said to them that they should rest yet for a little time, until their fellow servants and their brothers, who would also be killed even as they were, had been fulfilled.¹² I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake. The sun became black as sackcloth made of hair, and the whole moon became as blood.¹³ The stars of the sky fell to the earth, as a fig tree drops its unripe figs when it is shaken by a great wind.¹⁴ The sky was removed as a scroll when it is rolled up. Every mountain and island were moved out of their places.¹⁵ The kings of the earth, the princes, the commanding officers, the rich, the strong, and every slave and freeman, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains.¹⁶ They told the mountains and the rocks, "Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him who sits on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb,¹⁷ for the great day of his wrath has come; and who is able to stand?"

7 After this, I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, so that no wind would blow on the earth, or on the sea, or on any tree.² I saw another angel ascend from the sunrise, having the seal of the living Alahayam. He cried with a loud voice to the four angels to whom it was given to harm the earth and the sea,³ saying, "Don't harm the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, until we have sealed the bondservants of our Alahayam on their foreheads!"⁴ I heard the number of those who were sealed, one hundred forty-four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of the children of Yasharaal:⁵ Of the tribe of Yahawadah were sealed twelve thousand, Of the tribe of Raawaban twelve thousand, Of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand,⁶ Of the tribe of Ashar twelve thousand, Of the tribe of Napathalay twelve thousand, Of the tribe of Manashah twelve thousand,⁷ Of the tribe of Shamaian twelve thousand, Of the tribe of Laway twelve thousand, Of the tribe of Yashashakar twelve thousand,⁸ Of the tribe of Zabawalan twelve thousand, Of the tribe of Yawasap twelve thousand, Of the tribe of Banayaman were sealed twelve thousand.⁹ After these things I saw, and behold, a great multitude, which no man could number, out of every nation and of all tribes, peoples, and languages, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, dressed in white robes, with palm branches in their hands.¹⁰ They cried with a loud voice, saying, "Salvation be to our Alahayam, who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb."¹¹ All the angels were standing around the throne, the elders, and the four living creatures; and they fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped Alahayam,¹² saying, "Amen! Blessing, glory, wisdom, thanksgiving, honor, power, and might, be to our Alahayam forever and ever! Amen." One of the elders answered, saying to me, "These who are arrayed in white robes, who are they, and where did they come from?"¹⁴ I told him, "My lord, you know." He said to me, "These are those who came out of the great oppression. They washed their robes, and made them white in the Lamb's blood."¹⁵ Therefore are they before the throne of Alahayam, they serve him day and night in his temple. He who sits on the throne will spread his tent over them.¹⁶ They will never be hungry, neither thirsty any more; neither will the sun beat on them, nor any heat;¹⁷ for the Lamb who is in the midst of the throne will be their shepherd, and will guide them to living springs of waters. Alahayam will wipe away every tear from their eyes."

8 When he opened the seventh seal, there followed a silence in heaven for about half an hour.² I saw the seven angels who stand before Alahayam, and seven trumpets were given to them.³ Another angel came and stood over the altar, having a golden censer. Much incense was given to him, that he should add it to the prayers of all the saints on the golden altar which was before the throne.⁴ The smoke of the incense, with the prayers of the saints, went up before Alahayam out of the angel's hand.⁵ The angel took the censer, and he filled it with the fire of the altar, and threw it on the earth. There followed thunders, sounds, lightnings, and an earthquake.⁶ The seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.⁷ The first sounded, and there followed hail and fire, mingled with blood, and they were thrown on the earth. One third of the earth was burnt up, and one third of the trees were burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.⁸ The second angel sounded, and something like a great mountain burning with fire was thrown into the sea. One third of the sea became blood,⁹ and one third of the creatures which were in the sea died, those who had life. One third of the ships were destroyed.¹⁰ The third angel sounded, and a great star fell from the sky, burning like a torch, and it fell on one third of the rivers, and on the springs of the waters.¹¹ The name of the star is called "Wormwood." One third of the waters became wormwood. Many men died from the waters, because they were made bitter.¹² The fourth angel sounded, and one third of the sun was struck, and one third of the moon, and one third of the stars; so that one third of them would be darkened, and the day wouldn't shine for one third of it, and the night in the same way.¹³ I saw, and I heard an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a loud voice, "Woe! Woe! Woe for those who dwell on the earth, because of the other voices of the trumpets of the three angels, who are yet to sound."

9 The fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star from the sky fallen to the earth. The key to the pit of the abyss was given to him.² He opened the pit of the abyss, and smoke went up out of the pit, like the smoke from a great furnace. The sun and the air were darkened because of the smoke from the pit.³ Then out of the smoke came forth locusts on the earth, and power was given to them, as the scorpions of the earth have power.⁴ They were told that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only those men who don't have Alahayam's seal on their foreheads.⁵ They were given power not to kill them, but to torment them for five months. Their torment was like the torment of a scorpion, when it strikes a man.⁶ In those days men will seek death, and will in no way find it. They will desire to die, and death will flee from them.⁷ The shapes of the locusts were like horses prepared for war. On their heads were something like gold crowns, and their faces were like men's faces.⁸ They had hair like women's hair, and their teeth were like those of lions.⁹ They had breastplates, like breastplates of iron. The sound of their wings was like the sound of chariots, or of many horses rushing to war.¹⁰ They have tails like those of scorpions, and stings. In their tails is their power to harm men for five months.¹¹ They have over them as king the angel of the abyss. His name in Hebrew is "Abaddon," but in Greek, he has the name "Apollyon."¹² The first woe is past. Behold, there are still two woes coming after this.¹³ The sixth angel sounded. I heard a voice from the horns of the golden altar which is before Alahayam,¹⁴ saying to the sixth angel who had one trumpet, "Free the four angels who are bound at the great river Parath."¹⁵ The four angels were freed who had been prepared for that hour and day and month and year, so that they would kill one third of mankind.¹⁶ The number of the armies of the horsemen was two hundred million. I heard the number of them.¹⁷ Thus I saw the horses in the vision, and those who sat on them, having breastplates of fiery red, hyacinth blue, and sulfur yellow; and the heads of lions. Out of their mouths proceed fire, smoke, and sulfur.¹⁸ By these three plagues were one third of mankind killed: by the fire, the smoke, and the sulfur, which proceeded out of their mouths.¹⁹ For the power of the horses is in their mouths, and in their tails. For their tails are like serpents, and have heads, and with them they harm.²⁰ The rest of mankind, who were not killed with these plagues, didn't repent of the works of their hands, that they wouldn't worship demons, and the idols of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood; which can neither see, nor hear, nor walk.²¹ They didn't repent of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their sexual immorality, nor of their thefts.

10 I saw another mighty angel coming down out of the sky, clothed with a cloud. A rainbow was on his head. His face was like the sun, and his feet like pillars of fire.² He had in his hand a little book open. He set his right foot on the sea, and his left on the land.³ He cried with a loud voice, as a lion roars. When he cried, the seven thunders uttered their voices.⁴ When the seven thunders sounded, I was about to write; but I heard a voice from the sky saying, "Seal up the things which the seven thunders said, and don't write them."⁵ The angel who I saw standing on the sea and on the land lifted up his right hand to the sky,⁶ and swore by him who lives forever and ever, who created heaven and the things that are in it, the earth and the things that are in it, and the sea and the things that are in it, that there will no longer be delay,⁷ but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then the mystery of Alahayam is finished, as he declared to his servants, the prophets.⁸ The voice which I heard from heaven, again speaking with me, said, "Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel who stands on the sea and on the land."⁹ I went to the angel, saying, "Give me the little book." He said to me, "Take it, and eat it up. It will make your belly bitter, but in your mouth it will be as sweet as honey."¹⁰ I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up. It was as sweet as honey in my mouth. When I had eaten it, my belly was made bitter.¹¹ He told me, "You must prophesy again over many peoples, nations, languages, and kings."

11 A reed like a rod was given to me. One said, "Rise, and measure Alahayam's temple, and the altar, and those who worship in it." ² Leave out the court which is outside of the temple, and don't measure it, for it has been given to the gentiles. They will tread the holy city under foot for forty-two months. ³ I will give power to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy one thousand two hundred sixty days, clothed in sackcloth. ⁴ These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands, standing before the Adanay of the earth. ⁵ If anyone desires to harm them, fire proceeds out of their mouth and devours their enemies. If anyone desires to harm them, he must be killed in this way. ⁶ These have the power to shut up the sky, that it may not rain during the days of their prophecy. They have power over the waters, to turn them into blood, and to strike the earth with every plague, as often as they desire. ⁷ When they have finished their testimony, the beast that comes up out of the abyss will make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them. ⁸ Their dead bodies will be in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sadam and Matzarayam, where also their Adanay was crucified. ⁹ From among the peoples, tribes, languages, and nations will people look at their dead bodies for three and a half days, and will not allow their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb. ¹⁰ Those who dwell on the earth will rejoice over them, and make merry. They will send gifts to one another, because these two prophets tormented those who dwell on the earth. ¹¹ After the three and a half days, the breath of life from Alahayam entered into them, and they stood on their feet. Great fear fell on those who saw them. ¹² I heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, "Come up here!" They went up into heaven in the cloud, and their enemies saw them. ¹³ In that hour there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city fell. Seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and the rest were terrified, and gave glory to the Alahayam of heaven. ¹⁴ The second woe is past. Behold, the third woe comes quickly. ¹⁵ The seventh angel sounded, and there followed great voices in heaven, saying, "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Adanay, and of his Mashayach. He will reign forever and ever!" ¹⁶ The twenty-four elders, who sit before Alahayam on their thrones, fell on their faces and worshipped Alahayam, ¹⁷ saying: "We give you thanks, Adanay Alahayam, the Shaday, the one who is and who was; because you have taken your great power, and reigned. ¹⁸ The nations were angry, and your wrath came, as did the time for the dead to be judged, and to give your servants, the prophets, their reward, as well as the saints, and those who fear your name, the small and the great; and to destroy those who destroy the earth." ¹⁹ Alahayam's temple that is in heaven was opened, and the ark of the Adanay's covenant was seen in his temple. There followed lightnings, sounds, thunders, an earthquake, and great hail.

12 A great sign was seen in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars. ² She was with child. She cried out, laboring and in pain, giving birth. ³ Another sign was seen in heaven. Behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads seven crowns. ⁴ His tail drew one third of the stars of the sky, and threw them to the earth. The dragon stood before the woman who was about to give birth, so that when she gave birth he might devour her child. ⁵ She gave birth to a son, a male child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron. Her child was caught up to Alahayam, and to his throne. ⁶ The woman fled into the wilderness, where she has a place prepared by Alahayam, that there they may nourish her one thousand two hundred sixty days. ⁷ There was war in the sky. Mayakaal and his angels made war on the dragon. The dragon and his angels made war. ⁸ They didn't prevail, neither was a place found for him any more in heaven. ⁹ The great dragon was thrown down, the old serpent, he who is called the Devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole world. He was thrown down to the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him. ¹⁰ I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying, "Now is come the salvation, the power, and the kingdom of our Alahayam, and the authority of his Mashayach; for the accuser of our brothers has been thrown down, who accuses them before our Alahayam day and night. ¹¹ They overcame him because of the Lamb's blood, and because of the word of their testimony. They didn't love their life, even to death. ¹² Therefore rejoice, heavens, and you who dwell in them. Woe for the earth and for the sea, because the devil has gone down to you, having great wrath, knowing that he has but a short time." ¹³ When the dragon saw that he was thrown down to the earth, he persecuted the woman who gave birth to the male child. ¹⁴ Two wings of the great eagle were given to the woman, that she might fly into the wilderness to her place, where she was nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. ¹⁵ The serpent spewed water out of his mouth after the woman like a river, that he might cause her to be carried away by the stream. ¹⁶ The earth helped the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed up the river which the dragon spewed out of his mouth. ¹⁷ The dragon grew angry with the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her seed, who keep Alahayam's commandments and hold Yashawai's testimony.

13 Then I stood on the sand of the sea. I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads. On his horns were ten crowns, and on his heads, blasphemous names. ² The beast which I saw was like a leopard, and his feet were like those of a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. The dragon gave him his power, his throne, and great authority. ³ One of his heads looked like it had been wounded fatally. His fatal wound was healed, and the whole earth marveled at the beast. ⁴ They worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority to the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, "Who is like the beast? Who is able to make war with him?" ⁵ A mouth speaking great things and blasphemy was given to him. Authority to continue for forty-two months was given to him. ⁶ He opened his mouth for blasphemy against Alahayam, to blaspheme his name, and his tent, those who dwell in heaven. ⁷ It was given to him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them. Authority over every tribe, people, language, and nation was given to him. ⁸ All who dwell on the earth will worship him, everyone whose name has not been written from the foundation of the world in the book of life of the Lamb who has been killed. ⁹ If anyone has an ear, let him hear. ¹⁰ If anyone gathers into captivity, into captivity he goes. If anyone will kill with the sword, with the sword he must be killed. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints. ¹¹ I saw another beast coming up out of the earth. He had two horns like a lamb, and he spoke like a dragon. ¹² He exercises all the authority of the first beast in his presence. He makes the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose fatal wound was healed. ¹³ He performs great signs, even making fire come down out of the sky on the earth in the sight of men. ¹⁴ He deceives my own people who dwell on the earth because of the signs which it was given him to do in front of the beast; saying to those who dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast who had the sword wound and lived. ¹⁵ It was given to him to give breath to it, to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause as many as wouldn't worship the image of the beast to be killed. ¹⁶ He causes all, the small and the great, the rich and the poor, and the free and the slave, to be given a mark on their right hand, or on their forehead; ¹⁷ and that no one would be able to buy or to sell, unless he has that mark, the name of the beast or the number of his name. ¹⁸ Here is wisdom. He who has understanding, let him calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man. His number is six hundred sixty-six.

14 I saw, and behold, the Lamb standing on Mount Tzayawan, and with him one hundred forty-four thousand, having his name, and the name of his Father, written on their foreheads. ² I heard a sound from heaven, like the sound of many waters, and like the sound of a great thunder. The sound which I heard was like that of harpers playing on their harps. ³ They sing something like a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders. None could learn the song except the one hundred forty-four thousand, those who had been redeemed out of the earth. ⁴ These are those who were not defiled with women, for they are virgins.

These are those who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These were redeemed by Yashawai from among men, the first fruits to Alahayam and to the Lamb.⁵ In their mouth was found no lie. They are without fault.⁶ I saw another angel flying in mid heaven, having an eternal gospel to proclaim to those who dwell on the earth, and to every nation, tribe, language, and people.⁷ He said with a loud voice, "Fear Alahayam, and give him glory; for the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heaven, the earth, the sea, and the springs of waters!"⁸ Another, a second angel, followed, saying, "Babal the great has fallen, which has made all the nations to drink of the wine of the wrath of her sexual immorality."⁹ Another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a great voice, "If anyone worships the beast and his image, and receives a mark on his forehead, or on his hand,¹⁰ he also will drink of the wine of the wrath of Alahayam, which is prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger. He will be tormented with fire and sulfur in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb.¹¹ The smoke of their torment goes up forever and ever. They have no rest day and night, those who worship the beast and his image, and whoever receives the mark of his name."¹² Here is the patience of the saints, those who keep the commandments of Alahayam, and the faith of Yashawai."¹³ I heard the voice from heaven saying, "Write, 'Blessed are the dead who die in the Adanay from now on.'" "Yes," says the Spirit, "that they may rest from their labors; for their works follow with them."¹⁴ I looked, and behold, a white cloud; and on the cloud one sitting like a son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.¹⁵ Another angel came out from the temple, crying with a loud voice to him who sat on the cloud, "Send forth your sickle, and reap; for the hour to reap has come; for the harvest of the earth is ripe!"¹⁶ He who sat on the cloud thrust his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.¹⁷ Another angel came out from the temple which is in heaven. He also had a sharp sickle.¹⁸ Another angel came out from the altar, he who has power over fire, and he called with a great voice to him who had the sharp sickle, saying, "Send forth your sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for her grapes are fully ripe!"¹⁹ The angel thrust his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vintage of the earth, and threw it into the great winepress of the wrath of Alahayam.²⁰ The winepress was trodden outside of the city, and blood came out from the winepress, even to the bridles of the horses, as far as one thousand six hundred stadia.

15 I saw another great and marvelous sign in the sky: seven angels having the seven last plagues, for in them Alahayam's wrath is finished.² I saw something like a sea of glass mixed with fire. Those who overcame the beast, and his image, and the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, having harps of Alahayam.³ They sang the song of Mashah, the servant of Alahayam, and the song of the Lamb, saying, "Great and marvelous are your works, Adanay Alahayam, the Shaday; Righteous and true are your ways, you King of the nations."⁴ Who wouldn't fear you, Adanay, And glorify your name? For you only are holy. For all the nations will come and worship before you. For your righteous acts have been revealed.⁵ After these things I looked, and the temple of the tent of the testimony in heaven was opened.⁶ The seven angels who had the seven plagues came out from the temple, clothed with pure, bright linen, and wearing golden sashes around their breasts.⁷ One of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of Alahayam, who lives forever and ever.⁸ The temple was filled with smoke from the glory of Alahayam, and from his power. No one was able to enter into the temple, until the seven plagues of the seven angels would be finished.

16 I heard a loud voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, "Go and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of Alahayam on the earth!"² The first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth, and it became a harmful and evil sore on the men that had the mark of the beast, and that worshipped his image.³ The second angel poured out his bowl into the sea, and it became blood as of a dead man. Every living thing in the sea died.⁴ The third poured out his bowl into the rivers and springs of water, and it became blood.

⁵ I heard the angel of the waters saying, "You are righteous, who are and who were, you Holy One, because you judged this way."⁶ For they poured out the blood of the saints and the prophets, and you have given them blood to drink. They deserve this."⁷ I heard the altar saying, "Yes, Adanay Alahayam, the Shaday, true and righteous are your judgments."⁸ The fourth poured out his bowl on the sun, and it was given to him to scorch men with fire.⁹ Men were scorched with great heat, and they blasphemed the name of Alahayam who has the power over these plagues. They didn't repent and give him glory.¹⁰ The fifth poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and his kingdom was darkened. They gnawed their tongues because of the pain,¹¹ and they blasphemed the Alahayam of heaven because of their pains and their sores. They didn't repent of their works.¹² The sixth poured out his bowl on the great river, the Parath. Its water was dried up, that the way might be made ready for the kings that come from the sunrise.¹³ I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, something like frogs;¹⁴ for they are spirits of demons, performing signs; which go forth to the kings of the whole world, to gather them together for the war of the great day of Alahayam, the Shaday.¹⁵ "Behold, I come like a thief. Blessed is he who watches, and keeps his clothes, so that he doesn't walk naked, and they see his shame."¹⁶ He gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew, "Har-magedon."¹⁷ The seventh poured out his bowl into the air. A loud voice came forth out of the temple, from the throne, saying, "It is done!"¹⁸ There were lightnings, sounds, and thunders; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since there were men on the earth, so great an earthquake, so mighty.¹⁹ The great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell. Babal the great was remembered in the sight of Alahayam, to give to her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.²⁰ Every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.²¹ Great hailstones, about the weight of a talent, came down out of the sky on men. Men blasphemed Alahayam because of the plague of the hail, for the plague of it is exceeding great.

17 One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and spoke with me, saying, "Come here. I will show you the judgment of the great prostitute who sits on many waters,² with whom the kings of the earth committed sexual immorality, and those who dwell in the earth were made drunken with the wine of her sexual immorality."³ He carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness. I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet-colored animal, full of blasphemous names, having seven heads and ten horns.⁴ The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations, even the unclean things of her sexual immorality,⁵ and on her forehead a name written, "MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE PROSTITUTES AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH."⁶ I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Yashawai. When I saw her, I wondered with great amazement.⁷ The angel said to me, "Why do you wonder? I will tell you the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carries her, which has the seven heads and the ten horns.⁸ The beast that you saw was, and is not; and is about to come up out of the abyss, and to go into destruction. Those who dwell on the earth will wonder, whose name has not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they see the beast, how that he was, and is not, and will come."⁹ Here is the mind that has wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sits.¹⁰ They are seven kings. Five have fallen, the one is, the other is not yet come. When he comes, he must continue a little while.¹¹ The beast that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goes to destruction.¹² The ten horns that you saw are ten kings, who have received no kingdom as yet, but they receive authority as kings, with the beast, for one hour.¹³ These have one mind, and they give their power and authority to the beast.¹⁴ These will war against the Lamb, and the Lamb will overcome them, for he is Adanay of lords, and King of kings. They also will overcome who are with him, called and chosen and faithful." ¹⁵ He said to me, "The waters which you saw, where the prostitute sits, are peoples, multitudes, nations, and languages. ¹⁶ The ten horns which you saw, and the beast, these will hate the prostitute, and will make her desolate and naked, and will eat her flesh, and will burn her utterly with fire. ¹⁷ For Alahayam has put in their hearts to do what he has in mind, and to come to unity of mind, and to give their kingdom to the beast, until the words of Alahayam should be accomplished. ¹⁸ The woman whom you saw is the great city, which reigns over the kings of the earth."

18 After these things, I saw another angel coming down out of the sky, having great authority. The earth was illuminated with his glory. ² He cried with a mighty voice, saying, "Fallen, fallen is Babal the great, and has become a habitation of demons, and a prison of every unclean spirit, and a prison of every unclean and hateful bird! ³ For all the nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her sexual immorality, the kings of the earth committed sexual immorality with her, and the merchants of the earth grew rich from the abundance of her luxury." ⁴ I heard another voice from heaven, saying, "Come forth, my people, out of her, that you have no participation her sins, and that you don't receive of her plagues, ⁵ for her sins have reached to the sky, and Alahayam has remembered her iniquities. ⁶ Return to her just as she returned, and double to her the double according to her works. In the cup which she mixed, mix to her double. ⁷ However much she glorified herself, and grew wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning. For she says in her heart, 'I sit a queen, and am no widow, and will in no way see mourning.' ⁸ Therefore in one day her plagues will come: death, mourning, and famine; and she will be utterly burned with fire; for the Adanay Alahayam who has judged her is strong. ⁹ The kings of the earth, who committed sexual immorality and lived wantonly with her, will weep and wail over her, when they look at the smoke of her burning, ¹⁰ standing far away for the fear of her torment, saying, 'Woe, woe, the great city, Babal, the strong city! For your judgment has come in one hour.' ¹¹ The merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no one buys their merchandise any more; ¹² merchandise of gold, silver, precious stones, pearls, fine linen, purple, silk, scarlet, all expensive wood, every vessel of ivory, every vessel made of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble; ¹³ and cinnamon, spices, incense, ointment, frankincense, wine, oil, fine flour, wheat, cattle, and sheep; and merchandise of horses and chariots and slaves; and souls of men. ¹⁴ The fruits which your soul lusted after have been lost to you, and all things that were dainty and sumptuous have perished from you, and you will find them no more at all. ¹⁵ The merchants of these things, who were made rich by her, will stand far away for the fear of her torment, weeping and mourning; ¹⁶ saying, 'Woe, woe, the great city, she who was dressed in fine linen, purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls! ¹⁷ For in an hour such great riches are made desolate.' Every shipmaster, and everyone who sails anywhere, and mariners, and as many as gain their living by sea, stood far away, ¹⁸ and cried out as they looked at the smoke of her burning, saying, 'What is like the great city?' ¹⁹ They cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and mourning, saying, 'Woe, woe, the great city, in which all who had their ships in the sea were made rich by reason of her great wealth!' For in one hour is she made desolate. ²⁰ Rejoice over her, O heaven, you saints, you apostles, and you prophets; for Alahayam has judged your judgment on her." ²¹ A mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone and cast it into the sea, saying, "Thus with violence will Babal, the great city, be thrown down, and will be found no more at all. ²² The voice of harpers and minstrels and flute players and trumpeters will be heard no more at all in you. No craftsman, of whatever craft, will be found any more at all in you. The sound of a mill will be heard no more at all in you. ²³ The light of a lamp will shine no more at all in you. The voice of the bridegroom and of the bride will be heard no more at all in you; for your merchants were the princes of the earth; for with your sorcery all the nations were deceived. ²⁴ In her was found the blood of prophets and of saints, and of all who have been slain on the earth."

19 After these things I heard something like a loud voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying, "Hallelujah! Salvation, glory, and power belong to our Alahayam: ² for true and righteous are his judgments. For he has judged the great prostitute, her who corrupted the earth with her sexual immorality, and he has avenged the blood of his servants at her hand." ³ A second time they said, "Hallelujah! Her smoke goes up forever and ever." ⁴ The twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshipped Alahayam who sits on the throne, saying, "Amen! Hallelujah!" ⁵ A voice came forth from the throne, saying, "Give praise to our Alahayam, all you his servants, you who fear him, the small and the great!" ⁶ I heard something like the voice of a great multitude, and like the voice of many waters, and like the voice of mighty thunders, saying, "Hallelujah! For the Adanay our Alahayam, the Shaday, reigns! ⁷ Let us rejoice and be exceedingly glad, and let us give the glory to him. For the marriage of the Lamb has come, and his wife has made herself ready." ⁸ It was given to her that she would array herself in bright, pure, fine linen: for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints. ⁹ He said to me, "Write, 'Blessed are those who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb.'" He said to me, "These are true words of Alahayam." ¹⁰ I fell down before his feet to worship him. He said to me, "Look! Don't do it! I am a fellow bondservant with you and with your brothers who hold the testimony of Yashawai. Worship Alahayam, for the testimony of Yashawai is the Spirit of Prophecy." ¹¹ I saw the heaven opened, and behold, a white horse, and he who sat on it is called Faithful and True. In righteousness he judges and makes war. ¹² His eyes are a flame of fire, and on his head are many crowns. He has names written and a name written which no one knows but he himself. ¹³ He is clothed in a garment sprinkled with blood. His name is called "The Word of Alahayam." ¹⁴ The armies which are in heaven followed him on white horses, clothed in white, pure, fine linen. ¹⁵ Out of his mouth proceeds a sharp, two-edged sword, that with it he should strike the nations. He will rule them with a rod of iron. He treads the winepress of the fierceness of the wrath of Alahayam, the Shaday. ¹⁶ He has on his garment and on his thigh a name written, "KING OF KINGS, AND YAHAWAH OF LORDS." ¹⁷ I saw an angel standing in the sun. He cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that fly in the sky, "Come! Be gathered together to the great supper of Alahayam, ¹⁸ that you may eat the flesh of kings, the flesh of captains, the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses and of those who sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and slave, and small and great." ¹⁹ I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him who sat on the horse, and against his army. ²⁰ The beast was taken, and with him the false prophet who worked the signs in his sight, with which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshipped his image. They two were thrown alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulfur. ²¹ The rest were killed with the sword of him who sat on the horse, the sword which came forth out of his mouth. All the birds were filled with their flesh.

20 I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, having the key of the abyss and a great chain in his hand. ² He seized the dragon, the old serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for one thousand years, ³ and cast him into the abyss, and shut it, and sealed it over him, that he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years were finished. After this, he must be freed for a short time. ⁴ I saw thrones, and they sat on them, and judgment was given to them. I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Yashawai, and for the word of Alahayam, and such as didn't worship the beast nor his image, and didn't receive the mark on their forehead and on their hand. They lived, and reigned with Mashayach one thousand years. ⁵ The rest of the dead didn't live until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection. ⁶ Blessed and holy is he who has part in the first resurrection. Over these, the second death has no power, but they will be priests of Alahayam and of Mashayach, and will reign with him one thousand years.⁷ And after the thousand years, Satan will be freed out of his prison,⁸ and will come forth to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gawag and Magawag, to gather them together to the war; the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.⁹ They went up over the breadth of the earth, and surrounded the camp of the saints, and the beloved city. Fire came down out of heaven, and devoured them.¹⁰ The devil who deceived them was thrown into the lake of fire and sulfur, where are also the beast and the false prophet. They will be tormented day and night forever and ever.¹¹ I saw a great white throne, and him who sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away. There was found no place for them.¹² I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne. Books were opened. Another book was opened, which is the book of life. The dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, according to their works.¹³ The sea gave up the dead who were in it. Death and Hades gave up the dead who were in them. They were judged, each one according to his works.¹⁴ Death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire.¹⁵ If anyone was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

21 I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth have passed away, and the sea is no more.² I saw the holy city, New Yarawashalam, coming down out of heaven from Alahayam, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband.³ I heard a loud voice out of heaven saying, "Behold, Alahayam's tent is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they will be his people, and Alahayam himself will be with them as their Alahayam."⁴ He will wipe away every tear from their eyes. Death will be no more; neither will there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more. The first things have passed away.⁵ He who sits on the throne said, "Behold, I make all things new." He said, "Write, for these words are faithful and true."⁶ He said to me, "It is done! I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. I will give freely to him who is thirsty from the spring of the water of life."⁷ He who overcomes, I will give him these things. I will be his Alahayam, and he will be my son.⁸ But for the cowardly, unbelieving, sinners, abominable, murderers, sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars, their part is in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death."⁹ One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls, who were laden with the seven last plagues came, and he spoke with me, saying, "Come here. I will show you the wife, the Lamb's bride."¹⁰ He carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me the holy city, Yarawashalam, coming down out of heaven from Alahayam,¹¹ having the glory of Alahayam. Her light was like a most precious stone, as if it was a jasper stone, clear as crystal;¹² having a great and high wall; having twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels; and names written on them, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Yasharaal.¹³ On the east were three gates; and on the north three gates; and on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.¹⁴ The wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them twelve names of the twelve Apostles of the Lamb.¹⁵ He who spoke with me had for a measure a golden reed to measure the city, its gates, and its walls.¹⁶ The city lies foursquare, and its length is as great as its breadth. He measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand stadia. Its length, breadth, and height are equal.¹⁷ He measured its wall, one hundred forty-four cubits, by the measure of a man, that is, of an angel.¹⁸ The construction of its wall was jasper. The city was pure gold, like pure glass.¹⁹ The foundations of the city's wall were adorned with all kinds of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald;²⁰ the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprasus; the eleventh, jacinth; and the twelfth, amethyst.²¹ The twelve gates were twelve pearls. Each one of the gates was made of one pearl. The street of the city was pure gold, like transparent glass.²² I saw no temple in it, for the Adanay

Alahayam, the Shaday, and the Lamb, are its temple.²³ The city has no need for the sun, neither of the moon, to shine, for the very glory of Alahayam illuminated it, and its lamp is the Lamb.²⁴ The nations will walk in its light. The kings of the earth bring their glory into it.²⁵ Its gates will in no way be shut by day (for there will be no night there),²⁶ and they will bring the glory and the honor of the nations into it.²⁷ There will in no way enter into it anything profane, or one who causes an abomination or a lie, but only those who are written in the Lamb's book of life.

22 He showed me a river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of Alahayam and of the Lamb,² in the midst of its street. On this side of the river and on that was the tree of life, bearing twelve kinds of fruits, yielding its fruit every month. The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.³ There will be no curse any more. The throne of Alahayam and of the Lamb will be in it, and his servants will serve him.⁴ They will see his face, and his name will be on their foreheads.⁵ There will be no more night, and they need no lamp light, neither sunlight; for the Adanay Alahayam will give them light. They will reign forever and ever.⁶ He said to me, "These words are faithful and true. The Adanay, the Alahayam of the spirits of the prophets, sent his angels to show to his servants the things which must happen soon."⁷ "Behold, I come quickly. Blessed is he who keeps the words of the prophecy of this book."⁸ Now I, Yawachanan, am the one who heard and saw these things. When I heard and saw, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel who showed me these things.⁹ He said to me, "See you don't do it! I am a fellow bondservant with you and with your brothers, the prophets, and with those who keep the words of this book. Worship Alahayam."¹⁰ He said to me, "Don't seal up the words of the prophecy of this book, for the time is at hand."¹¹ He who acts unjustly, let him act unjustly still. He who is filthy, let him be filthy still. He who is righteous, let him do righteousness still. He who is holy, let him be holy still."¹² "Behold, I come quickly. My reward is with me, to repay to each man according to his work."¹³ I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End.¹⁴ Blessed are those who do his commandments, that they may have the right to the tree of life, and may enter in by the gates into the city.¹⁵ Outside are the dogs, the sorcerers, the sexually immoral, the murderers, the idolaters, and everyone who loves and practices falsehood.¹⁶ I, Yashawai, have sent my angel to testify these things to you for the assemblies. I am the root and the offspring of Dawad; the Bright and Morning Star."¹⁷ The Spirit and the bride say, "Come!" He who hears, let him say, "Come!" He who is thirsty, let him come. He who desires, let him take the water of life freely.¹⁸ I testify to every man who hears the words of the prophecy of this book, if anyone adds to them, may Alahayam add to him the plagues which are written in this book.¹⁹ If anyone takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, may Alahayam take away his part from the tree of life, and out of the holy city, which are written in this book.²⁰ He who testifies these things says, "Yes, I come quickly." Amen! Come, Adanay Yashawai.²¹ The grace of the Adanay Yashawai be with all the saints. Amen.

Apocalypse of Peter

1 The Second Coming of Mashayach and Resurrection of the Dead (which Mashayach revealed to Kayapaa) who died because of their sins, for that they kept not the commandment of Alahayam their creator. ² And he (Kayapaa) pondered thereon, that he might perceive the mystery of the Son of Alahayam, the merciful and lover of mercy. ³ And when the Adanay was seated upon the Mount of Olives, his disciples came to him. ⁴ And we besought and entreated him severally and prayed him, saying to him: Declare to us what are the signs of your coming and of the end of the world, that we may perceive and mark the time of your coming and instruct them that come after us, to whom we preach the word of your gospel, and whom we set over (in) your church, that they when they hear it may take heed to themselves and mark the time of your coming. ⁵ And our Adanay answered us, saying: Take heed that no man deceive you, and that you be not doubters and serve other gods. Many shall come in my name, saying: I am the Mashayach. Believe them not, neither draw near to them. For the coming of the Son of Alahayam shall not be plain; but as the lightning that shines from the east to the west, so will I come upon the clouds of heaven with a great host in my majesty; with my cross going before my face will I come in my majesty, shining sevenfold more than the sun will I come in my majesty with all my saints, mine angels. And my Father shall set a crown upon mine head, that I may judge the quick and the dead and recompense every man according to his works.

2 And you, take you the likeness thereof (learn a parable) from the fig-tree: so soon as the shoot thereof is come forth and the twigs grown, the end of the world shall come. ² And I, Kayapaa, answered and said to him: Interpret to me concerning the fig-tree, whereby we shall perceive it; for throughout all its days does the fig-tree send forth shoots, and every year it brings forth its fruit for its master. What then means the parable of the fig-tree? We know it not. ³ And the Master answered and said to me: Understand you not that the fig-tree is the house of Yasharaal? Even as a man that planted a fig-tree in his garden, and it brought forth no fruit. And he sought the fruit thereof many years and when he found it not, he said to the keeper of his garden: Root up this fig-tree that it make not our ground to be unfruitful. And the gardener said to Alahayam: Suffer us to rid it of weeds and dig the ground round about it and water it. If then it bear not fruit, we will straightway remove its roots out of the garden and plant another in place of it. ⁴ Have you not understood that the fig-tree is the house of Yasharaal? Truly I say to you, when the twigs thereof have sprouted forth in the last days, then shall feigned Christs come and awake expectation saying: I am the Mashayach, that am now come into the world. And when they shall perceive the wickedness of their deeds they shall turn away after them and deny him [whom our fathers did praise], even the first Mashayach whom they crucified and therein sinned a great sin. But this deceiver is not the Mashayach. And when they reject him he shall slay with the sword, and there shall be many martyrs. ⁵ Then shall the twigs of the fig-tree, that is, the house of Yasharaal, shoot forth: many shall become martyrs at his hand. Chanawak and Elias shall be sent to teach them that this is the deceiver which must come into the world and do signs and wonders to deceive. And therefore shall they that die by his hand be martyrs, and shall be reckoned among the good and righteous martyrs who have pleased Alahayam in their life.

3 And he showed me in his right hand the souls of all men, And on the palm of his right hand the image of that which shall be accomplished at the last day: and how the righteous and the sinners shall be separated, and how they do that are upright in heart, and how the Awayal-doers shall be rooted out to all eternity. We beheld how the sinners wept in great affliction and sorrow, until all that saw it with their eyes wept, whether righteous or angels, and he himself also. ² And I asked him and said to him: Adanay, suffer me to speak your word concerning the sinners: It were better for them if they had not been created. And the Saviour answered and said to me: Kayapaa, therefore speak you thus, that not to have been created were better for them? You resist Alahayam. You would not have more compassion than he for his image: for he has created them and brought them forth out of not being. Now because you have seen the lamentation which shall come upon the sinners in the last days, therefore is your heart troubled; but I will show you their works, whereby they have sinned against the Ilayawan.

4 Behold now what shall come upon them in the last days, when the day of Alahayam and the day of the decision of the judgement of Alahayam comes. From the east to the west shall all the children of men be gathered together before my Father that lives for ever. And he shall command hell to open its bars of adamant and give up all that is therein. ² And the wild beasts and the fowls shall he command to restore all the flesh that they have devoured, because he wills that men should appear; for nothing perisheth before Alahayam, and nothing is impossible with him, because all things are his. ³ For all things come to pass on the day of decision, on the day of judgement, at the word of Alahayam: and as all things were done when he created the world and commanded all that is therein and it was done -even so shall it be in the last days; for all things are possible with Alahayam. And therefore says he in the scripture: Son of man, prophesy upon the several bones and say to the bones: bone to bone in joints, sinew, nerves, flesh and skin and hair thereon [and soul and spirit]. ⁴ And soul and spirit shall the great Awarayaal give them at the commandment of Alahayam; for him has Alahayam set over the rising again of the dead at the day of judgement. ⁵ Behold and consider the corns of wheat that are sown in the earth. As things dry and without soul do men sow them in the earth: and they live again and bear fruit, and the earth restores them as a pledge entrusted to it. ⁶ And this that dieth, that is sown as seed in the earth, and shall become alive and be restored to life, is man. ⁷ How much more shall Alahayam raise up on the day of decision them that believe in him and are chosen of him, for whose sake he made the world? And all things shall the earth restore on the day of decision, for it also shall be judged with them, and the heaven with it.

5 And this shall come at the day of judgement upon them that have fallen away from faith in Alahayam and that have committed sin: Floods of fire shall be let loose; and darkness and obscurity shall come up and clothe and veil the whole world and the waters shall be changed and turned into coals of fire and all that is in them shall burn, and the sea shall become fire. Under the heaven shall be a sharp fire that cannot be quenched and flows to fulfil the judgement of wrath. And the stars shall fly in pieces by flames of fire, as if they had not been created and the powers (firmaments) of the heaven shall pass away for lack of water and shall be as though they had not been. And the lightnings of heaven shall be no more, and by their enchantment they shall affright the world. The spirits also of the dead bodies shall be like to them and shall become fire at the commandment of Alahayam. ² And so soon as the whole creation dissolves, the men that are in the east shall flee to the west, to the east; they that are in the south shall flee to the north, and they that are in the north. And in all places shall the wrath of a fearful fire overtake them and an unquenchable flame driving them shall bring them to the judgement of wrath, to the stream of unquenchable fire that flows, flaming with fire, and when the waves thereof part themselves one from another, burning, there shall be a great gnashing of teeth among the children of men.

6 Then shall they all behold me coming upon an eternal cloud of brightness: and the angels of Alahayam that are with me shall sit upon the throne of my glory at the right hand of my Heavenly Father; and he shall set a crown upon mine head. And when the nations behold it, they shall weep, every nation apart.² Then shall he command them to enter into the river of fire while the works of every one of them shall stand before them (something is wanting) to every man according to his deeds. As for the elect that have done good, they shall come to me and not see death by the devouring fire. But the unrighteous the sinners, and the hypocrites shall stand in the depths of darkness that shall not pass away, and their chastisement is the fire, and angels bring forward their sins and prepare for them a place wherein they shall be punished for ever (every one according to his transgression).³ Awarayaal the angel of Alahayam shall bring forth the souls of those sinners who perished in the flood, and of all that dwelt in all idols, in every molten image, in every object of love, and in pictures, and of those that dwelt on all hills and in stones and by the wayside, whom men called gods: they shall burn them with them in everlasting fire; and after that all of them with their dwelling places are destroyed, they shall be punished eternally.

7 Then shall men and women come to the place prepared for them. By their tongues wherewith they have blasphemed the way of righteousness shall they be hanged up. There is spread under them unquenchable fire, that they escape it not.² Behold, another place: therein is a pit, great and full. In it are they that have denied righteousness: and angels of punishment chastise them and there do they kindle upon them the fire of their torment.³ And again behold two women: they hang them up by their neck and by their hair; they shall cast them into the pit. These are they which plaited their hair, not for good (or, not to make them beautiful) but to turn them to fornication, that they might ensnare the souls of men to perdition. And the men that lay with them in fornication shall be hung by their loins in that place of fire; and they shall say one to another: We knew not that we should come to everlasting punishment.⁴ And the murderers and them that have made common cause with them shall they cast into the fire, in a place full of venomous beasts, and they shall be tormented without rest, feeling their pains; and their worms shall be as many in number as a dark cloud. And the angel Ezrael shall bring forth the souls of them that have been slain, and they shall behold the torment of them that slew them, and say one to another: Righteousness and justice is the judgement of Alahayam. For we heard, but we believed not, that we should come into this place of eternal judgement.

8 And near by this flame shall be a pit, great and very deep, and into it flows from above all manner of torment, foulness, and issue. And women are swallowed up therein up to their necks and tormented with great pain. These are they that have caused their children to be born untimely, and have corrupted the work of Alahayam that created them. Over against them shall be another place where sit their children [both] alive, and they cry to Alahayam. And flashes (lightnings) go forth from those children and pierce the eyes of them that for fornication's sake have caused their destruction.² Other men and women shall stand above them, naked; and their children stand over against them in a place of delight, and sigh and cry to Alahayam because of their parents, saying: These are they that have despised and cursed and transgressed your commandments and delivered us to death: they have cursed the angel that formed us, and have hanged us up, and withheld from us the light which you have given to all creatures. And the milk of their mothers flowing from their breasts shall congeal, and from it shall come beasts devouring flesh, which shall come forth and turn and torment them for ever with their husbands, because they forsook the commandments of Alahayam and slew their children. As for their children, they shall be delivered to the angel Temlakos. And they that slew them shall be tormented eternally, for Alahayam wills it so.

9 Ezrael the angel of wrath shall bring men and women, the half of their bodies burning, and cast them into a place of darkness, even the hell of men; and a spirit of wrath shall chastise them with all manner of torment, and a worm that sleeps not shall devour their entrails; and these are the persecutors and betrayers of my righteous ones.² And beside them that are there, shall be other men and women, gnawing their tongues; and they shall torment them with red-hot iron and burn their eyes. These are they that slander and doubt of my righteousness. Other men and women whose works were done in deceitfulness shall have their lips cut off, and fire enters into their mouth and their entrails. These are the false witnesses.³ And beside them, in a place near at hand, upon the stone shall be a pillar of fire, and the pillar is sharper than swords. And there shall be men and women clad in rags and filthy garments, and they shall be cast thereon, to suffer the judgement of a torment that ceases not: these are they that trusted in their riches and despised the widows and the woman with fatherless children . . . before Alahayam.

10 And into another place hard by, full of filth, do they cast men and women up to the knees. These are they that lent money and took usury.² And other men and women cast themselves down from an high place and return again and run, and devils drive them. These are the worshippers of idols and they put them to the end of their witst drive them up to the top of the height and they cast themselves down. And thus do they continually, and are tormented for ever. These are they which have cut their flesh as [apostles] of a man; and the women that were with them . . . and these are the men that defiled themselves together as women.³ And beside them . . . and beneath them shall the angel Ezrael prepare a place of much fire: and all the idols of gold and silver, all idols, the work of men's hands, and the semblances of images of cats and lions, of creeping things and wild beasts, and the men and women that have prepared the images thereof, shall be in chains of fire and shall be chastised because of their error before the idols, and this is their judgement for ever.⁴ And beside them shall be other men and women, burning in the fire of the judgement, and their torment is everlasting. These are they that have forsaken the commandment of Alahayam and followed the (persuasions ?) of devils.

11 And there shall be another place, very high. There shall be a furnace and a brazier wherein shall burn fire. The fire that shall burn shall come from one end of the brazier. The men and women whose feet slip, shall go rolling down into a place where is fear. And again while the fire that is prepared flows, they mount up and fall down again and continue to roll down. Thus shall they be tormented for ever. These are they that honoured not their father and mother and of their own accord withheld themselves from them. Therefore shall they be chastised eternally.² Furthermore the angel Ezrael shall bring children and maidens to show them those that are tormented. They shall be chastised with pains, with hanging up and with a multitude of wounds which flesh-devouring birds shall inflict upon them. These are they that trust (boast) in their sins, and obey not their parents and follow not the instruction of their fathers, and honour not them that are more aged than they.³ Beside them shall be girls clad in darkness for a garment and they shall be sore chastised and their flesh shall be torn in pieces. These are they that kept not their virginity until they were given in marriage, and with these torments shall they be punished, and shall feel them.⁴ And again, other men and women, gnawing their tongues without ceasing, and being tormented with everlasting fire. These are the servants which were not obedient to their masters; and this then is their judgement for ever.

12 And hard by this place of torment shall be men and women dumb and blind, whose raiment is white. They shall crowd one upon another, and fall upon coals of unquenchable fire. These are they that give alms and say: We are righteous before Alahayam: whereas they have not sought after righteousness.² Ezrael the angel of Alahayam shall bring them forth out of this fire and establish a judgement of decision. This then is their judgement. A river of fire shall flow and all judgement (they that are judged) shall be drawn down into the middle of the river. And Awarayaal shall set them there.³ And there are wheels of fire and men and women hung thereon by the strength of the whirling thereof. And they that are in the pit shall burn: now these are the sorcerers and sorceresses. Those wheels shall be in all decision (judgement, punishment) by fire without number.

13 Thereafter shall the angels bring mine elect and righteous which are perfect in all uprightness, and bear them in their hands, and clothe them with the raiment of the life that is above. They shall see their desire on them that hated them, when he punishes them, and the torment of every one shall be for ever according to his works.² And all they that are in torment shall say with one voice: have mercy upon us, for now know we the judgement of Alahayam, which he declared to us aforetime, and we believed not. And the angel Tatirokos shall come and chastise them with yet greater torment, and say to them: Now do you repent, when it is no longer the time for repentance, and nought of life remains. And they shall say: Righteous is the judgement of Alahayam, for we have heard and perceived that his judgement is good; for we are recompensed according to our deeds.

14 Then will I give to mine elect and righteous the washing (baptism) and the salvation for which they have besought me, in the field of Akrosja which is called Aneslasleja (Elysium). They shall adorn with flowers the portion of the righteous, and I shall go . . . I shall rejoice with them. I will cause the peoples to enter in to mine everlasting kingdom, and show them that eternal thing (life ?) whereon I have made them to set their hope, even I and my Father which is in heaven.² I have spoken this to you, Kayapaa, and declared it to you. Go forth therefore and go to the land (or city) of the west and enter into the vineyard which I shall tell you of, in order that by the sickness (sufferings) of the Son who is without sin the deeds of corruption may be sanctified. As for you, you are chosen according to the promise which I have given you. Spread you therefore my gospel throughout all the world in peace. Truly men shall rejoice: my words shall be the source of hope and of life, and suddenly shall the world be ravished.

15 And my Adanay Yashawai Mashayach our King said to me: Let us go to the holy mountain. And his disciples went with him, praying. And behold there were two men there, and we could not look upon their faces, for a light came from them, shining more than the sun, and their raiment also was shining, and cannot be described, and nothing is sufficient to be compared to them in this world. And the sweetness of them . . . that no mouth is able to utter the beauty of their appearance, for their aspect was astonishing and wonderful. And the other, great, I say, shines in his aspect above crystal. Like the flower of roses is the appearance of the colour of his aspect and of his body . . . his head. And upon his shoulders and on their foreheads was a crown of nard woven of fair flowers. As the rainbow in the water, so was their hair. And such was the comeliness of their countenance, adorned with all manner of ornament.

16 And when we saw them on a sudden, we marvelled. And I drew near to the Adanay (Alahayam) Yashawai Mashayach and said to him: O my Adanay, who are these? And he said to me: They are Mashah and Elias. And I said to him: Abaraham and Yatzachaq and Yaiqab and the rest of the righteous fathers? And he showed us a great garden, open, full of fair trees and blessed fruits, and of the odour of perfumes. The fragrance thereof was pleasant and came even to us. And thereof . . . saw I much fruit. And my Adanay and Alahayam Yashawai Mashayach said to me: Have you seen the companies of the fathers?² As is their rest, such also is the honour and the glory of them that are persecuted for my righteousness' sake. And I rejoiced and believed and understood that which is written in the book of my Adanay Yashawai Mashayach. And I said to him: O my Adanay, will you that I make here three tabernacles, one for you, and one for Mashah, and one for Elias? And he said to me in wrath: Satan makes war against you, and has veiled your understanding; and the good things of this world prevail against you. Your eyes therefore must be opened and your ears unstopped that a tabernacle, not made with men's hands, which my heavenly Father has made for me and for the elect. And we beheld it and were full of gladness.

17 And behold, suddenly there came a voice from heaven, saying: This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased: my commandments. And then came a great and exceeding white cloud over our heads and bore away our Adanay and Mashah and Elias. And I trembled and was afraid: and we looked up and the heaven opened and we beheld men in the flesh, and they came and greeted our Adanay and Mashah and Elias and went into another heaven. And the word of the scripture was fulfilled: This is the generation that seeks him and seeks the face of the Alahayam of Yaiqab. And great fear and commotion was there in heaven and the angels pressed one upon another that the word of the scripture might be fulfilled which says: Open the gates, you princes.² Thereafter was the heaven shut, that had been open.³ And we prayed and went down from the mountain, glorifying Alahayam, which has written the names of the righteous in heaven in the book of life.

Gospel of Nicodemus

1 Annas and Caiphas, and Summas, and Datam, Gamalayaal, Yahawadah, Laway, Nepthalim, Alexander, Kawarash, and other Jews, went to Payalatawas about Yashawai, accusing him with many bad crimes.² And said, We are assured that Yashawai is the son of Yawasap, the carpenter, and born of Marayam, and that he declares himself the Son of Alahayam, and a king; and not only so, but attempts the dissolution of the Sabbath, and the laws of our fathers.³ Payalatawas replied, What is it which he declares? and what is it which he attempts dissolving?⁴ The Jews told him, We have a law which forbids doing cures on the Sabbath day; but he cures both the lame and the deaf, those afflicted with the palsy, the blind, the lepers, and demoniacs, on that day, by wicked methods.⁵ Payalatawas replied, How can he do this by wicked methods? They answered, He is a conjurer, and casts out devils by the prince of the devils; and so all things become subject to him.⁶ Then said Payalatawas, Casting out devils seems not to be the work of an unclean spirit, but to proceed from the power of Alahayam.⁷ The Jews replied to Payalatawas, We entreat your highness to summon him to appear before your tribunal, and hear him yourself.⁸ Then Payalatawas called a messenger, and said to him, By what means will Mashayach be brought here?⁹ Then went the messenger forth, and knowing Mashayach, worshipped him; and having spread the cloak which he had in his hand upon the ground, he said, Adanay, walk upon this, and go in, for the governor calls you.¹⁰ When the Jews perceived what the messenger had done, they exclaimed (against him) to Payalatawas, and said, Why did you not give him his summons by a beadle, and not by a messenger? For the messenger, when he saw him, worshipped him, and spread the cloak which he had in his hand upon the ground before him, and said to him, Adanay, the governor calls you.¹¹ Then Payalatawas called the messenger, and said, Why have you done thus?¹² The messenger replied, When you sent me from Yarawashalam to Alexander, I saw Yashawai sitting in a mean figure upon a she-ass, and the children of the Hebrews cried out, Hosannah, holding boughs of trees in their hands.¹³ Others spread their garments in the way, and said, Save us, you who art in heaven; blessed is he who comes in the name of the Adanay.¹⁴ Then the Jews cried out, against the messenger, and said, The children of the Hebrews made their acclamations in the Hebrew language; and how could you, who art a Greek, understand the Hebrew?¹⁵ The messenger answered them and said, I asked one of the Jews and said, What is this which the children do cry out in the Hebrew language?¹⁶ And he explained it to me, saying, They cry out, Hosannah, which being interpreted, is, O Adanay, save me; or, O Adanay, save.¹⁷ Payalatawas then said to them, Why do you yourselves testify to the words spoken by the children, namely, by your silence? In what has the messenger done amiss? And they were silent.¹⁸ Then the governor said to the messenger, Go forth and endeavour by any means to bring him in.¹⁹ But the messenger went forth and did as before; and said, Adanay come in, for the governor calls you.²⁰ And as Yashawai was going in by the ensigns, who carried the standards, the tops of them bowed down and worshipped Yashawai.²¹ Whereupon the Jews exclaimed more vehemently against the ensigns.²² But Payalatawas said to the Jews, I know it is not pleasing to you that the tops of the standards did of themselves bow and worship Yashawai; but why do you exclaim against the ensigns, as if they had bowed and worshipped?²³ They replied to Payalatawas, We saw the ensigns themselves bowing and worshipping Yashawai.²⁴ Then the governor called the ensigns, and said to them, Why did you do thus?²⁵ The ensigns said to Payalatawas, We are all Pagans and worship the gods in temples; and how should we think anything about worshipping him? We only held the standards in our hands, and they bowed themselves and worshipped him.²⁶ Then said Payalatawas to the rulers of the synagogue, Do you yourselves choose some strong men, and let them hold the standards, and we shall see whether they will then bend of themselves.²⁷ So the elders of the Jews sought out twelve of the most strong and able old men, and made them hold the standards, and they stood in the presence of the governor.²⁸ Then Payalatawas said to the messenger, Take Yashawai out, and by some means bring him in again. And Yashawai and the messenger went out of the hall.²⁹ And Payalatawas called the ensigns who before had borne the standards, and swore to them, that if they had not borne the standards in that manner when Yashawai before entered in, he would cut off their heads.³⁰ Then the governor commanded Yashawai to come in again.³¹ And the messenger did as he had done before, and very much entreated Yashawai that he would go upon his cloak, and walk on it; and he did walk upon it, and went in.³² And when Yashawai went in, the standards bowed themselves as before, and worshipped him.

2 Now when Payalatawas saw this, he was afraid, and was about to rise from his seat.² But while he thought to rise, his own wife who stood at a distance, sent to him, saying, Have you nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered much concerning him in a vision this night.³ When the Jews heard this they said to Payalatawas, Did we not say to you, He is a conjuror? Behold, he has caused your wife to dream.⁴ Payalatawas then calling Yashawai, said, You have heard what they testify against you, and make no answer?⁵ Yashawai replied, If they had not a power of speaking, they could not have spoke; but because every one has the command of his own tongue, to speak both good and bad, let him look to it.⁶ But the elders of the Jews answered, and said to Yashawai, What shall we look to?⁷ In the first place, we know this concerning you, that you were born through fornication; secondly, that upon the account of your birth the infants were slain in Bayathalacham; thirdly, that your father and mother Marayam fled into Matzarayam, because they could not trust their own people.⁸ Some of the Jews who stood by spoke more favourably, We cannot say that he was born through fornication; but we know that his mother Marayam was betrothed to Yawasap, and so he was not born through fornication.⁹ Then said Payalatawas to the Jews who affirmed him to be born through fornication, This your account is not true, seeing there was a betrothment, as they testify who are of your own nation.¹⁰ Annas and Caiphas spoke to Payalatawas, All this multitude of people is to be regarded, who cry out, that he was born through fornication, and is a conjurer; but they who deny him to be born through fornication, are his proselytes and disciples.¹¹ Payalatawas answered Annas and Caiphas, Who are the proselytes? They answered, They are those who are the children of Pagans, and are not become Jews, but followers of him.¹² Then replied Eleazer, and Asterius, and Antonius, and Yaiqab, Caras and Shamawaal, Yatzachaq and Phinees, Crispus and Agrippa, Annas and Yahawadah, We are not proselytes, but children of Jews, and speak the truth, and were present when Marayam was betrothed.¹³ Then Payalatawas addressing himself to the twelve men who spoke this, said to them, I conjure you by the life of Qayasar, that you faithfully declare whether he was born through fornication, and those things be true which you have related.¹⁴ They answered Payalatawas, We have a law whereby we are forbid to swear, it being a sin: Let them swear by the life of Qayasar that it is not as we have said, and we will be contented to be put to death.¹⁵ Then said Annas and Caiphas to Payalatawas, Those twelve men will not believe that we know him to be basely born, and to be a conjurer, although he pretends that he is the Son of Alahayam, and a king: which we are so far from believing, that we tremble to hear.¹⁶ Then Payalatawas commanded every one to go out except the twelve men who said he was not born through fornication, and Yashawai to withdraw to a distance, and said to them, Why have the Jews a mind to kill Yashawai?¹⁷ They answered him, They are angry because he wrought cures on the sabbath day. Payalatawas said, Will they kill him for a good work? They say to him, Yes, Sir.

3 Then Payalatawas, filled with anger, went out of the hall, and said to the Jews, I call the whole world to witness that I find no fault in that man.² The Jews replied to Payalatawas, If he had not been a wicked person, we had not brought him before you.³ Payalatawas said to them, Do you take him and try him by your law.⁴ Then the Jews said, It is not lawful for us to put any one to death.⁵ Payalatawas said to the Jews, The command, therefore, you shall not kill, belongs to you, but not to me.⁶ And he went again into the hall, and called Yashawai by himself, and said to him, Are you the king of the Jews?⁷ And Yashawai answering, said to Payalatawas, Do you speak this of yourself, or did the Jews tell it you concerning me?⁸ Payalatawas answering, said to Yashawai, Am I a Yahawaday? The whole nation and rulers of the Jews have delivered you up to me. What have you done?⁹ Yashawai answering, said, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, and I should not have been delivered to the Jews: but now my kingdom is not from hence.¹⁰ Payalatawas said, Are you a king then? Yashawai answered, You say that I am a king: to this end was I born, and for this end came I into the world; and for this purpose I came, that I should bear witness to the truth; and every one who is of the truth, hears my voice.¹¹ Payalatawas says to him, What is truth?¹² Yashawai said, Truth is from heaven.¹³ Payalatawas said, Therefore truth is not on earth.¹⁴ Yashawai says to Payalatawas, Believe that truth is on earth among those, who when they have the power of judgment, are governed by truth, and form right judgment.

4 Then Payalatawas left Yashawai in the hall, and went out to the Jews, and said, I find not any one fault in Yashawai.² The Jews say to him, But he said, I can destroy the temple of Alahayam, and in three days build it up again.³ Payalatawas says to them, What sort of temple is that of which he speaks?⁴ The Jews say to him, That which Shalamah was forty-six years in building, he said he would destroy, and in three days build up.⁵ Payalatawas said to them again, I am innocent from the blood of that man! do you look to it.⁶ The Jews say to him, His blood be upon us and our children. Then Payalatawas calling together the elders and scribes, priests and Levites, says to them privately, Do not act thus; I have found nothing in your charge (against him) concerning his curing sick persons, and breaking the sabbath, worthy of death.⁷ The priests and Levites replied to Payalatawas, By the life of Qayasar, if any one be a blasphemer, he is worthy of death; but this man has blasphemed against the Adanay.⁸ Then the governor again commanded the Jews to depart out of the hall; and calling Yashawai, said to him, What shall I do with you?⁹ Yashawai answered him, Do according as it is written.¹⁰ Payalatawas said to him, How is it written?¹¹ Yashawai says to him, Mashah and the prophets have prophesied concerning my suffering and resurrection.¹² The Jews hearing this, were provoked, and said to Payalatawas, Why will you any longer hear the blasphemy of that man?¹³ Payalatawas says to them, If these words seem to you blasphemy, do you take him, bring him to your court, and try him according to your law.¹⁴ The Jews reply to Payalatawas, Our law says, he shall be obliged to receive nine and thirty stripes, but if after this manner he shall blaspheme against the Adanay, he shall be stoned.¹⁵ Payalatawas says to them, If that speech of his was blasphemy, do you try him according to your law.¹⁶ The Jews say to Payalatawas, Our law command us not to put any one to death. We desire that he may be crucified, because he deserves the death of the cross.¹⁷ Payalatawas says to them, It is not fit he should be crucified: let him be only whipped and sent away.¹⁸ But when the governor looked upon the people that were present and the Jews, he saw many of the Jews in tears, and said to the chief priests of the Jews, All the people do not desire his death.¹⁹ The elders of the Jews answered to Payalatawas, We and all the people came here for this very purpose, that he should die.²⁰ Payalatawas says to them, Why should he die?²¹ They said to him, Because he declares himself to be the Son of Alahayam and a King.

5 But Nicodemus, a certain Yahawaday, stood before the governor, and said, I entreat you, O righteous judge, that you would favour me with the liberty of speaking a few words.² Payalatawas said to him, Speak on.³ Nicodemus said, I spoke to the elders of the Jews, and the scribes, and priests and Levites, and all the multitude of the Jews, in their assembly; What is it you would do with this man?⁴ He is a man who has wrought many useful and glorious miracles, such as no man on earth ever wrought before, nor will ever work. Let him go, and do him no harm; if he comes from Alahayam, his miracles, (his miraculous cures) will continue; but if from men, they will come to nought.⁵ Thus Mashah, when he was sent by Alahayam into Matzarayam, wrought the miracles which Alahayam commanded him, before Paraih king of Matzarayam; and though the magicians of that country, Jannes and Jambres, wrought by their magic the same miracles which Mashah did, yet they could not work all which he did;⁶ And the miracles which the magicians wrought, were not of Alahayam, as you know, O Scribes and Pharisees; but they who wrought them perished, and all who believed them.⁷ And now let this man go; because the very miracles for which you accuse him, are from Alahayam; and he is not worthy of death.⁸ The Jews then said to Nicodemus, Are you become his disciple, and making speeches in his favour?⁹ Nicodemus said to them, Is the governor become his disciple also, and does he make speeches for him? Did not Qayasar place him in that high post?¹⁰ When the Jews heard this they trembled, and gnashed their teeth at Nicodemus, and said to him, May you receive his doctrine for truth, and have your lot with Mashayach!¹¹ Nicodemus replied, Amen; I will receive his doctrine, and my lot with him, as you have said.¹² Then another certain Yahawaday rose up, and desired leave of the governor to hear him a few words.¹³ And the governor said, Speak, what you have a mind.¹⁴ And he said, I lay for thirty-eight years by the sheep-pool at Yarawashalam, labouring under a great infirmity, and waiting for a cure which should be wrought by the coming of an angel, who at a certain time troubled the water: and whosoever first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.¹⁵ And when Yashawai saw me languishing there, he said to me, Will you be made whole? And I answered, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool.¹⁶ And he said to me, Rise, take up your bed and walk. And I was immediately made whole, and took up my bed and walked.¹⁷ The Jews then said to Payalatawas, Our Adanay Governor, pray ask him what day it was on which he was cured of his infirmity.¹⁸ The infirm person replied, It was on the sabbath.¹⁹ The Jews said to Payalatawas, Did we not say that he wrought his cures on the sabbath, and cast out devils by the prince of devils?²⁰ Then another certain Yahawaday came forth, and said, I was blind, could hear sounds, but could not see any one; and as Yashawai was going along, I heard the multitude passing by, and I asked what was there.²¹ They told me that Yashawai was passing by: then I cried out, saying, Yashawai, Son of Dawad, have mercy on me. And he stood still, and commanded that I should be brought to him, and said to me, What will you?²² I said, Adanay, that I may receive my sight.²³ He said to me, Receive your sight: and presently I saw, and followed him, rejoicing and giving thanks.²⁴ Another Yahawaday also came forth, and said, I was a leper, and he cured me by his word only, saying, I will, be you clean; and presently I was cleansed from my leprosy.²⁵ And another Yahawaday came forth, and said, I was crooked, and he made me straight by his word.²⁶ And a certain woman named Veronica, said, I was afflicted with an issue of blood twelve years, and I touched the hem of his garment, and presently the issue of blood stopped.²⁷ The Jews then said, We have a law, that a woman shall not be allowed as an evidence.²⁸ And, after other things, another Yahawaday said, I saw Yashawai invited to a wedding with his disciples, and there was a want of wine in Cana of Galayal;²⁹ And when the wine was all drank, he commanded the servants that they should fill six pots which were there with water, and they filled them up to the brim, and he blessed them and turned the water into wine, and all the people drank, being surprised at this miracle.

³⁰ And another Yahawaday stood forth, and said, I saw Yashawai teaching in the synagogue at Kaparanachawam; and there was in the synagogue a certain man who had a devil; and he cried out, saying, Let me alone; what have we to do with you, Yashawai of Natzarath? Are you come to destroy us? I know that you are the Holy One of Alahayam.³¹ And Yashawai rebuked him, saying, Hold your peace, unclean spirit, and come out of the man; and presently he came out of him, and did not at all hurt him.³² The following things were also said by a Pharisee: I saw that a great company came to Yashawai from Galayal and Yahawadah, and the sea-cost, and many countries about Yaran; and many infirm persons came to him, and he healed them all.³³ And I heard the unclean spirits crying out, and saying, You are the Son of Alahayam. And Yashawai strictly charged them, that they should not make him known.³⁴ After this another person, whose name was Centurio, said, I saw Yashawai in Kaparanachawam, and I entreated him, saying, Adanay, my servant lies at home sick of the palsy.³⁵ And Yashawai said to me, I will come and cure him.³⁶ But I said, Adanay, I am not worthy that you should come under my roof; but only speak the word, and my servant shall be healed.

³⁷ And Yashawai said to me, Go your way; and as you have believed so be it done to you. And my servant was healed from that same hour.³⁸ Then a certain nobleman said, I had a son in Kaparanachawam, who lay at the point of death; and when I heard that Yashawai was come into Galayal, I went and besought him that he would come down to my house, and heal my son, for he was at the point of death.³⁹ He said to me, Go your way, your son lives.⁴⁰ And my son was cured from that hour.⁴¹ Besides these, also many others of the Jews, both men and women, cried out and said, He is truly the Son of Alahayam, who cures all diseases only by his word, and to whom the devils are altogether subject.⁴² Some of them farther said, This power can proceed from none but Alahayam.⁴³ Payalatawas said to the Jews, Why are not the devils subject to your doctors?⁴⁴ Some of them said, The power of subjecting devils cannot proceed but from Alahayam.⁴⁵ But others said to Payalatawas, That he had raised Alaizar from the dead, after he had been four days in his grave.⁴⁶ The governor hearing this, trembling, said to the multitude of the Jews, What will it profit you to shed innocent blood?

⁴⁰ And my son was cured from that hour.⁴¹ Besides these, also many others of the Jews, both men and women, cried out and said, He is truly the Son of Alahayam, who cures all diseases only by his word, and to whom the devils are altogether subject.⁴² Some of them farther said, This power can proceed from none but Alahayam.⁴³ Payalatawas said to the Jews, Why are not the devils subject to your doctors?⁴⁴ Some of them said, The power of subjecting devils cannot proceed but from Alahayam.⁴⁵ But others said to Payalatawas, That he had raised Alaizar from the dead, after he had been four days in his grave.⁴⁶ The governor hearing this, trembling, said to the multitude of the Jews, What will it profit you to shed innocent blood?

6 Then Payalatawas having called together Nicodemus, and the fifteen men who said that Yashawai was not born through fornication, said to them, What shall I do, seeing there is like to be a tumult among the people.² They say to him, We know not; let them look to it who raise the tumult.³ Payalatawas then called the multitude again, and said to them, You know that you have a custom, that I should release to you one prisoner at the feast of the passover:⁴ I have a noted prisoner, a murderer, who is called Barabbas, and Yashawai who is called Mashayach, in whom I find nothing that deserves death; which of them, therefore, have you a mind that I should release to you?⁵ They all cry out, and say, Release to us Barabbas.⁶ Payalatawas says to them, What then shall I do with Yashawai who is called Mashayach?⁷ They all answer, Let him be crucified.⁸ Again they cry out and say to Payalatawas, You are not the friend of Qayasar, if you release this man; for he has declared that he is the Son of Alahayam, and a king. But are you inclined that he should be king, and not Qayasar?⁹ Then Payalatawas filled with anger said to them, Your nation has always been seditious, and you are always against those who have been serviceable to you.¹⁰ The Jews replied, Who are those who have been serviceable to us?¹¹ Payalatawas answered them, Your Alahayam who delivered you from the hard bondage of the Matzarayam, and brought you over the Sawap as though it had been dry land, and fed you in the wilderness with manna and the flesh of quails, and brought water out of the rock, and gave you a law from heaven.¹² You provoked him all ways, and desired for yourselves a molten calf, and worshipped it, and sacrificed to it, and said, These are your Gods, O Yasharaal, which brought you out of the land of Matzarayam:¹³ On account of which your Alahayam was inclined to destroy you; but Mashah interceded for you, and your Alahayam heard him, and forgave your iniquity.¹⁴ Afterwards you were enraged against, and would have killed your prophets, Mashah and Aharan, when they fled to the tabernacle, and you were always murmuring against Alahayam and his prophets.¹⁵ And arising from his judgment seat, he would have gone out; but the Jews all cried out, We acknowledge Qayasar to be king, and not Yashawai;¹⁶ Whereas this person, as soon as he was born, the wise men came and offered gifts to him; which when Hawaradawas heard, he was exceedingly troubled, and would have killed him:¹⁷ When his father knew this, he fled with him and his mother Marayam into Matzarayam. Hawaradawas, when he heard he was born, would have slain him; and accordingly sent and slew all the children which were in Bayathalacham, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under.¹⁸ When Payalatawas heard this account, he was afraid; and commanding silence among the people, who made a noise, he said to Yashawai, Are you therefore a king?¹⁹ All the Jews replied to Payalatawas, He is the very person whom Hawaradawas sought to have slain.²⁰ Then Payalatawas taking water, washed his hands before the people and said, I am innocent of the blood of this just person; look you to it.²¹ The Jews answered and said, His blood be upon us and our children.²² Then Payalatawas commanded Yashawai to be brought before him, and spoke to him in the following words;²³ Your own nation has charged you as making yourself a king; therefore I, Payalatawas, sentence you to be whipped according to the laws of former governors; and that you be first bound, then hanged upon a cross in that place where you are now a prisoner; and also two criminals with you, whose names are Dimas and Gestas.

7 Then Yashawai went out of the hall, and the two thieves with him.² And when they came to the place which is called Golgotha, they stript him of his raiment, and girt him about with a linen cloth, and put a crown of thorns upon his head, and put a reed in his hand.³ And in like manner did they to the two thieves who were crucified with him, Dimas on his right hand and Gestas on his left.⁴ But Yashawai said, My Father, forgive them, For they know not what they do.⁵ And they divided his garments, and upon his vesture they cast lots.⁶ The people in the mean time stood by, and the chief priests and elders of the Jews mocked him, saying, He saved others, let him now save himself if he can; if he be the son of Alahayam, let him now come down from the cross.⁷ The soldiers also mocked him, and taking vinegar and gall, offered it to him to drink, and said to him, If you are king of the Jews, deliver yourself.⁸ Then Longinus, a certain soldier, taking a spear, pierced his side, and presently there came forth blood and water.⁹ And Payalatawas wrote the title upon the cross in Hebrew, Latin, and Greek letters, viz., THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.¹⁰ But one of the two thieves who were crucified with Yashawai, whose name was Gestas, said to Yashawai, If you are the Mashayach, deliver yourself and us.¹¹ But the thief who was crucified on his right hand, whose name was Dimas, answering, rebuked him, and said, Do not you fear Alahayam, who art condemned to this punishment? We indeed receive rightly and justly the demerit of our actions; but this Yashawai, what evil has he done.¹² After this, groaning, he said to Yashawai, Adanay, remember me when you come into your kingdom.¹³ Yashawai answering, said to him, Truly I say to you, that this day you shall be with me in Paradise.

8 And it was about the sixth hour, and darkness was upon the face of the whole earth until the ninth hour.² And while the sun was eclipsed, behold the veil of the temple was rent from the top, to the bottom; and the rocks also were rent, and the graves opened, and many bodies of saints, which slept, arose.³ And about the ninth hour Yashawai cried out with a loud voice, Iyalay, Iyalay, lama sabacthani? which being interpreted is, My Alahayam, My

Alahayam, why have you forsaken me? ⁴ And after these things, Yashawai said, Father, into your hands I commend my spirit; and having said this, he gave up the ghost. ⁵ But when the centurion saw that Yashawai thus crying out gave up the ghost, he glorified Alahayam, and said, Of a truth this was a just man. ⁶ And all the people who stood by, were exceedingly troubled at the sight; and reflecting upon what had passed, smote upon their breasts, and then returned to the city of Yarawashalam. ⁷ The centurion went to the governor, and related to him all that had passed: ⁸ And when he had heard all these things, he was exceedingly sorrowful; ⁹ And calling the Jews together, said to them, Have you seen the miracle of the sun's eclipse, and the other things which came to pass, while Yashawai was dying? ¹⁰ Which when the Jews heard, they answered to the governor, The eclipse of the sun happened according to its usual custom. ¹¹ But all those who were the acquaintance of Mashayach, stood at a distance, as did the women who had followed Yashawai from Galayal, observing all these things. ¹² And behold a certain man of Arimathaea, named Yawasap, who was also a disciple of Yashawai, but not openly so, for fear of the Jews, came to the governor, and entreated the governor that he would give him leave to take away the body of Yashawai from the cross. ¹³ And the governor gave him leave. ¹⁴ And Nicodemus came, bringing with him a mixture of myrrh and aloes about a hundred pounds weight; and they took down Yashawai from the cross with tears, and bound him in linen cloths with spices, according to the custom of burying among the Jews; ¹⁵ And placed him in a new tomb, which Yawasap had built, and caused to be cut out of a rock, in which never any man had been put; and they rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre.

9 When the unjust Jews heard that Yawasap had begged and buried the body of Yashawai, they sought after Nicodemus, and those fifteen men who had testified before the governor, that Yashawai was not born through fornication, and other good persons who had shown any good actions towards him. ² But when they all concealed themselves through fear of the Jews, Nicodemus alone showed himself to them, and said, How can such persons as these enter into the synagogue? ³ The Jews answered him, But how durst you enter into the synagogue, who were a confederate with Mashayach? Let your lot be along with him in the other world. ⁴ Nicodemus answered, Amen; so may it be, that I may have my lot with him in his kingdom. ⁵ In like manner Yawasap, when he came to the Jews, said to them, Why are you angry with me for desiring the body of Yashawai of Payalatawas? Behold, I have put him in my tomb, and wrapped him up in clean linen, and put a stone at the door of the sepulchre: ⁶ I have acted rightly towards him; but you have acted unjustly against that just person, in crucifying him, giving him vinegar to drink, crowning him with thorns, tearing his body with whips, and praying down the guilt of his blood upon you. ⁷ The Jews at the hearing of this were disquieted and troubled; and they seized Yawasap, and commanded him to be put in custody before the Sabbath, and kept there till the Sabbath was over. ⁸ And they said to him, Make confession; for at this time it is not lawful to do you any harm, till the first day of the week come. But we know that you will not be thought worthy of a burial; but we will give your flesh to the birds of the air, and the beasts of the earth. ⁹ Yawasap answered, That speech is like the speech of proud Galayath, who reproached the living Alahayam in speaking against Dawad. But you scribes and doctors know that Alahayam says by the prophet, Vengeance is mine, and I will repay to you evil equal to that which you have threatened to me. ¹⁰ The Alahayam whom you have hanged upon the cross, is able to deliver me out of your hands. All your wickedness will return upon you. ¹¹ For the governor, when he washed his hands, said, I am clear from the blood of this just person. But you answered and cried out, His blood be upon us and our children. According as you have said, may you perish for ever. ¹² The elders of the Jews hearing these words, were exceedingly enraged; and seizing Yawasap, they put him into a chamber where there was no window; they fastened the door, and put a seal upon the lock; ¹³ And Annas and Caiaphas placed a guard upon it, and took counsel with the priests and Levites, that they should all meet after the Sabbath, and they contrived to what death they should put Yawasap. ¹⁴ When they had done this, the rulers, Annas and Caiaphas, ordered Yawasap to be brought forth. (In this place there is a portion of the Gospel lost or omitted, which cannot be supplied. It may, nevertheless, be surmised from the occurrence related in the next chapter, that the order of Annas and Caiaphas were rendered unnecessary by Joseph's miraculous escape, and which was announced to an assembly of people.)

10 When all the assembly heard this (about Joseph's escape), they admired and were astonished, because they found the same seal upon the lock of the chamber, and could not find Yawasap. ² Then Annas and Caiaphas went forth, and while they were all admiring at Joseph's being gone, behold one of the soldiers, who kept the sepulchre of Yashawai, spoke in the assembly, ³ That while they were guarding the sepulchre of Yashawai, there was an earthquake; and we saw an angel of Alahayam roll away the stone of the sepulchre and sit upon it; ⁴ And his countenance was like lightning and his garment like snow; and we became through fear like persons dead. ⁵ And we heard an angel saying to the women at the sepulchre of Yashawai, Do not fear; I know that you seek Yashawai who was crucified; he is risen as he foretold; ⁶ Come and see the place where he was laid; and go presently, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and he will go before you into Galayal; there you shall see him as he told you. ⁷ Then the Jews called together all the soldiers who kept the sepulchre of Yashawai, and said to them, Who are those women, to whom the angel spoke? Why did you not seize them. ⁸ The soldiers answered and said, We know not who the women were; besides we became as dead persons through fear, and how could we seize those women? ⁹ The Jews said to them, As the Adanay lives, we do not believe you; ¹⁰ The soldiers answering said to the Jews, when you saw and heard Yashawai working so many miracles, and did not believe him, how should you believe us? You well said, As the Adanay lives, for the Adanay truly does live. ¹¹ We have heard that you shut up Yawasap, who buried the body of Yashawai, in a chamber, under a lock which was sealed; and when you opened it, found him not there. ¹² Do you then produce Yawasap whom you put under guard in the chamber, and we will produce Yashawai whom we guarded in the sepulchre. ¹³ The Jews answered and said, We will produce Yawasap, do you produce Yashawai. But Yawasap is in his own city of Arimathaea. ¹⁴ The soldiers replied, If Yawasap be in Arimathaea, and Yashawai in Galayal, we heard the angel inform the women. ¹⁵ The Jews hearing this, were afraid, and said among themselves, If by any means these things should become public, then everybody will believe in Yashawai. ¹⁶ Then they gathered a large sum of money, and gave it to the soldiers, saying, Do you tell the people that the disciples of Yashawai came in the night when you were asleep, and stole away the body of Yashawai; and if Payalatawas the governor should hear of this, we will satisfy him and secure you. ¹⁷ The soldiers accordingly took the money, and said as they were instructed by the Jews; and their report was spread abroad among all the people. ¹⁸ But a certain priest Phinees, Ada a schoolmaster, and a Levite, named Ageus, they three came from Galayal to Yarawashalam, and told the chief priests and all who were in the synagogues, saying, ¹⁹ We have seen Yashawai, whom you crucified, talking with his eleven disciples, and sitting in the midst of them in Mount Olivet, and saying to them, ²⁰ Go forth into the whole world, preach the Gospel to all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Ghost; and whosoever shall believe and be baptized, shall be saved. ²¹ And when he had said these things to his disciples, we saw him ascending up to heaven. ²² When the chief priests and elders, and Levites heard these things, they said to these three men, Give glory to the Alahayam of Yasharaal, and make confession to him, whether those things are true, which you say you have seen and heard. ²³ They answering said, As the Adanay of our fathers lives, the Alahayam of Abaraham, and the Alahayam of Yatzachaq, and the Alahayam of Yaiqab, according as we heard Yashawai talking with his disciples, and according as we saw him ascending up to heaven, so we have related the truth to you.²⁴ And the three men farther answered, and said, adding these words, If we should not own the words which we heard Yashawai speak, and that we saw him ascending into heaven, we should be guilty of sin.²⁵ Then the chief priests immediately rose up, and holding the book of the law in their hands, conjured these men, saying, You shall no more hereafter declare those things which you have spoken concerning Yashawai.²⁶ And they gave them a large sum of money, and sent other persons along with them, who should conduct them to their own country, that they might not by any means make any stay at Yarawashalam.²⁷ Then the Jews did assemble all together, and having expressed the most lamentable concern said, What is this extraordinary thing which is come to pass in Yarawashalam?²⁸ But Annas and Caiaphas comforted them, saying, Why should we believe the soldiers who guarded the sepulchre of Yashawai, in telling us, that an angel rolled away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?²⁹ Perhaps his own disciples told them this, and gave them money that they should say so, and they themselves took away the body of Yashawai.³⁰ Besides, consider this, that there is no credit to be given to foreigners, because they also took a large sum of us, and they have declared to us according to the instructions which we gave them. They must either be faithful to us or to the disciples of Yashawai.

11 Then Nicodemus arose, and said, You say right, O sons of Yasharaal; you have heard what those three men have sworn by the Law of Alahayam, who said, We have seen Yashawai speaking with his disciples upon mount Olivet, and we saw him ascending up to heaven.² And the scripture teaches us that the blessed prophet Alayahaw was taken up to heaven, and Alayashai being asked by the sons of the prophets, Where is our father Alayahaw? He said to them, that he is taken up to heaven.³ And the sons of the prophets said to him, Perhaps the spirit has carried him into one of the mountains of Yasharaal, there perhaps we shall find him. And they besought Alayashai, and he walked about with them three days, and they could not find him.⁴ And now hear me, O sons of Yasharaal, and let us send men into the mountains of Yasharaal, lest perhaps the spirit has carried away Yashawai, and there perhaps we shall find him, and be satisfied.⁵ And the counsel of Nicodemus pleased all the people; and they sent forth men who sought for Yashawai, but could not find him; and they returning, said, We went all about, but could not find Yashawai, but we have found Yawasap in his city of Arimathaea.⁶ The rulers hearing this, and all the people, were glad, and praised the Alahayam of Yasharaal, because Yawasap was found, whom they had shut up in a chamber, and could not find.⁷ And when they had formed a large assembly, the chief priests said, By what means shall we bring Yawasap to us to speak with him?⁸ And taking a piece of paper, they wrote to him, and said, Peace be with you, and all your family, We know that we have offended against Alahayam and you. Be pleased to give a visit to us, your fathers, for we were perfectly surprised at your escape from prison.⁹ We know that it was malicious counsel which we took against you, and that the Adanay took care of you, and the Adanay himself delivered you from our designs. Peace be to you, Yawasap, who art honourable among all the people.¹⁰ And they chose seven of Joseph's friends, and said to them, When you come to Yawasap, salute him in peace, and give him this letter.¹¹ Accordingly, when the men came to Yawasap, they did salute him in peace, and gave him the letter.¹² And when Yawasap had read it, he said, Blessed be the Adanay Alahayam, who did deliver me from the Israelites, that they could not shed my blood. Blessed be Alahayam, who have protected me under your wings.¹³ And Yawasap kissed them, and took them into his house. And on the morrow, Yawasap mounted his ass, and went along with them to Yarawashalam.¹⁴ And when all the Jews heard these things, they went out to meet him, and cried out, saying, Peace attend your coming here, father Yawasap.¹⁵ To which he answered, Prosperity from the Adanay attend all the people.¹⁶ And they all kissed him; and Nicodemus took him to his house, having prepared a large entertainment.¹⁷ But on the morrow, being a preparation-day, Annas, and Caiaphas, and Nicodemus, said to Yawasap, Make confession to the Alahayam of Yasharaal, and answer to us all those questions which we shall ask you;¹⁸ For we have been very much troubled, that you did bury the body of Yashawai; and that when we had locked you in a chamber, we could not find you; and we have been afraid ever since, till this time of your appearing among us. Tell us therefore before Alahayam, all that came to pass.¹⁹ Then Yawasap answering, said You did indeed put me under confinement, on the day of preparation, till the morning.²⁰ But while I was standing at prayer in the middle of the night, the house was surrounded with four angels; and I saw Yashawai as the brightness of the sun, and fell down upon the earth for fear.²¹ But Yashawai laying hold on my hand, lifted me from the ground, and the dew was then sprinkled upon me; but he, wiping my face, kissed me, and said to me, Fear not, Yawasap; look upon me for it is I.²² Then I looked upon him, and said, Rabboni Elias! He answered me, I am not Elias, but Yashawai of Natzarath, whose body you did bury.²³ I said to him, show me the tomb in which I laid you.²⁴ Then Yashawai, taking me by the hand, led me to the place where I laid him, and showed me the linen clothes, and napkin which I put round his head. Then I knew that it was Yashawai, and worshipped him, and said; Blessed be he who comes in the name of the Adanay.²⁵ Yashawai again taking me by the hand, led me to Arimathaea, to my own house, and said to me, Peace be to you; but go not out of your house till the fortieth day; but I must go to my disciples.

12 When the chief priests and Levites heard all these things, they were astonished, and fell down with their faces on the ground as dead men, and crying out to one another, said, What is this extraordinary sign which is come to pass in Yarawashalam? We know the father and mother of Yashawai.² And a certain Levite said, I know many of his relations, religions persons, who are wont to offer sacrifices and burnt-offerings to the Alahayam of Yasharaal, in the temple, with prayers.³ And when the high-priest Shamaian took him up in his arms, he said to him, Adanay, now let you your servant depart in peace, according to your word; for mine eyes have seen your salvation, which then halt prepared before the face of all people; a light to enlighten the Gentiles, and the glory of your people Yasharaal.⁴ Shamaian in like manner blessed Marayam the Mother of Yashawai, and said to her, I declare to you concerning that child; He is appointed for the fall and rising again of many, and for a sign which shall be spoken against;⁵ Yea, a sword shall pierce through your own soul also, and the thoughts of many hearts shall be revealed.⁶ Then said all the Jews, Let us send to those three men, who said they saw him talking with his disciples in mount Olivet.⁷ After this, they asked them what they had seen; who answered with one accord, In the presence of the Alahayam of Yasharaal we affirm, that we plainly saw Yashawai talking with his disciples in Mount Olivet, and ascending up to heaven.⁸ Then Annas and Caiaphas took them into separate places, and examined them separately; who unanimously confessed the truth, and said, they had seen Yashawai.⁹ Then Annas and Caiaphas said "Our law says, By the mouth of two or three witnesses every word shall be established."¹⁰ But what have we said? The blessed Chanawak pleased Alahayam, and was translated by the word of Alahayam; and the burying-place of the blessed Mashah is known.¹¹ But Yashawai was delivered to Payalatawas, whipped, crowned with thorns, spit upon, pierced with a spear, crucified, died upon the cross, and was buried, and his body the honourable Yawasap buried in a new sepulchre, and he testifies that he saw him alive.¹² And besides, these men have declared, that they saw him talking with his disciples in Mount Olivet, and ascending up to heaven.¹³ Then Yawasap rising up, said to Annas and Caiaphas, You may be justly under a great surprise, that you have been told, that Yashawai is alive, and gone up to heaven.¹⁴ It is indeed a thing really surprising, that he should not only himself arise from the dead, but also raise others from their graves, who have been seen by many in Yarawashalam.¹⁵ And now hear me a little We all knew the blessed Shamaïwan, the high-priest, who took Yashawai when an infant into his arms in the temple.¹⁶ This same Shamaïwan had two sons of his own, and we were all present at their death and funeral.¹⁷ Go therefore and see their tombs, for these are open, and they are risen: and behold, they are in the city of Arimathaea, spending their time together in offices of devotion.¹⁸ Some, indeed, have heard the sound of their voices in prayer, but they will not discourse with anyone, but they continue as mute as dead men.¹⁹ But come, let us go to them, and behave ourselves towards them with all due respect and caution. And if we can bring them to swear, perhaps they will tell us some of the mysteries of their resurrection.²⁰ When the Jews heard this they were exceedingly rejoiced.²¹ Then Annas and Caiaphas, Nicodemus, Yawasap, and Gamalayaal, went to Arimathaea, but did not find them in their graves; but walking about the city, they found them on their bended knees at their devotions:²² Then saluting them with all respect and deference to Alahayam, they brought them to the synagogue at Yawashalam; and having shut the gates, they took the book of the law of the Adanay,²³ And putting it in their hands, swore them by Alahayam Adonai, and the Alahayam of Yasharaal, who spoke to our fathers by the law and the prophets, saying, If you believe him who raised you from the dead, to be Yashawai, tell us what you have seen, and how you were raised from the dead.²⁴ Charinus and Lenthius, the two sons of Shamaïwan, trembled when they heard these things, and were disturbed, and groaned; and at the same time looking up to heaven, they made the sign of the cross with their fingers on their tongues,²⁵ And immediately they spoke, and said, Give each of us some paper, and we will write down for you all those things which we have seen. And they each sat down and wrote, saying:—

13 O Adanay Yashawai and Father, who art Alahayam, also the resurrection and life of the dead, give us leave to declare your mysteries, which we saw after death, belonging to your cross; for we are sworn by your name.² For you have forbidden your servants to declare the secret things, which were wrought by your divine power in hell.³ When we were Placed with our fathers in the dept of hell, in the blackness of darkness, on a sudden there appeared the colour of the sun like gold, and a substantial purple-coloured light enlightening the place.⁴ Presently upon this, Adam, the father of all mankind, with all the patriarchs and prophets, rejoiced and said, That light is the author of everlasting light, who has promised to translate us to everlasting light.⁵ Then Yashaiyahaw the prophet cried out and said, This is the light of the Father, and the Son of Alahayam, according to my prophecy, when I was alive upon earth.⁶ The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim, beyond Yaranan, a people who walked in darkness, saw a great light; and to them who dwelled in the region of the shadow of death, light is arisen. And now he is come, and has enlightened us who sat in death.⁷ And while we were all rejoicing in the light which shone upon us, our father Shamaïwan came among us, and congratulating all the company, said, Glorify the Adanay Yashawai Mashayach the Son of Alahayam.⁸ Whom I took up in my arms when an infant in the temple, and being moved by the Holy Ghost, said to him, and acknowledged, That now mine eyes have seen your salvation, which you have prepared before the face of all people; a light to enlighten the Gentiles, and the glory of your people Yasharaal.⁹ All the saints who were in the depth of hell, hearing this, rejoiced the more.¹⁰ Afterwards there came forth one like a little hermit, and was asked by every one, Who are you? ¹¹ To which he replied, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Yawachanan the Baptist, and the prophet of the Ilayawan, who went before his coming to prepare his way, to give the knowledge of salvation to his people for the forgiveness of sins.¹² And I, Yawachanan, when I saw Yashawai coming to me, being moved by the Holy Ghost, I said, Behold the Lamb of Alahayam, behold him who takes away the sins of the world.¹³ And I baptized him in the river Yaranan, and saw the Holy Ghost descending upon him in the form of a dove, and heard a voice from heaven saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.¹⁴ And now while I was going before him,

I came down here to acquaint you, that the Son of Alahayam will next visit us, and, as the day-spring from on high, will come to us, who are in darkness and the shadow of death.

14 But when the first man our father Adam heard these things, that Yashawai was baptized in Yaranan, he called out to his son Shath, and said,² Declare to your sons, the patriarchs and prophets, all those things, which you did hear from Mayakaal, the archangel, when I sent you to the gates of Paradise, to entreat Alahayam that he would anoint my head when I was sick.³ Then Shath, coming near to the patriarchs and prophets, said, I, Shath, when I was praying to Alahayam at the gates of Paradise, beheld the angel of the Adanay, Mayakaal, appear to me, saying, I am sent to you from the Adanay; I am appointed to preside over human bodies.⁴ I tell you, Shath, do not pray to Alahayam in tears, and entreat him for the oil of the tree of mercy wherewith to anoint your father Adam for his head-ache;⁵ Because you can not by any means obtain it till the last day and times, namely, till five thousand and five hundred years be past.⁶ Then will Mashayach, the most merciful Son of Alahayam, come on earth to raise again the human body of Adam, and at the same time to raise the bodies of the dead, and when he comes he will be baptized in Yaranan;⁷ Then with the oil of his mercy he will anoint all those who believe in him; and the oil of his mercy will continue to future generations, for those who shall be born of the water and the Holy Ghost to eternal life.⁸ And when at that time the most merciful Son of Alahayam, Mashayach Yashawai, shall come down on earth, he will introduce our father Adam into Paradise, to the tree of mercy.⁹ When all the patriarchs and prophets heard all these things from Shath, they rejoiced more.

15 While all the saints were rejoicing, behold Satan, the prince and captain of death, said to the prince of hell,² Prepare to receive Yashawai of Natzarath himself, who boasted that he was the Son of Alahayam, and yet was a man afraid of death, and said, My soul is sorrowful even to death.³ Besides he did many injuries to me and to many others; for those whom I made blind and lame and those also whom I tormented with several devils, he cured by his word; yea, and those whom I brought dead to you, he by force takes away from you.⁴ To this the prince of hell replied to Satan, Who is that so powerful prince, and yet a man who is afraid of death?⁵ For all the potentates of the earth are subject to my power, whom you brought to subjection by your power.⁶ But if he be so powerful in his human nature, I affirm to you for truth, that he is almighty in his divine nature, and no man can resist his power:⁷ When therefore he said he was afraid of death, he designed to ensnare you, and unhappy it will be to you for everlasting ages,⁸ Then Satan replying, said to the prince of hell, Why did you express a doubt, and were afraid to receive that Yashawai of Natzarath, both your adversary and mine?⁹ As for me, I tempted him and stirred up my old people the Jews with zeal and anger against him;¹⁰ I sharpened the spear for his suffering; I mixed the gall and vinegar, and commanded that he should drink it; I prepared the cross to crucify him, and the nails to pierce through his hands and feet; and now his death is near at hand, I will bring him here, subject both to you and me.¹¹ Then the prince of hell answering, said, You said to me just now, that he took away the dead from me by force.¹² They who have been kept here till they should live again upon earth, were taken away hence, not by their own power, but by prayers made to Alahayam, and their almighty Alahayam took them from me.¹³ Who then is that Yashawai of Natzarath that by his word has taken away the dead from me without prayer to Alahayam?¹⁴ Perhaps it is the same who took away from me Alaizar, after he had been four days dead, and did both stink and was rotten, and of whom I had possession as a dead person, yet he brought him to life again by his power.¹⁵ Satan answering, replied to the prince of hell, It is the very same person, Yashawai of Natzarath.¹⁶ Which when the prince of hell heard, he said to him, I adjure you by the powers which belong to you and me, that you bring him not to me.¹⁷ For when I heard of the power of his word, I trembled for fear, and all my impious company were at the same disturbed;¹⁸ And we were not able to detain Alaizar, but he gave himself a shake, and with all the signs of malice he immediately went away from us; and the very earth, in which the dead body of Alazar was lodged, presently turned him out alive.¹⁹ And I know now that he is Shaday Alahayam who could perform such things, who is mighty in his dominion, and mighty in his human nature, who is the Saviour of mankind.²⁰ Bring not therefore this person here, for he will set at liberty all those whom I hold in prison under unbelief, and bound with the fetters of their sins, and will conduct them to everlasting life.

16 And while Satan and the Prince of hell were discoursing thus to each other, on a sudden there was a voice as of thunder, and the rushing of winds, saying, Lift up your gates, O you princes; and be you lift up, O everlasting gates, and the King of Glory shall come in.² When the prince of hell heard this, he said to Satan, Depart from me, and begone out of my habitations; if you are a powerful warrior, fight with the King of Glory. But what have you to do with him?³ And he cast him forth from his habitations.⁴ And the prince said to his impious officers, Shut the brass gates of cruelty, and make them fast with iron bars, and fight courageously, lest we be taken captives.⁵ But when all the company of the saints heard this they spoke with a loud voice of anger to the prince of hell,⁶ Open your gates, that the King of Glory may come in.⁷ And the divine prophet Dawad cried out, saying, Did not I, when on earth, truly prophesy and say, O that men would praise the Adanay for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!⁸ For he has broken the gates of brass, and cut the bars of iron in sunder. He has taken them because of their iniquity, and because of their unrighteousness they are afflicted.⁹ After this, another prophet, namely, holy Yashaiyahaw, spoke in like manner to all the saints, Did not I rightly prophesy to you when I was alive on earth?¹⁰ The dead men shall live, and they shall rise again who are in their graves, and they shall rejoice who are in the earth; for the dew which is from the Adanay, shall bring deliverance to them.¹¹ And I said in another place, O grave, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting?¹² When all the saints heard these things spoken by Yashaiyahaw, they said to the prince of hell. Open now your gates, and take away your iron bars; for you will now be bound, and have no power.¹³ Then was there a great voice, as of the sound of thunder, saying, Lift up your gates, O princes; and be you lifted up, you gates of hell, and the King of Glory will enter in.¹⁴ The prince of hell perceiving the same voice repeated, cried out, as though he had been ignorant, Who is that King of Glory?¹⁵ Dawad replied to the prince of hell, and said, I understand the words of that voice, because I spoke them in his spirit. And now, as I have before said, I say to you, the Adanay strong and powerful, the Adanay mighty in battle: he is the King of Glory, and he is the Adanay in heaven and in earth.¹⁶ He has looked down to hear the groans of the prisoners, and to set loose those that are appointed to death.¹⁷ And now, you filthy and stinking prince of hell, open your gates, that the King of Glory may enter in; for he is the Adanay of heaven and earth.¹⁸ While Dawad was saying this, the mighty Adanay appeared in the form of a man, and enlightened those places which had ever before been in darkness.¹⁹ And broke asunder the fetters which before could not be broken; and with his invincible power visited those who sate in the deep darkness by iniquity, and the shadow of death by sin.

17 Impious death and her cruel officers hearing these things, were seized with fear in their several kingdoms, when they saw the clearness of the light,² And Mashayach himself on a sudden appearing in their habitations, they cried out therefore, and said, We are bound by you; you seem to intend our confusion before the Adanay.³ Who are you, who has no signs of corruption, but that bright appearance which is a full proof of your greatness, of which yet you seem to take no notice?⁴ Who are you, so powerful, and so weak, so great and so little; mean, and yet a soldier of the first rank, who can command in the form of a servant and a common soldier?⁵ The king of Glory, dead and alive, though once slain upon the cross?⁶ Who lay dead in the grave, and art come down alive to us, and in your death all the creatures trembled, and all the stars were moved; and now have your liberty among the dead, and give disturbance to our legions?⁷ Who are you, who do release the captives that were held in chains by original sin, and bring them into their former liberty?⁸ Who are you, who do spread so glorious and divine a light over those who were made blind by the darkness of sin?⁹ In like manner all the legions of devils were seized with the like horror, and with the most submissive fear cried out, and said,¹⁰ Whence comes it, O you Yashawai Mashayach, that you are a man so powerful and glorious in majesty so bright as to have no spot, and so pure as to have no crime? For that lower world of earth, which was ever till now subject to us, and from whence we received tribute, never sent us such a dead man before, never sent such presents as these to the princes of hell.¹¹ Who therefore are you, who with such courage enter among our abodes, and art not only not afraid to threaten us with the greatest punishments, but also endeavour to rescue all others from the chains in which we hold them?¹² Perhaps you are that Yashawai, of whom Satan just now spoke to our prince, that by the death of the cross you were about to receive the power of death.¹³ Then the King of Glory trampling upon death, seized the prince of hell, deprived him of all his power, and took our earthly father Adam with him to his glory.

18 Then the prince of hell took Satan, and with great indignation said to him, O you prince of destruction, author of Beelzebub's defeat and banishment, the scorn of Alahayam's angels and loathed by all righteous persons! What inclined you to act thus?² You would crucify the King of Glory, and by his destruction, have made us promises of very large advantages, but as a fool were ignorant of what you were about.³ For behold now that Yashawai of Natzarath, with the brightness of his glorious divinity, puts to flight all the horrid powers of darkness and death;⁴ He has broke down our prisons from top to bottom, dismissed all the captives, released all who were bound, and all who were wont formerly to groan under the weight of their torments, have now insulted us, and we are like to be defeated by their prayers.⁵ Our impious dominions are subdued, and no part of mankind is now left in our subjection, but on the other hand, they all boldly defy us;⁶ Though, before, the dead never durst behave themselves insolently towards us, nor being prisoners, could ever on any occasion be merry.⁷ O Satan, you prince of all the wicked, father of the impious and abandoned, why would you attempt this exploit, seeing our prisoners were hitherto always without the least hope of salvation and life?⁸ But now there is not one of them does ever groan, nor is there the least appearance of a tear in any of their faces.⁹ O prince Satan, you great keeper of the infernal regions, all your advantages which you did acquire by the forbidden tree, and the loss of Paradise, you have now lost by the wood of the cross;¹⁰ And your happiness all then expired, when you did crucify Yashawai Mashayach the King of Glory.¹¹ You have acted against your own interest and mine, as you will presently perceive by those large torments and infinite punishments which you are about to suffer.¹² O Satan, prince of all evil, author of death, and source of all pride, you should first have inquired into the evil crimes of Yashawai of Natzarath, and then you would have found that he was guilty of no fault worthy of death.¹³ Why did you venture, without either reason or justice, to crucify him, and have brought down to our regions a person innocent and righteous, and thereby have lost all the sinners, impious and unrighteous persons in the whole world?¹⁴ While the prince of hell was thus speaking to Satan, the King of Glory said to Beelzebub the prince of hell, Satan the prince shall he subject to your dominions for ever, in the room of Adam and his righteous sons, who are mine.

19 Then Yashawai stretched forth his hand, and said. Come to me, all you my saints, who were created in my image, who were condemned by the tree of the forbidden fruit, and by the devil and death;² Live now by the wood of my cross; the devil, the prince of this world, is overcome, and death is conquered,³ Then presently all the saints were joined together under the hand of the most high Alahayam; and the Adanay Yashawai laid hold on Adam's hand, and said to him, Peace be to you, and all your righteous posterity, which is mine.⁴ Then Adam, casting himself at the feet of Yashawai, addressed himself to him with tears, in humble language, and a loud voice, saying,⁵ "I will extol you, O Adanay, for you halt lifted me up, and have not made my foes to rejoice over me. O Adanay my Alahayam, I cried to you, and you have healed me."⁶ "O Adanay you have brought up my soul from the grave; you have kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit."⁷ "Sing to the Adanay, all you saints of his, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness, for his anger endures but for a moment; in his favour is life."⁸ In like manner all the saints, prostrate at the feet of Yashawai, said with one voice, You are come, O Redeemer of the world, and have actually accomplished all things, which you did foretell by the law and your holy prophets.⁹ You have redeemed the living by your cross, and art come down to us, that by the death of the cross you might deliver us from hell, and by your power from death.¹⁰ O Adanay, as you have put the ensigns of your glory in heaven, and have set up the sign of your redemption, even your cross on earth; so, Adanay, set the sign of the victory of your cross in hell, that death may have dominion no longer.¹¹ Then the Adanay stretching forth his hand, made the sign of the cross upon Adam, and upon all his saints.¹² And taking hold of Adam by his right hand, he ascended from hell, and all the saints of Alahayam followed him.¹³ Then the royal prophet, Dawad, boldly cried, and said, O sing to the Adanay a new song, for he has done marvellous things; his right hand and his holy arm have gotten him the victory.¹⁴ The Adanay has made known his salvation, his righteousness has he openly shown in the sight of the heathen.¹⁵ And the whole multitude of saints answered, saying, This honour have all his saints, Amen, Praise you the Adanay.¹⁶ Afterwards, the prophet Habbakuk cried out, and said, You went forth for the salvation of your people, even for salvation with your anointed.¹⁷ And all the saints said, Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Adanay; for the Adanay has enlightened us. This is our Alahayam for ever and ever; he shall reign over us to everlasting ages. Amen.¹⁸ In like manner all the prophets spoke the sacred things of his praise, and followed the Adanay.

20 Then the Adanay, holding Adam by the hand, delivered him to Mayakaal the archangel; and he led them into Paradise, filled with mercy and glory;² And two very ancient men met them, and were asked by the saints, Who are you, who have not yet been with us in hell, and have had your bodies placed in Paradise?³ One of them answering, said, I am Chanawak, who was translated by the word of Alahayam: and this man who is with me, is Alayahaw the Tishbite, who was translated in a fiery chariot.⁴ Here we have hitherto been, and have not tasted death, but are now about to return at the coming of Antichrist, being armed with divine signs and miracles, to engage with him in battle, and to be slain by him at Yarawashalam, and to be taken up alive again into the clouds, after three days and a half.⁵ And while the holy Chanawak and Elias were relating this, behold there came another man in a miserable figure, carrying the sign of the cross upon his shoulders.⁶ And when all the saints saw him, they said to him, Who are you? For your countenance is like a thief's; and why do you carry a cross upon your shoulders?⁷ To which he answering, said, You say right, for I was a thief, who committed all sorts of wickedness upon earth.⁸ And the Jews crucified me with Yashawai; and I observed the surprising things which happened in the creation at the crucifixion of the Adanay Yashawai.⁹ And I believed him to be the Creator of all things, and the Shaday King; and I prayed to him, saying, Adanay remember me, when you contest into your kingdom.¹⁰ He presently regarded my supplication, and said to me, Truly I say to you, this day you shall be with me in Paradise.¹¹ And he gave me this sign of the cross, saying, Carry this, and go to Paradise; and if the angel who is the guard of Paradise will not admit you, show him the sign of the cross, and say to him Yashawai Mashayach who is now crucified, has sent me here to you.¹² When I did this and told the angel who is the guard of Paradise all these things, and he heard them, he presently opened the gates, introduced me, and placed me on the right hand in Paradise,¹³ Saying, Stay here a little time, till

Adam, the father of all mankind, shall enter in, with all his sons, who are the holy and righteous servants of Yashawai Mashayach, who was crucified.¹⁴ When they heard all this account from the thief, all the patriarchs said with one voice, Blessed be you, O Shaday Alahayam, the Father of everlasting goodness, and the Father of mercies, who have shown such favour to those who were sinners against him, and have brought them to the mercy of Paradise, and have placed them amidst your large and spiritual provisions, in a spiritual and holy life. Amen.

21 These are the divine and sacred mysteries which we saw and heard. We, Charinus and Lenthius are not allowed to declare the other mysteries of Alahayam, as the archangel Mayakaal ordered us,² Saying, you shall go with my brethren to Yarawashalam, and shall continue in prayers, declaring and glorifying the resurrection of Yashawai Mashayach, seeing he has raised you from the dead at the same time with himself.³ And you shall not talk with any man, but sit as dumb persons till the time come when the Adanay will allow you to relate the mysteries of his divinity.⁴ The archangel Mayakaal farther commanded us to go beyond Yaradan, to an excellent and fat country, where there are many who rose from the dead along with us for the proof of the resurrection of Mashayach.⁵ For we have only three days allowed us from the dead, who arose to celebrate the passover of our Adanay with our parents, and to bear our testimony for Mashayach the Adanay, and we have been baptized in the holy river of Yaradan. And now they are not seen by any one.⁶ This is as much as Alahayam allowed us to relate to you; give you therefore praise and honour to him, and repent, and he will have mercy upon you. Peace be to you from the Adanay Alahayam Yashawai Mashayach, and the Saviour of us all. Amen, Amen, Amen.⁷ And after they had made an end of writing, and had written on two distinct pieces of paper, Charinus gave what he wrote into the hands of Annas, and Caiaphas, and Gamalayaal.⁸ Lenthius likewise gave what he wrote into the hands of Nicodemus and Yawasap; and immediately they were changed into exceeding white forms and were seen no more.⁹ But what they had written was found perfectly to agree, the one not containing one letter more or less than the other.¹⁰ When all the assembly of the Jews heard all these surprising relations of Charinus and Lenthius, they said to each other, Truly all these things were wrought by Alahayam, and blessed be the Adanay Yashawai for ever and ever, Amen.¹¹ And they went all out with great concern, and fear, and trembling, and smote upon their breasts and went away every one to his home.¹² But immediately all these things which were related by the Jews in their synagogues concerning Yashawai, were presently told by Yawasap and Nicodemus to the governor.¹³ And Payalatawas wrote down all these transactions, and placed all these accounts in the public records of his hall.

22 After these things Payalatawas went to the temple of the Jews, and called together all the rulers and scribes, and doctors of the law, and went with them into a chapel of the temple.² And commanding that all the gates should be shut, said to them, I have heard that you have a certain large book in this temple; I desire you, therefore, that it may be brought before me.³ And when the great book, carried by four ministers of the temple, and adorned with gold and precious stones, was brought, Payalatawas said to them all, I adjure you by the Alahayam of your Fathers, who made and commanded this temple to be built, that you conceal not the truth from me.⁴ You know all the things which are written in that book; tell me therefore now, if you in the Scriptures have found any thing of that Yashawai whom you crucified, and at what time of the world he, ought to have come: show it me.⁵ Then having sworn Annas and Caiaphas, they commanded all the rest who were with them to go out of the chapel.⁶ And they shut the gates of the temple and of the chapel, and said to Payalatawas, You have made us to swear, O judge, by the building of this temple, to declare to you that which is true and right.⁷ After we had crucified Yashawai, not knowing that he was the Son of Alahayam, but supposing he wrought his miracles by some magical arts, we summoned a large assembly in this temple.⁸ And when we were deliberating among

one another about the miracles which Yashawai had wrought, we found many witnesses of our own country, who declared that they had seen him alive after his death, and that they heard him discoursing with his disciples, and saw him ascending into the height of the heavens, and entering into them; ⁹ And we saw two witnesses, whose bodies Yashawai raised from the dead, who told us of many strange things which Yashawai did among the dead, of which we have a written account in our hands. ¹⁰ And it is our custom annually to open this holy book before an assembly, and to search there for the counsel of Alahayam. ¹¹ And we found in the first of the seventy books, where Mayakaal the archangel is speaking to the third son of Adam the first man, an account that after five thousand five hundred years, Mashayach the most beloved son of Alahayam was to come on earth, ¹² And we further considered, that perhaps he was the very Alahayam of Yasharaal who spoke to Mashah, You shall make the ark of the testimony; two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof. ¹³ By these five cubits and a half for the building of the ark of the Old Testament, we perceived and knew that in five thousand years and half (one thousand) years, Yashawai Mashayach was to come in the ark or tabernacle of a body; ¹⁴ And so our Scriptures testify that he is the Son of Alahayam, and the Adanay and King of Yasharaal. ¹⁵ And because after his suffering, our chief priests were surprised at the signs which were wrought by his means, we opened that book to search all the generations down to the generation of Yawasap and Marayam the mother of Yashawai, supposing him to be of the seed of Dawad; ¹⁶ And we found the account of the creation, and at what time he made the heaven and the earth, and the first man Adam, and that from thence to the flood, were two thousand seven hundred and forty- eight years. ¹⁷ And from the flood to Abaraham, nine hundred and twelve. And from Abaraham to Mashah, four hundred and thirty. And from Mashah to Dawad the King, five hundred and ten. ¹⁸ And from Dawad to the Babylonish captivity five hundred years. And from the Babylonish captivity to the incarnation of Mashayach, four hundred years. ¹⁹ The sum of all which amounts to five thousand and half (a thousand.) ²⁰ And so it appears, that Yashawai whom we crucified, is Yashawai Mashayach the Son of Alahayam, and true Shaday Alahayam. Amen.

23 In the name of the Holy Trinity, thus end the acts of our Saviour Yashawai Mashayach. ² The Emperor Theodosius the Great found these acts at Yarawashalam, in the hall of Pontius Payalatawas, among the public records. ³ These things were acted in the nineteenth year of Tiberius Qayasar, Emperor of the Romans, and in the seventeenth year of the government of Hawaradawas, the son of Hawaradawas and of Galayal. ⁴ This occurred on the eighth of the calends of April, which is the twenty-third day of the month of March, in the CCIIId Olympiad, when Yawasap and Caiaphas were rulers of the Jews. ⁵ This is a History written in Hebrew by Nicodemus, of what happened after our Saviour's crucifixion.

Epistle of Barnabas

1 Hail, my sons and daughters, in the name of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, who has loved us in peace. ² I rejoice exceedingly and beyond measure at your happy and glorious spirit, since the ordinances of Alahayam are great and rich towards you; for so have you received the engrafted grace of the spiritual gift. ³ Therefore, I congratulate myself the more, hoping to be saved, because I see of a truth the spirit poured out upon you from the rich Adanay of love. So greatly has your longed-for appearance stricken me with amazement. ⁴ Being persuaded, therefore, of this, and knowing in myself that since I spoke among you the Adanay has helped me in many things in the way of righteousness, I am altogether compelled to love you even beyond my own soul, because great faith and love dwells in you in the hope of his life. ⁵ Considering also this, that if I take care to communicate to you a part of that which I have received, it shall turn to my reward to have assisted such spirits as you are, I gave diligence to write to you in few words, in order that together with your faith, you might have your knowledge perfect also. ⁶ For there are three doctrines ordained of the Adanay: the hope of life, the beginning, and the end. ⁷ For the Master has made known to us by the prophets the things which are past, and the things which are at hand, and has given us the first fruits of the knowledge of the things that are to come. Since, therefore, we see all these things severally working as he has spoken, we ought the more fully and loftily to approach to his altar; ⁸ but I, not as a master, but as one of yourselves, will show to you a few things, by means of which you may even in this present rejoice.

2 Since, therefore, the days are evil, and the adversary has the authority, we ought to take heed to ourselves and seek out the ordinances of the Adanay. ² For the helpers of our faith are fear and patience, and they that fight on our side are long-suffering and continence. ³ While these, therefore, remain pure in things relating to the Adanay, wisdom and understanding, science and knowledge, rejoice together with them. ⁴ For Alahayam has made known to us through all the prophets, that he desires neither sacrifices nor whole burnt offerings, nor oblations; for he says in a certain place, ⁵ To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices? says the Adanay. I am full of the whole burnt offerings of rams; I desire not the fat of lambs, nor the blood of bulls and goats, nor need you come to be seen of me. For who has required these things at your hands? You shall not add thereto to tread my court. If you bring the fine flour, it is vain; incense is an abomination to me; your new moons and sabbaths I cannot endure; your fastings and holidays and feasts my soul hates. ⁶ These things, therefore, he has made of none effect, that the new law of our Adanay Yashawai Mashayach, being free from the yoke of necessity, might have an offering not made with hands. ⁷ Again, he says to them, Did I command your fathers, when you came out of the land of Matzarayam, offer to me whole burnt offerings and sacrifices? -- ⁸ did I not rather command them this? -- Let each of you bear no malice against his neighbour in his heart, and love not a false oath. ⁹ We ought to perceive, since we are not void of understanding the meaning of the goodness of Alahayam our Father, because he tells us, wishing to seek us who are wandering even as sheep, how we ought to approach him. ¹⁰ He therefore speaks to us in this wise: The sacrifice to Alahayam is a broken heart; a smell of sweet savour to the Adanay is a heart that glorifies him that made it. We ought, therefore, brethren, to examine accurately concerning our salvation, lest the evil one, making an entrance among us, should draw us away from our life.

3 Therefore, he says again, concerning these things to them, Why fast you to me, says the Adanay, so that your voice is heard to-day in its crying? This is not the fast that I have chosen, says the Adanay, for a man to humiliate his soul; ² nor if you bend your neck as a ring, and put under you sackcloth and ashes -- not even then will you call it an acceptable fast. ³ But to us he says, Behold the fast which I have chosen, says the Adanay, not that a man should humiliate his soul, but that he should loose every bond of unrighteousness, and untie the knots of the compacts of violence; set at liberty them that are bruised, and break every agreement of unrighteousness; break your bread with the hungry, and if you see the naked, clothe him; bring them that are houseless into your dwelling, and if you see a man that is lowly, despise him not, and turn not away from those of your family; ⁴ then shall your light break forth early, and your garments shall spring up quickly, and justice shall go before you, and the glory of the Adanay shall surround you; ⁵ then shall you cry, and the Adanay shall hearken to you; while you are yet speaking he shall say, Lo, I am here: if you put away from you the chain and the false oath, and the word of murmuring, and give your bread to the hungry with all your heart, and have compassion upon the soul that is lowly. ⁶ The long-suffering Alahayam therefore having seen beforehand that the people whom he had prepared for his beloved would believe in simplicity, showed to us beforehand concerning all these things, that we should not come as strangers to their law.

4 It behoveth, therefore, that we, searching much concerning the things that are at hand, should seek out the things that are able to save us. Let us fly, therefore, utterly from all the work of unrighteousness, and let us hate the error of the time that now is, that we may be loved in that which is to come. ² Let us not give liberty to our soul that it should have leave to run with sinners and evil men, neither let us be made like to them. ³ The tribulation being made perfect is at hand, concerning which it is written, as Chanawak says, For to this purpose the Adanay has cut short the times and the days, that his beloved might make haste and come into his inheritance. ⁴ The prophet also speaks in this wise: Ten kingdoms shall reign upon the earth; and there shall rise up after them a little king who shall humble three of the kings under one. ⁵ And in like manner Wadan speaks concerning him: And I saw the fourth beast, evil and strong and harder than all the beasts of the earth; and I saw how there grew up from him ten horns, and from among them a little horn, growing up beside, and how it humbled under one three of the great horns. ⁶ You ought, therefore, to understand. And moreover I ask this of you, as being one among you, loving you specially and altogether, even above my own soul, that you should take heed to yourselves, and not be like to certain men, by adding to your sins and saying that their covenant is also ours. Ours, indeed, it is; but they have lost it for ever, in this wise, after that Mashah had already received it. ⁷ For the scripture says, And Mashah was in the mount fasting forty days and nights, and he received the covenant from the Adanay; even tables of stone written with the finger of the hand of the Adanay. But when they turned to idols they lost it. ⁸ For the Adanay says thus to Mashah, Mashah, get you down quickly, for your people, whom you brought out of the land of Matzarayam, have done unlawfully. And Mashah understood, and cast the two tables from his hands, and the covenant that was on them was broken; to the end that that of the beloved Yashawai might be sealed in our hearts in the hope of his faith. ⁹ Now, though I wished to write many things to you, not as a master, but even as suits one that loves you, not to fall short of the things that we have, I have been zealous to write to you as though I were the offscouring of you. Let us, therefore, give heed to the last days; for the whole time of our faith will profit us nothing unless now, in the season of iniquity and among the stumbling-blocks that are coming, we resist as becomes the sons of Alahayam,¹⁰ that the evil one may not have entrance unawares. Let us fly all vanity and hate perfectly the deeds of the evil way. Do not, entering into your own houses, dwell alone, as though you were already justified, but coming together, enquire one with another concerning the common advantage.¹¹ For the scripture says, Woe to them that are wise in their own conceit and learned in their own eyes. Let us be spiritual: let us be a perfect temple to Alahayam. So far as in you lies, let us practise the fear of Alahayam, and strive to keep his commandments, that we may be glad in his ordinances.¹² The Adanay shall judge the world without respect of persons; each shall receive according as he has done; if he be good, righteousness shall go before him, but if he be evil, the reward of wickedness shall be before him.¹³ Let us give heed that we do not, as being already elect, take rest, and sleep in our sins, lest the ruler of wickedness, getting the mastery over us, thrust us from the kingdom of the Adanay.¹⁴ And, moreover, my brethren, consider this. When you see that after so many signs and wonders that have happened in Yasharaal, even then they have been abandoned, let us take heed lest, as it is written, many of us be called but few chosen.

5 For on this account the Adanay endured to give his flesh to corruption, that we might be sanctified by the remission of sins, which is by the sprinkling of his blood.² For there are written concerning him certain things that pertain to Yasharaal, and certain other that pertain to us. For he speaks thus, He was wounded for our iniquities, and vexed for our sins; by his stripes we are healed. He was led as a sheep to the slaughter, and like a dumb lamb before him that shears it.³ We ought, therefore, to give especial thanks to the Adanay because he has made known to us the things that are past, and has made us wise with regard to those that are at hand, neither are we without understanding as regards the future.⁴ For the scripture says, Not unjustly is the net stretched for the birds. Now this means that a man will perish justly who, having a knowledge of the path of righteousness, shuts himself up into the way of darkness.⁵ Consider this too, my brethren; if the Adanay endured to suffer for our souls, though he were the Adanay of the whole world, to whom Alahayam said from the foundation of the world, Let us make man according to our image and according to our likeness, how then did he endure to suffer at the hands of men? Learn you!⁶ The prophets having received the grace from him prophesied with regard to him. But he, that he might make death of none effect and bring to light the resurrection from the dead, because it behoved him to be made manifest in the flesh,⁷ endured it, that he might give to our fathers the promise, and by preparing for himself a new people, might show while upon earth, that he will raise the dead and himself execute judgment.⁸ Yea, further; though he taught Yasharaal and did so many signs and wonders among them, yet they loved him not.⁹ But when he chose out his own apostles, who were about to preach his Gospel, they were men unrighteous beyond all sin, that he might show that he came not to call the righteous but sinners to repentance. Then made he himself manifest that he was the Son of Alahayam.¹⁰ For if he had not come in the flesh how could men have looked upon him and have been saved, since they cannot endure to look at the rays of the sun which must one day perish, and which is the work of his hands?¹¹ For this purpose did the Son of Alahayam come in the flesh, that he might sum up and finish the sin of them who persecuted his prophets to death;¹² therefore he endured even to this. For Alahayam says that the smiting of his flesh it was from them. When they shall smite their shepherd, then shall the sheep of the flock be scattered.¹³ But he himself wished thus to suffer, for it was necessary that he should suffer upon the cross; for he who prophesies about him says, Spare my soul from the sword, and drive nails into my flesh, for the synagogues of evil men have risen against me.¹⁴ And again he says, Behold, I have given my back to the scourging and my cheeks to buffetings; my face also have I set as a hard rock.

6 When, therefore, he made the commandment what says he? Who is he that disputes with me? let him resist me; or who is he that contends with me? let him draw nigh to the Son of the Adanay.

² Woe to you, for you shall all wax old as a garment, and the moth shall devour you. And again the prophet says, Since he has been placed, as a strong stone, for crushing; behold I will place on the foundation of Tzayawan a stone precious, elect, a chief corner stone of great price.³ And then what says he? And he that believes in him shall live for ever. Is then our hope in a stone? Alahayam forbid. But it is thus said because the Adanay has made strong his flesh, for he says, And he made me as it were a hard rock.⁴ And again, The stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner. And again he says, This is the day, great and wonderful, which the Adanay has made.⁵ I write to you the more simply that you may understand. I am the off-scouring of your love.⁶ What then says the prophet again? The synagogue of the wicked came around me; they surrounded me as bees do an honey-comb, and over my garment they cast lots.⁷ Since, therefore, he was about to be made manifest and to suffer in the flesh, his suffering was showed beforehand. For the prophet says to Yasharaal, Woe to their soul, for they have counselled an evil counsel among themselves, saying, Let us bind the righteous because he is inconvenient to us.⁸ And what says the other prophet even Mashah to them? Behold, thus says the Adanay Alahayam: Enter into the good land which the Adanay swore to Abaraham and Yatzachaq and Yaiqab, and inherit it, even a land flowing with milk and honey.⁹ What says the knowledge? Learn you. Hope, it says, upon Yashawai, who is about to be manifested to you in the flesh. For man is but earth which suffers. For, from the face of the ground was made the moulding of Adam.¹⁰ What then means he when he says, Into the good land which flows with milk and honey? Blessed be the Adanay, brethren, who has put into you wisdom and knowledge of his secret things. For the prophet speaks a parable from the Adanay. Who shall understand, except he that is wise and skilful and that loves his Adanay?¹¹ Since, therefore, having renewed us by the remission of our sins, he has made us of a new character, he wills that we should have the souls of children, inasmuch as it is indeed he who has formed us anew.¹² For the Scripture says concerning us, that he says to the Son, Let us make man after our own image and according to our likeness; and let them rule over the beasts of the earth, and the fowls of heaven, and the fishes of the sea. And the Adanay said when he saw how excellent our form was, Increase and multiply and replenish the earth. These things he says to the Son.¹³ Again I will show to you how the Adanay speaks to us. He has made a second fashioning in these last days; the Adanay says, Behold I make the last even as the first. For to this purpose did the prophet preach. Enter you into the land flowing with milk and honey and have dominion over it.¹⁴ Behold now we have been formed again, even as he says again in another prophet. Behold, says the Adanay, I will take out from these, that is out of those whom the spirit of the Adanay foresaw, the hearts of stone, and will put into them hearts of flesh, because he himself was about to be manifested in the flesh and to dwell among us.¹⁵ For the habitation of our heart is a temple holy to the Adanay.¹⁶ For the Adanay says again, Whereby shall I appear before the Adanay my Alahayam and be glorified? He says too, I will give thanks to you in the assembly, in the midst of my brethren; I will sing to you in the midst of the assembly of the saints. We are, therefore, those whom he brought into the good land.¹⁷ What, then, means the milk and honey? It is because a child is kept alive, first with honey, afterwards with milk. So we, too, being quickened by faith in his promise and by his word, shall live and rule over the earth.¹⁸ And we said above, And let them increase and multiply and rule over the fish. Who then is he who is able to rule over the beasts, the fish, and fowls of heaven? For we ought to perceive that to rule belongs to authority, so that a man by giving commands may exercise lordship.¹⁹ If, therefore, this does not take place now, he has told us when it will; even when we ourselves have been made perfect, so that we become heirs of the covenant of the Adanay.

7 You perceive, therefore, beloved children, that our good Adanay has manifested to us all things beforehand, to the end that we should know whom we ought to praise, returning thanks for all things.² If, therefore, the Son of Alahayam, being he who is the Adanay and who is about to judge the quick and the dead, suffered, to the end that his stripes might make us live, let us believe that the Son of Alahayam could not suffer except on our account.³ But being crucified, he drank vinegar and gall. How, then, did the priests of the temple signify concerning this? Now, the commandment is written in this wise: Whosoever shall not fast on the fast, he shall die the death, the Adanay has commanded it. Since he also was about to offer the vessel that contained his spirit as a sacrifice, in order that the type might be fulfilled which was given by the offering of Yatzachaq at the altar.⁴ What, therefore, says he in the book of the prophet? And let them eat of the goat which is offered on the fast for the sins of all. Attend you diligently thereto. And let the priests alone eat of the unwashed entrails with vinegar.⁵ With what signification? Because you will one day give me to drink of vinegar and gall, when I am about to offer up my flesh for my new people. Eat you it alone, while the people fast and lament in sackcloth and ashes. He commanded this in order that he might show that he must needs suffer at their hands.⁶ How, then, did he give his commands? Attend you. Take you two goats, fair and like each other, and offer them up. And let the priest take one of them as a whole burnt offering for sin.⁷ But what shall they do with the other? Let the other, he says, be accursed. Now attend you, how the type of Yashawai is made manifest.⁸ And do you all spit upon it and pierce it, and put scarlet wool around its head, and so let it be cast out into the wilderness. And when this has been done, he who bears the goat leads it out into the wilderness, and takes away the wool and places it upon a bush, which is called rachel, the shoots of which we are accustomed to eat when we find them in the fields. Thus the fruit of the rachel only is sweet.⁹ What, therefore, means this? Attend you. One is brought to the altar, the other is accursed, and the accursed one is crowned, because they shall see him in that day, who had the scarlet robe about his flesh, and they shall say, Is not this he whom once we set at naught and crucified, and spat upon and pierced? Truly this was he who at that time said that he was the Son of Alahayam.¹⁰ How then was he like to the goat? In this respect were the goats like him: they were fair and equal, so that when they saw him coming they were astonished at the likeness to the goat. Therefore, behold here the type of Yashawai, who was about to suffer.¹¹ And what means the wool placed in the midst of thorns? It is a type of Yashawai, which has been placed in the church. For he who wishes to take the scarlet wool must suffer many things, because the thorn is terrible, and must after tribulation gain possession of it. So he says, They who wish to see me and to take hold of my kingdom must through trouble and suffering receive me.

8 And what type, think you, was the commandment to Yasharaal, that the men in whom sin had been accomplished should offer a heifer, and after they had slaughtered it should burn it, and that children should then take the ashes and cast them into vessels, and place scarlet wool and hyssop around a stick -- behold, again, the type of the cross and the scarlet wool, -- and so the boys should sprinkle the people one by one, that they might be purged from their sins?² Behold, therefore, in what way he speaks to you with simplicity. The heifer signifieth Yashawai; they who offer it are the sinful men who brought him to the slaughter. But now the men are no longer before us, no longer does the glory belong to sinners.³ The boys who sprinkled are they who brought us the good news of the forgiveness of sins and purification of heart, to whom he has given the authority of the gospel for the purpose of preaching, being twelve in number, for a testimony to the tribes, for twelve were the tribes of Yasharaal.⁴ And why, then, these boys who sprinkle? For a testimony to Abaraham, Yatzachaq, and Yaiqab, because these are great before Alahayam.⁵ And what signifieth the wool upon the stick? Because the kingdom of Yashawai is upon the cross, and because they who hope upon him shall live for ever.⁶ And why are there at the same time the wool and the hyssop? Because in his kingdom the days in which we shall be saved shall be evil and filthy, because also he that grieves his flesh is healed through the purifying of the hyssop.⁷ And these things having happened on this account are manifest to us, but obscure to them, because they hearkened not to the voice of the Adanay.

9 He says also again concerning our ears how he has circumcised our heart. The Adanay says in the prophet, They have hearkened to me with the hearing of their ears; and again, he says, They that are afar off shall hear with their ears; they shall know what I have done; and be you circumcised, says the Adanay, in your heart;² and again, Hear, O Yasharaal, for thus says the Adanay your Alahayam; and again the spirit of the Adanay prophesied, Who is he that wishes to live for ever? let him hearken to the voice of my Son.³ And again he says, Hear, O heaven, and give ear, O earth, for the Adanay has spoken these things for a testimony. And again he says, Harken to the voice of the Adanay, you rulers of this people. And again he says, Harken you children to the voice of one crying in the wilderness.⁴ To this end, therefore, has he circumcised our hearing, that when we hear his word, we should believe; for the circumcision in which they trust is done away with. For he has said that circumcision is not that which was made in the flesh; but they have transgressed, for an evil angel has deluded them.⁵ He says to them, These things says the Adanay your Alahayam, -- here I find a new commandment -- Sow not among thorns, but be you circumcised to your Adanay. And what says he? Circumcise the hardness of your hearts, and harden not your neck. And again, Behold, says the Adanay, all the Gentiles are uncircumcised in their foreskin, but this people is uncircumcised in their hearts.⁶ But he will say, Of a truth the people have been circumcised for a seal to them; but so, also, has every Syrian and Arabian, and all the priests of idols. Do they also belong to the covenant? But the Matzarayam also are in circumcision.⁷ Learn, therefore, children of love, richly concerning all things, that Abaraham, who first gave circumcision, circumcised, looking forward in the spirit to Yashawai, having received the doctrines of the three letters.⁸ For he says, And Abaraham circumcised out of his household eighteen and three hundred. What, then, was the knowledge that was given by this? Learn you, that he mentions the eighteen first, and then, having made an interval, he mentions the three hundred. In the eighteen, IH, you have Yashawai; and because the cross in the letter T was about to convey the grace of redemption, he mentions also the three hundred. Therefore, he shows Yashawai in the two letters, IH, and the cross in the one, T.⁹ He knows this who has placed the engrafted gift of his teaching in us. No one has had from me a more true account than this; but I know that you are worthy.

10 But in that Mashah said, You shall not eat the swine, nor the eagle, nor the hawk, nor the crow, nor any fish that has not scales in itself, he had in his mind three doctrines.² For in the end he says to them in Deuteronomy, And I will arrange before this people my ordinances. The commandment of Alahayam is not, therefore, that they should not eat; but Mashah spoke in a spiritual sense.³ He spoke of the swine with this meaning: You shall not cleave, he means, to men of this sort, who are like to swine, for when they become wanton they forget their Adanay, but when they are in want they think upon the Adanay; even as the swine when it eats knows not its lord, but when it is hungry it cries, and when it has received it is again silent.⁴ Nor shall you eat of the eagle, nor of the hawk, nor of the kite, nor of the crow. You shall not, he means, cleave to, nor be like to men of this sort, who know not how to provide sustenance for themselves by labour and sweat, but in their iniquity seize the property of others, and, as though they walked in innocence, watch and observe whom they shall plunder, through their covetousness; even as these birds alone provide not sustenance for themselves by means of toil, but, sitting idle, seek out how they may eat the flesh of others, being destructive by reason of their wickedness.⁵ And you shall not eat, he says, of the lamprey, or the polypus, or the cuttle-fish. You shall not, he means, cleave to or become like to men of this sort, who are impious to the end, and have been already condemned to death, even as these accursed fish alone swim in the depth, not floating as the others do, but dwelling in the earth below the depth of the sea.⁶ Thus, he says, You shall not eat the hare, meaning you shall not indulge in unnatural lusts;⁷ nor shall you eat the hyaena, meaning you shall not be an adulterer;⁸ nor shall you eat the weazel, meaning you shall not do uncleanness with your mouth concerning food;⁹ therefore Mashah spoke in the spirit these three doctrines. But they, according to the lusts of their flesh, received them as being about meat.¹⁰ And Dawad receives knowledge concerning the same three doctrines, and says in like manner, Blessed is the man who has not walked in the counsel of the ungodly, even as the fish walk in darkness into the depths of the sea, and has not stood in the way of sinners, even as they who pretend to fear the Adanay sin as does the swine, and has not sat in the seat of the destroyers, even as the birds that sit for prey. You have also in the end a commandment concerning food;¹¹ but Mashah said, Eat you everything that is cloven-footed and that cheweth the cud. What means he? He that takes food knows him that feeds him, and, resting upon him, seems to be glad. He therefore says well, having regard to the commandment. What then means he? Cleave you to them that fear the Adanay, who walk in his commandments, which they have received in their hearts; to them that speak of the ordinances of the Adanay, and observe them, to them who know that the practice of them is a work of gladness, and who ruminate on the word of the Adanay. But what means that which cleaves the hoof? It means that the just walks even in this world, and expecteth the holy life. See how well Mashah has laid down the law;¹² but how was it possible for them to perceive or understand these things? But we, having rightly understood the commandments, speak them even as the Adanay has willed. On this account has he circumcised our ears and hearts, that we should understand these things.

11 Let us inquire, therefore, if the Adanay cared to show us beforehand concerning the water and concerning the cross. Concerning the water it is written, with respect to Yasharaal, how that they will not receive the baptism that brings remission of sins, but will establish one for themselves.² The prophet therefore speaks in this wise, Be astonished, O heaven! and let the earth be afraid still more at this, because this people has done two great and evil things: they have abandoned me who am the fountain of life, and have dug for themselves broken cisterns.³ Is my holy mountain of Tzayawan a deserted rock? you shall be as the young of a bird which have flown when the nest has been taken away.⁴ And again the prophet says, I will go before you and will lay low the mountains. And I will break the doors of brass and burst the bars of iron; and I will give to you the treasures of darkness hidden and unseen, that they may know that I am the Adanay Alahayam; and, He shall dwell in the lofty cave of the strong rock.⁵ Then what says he of the Son? His water is sure. You shall behold the king in his glory, and your soul shall practise the fear of the Adanay.⁶ And again, in another prophet, he says, He that does these things shall be as a tree that grows beside a water-course, which gives his fruit in his season; and his leaf shall not fall off, and whatever he does shall prosper.⁷ Not so are the ungodly, not so; they are like the dust which the wind carries away from the face of the earth, therefore the ungodly shall not rise up in judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the just: for the Adanay knows the way of the just, but the way of the ungodly shall perish.⁸ You perceive how he has put together the water and the cross. For what he means is this, Blessed are they who having hoped on the cross have gone down into the water. For he speaks of a reward to be given at the due season; then, says he, I will render what is due to you. But now in that he says, Their leaves shall not fall off, he means this, That every word that goes out from your mouth in faith and love shall be for a refuge and a hope to many.⁹ And again another prophet says, And the land of Yaiqab was praised beyond the whole earth. By so saying he means this, He shall glorify the vessel that contains his Spirit.¹⁰ And what says he afterwards? There was a river flowing on the right, and there grew up on its banks fair trees, and whosoever eats of them shall live for ever.¹¹ By this he means that we go down into the water full of sin and pollution, and go up bearing fruit in the heart, having in the spirit fear and hope toward Yashawai. And whoever shall eat of them shall live for ever. He means this, Whoever, he says, shall hear these words spoken and believe them shall live for ever.

12 In like manner again he signifieth concerning the cross in another prophet, who says, And when shall these things be fulfilled? The Adanay says, When the tree has been bent and shall rise up again, and when blood shall flow from the tree. You have again a prophecy concerning the cross and about him who is about to be crucified.² And he says again in Mashah, when Yasharaal was being made war upon by aliens, even that he might remind them while they were being made war upon, that for their sins they were being delivered over to death, the Spirit says to the heart of Mashah, that he should make the form of a cross, and of him who was about to suffer, signifying thereby that if they hope not upon him they will be made war upon for ever. Mashah, therefore, places one weapon upon another in the midst of the fight, and standing higher than all, stretched out his hands, and so again Yasharaal conquered; then, when he let them down, they were again slaughtered.³ Therefore? that they might know that they are not to be saved except they hope upon him.⁴ And again in another prophet he says, All day long have I stretched out my hands to a people who are disobedient, and who speak against my righteous way.⁵ Again, Mashah makes another type of Yashawai, that it behoveth that he should suffer and cause others to live, whom they thought that they had destroyed in figure when Yasharaal was falling: For the Adanay made every kind of snake to bite them, and they died, since the transgression happened to Chawah by means of the serpent, to the end that he might convince them that through their transgression they should be given over to the pangs of death.⁶ For in the end Mashah himself, after that he had given commandment, There shall not be among you a molten image or a graven image for a god, makes one himself that he might show a type of Yashawai. Mashah, therefore, makes a brazen serpent, and sets it aloft, and calls the people by a proclamation.⁷ When, therefore, they had come together they besought Mashah, that he should offer supplication for them concerning their healing. Mashah therefore said to them, When any of you is bitten let him come to the serpent, that is placed upon the tree, and let him believe and hope that, though it is dead, it is able to make him live, and immediately he shall be saved; and so did they. You have, therefore, again in these things also, the glory of Yashawai, that in him and to him are all things.⁸ What again says Mashah to Yashawai the son of Nawan, after he had given this name to him, being a prophet? Only that all the people might hear that the Father reveals all things concerning his son.⁹ Mashah therefore says to the son of Nawan, having given him this name when he sent him to spy out the land, Take the book into your hands and write what the Adanay says, even that the Son of Alahayam, in the last days, will cut off the whole house of Imalaq from the roots.¹⁰ Behold, therefore, again Yashawai, not the son of man but the Son of Alahayam, and by a type made manifest in the flesh. Since, therefore, they should one day say that Mashayach is the son of Dawad, Dawad himself prophesies, fearing and understanding the deceitfulness of sinners, The Adanay said to my Adanay, Sit on my right hand until I make your enemies your footstool.¹¹ And again Esaia speaks in this wise, The Adanay said to Mashayach, my Adanay, whose right hand I have held, that the Gentiles should hearken before him, and I will break the strength of kings. Behold how Dawad calls him Adanay, and how he calls him the Son of Alahayam.

13 Let us inquire, therefore, whether this people or the first people inheriteth, and whether the covenant is to us or to them.² Hear, now, what the scripture says concerning the people. But Yatzachaq prayed for Rebecca his wife because she was barren, and she conceived. Then went forth Rebecca to inquire of the Adanay, and the Adanay said to her, Two nations are in your womb, and two peoples are in your bowels, and the one people shall surpass the other, and the elder shall serve the younger.³ You ought to understand who was Yatzachaq and who was Rebecca, and concerning whom he declared that the one people was greater than the other.⁴ And in another prophecy Yaiqab speaks yet more clearly to Yawasap his son, saying, Behold the Adanay has not deprived me of your face; bring to me your sons, that I may bless them.⁵ And he brought to him Aparayam and Manashah, wishing that he should bless Manashah, because he was the elder. Yawasap, therefore, brought him to the right hand of his father Yaiqab. But Yaiqab saw in spirit a figure of the people that should be hereafter. And what says the scriptures? And Yaiqab crossed his hands, and placed his right hand on the head of Aparayam, the second and youngest, and blessed him. And Yawasap said to Yaiqab, Change your right hand to the head of Manashah, because he is my firstborn son. And Yaiqab said to Yawasap, I know, my child, I know; but the elder shall serve the younger; but this one also shall be blessed.⁶ Behold in what way he appointed that this people should be the first and heir of the covenant.⁷ If, therefore, it were moreover mentioned through Abaraham also, we have the perfecting of our knowledge. What, therefore, says he to Abaraham, when he alone believed, and it was counted to him for righteousness? Behold I have made you, Abaraham, a father of the nations who believe in the Adanay in uncircumcision.

14 Yea; but let us inquire whether he has given the covenant that he swear to the fathers that he would give to the people. Truly he has given it; but they were not worthy to receive it on account of their sins.² For the prophet says, And Mashah was fasting in Mount Sayanay forty days and forty nights, that he might receive the covenant which the Adanay has made with his people. And he received from the Adanay the two tables that were written in the spirit with the finger of the hand of the Adanay. And Mashah, when he had received them, was bringing them down to the people for to give them.³ And the Adanay said to Mashah, Mashah, Mashah, get you down quickly, for your people, whom you brought out of the land of Matzarayam, have done unlawfully. And Mashah perceived that they had again made molten images, and he cast the tables from his hands, and the tables of the covenant of the Adanay were broken.⁴ Mashah indeed received them, but the people were not worthy. Hearken you, therefore, how we have received them. Mashah received them being a servant, but the Adanay himself gave to us to be a people of inheritance, having suffered for our sake.⁵ And he was made manifest, that both they might be made perfect in their sins, and that we, through him that inherited, might receive the covenant of the Adanay Yashawai, For; for this purpose was prepared, that by appearing himself and redeeming from darkness our hearts, which were already consumed by death, and given over to the iniquity of deceit, he might place in us the covenant of his people.⁶ For it is written how the Father gives commandment to him, that having redeemed us from darkness, he should prepare for himself a holy people.⁷ Therefore the prophet says, I, the Adanay your Alahayam, have called you in righteousness, and I will hold your hand and make you strong; and I have given you for a covenant to the nation, for a light to the Gentiles, to open the eyes of the blind, and to bring out of chains them that are bound, and from the house of prison them that sit in darkness. Learn, therefore from whence we were redeemed.⁸ And again, the prophet says, Behold, I have placed you for a light to the Gentiles, that you should be for a salvation even to the end of the earth; thus says the Adanay Alahayam who has redeemed you.⁹ And again, the prophet says, The Spirit of the Adanay is upon me, because he has anointed; he has sent me to preach the gospel to the poor, to heal those that are broken in heart, to preach deliverance to the captives, and the recovery of sight to the blind, to tell of the acceptable year of the Adanay, and the day of recompense, to comfort all that mourn.

15 And, moreover, concerning the sabbath it is written in the ten commandments, in which he spoke on Mount Sayanay to Mashah face to face: Sanctify you the sabbath of the Adanay with pure hands and a pure heart.² And in another place he says, If my sons shall keep my sabbath, then will I place my mercy upon them.³ He speaks, too, of the sabbath in the beginning of the creation: And

Alahayam made in six days the works of his hands, and finished them on the seventh day, and rested in it and sanctified it.⁴ Consider, my children, what signify the words, He finished them in six days. They mean this: that in six thousand years the Adanay will make an end of all things, for a day is with him as a thousand years. And he himself bears witness to me, saying: Behold this day a day shall be as a thousand years. Therefore, my children, in six days, that is in six thousand years, shall all things be brought to an end.⁵ And the words, He rested on the seventh day, signify this: After that his Son has come, and has caused to cease the time of the wicked one, and has judged the ungodly, and changed the sun and the moon and the stars, then shall he rest well on the seventh day.⁶ And further he says, You shall sanctify it with pure hands and a pure heart. Who, therefore, can sanctify the day which the Adanay has sanctified, unless he be pure of heart? If, therefore, we think that any one can sanctify the day that the Adanay has sanctified, unless he be pure of heart in all things, we are deceived.⁷ Behold, therefore, who it is that rests properly and sanctifieth it; even when we ourselves, having first been sanctified, having been justified, and having received the promise, when iniquity exists no longer, but all things have become new, we shall then be able to sanctify it.⁸ And, further, he says to them, Your new moons and your sabbaths I cannot endure. See, now, what he means. Your sabbaths, as they now are, are not acceptable to me, but that which I have made is, even that in which, after that I have brought all things to an end, I shall make a beginning of the eighth day, which thing is the beginning of another world.⁹ Therefore we keep the eighth day as a day of gladness, on which also Yashawai rose from the dead, and after he had appeared ascended to heaven.

16 And I will, moreover, tell you concerning the temple, how these wretched men, being deceived, placed their hopes in the building as if it were the habitation of Alahayam, and not on the Alahayam who had made them.² For almost after the manner of the Gentiles did they consecrate him in the temple. But what says the Adanay, making it of none effect? Hearken you: Who has measured out the heaven with his palm, or the earth with the flat of his hand, is it not I? says the Adanay. Heaven is my throne, and earth the footstool of my feet. What house will you build for me, or what shall be the place of my rest? Hence you may that their hope is vain.³ And, yet further, he says again, Behold they that have destroyed this temple shall rebuild it.⁴ And so does it happen, for through their wars it was destroyed by the enemy, and now both they themselves and their enemies shall rebuild it.⁵ And again it was made manifest how the temple and the people of Yasharaal should be given up to their enemies. For the scripture says, And it shall come to pass in the last days that the Adanay shall deliver up the sheep of his pasture, and their fold and their tower shall he give up to destruction; and it happened according to that which the Adanay had spoken.⁶ Let us inquire, therefore, whether there be any temple of Alahayam. There is; even where he himself has declared that he would make and perfect it. For it is written, And it shall be when the week is completed that the temple of the Adanay shall be built gloriously in the name of the Adanay.⁷ I find, therefore, that there is a temple; how then shall it be built in the name of the Adanay? Learn you. Before that we believed in Alahayam the habitation of our heart was corrupt and feeble, as being of a truth a temple built by hands. For it was full of idolatry, and was a habitation of devils, because we did such things as were contrary to Alahayam;⁸ but it shall be built in the name of the Adanay. What mean these words? Attend you: that the temple of the Adanay may be built gloriously. But in what manner? Learn you: having received the remission of our sins, and having hoped upon the name of the Adanay, we have become new, having been again created entirely. Therefore Alahayam of a truth dwells in us as in an habitation.⁹ How? The word of his faith, the calling of his promise, the wisdom of his ordinances, the commandments of his doctrine, he himself prophesying in us, he himself dwelling in us. To us, who were enslaved by death, he opens the gate of the temple, which is his mouth, and, giving us repentance, leads us into the temple incorruptible.¹⁰ For he who desires to be saved looks not to the man, but to him that dwells and speaks in man, wondering that he had never before heard him speaking such words out of his mouth, or even desired to hear. This is the spiritual temple built by the Adanay.

17 So far as it is possible for me to show you these things with simplicity, my mind and soul hopes that I have not omitted any of the things that pertain to salvation;² for if I write to you concerning the things that are at hand, or the things that will be hereafter, you would not be able to understand them, because they are couched in parables. These things, therefore, are thus.

18 Let us pass on now to another kind of knowledge and instruction; for there are two paths of instruction and authority -- the one that of light, and the other that of darkness. But there is a great difference between the two paths. For over the one are appointed as illuminators the angels of Alahayam, over the other the angels of Satan;² on the one side is he who is Adanay from everlasting to everlasting, on the other is the ruler of the world that now lies in wickedness.

19 Now, the path of life is this: If any one wishes to travel to the appointed place, let him hasten by means of his works. Now, the knowledge of walking in it that is given to us is of this kind:² You shall love him that made you, you shall fear him that formed you, you shall glorify him that redeemed you from death. You shall be simple in heart, and rich in spirit; you shall not cleave to them that go in the path of death. You shall hate whatever is not pleasing to Alahayam; you shall hate all hypocrisy; you shall not abandon the commandments of the Adanay;³ you shall be humble in all things; you shall not take glory to yourself; you shall not take evil counsel against your neighbour, you shall not take audacity into your soul.⁴ You shall not commit fornication, you shall not commit adultery. You shall not pollute yourself with mankind: let not the word of Alahayam go forth from you in corruption. You shall not accept the person of any man when you reprovost him for transgression. You shall be gentle, you shall be quiet; you shall tremble at the words that you have heard; you shall not bear malice against your brother;⁵ you shall not doubt whether a thing shall be or not; you shall not take the name of the Adanay in vain. You shall love your neighbour beyond your own soul; you shall not kill a child by abortion, neither shall you destroy it after it is born. You shall not remove your hand from your son or your daughter, but shall teach them from their youth the fear of the Adanay.⁶ You shall not covet your neighbour's goods, you shall not be an extortioner; neither shall your soul cleave to the proud, but you shall have your conversation with the lowly and the just. Receive as blessings the troubles that come to you, knowing that without Alahayam nothing happens.⁷ You shall not be double-minded nor double-tongued, for to be double-tongued is the snare of death. You shall submit yourself to your masters as to the image of Alahayam, with shame and fear. You shall not give commands with bitterness to your servant and your handmaid, who hope in the same Alahayam as you do, lest, perchance, you cease to fear Alahayam, who is over both. For he came not to call men with respect of persons, but to call those whom the Spirit had prepared.⁸ You shall communicate in all things with your neighbour, and shall not say that things are your own. For if you be partners in that which is incorruptible, how much more in the things that are corruptible? You shall not be hasty of speech, for the mouth is a snare of death. As far as you are able you shall be pure concerning your soul.⁹ Be not a stretcher forth of your hand in receiving, and a drawer back of it in giving. You shall love, as the apple of your eye, every one that speaks to you the word of the Adanay.¹⁰ You shall remember the day of judgment by night and by day; and you shall seek out every day the persons of the saints.¹¹ You shall not doubt to give, nor shall you murmur in giving. Give to every one that asks you, and you shall know who is the good recompenser of the reward. You shall take care of that which you have received, neither adding thereto, nor taking therefrom. You shall hate the evil man to the end, and shall judge justly.¹² You shall not make a schism, but shall make peace by bringing adversaries together. You shall make confession of your sins. You shall not go to prayer with an evil conscience. This is the way of life.

20 But the path of darkness is crooked and full of cursing, for it is the path of eternal death and punishment, in which way are the things that destroy the soul. Idolatry, boldness, the pride of power, hypocrisy, double-heartedness, adultery, murder, rape, haughtiness, transgression, deceit, malice, self-will, witchcraft, sorcery, covetousness, want of the fear of Alahayam.² Here are they who are persecutors of the good, haters of truth, lovers of lies; they who know not the reward of righteousness, who cleave not to what is good nor to just judgment; who attend not to the widow and the orphan; who are awake not to the fear of Alahayam, but to evil; from whom meekness and patience are afar off; who love the things that are vain, who follow after recompense, who pity not the poor, who labour not for him who is in trouble; who are prompt to Awayal-speaking, who know not him that made them; murderers of children, corruptors of the image of Alahayam; who turn away from the poor man and oppress the afflicted; advocates of the rich, unjust judges of the poor, sinners in all things.

21 It is therefore right that he who has learned the ordinances of the Adanay, even as many as have been written beforehand, should walk in them. For he who does these things shall be glorified in the Kingdom of Alahayam, but he who has chosen the contrary things shall perish together with his works. On this account is the resurrection; on this account is the retribution.² I ask those who are of high estate among you, if you will receive any friendly advice from me, to keep among you those to whom you may do good and desert them not. Abandon not that which is good.³ for the day is at hand in which everything shall perish together with the evil one; for the Adanay is nigh at hand, and his reward is with him.⁴ And yet once more do I ask you, be you good law-givers. Abide faithful counsellors of one another; take out of the midst of you all hypocrisy,⁵ and may Alahayam, who rules the whole world, give you wisdom, understanding, science, knowledge of his ordinances, and patience.⁶ And be you taught of Alahayam, inquiring what the Adanay seeks of you, and so work that you may be found saved in the day of judgment.⁷ But if there is any memory of that which is good, remember me while you practise these things, that both your desire and your watching may turn to some good.⁸ I beseech you this, asking it as a favour. So long as the good vessel is with you, fail not in any of these things, but seek them out without ceasing, and fulfil all the commandments, for these things are worthy.⁹ Therefore I have been the more anxious to write to you, so far as I was able, to the end that I might make you glad. Farewell, children of love and peace; the Alahayam of glory and of all grace be with your spirit. Amen.

Shepherd of Hermas I

1 He who had bred me up sold a certain young maid at Rome; whom when I saw many years after, I remembered her, and began to love her as a sister. It happened some time afterwards, that I saw her washing in the river. Tyber; and I reached out my hand to her, and brought her out of the river. ² And when I saw her I thought with myself, saying, How happy should I be if I had such a wife, both for beauty and manners. This I thought with myself; nor did I think any thing more. But not long after, as I was walking, and musing on these thoughts, I began to honour this creature of Alahayam, thinking with myself; how noble and beautiful she was. ³ And when I had walked a little, I fell asleep; and the spirit caught me away, and carried me through a certain place towards the right hand, through which no man could pass. It was a place among rocks, very steep, and unpassable for water. ⁴ When I was past this place, I came into a plain; and there falling down upon my knees, I began to pray to the Adanay, and to confess my sins. ⁵ And as I was praying, the heaven was opened, and I saw the woman which I had coveted, saluting me from heaven, and saying, Hermas, hail! and I looking upon her, answered, Lady, what do you do here? She answered me, I am taken up here to accuse you of sin before the Adanay. ⁶ Lady, said I, will you convince me? No, said she: but hear the words which I am about to speak to you. Alahayam who dwells in heaven, and has made all things out of nothing, and has multiplied them for his holy church's sake, is angry with you because you have sinned against me. ⁷ And I answering said to her, Lady, if I have sinned against you, tell me where, or in what place, or when did I ever speak an unseemly or dishonest word to you? ⁸ Have I not always esteemed you as a lady? Have I not always revered you as a sister? Why then do you imagine these wicked things against me? ⁹ Then she, smiling upon me, said: the desire of naughtiness has risen up in your heart. Does it not seem to you to be an ill thing for a righteous man to have an evil desire rise up in his heart. ¹⁰ It is indeed a sin, and that a very great sin, to such a one; for a righteous man thinks that which is righteous. And whilst he does so, and walks uprightly, he shall have the Adanay in heaven favourable to him in all his business. ¹¹ But as for those who think wickedly in their hearts, they take to themselves death and captivity; and especially those who love this present world, and glory in their riches, and regard not the good things that are to come; their souls wander up and down and know not where to fix. ¹² Now this is the case of such as are double-minded, who trust not in the Adanay, and despise and neglect their own life. ¹³ But do you pray to the Adanay, and he will heal your sins, and the sins of your whole house, and of all his saints. ¹⁴ As soon as she had spoken these words the heaven were shut, and I remained utterly swallowed up with sadness and fear: and said within myself, if this be laid against me for sin, how can I be saved. ¹⁵ Or how should I ever be able to entreat the Adanay for my many and great sins? With what words shall I beseech him to be merciful to me? ¹⁶ As I was thinking over these things, and meditating in myself upon them, behold a chair was set over against me of the whitest wool, as bright as snow. ¹⁷ And there came an old woman in a bright garment, having a book in her hand, and sat alone, and saluted me, saying, Hermas, hail! and I being full of sorrow and weeping, answered, Hail Lady! ¹⁸ And she said to me, Why are you sad, Hermas, who were wont to be patient, and modest, and always cheerful? I answered, and said to her, Lady, a reproach has been laid to my charge by an excellent woman, who tells me that I have sinned against her. ¹⁹ She replied, Far be any such thing from the servant of Alahayam. But it may be the desire of her has risen up in your heart? For indeed such a thought makes the servants of Alahayam guilty of sin. ²⁰ Nor ought such a detestable thought to be in the servant of Alahayam: nor should he who is approved by the Spirit desire that which is evil; but especially Hermas, who contains himself from all wicked lusts, and is full of all simplicity, and of great innocence. ²¹ Nevertheless the Adanay is not so much angry with you for your own sake, as upon the account of your house, which has committed wickedness against the Adanay, and against their parents. ²² And for that out of your fondness towards your sons, you have not admonished your house, but have permitted them to live wickedly; for this cause the Adanay is angry with you: but he will heal all the evils that are done in your house. For through their sins and iniquities, you are wholly consumed in secular affairs. ²³ But now the mercy of Alahayam has taken compassion upon you, and upon your house, and has greatly comforted you. Only as for you, do not wander, but be of an even mind, and comfort your house. ²⁴ As the workman bringing forth his work, offers it to whomsoever he pleases; so shall you by teaching every day what is just, cut off a great sin. Therefore cease not to admonish your sons, for the Adanay knows that they will repent with all their heart, and they shall be written in the book of life. ²⁵ And when she had said this, she added to me; Will you hear me read? I answered her, Lady, I will. ²⁶ Hear then, said she; and opening the book she read, gloriously, greatly, and wonderfully, such things as I could not keep in my memory. For they were terrible words, such as no man could bear. ²⁷ How it be I committed her last words to my remembrance; for they were but few, and of great use to us: ²⁸ Behold the mighty Adanay, who by his invisible power, and with his excellent wisdom made the world, and by his glorious counsel beautified his creature, and with the word of his strength fixed the heaven, and founded the earth upon the waters; and by his powerful virtue established the Holy Church, which he has blessed. ²⁹ Behold he will remove the heavens, and the mountains, the hills, and the seas; and all things shall be made plain for his elect; that he may render to them the promise which he has promised, with much honour and joy; if so be that they shall keep the commandments of Alahayam, which they have received with great faith. ³⁰ And when she had made an end of reading, she rose out of the chair; and behold four young men came, and carried the chair to the east. ³¹ And she called me to her, and touched my breast, and said to me, Did my reading please you? I answered, Lady, these last things please me; but what went before was severe and hard. ³² She said to me, these last things are for the righteous, but the foregoing for the revolvers and heathen. ³³ And as she was talking with me, two men appeared, and took her upon their shoulders, and went to the east where the chair was. ³⁴ And she went cheerfully away; and as she was going, said to me, Hermas, be of good cheer.

2 As I was on the way to Cuma, about the same time that I went the year before, I began to call to mind the vision I formerly had. And again the spirit carried me away, and brought me into the same place, in which I had been the year before. ² And when I was come into the place, I fell down upon my knees, and began to pray to the Adanay, and to glorify his name, that he had esteemed me worthy, and had manifested to me my former sins. ³ And when I arose from prayer, behold I saw over against me the old woman whom I had seen the last year, walking and reading in a certain book. ⁴ And she said to me, Can you tell these things to the elect of Alahayam? I answered and said to her, Lady, I cannot retain so many things in my memory, but give me the book, and I will write them down. ⁵ Take it, says she, and see that you restore it again to me. ⁶ As soon as I had received it, I went aside into a certain place of the field, and transcribe every letter, for I found no syllables. ⁷ And as soon as I had finished what was written in the book, the book was suddenly caught out of my hand, but by whom I saw not.⁸ After fifteen days, when I had fasted, and entreated the Adanay with all earnestness, the knowledge of the writing was revealed to me. Now the writing was this: —⁹ Your seed, O Hermas! has sinned against the Adanay, and have betrayed their parents, through their great wickedness. And they have been called the betrayers of their parents, and have gone on in their treachery.¹⁰ And now have they added lewdness to their other sins, and the pollutions of their naughtiness: thus have they filled up the measure of their iniquities. But do you upbraid your sons with all these words; and your wife, who shall be as your sister; and let her learn to refrain her tongue, with which she calumniates.¹¹ And when she shall hear these things, she will refrain herself, and shall obtain mercy.¹² And they also shall be instructed, when you shall have reproached them with these words, which the Adanay has commanded to be revealed to them.¹³ Then shall their sins be forgiven, which they have heretofore committed, and the sins of all the saints who have sinned even to this day; if they shall repent with all their hearts, and remove all doubts out of their hearts.¹⁴ For the Adanay has sworn by his glory concerning his elect, having determined this very time, that if any one shall even now sin, he shall not be saved.¹⁵ For the repentance of the righteous has its end; the days of repentance are fulfilled to all the saints; but to the heathen, there is repentance even to the last day.¹⁶ You shall therefore say to those who are over the church, that they order their ways in righteousness; so that they may fully receive the promise with much glory.¹⁷ Stand fast therefore you that work righteousness and continue to do it, that your departure may be with the holy angels.¹⁸ Happy are you, as many as shall endure the great trial that is at hand, and whosoever shall not deny his life.¹⁹ For the Adanay has sworn by his Son, that whoso, denies his Son and HIM, being afraid of his life, he will also deny him in the world that is to come.²⁰ But those who shall never deny him, he will of his exceeding great mercy be favourable to them.²¹ But you, O Hermas! remember not the evils which your sons have done, neither neglect your sister, but take care that they amend of their former sins.²² For they will be instructed by this doctrine, if you shall not be mindful of what they have done wickedly.²³ For the remembrance of evils works death, but the forgetting of them eternal life.²⁴ But you, O Hermas! have undergone a great many worldly troubles for the offences of your house, because you have neglected them, as things that did not belong to you; and you are wholly taken up with your great business.²⁵ Nevertheless, for this cause shall you be saved, that you have not departed from the living Alahayam, and your simplicity and singular continency shall preserve you, if you shall continue in them.²⁶ Yes, they shall save all such as do such things, and walk in innocence and simplicity.²⁷ They who are of this kind shall prevail against all impiety, and continue until life eternal.²⁸ Happy are all they that do righteousness, they shall not be consumed for ever.²⁹ But you will say, Behold there is a great trial coming. If it seem good to you, deny him again.³⁰ The Adanay is nigh to them that turn to him, as it is written in the book of Heldam and Modal, who prophesied to the people of Yasharaal in the wilderness.³¹ Moreover, brethren, it was revealed to me, as I was sleeping, by a very goodly young man, saying to me, What think you of that old woman from whom you receive the book; who is she? I answered, a Sybil.³² You are mistaken said he, she is not. I replied, Who is she then, sir? He answered me, It is the church of Alahayam.³³ And I said to him, Why then does she appear old? She is therefore, said he, an old woman, because she was the first of all the creation, and the world was made for her.³⁴ After this I saw a vision at home in my own house, and the old woman, whom I had seen before, came to me and asked me whether I had yet delivered her book to the elders of the church? And I answered, that I had not yet.³⁵ She replied, You have well done, for I have certain words more to tell you. But when I shall have finished all the words, they shall be clearly understood by the elect.³⁶ And you shall write two books, and send one to Clement and one to Grapte. For Clement shall send it to the foreign cities, because it is permitted to him so to do: but Grapte shall admonish the widows and orphans.³⁷ But you shall read in this city with the elders of the church.

3 The vision which I saw, brethren, was this.² When I had often fasted and prayed to the Adanay, that he would manifest to me the revelation, which he had promised by the old woman to show to me; the same night she appeared to me, and said to me,³ Because you do thus afflict yourself, and art so desirous to know all things, come into the field, where you will, and about the sixth hour, I will appear to you, and show you what you must see.⁴ I asked her, saying; Lady, into what part of the field? She answered, wherever you will, only choose a good and a private place. And before I began to speak and tell her the place, she said to me; I will come where you will.⁵ I was therefore, brethren in the field and I observed the hours, and came into the place where I had appointed her to come.⁶ And I beheld a bench placed; it was a linen pillow, and over it spread a covering of fine linen.⁷ When I saw these things ordered in this manner, and that there was nobody in the place, I began to be astonished, and my hair stood on end, and a, kind of horror seized me; for I was alone.⁸ But being come to myself, and calling to mind the glory of Alahayam, and taking courage, I fell down upon my knees and began again to confess my sins as before.⁹ And whilst I was doing this, the old woman came there with the six young men whom I had seen before, and stood behind me as I was praying, and heard me praying and confessing my sins to the Adanay.¹⁰ And touching me, she said; Leave off praying now only for your sins; pray also for righteousness, that you may receive a part of it in your house.¹¹ And she lifted me up from the place, and took me by the hand, and brought me to the seat; and said to the young men, go, and build.¹² As soon as they were departed, and we were alone, she said to me; sit here. I answered her; Lady, let those who are elder sit first. She replied, Sit down as I bid you.¹³ And when I would have sat on the right side, she suffered me not, but made a sign to me with her hand, that I should sit on the left.¹⁴ As I was therefore musing, and full of sorrow, that she would not suffer me to sit on the right side, she said to me, Hermas, why are you sad?¹⁵ The place which is on the right hand is theirs who have already attained to Alahayam, and have suffered for his name-sake. But there is yet a great deal remaining to you, before you can sit with them.¹⁶ But continue as you do, in your sincerity, and you shall sit with them; as all others shall, who do their works, and shall bear what they have borne.¹⁷ I said to her; Lady, I would know what it is that they have suffered? Hear then, said she: wild beasts, scourgings, imprisonments, and crosses for his name-sake.¹⁸ For this cause the right hand of holiness belongs to them, and to all others as many as shall suffer for the name of Alahayam; but the left belongs to the rest.¹⁹ Howbeit the gifts and the promises belong to both, to them on the right, and to those on the left hand; only that sitting on the right hand they have some glory above the others.²⁰ But you are desirous to sit on the right hand with them, and yet your defects are many. But you shall be purged from your defects, as also all who doubt not shall be cleansed from all the sins which they have committed to this day.²¹ And when she had said this she would have departed.²² Therefore, falling down before her feet, I began to entreat her, for the Adanay's sake, that she would show me the vision which she had promised.²³ Then she again took me by the hand, and lifted me up, and made me sit upon the seat at the left side; and holding up a certain bright wand, said to me, See you that great thing? I replied, Lady, I see nothing.²⁴ She answered, Do you not see over against you a great tower, which is built upon the water with bright square stones?²⁵ For the tower was built upon a square by these six young men that came with her.²⁶ But many thousand of other men brought stones; some drew them out of the deep, others carried them from the ground, and gave them to the six young men; and they took them and built.²⁷ As for those stones which were drawn out of the deep, they put them all into the building; for they were polished, and their squares exactly answered one another, and so one was joined in such wise to the other, that there was no space to be seen

where they joined, insomuch that the whole tower appeared to be built as it were of one stone.²⁸ But as for the other stones that were taken off from the ground, some of them they rejected, others they fitted into the building.²⁹ As for those which were rejected, some they cut out, and cast them at a distance from the tower; but many others of them lay round about the tower, which they made no use of in the building.³⁰ For some of these were rough, others had clefts in them, others were white and round, not proper for the building of the tower.³¹ But I saw the other stones cast afar off from the tower, and falling into the high-way, and yet not continuing in the way, but were rolled from the way into a desert place.³² Others I saw falling into the fire and burning; others fell near the water, yet could not roll themselves into it, though very desirous to fall into the water.³³ And when she had showed me these things she would have departed; but I said to her, Lady, what does it profit me to see these things, and not understand what they mean? ³⁴ She answered and said to me; You are very cunning, in that you are desirous to know those things which relate to the tower. Yea, said I, lady, that I may declare them to the brethren, and they may rejoice, and hearing these things may glorify Alahayam with great glory.³⁵ Then she said, Many indeed shall hear them, and when they shall have heard them, some shall rejoice, and others weep. And yet even these, if they shall repent, shall rejoice too.³⁶ Hear therefore what I shall say concerning the parable of the tower, and after this be no longer importunate with me about the revelation.³⁷ For these revelations have an end, seeing they are fulfilled. But you do not leave off to desire revelations, for you are very urgent.³⁸ As for the tower which you see built, it is myself, namely, the church, which have appeared to you both now and heretofore. Therefore ask what you will concerning the tower, and I will reveal it to you, that you may rejoice with the saints.³⁹ I said to her, Lady, because you have thought me once worthy to receive from you the revelation of all these things, declare them to me.⁴⁰ She answered me, Whatsoever is fit to be revealed to you shall be revealed: only yet your heart be with the Adanay, and doubt not, whatsoever you shall see.⁴¹ I asked her, Lady, why is the tower built upon the water? She replied, I said before to you that you were very wise to inquire diligently concerning the building, therefore you shall find the truth.⁴² Hear therefore why the tower is built upon the water: because your life is and shall be saved by water. For it is founded by the word of the almighty and honourable name, and is supported by the invisible power and virtue of Alahayam.⁴³ And I answering, said to her, These things are very admirable; but, lady, who are those six young men that build? ⁴⁴ They are, said she, the angels of Alahayam, who were first appointed, and to whom the Adanay has delivered all his creatures, to frame and build them up, and to rule over them. For by these the building of the tower shall be finished.⁴⁵ And who are the rest who bring them stones? ⁴⁶ They also are the holy angels of the Adanay; but the others are more excellent than these. Therefore when the whole building of the tower shall be finished, they shall all feast together beside the tower, and shall glorify Alahayam, because the structure of the tower is finished.⁴⁷ I asked her, saying, I would know the condition of the stones, and what the meaning of them is? ⁴⁸ She answering, said to me, Are you better than all others that this should be revealed to you? For others are both before you and better than you are, to whom these visions should be made manifest.⁴⁹ Nevertheless, that the name of Alahayam may be glorified, it has been shown and shall be revealed to you, for the sake of those who are doubtful, and think in their hearts whether these things are so or not.⁵⁰ Tell them that all these things are true, and that there is nothing in them that is not true but all are firm and truly established.⁵¹ Hear now then concerning the stones that are in the building.⁵² The square and white stones which agree exactly in their joints, are the apostles, and bishops, and doctors, and ministers, who through the mercy of Alahayam have come in, and governed, and taught and ministered holily and modestly to the elect of Alahayam, both they that have fallen asleep, and which yet remain; and have always agreed with them, and have had peace within themselves, and have heard each other.⁵³ For which cause their joints exactly meet together in the building of the tower.⁵⁴ They which are drawn out of the deep and put into the building, and whose joints agree with the other stones which are already built, are those which are already fallen asleep, and have suffered for the sake of the Adanay's name.⁵⁵ And what are the other stones, lady, that are brought from the earth? I would know what are they.⁵⁶ She answered, They which lie upon the ground and are not polished, are those which Alahayam has approved, because they have walked in I the law of the Adanay, and directed their ways in his commandments.⁵⁷ They which are brought and put in the building of the tower, are the young in faith and the faithful. And these are admonished by the angels to do well because iniquity is not found in them.⁵⁸ But who are those whom they rejected, and laid beside the tower? ⁵⁹ They are such as have sinned and are willing to repent; for which cause they are not cast far from the tower, because they will be useful for the building, if they shall repent.⁶⁰ They therefore that are yet to repent, if they repent they shall become strong in the faith; that is, if they repent now, whilst the tower is building. For if the building shall be finished there will then be no place for them to be put in, but they shall be rejected; for he only has this privilege who shall now be put into the tower.⁶¹ But would you know who they are that were cut out, and cast afar off from the tower? Lady said I, I desire it.⁶² They are the children of iniquity, who believed only in hypocrisy, and departed not from their evil ways; for this cause they shall not be saved, because they are not of any use in the building by reason of their sins.⁶³ Therefore they are cut out, and cast afar off, because of the anger of the Adanay, and because they have provoked him to anger against them.⁶⁴ As for the great number of other stones which you have seen placed about the tower, but now put into the building; those which are rugged, are they who have known the truth, but have not continued in it, nor been joined to the saints, and therefore are unprofitable.⁶⁵ Those that have clefts in them, are they that keep up discord in their hearts against each other, and live not in peace; that are friendly when present with their brethren, but as soon as they are departed from one another, their wickedness still continues in their hearts: these are the clefts which are seen in those stones.⁶⁶ Those that are maimed and short, are they who have believed indeed, but still are in great measure full of wickedness; for this cause they are maimed and not whole.⁶⁷ But what are the white and round stones, lady, and which are not proper for the building of the tower? ⁶⁸ She answering said to me: How long will you continue foolish and without understanding, asking everything and discerning nothing? ⁶⁹ They are such as have faith indeed, but have withal the riches of this present world. When therefore any troubles arise, for the sake of their riches and traffic, they deny the Adanay.⁷⁰ I answering, said to her, When therefore will they be profitable to the Adanay? When their riches shall be cut away, says she, in which they take delight, then they will be profitable to the Adanay for his building.⁷¹ For as a round stone, unless it be cut away and is cast somewhat of its bulk, cannot be made square, so they who are rich in this world; unless their riches be pared off; cannot be made profitable to the Adanay.⁷² Learn this from your own experience: when you were rich, you were unprofitable; but now you are profitable, and fit for the life which you have undertaken; for you also once was one of those stones.⁷³ As for the rest of the stones which you saw cast afar off from the tower, and running in the way, and tumbled out of the way into desert places; they are such as have believed indeed, but through their doubting have forsaken the true way, thinking that they could find a better. But they wander and are miserable, going into desolate ways.⁷⁴ Then for those stones which fell into the fire and were burnt, they are those who have for ever departed from the living Alahayam; nor does it ever come into their hearts to repent, by reason of the affection which they bear to their lusts and wickedness which they commit.⁷⁵ And what are the rest which fell by the water, and could not roll into the water? ⁷⁶ They are such as have heard the word, and were willing to be baptised in the name of the Adanay; but considering the great holiness which the truth requires, have withdrawn themselves, and walked again after wicked lusts.⁷⁷ Thus she finished the explanation of the tower.⁷⁸ But I being still urgent, asked her, Is there repentance allowed to all those stones which are thus cast away, and were not suitable to the building of the tower; and shall they find place in this tower?⁷⁹ They may repent, said she, yet they cannot come into this tower; but, they shall be placed in a much lower rank, and then only after they shall have been afflicted and fulfilled the days of their sins.⁸⁰ And for this cause they shall be removed, because they have received the word of righteousness: and then they shall be translated from their afflictions, if they shall have a true sense in their hearts of what they have done amiss.⁸¹ But if they shall not have this sense in their hearts, they shall not be saved by reason of the hardness of their hearts.⁸² When therefore I had done asking her concerning all these things, she said to me, Will you see something else? And being desirous of seeing it, I became very cheerful of countenances.⁸³ She therefore looking back upon me, and smiling a little, said to me, See you seven women about the tower? Lady, said I, I see them.⁸⁴ This tower, replied she, is supported by them, according to the command of the Adanay: hear therefore the effects of them.⁸⁵ The first of them, which holds fast with her hand, is called Faith; The next, which is girt up, and looks manly, is named Abstinence: she is the daughter of Faith.⁸⁶ Whosoever therefore shall follow her shall be happy in all his life, because he shall abstain from all evil works, believing that if he shall contain himself from all concupiscence, he shall be the heir of eternal life. And what, lady, said I, are the other five?⁸⁷ They are, replied she, the daughters of one another. The first of them is called Simplicity; the next Innocence; the third Modesty; then Discipline; and the last of all is Charity. When therefore you shall have fulfilled the works of their mother, you shall be able to do all things.⁸⁸ Lady, said I, I would know what particular virtue every one of these has.⁸⁹ Hear then, replied she; they have equal virtues, and their virtues are knit together, and follow one another as they were born.⁹⁰ From Faith proceeds Abstinence; from Abstinence, Simplicity; from Simplicity, Innocence; from Innocence, Modesty; from Modesty, Discipline and Charity. Therefore the works of these are holy, and chaste, and right.⁹¹ Whoever therefore shall serve these, and hold fast to their works, he shall have his dwelling in the tower with the saints of Alahayam.⁹² Then I asked her concerning the times, whether the end were now at hand?⁹³ But she cried out with a loud voice, saying, O foolish man! Do you not see the tower yet a building? When therefore the tower shall be finished, and built, it shall have an end; and indeed it shall soon be accomplished.⁹⁴ But do not ask me any more questions. What has been said may suffice you and all the saints for the refreshment of your spirits. For these things have not been revealed to you only, but that you may make them manifest to all.⁹⁵ For therefore, O Hermas, after three days you must understand these words which I begin to speak to you, that you may speak them in the ears of the saints; that when you shall have heard and done them, they may be cleansed from their iniquities, and you together with them.⁹⁶ Hear me therefore, O my sons! I have bred you up in much simplicity, and innocency, and modesty, for the love of Alahayam, which has dropped down upon you in righteousness, that you should be sanctified and justified from all sin and wickedness; but you will not cease from your evil doings.⁹⁷ Now therefore hearken to me, and have peace one with another, and visit one another, and receive one another, and do not enjoy the creatures of Alahayam alone.⁹⁸ Give freely to them that are in need. For some by too free feeding contract an infirmity in their flesh, and do injury to their bodies; whilst the flesh of others, who have not food, withers away, because they want sufficient nourishment, and the bodies are consumed.⁹⁹ Therefore this intemperance is hurtful to you, who have, and do not contribute to them that want. Prepare for the judgment that is about to come upon you.¹⁰⁰ You that are the more eminent, search out them that are hungry, whilst the tower is yet unfinished. For when the tower shall be finished, you shall be willing to do good, and shall not find any place in it.¹⁰¹ Beware, therefore, you that glory in your riches, lest perhaps they groan who are in want, and their sighing come up to Alahayam, and you be shut out with your goods without the gate of the tower.¹⁰² Behold I now warn you who are set over the church, and love the highest seats, be not you like to those that work mischief.¹⁰³ And they indeed carry about their poison in boxes, but you contain your poison and infection in your hearts, and will not purge them, and mix your sense with a pure heart, that you might find mercy with the Great King.¹⁰⁴ Take heed, my children, that your dissensions deprive you not of your lives. How will you instruct the elect of Alahayam, when you yourselves want correction? Therefore admonish one another, and be at peace among yourselves, that I, standing before your Father, may give an account of you to the Adanay.¹⁰⁵ And when she had made an end of talking with me, the six young men that built, came and carried her to the tower; and four others took up the seat on which she sat, and they also went away again to the tower. I saw not the faces of these, for their backs were towards me.¹⁰⁶ As she was going away, I asked her, that she would reveal to me what concerned the three forms, in which she had appeared to me.¹⁰⁷ But she answering said to me, concerning these things you must ask some other, that they may be revealed to you.¹⁰⁸ Now, brethren, in the first vision the last year, she appeared to me exceedingly old, and sitting in a chair.¹⁰⁹ In another vision, she had indeed a youthful face, but her flesh and hair were old; but she talked with me standing, and was more cheerful than the first time.¹¹⁰ In the third vision, she was in all respects much younger, and comely to the eye; only she had the hair of an aged person: yet she looked cheerful, and sat upon a seat.¹¹¹ I was therefore very sad concerning these things, until I might understand the vision.¹¹² Therefore I saw the same old woman in a vision of the night saying to me, All prayer needs humiliation. Fast, therefore, and you shall learn from the Adanay that which you do ask. I fasted therefore one day.¹¹³ The same night a young man appeared to me and said, Why do you thus often desire Revelations in your prayers? Take heed that by asking many things, you hurt not the body. Let these Revelations suffice you.¹¹⁴ Can you see more notable Revelations than those which you have already received?¹¹⁵ I answered and said to him, Sir, I only ask this one thing upon the account of the three figures of the old woman that appeared to me, that the Revelation may be complete.¹¹⁶ He answered me, You are not without understanding, but your doubts make you so; for as much as you have not your heart with the Adanay.¹¹⁷ I replied and said, But we shall learn these things more carefully from you.¹¹⁸ Hear then, says he, concerning the figures about which you inquire.¹¹⁹ To begin; in the first vision she appeared to you in the shape of an old woman sitting in, a chair, because your old spirit was decayed, and without strength, by reason of your infirmities, and the doubtfulness of your heart.¹²⁰ For as they who are old have no hope of renewing themselves, nor expect any thing but their departure; so you being weakened through your worldly affairs gave yourself up to sloth, and cast not away your solicitude from yourself upon the Adanay: and your sense was confused, and you grew old in your sadness.¹²¹ But, sir, I would know why she sat upon a chair?¹²² He answered, because every one that is weak sits upon a chair by reason of his infirmity, that his weakness may be upheld. Behold therefore the figure of the first vision.¹²³ In the second vision you saw her standing, and having a youthful face, and more cheerful than her former; but her flesh and her hair were ancient. Hear, said he, this parable also.¹²⁴ When any one grows old, he despairs of himself by reason of his infirmity and poverty, and expects nothing but the last day of his life.¹²⁵ But on a sudden an inheritance is left to him, and he hears of it, and rises: and being become cheerful, he puts on new strength. And now he no longer sits down, but stands, and is delivered from his former sorrow; and sits not, but acts manfully.¹²⁶ So you, having heard the Revelation which Alahayam revealed to you, because Alahayam had compassion upon you, and renewed your spirit, both laid aside your infirmities, and strength came to you, and you grew strong in the faith; and Alahayam, seeing your strength, rejoiced.¹²⁷ For this cause he showed you the building of the tower, and will show other things to you, if you shall have peace with all your heart among each other.¹²⁸ But in the third vision you saw her yet younger, fair and cheerful, and of a serene countenance.¹²⁹ For, as if some good news comes to him that is sad, he straightway forgets his sadness, and regards nothing else but the good news which he has heard; and for the rest he is comforted, and his spirit is renewed through the joy which he has received even so you have been refreshed in your spirit by seeing these good things.¹³⁰ And for that you saw her sitting upon a bench, it denotes a strong position; because a bench has four feet, and stands strongly. And even the world itself is upheld by the four elements.¹³¹ They therefore that repent perfectly, shall be young; and they that turn from their sins with their whole heart, shall be established.¹³² And now you have the Revelation fully, ask no more to have any thing farther revealed to you.¹³³ But if any thing is to be revealed, it shall be made manifest to you.

4 Saw a vision brethren, twenty days after the former vision; a representation of the tribulation that is at hand. I was walking in the field way.² Now from the public way to the place where I went is about ten furlongs; it is a way very little frequented.³ And as I was walking alone, I entreated the Adanay that he would confirm the Revelations which he had shown to me by his Holy Church.⁴ And would grant repentance to all his servants who had been offended, that his great and honourable name might be glorified, and because he thought me worthy to whom he might show his wonders, and, that I might honour him, and give thanks to him.⁵ And behold somewhat like a voice answered me; Doubt not, Hermas. Therefore I began to think, and say within myself, why should I doubt, seeing I am thus settled by the Adanay, and have seen such glorious things?⁶ I had gone but a little farther, brethren, when behold I saw a dust rise up to heaven. I began to say within myself, is there a drove of cattle coming, that rises such a dust?⁷ It was about a furlong off from me. And behold I saw the dust rise more and more, insomuch that I began to suspect that there was somewhat extraordinary in it.⁸ And the sun shone a little; and behold I saw a great beast, as it were a whale; and fiery locusts came out of his mouth. The height of the beast was about a hundred feet, and he had a head like a large earthen vessel.⁹ I began to weep, and to pray to the Adanay that he would deliver me from it. Then I called to mind the word which I had heard; Doubt not, Hermas.¹⁰ Therefore, brethren, putting on a divine faith, and remembering who it was that had taught me great things, I delivered myself bodily to the beast.¹¹ Now the beast came on in such a manner, as if it could at once have devoured a city.¹² I came near to it, and the beast extended its whole bulk upon the ground, and put forth nothing but its tongue, nor once moved itself till I had quite passed by it.¹³ Now the beast had upon its head four colours; first black, then a red and bloody colour, then a golden, and then a white.¹⁴ After that I had passed by it, and was gone forward about thirty feet, behold there met me a certain virgin, well adorned as if she had been just come out of her bride-chamber; all in white, having on white shoes, and a veil down her face, and covered with shining hair.¹⁵ Now I knew by my former visions that it was the church, and thereupon grew the more cheerful. She saluted me, saying, Hail, O Man! I returned the salutation, saying, Lady, Hail!¹⁶ She answering said to me, Did nothing meet you, O man! I replied, Lady, there met me such a beast, as seemed able to devour a whole people; but by the power of Alahayam, and through his singular mercy, I escaped it.¹⁷ You did escape it well, said she, because you did cast your whole care upon Alahayam, and opened your heart to him, believing that you could be safe by no other than by his great and honourable name.¹⁸ For this cause the Adanay sent his angel, who is over the beast, whose name is Hegrin, and stopped his mouth, that he should not devour you, You have escaped a great trial through your faith, and because you did not doubt for such a terrible beast.¹⁹ Go, therefore, and relate to the elect of Alahayam the great things that he has done for you. And you shall say to them, that this beast is the figure of the trial that is about to come.²⁰ If, therefore, you shall have prepared yourselves, you may escape it, if your hearts be pure and without spot; and if you shall serve Alahayam all the rest of your days without complaint.²¹ Cast all your care upon the Adanay, and he will direct them. Believe in Alahayam, you doubtful, because he can do all things; he can both turn away his wrath from you, and send you help and security.²² Woe to the doubtful, to those who shall hear these words, and shall despise them: it had been better for them that they had not been born.²³ Then I asked her concerning the four colours which the beast had upon its head. But she answered me saying; Again you are curious in that you asks concerning these things. But I said to her, Lady, chew me what they are?²⁴ Hear, said she; The black which you saw denotes the world in which you dwell. The fiery and bloody colour signifies that this age must be destroyed by fire and blood.²⁵ The golden part are you, who have escaped out of it; for as gold is tried by the fire, and is made profitable, so are you also in like manner tried who dwell among the men of this world.²⁶ They therefore, that shall endure to the end, and be proved by them, shall be purged. And as gold, by this trial, is cleansed and loses its dross, so shall you also cast away all sorrow and trouble, and be made pure for the building of the tower.²⁷ But the white colour denotes the time of the world which is to come, in which the elect of Alahayam shall dwell: because the elect of Alahayam shall be pure and without spot until life eternal.²⁸ Therefore do not you cease to speak these thing in the ears of the saints. Here you have the figure of the great tribulation that is about to come; which, if you please, shall be nothing to you.²⁹ When she had spoken thus much, she departed; but I saw not where she went. But suddenly I heard a noise, and I turned back, being afraid, for I thought that the beast was coming toward me.

1 First of all believe that there is one Alahayam who created and brought all things out of nothing into existence. ² He comprehends all things, and is only INFINITE, not to be comprehended by any. ³ Who can neither be defined by any words, nor conceived by the mind. ⁴ Therefore believe in him, and fear him; and fearing him abstain from all evil. ⁵ Keep these things, and cast all lust and iniquity far from you, and put on righteousness, and you shall live to Alahayam, if you shall keep his commandment.

2 He said to me, Be innocent and without disguise; so shall you be like an infant who knows no malice which destroys the life of man. ² Especially see that you speak evil of none, nor willingly hear any one speak evil of others. ³ For if you observe not this, you also who hear shall be partaker of the sin of him that speaks evil, by believing the slander, and you also shall have sin, because you believe him that spoke evil of your brother. ⁴ Detraction is a pernicious thing; an inconstant, evil spirit; that never continues in peace, but is always in discord. Therefore refrain yourself from it, and keep peace ever more with your brother. ⁵ Pawat on an holy constancy, in which there are no sins, but all is full of joy; and do good of your labours. ⁶ Give without distinction to all that are in want, not doubting to whom you give. ⁷ But give to all, for Alahayam will have us give to all, of all his own gifts. They therefore that receive shall give an account to Alahayam, both therefore they received and for what end. ⁸ And they that receive without real need, shall give an account for it; but he that gives shall be innocent. ⁹ For he has fulfilled his duty as he received it from Alahayam; not making any choice to whom he should give, and to whom not. And this service he did with simplicity and to the glory of Alahayam. ¹⁰ Keep therefore this command according as I have delivered it into you: that your repentance may be found to be sincere, and that good may come to your house; and have a pure heart.

3 Moreover he said to me love truth; and let all the speech be true which proceeds out of your mouth. ² That the spirit which the Adanay has given to dwell in your flesh may be found true towards all men; and the Adanay be glorified, who has given such a spirit to you: because Alahayam is true in all his words, and in him there is no lie. ³ They therefore that lie, deny the Adanay, and become robbers of the Adanay, not rendering to Alahayam what they received from him. ⁴ For they received the spirit free from lying: If therefore they make that a liar, they defile what was committed to them by the Adanay, and become deceivers. ⁵ When I heard this, I wept bitterly; and when he saw me weeping, he said to me, Why weep you? And I said, Because, sir, I doubt whether I can be saved. ⁶ He asked me, Therefore? I replied, Because, sir, I never spoke a true word in my life; but always lived in dissimulation, and affirmed a lie for truth to all men; and no man contradicted me, but all gave credit to my words. How then can I live, seeing I have done in this manner? ⁷ And he said to me, You think well and truly; for you ought, as the servant of Alahayam, to have walked in the truth, and not have joined an evil conscience with the spirit of truth, nor have grieved the holy and true Spirit of Alahayam. ⁸ And I replied to him, Sir, I never before hearkened so diligently to these things. He answered, Now you hear them Take care from henceforth, that even those things which you have formerly spoken falsely for the sake of your business, may, by your present truth receive pardon. ⁹ For even those things may be forgiven, if for the time to come you shall speak the truth; and by so doing you may attain to life. ¹⁰ And whosoever shall hearken to this command, and do it, and shall depart from all lying, he shall live to Alahayam.

4 Furthermore, said he, I command you, that you keep yourself chaste; and that you suffer not any thought of any other marriage, or of fornication, to enter into your heart; for such a thought produces great sin. ² But be you at all times mindful of the Adanay, and you shall never sin. For if such an evil thought should arise in your heart, then you shall be guilty of a great sin; and they who do such things, follow the way of death. ³ Look therefore to yourself, and keep yourself from such a thought; for where chastity remains in the heart of a righteous man, there an evil thought ought never to arise. ⁴ And I said to him, Sir, suffer me to speak a little to you. He bade me say on. And I answered, Sir, if a man that is faithful in the Adanay shall have a wife, and shall catch her in adultery; does a man sin that continues to live still with her? ⁵ And he said to me, As long as he is ignorant of her sin, he commits no fault in living with her; but if a man shall know his wife to, have offended, and she shall not repent of her sin, but go on still in her fornication, and a man shall continue nevertheless to live with her, he shall become guilty of her sin, and partake with her in her adultery. ⁶ And I said to him, What therefore is to be done, if the woman continues on in her sin? He answered, Let her husband put her away, and let him continue by himself; but if he shall put away his wife and marry another, he also does commit adultery. ⁷ And I said, What, if the woman that is so put away, should repent, and be willing to return to her husband, shall she not be received by him? He said to me, Yes; and if her husband shall not receive her, he will sin, and commit a great offence against himself; for he ought to receive the offender, if she repents: only not often. ⁸ For, to the servants of Alahayam, there is but one repentance; and for this cause a man that puts away his wife ought not to take another, because she may repent. ⁹ This act is alike both in the man and in the woman. Now they commit adultery, not only who pollute their flesh, but who also make an image. If therefore a woman perseveres in any thing of this kind, and repents not, depart from her; and live not with her, otherwise you also shall be partaker of her sin. ¹⁰ But it is therefore commanded that both the man and the woman should remain unmarried, because such persons may repent. ¹¹ Nor do I in this administer any occasion for the doing of these things; but rather that whoso has offended, should not offend any more. ¹² But for their former sins, Alahayam who has the power of healing will give a remedy; for he has the power of all things. ¹³ I asked him again, and said, Seeing the Adanay has thought me worthy that you should dwell with me continually, speak a few words to me, because I understand nothing, and my heart is hardened through my former conversation; and open my understanding because I am very dull, and apprehend nothing at all. ¹⁴ And he answering said to me, I am the minister of repentance, and give understanding to all that repent. Does it not seem to you to be a very wise thing to repent? Because he that does so gets great understanding. ¹⁵ For he is sensible that he has sinned and done wickedly in the sight of the Adanay, and he remembers within himself that he has offended, and repents and does no more wickedly, but does that which is good, and humbles his soul and afflicts it, because he has offended. You see therefore that repentance is great wisdom. ¹⁶ And I said to him, For this cause, sir, I inquire diligently into all things, because I am a sinner, that I may know what I must do that I may live; because my sins are many. ¹⁷ And he said to me, You shall live if you shall keep these my commandments. And whosoever shall hear and do these commands shall live to Alahayam. ¹⁸ And I said to him, I have even now heard from certain teachers, that there is no other repentance beside that of baptism, when we go down into the water, and receive the forgiveness of our sins; and that after that, we must sin no more, but live in purity. ¹⁹ And he said to me, You have been rightly informed. Nevertheless seeing now you inquire diligently into all things, I will manifest this also to you; yet not so as to give any occasion of sinning, either to those who shall hereafter believe, or to those who have already believed in the Adanay.²⁰ For neither they who have newly believed, or shall hereafter believe, have any repentance of sins, but forgiveness of them.²¹ But as to those who have been called to the faith, and since that are fallen into any gross sin, the Adanay has appointed repentance, because Alahayam knows the thoughts of all men's hearts, and their infirmities, and the manifold wickedness of the devil, who is always contriving something against the servants of Alahayam, and maliciously lays snares for them.²² Therefore our merciful Adanay had compassion towards his creature, and appointed that repentance, and gave to me the power of it. And therefore I say to you, if any one after that great and holy calling shall be tempted by the devil and sin, he has one repentance. But if he shall often sin and repent, it shall not profit such a one; for he shall hardly live to Alahayam.²³ And I said, Sir, I am restored again to life since I have thus diligently hearkened to these commands. For I perceive that if I shall not hereafter add any more of my sins, I shall be saved.²⁴ And he said, You shall be saved: and so shall all others, as many as shall observe these commandments.²⁵ And again I said to him, Sir, seeing you hear me patiently, show me yet one thing more. Tell me, says he, what it is.²⁶ And I said, If a husband or a wife die, and the party which survives marry again, does he sin in so doing? He that marries says he, sins not: howbeit, if he shall remain single, he shall thereby gain to himself great honour before the Adanay.²⁷ Keep therefore your chastity and modesty, and you shall live to Alahayam. Observe from henceforth those things which I speak with you, and command you to observe, from the time that I have been delivered to you, and dwell in your house.²⁸ So shall your former sins be forgiven, if you shall keep these my commandments. And in like manner shall all others be forgiven, who shall observe these my commandments.

5 Be patient, says he, and long-suffering; so shall you have dominion over all wicked works, and shall fulfil all righteousness.² For if you shall be patient, the Holy Spirit which dwells in you shall be pure, and not be darkened by any evil spirit; but being full of joy shall be enlarged, and feast in the body in which it dwells, and serve the Adanay with joy, and in great peace.³ But if any anger shall overtake you, presently the Holy Spirit which is in you will be straightened and seek to depart from you.⁴ For he is choked by the evil spirit, and has not the liberty of serving the Adanay as he would; for he is grieved by anger. When, therefore, both these spirits dwell together, it is destructive to a man.⁵ As if one should take a little wormwood, and put it into a vessel of honey, the whole honey would be spoiled; and a great quantity of honey is corrupted by a very little wormwood, and loses the sweetness of honey, and is no longer acceptable to its Adanay because the whole honey is made bitter, and loses its use.⁶ But if no wormwood be put into the honey, it is sweet and profitable to its Adanay. Thus is forbearance sweeter than honey, and profitable to the Adanay who dwells in it.⁷ But anger is unprofitable. If therefore anger shall be mixed with forbearance, the soul is distressed, and its prayer is not profitable with Alahayam.⁸ And I said to him, Sir, I would know the sinfulness of anger, that I may keep myself from it. And he said to me, You shall know it; and if you shall not keep yourself from it, you shall lose your hope with all your house. Therefore depart from it.⁹ For I the messenger of righteousness am with you, and all that depart from it: as many as shall repent with all their hearts, shall live to Alahayam; and I will be with them, and will keep them all.¹⁰ For all such as have repented have been justified by the most holy messenger, who is a minister of salvation.¹¹ And now, says he, hear the wickedness of anger; how evil and hurtful is it, and how it overthrows the servants of Alahayam; for it cannot hurt those that are full of faith because the power of Alahayam is with them; but it overthrows the doubtful, and those that are destitute of faith.¹² For as often as it sees such men, it casts itself into their hearts; and so a man or woman is in bitterness for nothing: for the things of life, or for sustenance, or for a vain word, if any should chance to fall in; or by reason of any friend, or for a debt, or for any other superfluous things of the like nature.¹³ For these things are foolish, and superfluous, and vain to the servants of Alahayam. But equanimity is strong, and forcible; and of great power, and sits in great enlargement; is cheerful, rejoicing in peace; and glorifying Alahayam at all times I with meekness.¹⁴ And this long-suffering dwells with those that are full of faith. But anger is foolish, and light, and empty. Now bitterness is bred through folly; by bitterness, anger; by anger, fury; and this fury arising from so many evil principles, works a great and incurable sin.¹⁵ For when all these things, are in the same man in which the Holy Spirit dwells, the vessel cannot contain them, but runs over: and because the Spirit being tender cannot tarry with the evil one; it departs and dwells with him that is meek.¹⁶ When, therefore, it is departed from the man in whom it dwelt, that man becomes destitute of the Holy Spirit, and is afterwards filled with wicked spirits, and is blinded with evil thoughts. Thus does it happen to all angry men.¹⁷ Therefore depart then from anger, and put on equanimity, and resist: wrath; so then shall be found with modesty and chastity by Alahayam. Take good heed, therefore, that you neglect not this commandment. 18. For if you shall obey this command, then you shall also be able to observe the other commandments which I shall command you.¹⁹ Therefore strengthen yourself now in these commands, that then may live to Alahayam. And whosoever shall observe these commandments shall live to Alahayam.

6 I commanded you, said he, in my first commandments, that you should keep faith and fear, and repentance. Yes, sir, said I.² He continued. But now I will show you the virtues of these commands, that then may know their effects; how they are prescribed alike to the just and unjust.³ Do you therefore believe the righteous, but give no credit to the unrighteous. For righteousness keeps the right way, but unrighteousness the wicked way.⁴ Do you therefore keep the right way, and leave that which is evil. For the evil way has not a good end, but has many stumbling-blocks; it is rugged and full of thorns, and leads to destruction; and it is hurtful to all such as walk in it.⁵ But they who go in the right way walk with evenness, and without offence; because it is not rough nor thorny.⁶ You see therefore how it is best to walk in this way. You shall therefore go, says he, and all others, as many as believe in Alahayam with all their heart, shall go through it.⁷ And now, says he, I understand first of all what belongs to faith. There are two angels with man; one of righteousness, the other of iniquity.⁸ And I said to him, Sir, how shall I know that there are two such angels with man? Hear, says he, and understand.⁹ The angel of righteousness, is mild and modest, and gentle, and quiet. When, therefore, he gets into your heart, immediately he talks with you of righteousness, of modesty, of chastity, of bountifulness, of forgiveness, of charity, and piety.¹⁰ When all these things come into your heart, know then that the angel of righteousness is with you. Therefore hearken to this angel and to his works.¹¹ Learn also the works of the angel of iniquity. He is first of all bitter, and angry, and foolish; and his works are pernicious, and overthrow the servants of Alahayam. When therefore these things come into your heart; you shall know by his works, that this is the angel of iniquity.¹² And I said to him, Sir, how shall I understand these things? Hear, says he, and understand; When anger overtakes you, or bitterness, know that he is in you:¹³ As also, when the desire of many things, and of the best meats, and of drunkenness; when the love of what belongs to others, pride, and much speaking, and ambition; and the like things, come upon you.¹⁴ When therefore these things arise in your heart, know that the angel of iniquity is with you. Seeing therefore you know his works, depart from them all, and give no credit to him: because his works are evil, and become not the servants of Alahayam.¹⁵ Here therefore you have the works of both these angels. Understand now and believe the angel of righteousness, because his instruction is good.¹⁶ For let a man be never so happy; yet if the thoughts of the other angel arise in his heart, that man or woman must needs sin.¹⁷ But let man or woman be never so wicked, if the works of the angel of righteousness come into their hearts, that man or woman must needs do some good.¹⁸ You see therefore how it is good to follow the angel of righteousness. If therefore you shall follow him, and submit to his works, you shall live to Alahayam. And as many as shall submit to his work shall live also to Alahayam.

7 Fear Alahayam, says he, and keep his commandments. For if you keep his commandments you shall be powerful in every work, and all your works shall be excellent. For by fearing Alahayam, you shall do everything well.² This is that fear with which you must be affected that you may be saved. But fear not the Devil: for if you fear the Adanay, you shall have dominion over him; because there is no power in him.³ Now if there be no power in him, then neither is he to be feared: for every one that has power, is to be feared. But he that has no power is despised by every one.⁴ Fear the works of the Devil, because they are evil. For by fearing the Adanay, you will fear and do not the works of the Devil, but keep yourself from them.⁵ There is therefore a twofold fear; if you will not do evil, fear the Adanay and you shall not do it. But if you will do good, the fear of the Adanay is strong, and great and glorious.⁶ Therefore, fear Alahayam and you shall live: and whosoever shall fear him, and keep his commandments, their life is with the Adanay. But they who keep them not, neither is there life in them.

8 I have told you, said he, that there are two kinds of creatures of the Adanay, and that there is a two-fold abstinence. From some things therefore you must abstain, and from others not.² I answered, Declare to me, sir, from what I must abstain, and from what not. Hearken, said he, Keep yourself from evil, and do it not; yet abstain not from good, but do it. For if you shall abstain from what is good, and not do it, you shall sin. Abstain therefore from all evil, and you shall know all righteousness.³ I said, What evil things are they from which I must abstain? Hearken, said he; from adultery, from drunkenness, from riots, from excess of eating, from daintiness and dishonesty, from pride, from fraud, from lying, from detraction, from hypocrisy, from remembrance of injuries, and from all evil speaking.⁴ For these are the works of iniquity, from which the servant of Alahayam must abstain. For he that cannot keep himself from these things, cannot live to Alahayam.⁵ But hear, said he, what follows of these kind of things: for indeed many more there are from which the servant of Alahayam must abstain. From theft, and cheating; from false witness, from covetousness, from boasting, and all other things of the like nature.⁶ Do these things seem to you to be evil or not? Indeed they are very evil to the servants of Alahayam, Therefore the servant of Alahayam must abstain from all these works.⁷ Keep yourself therefore from them, that you may live to Alahayam, and be written among those that abstain from them. And thus have I shown you what things you must avoid: now learn from what you must not abstain.⁸ Abstain not from any good works, but do them. Hear, said he, what the virtue of those good works is which you must do, that you may be saved. The first of all is faith; the fear of the Adanay; charity; concord; equity; truth; patience; chastity.⁹ There is nothing better than these things in the life of men; who shall keep and do these things in their life. Hear next what follow these.¹⁰ To minister to the widows; not to despise the fatherless and poor; to redeem the servants of Alahayam from necessity; to be hospitable (for in hospitality there is sometimes great fruit); not to be contentious, but be quiet.¹¹ To be humble above all men; to reverence the aged; to labour to be righteous; to respect the brotherhood; to bear affronts; to be longsuffering; not to cast away those that have fallen from the faith, but to convert them, and make them be of good cheer: to admonish sinners; not to oppress those that are our debtors; and all other things of a like kind.¹² Do these things seem to you to be good or not? And I said, What can be better than these words? Live then, said he, in these commandments, and do not depart from them. For if you shall keep all these commandments, you shall live to Alahayam. And all they that shall keep these commandments shall live to Alahayam.

9 Again he said to me; remove from you all doubting; and question nothing at all when you ask any thing of the Adanay; saying within yourself, how shall I be able to ask any thing of the Adanay and receive it, seeing I have so greatly sinned against him?² Do not think thus, but turn to the Adanay with all your heart, and ask of him without doubting, and you shall know the mercy of the Adanay; bow that he will not forsake you, but will fulfil the request of your soul.³ For Alahayam is not as men, mindful of the injuries he has received; but he forgets injuries, and has compassion upon his creature.⁴ Therefore purify your heart from all the vices of this present world; and observe the commands I have before delivered to you from Alahayam; and you shall receive whatsoever good things you shall ask, and nothing shall be wanting to you of all your petitions; if you shall ask of the Adanay without doubting.⁵ But they that are not such, shall obtain none of those things which they ask. For they that are full of faith, ask all things with confidence, and receive from the Adanay, because they ask without doubting. But he that doubts, shall hardly live to Alahayam, except he repent.⁶ Therefore purify your heart from doubting, and put on faith, and trust in Alahayam, and you shall receive all that you shall ask. But if you should chance to ask something, and not immediately receive it, yet do not therefore doubt, because you have not presently received the petition of your soul.⁷ For it may be you shall not presently receive it for your trial, or else for some sin which you know not. But do not you leave off to ask, and then you shall receive. Else if you shall cease to ask, you must complain of yourself, and not of Alahayam, that he has not given to you what you did desire.⁸ Consider therefore this doubting how cruel and pernicious it is; and how it utterly roots out many from the faith, who were very faithful and firm. For this doubting is the daughter of the Devil, and deals very wickedly with the servants of Alahayam.⁹ Despise it therefore, and you shall rule over it on every occasion. Pawat on a firm and powerful faith: for faith promises all things and perfects all things. But doubting will not believe that it shall obtain any thing by all that it can do. 10. You see therefore, says he, how faith comes from above from Alahayam; and has great power. But doubting is an earthly spirit, and proceeds from the Devil, and has no strength.¹¹ Do you therefore keep the virtue of faith, and depart from doubting, in which is no virtue, and you shall live to Alahayam. And all shall live to Alahayam, as many as do these things.

10 Pawat all sadness far from you; for it is the sister of doubting and of anger. How, sir, said I is it the sister of these? For sadness, and anger, and doubting, seem to me to be very different from one another.² And he answered: Are you without sense that you do not understand it? For sadness is the most mischievous of all spirits, and the worst to the servants of Alahayam: It destroys the spirits of all men, and torments the Holy Spirit, and it saves again.³ Sir, said I, I am very foolish, and understand not these things. I cannot apprehend how it can torment, and yet save. Hear, said he, and understand. They who never sought out the truth, nor inquired concerning the majesty of Alahayam, but only believed, are involved in the affairs of the heathen.⁴ And there is another lying prophet that destroys the minds of the servants of Alahayam; that is of those that are doubtful, not of those that fully trust in the Adanay. Now those doubtful persons come to him, as to a divine spirit, and inquire of him what shall befall them.⁵ And this lying prophet, having no power in him of the Divine Spirit, answers them according to their demands, and fills their souls with promises according as they desire. Howbeit that prophet is vain, and answers vain things to those who are themselves vain.⁶ And whatsoever is asked of him by vain men, he answers them vainly; nevertheless he speaks some things truly. For the Devil fills him with his spirit, that he may overthrow some of the righteous.⁷ Whosoever therefore are strong in the faith of the Adanay, and have put on the truth; they are not joined to such spirits, but depart from them. But they that are doubtful, and often repenting, like the heathens, consult them, and heap up to themselves great sin, serving idols.⁸ As many therefore as are such, inquire of them upon every occasion; worship idols, and are foolish; and void of the truth. For every spirit that is given from Alahayam needs not to be asked: but having the power of divinity speaks all things of itself, because he comes from above; from the power of Alahayam.¹⁰ But he, that being asked speaks according to men's desires and concerning many other affairs of this present world, understands not the tidings which relate to Alahayam. For these spirits are darkened through such affairs, and corrupted, and broken.¹¹ As good vines if they are neglected, are oppressed with weeds and thorns, and at last killed by them; so are the men who believe such spirits.¹² They fall into many actions and businesses, and are void of sense, and when they think of things pertaining to Alahayam, they understand nothing at all; but at any time they chance to hear any thing concerning the Adanay, their thoughts are upon their business.¹³ But they that have the fear of the Adanay, and search out the truth concerning Alahayam, having all their thoughts towards the Adanay; apprehend whatsoever is said to them, and forthwith understand it, because they have the fear of the Adanay in them.¹⁴ For where the spirit of the Adanay dwells, there is also much understanding added. Therefore join yourself to the Adanay, and you shall understand all things.

¹⁵ Learn now, O unwise man! how sadness troubles the Holy Spirit, and how it saves. When a man that is doubtful is engaged in any affair, and does not accomplish it by reason of his doubting; this sadness enters into him, and grieves the Holy Spirit, and makes him sad.¹⁶ Again anger, when it over, takes any man for any business he is greatly moved; and then again sadness enters into the heart of him, who was moved with anger, and he is troubled for what he has done, and repents, because he has done amiss.¹⁷ This sadness therefore seems to bring salvation, because he repents of his evil deed. But both the other things, namely, doubting and sadness, such as before was mentioned, vex the spirit: doubting, because his work did not succeed; and sadness, because he angered the Holy Spirit.

¹⁸ Remove therefore sadness from yourself, and afflict not the Holy Spirit which dwells in you, lest he entreat Alahayam, and depart from you. For the spirit of the Adanay which is given to dwell in the flesh, endures no such sadness.¹⁹ Therefore clothe yourself with cheerfulness, which has always favour with the Adanay, and you shall rejoice in it. For every cheerful man does well; and relishes those things that are good, and despises sadness.²⁰ But the sad man does always wickedly. First, he does wickedly, because he grieves the Holy Spirit, which is given to man being of a cheerful nature. And again he does ill, because he prays with sadness to the Adanay, and makes not first a thankful acknowledgment to him of former mercies, and obtains not of Alahayam what he asks.²¹ For the prayer of a sad man has not always efficacy to come up to the altar of Alahayam. And I said to him, Sir, why has not the prayer of a sad man virtue to come up to the altar of Alahayam? Because, said he, that sadness remains in his heart.²² When therefore a man's prayer shall be accompanied with sadness, it will not suffer his requests to ascend pure to the altar of Alahayam. For as wine when it is mingled with vinegar, has not the sweetness it had before; so sadness being mixed with the Holy Spirit, suffers not a man's prayer to be the same as it would be otherwise.²³ Therefore cleanse yourself from sadness, which is evil, and you shall live to Alahayam. And all others shall live to Alahayam, as many as shall lay aside sadness, and put on cheerfulness.

11 He showed me certain men sitting upon benches, and one sitting in a chair: and he said to me; See you those who sit upon the benches? Sir, said I, I see them. He answered, They are the faithful; and he who sits in the chair is an earthly spirit.² For he comes not into the assembly of the faithful, but avoids it. But he joins himself to the doubtful and empty; and prophesies to them in corners and hidden places; and pleases them by speaking according to all the desires of their hearts.³ For he placing himself among empty vessels, is not broken, but the one fits the other. But when he comes into the company of just men, who are full of the spirit of Alahayam, and they pray to the Adanay; that man is emptied, because that earthly spirit flies from him, and he is dumb, and cannot speak anything.⁴ As if in a store-house you shall stop up wine or oil, and among those vessels place an empty jar; and when afterwards you come to open it, you shall find it empty as you stopped it up; so those empty prophets when they come among the spirits of the just, are found to be such as they came.⁵ I said, How then shall a man be able to discern them? Consider what I am going to say concerning both kinds of men; and as I speak to you so shall you prove the prophet of Alahayam, and the false prophet.⁶ And first try the man who has the spirit of Alahayam, because the spirit which is from above is humble, and quiet, and departs from all wickedness; and from the vain desires of the present world; and makes himself more humble than all men; and answers to none when he is asked; nor to every one singly: for the Spirit of Alahayam does not speak to a man when he will, but when Alahayam pleases.⁷ When therefore a man who has the Spirit of Alahayam has come into the church of the righteous, who have the faith of Alahayam, and they pray to the Adanay; then the holy angel of Alahayam fills that man with the blessed Spirit, and he speaks in the congregation as he is moved of Alahayam.⁸ Thus therefore is the spirit, of Alahayam known, because whosoever speaks by the Spirit of Alahayam, speaks as the Adanay will.⁹ Hear now concerning the earthly spirit, which is empty and foolish, and without virtue. And first of all the man who is supposed to have the Spirit, (whereas he has it not in reality), exalts himself, and desires to have the first seat, and is wicked, and full of words.¹⁰ And spends his time in pleasure, and in all manner of voluptuousness, and receives the reward of his divination; which if he receives not, he does not divine.¹¹ Should the Spirit of Alahayam receive reward, and divine? It does not become a prophet of Alahayam so to do.¹² Thus you see the life of each of these kind of prophets. Therefore prove that man by his life and works, who says that he has the Holy Spirit. And believe the Spirit which comes from Alahayam, and has power as such. But believe not the earthly and empty spirit, which is from the devil, in whom there is no faith nor virtue.¹³ Hear now the similitude which I am about to speak to you. Take a stone, and throw it up towards heaven; or take a spout of water, and mount it up thitherward; and see if you can reach to heaven.¹⁴ Sir; said I, how can this be done? For neither of those things which you have mentioned, are possible to be done. And he answered, Therefore as these things cannot be done, so is the earthy spirit without virtue, and without effect.¹⁵ Understand yet farther the power which comes from above, in this similitude. The grains of hail that drop down are exceedingly small; and yet when they fall upon the head of a man, how do they cause pain to it.¹⁶ And again, consider, the droppings of a house; how the little drops falling upon the earth, work a hollow in the stones.¹⁷ So in like manner the least things which come from above, and fall upon the earth, have great force. Therefore join yourself to this spirit, which has the power; and depart from the other which is empty.

12 Again he said to me; remove from you all evil desires, and put on good and holy desires. For having put on a good desire, you shall hate that which is evil, and bridle it as you will. But an evil desire is dreadful, and hard to be tamed.² It is very horrible and wild; and by its wildness consumes men. And especially if a servant of Alahayam shall chance to fall into it, except he be very wise, he is ruined by it. For it destroys those who have not the garment of a good desire and are engaged in the affairs of this present world; and delivers them to death.³ Sir, said I, what are the works of an evil desire, which bring men to death? Show them to me that I may depart from them. Hear, said he, by what works an evil desire brings the servants of Alahayam to death.⁴ First of all, it is an evil desire to covet another man's wife, or for a woman to covet another's husband; as also to desire the dainties of riches; and multitude of superfluous meats; and drunkenness; and many delights.⁵ For in much delicacy there is folly; and many pleasures are needless to the servants of Alahayam. Such lusting therefore is evil and pernicious, which brings to death the servants of Alahayam. For all such lusting is from the devil.⁶ Whosoever therefore shall depart from all evil desires, shall live to Alahayam; but they that are subject to them shall die forever. For this evil

lusting is deadly. Do you therefore put on the desire of righteousness, and being armed with the fear of the Adanay resist all wicked lusting.⁷ For this fear dwells in good desires; and, when evil coveting shall see you armed with the fear of the Adanay, and resisting it; it will fly far from you, and not appear before you, but be afraid of your armour.⁸ And you shall have the victory, and be crowned for it; and shall attain to that desire which is good; and shall give the victory which you have obtained to Alahayam, and shall serve him in doing what you yourself would do.⁹ For if you shall serve good desires, and be subject to them; then you shall be able to get the dominion over your wicked lustings; and they will be subject to you, as you will.¹⁰ And I said, Sir, I would know how to serve that desire which is good? Hearken, said he, Fear Alahayam, and put your trust in him, and love truth, and righteousness, and do that which is good.¹² And when he had fulfilled these twelve commands, he said to me, You have now these commands, walk in them; and exhort those that hear them, to repent, and that they keep their repentance pure all the remaining days of their life.¹³ And fulfil diligently this ministry which I commit to you, and you shall receive great advantage by it, and find favour with all such as shall repent and believe your words. For I am with you, and will force them to believe.¹⁴ And I said to him, Sir, these commands are great and excellent, and able to cheer the heart of that man that shall be able to keep them. But, Sir, I cannot tell, whether they can be observed by any man?¹⁵ He answered, You shall easily keep these commands, and they shall not be hard: howbeit, if you shall suffer it once to enter into your heart that they cannot be kept by any one, you shall not fulfil them.¹⁶ But now I say to you, if you shall not observe these commands, and shall neglect them, you shall not be saved, nor your children, nor your house: because you have judged that these commands cannot be kept by man.¹⁷ These things he spoke very angrily to me, insomuch that he greatly affrighted me, for he changed his countenance so that a man could not bear his anger.¹⁸ And when he saw me altogether troubled and confounded, he began to speak more moderately and cheerfully, saying, O foolish, and without understanding!¹⁹ Unconstant, not knowing the majesty of Alahayam how great and wonderful he is; who created the world for man, and has made every creature subject to him; and given him all power, that he should be able to fulfil all these commands.²⁰ He is able, said he, to fulfil all these commands, who has the Adanay in his heart; but they who have the Adanay only in their mouths, their hearts are hardened, and they are far from the Adanay: to such persons these commands are hard and difficult.²¹ Therefore, you that are empty and light in the faith, put the Adanay your Alahayam in your hearts; and you shall perceive how that nothing is more easy than these commands, nor more pleasant, nor more gentle and holy.²² And turn yourselves to the Adanay your Alahayam, and forsake the devil and his pleasures, because they are evil, and bitter, and impure. And fear not the devil, because he has no power over you.²³ For I am with you, the messenger of repentance, who have the dominion over him. The devil does indeed affright men but his terror is vain. Therefore fear him not, and he will flee from you.²⁴ And I said to him; Sir, hear me speak a few words to you. He answered, Say on: A man indeed desires to keep the commandments of Alahayam, and there is no one but what prays to Alahayam, that he may be able to keep his commandments;²⁵ But the devil is hard, and by his power rules over the servants of Alahayam. And he said; He cannot rule over the servants of Alahayam, who trust in him with all their hearts.²⁶ The devil may strive, but he cannot overcome them.²⁷ For if you resist him, he will flee away with confusion from you. But they that are not full in the faith, fear the devil, as if he had some great power. For the devil tries the servants of Alahayam and if he finds them empty, he destroys them.²⁸ For as man, when he fills up vessels with good wine, and among them puts a few vessels half full, and comes to try and taste of the vessels, does not try those that are full, because he knows that they are good, but tastes those that are half full, lest they should grow sour; (for vessels half full soon grow sour, and lose the taste of wine:) so the devil comes to the servants of Alahayam to try them.²⁹ They that are full of faith resist him stoutly, and he departs from them, because he finds no place where to enter into them then he goes to those that are not full of faith, and because he has a place of entrance he goes into them, and does what he will with them, and they become his servants.³⁰ But I, the messenger of repentance, say to you, fear not the devil, for I am sent to you, that I may be with you, as many as shall repent with your whole heart, and that I may confirm you in the faith.³¹ Believe therefore, you who by reason of your transgressions have forgot Alahayam. and your own salvation; and adding to your sins have made your life very heavy.³² That if you shall turn to the Adanay with your whole hearts, and shall serve him according to his will; he will heal you of your former sins, and you shall have dominion over all the works of the devil.³³ Be not then afraid in the least of his threatenings, for they are without force, as the nerves of a dead man. But hearken to me, and fear the Adanay Shaday, who is able to save and to destroy you; and keep his commands, that you may live to Alahayam.³⁴ And I said to him; Sir, I am now confirmed in all the commands of the Adanay whilst you are with me, and I know that you will break all the powers of the devil.³⁵ And we also shall overcome him, if we shall be able, through the help of the Adanay, to keep these commands which you have delivered.³⁶ You shall keep them, said he, if you shall purify your heart towards the Adanay. And all they also shall keep them who shall cleanse their hearts from the vain desires of the present world, and shall live to Alahayam.

1 And he said unto me; You know that you who are the servants of the Adanay, live here as in a pilgrimage; for your city is far off from this city.² If, therefore, you know your city in which you are to dwell, why do you here buy estates, and provide yourselves with delicacies, and stately buildings, and superfluous houses? For he that provides himself these things in this city, does not think of returning into his own city.³ O foolish, and doubtful, and wretched man; who understand not that all these things belong to other men, and are under the power of another. For the Adanay of this city says to you; Either obey my laws, or depart out of my city.⁴ What therefore shall you do who art subject to a law in your own city? Can you for your estate, or for any of those things which you have provided, deny your law? But if you shall deny it, and will afterwards return into your own city, you shall not be received, but shall be excluded thence.⁵ See therefore, that like a man in another country, you procure no more to yourself than what is necessary, and sufficient for you; and be ready, that when the Alahayam or Adanay of this city shall drive you out of it you may oppose his law, and go into your own city; where you may with all cheerfulness live according to your own law with no wrong.⁶ Take heed therefore you that serve Alahayam, and have him in your hearts: work you the works of Alahayam, being mindful both of his commands and of his promises, which he has promised; and be assured that he will make them good to you; if you shall keep his commandments.⁷ Instead therefore of the possessions that you would otherwise purchase, redeem those that are in want from their necessities, as every one is able; justify the widows; judge the cause of the fatherless; and spend your riches and your wealth in such works as these.⁸ For this end has Alahayam enriched you, that you might fulfil these kind of services. It is much better to do this, than to buy lands or houses; because all such things shall perish with this present time.⁹ But what you shall do for the name of the Adanay, you shall find in your city, and shall have joy without sadness or fear. Therefore covet not the riches of the heathen; for they are destructive to the servants of Alahayam.¹⁰ But trade with your own riches which you possess, by which you may attain to everlasting joy.¹¹ And do not commit adultery, nor touch any other man's wife, nor desire her; but covet that which is your own business, and you shall be saved.

2 As I was walking into the field, and considered the elm and the vine, and thought with myself of their fruits, an angel appeared to me, and said to me; What is it that you think upon thus long within yourself?² And I said to him, Sir, I think of this vine and this elm because their fruits are fair. And he said to me; These two trees are set for a pattern to the servants of Alahayam.³ And I said to him, Sir, I would know in what the pattern of these trees which you mention, does consist. Hearken, says he; see you this vine and this elm? Sir, said I, I see them.⁴ This vine, says he, is fruitful, but the elm is a tree without fruit. Nevertheless this vine unless it were set by this elm, and supported by it, would not bear much fruit; but lying along upon the ground, would bear but ill fruit, because it did not hang upon the elm; whereas, being supported upon the elm, it bears fruit both for itself and for that.⁵ See, therefore, how the elm gives no less, but rather more fruit, than the vine. How, Sir, said I, does it bear more fruit than the vine? Because, said he, the vine being supported upon the elm gives both much and good fruit; whereas, if it lay along upon the ground, it would bear but little, and that very ill too.⁶ This similitude, therefore, is set forth to the servants of Alahayam; and it represents the rich and poor man. I answered, Sir, make this manifest to me. Hear, said he; the rich man has wealth: howbeit towards the Adanay he is poor; for he is taken up about his riches, and prays but little to the Adanay; and the prayers which he makes are lazy and without force.⁷ When therefore, the rich man reaches out to the poor those things which he wants, the poor man prays to the Adanay for the rich; and Alahayam grants to the rich man all good things, because the poor man is rich in prayer; and his requests have great power with the Adanay.⁸ Then the rich man ministers all thing to the poor, because he perceives that he is heard by the Adanay; and he the more willingly and without doubting, affords him what he wants, and takes care that nothing be lacking to him.⁹ And the poor man gives thanks to the Adanay for the rich; because they both do their work from the Adanay.¹⁰ With men, therefore, the elm is not thought to give any fruit; and they know not, neither understand that its company being added to the vine, the vine bears a double increase, both for itself and for the elm.¹¹ Even so the poor praying to the Adanay for the rich, are heard by him; and their riches are increased, because they minister to the poor of their wealth. They are, therefore, both made partakers of each other's good works.¹² Whosoever, therefore, shall do these things, he shall not be forsaken by the Adanay, but shall be written in the book of life.¹³ Happy are they who are rich, and perceive themselves to be increased: for he that is sensible of this, will be able to minister somewhat to others.

3 Again he showed me many trees whose leaves were shed, and which seemed to me to be withered, for they were all alike. And he said to me, See you these trees? I said, Sir, I see that they look like dry trees.² He answering, said to me; These trees are like to the men who live in the present world. I replied: Sir, why are they like to dried trees? Because, said he, neither the righteous, nor unrighteous, are known from one another; but all are alike in this present world.³ For this world is as the winter to the righteous men, because they are not known, but dwell among sinners.⁴ As in the winter all the trees having lost their leaves, are like dry trees; nor can it be discerned which are dry and which are green: so in this present world neither the righteous, nor wicked are discerned from each other; but they are all alike.

4 Again he showed me many other trees, of which some had leaves, and others appeared dry and withered. And he said to me, See you these trees? I answered, Sir, I see them; some are dry, and others full of leaves.² These trees, says he, which are green, are the righteous, who shall possess the world to come. For the world to come, is the summer to the righteous; but to sinners it is the winter.³ When, therefore, the mercy of the Adanay shall shine forth, then they who serve Alahayam shall be made manifest, and plain to all. For as in the summer the fruit of every tree is shown and made manifest, so also the works of the righteous shall be declared and made manifest, and they shall all be restored in that world merry and joyful.⁴ For the other kind of men, namely the wicked, like the trees which you rawest dry, shall, as such, be found dry and without fruit in that other world; and like dry wood shall be burnt; and it shall be made manifest that they have done evil all the time of their life;⁵ And they shall be burnt because they have sinned and have not repented of their sins. And also all the other nations shall be burnt, because they have not acknowledged Alahayam their Creator.⁶ Do then, therefore, bring forth good fruit, that in the summer your fruit may be known; and keep yourself from much business, and you shall not offend. For they who are involved in much business, sin much; because they are taken up with their affairs, and serve not Alahayam.⁷ And how can a man that does not serve Alahayam, ask anything of Alahayam, and receive it? But they who serve him, ask and receive what they desire.⁸ But if a man has only one thing to follow, he may serve Alahayam, because his mind is not taken off from Alahayam, but he serves him with a pure mind.⁹ If, therefore, you shall do this, you may have fruit in the world to come; and as many as shall do in like manner, shall bring forth fruit.

5 As I was fasting, and sitting down in a certain mountain, and giving thanks to Alahayam for all the things that he had done to me; behold, I saw the Shepherd, who was wont to converse with me, sitting by me, and saying to me: What has brought you here thus early in the morning? I answered, Sir, to-day I keep a station.² He answered, What is a station; I replied, it is a fast. He said, What is that fast? I answered, I fast as I have been wont to do. You know not, said he, what it is to fast to Alahayam; nor is this a fast which you keep, profiting nothing with Alahayam.³ Sir, said I, what makes you speak thus? He replied, I speak it, because it is not the true fast which you think that you keep; but I will show you what that is which is a complete fast, and acceptable to Alahayam.⁴ Hearken, said he, The Adanay does not desire such a needless fast; for by fasting in this manner, you advance nothing in righteousness.⁵ But the true fast is this: Do nothing wickedly in your life, but serve Alahayam with a pure mind; and keep his commandments, and walk according to his precepts, nor suffer any wicked desire to enter into the mind.⁶ But trust in the Adanay, that if you do these things, any fear him, and abstains from every evil work, you shall live to Alahayam.⁷ If you shall do this, you shall perfect a great fast, and an acceptable one to the Adanay.⁸ Hearken to the similitude which I am about to propose to you, as to this matter.⁹ A certain man having a farm, and many servants, planted a vineyard in a certain part of his estate for his posterity:¹⁰ And taking a journey into a far country, chose one of his servants which he thought the most faithful and approved, and delivered the vineyard into his care; commanding him that he should stake up the vines. Which if he did, and fulfilled his command, he promised to give him his liberty. Nor did he command him to do any thing more; and so went into a far country.¹¹ And after that servant had taken that charge upon him, he did whatsoever his lord commanded him. And when he had staked the vineyard, and found it to be full of weeds, he began to think within himself, saying:¹² I have done what my lord commanded me, I will now dig this vineyard, and when it is digged, it will be more beautiful; and the weeds being pulled up, it will bring forth more fruit and not be choked by the weeds.¹³ So setting about this work he digged it, and plucked up all the weeds that were in it; and so the vineyard became very beautiful and prosperous, not being choked with weeds.¹⁴ After some time the lord of the vineyard comes and goes into the vineyard, and when he saw that it was handsomely staked and digged, and the weeds plucked up that were in it, and the vines flourishing, he rejoiced greatly at the care of his servant.¹⁵ And calling his son whom he loved, and who was to be his heir, and his friends with whom he was wont to consult; he tells them what he had commanded his servant to do, and what his servant had done more; and they immediately congratulated that servant, that he had received so full a testimony from his lord.¹⁶ Then he said to them, I indeed promised this servant his liberty, if he observed the command which I gave him; and he observed it, and besides has done a good work to my vineyard, which has exceedingly pleased me.¹⁷ Therefore, for this work which he has done, I will make him my heir together with my son; because that when he saw what was good, he neglected it not, but did it.¹⁸ This design of the lord both his son and his friends approved, namely, that his servant should be heir together with his son.¹⁹ Not long after this the master of the family calling together, his friends, sent from his supper several kinds of food to that servant.²⁰ Which when he had received, he took so much of them as was sufficient for himself, and divided the rest among his fellow-servants.²¹ Which when they had received, they rejoiced; and wished that he might find yet greater favour with his lord, for what he had done to them.²² When his lord heard all these things, he was again filled with great joy: and calling again his friends and his son together, he related to them what his servant had done with the meats which he had sent to him.²³ They therefore so much the more assented to the master of the household; and he ought to make that servant his heir together with his son.²⁴ I said to him, sir, I know not these similitudes, neither can I understand them, unless you expound them to me. I will, says he, expound, all things to you whatsoever I have talked with you, or shown to you.²⁵ Keep the commandments of the Adanay and you shall be approved, and shall be written in the number of those that keep his commandments. But if besides those things which the Adanay has commanded, you shall add some good thing; you shall purchase to yourself a greater dignity, and be in more favour with the Adanay than you should otherwise have been.²⁶ If therefore you shall keep the commandments of the Adanay, and shall add to them these stations, you shall rejoice; but especially if you shall keep them according to my commands.²⁷ I said to him, sir, whatsoever you shah command me, I will observe; for I know that you will be with me. I will, said he, be with you who have taken up such a resolution; and I will be with all those who purpose in like manner.²⁸ This fast, says he, whilst you do also observe the commandments of the Adanay, is exceeding good; therefore thus shall you keep it.²⁹ First of all, take heed to yourself, and keep yourself from every wicked act, and from every filthy word, and from every hurtful desire; and purify your mind from all the vanity of this present world. If you shall observe these things, this fast shall be right.³⁰ Thus therefore do. Having performed what is before written, that day on which you fastest you shall taste nothing at all but bread and water; and computing the quantity of food which you are want to eat upon other days, you shall lay aside the expense which you should have made that day, and give it to the widow, the fatherless, and the poor.³¹ And thus you shall perfect the humiliation of your soul; that he who receives of it may satisfy his soul, and his prayer come up to the Adanay Alahayam for you.³² If therefore you shall thus accomplish your fast, as I command you, your sacrifice shall be acceptable to the Adanay, and your fast shall be written in his book.³³ This station, thus performed, is good and pleasing and acceptable to the Adanay. These things if you shall observe with your children and with all your house, you shall be happy.³⁴ And whosoever, when they hear these things, shall do them, they also shall be happy; and whatsoever they shall ask of the Adanay they shall receive it.³⁵ And I prayed him that he would expound to me the similitude of the farm, and the Adanay, and of the vineyard, and of the servant that had staked the vineyard; and of the weeds that were plucked out of the vineyard; and of his son and his friends which he took into counsel with him; for I understand that that was a similitude.³⁶ He said to me, You are very bold in asking; for you ought not to ask any thing; because if it be fitting to show it to you, it shall be showed to you.³⁷ I answered him; Sir, whatsoever you shall show me, without explaining it to me, I shall in vain see it, if I do not understand what it is. And if you shall propose any similitudes, and not expound them, I shall in vain hear them.³⁸ He answered me again, saying: Whosoever is the servant of Alahayam, and has the Adanay in his heart, he desires understanding of him, and receives it; and he explains every similitude, and understands the words of the Adanay which need an inquiry.³⁹ But they that are lazy and slow to pray, doubt to seek from the Adanay: although the Adanay be of such an extraordinary goodness, that without ceasing he gives all things to them that ask of him.⁴⁰ You therefore who art strengthened by that venerable messenger, and have received such a powerful gift of prayer; seeing you are not slothful, why do you not now ask understanding of the Adanay, and receive it? ⁴¹ I said to him; seeing I have you present, it is necessary that I should seek it of you, and ask you; for you show all things to me, and speak to me when you are present.⁴² But if I should see or hear these things when you were not present, I would then ask the Adanay that he would chew them to me.⁴³ And he replied, I said a little before that you were subtle and bold, in that you asks the meaning of these similitudes.⁴⁴ But because you still persist, I will unfold to you this parable which then desire, that you may make it known to all men.⁴⁵ Hear, therefore, said he, and understand. The farm before mentioned denotes the whole earth. The Adanay of the farm is he, who created and finished all things; and gave virtue to them.⁴⁶ His son is the Holy Spirit; the servant is the Son of Alahayam: the vineyard is the people whom he saves. The stakes are the messengers which are set over them by the Adanay, to support his people. The weeds that are plucked up out of the vineyard, are the sins which the servants of Alahayam had committed.⁴⁷ The food which he sent him from his supper, are the commands which he gave to his people by his Son. The friends whom he called to counsel with him, are the holy angels whom he first created. The absence of the master of the household, is the time that remains to his coming.⁴⁸ I said to him, Sir, all these things are very excellent, and wonderful, and good. But, continued I, could I or any other man besides, though never so wise, have understood these things?⁴⁹ Therefore now, sir, tell me, what I ask. He replied, ask me what you will. Why, said I, is the Son of Alahayam in this parable, put in the place of a servant.⁵⁰ Hearken, he said: the Son of Alahayam is not put in the condition of a servant, but in great power and authority. I said to him, how, sir? I understand it not.⁵¹ Because, said he, the Son set his messengers over those whom the Father delivered to him, to keep every one of them; but he himself laboured very much, and suffered much, that he might blot out their offences.⁵² For no vineyard can be digged without much labour and pains. Therefore having blotted out the sins of his people, he showed to them the paths of life, giving them the law which he had received of the Father.⁵³ You see, said he, that he is the Adanay of his people, having received all power from his Father. But why the lord did take his son into counsel, about dividing the inheritance, and the good angels, hear now.⁵⁴ That Holy Spirit, which was created first of all, he placed in the body in which Alahayam should dwell; namely, in a chosen body, as it seemed good to him. This body therefore into which the Holy Spirit was brought, served that Spirit, walking rightly and purely in modesty; nor ever defiled that Spirit.⁵⁵ Seeing therefore the body at all times obeyed the Holy Spirit, and laboured rightly and chastely with him, nor faltered at anytime; that body being wearied conversed indeed servilely, but being mightily approved to Alahayam with the Holy Spirit, was accepted by him.⁵⁶ For such a stout course pleased Alahayam, because he was not defiled in the earth, keeping the Holy Spirit. He called therefore to counsel his Son, and the good angels, that there might be some place of standing given to this body which had served the Holy Spirit without blame; lest it should seem to have lost the reward of its service.⁵⁷ For every pure body shall receive its reward; that is found without spot, in which the Holy Spirit has been appointed to dwell. And thus you have now the exposition of this parable also.⁵⁸ Sir, said I, I now understand your meaning, since I have heard this exposition. Hearken farther, said he: keep this your body clean and pure, that the Spirit which shall dwell in it may bear witness to it, and be judged to have been with you.⁵⁹ Also take heed that it be not instilled into your mind that this body perishes, and you abuse it to any lust. For if you shall defile your body, you shall also at the same time defile the Holy Spirit; and if you shall defile the Holy Spirit, you shall not live.⁶⁰ And I said, What if through ignorance this should have been already committed, before a man heard these words; How can he attain into salvation, who has thus defiled his body?⁶¹ He replied, As for men's former actions which through ignorance they have committed, Alahayam only can afford a remedy to them; for all the power belongs to him.⁶² But now guard yourself; and seeing Alahayam is almighty and merciful, he will grant a remedy to what you have formerly done amiss, if for the time, to come you shall not defile your body and spirit:⁶³ For they are companions together, and the one cannot be defiled but the other will be so too. Keep there fore both of them pure, and you shall live to Alahayam.

6 As I was sitting at home, and praising Alahayam for all the things which I had seen; and was thinking concerning the commands, that they were exceedingly good, and great, and honest, and pleasant, and such as were able to bring a man to salvation; I said thus within myself, I shall be happy if I walk according to these commands; and whosoever shall walk in them shall live to Alahayam.² Whilst I was speaking on this wise within myself, I saw him whom I had before been wont to see, sitting by me; and he spoke thus to me:³ What doubt you concerning my commands which I have delivered to you? They are good, doubt not, but trust in the Adanay, and you shall walk in them; for I will give you strength to fulfil them.⁴ These commands are profitable to those who shall repent of the sins which they have formerly committed; if for the time to come they shall not continue in them.⁵ Whosoever therefore you be that repent, cast away from you the naughtiness of the present world; and put on all virtue, and righteousness, and so shall you be able to keep these commands; and not sin from henceforth any more.⁶ For if you shall keep yourselves from sin for the time to come, you shall cut off a great deal of your former sins. Walk in my commands, and you shall live to Alahayam: These things have I spoken to you.⁷ And when he, had said this, he added; let us go into the field, and I will show you shepherds of sheep. I replied, sir, let us go.⁸ And we came into a certain field, and there he showed me a young shepherd, finely arrayed, with his garments of a purple colour. And he fed large flocks; and his sheep were full of pleasure, and in much delight and cheerfulness; and they skipping, ran here and there.⁹ And the shepherd took very great satisfaction in his flock; and the countenance of that shepherd was cheerful, running up and down among his flock.¹⁰ Then the angel said to me, See then this shepherd? I answered, sir, I see him. He said to me, this is the messenger of delight and pleasure. He therefore corrupts the minds of the servants of Alahayam, and turns them from the truth, delighting them with many pleasures, and they perish.¹¹ For they forget the commands of the living Alahayam, and live in luxury and in vain pleasures, and are corrupted by the evil angel, some of them even to death; and others to a falling away.¹² I replied; I understand not what you mean, by saying to death, and to a falling away. Hear, says he; all those sheep which you saw exceeding joyful, are such as have for ever departed from Alahayam, and given selves up to the lusts of this present time.¹³ To these therefore there is no return, by repentance, to life; because, to their other sins they have added this, that they have blasphemed the name of the lord: These kind of men are ordained to death.¹⁴ But those sheep which you saw not leaping, but feeding in one place; are such as have indeed given themselves up to pleasure and delights; but have not spoken anything wickedly against the Adanay.¹⁵ These therefore are only fallen off from the truth, and so have yet hope laid up for them in repentance. For such a falling off has some hope still left of a renewal; but they that are dead, are utterly gone for ever.¹⁶ Again we went a little farther forward, and he showed me a great shepherd, who had as it were a rustic figure; clad with a white goat's skin, having his bag upon his shoulder, and in his hand a stick full of knots, and very hard, and a whip in his other hand; and his countenance was stern and sour, enough to affright a man; such was his look.¹⁷ He took from that young shepherd such sheep as lived in pleasures, but did not skip up and down; and drove them into a certain steep craggy place full of thorns and briars, insomuch that they could not get themselves free from them:¹⁸ But being entangled in them, fed upon thorns and briars, and were grievously tormented with his whipping. For he still drove them on, and afforded them not any place, or time, to stand still.¹⁹ When therefore I saw them so cruelly whipped and afflicted, I was grieved for them; because they were greatly tormented, nor had they any rest afforded them.²⁰ And I said to the shepherd that was with me: Sir, who is this cruel and implacable shepherd, who is moved with no compassion towards these sheep? He answered, This shepherd is indeed one of the holy angels, but is appointed for the punishment of sinners.²¹ To him therefore are delivered those who have erred from Alahayam, and served the lusts and pleasures of this world. For this cause he punishes them every one according to their deserts, with cruel and various kinds of pains.²² Sir, said I, I would know what kind of pains they are which every one undergoes? Hearken, said he; The several pains and torments are those which men every day undergo in their present lives. For some suffer losses; others poverty; others divers sicknesses. Some are unsettled; others suffer injuries from those that are unworthy; others fall under many other trials and inconveniences.²³ For many with an unsettled design at many things, and it profiteth them not; and they say that they have not success in their undertakings.²⁴ They do not call to their mind what they have done amiss, and they complain of the Adanay. When therefore they shall have undergone all kind of vexation and inconvenience; then they are delivered over to me for good instruction, and are confirmed in the Faith of the Adanay, and serve the Adanay all the rest of their days with a pure mind.²⁵ And when they begin to repent of their sins, then they call to mind their works which they have done amiss, and give honour to Alahayam, saying, that he is a just Judge, and they have deservedly suffered all things according to their deeds.²⁶ Then for what remains of their lives, they serve Alahayam with a pure mind; and have success in all their undertakings, and receive from the Adanay whatever they desire.²⁷ And then they give thanks to the Adanay that they were delivered to me; nor do they suffer any more cruelty.²⁸ I said to him; Sir, I entreat you still to show me now one thing. What, said he, do you ask? I said to him; Are they who depart from the fear of Alahayam, tormented for the same time that they enjoyed their false delight and pleasures? He answered me; they are tormented for the same time.²⁹ And I said to him; They are then tormented but little; whereas they who enjoy their pleasures so as to forget Alahayam, ought to endure seven times as much punishment.³⁰ He answered me; You are foolish, neither understand you the efficacy of this punishment. I said to him; Sir, if I understood it, I would not desire you to tell me.³¹ Hearken, said he, and learn what the force of both is, both of the pleasure and of the punishment. An hour of pleasure is terminated within its own space: but one hour of punishment has the efficacy of thirty days, a Whosoever therefore enjoys his false pleasure for one day, and is one day, tormented; that one day of punishment is equivalent to a whole year's space.³² Thus look how many days any one pursues his pleasures, so many years is he punished for it. You see therefore how that the time of worldly enjoyments is but short; but that of pain and torments, a great deal more.³³ I replied; Sir, forasmuch as I do not understand at all these times of pleasure and pain; I entreat you that you would explain yourself more clearly concerning them. He answered me, saying; Your foolishness still sticks to you. 34. Should you not rather purify your mind, and serve Alahayam? Take heed, lest when your time is fulfilled, you be found still unwise. Hear then, as you desire, that you may the more easily understand.³⁵ He that gives himself up one day to his pleasures and delights, and does whatsoever his soul desires, is full of great folly, nor understands what he does, but the day following forgets what he did the day before.³⁶ For delight and worldly pleasure are not kept in memory, by reason of the folly that is rooted in them. But when pain and torment befall a man a day, he is in effect troubled the whole year after; because his punishment continues firm in his memory.³⁷ Therefore he remembers it with sorrow the whole year; and then calls to mind his vain pleasure and delight, and perceives that for the sake of that he was punished.³⁸ Whosoever therefore have delivered themselves over to such pleasures, are thus punished; because that when they had life, they rendered themselves liable to death.³⁹ I said to him; Sir, what pleasures are hurtful? He answered; That is pleasure to every man which he does willingly.⁴⁰ For the angry man, gratifying his passion, perceives pleasure in it; and so the adulterer, and drunkard; the slanderer and liar; the covetous man and the defrauder; and whosoever commits anything like to these, he follows his evil disposition, because he receives a satisfaction in the doing of it.⁴¹ All these pleasures and delights are hurtful to the servants of Alahayam. For these therefore they are tormented and suffer punishment.⁴² There are also pleasures that bring salvation to men. For many, when they do what is good, find pleasure in it, and are attracted by the delights of it.⁴³ Now this pleasure is profitable to the servants of Alahayam, and brings life to such men; but those hurtful pleasures, which were before mentioned, bring torments and punishment.⁴⁴ And whosoever shall continue in them, and shall not repent of what they have done, shall bring death upon themselves.

7 After a few days I saw the same person that before talked with me, in the same field, in which I had seen those shepherds, And he said to me; What seek you? Sir, said I, I came to entreat you that You would command the shepherd, who is the minister of punishment, to depart out of my house, because he greatly afflicts me.³ And he answered, It is necessary for you to endure inconveniences and vexations; for so that good angel has commanded concerning you, because he would try you.⁴ Sir, said I; What so great offence have I committed, that I should be delivered to this messenger? Hearken, said he: You are indeed guilty of many sins, yet not so many that you should be delivered to this messenger.⁵ But your house has committed many sins and offences, and therefore that good messenger being grieved at their doings commanded that for some time you should suffer affliction; that they may both repent of what they have done, and may wash themselves from all the lusts of this present world.⁶ When therefore they shall have repented, and be purified, then that messenger which is appointed over your punishment, shall depart from you.⁷ I said to him; Sir, if they have behaved themselves so as to anger that good angel, yet what have I done? He answered: They cannot otherwise be afflicted, unless you, who art the head of the family, suffer.⁸ For whatsoever you shall suffer, they must needs feel it but as long as you shall stand well established, they cannot experience any vexation.⁹ I replied; But, sir, behold they also now repent with all their hearts. I know, says he, that they repent with all their hearts; but do you therefore think that their offences who repent, are immediately blotted out.¹⁰ No, they are not presently; but he that repents must afflict his soul and show himself humble in all his affairs, and undergo many and divers vexations.¹¹ And when he shall have suffered all things that were appointed for him; then perhaps HE that made him, and formed all things besides, will be moved with compassion towards him, and afford him some remedy; and especially if HE shall perceive his heart who repents, to be free from every evil work.¹² But at present it is expedient for you, and for your house, to be grieved; and it is needful that you should endure much vexation, as the angel of the Adanay who committed you to me, has commanded.¹³ Rather give thanks to the Adanay, that knowing what was to come he thought you worthy, to whom he should foretel that trouble was coming upon you, who art able to bear it.¹⁴ I said to him; Sir, but be you also with me, and I shall easily undergo any trouble. I will, said he, be with you; and I will entreat the messenger who is set over your punishment, that he would moderate his afflictions towards you.¹⁵ And moreover you shall suffer adversity but for a little time; and then you shall again be restored to your former state; only continue on in the humility of your mind.¹⁶ Obey the Adanay with a pure heart; you, and your house, and your children; and, walk in the commands which I have delivered to you; and then your repentance may be firm and pure.¹⁷ And if you shall keep these things with your house, your inconveniences shall depart from you.¹⁸ And all vexation shall in like manner depart from those, whosoever shall walk according to these commands.

8 Again he showed me a willow which covered the fields and the mountains, under whose shadow came all such as were called by the name of the Adanay.² And by that willow stood an angel of the Adanay very excellent and lofty, and did cut down bows from the willow with a great hook; and reached out to the people that were under the shadow of the willow, little rods, as it were about a foot long.³ And when all of them had taken them, he laid aside his hook, and the tree continued entire, as I had before seen it; at which I wondered, and mused within myself.⁴ Then that shepherd said to me; Forbear to wonder that the tree continues whole, not-with-standing so many boughs have been cut off from it: but stay a little, for now it shall be shown you, what that angel means, who gave those rods to the people.⁵ So he again demanded the rods of them; and in the same order that every one had received them, was he called to him, and restored his rod; which when he had received, he examined them.⁶ From some he received them dry and rotten, and as it were touched with the moth; those he commanded to be separated from the rest, and placed by themselves. Others gave in their rods dry indeed, but not touched with the moth: these also he ordered to be set by themselves.⁷ Others gave in their rods half dry; these also were set apart, Others gave in their rods half dry and cleft; these too were set by themselves. Others brought in their rods half dry and half green, and these were in like manner placed by themselves.⁸ Others delivered up their rods two parts green, and the third dry; and they too were set apart. Others brought their rods two parts dry, and the third green; and were also placed by themselves.⁹ Others delivered up their rods less dry (for there was but a very little, to wit, their tops dry), but they had clefts, and these were set in like manner by themselves. In the rods of others there was but a little green, and the rest dry; and these were set aside by themselves.¹⁰ Others came, and brought their rods green as they had received them, and the greatest part of the people brought their rods thus; and the messenger greatly rejoiced at these, and they also were put apart by themselves.¹¹ Others brought in their rods not only green, but full of branches; and these were set aside, being also received by the angel with great joy. Others brought their rods green with branches, and those also some fruit upon them.¹² They who had such rods, were very cheerful; and the angel himself took great joy at them; nor was the shepherd that stood with me, less pleased with them.¹³ Then the angel of the Adanay commanded crowns to be brought, and the crowns were brought made of palms; and the angel crowned those men in whose rods he found the young branches with fruit, and commanded them to go into the tower.¹⁴ He also sent those into the tower, in whose hands he found branches without fruit, giving a seal to them. For they had the same garment, that is, one white as snow; with which he bade them go into the tower. And so he did to those who returned their rods green as they had received them; giving them a white garment, and so sent them away to go into the tower.¹⁵ Having done this, he said to the shepherd that was with me, I go my way; but do you send these within the walls, every one into the place in which he has deserved to dwell; examining first their rods, but examine them diligently that no one deceive you; and if any one shall escape you, I will try them upon the altar. Having said this to the shepherd, he departed.¹⁶ After he was gone, the shepherd said to me; Let us take the rods from them, and plant them; if perchance they may grow green again. I said to him; Sir, how can those dry rods ever grow green again? ¹⁷ He answered me; That tree, is a willow, and always loves to live. If therefore these rods shall be planted, and receive a little moisture, many of them will recover themselves.¹⁸ Therefore I will try, and will pour water upon them, and if any of them can live, I will rejoice with them; but if not, at least by this means I shall be found not to have neglected my part.¹⁹ Then he commanded me to call them; and they all came to him, every one in the rank in which he stood, and gave him their rods; which having received he planted every one of them in their several orders.²⁰ And after he had planted them all, he poured much water upon them, insomuch that they were covered with water, and did not appear above it. Then when he had watered them, he said to me; Let us depart, and after a little time we will return and visit them.²¹ For he who created this tree, would have all those live that received rods from it. And I hope now that these rods are thus watered, many of them receiving in the moisture, will recover:²² I said to him, Sir, tell me what this tree denotes? For I am greatly astonished, that after so many branches have been cut off, it seems still to be whole: nor does there any thing the less of it appear to remain, which greatly amazes me.²³ He answered, Harken. This great tree which covers the plains and the mountains, and all the earth, is the law of Alahayam, published throughout the whole world.²⁴ Now this law is the Son of Alahayam, who is preached to all the ends of the earth. The people that stand under its shadow, are those which have heard his preaching, and believed.²⁵ The great and venerable angel which you saw, was Mayakaal who had the power over his people, and governs them. For he has planted the law in the hearts of those who have believed: and therefore he visits them to whom lie has given the law, to see if they have kept it.²⁶ And he examines every one's rod; and of those, many that are weakened: for those rods are the law of the Adanay. Then he discerns all those who have not kept the law, knowing the place of every one of them.²⁷ I said to him, Sir, why did he send away some to the tower, and left others here to you? He replied, those who have transgressed the law, which they received from him, are left in my power, that they may repent of their sins: but they who fulfilled this law and kept it, are under his power.²⁸ But who then, said I, are those, who went into the tower crowned? He replied, all such as having striven with the devil, have overcome him, are crowned: and they are those, who have suffered hard things, that they might keep the law.²⁹ But they who gave up their rods green, and with young branches, but without fruit, have indeed endured trouble for the same law, but have not suffered death; neither have they denied their holy law.³⁰ They who delivered up their rods green as they received them, are those who were modest and just, and have lived with a very pure mind, and kept the commandments of Alahayam.³¹ The rest you shall know, when I shall have considered those rods which I have planted and watered.³² After a few days we returned, and in the same place stood that glorious angel, and I stood by him. Then he said to me; Gird yourself with a towel, and serve me.³³ And I girded myself with a clean towel, which was made of coarse cloth. And when he saw me girded, and ready to minister to him, he said, Call those men whose rods have been planted, every one in his order as he gave them.³⁴ And he brought me into the field, and I called them all, and they all stood ready in their several ranks. Then he said to them; let every one pluck up his rod, and bring it to me. And first they delivered theirs, whose rods had been dry and rotten.³⁵ And those whose rods still continued so, he commanded to stand apart. Then they came whose rods had been dry but not rotten. Some of these delivered, in their rods green; others dry and rotten, as if they had been touched by the moth.³⁶ Those who gave them up green, he commanded to stand apart: but those whose rods were dry and rotten, he caused to stand with the first sort. Then came they whose rods had been half dry, and cleft: many of these gave up their rods green, and uncleft.³⁷ Others delivered them up green with branches, like to theirs who went crowned into the tower. Others delivered them up dry, but not rotten; and some gave them up as they were before, all dry, and cleft.³⁸ Every one of these he ordered to stand apart; some by themselves, others in their respective ranks.⁴⁰ Then they gave in their rods, who had them half green and half dry. Of these some were found wholly green, others half dry: others green, with young shoots. And all these were sent away, every one to his proper rank.⁴¹ Then they gave up their rods, who had them before two parts green, and the third dry. Many of those gave in their rods green; many half dry; the rest dry but not rotten. So these were sent away, each to his proper place.⁴² Then came they who before had their rods two parts dry and the third green; many of these delivered up their rods half dry, others dry and rotten; others half dry and cleft: but few green. And all these were set every one in his own rank.⁴³ Then they reached in their rods, in which there was before but a little green, and the rest dry. Their rods were for the most part found green, having little boughs, with fruit upon them; and the rest altogether green.⁴⁴ And the shepherd upon sight of these rejoiced exceedingly, because he had found them thus; and they also went to their proper orders.⁴⁵ Now after he had examined all their rods, he said to me, I told you that this tree loved life you see how many have repented, and attained to salvation. Sir, said I, I see it.⁴⁶ That you might know says he, that the goodness and mercy of the Adanay is great, and to be had in honour; who gave his spirit to them that were found worthy of repentance.⁴⁷ I answered, Sir, why then did not all of them repent? He replied, Those whose minds the Lords foresaw would be pure, and that they would serve him with all their hearts, to them he gave repentance.⁴⁸ But for those whose deceit and wickedness he beheld, and perceived that they would not truly return to him; to them he denied any return to repentance, lest they should again blaspheme his law with wicked words.⁴⁹ I said to him; Now, Sir, make known to me, what is the place of every one of those, who have given up their rods, and what their portion; that when they may have not kept their seal entire, but have wasted the seal which they received, shall hear and believe these things, and may acknowledge their evil deeds and repent;⁵⁰ And receiving again their seal from you, may give glory to Alahayam, that he was moved with compassion towards them, and sent you to renew their spirits.⁵¹ Harken, said he; they whose rods have been found and rotten, and as it were touch with the moth; are the deserters and the betrayers of the church;⁵² Who with the rest of their crimes, have also blasphemed the Adanay, and denied his name when he had called upon them. Therefore all these are dead to Alahayam and you see that none of them have repented, although they have heard my commands which you bast delivered to them. From these men therefore life is far distant.⁵³ They also who have delivered up their rods dry, but not rotten, have not been far from them. For they have been counterfeits, and brought in evil doctrines, and have perverted the servants of Alahayam, especially those who had sinned; not suffering them to return to repentance, but keeping them back by their false doctrines.⁵⁴ These therefore have hope; and you see that many of them have repented, since the time that you have laid my commands before them; and many more will yet repent. But they, that shall not repent; shall lose both repentance and life.⁵⁵ But they that have repented, their place is begun to be within the first walls, and some of them are even gone into the tower. You see therefore, said he, that in the repentance of sinners there is life; but for those who repent not, death is prepared.⁵⁶ Hear now concerning those who gave in their rods half dry and full of clefts. Those whose rods were only half dry, are the doubtful; for they are neither living nor dead.⁵⁷ But they who delivered in their rods, not only half dry but also full of clefts, are both doubtful and evil speakers; who detract from those that are absent, and have never peace among themselves, and who envy one another.⁵⁸ Howbeit, to those also repentance is offered; for you see that some of these have repented.⁵⁹ Now all those of this kind who have quickly repented, shall have a place in the tower; and they who have been more slow in their repentance, shall dwell within the walls: but they that shall not repent, and shall continue on in their wicked doings, shall die the death.⁶⁰ As for those who had their rods green, but yet cleft; they are such as were always faithful and good, but they had some envy and strife among themselves concerning dignity and pre-eminence.⁶¹ Now all such as are vain, and without understanding, contend with one another about these things.⁶² Nevertheless, seeing they are otherwise good, if when they shall hear these commands they shall amend themselves, and shall at my persuasion suddenly repent; they shall at last dwell in the tower, like those who have truly and worthily repented.⁶³ But if any one shall again return to his dissension; he shall be shut out from the tower, and shall lose his life. For the life of those who keep the commandments of the Adanay, consists in doing what they are commanded; not in principality, or in any other dignity.⁶⁴ For by forbearance and humility of mind, men shall attain to life; but by seditions and contempt of the law, they shall purchase death to themselves.⁶⁵ They who in their rods had half dry and half green, are those who are engaged in many affairs of the world, and are not joined to the saints. For which cause half of them lives, and half is dead.⁶⁶ Therefore many of these since the time that they have heard my commands, have repented, and begun to dwell in the tower. But some of them have wholly fallen away; to these there is no more place for repentance.⁶⁷ For by reason of their present interests, they have blasphemed and denied Alahayam: and for this wickedness they have lost life. And of these many are still in doubt, yet these may return; and if they shall quickly repent, they shall have a place in the tower; but if they shall be more slow, they shall dwell within the walls; but if they shall not repent, they shall die.⁶⁸ As for those who had two parts of their rods green, and the third dry; they have by manifold ways denied the Adanay. Of these many have repented, and found a place in the tower: and many have altogether departed from Alahayam. These have utterly lost life.⁶⁹ And some

being in a doubtful state, have raise up dissensions: these may yet return, if they shall suddenly repent and not continue in their lusts; but if they shall continue in their Awayal-doing they shall die.⁷⁰ They who gave in their rods two parts dry, and the other been, are those who have indeed been faithful, but withal rich and full of good things; and thereupon upon have desired to be famous among the heathen which are without, and have thereby fallen into great pride, and begun to aim at high matters, and to forsake the truth.⁷¹ Nor were they joined to the saints, but lived with the heathen; and this life seemed the more pleasant to them. Howbeit they have not departed from Alahayam, but continued in the faith; only they have not wrought the works of faith.⁷² Many therefore of these have repented; and begun to dwell in the tower. Yet others still living among the heathen, people, and being lifted up with their vanities, have utterly fallen away from Alahayam, and followed the works and wickedness of the heathen. These kind of men therefore are reckoned among strangers to the Gospel.⁷³ Others of these began to be doubtful in their minds; despairing by reason of their wicked doings ever to attain to salvation Others being thus made doubtful, did moreover stir up dissensions.⁷⁴ To these therefore, and to those who by reason of their doings are become doubtful, there is still hope of return; but they must repent quickly, that their place may be in the tower. But they that repent not, and continue still in their pleasures, are nigh to death.⁷⁵ As for those who gave in their rods green, excepting their tops, which only were dry, and had clefts; these were always good, and faithful, and upright before Alahayam: nevertheless they sinned a little, by reason of their empty pleasures and trifling thoughts which they had within themselves.⁷⁶ Therefore many of them when they heard my words, repented forthwith, and began to dwell in the tower. Nevertheless some grew doubtful, and others to their doubtful minds added dissensions. To these therefore there is still hope of return, because they were always good; but they shall not hardly be moved.⁷⁷ As for those, lastly, who gave in their rods dry, their tops only excepted, which alone were green; they are such as have believed indeed in Alahayam, but have lived in wickedness; yet without departing from Alahayam: having always willingly borne the name of the Adanay, and readily received into their houses the servants of Alahayam.⁷⁸ Therefore hearing these things they returned, and without delay repented, and lived in all righteousness. And some of them suffered death: others readily underwent many trials, being mindful of their evil doings.⁷⁹ If And when he had ended his explications of all the rods, he said to me, Go, and say to all men that they repent, and they shall live to Alahayam; because the Adanay being moved with great clemency has sent me to preach repentance to all:⁸⁰ Even to those who by reason of their evil doings, deserve not to attain to salvation. But the Adanay will by patient, and keep the invitation that was made by his Son.⁸¹ I said to him, sir, I hope that all when they shall hear these things, will repent. For I trust that everyone acknowledging his crimes, and taking up the fear of the Adanay, will return to repentance.⁸² He said to me, Whosoever shall repent with all their hearts, and cleanse themselves from all the evils that I have before mentioned, and not add anything more to their sins, shall receive from the Adanay cure of their former iniquities, if they do not make any doubt of these commands, and shall live to Alahayam.⁸³ But they that shall continue to add to their transgressions, and still converse with the lusts of the present world, shall condemn themselves to death. But do you walk in these commands, and whosoever shall Walk in these, and exercise them rightly, shall live to Alahayam.⁸⁴ And having showed me all these things, he said; I will show you the rest in a few days.

9 After I had Written the Commands and similitudes of the Shepherd, the Angel of Repentance came to me, and said to me, I will show you all those things which the Spirit spoke with you under the figure of the church. For that Spirit is the Son of Alahayam.² And because you were weak in body, it was not declared to you by the angel, until you were strengthened by the Spirit, and increased in force, that you might also see the angel:

³ For then indeed the building of the tower was very well and gloriously shown to you by the church; nevertheless you saw all things shown to you as it were by a virgin. ⁴ But now you are enlightened by the angel, and yet by the same Spirit. But you must consider all things diligently; for therefore am I sent into your house by that venerable messenger, that when you shall have seen all things powerfully, you may not be afraid as before. ⁵ And he led me to the height of a mountain in Arcadia, and we sat upon its top. And he showed me a great plain, and about it twelve mountains in different figures. ⁶ The first was black as soot. The second was smooth, without herbs. The third was full of thorns and thistles. The fourth had herbs half dried; of which the upper part was green, but that next the root was dry; and some of the herbs, when the sun grew hot, were dry. ⁷ The fifth mountain was very rugged; but yet had green herbs. The sixth mountain was full of clefts, some lesser, and some greater; and in these clefts grew grass, not flourishing, but which seemed to be withering. ⁸ The seventh mountain had delightful pasture, and was wholly fruitful; and all kinds of cattle, and of the birds of heaven; fed upon it; and the more they fed on it, the more and better did the grass grow. ⁹ The eighth mountain was full of fountains, and from those fountains were watered all kinds of the creatures of God. The ninth mountain had no water at all, but was wholly destitute of it; and nourished deadly serpents, very destructive to men. ¹⁰ The tenth mountain was full of tall trees, and altogether shady; and under the shade of them lay cattle resting and chewing the cud. ¹¹ The eleventh mountain was full of the thickest trees, and those trees seemed to be loaded with several sorts of fruits; that whosoever saw them could not choose but desire to eat of their fruit. ¹² The twelfth mountain was altogether white, and of a most pleasant aspect, and itself gave a most excellent beauty to itself. ¹³ In the middle of the plain he showed me a huge white rock, which rose out of the plain, and the rock was higher than those mountains, and was square; so that it seemed capable of supporting the whole world. ¹⁴ It looked to me to be old, yet it had in it a new gate, which seemed to have been newly hewn out of it. Now that gate was bright beyond the sun itself; insomuch, that I greatly wondered at its light. ¹⁵ About the gate stood twelve virgins; of which four that stood at the corners of the gate, seemed to me to be the chiefest, although the rest were also of worth: and they stood in the four parts of the gate. ¹⁶ It added also to the grace of those virgins, that they stood in pairs, clothed with linen garments, and decently girded, their right arms being at liberty, as if they were about to lift up some burthen; for so they were adorned, and were exceeding cheerful and ready. ¹⁷ When I saw this, I wondered with myself to see such great and noble things. And again I admired upon the account of those virgins, that they were so handsome and delicate; and stood with such firmness and constancy, as if they would carry the whole heaven. ¹⁸ And as I was thinking thus within myself, the shepherd said to me; What thickest you within yourself? Why are you disquieted, and fill yourself with care? ¹⁹ Do not seem to consider, as if you were wise, what you do not understand, but pray to the Adanay, that you may have ability to understand it. What is to come you can not understand, but you see that which is before you. ²⁰ Be not therefore disquieted at those things which you can not see; but get the understanding of those which you see. ²¹ Forbear to be curious; and I will show you all things that I ought to declare to you: but first consider what yet remains. ²² And when he had said this to me I looked up, and behold I saw six tall and venerable men coming; their countenances were all alike, and they called a certain multitude of men; and they who came at their call were also tall and stout. ²³ And those six commanded them to build a certain tower over that gate. And immediately there began to be a great noise of those men running here and there about the gate, who were come together to build the tower. ²⁴ But those virgins which stood about the gate perceived that the building of the tower was to be hastened by them. And they stretched out their hands, as if they were to receive somewhat from them to do. ²⁵ Then those six men commanded, that they should lift up stones out of a certain deep place, and prepare them for the building of the tower. And there were lifted up ten white stones, square, and not cut round. ²⁶ Then those six men called the ten virgins to them, and commanded them to carry all the stones that were to be put into the building, and having carried them through the gate to deliver them to those that were about to build the tower. ²⁷ Immediately the virgins began all of them together to lift up those stones, that were before taken out of the deep. ²⁸ And they who also stood about the gate did carry stones in such a manner, that those stones which seemed to be the strongest were laid at the corners, and the rest were put into the sides; ²⁹ And thus they carried all the stones, and bringing them through the gate delivered them to the builders, as they had been commanded: who receiving them at their hands, built with them. ³⁰ But this building was made upon that great rock, and over the gate; and by these the whole tower was supported. But the building of the ten stones filled the whole gate, which began to be made for the foundation of that tower. ³¹ After those ten stones did five and twenty others rise up out of the deep; and these were placed in the building of the same tower; being lifted up by those virgins, as the others had been before. ³² After these did fire and thirty others rise up; and these were also in like manner fitted into the same work. Then forty other stones were brought up, and all these were added to the building of that tower. ³³ So there began to be four ranks in the foundation of that tower; and the stones ceased to rise out of the deep; and they also which built rested a little. ³⁴ Again, those six men commanded the multitude, that they should bring stones out of those twelve mountains to the building of the same tower. ³⁵ So they cut out of all the mountains stones of divers colours, and brought them and gave them to the virgins; which when they had received they carried them, and delivered them into the building of the tower. ³⁶ In which when they were built they became white, and different from what they were before; for they were all alike, and did change their former colours. And some were reached up by the men themselves, which when they came into the building, continued such is they were put in. ³⁷ These neither became white, nor different from what they were before; because they were not carried by the virgins through the gate. Therefore these stones were disagreeable in the building; which, when these six men perceived they commanded them to be removed, and put again in the place from which they were brought. ³⁸ And they said to those who brought these stones; Do not you reach up to us any stones for this building, but lay them down by the tower, that these virgins may carry them and reach them to us. ³⁹ For unless they shall be carried by these virgins through this gate, they cannot change their colours: therefore do not labour in vain. ⁴⁰ So the building that day was done; howbeit the tower was not finished, for it was afterwards to be built; therefore now also there was some delay made of it. ⁴¹ And these six men commanded those that built to depart, and as it were to rest for some time; but they ordered those virgins that they should not depart from the tower; so now they seemed to me to be left for the guarding of it. ⁴² When all were departed, I said to the shepherd; Sir, why is not the building of the tower finished? Because it cannot, said he, be finished until its Adanay comes, and approves of the building; that if he shall find any stones in it that are not good they may be changed; for this tower is built according to his will. ⁴³ Sir, said I, I would know what the building of this tower signifies; as also I would be informed concerning this rock, and this gate; ⁴⁴ And concerning the mountains, and the virgins, and the stones that did rise out of the deep, and were not cut, but put into the building just as they came forth; and why the ten stones were first laid in the foundation; then the twenty-five, then thirty-five; then forty? ⁴⁵ Also concerning those stones that were put into the building, and again taken out, and carried back into their places? Fulfil, I pray, the desire of my soul as to all these things, and manifest all to me. ⁴⁶ And he said to me; If you shall not be dull, you shall know all, and shall see all the other things that are about to happen in this, tower: and shall understand diligently all these similitudes. ⁴⁷ And after a few days we came into the same place where we had sat before; and he said to me, Let us go to the tower; for the Adanay of it will come and examine it. ⁴⁸ So we came there, and found none but those virgins there. And he asked them whether the Adanay of that tower was come there? And they replied, that he would be there presently to examine the building.⁴⁹ After a very little while I saw a great multitude of men coming, and in the middle of them a man so tall, that he surpassed the tower in height.⁵⁰ About him were those six, who before commanded in the building, and all the rest of those who had built that tower, and many others of great dignity: and the virgins that kept the tower ran to meet him, and kissed him, and began to walk near to him.⁵¹ But he examined the building with so much care, that he handled every stone; and struck every one with a rod which he held in his hand:⁵² Of which some being so struck turned black as soot; others were rough; some looked as if they had cracks in them; others seemed maimed; some neither black nor white; some looked sharp, and agreed not with the other stones, and others were full of spots.⁵³ These were the several kinds of those stones which were not found proper in the building; all which the Adanay commanded to be taken out of the tower, and laid near it, and other stones to be brought and put in their places.⁵⁴ And they that built, asked him from which of the mountains he would have stones brought to put in the place of those that were laid aside. But he forbade them to bring any from the mountains, and commanded that they should take them out of a certain field that was near.⁵⁵ So they digged in the field, and found many bright square stones, and some also that were round. Howbeit, all that were found in that field were taken away, and carried through the gate by those virgins; and those of them that were square were fitted and put into the places of those that were pulled out.⁵⁶ But the round ones were not put into the building, because they were hard, and it would have required too much time to cut them but they were placed about the tower, as if they should hereafter be cut square, and put into the building; for they were very white.⁵⁷ When he who was chief in dignity, and lord of the whole tower saw this, he called to him the shepherd that was with me, and gave him the stones that were rejected and laid about the tower, and said to him; cleanse these stones with all care, and fit them into the building of the tower, that they may agree with the rest; but those that will not suit with the rest, cast away afar off from the tower.⁵⁸ When he had thus commanded him, he departed, with all those that came with him to the tower but those virgins still stood about the tower to keep it.⁵⁹ And I said to that shepherd; How can these stones, seeing they have been rejected, return into the building of this tower? He replied; I will cut off the greatest part from these stones, and will add them to the building, and they will agree with the rest.⁶⁰ And I said, Sir, how will they be able to fill the same place, when they shall be so much cut away? He answered; They that shall be found too little shall be put into the middle of the building, and the greater shall be placed without, and keep them in.⁶¹ When he had said thus to me, he added; Let us go, and after three days we will return, and I will put these stones, being cleansed, into the tower.⁶² For all these that are about the tower must be cleansed, lest the master of the house chance to come upon the sudden, and find those which are about the tower unclean; and be so exasperated that these stones should never be put into the building of this tower, and I shall be looked upon to have been unmindful of my master's commands.⁶³ When therefore we came after three days to the tower, he said to me; Let us examine all these stones, and let us see which of them may go into the building. I answered, Sir, let us see.⁶⁴ And first of all we began to consider those which had been black; for they were found just such as they were when they were pulled out of the tower: therefore he commanded them to be removed from the tower and put by themselves.⁶⁵ Then he examined those which had been rough; and commanded many of those to be cut round, and to be fitted by the virgins into the building of the tower; so they took them, and fitted them into the middle of the building and he commanded the rest to be laid by with the black ones, for they also were become black.⁶⁶ Next he considered those which were full of cracks, and many of those also he ordered to be pared away, and so to be added to the rest of the building, by the same virgins.⁶⁷ These were placed without because they were found entire; but the residue through the multitude of their cracks could not be reformed, and therefore were cast away from the building of the tower.⁶⁸ Then he considered those that had been maimed; many of these had cracks, and were become black; others had large clefts; these he commanded to be placed with those that were rejected;⁶⁹ But the rest being cleansed and reformed, he commanded to be put into the building. These therefore those virgins took up, and fitted into the middle of the building, because they were but weak.⁷⁰ After these he examined those which were found half white and half black, and many of those which were now black; these also he ordered to be laid among those that were cast away.⁷¹ The rest were found altogether white; those were taken up by the virgins, and fitted into the same tower: and they were put in the outside, because they were found entire; that so they might keep in those that were placed in the middle, for nothing was cut off from them.⁷² Next he looked upon those which had been hard and sharp; but few of these were made use of, because they could not be cut, for they were found very hard: but the rest were formed, and fitted by the virgins into the middle of the building, because they were more weak.⁷³ Then he considered those which had spots; of these a few were found black, and they were carried to their fellows. The rest were white and entire; and they were fitted by the virgins into the building, and placed in the outside, by reason of their strength.⁷⁴ After this he came to consider those stones which were white and round: and he said to me, What shall we do with these stones? I answered, Sir, I cannot tell.⁷⁵ He replied, Can you think of nothing then for these? I answered, Sir, I understand not this art; neither am I a stone-cutter, nor can I tell anything.⁷⁶ And he said, see you not that they are very round? Now to make them square, I must cut off a great deal from them; howbeit, it is necessary that some of these should go into the building of the tower.⁷⁷ I answered; If it be necessary, why do you perplex yourself, and not rather choose, if you have any choice among them, and fit them into the building.⁷⁸ Upon this he chose out the largest and brightest, and squared them; which, when he had done the virgins took them up, and fitted them into the building.⁷⁹ And the rest that remained were carried back into the same field from which they were taken; howbeit, they were not cast away; because, said he, there is yet a little wanting to this tower, which is to be built; and perhaps the Adanay will have these stones fitted into this building, because they are exceeding white.⁸⁰ Then there were called twelve very stately women, clothed with a black garment, girded, and their shoulders free, and their hair loose. These seemed to me to be country women.⁸¹ And the shepherd commanded them to take up those stones which were cast out of the building, and carry them back to the mountains out of which they were taken.⁸² And they took them all up joyfully, and carried them back to their places from whence they had been taken.⁸³ When not one stone remained about the tower, he said to me, Let us go about this tower, and see whether anything be wanting to it.⁸⁴ We began therefore to go round about it; and when he saw that it was handsomely built, he began to be very glad; for it was so beautifully framed, that any one that had seen it must have been in love with the building.⁸⁵ For it seemed to be all but one stone, nor did a joint any where appear; but it looked as if it had all been cut out of one rock.⁸⁶ And when I diligently considered what a tower it was, I was extremely pleased: and he said to me, Bring here some lime and little shells, that I may fill up the spaces of those stones that were taken out of the building, and put in again; for all things about the tower must be made even.⁸⁷ And I did as he commanded me, and brought them to him and he said to me, Be ready to help me, and this work will quickly be finished.⁸⁸ He therefore filled up the spaces of those stones, and commanded the place about the tower to be cleansed.⁸⁹ Then those virgins took besoms, and cleansed all the place around, and took away all the rubbish, and threw water on; which being done, the palace became delightful, and the tower beautiful.⁹⁰ Then he said to me, All is now clean if the Adanay should come to finish the tower, he will find nothing whereby to complain of us.⁹¹ When he had said this he would have departed.

But I laid hold on his bag, and began to entreat him for the Adanay's sake, that he would explain to me all things that he had shown me.⁹² He said to me, I have at present a little business; but I will suddenly explain all things to you. Tarry here for me till I come.⁹³ I said to him, Sir, what shall I do here alone? He answered, You are not alone, seeing all these virgins are with you.⁹⁴ I said, Sir, deliver me then to them. Then he called them and said to them, I commend this man to you until I shall come;⁹⁵ So I remained with those virgins: now they were cheerful and courteous to me; especially the four, which seemed to be the chieftest among them.⁹⁶ Then those virgins said to me, that shepherd will not return here to-day. I said to them, What then shall I do? They answered, Tarry for him till the evening, if perhaps he may come and speak with you; but if not, yet you shall continue with us till he does come.⁹⁷ I said to them, I will tarry for him till evening; but if he comes not by that time, I will go home, and return here again the next morning.⁹⁸ They answered me, As you are delivered to us, you may not depart from us. I said, Where shall I tarry?⁹⁹ They replied, You shall sleep with us as a brother, not as a husband; for you are our brother, and we are ready from henceforth to dwell with you; for you are very dear to us.¹⁰⁰ Howbeit I was ashamed to continue with them. But she that seemed to be the chieftest amongst them, embraced me, and began to kiss me. And the rest when they saw that I was kissed by her, began also to kiss me as a brother; and led me about the tower, and played with me.¹⁰¹ Some of them also sung psalms, others made up the chorus with them. But I walked about the tower with them, rejoicing silently, and seeming to myself to be grown young again.¹⁰² When the evening came on, I would forthwith have gone home, but they withheld me, and suffered me not to depart. Therefore I continued with them that night near the same tower.¹⁰³ So they spread their linen garments upon the ground; and placed me in the middle, nor did they anything else, only they prayed.¹⁰⁴ I also prayed with them without ceasing, nor less than they. Who, when they saw me pray in that manner, rejoiced greatly; and I continued there with their till the next day.¹⁰⁵ And when we had worshipped Alahayam, then the shepherd came and said to them: You have done no injury to this man? They answered, Ask him. I said to him, Sir, I have received a great deal of satisfaction in that I have remained with them.¹⁰⁶ And he said to me, How did you sup? I answered, Sir, I feasted the whole night upon the words of the Adanay. They received you well then, said he? I said, Sir, very well.¹⁰⁷ He answered, Will you now learn what you did desire? I replied, Sir, I will: and first I pray you that you should show me all things in the order that I asked them.¹⁰⁸ He answered, I will do all as you would have me, nor will I hide any thing from you.¹⁰⁹ First of all, Sir, said I, tell me, what this rock and this gate denote? Hearken, said he; this rock, and this gate, are the Son of Alahayam. I replied, Sir, how can that be; seeing the rock is old, but the gate new?¹¹⁰ Hear, said he, O foolish man! and understand. The Son of Alahayam is indeed more ancient than any creature; insomuch that he was in council with his Father at the creation of all things.¹¹¹ But the gate is therefore new, because he appeared in the last days in the fullness of time; that they who shall attain to salvation, may by it enter into the kingdom of Alahayam.¹¹² You have seen, said he, those stones which were carried through the gate, how they were placed in the building of the tower; but that those which were not carried through the gate, were sent away into their own places?¹¹³ I answered, sir, I saw it. Thus, said he, no man shall enter into the kingdom of Alahayam, but he who shall take upon him the name of the Son of Alahayam.¹¹⁴ For if you would enter into any city, and that city should be encompassed with a wall, and had only one gate, could you enter into that city except by that gate?¹¹⁵ I answered, Sir, how could I do otherwise? As therefore, said he, there would be no other way of entering into that city but by its gate, so neither can any one enter into the kingdom of Alahayam, but only by the name of his Son, who is most dear to him.¹¹⁶ And he said to me, Did you see the multitude of those that built that tower? Sir, said I, I saw it. He answered, All those are the angels, venerable in their dignity,¹¹⁷ With those is the Adanay encompassed as with a wall: but the gate is the Son of Alahayam, who is the only way of coming to Alahayam. For no man shall go to Alahayam, but by his Son.¹¹⁸ You saw also, said he, the six men, and in the middle of them that venerable great man, who walked about the tower, and rejected the stones out of the tower?¹¹⁹ Sir, said I, I saw them. He answered, that tall man was the Son of Alahayam; and those six were his angels of most eminent dignity, which stand about him on the right hand and on the left.¹²⁰ Of these excellent angels none comes in to Alahayam without him. He added, Whosoever there, fore shall not take upon him his name, he shall nor enter into the kingdom of Alahayam.¹²¹ Then I said, What is this tower? This, said he, is the church. And what, Sir, are these virgins? He said to me, These are the holy spirits, for no man can enter into the kingdom of Alahayam, except these clothe him with their garment,¹²² For it will avail you nothing to take up the name of the Son of Alahayam, unless you shall also receive their garment from them. For these virgins are the powers of the Son of Alahayam. So shall a man in vain bear his name, unless he shall be also endued with his powers.¹²³ And he said to me, saw you those stones that were cast away? They bore indeed the name, but put not on their garment. I said, Sir, what is their garment? Their very names, said he, are their garment.¹²⁴ Therefore whosoever bears the name of the Son of Alahayam, ought to bear their names also; for the Son of Alahayam also himself bears their names.¹²⁵ As for those stones, continued he, which being delivered by their hands, you saw remain in the building, they were clothed with their power; for which cause you see the whole tower of the same colour with the rock, and made as it were of one stone.¹²⁶ So also those who have believed in Alahayam by his Son, have put on his spirit. Behold there shall be one spirit, and one body, and one colour of their garments; and all they shall attain this, who shall bear the names of these virgins.¹²⁷ And I said, Sir, why then were those stones cast away which were rejected, seeing they also were carried through the gate, and delivered by the hands of these virgins into the building of this tower?¹²⁸ Seeing, said he you take care to inquire diligently into all things, hear also concerning those stones which were rejected. All these received the name of the Son of Alahayam, and with that the power of these virgins.¹²⁹ Having therefore received these spirits, they were perfected, and brought into the number of the servants of Alahayam; and they began to be one body, and to have one garment, for they were endued with the same righteousness, which they alike exercised.¹³⁰ But after that they beheld those women which you saw clothed with a black garment, with their shoulders at liberty and their hair loose; they fixed their desires upon them, being tempted with their beauty; and were clothed with their power, and cast off the clothing of the virgins:¹³¹ Therefore were they cast off from the house of Alahayam, and delivered to those women. But they that were not corrupted with their beauty, remained in the house of Alahayam. This, said he, is the signification of those stones which were rejected.¹³² And I said, sir, what if any of these men shall repent, and cast away their desire of those women, and be converted, and return to these virgins, and put on again their virtue; shall they not enter into the house of Alahayam?¹³³ They shall enter, said he, if they shall lay aside all the works of those women, and shall resume the power of these virgins, and shall walk in their works.¹³⁴ And for this cause there is a stop in the building, that if they shall repent, they may be added to the building of this tower; but if they shall not repent, that others may be built in their places, and so they may be utterly cast away.¹³⁵ For all these things I gave thanks to the Adanay, that being moved with mercy towards all those upon whom his name is carried, he sent to us the angel of repentance to preside over us who have sinned against him; and that he has refreshed our spirits which were almost gone, and who had no hope of salvation, but are now refreshed to the renewal of life.¹³⁶ Then I said, Show me now sir, why this tower is not built upon the ground, but upon a rock, and upon the gate? He replied, You are foolish, and without understanding, therefore you asks this.¹³⁷ And I said, sir, I must needs ask all things of you because I understand nothing at all. For all your answers are great and excellent; and which a man can hardly understand.¹³⁸ Hear, said he: The name of the Son of Alahayam is great and without bounds, and the whole world is supported by it. If therefore, said I, every creature of Alahayam be sustained by his Son, why should he not support those also who have been invited by him, and who carry his name, and walk in his commandments?¹³⁹ See you not, said he, that he does support them, who with all their heart, bear his name? He therefore is their foundation, and gladly supports those who do not deny his name, but willingly bear it.¹⁴⁰ And I said: Sir, tell me the names of these virgins; and of those women that were clothed with the black garment.¹⁴¹ Hear, said he, the names of those virgins which are the more powerful, and stand at the corners of the gate. These are their names:¹⁴² The first is called Faith; the second Continnence; the third Power; the fourth Patience; the rest which stand beneath these are, Simplicity, Innocence, Chastity, Cheerfulness, Truth, Understanding, Concord, Charity.¹⁴³ Whosoever therefore bear these names, and the name of the Son of Alahayam, shall enter into the kingdom of Alahayam.¹⁴⁴ Hear now, said he, the names of those women, which were clothed with the black garment. Of these, four are the principal: the first is Perfidiousness; the second, Incontinence; the third, Infidelity; the fourth, Pleasure.¹⁴⁵ And the rest which follow are called thus, Sadness, Malice, Lust, Anger, Lying, Foolishness, Pride, and Hatred. The servant of Alahayam, which carries these spirits, shall see indeed the kingdom of Alahayam, but he shall not enter into it.¹⁴⁶ But, sir, what are those stones which were taken out of the deep and fitted into the building? The ten, said he, which were placed at the foundation, are the first age; the following five-and-twenty, are the second, of righteous men.¹⁴⁷ The next thirty-five, are the prophets and ministers of the Adanay. And the forty, are the Apostles and doctors of the preaching of the Son of Alahayam.¹⁴⁸ And I said, sir, why did the virgins put even those stones into the building after they were carried through the gate? And he said, Because these first carried those spirits, and they departed not one from the other, neither the men from the spirits, nor the spirits from the men:¹⁴⁹ But the spirits were joined to those men even to the day of their death; who if they had not had these spirits with them, they could not have been useful to the building of this tower.¹⁵⁰ And I said, sir, show me this farther. He answered, What do then ask? Why did these stones come out of the deep, and were placed into the building of this tower, seeing that they long ago carried those holy spirits?¹⁵¹ It was necessary, said he, for them to ascend by water, that they might be at rest. For they could not otherwise enter into the kingdom of Alahayam, but by laying aside the mortality of their former life.¹⁵² They therefore being dead, were nevertheless sealed with the seal of the Son of Alahayam, and so entered into the kingdom of Alahayam.¹⁵³ For before a man receives the name of the Son of Alahayam, he is ordained to death; but when he receives that seal, he is freed from death, and assigned to life.¹⁵⁴ Now that seal is the water of baptism, into which men go down under the obligation to death, but come up appointed to life.¹⁵⁵ Therefore to those also was this seal preached, and they made use of it, that they might enter into the kingdom of Alahayam.¹⁵⁶ And I said, Why then, sir, did these forty stones also ascend with them out of the deep, having already received that seal?¹⁵⁷ He answered, Because these Apostles and teachers, who preached the name of the Son of Alahayam, dying after they had received his faith and power, preached to them who were dead before: and they gave this seal to them.¹⁵⁸ They went down therefore into the water with them, and again came up. But these went down whilst they were alive, and came up again alive: whereas those who were before dead, went down dead, but came up alive;¹⁵⁹ Through these therefore they received life, and knew the Son of Alahayam: for which cause they came up with them, and were fit to come into the building of the tower; and were not cut, but put in entire; because they died in righteousness, and in great purity; only this seal was wanting to them.¹⁶⁰ Thus you have the explication of these things.¹⁶¹ I answered: Sir, tell me now what concerns those mountains; why are they so different, some of one form, and some of another?¹⁶² Hear, said he; These twelve mountains which you see, are twelve nations, which make up the whole world. Therefore the Son of Alahayam is preached to them, by those whom he sent to them.¹⁶³ But why, said I, are they different, and every one of a figure? He replied, Hearken. Those twelve nations which possess the whole world, are twelve people.¹⁶⁴ And as you have beheld these mountains different, so are they. I will therefore open to you the meaning and actions of every mountain.¹⁶⁵ But first, sir, said I, show me this; Seeing these mountains are so different, how have they agreed in the building of this tower; and been brought to one colour; and are no less bright than those that came out of the deep?¹⁶⁶ Because, replied he, all the nations which are under heaven, have heard and believed in the same one name of the Son of Alahayam by whom they are called.¹⁶⁷ Therefore having received his seal, they have all been made partakers of the same understanding and knowledge; and their faith and charity have been the same; and they have carried the spirits of these virgins together with his name.¹⁶⁸ And therefore the building of this tower appeared to be of the same colour, and did shine like the brightness of the sun.¹⁶⁹ But after that they had thus agreed in one mind, there began to be one body of them all; howbeit some of them polluted themselves, and were cast off from those of the righteous, and again returned to their former state, and became even worse than they were before.¹⁷⁰ How, air, said I, were they worse who knew the Adanay? He answered: If he who knows not the Adanay lives wickedly, the punishment of his wickedness attends him;¹⁷¹ But he who has known the Adanay, ought to abstain altogether from all wickedness, and more and more to be the servant of righteousness.¹⁷² And does not he then seem to you to sin more who ought to follow goodness, if he shall prefer the part of sin; than he who offends without knowing the power of Alahayam?¹⁷³ Therefore these are indeed ordained to death; but they who have known the Adanay, and have seen his wonderful works, if they shall live wickedly, they shall be doubly punished, and shall die for ever.¹⁷⁴ As therefore you have seen that after the stones were cast out of the tower, which had been rejected, they were delivered to wicked and cruel spirits; and you beheldest the tower so cleansed, as if it had all been made of one stone:¹⁷⁵ So the church of Alahayam, when it shall be purified: (the wicked and counterfeits, the mischievous and doubtful, and all that have behaved themselves wickedly in it, and committed divers kinds of sin, being cast out) shall become one body, and there shall be one understanding, one opinion, one faith, and the same charity.¹⁷⁶ And then shall the Son of Alahayam rejoice among them, and shall receive his people with a pure will.¹⁷⁷ And I said; Sir, all these things are great and honourable; but now show to me the effect and force of every mountain: that every soul which trusts in the Adanay, when it shall hear these things may honour his great, and wonderful, and holy name.¹⁷⁸ Hear, said he, the variety of these mountains, that is, of the twelve nations.¹⁷⁹ They who have believed of the first mountain, which is black, are those who have revolted from the faith, and spoken wicked things against the Adanay; and betrayed the servants of Alahayam.¹⁸⁰ These are condemned to death; there is no repentance for them: and therefore they are black, because their kind is wicked.¹⁸¹ Of the second mountain which was smooth, are the hypocrites, who have believed, and the teachers of naughtiness: and these are next to the foregoing, which have not in them the fruit of righteousness.¹⁸² For as their mountain is barren and without fruit so also such kind of men have indeed the name of Christians, but are empty of faith; nor is there any fruit of the truth in them.¹⁸³ Nevertheless there is room left to them of repentance, if they shall speedily pursue it; but if they shall delay, they also shall be partakers of death with the foregoing kind.¹⁸⁴ I said, air, why is there room left to those for repentance, and not to the foregoing kind, seeing their sins are well nigh the same?¹⁸⁵ There is therefore, said he, to these a return to life by repentance, because they have not blasphemed against their Adanay, nor betrayed the servants of Alahayam: but by their desire of gain have deceived men, leading them according to the lusts of sinners; therefore they shall suffer for this thing.¹⁸⁶ Howbeit there is still left them room for repentance, because they have not spoken any thing wickedly against the Adanay.¹⁸⁷ They who are of the third mountain which had thorns and brambles, are those who believed, but were some of them rich; others taken up with many affairs: the brambles are their riches; the thorns, those affairs in which they were engaged.¹⁸⁸ Now they who are entangled in much business, and in diversity of affairs, join not themselves to the servants of Alahayam, but wander, being called away by those affairs with which they are choked.¹⁸⁹ And so they which are rich, with difficulty yield themselves to the conversation of the servants of Alahayam; fearing lest any thing should be asked of them. These therefore shall hardly enter the kingdom of Alahayam.¹⁹⁰ For as men walk with difficulty bare-foot over thorns, even so these kind of men shall scarcely enter into the kingdom of Alahayam.¹⁹¹ Nevertheless there is afforded to all these a return to repentance, if they shall quickly return to it; because in their former days they having neglected to work, in the time that is to come they may do some good.¹⁹² If therefore having repented they shall do the works of righteousness, they shall live; but if they shall continue in their evil courses, they shall be delivered to those women who will take away their lives.¹⁹³ As for the fourth mountain, which had many herbs, the upper part of which is green, but the roots dry, and some of which being touched with the heat of the sun, are withered;¹⁹⁴ It denotes the doubtful, who have believed, and some others who carry the Adanay on their tongues, but have him not in their hearts: therefore their grass is dry, and without root; because they live only in words, but their works are dead.¹⁹⁵ These therefore are neither dead nor living, and withal are doubtful. For the doubtful are neither green nor dry; that is neither dead nor alive.¹⁹⁶ For as the herbs dry away at the sight of the sun, so the doubtful, as soon as they hear of persecution, and fear inconveniences, return to their idols, and again serve them, and are ashamed to bear the name of their Adanay.¹⁹⁷ This kind of men then is neither dead nor alive; nevertheless these also may live, if they shall presently repent; but if not, they shall be delivered to those women, who shall take away their lives.¹⁹⁸ As concerning the fifth mountain that is craggy, and yet has green grass; they are of this kind who have believed, and are faithful indeed, but believe with difficulty, and are bold and self-conceited; and would be thought to know all things, but really know nothing.¹⁹⁹ Therefore, by reason of this confidence, knowledge is departed from them; and a rash presumption is entered into them.²⁰⁰ But they carry themselves high, and as prudent men; and though they are fools, yet would seem to be teachers.²⁰¹ Now by reason of this folly many of them whilst they magnify themselves, are become vain and empty. For boldness and vain confidence is a very evil spirit.²⁰² Therefore many of these are cast away; but others acknowledging their error, have repented, and submitted themselves to those who are knowing.²⁰³ And to all the rest of this kind, there is repentance allowed; forasmuch as they were not so much wicked as foolish, and void of understanding.²⁰⁴ If these therefore shall repent, they shall live to Alahayam; but if not, they shall dwell with those women, who shall exercise their wickedness upon them.²⁰⁵ For what concerns the sixth mountain having greater and lesser clefts, they are such as have believed; but those in which were lesser clefts are they who have had controversies among themselves; and by reason of their quarrels languish in the faith:²⁰⁶ Nevertheless many of these have repented, and so will the rest when they shall hear my commands; for their controversies are but small, and they will easily return to repentance.²⁰⁷ But those who have the greater clefts, will be as stiff stones, mindful of grudges and offences, and full of anger among themselves. These therefore are cast from the tower, and refused to be put into its building; for this kind of men shall hardly live.²⁰⁸ Our Alahayam and Adanay, who rules over all things, and has power over all his creatures, will not remember our offences, but is easily appeased by those who confess their sins: but man being languid, mortal, infirm, and full of sins, perseveres in his anger against man; as if it were in his power to save or destroy him.²⁰⁹ But I, as the angel who am set over your repentance, admonish you, that whosoever among you has any such purpose he should lay it aside, and return to repentance; and the Adanay will heal your former sins, if you shall purge yourself from this evil spirit; but if you shall not do it, you shall be delivered to him to death.²¹⁰ As for the seventh mountain in which the grass was green and flourishing, and the whole mountain faithful; and all kind of cattle fed upon the grass of it, and the more the grass was eaten, so much the more it flourished;²¹¹ They are such as believed, and were always good and upright; and without any differences among themselves, but still rejoiced in the servants of Alahayam, having put on the spirit of these virgins; and been always forward to show mercy to all men, readily giving to all men of their labours without upbraiding, and without deliberation.²¹² Therefore the Adanay seeing their simplicity and innocence, has increased them in the works of their hands, and given them grace in all their works.²¹³ But I, who am the angel appointed over your repentance, exhort you, that as many as are of this kind would continue in the same purpose, that your seed may not be rooted out for ever.²¹⁴ For the Adanay has tried you, and written you into our number; and all your seed shall dwell with the Son of Alahayam; for you are all of his spirit.²¹⁵ As concerning the eighth mountain in which were a great many springs, by which every kind of all the creatures of Alahayam was watered; they are such as have believed the Apostles which the Adanay sent into all the world to preach;²¹⁶ And some of them being teachers have preached and taught purely and sincerely, and have not in the least yielded to any evil, desires, but have constantly walked in righteousness and truth.²¹⁷ These therefore have their conversations among the angels.²¹⁸ Again; as for what concerns the ninth mountain which is a desert, and full of serpents; they are such as have believed, but had many stains:²¹⁹ These are such ministers as discharge their ministry amiss; ravishing away the goods of the widows and fatherless; and serve themselves, not others, out of those things which they have received.²²⁰ These, if they continue in this covetousness, have delivered themselves to death, nor shall there be any hope of life for them. But if they shall be converted, and shall discharge their ministry sincerely, they may live.²²¹ As for those which were found rough, they are such as have denied the name of the Adanay, and not returned again to the Adanay, but have become savage and wild; not applying themselves to the servants of Alahayam; but being separated from them, have for a little carelessness lost their lives.²²² For as a vine that is forsaken in a hedge, and never dressed, perishes and is choked by the weeds, and in time becomes wild, and ceases to be useful to its lord; so this kind of men despairing of themselves, and being soured, have begun to be unprofitable to their Adanay.²²³ Howbeit, to these there is, after all, repentance allowed, if they shall not be found from their hearts to have denied Mashayach; but if any of these shall be found to have denied him from his heart, I cannot tell whether such a one can attain to life.²²⁴ I say therefore that if any one has denied, he should in these days return to repentance; for it cannot be that anyone who now denies the Adanay, can afterwards attain to salvation nevertheless repentance is promised to them who have formerly denied.²²⁵ But he who will repent must hasten on his repentance, before the building of this tower is finished; otherwise, he shall be delivered by those women to death.²²⁶ But they that are maimed, are the deceitful; and those who mix with one another, are the serpents that you saw mingled in that mountain.²²⁷ For as the poison of serpents is deadly to men, so the words of such persons infect and destroy men. They are therefore maimed in their faith, by reason of that kind of life which they lead.²²⁸ Howbeit some of them, having repented, have been saved; and so shall others of the same kind be also saved, if they shall repent; but if not, they shall die by those women who power and force possess.²²⁹ For what concerns the tenth mountain, in which were the trees covering the cattle, they are such as have believed; and some of them have been bishops, that is, governors of the churches.²³⁰ Others, are such stones as have not feignedly, but with a cheerful mind entertained the servants of Alahayam.²³¹ Then, such as have been set over inferior ministries, and have protected the poor and the widows; and have always kept a chaste conversation: therefore they also are protected by the Adanay.²³² Whosoever shall do on this wise, are honoured with the Adanay; and their place is among the angels, if they shall continue to obey the Adanay even to the end.²³³ As to the eleventh mountain in which were trees loaded with several sorts of fruit; they are such as have believed, and suffered death, for the name of the Adanay; and have endured with a heavy mind, and have given up their lives with all their hearts.²³⁴ And I said, Why then, sir, have all these fruit indeed, but yet some fairer than others?²³⁵ Harken, said he: Whosoever have suffered for the name of the Adanay are esteemed honourable by the Adanay; and all their offences are blotted out, because they have suffered death for the name of the Son of Alahayam.²³⁶ Hear now, why their fruits are different, and some of them excel others. They who were brought before magistrates, and being asked, denied not the Adanay, but suffered with a ready mind; these are more honourable with the Adanay. The fruits therefore that are the most fair are these.²³⁷ But they who were fearful and doubtful, and have deliberated with themselves whether they should confess or deny Mashayach, and yet have suffered; their fruits are smaller, because that this thought came into their hearts.²³⁸ For it is a wicked and evil thought for a servant to deliberate whether he should deny his master: Take heed therefore you who have such thoughts, that this mind Pontinrie not in you, and you die to Alahayam.²³⁹ But you who suffer death for his name sake, ought to honour the Adanay, that he has esteemed you worthy to bear his name; and that you should be delivered from all your sins.²⁴⁰ And why therefore do you not rather esteem yourselves happy? You think truly that if any one among you suffer, he performs a great work! Yet the Adanay gives you life, and you understand it not. For your offences did oppress you; and if you had not suffered for his name sake, you would now be dead to the Adanay.²⁴¹ Therefore I speak this to you who deliberate whether you should confess or deny him. Confess that you have the Adanay for your Alahayam, lest at any time denying him, you be delivered up into bonds.²⁴² For if all nations punish their servants which deny their masters; what think you that the Adanay will do to you, who has the power of all things?²⁴³ Remove therefore out of your hearts these doubts, that you may live for ever to Alahayam.²⁴⁴ As for the twelfth mountain, which was white, they are such as have believed like sincere children, into whose thoughts there never came any malice, nor have they ever known what sin was, but have always continued in their integrity.²⁴⁵ Therefore this kind of men shall without all doubt inherit the kingdom of Alahayam; because they have never in any thing defiled the commandments of Alahayam, but have continued with sincerity in the same condition all the days of their lives.²⁴⁶ Whosoever therefore, said he, shall continue as children without malice; shall be more honourable than all those of whom I have yet spoken: for all such children are honoured by the Adanay, and esteemed the first of all.²⁴⁷ Happy therefore are you who shall remove all malice from you, and put on innocence; be, cause you shall first see the Adanay.²⁴⁸ And after he had thus ended his explication of all the mountains, I said to him, Sir, show me now also what concerns the stones that were brought out of the plain, and put into the tower in the room of those that were rejected.²⁴⁹ As also concerning those round stones which were added into the building of the tower; and also of those who still continued round.²⁵⁰ Hear now, says he, concerning those stones which were brought out of the plain into the building of the tower, and placed in the room of those that were rejected: they are the roots of that white mountain.²⁵¹ Therefore because those who have believed of that mountain, were very innocent; the lord of this tower commanded that they which were of the roots of this mountain should be placed into the building.²⁵² For he knew that if they were put into, this building they would continue bright; nor would any of them any more be made black.²⁵³ But if he had added after this manner, from the rest of the mountains, he would almost have needed again to visit the tower, and to cleanse it.²⁵⁴ Now all these white stones are the young men who have believed, or shall believe; for they are all of the same kind. Happy is this kind, because it is innocent.²⁵⁵ Hear now also concerning those round and bright stones; all these are of this white mountain. But they are therefore found round, because their riches have a little darkened them from the truth, and dazzled their eyes.²⁵⁶ Howbeit they have never departed from the Adanay, nor has any wicked word proceeded out of their mouths; but all righteousness, and virtue, and truth.²⁵⁷ When therefore the Adanay saw their minds, and that they might adorn the truth; he commanded that they should continue good, and that their riches should be pared away.²⁵⁸ For he would not have them taken wholly away, to the end they might do some good with that which was left, and live to Alahayam; because they also are of a good kind.²⁵⁹ Therefore was there little cut off from them, and so they were put into the building of this tower.²⁶⁰ As for the rest which continued still round, and were not found fit for the building of this tower, be cause they have not yet received the seal; they were carried back to their place, be, cause they were found very round.²⁶¹ But this present world must be cut away from them, and the vanities of their riches; and then they will be fit for the kingdom of Alahayam. For they must enter into the kingdom of Alahayam, because Alahayam has blessed this innocent kind.²⁶² Of this kind therefore none shall fall away: for though any of them being tempted by the devil should offend, he shall soon return to his Adanay Alahayam.²⁶³ I the angel of repentance esteem you happy, whosoever are innocent as little children, because your portion is good and honourable with the Adanay.²⁶⁴ And I say to all you who have received this seal; keep simplicity, and remember not the offences which are committed against you, nor continue in malice, or in bitterness, through the memory of offences.²⁶⁵ But become one spirit, and provide remedies for these evil rents, and remove them from you; that the lord of the sheep may rejoice at it; for he will rejoice, if he shall find all whole.²⁶⁶ But if any of these sheep shall be found scattered away, Woe shall be to the shepherds; and if the shepherds themselves shall be scattered; what will they answer to the lord of the sheep-fold? Will they say that they were troubled by the sheep? But they shall not be believed.²⁶⁷ For it is an incredible thing that the shepherd should suffer by his flock; and he shall be the more punished for his life.²⁶⁸ Now I am the shepherd; and especially must give an account of you.²⁶⁹ Therefore take care of yourselves whilst the tower is, yet building. The Adanay dwells in those that love peace, for peace is beloved; but he is far off from the contentious, and those who are full of malice.²⁷⁰ Therefore restore to him the Spirit entire, as you received it. For if you shall give to a fuller a garment new and whole, you will expect to receive it whole again; if therefore the fuller shall restore it to you torn, would you receive it?²⁷¹ Would you not presently be angry, and reproach him, saying: I gave my garment to you whole, why have you rent it, and made it useless to me? Now it is of no use to me, by reason of the rent which you have made in it. Would you not say all this to a fuller, for the rent which he made in your garment?²⁷² If therefore you would be concerned for your garment, and complain that you had not received it whole; what think you that the Adanay will do, who gave his Spirit to you entire, and you have rendered him altogether unprofitable, so that he can be of no use to his Adanay? For being corrupted by you, he is no longer profitable to him.²⁷³ Will not therefore the Adanay do the same concerning his Spirit, by reason of your deed? Undoubtedly, said I, he will do the same to all those whom he shall find to continue in the remembrance of injuries.²⁷⁴ Tread not then under foot he said, his mercy; but rather honour him, because he is so patient with respect to your offences, and not like one of you; but repent, for it will be profitable for you.²⁷⁵ All these things which are above written, I the shepherd and angel of repentance, have shown and spoken to the servants of Alahayam.²⁷⁶ If therefore you shall believe and hearken to these words, and shall walk in them and correct your ways, you shall live. But if you shall, continue in malice, and in the remembrance of injuries, no such sinners shall live to Alahayam.²⁷⁷ All these things which were to be spoken by me, I have thus delivered to you. Then the shepherd said to me, Have you asked all things of me? I answered, sir, I have.²⁷⁸ Why then, said he, have you not asked concerning the spaces of these stones that were put in the building, that I may explain that also to you? I answered, sir, I forgot it. Hear, then, said he, concerning these also. ²⁷⁹ They are those who have now heard these commands, and have repented with all their hearts; ²⁸⁰ And when the Adanay saw that their repentance was good and pure, and that they could continue in it, he commanded their former sins to be blotted out. For these spaces were their sins, and they are therefore made even that they might not appear.
