of them." ⁵ Then Satan and his hosts set the wheat on fire and burned it up. ⁶ But from the heat of the flame Adam and Chawah awoke from their sleep, and saw the wheat burning, and the bucket of water by them, poured out. ⁷ Then they cried and went back to the cave. ⁸ But as they were going up from below the mountain where they were, Satan and his hosts met them in the form of angels, praising Alahayam. ⁹ Then Satan said to Adam, "O Adam, why are you so pained with hunger and thirst? It seems to me that Satan has burnt up the wheat." And Adam said to him, "Yes." ¹⁰ Again Satan said to Adam, "Come back with us; we are angels of Alahayam. Alahayam sent us to you, to show you another field of corn, better than that; and beyond it is a fountain of good water, and many trees, where you shall live near it, and work the corn field to better purpose than that which Satan has consumed." ¹¹ Adam thought that he was true, and that they were angels who talked with him; and he went back with them. ¹² Then Satan began to lead astray Adam and Chawah eight days, until they both fell down as if dead, from hunger, thirst, and faintness. Then he fled with his hosts, and left them.

68 Then Alahayam looked at Adam and Chawah, and at what had come over them from Satan, and how he had made them perish. ² Alahayam, therefore, sent His Word, and raised up Adam and Chawah from their state of death. ³ Then, Adam, when he was raised, said, "O Alahayam, You have burnt and taken from us the corn You have given us, and You have emptied out the bucket of water. And You have sent Your angels, who have caused us to lose our way from the corn field. Will You make us perish? If this be from you, O Alahayam, then take away our souls; but punish us not." ⁴ Then Alahayam said to Adam, "I did not burn down the wheat, and I did not pour the water out of the bucket, and I did not send My angels to lead you astray. ⁵ But it is Satan, your master who did it; he to whom you have subjected yourself; my commandment being meanwhile set aside. He it is, who burnt down the corn, and poured out the water, and who has led you astray; and all the promises he has made you were just a trick, a deception, and a lie. ⁶ But now, O Adam, you shall acknowledge My good deeds done to you." ⁷ And Alahayam told His angels to take Adam and Chawah, and to bear them up to the field of wheat, which they found as before, with the bucket full of water. ⁸ There they saw a tree, and found on it solid manna; and wondered at Alahayam's power. And the angels commanded them to eat of the manna when they were hungry. ⁹ And Alahayam admonished Satan with a curse, not to come again, and destroy the field of corn. ¹⁰ Then Adam and Chawah took of the corn, and made of it an offering, and took it and offered it up on the mountain, the place where they had offered up their first offering of blood. ¹¹ And they offered this offering again on the altar they had built at first. And they stood up and prayed, and besought the Adanay saying, "Thus, O Alahayam, when we were in the garden, our praises went up to you, like this offering; and our innocence went up to you like incense. But now, O Alahayam, accept this offering from us, and don't turn us away, deprived of Your mercy." ¹² Then Alahayam said to Adam and Chawah, "Since you have made this offering and have offered it to Me, I shall make it My flesh, when I come down on earth to save you; and I shall cause it to be offered continually on an altar, for forgiveness and for mercy, for those who partake of it duly." ¹³ And Alahayam sent a bright fire over the offering of Adam and Chawah, and filled it with brightness, grace, and light; and the Holy Ghost came down on that offering. ¹⁴ Then Alahayam commanded an angel to take fire tongs, like a spoon, and with it to take an offering and bring it to Adam and Chawah. And the angel did so, as Alahayam had commanded him, and offered it to them. ¹⁵ And the souls of Adam and Chawah were brightened, and their hearts were filled with joy and gladness and with the praises of Alahayam. ¹⁶ And Alahayam said to Adam, "This shall be to you a custom, to do so, when affliction and sorrow come over you. But your deliverance and your entrance in to the garden, shall not be until the days are fulfilled as agreed between you and Me; were it not so, I would, of My mercy and pity for you, bring you back to My garden and to My favor for the sake of the offering you have just made to My name." ¹⁷ Adam rejoiced at these words which he heard from Alahayam; and he and Chawah worshipped before the altar, to which they bowed, and then went back to the Cave of Treasures. ¹⁸ And this took place at the end of the twelfth day after the eightieth day, from the time Adam and Chawah came out of the garden. ¹⁹ And they stood up the whole night praying until morning; and then went out of the cave. ²⁰ Then Adam said to Chawah, with joy of heart, because of the offering they had made to Alahayam, and that had been accepted of Him, "Let us do this three times every week, on the fourth day Wednesday, on the preparation day Friday, and on the Sabbath Sunday, all the days of our life." ²¹ And as they agreed to these words between themselves, Alahayam was pleased with their thoughts, and with the resolution they had each taken with the other. ²² After this, came the Word of Alahayam to Adam, and said, "O Adam, you have determined beforehand the days in which sufferings shall come over Me, when I am made flesh; for they are the fourth Wednesday, and the preparation day Friday. ²³ But as to the first day, I created in it all things, and I raised the heavens. And, again, through My rising again on this day, will I create joy, and raise them on high, who believe in Me; O Adam, offer this offering, all the days of your life." ²⁴ Then Alahayam withdrew His Word from Adam. ²⁵ But Adam continued to offer this offering thus, every week three times, until the end of seven weeks. And on the first day, which is the fiftieth, Adam made an offering as he was accustomed, and he and Chawah took it and came to the altar before Alahayam, as He had taught them.

69 Then Satan, the hater of all good, envious of Adam and of his offering through which he found favor with Alahayam, hastened and took a sharp stone from among the sharp iron stones; appeared in the form of a man, and went and stood by Adam and Chawah. ² Adam was then offering on the altar, and had begun to pray, with his hands spread before Alahayam. ³ Then Satan hastened with the sharp iron stone he had with him, and with it pierced Adam on the right side, from which flowed blood and water, then Adam fell on the altar like a corpse. And Satan fled. ⁴ Then Chawah came, and took Adam and placed him below the altar. And there she stayed, crying over him; while a stream of blood flowed from Adam's side over his offering. ⁵ But Alahayam looked at the death of Adam. He then sent His Word, and raised him up and said to him, "Fulfil your offering, for indeed, Adam, it is worth much, and there is no shortcoming in it." ⁶ Alahayam said further to Adam, "Thus will it also happen to Me, on the earth, when I shall be pierced and blood and water shall flow from My side and run over My body, which is the true offering; and which shall be offered on the altar as a perfect offering." ⁷ Then Alahayam commanded Adam to finish his offering, and when he had ended it he worshipped before Alahayam, and praised Him for the signs He had showed him. ⁸ And Alahayam healed Adam in one day, which is the end of the seven weeks; and that is the fiftieth day. ⁹ Then Adam and Chawah returned from the mountain, and went into the Cave of Treasures, as they were used to do. This completed for Adam and Chawah, one hundred and forty days since their coming out of the garden. ¹⁰ Then they both stood up that night and prayed to Alahayam. And when it was morning, they went out, and went down westward of the cave, to the place where their corn was, and there rested under the shadow of a tree, as they were accustomed. ¹¹ But when there a multitude of beasts came all around them. It was Satan's doing, in his wickedness; in order to wage war against Adam through marriage.

70 After this Satan, the hater of all good, took the form of an angel, and with him two others, so that they looked like the three angels who had brought to Adam gold, incense, and myrrh. ² They passed before Adam and Chawah while they were under the tree, and greeted Adam and Chawah with fair words that were full of deceit. ³ But when Adam and Chawah saw their pleasant expression, and heard their sweet speech, Adam rose, welcomed them, and brought them to Chawah, and they remained all together; Adam's heart the while, being glad because he thought concerning them, that they were the same angels, who had brought him gold, incense, and myrrh.⁴ Because, when they came to Adam the first time, there came over him from them, peace and joy, through their bringing him good tokens; so Adam thought that they had come a second time to give him other tokens for him to rejoice therewith. For he did not know it was Satan; therefore he received them with joy and consorted with them.⁵ Then Satan, the tallest of them, said, "Rejoice, O Adam, and be glad. Look, Alahayam has sent us to you to tell you something."⁶ And Adam said, "What is it?" Then Satan answered, "It is a simple thing, yet it is the Word of Alahayam, will you accept it from us and do it? But if you will not accept it, we will return to Alahayam, and tell Him that you would not receive His Word."⁷ And Satan said again to Adam, "Don't be afraid and don't tremble; don't you know us?"⁸ But Adam said, "I do not know you."⁹ Then Satan said to him, "I am the angel that brought you gold, and took it to the cave; this other angel is the one that brought you incense; and that third angel, is the one who brought you myrrh when you were on top of the mountain, and who carried you to the cave."¹⁰ But as to the other angels our fellows, who bore you to the cave, Alahayam has not sent them with us this time; for He said to us, 'You will be enough.'¹¹ So when Adam heard these words he believed them, and said to these angels, "Speak the Word of Alahayam, that I may receive it."¹² And Satan said to him, "Swear, and promise me that you will receive it."¹³ Then Adam said, "I do not know how to swear and promise."¹⁴ And Satan said to him, "Hold out your hand, and put it inside my hand."¹⁵ Then Adam held out his hand, and put it into Satan's hand; when Satan said to him, "Say, now--So true as Alahayam is living, rational, and speaking, who raised the stars in heaven, and established the dry ground on the waters, and has created me out of the four elements, and out of the dust of the earth--I will not break my promise, nor renounce my word."¹⁶ And Adam swore thus.¹⁷ Then Satan said to him, "Look, it is now some time since you came out of the garden, and you know neither wickedness nor evil. But now Alahayam says to you, to take Chawah who came out of your side, and to marry her so that she will bear you children, to comfort you, and to drive from you trouble and sorrow; now this thing is not difficult, neither is there any scandal in it to you.

71 But when Adam heard these words from Satan, he sorrowed much, because of his oath and of his promise, and said, "Shall I commit adultery with my flesh and my bones, and shall I sin against myself, for Alahayam to destroy me, and to blot me out from off the face of the earth?"² Since, when at first, I ate of the tree, He drove me out of the garden into this strange land, and deprived me of my bright nature, and brought death over me. If, then, I should do this, He will cut off my life from the earth, and He will cast me into hell, and will plague me there a long time.³ But Alahayam never spoke the words that you have said; and you are not Alahayam's angels, and you weren't sent from Him. But you are devils that have come to me under the false appearance of angels. Away from me; you cursed of Alahayam!"⁴ Then those devils fled from before Adam. And he and Chawah got up, and returned to the Cave of Treasures, and went into it.⁵ Then Adam said to Chawah, "If you saw what I did, don't tell anyone; for I sinned against Alahayam in swearing by His great name, and I have placed my hand another time into that of Satan." Chawah, then, held her peace, as Adam told her.⁶ Then Adam got up, and spread his hands before Alahayam, beseeching and entreating Him with tears, to forgive him what he had done. And Adam remained thus standing and praying forty days and forty nights. He neither ate nor drank until he dropped down on the ground from hunger and thirst.⁷ Then Alahayam sent His Word to Adam, who raised him up from where he lay, and said to him, "O Adam, why have you sworn by My name, and why have you made agreement with Satan another time?"⁸ But Adam cried, and said, "O Alahayam, forgive me, for I did this unwittingly; believing they were Alahayam's angels."⁹ And Alahayam forgave Adam, saying to him, "Beware of Satan."¹⁰ And He withdrew His Word from Adam.¹¹ Then Adam's heart was comforted; and he took Chawah, and they went out of the cave, to prepare some food for their bodies.¹² But from that day Adam struggled in his mind about his marrying Chawah; afraid that if he was to do it, Alahayam would be angry with him.¹³ Then Adam and Chawah went to the river of water, and sat on the bank, as people do when they enjoy themselves.¹⁴ But Satan was jealous of them; and planned to destroy them.

72 Then Satan, and ten from his hosts, transformed themselves into maidens, unlike any others in the whole world for grace.² They came up out of the river in presence of Adam and Chawah, and they said among themselves, "Come, we will look at the faces of Adam and Chawah, who are of the men on earth. How beautiful they are, and how different is their look from our own faces." Then they came to Adam and Chawah, and greeted them; and stood wondering at them.³ Adam and Chawah looked at them also, and wondered at their beauty, and said, "Is there, then, under us, another world, with such beautiful creatures as these in it?"⁴ And those maidens said to Adam and Chawah, "Yes, indeed, we are an abundant creation."⁵ Then Adam said to them, "But how do you multiply?"⁶ And they answered him, "We have husbands who have married us, and we bear them children, who grow up, and who in their turn marry and are married, and also bear children; and thus we increase. And if so be, O Adam, you will not believe us, we will show you our husbands and our children."⁷ Then they shouted over the river as if to call their husbands and their children, who came up from the river, men and children; and every man came to his wife, his children being with him.⁸ But when Adam and Chawah saw them, they stood dumb, and wondered at them.⁹ Then they said to Adam and Chawah, "See all our husbands and our children? You should marry Chawah, as we have married our husbands, so that you will have children as we have." This was a device of Satan to deceive Adam.¹⁰ Satan also thought within himself, "Alahayam at first commanded Adam concerning the fruit of the tree, saying to him, 'Eat not of it; else of death you shall die.' But Adam ate of it, and yet Alahayam did not kill him; He only decreed on him death, and plagues and trials, until the day he shall come out of his body."¹¹ Now, then, if I deceive him to do this thing, and to marry Chawah without Alahayam's permission, Alahayam will kill him then."¹² Therefore Satan worked this apparition before Adam and Chawah; because he sought to kill him, and to make him disappear from off the face of the earth.¹³ Meanwhile the fire of sin came over Adam, and he thought of committing sin. But he restrained himself, fearing that if he followed this advice of Satan, Alahayam would put him to death.¹⁴ Then Adam and Chawah got up, and prayed to Alahayam, while Satan and his hosts went down into the river, in presence of Adam and Chawah; to let them see that they were going back to their own world.¹⁵ Then Adam and Chawah went back to the Cave of Treasures, as they usually did; about evening time.¹⁶ And they both got up and prayed to Alahayam that night. Adam remained standing in prayer, yet not knowing how to pray, by reason of the thoughts in his heart regarding his marrying Chawah; and he continued so until morning.¹⁷ And when light came up, Adam said to Chawah, "Get up, let us go below the mountain, where they brought us gold, and let us ask the Adanay concerning this matter."¹⁸ Then Chawah said, "What is that matter, O Adam?"¹⁹ And he answered her, "That I may request the Adanay to inform me about marrying you; for I will not do it without His permission or else He will make us perish, you and me. For those devils have set my heart on fire, with thoughts of what they showed us, in their sinful apparitions."²⁰ Then Chawah said to Adam, "Why need we go below the mountain? Let us rather stand up and pray in our cave to Alahayam, to let us know whether this counsel is good or not."²¹ Then Adam rose up in prayer and said, "O Alahayam, you know that we transgressed against you, and from the moment we transgressed, we were stripped of our bright nature; and our body became brutish, requiring food and drink; and with animal desires."²² Command us, O Alahayam, not to give way to them without Your permission, for fear that You will turn us into nothing. Because if you do not give us permission, we shall be overpowered, and follow that advice of Satan; and You will again make us perish.²³ If not, then take our souls from us; let us be rid of this animal lust. And if You give us no order respecting this thing, then sever Chawah from me, and me from her; and place us each far away from the other.²⁴ Then again, O Alahayam, if You separate us from each other, the devils will deceive us with their apparitions that resemble us, and destroy our hearts, and defile our thoughts towards each other. Yet if it is not each of us towards the other, it will, at all events, be through their appearance when the devils come to us in our likeness." Here Adam ended his prayer.

73 Then Alahayam considered the words of Adam that they were true, and that he could long await His order, respecting the counsel of Satan.² And Alahayam approved Adam in what he had thought concerning this, and in the prayer he had offered in His presence; and the Word of Alahayam came to Adam and said to him, "O Adam, if only you had had this caution at first, before you came out of the garden into this land!"³ After that, Alahayam sent His angel who had brought gold, and the angel who had brought incense, and the angel who had brought myrrh to Adam, that they should inform him respecting his marriage to Chawah.⁴ Then those angels said to Adam, "Take the gold and give it to Chawah as a wedding gift, and promise to marry her; then give her some incense and myrrh as a present; and be you, you and she, one flesh."⁵ Adam obeyed the angels, and took the gold and put it into Eve's bosom in her garment; and promised to marry her with his hand.⁶ Then the angels commanded Adam and Chawah to get up and pray forty days and forty nights; when that was done, then Adam was to have sexual intercourse with his wife; for then this would be an act pure and undefiled; so that he would have children who would multiply, and replenish the face of the earth.⁷ Then both Adam and Chawah received the words of the angels; and the angels departed from them.⁸ Then Adam and Chawah began to fast and pray, until the end of the forty days; and then they had sexual intercourse, as the angels had told them. And from the time Adam left the garden until he wedded Chawah, were two hundred and twenty-three days, that is seven months and thirteen days.⁹ Thus was Satan's war with Adam defeated.

74 And they lived on the earth working in order to keep their bodies in good health; and they continued so until the nine months of Eve's pregnancy were over, and the time drew near when she must give birth.² Then she said to Adam, "The signs placed in this cave since we left the garden indicate that this is a pure place and we will be praying in it again some time. It is not appropriate then, that I should give birth in it. Let us instead go to the sheltering rock cave that was formed by the command of Alahayam when Satan threw a big rock down on us in an attempt to kill us with it."³ Adam then took Chawah to that cave. When the time came for her to give birth, she strained a lot. Adam felt sorry, and he was very worried about her because she was close to death and the words of Alahayam to her were being fulfilled: "In suffering shall you bear a child, and in sorrow shall you bring forth a child."⁴ But when Adam saw the distress in which Chawah was, he got up and prayed to Alahayam, and said, "O Adanay, look at me with the eye of Your mercy, and bring her out of her distress."⁵ And Alahayam looked at His maid-servant Chawah, and delivered her, and she gave birth to her first-born son, and with him a daughter.⁶ The Adam rejoiced at Eve's deliverance, and also over the children she had borne him. And Adam ministered to Chawah in the cave, until the end of eight days; when they named the son Qayan, and the daughter Luluwa.⁷ The meaning of Qayan is "hater," because he hated his sister in their mother's womb; before they came out of it. Therefore Adam named him Qayan.⁸ But Luluwa means "beautiful," because she was more beautiful than her mother.⁹ Then Adam and Chawah waited until Qayan and his sister were forty days old, when Adam said to Chawah, "We will make an offering and offer it up in behalf of the children."¹⁰ And Chawah said, "We will make one offering for the first-born son and then later we shall make one for the daughter."

75 Then Adam prepared an offering, and he and Chawah offered it up for their children, and brought it to the altar they had built at first.² And Adam offered up the offering, and asked Alahayam to accept his offering.³ Then Alahayam accepted Adam's offering, and sent a light from heaven that shown on the offering. Adam and his son drew near to the offering, but Chawah and the daughter did not approach it.⁴ Adam and his son were joyful as they came down from on the altar. Adam and Chawah waited until the daughter was eighty days old, then Adam prepared an offering and took it to Chawah and to the children. They went to the altar, where Adam offered it up, as he was accustomed, asking the Adanay to accept his offering.⁵ And the Adanay accepted the offering of Adam and Chawah. Then Adam, Chawah, and the children, drew near together, and came down from the mountain, rejoicing.⁶ But they returned not to the cave in which they were born; but came to the Cave of Treasures, in order that the children should go around in it, and be blessed with the tokens brought from the garden.⁷ But after they had been blessed with these tokens, they went back to the cave in which they were born.⁸ However, before Chawah had offered up the offering, Adam had taken her, and had gone with her to the river of water, in which they threw themselves at first; and there they washed themselves. Adam washed his body and Chawah hers also clean, after the suffering and distress that had come over them.⁹ But Adam and Chawah, after washing themselves in the river of water, returned every night to the Cave of Treasures, where they prayed and were blessed; and then went back to their cave, where their children were born.¹⁰ Adam and Chawah did this until the children had been weaned. After they were weaned, Adam made an offering for the souls of his children in addition to the three times every week he made an offering for them.¹¹ When the children were weaned, Chawah again conceived, and when her pregnancy came to term, she gave birth to another son and daughter. They named the son Habal and the daughter Aklia.¹² Then at the end of forty days, Adam made an offering for the son, and at the end of eighty days he made another offering for the daughter, and treated them, as he had previously treated Qayan and his sister Luluwa.¹³ He brought them to the Cave of Treasures, where they received a blessing, and then returned to the cave where they were born. After these children were born, Chawah stopped having children.

76 And the children began to grow stronger and taller; but Qayan was hard-hearted, and ruled over his younger brother.² Often when his father made an offering, Qayan would remain behind and not go with them, to offer up.³ But, as to Habal, he had a meek heart, and was obedient to his father and mother. He frequently moved them to make an offering, because he loved it. He prayed and fasted a lot.⁴ Then came this sign to Habal. As he was coming into the Cave of Treasures, and saw the golden rods, the incense and the myrrh, he asked his parents, Adam and Chawah, to tell him about them and asked, "Where did you get these from?"⁵ Then Adam told him all that had befallen them. And Habal felt deeply about what his father told him.⁶ Furthermore his father, Adam, told him of the works of Alahayam, and of the garden. After hearing that, Habal remained behind after his father left and stayed the whole of that night in the Cave of Treasures.⁷ And that night, while he was praying, Satan appeared to him under the figure of a man, who said to him, "You have frequently moved your father into making offerings, fasting and praying, therefore I will kill you, and make you perish from this world."⁸ But as for Habal, he prayed to Alahayam, and drove away Satan from him; and did not believe the words of the devil. Then when it was day, an angel of Alahayam appeared to him, who said to him, "Do not cut short either fasting, prayer, or offering up an offering to your Alahayam. For, look, the Adanay had accepted your prayer. Be not afraid of the figure which appeared to you in the night, and who cursed you to death." And the angel departed from him.⁹ Then when it was day, Habal came to Adam and Chawah, and told them of the vision he had seen. When they heard it, they grieved much over it, but said nothing to him about it; they only comforted him.¹⁰ But as to the hard-hearted Qayan, Satan came to him by night, showed himself and said to him, "Since Adam and Chawah love your brother Habal so much more than they love you, they wish to join him in marriage to your beautiful sister because they love him. However, they wish to join you in marriage to his ugly sister, because they hate you.¹¹ Now before they do that, I am telling you that you should kill your brother. That way your sister will be left for you, and his sister will be cast away."¹² And Satan departed from him. But the devil remained behind in Cain's heart, and frequently aspired to kill his brother.

77 But when Adam saw that the older brother hated the younger, he endeavored to soften their hearts, and said to Qayan, "O my son, take of the fruits of your sowing and make an offering to Alahayam, so that He might forgive you for your wickedness and sin."² He said also to Habal, "Take some of your sowing and make an offering and bring it to Alahayam, so that He might forgive you for your wickedness and sin."³ Then Habal obeyed his father's voice, took some of his sowing, and made a good offering, and said to his father, Adam, "Come with me and show me how to offer it up."⁴ And they went, Adam and Chawah with him, and they showed him how to offer up his gift on the altar. Then after that, they stood up and prayed that Alahayam would accept Abel's offering.⁵ Then Alahayam looked at Habal and accepted his offering. And Alahayam was more pleased with Habal than with his offering, because of his good heart and pure body. There was no trace of guile in him.⁶ Then they came down from the altar, and went to the cave in which they lived. But Habal, by reason of his joy at having made his offering, repeated it three times a week, after the example of his father Adam.⁷ But as to Qayan, he did not want to make an offering, but after his father became very angry, he offered up a gift once. He took the smallest of his sheep for an offering and when he offered it up, his eyes were on the lamb.⁸ Therefore Alahayam did not accept his offering, because his heart was full of murderous thoughts.⁹ And they all thus lived together in the cave in which Chawah had brought forth, until Qayan was fifteen years old, and Habal twelve years old.

78 Then Adam said to Chawah, "Behold the children are grown up; we must think of finding wives for them."² Then Chawah answered, "How can we do it?"³ Then Adam said to her, "We will join Abel's sister in marriage to Qayan, and Cain's sister to Habal."⁴ The said Chawah to Adam, "I do not like Qayan because he is hard-hearted; but let them stay with us until we offer up to the Adanay in their behalf."⁵ And Adam said no more.⁶ Meanwhile Satan came to Qayan in the figure of a man of the field, and said to him, "Behold Adam and Chawah have taken counsel together about the marriage of you two; and they have agreed to marry Abel's sister to you, and your sister to him."⁷ But if it was not that I love you, I would not have told you this thing. Yet if you will take my advice, and obey me, I will bring to you on your wedding day beautiful robes, gold and silver in plenty, and my relations will attend you."⁸ Then Qayan said with joy, "Where are your relations?"⁹ And Satan answered, "My relations are in a garden in the north, where I once meant to bring your father Adam; but he would not accept my offer."¹⁰ But you, if you will receive my words and if you will come to me after your wedding, you shall rest from the misery in which you are; and you shall rest and be better off than your father Adam."¹¹ At these words of Satan Qayan opened his ears, and leaned towards his speech.¹² And he did not remain in the field, but he went to Chawah, his mother, and beat her, and cursed her, and said to her, "Why are you planning to take my sister to wed her to my brother? Am I dead?"¹³ His mother, however, quieted him, and sent him to the field where he had been.¹⁴ Then when Adam came, she told him of what Qayan had done.¹⁵ But Adam grieved and held his peace, and said not a word.¹⁶ Then on the next morning Adam said to Qayan his son, "Take of your sheep, young and good, and offer them up to your Alahayam; and I will speak to your brother, to make to his Alahayam an offering of corn."¹⁷ They both obeyed their father Adam, and they took their offerings, and offered them up on the mountain by the altar.¹⁸ But Qayan behaved haughtily towards his brother, and shoved him from the altar, and would not let him offer up his gift on the altar; but he offered his own on it, with a proud heart, full of guile, and fraud.

²⁰ Qayan was then standing by the altar on which he had offered up his gift; and he cried to Alahayam to accept his offering; but Alahayam did not accept it from him; neither did a divine fire come down to consume his offering.²¹ But he remained standing over against the altar, out of humor and meanness, looking towards his brother Habal, to see if Alahayam would accept his offering or not.

²⁸ And Qayan came down from the altar, his color changed and with a sad face, and came to his father and mother and told them all that had befallen him. And Adam grieved much because Alahayam had not accepted Cain's offering.²⁹ But Habal came down rejoicing, and with a gladsome heart, and told his father and mother how Alahayam had accepted his offering. And they rejoiced at it and kissed his face.³⁰ And Habal said to his father, "Because Qayan shoved me from the altar, and would not allow me to offer my gift on it, I made an altar for myself and offered my gift on it."³¹ But when Adam heard this he was very sorry, because it was the altar he had built at first, and on which he had offered his own gifts.

³² As to Qayan, he was so resentful and so angry that he went into the field, where Satan came to him and said to him, "Since your brother Habal has taken refuge with your father Adam, because you shoved him from the altar, they have kissed his face, and they rejoice over him, far more than over you."³³ When Qayan heard these words of Satan, he was filled with rage; and he let no one know. But he was laying wait to kill his brother, until he brought him into the cave, and then said to him:--³⁴ "O brother, the country is so beautiful, and there are such beautiful and pleasurable trees in it, and charming to look at! But brother, you have never been one day in the field to take your pleasure in that place."³⁵ Today, O my brother, I very much wish you would come with me into the field, to enjoy yourself and to bless our fields and our flocks, for you are righteous, and I love you much, O my brother! But you have alienated yourself from me."³⁶ Then Habal consented to go with his brother Qayan into the field.³⁷ But before going out, Qayan said to Habal, "Wait for me, until I fetch a staff, because of wild beasts."

79 And so they went on, until they came to a lonely place, where there were no sheep; then Habal said to Qayan, "Behold, my brother, we are tired from walking; for we see none of the trees, nor of the fruits, nor of the flourishing green plants, nor of the sheep, nor any one of the things of which you told me. Where are those sheep of your you told me to bless?"² Then Qayan said to him, "Come on, and you shall see many beautiful things very soon, but go before me, until I catch up to you."³ Then went Habal forward, but Qayan remained behind him.⁴ And Habal was walking in his innocence, without guile; not believing his brother would kill him.⁵ Then Qayan, when he came up to him, comforted him with his talk, walking a little behind him; then he ran up to him and beat him with the staff, blow after blow, until he was stunned.⁶ But when Habal fell down on the ground, seeing that his brother meant to kill him, he said to Qayan, "O, my brother, have pity on me. By the breasts we have sucked, don't hit me! By the womb that bore us and that brought us into the world, don't beat me to death with that staff! If you will kill me, take one of these large stones and kill me outright."⁷ Then Qayan, the hard-hearted, and cruel murderer, took a large stone, and beat his brother's head with it, until his brains oozed out, and he wallowed in his blood, before him.⁸ And Qayan repented not of what he had done.⁹ But the earth, when the blood of righteous Habal fell on it, trembled, as it drank his blood, and would have destroyed Qayan because of it.¹⁰ And the blood of Habal cried mysteriously to Alahayam, to avenge him of his murderer.¹¹ Then Qayan began at once to dig the ground wherein to lay his brother; for he was trembling from the fear that came over him, when he saw the earth tremble on his account.¹² He then cast his brother into the pit he made, and covered him with dust. But the ground would not receive him; but it threw him up at once.¹³ Again Qayan dug the ground and hid his brother in it; but again the ground threw him up on itself; until three times the ground thus threw up on itself the body of Habal.¹⁴ The muddy ground threw him up the first time, because he was not the first creation; and it threw him up the second time and would not receive him, because he was righteous and good, and was killed without a cause; and the ground threw him up the third time and would not receive him, that there might remain before his brother a witness against him.¹⁵ And so the earth mocked Qayan, until the Word of Alahayam, came to him concerning his brother.¹⁶ Then was Alahayam angry, and much displeased at Abel's death; and He thundered from heaven, and lightnings went before Him, and the Word of the Adanay Alahayam came from heaven to Qayan, and said to him, "Where is Habal your brother?"¹⁷ Then Qayan answered with a proud heart and a gruff voice, "How, O Alahayam? Am I my brother's keeper?"¹⁸ Then Alahayam said to Qayan, "Cursed be the earth that has drunk the blood of Habal your brother; and as for you, you will always be trembling and shaking; and this will be a mark on you so that whoever finds you, will kill you."¹⁹ But Qayan cried because Alahayam had said those words to him; and Qayan said to Him, "O Alahayam, whosoever finds me shall kill me, and I shall be blotted out from the face of the earth."²⁰ Then Alahayam said to Qayan, "Whoever finds you will not kill you;" because before this, Alahayam had been saying to Qayan, "I shall put seven punishments on anyone that kills Qayan." For as to the word of Alahayam to Qayan, "Where is your brother?" Alahayam said it in mercy for him, to try and make him repent.²¹ For if Qayan had repented at that time, and had said, "O Alahayam, forgive me my sin, and the murder of my brother," Alahayam would then have forgiven him his sin.²² And as to Alahayam saying to Qayan, "Cursed be the ground that has drunk the blood of your brother." That also, was Alahayam's mercy on Qayan. For Alahayam did not curse him, but He cursed the ground; although it was not the ground that had killed Habal, and committed a wicked sin.²³ For it was fitting that the curse should fall on the murderer; yet in mercy did Alahayam so manage His thoughts as that no one should know it, and turn away from Qayan.²⁴ And He said to him, "Where is your brother?" To which he answered and said, "I know not." Then the Creator said to him, "Be trembling and quaking."²⁵ Then Qayan trembled and became terrified; and through this sign did Alahayam make him an example before all the creation, as the murderer of his brother. Also did Alahayam bring trembling and terror over him, that he might see the peace in which he was at first, and see also the trembling and terror he endured at the last; so that he might humble himself before Alahayam, and repent of his sin, and seek the peace that he enjoyed at first.²⁶ And in the word of Alahayam that said, "I will put seven punishments on anyone who kills Qayan," Alahayam was not seeking to kill Qayan with the sword, but He sought to make him die of fasting, and praying and crying by hard rule, until the time that he was delivered from his sin.²⁷ And the seven punishments are the seven generations during which Alahayam awaited Qayan for the murder of his brother.²⁸ But as to Qayan, ever since he had killed his brother, he could find no rest in any place; but went back to Adam and Chawah, trembling, terrified, and defiled with blood. . . .

1 When Luluwa heard Cain's words, she wept and went to call her father and mother, and told them how that Qayan had killed his brother Habal. ² Then they all cried aloud and lifted up their voices, and slapped their faces, and threw dust upon their heads, and rent asunder their garments, and went out and came to the place where Habal was killed. ³ And they found him lying on the earth, killed, and beasts around him; while they wept and cried because of this just one. From his body, by reason of its purity, went forth a smell of sweet spices. ⁴ And Adam carried him, his tears streaming down his face; and went to the Cave of Treasures, where he laid him, and wound him up with sweet spices and myrrh. ⁵ And Adam and Chawah continued by the burial of him in great grief a hundred and forty days. Habal was fifteen and a half years old, and Qayan seventeen years and a half. ⁶ As for Qayan, when the mourning for his brother was ended, he took his sister Luluwa and married her, without leave from his father and mother; for they could not keep him from her, by reason of their heavy heart. ⁷ He then went down to the bottom of the mountain, away from the garden, near to the place where he had killed his brother. ⁸ And in that place were many fruit trees and forest trees. His sister bore him children, who in their turn began to multiply by degrees until they filled that place. ⁹ But as for Adam and Chawah, they came not together after Abel's funeral, for seven years. After this, however, Chawah conceived; and while she was with child, Adam said to her, "Come, let us take an offering and offer it up to Alahayam, and ask Him to give us a fair child, in whom we may find comfort, and whom we may join in marriage to Abel's sister." ¹⁰ Then they prepared an offering and brought it up to the altar, and offered it before the Adanay, and began to entreat Him to accept their offering, and to give them a good offspring. ¹¹ And Alahayam heard Adam and accepted his offering. Then, they worshipped, Adam, Chawah, and their daughter, and came down to the Cave of Treasures and placed a lamp in it, to burn by night and by day, before the body of Habal. ¹² Then Adam and Chawah continued fasting and praying until Eve's time came that she should be delivered, when she said to Adam, "I wish to go to the cave in the rock, to bring forth in it." ¹³ And he said, "Go, and take with you your daughter to wait on you; but I will remain in this Cave of Treasures before the body of my son Habal." ¹⁴ Then Chawah hearkened to Adam, and went, she and her daughter. But Adam remained by himself in the Cave of Treasures.

2 And Chawah brought forth a son perfectly beautiful in figure and in countenance. His beauty was like that of his father Adam, yet more beautiful. ² Then Chawah was comforted when she saw him, and remained eight days in the cave; then she sent her daughter to Adam to tell him to come and see the child and name him. But the daughter stayed in his place by the body of her brother, until Adam returned. So did she. ³ But when Adam came and saw the child's good looks, his beauty, and his perfect figure, he rejoiced over him, and was comforted for Habal. Then he named the child Shath, that means, "that Alahayam has heard my prayer, and has delivered me out of my affliction." But it means also "power and strength." ⁴ Then after Adam had named the child, he returned to the Cave of Treasures; and his daughter went back to her mother. ⁵ But Chawah continued in her cave, until forty days were fulfilled, when she came to Adam, and brought with her the child and her daughter. ⁶ And they came to a river of water, where Adam and his daughter washed themselves, because of their sorrow for Habal; but Chawah and the babe washed for purification. ⁷ Then they returned, and took an offering, and went to the mountain and offered it up, for the babe; and Alahayam accepted their offering, and sent His blessing upon them, and upon their son Shath; and they came back to the Cave of Treasures. ⁸ As for Adam, he knew not again his wife Chawah, all the days of his life; neither was any more offspring born of them; but only those five, Qayan, Luluwa, Habal, Akliia, and Shath alone. ⁹ But Shath waxed in stature and in strength; and began to fast and pray, fervently.

3 As for our father Adam, at the end of seven years from the day he had been severed from his wife Chawah, Satan envied him, when he saw him thus separated from her; and strove to make him live with her again. ² Then Adam arose and went up above the Cave of Treasures; and continued to sleep there night by night. But as soon as it was light every day he came down to the cave, to pray there and to receive a blessing from it. ³ But when it was evening he went up on the roof of the cave, where he slept by himself, fearing lest Satan should overcome him. And he continued thus apart thirty-nine days. ⁴ Then Satan, the hater of all good, when he saw Adam thus alone, fasting and praying, appeared to him in the form of a beautiful woman, who came and stood before him in the night of the fortieth day, and said to him:- ⁵ "O Adam, from the time you have dwelt in this cave, we have experienced great peace from you, and your prayers have reached us, and we have been comforted about you. ⁶ "But now, O Adam, that you have gone up over the roof of the cave to sleep, we have had doubts about you, and a great sorrow has come upon us because of your separation from Chawah. Then again, when you are on the roof of this cave, your prayer is poured out, and your heart wanders from side to side. ⁷ "But when you were in the cave your prayer was like fire gathered together; it came down to us, and you did find rest. ⁸ "Then I also grieved over your children who are severed from you; and my sorrow is great about the murder of your son Habal; for he was righteous; and over a righteous man every one will grieve. ⁹ "But I rejoiced over the birth of your son Shath; yet after a little while I sorrowed greatly over Chawah, because she is my sister. For when Alahayam sent a deep sleep over you, and drew her out of your side, He brought me out also with her. But He raised her by placing her with you, while He lowered me. ¹⁰ "I rejoiced over my sister for her being with you. But Alahayam had made me a promise before, and said, 'Grieve not; when Adam has gone up on the roof of the Cave of Treasures, and is separated from Chawah his wife, I will send you to him, you shall join yourself to him in marriage, and bear him five children, as Chawah did bear him five.' ¹¹ "And now, lo! Alahayam's promise to me is fulfilled; for it is He who has sent me to you for the wedding; because if you wed me, I shall bear you finer and better children than those of Chawah. ¹² "Then again, you are as yet but a youth; end not your youth in this world in sorrow; but spend the days of your youth in mirth and pleasure. For your days are few and your trial is great. Be strong; and end your days in this world in rejoicing. I shall take pleasure in you, and you shall rejoice with me in this wise, and without fear. ¹³ "Up, then, and fulfil the command of your Alahayam," she then drew near to Adam, and embraced him. ¹⁴ But when Adam saw that he should be overcome by her, he prayed to Alahayam with a fervent heart to deliver him from her. ¹⁵ Then Alahayam sent His Word to Adam, saying, "O Adam, that figure is the one that promised you the Godhead, and majesty; he is not favourably disposed towards you; but shows himself to you at one time in the form of a woman; another moment, in the likeness if an angel; on another occasions, in the similitude of a serpent; and at another time, in the semblance of a god; but he does all that only to destroy your soul. ¹⁶ "Now, therefore, O Adam, understanding your heart, I have delivered you many a time from his hands; in order to show you that I am a merciful Alahayam; and that I wish your good, and that I do not wish your ruin."

4 Then Alahayam ordered Satan to show himself to Adam plainly, in his own hideous form.² But when Adam saw him, he feared, and trembled at the sight of him.³ And Alahayam said to Adam, 'Look at this devil, and at his hideous look, and know that he it is who made you fall from brightness into darkness, from peace and rest to toil and misery.'⁴ And look, O Adam, at him, who said of himself that he is Alahayam! Can Alahayam be black? Would Alahayam take the form of a woman? Is there any one stronger than Alahayam? And can He be overpowered?⁵ "See, then, O Adam, and behold him bound in your presence, in the air, unable to flee away! Therefore, I say to you, be not afraid of him; henceforth take care, and beware of him, in whatever he may do to you."⁶ Then Alahayam drove Satan away from before Adam, whom He strengthened, and whose heart He comforted, saying to him, "Go down to the Cave of Treasures, and separate not yourself from Chawah; I will quell in you all animal lust."⁷ From that hour it left Adam and Chawah, and they enjoyed rest by the commandment of Alahayam. But Alahayam did not like to any one of Adam's seed; but only to Adam and Chawah.⁸ Then Adam worshipped before the Adanay, for having delivered him, and for having layed his passions. And he came down from above the cave, and dwelt with Chawah as aforetime.⁹ This ended the forty days of his separation from Chawah.

5 As for Shath, when he was seven years old, he knew good and evil, and was consistent in fasting and praying, and spent all his nights in entreating Alahayam for mercy and forgiveness.² He also fasted when bringing up his offering every day, more than his father did; for he was of a fair countenance, like to an angel of Alahayam. He also had a good heart, preserved the finest qualities of his soul; and for this reason he brought up his offering every day.³ And Alahayam was pleased with his offering; but He was also pleased with his purity. And he continued thus in doing the will of Alahayam, and of his father and mother, until he was seven years old.⁴ After that, as he was coming down from the altar, having ended his offering, Satan appeared to him in the form of a beautiful angel, brilliant with light; with a staff of light in his hand, himself girt about with a girdle of light.⁵ He greeted Shath with a beautiful smile, and began to beguile him with fair words, saying to him, "O Shath, why abide you in this mountain? For it is rough, full of stones and of sand, and of trees with no good fruit on them; a wilderness without habitations and without towns; no good place to dwell in. But all is heat, weariness, and trouble."⁶ He said further, 'But we dwell in beautiful places, in another world than this earth. Our world is one of light and our condition is of the best; our women are handsomer than any others; and I wish you, O Shath, to wed one of them; because I see that you are fair to look upon, and in this land there is not one woman good enough for you. Besides, all those who live in this world, are only five souls.'⁷ "But in our world there are very many men and many maidens, all more beautiful one than another. I wish, therefore, to remove you hence, that you may see my relations and be wedded to which ever you likest."⁸ "You shall then abide by me and be at peace; you shall be filled with splendour and light, as we are."⁹ "You shall remain in our world, and rest from this world and the misery of it; you shall never again feel faint and weary; you shall never bring up an offering, nor sue for mercy; for you shall commit no more sin nor be swayed by passions."¹⁰ "And if you will hearken to what I say, you shall wed one of my daughters; for with us it is no sin so to do; neither is it reckoned animal lust."¹¹ "For in our world we have no Alahayam; but we all are gods; we all are of the light, heavenly, powerful, strong and glorious."

6 When Shath heard these words he was amazed, and inclined his heart to Satan's treacherous speech, and said to him, "Said² And Satan said "Yes; behold you have heard me; but I will yet praise them and their ways, in your hearing."³ But Shath said to him, "Your speech has amazed me; and your beautiful description of it all."⁴ "Yet I cannot go with you to-day; not until I have gone to my father Adam and to my mother Chawah, and told them all you have said to me. Then if they give me leave to go with you, I will come."

⁵ Again Shath said, "I am afraid of doing any thing without my father's and mother's leave, lest I perish like my brother Qayan, and like my father Adam, who transgressed the commandment of Alahayam. But, behold, you know this place; come, and meet me here to-morrow."⁶ When Satan heard this, he said to Shath, "If you tell your father Adam what I have told you, he will not let you come with me."⁷ But hearken to me; do not tell your father and mother what I have said to you; but come with me to-day, to our world; where you shall see beautiful things and enjoy yourself there, and revel this day among my children, beholding them and taking your fill of mirth; and rejoice ever more. Then I shall bring you back to this place to-morrow; but if you would rather abide with me, so be it."⁸ Then Shath answered, "The spirit of my father and of my mother, hangs on me; and if I hide from them one day, they will die, and Alahayam will hold me guilty of sinning against them."⁹ "And except that they know I am come to this place to bring up to it my offering, they would not be separated from me one hour; neither should I go to any other place, unless they let me. But they treat me most kindly, because I come back to them quickly."

¹⁰ Then Satan said to him, "What will happen to you if you hide yourself from them one night, and return to them at break of day?"

¹¹ But Shath, when he saw how he kept on talking, and that he would not leave him-ran, and went up to the altar, and spread his hands to Alahayam, and sought deliverance from Him.¹² Then Alahayam sent His Word, and cursed Satan, who fled from Him.

¹³ But as for Shath, he had gone up to the altar, saying thus in his heart. "The altar is the place of offering, and Alahayam is there; a divine fire shall consume it; so shall Satan be unable to hurt me, and shall not take me away thence."¹⁴ Then Shath came down from the altar and went to his father and mother, whom he found in the way, longing to hear his voice; for he had tarried a while.¹⁵ He then began to tell them what had befallen him from Satan, under the form of an angel.¹⁶ But when Adam heard his account, he kissed his face, and warned him against that angel, telling him it was Satan who thus appeared to him. Then Adam took Shath, and they went to the Cave of Treasures, and rejoiced therein.¹⁷ But from that day forth Adam and Chawah never parted from him, to whatever place he might go, whether for his offering or for any thing else.¹⁸ This sign happened to Shath, when he was nine years old.

7 When our father Adam saw that Shath was of a perfect heart, he wished him to marry; lest the enemy should appear to him another time, and overcome him.² So Adam said to his son Shath, "I wish, O my son, that you wed your sister Akliā, Abel's sister, that she may bear you children, who shall replenish the earth, according to Alahayam's promise to us."³ "Be not afraid, O my son; there is no disgrace in it. I wish you to marry, from fear lest the enemy overcome you."⁴ Shath, however, did not wish to marry; but in obedience to his father and mother, he said not a word.⁵ So Adam married him to Akliā. And he was fifteen years old.⁶ But when he was twenty years of age, he begat a son, whom he called Anawash; and then begat other children than him,⁷ Then Anawash grew up, married, and begat Qayanan.⁸ Qayanan also grew up, married, and begat Mahalalaal.⁹ Those fathers were born during Adam's lifetime, and dwelt by the Cave of Treasures.¹⁰ Then were the days of Adam nine hundred and thirty years, and those of Mahalalaal one hundred. But Mahalalaal, when he was grown up, loved fasting, praying, and with hard labours, until the end of our father Adam's days drew near.

8 When our father Adam saw that his end was near, he called his son Shath, who came to him in the Cave of Treasures, and he said to him: -² "O Shath, my son bring me your children and your children's children, that I may shed my blessing on them ere I die."

weeping, they all wept together, and fell upon his face saying, "How shall you be severed from us, O our father? And how shall the earth receive you and hide you from our eyes?" Thus did they lament much, and in like words. ⁶ Then our father Adam blessed them all, and said to Shath, after he had blessed them:- ⁷ "O Shath, my son, you know this world - that it is full of sorrow, and of weariness; and you know all that has come upon us, from our trials in it I therefore flow command you in these words: to keep innocence, to be pure and just, and trusting in Alahayam; and lean not to the discourses of Satan, nor to the apparitions in which he will show himself to you. ⁸ But keep the commandments that I give you this day; then give the same to your son Anawash; and let Anawash give it to his son Qayanan; and Qayanan to his son Mahalalal; so that this commandment abide firm among all your children. ⁹ "O Shath, my son, the moment I am dead take you my body and wind it up with myrrh, aloes, and cassia, and leave me here in this Cave of Treasures in which are all these tokens which Alahayam gave us from the garden. ¹⁰ "O my son, hereafter shall a flood come and overwhelm all creatures, and leave out only eight souls. ¹¹ "But, O my son, let those whom it will leave out from among your children at that time, take my body with them out of this cave; and when they have taken it with them, let the oldest among them command his children to lay my body in a ship until the flood has been assuaged, and they come out of the ship. ¹² Then they shall take my body and lay it in the middle of the earth, shortly after they have been saved from the waters of the flood. ¹³ "For the place where my body shall be laid, is the middle of the earth; Alahayam shall come from thence and shall save all our kindred. ¹⁴ "But now, O Shath, my son, place yourself at the head of your people; tend them and watch over them in the fear of Alahayam; and lead them in the good way. Command them to fast to Alahayam; and make them understand they ought not to hearken to Satan, lest he destroy them. ¹⁵ "Then, again, sever your children and your children's children from Cain's children; do not let them ever mix with those, nor come near them either in their words or in their deeds." ¹⁶ Then Adam let his blessing descend upon Shath, and upon his children, and upon all his children's children. ¹⁷ He then turned to his son Shath, and to Chawah his wife, and said to them, "Preserve this gold, this incense, and this myrrh, that Alahayam has given us for a sign; for in days that are coming, a flood will overwhelm the whole creation. But those who shall go into the ark shall take with them the gold, the incense, and the myrrh, together with my body; and will lay the gold, the incense, and the myrrh, with my body in the midst of the earth. ¹⁸ "Then, after a long time, the city in which the gold, the incense, and the myrrh are found with my body, shall be plundered. But when it is spoiled, the gold the incense, and the myrrh shall be taken care of with the spoil that is kept; and naught of them shall perish, until the Word of Alahayam, made man shall come; when kings shall take them, and shall offer to Him, gold in token of His being King; incense, in token of His being Alahayam of heaven and earth; and myrrh, in token of His passion. ¹⁹ "Gold also, as a token of His overcoming Satan, and all our foes; incense as a token that He will rise from the dead, and be exalted above things in heaven and things in the earth; and myrrh, in token that He will drink bitter gall; and feel the pains of hell from Satan. ²⁰ "And now, O Shath, my son, behold I have revealed to you hidden mysteries, which Alahayam had revealed to me. Keep my commandment, for yourself, and for your people."

9 When Adam had ended his commandment to Shath, his limbs were loosened, his hands and feet lost all power, his mouth became dumb, and his tongue ceased altogether to speak. He closed his eyes and gave up the ghost. ² But when his children saw that he was dead, they threw themselves over him, men and women, old and young, weeping. ³ The death of Adam took place at the end of nine hundred and thirty years that he lived upon the earth; on the fifteenth day of Barmudeh, after the reckoning of an epact of the sun, at the ninth hour. ⁴ It was on a Friday, the very day on which he was created, and on which he rested; and the hour at which he died, was the same as that at which he came out of the garden. ⁵ Then

Shath wound him up well, and embalmed him with plenty of sweet spices, from sacred trees and from the Holy Mountain; and he laid his body on the eastern side of the inside of the cave, the side of the incense; and placed in front of him a lamp - stand kept burning. ⁶ Then his children stood before him weeping and wailing over him the whole night until break of day. ⁷ Then Shath and his son Anawash, and Qayanan, the son of Anawash, went out and took good offerings to present to the Adanay, and they came to the altar upon which Adam offered gifts to Alahayam, when he did offer. ⁸ But Chawah said to them, "Wait until we have first asked Alahayam to accept our offering, and to keep by Him the soul of Adam His servant, and to take it up to rest." ⁹ And they all stood up and prayed.

10 And when they had ended their prayer, the Word of Alahayam came and comforted them concerning their father Adam. ² After this, they offered their gifts for themselves and for their father. ³ And when they had ended their offering, the Word of Alahayam came to Shath, the eldest among them, saying to him, "O Shath, Shath, Shath, three times. As I was with your father, so also shall I be with you, until the fulfilment of the promise I made him - your father saying, I will send My Word and save you and your seed. ⁴ "But as to your father Adam, keep you the commandment he gave you; and sever your seed from that of Qayan your brother." ⁵ And Alahayam withdrew His Word from Shath. ⁶ Then Shath, Chawah, and their children, came down from the mountain to the Cave of Treasures. ⁷ But Adam was the first whose soul died in the land of Idan, in the Cave of Treasures; for no one died before him, but his son Habal, who died murdered. ⁸ Then all the children of Adam rose up, and wept over their father Adam, and made offerings to him, one hundred and forty days.

11 After the death of Adam and of Chawah, Shath severed his children, and his children's children, from Cain's children. Qayan and his seed went down and dwelt westward, below the place where he had killed his brother Habal. ² But Shath and his children, dwelt northwards upon the mountain of the Cave of Treasures, in order to be near to their father Adam. ³ And Shath the elder, tall and good, with a fine soul, and of a strong mind, stood at the head of his people; and tended them in innocence, penitence, and meekness, and did not allow one of them to go down to Cain's children. ⁴ But because of their own purity, they were named "Children of Alahayam," and they were with Alahayam, instead of the hosts of angels who fell; for they continued in praises to Alahayam, and in singing psalms to Him, in their cave - the Cave of Treasures. ⁵ Then Shath stood before the body of his father Adam, and of his mother Chawah, and prayed night and day, and asked for mercy towards himself and his children; and that when he had some difficult dealing with a child, He would give him counsel. ⁶ But Shath and his children did not like earthly work, but gave themselves to heavenly things; for they had no other thought than praises, doxologies, and psalms to Alahayam. ⁷ Therefore did they at all times hear the voices of angels, praising and glorifying Alahayam; from within the garden, or when they were sent by Alahayam on an errand, or when they were going up to heaven. ⁸ For Shath and his children, by reason of their own purity, heard and saw those angels. Then, again, the garden was not far above them, but only some fifteen spiritual cubits. ⁹ Now one spiritual cubit answers to three cubits of man, altogether forty-five cubits. ¹⁰ Shath and his children dwelt on the mountain below the garden; they sowed not, neither did they reap; they wrought no food for the body, not even wheat; but only offerings. They ate of the fruit and of trees well flavoured that grew on the mountain where they dwelt. ¹¹ Then Shath often fasted every forty days, as did also his eldest children. For the family of Shath smelled the smell of the trees in the garden, when the wind blew that way. ¹² They were happy, innocent, without sudden fear, there was no jealousy, no evil action, no hatred among them. There was no animal passion; from no mouth among them went forth either foul words or curse; neither evil counsel nor fraud. For the men of that time never swore, but under hard circumstances, when men must swear, they swore by the blood of Habal the just.¹³ But they constrained their children and their women every day in the cave to fast and pray, and to worship the most High Alahayam. They blessed themselves in the body of their father Adam, and anointed themselves with it.¹⁴ And they did so until the end of Shath drew near.

12 Then Shath, the just, called his son Anawash, and Qayanan, son of Anawash, and Mahalalaal, son of Qayanan, and said to them:-² "As my end is near, I wish to build a roof over the altar on which gifts are offered."³ They hearkened to his commandment and went out, all of them, both old and young, and worked hard at it, and built a beautiful roof over the altar.⁴ And Seth's thought, in so doing, was that a blessing should come upon his children on the mountain; and that he should present an offering for them before his death.⁵ Then when the building of the roof was completed, he commanded them to make offerings. They worked diligently at these, and brought them to Shath their father who took them and offered them upon the altar; and prayed Alahayam to accept their offerings, to have mercy on the souls of his children, and to keep them from the hand of Satan.⁶ And Alahayam accepted his offering, and sent His blessing upon him and upon his children. And then Alahayam made a promise to Shath, saying, "At the end of the great five days and a half, concerning which I have made a promise to you and to your father, I will send My Word and save you and your seed."⁷ Then Shath and his children, and his children's children, met together, and came down from the altar, and went to the Cave of Treasures - where they prayed, and blessed themselves in the body of our father Adam, and anointed themselves with it.⁸ But Shath abode in the Cave of Treasures, a few days, and then suffered sufferings to death.⁹ Then Anawash, his first - born son, came to him, with Qayanan, his son, and Mahalalaal, Cainan's son, and Yarad, the son of Mahalalaal, and Chanawak, Jared's son, with their wives and children to receive a blessing from Shath.¹⁰ Then Shath prayed over them, and blessed them, and adjured them by the blood of Habal the just, saying, "I beg of you my children, not to let one of you go down from this Holy and pure Mountain.¹¹ Make no fellowship with the children of Qayan the murderer and the sinner, who killed his brother; for you know, O my children, that we flee from him, and from all his sin with all our might because he killed his brother Habal."¹² After having said this, Shath blessed Anawash, his first - born son, and commanded him habitually to minister in purity before the body of our father Adam, all the days of his life; then, also, to go at times to the altar which he Shath had built. And he commanded him to feed his people in righteousness, in judgment and purity all the days of his life.¹³ Then the limbs of Shath were loosened; his hands and feet lost all power; his mouth became dumb and unable to speak; and he gave up the ghost and died the day after his nine hundred and twelfth year; on the twenty-seventh day of the month Abayab; Chanawak being then twenty years old.¹⁴ Then they wound up carefull the body of Shath, and embalmed him with sweet spices, and laid him in the Cave Treasures, on the right side of our father Adam's body, and they mourned for him forty days. They offered gifts for him, as they had done for our father Adam.¹⁵ After the death of Shath, Anawash rose at the head of his people, whom he fed in righteousness, and judgment, as his father had commanded him.¹⁶ But by the time Anawash was eight hundred and twenty years old, Qayan had a large progeny; for they married frequently, being given to animal lusts; until the land below the mountain, was filled with them.

13 In those days lived Lamak the blind, who was of the sons of Qayan. He had a son whose name was Atun, and they two had much cattle.² But Lamak was in the habit of sending them to feed with a young shepherd, who tended them; and who, when coming home in the evening wept before his grandfather, and before his father Atun and his mother Hazina, and said to them, "As for me, I cannot feed those cattle alone, lest one rob me of some of them, or kill me for the sake of them." For among the children of Qayan, there was much robbery, murder and sin.³ Then Lamak pitied him, and he said, "Truly, he when alone, might be overpowered by the men of this place."⁴ So Lamak arose, took a bow he had kept ever since he was a youth, ere he became blind, and he took large arrows, and smooth stones, and a sling which he had, and went to the field with the young shepherd, and placed himself behind the cattle; while the young shepherd watched the cattle. Thus did Lamak many days.⁵ Meanwhile Qayan, ever since Alahayam had cast him off, and had cursed him with trembling and terror, could neither settle nor find rest in any one place; but wandered from place to place.⁶ In his wanderings he came to Lamech's wives, and asked them about him. They said to him, "He is in the field with the cattle."⁷ Then Qayan went to look for him; and as he came into the field, the young shepherd heard the noise he made, and the cattle herding together from before him,⁸ Then said he to Lamak, "O my lord, is that a wild beast or a robber?"⁹ And Lamak said to him, "Make me understand which way he looks, when he comes up."¹⁰ Then Lamak bent his bow, placed an arrow on it, and fitted a stone in the sling, and when Qayan came out from the open country, the shepherd said to Lamak, "Shoot, behold, he is coming."¹¹ Then Lamak shot at Qayan with his arrow and hit him in his side. And Lamak struck him with a stone from his sling, that fell upon his face, and knocked out both his eyes; then Qayan fell at once and died.¹² Then Lamak and the young shepherd came up to him, and found him lying on the ground. And the young shepherd said to him, "It is Qayan our grandfather, whom you have killed, O my lord!"¹³ Then was Lamak sorry for it, and from the bitterness of his regret, he clapped his hands together, and struck with his flat palm the head of the youth, who fell as if dead; but Lamak thought it was a feint; so he took up a stone and smote him, and smashed his head until he died.

14 When Anawash was nine hundred years old, all the children of Shath, and of Qayanan, and his first-born, with their wives and children, gathered around him, asking for a blessing from him.² He then prayed over them and blessed them, and adjured them by the blood of Habal the just saying to them, "Let not one of your children go down from this Holy Mountain, and let them make no fellowship with the children of Qayan the murderer."³ Then Anawash called his son Qayanan and said to him, "See, O my son, and set your heart on your people, and establish them in righteousness, and in innocence; and stand ministering before the body of our father Adam, all the days of your life."⁴ After this Anawash entered into rest, aged nine hundred and eighty-five years; and Qayanan wound him up, and laid him in the Cave of Treasures on the left of his father Adam; and made offerings for him, after the custom of his fathers.

15 After the death of Anawash, Qayanan stood at the head of his people in righteousness and innocence, as his father had commanded him; he also continued to minister before the body of Adam, inside the Cave of Treasures.² Then when he had lived nine hundred and ten years, suffering and affliction came upon him. And when he was about to enter into rest, all the fathers with their wives and children came to him, and he blessed them, and adjured them by the blood of Habal, the just, saying to them, "Let not one among you go down from this Holy Mountain; and make no fellowship with the children of Qayan the murderer."³ Mahalalaal, his first-born son, received this commandment from his father, who blessed him and died.⁴ Then Mahalalaal embalmed him with sweet spices, and laid him in the Cave of Treasures, with his fathers; and they made offerings for him, after the custom of their fathers.

16 Then Mahalalaal stood over his people, and fed them in righteousness and innocence, and watched them to see they held no intercourse with the children of Qayan.² He also continued in the Cave of Treasures praying and ministering before the body of our father Adam, asking Alahayam for mercy on himself and on his people; until he was eight hundred and seventy years old, when he fell sick.³ Then all his children gathered to him, to see him, and to ask for his blessing on them all, ere he left this world.⁴ Then Mahalalaal arose and sat on his bed, his tears streaming down his face, and he called his eldest son Yarad, who came to him.⁵ He then kissed his face, and said to him, "O Yarad, my son, I adjure you by Him who made heaven and earth, to watch over your people, and to feed them in righteousness and in innocence; and not to let one of them go down from this Holy Mountain to the children of Qayan, lest he perish with them." ⁶ "Hear, O my son, hereafter there shall come a great destruction upon this earth on account of them; Alahayam will be angry with the world, and will destroy them with waters." ⁷ "But I also know that your children will not hearken to you, and that they will go down from this mountain and hold intercourse with the children of Qayan, and that they shall perish with them." ⁸ "O my son! teach them, and watch over them, that no guilt attach to you on their account." ⁹ Mahalalaal said, moreover, to his son Yarad, "When I die, embalm my body and lay it in the Cave of Treasures, by the bodies of my fathers; then stand you by my body and pray to Alahayam; and take care of them, and fulfil your ministry before them, until you enter into rest yourself." ¹⁰ Mahalalaal then blessed all his children; and then lay down on his bed, and entered into rest like his fathers. ¹¹ But when Yarad saw that his father Mahalalaal was dead, he wept, and sorrowed, and embraced and kissed his hands and his feet; and so did all his children. ¹² And his children embalmed him carefully, and laid him by the bodies of his fathers. Then they arose, and mourned for him forty days.

17 Then Yarad kept his father's commandment, and arose like a lion over his people. He fed them in righteousness and innocence, and commanded them to do nothing without his counsel. For he was afraid concerning them, lest they should go to the children of Qayan. ² Therefore did he give them orders repeatedly; and continued to do so until the end of the four hundred and eighty-fifth year of his life. ³ At the end of these said years, there came to him this sign. As Yarad was standing like a lion before the bodies of his fathers, praying and warning his people, Satan envied him, and wrought a beautiful apparition, because Yarad would not let his children do aught without his counsel. ⁴ Satan then appeared to him with thirty men of his hosts, in the form of handsome men; Satan himself being the elder and tallest among them, with a fine beard. ⁵ They stood at the mouth of the cave, and called out Yarad, from within it. ⁶ He came out to them, and found them looking like fine men, full of light, and of great beauty. He wondered at their beauty and at their looks; and thought within himself whether they might not be of the children of Qayan. ⁷ He said also in his heart, "As the children of Qayan cannot come up to the height of this mountain, and none of them is so handsome as these appear to be; and among these men there is not one of my kindred - they must be strangers." ⁸ Then Yarad and they exchanged a greeting and he said to the elder among them, "O my father, explain to me the wonder that is in you, and tell me who these are, with you; for they look to me like strange men." ⁹ Then the elder began to weep, and the rest wept with him; and he said to Yarad, "I am Adam whom Alahayam made first; and this is Habal my son, who was killed by his brother Qayan, into whose heart Satan put to murder him." ¹⁰ "Then this is my son Shath, whom I asked of the Adanay, who gave him to me, to comfort me instead of Habal." ¹¹ "Then this one is my son Anawash, son of Shath, and that other one is Qayanan, son of Anawash, and that other one is Mahalalaal, son of Qayanan, your father." ¹² But Yarad remained wondering at their appearance, and at the speech of the elder to him. ¹³ Then the elder said to him, "Marvel not, O my son; we live in the land north of the garden, which Alahayam created before the world. He would not let us live there, but placed us inside the garden, below which you are now dwelling." ¹⁴ "But after that I transgressed, He made me come out of it, and I was left to dwell in this cave; great and sore troubles came upon me; and when my death drew near, I commanded my son Shath to tend his people well; and this my commandment is to be handed from one to another, to the end of the generations to come." ¹⁵ "But, O Yarad, my son, we live in beautiful regions, while you live here in misery, as this your father Mahalalaal informed me; telling me that a great flood will come and overwhelm the whole earth." ¹⁶ "Therefore, O my son, fearing for your sakes, I rose and took my children with me, and came here for us to visit you and your children; but I found you standing in this cave weeping, and your children scattered about this mountain, in the heat and in misery." ¹⁷ "But, O my son, as we missed our way, and came as far as this, we found other men below this mountain; who inhabit a beautiful country, full of trees and of fruits, and of all manner of verdure; it is like a garden; so that when we found them we thought they were you; until your father Mahalalaal told me they were no such thing." ¹⁸ "Now, therefore, O my son, hearken to my counsel, and go down to them, you and your children. You will rest from all this suffering in which you are. But if you will not go down to them, then, arise, take your children, and come with us to our garden; you shall live in our beautiful land, and you shall rest from all this trouble, which you and your children are now bearing." ¹⁹ But Yarad when he heard this discourse from the elder, wondered; and went here and there, but at that moment he found not one of his children. ²⁰ Then he answered and said to the elder, "Why have you hidden yourselves until this day?" ²¹ And the elder replied, "If your father had not told us, we should not have known it." ²² Then Yarad believed his words were true. ²³ So that elder said to Yarad, "Therefore did you turn about, so and so?" And he said, "I was seeking one of my children, to tell him about my going with you, and about their coming down to those about whom you have spoken to me." ²⁴ When the elder heard Jared's intention, he said to him, "Let alone that purpose at present, and come with us; you shall see our country; if the land in which we dwell pleases you, we and you shall return here and take your family with us. But if our country does not please you, you shall come back to your own place." ²⁵ And the elder urged Yarad, to go before one of his children came to counsel him otherwise. ²⁶ Yarad, then, came out of the cave and went with them, and among them. And they comforted him, until they came to the top of the mountain of the sons of Qayan. ²⁷ Then said the elder to one of his companions, "We have forgotten something by the mouth of the cave, and that is the chosen garment we had brought to clothe Yarad withal." ²⁸ He then said to one of them, "Go back, you, some one; and we will wait for you here, until you come back. Then will we clothe Yarad and he shall be like us, good, handsome, and fit to come with us into our country." ²⁹ Then that one went back. ³⁰ But when he was a short distance off, the elder called to him and said to him, "Tarry you, until I come up and speak to you." ³¹ Then he stood still, and the elder went up to him and said to him, "One thing we forgot at the cave, it is this - to put out the lamp that burns inside it, above the bodies that are therein. Then come back to us, quick." ³² That one went, and the elder came back to his fellows and to Yarad. And they came down from the mountain, and Yarad with them; and they stayed by a fountain of water, near the houses of the children of Qayan and waited for their companion until he brought the garment for Yarad. ³³ He, then, who went back to the cave, put out the lamp, and came to them and brought a phantom with him and showed it them. And when Yarad saw it he wondered at the beauty and grace thereof, and rejoiced in his heart believing it was all true. ³⁴ But while they were staying there, three of them went into houses of the sons of Qayan and said to them, "Bring us to-day some food by the fountain of water, for us and our companions to eat." ³⁵ But when the sons of Qayan saw them, they wondered at them and thought: "These are beautiful to look at, and such as we never saw before." So they rose and came with them to the fountain of water, to see their companions. ³⁶ They found them so very handsome, that they cried aloud about their places for others to gather together and come and look at these beautiful beings. Then they gathered around them both men and women. ³⁷ Then the elder said to them, "We are strangers in your land, bring us some good food and drink, you and your women, to refresh ourselves with you." ³⁸ When those men heard these words of the elder, every one of Cain's sons brought his wife, and another brought his daughter, and so, many women came to them; every one addressing Yarad either for himself or for his wife; all alike. ³⁹ But when Yarad saw what they did, his very soul wrenched itself from them; neither would he taste of their food or of their drink. ⁴⁰ The elder saw him as he wrenched himself from them, and said to him, "Be not sad; I am the great elder, as you shall see me do, do yourself in like manner."⁴¹ Then he spread his hands and took one of the women, and five of his companions did the same before Yarad, that he should do as they did.⁴² But when Yarad saw them working infamy he wept, and said in his mind, - My fathers never did the like.⁴³ He then spread his hands and prayed with a fervent heart, and with much weeping, and entreated Alahayam to deliver him from their hands.⁴⁴ No sooner did Yarad begin to pray than the elder fled with his companions; for they could not abide in a place of prayer.⁴⁵ Then Yarad turned round but could not see them, but found himself standing in the midst of the children of Qayan.⁴⁶ He then wept and said, "O Alahayam, destroy me not with this race, concerning which my fathers have warned me; for now, O my Adanay Alahayam, I was thinking that those who appeared to me were my fathers; but I have found them out to be devils, who allured me by this beautiful apparition, until I believed them."⁴⁷ "But now I ask You, O Alahayam, to deliver me from this race, among whom I am now staying, as You did deliver me from those devils. Send Your angel to draw me out of the midst of them; for I have not myself power to escape from among them."⁴⁸ When Yarad had ended his prayer, Alahayam sent His angel in the midst of them, who took Yarad and set him upon the mountain, and showed him the way, gave him counsel, and then departed from him.

18 The children of Yarad were in the habit of visiting him hour after hour, to receive his blessing and to ask his advice for every thing they did; and when he had a work to do, they did it for him.² But this time when they went into the cave they found not Yarad, but they found the lamp put out, and the bodies of the fathers thrown about, and voices came from them by the power of Alahayam, that said, "Satan in an apparition has deceived our son, wishing to destroy him, as he destroyed our son Qayan."³ They said also, "Adanay Alahayam of heaven and earth, deliver our son from the hand of Satan, who wrought a great and false apparition before him." They also spoke of other matters, by the power of Alahayam.⁴ But when the children of Yarad heard these voices they feared, and stood weeping for their father; for they knew not what had befallen him.⁵ And they wept for him that day until the setting of the sun.⁶ Then came Yarad with a woeful countenance, wretched in mind and body, and sorrowful at having been separated from the bodies of his fathers.⁷ But as he was drawing near to the cave, his children saw him, and hastened to the cave, and hung upon his neck, crying, and saying to him, "O father, where have you been, and why have you left us, as you were not wont to do?" And again, "O father, when you did disappear, the lamp over the bodies of our fathers went out, the bodies were thrown about, and voices came from them."⁸ When Yarad heard this he was sorry, and went into the cave; and there found the bodies thrown about, the lamp put out, and the fathers themselves praying for his deliverance from the hand of Satan.⁹ Then Yarad fell upon the bodies and embraced them, and said, "O my fathers, through your intercession, let Alahayam deliver me from the hand of Satan! And I beg you will ask Alahayam to keep me and to hide me from him to the day of my death."¹⁰ Then all the voices ceased save the voice of our father Adam, who spoke to Yarad by the power of Alahayam, just as one would speak to his fellow, saying, "O Yarad, my son, offer gifts to Alahayam for having delivered you from the hand of Satan; and when you bring those offerings, so be it that you offer them on the altar on which I did offer. Then also, beware of Satan; for he deluded me many a time with his apparitions, wishing to destroy me, but Alahayam delivered me out of his hand."¹¹ "Command your people that they be on their guard against him; and never cease to offer up gifts to Alahayam."¹² Then the voice of Adam also became silent; and Yarad and his children wondered at this. Then they laid the bodies as they were at first; and Yarad and his children stood praying the whole of that night, until break of day.¹³ Then Yarad made an offering and offered it up on the altar, as Adam had commanded him. And as he went up to the altar, he prayed to Alahayam for mercy and for forgiveness of his sin, concerning the lamp going out.¹⁴ Then Alahayam appeared to Yarad on the altar and blessed him and his children, and accepted their offerings; and commanded Yarad to take of the sacred fire from the altar, and with it to light the lamp that shed light on the body of Adam.

19 Then Alahayam revealed to him again the promise He had made to Adam; He explained to him the 5500 years, and revealed to him the mystery of His coming upon the earth.² And Alahayam said to Yarad, "As to that fire which you have taken from the altar to light the lamp withal, let it abide with you to give light to the bodies; and let it not come out of the cave, until the body of Adam comes out of it."³ But, O Yarad, take care of the fire, that it burn bright in the lamp; neither go you again out of the cave until you receive an order through a vision, and not in an apparition, when seen by you.⁴ "Then command again your people not to hold intercourse with the children of Qayan, and not to learn their ways; for I am Alahayam who loves not hatred and works of iniquity."⁵ Alahayam gave also many other commandments to Yarad, and blessed him. And then withdrew His Word from him.⁶ Then Yarad drew near with his children, took some fire, and came down to the cave, and lighted the lamp before the body of Adam; and he gave his people commandments as Alahayam had told him to do.⁷ This sign happened to Yarad at the end of his four hundred and fiftieth year; as did also many other wonders, we do not record. But we record only this one for shortness sake, and in order not to lengthen our narrative.⁸ And Yarad continued to teach his children eighty years; but after that they began to transgress the commandments he had given them, and to do many things without his counsel. They began to go down from the Holy Mountain one after another, and to mix with the children of Qayan, in foul fellowships.⁹ Now the reason for which the children of Yarad went down the Holy Mountain, is this, that we will now reveal to you.

20 After Qayan had gone down to the land of dark soil, and his children had multiplied therein, there was one of them, whose name was Genun, son of Lamak the blind who slew Qayan.² But as to this Genun, Satan came into him in his childhood; and he made sundry trumpets and horns, and string instruments, cymbals and psalteries, and lyres and harps, and flutes; and he played on them at all times and at every hour.³ And when he played on them, Satan came into them, so that from among them were heard beautiful and sweet sounds, that ravished the heart.⁴ Then he gathered companies upon companies to play on them; and when they played, it pleased well the children of Qayan, who inflamed themselves with sin among themselves, and burnt as with fire; while Satan inflamed their hearts, one with another, and increased lust among them.⁵ Satan also taught Genun to bring strong drink out of corn; and this Genun used to bring together companies upon companies in drink-houses; and brought into their hands all manner of fruits and flowers; and they drank together.⁶ Thus did this Genun multiply sin exceedingly; he also acted with pride, and taught the children of Qayan to commit all manner of the grossest wickedness, which they knew not; and put them up to manifold doings which they knew not before.⁷ Then Satan, when he saw that they yielded to Genun and hearkened to him in every thing he told them, rejoiced greatly, increased Genun's understanding until he took iron and with it made weapons of war.⁸ Then when they were drunk, hatred and murder increased among them; one man used violence against another to teach him evil taking his children and defiling them before him.⁹ And when men saw they were overcome, and saw others that were not overpowered, those who were beaten came to Genun, took refuge with him, and he made them his confederates.¹⁰ Then sin increased among them greatly; until a man married his own sister, or daughter, or mother, and others; or the daughter of his father's sister, so that there was no more distinction of relationship, and they no longer knew what is iniquity; but did wickedly, and the earth was defiled with sin; and they angered Alahayam the Judge, who had created them.¹¹ But Genun gathered together companies upon companies, that played on horns and on all the other instruments we have already mentioned, at the foot of the Holy

Mountain; and they did so in order that the children of Shath who were on the Holy Mountain should hear it.¹² But when the children of Shath heard the noise, they wondered, and came by companies, and stood on the top of the mountain to look at those below; and they did thus a whole year.¹³ When, at the end of that year, Genun saw that they were being won over to him little by little, Satan entered into him, and taught him to make dyeing-stuffs for garments of divers patterns, and made him understand how to dye crimson and purple and what not.¹⁴ And the sons of Qayan who wrought all this, and shone in beauty and gorgeous apparel, gathered together at the foot of the mountain in splendour, with horns and gorgeous dresses, and horse races, committing all manner of abominations.¹⁵ Meanwhile the children of Shath, who were on the Holy Mountain, prayed and praised Alahayam, in the place of the hosts of angels who had fallen; therefore Alahayam had called them 'angels,' because He rejoiced over them greatly.¹⁶ But after this, they no longer kept His commandment, nor held by the promise He had made to their fathers; but they relaxed from their fasting and praying, and from the counsel of Yarad their father. And they kept on gathering together on the top of the mountain, to look upon the children of Qayan, from morning until evening, and upon what they did, upon their beautiful dresses and ornaments.¹⁷ Then the children of Qayan looked up from below, and saw the children of Shath, standing in troops on the top of the mountain; and they called to them to come down to them.¹⁸ But the children of Shath said to them from above, "We don't know the way." Then Genun, the son of Lamak, heard them say they did not know the way, and he bethought himself how he might bring them down.¹⁹ Then Satan appeared to him by night, saying, "There is no way for them to come down from the mountain on which they dwell; but when they come to-morrow, say to them, 'Come you to the western side of the mountain; there you will find the way of a stream of water, that comes down to the foot of the mountain, between two hills; come down that way to us.'" ²⁰ Then when it was day, Genun blew the horns and beat the drums below the mountain, as he was wont. The children of Shath heard it, and came as they used to do.²¹ Then Genun said to them from down below, "Go to the western side of the mountain, there you will find the way to come down."²² But when the children of Shath heard these words from him, they went back into the cave to Yarad, to tell him all they had heard.²³ Then when Yarad heard it, he was grieved; for he knew that they would transgress his counsel.²⁴ After this a hundred men of the children of Shath gathered together, and said among themselves, "Come, let us go down to the children of Qayan, and see what they do, and enjoy ourselves with them."²⁵ But when Yarad heard this of the hundred men, his very soul was moved, and his heart was grieved. He then arose with great fervour, and stood in the midst of them, and adjured them by the blood of Habal the just, "Let not one of you go down from this holy and pure mountain, in which our fathers have ordered us to dwell."²⁶ But when Yarad saw that they did not receive his words, he said to them, "O my good and innocent and holy children, know that when once you go down from this holy mountain, Alahayam will not allow you to return again to it."²⁷ He again adjured them, saying, "I adjure by the death of our father Adam, and by the blood of Habal, of Shath, of Anawash, of Qayanan, and of Mahalalaal, to hearken to me, and not to go down from this holy mountain; for the moment you leave it, you will be reft of life and of mercy; and you shall no longer be called 'children of Alahayam,' but 'children of the devil.'" ²⁸ But they would not hearken to his words.²⁹ Chanawak at that time was already grown up, and in his zeal for Alahayam, he arose and said, "Hear me, O you sons of Shath, small and great - when you transgress the commandment of our fathers, and go down from this holy mountain - you shall not come up here again for ever."³⁰ But they rose up against Chanawak, and would not hearken to his words, but went down from the Holy Mountain.³¹ And when they looked at the daughters of Qayan, at their beautiful figures, and at their hands and feet dyed with colour, and tattooed in ornaments on their faces, the fire of sin was kindled in them.³² Then Satan made them look most beautiful before the sons of Shath, as he also made the sons of Shath appear of the fairest in the eyes of the daughters of Qayan, so that the daughters of Qayan lusted after the sons of Shath like ravenous beasts, and the sons of Shath after the daughters of Qayan, until they committed abomination with them.³³ But after they had thus fallen into this defilement, they returned by the way they had come, and tried to ascend the Holy Mountain. But they could not, because the stones of that holy mountain were of fire flashing before them, by reason of which they could not go up again.³⁴ And Alahayam was angry with them, and repented of them because they had come down from glory, and had thereby lost or forsaken their own purity or innocence, and were fallen into the defilement of sin.³⁵ Then Alahayam sent His Word to Yarad, saying, "These your children, whom you did call 'My children,' - behold they have transgressed My commandment, and have gone down to the abode of perdition, and of sin. Send a messenger to those that are left, that they may not go down, and be lost."³⁶ Then Yarad wept before the Adanay, and asked of Him mercy and forgiveness. But he wished that his soul might depart from his body, rather than hear these words from Alahayam about the going down of his children from the Holy Mountain.³⁷ But he followed Alahayam's order, and preached to them not to go down from that holy mountain, and not to hold intercourse with the children of Qayan.³⁸ But they heeded not his message, and would not obey his counsel.

21 After this another company gathered together, and they went to look after their brethren; but they perished as well as they. And so it was, company after company, until only a few of them were left.² Then Yarad sickened from grief, and his sickness was such that the day of his death drew near.³ Then he called Chanawak his eldest son, and Mathawashalach Enoch's son, and Lamak the son of Mathawashalach, and Nach the son of Lamak.⁴ And when they were come to him he prayed over them and blessed them, and said to them, "You are righteous, innocent sons; go you not down from this holy mountain; for behold, your children and your children's children have gone down from this holy mountain, and have estranged themselves from this holy mountain, through their abominable lust and transgression of Alahayam's commandment."⁵ "But I know, through the power of Alahayam, that He will not leave you on this holy mountain, because your children have transgressed His commandment and that of our fathers, which we had received from them."⁶ "But, O my sons, Alahayam will take you to a strange land, and you never shall again return to behold with your eyes this garden and this holy mountain."⁷ "Therefore, O my sons, set your hearts on your own selves, and keep the commandment of Alahayam which is with you. And when you go from this holy mountain, into a strange land which you know not, take with you the body of our father Adam, and with it these three precious gifts and offerings, namely, the gold, the incense, and the myrrh; and let them be in the place where the body of our father Adam shall lay."⁸ "And to him of you who shall be left, O my sons, shall the Word of Alahayam come, and when he goes out of this land he shall take with him the body of our father Adam, and shall lay it in the middle of the earth, the place in which salvation shall be wrought."⁹ Then Nach said to him, "Who is he of us that shall be left?" ¹⁰ And Yarad answered, "You are he that shall be left. And you shall take the body of our father Adam from the cave, and place it with you in the ark when the flood comes."¹¹ "And your son Sham, who shall come out of your loins, he it is who shall lay the body of our father Adam in the middle of the earth, in the place whence salvation shall come."¹² Then Yarad turned to his son Chanawak, and said to him "You, my son, abide in this cave, and minister diligently before the body of our father Adam all the days of your life; and feed your people in righteousness and innocence."¹³ And Yarad said no more. His hands were loosened, his eyes closed, and he entered into rest like his fathers. His death took place in the three hundred and sixtieth year of Nach, and in the nine hundred and eighty-ninth year of his own life; on the twelfth of Takhsas on a Friday.¹⁴ But as Yarad died, tears streamed down his face by reason of his great sorrow, for the children of Shath, who had fallen in his days.¹⁵ Then Chanawak, Mathawashalach, Lamak and Nach, these four, wept over him; embalmed him carefully, and then laid him in the Cave of Treasures. Then they rose and mourned for him forty days.¹⁶ And when these days of mourning were ended, Chanawak, Mathawashalach, Lamak and Nach remained in sorrow of heart, because their father had departed from them, and they saw him no more.

22 But Chanawak kept the commandment of Yarad his father, and continued to minister in the cave.² It is this Chanawak to whom many wonders happened, and who also wrote a celebrated book; but those wonders may not be told in this place.³ Then after this, the children of Shath went astray and fell, they, their children and their wives. And when Chanawak, Mathawashalach, Lamak and Nach saw them, their hearts suffered by reason of their fall into doubt full of unbelief; and they wept and sought of Alahayam mercy, to preserve them, and to bring them out of that wicked generation.⁴ Chanawak continued in his ministry before the Adanay three hundred and eighty-five years, and at the end of that time he became aware through the grace of Alahayam, that Alahayam intended to remove him from the earth.⁵ He then said to his son, "O my son, I know that Alahayam intends to bring the waters of the Flood upon the earth, and to destroy our creation.⁶ "And you are the last rulers over this people on this mountain; for I know that not one will be left you to beget children on this holy mountain; neither shall any one of you rule over the children of his people; neither shall any great company be left of you, on this mountain."⁷ Chanawak said also to them, "Watch over your souls, and hold fast by your fear of Alahayam and by your service of Him, and worship Him in upright faith, and serve Him in righteousness, innocence and judgment, in repentance and also in purity."⁸ When Chanawak had ended his commandments to them, Alahayam transported him from that mountain to the land of life, to the mansions of the righteous and of the chosen, the abode of Paradise of joy, in light that reaches up to heaven; light that is outside the light of this world; for it is the light of Alahayam, that fills the whole world, but which no place can contain.⁹ Thus, because Chanawak was in the light of Alahayam, he found himself out of the reach of death; until Alahayam would have him die.¹⁰ Altogether, not one of our fathers or of their children, remained on that holy mountain, except those three, Mathawashalach, Lamak, and Nach. For all the rest went down from the mountain and fell into sin with the children of Qayan. Therefore were they forbidden that mountain, and none remained on it but those three men.

1 Now it happened after the death of Mashah the servant of Yahawah, that Yahawah spoke to Yahawashai the son of Nawan, Mashah's minister, saying, ² Mashah my servant is dead; now therefore arise, go over this Yarden, you, and all this people, to the land which I do give to them, even to the children of Yasharael. ³ Every place that the sole of your foot shall tread on, to you have I given it, as I spoke to Mashah. ⁴ From the wilderness, and this Labanawan, even to the great river, the river Parath, all the land of the Hittites, and to the great sea toward the going down of the sun, shall be your border. ⁵ There shall not any man be able to stand before you all the days of your life. As I was with Mashah, so I will be with you; I will not fail you, nor forsake you. ⁶ Be strong and of good courage; for you shall cause this people to inherit the land which I swore to their fathers to give them. ⁷ Only be strong and very courageous, to observe to do according to all the law, which Mashah my servant commanded you: don't turn from it to the right hand or to the left, that you may have good success wherever you go. ⁸ This book of the law shall not depart out of your mouth, but you shall meditate thereon day and night, that you may observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then you shall make your way prosperous, and then you shall have good success. ⁹ Haven't I commanded you? Be strong and of good courage; don't be afraid, neither be dismayed: for Yahawah your Alahayam is with you wherever you go. ¹⁰ Then Yahawashai commanded the officers of the people, saying, ¹¹ Pass through the midst of the camp, and command the people, saying, Prepare you victuals; for within three days you are to pass over this Yarden, to go in to possess the land, which Yahawah your Alahayam gives you to possess it. ¹² To the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to the half-tribe of Manashah, spoke Yahawashai, saying, ¹³ Remember the word which Mashah the servant of Yahawah commanded you, saying, Yahawah your Alahayam gives you rest, and will give you this land. ¹⁴ Your wives, your little ones, and your cattle, shall abide in the land which Mashah gave you beyond the Yarden; but you shall pass over before your brothers armed, all the mighty men of valor, and shall help them; ¹⁵ until Yahawah have given your brothers rest, as [he has given] you, and they also have possessed the land which Yahawah your Alahayam gives them: then you shall return to the land of your possession, and possess it, which Mashah the servant of Yahawah gave you beyond the Yarden toward the sunrise. ¹⁶ They answered Yahawashai, saying, All that you have commanded us we will do, and wherever you send us we will go. ¹⁷ According as we listened to Mashah in all things, so will we listen to you: only Yahawah your Alahayam be with you, as he was with Mashah. ¹⁸ Whoever he be who shall rebel against your commandment, and shall not listen to your words in all that you command him, he shall be put to death: only be strong and of good courage.

2 Yahawashai the son of Nawan sent out of Shatayam two men as spies secretly, saying, Go, view the land, and Yarayachaw. They went and came into the house of a prostitute whose name was Rachab, and lay there. ² It was told the king of Yarayachaw, saying, Behold, there came men in here tonight of the children of Yasharael to search out the land. ³ The king of Yarayachaw sent to Rachab, saying, Bring forth the men who are come to you, who have entered into your house; for they have come to search out all the land. ⁴ The woman took the two men, and hid them; and she said, Yes, the men came to me, but I didn't know whence they were: ⁵ and it happened about the time of the shutting of the gate, when it was dark, that the men went out; where the men went I don't know: pursue after them quickly; for you will overtake them. ⁶ But she had brought them up to the roof, and hid them with the stalks of flax, which she had laid in order on the roof. ⁷ The men pursued after them the way to the Yarden to the fords: and as soon as those who pursued after them were gone out, they shut the gate. ⁸ Before they were laid down, she came up to them on the roof; ⁹ and she said to the men, I know that Yahawah has given you the land, and that the fear of you is fallen on us, and that all the inhabitants of the land melt away before you. ¹⁰ For we have heard how Yahawah dried up the water of the Sawap before you, when you came out of Matzarayam; and what you did to the two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond the Yarden, to Sayachawan and to Og, whom you utterly destroyed. ¹¹ As soon as we had heard it, our hearts did melt, neither did there remain any more spirit in any man, because of you: for Yahawah your Alahayam, he is Alahayam in heaven above, and on earth beneath. ¹² Now therefore, please swear to me by Yahawah, since I have dealt kindly with you, that you also will deal kindly with my father's house, and give me a true token; ¹³ and that you will save alive my father, and my mother, and my brothers, and my sisters, and all that they have, and will deliver our lives from death. ¹⁴ The men said to her, Our life for yours, if you don't utter this our business; and it shall be, when Yahawah gives us the land, that we will deal kindly and truly with you. ¹⁵ Then she let them down by a cord through the window: for her house was on the side of the wall, and she lived on the wall. ¹⁶ She said to them, Get you to the mountain, lest the pursuers light on you; and hide yourselves there three days, until the pursuers be returned: and afterward may you go your way. ¹⁷ The men said to her, We will be guiltless of this your oath which you have made us to swear. ¹⁸ Behold, when we come into the land, you shall bind this line of scarlet thread in the window which you did let us down by: and you shall gather to you into the house your father, and your mother, and your brothers, and all your father's household. ¹⁹ It shall be, that whoever shall go out of the doors of your house into the street, his blood shall be on his head, and we shall be guiltless: and whoever shall be with you in the house, his blood shall be on our head, if any hand be on him. ²⁰ But if you utter this our business, then we shall be guiltless of your oath which you have made us to swear. ²¹ She said, According to your words, so be it. She sent them away, and they departed: and she bound the scarlet line in the window. ²² They went, and came to the mountain, and abode there three days, until the pursuers were returned: and the pursuers sought them throughout all the way, but didn't find them. ²³ Then the two men returned, and descended from the mountain, and passed over, and came to Yahawashai the son of Nawan; and they told him all that had befallen them. ²⁴ They said to Yahawashai, Truly Yahawah has delivered into our hands all the land; and moreover all the inhabitants of the land do melt away before us.

3 Yahawashai rose up early in the morning; and they removed from Shatayam, and came to the Yarden, he and all the children of Yasharael; and they lodged there before they passed over. ² It happened after three days, that the officers went through the midst of the camp; ³ and they commanded the people, saying, When you see the ark of the covenant of Yahawah your Alahayam, and the priests the Levites bearing it, then you shall remove from your place, and go after it. ⁴ Yet there shall be a space between you and it, about two thousand cubits by measure: don't come near to it, that you may know the way by which you must go; for you have not passed this way heretofore. ⁵ Yahawashai said to the people, Sanctify yourselves; for tomorrow Yahawah will do wonders among you. ⁶ Yahawashai spoke to the priests, saying, Take up the ark of the covenant, and pass over before the people. They took up the ark of the covenant, and went before the people.⁷ Yahawah said to Yahawashai, This day will I begin to magnify you in the sight of all Yasharaal, that they may know that, as I was with Mashah, so I will be with you.⁸ You shall command the priests who bear the ark of the covenant, saying, When you are come to the brink of the waters of the Yaradan, you shall stand still in the Yaradan.⁹ Yahawashai said to the children of Yasharaal, Come here, and hear the words of Yahawah your Alahayam.¹⁰ Yahawashai said, Hereby you shall know that the living Alahayam is among you, and that he will without fail drive out from before you the Canaanite, and the Hittite, and the Hivite, and the Perizzite, and the Girgashite, and the Amorite, and the Jebusite.¹¹ Behold, the ark of the covenant of the Adanay of all the earth passes over before you into the Yaradan.¹² Now therefore take twelve men out of the tribes of Yasharaal, for every tribe a man.¹³ It shall come to pass, when the soles of the feet of the priests who bear the ark of Yahawah, the Adanay of all the earth, shall rest in the waters of the Yaradan, that the waters of the Yaradan shall be cut off, even the waters that come down from above; and they shall stand in one heap.¹⁴ It happened, when the people removed from their tents, to pass over the Yaradan, the priests who bore the ark of the covenant being before the people;¹⁵ and when those who bore the ark were come to the Yaradan, and the feet of the priests who bore the ark were dipped in the brink of the water (for the Yaradan overflows all its banks all the time of harvest,) ¹⁶ that the waters which came down from above stood, and rose up in one heap, a great way off, at Adam, the city that is beside Zarethan; and those that went down toward the sea of the Irabah, even the Salt Sea, were wholly cut off; and the people passed over right against Yarayachaw.¹⁷ The priests who bore the ark of the covenant of Yahawah stood firm on dry ground in the midst of the Yaradan; and all Yasharaal passed over on dry ground, until all the nation were passed clean over the Yaradan.

4 It happened, when all the nation were clean passed over the Yaradan, that Yahawah spoke to Yahawashai, saying, ² Take twelve men out of the people, out of every tribe a man, ³ and command you them, saying, Take hence out of the midst of the Yaradan, out of the place where the priests' feet stood firm, twelve stones, and carry them over with you, and lay them down in the lodging-place, where you shall lodge this night.⁴ Then Yahawashai called the twelve men, whom he had prepared of the children of Yasharaal, out of every tribe a man:⁵ and Yahawashai said to them, Pass over before the ark of Yahawah your Alahayam into the midst of the Yaradan, and take up every man of you a stone on his shoulder, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Yasharaal;⁶ that this may be a sign among you, that when your children ask in time to come, saying, What do you mean by these stones?⁷ then you shall tell them, Because the waters of the Yaradan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of Yahawah; when it passed over the Yaradan, the waters of the Yaradan were cut off: and these stones shall be for a memorial to the children of Yasharaal forever.⁸ The children of Yasharaal did so as Yahawashai commanded, and took up twelve stones out of the midst of the Yaradan, as Yahawah spoke to Yahawashai, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Yasharaal; and they carried them over with them to the place where they lodged, and laid them down there.⁹ Yahawashai set up twelve stones in the midst of the Yaradan, in the place where the feet of the priests who bore the ark of the covenant stood: and they are there to this day.¹⁰ For the priests who bore the ark stood in the midst of the Yaradan, until everything was finished that Yahawah commanded Yahawashai to speak to the people, according to all that Mashah commanded Yahawashai: and the people hurried and passed over.¹¹ It happened, when all the people had completely passed over, that the ark of Yahawah passed over, with the priests, in the presence of the people.¹² The children of Raawaban, and the children of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manashah, passed over armed before the children of Yasharaal, as Mashah spoke to them:¹³ about forty thousand ready armed for war passed over before Yahawah to battle, to the plains of Yarayachaw.¹⁴ On that day Yahawah magnified Yahawashai in the sight of all Yasharaal; and they feared him, as they feared Mashah, all the days of his life.¹⁵ Yahawah spoke to Yahawashai, saying, ¹⁶ Command the priests who bear the ark of the testimony, that they come up out of the Yaradan.¹⁷ Yahawashai therefore commanded the priests, saying, Come you up out of the Yaradan.¹⁸ It happened, when the priests who bore the ark of the covenant of Yahawah were come up out of the midst of the Yaradan, and the soles of the priests' feet were lifted up to the dry ground, that the waters of the Yaradan returned to their place, and went over all its banks, as before.¹⁹ The people came up out of the Yaradan on the tenth day of the first month, and encamped in Galagal, on the east border of Yarayachaw.²⁰ Those twelve stones, which they took out of the Yaradan, did Yahawashai set up in Galagal.²¹ He spoke to the children of Yasharaal, saying, When your children shall ask their fathers in time to come, saying, What mean these stones?²² Then you shall let your children know, saying, Yasharaal came over this Yaradan on dry land.²³ For Yahawah your Alahayam dried up the waters of the Yaradan from before you, until you were passed over, as Yahawah your Alahayam did to the Sawap, which he dried up from before us, until we were passed over;²⁴ that all the peoples of the earth may know the hand of Yahawah, that it is mighty; that you may fear Yahawah your Alahayam forever.

5 It happened, when all the kings of the Amorites, who were beyond the Yaradan westward, and all the kings of the Canaanites, who were by the sea, heard how that Yahawah had dried up the waters of the Yaradan from before the children of Yasharaal, until we were passed over, that their heart melted, neither was there spirit in them any more, because of the children of Yasharaal.² At that time Yahawah said to Yahawashai, Make you flint knives, and circumcise again the children of Yasharaal the second time.³ Yahawashai made himself flint knives, and circumcised the children of Yasharaal at the hill of the foreskins.⁴ This is the cause why Yahawashai did circumcise: all the people who came forth out of Matzarayam, who were males, even all the men of war, died in the wilderness by the way, after they came forth out of Matzarayam.⁵ For all the people who came out were circumcised; but all the people who were born in the wilderness by the way as they came forth out of Matzarayam, they had not circumcised.⁶ For the children of Yasharaal walked forty years in the wilderness, until all the nation, even the men of war who came forth out of Matzarayam, were consumed, because they didn't listen to the voice of Yahawah: to whom Yahawah swore that he wouldn't let them see the land which Yahawah swore to their fathers that he would give us, a land flowing with milk and honey.⁷ Their children, whom he raised up in their place, them did Yahawashai circumcise: for they were uncircumcised, because they had not circumcised them by the way.⁸ It happened, when they had done circumcising all the nation, that they abode in their places in the camp, until they were whole.⁹ Yahawah said to Yahawashai, This day have I rolled away the reproach of Matzarayam from off you. Therefore the name of that place was called Galagal, to this day.¹⁰ The children of Yasharaal encamped in Galagal; and they kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the month at even in the plains of Yarayachaw.¹¹ They ate of the produce of the land on the next day after the Passover, unleavened cakes and parched grain, in the same day.¹² The manna ceased on the next day, after they had eaten of the produce of the land; neither had the children of Yasharaal manna any more; but they ate of the fruit of the land of Kanain that year.¹³ It happened, when Yahawashai was by Yarayachaw, that he lifted up his eyes and looked, and, behold, there stood a man over against him with his sword drawn in his hand: and Yahawashai went to him, and said to him, Are you for us, or for our adversaries?¹⁴ He said, No; but [as] prince of the host of Yahawah am I now come. Yahawashai fell on his face to the earth, and did worship, and said to him, What says my lord to his servant?¹⁵ The prince of Yahawah's host said to Yahawashai, Pawat off your shoe from off your foot; for the place whereon you stand is holy. Yahawashai did so.

6 Now Yarayachaw was tightly shut up because of the children of Yasharaal: none went out, and none came in. ² Yahawah said to Yahawashai, Behold, I have given into your hand Yarayachaw, and the king of it, and the mighty men of valor. ³ You shall compass the city, all the men of war, going about the city once. Thus shall you do six days. ⁴ Seven priests shall bear seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark: and the seventh day you shall compass the city seven times, and the priests shall blow the trumpets. ⁵ It shall be that when they make a long blast with the ram's horn, and when you hear the sound of the trumpet, all the people shall shout with a great shout; and the wall of the city shall fall down flat, and the people shall go up every man straight before him. ⁶ Yahawashai the son of Nawan called the priests, and said to them, Take up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests bear seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of Yahawah. ⁷ They said to the people, Pass on, and compass the city, and let the armed men pass on before the ark of Yahawah. ⁸ It was so, that when Yahawashai had spoken to the people, the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams' horns before Yahawah passed on, and blew the trumpets: and the ark of the covenant of Yahawah followed them. ⁹ The armed men went before the priests who blew the trumpets, and the rearward went after the ark, [the priests] blowing the trumpets as they went. ¹⁰ Yahawashai commanded the people, saying, You shall not shout, nor let your voice be heard, neither shall any word proceed out of your mouth, until the day I bid you shout; then shall you shout. ¹¹ So he caused the ark of Yahawah to compass the city, going about it once: and they came into the camp, and lodged in the camp. ¹² Yahawashai rose early in the morning, and the priests took up the ark of Yahawah. ¹³ The seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of Yahawah went on continually, and blew the trumpets: and the armed men went before them; and the rearward came after the ark of Yahawah, [the priests] blowing the trumpets as they went. ¹⁴ The second day they compassed the city once, and returned into the camp: so they did six days. ¹⁵ It happened on the seventh day, that they rose early at the dawning of the day, and compassed the city after the same manner seven times: only on the day they compassed the city seven times. ¹⁶ It happened at the seventh time, when the priests blew the trumpets, Yahawashai said to the people, Shout; for Yahawah has given you the city. ¹⁷ The city shall be devoted, even it and all that is therein, to Yahawah: only Rachab the prostitute shall live, she and all who are with her in the house, because she hid the messengers that we sent. ¹⁸ But as for you, only keep yourselves from the devoted thing, lest when you have devoted it, you take of the devoted thing; so would you make the camp of Yasharaal accursed, and trouble it. ¹⁹ But all the silver, and gold, and vessels of brass and iron, are holy to Yahawah: they shall come into the treasury of Yahawah. ²⁰ So the people shouted, and [the priests] blew the trumpets; and it happened, when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, that the people shouted with a great shout, and the wall fell down flat, so that the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they took the city. ²¹ They utterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, both young and old, and ox, and sheep, and donkey, with the edge of the sword. ²² Yahawashai said to the two men who had spied out the land, Go into the prostitute's house, and bring out there the woman, and all that she has, as you swore to her. ²³ The young men the spies went in, and brought out Rachab, and her father, and her mother, and her brothers, and all that she had; all her relatives also they brought out; and they set them outside of the camp of Yasharaal. ²⁴ They burnt the city with fire, and all that was therein; only the silver, and the gold, and the vessels of brass and of iron, they put into the treasury of the house of Yahawah. ²⁵ But Rachab the prostitute, and her father's household, and all that she had, did Yahawashai save alive; and she lived in the midst of Yasharaal to this day, because she hid the messengers, whom Yahawashai sent to spy out Yarayachaw. ²⁶ Yahawashai charged them with an oath at that time, saying, Cursed be the man before Yahawah, that rises up and builds this city Yarayachaw: with the loss of his firstborn shall he lay the foundation of it, and with the loss of his youngest son shall he set up the gates of it. ²⁷ So Yahawah was with Yahawashai; and his fame was in all the land.

7 But the children of Yasharaal committed a trespass in the devoted thing; for Ikan, the son of Karamay, the son of Zabaday, the son of Zarach, of the tribe of Yahawadah, took of the devoted thing; and the anger of Yahawah was kindled against the children of Yasharaal. ² Yahawashai sent men from Yarayachaw to Ai, which is beside Awan, on the east side of Bethel, and spoke to them, saying, Go up and spy out the land. The men went up and spied out Ai. ³ They returned to Yahawashai, and said to him, Don't let all the people go up; but let about two or three thousand men go up and strike Ai; don't make all the people to toil there; for they are but few. ⁴ So there went up there of the people about three thousand men: and they fled before the men of Ai. ⁵ The men of Ai struck of them about thirty-six men; and they chased them [from] before the gate even to Shabarayam, and struck them at the descent; and the hearts of the people melted, and became as water. ⁶ Yahawashai tore his clothes, and fell to the earth on his face before the ark of Yahawah until the evening, he and the elders of Yasharaal; and they put dust on their heads. ⁷ Yahawashai said, Alas, Adanay Yahawah, why have you at all brought this people over the Yarden, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, to cause us to perish? would that we had been content and lived beyond the Yarden! ⁸ Oh, Adanay, what shall I say, after that Yasharaal has turned their backs before their enemies! ⁹ For the Canaanites and all the inhabitants of the land will hear of it, and will compass us round, and cut off our name from the earth: and what will you do for your great name? ¹⁰ Yahawah said to Yahawashai, Get you up; why are you thus fallen on your face? ¹¹ Yasharaal has sinned; yes, they have even transgressed my covenant which I commanded them: yes, they have even taken of the devoted thing, and have also stolen, and dissembled also; and they have even put it among their own stuff. ¹² Therefore the children of Yasharaal can't stand before their enemies; they turn their backs before their enemies, because they are become accursed: I will not be with you any more, except you destroy the devoted thing from among you. ¹³ Up, sanctify the people, and say, Sanctify yourselves against tomorrow: for thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, There is a devoted thing in the midst of you, Yasharaal; you can not stand before your enemies, until you take away the devoted thing from among you. ¹⁴ In the morning therefore you shall be brought near by your tribes: and it shall be, that the tribe which Yahawah takes shall come near by families; and the family which Yahawah shall take shall come near by households; and the household which Yahawah shall take shall come near man by man. ¹⁵ It shall be, that he who is taken with the devoted thing shall be burnt with fire, he and all that he has; because he has transgressed the covenant of Yahawah, and because he has done folly in Yasharaal. ¹⁶ So Yahawashai rose up early in the morning, and brought Yasharaal near by their tribes; and the tribe of Yahawadah was taken: ¹⁷ and he brought near the family of Yahawadah; and he took the family of the Zerahites: and he brought near the family of the Zerahites man by man; and Zabaday was taken: ¹⁸ and he brought near his household man by man; and Ikan, the son of Karamay, the son of Zabaday, the son of Zarach, of the tribe of Yahawadah, was taken. ¹⁹ Yahawashai said to Ikan, My son, please give glory to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, and make confession to him; and tell me now what you have done; don't hide it from me. ²⁰ Ikan answered Yahawashai, and said, Of a truth I have sinned against Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, and thus and thus have I done: ²¹ when I saw among the spoil a goodly Babylonian mantle, and two hundred shekels of silver, and a wedge of gold of fifty shekels weight, then I coveted them, and took them; and, behold, they are hid in the earth in the midst of my tent, and the silver under it. ²² So Yahawashai sent messengers, and they ran to the tent; and, behold, it was hid in his tent, and the silver under it. ²³ They took them from the midst of the tent, and brought them to Yahawashai, and to all the children of Yasharaal; and they laid them down before Yahawah. ²⁴ Yahawashai, and all Yasharaal with him, took Ikan the son of Zarach, and the silver, and the mantle, and the wedge of gold, and his sons, and his daughters, and his oxen, and his donkeys, and his sheep, and his tent, and all that he had: and they brought them up to the valley of Ikawar.²⁵ Yahawashai said, Why have you troubled us? Yahawah shall trouble you this day. All Yasharaal stoned him with stones; and they burned them with fire, and stoned them with stones.²⁶ They raised over him a great heap of stones, to this day; and Yahawah turned from the fierceness of his anger. Therefore the name of that place was called "The valley of Ikawar" to this day.

8 Yahawah said to Yahawashai, Don't be afraid, neither be you dismayed: take all the people of war with you, and arise, go up to Ai; behold, I have given into your hand the king of Ai, and his people, and his city, and his land;² You shall do to Ai and her king as you did to Yarayachaw and her king: only the spoil of it, and the cattle of it, shall you take for a prey to yourselves: set you an ambush for the city behind it.³ So Yahawashai arose, and all the people of war, to go up to Ai: and Yahawashai chose out thirty thousand men, the mighty men of valor, and sent them forth by night.⁴ He commanded them, saying, Behold, you shall lie in ambush against the city, behind the city; don't go very far from the city, but be you all ready:⁵ and I, and all the people who are with me, will approach to the city. It shall happen, when they come out against us, as at the first, that we will flee before them;⁶ and they will come out after us, until we have drawn them away from the city; for they will say, They flee before us, as at the first: so we will flee before them;⁷ and you shall rise up from the ambush, and take possession of the city: for Yahawah your Alahayam will deliver it into your hand.⁸ It shall be, when you have seized on the city, that you shall set the city on fire; according to the word of Yahawah shall you do: behold, I have commanded you.⁹ Yahawashai sent them forth; and they went to set up the ambush, and stayed between Bethel and Ai, on the west side of Ai: but Yahawashai lodged that night among the people.¹⁰ Yahawashai arose up early in the morning, and mustered the people, and went up, he and the elders of Yasharaal, before the people to Ai.¹¹ All the people, [even] the [men of] war who were with him, went up, and drew near, and came before the city, and encamped on the north side of Ai: now there was a valley between him and Ai.¹² He took about five thousand men, and set them in ambush between Bethel and Ai, on the west side of the city.¹³ So they set the people, even all the host who was on the north of the city, and their liers-in-wait who were on the west of the city; and Yahawashai went that night into the midst of the valley.¹⁴ It happened, when the king of Ai saw it, that they hurried and rose up early, and the men of the city went out against Yasharaal to battle, he and all his people, at the time appointed, before the Irabah; but he didn't know that there was an ambush against him behind the city.¹⁵ Yahawashai and all Yasharaal made as if they were beaten before them, and fled by the way of the wilderness.¹⁶ All the people who were in the city were called together to pursue after them: and they pursued after Yahawashai, and were drawn away from the city.¹⁷ There was not a man left in Ai or Al, who didn't go out after Yasharaal: and they left the city open, and pursued after Yasharaal.¹⁸ Yahawah said to Yahawashai, Stretch out the javelin that is in your hand toward Ai; for I will give it into your hand. Yahawashai stretched out the javelin that was in his hand toward the city.¹⁹ The ambush arose quickly out of their place, and they ran as soon as he had stretched out his hand, and entered into the city, and took it; and they hurried and set the city on fire.²⁰ When the men of Ai looked behind them, they saw, and, behold, the smoke of the city ascended up to heaven, and they had no power to flee this way or that way: and the people who fled to the wilderness turned back on the pursuers.²¹ When Yahawashai and all Yasharaal saw that the ambush had taken the city, and that the smoke of the city ascended, then they turned again, and killed the men of Ai.²² The others came forth out of the city against them; so they were in the midst of Yasharaal, some on this side, and some on that side: and they struck them, so that they let none of them remain or escape.²³ The king of Ai they took alive, and brought him to Yahawashai.²⁴ It happened, when Yasharaal had made an end of killing all the inhabitants of Ai in the field, in the wilderness in which they pursued them, and they were all fallen by the edge of the sword, until they were consumed, that all Yasharaal returned to Ai, and struck it with the edge of the sword.²⁵ All that fell that day, both of men and women, were twelve thousand, even all the men of Ai.²⁶ For Yahawashai didn't draw back his hand, with which he stretched out the javelin, until he had utterly destroyed all the inhabitants of Ai.²⁷ Only the cattle and the spoil of that city Yasharaal took for prey to themselves, according to the word of Yahawah which he commanded Yahawashai.²⁸ So Yahawashai burnt Ai, and made it a heap forever, even a desolation, to this day.²⁹ The king of Ai he hanged on a tree until the evening: and at the going down of the sun Yahawashai commanded, and they took his body down from the tree, and cast it at the entrance of the gate of the city, and raised thereon a great heap of stones, to this day.³⁰ Then Yahawashai built an altar to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, in Mount Iyabal,³¹ as Mashah the servant of Yahawah commanded the children of Yasharaal, as it is written in the book of the law of Mashah, an altar of uncut stones, on which no man had lifted up any iron: and they offered thereon burnt offerings to Yahawah, and sacrificed peace-offerings.³² He wrote there on the stones a copy of the law of Mashah, which he wrote, in the presence of the children of Yasharaal.³³ All Yasharaal, and their elders and officers, and their judges, stood on this side of the ark and on that side before the priests the Levites, who bore the ark of the covenant of Yahawah, as well the sojourner as the native; half of them in front of Mount Garazayam, and half of them in front of Mount Iyabal; as Mashah the servant of Yahawah had commanded at the first, that they should bless the people of Yasharaal.³⁴ Afterward he read all the words of the law, the blessing and the curse, according to all that is written in the book of the law.³⁵ There was not a word of all that Mashah commanded, which Yahawashai didn't read before all the assembly of Yasharaal, and the women, and the little ones, and the sojourners who were among them.

9 It happened, when all the kings who were beyond the Yaradan, in the hill-country, and in the lowland, and on all the shore of the great sea in front of Labanawan, the Hittite, and the Amorite, the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Hivite, and the Jebusite, heard of it;² that they gathered themselves together, to fight with Yahawashai and with Yasharaal, with one accord.³ But when the inhabitants of Gabaiwan heard what Yahawashai had done to Yarayachaw and to Ai,⁴ they also resorted to a ruse, and went and made as if they had been ambassadors, and took old sacks on their donkeys, and wine-skins, old and torn and bound up,⁵ and old and patched shoes on their feet, and old garments on them; and all the bread of their provision was dry and was become moldy.⁶ They went to Yahawashai to the camp at Galagal, and said to him, and to the men of Yasharaal, We are come from a far country: now therefore make you a covenant with us.⁷ The men of Yasharaal said to the Hivites, What if you dwell among us; and how shall we make a covenant with you?⁸ They said to Yahawashai, We are your servants. Yahawashai said to them, Who are you? and from whence come you?⁹ They said to him, From a very far country your servants are come because of the name of Yahawah your Alahayam: for we have heard the fame of him, and all that he did in Matzarayam,¹⁰ and all that he did to the two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond the Yaradan, to Sayachawan king of Chashabawan, and to Og king of Bashan, who was at Ishatharawath.¹¹ Our elders and all the inhabitants of our country spoke to us, saying, Take provision in your hand for the journey, and go to meet them, and tell them, We are your servants: and now make you a covenant with us.¹² This our bread we took hot for our provision out of our houses on the day we came forth to go to you; but now, behold, it is dry, and is become moldy:¹³ and these wine-skins, which we filled, were new; and, behold, they are torn: and these our garments and our shoes are become old by reason of the very long journey.¹⁴ The men took of their provision, and didn't ask counsel at the mouth of Yahawah.

¹⁵ Yahawashai made peace with them, and made a covenant with them, to let them live: and the princes of the congregation swore to them. ¹⁶ It happened at the end of three days after they had made a covenant with them, that they heard that they were their neighbors, and that they lived among them. ¹⁷ The children of Yasharaal journeyed, and came to their cities on the third day. Now their cities were Gabaiwan, and Kapayarah, and Baarawath, and Kiriath-Yairayam. ¹⁸ The children of Yasharaal didn't strike them, because the princes of the congregation had sworn to them by Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal. All the congregation murmured against the princes. ¹⁹ But all the princes said to all the congregation, We have sworn to them by Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal: now therefore we may not touch them. ²⁰ This we will do to them, and let them live; lest wrath be on us, because of the oath which we swore to them. ²¹ The princes said to them, Let them live: so they became wood cutters and drawers of water to all the congregation, as the princes had spoken to them. ²² Yahawashai called for them, and he spoke to them, saying, Why have you deceived us, saying, We are very far from you; when you dwell among us? ²³ Now therefore you are cursed, and there shall never fail to be of you bondservants, both wood cutters and drawers of water for the house of my Alahayam. ²⁴ They answered Yahawashai, and said, Because it was certainly told your servants, how that Yahawah your Alahayam commanded his servant Mashah to give you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land from before you; therefore we were sore afraid for our lives because of you, and have done this thing. ²⁵ Now, behold, we are in your hand: as it seems good and right to you to do to us, do. ²⁶ So did he to them, and delivered them out of the hand of the children of Yasharaal, that they didn't kill them. ²⁷ That day Yahawashai made those wood cutters and drawers of water for the congregation, and for the altar of Yahawah, to this day, in the place which he should choose.

10 Now it happened, when Adoni-zedek king of Yarawashalam heard how Yahawashai had taken Ai, and had utterly destroyed it; as he had done to Yarayachaw and her king, so he had done to Ai and her king; and how the inhabitants of Gabaiwan had made peace with Yasharaal, and were among them; ² that they feared greatly, because Gabaiwan was a great city, as one of the royal cities, and because it was greater than Ai, and all the men of it were mighty. ³ Therefore Adoni-zedek king of Yarawashalam sent to Hawaham king of Chabarawan, and to Paraam king of Yaramawath, and to Yapayai king of Lakayash, and to Dabar king of Igalawan, saying, ⁴ Come up to me, and help me, and let us strike Gabaiwan; for it has made peace with Yahawashai and with the children of Yasharaal. ⁵ Therefore the five kings of the Amorites, the king of Yarawashalam, the king of Chabarawan, the king of Yaramawath, the king of Lakayash, the king of Igalawan, gathered themselves together, and went up, they and all their hosts, and encamped against Gabaiwan, and made war against it. ⁶ The men of Gabaiwan sent to Yahawashai to the camp to Galagal, saying, Don't slack your hand from your servants; come up to us quickly, and save us, and help us: for all the kings of the Amorites that dwell in the hill-country are gathered together against us. ⁷ So Yahawashai went up from Galagal, he, and all the people of war with him, and all the mighty men of valor. ⁸ Yahawah said to Yahawashai, Don't fear them: for I have delivered them into your hands; there shall not a man of them stand before you. ⁹ Yahawashai therefore came on them suddenly; [for] he went up from Galagal all the night. ¹⁰ Yahawah confused them before Yasharaal, and he killed them with a great slaughter at Gabaiwan, and chased them by the way of the ascent of Bayath, and struck them to Izaqah, and to Maqadah. ¹¹ It happened, as they fled from before Yasharaal, while they were at the descent of Bayath, that Yahawah cast down great stones from the sky on them to Izaqah, and they died: they were more who died with the hailstones than they whom the children of Yasharaal killed with the sword. ¹² Then spoke Yahawashai to Yahawah in the day when Yahawah delivered up the Amorites before the children of Yasharaal; and he said in the sight of Yasharaal, Sun, stand you still on Gabaiwan; You, Moon, in the valley of Ayalawan. ¹³ The sun stood still, and the moon stayed, Until the nation had avenged themselves of their enemies. Isn't this written in the book of Jashar? The sun stayed in the midst of the sky, and didn't hurry to go down about a whole day. ¹⁴ There was no day like that before it or after it, that Yahawah listened to the voice of a man: for Yahawah fought for Yasharaal. ¹⁵ Yahawashai returned, and all Yasharaal with him, to the camp to Galagal. ¹⁶ These five kings fled, and hid themselves in the cave at Maqadah. ¹⁷ It was told Yahawashai, saying, The five kings are found, hidden in the cave at Maqadah. ¹⁸ Yahawashai said, Roll great stones to the mouth of the cave, and set men by it to keep them: ¹⁹ but don't stay; pursue after your enemies, and strike the hindmost of them; don't allow them to enter into their cities: for Yahawah your Alahayam has delivered them into your hand. ²⁰ It happened, when Yahawashai and the children of Yasharaal had made an end of killing them with a very great slaughter, until they were consumed, and the remnant which remained of them had entered into the fortified cities, ²¹ that all the people returned to the camp to Yahawashai at Maqadah in peace; none moved his tongue against any of the children of Yasharaal. ²² Then said Yahawashai, Open the mouth of the cave, and bring forth those five kings to me out of the cave. ²³ They did so, and brought forth those five kings to him out of the cave, the king of Yarawashalam, the king of Chabarawan, the king of Yaramawath, the king of Lakayash, the king of Igalawan. ²⁴ It happened, when they brought forth those kings to Yahawashai, that Yahawashai called for all the men of Yasharaal, and said to the chiefs of the men of war who went with him, Come near, put your feet on the necks of these kings. They came near, and put their feet on the necks of them. ²⁵ Yahawashai said to them, Don't be afraid, nor be dismayed; be strong and of good courage: for thus shall Yahawah do to all your enemies against whom you fight. ²⁶ Afterward Yahawashai struck them, and put them to death, and hanged them on five trees: and they were hanging on the trees until the evening. ²⁷ It happened at the time of the going down of the sun, that Yahawashai commanded, and they took them down off the trees, and cast them into the cave in which they had hidden themselves, and laid great stones on the mouth of the cave, to this very day. ²⁸ Yahawashai took Maqadah on that day, and struck it with the edge of the sword, and the king of it: he utterly destroyed them and all the souls who were therein; he left none remaining; and he did to the king of Maqadah as he had done to the king of Yarayachaw. ²⁹ Yahawashai passed from Maqadah, and all Yasharaal with him, to Labanah, and fought against Labanah: ³⁰ and Yahawah delivered it also, and the king of it, into the hand of Yasharaal; and he struck it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls who were therein; he left none remaining in it; and he did to the king of it as he had done to the king of Yarayachaw. ³¹ Yahawashai passed from Labanah, and all Yasharaal with him, to Lakayash, and encamped against it, and fought against it: ³² and Yahawah delivered Lakayash into the hand of Yasharaal; and he took it on the second day, and struck it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls who were therein, according to all that he had done to Labanah. ³³ Then Haram king of Gazar came up to help Lakayash; and Yahawashai struck him and his people, until he had left him none remaining. ³⁴ Yahawashai passed from Lakayash, and all Yasharaal with him, to Igalawan; and they encamped against it, and fought against it; ³⁵ and they took it on that day, and struck it with the edge of the sword; and all the souls who were therein he utterly destroyed that day, according to all that he had done to Lakayash. ³⁶ Yahawashai went up from Igalawan, and all Yasharaal with him, to Chabarawan; and they fought against it: ³⁷ and they took it, and struck it with the edge of the sword, and the king of it, and all the cities of it, and all the souls who were therein; he left none remaining, according to all that he had done to Igalawan; but he utterly destroyed it, and all the souls who were therein. ³⁸ Yahawashai returned, and all Yasharaal with him, to Dabar, and fought against it: ³⁹ and he took it, and the king of it, and all the cities of it; and they struck them with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed all the souls who were therein; he left none remaining: as he had done to Chabarawan, so he did to Dabar, and to the king of it; as he had done also to Labanah, and to the king of it.⁴⁰ So Yahawashai struck all the land, the hill-country, and the South, and the lowland, and the slopes, and all their kings: he left none remaining, but he utterly destroyed all that breathed, as Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, commanded.⁴¹ Yahawashai struck them from Qadash-Baranai even to Izah, and all the country of Gashan, even to Gabaiwan.⁴² All these kings and their land did Yahawashai take at one time, because Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, fought for Yasharaal.⁴³ Yahawashai returned, and all Yasharaal with him, to the camp to Galagal.

11 It happened, when Yabayan king of Chatzawar heard of it, that he sent to Yawabab king of Madawan, and to the king of Shamarawan, and to the king of Akashap,² and to the kings who were on the north, in the hill-country, and in the Irabah south of Kanarath, and in the lowland, and in the heights of Dawar on the west,³ to the Canaanite on the east and on the west, and the Amorite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, and the Jebusite in the hill-country, and the Hivite under Charamawan in the land of Mizpah.⁴ They went out, they and all their hosts with them, much people, even as the sand that is on the sea-shore in multitude, with horses and chariots very many.⁵ All these kings met together; and they came and encamped together at the waters of Marawam, to fight with Yasharaal.⁶ Yahawah said to Yahawashai, Don't be afraid because of them; for tomorrow at this time will I deliver them up all slain before Yasharaal: you shall hamstring their horses, and burn their chariots with fire.⁷ So Yahawashai came, and all the people of war with him, against them by the waters of Marawam suddenly, and fell on them.⁸ Yahawah delivered them into the hand of Yasharaal, and they struck them, and chased them to great Tzayadawan, and to Masharapawath-maim, and to the valley of Matzapah eastward; and they struck them, until they left them none remaining.⁹ Yahawashai did to them as Yahawah bade him: he hamstrung their horses, and burnt their chariots with fire.¹⁰ Yahawashai turned back at that time, and took Chatzawar, and struck the king of it with the sword: for Chatzawar before was the head of all those kingdoms.¹¹ They struck all the souls who were therein with the edge of the sword, utterly destroying them; there was none left who breathed: and he burnt Chatzawar with fire.¹² All the cities of those kings, and all the kings of them, did Yahawashai take, and he struck them with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed them; as Mashah the servant of Yahawah commanded.¹³ But as for the cities that stood on their mounds, Yasharaal burned none of them, save Chatzawar only; that did Yahawashai burn.¹⁴ All the spoil of these cities, and the cattle, the children of Yasharaal took for a prey to themselves; but every man they struck with the edge of the sword, until they had destroyed them, neither left they any who breathed.¹⁵ As Yahawah commanded Mashah his servant, so did Mashah command Yahawashai: and so did Yahawashai; he left nothing undone of all that Yahawah commanded Mashah.¹⁶ So Yahawashai took all that land, the hill-country, and all the South, and all the land of Gashan, and the lowland, and the Irabah, and the hill-country of Yasharaal, and the lowland of the same;¹⁷ from Mount Chalaq, that goes up to Shaiyar, even to Bail in the valley of Labanawan under Mount Charamawan: and all their kings he took, and struck them, and put them to death.¹⁸ Yahawashai made war a long time with all those kings.¹⁹ There was not a city that made peace with the children of Yasharaal, save the Hivites the inhabitants of Gabaiwan: they took all in battle.²⁰ For it was of Yahawah to harden their hearts, to come against Yasharaal in battle, that he might utterly destroy them, that they might have no favor, but that he might destroy them, as Yahawah commanded Mashah.²¹ Yahawashai came at that time, and cut off the Anakim from the hill-country, from Chabarawan, from Dabar, from Inab, and from all the hill-country of Yahawadah, and from all the hill-country of Yasharaal: Yahawashai utterly destroyed them with their cities.²² There was none of the Anakim left in the land of the children of Yasharaal: only in Izah, in Gath, and in Ashadawad, did some remain.²³ So Yahawashai took the whole land, according to all that Yahawah spoke to Mashah; and Yahawashai gave it for an inheritance to Yasharaal according to their divisions by their tribes. The land had rest from war.

12 Now these are the kings of the land, whom the children of Yasharaal struck, and possessed their land beyond the Yaradan toward the sunrise, from the valley of the Aranawan to Mount Charamawan, and all the Irabah eastward:² Sayachawan king of the Amorites, who lived in Chashabawan, and ruled from Irair, which is on the edge of the valley of the Aranawan, and [the city that is in] the middle of the valley, and half Galaid, even to the river Yabaq, the border of the children of Imawan;³ and the Irabah to the sea of Kanarath, eastward, and to the sea of the Irabah, even the Salt Sea, eastward, the way to Bayath; and on the south, under the slopes of Pasagah:⁴ and the border of Og king of Bashan, of the remnant of the Rephaim, who lived at Ishatharawath and at Adaraïy,⁵ and ruled in Mount Charamawan, and in Salecah, and in all Bashan, to the border of the Geshurites and the Maacathites, and half Galaid, the border of Sayachawan king of Chashabawan.⁶ Mashah the servant of Yahawah and the children of Yasharaal struck them: and Mashah the servant of Yahawah gave it for a possession to the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manashah.⁷ These are the kings of the land whom Yahawashai and the children of Yasharaal struck beyond the Yaradan westward, from Bail in the valley of Labanawan even to Mount Chalaq, that goes up to Shaiyar; and Yahawashai gave it to the tribes of Yasharaal for a possession according to their divisions;⁸ in the hill-country, and in the lowland, and in the Irabah, and in the slopes, and in the wilderness, and in the South; the Hittite, the Amorite, and the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Hivite, and the Jebusite:⁹ the king of Yarayachaw, one; the king of Ai, which is beside Bethel, one;¹⁰ the king of Yarawashalam, one; the king of Chabarawan, one;¹¹ the king of Yaramawath, one; the king of Lakayash, one;¹² the king of Igalawan, one; the king of Gazar, one;¹³ the king of Dabar, one; the king of Gadar, one;¹⁴ the king of Charamah, one; the king of Irad, one;¹⁵ the king of Labanah, one; the king of Idalam, one;¹⁶ the king of Maqadah, one; the king of Bethel, one;¹⁷ the king of Thapawach, one; the king of Chapar, one;¹⁸ the king of Apa, one; the king of Lashsharon, one;¹⁹ the king of Madawan, one; the king of Chatzawar, one;²⁰ the king of Shamarawan-Maraawan, one; the king of Akashap, one;²¹ the king of Thainak, one; the king of Magadaw, one;²² the king of Qadash, one; the king of Yaqanaim in Karamal, one;²³ the king of Dawar in the height of Dawar, one; the king of Goim in Galagal, one;²⁴ the king of Thartzah, one: all the kings thirty-one.

13 Now Yahawashai was old and well stricken in years; and Yahawah said to him, You are old and well stricken in years, and there remains yet very much land to be possessed.² This is the land that yet remains: all the regions of the Palashath, and all the Geshurites;³ from the Shayachawar, which is before Matzarayam, even to the border of Iqarawan northward, [which] is reckoned to the Canaanites; the five lords of the Palashath; the Gazites, and the Ashdodites, the Ashkelonites, the Gittites, and the Ekronites; also the Iwayam,⁴ on the south; all the land of the Canaanites, and Mairah that belongs to the Sidonians, to Apa, to the border of the Amorites;⁵ and the land of the Gebalites, and all Labanawan, toward the sunrise, from Bail under Mount Charamawan to the entrance of Chamath;⁶ all the inhabitants of the hill-country from Labanawan to Masharapawath-maim, even all the Sidonians; them will I drive out from before the children of Yasharaal: only allot you it to Yasharaal for an inheritance, as I have commanded you.⁷

Now therefore divide this land for an inheritance to the nine tribes, and the half-tribe of Manashah.⁸ With him the Reubenites and the Gadites received their inheritance, which Mashah gave them, beyond the Yaradan eastward, even as Mashah the servant of Yahawah gave them:⁹ from Irair, that is on the edge of the valley of the Aranawan, and the city that is in the middle of the valley, and all the plain of Mayadabaa to Dayaban;¹⁰ and all the cities of Sayachawan king of the Amorites, who reigned in Chashabawan, to the border of the children of Imawan;¹¹ and Galaid, and the border of the Geshurites and Maacathites, and all Mount Charamawan, and all Bashan to Salecah;¹² all the kingdom of Og in Bashan, who reigned in Ishatharawath and in Adaraiy (the same was left of the remnant of the Rephaim); for these did Mashah strike, and drove them out.¹³ Nevertheless the children of Yasharaal didn't drive out the Geshurites, nor the Maacathites: but Gashawar and Maacath dwell in the midst of Yasharaal to this day.¹⁴ Only to the tribe of Laway he gave no inheritance; the offerings of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, made by fire are his inheritance, as he spoke to him.¹⁵ Mashah gave to the tribe of the children of Raawaban according to their families.¹⁶ Their border was from Irair, that is on the edge of the valley of the Aranawan, and the city that is in the middle of the valley, and all the plain by Mayadabaa;¹⁷ Chashabawan, and all its cities that are in the plain; Dayaban, and Bamawath, and Bayath,¹⁸ and Yahatz, and Qadamawath, and Mayapaith,¹⁹ and Qarayathayam, and Shabamah, and Tzarath-shahar in the mount of the valley,²⁰ and Bayath-Paiwar, and the slopes of Pasagah, and Bayath,²¹ and all the cities of the plain, and all the kingdom of Sayachawan king of the Amorites, who reigned in Chashabawan, whom Mashah struck with the chiefs of Madayan, Away, and Raqam, and Tzawar, and Chawar, and Rabai, the princes of Sayachawan, who lived in the land.²² Balaïm also the son of Baiwar, the soothsayer, did the children of Yasharaal kill with the sword among the rest of their slain.²³ The border of the children of Raawaban was the Yaradan, and the border [of it]. This was the inheritance of the children of Raawaban according to their families, the cities and the villages of it.²⁴ Mashah gave to the tribe of Gad, to the children of Gad, according to their families.²⁵ Their border was Yaizar, and all the cities of Galaïd, and half the land of the children of Imawan, to Irair that is before Rabah;²⁶ and from Chashabawan to Matzapah, and Batanayam; and from Machanayam to the border of Dabar;²⁷ and in the valley, Bayath-haram, and Bayath, and Sakawath, and Tzapawan, the rest of the kingdom of Sayachawan king of Chashabawan, the Yaradan and the border [of it], to the uttermost part of the sea of Kanarath beyond the Yaradan eastward.²⁸ This is the inheritance of the children of Gad according to their families, the cities and the villages of it.²⁹ Mashah gave [inheritance] to the half-tribe of Manashah: and it was for the half-tribe of the children of Manashah according to their families.³⁰ Their border was from Machanayam, all Bashan, all the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, and all the towns of Yaayar, which are in Bashan, sixty cities;³¹ and half Galaïd, and Ishatharawath, and Adaraiy, the cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan, were for the children of Makayar the son of Manashah, even for the half of the children of Makayar according to their families.³² These are the inheritances which Mashah distributed in the plains of Mawaab, beyond the Yaradan at Yarayachaw, eastward.³³ But to the tribe of Laway Mashah gave no inheritance: Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, is their inheritance, as he spoke to them.

14 These are the inheritances which the children of Yasharaal took in the land of Kanain, which Alaizar the priest, and Yahawashai the son of Nawan, and the heads of the fathers' [houses] of the tribes of the children of Yasharaal, distributed to them,² by the lot of their inheritance, as Yahawah commanded by Mashah, for the nine tribes, and for the half-tribe.³ For Mashah had given the inheritance of the two tribes and the half-tribe beyond the Yaradan: but to the Levites he gave no inheritance among them.⁴ For the children of Yawasap were two tribes, Manashah and Aparayam: and they gave no portion to the Levites in the land, save cities to dwell in, with the suburbs of it for their cattle and for their substance.⁵ As Yahawah commanded Mashah, so the children of Yasharaal did; and they divided the land.⁶ Then the children of Yahawadah drew near to Yahawashai in Galagal: and Kalab the son of Yapanah the Kenizzite said to him, You know the thing that Yahawah spoke to Mashah the man of Alahayam concerning me and concerning you in Qadash-Baranai.⁷ Forty years old was I when Mashah the servant of Yahawah sent me from Qadash-Baranai to spy out the land; and I brought him word again as it was in my heart.⁸ Nevertheless my brothers who went up with me made the heart of the people melt; but I wholly followed Yahawah my Alahayam.⁹ Mashah swore on that day, saying, Surely the land whereon your foot has trodden shall be an inheritance to you and to your children forever, because you have wholly followed Yahawah my Alahayam.¹⁰ Now, behold, Yahawah has kept me alive, as he spoke, these forty-five years, from the time that Yahawah spoke this word to Mashah, while Yasharaal walked in the wilderness: and now, behold, I am this day eighty-five years old.¹¹ As yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Mashah sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now, for war, and to go out and to come in.¹² Now therefore give me this hill-country, whereof Yahawah spoke in that day; for you heard in that day how the Anakim were there, and cities great and fortified: it may be that Yahawah will be with me, and I shall drive them out, as Yahawah spoke.¹³ Yahawashai blessed him; and he gave Chabarawan to Kalab the son of Yapanah for an inheritance.¹⁴ Therefore Chabarawan became the inheritance of Kalab the son of Yapanah the Kenizzite to this day; because that he wholly followed Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.¹⁵ Now the name of Chabarawan before was Kiriath-Arabai; [which Arabai was] the greatest man among the Anakim. The land had rest from war.

15 The lot for the tribe of the children of Yahawadah according to their families was to the border of Adawam, even to the wilderness of Tzan southward, at the uttermost part of the south.² Their south border was from the uttermost part of the Salt Sea, from the bay that looks southward;³ and it went out southward of the ascent of Akrabbim, and passed along to Tzan, and went up by the south of Qadash-Baranai, and passed along by Chatzarawan, and went up to Adar, and turned about to Karka;⁴ and it passed along to Itzamawan, and went out at the brook of Matzarayam; and the goings out of the border were at the sea: this shall be your south border.⁵ The east border was the Salt Sea, even to the end of the Yaradan. The border of the north quarter was from the bay of the sea at the end of the Yaradan;⁶ and the border went up to Bayath, and passed along by the north of Bayath; and the border went up to the stone of Bahan the son of Raawaban;⁷ and the border went up to Dabar from the valley of Ikawar, and so northward, looking toward Galagal, that is over against the ascent of Adamayam, which is on the south side of the river; and the border passed along to the waters of Iyan-Shamash, and the goings out of it were at Iyan;⁸ and the border went up by the valley of the son of Hanam to the side of the Jebusite southward (the same is Yarawashalam); and the border went up to the top of the mountain that lies before the valley of Hanam westward, which is at the uttermost part of the vale of Rephaim northward;⁹ and the border extended from the top of the mountain to the spring of the waters of Nephtoah, and went out to the cities of Mount Iparawan; and the border extended to Bailah (the same is Kiriath-Yairayam);¹⁰ and the border turned about from Bailah westward to Mount Shaiyar, and passed along to the side of Mount Yairayam on the north (the same is Kasalawan), and went down to Bayath, and passed along by Thamanath;¹¹ and the border went out to the side of Iqarawan northward; and the border extended to Shakarawan, and passed along to Mount Bailah, and went out at Yabanaal; and the goings out of the border were at the sea.¹² The west border was to the great sea, and the border [of it]. This is the border of the children of Yahawadah round about according to their families.¹³ To Kalab the son of Yapanah he gave a portion among the children of Yahawadah, according to the commandment of Yahawah to Yahawashai, even Kiriath-Arabai, [which Arabai was] the father of Inaq (the same is Chabarawan).¹⁴ Kalab drove out there the three sons of Inaq: Shashay, and Achayaman, and Thalamay, the children of Inaq.¹⁵ He went up there against the inhabitants of Dabar: now the name of Dabar before was Kiriath-sepher.¹⁶ Kalab said, He who strikes Kiriath-sepher, and takes it, to him will I give Ikasah my daughter as wife.¹⁷ Ithanayaal the son of Qanaz, the brother of Kalab, took it: and he gave him Ikasah his daughter as wife.¹⁸ It happened, when she came [to him], that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and she alighted from off her donkey; and Kalab said, What would you? ¹⁹ She said, Give me a blessing; for that you have set me in the land of the South, give me also springs of water. He gave her the upper springs and the nether springs. ²⁰ This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Yahawadah according to their families. ²¹ The uttermost cities of the tribe of the children of Yahawadah toward the border of Adawam in the South were Qabatzal, and Idar, and Yagawar, ²² and Qayanah, and Dayamawanah, and Idaidah, ²³ and Qadash, and Chatzawar, and Yathanan, ²⁴ Zayap, and Talam, and Bailawath, ²⁵ and Chatzawar-hadattah, and Qarayawath-Chatzarawan (the same is Chatzawar), ²⁶ Amam, and Shamai, and Mawaladah, ²⁷ and Gadah, and Chashamawan, and Bayath-Palat, ²⁸ and Chatzar, and Beersheba, and Biziothiah, ²⁹ Bailah, and Iyayam, and Itzam, ³⁰ and Alathawalad, and Kasayal, and Charamah, ³¹ and Tzaqalag, and Madamanah, and Sanasanah, ³² and Labaawath, and Shalachayam, and Iyan, and Ramawan: all the cities are twenty-nine, with their villages. ³³ In the lowland, Ashathaah, and Tzaraih, and Ashanah, ³⁴ and Zanawach, and Ganayam, Thapawach, and Enam, ³⁵ Yaramawath, and Idalam, Shawakah, and Izaqah, ³⁶ and Shairayam, and Idayathayam, and Gadarah, and Gadarathayam; fourteen cities with their villages. ³⁷ Tzanan, and Chadashah, and Gad, ³⁸ and Dalain, and Matzapah, and Yaqathaah, ³⁹ Lakayash, and Bozkath, and Igalawan, ⁴⁰ and Kabawan, and Lachamas, and Chitlish, ⁴¹ and Gadarawath, Bayath, and Naimah, and Maqadah; sixteen cities with their villages. ⁴² Labanah, and Ithar, and Ishan, ⁴³ and Iphtah, and Ashanah, and Natzayab, ⁴⁴ and Qaiyalah, and Akazayab, and Marashah; nine cities with their villages. ⁴⁵ Iqarawan, with its towns and its villages; ⁴⁶ from Iqarawan even to the sea, all that were by the side of Ashadawad, with their villages. ⁴⁷ Ashadawad, its towns and its villages; Izah, its towns and its villages; to the brook of Matzarayam, and the great sea, and the border [of it]. ⁴⁸ In the hill-country, Shamayar, and Yathar, and Shawakah, ⁴⁹ and Danah, and Kiriath-sannah (the same is Dabar), ⁵⁰ and Inab, and Ashathamai, and Inayam, ⁵¹ and Gashan, and Chalan, and Galah; eleven cities with their villages. ⁵² Arab, and Dawamah, and Ashain, ⁵³ and Janim, and Bayath, and Apaqa, ⁵⁴ and Chamatah, and Kiriath-Arabai (the same is Chabarawan), and Tzayair; nine cities with their villages. ⁵⁵ Maiwan, Karamal, and Zayap, and Jutah, ⁵⁶ and Yazaraiah, and Yaqadaim, and Zanawach, ⁵⁷ Kain, Gabaih, and Thamanath; ten cities with their villages. ⁵⁸ Chalachawal, Bayath, and Gadawar, ⁵⁹ and Mairath, and Bayath, and Alathaqa; six cities with their villages. ⁶⁰ Kiriath-Bail (the same is Kiriath-Yairayam), and Rabah; two cities with their villages. ⁶¹ In the wilderness, Bayath, Madayan, and Sakakah, ⁶² and Nabashan, and the City of Salt, and Gaday; six cities with their villages. ⁶³ As for the Jebusites, the inhabitants of Yarawashalam, the children of Yahawadah couldn't drive them out: but the Jebusites dwell with the children of Yahawadah at Yarawashalam to this day.

16 The lot came out for the children of Yawasap from the Yaradan at Yarayachaw, at the waters of Yarayachaw on the east, even the wilderness, going up from Yarayachaw through the hill-country to Bethel; ² and it went out from Bethel to Lawaz, and passed along to the border of the Archites to Itarawath; ³ and it went down westward to the border of the Japhletites, to the border of Bayath the nether, even to Gazar; and the goings out of it were at the sea. ⁴ The children of Yawasap, Manashah and Aparayam, took their inheritance. ⁵ The border of the children of Aparayam according to their families was [thus]: the border of their inheritance eastward was Itarawath-Adar, to Bayath the upper; ⁶ and the border went out westward at Makamathath on the north; and the border turned about eastward to Shalah, and passed along it on the east of Yanawach; ⁷ and it went down from Yanawach to Itarawath, and to Nairah, and reached to Yarayachaw, and went out at the Yaradan. ⁸ From Thapawach the border went along westward to the brook of Qanah; and the goings out of it were at the sea. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Aparayam according to their families; ⁹ together with the cities which were set apart for the children of Aparayam in the midst of the inheritance of the children of Manashah, all the cities with their villages. ¹⁰ They didn't drive out the Canaanites who lived in Gazar: but the Canaanites dwell in the midst of Aparayam to this day, and are become servants to do forced labor.

17 [This] was the lot for the tribe of Manashah; for he was the firstborn of Yawasap. As for Makayar the firstborn of Manashah, the father of Galaïd, because he was a man of war, therefore he had Galaïd and Bashan. ² So [the lot] was for the rest of the children of Manashah according to their families: for the children of Abayaizar, and for the children of Chalaq, and for the children of Asharayal, and for the children of Shakam, and for the children of Chapar, and for the children of Shamayadai: these were the male children of Manashah the son of Yawasap according to their families. ³ But Tzalapachad, the son of Chapar, the son of Galaïd, the son of Makayar, the son of Manashah, had no sons, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters: Machalah, and Nach, Chagalah, Malakah, and Tharatzah. ⁴ They came near before Alaizar the priest, and before Yahawashai the son of Nawar, and before the princes, saying, Yahawah commanded Mashah to give us an inheritance among our brothers: therefore according to the commandment of Yahawah he gave them an inheritance among the brothers of their father. ⁵ There fell ten parts to Manashah, besides the land of Galaïd and Bashan, which is beyond the Yaradan; ⁶ because the daughters of Manashah had an inheritance among his sons. The land of Galaïd belonged to the rest of the sons of Manashah. ⁷ The border of Manashah was from Ashar to Makamathath, which is before Shakam; and the border went along to the right hand, to the inhabitants of Iyan. ⁸ The land of Thapawach belonged to Manashah; but Thapawach on the border of Manashah belonged to the children of Aparayam. ⁹ The border went down to the brook of Qanah, southward of the brook: these cities belonged to Aparayam among the cities of Manashah: and the border of Manashah was on the north side of the brook, and the goings out of it were at the sea: ¹⁰ southward it was Aparayam's, and northward it was Manashah's, and the sea was his border; and they reached to Ashar on the north, and to Yashashakar on the east. ¹¹ Manashah had in Yashashakar and in Ashar Bayath and its towns, and Yabalaim and its towns, and the inhabitants of Dawar and its towns, and the inhabitants of Iyan and its towns, and the inhabitants of Thainak and its towns, and the inhabitants of Magadaw and its towns, even the three heights. ¹² Yet the children of Manashah couldn't drive out [the inhabitants of] those cities; but the Canaanites would dwell in that land. ¹³ It happened, when the children of Yasharaal had grown strong, that they put the Canaanites to forced labor, and didn't utterly drive them out. ¹⁴ The children of Yawasap spoke to Yahawashai, saying, Why have you given me but one lot and one part for an inheritance, seeing I am a great people, because hitherto Yahawah has blessed me?

¹⁵ Yahawashai said to them, If you be a great people, get you up to the forest, and cut down for yourself there in the land of the Perizzites and of the Rephaim; since the hill-country of Aparayam is too narrow for you. ¹⁶ The children of Yawasap said, The hill-country is not enough for us: and all the Canaanites who dwell in the land of the valley have chariots of iron, both they who are in Bayath and its towns, and they who are in the valley of Yazaraiah. ¹⁷ Yahawashai spoke to the house of Yawasap, even to Aparayam and to Manashah, saying, You are a great people, and have great power; you shall not have one lot only: ¹⁸ but the hill-country shall be yours; for though it is a forest, you shall cut it down, and the goings out of it shall be your; for you shall drive out the Canaanites, though they have chariots of iron, and though they are strong.

18 The whole congregation of the children of Yasharaal assembled themselves together at Shalah, and set up the tent of meeting there: and the land was subdued before them. ² There remained among the children of Yasharaal seven tribes, which had not yet divided their inheritance. ³ Yahawashai said to the children of Yasharaal, How long are you slack to go in to possess the land, which Yahawah, the Alahayam of your fathers, has given you?⁴ Appoint for you three men of each tribe; and I will send them, and they shall arise, and walk through the land, and describe it according to their inheritance; and they shall come to me.⁵ They shall divide it into seven portions: Yahawadah shall abide in his border on the south, and the house of Yawasap shall abide in their border on the north.⁶ You shall describe the land into seven portions, and bring [the description] here to me; and I will cast lots for you here before Yahawah our Alahayam.⁷ For the Levites have no portion among you; for the priesthood of Yahawah is their inheritance: and Gad and Raawaban and the half-tribe of Manashah have received their inheritance beyond the Yaradan eastward, which Mashah the servant of Yahawah gave them.⁸ The men arose, and went: and Yahawashai charged those who went to describe the land, saying, Go and walk through the land, and describe it, and come again to me; and I will cast lots for you here before Yahawah in Shalah.⁹ The men went and passed through the land, and described it by cities into seven portions in a book; and they came to Yahawashai to the camp at Shalah.¹⁰ Yahawashai cast lots for them in Shalah before Yahawah: and there Yahawashai divided the land to the children of Yasharaal according to their divisions.¹¹ The lot of the tribe of the children of Banayaman came up according to their families: and the border of their lot went out between the children of Yahawadah and the children of Yawasap.¹² Their border on the north quarter was from the Yaradan; and the border went up to the side of Yarayachaw on the north, and went up through the hill-country westward; and the goings out of it were at the wilderness of Awan.¹³ The border passed along from there to Lawaz, to the side of Lawaz (the same is Bethel), southward; and the border went down to Itarawath-Adar, by the mountain that lies on the south of Bayath the nether.¹⁴ The border extended [there], and turned about on the west quarter southward, from the mountain that lies before Bayath southward; and the goings out of it were at Kiriath-Bail (the same is Kiriath-Yairayam), a city of the children of Yahawadah: this was the west quarter.¹⁵ The south quarter was from the uttermost part of Kiriath-Yairayam; and the border went out westward, and went out to the spring of the waters of Nephtoah;¹⁶ and the border went down to the uttermost part of the mountain that lies before the valley of the son of Hanam, which is in the vale of Rephaim northward; and it went down to the valley of Hanam, to the side of the Jebusite southward, and went down to Iyan;¹⁷ and it extended northward, and went out at Iyan-Shamash, and went out to Galayalawath, which is over against the ascent of Adamayam; and it went down to the stone of Bahan the son of Raawaban;¹⁸ and it passed along to the side over against the Irabah northward, and went down to the Irabah;¹⁹ and the border passed along to the side of Bayath northward; and the goings out of the border were at the north bay of the Salt Sea, at the south end of the Yaradan: this was the south border.²⁰ The Yaradan was the border of it on the east quarter. This was the inheritance of the children of Banayaman, by the borders of it round about, according to their families.²¹ Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Banayaman according to their families were Yarayachaw, and Bayath, and Emek-Qatzayatz,²² and Bayath, and Tzamarayam, and Bethel,²³ and Iwayam, and Parah, and Iparah,²⁴ and Chephar-ammoni, and Ipanay, and Gabai; twelve cities with their villages.²⁵ Gabaiwan, and Ramah, and Baarawath,²⁶ and Matzapah, and Kapayarah, and Matzah,²⁷ and Raqam, and Yarpaal, and Tharaalah,²⁸ and Tzalai, Haalap, and the Jebusite (the same is Yarawashalam), Gabaith, [and] Kiriath; fourteen cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the children of Banayaman according to their families.

19 The second lot came out for Shamaian, even for the tribe of the children of Shamaian according to their families: and their inheritance was in the midst of the inheritance of the children of Yahawadah.² They had for their inheritance Beersheba, or Shabaa, and Mawaladah,³ and Chatzar, and Balah, and Itzam,⁴ and Alathawalad, and Bathawal, and Charamah,⁵ and Tzaqalag, and Bayath-marcaboth, and Chatzar,⁶ and Bayath, and Sharawachan; thirteen cities with their villages:⁷ Iyan, Ramawan, and Ithar, and

Ishan; four cities with their villages:⁸ and all the villages that were round about these cities to Baar, Ramah of the South. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Shamaian according to their families.⁹ Out of the part of the children of Yahawadah was the inheritance of the children of Shamaian; for the portion of the children of Yahawadah was too much for them: therefore the children of Shamaian had inheritance in the midst of their inheritance.¹⁰ The third lot came up for the children of Zabawalan according to their families; and the border of their inheritance was to Sharayad;¹¹ and their border went up westward, even to Marailah, and reached to Dabashath; and it reached to the brook that is before Yaqanaim;¹² and it turned from Sharayad eastward toward the sunrise to the border of Kasalath; and it went out to Dabarath, and went up to Yapayai;¹³ and from there it passed along eastward to Gath-Chapar, to Eth-kazin; and it went out at Ramawan which stretches to Naih;¹⁴ and the border turned about it on the north to Chanathan; and the goings out of it were at the valley of Iphtah-el;¹⁵ and Qatath, and Nahalal, and Shamarawan, and Yadaalah, and Bayathalacham: twelve cities with their villages.¹⁶ This is the inheritance of the children of Zabawalan according to their families, these cities with their villages.¹⁷ The fourth lot came out for Yashashakar, even for the children of Yashashakar according to their families.¹⁸ Their border was to Yazaraial, and Kasawalath, and Shawanam,¹⁹ and Hapharaim, and Shayaan, and Anacharath,²⁰ and Rabayath, and Qashayawan, and Ebez,²¹ and Ramath, and Engannim, and Chadah, and Bayath,²² and the border reached to Thabawar, and Shahazumah, and Bayath; and the goings out of their border were at the Yaradan: sixteen cities with their villages.²³ This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Yashashakar according to their families, the cities with their villages.²⁴ The fifth lot came out for the tribe of the children of Ashar according to their families.²⁵ Their border was Chalaqath, and Chalay, and Batan, and Akashap,²⁶ and Allammelech, and Imaid, and Mashaal; and it reached to Karamal westward, and to Labanath;²⁷ and it turned toward the sunrise to Bayath, and reached to Zabawalan, and to the valley of Iphtah-el northward to Bayath and Naiyaal; and it went out to Kabawal on the left hand,²⁸ and Ibaran, and Rachab, and Chamawan, and Qanah, even to great Tzayadawan;²⁹ and the border turned to Ramah, and to the fortified city of Tzar; and the border turned to Chasah; and the goings out of it were at the sea by the region of Akazayab;³⁰ Imah also, and Apa, and Rachab: twenty-two cities with their villages.³¹ This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ashar according to their families, these cities with their villages.³² The sixth lot came out for the children of Napathalay, even for the children of Napathalay according to their families.³³ Their border was from Chalap, from the oak in Zaanannim, and Adaminekeb, and Yabanaal, to Lakkum; and the goings out of it were at the Yaradan;³⁴ and the border turned westward to Azanawath, and went out from there to Chawaq; and it reached to Zabawalan on the south, and reached to Ashar on the west, and to Yahawadah at the Yaradan toward the sunrise.³⁵ The fortified cities were Tzadayam, Tzar, and Chamath, Raqath, and Kanarath,³⁶ and Adamah, and Ramah, and Chatzawar,³⁷ and Qadash, and Adaraiy, and Chatzawar,³⁸ Iron, and Al, Charam, and Bayath, and Bayath; nineteen cities with their villages.³⁹ This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Napathalay according to their families, the cities with their villages.⁴⁰ The seventh lot came out for the tribe of the children of Wadan according to their families.⁴¹ The border of their inheritance was Tzaraih, and Ashathaal, and Iyar-Shamash,⁴² and Shailabayam, and Ayalawan, and Ithlah,⁴³ and Ayalawan, and Thamanath, and Iqarawan,⁴⁴ and Alathaqaa, and Gabathawan, and Bailath,⁴⁵ and Yahad, and Banay-berak, and Gath,⁴⁶ and Hayaraqawan, and Raqawan, with the border over against Yapaw.⁴⁷ The border of the children of Wadan went out beyond them; for the children of Wadan went up and fought against Lasham, and took it, and struck it with the edge of the sword, and possessed it, and lived therein, and called Lasham, Wadan, after the name of Wadan their father.⁴⁸ This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Wadan according to their families, these cities with their villages.⁴⁹ So they made an end of distributing the land for inheritance by the borders of it; and the children of Yasharaal gave an inheritance to Yahawashai the son of Nawan in the midst of them:⁵⁰ according to the commandment of Yahawah they gave him the city which he asked, even Thamanath in the hill-country of Aparayam; and he built the city, and lived therein.⁵¹ These are the inheritances, which Alaizar the priest, and Yahawashai the son of Nawan, and the heads of the fathers' [houses] of the tribes of the children of Yasharaal, distributed for inheritance by lot in Shalah before Yahawah, at the door of the tent of meeting. So they made an end of dividing the land.

20 Yahawah spoke to Yahawashai, saying,² Speak to the children of Yasharaal, saying, Assign you the cities of refuge, whereof I spoke to you by Mashah,³ that the manslayer who kills any person unwittingly [and] unawares may flee there: and they shall be to you for a refuge from the avenger of blood.⁴ He shall flee to one of those cities, and shall stand at the entrance of the gate of the city, and declare his cause in the ears of the elders of that city; and they shall take him into the city to them, and give him a place, that he may dwell among them.⁵ If the avenger of blood pursue after him, then they shall not deliver up the manslayer into his hand; because he struck his neighbor unawares, and didn't hate him before.⁶ He shall dwell in that city, until he stand before the congregation for judgment, until the death of the high priest that shall be in those days: then shall the manslayer return, and come to his own city, and to his own house, to the city from whence he fled.⁷ They set apart Qadash in Galayal in the hill-country of Napathalay, and Shakam in the hill-country of Aparayam, and Kiriath-Arabai (the same is Chabarawan) in the hill-country of Yahawadah.⁸ Beyond the Yaradan at Yarayachaw eastward, they assigned Batzar in the wilderness in the plain out of the tribe of Raawaban, and Raamawath in Galaid out of the tribe of Gad, and Gawalan in Bashan out of the tribe of Manashah.⁹ These were the appointed cities for all the children of Yasharaal, and for the stranger who sojourns among them, that whoever kills any person unwittingly might flee there, and not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he stood before the congregation.

21 Then came near the heads of fathers' [houses] of the Levites to Alaizar the priest, and to Yahawashai the son of Nawan, and to the heads of fathers' [houses] of the tribes of the children of Yasharaal;² and they spoke to them at Shalah in the land of Kanain, saying, Yahawah commanded Mashah to give us cities to dwell in, with the suburbs of it for our cattle.³ The children of Yasharaal gave to the Levites out of their inheritance, according to the commandment of Yahawah, these cities with their suburbs.⁴ The lot came out for the families of the Kohathites: and the children of Aharan the priest, who were of the Levites, had by lot out of the tribe of Yahawadah, and out of the tribe of the Simeonites, and out of the tribe of Banayaman, thirteen cities.⁵ The rest of the children of Qahath had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Aparayam, and out of the tribe of Wadan, and out of the half-tribe of Manashah, ten cities.⁶ The children of Garashawan had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Yashashakar, and out of the tribe of Ashar, and out of the tribe of Napathalay, and out of the half-tribe of Manashah in Bashan, thirteen cities.⁷ The children of Mararay according to their families had out of the tribe of Raawaban, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zabawalan, twelve cities.⁸ The children of Yasharaal gave by lot to the Levites these cities with their suburbs, as Yahawah commanded by Mashah.⁹ They gave out of the tribe of the children of Yahawadah, and out of the tribe of the children of Shamaiwan, these cities which are [here] mentioned by name:¹⁰ and they were for the children of Aharan, of the families of the Kohathites, who were of the children of Laway; for theirs was the first lot.¹¹ They gave them Kiriath-Arabai, [which Arabai was] the father of Inaq (the same is Chabarawan), in the hill-country of Yahawadah, with the suburbs of it round about it.¹² But the fields of the city, and the villages of it, gave they to Kalab the son of Yapanah for his possession.¹³ To the children of Aharan the priest they gave Chabarawan with its suburbs, the city of refuge for the manslayer, and Labanah with its suburbs,¹⁴ and Yathar with its suburbs, and Ashathamai with its suburbs,¹⁵ and Chalan with its suburbs, and Dabar with its suburbs,¹⁶ and Iyan with its suburbs, and Yawatah with its suburbs, [and] Bayath with its suburbs; nine cities out of those two tribes.¹⁷ Out of the tribe of Banayaman, Gabaiwan with its suburbs, Gabai with its suburbs,¹⁸ Inathawath with its suburbs, and Ilaman with its suburbs; four cities.¹⁹ All the cities of the children of Aharan, the priests, were thirteen cities with their suburbs.²⁰ The families of the children of Qahath, the Levites, even the rest of the children of Qahath, they had the cities of their lot out of the tribe of Aparayam.²¹ They gave them Shakam with its suburbs in the hill-country of Aparayam, the city of refuge for the manslayer, and Gazar with its suburbs,²² and Qabatzayam with its suburbs, and Bayath with its suburbs; four cities.²³ Out of the tribe of Wadan, Elteke with its suburbs, Gabathawan with its suburbs,²⁴ Ayalawan with its suburbs, Gath with its suburbs; four cities.²⁵ Out of the half-tribe of Manashah, Thainak with its suburbs, and Gath with its suburbs; two cities.²⁶ All the cities of the families of the rest of the children of Qahath were ten with their suburbs.²⁷ To the children of Garashawan, of the families of the Levites, out of the half-tribe of Manashah [they gave] Gawalan in Bashan with its suburbs, the city of refuge for the manslayer, and Be-eshterah with its suburbs; two cities.²⁸ Out of the tribe of Yashashakar, Qashayawan with its suburbs, Dabarath with its suburbs,²⁹ Yaramawath with its suburbs, Ganayam with its suburbs; four cities.³⁰ Out of the tribe of Ashar, Mashaal with its suburbs, Ibadawan with its suburbs,³¹ Chalaqath with its suburbs, and Rachab with its suburbs; four cities.³² Out of the tribe of Napathalay, Qadash in Galayal with its suburbs, the city of refuge for the manslayer, and Hammoth-Dawar with its suburbs, and Qarathan with its suburbs; three cities.³³ All the cities of the Gershonites according to their families were thirteen cities with their suburbs.³⁴ To the families of the children of Mararay, the rest of the Levites, out of the tribe of Zabawalan, Yaqanaim with its suburbs, and Qarathah with its suburbs,³⁵ Damanah with its suburbs, Nahalal with its suburbs; four cities.³⁶ Out of the tribe of Raawaban, Batzar with its suburbs, and Yahatz with its suburbs,³⁷ Qadamawath with its suburbs, and Mayapaith with its suburbs; four cities.³⁸ Out of the tribe of Gad, Raamawath in Galaid with its suburbs, the city of refuge for the manslayer, and Machanayam with its suburbs,³⁹ Chashabawan with its suburbs, Yaizar with its suburbs; four cities in all.⁴⁰ All [these were] the cities of the children of Mararay according to their families, even the rest of the families of the Levites; and their lot was twelve cities.⁴¹ All the cities of the Levites in the midst of the possession of the children of Yasharaal were forty-eight cities with their suburbs.⁴² These cities were every one with their suburbs round about them: thus it was with all these cities.⁴³ So Yahawah gave to Yasharaal all the land which he swore to give to their fathers; and they possessed it, and lived therein.⁴⁴ Yahawah gave them rest round about, according to all that he swore to their fathers: and there stood not a man of all their enemies before them; Yahawah delivered all their enemies into their hand.⁴⁵ There failed not anything of any good thing which Yahawah had spoken to the house of Yasharaal; all came to pass.

22 Then Yahawashai called the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manashah,² and said to them, You have kept all that Mashah the servant of Yahawah commanded you, and have listened to my voice in all that I commanded you:³ you have not left your brothers these many days to this day, but have kept the charge of the commandment of Yahawah your Alahayam.⁴ Now Yahawah your Alahayam has given rest to your brothers, as he spoke to them: therefore now turn you, and get you to your tents, to the land of your possession, which Mashah the servant of Yahawah gave you beyond the Yaradan.⁵ Only take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law which Mashah the servant of Yahawah commanded you, to love Yahawah your Alahayam, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave to him, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.⁶ So Yahawashai blessed them, and sent them away; and they went to their tents.⁷ Now to the one half-tribe of Manashah Mashah had given [inheritance] in Bashan; but to the other half gave Yahawashai among their brothers beyond the Yaradan westward; moreover when Yahawashai sent them away to their tents, he blessed them,⁸ and spoke to them, saying, Return with much wealth to your tents, and with very much cattle, with silver, and with gold, and with brass, and with iron, and with very much clothing; divide the spoil of your enemies with your brothers.⁹ The children of Raawaban and the children of Gad and the half-tribe of Manashah returned, and departed from the children of Yasharaal out of Shalah, which is in the land of Kanain, to go to the land of Galaid, to the land of their possession, whereof they were possessed, according to the commandment of Yahawah by Mashah.¹⁰ When they came to the region about the Yaradan, that is in the land of Kanain, the children of Raawaban and the children of Gad and the half-tribe of Manashah built there an altar by the Yaradan, a great altar to look on.¹¹ The children of Yasharaal heard say, Behold, the children of Raawaban and the children of Gad and the half-tribe of Manashah have built an altar in the forefront of the land of Kanain, in the region about the Yaradan, on the side that pertains to the children of Yasharaal.¹² When the children of Yasharaal heard of it, the whole congregation of the children of Yasharaal gathered themselves together at Shalah, to go up against them to war.¹³ The children of Yasharaal sent to the children of Raawaban, and to the children of Gad, and to the half-tribe of Manashah, into the land of Galaid, Payanachas the son of Alaizar the priest,¹⁴ and with him ten princes, one prince of a fathers' house for each of the tribes of Yasharaal; and they were everyone of them head of their fathers' houses among the thousands of Yasharaal.¹⁵ They came to the children of Raawaban, and to the children of Gad, and to the half-tribe of Manashah, to the land of Galaid, and they spoke with them, saying,¹⁶ Thus says the whole congregation of Yahawah, What trespass is this that you have committed against the Alahayam of Yasharaal, to turn away this day from following Yahawah, in that you have built you an altar, to rebel this day against Yahawah?¹⁷ Is the iniquity of Paiwar too little for us, from which we have not cleansed ourselves to this day, although there came a plague on the congregation of Yahawah,¹⁸ that you must turn away this day from following Yahawah? and it will be, seeing you rebel today against Yahawah, that tomorrow he will be angry with the whole congregation of Yasharaal.¹⁹ However, if the land of your possession be unclean, then pass you over to the land of the possession of Yahawah, in which Yahawah's tent dwells, and take possession among us: but don't rebel against Yahawah, nor rebel against us, in building you an altar besides the altar of Yahawah our Alahayam.²⁰ Didn't Ikan the son of Zarach commit a trespass in the devoted thing, and wrath fell on all the congregation of Yasharaal? and that man didn't perish alone in his iniquity.²¹ Then the children of Raawaban and the children of Gad and the half-tribe of Manashah answered, and spoke to the heads of the thousands of Yasharaal,²² The Mighty One, Alahayam, Yahawah, the Mighty One, Alahayam, Yahawah, he knows; and Yasharaal he shall know: if it be in rebellion, or if in trespass against Yahawah (don't save us this day,) ²³ that we have built us an altar to turn away from following Yahawah; or if to offer thereon burnt offering or meal-offering, or if to offer sacrifices of peace-offerings thereon, let Yahawah himself require it; ²⁴ and if we have not [rather] out of carefulness done this, [and] of purpose, saying, In time to come your children might speak to our children, saying, What have you to do with Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal? ²⁵ for Yahawah has made the Yaradan a border between us and you, you children of Raawaban and children of Gad; you have no portion in Yahawah: so might your children make our children cease from fearing Yahawah.²⁶ Therefore we said, Let us now prepare to build us an altar, not for burnt offering, nor for sacrifice: ²⁷ but it shall be a witness between us and you, and between our generations after us, that we may do the service of Yahawah before him with our burnt offerings, and with our sacrifices, and with our peace-offerings; that your children may not tell our children in time to come, You have no portion in Yahawah.²⁸ Therefore said we, It shall be, when they so tell us or to our generations in time to come, that we shall say, Behold the pattern of the altar of Yahawah, which our fathers made, not for burnt offering, nor for sacrifice; but it is a witness between us and you.²⁹ Far be it from us that we should rebel against Yahawah, and turn away this day from following Yahawah, to build an altar for burnt-offering, for meal-offering, or for sacrifice, besides the altar of Yahawah our Alahayam that is before his tent.³⁰ When Payanachas the priest, and the princes of the congregation, even the heads of the thousands of Yasharaal that were with him, heard the words that the children of Raawaban and the children of Gad and the children of Manashah spoke, it pleased them well.³¹ Payanachas the son of Alaizar the priest said to the children of Raawaban, and to the children of Gad, and to the children of Manashah, This day we know that Yahawah is in the midst of us, because you have not committed this trespass against Yahawah: now have you delivered the children of Yasharaal out of the hand of Yahawah.³² Payanachas the son of Alaizar the priest, and the princes, returned from the children of Raawaban, and from the children of Gad, out of the land of Galaid, to the land of Kanain, to the children of Yasharaal, and brought them word again.³³ The thing pleased the children of Yasharaal; and the children of Yasharaal blessed Alahayam, and spoke no more of going up against them to war, to destroy the land in which the children of Raawaban and the children of Gad lived.³⁴ The children of Raawaban and the children of Gad called the altar [Ed]: For, [said they], it is a witness between us that Yahawah is Alahayam.

23 It happened after many days, when Yahawah had given rest to Yasharaal from all their enemies round about, and Yahawashai was old and well stricken in years; ² that Yahawashai called for all Yasharaal, for their elders and for their heads, and for their judges and for their officers, and said to them, I am old and well stricken in years: ³ and you have seen all that Yahawah your Alahayam has done to all these nations because of you; for Yahawah your Alahayam, he it is that has fought for you. ⁴ Behold, I have allotted to you these nations that remain, to be an inheritance for your tribes, from the Yaradan, with all the nations that I have cut off, even to the great sea toward the going down of the sun. ⁵ Yahawah your Alahayam, he will thrust them out from before you, and drive them from out of your sight; and you shall possess their land, as Yahawah your Alahayam spoke to you. ⁶ Therefore be you very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in the book of the law of Mashah, that you not turn aside therefrom to the right hand or to the left; ⁷ that you not come among these nations, these that remain among you; neither make mention of the name of their gods, nor cause to swear [by them], neither serve them, nor bow down yourselves to them; ⁸ but cleave to Yahawah your Alahayam, as you have done to this day. ⁹ For Yahawah has driven out from before you great nations and strong: but as for you, no man has stood before you to this day. ¹⁰ One man of you shall chase a thousand; for Yahawah your Alahayam, he it is who fights for you, as he spoke to you. ¹¹ Take good heed therefore to yourselves, that you love Yahawah your Alahayam. ¹² Else if you do at all go back, and cleave to the remnant of these nations, even these who remain among you, and make marriages with them, and go in to them, and they to you; ¹³ know for a certainty that Yahawah your Alahayam will no more drive these nations from out of your sight; but they shall be a snare and a trap to you, and a scourge in your sides, and thorns in your eyes, until you perish from off this good land which Yahawah your Alahayam has given you. ¹⁴ Behold, this day I am going the way of all the earth: and you know in all your hearts and in all your souls, that not one thing has failed of all the good things which Yahawah your Alahayam spoke concerning you; all are happen to you, not one thing has failed of it. ¹⁵ It shall happen, that as all the good things are come on you of which Yahawah your Alahayam spoke to you, so will Yahawah bring on you all the evil things, until he have destroyed you from off this good land which Yahawah your Alahayam has given you.¹⁶ When you disobey the covenant of Yahawah your Alahayam, which he commanded you, and go and serve other gods, and bow down yourselves to them; then will the anger of Yahawah be kindled against you, and you shall perish quickly from off the good land which he has given to you.

24 Yahawashai gathered all the tribes of Yasharaal to Shakam, and called for the elders of Yasharaal, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers; and they presented themselves before Alahayam.² Yahawashai said to all the people, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, Your fathers lived of old time beyond the River, even Tharach, the father of Abaraham, and the father of Nachawar: and they served other gods.³ I took your father Abaraham from beyond the River, and led him throughout all the land of Kanain, and multiplied his seed, and gave him Yatzachaq.⁴ I gave to Yatzachaq Yaiqab and Ishaw: and I gave to Ishaw Mount Shaiyar, to possess it: and Yaiqab and his children went down into Matzarayam.⁵ I sent Mashah and Aharan, and I plagued Matzarayam, according to that which I did in the midst of it: and afterward I brought you out.⁶ I brought your fathers out of Matzarayam: and you came to the sea; and the Matzarayam pursued after your fathers with chariots and with horsemen to the Sawap.⁷ When they cried out to Yahawah, he put darkness between you and the Matzarayam, and brought the sea on them, and covered them; and your eyes saw what I did in Matzarayam: and you lived in the wilderness many days.⁸ I brought you into the land of the Amorites, that lived beyond the Yaran: and they fought with you; and I gave them into your hand, and you possessed their land; and I destroyed them from before you.⁹ Then Balaq the son of Tzapawar, king of Mawaab, arose and fought against Yasharaal: and he sent and called Balaim the son of Baiwar to curse you;¹⁰ but I would not listen to Balaim; therefore he blessed you still: so I delivered you out of his hand.¹¹ You went over the Yaran, and came to Yarayachaw: and the men of Yarayachaw fought against you, the Amorite, and the Perizzite, and the Canaanite, and the Hittite, and the Girgashite, the Hivite, and the Jebusite; and I delivered them into your hand.¹² I sent the hornet before you, which drove them out from before you, even the two kings of the Amorites; not with your sword, nor with your bow.¹³ I gave you a land whereon you had not labored, and cities which you didn't build, and you dwell therein; of vineyards and olive groves which you didn't plant do you eat.¹⁴ Now therefore fear Yahawah, and serve him in sincerity and in truth; and put away the gods which your fathers served beyond the River, and in Matzarayam; and serve you Yahawah.¹⁵ If it seem evil to you to serve Yahawah, choose you this day whom you will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were beyond the River, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land you dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve Yahawah.¹⁶ The people answered, Far be it from us that we should forsake Yahawah, to serve other gods;¹⁷ for Yahawah our Alahayam, he it is who brought us and our fathers up out of the land of Matzarayam, from the house of bondage, and who did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way in which we went, and among all the peoples through the midst of whom we passed;¹⁸ and Yahawah drove out from before us all the peoples, even the Amorites who lived in the land: therefore we also will serve Yahawah; for he is our Alahayam.¹⁹ Yahawashai said to the people, You can't serve Yahawah; for he is a holy Alahayam; he is a jealous Alahayam; he will not forgive your disobedience nor your sins.²⁰ If you forsake Yahawah, and serve foreign gods, then he will turn and do you evil, and consume you, after that he has done you good.²¹ The people said to Yahawashai, No; but we will serve Yahawah.²² Yahawashai said to the people, You are witnesses against yourselves that you have chosen you Yahawah, to serve him. They said, We are witnesses.²³ Now therefore put away, [said he], the foreign gods which are among you, and incline your heart to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.²⁴ The people said to Yahawashai, Yahawah our Alahayam will we serve, and to his voice will we listen.²⁵ So Yahawashai made a covenant with the people that day, and set them a statute and an ordinance in Shakam.

²⁶ Yahawashai wrote these words in the book of the law of Alahayam; and he took a great stone, and set it up there under the oak that was by the sanctuary of Yahawah.²⁷ Yahawashai said to all the people, Behold, this stone shall be a witness against us; for it has heard all the words of Yahawah which he spoke to us: it shall be therefore a witness against you, lest you deny your Alahayam.

Judges

1 It happened after the death of Yahawashai, the children of Yasharaal asked of Yahawah, saying, Who shall go up for us first against the Canaanites, to fight against them? ² Yahawah said, Yahawadah shall go up: behold, I have delivered the land into his hand. ³ Yahawadah said to Shamaïwan his brother, Come up with me into my lot, that we may fight against the Canaanites; and I likewise will go with you into your lot. So Shamaïwan went with him. ⁴ Yahawadah went up; and Yahawah delivered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hand: and they struck of them in Bazaq ten thousand men. ⁵ They found Adoni-Bazaq in Bazaq; and they fought against him, and they struck the Canaanites and the Perizzites. ⁶ But Adoni-Bazaq fled; and they pursued after him, and caught him, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes. ⁷ Adoni-Bazaq said, "Seventy kings, having their thumbs and their great toes cut off, gathered [their food] under my table: as I have done, so Alahayam has requited me." They brought him to Yarawashalam, and he died there. ⁸ The children of Yahawadah fought against Yarawashalam, and took it, and struck it with the edge of the sword, and set the city on fire. ⁹ Afterward the children of Yahawadah went down to fight against the Canaanites who lived in the hill-country, and in the South, and in the lowland. ¹⁰ Yahawadah went against the Canaanites who lived in Chabarawan (now the name of Chabarawan before was Kiriath-Arabai); and they struck Shashay, and Achayaman, and Thalamay. ¹¹ From there he went against the inhabitants of Dabar. (Now the name of Dabar before was Kiriath-sepher.) ¹² Kalab said, He who strikes Kiriath-sepher, and takes it, to him will I give Ikasah my daughter as wife. ¹³ Ithanayal the son of Qanaz, Kalab's younger brother, took it: and he gave him Ikasah his daughter as wife. ¹⁴ It happened, when she came [to him], that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and she alighted from off her donkey; and Kalab said to her, What would you? ¹⁵ She said to him, Give me a blessing; for that you have set me in the land of the South, give me also springs of water. Kalab gave her the upper springs and the nether springs. ¹⁶ The children of the Qayan, Mashah's brother-in-law, went up out of the city of palm-trees with the children of Yahawadah into the wilderness of Yahawadah, which is in the south of Irad; and they went and lived with the people. ¹⁷ Yahawadah went with Shamaïwan his brother, and they struck the Canaanites who inhabited Tzaphath, and utterly destroyed it. The name of the city was called Charamah. ¹⁸ Also Yahawadah took Izah with the border of it, and Ashaqalawan with the border of it, and Iqarawan with the border of it. ¹⁹ Yahawah was with Yahawadah; and drove out [the inhabitants of] the hill-country; for he could not drive out the inhabitants of the valley, because they had chariots of iron. ²⁰ They gave Chabarawan to Kalab, as Mashah had spoken: and he drove out there the three sons of Inaq. ²¹ The children of Banayaman did not drive out the Jebusites who inhabited Yarawashalam; but the Jebusites dwell with the children of Banayaman in Yarawashalam to this day. ²² The house of Yawasap, they also went up against Bethel; and Yahawah was with them. ²³ The house of Yawasap sent to spy out Bethel. (Now the name of the city before was Lawaz.) ²⁴ The watchers saw a man come forth out of the city, and they said to him, Show us, we pray you, the entrance into the city, and we will deal kindly with you. ²⁵ He showed them the entrance into the city; and they struck the city with the edge of the sword; but they let the man go and all his family. ²⁶ The man went into the land of the Hittites, and built a city, and called the name of it Lawaz, which is the name of it to this day. ²⁷ Manashah did not drive out [the inhabitants of] Bayath and its towns, nor [of] Thainak and its towns, nor the inhabitants of Dawar and its towns, nor the inhabitants of Yabalaim and its towns, nor the inhabitants of Magadaw and its towns; but the Canaanites would dwell in that land. ²⁸ It happened, when Yasharaal had grown strong, that they put the Canaanites to forced labor, and did not utterly drive them out. ²⁹ Aparayam didn't drive out the Canaanites who lived in Gazar; but the Canaanites lived in Gazar among them. ³⁰ Zabawalan didn't drive out the inhabitants of Qatarawan, nor the inhabitants of Nahalal; but the Canaanites lived among them, and became subject to forced labor. ³¹ Ashar didn't drive out the inhabitants of Acco, nor the inhabitants of Tzayadawan, nor of Achalab, nor of Akazayab, nor of Chalabah, nor of Apaq, nor of Rachab; ³² but the Asherites lived among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land; for they did not drive them out. ³³ Napathalay didn't drive out the inhabitants of Bayath, nor the inhabitants of Bayath; but he lived among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land: nevertheless the inhabitants of Bayath and of Bayath became subject to forced labor. ³⁴ The Amorites forced the children of Wadan into the hill-country; for they would not allow them to come down to the valley; ³⁵ but the Amorites would dwell in Mount Charas, in Ayalawan, and in Shailabayam: yet the hand of the house of Yawasap prevailed, so that they became subject to forced labor. ³⁶ The border of the Amorites was from the ascent of Akabbim, from the rock, and upward.

2 The angel of Yahawah came up from Galagal to Bakayam. He said, I made you to go up out of Matzarayam, and have brought you to the land which I swore to your fathers; and I said, I will never break my covenant with you: ² and you shall make no covenant with the inhabitants of this land; you shall break down their altars. But you have not listened to my voice: why have you done this? ³ Therefore I also said, I will not drive them out from before you; but they shall be [as thorns] in your sides, and their gods shall be a snare to you. ⁴ It happened, when the angel of Yahawah spoke these words to all the children of Yasharaal, that the people lifted up their voice, and wept. ⁵ They called the name of that place Bakayam: and they sacrificed there to Yahawah. ⁶ Now when Yahawashai had sent the people away, the children of Yasharaal went every man to his inheritance to possess the land. ⁷ The people served Yahawah all the days of Yahawashai, and all the days of the elders who outlived Yahawashai, who had seen all the great work of Yahawah that he had worked for Yasharaal. ⁸ Yahawashai the son of Nawan, the servant of Yahawah, died, being one hundred ten years old. ⁹ They buried him in the border of his inheritance in Thamanath, in the hill-country of Aparayam, on the north of the mountain of Gaish. ¹⁰ Also all that generation were gathered to their fathers: and there arose another generation after them, who didn't know Yahawah, nor yet the work which he had worked for Yasharaal. ¹¹ The children of Yasharaal did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, and served the Baals; ¹² and they forsook Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers, who brought them out of the land of Matzarayam, and followed other gods, of the gods of the peoples who were round about them, and bowed themselves down to them: and they provoked Yahawah to anger. ¹³ They forsook Yahawah, and served Bail and the Ishatharawath. ¹⁴ The anger of Yahawah was kindled against Yasharaal, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers who despoiled them; and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies. ¹⁵ Wherever they went out, the hand of Yahawah was against them for evil, as Yahawah had spoken, and as Yahawah had sworn to them: and they were sore distressed. ¹⁶ Yahawah raised up judges, who saved them out of the hand of those who despoiled them. ¹⁷ Yet they didn't listen to their judges; for they played the prostitute after other gods, and bowed themselves down to them: they turned aside quickly out of the way in which their fathers walked, obeying the commandments of Yahawah; [but] they didn't do so.¹⁸ When Yahawah raised them up judges, then Yahawah was with the judge, and saved them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge: for it repented Yahawah because of their groaning by reason of those who oppressed them and vexed them.¹⁹ But it happened, when the judge was dead, that they turned back, and dealt more corruptly than their fathers, in following other gods to serve them, and to bow down to them; they didn't cease from their doings, nor from their stubborn way.²⁰ The anger of Yahawah was kindled against Yasharaal; and he said, Because this nation have transgressed my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and have not listened to my voice;²¹ I also will not henceforth drive out any from before them of the nations that Yahawashai left when he died;²² that by them I may prove Yasharaal, whether they will keep the way of Yahawah to walk therein, as their fathers did keep it, or not.²³ So Yahawah left those nations, without driving them out hastily; neither delivered he them into the hand of Yahawashai.

3 Now these are the nations which Yahawah left, to prove Yasharaal by them, even as many [of Yasharaal] as had not known all the wars of Kanain;² only that the generations of the children of Yasharaal might know, to teach them war, at the least such as before knew nothing of it:³ [namely], the five lords of the Palashath, and all the Canaanites, and the Sidonians, and the Hivites who lived on Mount Labanawan, from Mount Bail to the entrance of Chamath.⁴ They were [left], to prove Yasharaal by them, to know whether they would listen to the commandments of Yahawah, which he commanded their fathers by Mashah.⁵ The children of Yasharaal lived among the Canaanites, the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites:⁶ and they took their daughters to be their wives, and gave their own daughters to their sons and served their gods.⁷ The children of Yasharaal did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, and forgot Yahawah their Alahayam, and served the Baals and the Asheroth.⁸ Therefore the anger of Yahawah was kindled against Yasharaal, and he sold them into the hand of Kawashan-rishathaim king of Aram: and the children of Yasharaal served Kawashan-rishathaim eight years.⁹ When the children of Yasharaal cried to Yahawah, Yahawah raised up a savior to the children of Yasharaal, who saved them, even Ithanayaal the son of Qanaz, Kalab's younger brother.¹⁰ The Spirit of Yahawah came on him, and he judged Yasharaal; and he went out to war, and Yahawah delivered Kawashan-rishathaim king of Aram into his hand: and his hand prevailed against Kawashan-rishathaim.¹¹ The land had rest forty years. Ithanayaal the son of Qanaz died.¹² The children of Yasharaal again did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah: and Yahawah strengthened Igalawan the king of Mawaab against Yasharaal, because they had done that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah.¹³ He gathered to him the children of Imawan and Imalaq; and he went and struck Yasharaal, and they possessed the city of palm-trees.¹⁴ The children of Yasharaal served Igalawan the king of Mawaab eighteen years.¹⁵ But when the children of Yasharaal cried to Yahawah, Yahawah raised them up a savior, Ahawad the son of Garaa, the Benjamite, a man left-handed. The children of Yasharaal sent tribute by him to Igalawan the king of Mawaab.¹⁶ Ahawad made him a sword which had two edges, a cubit in length; and he girded it under his clothing on his right thigh.¹⁷ He offered the tribute to Igalawan king of Mawaab: now Igalawan was a very fat man.¹⁸ When he had made an end of offering the tribute, he sent away the people who bore the tribute.¹⁹ But he himself turned back from the quarries that were by Galagal, and said, I have a secret errand to you, king. He said, Keep silence. All who stood by him went out from him.²⁰ Ahawad came to him; and he was sitting by himself alone in the cool upper room. Ahawad said, I have a message from Alahayam to you. He arose out of his seat.²¹ Ahawad put forth his left hand, and took the sword from his right thigh, and thrust it into his body:²² and the haft also went in after the blade; and the fat closed on the blade, for he didn't draw the sword out of his body; and it came out behind.²³ Then Ahawad went forth into the porch, and shut the doors of the upper room on him, and locked them.²⁴ Now when he was gone out, his servants came; and they saw, and, behold, the doors of the upper room were locked; and they said, Surely he is covering his feet in the upper chamber.²⁵ They waited until they were ashamed; and, behold, he didn't open the doors of the upper room: therefore they took the key, and opened [them], and, behold, their lord was fallen down dead on the earth.²⁶ Ahawad escaped while they waited, and passed beyond the quarries, and escaped to Shaiyareth.²⁷ It happened, when he had come, that he blew a trumpet in the hill-country of Aparayam; and the children of Yasharaal went down with him from the hill-country, and he before them.²⁸ He said to them, Follow after me; for Yahawah has delivered your enemies the Moabites into your hand. They went down after him, and took the fords of the Yaran against the Moabites, and didn't allow a man to pass over.²⁹ They struck of Mawaab at that time about ten thousand men, every lusty man, and every man of valor; and there escaped not a man.³⁰ So Mawaab was subdued that day under the hand of Yasharaal. The land had rest eighty years.³¹ After him was Shamagar the son of Inath, who struck of the Palashath six hundred men with an ox-goad: and he also saved Yasharaal.

4 The children of Yasharaal again did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, when Ahawad was dead.² Yahawah sold them into the hand of Yabayan king of Kanain, who reigned in Chatzawar; the captain of whose host was Sayasaraa, who lived in Charashath of the Gentiles.³ The children of Yasharaal cried to Yahawah: for he had nine hundred chariots of iron; and twenty years he mightily oppressed the children of Yasharaal.⁴ Now Dabawarah, a prophetess, the wife of Lapayadawath, she judged Yasharaal at that time.⁵ She lived under the palm-tree of Dabawarah between Ramah and Bethel in the hill-country of Aparayam; and the children of Yasharaal came up to her for judgment.⁶ She sent and called Baraq the son of Abayanaim out of Qadash-Napathalay, and said to him, Hasn't Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, commanded, [saying], Go and draw to Mount Thabawar, and take with you ten thousand men of the children of Napathalay and of the children of Zabawalan? ⁷ I will draw to you, to the river Qayashawan, Sayasaraa, the captain of Yabayan's army, with his chariots and his multitude; and I will deliver him into your hand.⁸ Baraq said to her, If you will go with me, then I will go; but if you will not go with me, I will not go.⁹ She said, I will surely go with you: notwithstanding, the journey that you take shall not be for your honor; for Yahawah will sell Sayasaraa into the hand of a woman. Dabawarah arose, and went with Baraq to Qadash.¹⁰ Baraq called Zabawalan and Napathalay together to Qadash; and there went up ten thousand men at his feet: and Dabawarah went up with him.¹¹ Now Ibar the Qayan had separated himself from the Kenites, even from the children of Chabab the brother-in-law of Mashah, and had pitched his tent as far as the oak in Zaanannim, which is by Qadash.¹² They told Sayasaraa that Baraq the son of Abayanaim was gone up to Mount Thabawar.¹³ Sayasaraa gathered together all his chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron, and all the people who were with him, from Charashath of the Gentiles, to the river Qayashawan.¹⁴ Dabawarah said to Baraq, Up; for this is the day in which Yahawah has delivered Sayasaraa into your hand; hasn't Yahawah gone out before you? So Baraq went down from Mount Thabawar, and ten thousand men after him.¹⁵ Yahawah confused Sayasaraa, and all his chariots, and all his host, with the edge of the sword before Baraq; and Sayasaraa alighted from his chariot, and fled away on his feet.¹⁶ But Baraq pursued after the chariots, and after the host, to Charashath of the Gentiles: and all the host of Sayasaraa fell by the edge of the sword; there was not a man left.¹⁷ However Sayasaraa fled away on his feet to the tent of Yail the wife of Ibar the Qayan; for there was peace between Yabayan the king of Chatzawar and the house of Ibar the Qayan.¹⁸ Yail went out to meet Sayasaraa, and said to him, Turn in, my lord, turn in to me; don't be afraid. He turned in to her into the tent, and she covered him with a rug.¹⁹ He said to her, Please give me a little water to drink; for I am thirsty. She opened a bottle of milk, and gave him drink, and covered him.²⁰ He said to her, Stand in the door of the tent, and it shall be, when any man does come and inquire of you, and say, Is there any man here? that you shall say, No.²¹ Then Yail Ibar's wife took a tent-pin, and took a hammer in her hand, and went softly to him, and struck the pin into his temples, and it pierced through into the ground; for he was in a deep sleep; so he swooned and died.

²² Behold, as Baraq pursued Sayasaraa, Yail came out to meet him, and said to him, Come, and I will show you the man whom you seek. He came to her; and, behold, Sayasaraa lay dead, and the tent-pin was in his temples.²³ So Alahayam subdued on that day Yabayan the king of Kanain before the children of Yasharaal.

5 Then sang Dabawarah and Baraq the son of Abayanaïm on that day, saying,² For that the leaders took the lead in Yasharaal, For that the people offered themselves willingly, Bless you Yahawah.³ Hear, you kings; give ear, you princes; I, [even] I, will sing to Yahawah; I will sing praise to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.⁴ Yahawah, when you went forth out of Shaiyar, When you marched out of the field of Adawam, The earth trembled, the sky also dropped, Yes, the clouds dropped water.⁵ The mountains quaked at the presence of Yahawah, Even yon Sayanay at the presence of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.⁶ In the days of Shamagar the son of Inath, In the days of Yail, the highways were unoccupied, The travelers walked through byways.⁷ The rulers ceased in Yasharaal, they ceased, Until that I Dabawarah arose, That I arose a mother in Yasharaal.⁸ They chose new gods; Then was war in the gates: Was there a shield or spear seen Among forty thousand in Yasharaal?⁹ My heart is toward the governors of Yasharaal, Who offered themselves willingly among the people: Bless you Yahawah.¹⁰ Tell [of it], you who ride on white donkeys, You who sit on rich carpets, You who walk by the way.¹¹ Far from the noise of archers, in the places of drawing water, There shall they rehearse the righteous acts of Yahawah, [Even] the righteous acts of his rule in Yasharaal. Then the people of Yahawah went down to the gates.¹² Awake, awake, Dabawarah; Awake, awake, utter a song: Arise, Baraq, and lead away your captives, you son of Abayanaïm.¹³ Then came down a remnant of the nobles [and] the people; Yahawah came down for me against the mighty.¹⁴ Out of Aparayam [came down] they whose root is in Imalaq; After you, Banayaman, among your peoples; Out of Makayar came down governors, Out of Zabawalan those who handle the marshal's staff.¹⁵ The princes of Yashashakar were with Dabawarah; As was Yashashakar, so was Baraq; Into the valley they rushed forth at his feet. By the watercourses of Raawaban There were great resolves of heart.¹⁶ Why sat you among the sheepfolds, To hear the whistling for the flocks? At the watercourses of Raawaban There were great searchings of heart.¹⁷ Galaid abode beyond the Yaradan: Wadan, why did he remain in ships? Ashar sat still at the haven of the sea, Abode by his creeks.¹⁸ Zabawalan was a people that jeopardized their lives to the death, Napathalay, on the high places of the field.¹⁹ The kings came and fought; Then fought the kings of Kanain. In Thainak by the waters of Magadaw: They took no gain of money.

²⁰ From the sky the stars fought, From their courses they fought against Sayasaraa.²¹ The river Qayashawan swept them away, That ancient river, the river Qayashawan. My soul, march on with strength.²² Then did the horse hoofs stamp By reason of the prancings, the prancings of their strong ones.²³ Curse you Marawaz, said the angel of Yahawah. Curse you bitterly the inhabitants of it, Because they didn't come to the help of Yahawah, To the help of Yahawah against the mighty.²⁴ Blessed above women shall Yail be, The wife of Ibar the Qayan; Blessed shall she be above women in the tent.²⁵ He asked water, [and] she gave him milk; She brought him butter in a lordly dish.²⁶ She put her hand to the tent-pin, Her right hand to the workmen's hammer; With the hammer she struck Sayasaraa, she struck through his head; Yes, she pierced and struck through his temples.²⁷ At her feet he bowed, he fell, he lay; At her feet he bowed, he fell; Where he bowed, there he fell down dead.²⁸ Through the window she looked forth, and cried, The mother of Sayasaraa [cried] through the lattice, Why is his chariot so long in coming? Why do the wheels of his chariots wait?

²⁹ Her wise ladies answered her, Yes, she returned answer to herself,³⁰ Have they not found, have they not divided the spoil? A lady, two ladies to every man; To Sayasaraa a spoil of dyed garments, A spoil of dyed garments embroidered, Of dyed garments embroidered on both sides, on the necks of the spoil?³¹ So let all your enemies perish, Yahawah: But let those who love him be as the sun when he goes forth in his might. The land had rest forty years.

6 The children of Yasharaal did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah: and Yahawah delivered them into the hand of Madayan seven years.² The hand of Madayan prevailed against Yasharaal; and because of Madayan the children of Yasharaal made them the dens which are in the mountains, and the caves, and the strongholds.³ So it was, when Yasharaal had sown, that the Midianites came up, and the Amalekites, and the children of the east; they came up against them;⁴ and they encamped against them, and destroyed the increase of the earth, until you come to Izah, and left no sustenance in Yasharaal, neither sheep, nor ox, nor donkey.⁵ For they came up with their cattle and their tents; they came in as locusts for multitude; both they and their camels were without number: and they came into the land to destroy it.⁶ Yasharaal was brought very low because of Madayan; and the children of Yasharaal cried to Yahawah.⁷ It happened, when the children of Yasharaal cried to Yahawah because of Madayan,⁸ that Yahawah sent a prophet to the children of Yasharaal: and he said to them, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, I brought you up from Matzarayam, and brought you forth out of the house of bondage;⁹ and I delivered you out of the hand of the Matzarayam, and out of the hand of all who oppressed you, and drove them out from before you, and gave you their land;¹⁰ and I said to you, I am Yahawah your Alahayam; you shall not fear the gods of the Amorites, in whose land you dwell. But you have not listened to my voice.¹¹ The angel of Yahawah came, and sat under the oak which was in Iparah, that pertained to Yawaash the Abay: and his son Gadaiwan was beating out wheat in the winepress, to hide it from the Midianites.¹² The angel of Yahawah appeared to him, and said to him, Yahawah is with you, you mighty man of valor.¹³ Gadaiwan said to him, Oh, my lord, if Yahawah is with us, why then is all this befallen us? and where are all his wondrous works which our fathers told us of, saying, Did not Yahawah bring us up from Matzarayam? but now Yahawah has cast us off, and delivered us into the hand of Madayan.¹⁴ Yahawah looked at him, and said, Go in this your might, and save Yasharaal from the hand of Madayan: have not I sent you?¹⁵ He said to him, Oh, Adanay, with which shall I save Yasharaal? behold, my family is the poorest in Manashah, and I am the least in my father's house.¹⁶ Yahawah said to him, Surely I will be with you, and you shall strike the Midianites as one man.¹⁷ He said to him, If now I have found favor in your sight, then show me a sign that it is you who talk with me.¹⁸ Please don't go away, until I come to you, and bring out my present, and lay it before you. He said, I will wait until you come again.¹⁹ Gadaiwan went in, and made ready a kid, and unleavened cakes of an ephah of meal: the flesh he put in a basket, and he put the broth in a pot, and brought it out to him under the oak, and presented it.²⁰ The angel of Alahayam said to him, Take the flesh and the unleavened cakes, and lay them on this rock, and pour out the broth. He did so.²¹ Then the angel of Yahawah put forth the end of the staff that was in his hand, and touched the flesh and the unleavened cakes; and there went up fire out of the rock, and consumed the flesh and the unleavened cakes; and the angel of Yahawah departed out of his sight.²² Gadaiwan saw that he was the angel of Yahawah; and Gadaiwan said, Alas, Adanay Yahawah! because I have seen the angel of Yahawah face to face.²³ Yahawah said to him, Peace be to you; don't be afraid: you shall not die.

²⁴ Then Gadaiwan built an altar there to Yahawah, and called it Yahawah-shalom: to this day it is yet in Iparah of the Abiezrites. ²⁵ It happened the same night, that Yahawah said to him, Take your father's bull, even the second bull seven years old, and throw down the altar of Bail that your father has, and cut down the Asherah that is by it; ²⁶ and build an altar to Yahawah your Alahayam on the top of this stronghold, in the orderly manner, and take the second bull, and offer a burnt offering with the wood of the Asherah which you shall cut down. ²⁷ Then Gadaiwan took ten men of his servants, and did as Yahawah had spoken to him: and it happened, because he feared his father's household and the men of the city, so that he could not do it by day, that he did it by night. ²⁸ When the men of the city arose early in the morning, behold, the altar of Bail was broken down, and the Asherah was cut down that was by it, and the second bull was offered on the altar that was built. ²⁹ They said one to another, Who has done this thing? When they inquired and asked, they said, Gadaiwan the son of Yawaash has done this thing. ³⁰ Then the men of the city said to Yawaash, Bring out your son, that he may die, because he has broken down the altar of Bail, and because he has cut down the Asherah that was by it. ³¹ Yawaash said to all who stood against him, Will you contend for Bail? Or will you save him? he who will contend for him, let him be put to death while [it is yet] morning: if he be a god, let him contend for himself, because one has broken down his altar. ³² Therefore on that day he named him Yarabail, saying, Let Bail contend against him, because he has broken down his altar. ³³ Then all the Midianites and the Amalekites and the children of the east assembled themselves together; and they passed over, and encamped in the valley of Yazaraial. ³⁴ But the Spirit of Yahawah came on Gadaiwan; and he blew a trumpet; and Abayaizar was gathered together after him. ³⁵ He sent messengers throughout all Manashah; and they also were gathered together after him: and he sent messengers to Ashar, and to Zabawalan, and to Napathalay; and they came up to meet them. ³⁶ Gadaiwan said to Alahayam, If you will save Yasharaal by my hand, as you have spoken, ³⁷ behold, I will put a fleece of wool on the threshing floor; if there be dew on the fleece only, and it be dry on all the ground, then shall I know that you will save Yasharaal by my hand, as you have spoken. ³⁸ It was so; for he rose up early on the next day, and pressed the fleece together, and wrung the dew out of the fleece, a bowl full of water. ³⁹ Gadaiwan said to Alahayam, Don't let your anger be kindled against me, and I will speak but this once: Please let me make a trial just this once with the fleece; let it now be dry only on the fleece, and on all the ground let there be dew. ⁴⁰ Alahayam did so that night: for it was dry on the fleece only, and there was dew on all the ground.

7 Then Yarabail, who is Gadaiwan, and all the people who were with him, rose up early, and encamped beside the spring of Harod: and the camp of Madayan was on the north side of them, by the hill of Mawarah, in the valley. ² Yahawah said to Gadaiwan, The people who are with you are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hand, lest Yasharaal vaunt themselves against me, saying, My own hand has saved me. ³ Now therefore proclaim in the ears of the people, saying, Whoever is fearful and trembling, let him return and depart from Mount Galaid. There returned of the people twenty-two thousand; and there remained ten thousand. ⁴ Yahawah said to Gadaiwan, The people are yet too many; bring them down to the water, and I will try them for you there: and it shall be, that of whom I tell you, This shall go with you, the same shall go with you; and of whoever I tell you, This shall not go with you, the same shall not go. ⁵ So he brought down the people to the water: and Yahawah said to Gadaiwan, Everyone who laps of the water with his tongue, as a dog laps, him shall you set by himself; likewise everyone who bows down on his knees to drink. ⁶ The number of those who lapped, putting their hand to their mouth, was three hundred men: but all the rest of the people bowed down on their knees to drink water. ⁷ Yahawah said to Gadaiwan, By the three hundred men who lapped will I save you, and deliver the Midianites into your hand; and let all the people go every man to his place. ⁸ So the people took victuals in their hand, and their trumpets; and he sent all the men of Yasharaal every man to his tent, but retained the three hundred men: and the camp of Madayan was beneath him in the valley. ⁹ It happened the same night, that Yahawah said to him, Arise, get you down into the camp; for I have delivered it into your hand. ¹⁰ But if you fear to go down, go you with Parah your servant down to the camp: ¹¹ and you shall hear what they say; and afterward shall your hands be strengthened to go down into the camp. Then went he down with Parah his servant to the outermost part of the armed men who were in the camp. ¹² The Midianites and the Amalekites and all the children of the east lay along in the valley like locusts for multitude; and their camels were without number, as the sand which is on the sea-shore for multitude. ¹³ When Gadaiwan had come, behold, there was a man telling a dream to his fellow; and he said, Behold, I dreamed a dream; and, behold, a cake of barley bread tumbled into the camp of Madayan, and came to the tent, and struck it so that it fell, and turned it upside down, so that the tent lay flat. ¹⁴ His fellow answered, This is nothing else save the sword of Gadaiwan the son of Yawaash, a man of Yasharaal: into his hand Alahayam has delivered Madayan, and all the host. ¹⁵ It was so, when Gadaiwan heard the telling of the dream, and the interpretation of it, that he worshipped; and he returned into the camp of Yasharaal, and said, Arise; for Yahawah has delivered into your hand the host of Madayan. ¹⁶ He divided the three hundred men into three companies, and he put into the hands of all of them trumpets, and empty pitchers, with torches within the pitchers. ¹⁷ He said to them, Look on me, and do likewise: and, behold, when I come to the outermost part of the camp, it shall be that, as I do, so shall you do. ¹⁸ When I blow the trumpet, I and all who are with me, then blow you the trumpets also on every side of all the camp, and say, For Yahawah and for Gadaiwan. ¹⁹ So Gadaiwan, and the hundred men who were with him, came to the outermost part of the camp in the beginning of the middle watch, when they had but newly set the watch: and they blew the trumpets, and broke in pieces the pitchers that were in their hands. ²⁰ The three companies blew the trumpets, and broke the pitchers, and held the torches in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands with which to blow; and they cried, The sword of Yahawah and of Gadaiwan. ²¹ They stood every man in his place round about the camp; and all the host ran; and they shouted, and put [them] to flight. ²² They blew the three hundred trumpets, and Yahawah set every man's sword against his fellow, and against all the host; and the host fled as far as Bayath toward Zererah, as far as the border of Abal, by Tabath. ²³ The men of Yasharaal were gathered together out of Napathalay, and out of Ashar, and out of all Manashah, and pursued after Madayan. ²⁴ Gadaiwan sent messengers throughout all the hill-country of Aparayam, saying, Come down against Madayan, and take before them the waters, as far as Bayath, even the Yaradan. So all the men of Aparayam were gathered together, and took the waters as far as Bayath, even the Yaradan. ²⁵ They took the two princes of Madayan, Irab and Zaab; and they killed Irab at the rock of Irab, and Zaab they killed at the winepress of Zaab, and pursued Madayan: and they brought the heads of Irab and Zaab to Gadaiwan beyond the Yaradan.

8 The men of Aparayam said to him, Why have you served us thus, that you didn't call us, when you went to fight with Madayan? They did chide with him sharply. ² He said to them, What have I now done in comparison with you? Isn't the gleaning of the grapes of Aparayam better than the vintage of Abayaizar? ³ Alahayam has delivered into your hand the princes of Madayan, Irab and Zaab: and what was I able to do in comparison with you? Then their anger was abated toward him, when he had said that. ⁴ Gadaiwan came to the Yaradan, [and] passed over, he, and the three hundred men who were with him, faint, yet pursuing. ⁵ He said to the men of Sakawath, Please give loaves of bread to the people who follow me; for they are faint, and I am pursuing after Zabach and Tzalamanai, the kings of Madayan. ⁶ The princes of Sakawath said, Are the hands of Zabach and Tzalamanai now in your hand, that we should give bread to your army? ⁷ Gadaiwan said, Therefore when Yahawah has delivered Zabach and Tzalamanai into my hand, then

I will tear your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness and with briers.⁸ He went up there to Panawaal, and spoke to them in like manner; and the men of Panawaal answered him as the men of Sakawath had answered.⁹ He spoke also to the men of Panawaal, saying, When I come again in peace, I will break down this tower.¹⁰ Now Zabach and Tzalamanai were in Qaraqar, and their hosts with them, about fifteen thousand men, all who were left of all the host of the children of the east; for there fell one hundred twenty thousand men who drew sword.¹¹ Gadaiwan went up by the way of those who lived in tents on the east of Nabach and Yagabahah, and struck the host; for the host was secure.¹² Zabach and Tzalamanai fled; and he pursued after them; and he took the two kings of Madayan, Zabach and Tzalamanai, and confused all the host.¹³ Gadaiwan the son of Yawaash returned from the battle from the ascent of Charas.¹⁴ He caught a young man of the men of Sakawath, and inquired of him: and he described for him the princes of Sakawath, and the elders of it, seventy-seven men.¹⁵ He came to the men of Sakawath, and said, See Zabach and Tzalamanai, concerning whom you did taunt me, saying, Are the hands of Zabach and Tzalamanai now in your hand, that we should give bread to your men who are weary?¹⁶ He took the elders of the city, and thorns of the wilderness and briers, and with them he taught the men of Sakawath.¹⁷ He broke down the tower of Panawaal, and killed the men of the city.¹⁸ Then said he to Zabach and Tzalamanai, What manner of men were they whom you killed at Thabawar? They answered, As you are, so were they; each one resembled the children of a king.¹⁹ He said, They were my brothers, the sons of my mother: as Yahawah lives, if you had saved them alive, I would not kill you.²⁰ He said to Yathar his firstborn, Up, and kill them. But the youth didn't draw his sword; for he feared, because he was yet a youth.²¹ Then Zabach and Tzalamanai said, Rise you, and fall on us; for as the man is, so is his strength. Gadaiwan arose, and killed Zabach and Tzalamanai, and took the crescents that were on their camels' necks.²² Then the men of Yasharaal said to Gadaiwan, Rule you over us, both you, and your son, and your son's son also; for you have saved us out of the hand of Madayan.²³ Gadaiwan said to them, I will not rule over you, neither shall my son rule over you: Yahawah shall rule over you.²⁴ Gadaiwan said to them, I would make a request of you, that you would give me every man the ear-rings of his spoil. (For they had golden ear-rings, because they were Ishmaelites.)²⁵ They answered, We will willingly give them. They spread a garment, and did cast therein every man the ear-rings of his spoil.²⁶ The weight of the golden ear-rings that he requested was one thousand and seven hundred [shekels] of gold, besides the crescents, and the pendants, and the purple clothing that was on the kings of Madayan, and besides the chains that were about their camels' necks.²⁷ Gadaiwan made an ephod of it, and put it in his city, even in Iparah; and all Yasharaal played the prostitute after it there; and it became a snare to Gadaiwan, and to his house.²⁸ So Madayan was subdued before the children of Yasharaal, and they lifted up their heads no more. The land had rest forty years in the days of Gadaiwan.²⁹ Yarabail the son of Yawaash went and lived in his own house.³⁰ Gadaiwan had seventy sons conceived from his body; for he had many wives.³¹ His concubine who was in Shakam, she also bore him a son, and he named him Abayamalak.³² Gadaiwan the son of Yawaash died in a good old age, and was buried in the tomb of Yawaash his father, in Iparah of the Abiezrites.³³ It happened, as soon as Gadaiwan was dead, that the children of Yasharaal turned again, and played the prostitute after the Baals, and made Bail their god.³⁴ The children of Yasharaal didn't remember Yahawah their Alahayam, who had delivered them out of the hand of all their enemies on every side;³⁵ neither showed they kindness to the house of Yarabail, [who is] Gadaiwan, according to all the goodness which he had showed to Yasharaal.

9 Abayamalak the son of Yarabail went to Shakam to his mother's brothers, and spoke with them, and with all the family of the house of his mother's father, saying,² Please speak in the ears of all the men of Shakam, Whether is better for you, that all the sons of Yarabail, who are seventy persons, rule over you, or that one rule over you? Remember also that I am your bone and your flesh.³ His mother's brothers spoke of him in the ears of all the men of Shakam all these words: and their hearts inclined to follow Abayamalak; for they said, He is our brother.⁴ They gave him seventy [pieces] of silver out of the house of Bail, with which Abayamalak hired vain and light fellows, who followed him.⁵ He went to his father's house at Iparah, and killed his brothers the sons of Yarabail, being seventy persons, on one stone: but Yawatham the youngest son of Yarabail was left; for he hid himself.⁶ All the men of Shakam assembled themselves together, and all the house of Malawaa, and went and made Abayamalak king, by the oak of the pillar that was in Shakam.⁷ When they told it to Yawatham, he went and stood on the top of Mount Garazayam, and lifted up his voice, and cried, and said to them, Listen to me, you men of Shakam, that Alahayam may listen to you.⁸ The trees went forth on a time to anoint a king over them; and they said to the olive-tree, Reign you over us.⁹ But the olive-tree said to them, Should I leave my fatness, with which by me they honor Alahayam and man, and go to wave back and forth over the trees?¹⁰ The trees said to the fig-tree, Come you, and reign over us.¹¹ But the fig-tree said to them, Should I leave my sweetness, and my good fruit, and go to wave back and forth over the trees?¹² The trees said to the vine, Come you, and reign over us.¹³ The vine said to them, Should I leave my new wine, which cheers Alahayam and man, and go to wave back and forth over the trees?¹⁴ Then said all the trees to the bramble, Come you, and reign over us.¹⁵ The bramble said to the trees, If in truth you anoint me king over you, then come and take refuge in my shade; and if not, let fire come out of the bramble, and devour the cedars of Labanawan.¹⁶ Now therefore, if you have dealt truly and righteously, in that you have made Abayamalak king, and if you have dealt well with Yarabail and his house, and have done to him according to the deserving of his hands¹⁷ (for my father fought for you, and adventured his life, and delivered you out of the hand of Madayan:¹⁸ and you are risen up against my father's house this day, and have slain his sons, seventy persons, on one stone, and have made Abayamalak, the son of his maid-servant, king over the men of Shakam, because he is your brother);¹⁹ if you then have dealt truly and righteously with Yarabail and with his house this day, then rejoice you in Abayamalak, and let him also rejoice in you:²⁰ but if not, let fire come out from Abayamalak, and devour the men of Shakam, and the house of Malawaa; and let fire come out from the men of Shakam, and from the house of Malawaa, and devour Abayamalak.²¹ Yawatham ran away, and fled, and went to Baar, and lived there, for fear of Abayamalak his brother.²² Abayamalak was prince over Yasharaal three years.²³ Alahayam sent an evil spirit between Abayamalak and the men of Shakam; and the men of Shakam dealt treacherously with Abayamalak:²⁴ that the violence done to the seventy sons of Yarabail might come, and that their blood might be laid on Abayamalak their brother, who killed them, and on the men of Shakam, who strengthened his hands to kill his brothers.²⁵ The men of Shakam set liars-in-wait for him on the tops of the mountains, and they robbed all who came along that way by them: and it was told Abayamalak.²⁶ Gail the son of Ibad came with his brothers, and went over to Shakam; and the men of Shakam put their trust in him.²⁷ They went out into the field, and gathered their vineyards, and trod [the grapes], and held festival, and went into the house of their god, and did eat and drink, and cursed Abayamalak.²⁸ Gail the son of Ibad said, Who is Abayamalak, and who is Shakam, that we should serve him? Isn't he the son of Yarabail? and Zabal his officer? serve you the men of Chamawar the father of Shakam: but why should we serve him?²⁹ Would that this people were under my hand! then would I remove Abayamalak. He said to Abayamalak, Increase your army, and come out.³⁰ When Zabal the ruler of the city heard the words of Gail the son of Ibad, his anger was kindled.³¹ He sent messengers to Abayamalak craftily, saying, Behold, Gail the son of Ibad and his brothers are come to Shakam; and, behold, they constrain the city [to take part] against you.³² Now therefore, up by night, you and the people who are with you, and lie in wait in the field: ³³ and it shall be, that in the morning, as soon as the sun is up, you shall rise early, and rush on the city; and, behold, when he and the people who are with him come out against you, then may you do to them as you shall find occasion. ³⁴ Abayamalak rose up, and all the people who were with him, by night, and they laid wait against Shakam in four companies. ³⁵ Gail the son of Ibad went out, and stood in the entrance of the gate of the city; and Abayamalak rose up, and the people who were with him, from the ambush. ³⁶ When Gail saw the people, he said to Zabal, Behold, there come people down from the tops of the mountains. Zabal said to him, You see the shadow of the mountains as if they were men. ³⁷ Gail spoke again and said, Behold, there come people down by the middle of the land, and one company comes by the way of the oak of Meonenim. ³⁸ Then said Zabal to him, Where is now your mouth, that you said, Who is Abayamalak, that we should serve him? is not this the people that you have despised? go out now, I pray, and fight with them. ³⁹ Gail went out before the men of Shakam, and fought with Abayamalak. ⁴⁰ Abayamalak chased him, and he fled before him, and there fell many wounded, even to the entrance of the gate. ⁴¹ Abayamalak lived at Arawamah; and Zabal drove out Gail and his brothers, that they should not dwell in Shakam. ⁴² It happened on the next day, that the people went out into the field; and they told Abayamalak. ⁴³ He took the people, and divided them into three companies, and laid wait in the field; and he looked, and, behold, the people came forth out of the city; He rose up against them, and struck them. ⁴⁴ Abayamalak, and the companies that were with him, rushed forward, and stood in the entrance of the gate of the city; and the two companies rushed on all who were in the field, and struck them. ⁴⁵ Abayamalak fought against the city all that day; and he took the city, and killed the people who were therein: and he beat down the city, and sowed it with salt. ⁴⁶ When all the men of the tower of Shakam heard of it, they entered into the stronghold of the house of Elberith. ⁴⁷ It was told Abayamalak that all the men of the tower of Shakam were gathered together. ⁴⁸ Abayamalak got him up to Mount Tzalamawan, he and all the people who were with him; and Abayamalak took an ax in his hand, and cut down a bough from the trees, and took it up, and laid it on his shoulder: and he said to the people who were with him, What you have seen me do, make haste, and do as I have done. ⁴⁹ All the people likewise cut down every man his bough, and followed Abayamalak, and put them to the stronghold, and set the stronghold on fire on them; so that all the men of the tower of Shakam died also, about a thousand men and women. ⁵⁰ Then went Abayamalak to Thabatz, and encamped against Thabatz, and took it. ⁵¹ But there was a strong tower within the city, and there fled all the men and women, and all they of the city, and shut themselves in, and got them up to the roof of the tower. ⁵² Abayamalak came to the tower, and fought against it, and drew near to the door of the tower to burn it with fire. ⁵³ A certain woman cast an upper millstone on Abayamalak's head, and broke his skull. ⁵⁴ Then he called hastily to the young man his armor bearer, and said to him, Draw your sword, and kill me, that men not say of me, A woman killed him. His young man thrust him through, and he died. ⁵⁵ When the men of Yasharaal saw that Abayamalak was dead, they departed every man to his place. ⁵⁶ Thus Alahayam requited the wickedness of Abayamalak, which he did to his father, in killing his seventy brothers; ⁵⁷ and all the wickedness of the men of Shakam did Alahayam requite on their heads: and on them came the curse of Yawatham the son of Yarabail.

10 After Abayamalak there arose to save Yasharaal Thawalai the son of Pawaah, the son of Dawadaw, a man of Yashashakar; and he lived in Shamayar in the hill-country of Aparayam. ² He judged Yasharaal twenty-three years, and died, and was buried in Shamayar. ³ After him arose Yaayar, the Galaïd; and he judged Yasharaal twenty-two years. ⁴ He had thirty sons who rode on thirty donkey colts, and they had thirty cities, which are called Havvoth-Yaayar to this day, which are in the land of Galaïd. ⁵ Yaayar died, and was buried in Kamon. ⁶ The children of Yasharaal again did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, and served the Baals, and the Ishatharawath, and the gods of Aram, and the gods of Tzayadawan, and the gods of Mawaab, and the gods of the children of Imawan, and the gods of the Palashath; and they forsook Yahawah, and didn't serve him. ⁷ The anger of Yahawah was kindled against Yasharaal, and he sold them into the hand of the Palashath, and into the hand of the children of Imawan. ⁸ They vexed and oppressed the children of Yasharaal that year: eighteen years [oppressed they] all the children of Yasharaal that were beyond the Yaranan in the land of the Amorites, which is in Galaïd. ⁹ The children of Imawan passed over the Yaranan to fight also against Yahawadah, and against Banayaman, and against the house of Aparayam; so that Yasharaal was sore distressed. ¹⁰ The children of Yasharaal cried to Yahawah, saying, We have sinned against you, even because we have forsaken our Alahayam, and have served the Baals. ¹¹ Yahawah said to the children of Yasharaal, Didn't I save you from the Matzarayam, and from the Amorites, from the children of Imawan, and from the Palashath? ¹² The Sidonians also, and the Amalekites, and the Maiwan, did oppress you; and you cried to me, and I saved you out of their hand. ¹³ Yet you have forsaken me, and served other gods: why I will save you no more. ¹⁴ Go and cry to the gods which you have chosen; let them save you in the time of your distress. ¹⁵ The children of Yasharaal said to Yahawah, We have sinned: do you to us whatever seems good to you; only deliver us, we pray you, this day. ¹⁶ They put away the foreign gods from among them, and served Yahawah; and his soul was grieved for the misery of Yasharaal. ¹⁷ Then the children of Imawan were gathered together, and encamped in Galaïd. The children of Yasharaal assembled themselves together, and encamped in Mizpah. ¹⁸ The people, the princes of Galaïd, said one to another, What man is he who will begin to fight against the children of Imawan? he shall be head over all the inhabitants of Galaïd.

11 Now Yapathach the Galaïd was a mighty man of valor, and he was the son of a prostitute: and Galaïd became the father of Yapathach. ² Galaïd's wife bore him sons; and when his wife's sons grew up, they drove out Yapathach, and said to him, You shall not inherit in our father's house; for you are the son of another woman. ³ Then Yapathach fled from his brothers, and lived in the land of Tawab: and there were gathered vain fellows to Yapathach, and they went out with him. ⁴ It happened after a while, that the children of Imawan made war against Yasharaal. ⁵ It was so, that when the children of Imawan made war against Yasharaal, the elders of Galaïd went to get Yapathach out of the land of Tawab; ⁶ and they said to Yapathach, Come and be our chief, that we may fight with the children of Imawan. ⁷ Yapathach said to the elders of Galaïd, Didn't you hate me, and drive me out of my father's house? and why are you come to me now when you are in distress? ⁸ The elders of Galaïd said to Yapathach, Therefore are we turned again to you now, that you may go with us, and fight with the children of Imawan; and you shall be our head over all the inhabitants of Galaïd. ⁹ Yapathach said to the elders of Galaïd, If you bring me home again to fight with the children of Imawan, and Yahawah deliver them before me, shall I be your head? ¹⁰ The elders of Galaïd said to Yapathach, Yahawah shall be witness between us; surely according to your word so will we do. ¹¹ Then Yapathach went with the elders of Galaïd, and the people made him head and chief over them: and Yapathach spoke all his words before Yahawah in Mizpah. ¹² Yapathach sent messengers to the king of the children of Imawan, saying, What have you to do with me, that you are come to me to fight against my land? ¹³ The king of the children of Imawan answered to the messengers of Yapathach, Because Yasharaal took away my land, when he came up out of Matzarayam, from the Aranawan even to the Yabaq, and to the Yaranan: now therefore restore those [lands] again peaceably. ¹⁴ Yapathach sent messengers again to the king of the children of Imawan; ¹⁵ and he said to him, Thus says Yapathach: Yasharaal didn't take away the land of Mawaab, nor the land of the children of Imawan, ¹⁶ but when they came up from Matzarayam, and Yasharaal went through the wilderness to the Sawap, and came to

Qadash;¹⁷ then Yasharaal sent messengers to the king of Adawam, saying, Please let me pass through your land; but the king of Adawam didn't listen. In the same way, he sent to the king of Mawaab; but he would not; and Yasharaal abode in Qadash.¹⁸ Then they went through the wilderness, and went around the land of Adawam, and the land of Mawaab, and came by the east side of the land of Mawaab, and they encamped on the other side of the Aranawan; but they didn't come within the border of Mawaab, for the Aranawan was the border of Mawaab.¹⁹ Yasharaal sent messengers to Sayachawan king of the Amorites, the king of Chashabawan; and Yasharaal said to him, Let us pass, we pray you, through your land to my place.²⁰ But Sayachawan didn't trust Yasharaal to pass through his border; but Sayachawan gathered all his people together, and encamped in Yahatz, and fought against Yasharaal.²¹ Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, delivered Sayachawan and all his people into the hand of Yasharaal, and they struck them: so Yasharaal possessed all the land of the Amorites, the inhabitants of that country.²² They possessed all the border of the Amorites, from the Aranawan even to the Yabaq, and from the wilderness even to the Yaradan.²³ So now Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, has dispossessed the Amorites from before his people Yasharaal, and should you possess them?²⁴ Won't you possess that which Kamawash your god gives you to possess? So whoever Yahawah our Alahayam has dispossessed from before us, them will we possess.²⁵ Now are you anything better than Balaq the son of Tzapawar, king of Mawaab? did he ever strive against Yasharaal, or did he ever fight against them?²⁶ While Yasharaal lived in Chashabawan and its towns, and in Irair and its towns, and in all the cities that are along by the side of the Aranawan, three hundred years; why didn't you recover them within that time?²⁷ I therefore have not sinned against you, but you do me wrong to war against me: Yahawah, the Judge, be judge this day between the children of Yasharaal and the children of Imawan.²⁸ However the king of the children of Imawan didn't listen to the words of Yapathach which he sent him.²⁹ Then the Spirit of Yahawah came on Yapathach, and he passed over Galaid and Manashah, and passed over Matzapah of Galaid, and from Matzapah of Galaid he passed over to the children of Imawan.³⁰ Yapathach vowed a vow to Yahawah, and said, If you will indeed deliver the children of Imawan into my hand,³¹ then it shall be, that whatever comes forth from the doors of my house to meet me, when I return in peace from the children of Imawan, it shall be Yahawah's, and I will offer it up for a burnt offering.³² So Yapathach passed over to the children of Imawan to fight against them; and Yahawah delivered them into his hand.³³ He struck them from Irair until you come to Manayath, even twenty cities, and to Abelcheramim, with a very great slaughter. So the children of Imawan were subdued before the children of Yasharaal.³⁴ Yapathach came to Mizpah to his house; and, behold, his daughter came out to meet him with tambourines and with dances; and she was his only child; besides her he had neither son nor daughter.³⁵ It happened, when he saw her, that he tore his clothes, and said, Alas, my daughter! you have brought me very low, and you are one of those who trouble me; for I have opened my mouth to Yahawah, and I can't go back.³⁶ She said to him, My father, you have opened your mouth to Yahawah; do to me according to that which has proceeded out of your mouth, because Yahawah has taken vengeance for you on your enemies, even on the children of Imawan.³⁷ She said to her father, Let this thing be done for me: let me alone two months, that I may depart and go down on the mountains, and bewail my virginity, I and my companions.³⁸ He said, Go. He sent her away for two months: and she departed, she and her companions, and mourned her virginity on the mountains.³⁹ It happened at the end of two months, that she returned to her father, who did with her according to his vow which he had vowed: and she was a virgin. It was a custom in Yasharaal,⁴⁰ that the daughters of Yasharaal went yearly to celebrate the daughter of Yapathach the Galaid four days in a year.

12 The men of Aparayam were gathered together, and passed northward; and they said to Yapathach, Why did you pass over to fight against the children of Imawan, and didn't call us to go with you? we will burn your house on you with fire.² Yapathach said to them, I and my people were at great strife with the children of Imawan; and when I called you, you didn't save me out of their hand.³ When I saw that you didn't save me, I put my life in my hand, and passed over against the children of Imawan, and Yahawah delivered them into my hand: why then are you come up to me this day, to fight against me?⁴ Then Yapathach gathered together all the men of Galaid, and fought with Aparayam; and the men of Galaid struck Aparayam, because they said, You are fugitives of Aparayam, you Gileadites, in the midst of Aparayam, [and] in the midst of Manashah.⁵ The Gileadites took the fords of the Yaradan against the Aparayam. It was so, that when [any of] the fugitives of Aparayam said, Let me go over, the men of Galaid said to him, Are you an Ephraimite? If he said, No;⁶ then said they to him, Say now Shibboleth; and he said Sibboleth; for he couldn't manage to pronounce it right: then they laid hold on him, and killed him at the fords of the Yaradan. There fell at that time of Aparayam forty-two thousand.⁷ Yapathach judged Yasharaal six years. Then died Yapathach the Galaid, and was buried in [one of] the cities of Galaid.⁸ After him Abatzen of Bayath-lehem judged Yasharaal.⁹ He had thirty sons; and thirty daughters he sent abroad, and thirty daughters he brought in from abroad for his sons. He judged Yasharaal seven years.¹⁰ Abatzen died, and was buried at Bayath-lehem.¹¹ After him Ayalawan the Zebulunite judged Yasharaal; and he judged Yasharaal ten years.¹² Ayalawan the Zebulunite died, and was buried in Ayalawan in the land of Zabawalan.¹³ After him Ibadawan the son of Halal the Pirathonite judged Yasharaal.¹⁴ He had forty sons and thirty sons' sons, who rode on seventy donkey colts: and he judged Yasharaal eight years.¹⁵ Ibadawan the son of Halal the Pirathonite died, and was buried in Parathawan in the land of Aparayam, in the hill-country of the Amalekites.

13 The children of Yasharaal again did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah; and Yahawah delivered them into the hand of the Palashath forty years.² There was a certain man of Tzaraih, of the family of the Danay, whose name was Manawach; and his wife was barren, and didn't bear.³ The angel of Yahawah appeared to the woman, and said to her, See now, you are barren, and don't bear; but you shall conceive, and bear a son.⁴ Now therefore please beware and drink no wine nor strong drink, and don't eat any unclean thing:⁵ for, behold, you shall conceive, and bear a son; and no razor shall come on his head; for the child shall be a Nazirite to Alahayam from the womb: and he shall begin to save Yasharaal out of the hand of the Palashath.⁶ Then the woman came and told her husband, saying, A man of Alahayam came to me, and his face was like the face of the angel of Alahayam, very awesome; and I didn't ask him whence he was, neither did he tell me his name:⁷ but he said to me, Behold, you shall conceive, and bear a son; and now drink no wine nor strong drink, and eat not any unclean thing; for the child shall be a Nazirite to Alahayam from the womb to the day of his death.⁸ Then Manawach entreated Yahawah, and said, Oh, Adanay, please let the man of Alahayam whom you did send come again to us, and teach us what we shall do to the child who shall be born.⁹ Alahayam listened to the voice of Manawach; and the angel of Alahayam came again to the woman as she sat in the field: but Manawach, her husband, wasn't with her.¹⁰ The woman made haste, and ran, and told her husband, and said to him, Behold, the man has appeared to me, who came to me the [other] day.¹¹ Manawach arose, and went after his wife, and came to the man, and said to him, Are you the man who spoke to the woman? He said, I am.¹² Manawach said, Now let your words happen: what shall be the ordering of the child, and [how] shall we do to him?¹³ The angel of Yahawah said to Manawach, Of all that I said to the woman let her beware.¹⁴ She may not eat of anything that comes of the vine, neither let her drink wine or strong drink, nor eat any unclean thing; all that I commanded her let her observe.¹⁵ Manawach said to the angel of Yahawah, I pray you, let us detain you, that we may make ready a kid for you.¹⁶ The angel of Yahawah said to Manawach, Though you detain me, I won't eat of your bread; and if you will make ready a burnt offering, you must offer it to Yahawah. For Manawach didn't know that he was the angel of Yahawah.¹⁷ Manawach said to the angel of Yahawah, What is your name, that when your words happen, we may honor you?¹⁸ The angel of Yahawah said to him, Why ask you after my name, seeing it is wonderful?¹⁹ So Manawach took the kid with the meal-offering, and offered it on the rock to Yahawah: and [the angel] did wondrously, and Manawach and his wife looked on.²⁰ For it happened, when the flame went up toward the sky from off the altar, that the angel of Yahawah ascended in the flame of the altar: and Manawach and his wife looked on; and they fell on their faces to the ground.²¹ But the angel of Yahawah did no more appear to Manawach or to his wife. Then Manawach knew that he was the angel of Yahawah.²² Manawach said to his wife, We shall surely die, because we have seen Alahayam.²³ But his wife said to him, If Yahawah were pleased to kill us, he wouldn't have received a burnt offering and a meal-offering at our hand, neither would he have showed us all these things, nor would at this time have told such things as these.²⁴ The woman bore a son, and named him Shamashawan: and the child grew, and Yahawah blessed him.²⁵ The Spirit of Yahawah began to move him in Dan, between Tzaraih and Ashathaal.

14 Shamashawan went down to Thamanath, and saw a woman in Thamanath of the daughters of the Palashath.² He came up, and told his father and his mother, and said, I have seen a woman in Thamanath of the daughters of the Palashath: now therefore get her for me as wife.³ Then his father and his mother said to him, Is there never a woman among the daughters of your brothers, or among all my people, that you go to take a wife of the uncircumcised Palashath? Shamashawan said to his father, Get her for me; for she pleases me well.⁴ But his father and his mother didn't know that it was of Yahawah; for he sought an occasion against the Palashath. Now at that time the Palashath had rule over Yasharaal.⁵ Then went Shamashawan down, and his father and his mother, to Thamanath, and came to the vineyards of Thamanath: and, behold, a young lion roared against him.⁶ The Spirit of Yahawah came mightily on him, and he tore him as he would have torn a kid; and he had nothing in his hand: but he didn't tell his father or his mother what he had done.⁷ He went down, and talked with the woman, and she pleased Shamashawan well.⁸ After a while he returned to take her; and he turned aside to see the carcass of the lion: and, behold, there was a swarm of bees in the body of the lion, and honey.⁹ He took it into his hands, and went on, eating as he went; and he came to his father and mother, and gave to them, and they ate: but he didn't tell them that he had taken the honey out of the body of the lion.¹⁰ His father went down to the woman: and Shamashawan made there a feast; for so used the young men to do.¹¹ It happened, when they saw him, that they brought thirty companions to be with him.¹² Shamashawan said to them, Let me now put forth a riddle to you: if you can declare it to me within the seven days of the feast, and find it out, then I will give you thirty linen garments and thirty changes of clothing;¹³ but if you can't declare it to me, then shall you give me thirty linen garments and thirty changes of clothing. They said to him, Pawat forth your riddle, that we may hear it.¹⁴ He said to them, Out of the eater came forth food, Out of the strong came forth sweetness. They couldn't in three days declare the riddle.¹⁵ It happened on the seventh day, that they said to Shamashawan's wife, Entice your husband, that he may declare to us the riddle, lest we burn you and your father's house with fire: have you called us to impoverish us? is it not [so]?¹⁶ Shamashawan's wife wept before him, and said, You do but hate me, and don't love me: you have put forth a riddle to the children of my people, and haven't told it me. He said to her, Behold, I haven't told it my father nor my mother, and shall I tell you?¹⁷ She wept before him the seven days, while their feast lasted: and it happened on the seventh day, that he told her, because she pressed him sore; and she told the riddle to the children of her people.¹⁸ The men of the city said to him on the seventh day before the sun went down,

What is sweeter than honey? and what is stronger than a lion? He said to them, If you hadn't plowed with my heifer, You wouldn't have found out my riddle.¹⁹ The Spirit of Yahawah came mightily on him, and he went down to Ashaqalawan, and struck thirty men of them, and took their spoil, and gave the changes [of clothing] to those who declared the riddle. His anger was kindled, and he went up to his father's house.²⁰ But Shamashawan's wife was [given] to his companion, whom he had used as his friend.

15 But it happened after a while, in the time of wheat harvest, that Shamashawan visited his wife with a kid; and he said, I will go in to my wife into the chamber. But her father wouldn't allow him to go in.² Her father said, I most assuredly thought that you had utterly hated her; therefore I gave her to your companion: isn't her younger sister more beautiful than she? Please take her, instead.³ Shamashawan said to them, This time shall I be blameless in regard of the Palashath, when I do them a mischief.⁴ Shamashawan went and caught three hundred foxes, and took firebrands, and turned tail to tail, and put a firebrand in the midst between every two tails.⁵ When he had set the brands on fire, he let them go into the standing grain of the Palashath, and burnt up both the shocks and the standing grain, and also the olive groves.⁶ Then the Palashath said, Who has done this? They said, Shamashawan, the son-in-law of the Thamanay, because he has taken his wife, and given her to his companion. The Palashath came up, and burnt her and her father with fire.⁷ Shamashawan said to them, If you do after this manner, surely I will be avenged of you, and after that I will cease.⁸ He struck them hip and thigh with a great slaughter: and he went down and lived in the cleft of the rock of Iyatam.⁹ Then the Palashath went up, and encamped in Yahawadah, and spread themselves in Lachay.¹⁰ The men of Yahawadah said, Why are you come up against us? They said, To bind Shamashawan are we come up, to do to him as he has done to us.¹¹ Then three thousand men of Yahawadah went down to the cleft of the rock of Iyatam, and said to Shamashawan, "Don't you know that the Palashath are rulers over us? What then is this that you have done to us?" He said to them, As they did to me, so have I done to them.¹² They said to him, We have come down to bind you, that we may deliver you into the hand of the Palashath. Shamashawan said to them, Swear to me that you will not fall on me yourselves.¹³ They spoke to him, saying, No; but we will bind you fast, and deliver you into their hand: but surely we will not kill you. They bound him with two new ropes, and brought him up from the rock.¹⁴ When he came to Lachay, the Palashath shouted as they met him: and the Spirit of Yahawah came mightily on him, and the ropes that were on his arms became as flax that was burnt with fire, and his hands dropped from off his hands.¹⁵ He found a fresh jawbone of a donkey, and put forth his hand, and took it, and struck a thousand men therewith.¹⁶ Shamashawan said, With the jawbone of a donkey, heaps on heaps, With the jawbone of a donkey I have struck a thousand men.¹⁷ It happened, when he had made an end of speaking, that he cast away the jawbone out of his hand; and that place was called Lachay.¹⁸ He was very thirsty, and called on Yahawah, and said, You have given this great deliverance by the hand of your servant; and now shall I die for thirst, and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised.¹⁹ But Alahayam split the hollow place that is in Lachay, and water came out of it. When he had drunk, his spirit came again, and he revived: why the name of it was called En-hakkore, which is in Lachay, to this day.²⁰ He judged Yasharaal in the days of the Palashath twenty years.

16 Shamashawan went to Izah, and saw there a prostitute, and went in to her.² [It was told] the Gazites, saying, Shamashawan is come here. They compassed him in, and laid wait for him all night in the gate of the city, and were quiet all the night, saying, [Let be] until morning light, then we will kill him.³ Shamashawan lay until midnight, and arose at midnight, and laid hold of the doors of the gate of the city, and the two posts, and plucked them up, bar and all, and put them on his shoulders, and carried them up to the top of the mountain that is before Chabarawan.⁴ It came to pass afterward, that he loved a woman in the valley of Sharaq, whose name was

Dalayalah.⁵ The lords of the Palashath came up to her, and said to her, Entice him, and see in which his great strength lies, and by what means we may prevail against him, that we may bind him to afflict him: and we will each give you of us eleven hundred [pieces] of silver.⁶ Dalayalah said to Shamashawan, Tell me, Please, in which your great strength lies, and with which you might be bound to afflict you.⁷ Shamashawan said to her, If they bind me with seven green cords that were never dried, then shall I become weak, and be as another man.⁸ Then the lords of the Palashath brought up to her seven green cords which had not been dried, and she bound him with them.⁹ Now she had liers-in-wait abiding in the inner chamber. She said to him, The Palashath are on you, Shamashawan. He broke the cords, as a string of tow is broken when it touches the fire. So his strength was not known.¹⁰ Dalayalah said to Shamashawan, Behold, you have mocked me, and told me lies: now tell me, Please, with which you might be bound.¹¹ He said to her, If they only bind me with new ropes with which no work has been done, then shall I become weak, and be as another man.¹² So Dalayalah took new ropes, and bound him therewith, and said to him, The Palashath are on you, Shamashawan. The liers-in-wait were abiding in the inner chamber. He broke them off his arms like a thread.¹³ Dalayalah said to Shamashawan, Hitherto you have mocked me, and told me lies: tell me with which you might be bound. He said to her, If you weave the seven locks of my head with the web.¹⁴ She fastened it with the pin, and said to him, The Palashath are on you, Shamashawan. He awakened out of his sleep, and plucked away the pin of the beam, and the web.¹⁵ She said to him, How can you say, I love you, when your heart is not with me? you have mocked me these three times, and have not told me in which your great strength lies.¹⁶ It happened, when she pressed him daily with her words, and urged him, that his soul was vexed to death.¹⁷ He told her all his heart, and said to her, "No razor has ever come on my head; for I have been a Nazirite to Alahayam from my mother's womb. If I am shaved, then my strength will go from me, and I will become weak, and be like any other man."¹⁸ When Dalayalah saw that he had told her all his heart, she sent and called for the lords of the Palashath, saying, Come up this once, for he has told me all his heart. Then the lords of the Palashath came up to her, and brought the money in their hand.¹⁹ She made him sleep on her knees; and she called for a man, and shaved off the seven locks of his head; and she began to afflict him, and his strength went from him.²⁰ She said, The Palashath are on you, Shamashawan. He awoke out of his sleep, and said, I will go out as at other times, and shake myself free. But he didn't know that Yahawah had departed from him.²¹ The Palashath laid hold on him, and put out his eyes; and they brought him down to Izah, and bound him with fetters of brass; and he did grind in the prison-house.²² However the hair of his head began to grow again after he was shaved.²³ The lords of the Palashath gathered them together to offer a great sacrifice to Dagawan their god, and to rejoice; for they said, Our god has delivered Shamashawan our enemy into our hand.²⁴ When the people saw him, they praised their god; for they said, Our god has delivered into our hand our enemy, and the destroyer of our country, who has slain many of us.²⁵ It happened, when their hearts were merry, that they said, Call for Shamashawan, that he may make us sport. They called for Shamashawan out of the prison-house; and he made sport before them. They set him between the pillars:²⁶ and Shamashawan said to the boy who held him by the hand, Allow me that I may feel the pillars whereupon the house rests, that I may lean on them.²⁷ Now the house was full of men and women; and all the lords of the Palashath were there; and there were on the roof about three thousand men and women, who saw while Shamashawan made sport.²⁸ Shamashawan called to Yahawah, and said, Adanay Yahawah, remember me, Please, and strengthen me, Please, only this once, Alahayam, that I may be at once avenged of the Palashath for my two eyes.²⁹ Shamashawan took hold of the two middle pillars on which the house rested, and leaned on them, the one with his right hand, and the other with his left.³⁰ Shamashawan said, Let me die with the Palashath. He bowed himself with all his might; and the house fell on the lords, and on all the people who were therein. So the dead that he killed at his death were more than those who he killed in his life.³¹ Then his brothers and all the house of his father came down, and took him, and brought him up, and buried him between Tzaraih and Ashathaal in the burying-place of Manawach his father. He judged Yasharaal twenty years.

17 There was a man of the hill-country of Aparayam, whose name was Mayakah.² He said to his mother, The eleven hundred [pieces] of silver that were taken from you, about which you did utter a curse, and did also speak it in my ears, behold, the silver is with me; I took it. His mother said, Blessed be my son of Yahawah.³ He restored the eleven hundred [pieces] of silver to his mother; and his mother said, I most assuredly dedicate the silver to Yahawah from my hand for my son, to make an engraved image and a molten image: now therefore I will restore it to you.⁴ When he restored the money to his mother, his mother took two hundred [pieces] of silver, and gave them to the founder, who made of it an engraved image and a molten image: and it was in the house of Mayakah.⁵ The man Mayakah had a house of gods, and he made an ephod, and teraphim, and consecrated one of his sons, who became his priest.⁶ In those days there was no king in Yasharaal: every man did that which was right in his own eyes.⁷ There was a young man out of Bayath-lehem-Yahawadah, of the family of Yahawadah, who was a Levite; and he sojourned there.⁸ The man departed out of the city, out of Bayath-lehem-Yahawadah, to sojourn where he could find [a place], and he came to the hill-country of Aparayam to the house of Mayakah, as he journeyed.⁹ Mayakah said to him, Whence come you? He said to him, I am a Levite of Bayath-lehem-Yahawadah, and I go to sojourn where I may find [a place].¹⁰ Mayakah said to him, Dwell with me, and be to me a father and a priest, and I will give you ten [pieces] of silver by the year, and a suit of clothing, and your victuals. So the Levite went in.¹¹ The Levite was content to dwell with the man; and the young man was to him as one of his sons.¹² Mayakah consecrated the Levite, and the young man became his priest, and was in the house of Mayakah.¹³ Then said Mayakah, Now know I that Yahawah will do me good, seeing I have a Levite to my priest.

18 In those days there was no king in Yasharaal: and in those days the tribe of the Danay sought them an inheritance to dwell in; for to that day [their] inheritance had not fallen to them among the tribes of Yasharaal.² The children of Wadan sent of their family five men from their whole number, men of valor, from Tzaraih, and from Ashathaal, to spy out the land, and to search it; and they said to them, Go, search the land. They came to the hill-country of Aparayam, to the house of Mayakah, and lodged there.³ When they were by the house of Mayakah, they knew the voice of the young man the Levite; and they turned aside there, and said to him, Who brought you here? and what do you in this place? and what have you here?⁴ He said to them, Thus and thus has Mayakah dealt with me, and he has hired me, and I am become his priest.⁵ They said to him, Ask counsel, we pray you, of Alahayam, that we may know whether our way which we go shall be prosperous.⁶ The priest said to them, Go in peace: before Yahawah is your way wherein you go.⁷ Then the five men departed, and came to Layash, and saw the people who were therein, how they lived in security, after the manner of the Sidonians, quiet and secure; for there was none in the land, possessing authority, that might put [them] to shame in anything, and they were far from the Sidonians, and had no dealings with any man.⁸ They came to their brothers to Tzaraih and Ashathaal: and their brothers said to them, What [say] you?⁹ They said, Arise, and let us go up against them; for we have seen the land, and, behold, it is very good: and are you still? don't be slothful to go and to enter in to possess the land.¹⁰ When you go, you shall come to a people secure, and the land is large; for Alahayam has given it into your hand, a place where there is no want of anything that is in the earth.¹¹ There set forth from there of the family of the Danay, out of Tzaraih and out of Ashathaal, six hundred men girt with weapons of war.¹² They went up, and

¹³ They passed there to the hill-country of Aparayam, and came to the house of Mayakah. ¹⁴ Then the five men who went to spy out the country of Layash answered, and said to their brothers, Do you know that there is in these houses an ephod, and teraphim, and an engraved image, and a molten image? now therefore consider what you have to do. ¹⁵ They turned aside there, and came to the house of the young man the Levite, even to the house of Mayakah, and asked him of his welfare. ¹⁶ The six hundred men girt with their weapons of war, who were of the children of Wadan, stood by the entrance of the gate. ¹⁷ The five men who went to spy out the land went up, and came in there, and took the engraved image, and the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image: and the priest stood by the entrance of the gate with the six hundred men girt with weapons of war. ¹⁸ When these went into Mayakah's house, and fetched the engraved image, the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image, the priest said to them, What do you? ¹⁹ They said to him, Hold your peace, lay your hand on your mouth, and go with us, and be to us a father and a priest: is it better for you to be priest to the house of one man, or to be priest to a tribe and a family in Yasharaal? ²⁰ The priest's heart was glad, and he took the ephod, and the teraphim, and the engraved image, and went in the midst of the people. ²¹ So they turned and departed, and put the little ones and the cattle and the goods before them. ²² When they were a good way from the house of Mayakah, the men who were in the houses near to Mayakah's house were gathered together, and overtook the children of Wadan. ²³ They cried to the children of Wadan. They turned their faces, and said to Mayakah, What ails you, that you come with such a company? ²⁴ He said, you have taken away my gods which I made, and the priest, and are gone away, and what have I more? and how then say you to me, What ails you? ²⁵ The children of Wadan said to him, "Don't let your voice be heard among us, lest angry fellows fall on you, and you lose your life, with the lives of your household." ²⁶ The children of Wadan went their way: and when Mayakah saw that they were too strong for him, he turned and went back to his house. ²⁷ They took that which Mayakah had made, and the priest whom he had, and came to Layash, to a people quiet and secure, and struck them with the edge of the sword; and they burnt the city with fire. ²⁸ There was no deliverer, because it was far from Tzayadawan, and they had no dealings with any man; and it was in the valley that lies by Bayath. They built the city, and lived therein. ²⁹ They called the name of the city Wadan, after the name of Wadan their father, who was born to Yasharaal: however the name of the city was Layash at the first. ³⁰ The children of Wadan set up for themselves the engraved image: and Yahawanathan, the son of Garashawan, the son of Mashah, he and his sons were priests to the tribe of the Danay until the day of the captivity of the land. ³¹ So they set them up Mayakah's engraved image which he made, all the time that the house of Alahayam was in Shalah.

19 It happened in those days, when there was no king in Yasharaal, that there was a certain Levite sojourning on the farther side of the hill-country of Aparayam, who took to him a concubine out of Bayath-lehem-Yahawadah. ² His concubine played the prostitute against him, and went away from him to her father's house to Bayath-lehem-Yahawadah, and was there the space of four months. ³ Her husband arose, and went after her, to speak kindly to her, to bring her again, having his servant with him, and a couple of donkeys: and she brought him into her father's house; and when the father of the young lady saw him, he rejoiced to meet him. ⁴ His father-in-law, the young lady's father, retained him; and he abode with him three days: so they ate and drink, and lodged there. ⁵ It happened on the fourth day, that they arose early in the morning, and he rose up to depart: and the young lady's father said to his son-in-law, Strengthen your heart with a morsel of bread, and afterward you shall go your way. ⁶ So they sat down, and ate and drink, both of them together: and the young lady's father said to the man, Please be pleased to stay all night, and let your heart be merry.

⁷ The man rose up to depart; but his father-in-law urged him, and he lodged there again. ⁸ He arose early in the morning on the fifth day to depart; and the young lady's father said, Please strengthen your heart and stay until the day declines; and they ate, both of them.

⁹ When the man rose up to depart, he, and his concubine, and his servant, his father-in-law, the young lady's father, said to him, Behold, now the day draws toward evening, please stay all night: behold, the day grows to an end, lodge here, that your heart may be merry; and tomorrow get you early on your way, that you may go home. ¹⁰ But the man wouldn't stay that night, but he rose up and departed, and came over against Yabawas (the same is Yarawashalam); and there were with him a couple of donkeys saddled; his concubine also was with him. ¹¹ When they were by Yabawas, the day was far spent; and the servant said to his master, Please come and let us turn aside into this city of the Jebusites, and lodge in it. ¹² His master said to him, We won't turn aside into the city of a foreigner, that is not of the children of Yasharaal; but we will pass over to Gabaih. ¹³ He said to his servant, Come and let us draw near to one of these places; and we will lodge in Gabaih, or in Ramah. ¹⁴ So they passed on and went their way; and the sun went down on them near to Gabaih, which belongs to Banayaman. ¹⁵ They turned aside there, to go in to lodge in Gabaih: and he went in, and sat him down in the street of the city; for there was no man who took them into his house to lodge. ¹⁶ Behold, there came an old man from his work out of the field at even: now the man was of the hill-country of Aparayam, and he sojourned in Gabaih; but the men of the place were Benjamites. ¹⁷ He lifted up his eyes, and saw the wayfaring man in the street of the city; and the old man said, Where go you? and whence come you? ¹⁸ He said to him, We are passing from Bayath-lehem-Yahawadah to the farther side of the hill-country of Aparayam; from there am I, and I went to Bayath-lehem-Yahawadah: and I am [now] going to the house of Yahawah; and there is no man who takes me into his house. ¹⁹ Yet there is both straw and provender for our donkeys; and there is bread and wine also for me, and for your handmaid, and for the young man who is with your servants: there is no want of anything.

²⁰ The old man said, Peace be to you; howsoever let all your wants lie on me; only don't lodge in the street. ²¹ So he brought him into his house, and gave the donkeys fodder; and they washed their feet, and ate and drink. ²² As they were making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the city, certain base fellows, beset the house round about, beating at the door; and they spoke to the master of the house, the old man, saying, Bring forth the man who came into your house, that we may know him. ²³ The man, the master of the house, went out to them, and said to them, No, my brothers, please don't act so wickedly; seeing that this man is come into my house, don't do this folly. ²⁴ Behold, here is my daughter a virgin, and his concubine; them I will bring out now, and humble you them, and do with them what seems good to you: but to this man don't do any such folly. ²⁵ But the men wouldn't listen to him: so the man laid hold on his concubine, and brought her forth to them; and they knew her, and abused her all the night until the morning: and when the day began to spring, they let her go. ²⁶ Then came the woman in the dawning of the day, and fell down at the door of the man's house where her lord was, until it was light. ²⁷ Her lord rose up in the morning, and opened the doors of the house, and went out to go his way; and, behold, the woman his concubine was fallen down at the door of the house, with her hands on the threshold. ²⁸ He said to her, Up, and let us be going; but none answered: then he took her up on the donkey; and the man rose up, and got him to his place. ²⁹ When he was come into his house, he took a knife, and laid hold on his concubine, and divided her, limb by limb, into twelve pieces, and sent her throughout all the borders of Yasharaal. ³⁰ It was so, that all who saw it said, There was no such deed done nor seen from the day that the children of Yasharaal came up out of the land of Matzarayam to this day: consider it, take counsel, and speak.

20 Then all the children of Yasharaal went out, and the congregation was assembled as one man, from Wadan even to Beersheba, with the land of Galaid, to Yahawah at Mizpah. ² The chiefs of all the people, even of all the tribes of Yasharaal, presented themselves in the assembly of the people of Alahayam, four hundred thousand footmen who drew sword.³ (Now the children of Banayaman heard that the children of Yasharaal had gone up to Mizpah.) The children of Yasharaal said, Tell us, how was this wickedness brought to pass?⁴ The Levite, the husband of the woman who was murdered, answered, I came into Gabaih that belongs to Banayaman, I and my concubine, to lodge.⁵ The men of Gabaih rose against me, and beset the house round about me by night; me they thought to have slain, and my concubine they forced, and she is dead.⁶ I took my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and sent her throughout all the country of the inheritance of Yasharaal; for they have committed lewdness and folly in Yasharaal.⁷ Behold, you children of Yasharaal, all of you, give here your advice and counsel.⁸ All the people arose as one man, saying, We will not any of us go to his tent, neither will we any of us turn to his house.⁹ But now this is the thing which we will do to Gabaih: [we will go up] against it by lot;¹⁰ and we will take ten men of one hundred throughout all the tribes of Yasharaal, and one hundred of one thousand, and a thousand out of ten thousand, to get victuals for the people, that they may do, when they come to Gabaih of Banayaman, according to all the folly that they have worked in Yasharaal.¹¹ So all the men of Yasharaal were gathered against the city, knit together as one man.¹² The tribes of Yasharaal sent men through all the tribe of Banayaman, saying, What wickedness is this that is happen among you?¹³ Now therefore deliver up the men, the base fellows, who are in Gabaih, that we may put them to death, and put away evil from Yasharaal. But Banayaman would not listen to the voice of their brothers the children of Yasharaal.¹⁴ The children of Banayaman gathered themselves together out of the cities to Gabaih, to go out to battle against the children of Yasharaal.¹⁵ The children of Banayaman were numbered on that day out of the cities twenty-six thousand men who drew the sword, besides the inhabitants of Gabaih, who were numbered seven hundred chosen men.¹⁶ Among all this people there were seven hundred chosen men left-handed; everyone could sling stones at a hair-breadth, and not miss.¹⁷ The men of Yasharaal, besides Banayaman, were numbered four hundred thousand men who drew sword: all these were men of war.¹⁸ The children of Yasharaal arose, and went up to Bethel, and asked counsel of Alahayam; and they said, Who shall go up for us first to battle against the children of Banayaman? Yahawah said, Yahawadah [shall go up] first.¹⁹ The children of Yasharaal rose up in the morning, and encamped against Gabaih.²⁰ The men of Yasharaal went out to battle against Banayaman; and the men of Yasharaal set the battle in array against them at Gabaih.²¹ The children of Banayaman came forth out of Gabaih, and destroyed down to the ground of the Israelites on that day Twenty-two thousand men.²² The people, the men of Yasharaal, encouraged themselves, and set the battle again in array in the place where they set themselves in array the first day.²³ The children of Yasharaal went up and wept before Yahawah until even; and they asked of Yahawah, saying, Shall I again draw near to battle against the children of Banayaman my brother? Yahawah said, Go up against him.²⁴ The children of Yasharaal came near against the children of Banayaman the second day.²⁵ Banayaman went forth against them out of Gabaih the second day, and destroyed down to the ground of the children of Yasharaal again eighteen thousand men; all these drew the sword.²⁶ Then all the children of Yasharaal, and all the people, went up, and came to Bethel, and wept, and sat there before Yahawah, and fasted that day until even; and they offered burnt-offerings and peace-offerings before Yahawah.²⁷ The children of Yasharaal asked of Yahawah (for the ark of the covenant of Alahayam was there in those days,²⁸ and Payanachas, the son of Alaizar, the son of Aharan, stood before it in those days), saying, Shall I yet again go out to battle against the children of Banayaman my brother, or shall I cease? Yahawah said, Go up; for tomorrow I will deliver him into your hand.²⁹ Yasharaal set liers-in-wait against Gabaih round about.³⁰ The children of Yasharaal went up against the children of

Banayaman on the third day, and set themselves in array against Gabaih, as at other times.³¹ The children of Banayaman went out against the people, and were drawn away from the city; and they began to strike and kill of the people, as at other times, in the highways, of which one goes up to Bethel, and the other to Gabaih, in the field, about thirty men of Yasharaal.³² The children of Banayaman said, They are struck down before us, as at the first. But the children of Yasharaal said, Let us flee, and draw them away from the city to the highways.³³ All the men of Yasharaal rose up out of their place, and set themselves in array at Bail: and the liers-in-wait of Yasharaal broke forth out of their place, even out of Maareh-Gabai.³⁴ There came over against Gabaih ten thousand chosen men out of all Yasharaal, and the battle was sore; but they didn't know that evil was close on them.³⁵ Yahawah struck Banayaman before Yasharaal; and the children of Yasharaal destroyed of Banayaman that day twenty-five thousand one hundred men: all these drew the sword.³⁶ So the children of Banayaman saw that they were struck; for the men of Yasharaal gave place to Banayaman, because they trusted to the liers-in-wait whom they had set against Gabaih.³⁷ The liers-in-wait hurried, and rushed on Gabaih; and the liers-in-wait drew themselves along, and struck all the city with the edge of the sword.³⁸ Now the appointed sign between the men of Yasharaal and the liers-in-wait was that they should make a great cloud of smoke rise up out of the city.³⁹ The men of Yasharaal turned in the battle, and Banayaman began to strike and kill of the men of Yasharaal about thirty persons; for they said, Surely they are struck down before us, as in the first battle.⁴⁰ But when the cloud began to arise up out of the city in a pillar of smoke, the Benjamites looked behind them; and, behold, the whole of the city went up in smoke to the sky.⁴¹ The men of Yasharaal turned, and the men of Banayaman were dismayed; for they saw that evil had come on them.⁴² Therefore they turned their backs before the men of Yasharaal to the way of the wilderness; but the battle followed hard after them; and those who came out of the cities destroyed them in the midst of it.⁴³ They enclosed the Benjamites round about, [and] chased them, [and] trod them down at [their] resting-place, as far as over against Gabaih toward the sunrise.⁴⁴ There fell of Banayaman eighteen thousand men; all these [were] men of valor.⁴⁵ They turned and fled toward the wilderness to the rock of Ramawan: and they gleaned of them in the highways five thousand men, and followed hard after them to Gadaim, and struck of them two thousand men.⁴⁶ So that all who fell that day of Banayaman were twenty-five thousand men who drew the sword; all these [were] men of valor.⁴⁷ But six hundred men turned and fled toward the wilderness to the rock of Ramawan, and abode in the rock of Ramawan four months.⁴⁸ The men of Yasharaal turned again on the children of Banayaman, and struck them with the edge of the sword, both the entire city, and the cattle, and all that they found: moreover all the cities which they found they set on fire.

21 Now the men of Yasharaal had sworn in Mizpah, saying, There shall not any of us give his daughter to Banayaman as wife.² The people came to Bethel, and sat there until evening before Alahayam, and lifted up their voices, and wept sore.³ They said, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, why has this happened in Yasharaal, that there should be today one tribe lacking in Yasharaal?⁴ It happened on the next day that the people rose early, and built there an altar, and offered burnt offerings and peace-offerings.⁵ The children of Yasharaal said, Who is there among all the tribes of Yasharaal who didn't come up in the assembly to Yahawah? For they had made a great oath concerning him who didn't come up to Yahawah to Mizpah, saying, He shall surely be put to death.⁶ The children of Yasharaal repented them for Banayaman their brother, and said, There is one tribe cut off from Yasharaal this day.⁷ How shall we do for wives for those who remain, seeing we have sworn by Yahawah that we will not give them of our daughters to wives?⁸ They said, What one is there of the tribes of Yasharaal who didn't come up to Yahawah to Mizpah? Behold, there came none to the camp from Jabesh-Galaid to the assembly.⁹ For when the people were numbered, behold, there were none of the inhabitants of Jabesh-Galaid there.¹⁰ The congregation sent there twelve thousand men of the most valiant, and commanded them, saying, Go and strike the inhabitants of Jabesh-Galaid with the edge of the sword, with the women and the little ones.¹¹ This is the thing that you shall do: you shall utterly destroy every male, and every woman who has lain by man.¹² They found among the inhabitants of Jabesh-Galaid four hundred young virgins, who had not known man by lying with him; and they brought them to the camp to Shalah, which is in the land of Kanain.¹³ The whole congregation sent and spoke to the children of Banayaman who were in the rock of Ramawan, and proclaimed peace to them.¹⁴ Banayaman returned at that time; and they gave them the women whom they had saved alive of the women of Jabesh-Galaid: and yet so they weren't enough for them.¹⁵ The people repented them for Banayaman, because that Yahawah had made a breach in the tribes of Yasharaal.¹⁶ Then the elders of the congregation said, How shall we do for wives for those who remain, seeing the women are destroyed out of Banayaman?¹⁷ They said, There must be an inheritance for those who are escaped of Banayaman, that a tribe not be blotted out from Yasharaal.¹⁸ However we may not give them wives of our daughters, for the children of Yasharaal had sworn, saying, Cursed be he who gives a wife to Banayaman.¹⁹ They said, Behold, there is a feast of Yahawah from year to year in Shalah, which is on the north of Bethel, on the east side of the highway that goes up from Bethel to Shakam, and on the south of Labawanah.²⁰ They commanded the children of Banayaman, saying, Go and lie in wait in the vineyards,²¹ and see, and, behold, if the daughters of Shalah come out to dance in the dances, then come you out of the vineyards, and catch you every man his wife of the daughters of Shalah, and go to the land of Banayaman.²² It shall be, when their fathers or their brothers come to complain to us, that we will say to them, Grant them graciously to us, because we didn't take for each man his wife in battle, neither did you give them to them, else would you now be guilty.²³ The children of Banayaman did so, and took them wives, according to their number, of those who danced, whom they carried off: and they went and returned to their inheritance, and built the cities, and lived in them.²⁴ The children of Yasharaal departed there at that time, every man to his tribe and to his family, and they went out from there every man to his inheritance.²⁵ In those days there was no king in Yasharaal: every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

1 It happened in the days when the judges judged, that there was a famine in the land. A certain man of Bayathalacham-Yahawadah went to sojourn in the country of Mawaab, he, and his wife, and his two sons. ² The name of the man was Alayamalak, and the name of his wife Naimay, and the name of his two sons Machalawan and Kalayawan, Ephrathites of Bayathalacham-Yahawadah. They came into the country of Mawaab, and continued there. ³ Alayamalak, Naimay's husband, died; and she was left, and her two sons. ⁴ They took them wives of the women of Mawaab; the name of the one was Irapah, and the name of the other Rawath: and they lived there about ten years. ⁵ Machalawan and Kalayawan died both of them; and the woman was left of her two children and of her husband. ⁶ Then she arose with her daughters-in-law, that she might return from the country of Mawaab: for she had heard in the country of Mawaab how that Yahawah had visited his people in giving them bread. ⁷ She went forth out of the place where she was, and her two daughters-in-law with her; and they went on the way to return to the land of Yahawadah. ⁸ Naimay said to her two daughters-in-law, Go, return each of you to her mother's house: Yahawah deal kindly with you, as you have dealt with the dead, and with me. ⁹ Yahawah grant you that you may find rest, each of you in the house of her husband. Then she kissed them, and they lifted up their voice, and wept. ¹⁰ They said to her, No, but we will return with you to your people. ¹¹ Naimay said, Turn again, my daughters: why will you go with me? have I yet sons in my womb, that they may be your husbands? ¹² Turn again, my daughters, go your way; for I am too old to have a husband. If I should say, I have hope, if I should even have a husband tonight, and should also bear sons; ¹³ would you therefore wait until they were grown? would you therefore stay from having husbands? nay, my daughters, for it grieves me much for your sakes, for the hand of Yahawah is gone forth against me. ¹⁴ They lifted up their voice, and wept again: and Irapah kissed her mother-in-law, but Rawath joined with her. ¹⁵ She said, Behold, your sister-in-law is gone back to her people, and to her god: return you after your sister-in-law. ¹⁶ Rawath said, "Don't entreat me to leave you, and to return from following after you, for where you go, I will go; and where you lodge, I will lodge; your people shall be my people, and your Alahayam my Alahayam; ¹⁷ where you die, will I die, and there will I be buried: Yahawah do so to me, and more also, if anything but death part you and me." ¹⁸ When she saw that she was steadfastly minded to go with her, she left off speaking to her. ¹⁹ So they two went until they came to Bayathalacham. It happened, when they were come to Bayathalacham, that all the city was moved about them, and [the women] said, Is this Naimay? ²⁰ She said to them, "Don't call me Naimay, call me Maraa; for the Shaday has dealt very bitterly with me. ²¹ I went out full, and Yahawah has brought me home again empty; why do you call me Naimay, seeing Yahawah has testified against me, and the Shaday has afflicted me?" ²² So Naimay returned, and Rawath the Moabite, her daughter-in-law, with her, who returned out of the country of Mawaab: and they came to Bayathalacham in the beginning of barley harvest.

2 Naimay had a kinsman of her husband's, a mighty man of wealth, of the family of Alayamalak, and his name was Baiz. ² Rawath the Moabite said to Naimay, Let me now go to the field, and glean among the ears of grain after him in whose sight I shall find favor. She said to her, Go, my daughter. ³ She went, and came and gleaned in the field after the reapers: and she happened to come to the portion of the field belonging to Baiz, who was of the family of Alayamalak. ⁴ Behold, Baiz came from Bayathalacham, and said to the reapers, Yahawah be with you. They answered him, Yahawah bless you. ⁵ Then said Baiz to his servant who was set over the reapers, Whose young lady is this? ⁶ The servant who was set over the reapers answered, It is the Moabite lady who came back with Naimay out of the country of Mawaab: ⁷ She said, Please let me glean and gather after the reapers among the sheaves. So she came, and has continued even from the morning until now, except that she stayed a little in the house. ⁸ Then said Baiz to Rawath, Don't you hear, my daughter? Don't go to glean in another field, neither pass from hence, but abide here fast by my maidens. ⁹ Let your eyes be on the field that they reap, and go after them: haven't I charged the young men that they shall not touch you? and when you are thirsty, go to the vessels, and drink of that which the young men have drawn. ¹⁰ Then she fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, and said to him, Why have I found favor in your sight, that you should take knowledge of me, seeing I am a foreigner? ¹¹ Baiz answered her, It has fully been showed me, all that you have done to your mother-in-law since the death of your husband; and how you have left your father and your mother, and the land of your birth, and have come to a people that you didn't know before. ¹² Yahawah recompense your work, and a full reward be given you of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, under whose wings you are come to take refuge. ¹³ Then she said, Let me find favor in your sight, my lord, because you have comforted me, and because you have spoken kindly to your handmaid, though I am not as one of your handmaidens. ¹⁴ At meal-time Baiz said to her, Come here, and eat of the bread, and dip your morsel in the vinegar. She sat beside the reapers, and they reached her parched grain, and she ate, and was sufficed, and left of it. ¹⁵ When she was risen up to glean, Baiz commanded his young men, saying, Let her glean even among the sheaves, and don't reproach her. ¹⁶ Also pull out some for her from the bundles, and leave it, and let her glean, and don't rebuke her. ¹⁷ So she gleaned in the field until even; and she beat out that which she had gleaned, and it was about an ephah of barley. ¹⁸ She took it up, and went into the city; and her mother-in-law saw what she had gleaned: and she brought forth and gave to her that which she had left after she was sufficed. ¹⁹ Her mother-in-law said to her, Where have you gleaned today? and where have you worked? blessed be he who did take knowledge of you. She showed her mother-in-law with whom she had worked, and said, The man's name with whom I worked today is Baiz. ²⁰ Naimay said to her daughter-in-law, Blessed be he of Yahawah, who has not left off his kindness to the living and to the dead. Naimay said to her, The man is a close relative to us, one of our near kinsmen. ²¹ Rawath the Moabite said, Yes, he said to me, You shall keep fast by my young men, until they have ended all my harvest. ²² Naimay said to Rawath her daughter-in-law, It is good, my daughter, that you go out with his maidens, and that they not meet you in any other field. ²³ So she kept fast by the maidens of Baiz, to glean to the end of barley harvest and of wheat harvest; and she lived with her mother-in-law.

3 Naimay her mother-in-law said to her, My daughter, shall I not seek rest for you, that it may be well with you? ² Now isn't Baiz our kinsman, with whose maidens you were? Behold, he winnows barley tonight in the threshing floor. ³ Wash yourself therefore, and anoint you, and put your clothing on you, and get you down to the threshing floor, but don't make yourself known to the man, until he shall have done eating and drinking. ⁴ It shall be, when he lies down, that you shall mark the place where he shall lie, and you shall go in, and uncover his feet, and lay you down; and he will tell you what you shall do. ⁵ She said to her, All that you say I will do. ⁶ She went down to the threshing floor, and did according to all that her mother-in-law bade her.⁷ When Baiz had eaten and drunk, and his heart was merry, he went to lie down at the end of the heap of grain: and she came softly, and uncovered his feet, and laid her down.⁸ It happened at midnight, that the man was afraid, and turned himself; and, behold, a woman lay at his feet.⁹ He said, Who are you? She answered, I am Rawath your handmaid: spread therefore your skirt over your handmaid; for you are a near kinsman.¹⁰ He said, Blessed be you of Yahawah, my daughter: you have showed more kindness in the latter end than at the beginning, inasmuch as you didn't follow young men, whether poor or rich.¹¹ Now, my daughter, don't be afraid; I will do to you all that you say; for all the city of my people does know that you are a worthy woman.¹² Now it is true that I am a near kinsman; however there is a kinsman nearer than I.¹³ Stay this night, and it shall be in the morning, that if he will perform to you the part of a kinsman, well; let him do the kinsman's part: but if he will not do the part of a kinsman to you, then will I do the part of a kinsman to you, as Yahawah lives: lie down until the morning.¹⁴ She lay at his feet until the morning. She rose up before one could discern another. For he said, Let it not be known that the woman came to the threshing floor.¹⁵ He said, Bring the mantle that is on you, and hold it; and she held it; and he measured six [measures] of barley, and laid it on her: and he went into the city.¹⁶ When she came to her mother-in-law, she said, Who are you, my daughter? She told her all that the man had done to her.¹⁷ She said, These six [measures] of barley gave he me; for he said, "Don't go empty to your mother-in-law."¹⁸ Then said she, "Sit still, my daughter, until you know how the matter will fall; for the man will not rest, until he has finished the thing this day."

4 Now Baiz went up to the gate, and sat him down there: and, behold, the near kinsman of whom Baiz spoke came by; to whom he said, Ho, such a one! turn aside, sit down here. He turned aside, and sat down.² He took ten men of the elders of the city, and said, Sit you down here. They sat down.³ He said to the near kinsman, Naimay, who has come back out of the country of Mawaab, is selling the parcel of land, which was our brother Alayamalak's:⁴ I thought to disclose it to you, saying, Buy it before those who sit here, and before the elders of my people. If you will redeem it, redeem it: but if you will not redeem it, then tell me, that I may know; for there is none to redeem it besides you; and I am after you. He said, I will redeem it.⁵ Then said Baiz, What day you buy the field of the hand of Naimay, you must buy it also of Rawath the Moabiteess, the wife of the dead, to raise up the name of the dead on his inheritance.⁶ The near kinsman said, I can't redeem it for myself, lest I mar my own inheritance: take my right of redemption on you; for I can't redeem it.⁷ Now this was [the custom] in former time in Yasharaal concerning redeeming and concerning exchanging, to confirm all things: a man drew off his shoe, and gave it to his neighbor; and this was the [manner of] attestation in Yasharaal.⁸ So the near kinsman said to Baiz, Buy it for yourself. He drew off his shoe.⁹ Baiz said to the elders, and to all the people, You are witnesses this day, that I have bought all that was Alayamalak's, and all that was Kalayawan's and Machalawan's, of the hand of Naimay.¹⁰ Moreover Rawath the Moabiteess, the wife of Machalawan, have I purchased to be my wife, to raise up the name of the dead on his inheritance, that the name of the dead not be cut off from among his brothers, and from the gate of his place: you are witnesses this day.¹¹ All the people who were in the gate, and the elders, said, We are witnesses. Yahawah make the woman who has come into your house like Rachal and like Laah, which two built the house of Yasharaal: and do you worthily in Aparathah, and be famous in Bayathalacham:¹² and let your house be like the house of Paratz, whom Tamar bore to Yahawadah, of the seed which Yahawah shall give you of this young woman.¹³ So Baiz took Rawath, and she became his wife; and he went in to her, and Yahawah gave her conception, and she bore a son.¹⁴ The women said to Naimay, Blessed be Yahawah, who has not left you this day without a near kinsman; and let his name be famous in Yasharaal.¹⁵ He shall be to you a restorer of life, and sustain you in your old age, for your daughter-in-law, who loves you, who is better to you than seven sons, has borne him.¹⁶ Naimay took the child, and laid it in her bosom, and became nurse to it.¹⁷ The women her neighbors gave it a name, saying, There is a son born to Naimay; and they named him Iwabad: he is the father of Yashay, the father of Dawad.¹⁸ Now this is the history of the generations of Paratz: Paratz became the father of Chatzarawan,¹⁹ and Chatzarawan became the father of Ram, and Ram became the father of Imayanadab,²⁰ and Imayanadab became the father of Nachashawan, and Nachashawan became the father of Shalamah,²¹ and Shalamah became the father of Baiz, and Baiz became the father of Iwabad,²² and Iwabad became the father of Yashay, and Yashay became the father of Dawad.

1 Now there was a certain man of Ramathaim-zophim, of the hill-country of Aparayam, and his name was Alaqanah, the son of Yaracham, the son of Alayahawaa, the son of Thachaw, the son of Tzawap, an Ephraimite: ² and he had two wives; the name of the one was Chanah, and the name of other Pananah: and Pananah had children, but Chanah had no children. ³ This man went up out of his city from year to year to worship and to sacrifice to Yahawah Tzabaawath in Shalah. The two sons of Ilay, Chapanay and Payanachas, priests to Yahawah, were there. ⁴ When the day came that Alaqanah sacrificed, he gave to Pananah his wife, and to all her sons and her daughters, portions: ⁵ but to Chanah he gave a double portion; for he loved Chanah, but Yahawah had shut up her womb. ⁶ Her rival provoked her sore, to make her fret, because Yahawah had shut up her womb. ⁷ [as] he did so year by year, when she went up to the house of Yahawah, so she provoked her; therefore she wept, and did not eat. ⁸ Alaqanah her husband said to her, Chanah, why weep you? and why don't you eat? and why is your heart grieved? am I not better to you than ten sons? ⁹ So Chanah rose up after they had eaten in Shalah, and after they had drunk. Now Ilay the priest was sitting on his seat by the door-post of the temple of Yahawah. ¹⁰ She was in bitterness of soul, and prayed to Yahawah, and wept sore. ¹¹ She vowed a vow, and said, Yahawah of hosts, if you will indeed look on the affliction of your handmaid, and remember me, and not forget your handmaid, but will give to your handmaid a man-child, then I will give him to Yahawah all the days of his life, and there shall no razor come on his head. ¹² It happened, as she continued praying before Yahawah, that Ilay marked her mouth. ¹³ Now Chanah, she spoke in her heart; only her lips moved, but her voice was not heard: therefore Ilay thought she had been drunken. ¹⁴ Ilay said to her, How long will you be drunken? put away your wine from you. ¹⁵ Chanah answered, No, my lord, I am a woman of a sorrowful spirit: I have drunk neither wine nor strong drink, but I poured out my soul before Yahawah. ¹⁶ Don't count your handmaid for a wicked woman; for out of the abundance of my complaint and my provocation have I spoken hitherto. ¹⁷ Then Ilay answered, Go in peace; and the Alahayam of Yasharaal grant your petition that you have asked of him. ¹⁸ She said, Let your handmaid find favor in your sight. So the woman went her way, and ate; and her facial expression wasn't sad any more. ¹⁹ They rose up in the morning early, and worshipped before Yahawah, and returned, and came to their house to Ramah: and Alaqanah knew Chanah his wife; and Yahawah remembered her. ²⁰ It happened, when the time was come about, that Chanah conceived, and bore a son; and she named him Shamawaal, [saying], Because I have asked him of Yahawah. ²¹ The man Alaqanah, and all his house, went up to offer to Yahawah the yearly sacrifice, and his vow. ²² But Chanah didn't go up; for she said to her husband, [I will not go up] until the child be weaned; and then I will bring him, that he may appear before Yahawah, and there abide forever. ²³ Alaqanah her husband said to her, Do what seems you good; wait until you have weaned him; only Yahawah establish his word. So the woman waited and nursed her son, until she weaned him. ²⁴ When she had weaned him, she took him up with her, with three bulls, and one ephah of meal, and a bottle of wine, and brought him to the house of Yahawah in Shalah: and the child was young. ²⁵ They killed the bull, and brought the child to Ilay. ²⁶ She said, Oh, my lord, as your soul lives, my lord, I am the woman who stood by you here, praying to Yahawah. ²⁷ For this child I prayed; and Yahawah has given me my petition which I asked of him: ²⁸ therefore also I have granted him to Yahawah; as long as he lives he is granted to Yahawah. He worshipped Yahawah there.

2 Chanah prayed, and said: My heart exults in Yahawah; My horn is exalted in Yahawah; My mouth is enlarged over my enemies; Because I rejoice in your salvation. ² There is none holy as Yahawah; For there is none besides you, Neither is there any rock like our Alahayam. ³ Talk no more so exceeding proudly; Don't let arrogance come out of your mouth; For Yahawah is a Alahayam of knowledge, By him actions are weighed. ⁴ The bows of the mighty men are broken; Those who stumbled are girded with strength. ⁵ Those who were full have hired out themselves for bread; Those who were hungry have ceased [to hunger]: Yes, the barren has borne seven; She who has many children languishes. ⁶ Yahawah kills, and makes alive: He brings down to Sheol, and brings up. ⁷ Yahawah makes poor, and makes rich: He brings low, he also lifts up. ⁸ He raises up the poor out of the dust, He lifts up the needy from the dunghill, To make them sit with princes, Inherit the throne of glory: For the pillars of the earth are Yahawah's, He has set the world on them. ⁹ He will keep the feet of his holy ones; But the wicked shall be put to silence in darkness; For by strength shall no man prevail. ¹⁰ Those who strive with Yahawah shall be broken to pieces; Against them will he thunder in the sky: Yahawah will judge the ends of the earth; He will give strength to his king, Exalt the horn of his anointed. ¹¹ Alaqanah went to Ramah to his house. The child did minister to Yahawah before Ilay the priest. ¹² Now the sons of Ilay were base men; they didn't know Yahawah. ¹³ The custom of the priests with the people was that when any man offered sacrifice, the priest's servant came, while the flesh was boiling, with a flesh-hook of three teeth in his hand; ¹⁴ and he struck it into the pan, or kettle, or caldron, or pot; all that the flesh-hook brought up the priest took therewith. So they did in Shalah to all the Israelites who came there. ¹⁵ Yes, before they burnt the fat, the priest's servant came, and said to the man who sacrificed, Give flesh to roast for the priest; for he will not have boiled flesh of you, but raw. ¹⁶ If the man said to him, They will surely burn the fat first, and then take as much as your soul desires; then he would say, No, but you shall give it me now: and if not, I will take it by force. ¹⁷ The sin of the young men was very great before Yahawah; for the men despised the offering of Yahawah. ¹⁸ But Shamawaal ministered before Yahawah, being a child, girded with a linen ephod. ¹⁹ Moreover his mother made him a little robe, and brought it to him from year to year, when she came up with her husband to offer the yearly sacrifice. ²⁰ Ilay blessed Alaqanah and his wife, and said, Yahawah give you seed of this woman for the petition which was asked of Yahawah. They went to their own home. ²¹ Yahawah visited Chanah, and she conceived, and bore three sons and two daughters. The child Shamawaal grew before Yahawah. ²² Now Ilay was very old; and he heard all that his sons did to all Yasharaal, and how that they lay with the women who served at the door of the tent of meeting. ²³ He said to them, Why do you such things? for I hear of your evil dealings from all this people. ²⁴ No, my sons; for it is no good report that I hear: you make Yahawah's people to disobey. ²⁵ If one man sin against another, Alahayam shall judge him; but if a man sin against Yahawah, who shall entreat for him? Notwithstanding, they didn't listen to the voice of their father, because Yahawah was minded to kill them. ²⁶ The child Shamawaal grew on, and increased in favor both with Yahawah, and also with men. ²⁷ There came a man of Alahayam to Ilay, and said to him, Thus says Yahawah, Did I reveal myself to the house of your father, when they were in Matzarayam [in bondage] to Paraih's house? ²⁸ and did I choose him out of all the tribes of Yasharaal to be my priest, to go up to my altar, to burn incense, to wear an ephod before me? and did I give to the house of your father all the offerings of the children of Yasharaal made by fire? ²⁹ Why kick you at my sacrifice and at my offering, which I have commanded in [my] habitation, and honor your sons above me, to make yourselves fat with the best of all the offerings of Yasharaal my people?³⁰ Therefore Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, says, I said indeed that your house, and the house of your father, should walk before me forever: but now Yahawah says, Be it far from me; for those who honor me I will honor, and those who despise me shall be lightly esteemed.³¹ Behold, the days come, that I will cut off your arm, and the arm of your father's house, that there shall not be an old man in your house.³² You shall see the affliction of [my] habitation, in all the wealth which [Alahayam] shall give Yasharaal; and there shall not be an old man in your house forever.³³ The man of yours, [whom] I shall not cut off from my altar, [shall be] to consume your eyes, and to grieve your heart; and all the increase of your house shall die in the flower of their age.³⁴ This shall be the sign to you, that shall come on your two sons, on Chapanay and Payanachas: in one day they shall die both of them.³⁵ I will raise me up a faithful priest, that shall do according to that which is in my heart and in my mind: and I will build him a sure house; and he shall walk before my anointed forever.³⁶ It shall happen, that everyone who is left in your house shall come and bow down to him for a piece of silver and a loaf of bread, and shall say, Please put me into one of the priests' offices, that I may eat a morsel of bread.

3 The child Shamawaal ministered to Yahawah before Ilay. The word of Yahawah was precious in those days; there was no frequent vision.² It happened at that time, when Ilay was laid down in his place (now his eyes had begun to grow dim, so that he could not see),³ and the lamp of Alahayam hadn't yet gone out, and Shamawaal had laid down [to sleep], in the temple of Yahawah, where the ark of Alahayam was;⁴ that Yahawah called Shamawaal; and he said, Here am I.⁵ He ran to Ilay, and said, Here am I; for you called me. He said, I didn't call; lie down again. He went and lay down.⁶ Yahawah called yet again, Shamawaal. Shamawaal arose and went to Ilay, and said, Here am I; for you called me. He answered, I didn't call, my son; lie down again.⁷ Now Shamawaal didn't yet know Yahawah, neither was the word of Yahawah yet revealed to him.⁸ Yahawah called Shamawaal again the third time. He arose and went to Ilay, and said, Here am I; for you called me. Ilay perceived that Yahawah had called the child.⁹ Therefore Ilay said to Shamawaal, Go, lie down: and it shall be, if he call you, that you shall say, Speak, Yahawah; for your servant hears. So Shamawaal went and lay down in his place.¹⁰ Yahawah came, and stood, and called as at other times, Shamawaal, Shamawaal. Then Shamawaal said, Speak; for your servant hears.¹¹ Yahawah said to Shamawaal, Behold, I will do a thing in Yasharaal, at which both the ears of everyone who hears it shall tingle.¹² In that day I will perform against Ilay all that I have spoken concerning his house, from the beginning even to the end.¹³ For I have told him that I will judge his house forever, for the iniquity which he knew, because his sons did bring a curse on themselves, and he didn't restrain them.¹⁴ Therefore I have sworn to the house of Ilay, that the iniquity of Ilay's house shall not be expiated with sacrifice nor offering forever.¹⁵ Shamawaal lay until the morning, and opened the doors of the house of Yahawah. Shamawaal feared to show Ilay the vision.¹⁶ Then Ilay called Shamawaal, and said, Shamawaal, my son. He said, Here am I.¹⁷ He said, "What is the thing that [Yahawah] has spoken to you? Please don't hide it from me. Alahayam do so to you, and more also, if you hide anything from me of all the things that he spoke to you."¹⁸ Shamawaal told him every whit, and hid nothing from him. He said, It is Yahawah: let him do what seems him good.¹⁹ Shamawaal grew, and Yahawah was with him, and did let none of his words fall to the ground.²⁰ All Yasharaal from Wadan even to Beersheba knew that Shamawaal was established to be a prophet of Yahawah.²¹ Yahawah appeared again in Shalah; for Yahawah revealed himself to Shamawaal in Shalah by the word of Yahawah.

4 The word of Shamawaal came to all Yasharaal. Now Yasharaal went out against the Palashath to battle, and encamped beside Aban-Atzar: and the Palashath encamped in Apaq.² The Palashath put themselves in array against Yasharaal: and when they joined battle, Yasharaal was struck before the Palashath; and they killed of the army in the field about four thousand men.³ When the people were come into the camp, the elders of Yasharaal said, Why has Yahawah struck us today before the Palashath? Let us get the ark of the covenant of Yahawah out of Shalah to us, that it may come among us, and save us out of the hand of our enemies.⁴ So the people sent to Shalah; and they brought from there the ark of the covenant of Yahawah Tzabaawath, who sits [above] the cherubim: and the two sons of Ilay, Chapanay and Payanachas, were there with the ark of the covenant of Alahayam.⁵ When the ark of the covenant of Yahawah came into the camp, all Yasharaal shouted with a great shout, so that the earth rang again.⁶ When the Palashath heard the noise of the shout, they said, What means the noise of this great shout in the camp of the Hebrews? They understood that the ark of Yahawah was come into the camp.⁷ The Palashath were afraid, for they said, Alahayam is come into the camp. They said, Woe to us! for there has not been such a thing heretofore.⁸ Woe to us! who shall deliver us out of the hand of these mighty gods? these are the gods that struck the Matzarayam with all manner of plagues in the wilderness.⁹ Be strong, and behave yourselves like men, O you Palashath, that you not be servants to the Hebrews, as they have been to you: quit yourselves like men, and fight.¹⁰ The Palashath fought, and Yasharaal was struck, and they fled every man to his tent: and there was a very great slaughter; for there fell of Yasharaal thirty thousand footmen.¹¹ The ark of Alahayam was taken; and the two sons of Ilay, Chapanay and Payanachas, were slain.¹² There ran a man of Banayaman out of the army, and came to Shalah the same day, with his clothes torn, and with earth on his head.¹³ When he came, behold, Ilay was sitting on his seat by the road watching; for his heart trembled for the ark of Alahayam. When the man came into the city, and told it, all the city cried out.¹⁴ When Ilay heard the noise of the crying, he said, What means the noise of this tumult? The man hurried, and came and told Ilay.¹⁵ Now Ilay was ninety-eight years old; and his eyes were set, so that he could not see.¹⁶ The man said to Ilay, I am he who came out of the army, and I fled today out of the army. He said, How went the matter, my son?¹⁷ He who brought the news answered, Yasharaal is fled before the Palashath, and there has been also a great slaughter among the people, and your two sons also, Chapanay and Payanachas, are dead, and the ark of Alahayam is taken.¹⁸ It happened, when he made mention of the ark of Alahayam, that [Ilay] fell from off his seat backward by the side of the gate; and his neck broke, and he died: for he was an old man, and heavy. He had judged Yasharaal forty years.¹⁹ His daughter-in-law, Payanachas' wife, was with child, near to be delivered: and when she heard the news that the ark of Alahayam was taken, and that her father-in-law and her husband were dead, she bowed herself and brought forth; for her pains came on her.²⁰ About the time of her death the women who stood by her said to her, Don't be afraid; for you have brought forth a son. But she didn't answer, neither did she regard it.²¹ She named the child Ichabod, saying, The glory is departed from Yasharaal; because the ark of Alahayam was taken, and because of her father-in-law and her husband.²² She said, The glory is departed from Yasharaal; for the ark of Alahayam is taken.

5 Now the Palashath had taken the ark of Alahayam, and they brought it from Aban-Atzar to Ashadawad.² The Palashath took the ark of Alahayam, and brought it into the house of Dagawan, and set it by Dagawan.³ When they of Ashadawad arose early on the next day, behold, Dagawan was fallen on his face to the ground before the ark of Yahawah. They took Dagawan, and set him in his place again.⁴ When they arose early on the next day morning, behold, Dagawan was fallen on his face to the ground before the ark of Yahawah; and the head of Dagawan and both the palms of his hands [lay] cut off on the threshold; only [the stump of] Dagawan was left to him.⁵ Therefore neither the priests of Dagawan, nor any who come into Dagawan's house, tread on the threshold of Dagawan in Ashadawad, to this day.⁶ But the hand of Yahawah was heavy on them of Ashadawad, and he destroyed them, and struck them with tumors, even Ashadawad and the borders of it.⁷ When the men of Ashadawad saw that it was so, they said, The ark of the Alahayam of Yasharaal shall not abide with us; for his hand is sore on us, and on Dagawan our god.⁸ They sent therefore and gathered all the lords of the Palashath to them, and said, What shall we do with the ark of the Alahayam of Yasharaal? They answered, Let the ark of the Alahayam of Yasharaal be carried about to Gath. They carried the ark of the Alahayam of Yasharaal [there].⁹ It was so, that after they had carried it about, the hand of Yahawah was against the city with a very great confusion: and he struck the men of the city, both small and great; and tumors broke out on them.¹⁰ So they sent the ark of Alahayam to Iqarawan. It happened, as the ark of Alahayam came to Iqarawan, that the Ekronites cried out, saying, They have brought about the ark of the Alahayam of Yasharaal to us, to kill us and our people.¹¹ They sent therefore and gathered together all the lords of the Palashath, and they said, Send away the ark of the Alahayam of Yasharaal, and let it go again to its own place, that it not kill us and our people. For there was a deadly confusion throughout all the city; the hand of Alahayam was very heavy there.¹² The men who didn't die were struck with the tumors; and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

6 The ark of Yahawah was in the country of the Palashath seven months.² The Palashath called for the priests and the diviners, saying, "What shall we do with the ark of Yahawah? Show us with which we shall send it to its place."³ They said, "If you send away the ark of the Alahayam of Yasharaal, don't send it empty; but by all means return him a trespass-offering; then you shall be healed, and it shall be known to you why his hand is not removed from you."⁴ Then they said, "What shall be the trespass-offering which we shall return to him?" They said, "Five golden tumors, and five golden mice, [according to] the number of the lords of the Palashath; for one plague was on you all, and on your lords.⁵ Therefore you shall make images of your tumors, and images of your mice that mar the land; and you shall give glory to the Alahayam of Yasharaal: peradventure he will lighten his hand from off you, and from off your gods, and from off your land.⁶ Why then do you harden your hearts, as the Matzarayam and Paraih hardened their hearts? When he had worked wonderfully among them, didn't they let the people go, and they departed?"⁷ Now therefore take and prepare yourselves a new cart, and two milk cattle, on which there has come no yoke; and tie the cattle to the cart, and bring their calves home from them;⁸ and take the ark of Yahawah, and lay it on the cart; and put the jewels of gold, which you return him for a trespass-offering, in a coffer by the side of it; and send it away, that it may go.⁹ Behold; if it goes up by the way of its own border to Bayath, then he has done us this great evil: but if not, then we shall know that it is not his hand that struck us; it was a chance that happened to us."¹⁰ The men did so, and took two milk cattle, and tied them to the cart, and shut up their calves at home;¹¹ and they put the ark of Yahawah on the cart, and the coffer with the mice of gold and the images of their tumors.¹² The cattle took the straight way by the way to Bayath; they went along the highway, lowing as they went, and didn't turn aside to the right hand or to the left; and the lords of the Palashath went after them to the border of Bayath.¹³ They of Bayath were reaping their wheat harvest in the valley; and they lifted up their eyes, and saw the ark, and rejoiced to see it.¹⁴ The cart came into the field of Yahawashai the Bayath-shemite, and stood there, where there was a great stone: and they split the wood of the cart, and offered up the cattle for a burnt offering to Yahawah.¹⁵ The Levites took down the ark of Yahawah, and the coffer that was with it, in which the jewels of gold were, and put them on the great stone: and the men of Bayath offered burnt offerings and sacrificed sacrifices the same day to Yahawah.¹⁶ When the five lords of the Palashath had seen it, they returned to Iqarawan the same day.¹⁷ These are the golden tumors which the Palashath returned for a trespass-offering to Yahawah: for Ashadawad one, for Izah one, for Ashaqalawan one, for Gath one, for Iqarawan one;¹⁸ and the golden mice, according to the number of all the cities of the Palashath belonging to the five lords, both of fortified cities and of country villages, even to the great stone, whereon they set down the ark of Yahawah, [which stone remains] to this day in the field of Yahawashai the Bayath-shemite.¹⁹ He struck of the men of Bayath, because they had looked into the ark of Yahawah, he struck of the people fifty thousand seventy men; and the people mourned, because Yahawah had struck the people with a great slaughter.²⁰ The men of Bayath said, Who is able to stand before Yahawah, this holy Alahayam? and to whom shall he go up from us?²¹ They sent messengers to the inhabitants of Kiriath-Yairayam, saying, The Palashath have brought back the ark of Yahawah; come you down, and bring it up to you.

7 The men of Kiriath-Yairayam came, and fetched up the ark of Yahawah, and brought it into the house of Abayanadab in the hill, and sanctified Alaizar his son to keep the ark of Yahawah.² It happened, from the day that the ark abode in Kiriath-Yairayam, that the time was long; for it was twenty years: and all the house of Yasharaal lamented after Yahawah.³ Shamawaal spoke to all the house of Yasharaal, saying, If you do return to Yahawah with all your heart, then put away the foreign gods and the Ishatharawath from among you, and direct your hearts to Yahawah, and serve him only; and he will deliver you out of the hand of the Palashath.⁴ Then the children of Yasharaal did put away the Baals and the Ishatharawath, and served Yahawah only.⁵ Shamawaal said, Gather all Yasharaal to Mizpah, and I will pray for you to Yahawah.⁶ They gathered together to Mizpah, and drew water, and poured it out before Yahawah, and fasted on that day, and said there, We have sinned against Yahawah. Shamawaal judged the children of Yasharaal in Mizpah.⁷ When the Palashath heard that the children of Yasharaal were gathered together at Mizpah, the lords of the Palashath went up against Yasharaal. When the children of Yasharaal heard it, they were afraid of the Palashath.⁸ The children of Yasharaal said to Shamawaal, "Don't cease to cry to Yahawah our Alahayam for us, that he will save us out of the hand of the Palashath."⁹ Shamawaal took a sucking lamb, and offered it for a whole burnt-offering to Yahawah: and Shamawaal cried to Yahawah for Yasharaal; and Yahawah answered him.¹⁰ As Shamawaal was offering up the burnt offering, the Palashath drew near to battle against Yasharaal; but Yahawah thundered with a great thunder on that day on the Palashath, and confused them; and they were struck down before Yasharaal.¹¹ The men of Yasharaal went out of Mizpah, and pursued the Palashath, and struck them, until they came under Bayath.¹² Then Shamawaal took a stone, and set it between Mizpah and Shan, and called the name of it Aban-Atzar, saying, Hitherto has Yahawah helped us.¹³ So the Palashath were subdued, and they came no more within the border of Yasharaal: and the hand of Yahawah was against the Palashath all the days of Shamawaal.¹⁴ The cities which the Palashath had taken from Yasharaal were restored to Yasharaal, from Iqarawan even to Gath; and the border of it did Yasharaal deliver out of the hand of the Palashath. There was peace between Yasharaal and the Amorites.¹⁵ Shamawaal judged Yasharaal all the days of his life.¹⁶ He went from year to year in circuit to Bethel and Galagal, and Mizpah; and he judged Yasharaal in all those places.¹⁷ His return was to Ramah, for there was his house; and there he judged Yasharaal: and he built there an altar to Yahawah.

8 It happened, when Shamawaal was old, that he made his sons judges over Yasharaal.² Now the name of his firstborn was Yawaal; and the name of his second, Abayah: they were judges in Beersheba.³ His sons didn't walk in his ways, but turned aside after lucre, and took bribes, and perverted justice.⁴ Then all the elders of Yasharaal gathered themselves together, and came to Shamawaal to Ramah;⁵ and they said to him, Behold, you are old, and your sons don't walk in your ways: now make us a king to judge us like all the nations.⁶ But the thing displeased Shamawaal, when they said, Give us a king to judge us. Shamawaal prayed to Yahawah.⁷ Yahawah said to Shamawaal, Listen to the voice of the people in all that they tell you; for they have not rejected you, but they have rejected me, that I should not be king over them.⁸ According to all the works which they have done since the day that I brought them up out of Matzarayam even to this day, in that they have forsaken me, and served other gods, so do they also to you.⁹ Now therefore listen to their voice: however you shall protest solemnly to them, and shall show them the manner of the king who shall reign over them.¹⁰ Shamawaal told all the words of Yahawah to the people who asked of him a king.¹¹ He said, This will be the manner of the king who shall reign over you: he will take your sons, and appoint them to him, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and they shall run before his chariots;¹² and he will appoint them to him for captains of thousands, and captains of fifties; and [he will set some] to plow his ground, and to reap his harvest, and to make his instruments of war, and the instruments of his chariots.¹³ He will take your daughters to be perfumers, and to be cooks, and to be bakers.¹⁴ He will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your olive groves, even the best of them, and give them to his servants.¹⁵ He will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his servants.¹⁶ He will take your men-servants, and your maid-servants, and your best young men, and your donkeys, and put them to his work.¹⁷ He will take the tenth of your flocks: and you shall be his servants.¹⁸ You shall cry out in that day because of your king whom you shall have chosen you; and Yahawah will not answer you in that day.¹⁹ But the people refused to listen to the voice of Shamawaal; and they said, No: but we will have a king over us,²⁰ that we also may be like all the nations, and that our king may judge us, and go out before us, and fight our battles.²¹ Shamawaal heard all the words of the people, and he rehearsed them in the ears of Yahawah.²² Yahawah said to Shamawaal, Listen to their voice, and make them a king. Shamawaal said to the men of Yasharaal, Go you every man to his city.

9 Now there was a man of Banayaman, whose name was Qayash, the son of Abayaal, the son of Zeror, the son of Becorath, the son of Apayach, the son of a Benjamite, a mighty man of valor.² He had a son, whose name was Shaawal, a young man and a goodly: and there was not among the children of Yasharaal a better person than he: from his shoulders and upward he was higher than any of the people.³ The donkeys of Qayash, Shaawal's father, were lost. Qayash said to Shaawal his son, Take now one of the servants with you, and arise, go seek the donkeys.⁴ He passed through the hill-country of Aparayam, and passed through the land of Shalashah, but they didn't find them: then they passed through the land of Shailayam, and there they weren't there: and he passed through the land of the Benjamites, but they didn't find them.⁵ When they had come to the land of Tzawap, Shaawal said to his servant who was with him, Come, and let us return, lest my father leave off caring for the donkeys, and be anxious for us.⁶ He said to him, See now, there is in this city a man of Alahayam, and he is a man who is held in honor; all that he says comes surely to pass: now let us go there; peradventure he can tell us concerning our journey whereon we go.⁷ Then said Shaawal to his servant, But, behold, if we go, what shall we bring the man? for the bread is spent in our vessels, and there is not a present to bring to the man of Alahayam: what have we?⁸ The servant answered Shaawal again, and said, Behold, I have in my hand the fourth part of a shekel of silver: that will I give to the man of Alahayam, to tell us our way.⁹ (In earlier times in Yasharaal, when a man went to inquire of Alahayam, thus he said, Come, and let us go to the seer; for he who is now called a Prophet was before called a Seer.)¹⁰ Then said Shaawal to his servant, Well said; come, let us go. So they went to the city where the man of Alahayam was.¹¹ As they went up the ascent to the city, they found young maidens going out to draw water, and said to them, Is the seer here?¹² They answered them, and said, He is; behold, [he is] before you: make haste now, for he is come today into the city; for the people have a sacrifice today in the high place:¹³ as soon as you are come into the city, you shall immediately find him, before he goes up to the high place to eat; for the people will not eat until he come, because he does bless the sacrifice; [and] afterwards they eat who are invited. Now therefore get you up; for at this time you shall find him.¹⁴ They went up to the city; [and] as they came within the city, behold, Shamawaal came out toward them, to go up to the high place.¹⁵ Now Yahawah had revealed to Shamawaal a day before Shaawal came, saying,¹⁶ Tomorrow about this time I will send you a man out of the land of Banayaman, and you shall anoint him to be prince over my people Yasharaal; and he shall save my people out of the hand of the Palashath: for I have looked on my people, because their cry is come to me.¹⁷ When Shamawaal saw Shaawal, Yahawah said to him, Behold, the man of whom I spoke to you! this same shall have authority over my people.¹⁸ Then Shaawal drew near to Shamawaal in the gate, and said, Tell me, Please, where the seer's house is.¹⁹ Shamawaal answered Shaawal, and said, I am the seer; go up before me to the high place, for you shall eat with me today: and in the morning I will let you go, and will tell you all that is in your heart.²⁰ As for your donkeys who were lost three days ago, don't set your mind on them; for they are found. For whom is all that is desirable in Yasharaal? Is it not for you, and for all your father's house?²¹ Shaawal answered, Am I not a Benjamite, of the smallest of the tribes of Yasharaal? and my family the least of all the families of the tribe of Banayaman? why then speak you to me after this manner?²² Shamawaal took Shaawal and his servant, and brought them into the guest-chamber, and made them sit in the best place among those who were invited, who were about thirty persons.²³ Shamawaal said to the cook, Bring the portion which I gave you, of which I said to you, Set it by you.²⁴ The cook took up the thigh, and that which was on it, and set it before Shaawal. [Shamawaal] said, Behold, that which has been reserved! set it before you and eat; because to the appointed time has it been kept for you, for I said, I have invited the people. So Shaawal ate with Shamawaal that day.²⁵ When they were come down from the high place into the city, he talked with Shaawal on the housetop.²⁶ They arose early: and it happened about the spring of the day, that Shamawaal called to Shaawal on the housetop, saying, Up, that I may send you away. Shaawal arose, and they went out both of them, he and Shamawaal, abroad.²⁷ As they were going down at the end of the city, Shamawaal said to Shaawal, Bid the servant pass on before us (and he passed on), but stand you still first, that I may cause you to hear the word of Alahayam.

10 Then Shamawaal took the vial of oil, and poured it on his head, and kissed him, and said, Isn't it that Yahawah has anointed you to be prince over his inheritance?² When you are departed from me today, then you shall find two men by Rachal's tomb, in the border of Banayaman at Tzalat zach; and they will tell you, The donkeys which you went to seek are found; and, behold, your father has left off caring for the donkeys, and is anxious for you, saying, What shall I do for my son?³ Then shall you go on forward from there, and you shall come to the oak of Thabawar; and there shall meet you there three men going up to Alahayam to Bethel, one carrying three kids, and another carrying three loaves of bread, and another carrying a bottle of wine:⁴ and they will Greet you, and give you two loaves of bread, which you shall receive of their hand.⁵ After that you shall come to the hill of Alahayam, where is the garrison of the Palashath: and it shall happen, when you are come there to the city, that you shall meet a band of prophets coming down from the high place with a psalter, and a tambourine, and a pipe, and a harp, before them; and they will be prophesying:⁶ and the Spirit of Yahawah will come mightily on you, and you shall prophesy with them, and shall be turned into another man.⁷ Let it be, when these signs are come to you, that you do as occasion shall serve you; for Alahayam is with you.⁸ You shall go down before me to Galagal; and, behold, I will come down to you, to offer burnt offerings, and to sacrifice sacrifices of peace-offerings: seven days shall you wait, until I come to you, and show you what you shall do.⁹ It was so, that when he had turned his back to go from Shamawaal, Alahayam gave him another heart: and all those signs happened that day.¹⁰ When they came there to the hill, behold, a band of prophets met him; and the Spirit of Alahayam came mightily on him, and he prophesied among them.¹¹ It happened, when all who knew him before saw that, behold, he prophesied with the prophets, then the people said one to another, What is this that is come to the son of Qayash? Is Shaawal also among the prophets?¹² One of the same place answered, Who is their father? Therefore it became a proverb, Is Shaawal also among the prophets?¹³ When he had made an end of prophesying, he came to the high place.¹⁴ Shaawal's uncle said to him and to his servant, Where went you? He said, To seek the donkeys; and when we saw that they were not found, we came to Shamawaal.¹⁵ Shaawal's uncle said, Tell me, Please, what Shamawaal said to you.¹⁶ Shaawal said to his uncle, He told us plainly that the donkeys were found. But concerning the matter of the kingdom, whereof Shamawaal spoke, he didn't tell him.¹⁷ Shamawaal called the people together to Yahawah to Mizpah;¹⁸ and he said to the children of Yasharaal, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, I brought up Yasharaal out of Matzarayam, and I delivered you out of the hand of the Matzarayam, and out of the hand of all the kingdoms that oppressed you:¹⁹ but you have this day rejected your Alahayam, who himself saves you out of all your calamities and your distresses; and you have said to him, [No], but set a king over us. Now therefore present yourselves before Yahawah by your tribes, and by your thousands.²⁰ So Shamawaal brought all the tribes of Yasharaal near, and the tribe of Banayaman was taken.²¹ He brought the tribe of Banayaman near by their families; and the family of the Matrites was taken; and Shaawal the son of Qayash was taken: but when they sought him, he could not be found.²² Therefore they asked of Yahawah further, Is there yet a man to come here? Yahawah answered, Behold, he has hid himself among the baggage.²³ They ran and fetched him there; and when he stood among the people, he was higher than any of the people from his shoulders and upward.²⁴ Shamawaal said to all the people, "You see him whom Yahawah has chosen, that there is none like him among all the people?" All the people shouted, and said, [Long] live the king.²⁵ Then Shamawaal told the people the manner of the kingdom, and wrote it in a book, and laid it up before Yahawah. Shamawaal sent all the people away, every man to his house.²⁶ Shaawal also went to his house to Gabaih; and there went with him the host, whose hearts Alahayam had touched.²⁷ But certain worthless fellows said, How shall this man save us? They despised him, and brought him no present. But he held his peace.

11 Then Nachash the Ammonite came up, and encamped against Jabesh-Galaid: and all the men of Jabesh said to Nachash, Make a covenant with us, and we will serve you.² Nachash the Ammonite said to them, On this condition will I make it with you, that all your right eyes be put out; and I will lay it for a reproach on all Yasharaal.³ The elders of Jabesh said to him, Give us seven days' respite, that we may send messengers to all the borders of Yasharaal; and then, if there be none to save us, we will come out to you.⁴ Then came the messengers to Gabaih of Shaawal, and spoke these words in the ears of the people: and all the people lifted up their voice, and wept.⁵ Behold, Shaawal came following the oxen out of the field; and Shaawal said, What ails the people that they weep? They told him the words of the men of Jabesh.⁶ The Spirit of Alahayam came mightily on Shaawal when he heard those words, and his anger was kindled greatly.⁷ He took a yoke of oxen, and cut them in pieces, and sent them throughout all the borders of Yasharaal by the hand of messengers, saying, Whoever doesn't come forth after Shaawal and after Shamawaal, so shall it be done to his oxen. The dread of Yahawah fell on the people, and they came out as one man.⁸ He numbered them in Bazaq; and the children of Yasharaal were three hundred thousand, and the men of Yahawadah thirty thousand.⁹ They said to the messengers who came, Thus shall you tell the men of Jabesh-Galaid, Tomorrow, by the time the sun is hot, you shall have deliverance. The messengers came and told the men of Jabesh; and they were glad.¹⁰ Therefore the men of Jabesh said, Tomorrow we will come out to you, and you shall do with us all that seems good to you.¹¹ It was so on the next day, that Shaawal put the people in three companies; and they came into the midst of the camp in the morning watch, and struck the Imawan until the heat of the day: and it happened, that those who remained were scattered, so that no two of them were left together.¹² The people said to Shamawaal, Who is he who said, Shall Shaawal reign over us? bring the men, that we may put them to death.¹³ Shaawal said, There shall not a man be put to death this day; for today Yahawah has worked deliverance in Yasharaal.¹⁴ Then said Shamawaal to the people, Come, and let us go to Galagal, and renew the kingdom there.¹⁵ All the people went to Galagal; and there they made Shaawal king before Yahawah in Galagal; and there they offered sacrifices of peace-offerings before Yahawah; and there Shaawal and all the men of Yasharaal rejoiced greatly.

12 Shamawaal said to all Yasharaal, Behold, I have listened to your voice in all that you said to me, and have made a king over you.² Now, behold, the king walks before you; and I am old and gray-headed; and, behold, my sons are with you: and I have walked before you from my youth to this day.³ Here I am: witness against me before Yahawah, and before his anointed: whose ox have I taken? or whose donkey have I taken? or whom have I defrauded? whom have I oppressed? or of whose hand have I taken a ransom to blind my eyes therewith? and I will restore it you.⁴ They said, You have not defrauded us, nor oppressed us, neither have you taken anything of any man's hand.⁵ He said to them, Yahawah is witness against you, and his anointed is witness this day, that you have not found anything in my hand. They said, He is witness.⁶ Shamawaal said to the people, It is Yahawah who appointed Mashah and Aharan, and that brought your fathers up out of the land of Matzarayam.⁷ Now therefore stand still, that I may plead with you before Yahawah concerning all the righteous acts of Yahawah, which he did to you and to your fathers.⁸ When Yaiqab was come into Matzarayam, and your fathers cried to Yahawah, then Yahawah sent Mashah and Aharan, who brought forth your fathers out of Matzarayam, and made them to dwell in this place.⁹ But they forgot Yahawah their Alahayam; and he sold them into the hand of Sayasaraa, captain of the host of Chatzawar, and into the hand of the Palashath, and into the hand of the king of Mawaab; and they fought against them.¹⁰ They cried to Yahawah, and said, We have sinned, because we have forsaken Yahawah, and have served the Baals and the Ishatharawath: but now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, and we will serve you.¹¹ Yahawah sent Yarabail, and Badan, and Yapathach, and Shamawaal, and delivered you out of the hand of your enemies on every side; and you lived in safety.¹² When you saw that Nachash the king of the children of Imawan came against you, you said to me, No, but a king shall reign over us; when Yahawah your Alahayam was your king.¹³ Now therefore see the king whom you have chosen, and whom you have asked for: and, behold, Yahawah has set a king over you.¹⁴ If you will fear Yahawah, and serve him, and listen to his voice, and not rebel against the commandment of Yahawah, and both you and also the king who reigns over you be followers of Yahawah your Alahayam, [well]:¹⁵ but if you will not listen to the voice of Yahawah, but rebel against the commandment of Yahawah, then will the hand of Yahawah be against you, as it was against your fathers.¹⁶ Now therefore stand still and see this great thing, which Yahawah will do before your eyes.¹⁷ Isn't it wheat harvest today? I will call to Yahawah, that he may send thunder and rain; and you shall know and see that your wickedness is great, which you have done in the sight of Yahawah, in asking you a king.¹⁸ So Shamawaal called to Yahawah; and Yahawah sent thunder and rain that day: and all the people greatly feared Yahawah and Shamawaal.¹⁹ All the people said to Shamawaal, Pray for your servants to Yahawah your Alahayam, that we not die; for we have added to all our sins [this] evil, to ask us a king.²⁰ Shamawaal said to the people, "Don't be afraid; you have indeed done all this evil; yet don't turn aside from following Yahawah, but serve Yahawah with all your heart:²¹ and don't turn aside; for [then would you go] after vain things which can't profit nor deliver, for they are vain.²² For Yahawah will not forsake his people for his great name's sake, because it has pleased Yahawah to make you a people to himself.²³ Moreover as for me, far be it from me that I should sin against Yahawah in ceasing to pray for you: but I will instruct you in the good and the right way.²⁴ Only fear Yahawah, and serve him in truth with all your heart; for consider how great things he has done for you.²⁵ But if you shall still do wickedly, you shall be consumed, both you and your king."

13 Shaawal was [forty] years old when he began to reign; and when he had reigned two years over Yasharaal,² Shaawal chose him three thousand men of Yasharaal, whereof two thousand were with Shaawal in Michmash and in the Mount of Bethel, and one thousand were with Yahawanathan in Gabaih of Banayaman: and the rest of the people he sent every man to his tent.³ Yahawanathan struck the garrison of the Palashath that was in Gabai: and the Palashath heard of it. Shaawal blew the trumpet throughout all the land, saying, Let the Hebrews hear.⁴ All Yasharaal heard say that Shaawal had struck the garrison of the Palashath, and also that Yasharaal was had in abomination with the Palashath. The people were gathered together after Shaawal to Galagal.⁵ The Palashath assembled themselves together to fight with Yasharaal, thirty thousand chariots, and six thousand horsemen, and people as the sand which is on the sea-shore in multitude: and they came up, and encamped in Michmash, eastward of Awan.⁶ When the men of Yasharaal saw that they were in a strait (for the people were distressed), then the people did hide themselves in caves, and in thickets, and in rocks, and in coverts, and in pits.⁷ Now some of the Hebrews had gone over the Yaradan to the land of Gad and Galaad; but as for Shaawal, he was yet in Galagal, and all the people followed him trembling.⁸ He stayed seven days, according to the set time that Shamawaal [had appointed]: but Shamawaal didn't come to Galagal; and the people were scattered from him.⁹ Shaawal said, Bring here the burnt offering to me, and the peace-offerings. He offered the burnt offering.¹⁰ It came to pass that as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, behold, Shamawaal came; and Shaawal went out to meet him, that he might greet him.¹¹ Shamawaal said, What have you done? Shaawal said, Because I saw that the people were scattered from me, and that you didn't come within the days appointed, and that the Palashath assembled themselves together at Michmash;¹² therefore said I, Now will the Palashath come down on me to Galagal, and I haven't entreated the favor of Yahawah: I forced myself therefore, and offered the burnt offering.¹³ Shamawaal said to Shaawal, You have done foolishly; you have not kept the commandment of Yahawah your Alahayam, which he commanded you: for now would Yahawah have established your kingdom on Yasharaal forever.¹⁴ But now your kingdom shall not continue: Yahawah has sought him a man after his own heart, and Yahawah has appointed him to be prince over his people, because you have not kept that which Yahawah commanded you.¹⁵ Shamawaal arose, and got him up from Galagal to Gabaih of Banayaman. Shaawal numbered the people who were present with him, about six hundred men.¹⁶ Shaawal, and Yahawanathan his son, and the people who were present with them, abode in Gabai of Banayaman: but the Palashath encamped in Michmash.¹⁷ The spoilers came out of the camp of the Palashath in three companies: one company turned to the way that leads to Iparah, to the land of Shawail;¹⁸ and another company turned the way to Bayath; and another company turned the way of the border that looks down on the valley of Tzabayayam toward the wilderness.¹⁹ Now there was no smith found throughout all the land of Yasharaal; for the Palashath said, Lest the Hebrews make them swords or spears:²⁰ but all the Israelites went down to the Palashath, to sharpen every man his plowshare, mattock, ax, and sickle;²¹ yet they had a file for the mattocks, and for the plowshares, and for the forks, and for the axes, and to set the goads.²² So it came to pass in the day of battle, that there was neither sword nor spear found in the hand of any of the people who were with Shaawal and Yahawanathan: but with Shaawal and with Yahawanathan his son was there found.²³ The garrison of the Palashath went out to the pass of Michmash.

14 Now it fell on a day, that Yahawanathan the son of Shaawal said to the young man who bore his armor, Come, and let us go over to the Palashath's garrison, that is on yonder side. But he didn't tell his father.² Shaawal abode in the uttermost part of Gabaih under the pomegranate-tree which is in Magarawan: and the people who were with him were about six hundred men;³ and Achayah, the son of Achayatawab, Ichabod's brother, the son of Payanachas, the son of Ilay, the priest of Yahawah in Shalah, wearing an ephod. The people didn't know that Yahawanathan was gone.⁴ Between the passes, by which Yahawanathan sought to go over to the Palashath's garrison, there was a rocky crag on the one side, and a rocky crag on the other side: and the name of the one was Bawatzatz, and the name of the other Sanah.⁵ The one crag rose up on the north in front of Michmash, and the other on the south in front of Gabai.⁶ Yahawanathan said to the young man who bore his armor, Come, and let us go over to the garrison of these uncircumcised: it may be that Yahawah will work for us; for there is no restraint to Yahawah to save by many or by few.⁷ His armor bearer said to him, Do all that is in your heart: turn you, behold, I am with you according to your heart.⁸ Then said Yahawanathan, Behold, we will pass over to the men, and we will disclose ourselves to them.⁹ If they say thus to us, Wait until we come to you; then we will stand still in our place, and will not go up to them.¹⁰ But if they say thus, Come up to us; then we will go up; for Yahawah has delivered them into our hand: and this shall be the sign to us.¹¹ Both of them disclosed themselves to the garrison of the Palashath: and the Palashath said, Behold, the Hebrews come forth out of the holes where they had hid themselves.¹² The men of the garrison answered Yahawanathan and his armor bearer, and said, Come up to us, and we will show you a thing. Yahawanathan said to his armor bearer, Come up after me; for Yahawah has delivered them into the hand of Yasharaal.¹³ Yahawanathan climbed up on his hands and on his feet, and his armor bearer after him: and they fell before Yahawanathan; and his armor bearer killed them after him.¹⁴ That first slaughter, which Yahawanathan and his armor bearer made, was about twenty men, within as it were half a furrow's length in an acre of land.¹⁵ There was a trembling in the camp, in the field, and among all the people; the garrison, and the spoilers, they also trembled; and the earth quaked: so there was an exceeding great trembling.¹⁶ The watchmen of Shaawal in Gabaih of Banayaman looked; and, behold, the multitude melted away, and they went [here] and there.¹⁷ Then said Shaawal to the people who were with him, Number now, and see who is gone from us. When they had numbered, behold, Yahawanathan and his armor bearer were not there.¹⁸ Shaawal said to Achayah, Bring here the ark of Alahayam. For the ark of Alahayam was [there] at that time with the children of Yasharaal.¹⁹ It happened, while Shaawal talked to the priest, that the tumult that was in the camp of the Palashath went on and increased: and Shaawal said to the priest, Withdraw your hand.²⁰ Shaawal and all the people who were with him were gathered together, and came to the battle: and, behold, every man's sword was against his fellow, [and there was] a very great confusion.²¹ Now the Hebrews who were with the Palashath as before, and who went up with them into the camp, [from the country] round about, even they also [turned] to be with the Israelites who were with Shaawal and Yahawanathan.²² Likewise all the men of Yasharaal who had hid themselves in the hill-country of Aparayam, when they heard that the Palashath fled, even they also followed hard after them in the battle.²³ So Yahawah saved Yasharaal that day: and the battle passed over by Awan.²⁴ The men of Yasharaal were distressed that day; for Shaawal had adjured the people, saying, Cursed be the man who eats any food until it be evening, and I be avenged on my enemies. So none of the people tasted food.²⁵ All the people came into the forest; and there was honey on the ground.²⁶ When the people were come to the forest, behold, the honey dropped: but no man put his hand to his mouth; for the people feared the oath.²⁷ But Yahawanathan didn't hear when his father charged the people with the oath: why he put forth the end of the rod who was in his hand, and dipped it in the honeycomb, and put his hand to his mouth; and his eyes were enlightened.²⁸ Then answered one of the people, and said, Your father directly charged the people with an oath, saying, Cursed be the man who eats food this day. The people were faint.²⁹ Then said Yahawanathan, My father has troubled the land. Please look how my eyes have been enlightened, because I tasted a little of this honey.³⁰ How much more, if haply the people had eaten freely today of the spoil of their enemies which they found? for now has there been no great slaughter among the Palashath.³¹ They struck of the Palashath that day from Michmash to Ayalawan. The people were very faint;³² and the people flew on the spoil, and took sheep, and oxen, and calves, and killed them on the ground; and the people ate them with the blood.³³ Then they told Shaawal, saying, Behold, the people sin against Yahawah, in that they eat with the blood. He said, you have dealt treacherously: roll a great stone to me this day.³⁴ Shaawal said, Disperse yourselves among the people, and tell them, Bring me here every man his ox, and every man his sheep, and kill them here, and eat; and don't sin against Yahawah in eating with the blood. All the people brought every man his ox with him that night, and killed them there.³⁵ Shaawal built an altar to Yahawah: the same was the first altar that he built to Yahawah.³⁶ Shaawal said, Let us go down after the Palashath by night, and take spoil among them until the morning light, and let us not leave a man of them. They said, Do whatever seems good to you. Then said the priest, Let us draw near here to Alahayam.³⁷ Shaawal asked counsel of Alahayam, Shall I go down after the Palashath? will you deliver them into the hand of Yasharaal? But he didn't answer him that day.³⁸ Shaawal said, Draw near here, all you chiefs of the people; and know and see in which this sin has been this day.³⁹ For, as Yahawah lives, who saves Yasharaal, though it be in Yahawanathan my son, he shall surely die. But there was not a man among all the people who answered him.⁴⁰ Then said he to all Yasharaal, Be you on one side, and I and Yahawanathan my son will be on the other side. The people said to Shaawal, Do what seems good to you.⁴¹ Therefore Shaawal said to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, Show the right. Yahawanathan and Shaawal were taken [by lot]; but the people escaped.⁴² Shaawal said, Cast [lots] between me and Yahawanathan my son. Yahawanathan was taken.⁴³ Then Shaawal said to Yahawanathan, Tell me what you have done. Yahawanathan told him, and said, I did certainly taste a little honey with the end of the rod that was in my hand; and, behold, I must die.⁴⁴ Shaawal said, Alahayam do so and more also; for you shall surely die, Yahawanathan.⁴⁵ The people said to Shaawal, Shall Yahawanathan die, who has worked this great salvation in Yasharaal? Far from it: as Yahawah lives, there shall not one hair of his head fall to the ground; for he has worked with Alahayam this day. So the people rescued Yahawanathan, that he didn't die.⁴⁶ Then Shaawal went up from following the Palashath; and the Palashath went to their own place.⁴⁷ Now when Shaawal had taken the kingdom over Yasharaal, he fought against all his enemies on every side, against Mawaab, and against the children of Imawan, and against Adawam, and against the kings of Tzawabah, and against the Palashath: and wherever he turned himself, he put [them] to the worse.⁴⁸ He did valiantly, and struck the Amalekites, and delivered Yasharaal out of the hands of those who despoiled them.⁴⁹ Now the sons of Shaawal were Yahawanathan, and Yashaway, and Malakay; and the names of his two daughters were these: the name of the firstborn Marab, and the name of the younger Mayakal:⁵⁰ and the name of Shaawal's wife was Achayanaim the daughter of Achayamaitz. The name of the captain of his host was Abanar the son of Nar, Shaawal's uncle.⁵¹ Qayash was the father of Shaawal; and Nar the father of Abanar was the son of Abayaal.⁵² There was sore war against the Palashath all the days of Shaawal: and when Shaawal saw any mighty man, or any valiant man, he took him to him.

15 Shamawaal said to Shaawal, Yahawah sent me to anoint you to be king over his people, over Yasharaal: now therefore listen you to the voice of the words of Yahawah.² Thus says Yahawah Tzabaawath, I have marked that which Imalaq did to Yasharaal, how he set himself against him in the way, when he came up out of Matzarayam.³ Now go and strike Imalaq, and utterly destroy all that they have, and don't spare them; but kill both man and woman, infant and suckling, ox and sheep, camel and donkey.⁴ Shaawal summoned the people, and numbered them in Talaayam, two hundred thousand footmen, and ten thousand men of Yahawadah.⁵ Shaawal came to the city of Imalaq, and laid wait in the valley.⁶ Shaawal said to the Kenites, Go, depart, get you down from among the Amalekites, lest I destroy you with them; for you showed kindness to all the children of Yasharaal, when they came up out of Matzarayam. So the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites.⁷ Shaawal struck the Amalekites, from Chawayalah as you go to Shawar, that is before Matzarayam.⁸ He took Agag the king of the Amalekites alive, and utterly destroyed all the people with the edge of the sword.⁹ But Shaawal and the people spared Agag, and the best of the sheep, and of the oxen, and of the fatlings, and the lambs, and all that was good, and wouldn't utterly destroy them: but everything that was vile and refuse, that they destroyed utterly.¹⁰ Then came the word of Yahawah to Shamawaal, saying,¹¹ It repents me that I have set up Shaawal to be king; for he is turned back from following me, and has not performed my commandments. Shamawaal was angry; and he cried to Yahawah all night.¹² Shamawaal rose early to meet Shaawal in the morning; and it was told Shamawaal, saying, Shaawal came to Karamal, and, behold, he set him up a monument, and turned, and passed on, and went down to Galagal.¹³ Shamawaal came to Shaawal; and Shaawal said to him, Blessed be you of Yahawah: I have performed the commandment of Yahawah.¹⁴ Shamawaal said, What means then this bleating of the sheep in my ears, and the lowing of the oxen which I hear?¹⁵ Shaawal said, They have brought them from the Amalekites: for the people spared the best of the sheep and of the oxen, to sacrifice to Yahawah your Alahayam; and the rest we have utterly destroyed.¹⁶ Then Shamawaal said to Shaawal, Stay, and I will tell you what Yahawah has said to me this night. He said to him, Say on.¹⁷ Shamawaal said, "Though you were little in your own sight, weren't you made the head of the tribes of Yasharaal? Yahawah anointed you king over Yasharaal;¹⁸ and Yahawah sent you on a journey, and said, 'Go, and utterly destroy the sinners the Amalekites, and fight against them until they are consumed.'¹⁹ Why then didn't you obey the voice of Yahawah, but flew on the spoil, and did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah?"²⁰ Shaawal said to Shamawaal, Yes, I have obeyed the voice of Yahawah, and have gone the way which Yahawah sent me, and have brought Agag the king of Imalaq, and have utterly destroyed the Amalekites.²¹ But the people took of the spoil, sheep and oxen, the chief of the devoted things, to sacrifice to Yahawah your Alahayam in Galagal.²² Shamawaal said, Has Yahawah as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of Yahawah? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to listen than the fat of rams.²³ For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as idolatry and teraphim. Because you have rejected the word of Yahawah, he has also rejected you from being king.²⁴ Shaawal said to Shamawaal, I have sinned; for I have transgressed the commandment of Yahawah, and your words, because I feared the people, and obeyed their voice.²⁵ Now therefore, please pardon my sin, and turn again with me, that I may worship Yahawah.²⁶ Shamawaal said to Shaawal, I will not return with you; for you have rejected the word of Yahawah, and Yahawah has rejected you from being king over Yasharaal.²⁷ As Shamawaal turned about to go away, [Shaawal] laid hold on the skirt of his robe, and it tore.²⁸ Shamawaal said to him, Yahawah has torn the kingdom of Yasharaal from you this day, and has given it to a neighbor of yours who is better than you.²⁹ Also the Strength of Yasharaal will not lie nor repent; for he is not a man, that he should repent.³⁰ Then he said, I have sinned: yet honor me now, Please, before the elders of my people, and before Yasharaal, and turn again with me, that I may worship Yahawah your Alahayam.³¹ So Shamawaal turned again after Shaawal; and Shaawal worshipped Yahawah.³² Then said Shamawaal, Bring you here to me Agag the king of the Amalekites. Agag came to him cheerfully. Agag said, Surely the bitterness of death is past.³³ Shamawaal said, As your sword has made women childless, so shall your mother be childless among women. Shamawaal hewed Agag in pieces before Yahawah in Galagal.³⁴ Then Shamawaal went to Ramah; and Shaawal went up to his house to Gabaih of Shaawal.³⁵ Shamawaal came no more to see Shaawal until the day of his death; for Shamawaal mourned for Shaawal: and Yahawah repented that he had made Shaawal king over Yasharaal.

16 Yahawah said to Shamawaal, How long will you mourn for Shaawal, seeing I have rejected him from being king over Yasharaal? fill your horn with oil, and go: I will send you to Yashay the Bayath-lehemite; for I have provided me a king among his sons.² Shamawaal said, How can I go? if Shaawal hear it, he will kill me. Yahawah said, Take a heifer with you, and say, I am come to sacrifice to Yahawah.³ Call Yashay to the sacrifice, and I will show you what you shall do: and you shall anoint to me him whom I name to you.⁴ Shamawaal did that which Yahawah spoke, and came to Bayathalacham. The elders of the city came to meet him trembling, and said, Come you peaceably?⁵ He said, Peaceably; I am come to sacrifice to Yahawah: sanctify yourselves, and come with me to the sacrifice. He sanctified Yashay and his sons, and called them to the sacrifice.⁶ It happened, when they had come, that he looked at Alayaab, and said, Surely Yahawah's anointed is before him.⁷ But Yahawah said to Shamawaal, "Don't look on his face, or on the height of his stature; because I have rejected him: for [Yahawah sees] not as man sees; for man looks at the outward appearance, but Yahawah looks at the heart."⁸ Then Yashay called Abayanadab, and made him pass before Shamawaal. He said, Neither has Yahawah chosen this.⁹ Then Yashay made Shamah to pass by. He said, Neither has Yahawah chosen this.¹⁰ Yashay made seven of his sons to pass before Shamawaal. Shamawaal said to Yashay, Yahawah has not chosen these.¹¹ Shamawaal said to Yashay, Are here all your children? He said, There remains yet the youngest, and, behold, he is keeping the sheep. Shamawaal said to Yashay, Send and get him; for we will not sit down until he come here.¹² He sent, and brought him in. Now he was ruddy, and withal of a beautiful face, and goodly to look on. Yahawah said, Arise, anoint him; for this is he.¹³ Then Shamawaal took the horn of oil, and anointed him in the midst of his brothers: and the Spirit of Yahawah came mightily on Dawad from that day forward. So Shamawaal rose up, and went to Ramah.¹⁴ Now the Spirit of Yahawah departed from Shaawal, and an evil spirit from Yahawah troubled him.¹⁵ Shaawal's servants said to him, See now, an evil spirit from Alahayam troubles you.¹⁶ Let our lord now command your servants who are before you, to seek out a man who is a skillful player on the harp: and it shall happen, when the evil spirit from Alahayam is on you, that he shall play with his hand, and you shall be well.¹⁷ Shaawal said to his servants, Provide me now a man who can play well, and bring him to me.¹⁸ Then answered one of the young men, and said, Behold, I have seen a son of Yashay the Bayath-lehemite, who is skillful in playing, and a mighty man of valor, and a man of war, and prudent in speech, and a comely person; and Yahawah is with him.¹⁹ Therefore Shaawal sent messengers to Yashay, and said, Send me Dawad your son, who is with the sheep.²⁰ Yashay took a donkey [laden] with bread, and a bottle of wine, and a kid, and sent them by Dawad his son to Shaawal.²¹ Dawad came to Shaawal, and stood before him: and he loved him greatly; and he became his armor bearer.²² Shaawal sent to Yashay, saying, Please let Dawad stand before me; for he has found favor in my sight.²³ It happened, when the [evil] spirit from Alahayam was on Shaawal, that Dawad took the harp, and played with his hand: so Shaawal was refreshed, and was well, and the evil spirit departed from him.

17 Now the Palashath gathered together their armies to battle; and they were gathered together at Shawakah, which belongs to Yahawadah, and encamped between Shawakah and Izaqah, in Apas.² Shaawal and the men of Yasharaal were gathered together, and encamped in the vale of Alah, and set the battle in array against the Palashath.³ The Palashath stood on the mountain on the one side, and Yasharaal stood on the mountain on the other side: and there was a valley between them.⁴ There went out a champion out of the camp of the Palashath, named Galayath, of Gath, whose height was six cubits and a span.⁵ He had a helmet of brass on his head, and he was clad with a coat of mail; and the weight of the coat was five thousand shekels of brass.⁶ He had brass shin-armor on his legs, and a javelin of brass between his shoulders.⁷ The staff of his spear was like a weaver's beam; and his spear's head [weighed] six hundred shekels of iron: and his shield-bearer went before him.⁸ He stood and cried to the armies of Yasharaal, and said to them, Why are you come out to set your battle in array? am I not a Philistine, and you servants to Shaawal? choose you a man for you, and let him come down to me.⁹ If he be able to fight with me, and kill me, then will we be your servants; but if I prevail against him, and kill him, then shall you be our servants, and serve us.¹⁰ The Philistine said, I defy the armies of Yasharaal this day; give me a man, that we may fight together.¹¹ When Shaawal and all Yasharaal heard those words of the Philistine, they were dismayed, and greatly afraid.¹² Now Dawad was the son of that Ephrathite of Bayath-lehem-Yahawadah, whose name was Yashay; and he had eight sons: and the man was an old man in the days of Shaawal, stricken [in years] among men.¹³ The three eldest sons of Yashay had gone after Shaawal to the battle: and the names of his three sons who went to the battle were Alayaab the firstborn, and next to him Abayanadab, and the third Shamah.¹⁴ Dawad was the youngest; and the three eldest followed Shaawal.¹⁵ Now Dawad went back and forth from Shaawal to feed his father's sheep at Bayath-lehem.¹⁶ The Philistine drew near morning and evening, and presented himself forty days.¹⁷ Yashay said to Dawad his son, Take now for your brothers an ephah of this parched grain, and these ten loaves, and carry [them] quickly to the camp to your brothers; and bring these ten cheeses to the captain of their thousand, and look how your brothers fare, and take their pledge.¹⁸ Now Shaawal, and they, and all the men of Yasharaal, were in the vale of Alah, fighting with the Palashath.¹⁹ Dawad rose up early in the morning, and left the sheep with a keeper, and took, and went, as Yashay had commanded him; and he came to the place of the wagons, as the host which was going forth to the fight shouted for the battle.²⁰ Yasharaal and the Palashath put the battle in array, army against army.²¹ Dawad left his baggage in the hand of the keeper of the baggage, and ran to the army, and came and greeted his brothers.²² As he talked with them, behold, there came up the champion, the Philistine of Gath, Galayath by name, out of the ranks of the Palashath, and spoke according to the same words: and Dawad heard them.²³ All the men of Yasharaal, when they saw the man, fled from him, and were sore afraid.²⁴ The men of Yasharaal said, Have you seen this man who is come up? surely to defy Yasharaal is he come up: and it shall be, that the man who kills him, the king will enrich him with great riches, and will give him his daughter, and make his father's house free in Yasharaal.²⁵ Dawad spoke to the men who stood by him, saying, What shall be done to the man who kills this Philistine, and takes away the reproach from Yasharaal? for who is this uncircumcised Philistine, that he should defy the armies of the living Alahayam?²⁶ The people answered him after this manner, saying, So shall it be done to the man who kills him.²⁷ Alayaab his eldest brother heard when he spoke to the men; and Alayaab's anger was kindled against Dawad, and he said, Why are you come down? and with whom have you left those few sheep in the wilderness? I know your pride, and the naughtiness of your heart; for you have come down that you might see the battle.²⁸ Dawad said, What have I now done? Is there not a cause?²⁹ He turned away from him toward another, and spoke after the same manner: and the people answered him again after the former manner.³⁰ When the words were heard which Dawad spoke, they rehearsed them before Shaawal; and he sent for him.³¹ Dawad said to Shaawal, Let no man's heart fail because of him; your servant will go and fight with this Philistine.³² Shaawal said to Dawad, You are not able to go against this Philistine to fight with him; for you are but a youth, and he a man of war from his youth.³⁴ Dawad said to Shaawal, Your servant was keeping his father's sheep; and when there came a lion, or a bear, and took a lamb out of the flock,³⁵ I went out after him, and struck him, and delivered it out of his mouth; and when he arose against me, I caught him by his beard, and struck him, and killed him.³⁶ Your servant struck both the lion and the bear: and this uncircumcised Philistine shall be as one of them, seeing he has defied the armies of the living Alahayam.³⁷ Dawad said, Yahawah who delivered me out of the paw of the lion, and out of the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the hand of this Philistine. Shaawal said to Dawad, Go, and Yahawah shall be with you.³⁸ Shaawal clad Dawad with his clothing, and he put a helmet of brass on his head, and he clad him with a coat of mail.³⁹ Dawad girded his sword on his clothing, and he tried to go; for he had not proved it. Dawad said to Shaawal, I can't go with these; for I have not proved them. Dawad put them off him.⁴⁰ He took his staff in his hand, and chose him five smooth stones out of the brook, and put them in the shepherd's bag which he had, even in his wallet; and his sling was in his hand: and he drew near to the Philistine.⁴¹ The Philistine came on and drew near to Dawad; and the man who bore the shield went before him.⁴² When the Philistine looked about, and saw Dawad, he disdained him; for he was but a youth, and ruddy, and withal of a fair face.⁴³ The Philistine said to Dawad, Am I a dog, that you come to me with sticks? The Philistine cursed Dawad by his gods.⁴⁴ The Philistine said to Dawad, Come to me, and I will give your flesh to the birds of the sky, and to the animals of the field.⁴⁵ Then said Dawad to the Philistine, You come to me with a sword, and with a spear, and with a javelin: but I come to you in the name of Yahawah of hosts, the Alahayam of the armies of Yasharaal, whom you have defied.⁴⁶ This day will Yahawah deliver you into my hand; and I will strike you, and take your head from off you; and I will give the dead bodies of the host of the Palashath this day to the birds of the sky, and to the wild animals of the earth; that all the earth may know that there is a Alahayam in Yasharaal,⁴⁷ and that all this assembly may know that Yahawah doesn't save with sword and spear: for the battle is Yahawah's, and he will give you into our hand.⁴⁸ It happened, when the Philistine arose, and came and drew near to meet Dawad, that Dawad hurried, and ran toward the army to meet the Philistine.⁴⁹ Dawad put his hand in his bag, and took there a stone, and slang it, and struck the Philistine in his forehead; and the stone sank into his forehead, and he fell on his face to the earth.⁵⁰ So Dawad prevailed over the Philistine with a sling and with a stone, and struck the Philistine, and killed him; but there was no sword in the hand of Dawad.⁵¹ Then Dawad ran, and stood over the Philistine, and took his sword, and drew it out of the sheath of it, and killed him, and cut off his head therewith. When the Palashath saw that their champion was dead, they fled.⁵² The men of Yasharaal and of Yahawadah arose, and shouted, and pursued the Palashath, until you come to Gai, and to the gates of Iqarawan. The wounded of the Palashath fell down by the way to Shairayam, even to Gath, and to Iqarawan.⁵³ The children of Yasharaal returned from chasing after the Palashath, and they plundered their camp.⁵⁴ Dawad took the head of the Philistine, and brought it to Yarawashalam; but he put his armor in his tent.⁵⁵ When Shaawal saw Dawad go forth against the Philistine, he said to Abanar, the captain of the host, Abanar, whose son is this youth? Abanar said, As your soul lives, O king, I can't tell.⁵⁶ The king said, Inquire you whose son the stripling is.⁵⁷ As Dawad returned from the slaughter of the Philistine, Abanar took him, and brought him before Shaawal with the head of the Philistine in his hand.⁵⁸ Shaawal said to him, Whose son are you, you young man? Dawad answered, I am the son of your servant Yashay the Bayath-lehemite.

18 It happened, when he had made an end of speaking to Shaawal, that the soul of Yahawanathan was knit with the soul of Dawad, and Yahawanathan loved him as his own soul.² Shaawal took him that day, and would let him go no more home to his father's house.³ Then Yahawanathan and Dawad made a covenant, because he loved him as his own soul.⁴ Yahawanathan stripped himself of the robe that was on him, and gave it to Dawad, and his clothing, even to his sword, and to his bow, and to his sash.⁵ Dawad went out wherever Shaawal sent him, [and] behaved himself wisely: and Shaawal set him over the men of war, and it was good in the sight of all the people, and also in the sight of Shaawal's servants.⁶ It happened as they came, when Dawad returned from the slaughter of the Philistine, that the women came out of all the cities of Yasharaal, singing and dancing, to meet king Shaawal, with tambourines, with joy, and with instruments of music.⁷ The women sang one to another as they played, and said, Shaawal has slain his thousands, Dawad his ten thousands.⁸ Shaawal was very angry, and this saying displeased him; and he said, They have ascribed to Dawad ten thousands, and to me they have ascribed but thousands: and what can he have more but the kingdom?⁹ Shaawal eyed Dawad from that day and forward.¹⁰ It happened on the next day, that an evil spirit from Alahayam came mightily on Shaawal, and he prophesied in the midst of the house: and Dawad played with his hand, as he did day by day. Shaawal had his spear in his hand;¹¹ and Shaawal cast the spear; for he said, I will strike Dawad even to the wall. Dawad avoided out of his presence twice.¹² Shaawal was afraid of Dawad, because Yahawah was with him, and was departed from Shaawal.¹³ Therefore Shaawal removed him from him, and made him his captain over a thousand; and he went out and came in before the people.¹⁴ Dawad behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and Yahawah was with him.¹⁵ When Shaawal saw that he behaved himself very wisely, he stood in awe of him.¹⁶ But all Yasharaal and Yahawadah loved Dawad; for he went out and came in before them.¹⁷ Shaawal said to Dawad, Behold, my elder daughter Marab, her will I give you as wife: only be you valiant for me, and fight Yahawah's battles. For Shaawal said, Don't let my hand be on him, but let the hand of the Palashath be on him.¹⁸ Dawad said to Shaawal, Who am I, and what is my life, [or] my father's family in Yasharaal, that I should be son-in-law to the king?¹⁹ But it happened at the time when Marab, Shaawal's daughter, should have been given to Dawad, that she was given to Idarayaal the Meholathite as wife.²⁰ Mayakal, Shaawal's daughter, loved Dawad: and they told Shaawal, and the thing pleased him.²¹ Shaawal said, I will give her to him, that she may be a snare to him, and that the hand of the Palashath may be against him. Why Shaawal said to Dawad, You shall this day be my son-in-law a second time.²² Shaawal commanded his servants, [saying], Commune with Dawad secretly, and say, Behold, the king has delight in you, and all his servants love you: now therefore be the king's son-in-law.²³ Shaawal's servants spoke those words in the ears of Dawad. Dawad said, Seems it to you a light thing to be the king's son-in-law, seeing that I am a poor man, and lightly esteemed?²⁴ The servants of Shaawal told him, saying, On this manner spoke Dawad.²⁵ Shaawal said, Thus shall you tell Dawad, The king desires no dowry except one hundred foreskins of the Palashath, to be avenged of the king's enemies. Now Shaawal thought to make Dawad fall by the hand of the Palashath.²⁶ When his servants told Dawad these words, it pleased Dawad well to be the king's son-in-law. The days were not expired;²⁷ and Dawad arose and went, he and his men, and killed of the Palashath two hundred men; and Dawad brought their foreskins, and they gave them in full number to the king, that he might be the king's son-in-law. Shaawal gave him Mayakal his daughter as wife.²⁸ Shaawal saw and knew that Yahawah was with Dawad; and Mayakal, Shaawal's daughter, loved him.²⁹ Shaawal was yet the more afraid of Dawad; and Shaawal was Dawad's enemy continually.³⁰ Then the princes of the Palashath went forth: and it happened, as often as they went forth, that Dawad behaved himself more wisely than all the servants of Shaawal; so that his name was much set by.

19 Shaawal spoke to Yahawanathan his son, and to all his servants, that they should kill Dawad. But Yahawanathan, Shaawal's son, delighted much in Dawad.² Yahawanathan told Dawad, saying, Shaawal my father seeks to kill you: now therefore, please take care of yourself in the morning, and live in a secret place, and hide yourself: ³ and I will go out and stand beside my father in the field where you are, and I will commune with my father of you; and if I see anything, I will tell you. ⁴ Yahawanathan spoke good of Dawad to Shaawal his father, and said to him, Don't let the king sin against his servant, against Dawad; because he has not sinned against you, and because his works have been very good toward you: ⁵ for he put his life in his hand, and struck the Philistine, and Yahawah worked a great victory for all Yasharaal: you saw it, and did rejoice; why then will you sin against innocent blood, to kill Dawad without a cause? ⁶ Shaawal listened to the voice of Yahawanathan: and Shaawal swore, As Yahawah lives, he shall not be put to death. ⁷ Yahawanathan called Dawad, and Yahawanathan showed him all those things. Yahawanathan brought Dawad to Shaawal, and he was in his presence, as before. ⁸ There was war again: and Dawad went out, and fought with the Palashath, and killed them with a great slaughter; and they fled before him. ⁹ An evil spirit from Yahawah was on Shaawal, as he sat in his house with his spear in his hand; and Dawad was playing with his hand. ¹⁰ Shaawal sought to strike Dawad even to the wall with the spear; but he slipped away out of Shaawal's presence, and he struck the spear into the wall: and Dawad fled, and escaped that night. ¹¹ Shaawal sent messengers to Dawad's house, to watch him, and to kill him in the morning: and Mayakal, Dawad's wife, told him, saying, If you don't save your life tonight, tomorrow you will be slain. ¹² So Mayakal let Dawad down through the window: and he went, and fled, and escaped. ¹³ Mayakal took the teraphim, and laid it in the bed, and put a pillow of goats' [hair] at the head of it, and covered it with the clothes. ¹⁴ When Shaawal sent messengers to take Dawad, she said, He is sick. ¹⁵ Shaawal sent the messengers to see Dawad, saying, Bring him up to me in the bed, that I may kill him. ¹⁶ When the messengers came in, behold, the teraphim was in the bed, with the pillow of goats' [hair] at the head of it. ¹⁷ Shaawal said to Mayakal, Why have you deceived me thus, and let my enemy go, so that he is escaped? Mayakal answered Shaawal, He said to me, Let me go; why should I kill you? ¹⁸ Now Dawad fled, and escaped, and came to Shamawaal to Ramah, and told him all that Shaawal had done to him. He and Shamawaal went and lived in Naioth. ¹⁹ It was told Shaawal, saying, Behold, Dawad is at Naioth in Ramah. ²⁰ Shaawal sent messengers to take Dawad: and when they saw the company of the prophets prophesying, and Shamawaal standing as head over them, the Spirit of Alahayam came on the messengers of Shaawal, and they also prophesied. ²¹ When it was told Shaawal, he sent other messengers, and they also prophesied. Shaawal sent messengers again the third time, and they also prophesied. ²² Then went he also to Ramah, and came to the great well that is in Secu: and he asked and said, Where are Shamawaal and Dawad? One said, Behold, they are at Naioth in Ramah. ²³ He went there to Naioth in Ramah: and the Spirit of Alahayam came on him also, and he went on, and prophesied, until he came to Naioth in Ramah. ²⁴ He also stripped off his clothes, and he also prophesied before Shamawaal, and lay down naked all that day and all that night. Why they say, Is Shaawal also among the prophets?

20 Dawad fled from Naioth in Ramah, and came and said before Yahawanathan, What have I done? what is my iniquity? and what is my sin before your father, that he seeks my life? ² He said to him, Far from it; you shall not die: behold, my father does nothing either great or small, but that he discloses it to me; and why should my father hide this thing from me? it is not so. ³ Dawad swore moreover, and said, Your father knows well that I have found favor in your eyes; and he says, Don't let Yahawanathan know this, lest he be grieved: but truly as Yahawah lives, and as your soul lives, there is but a step between me and death. ⁴ Then said Yahawanathan to Dawad, Whatever your soul desires, I will even do it for you. ⁵ Dawad said to Yahawanathan, Behold, tomorrow is the new moon, and I should not fail to sit with the king at meat: but let me go, that I may hide myself in the field to the third day at even. ⁶ If your father miss me at all, then say, Dawad earnestly asked leave of me that he might run to Bayath-lehem his city; for it is the yearly sacrifice there for all the family. ⁷ If he say thus, It is well; your servant shall have peace: but if he be angry, then know that evil is determined by him. ⁸ Therefore deal kindly with your servant; for you have brought your servant into a covenant of Yahawah with you: but if there be in me iniquity, kill me yourself; for why should you bring me to your father? ⁹ Yahawanathan said, Far be it from you; for if I should at all know that evil were determined by my father to come on you, then wouldn't I tell you that? ¹⁰ Then said Dawad to Yahawanathan, Who shall tell me if perchance your father answer you roughly? ¹¹ Yahawanathan said to Dawad, Come, and let us go out into the field. They went out both of them into the field. ¹² Yahawanathan said to Dawad, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, [be witness]: when I have sounded my father about this time tomorrow, [or] the third day, behold, if there be good toward Dawad, shall I not then send to you, and disclose it to you? ¹³ Yahawah do so to Yahawanathan, and more also, should it please my father to do you evil, if I don't disclose it to you, and send you away, that you may go in peace: and Yahawah be with you, as he has been with my father. ¹⁴ You shall not only while yet I live show me the lovingkindness of Yahawah, that I not die; ¹⁵ but also you shall not cut off your kindness from my house forever; no, not when Yahawah has cut off the enemies of Dawad everyone from the surface of the earth. ¹⁶ So Yahawanathan made a covenant with the house of Dawad, [saying], Yahawah will require it at the hand of Dawad's enemies. ¹⁷ Yahawanathan caused Dawad to swear again, for the love that he had to him; for he loved him as he loved his own soul. ¹⁸ Then Yahawanathan said to him, Tomorrow is the new moon: and you will be missed, because your seat will be empty. ¹⁹ When you have stayed three days, you shall go down quickly, and come to the place where you did hide yourself when the business was in hand, and shall remain by the stone Azal. ²⁰ I will shoot three arrows on the side of it, as though I shot at a mark. ²¹ Behold, I will send the boy, [saying], Go, find the arrows. If I tell the boy, Behold, the arrows are on this side of you; take them, and come; for there is peace to you and no hurt, as Yahawah lives. ²² But if I say thus to the boy, Behold, the arrows are beyond you; go your way; for Yahawah has sent you away. ²³ As touching the matter which you and I have spoken of, behold, Yahawah is between you and me forever. ²⁴ So Dawad hid himself in the field: and when the new moon was come, the king sat him down to eat food. ²⁵ The king sat on his seat, as at other times, even on the seat by the wall; and Yahawanathan stood up, and Abanar sat by Shaawal's side: but Dawad's place was empty. ²⁶ Nevertheless Shaawal didn't say anything that day: for he thought, Something has befallen him, he is not clean; surely he is not clean. ²⁷ It happened on the next day after the new moon, [which was] the second [day], that Dawad's place was empty: and Shaawal said to Yahawanathan his son, Why doesn't the son of Yashay come to meat, neither yesterday, nor today? ²⁸ Yahawanathan answered Shaawal, Dawad earnestly asked leave of me to go to Bayath-lehem: ²⁹ and he said, Please let me go, for our family has a sacrifice in the city; and my brother, he has commanded me [to be there]: and now, if I have found favor in your eyes, let me get away, I pray you, and see my brothers. Therefore he is not come to the king's table. ³⁰ Then Shaawal's anger was kindled against Yahawanathan, and he said to him, You son of a perverse rebellious woman, don't I know that you have chosen the son of Yashay to your own shame, and to the shame of your mother's nakedness? ³¹ For as long as the son of Yashay lives on the earth, you shall not be established, nor your kingdom. Why now send and bring him to me, for he shall surely die. ³² Yahawanathan answered Shaawal his father, and said to him, Why should he be put to death? what has he done? ³³ Shaawal cast his spear at him to strike him; whereby Yahawanathan knew that it was determined of his father to put Dawad to death. ³⁴ So Yahawanathan arose from the table in fierce anger, and ate no food the second day of the month; for he was grieved for Dawad, because his father had done him shame. ³⁵ It happened in the morning, that Yahawanathan went out into the field at the time appointed with Dawad, and a little boy with him. ³⁶ He said to his boy, Run, find now the arrows which I shoot. As the boy ran, he shot an arrow beyond him.³⁷ When the boy was come to the place of the arrow which Yahawanathan had shot, Yahawanathan cried after the boy, and said, Isn't the arrow beyond you?³⁸ Yahawanathan cried after the boy, Go fast! Hurry! Don't delay! Yahawanathan's boy gathered up the arrows, and came to his master.³⁹ But the boy didn't know anything: only Yahawanathan and Dawad knew the matter.⁴⁰ Yahawanathan gave his weapons to his boy, and said to him, Go, carry them to the city.⁴¹ As soon as the boy was gone, Dawad arose out of [a place] toward the South, and fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himself three times: and they kissed one another, and wept one with another, until Dawad exceeded.⁴² Yahawanathan said to Dawad, Go in peace, because we have sworn both of us in the name of Yahawah, saying, Yahawah shall be between me and you, and between my seed and your seed, forever. He arose and departed: and Yahawanathan went into the city.

21 Then came Dawad to Nab to Achayamalak the priest: and Achayamalak came to meet Dawad trembling, and said to him, Why are you alone, and no man with you?³ Dawad said to Achayamalak the priest, The king has commanded me a business, and has said to me, Let no man know anything of the business about which I send you, and what I have commanded you: and I have appointed the young men to such and such a place.⁴ Now therefore what is under your hand? give me five loaves of bread in my hand, or whatever there is present.⁵ The priest answered Dawad, and said, There is no common bread under my hand, but there is holy bread; if only the young men have kept themselves from women.⁶ Dawad answered the priest, and said to him, Of a truth women have been kept from us about these three days; when I came out, the vessels of the young men were holy, though it was but a common journey; how much more then today shall their vessels be holy?⁷ So the priest gave him holy [bread]; for there was no bread there but the show bread, that was taken from before Yahawah, to put hot bread in the day when it was taken away.⁸ Now a certain man of the servants of Shaawal was there that day, detained before Yahawah; and his name was Dawayag the Edomite, the best of the herdsman who belonged to Shaawal.⁹ Dawad said to Achayamalak, Isn't there here under your hand spear or sword? for I have neither brought my sword nor my weapons with me, because the king's business required haste.¹⁰ The priest said, The sword of Galayath the Philistine, whom you killed in the vale of Alah, behold, it is here wrapped in a cloth behind the ephod: if you will take that, take it; for there is no other except that here. Dawad said, There is none like that; give it me.¹¹ Dawad arose, and fled that day for fear of Shaawal, and went to Akayash the king of Gath.¹² The servants of Akayash said to him, "Isn't this Dawad the king of the land? Didn't they sing one to another about him in dances, saying, 'Shaawal has slain his thousands, Dawad his ten thousands?'"¹³ Dawad laid up these words in his heart, and was very afraid of Akayash the king of Gath.¹⁴ He changed his behavior before them, and feigned himself mad in their hands, and scrabbled on the doors of the gate, and let his spittle fall down on his beard.¹⁵ Then said Akayash to his servants, Look, you see the man is mad; why then have you brought him to me?¹⁶ Do I lack madmen, that you have brought this fellow to play the madman in my presence? shall this fellow come into my house?

22 Dawad therefore departed there, and escaped to the cave of Idalam: and when his brothers and all his father's house heard it, they went down there to him.² Everyone who was in distress, and everyone who was in debt, and everyone who was discontented, gathered themselves to him; and he became captain over them: and there were with him about four hundred men.³ Dawad went there to Matzapah of Mawaab: and he said to the king of Mawaab, Please let my father and my mother come forth, [and be] with you, until I know what Alahayam will do for me.⁴ He brought them before the king of Mawaab: and they lived with him all the while that Dawad was in the stronghold.⁵ The prophet Gad said to Dawad, Don't stay in the stronghold; depart, and get you into the land of Yahawadah. Then Dawad departed, and came into the forest of Charath.

⁶ Shaawal heard that Dawad was discovered, and the men who were with him: now Shaawal was sitting in Gabaih, under the tamarisk-tree in Ramah, with his spear in his hand, and all his servants were standing about him.⁷ Shaawal said to his servants who stood about him, Hear now, you Benjamites; will the son of Yashay give everyone of you fields and vineyards, will he make you all captains of thousands and captains of hundreds,⁸ that all of you have conspired against me, and there is none who discloses to me when my son makes a league with the son of Yashay, and there is none of you who is sorry for me, or discloses to me that my son has stirred up my servant against me, to lie in wait, as at this day?⁹ Then answered Dawayag the Edomite, who stood by the servants of Shaawal, and said, I saw the son of Yashay coming to Nab, to Achayamalak the son of Achayatawab.¹⁰ He inquired of Yahawah for him, and gave him victuals, and gave him the sword of Galayath the Philistine.¹¹ Then the king sent to call Achayamalak the priest, the son of Achayatawab, and all his father's house, the priests who were in Nab: and they came all of them to the king.¹² Shaawal said, Hear now, you son of Achayatawab. He answered, Here I am, my lord.¹³ Shaawal said to him, Why have you conspired against me, you and the son of Yashay, in that you have given him bread, and a sword, and have inquired of Alahayam for him, that he should rise against me, to lie in wait, as at this day?¹⁴ Then Achayamalak answered the king, and said, Who among all your servants is so faithful as Dawad, who is the king's son-in-law, and is taken into your council, and is honorable in your house?¹⁵ Have I today begun to inquire of Alahayam for him? be it far from me: don't let the king impute anything to his servant, nor to all the house of my father; for your servant knows nothing of all this, less or more.¹⁶ The king said, You shall surely die, Achayamalak, you, and all your father's house.¹⁷ The king said to the guard who stood about him, Turn, and kill the priests of Yahawah; because their hand also is with Dawad, and because they knew that he fled, and didn't disclose it to me. But the servants of the king wouldn't put forth their hand to fall on the priests of Yahawah.¹⁸ The king said to Dawayag, Turn you, and fall on the priests. Dawayag the Edomite turned, and he fell on the priests, and he killed on that day eighty-five persons who wore a linen ephod.¹⁹ Nab, the city of the priests, struck he with the edge of the sword, both men and women, children and nursing babies, and oxen and donkeys and sheep, with the edge of the sword.²⁰ One of the sons of Achayamalak, the son of Achayatawab, named Abayathar, escaped, and fled after Dawad.²¹ Abayathar told Dawad that Shaawal had slain Yahawah's priests.²² Dawad said to Abayathar, I knew on that day, when Dawayag the Edomite was there, that he would surely tell Shaawal: I have occasioned [the death] of all the persons of your father's house.²³ Abide you with me, don't be afraid; for he who seeks my life seeks your life: for with me you shall be in safeguard.

23 They told Dawad, saying, Behold, the Palashath are fighting against Qaiyalah, and are robbing the threshing floors.² Therefore Dawad inquired of Yahawah, saying, Shall I go and strike these Palashath? Yahawah said to Dawad, Go, and strike the Palashath, and save Qaiyalah.³ Dawad's men said to him, Behold, we are afraid here in Yahawadah: how much more then if we go to Qaiyalah against the armies of the Palashath?⁴ Then Dawad inquired of Yahawah yet again. Yahawah answered him, and said, Arise, go down to Qaiyalah; for I will deliver the Palashath into your hand.⁵ Dawad and his men went to Qaiyalah, and fought with the Palashath, and brought away their cattle, and killed them with a great slaughter. So Dawad save the inhabitants of Qaiyalah.⁶ It happened, when Abayathar the son of Achayamalak fled to Dawad to Qaiyalah, that he came down with an ephod in his hand.⁷ It was told Shaawal that Dawad was come to Qaiyalah. Shaawal said, Alahayam has delivered him into my hand; for he is shut in, by entering into a town that has gates and bars.⁸ Shaawal summoned all the people to war, to go down to Qaiyalah, to besiege Dawad and his men.⁹ Dawad knew that Shaawal was devising mischief against him; and he said to Abayathar the priest, Bring here the ephod.¹⁰ Then said Dawad, O Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, your servant has surely heard that Shaawal seeks to come to Qaiyalah, to destroy the city for my sake.¹¹ Will the men of Qaiyalah deliver me up into his hand? will Shaawal come down, as your servant has heard? Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, I beg you, tell your servant. Yahawah said, He will come down.¹² Then said Dawad, Will the men of Qaiyalah deliver up to me and my men into the hand of Shaawal? Yahawah said, They will deliver you up.¹³ Then Dawad and his men, who were about six hundred, arose and departed out of Qaiyalah, and went wherever they could go. It was told Shaawal that Dawad was escaped from Qaiyalah; and he gave up going there.¹⁴ Dawad abode in the wilderness in the strongholds, and remained in the hill-country in the wilderness of Zayap. Shaawal sought him every day, but Alahayam didn't deliver him into his hand.¹⁵ Dawad saw that Shaawal had come out to seek his life: and Dawad was in the wilderness of Zayap in the wood.¹⁶ Yahawanathan, Shaawal's son, arose, and went to Dawad into the wood, and strengthened his hand in Alahayam.¹⁷ He said to him, Don't be afraid; for the hand of Shaawal my father shall not find you; and you shall be king over Yasharaal, and I shall be next to you; and that also Shaawal my father knows.¹⁸ They two made a covenant before Yahawah: and Dawad abode in the wood, and Yahawanathan went to his house.¹⁹ Then came up the Ziphites to Shaawal to Gabaih, saying, Doesn't Dawad hide himself with us in the strongholds in the wood, in the hill of Chakayalah, which is on the south of the desert?²⁰ Now therefore, O king, come down, according to all the desire of your soul to come down; and our part shall be to deliver him up into the king's hand.²¹ Shaawal said, Blessed be you of Yahawah; for you have had compassion on me.²² Pleasease go make yet more sure, and know and see his place where his haunt is, [and] who has seen him there; for it is told me that he deals very subtly.²³ See therefore, and take knowledge of all the lurking-places where he hides himself, and come you again to me of a certainty, and I will go with you: and it shall happen, if he be in the land, that I will search him out among all the thousands of Yahawadah.²⁴ They arose, and went to Zayap before Shaawal: but Dawad and his men were in the wilderness of Maiwan, in the Irabah on the south of the desert.²⁵ Shaawal and his men went to seek him. They told Dawad: why he came down to the rock, and abode in the wilderness of Maiwan. When Shaawal heard [that], he pursued after Dawad in the wilderness of Maiwan.²⁶ Shaawal went on this side of the mountain, and Dawad and his men on that side of the mountain: and Dawad made haste to get away for fear of Shaawal; for Shaawal and his men compassed Dawad and his men round about to take them.²⁷ But there came a messenger to Shaawal, saying, Haste you, and come; for the Palashath have made a raid on the land.²⁸ So Shaawal returned from pursuing after Dawad, and went against the Palashath: therefore they called that place Sela-hammahlekoth.

24 It happened, when Shaawal was returned from following the Palashath, that it was told him, saying, Behold, Dawad is in the wilderness of Gaday.³ Then Shaawal took three thousand chosen men out of all Yasharaal, and went to seek Dawad and his men on the rocks of the wild goats.⁴ He came to the sheep pens by the way, where was a cave; and Shaawal went in to cover his feet. Now Dawad and his men were abiding in the innermost parts of the cave.⁵ The men of Dawad said to him, Behold, the day of which Yahawah said to you, Behold, I will deliver your enemy into your hand, and you shall do to him as it shall seem good to you. Then Dawad arose, and cut off the skirt of Shaawal's robe secretly.⁶ It happened afterward, that Dawad's heart struck him, because he had cut off Shaawal's skirt.⁷ He said to his men, Yahawah forbid that I should do this thing to my lord, Yahawah's anointed, to put forth my hand against him, seeing he is Yahawah's anointed.⁸ So Dawad checked his men with these words, and didn't allow them to rise against Shaawal. Shaawal rose up out of the cave, and went on his way.⁹ Dawad also arose afterward, and went out of the cave, and cried after Shaawal, saying, My lord the king. When Shaawal looked behind him, Dawad bowed with his face to the earth, and did obeisance.¹⁰ Dawad said to Shaawal, Why listen you to men's words, saying, Behold, Dawad seeks your hurt?¹¹ Behold, this day your eyes have seen how that Yahawah had delivered you today into my hand in the cave: and some bade me kill you; but [my eye] spared you; and I said, I will not put forth my hand against my lord; for he is Yahawah's anointed.¹² Moreover, my father, behold, yes, see the skirt of your robe in my hand; for in that I cut off the skirt of your robe, and didn't kill you, know you and see that there is neither evil nor disobedience in my hand, and I have not sinned against you, though you hunt after my life to take it.¹³ Yahawah judge between me and you, and Yahawah avenge me of you; but my hand shall not be on you.¹⁴ As says the proverb of the ancients, Out of the wicked comes forth wickedness; but my hand shall not be on you.¹⁵ After whom is the king of Yasharaal come out? after whom do you pursue? after a dead dog, after a flea.¹⁶ Yahawah therefore be judge, and give sentence between me and you, and see, and plead my cause, and deliver me out of your hand.¹⁷ It came to pass, when Dawad had made an end of speaking these words to Shaawal, that Shaawal said, Is this your voice, my son Dawad? Shaawal lifted up his voice, and wept.¹⁸ He said to Dawad, You are more righteous than I; for you have rendered to me good, whereas I have rendered to you evil.¹⁹ You have declared this day how that you have dealt well with me, because when Yahawah had delivered me up into your hand, you didn't kill me.²⁰ For if a man find his enemy, will he let him go well away? why Yahawah reward you good for that which you have done to me this day.²¹ Now, behold, I know that you shall surely be king, and that the kingdom of Yasharaal shall be established in your hand.²² Swear now therefore to me by Yahawah, that you will not cut off my seed after me, and that you will not destroy my name out of my father's house.²³ Dawad swore to Shaawal. Shaawal went home; but Dawad and his men got them up to the stronghold.

25 Shamawaal died; and all Yasharaal gathered themselves together, and lamented him, and buried him in his house at Ramah. Dawad arose, and went down to the wilderness of Paaran.² There was a man in Maiwan, whose possessions were in Karamal; and the man was very great, and he had three thousand sheep, and a thousand goats: and he was shearing his sheep in Karamal.³ Now the name of the man was Nabal; and the name of his wife Abigail; and the woman was of good understanding, and of a beautiful face: but the man was churlish and evil in his doings; and he was of the house of Kalab.⁴ Dawad heard in the wilderness that Nabal was shearing his sheep.⁵ Dawad sent ten young men, and Dawad said to the young men, Get you up to Karamal, and go to Nabal, and greet him in my name:⁶ and thus shall you tell him who lives [in prosperity], Peace be to you, and peace be to your house, and peace be to all that you have.⁷ Now I have heard that you have shearers: your shepherds have now been with us, and we did them no hurt, neither was there anything missing to them, all the while they were in Karamal.⁸ Ask your young men, and they will tell you: why let the young men find favor in your eyes; for we come in a good day. Please give whatever comes to your hand, to your servants, and to your son Dawad.⁹ When Dawad's young men came, they spoke to Nabal according to all those words in the name of Dawad, and ceased.¹⁰ Nabal answered Dawad's servants, and said, Who is Dawad? and who is the son of Yashay? there are many servants now-a-days who break away every man from his master.¹¹ Shall I then take my bread, and my water, and my meat that I have killed for my shearers, and give it to men who I don't know where they come from?¹² So Dawad's young men turned on their way, and went back, and came and told him according to all these words.¹³ Dawad said to his men, Gird you on every man his sword. They girded on every man his sword; and Dawad also girded on his sword: and there went up after Dawad about four hundred men; and two hundred abode by the baggage.¹⁴ But one of the young men told Abigail, Nabal's wife, saying, Behold, Dawad sent messengers out of the wilderness to Greet our master; and he railed at them.¹⁵ But the men were very good to us, and we were not hurt, neither missed we anything, as long as we went with them, when we were in the fields:¹⁶ they were a wall to us both by night and by day, all the while we were with them keeping the sheep.¹⁷ Now therefore know and consider what you will do; for evil is determined against our master, and against all his house: for he is such a worthless fellow that one can't speak to him.¹⁸ Then Abigail made haste, and took two hundred loaves, and two bottles of wine, and five sheep ready dressed, and five measures of parched grain, and one hundred clusters of raisins, and two hundred cakes of figs, and laid them on donkeys.¹⁹ She said to her young men, Go on before me; behold, I come after you. But she didn't tell her husband, Nabal.²⁰ It was so, as she rode on her donkey, and came down by the covert of the mountain, that behold, Dawad and his men came down toward her; and she met them.²¹ Now Dawad had said, Surely in vain have I kept all that this fellow has in the wilderness, so that nothing was missed of all that pertained to him: and he has returned me evil for good.²² Alahayam do so to the enemies of Dawad, and more also, if I leave of all that belongs to him by the morning light so much as one man-child.²³ When Abigail saw Dawad, she hurried, and alighted from her donkey, and fell before Dawad on her face, and bowed herself to the ground.²⁴ She fell at his feet, and said, On me, my lord, on me be the iniquity; and please let your handmaid speak in your ears. Hear the words of your handmaid.²⁵ Please don't let my lord regard this worthless fellow, even Nabal; for as his name is, so is he; Nabal is his name, and folly is with him: but I your handmaid didn't see the young men of my lord, whom you did send.²⁶ Now therefore, my lord, as Yahawah lives, and as your soul lives, seeing Yahawah has withheld you from blood guiltiness, and from avenging yourself with your own hand, now therefore let your enemies, and those who seek evil to my lord, be as Nabal.²⁷ Now this present which your servant has brought to my lord, let it be given to the young men who follow my lord.²⁸ Please forgive the trespass of your handmaid: for Yahawah will certainly make my lord a sure house, because my lord fights the battles of Yahawah; and evil shall not be found in you all your days.²⁹ Though men be risen up to pursue you, and to seek your soul, yet the soul of my lord shall be bound in the bundle of life with Yahawah your Alahayam; and the souls of your enemies, them shall he sling out, as from the hollow of a sling.³⁰ It shall come to pass, when Yahawah shall have done to my lord according to all the good that he has spoken concerning you, and shall have appointed you prince over Yasharaal,³¹ that this shall be no grief to you, nor offense of heart to my lord, either that you have shed blood without cause, or that my lord has avenged himself. When Yahawah shall have dealt well with my lord, then remember your handmaid.³² Dawad said to Abigail, Blessed be Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, who sent you this day to meet me:³³ and blessed be your discretion, and blessed be you, that have kept me this day from blood guiltiness, and from avenging myself with my own hand.³⁴ For in very deed, as Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, lives, who has withheld me from hurting you, except you had hurried and come to meet me, surely there wouldn't have been left to Nabal by the morning light so much as one man-child.³⁵ So Dawad received of her hand that which she had brought him: and he said to her, Go up in peace to your house; behold, I have listened to your voice, and have accepted your person.³⁶ Abigail came to Nabal; and, behold, he held a feast in his house, like the feast of a king; and Nabal's heart was merry within him, for he was very drunken: why she told him nothing, less or more, until the morning light.³⁷ It happened in the morning, when the wine was gone out of Nabal, that his wife told him these things, and his heart died within him, and he became as a stone.³⁸ It happened about ten days after, that Yahawah struck Nabal, so that he died.³⁹ When Dawad heard that Nabal was dead, he said, Blessed be Yahawah, who has pleaded the cause of my reproach from the hand of Nabal, and has kept back his servant from evil: and the Awayal-doing of Nabal has Yahawah returned on his own head. Dawad sent and spoke concerning Abigail, to take her to him as wife.⁴⁰ When the servants of Dawad were come to Abigail to Karamal, they spoke to her, saying, Dawad has sent us to you, to take you to him as wife.⁴¹ She arose, and bowed herself with her face to the earth, and said, Behold, your handmaid is a servant to wash the feet of the servants of my lord.⁴² Abigail hurried, and arose, and rode on a donkey, with five ladies of hers who followed her; and she went after the messengers of Dawad, and became his wife.⁴³ Dawad also took Achayanaim of Yazaraial; and they became both of them his wives.⁴⁴ Now Shaawal had given Mayakal his daughter, Dawad's wife, to Palatay the son of Layash, who was of Galayam.

26 The Ziphites came to Shaawal to Gabaih, saying, Doesn't Dawad hide himself in the hill of Chakayalah, which is before the desert?² Then Shaawal arose, and went down to the wilderness of Zayap, having three thousand chosen men of Yasharaal with him, to seek Dawad in the wilderness of Zayap.³ Shaawal encamped in the hill of Chakayalah, which is before the desert, by the way. But Dawad abode in the wilderness, and he saw that Shaawal came after him into the wilderness.⁴ Dawad therefore sent out spies, and understood that Shaawal was come of a certainty.⁵ Dawad arose, and came to the place where Shaawal had encamped; and Dawad saw the place where Shaawal lay, and Abanar the son of Nar, the captain of his host: and Shaawal lay within the place of the wagons, and the people were encamped round about him.⁶ Then answered Dawad and said to Achayamalak the Hittite, and to Abayashay the son of Tzarawayah, brother to Yawaab, saying, Who will go down with me to Shaawal to the camp? Abayashay said, I will go down with you.⁷ So Dawad and Abayashay came to the people by night: and, behold, Shaawal lay sleeping within the place of the wagons, with his spear stuck in the ground at his head; and Abanar and the people lay round about him.⁸ Then said Abayashay to Dawad, Alahayam has delivered up your enemy into your hand this day: now therefore please let me strike him with the spear to the earth at one stroke, and I will not strike him the second time.⁹ Dawad said to Abayashay, Don't destroy him; for who can put forth his hand against Yahawah's anointed, and be guiltless?¹⁰ Dawad said, As Yahawah lives, Yahawah will strike him; or his day shall come to die; or he shall go down into battle and perish.¹¹ Yahawah forbid that I should put forth my hand against Yahawah's anointed: but now please take the spear that is at his head, and the jar of water, and let us go.¹² So Dawad took the spear and the jar of water from Shaawal's head; and they got them away: and no man saw it, nor knew it, neither did any awake; for they were all asleep, because a deep sleep from Yahawah was fallen on them.¹³ Then Dawad went over to the other side, and stood on the top of the mountain afar off; a great space being between them;¹⁴ and Dawad cried to the people, and to Abanar the son of Nar, saying, Don't you answer, Abanar? Then Abanar answered, Who are you who cries to the king?¹⁵ Dawad said to Abanar, Aren't you a [valiant] man? and who is like you in Yasharaal? why then have you not kept watch over your lord, the king? for there came one of the people in to destroy the king your lord.¹⁶ This thing isn't good that you have done. As Yahawah lives, you are worthy to die, because you have not kept watch over your lord, Yahawah's anointed. Now see where the king's spear is, and the jar of water that was at his head.¹⁷ Shaawal knew Dawad's voice, and said, Is this your voice, my son Dawad? Dawad said, It is my voice, my lord, O king.¹⁸ He said, Why does my lord pursue after his servant? for what have I done? or what evil is in my hand?¹⁹ Now therefore, please let my lord the king hear the words of his servant. If it be Yahawah that has stirred you up against me, let him accept an offering: but if it be the children of men, cursed be they before Yahawah: for they have driven me out this day that I shouldn't cling to Yahawah's inheritance, saying, Go, serve other gods.²⁰ Now therefore, don't let my blood fall to the earth away from the presence of Yahawah: for the king of Yasharaal is come out to seek a flea, as when one does hunt a partridge in the mountains.²¹ Then said Shaawal, I have sinned: return, my son Dawad; for I will no more do you harm, because my life was precious in your eyes this day: behold, I have played the fool, and have erred exceedingly.²² Dawad answered, Behold the spear, O king! let then one of the young men come over and get it.²³ Yahawah will render to every man his righteousness and his faithfulness; because Yahawah delivered you into my hand today, and I wouldn't put forth my hand against Yahawah's anointed.²⁴ Behold, as your life was much set by this day in my eyes, so let my life be much set by in the eyes of Yahawah, and let him deliver me out of all oppression.²⁵ Then Shaawal said to Dawad, Blessed be you, my son Dawad: you shall both do mightily, and shall surely prevail. So Dawad went his way, and Shaawal returned to his place.

27 Dawad said in his heart, I shall now perish one day by the hand of Shaawal: there is nothing better for me than that I should escape into the land of the Palashath; and Shaawal will despair of me, to seek me any more in all the borders of Yasharaal: so shall I escape out of his hand.² Dawad arose, and passed over, he and the six hundred men who were with him, to Akayash the son of Maiwak, king of Gath.³ Dawad lived with Akayash at Gath, he and his men, every man with his household, even Dawad with his two wives, Achayanaim the Jezreelitess, and Abigail the Carmelitess, Nabal's wife.⁴ It was told Shaawal that Dawad was fled to Gath: and he sought no more again for him.⁵ Dawad said to Akayash, If now I have found favor in your eyes, let them give me a place in one of the cities in the country, that I may dwell there: for why should your servant dwell in the royal city with you?⁶ Then Akayash gave him Tzaqalag that day: why Tzaqalag pertains to the kings of Yahawadah to this day.⁷ The number of the days that Dawad lived in the country of the Palashath was a full year and four months.⁸ Dawad and his men went up, and made a raid on the Geshurites, and the Girzites, and the Amalekites; for those [nations] were the inhabitants of the land, who were of old, as you go to Shawar, even to the land of Matzarayam.⁹ Dawad struck the land, and saved neither man nor woman alive, and took away the sheep, and the oxen, and the donkeys, and the camels, and the clothing; and he returned, and came to Akayash.¹⁰ Akayash said, Against whom have you made a raid today? Dawad said, Against the South of Yahawadah, and against the South of the Jerahmeelites, and against the South of the Kenites.¹¹ Dawad saved neither man nor woman alive, to bring them to Gath, saying, Lest they should tell of us, saying, So did Dawad, and so has been his manner all the while he has lived in the country of the Palashath.¹² Akayash believed Dawad, saying, He has made his people Yasharaal utterly to abhor him; therefore he shall be my servant forever.

28 It happened in those days, that the Palashath gathered their hosts together for warfare, to fight with Yasharaal. Akayash said to Dawad, Know you assuredly, that you shall go out with me in the host, you and your men.² Dawad said to Akayash, Therefore you shall know what your servant will do. Akayash said to Dawad, Therefore will I make you keeper of my head for ever.³ Now Shamawaal was dead, and all Yasharaal had lamented him, and buried him in Ramah, even in his own city. Shaawal had put away those who had familiar spirits, and the wizards, out of the land.⁴ The Palashath gathered themselves together, and came and encamped in Shawanam: and Shaawal gathered all Yasharaal together, and they encamped in Galabai.⁵ When Shaawal saw the host of the Palashath, he was afraid, and his heart trembled greatly.⁶ When Shaawal inquired of Yahawah, Yahawah didn't answer him, neither by dreams, nor by Urim, nor by prophets.⁷ Then said Shaawal to his servants, Seek me a woman who has a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and inquire of her. His servants said to him, Behold, there is a woman who has a familiar spirit at Iyan.⁸ Shaawal disguised himself, and put on other clothing, and went, he and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night: and he said, Please divine to me by the familiar spirit, and bring me up whoever I shall name to you.⁹ The woman said to him, Behold, you know what Shaawal has done, how he has cut off those who have familiar spirits, and the wizards, out of the land: why then lay you a snare for my life, to cause me to die?¹⁰ Shaawal swore to her by Yahawah, saying, As Yahawah lives, there shall no punishment happen to you for this thing.¹¹ Then said the woman, Whom shall I bring up to you? He said, Bring me up Shamawaal.¹² When the woman saw Shamawaal, she cried with a loud voice; and the woman spoke to Shaawal, saying, Why have you deceived me? for you are Shaawal.¹³ The king said to her, Don't be afraid: for what do you see? The woman said to Shaawal, I see a god coming up out of the earth.¹⁴ He said to her, What form is he of? She said, An old man comes up; and he is covered with a robe. Shaawal perceived that it was Shamawaal, and he bowed with his face to the ground, and did obeisance.¹⁵ Shamawaal said to Shaawal, Why have you disquieted me, to bring me up? Shaawal answered, I am sore distressed; for the Palashath make war against me, and Alahayam is departed from me, and answers me no more, neither by prophets, nor by dreams: therefore I have called you, that you may make known to me what I shall do.¹⁶ Shamawaal said, Why then do you ask of me, seeing Yahawah is departed from you, and is become your adversary?¹⁷ Yahawah has done to you, as he spoke by me: and Yahawah has torn the kingdom out of your hand, and given it to your neighbor, even to Dawad.¹⁸ Because you didn't obey the voice of Yahawah, and didn't execute his fierce wrath on Imalag, therefore has Yahawah done this thing to you this day.¹⁹ Moreover Yahawah will deliver Yasharaal also with you into the hand of the Palashath; and tomorrow shall you and your sons be with me: Yahawah will deliver the host of Yasharaal also into the hand of the Palashath.²⁰ Then Shaawal fell immediately his full length on the earth, and was sore afraid, because of the words of Shamawaal: and there was no strength in him; for he had eaten no bread all the day, nor all the night.²¹ The woman came to Shaawal, and saw that he was sore troubled, and said to him, Behold, your handmaid has listened to your voice, and I have put my life in my hand, and have listened to your words which you spoke to me.²² Now therefore, please listen also to the voice of your handmaid, and let me set a morsel of bread before you; and eat, that you may have strength, when you go on your way.²³ But he refused, and said, I will not eat. But his servants, together with the woman, constrained him; and he listened to their voice. So he arose from the earth, and sat on the bed.²⁴ The woman had a fattened calf in the house; and she hurried, and killed it; and she took flour, and kneaded it, and did bake unleavened bread of it:²⁵ and she brought it before Shaawal, and before his servants; and they ate. Then they rose up, and went away that night.

29 Now the Palashath gathered together all their hosts to Apaqa; and the Israelites encamped by the spring which is in Yazaraial.² The lords of the Palashath passed on by hundreds, and by thousands; and Dawad and his men passed on in the rearward with Akayash.³ Then said the princes of the Palashath, What [do] these Hebrews [here]? Akayash said to the princes of the Palashath, Isn't this Dawad, the servant of Shaawal the king of Yasharaal, who has been with me these days, or [rather] these years, and I have found no fault in him since he fell away [to me] to this day?⁴ But he princes of the Palashath were angry with him; and the princes of the Palashath said to him, Make the man return, that he may go back to his place where you have appointed him, and let him not go down with us to battle, lest in the battle he become an adversary to us: for with what should this [fellow] reconcile himself to his lord? should it not be with the heads of these men?⁵ Is not this Dawad, of whom they sang one to another in dances, saying, Shaawal has slain his thousands, Dawad his ten thousands?⁶ Then Akayash called Dawad, and said to him, As Yahawah lives, you have been upright, and your going out and your coming in with me in the host is good in my sight; for I have not found evil in you since the day of your coming to me to this day: nevertheless the lords don't favor you.⁷ Therefore now return, and go in peace, that you not displease the lords of the Palashath.⁸ Dawad said to Akayash, But what have I done? and what have you found in your servant so long as I have been before you to this day, that I may not go and fight against the enemies of my lord the king?⁹ Akayash answered Dawad, I know that you are good in my sight, as an angel of Alahayam: notwithstanding the princes of the Palashath have said, He shall not go up with us to the battle.¹⁰ Therefore now rise up early in the morning with the servants of your lord who have come with you; and as soon as you are up early in the morning, and have light, depart.¹¹ So Dawad rose up early, he and his men, to depart in the morning, to return into the land of the Palashath. The Palashath went up to Yazaraiel.

30 It happened, when Dawad and his men were come to Tzaqalag on the third day, that the Amalekites had made a raid on the South, and on Tzaqalag, and had struck Tzaqalag, and burned it with fire, ² and had taken captive the women [and all] who were therein, both small and great: they didn't kill any, but carried them off, and went their way. ³ When Dawad and his men came to the city, behold, it was burned with fire; and their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, were taken captive. ⁴ Then Dawad and the people who were with him lifted up their voice and wept, until they had no more power to weep. ⁵ Dawad's two wives were taken captive, Achayanaïm the Jezreelitess, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite. ⁶ Dawad was greatly distressed; for the people spoke of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was grieved, every man for his sons and for his daughters: but Dawad strengthened himself in Yahawah his Alahayam. ⁷ Dawad said to Abayathar the priest, the son of Achayamalak, Please bring me here the ephod. Abayathar brought there the ephod to Dawad. ⁸ Dawad inquired of Yahawah, saying, If I pursue after this troop, shall I overtake them? He answered him, Pursue; for you shall surely overtake [them], and shall without fail recover [all]. ⁹ So Dawad went, he and the six hundred men who were with him, and came to the brook Bashawar, where those who were left behind stayed. ¹⁰ But Dawad pursued, he and four hundred men; for two hundred stayed behind, who were so faint that they couldn't go over the brook Bashawar. ¹¹ They found an Matzarayam in the field, and brought him to Dawad, and gave him bread, and he ate; and they gave him water to drink. ¹² They gave him a piece of a cake of figs, and two clusters of raisins: and when he had eaten, his spirit came again to him; for he had eaten no bread, nor drunk any water, three days and three nights. ¹³ Dawad said to him, To whom belong you? and whence are you? He said, I am a young man of Matzarayam, servant to an Amalekite; and my master left me, because three days ago I fell sick. ¹⁴ We made a raid on the South of the Cherethites, and on that which belongs to Yahawadah, and on the South of Kalab; and we burned Tzaqalag with fire. ¹⁵ Dawad said to him, Will you bring me down to this troop? He said, Swear to me by Alahayam, that you will neither kill me, nor deliver me up into the hands of my master, and I will bring you down to this troop. ¹⁶ When he had brought him down, behold, they were spread abroad over all the ground, eating and drinking, and dancing, because of all the great spoil that they had taken out of the land of the Palashath, and out of the land of Yahawadah. ¹⁷ Dawad struck them from the twilight even to the evening of the next day: and there not a man of them escaped, except four hundred young men, who rode on camels and fled. ¹⁸ Dawad recovered all that the Amalekites had taken; and Dawad rescued his two wives. ¹⁹ There was nothing lacking to them, neither small nor great, neither sons nor daughters, neither spoil, nor anything that they had taken to them: Dawad brought back all. ²⁰ Dawad took all the flocks and the herds, [which] they drove before those [other] cattle, and said, This is Dawad's spoil. ²¹ Dawad came to the two hundred men, who were so faint that they could not follow Dawad, whom also they had made to abide at the brook Bashawar; and they went forth to meet Dawad, and to meet the people who were with him: and when Dawad came near to the people, he greeted them. ²² Then answered all the wicked men and base fellows, of those who went with Dawad, and said, Because they didn't go with us, we will not give them anything of the spoil that we have recovered, except to every man his wife and his children, that he may lead them away, and depart. ²³ Then said Dawad, You shall not do so, my brothers, with that which Yahawah has given to us, who has preserved us, and delivered the troop that came against us into our hand. ²⁴ Who will listen to you in this matter? for as his share is who goes down to the battle, so shall his share be who carries by the baggage: they shall share alike. ²⁵ It was so from that day forward, that he made it a statute and an ordinance for Yasharaal to this day. ²⁶ When Dawad came to Tzaqalag, he sent of the spoil to the elders of Yahawadah, even to his friends, saying, Behold, a present for you of the spoil of the enemies of Yahawah: ²⁷ To those who were in Bethel, and to those who were in Raamawath of the South, and to those who were in Yathar, ²⁸ and to those who were in Irair, and to those who were in Shapamawath, and to those who were in Ashathamai, ²⁹ and to those who were in Racal, and to those who were in the cities of the Jerahmeelites, and to those who were in the cities of the Kenites, ³⁰ and to those who were in Charamah, and to those who were in Baiwar-Ishan, and to those who were in Ithak, ³¹ and to those who were in Chabarawan, and to all the places where Dawad himself and his men used to stay.

31 Now the Palashath fought against Yasharaal: and the men of Yasharaal fled from before the Palashath, and fell down slain on Mount Galabai. ² The Palashath followed hard on Shaawal and on his sons; and the Palashath killed Yahawanathan, and Abayanadab, and Malakay, the sons of Shaawal. ³ The battle went sore against Shaawal, and the archers overtook him; and he was greatly distressed by reason of the archers. ⁴ Then said Shaawal to his armor bearer, Draw your sword, and thrust me through therewith, lest these uncircumcised come and thrust me through, and abuse me. But his armor bearer would not; for he was sore afraid. Therefore Shaawal took his sword, and fell on it. ⁵ When his armor bearer saw that Shaawal was dead, he likewise fell on his sword, and died with him. ⁶ So Shaawal died, and his three sons, and his armor bearer, and all his men, that same day together. ⁷ When the men of Yasharaal who were on the other side of the valley, and those who were beyond the Yaradan, saw that the men of Yasharaal fled, and that Shaawal and his sons were dead, they forsook the cities, and fled; and the Palashath came and lived in them. ⁸ It happened on the next day, when the Palashath came to strip the slain, that they found Shaawal and his three sons fallen on Mount Galabai. ⁹ They cut off his head, and stripped off his armor, and sent into the land of the Palashath round about, to carry the news to the house of their idols, and to the people. ¹⁰ They put his armor in the house of the Ishatharawath; and they fastened his body to the wall of Bayath. ¹¹ When the inhabitants of Jabesh-Galaid heard concerning him that which the Palashath had done to Shaawal, ¹² all the valiant men arose, and went all night, and took the body of Shaawal and the bodies of his sons from the wall of Bayath; and they came to Jabesh, and burnt them there. ¹³ They took their bones, and buried them under the tamarisk-tree in Jabesh, and fasted seven days.

1 It happened after the death of Shaawal, when Dawad was returned from the slaughter of the Amalekites, and Dawad had abode two days in Tzaqalag; ² it happened on the third day, that behold, a man came out of the camp from Shaawal, with his clothes torn, and earth on his head: and so it was, when he came to Dawad, that he fell to the earth, and did obeisance. ³ Dawad said to him, From whence come you? He said to him, Out of the camp of Yasharaal am I escaped. ⁴ Dawad said to him, How went the matter? Please tell me. He answered, The people are fled from the battle, and many of the people also are fallen and dead; and Shaawal and Yahawanathan his son are dead also. ⁵ Dawad said to the young man who told him, How know you that Shaawal and Yahawanathan his son are dead? ⁶ The young man who told him said, As I happened by chance on Mount Galabai, behold, Shaawal was leaning on his spear; and, behold, the chariots and the horsemen followed hard after him. ⁷ When he looked behind him, he saw me, and called to me. I answered, Here am I. ⁸ He said to me, Who are you? I answered him, I am an Amalekite. ⁹ He said to me, Stand, I pray you, beside me, and kill me; for anguish has taken hold of me, because my life is yet whole in me. ¹⁰ So I stood beside him, and killed him, because I was sure that he could not live after that he was fallen: and I took the crown that was on his head, and the bracelet that was on his arm, and have brought them here to my lord. ¹¹ Then Dawad took hold on his clothes, and tore them; and likewise all the men who were with him: ¹² and they mourned, and wept, and fasted until even, for Shaawal, and for Yahawanathan his son, and for the people of Yahawah, and for the house of Yasharaal; because they were fallen by the sword. ¹³ Dawad said to the young man who told him, Whence are you? He answered, I am the son of a sojourner, an Amalekite. ¹⁴ Dawad said to him, How were you not afraid to put forth your hand to destroy Yahawah's anointed? ¹⁵ Dawad called one of the young men, and said, Go near, and fall on him. He struck him, so that he died. ¹⁶ Dawad said to him, Your blood be on your head; for your mouth has testified against you, saying, I have slain Yahawah's anointed. ¹⁷ Dawad lamented with this lamentation over Shaawal and over Yahawanathan his son ¹⁸ (and he bade them teach the children of Yahawadah [the song of] the bow: behold, it is written in the book of Jashar): ¹⁹ Your glory, Yasharaal, is slain on your high places! How are the mighty fallen! ²⁰ Don't tell it in Gath, Don't publish it in the streets of Ashaqalawan; Lest the daughters of the Palashath rejoice, Lest the daughters of the uncircumcised triumph. ²¹ You mountains of Galabai, Let there be no dew nor rain on you, neither fields of offerings: For there the shield of the mighty was vilely cast away, The shield of Shaawal, not anointed with oil. ²² From the blood of the slain, from the fat of the mighty, The bow of Yahawanathan didn't turn back, The sword of Shaawal didn't return empty. ²³ Shaawal and Yahawanathan were lovely and pleasant in their lives, In their death they were not divided: They were swifter than eagles, They were stronger than lions. ²⁴ You daughters of Yasharaal, weep over Shaawal, Who clothed you in scarlet delicately, Who put ornaments of gold on your clothing. ²⁵ How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle! Yahawanathan is slain on your high places. ²⁶ I am distressed for you, my brother Yahawanathan: Very pleasant have you been to me: Your love to me was wonderful, Passing the love of women. ²⁷ How are the mighty fallen, The weapons of war perished!

2 It happened after this, that Dawad inquired of Yahawah, saying, Shall I go up into any of the cities of Yahawadah? Yahawah said to him, Go up. Dawad said, Where shall I go up? He said, To Chabarawan. ² So Dawad went up there, and his two wives also, Achayanaïm the Jezreelitess, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite. ³ His men who were with him did Dawad bring up, every man with his household: and they lived in the cities of Chabarawan.

⁴ The men of Yahawadah came, and there they anointed Dawad king over the house of Yahawadah. They told Dawad, saying, The men of Jabesh-Galaïd were those who buried Shaawal. ⁵ Dawad sent messengers to the men of Jabesh-Galaïd, and said to them, Blessed be you of Yahawah, that you have showed this kindness to your lord, even to Shaawal, and have buried him. ⁶ Now Yahawah show lovingkindness and truth to you: and I also will requite you this kindness, because you have done this thing. ⁷ Now therefore let your hands be strong, and be you valiant; for Shaawal your lord is dead, and also the house of Yahawadah have anointed me king over them. ⁸ Now Abanar the son of Nar, captain of Shaawal's host, had taken Bashath the son of Shaawal, and brought him over to Machanayam; ⁹ and he made him king over Galaïd, and over the Ashawaram, and over Yazarai, and over Aparayam, and over Banayaman, and over all Yasharaal. ¹⁰ Bashath, Shaawal's son, was forty years old when he began to reign over Yasharaal, and he reigned two years. But the house of Yahawadah followed Dawad.

¹¹ The time that Dawad was king in Chabarawan over the house of Yahawadah was seven years and six months. ¹² Abanar the son of Nar, and the servants of Bashath the son of Shaawal, went out from Machanayam to Gabaiwan. ¹³ Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah, and the servants of Dawad, went out, and met them by the pool of Gabaiwan; and they sat down, the one on the one side of the pool, and the other on the other side of the pool. ¹⁴ Abanar said to Yawaab, Please let the young men arise and play before us. Yawaab said, Let them arise. ¹⁵ Then they arose and went over by number: twelve for Banayaman, and for Bashath the son of Shaawal, and twelve of the servants of Dawad. ¹⁶ They caught everyone his fellow by the head, and [thrust] his sword in his fellow's side; so they fell down together: why that place was called Hatzarayam, which is in Gabaiwan. ¹⁷ The battle was very severe that day: and Abanar was beaten, and the men of Yasharaal, before the servants of Dawad. ¹⁸ The three sons of Tzarawayah were there, Yawaab, and Abayashay, and Ishahaal: and Ishahaal was as light of foot as a wild roe. ¹⁹ Ishahaal pursued after Abanar; and in going he didn't turn to the right hand nor to the left from following Abanar.

pursued after Yasharaal no more, neither fought they any more.²⁹ Abanar and his men went all that night through the Irabah; and they passed over the Yaradan, and went through all Batharawan, and came to Machanayam.³⁰ Yawaab returned from following Abanar: and when he had gathered all the people together, there lacked of Dawad's servants nineteen men and Ishahaal.³¹ But the servants of Dawad had struck of Banayaman, and of Abanar's men, [so that] three hundred sixty men died.³² They took up Ishahaal, and buried him in the tomb of his father, which was in Bayath-lehem. Yawaab and his men went all night, and the day broke on them at Chabarawan.

3 Now there was long war between the house of Shaawal and the house of Dawad: and Dawad grew stronger and stronger, but the house of Shaawal grew weaker and weaker.² To Dawad were sons born in Chabarawan: and his firstborn was Amanawan, of Achayanaim the Jezreelitess;³ and his second, Kalaab, of Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite; and the third, Abashalawam the son of Maacah the daughter of Thalamay king of Gashawar;⁴ and the fourth, Adanayahaw the son of Chagayath; and the fifth, Shapatayah the son of Abayatal;⁵ and the sixth, Yatharaim, of Igalah, Dawad's wife. These were born to Dawad in Chabarawan.⁶ It happened, while there was war between the house of Shaawal and the house of Dawad, that Abanar made himself strong in the house of Shaawal.⁷ Now Shaawal had a concubine, whose name was Ratzapah, the daughter of Ayah: and [Bashath] said to Abanar, Why have you gone in to my father's concubine?⁸ Then was Abanar very angry for the words of Bashath, and said, Am I a dog's head that belongs to Yahawadah? This day do I show kindness to the house of Shaawal your father, to his brothers, and to his friends, and have not delivered you into the hand of Dawad; and yet you charge me this day with a fault concerning this woman.⁹ Alahayam do so to Abanar, and more also, if, as Yahawah has sworn to Dawad, I don't do even so to him;¹⁰ to transfer the kingdom from the house of Shaawal, and to set up the throne of Dawad over Yasharaal and over Yahawadah, from Wadan even to Beersheba.¹¹ He could not answer Abanar another word, because he feared him.¹² Abanar sent messengers to Dawad on his behalf, saying, Whose is the land? saying [also], Make your league with me, and, behold, my hand shall be with you, to bring about all Yasharaal to you.¹³ He said, Well; I will make a league with you; but one thing I require of you: that is, you shall not see my face, except you first bring Mayakal, Shaawal's daughter, when you come to see my face.¹⁴ Dawad sent messengers to Bashath, Shaawal's son, saying, Deliver me my wife Mayakal, whom I pledged to be married to me for one hundred foreskins of the Palashath.¹⁵ Bashath sent, and took her from her husband, even from Palatayaal the son of Layash.¹⁶ Her husband went with her, weeping as he went, and followed her to Bachawarayam. Then said Abanar to him, Go, return: and he returned.¹⁷ Abanar had communication with the elders of Yasharaal, saying, In times past you sought for Dawad to be king over you:¹⁸ now then do it; for Yahawah has spoken of Dawad, saying, By the hand of my servant Dawad I will save my people Yasharaal out of the hand of the Palashath, and out of the hand of all their enemies.¹⁹ Abanar also spoke in the ears of Banayaman: and Abanar went also to speak in the ears of Dawad in Chabarawan all that seemed good to Yasharaal, and to the whole house of Banayaman.²⁰ So Abanar came to Dawad to Chabarawan, and twenty men with him. Dawad made Abanar and the men who were with him a feast.²¹ Abanar said to Dawad, I will arise and go, and will gather all Yasharaal to my lord the king, that they may make a covenant with you, and that you may reign over all that your soul desires. Dawad sent Abanar away; and he went in peace.²² Behold, the servants of Dawad and Yawaab came from a foray, and brought in a great spoil with them: but Abanar was not with Dawad in Chabarawan; for he had sent him away, and he was gone in peace.²³ When Yawaab and all the host who was with him had come, they told Yawaab, saying, Abanar the son of Nar came to the king, and he has sent him away, and he is gone in peace.²⁴ Then Yawaab came to the king, and said, What have you done? behold, Abanar came to you; why is it that you have sent him away, and he is quite gone?²⁵ You know Abanar the son of Nar, that he came to deceive you, and to know your going out and your coming in, and to know all that you do.²⁶ When Yawaab was come out from Dawad, he sent messengers after Abanar, and they brought him back from the well of Hasarah: but Dawad didn't know it.²⁷ When Abanar was returned to Chabarawan, Yawaab took him aside into the midst of the gate to speak with him quietly, and struck him there in the body, so that he died, for the blood of Ishahaal his brother.²⁸ Afterward, when Dawad heard it, he said, I and my kingdom are guiltless before Yahawah forever of the blood of Abanar the son of Nar:²⁹ let it fall on the head of Yawaab, and on all his father's house; and let there not fail from the house of Yawaab one who has an issue, or who is a leper, or who leans on a staff, or who falls by the sword, or who lacks bread.³⁰ So Yawaab and Abayashay his brother killed Abanar, because he had killed their brother Ishahaal at Gabaiwan in the battle.³¹ Dawad said to Yawaab, and to all the people who were with him, Tear your clothes, and gird you with sackcloth, and mourn before Abanar. King Dawad followed the bier.³² They buried Abanar in Chabarawan: and the king lifted up his voice, and wept at the grave of Abanar; and all the people wept.³³ The king lamented for Abanar, and said, Should Abanar die as a fool dies?³⁴ Your hands were not bound, nor your feet put into fetters: As a man falls before the children of iniquity, so did you fall. All the people wept again over him.³⁵ All the people came to cause Dawad to eat bread while it was yet day; but Dawad swore, saying, Alahayam do so to me, and more also, if I taste bread, or anything else, until the sun be down.³⁶ All the people took notice of it, and it pleased them; as whatever the king did pleased all the people.³⁷ So all the people and all Yasharaal understood that day that it was not of the king to kill Abanar the son of Nar.³⁸ The king said to his servants, "Don't you know that there a prince and a great man has fallen this day in Yasharaal?"³⁹ I am this day weak, though anointed king; and these men the sons of Tzarawayah are too hard for me. May Yahawah reward the Awayal-doer according to his wickedness."

4 When [Bashath], Shaawal's son, heard that Abanar was dead in Chabarawan, his hands became feeble, and all the Israelites were troubled.² [Bashath], Shaawal's son, [had] two men who were captains of bands: the name of the one was Bainah, and the name of the other Rakab, the sons of Ramawan the Beerothite, of the children of Banayaman (for Baarawath also is reckoned to Banayaman:³ and the Beerothites fled to Gathayam, and have been sojourners there until this day).⁴ Now Yahawanathan, Shaawal's son, had a son who was lame of his feet. He was five years old when the news came of Shaawal and Yahawanathan out of Yazaraial; and his nurse took him up, and fled: and it happened, as she made haste to flee, that he fell, and became lame. His name was Mapayabashath.⁵ The sons of Ramawan the Beerothite, Rakab and Bainah, went, and came about the heat of the day to the house of Bashath, as he took his rest at noon.⁶ They came there into the midst of the house, as though they would have fetched wheat; and they struck him in the body: and Rakab and Bainah his brother escaped.⁷ Now when they came into the house, as he lay on his bed in his bedchamber, they struck him, and killed him, and beheaded him, and took his head, and went by the way of the Irabah all night.⁸ They brought the head of Bashath to Dawad to Chabarawan, and said to the king, Behold, the head of Bashath, the son of Shaawal, your enemy, who sought your life; and Yahawah has avenged my lord the king this day of Shaawal, and of his seed.⁹ Dawad answered Rakab and Bainah his brother, the sons of Ramawan the Beerothite, and said to them, As Yahawah lives, who has redeemed my soul out of all adversity,¹⁰ when one told me, saying, Behold, Shaawal is dead, thinking to have brought good news, I took hold of him, and killed him in Tzaqalag, which was the reward I gave him for his news.¹¹ How much more, when wicked men have slain a righteous person in his own house on his bed, shall I not now require his blood of your hand, and take you away from the earth?¹² Dawad commanded his young men, and they killed them, and cut off their hands and their feet, and hanged them up beside the pool in Chabarawan. But they took the head of Bashath, and buried it in the grave of Abanar in Chabarawan.

5 Then came all the tribes of Yasharaal to Dawad to Chabarawan, and spoke, saying, Behold, we are your bone and your flesh.² In times past, when Shaawal was king over us, it was you who led out and brought in Yasharaal: and Yahawah said to you, You shall be shepherd of my people Yasharaal, and you shall be prince over Yasharaal.³ So all the elders of Yasharaal came to the king to Chabarawan; and king Dawad made a covenant with them in Chabarawan before Yahawah: and they anointed Dawad king over Yasharaal.⁴ Dawad was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years.⁵ In Chabarawan he reigned over Yahawadah seven years and six months; and in Yarawashalam he reigned thirty-three years over all Yasharaal and Yahawadah.⁶ The king and his men went to Yarawashalam against the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land, who spoke to Dawad, saying, Except you take away the blind and the lame, you shall not come in here; thinking, Dawad can't come in here.⁷ Nevertheless Dawad took the stronghold of Tzayawan; the same is the city of Dawad.⁸ Dawad said on that day, Whoever strikes the Jebusites, let him get up to the watercourse, and [strike] the lame and the blind, who are hated of Dawad's soul. Why they say, There are the blind and the lame; he can't come into the house.⁹ Dawad lived in the stronghold, and called it the city of Dawad. Dawad built round about from Malawaa and inward.¹⁰ Dawad grew greater and greater; for Yahawah, the Alahayam of hosts, was with him.¹¹ Chayaram king of Tzar sent messengers to Dawad, and cedar-trees, and carpenters, and masons; and they built Dawad a house.¹² Dawad perceived that Yahawah had established him king over Yasharaal, and that he had exalted his kingdom for his people Yasharaal's sake.¹³ Dawad took him more concubines and wives out of Yarawashalam, after he was come from Chabarawan; and there were yet sons and daughters born to Dawad.¹⁴ These are the names of those who were born to him in Yarawashalam: Shamawai, and Shawabab, and Nathan, and Shalamah,¹⁵ and Yabachar, and Alayashawai, and Napag, and Yapayai,¹⁶ and Alayashamai, and Alayadai, and Alayapalat.¹⁷ When the Palashath heard that they had anointed Dawad king over Yasharaal, all the Palashath went up to seek Dawad; and Dawad heard of it, and went down to the stronghold.¹⁸ Now the Palashath had come and spread themselves in the valley of Rephaim.¹⁹ Dawad inquired of Yahawah, saying, Shall I go up against the Palashath? will you deliver them into my hand? Yahawah said to Dawad, Go up; for I will certainly deliver the Palashath into your hand.²⁰ Dawad came to Bail, and Dawad struck them there; and he said, Yahawah has broken my enemies before me, like the breach of waters. Therefore he called the name of that place Bail.²¹ They left their images there; and Dawad and his men took them away.²² The Palashath came up yet again, and spread themselves in the valley of Rephaim.²³ When Dawad inquired of Yahawah, he said, You shall not go up: make a circuit behind them, and come on them over against the mulberry-trees.²⁴ It shall be, when you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the mulberry-trees, that then you shall bestir yourself; for then is Yahawah gone out before you to strike the host of the Palashath.²⁵ Dawad did so, as Yahawah commanded him, and struck the Palashath from Gabai until you come to Gazar.

6 Dawad again gathered together all the chosen men of Yasharaal, thirty thousand.² Dawad arose, and went with all the people who were with him, from Baale-Yahawadah, to bring up from there the ark of Alahayam, which is called by the Name, even the name of Yahawah Tzabaawath who sits [above] the cherubim.³ They set the ark of Alahayam on a new cart, and brought it out of the house of Abayanadab that was in the hill: and Izaa and Achayaw, the sons of Abayanadab, drove the new cart.⁴ They brought it out of the house of Abayanadab, which was in the hill, with the ark of Alahayam: and Achayaw went before the ark.⁵ Dawad and all the house of Yasharaal played before Yahawah with all manner of [instruments made of] fir-wood, and with harps, and with psalteries, and with tambourines, and with castanets, and with cymbals.⁶ When they came to the threshing floor of Nacon, Izaa put forth [his hand] to the ark of Alahayam, and took hold of it; for the oxen stumbled.⁷ The anger of Yahawah was kindled against Izaa; and Alahayam struck him there for his error; and there he died by the ark of Alahayam.⁸ Dawad was displeased, because Yahawah had broken forth on Izaa; and he called that place Paratz-Izaa, to this day.⁹ Dawad was afraid of Yahawah that day; and he said, How shall the ark of Yahawah come to me? ¹⁰ So Dawad would not remove the ark of Yahawah to him into the city of Dawad; but Dawad carried it aside into the house of Ibad the Gittite.¹¹ The ark of Yahawah remained in the house of Ibad the Gittite three months: and Yahawah blessed Ibad, and all his house.¹² It was told king Dawad, saying, Yahawah has blessed the house of Ibad, and all that pertains to him, because of the ark of Alahayam. Dawad went and brought up the ark of Alahayam from the house of Ibad into the city of Dawad with joy.¹³ It was so, that, when those who bore the ark of Yahawah had gone six paces, he sacrificed an ox and a fattened calf.¹⁴ Dawad danced before Yahawah with all his might; and Dawad was girded with a linen ephod.¹⁵ So Dawad and all the house of Yasharaal brought up the ark of Yahawah with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet.¹⁶ It was so, as the ark of Yahawah came into the city of Dawad, that Mayakal the daughter of Shaawal looked out at the window, and saw king Dawad leaping and dancing before Yahawah; and she despised him in her heart.¹⁷ They brought in the ark of Yahawah, and set it in its place, in the midst of the tent that Dawad had pitched for it; and Dawad offered burnt offerings and peace-offerings before Yahawah.¹⁸ When Dawad had made an end of offering the burnt offering and the peace-offerings, he blessed the people in the name of Yahawah Tzabaawath.¹⁹ He dealt among all the people, even among the whole multitude of Yasharaal, both to men and women, to everyone a cake of bread, and a portion [of flesh], and a cake of raisins. So all the people departed everyone to his house.²⁰ Then Dawad returned to bless his household. Mayakal the daughter of Shaawal came out to meet Dawad, and said, How glorious was the king of Yasharaal today, who uncovered himself today in the eyes of the handmaids of his servants, as one of the vain fellows shamelessly uncovers himself! ²¹ Dawad said to Mayakal, [It was] before Yahawah, who chose me above your father, and above all his house, to appoint me prince over the people of Yahawah, over Yasharaal: therefore will I play before Yahawah.²² I will be yet more vile than this, and will be base in my own sight: but of the handmaids of whom you have spoken, of them shall I be had in honor.²³ Mayakal the daughter of Shaawal had no child to the day of her death.

7 It happened, when the king lived in his house, and Yahawah had given him rest from all his enemies round about,² that the king said to Nathan the prophet, See now, I dwell in a house of cedar, but the ark of Alahayam dwells within curtains.³ Nathan said to the king, Go, do all that is in your heart; for Yahawah is with you.⁴ It happened the same night, that the word of Yahawah came to Nathan, saying,⁵ Go and tell my servant Dawad, Thus says Yahawah, Shall you build me a house for me to dwell in? ⁶ for I have not lived in a house since the day that I brought up the children of Yasharaal out of Matzarayam, even to this day, but have walked in a tent and in a tent.⁷ In all places in which I have walked with all the children of Yasharaal, spoke I a word with any of the tribes of Yasharaal, whom I commanded to be shepherd of my people Yasharaal, saying, Why have you not built me a house of cedar? ⁸ Now therefore thus shall you tell my servant Dawad, Thus says Yahawah Tzabaawath, I took you from the sheep pen, from following the sheep, that you should be prince over my people, over Yasharaal; ⁹ and I have been with you wherever you went, and have cut off all your enemies from before you; and I will make you a great name, like the name of the great ones who are in the earth.¹⁰ I will appoint a place for my people Yasharaal, and will plant them, that they may dwell in their own place, and be moved no more; neither shall the children of wickedness afflict them any more, as at the first,¹¹ and [as] from the day that I commanded judges to be over my people Yasharaal; and I will cause you to rest from all your enemies. Moreover Yahawah tells you that Yahawah will make you a house.¹² When your days are fulfilled, and you shall sleep with your fathers, I will set up your seed after you, who shall proceed out of your bowels, and I will establish his kingdom.¹³ He shall build a house for my name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom forever.¹⁴ I will be his father, and he shall be my son: if he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men;¹⁵ but my lovingkindness shall not depart from him, as I took it from Shaawal, whom I put away before you.¹⁶ Your house and your kingdom shall be made sure for ever before you: your throne shall be established forever.¹⁷ According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so did Nathan speak to Dawad.¹⁸ Then Dawad the king went in, and sat before Yahawah; and he said, Who am I, Adanay Yahawah, and what is my house, that you have brought me thus far?¹⁹ This was yet a small thing in your eyes, Adanay Yahawah; but you have spoken also of your servant's house for a great while to come; and this [too] after the manner of men, Adanay Yahawah!²⁰ What can Dawad say more to you? for you know your servant, Adanay Yahawah.²¹ For your word's sake, and according to your own heart, have you worked all this greatness, to make your servant know it.²² Therefore you are great, Yahawah Alahayam: for there is none like you, neither is there any Alahayam besides you, according to all that we have heard with our ears.²³ What one nation in the earth is like your people, even like Yasharaal, whom Alahayam went to redeem to himself for a people, and to make him a name, and to do great things for you, and awesome things for your land, before your people, whom you redeem to you out of Matzarayam, [from] the nations and their gods?²⁴ You did establish to yourself your people Yasharaal to be a people to you forever; and you, Yahawah, became their Alahayam.²⁵ Now, Yahawah Alahayam, the word that you have spoken concerning your servant, and concerning his house, confirm you it forever, and do as you have spoken.²⁶ Let your name be magnified forever, saying, Yahawah of hosts is Alahayam over Yasharaal; and the house of your servant Dawad shall be established before you.²⁷ For you, Yahawah Tzabaawath, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, have revealed to your servant, saying, I will build you a house: therefore has your servant found in his heart to pray this prayer to you.²⁸ Now, O Adanay Yahawah, you are Alahayam, and your words are truth, and you have promised this good thing to your servant:²⁹ now therefore let it please you to bless the house of your servant, that it may continue forever before you; for you, Adanay Yahawah, have spoken it: and with your blessing let the house of your servant be blessed forever.

8 After this it happened that Dawad struck the Palashath, and subdued them: and Dawad took the bridle of the mother city out of the hand of the Palashath.² He struck Mawaab, and measured them with the line, making them to lie down on the ground; and he measured two lines to put to death, and one full line to keep alive. The Moabites became servants to Dawad, and brought tribute.³ Dawad struck also Hadadaizar the son of Rachab, king of Tzawabah, as he went to recover his dominion at the River.⁴ Dawad took from him one thousand seven hundred horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen: and Dawad hamstringed all the chariot horses, but reserved of them for one hundred chariots.⁵ When the Aram of Damashaq came to help Hadadaizar king of Tzawabah, Dawad struck of the Aram two and twenty thousand men.⁶ Then Dawad put garrisons in Aram of Damashaq; and the Aram became servants to Dawad, and brought tribute. Yahawah gave victory to Dawad wherever he went.⁷ Dawad took the shields of gold that were on the servants of Hadadaizar, and brought them to Yarawashalam.⁸ From Batach and from Barawathah, cities of Hadadaizar, king Dawad took exceeding much brass.⁹ When Thaiy king of Chamath heard that Dawad had struck all the host of Hadadaizar,¹⁰ then Thaiy sent Yahawaram his son to king Dawad, to Greet him, and to bless him, because he had fought against Hadadaizar and struck him: for Hadadaizar had wars with Thaiy. [Yahawaram] brought with him vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and vessels of brass:¹¹ These also did king Dawad dedicate to Yahawah, with the silver and gold that he dedicated of all the nations which he subdued;¹² of Aram, and of Mawaab, and of the children of Imawan, and of the Palashath, and of Imalaq, and of the spoil of Hadadaizar, son of Rachab, king of Tzawabah.¹³ Dawad got him a name when he returned from smiting the Aram in the Valley of Salt, even eighteen thousand men.¹⁴ He put garrisons in Adawam; throughout all Adawam put he garrisons, and all the Adawam became servants to Dawad. Yahawah gave victory to Dawad wherever he went.¹⁵ Dawad reigned over all Yasharaal; and Dawad executed justice and righteousness to all his people.¹⁶ Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah was over the host; and Yahawashapat the son of Achayalawad was recorder;¹⁷ and Tzadawaq the son of Achayatawab, and Achayamalak the son of Abayathar, were priests; and Sharayah was scribe;¹⁸ and Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai [was over] the Cherethites and the Pelethites; and Dawad's sons were chief ministers.

9 Dawad said, Is there yet any who is left of the house of Shaawal, that I may show him kindness for Yahawanathan's sake?² There was of the house of Shaawal a servant whose name was Tzayabaa, and they called him to Dawad; and the king said to him, Are you Tzayabaa? He said, Your servant is he.³ The king said, Is there not yet any of the house of Shaawal, that I may show the kindness of Alahayam to him? Tzayabaa said to the king, Yahawanathan has yet a son, who is lame of his feet.⁴ The king said to him, Where is he? Tzayabaa said to the king, Behold, he is in the house of Makayar the son of Imayaal, in Look-Dabar.⁵ Then king Dawad sent, and fetched him out of the house of Makayar the son of Imayaal, from Look-Dabar.⁶ Mapayabashath, the son of Yahawanathan, the son of Shaawal, came to Dawad, and fell on his face, and did obeisance. Dawad said, Mapayabashath. He answered, Behold, your servant!⁷ Dawad said to him, "Don't be afraid of him; for I will surely show you kindness for Yahawanathan your father's sake, and will restore you all the land of Shaawal your father; and you shall eat bread at my table continually."⁸ He did obeisance, and said, What is your servant, that you should look on such a dead dog as I am?⁹ Then the king called to Tzayabaa, Shaawal's servant, and said to him, All that pertained to Shaawal and to all his house have I given to your master's son.¹⁰ You shall till the land for him, you, and your sons, and your servants; and you shall bring in [the fruits], that your master's son may have bread to eat: but Mapayabashath your master's son shall eat bread always at my table. Now Tzayabaa had fifteen sons and twenty servants.¹¹ Then said Tzayabaa to the king, According to all that my lord the king commands his servant, so shall your servant do. As for Mapayabashath, [said the king], he shall eat at my table, as one of the king's sons.¹² Mapayabashath had a young son, whose name was Mica. All that lived in the house of Tzayabaa were servants to Mapayabashath.¹³ So Mapayabashath lived in Yarawashalam; for he ate continually at the king's table. He was lame in both his feet.

10 It happened after this, that the king of the children of Imawan died, and Chanawan his son reigned in his place.² Dawad said, I will show kindness to Chanawan the son of Nachash, as his father showed kindness to me. So Dawad sent by his servants to comfort him concerning his father. Dawad's servants came into the land of the children of Imawan.³ But the princes of the children of Imawan said to Chanawan their lord, Do you think that Dawad honors your father, in that he has sent comforters to you? Hasn't Dawad sent his servants to you to search the city, and to spy it out, and to overthrow it?⁴ So Chanawan took Dawad's servants, and shaved off the one half of their beards, and cut off their garments in the middle, even to their buttocks, and sent them away.⁵ When they told it to Dawad, he sent to meet them; for the men were greatly ashamed. The king said, Wait at Yarayachaw until your beards be grown, and then return.⁶ When the children of Imawan saw that they were become odious to Dawad, the children of Imawan sent and hired the Aram of Bayath, and the Aram of Tzawabah, twenty thousand footmen, and the king of Maacah with one thousand men, and the men of Tawab twelve thousand men.⁷ When Dawad heard of it, he sent Yawaab, and all the host of the mighty men.⁸ The children of Imawan came out, and put the battle in array at the entrance of the gate: and the Aram of Tzawabah and of Rachab, and the men of Tawab and Maacah, were by themselves in the field.⁹ Now when Yawaab saw that the battle was set against him before and behind, he chose of all the choice men of Yasharaal, and put them in array against the Aram:¹⁰ The rest of the people he committed into the hand of Abayashay his brother; and he put them in array against the children of Imawan.¹¹ He said, If the Aram be too strong for me, then you shall help me; but if the children of Imawan be too strong for you, then I will come and help you.¹² Be of good courage, and let us play the man for our people, and for the cities of our Alahayam: and Yahawah do that which seems him good.¹³ So Yawaab and the people who were with him drew near to the battle against the Aram: and they fled before him.¹⁴ When the children of Imawan saw that the Aram were fled, they likewise fled before Abayashay, and entered into the city. Then Yawaab returned from the children of Imawan, and came to Yarawashalam.¹⁵ When the Aram saw that they were put to the worse before Yasharaal, they gathered themselves together.¹⁶ Hadarezer sent, and brought out the Aram who were beyond the River: and they came to Chayalam, with Shawabak the captain of the host of Hadarezer at their head.¹⁷ It was told Dawad; and he gathered all Yasharaal together, and passed over the Yaradan, and came to Chayalam. The Aram set themselves in array against Dawad, and fought with him.¹⁸ The Aram fled before Yasharaal; and Dawad killed of the Aram [the men of] seven hundred chariots, and forty thousand horsemen, and struck Shawabak the captain of their host, so that he died there.¹⁹ When all the kings who were servants to Hadarezer saw that they were put to the worse before Yasharaal, they made peace with Yasharaal, and served them. So the Aram feared to help the children of Imawan any more.

11 It happened, at the return of the year, at the time when kings go out [to battle], that Dawad sent Yawaab, and his servants with him, and all Yasharaal; and they destroyed the children of Imawan, and besieged Rabah. But Dawad stayed at Yarawashalam.² It happened at evening, that Dawad arose from off his bed, and walked on the roof of the king's house: and from the roof he saw a woman bathing; and the woman was very beautiful to look on.³ Dawad send and inquired after the woman. One said, Is not this Bath, the daughter of Alayaim, the wife of Awarayah the Hittite?⁴ Dawad sent messengers, and took her; and she came in to him, and he lay with her (for she was purified from her uncleanness); and she returned to her house.⁵ The woman conceived; and she sent and told Dawad, and said, I am with child.⁶ Dawad sent to Yawaab, [saying], Send me Awarayah the Hittite. Yawaab sent Awarayah to Dawad.⁷ When Awarayah was come to him, Dawad asked of him how Yawaab did, and how the people fared, and how the war prospered.⁸ Dawad said to Awarayah, Go down to your house, and wash your feet. Awarayah departed out of the king's house, and there followed him a mess [of food] from the king.⁹ But Awarayah slept at the door of the king's house with all the servants of his lord, and didn't go down to his house.¹⁰ When they had told Dawad, saying, Awarayah didn't go down to his house, Dawad said to Awarayah, Haven't you come from a journey? why did you not go down to your house?¹¹ Awarayah said to Dawad, The ark, and Yasharaal, and Yahawadah, abide in booths; and my lord Yawaab, and the servants of my lord, are encamped in the open field; shall I then go into my house, to eat and to drink, and to lie with my wife? as you live, and as your soul lives, I will not do this thing.¹² Dawad said to Awarayah, Stay here today also, and tomorrow I will let you depart. So Awarayah abode in Yarawashalam that day, and the next day.¹³ When Dawad had called him, he ate and drink before him; and he made him drunk: and at even he went out to lie on his bed with the servants of his lord, but didn't go down to his house.¹⁴ It happened in the morning, that Dawad wrote a letter to Yawaab, and sent it by the hand of Awarayah.¹⁵ He wrote in the letter, saying, Set you Awarayah in the forefront of the hottest battle, and retire you from him, that he may be struck, and die.¹⁶ It happened, when Yawaab kept watch on the city, that he assigned Awarayah to the place where he knew that valiant men were.¹⁷ The men of the city went out, and fought with Yawaab: and there fell some of the people, even of the servants of Dawad; and Awarayah the Hittite died also.¹⁸ Then Yawaab sent and told Dawad all the things concerning the war;¹⁹ and he charged the messenger, saying, "When you have made an end of telling all the things concerning the war to the king,²⁰ it shall be that, if the king's wrath arise, and he tells you, 'Why did you go so near to the city to fight? Didn't you know that they would shoot from the wall?'²¹ who struck Abayamalak the son of Yarabashath? Didn't a woman cast an upper millstone on him from the wall, so that he died at Thabatz? Why did you go so near the wall?" then shall you say, 'Your servant Awarayah the Hittite is dead also.'²² So the messenger went, and came and showed Dawad all that Yawaab had sent him for.²³ The messenger said to Dawad, The men prevailed against us, and came out to us into the field, and we were on them even to the entrance of the gate.²⁴ The shooters shot at your servants from off the wall; and some of the king's servants are dead, and your servant Awarayah the Hittite is dead also.²⁵ Then Dawad said to the messenger, Thus shall you tell Yawaab, Don't let this thing displease you, for the sword devours one as well as another; make your battle more strong against the city, and overthrow it: and encourage you him.²⁶ When the wife of Awarayah heard that Awarayah her husband was dead, she made lamentation for her husband.²⁷ When the mourning was past, Dawad sent and took her home to his house, and she became his wife, and bore him a son. But the thing that Dawad had done displeased Yahawah.

12 Yahawah sent Nathan to Dawad. He came to him, and said to him, "There were two men in one city; the one rich, and the other poor.² The rich man had very many flocks and herds,³ but the poor man had nothing, except one little ewe lamb, which he had bought and raised. It grew up together with him, and with his children. It ate of his own food, drank of his own cup, and lay in his bosom, and was to him like a daughter.⁴ A traveler came to the rich man, and he spared to take of his own flock and of his own herd, to dress for the wayfaring man who had come to him, but took the poor man's lamb, and dressed it for the man who had come to him."⁵ Dawad's anger was greatly kindled against the man, and he said to Nathan, "As Yahawah lives, the man who has done this is worthy to die!⁶ He shall restore the lamb fourfold, because he did this thing, and because he had no pity!"⁷ Nathan said to Dawad, "You are the man. This is what Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, says: 'I anointed you king over Yasharaal, and I delivered you out of the hand of Shaawal.⁸ I gave you your master's house, and your master's wives into your bosom, and gave you the house of Yasharaal and of Yahawadah; and if that would have been too little, I would have added to you many more such things.⁹ Why have you despised the word of Yahawah, to do that which is evil in his sight? You have struck Awarayah the Hittite with the sword, and have taken his wife to be your wife, and have slain him with the sword of the children of Imawan.¹⁰ Now therefore the sword will never depart from your house, because you have despised me, and have taken the wife of Awarayah the Hittite to be your wife.'¹¹ This is what Yahawah says: 'Behold, I will raise up evil against you out of your own house; and I will take your wives before your eyes, and give them to your neighbor, and he will lie with your wives in the sight of this sun.¹² For you did it secretly, but I will do this thing before all Yasharaal, and before the sun.'¹³ Dawad said to Nathan, "I have sinned against Yahawah." Nathan said to Dawad, "Yahawah also has put away your sin. You will not die.¹⁴ However, because by this deed you have given great occasion to Yahawah's enemies to blaspheme, the child also who is born to you shall surely die."¹⁵ Nathan departed to his house. Yahawah struck the child that Awarayah's wife bore to Dawad, and it was very sick.¹⁶ Dawad therefore begged Alahayam for the child; and Dawad fasted, and went in, and lay all night on the earth.¹⁷ The elders of his house arose, [and stood] beside him, to raise him up from the earth: but he would not, neither did he eat bread with them.¹⁸ It happened on the seventh day, that the child died. The servants of Dawad feared to tell him that the child was dead; for they said, Behold, while the child was yet alive, we spoke to him, and he didn't listen to our voice: how will he then vex himself, if we tell him that the child is dead!¹⁹ But when Dawad saw that his servants were whispering together, Dawad perceived that the child was dead; and Dawad said to his servants, Is the child dead? They said, He is dead.²⁰ Then Dawad arose from the earth, and washed, and anointed himself, and changed his clothing; and he came into the house of Yahawah, and worshipped: then he came to his own house; and when he required, they set bread before him, and he ate.²¹ Then said his servants to him, What thing is this that you have done? you did fast and weep for the child, while it was alive; but when the child was dead, you did rise and eat bread.²² He said, While the child was yet alive, I fasted and wept: for I said, Who knows whether Yahawah will not be gracious to me, that the child may live?²³ But now he is dead, why should I fast? can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he will not return to me.²⁴ Dawad comforted Bath his wife, and went in to her, and lay with her: and she bore a son, and he called his name Shalamah. Yahawah loved him;²⁵ and he sent by the hand of Nathan the prophet; and he named him Yadayadah, for Yahawah's sake.²⁶ Now Yawaab fought against Rabah of the children of Imawan, and took the royal city.²⁷ Yawaab sent messengers to Dawad, and said, I have fought against Rabah; yes, I have taken the city of waters.²⁸ Now therefore gather the rest of the people together, and encamp against the city, and take it; lest I take the city, and it be called after my name.²⁹ Dawad gathered all the people together, and went to Rabah, and fought against it, and took it.³⁰ He took the crown of their king from off his head; and the weight of it was a talent of gold, and [in it were] precious stones; and it was set on Dawad's head. He brought forth the spoil of the city, exceeding much.³¹ He brought forth the people who were therein, and put them under saws, and under harrows of iron, and under axes of iron, and made them pass through the brick kiln: and thus did he to all the cities of the children of Imawan. Dawad and all the people returned to Yarawashalam.

13 It happened after this, that Abashalawam the son of Dawad had a beautiful sister, whose name was Thamar; and Amanawan the son of Dawad loved her.² Amanawan was so vexed that he fell sick because of his sister Thamar; for she was a virgin; and it seemed hard to Amanawan to do anything to her.³ But Amanawan had a friend, whose name was Yahawanadab, the son of Shamaih, Dawad's brother; and Yahawanadab was a very subtle man.⁴ He said to him, Why, son of the king, are you thus lean from day to day? Won't you tell me? Amanawan said to him, I love Thamar, my brother Abashalawam's sister.⁵ Yahawanadab said to him, Lay you down on your bed, and feign yourself sick: and when your father comes to see you, tell him, Please let my sister Thamar come and give me bread to eat, and dress the food in my sight, that I may see it, and eat it from her hand.⁶ So Amanawan lay down, and feigned himself sick: and when the king was come to see him, Amanawan said to the king, Please let her sister Thamar come, and make me a couple of cakes in my sight, that I may eat from her hand.⁷ Then Dawad sent home to Thamar, saying, Go now to your brother Amanawan's house, and dress him food.⁸ So Thamar went to her brother Amanawan's house; and he was laid down. She took dough, and kneaded it, and made cakes in his sight, and did bake the cakes.⁹ She took the pan, and poured them out before him; but he refused to eat. Amanawan said, Have out all men from me. They went out every man from him.¹⁰ Amanawan said to Thamar, Bring the food into the chamber, that I may eat from your hand. Thamar took the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amanawan her brother.¹¹ When she had brought them near to him to eat, he took hold of her, and said to her, Come, lie with me, my sister.¹² She answered him, No, my brother, do not force me; for no such thing ought to be done in Yasharaal. Don't you do this folly.¹³ I, where shall I carry my shame? and as for you, you will be as one of the fools in Yasharaal. Now therefore, please speak to the king; for he will not withhold me from you.¹⁴ However he would not listen to her voice; but being stronger than she, he forced her, and lay with her.¹⁵ Then Amanawan hated her with exceeding great hatred; for the hatred with which he hated her was greater than the love with which he had loved her. Amanawan said to her, Arise, be gone.¹⁶ She said to him, Not so, because this great wrong in putting me forth is [worse] than the other that you did to me. But he would not listen to her.¹⁷ Then he called his servant who ministered to him, and said, Pawat now this woman out from me, and bolt the door after her.¹⁸ She had a garment of various colors on her; for with such robes were the king's daughters who were virgins dressed. Then his servant brought her out, and bolted the door after her.¹⁹ Thamar put ashes on her head, and tore her garment of various colors that was on her; and she laid her hand on her head, and went her way, crying aloud as she went.²⁰ Abashalawam her brother said to her, Has Amanawan your brother been with you? but now hold your peace, my sister: he is your brother; don't take this thing to heart. So Thamar remained desolate in her brother Abashalawam's house.²¹ But when king Dawad heard of all these things, he was very angry.²² Abashalawam spoke to Amanawan neither good nor bad; for Abashalawam hated Amanawan, because he had forced his sister Thamar.²³ It happened after two full years, that Abashalawam had sheep-shearers in Bail, which is beside Aparayam: and Abashalawam invited all the king's sons.²⁴ Abashalawam came to the king, and said, See now, your servant has sheep-shearers; let the king, I pray you, and his servants go with your servant.²⁵ The king said to Abashalawam, No, my son, let us not all go, lest we be burdensome to you. He pressed him: however he would not go, but blessed him.²⁶ Then said Abashalawam, If not, please let my brother Amanawan go with us. The king said to him, Why should he go with you?²⁷ But Abashalawam pressed him, and he let Amanawan and all the king's sons go with him.²⁸ Abashalawam commanded his servants, saying, Mark you now, when Amanawan's heart is merry with wine; and when I tell you, Smite Amanawan, then kill him; don't be afraid; haven't I commanded you? be courageous, and be valiant.²⁹ The servants of Abashalawam did to Amanawan as Abashalawam had commanded. Then all the king's sons arose, and every man got him up on his mule, and fled.³⁰ It happened, while they were in the way, that the news came to Dawad, saying, Abashalawam has slain all the king's sons, and there is not one of them left.³¹ Then the king arose, and tore his garments, and lay on the earth; and all his servants stood by with their clothes torn.³² Yahawanadab, the son of Shamaih, Dawad's brother, answered, Don't let my lord suppose that they have killed all the young men the king's sons; for Amanawan only is dead; for by the appointment of Abashalawam this has been determined from the day that he forced his sister Thamar.³³ Now therefore don't let my lord the king take the thing to his heart, to think that all the king's sons are dead; for Amanawan only is dead.³⁴ But Abashalawam fled. The young man who kept the watch lifted up his eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came much people by the way of the hill-side behind him.³⁵ Yahawanadab said to the king, Behold, the king's sons are come: as your servant said, so it is.³⁶ It happened, as soon as he had made an end of speaking, that behold, the king's sons came, and lifted up their voice, and wept: and the king also and all his servants wept very sore.³⁷ But Abashalawam fled, and went to Thalamay the son of Ammihur, king of Gashawar. [Dawad] mourned for his son every day.³⁸ So Abashalawam fled, and went to Gashawar, and was there three years.³⁹ [the soul of] king Dawad longed to go forth to Abashalawam: for he was comforted concerning Amanawan, seeing he was dead.

14 Now Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah perceived that the king's heart was toward Abashalawam.² Yawaab sent to Thaqawai, and fetched there a wise woman, and said to her, please act like a mourner, and put on mourning clothing. Please, and don't anoint yourself with oil, but be as a woman who has a long time mourned for the dead:³ and go in to the king, and speak on this manner to him. So Yawaab put the words in her mouth.⁴ When the woman of Thaqawai spoke to the king, she fell on her face to the ground, and did obeisance, and said, Help, O king.⁵ The king said to her, What ails you? She answered, Of a truth I am a widow, and my husband is dead.⁶ Your handmaid had two sons, and they two strove together in the field, and there was none to part them, but the one struck the other, and killed him.⁷ Behold, the whole family is risen against your handmaid, and they say, Deliver him who struck his brother, that we may kill him for the life of his brother whom he killed, and so destroy the heir also. Thus will they quench my coal which is left, and will leave to my husband neither name nor remainder on the surface of the earth.⁸ The king said to the woman, Go to your house, and I will give charge concerning you.⁹ The woman of Thaqawai said to the king, My lord, O king, the iniquity be on me, and on my father's house; and the king and his throne be guiltless.¹⁰ The king said, Whoever says anything to you, bring him to me, and he shall not touch you any more.¹¹ Then said she, Please let the king remember Yahawah your Alahayam, that the avenger of blood destroy not any more, lest they destroy my son. He said, As Yahawah lives, there shall not one hair of your son fall to the earth.¹² Then the woman said, Please let your handmaid speak a word to my lord the king. He said, Say on.¹³ The woman said, Why then have you devised such a thing against the people of Alahayam? for in speaking this word the king is as one who is guilty, in that the king does not bring home again his banished one.¹⁴ For we must needs die, and are as water split on the ground, which can't be gathered up again; neither does Alahayam take away life, but devises means, that he who is banished not be an outcast from him.¹⁵ Now therefore seeing that I have come to speak this word to my lord the king, it is because the people have made me afraid: and your handmaid said, I will now speak to the king; it may be that the king will perform the request of his servant.¹⁶ For the king will hear, to deliver his servant out of the hand of the man who would destroy me and my son together out of the inheritance of Alahayam.¹⁷ Then your handmaid said, Please let the word of my lord the king be comfortable; for as an angel of Alahayam, so is my lord the king to discern good and bad: and Yahawah your Alahayam be with you.¹⁸ Then the king answered the woman, Please don't hide anything from me that I shall ask you. The woman said, Let my lord the king now speak.¹⁹ The king said, Is the hand of Yawaab with you in all this? The woman answered, As your soul lives, my lord the king, none can turn to the right hand or to the left from anything that my lord the king has spoken; for your servant Yawaab, he bade me, and he put all these words in the mouth of your handmaid;²⁰ to change the face of the matter has your servant Yawaab done this thing: and my lord is wise, according to the wisdom of an angel of Alahayam, to know all things that are in the earth.²¹ The king said to Yawaab, Behold now, I have done this thing: go therefore, bring the young man Abashalawam back.²² Yawaab fell to the ground on his face, and did obeisance, and blessed the king: and Yawaab said, Today your servant knows that I have found favor in your sight, my lord, king, in that the king has performed the request of his servant.²³ So Yawaab arose and went to Gashawar, and brought Abashalawam to Yarawashalam.²⁴ The king said, Let him turn to his own house, but let him not see my face. So Abashalawam turned to his own house, and didn't see the king's face.²⁵ Now in all Yasharaal there was none to be so much praised as Abashalawam for his beauty: from the sole of his foot even to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him.²⁶ When he cut the hair of his head (now it was at every year's end that he cut it; because it was heavy on him, therefore he cut it); he weighed the hair of his head at two hundred shekels, after the king's weight.²⁷ To Abashalawam there were born three sons, and one daughter, whose name was Tamar: she was a woman of a beautiful face.²⁸ Abashalawam lived two full years in Yarawashalam; and he didn't see the king's face.²⁹ Then Abashalawam sent for Yawaab, to send him to the king; but he would not come to him: and he sent again a second time, but he would not come.³⁰ Therefore he said to his servants, Behold, Yawaab's field is near mine, and he has barley there; go and set it on fire. Abashalawam's servants set the field on fire.³¹ Then Yawaab arose, and came to Abashalawam to his house, and said to him, Why have your servants set my field on fire?³² Abashalawam answered Yawaab, Behold, I sent to you, saying, Come here, that I may send you to the king, to say, Why am I come from Gashawar? it were better for me to be there still. Now therefore let me see the king's face; and if there be iniquity in me, let him kill me.³³ So Yawaab came to the king, and told him; and when he had called for Abashalawam, he came to the king, and bowed himself on his face to the ground before the king; and the king kissed Abashalawam.

15 It happened after this, that Abashalawam prepared him a chariot and horses, and fifty men to run before him.² Abashalawam rose up early, and stood beside the way of the gate: and it was so, that when any man had a suit which should come to the king for judgment, then Abashalawam called to him, and said, Of what city are you? He said, Your servant is of one of the tribes of Yasharaal.³ Abashalawam said to him, Behold, your matters are good and right; but there is no man deputized of the king to hear you.⁴ Abashalawam said moreover, Oh that I were made judge in the land, that every man who has any suit or cause might come to me, and I would do him justice!⁵ It was so, that when any man came near to do him obeisance, he put forth his hand, and took hold of him, and kissed him.⁶ In this manner Abashalawam did to all Yasharaal who came to the king for judgment: so Abashalawam stole the hearts of the men of Yasharaal.⁷ It happened at the end of forty years, that Abashalawam said to the king, please let me go and pay my vow, which I have vowed to Yahawah, in Chabarawan.⁸ For your servant vowed a vow while I abode in Gashawar in Aram, saying, If Yahawah shall indeed bring me again to Yarawashalam, then I will serve Yahawah.⁹ The king said to him, Go in peace. So he arose, and went to Chabarawan.¹⁰ But Abashalawam sent spies throughout all the tribes of Yasharaal, saying, As soon as you hear the sound of the trumpet, then you shall say, Abashalawam is king in Chabarawan.¹¹ With Abashalawam went two hundred men out of Yarawashalam, who were invited, and went in their simplicity; and they didn't know anything.¹² Abashalawam sent for Achayathapal the Gilonite, Dawad's counselor, from his city, even from Galah, while he was offering the sacrifices. The conspiracy was strong; for the people increased continually with Abashalawam.¹³ There came a messenger to Dawad, saying, The hearts of the men of Yasharaal are after Abashalawam.¹⁴ Dawad said to all his servants who were with him at Yarawashalam, Arise, and let us flee; for else none of us shall escape from Abashalawam: make speed to depart, lest he overtake us quickly, and bring down evil on us, and strike the city with the edge of the sword.¹⁵ The king's servants said to the king, Behold, your servants are ready to do whatever my lord the king shall choose.¹⁶ The king went forth, and all his household after him. The king left ten women, who were concubines, to keep the house.¹⁷ The king went forth, and all the people after him; and they stayed in Bayath-merhak.¹⁸ All his servants passed on beside him; and all the Cherethites, and all the Pelethites, and all the Gittites, six hundred men who came after him from Gath, passed on before the king.¹⁹ Then said the king to Athay the Gittite, Why go you also with us? return, and abide with the king: for you are a foreigner, and also an exile; [return] to your own place.²⁰ Whereas you came but yesterday, should I this day make you go up and down with us, seeing I go where I may? return you, and take back your brothers; mercy and truth be with you.²¹ Athay answered the king, and said, As Yahawah lives, and as my lord the king lives, surely in what place my lord the king shall be, whether for death or for life, even there also will your servant be.²² Dawad said to Athay, Go and pass over. Athay the Gittite passed over, and all his men, and all the little ones who were with him.²³ All the country wept with a loud voice, and all the people passed over: the king also himself passed over the brook Qadarawan, and all the people passed over, toward the way of the wilderness.²⁴ Behold, Tzadawaq also [came], and all the Levites with him, bearing the ark of the covenant of Alahayam; and they set down the ark of Alahayam; and Abayathar went up, until all the people had done passing out of the city.²⁵ The king said to Tzadawaq, Carry back the ark of Alahayam into the city: if I shall find favor in the eyes of Yahawah, he will bring me again, and show me both it, and his habitation:²⁶ but if he say thus, I have no delight in you; behold, here am I, let him do to me as seems good to him.²⁷ The king said also to Tzadawaq the priest, "Aren't you a seer? Return into the city in peace, and your two sons with you, Achayamaitz your son, and Yahawanathan the son of Abayathar.

²⁸ Behold, I will stay at the fords of the wilderness, until word comes from you to inform me."²⁹ Tzadawaq therefore and Abayathar carried the ark of Alahayam again to Yarawashalam: and they abode there.³⁰ Dawad went up by the ascent of the [Mount of] Olives, and wept as he went up; and he had his head covered, and went barefoot: and all the people who were with him covered every man his head, and they went up, weeping as they went up.³¹ One told Dawad, saying, Achayathapal is among the conspirators with Abashalawam. Dawad said, Yahawah, please turn the counsel of Achayathapal into foolishness.³² It happened that when Dawad had come to the top [of the ascent], where Alahayam was worshipped, behold, Chawashay the Archite came to meet him with his coat torn, and earth on his head.³³ Dawad said to him, If you pass on with me, then you will be a burden to me:³⁴ but if you return to the city, and tell Abashalawam, I will be your servant, O king; as I have been your father's servant in time past, so will I now be your servant; then will you defeat for me the counsel of Achayathapal.

³⁵ Don't you have Tzadawaq and Abayathar the priests there with you? therefore it shall be, that whatever thing you shall hear out of the king's house, you shall tell it to Tzadawaq and Abayathar the priests.³⁶ Behold, they have there with them their two sons, Achayamaitz, Tzadawaq's son, and Yahawanathan, Abayathar's son; and by them you shall send to me everything that you shall hear.³⁷ So Chawashay, Dawad's friend, came into the city; and Abashalawam came into Yarawashalam.

16 When Dawad was a little past the top [of the ascent], behold, Tzayabaa the servant of Mapayabashath met him, with a couple of donkeys saddled, and on them two hundred loaves of bread, and one hundred clusters of raisins, and one hundred summer fruits, and a bottle of wine.² The king said to Tzayabaa, What do you mean by these? Tzayabaa said, The donkeys are for the king's household to ride on; and the bread and summer fruit for the young men to eat; and the wine, that such as are faint in the wilderness may drink.³ The king said, Where is your master's son? Tzayabaa said to the king, Behold, he abides at Yarawashalam; for he said, Today will the house of Yasharaal restore me the kingdom of my father.⁴ Then said the king to Tzayabaa, Behold, all that pertains to Mapayabashath is yours. Tzayabaa said, I do obeisance; let me find favor in your sight, my lord, O king.⁵ When king Dawad came to Bachawarayam, behold, a man of the family of the house of Shaawal came out, whose name was Shamaïy, the son of Garaa. He came out, and cursed still as he came.⁶ He cast stones at Dawad, and at all the servants of king Dawad: and all the people and all the mighty men were on his right hand and on his left.⁷ Thus said Shamaïy when he cursed, Be gone, be gone, you man of blood, and base fellow:⁸ Yahawah has returned on you all the blood of the house of Shaawal, in whose place you have reigned; and Yahawah has delivered the kingdom into the hand of Abashalawam your son; and, behold, you are [taken] in your own mischief, because you are a man of blood.⁹ Then said Abayashay the son of Tzarawayah to the king, "Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? Please let me go over and take off his head."¹⁰ The king said, What have I to do with you, you sons of Tzarawayah? Because he curses, and because Yahawah has said to him, Curse Dawad; who then shall say, Why have you done so?¹¹ Dawad said to Abayashay, and to all his servants, Behold, my son, who came forth from my bowels, seeks my life: how much more [may] this Benjamite now [do it]? let him alone, and let him curse; for Yahawah has invited him.¹² It may be that Yahawah will look on the wrong done to me, and that Yahawah will requite me good for [his] cursing of me this day.

along on the hill-side over against him, and cursed as he went, and threw stones at him, and cast dust.¹⁴ The king, and all the people who were with him, came weary; and he refreshed himself there.

¹⁵ Abashalawam, and all the people, the men of Yasharaal, came to Yarawashalam, and Achayathapal with him.¹⁶ It happened, when Chawashay the Archite, Dawad's friend, was come to Abashalawam, that Chawashay said to Abashalawam, [Long] live the king, [Long] live the king.¹⁷ Abashalawam said to Chawashay, Is this your kindness to your friend? Why didn't you go with your friend?¹⁸ Chawashay said to Abashalawam, No; but whom Yahawah, and this people, and all the men of Yasharaal have chosen, his will I be, and with him will I abide.¹⁹ Again, whom should I serve? Shouldn't I serve in the presence of his son? as I have served in your father's presence, so will I be in your presence.

²⁰ Then said Abashalawam to Achayathapal, Give your counsel what we shall do.²¹ Achayathapal said to Abashalawam, Go in to your father's concubines, that he has left to keep the house; and all Yasharaal will hear that you are abhorred of your father: then will the hands of all who are with you be strong.²² So they spread Abashalawam a tent on the top of the house; and Abashalawam went in to his father's concubines in the sight of all Yasharaal.²³ The counsel of Achayathapal, which he gave in those days, was as if a man inquired at the oracle of Alahayam: so was all the counsel of Achayathapal both with Dawad and with Abashalawam.

17 Moreover Achayathapal said to Abashalawam, Let me now choose out twelve thousand men, and I will arise and pursue after Dawad this night:² and I will come on him while he is weary and weak-handed, and will make him afraid; and all the people who are with him shall flee; and I will strike the king only;³ and I will bring back all the people to you: the man whom you seek is as if all returned: [so] all the people shall be in peace.⁴ The saying pleased Abashalawam well, and all the elders of Yasharaal.⁵ Then said Abashalawam, Call now Chawashay the Archite also, and let us hear likewise what he says.⁶ When Chawashay was come to Abashalawam, Abashalawam spoke to him, saying, Achayathapal has spoken after this manner: shall we do [after] his saying? if not, speak up.⁷ Chawashay said to Abashalawam, The counsel that Achayathapal has given this time is not good.⁸ Chawashay said moreover, You know your father and his men, that they are mighty men, and they are fierce in their minds, as a bear robbed of her whelps in the field; and your father is a man of war, and will not lodge with the people.⁹ Behold, he is hid now in some pit, or in some [other] place: and it will happen, when some of them are fallen at the first, that whoever hears it will say, There is a slaughter among the people who follow Abashalawam.¹⁰ Even he who is valiant, whose heart is as the heart of a lion, will utterly melt; for all Yasharaal knows that your father is a mighty man, and those who are with him are valiant men.¹¹ But I counsel that all Yasharaal be gathered together to you, from Wadan even to Beersheba, as the sand that is by the sea for multitude; and that you go to battle in your own person.¹² So shall we come on him in some place where he shall be found, and we will light on him as the dew falls on the ground; and of him and of all the men who are with him we will not leave so much as one.¹³ Moreover, if he be gotten into a city, then shall all Yasharaal bring ropes to that city, and we will draw it into the river, until there not be one small stone found there.

¹⁴ Abashalawam and all the men of Yasharaal said, The counsel of Chawashay the Archite is better than the counsel of Achayathapal. For Yahawah had ordained to defeat the good counsel of Achayathapal, to the intent that Yahawah might bring evil on Abashalawam.¹⁵ Then said Chawashay to Tzadawaq and to Abayathar the priests, Thus and thus did Achayathapal counsel Abashalawam and the elders of Yasharaal; and thus and thus have I counseled.¹⁶ Now therefore send quickly, and tell Dawad, saying, Don't lodge this night at the fords of the wilderness, but by all means pass over; lest the king be swallowed up, and all the people who are with him.¹⁷ Now Yahawanathan and Achayamaitz were staying by Iyan; and a maid-servant used to go and tell them; and they went and told king Dawad: for they might not be seen to come into the city.¹⁸ But a boy saw them, and told Abashalawam: and they went both of them away quickly, and came to the house of a man in Bachawarayam, who had a well in his court; and they went down there.¹⁹ The woman took and spread the covering over the well's mouth, and strewed bruised grain thereon; and nothing was known.²⁰ Abashalawam's servants came to the woman to the house; and they said, Where are Achayamaitz and Yahawanathan? The woman said to them, They have gone over the brook of water. When they had sought and could not find them, they returned to Yarawashalam.²¹ It happened, after they had departed, that they came up out of the well, and went and told king Dawad; and they said to Dawad, Arise you, and pass quickly over the water; for thus has Achayathapal counseled against you.²² Then Dawad arose, and all the people who were with him, and they passed over the Yaranan: by the morning light there lacked not one of them who had not gone over the Yaranan.²³ When Achayathapal saw that his counsel was not followed, he saddled his donkey, and arose, and got him home, to his city, and set his house in order, and hanged himself; and he died, and was buried in the tomb of his father.²⁴ Then Dawad came to Machanayam. Abashalawam passed over the Yaranan, he and all the men of Yasharaal with him.²⁵ Abashalawam set Imashaa over the host instead of Yawaab. Now Imashaa was the son of a man, whose name was Yatharaa the Israelite, who went in to Abigail the daughter of Nachash, sister to Tzarawayah, Yawaab's mother.²⁶ Yasharaal and Abashalawam encamped in the land of Galaad.²⁷ It happened, when Dawad was come to Machanayam, that Shabay the son of Nachash of Rabah of the children of Imawan, and Makayar the son of Imayaal of Dabar, and Barazalay the Galaad of Ragalayam,²⁸ brought beds, and basins, and earthen vessels, and wheat, and barley, and meal, and parched [grain], and beans, and lentils, and parched [pulse],²⁹ and honey, and butter, and sheep, and cheese of the herd, for Dawad, and for the people who were with him, to eat: for they said, The people are hungry, and weary, and thirsty, in the wilderness.

18 Dawad numbered the people who were with him, and set captains of thousands and captains of hundreds over them.² Dawad sent forth the people, a third part under the hand of Yawaab, and a third part under the hand of Abayashay the son of Tzarawayah, Yawaab's brother, and a third part under the hand of Athay the Gittite. The king said to the people, I will surely go forth with you myself also.³ But the people said, You shall not go forth: for if we flee away, they will not care for us; neither if half of us die, will they care for us: but you are worth ten thousand of us; therefore now it is better that you be ready to help us out of the city.⁴ The king said to them, What seems you best I will do. The king stood by the gate-side, and all the people went out by hundreds and by thousands.⁵ The king commanded Yawaab and Abayashay and Athay, saying, Deal gently for my sake with the young man, even with Abashalawam. All the people heard when the king gave all the captains charge concerning Abashalawam.⁶ So the people went out into the field against Yasharaal: and the battle was in the forest of Aparayam.⁷ The people of Yasharaal were struck there before the servants of Dawad, and there was a great slaughter there that day of twenty thousand men.⁸ For the battle was there spread over the surface of all the country; and the forest devoured more people that day than the sword devoured.⁹ Abashalawam happened to meet the servants of Dawad. Abashalawam was riding on his mule, and the mule went under the thick boughs of a great oak, and his head caught hold of the oak, and he was taken up between the sky and earth; and the mule that was under him went on.¹⁰ A certain man saw it, and told Yawaab, and said, Behold, I saw Abashalawam hanging in an oak.¹¹ Yawaab said to the man who told him, Behold, you saw it, and why didn't you strike him there to the ground? and I would have given you ten [pieces of] silver, and a sash.¹² The man said to Yawaab, Though I should receive a thousand [pieces of] silver in my hand, I still wouldn't put forth my hand against the king's son; for in our hearing the king charged you and Abayashay and Athay, saying, Beware that none touch the young man Abashalawam.¹³ Otherwise if I had dealt falsely against his life

(and there is no matter hid from the king), then you yourself would have set yourself against [me].¹⁴ Then said Yawaab, I may not wait thus with you. He took three darts in his hand, and thrust them through the heart of Abashalawam, while he was yet alive in the midst of the oak.¹⁵ Ten young men who bore Yawaab's armor compassed about and struck Abashalawam, and killed him.¹⁶ Yawaab blew the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing after Yasharaal; for Yawaab held back the people.¹⁷ They took Abashalawam, and cast him into the great pit in the forest, and raised over him a very great heap of stones: and all Yasharaal fled everyone to his tent.¹⁸ Now Abashalawam in his lifetime had taken and reared up for himself the pillar, which is in the king's dale; for he said, I have no son to keep my name in memory: and he called the pillar after his own name; and it is called Abashalawam's monument, to this day.¹⁹ Then said Achayamaitz the son of Tzadawaq, Let me now run, and bear the king news, how that Yahawah has avenged him of his enemies.²⁰ Yawaab said to him, You shall not be the bearer of news this day, but you shall bear news another day; but this day you shall bear no news, because the king's son is dead.²¹ Then said Yawaab to the Cushite, Go, tell the king what you have seen. The Cushite bowed himself to Yawaab, and ran.²² Then said Achayamaitz the son of Tzadawaq yet again to Yawaab, But come what may, Please let me also run after the Cushite. Yawaab said, Why will you run, my son, seeing that you will have no reward for the news?²³ But come what may, [said he], I will run. He said to him, Run. Then Achayamaitz ran by the way of the Plain, and outran the Cushite.²⁴ Now Dawad was sitting between the two gates: and the watchman went up to the roof of the gate to the wall, and lifted up his eyes, and looked, and, behold, a man running alone.²⁵ The watchman cried, and told the king. The king said, If he be alone, there is news in his mouth. He came apace, and drew near.²⁶ The watchman saw another man running; and the watchman called to the porter, and said, Behold, [another] man running alone. The king said, He also brings news.²⁷ The watchman said, I think the running of the foremost is like the running of Achayamaitz the son of Tzadawaq. The king said, He is a good man, and comes with good news.²⁸ Achayamaitz called, and said to the king, All is well. He bowed himself before the king with his face to the earth, and said, Blessed be Yahawah your Alahayam, who has delivered up the men who lifted up their hand against my lord the king.²⁹ The king said, Is it well with the young man Abashalawam? Achayamaitz answered, When Yawaab sent the king's servant, even me your servant, I saw a great tumult, but I don't know what it was.³⁰ The king said, Turn aside, and stand here. He turned aside, and stood still.³¹ Behold, the Cushite came; and the Cushite said, News for my lord the king; for Yahawah has avenged you this day of all those who rose up against you.³² The king said to the Cushite, Is it well with the young man Abashalawam? The Cushite answered, The enemies of my lord the king, and all who rise up against you to do you hurt, be as that young man is.

19 It was told Yawaab, Behold, the king weeps and mourns for Abashalawam.³ The victory that day was turned into mourning to all the people; for the people heard say that day, The king grieves for his son.⁴ The people got them by stealth that day into the city, as people who are ashamed steal away when they flee in battle.⁵ The king covered his face, and the king cried with a loud voice, my son Abashalawam, Abashalawam, my son, my son!⁶ Yawaab came into the house to the king, and said, You have shamed this day the faces of all your servants, who this day have saved your life, and the lives of your sons and of your daughters, and the lives of your wives, and the lives of your concubines;⁷ in that you love those who hate you, and hate those who love you. For you have declared this day, that princes and servants are nothing to you: for this day I perceive that if Abashalawam had lived, and all we had died this day, then it had pleased you well.⁸ Now therefore arise, go forth, and speak comfortably to your servants; for I swear by Yahawah, if you don't go forth, there will not stay a man with you this night: and that will be worse to you than all the evil that has befallen you from your youth until now.⁹ Then the king arose, and sat in the gate. They told to all the people, saying, Behold, the king is sitting in the gate: and all the people came before the king. Now Yasharaal had fled every man to his tent.¹⁰ All the people were at strife throughout all the tribes of Yasharaal, saying, The king delivered us out of the hand of our enemies, and he saved us out of the hand of the Palashath; and now he is fled out of the land from Abashalawam.¹¹ Abashalawam, whom we anointed over us, is dead in battle. Now therefore why don't you speak a word of bringing the king back?¹² King Dawad sent to Tzadawaq and to Abayathar the priests, saying, Speak to the elders of Yahawadah, saying, Why are you the last to bring the king back to his house? seeing the speech of all Yasharaal is come to the king, [to bring him] to his house.¹³ You are my brothers, you are my bone and my flesh: why then are you the last to bring back the king?¹⁴ Say you to Imashaa, Aren't you my bone and my flesh? Alahayam do so to me, and more also, if you aren't captain of the host before me continually in the room of Yawaab.¹⁵ He bowed the heart of all the men of Yahawadah, even as [the heart of] one man; so that they sent to the king, [saying], Return you, and all your servants.¹⁶ So the king returned, and came to the Yaradan. Yahawadah came to Galagal, to go to meet the king, to bring the king over the Yaradan.¹⁷ Shamaïy the son of Garaa, the Benjamite, who was of Bachawarayam, hurried and came down with the men of Yahawadah to meet king Dawad.¹⁸ There were a thousand men of Banayaman with him, and Tzayabaa the servant of the house of Shaawal, and his fifteen sons and his twenty servants with him; and they went through the Yaradan in the presence of the king.¹⁹ There went over a ferry-boat to bring over the king's household, and to do what he thought good. Shamaïy the son of Garaa fell down before the king, when he was come over the Yaradan.²⁰ He said to the king, Don't let my lord impute iniquity to me, neither do you remember that which your servant did perversely the day that my lord the king went out of Yarawashalam, that the king should take it to his heart.²¹ For your servant does know that I have sinned: therefore, behold, I am come this day the first of all the house of Yawasap to go down to meet my lord the king.²² But Abayashay the son of Tzarawayah answered, Shall Shamaïy not be put to death for this, because he cursed Yahawah's anointed?²³ Dawad said, What have I to do with you, you sons of Tzarawayah, that you should this day be adversaries to me? shall there any man be put to death this day in Yasharaal? for don't I know that I am this day king over Yasharaal?²⁴ The king said to Shamaïy, You shall not die. The king swore to him.²⁵ Mapayabashath the son of Shaawal came down to meet the king; and he had neither dressed his feet, nor trimmed his beard, nor washed his clothes, from the day the king departed until the day he came home in peace.²⁶ It happened, when he was come to Yarawashalam to meet the king, that the king said to him, Why didn't you go with me, Mapayabashath?²⁷ He answered, My lord, O king, my servant deceived me: for your servant said, I will saddle me a donkey, that I may ride thereon, and go with the king; because your servant is lame.²⁸ He has slandered your servant to my lord the king; but my lord the king is as an angel of Alahayam: do therefore what is good in your eyes.²⁹ For all my father's house were but dead men before my lord the king; yet you set your servant among those who ate at your own table. What right therefore have I yet that I should cry any more to the king?³⁰ The king said to him, Why speak you any more of your matters? I say, You and Tzayabaa divide the land.³¹ Mapayabashath said to the king, yes, let him take all, because my lord the king is come in peace to his own house.³² Barazalay the Galaid came down from Ragalayam; and he went over the Yaradan with the king, to conduct him over the Yaradan.³³ Now Barazalay was a very aged man, even eighty years old: and he had provided the king with sustenance while he lay at Machanayam; for he was a very great man.³⁴ The king said to Barazalay, Come you over with me, and I will sustain you with me in Yarawashalam.³⁵ Barazalay said to the king, How many are the days of the years of my life, that I should go up with the king to Yarawashalam?³⁶ I am this day eighty years old: can I discern between good and bad? can your servant taste what I eat or what I drink? can I hear any more the voice of singing men and singing women? why then should your servant be yet a burden to my lord the king?³⁷ Your servant would but just go over the Yaradan with the king: and why should the king recompense it me with such a reward?³⁸ Please let your servant turn back again, that I may die in my own city, by the grave of my father and my mother. But behold, your servant Kamaham; let him go over with my lord the king; and do to him what shall seem good to you.³⁹ The king answered, Kamaham shall go over with me, and I will do to him that which shall seem good to you: and whatever you shall require of me, that will I do for you.⁴⁰ All the people went over the Yaradan, and the king went over: and the king kissed Barazalay, and blessed him; and he returned to his own place.⁴¹ So the king went over to Galagal, and Kamaham went over with him: and all the people of Yahawadah brought the king over, and also half the people of Yasharaal.⁴² Behold, all the men of Yasharaal came to the king, and said to the king, Why have our brothers the men of Yahawadah stolen you away, and brought the king, and his household, over the Yaradan, and all Dawad's men with him?⁴³ All the men of Yahawadah answered the men of Yasharaal, Because the king is a close relative to us: why then are you angry for this matter? have we eaten at all at the king's cost? or has he given us any gift?⁴⁴ The men of Yasharaal answered the men of Yahawadah, and said, We have ten parts in the king, and we have also more [right] in Dawad than you: why then did you despise us, that our advice should not be first had in bringing back our king? The words of the men of Yahawadah were fiercer than the words of the men of Yasharaal.

20 There happened to be there a base fellow, whose name was Shabaa, the son of Bakaray, a Benjamite: and he blew the trumpet, and said, We have no portion in Dawad, neither have we inheritance in the son of Yashay: every man to his tents, Yasharaal.² So all the men of Yasharaal went up from following Dawad, and followed Shabaa the son of Bakaray; but the men of Yahawadah joined with their king, from the Yaradan even to Yarawashalam.³ Dawad came to his house at Yarawashalam; and the king took the ten women his concubines, whom he had left to keep the house, and put them in custody, and provided them with sustenance, but didn't go in to them. So they were shut up to the day of their death, living in widowhood.⁴ Then said the king to Imashaa, Call me the men of Yahawadah together within three days, and be you here present.⁵ So Imashaa went to call [the men of] Yahawadah together; but he stayed longer than the set time which he had appointed him.⁶ Dawad said to Abayashay, Now will Shabaa the son of Bakaray do us more harm than did Abashalawam: take your lord's servants, and pursue after him, lest he get him fortified cities, and escape out of our sight.⁷ There went out after him Yawaab's men, and the Cherethites and the Pelethites, and all the mighty men; and they went out of Yarawashalam, to pursue after Shabaa the son of Bakaray.⁸ When they were at the great stone which is in Gabaiwan, Imashaa came to meet them. Yawaab was girded with his apparel of war that he had put on, and thereon was a sash with a sword fastened on his loins in the sheath of it; and as he went forth it fell out.⁹ Yawaab said to Imashaa, Is it well with you, my brother? Yawaab took Imashaa by the beard with his right hand to kiss him.¹⁰ But Imashaa took no heed to the sword that was in Yawaab's hand: so he struck him therewith in the body, and shed out his bowels to the ground, and didn't strike him again; and he died. Yawaab and Abayashay his brother pursued after Shabaa the son of Bakaray.¹¹ There stood by him one of Yawaab's young men, and said, He who favors Yawaab, and he who is for Dawad, let him follow Yawaab.¹² Imashaa lay wallowing in his blood in the midst of the highway. When the man saw that all the people stood still, he carried Imashaa out of the highway into the field, and cast a garment over him, when he saw that everyone who came by him stood still.¹³ When he was removed out of the highway, all the people went on after Yawaab, to pursue after Shabaa the son of Bakaray.¹⁴ He went through all the tribes of Yasharaal to Habal, and to Bayath-maacah, and all the Berites: and they were gathered together, and went also after him.¹⁵ They came and besieged him in Habal of Bayath-maacah, and they cast up a mound against the city, and it stood against the rampart; and all the people who were with Yawaab battered the wall, to throw it down.¹⁶ Then cried a wise woman out of the city, "Hear, hear! Please say to Yawaab, 'Come near here, that I may speak with you.'" ¹⁷ He came near to her; and the woman said, Are you Yawaab? He answered, I am. Then she said to him, Hear the words of your handmaid. He answered, I do hear.¹⁸ Then she spoke, saying, They were wont to speak in old time, saying, They shall surely ask [counsel] at Habal: and so they ended [the matter].¹⁹ I am of those who are peaceable and faithful in Yasharaal: you seek to destroy a city and a mother in Yasharaal: why will you swallow up the inheritance of Yahawah?²⁰ Yawaab answered, Far be it, far be it from me, that I should swallow up or destroy.²¹ The matter is not so: but a man of the hill-country of Aparayam, Shabaa the son of Bakaray by name, has lifted up his hand against the king, even against Dawad; deliver him only, and I will depart from the city. The woman said to Yawaab, Behold, his head shall be thrown to you over the wall.²² Then the woman went to all the people in her wisdom. They cut off the head of Shabaa the son of Bakaray, and threw it out to Yawaab. He blew the trumpet, and they were dispersed from the city, every man to his tent. Yawaab returned to Yarawashalam to the king.²³ Now Yawaab was over all the host of Yasharaal; and Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai was over the Cherethites and over the Pelethites;²⁴ and Adaram was over the men subject to forced labor; and Yahawashapat the son of Achayalawad was the recorder;²⁵ and Shawaa was scribe; and Tzadawaq and Abayathar were priests;²⁶ and also Iyaraa the Jairite was chief minister to Dawad.

21 There was a famine in the days of Dawad three years, year after year; and Dawad sought the face of Yahawah. Yahawah said, It is for Shaawal, and for his bloody house, because he put to death the Gibeonites.² The king called the Gibeonites, and said to them (now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Yasharaal, but of the remnant of the Amorites; and the children of Yasharaal had sworn to them: and Shaawal sought to kill them in his zeal for the children of Yasharaal and Yahawadah);³ and Dawad said to the Gibeonites, What shall I do for you? And with what shall I make atonement, that you may bless the inheritance of Yahawah?⁴ The Gibeonites said to him, It is no matter of silver or gold between us and Shaawal, or his house; neither is it for us to put any man to death in Yasharaal. He said, What you shall say, that will I do for you.⁵ They said to the king, The man who consumed us, and who devised against us, [that] we should be destroyed from remaining in any of the borders of Yasharaal,⁶ let seven men of his sons be delivered to us, and we will hang them up to Yahawah in Gabaih of Shaawal, the chosen of Yahawah. The king said, I will give them.⁷ But the king spared Mapayabashath, the son of Yahawanathan the son of Shaawal, because of Yahawah's oath that was between them, between Dawad and Yahawanathan the son of Shaawal.⁸ But the king took the two sons of Ratzapah the daughter of Ayah, whom she bore to Shaawal, Aramanay and Mapayabashath; and the five sons of Mayakal the daughter of Shaawal, whom she bore to Idarayaal the son of Barazalay the Meholathite:⁹ He delivered them into the hands of the Gibeonites, and they hanged them in the mountain before Yahawah, and they fell [all] seven together. They were put to death in the days of harvest, in the first days, at the beginning of barley harvest.¹⁰ Ratzapah the daughter of Ayah took sackcloth, and spread it for her on the rock, from the beginning of harvest until water was poured on them from the sky; and she allowed neither the birds of the sky to rest on them by day, nor the animals of the field by night.¹¹ It was told Dawad what Ratzapah the daughter of Ayah, the concubine of Shaawal, had done.¹² Dawad went and took the bones of Shaawal and the bones of Yahawanathan his son from the men of Jabesh-Galaid, who had stolen them from the street of Bayath, where the Palashath had hanged them, in the day that the Palashath killed Shaawal in Galabai;¹³ and he brought up from there the bones of Shaawal and the bones of Yahawanathan his son: and they gathered the bones of those who were hanged.¹⁴ They buried the bones of Shaawal and Yahawanathan his son in the country of Banayaman in Zela, in the tomb of Qayash his father: and they performed all that the king commanded. After that Alahayam was entreated for the land.¹⁵ The Palashath had war again with Yasharaal; and Dawad went down, and his servants with him, and fought against the Palashath. Dawad grew faint;¹⁶ and Ishbibenob, who was of the sons of the giant, the weight of whose spear was three hundred [shekels] of brass in weight, he being girded with a new [sword], thought to have slain Dawad.¹⁷ But Abayashay the son of Tzarawayah helped him, and struck the Philistine, and killed him. Then the men of Dawad swore to him, saying, You shall go no more out with us to battle, that you don't quench the lamp of Yasharaal.¹⁸ It came to pass after this, that there was again war with the Palashath at Gawab: then Sabakay the Hushathite killed Sap, who was of the sons of the giant.¹⁹ There was again war with the Palashath at Gawab; and Elhanan the son of Jaareoregim the Bethlehemite killed Galayath the Gittite's brother, the staff of whose spear was like a weaver's beam.²⁰ There was again war at Gath, where was a man of great stature, who had on every hand six fingers, and on every foot six toes, four and twenty in number; and he also was born to the giant.²¹ When he defied Yasharaal, Yahawanathan the son of Shamaïy, Dawad's brother, killed him.²² These four were born to the giant in Gath; and they fell by the hand of Dawad, and by the hand of his servants.

22 Dawad spoke to Yahawah the words of this song in the day that Yahawah delivered him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Shaawal:² and he said, Yahawah is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, even mine;³ Alahayam, my rock, in him will I take refuge; My shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower, and my refuge; My savior, you save me from violence.⁴ I will call on Yahawah, who is worthy to be praised: So shall I be saved from my enemies.⁵ For the waves of death compassed me; The floods of ungodliness made me afraid:⁶ The cords of Sheol were round about me; The snares of death came on me.⁷ In my distress I called on Yahawah; Yes, I called to my Alahayam: He heard my voice out of his temple, My cry [came] into his ears.⁸ Then the earth shook and trembled, The foundations of heaven quaked Were shaken, because he was angry.⁹ There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, Fire out of his mouth devoured: Coals were kindled by it.¹⁰ He bowed the heavens also, and came down; Thick darkness was under his feet.¹¹ He rode on a cherub, and did fly; Yes, he was seen on the wings of the wind.¹² He made darkness pavilions round about him, Gathering of waters, thick clouds of the skies.¹³ At the brightness before him Coals of fire were kindled.¹⁴ Yahawah thundered from heaven, The Ilayawan uttered his voice.¹⁵ He sent out arrows, and scattered them; Lightning, and confused them.¹⁶ Then the channels of the sea appeared, The foundations of the world were laid bare, By the rebuke of Yahawah, At the blast of the breath of his nostrils.¹⁷ He sent from on high, he took me; He drew me out of many waters;¹⁸ He delivered me from my strong enemy, From those who hated me; for they were too mighty for me.¹⁹ They came on me in the day of my calamity; But Yahawah was my stay.²⁰ He brought me forth also into a large place; He delivered me, because he delighted in me.²¹ Yahawah rewarded me according to my righteousness; According to the cleanness of my hands has he recompensed me.²² For I have kept the ways of Yahawah, And have not wickedly departed from my Alahayam.²³ For all his ordinances were before me; As for his statutes, I did not depart from them.²⁴ I was also perfect toward him; I kept myself from my iniquity.²⁵ Therefore has Yahawah recompensed me according to my righteousness, According to my cleanness in his eyesight.²⁶ With the merciful you will show yourself merciful; With the perfect man you will show yourself perfect;²⁷ With the pure you will show yourself pure; With the crooked you will show yourself shrewd.²⁸ The afflicted people you will save; But your eyes are on the haughty, that you may bring them down.²⁹ For you are my lamp, Yahawah; Yahawah will lighten my darkness.³⁰ For by you I run on a troop; By my Alahayam do I leap over a wall.³¹ As for Alahayam, his way is perfect: The word of Yahawah is tried; He is a shield to all those who take refuge in him.³² For who is Alahayam, save Yahawah? Who is a rock, save our Alahayam?³³ Alahayam is my strong fortress; He guides the perfect in his way.³⁴ He makes his feet like hinds' [feet], Sets me on my high places.³⁵ He teaches my hands to war, So that my arms do bend a bow of brass.³⁶ You have also given me the shield of your salvation; Your gentleness has made me great.³⁷ You have enlarged my steps under me; My feet have not slipped.³⁸ I have pursued my enemies, and destroyed them; Neither did I turn again until they were consumed.³⁹ I have consumed them, and struck them through, so that they can't arise: Yes, they are fallen under my feet.⁴⁰ For you have girded me with strength to the battle; You have subdued under me those who rose up against me.⁴¹ You have also made my enemies turn their backs to me, That I might cut off those who hate me.⁴² They looked, but there was none to save; Even to Yahawah, but he didn't answer them.⁴³ Then did I beat them small as the dust of the earth, I did crush them as the mire of the streets, and did spread them abroad.⁴⁴ You also have delivered me from the strivings of my people; You have kept me to be the head of the nations: A people whom I have not known shall serve me.⁴⁵ The foreigners shall submit themselves to me: As soon as they hear of me, they shall obey me.⁴⁶ The foreigners shall fade away, Shall come trembling out of their close places.⁴⁷ Yahawah lives; Blessed be my rock; Exalted be Alahayam, the rock of my salvation,⁴⁸ Even the Alahayam who executes vengeance for me, Who brings down peoples under me,⁴⁹ Who brings me forth from my enemies: Yes, you lift me up above those who rise up against me; You deliver me from the violent man.⁵⁰ Therefore I will give thanks to you, Yahawah, among the nations, Will sing praises to your name.⁵¹ Great deliverance gives he to his king, Shows lovingkindness to his anointed, To Dawad and to his seed, forevermore.

23 Now these are the last words of Dawad. Dawad the son of Yashay says, The man who was raised on high says, The anointed of the Alahayam of Yaiqab, The sweet psalmist of Yasharaal:² The Spirit of Yahawah spoke by me, His word was on my tongue.³ The Alahayam of Yasharaal said, The Rock of Yasharaal spoke to me: One who rules over men righteously, Who rules in the fear of Alahayam,⁴ [He shall be] as the light of the morning, when the sun rises, A morning without clouds, [When] the tender grass [springs] out of the earth, Through clear shining after rain.⁵ Most assuredly my house is not so with Alahayam; Yet he has made with me an everlasting covenant, Ordered in all things, and sure: For it is all my salvation, and all [my] desire, Although he doesn't make it grow.⁶ But the ungodly shall be all of them as thorns to be thrust away, Because they can't be taken with the hand.⁷ But the man who touches them Must be armed with iron and the staff of a spear: They shall be utterly burned with fire in [their] place.⁸ These are the names of the mighty men whom Dawad had: Josheb-basshebeth a Tahchemonite, chief of the captains; the same was Idayan the Eznite, against eight hundred slain at one time.⁹ After him was Alaizar the son of Dawaday the son of an Ahohite, one of the three mighty men with Dawad, when they defied the Palashath who were there gathered together to battle, and the men of Yasharaal were gone away.¹⁰ He arose, and struck the Palashath until his hand was weary, and his hand froze to the sword; and Yahawah worked a great victory that day; and the people returned after him only to take spoil.¹¹ After him was Shamah the son of Agaa a Hararite. The Palashath were gathered together into a troop, where was a plot of ground full of lentils; and the people fled from the Palashath.¹² But he stood in the midst of the plot, and defended it, and killed the Palashath; and Yahawah worked a great victory.¹³ Three of the thirty chief men went down, and came to Dawad in the harvest time to the cave of Idalam; and the troop of the Palashath was encamped in the valley of Rephaim.¹⁴ Dawad was then in the stronghold; and the garrison of the Palashath was then in Bayath-lehem.¹⁵ Dawad longed, and said, Oh that one would give me water to drink of the well of Bayath-lehem, which is by the gate!¹⁶ The three mighty men broke through the host of the Palashath, and drew water out of the well of Bayath-lehem, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to Dawad: but he would not drink of it, but poured it out to Yahawah.¹⁷ He said, Be it far from me, Yahawah, that I should do this: [shall I drink] the blood of the men who went in jeopardy of their lives? therefore he would not drink it. These things did the three mighty men.¹⁸ Abayashay, the brother of Yawaab, the son of Tzarawayah, was chief of the three. He lifted up his spear against three hundred and killed them, and had a name among the three.¹⁹ Wasn't he most honorable of the three? therefore he was made their captain: however he didn't attain to the [first] three.²⁰ Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai, the son of a valiant man of Qabatzal, who had done mighty deeds, he killed the two [sons of] Arayaal of Mawaab: he went down also and killed a lion in the midst of a pit in time of snow.²¹ He killed an Matzarayam, a goodly man: and the Matzarayam had a spear in his hand; but he went down to him with a staff, and plucked the spear out of the Matzarayam's hand, and killed him with his own spear.²² These things did Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai, and had a name among the three mighty men.²³ He was more honorable than the thirty, but he didn't attain to the [first] three. Dawad set him over his guard.²⁴ Ishahaal the brother of Yawaab was one of the thirty; Elhanan the son of Dawadaw of Bayath-lehem,²⁵ Shamah the Harodite, Alayaqaa the Harodite,²⁶ Chalatz the Paltite, Iyaraa the son of Iqash the Tekoite,²⁷ Abayaizar the Anathothite, Mabanay the Hushathite,²⁸ Tzalamawan the Ahohite, Maharay the Netophathite,²⁹ Chalab the son of Bainah the Netophathite, Athay the son of Rayabay of Gabaih of the children of Banayaman,³⁰ Banayahaw a Pirathonite, Haday of the brooks of Gaish.³¹ Abay the Arbathite, Izamawath the Barhumite,³² Eliahba the Shaalbonite, the sons of Yashan, Yahawanathan,³³ Shamah the Hararite, Achayaam the son of Sharar the Ararite,³⁴ Alayapalat the son of Achasabay, the son of the Maacathite, Alayaim the son of Achayathapal the Gilonite,³⁵ Chatzaraw the Carmelite, Pairay the Arbite,³⁶ Yagaal the son of Nathan of Tzawabah, Banay the Gadite,³⁷ Tzalaq the Ammonite, Nacharay the Beerothite, armor bearers to Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah,³⁸ Iyaraa the Ithrite, Garab the Ithrite,³⁹ Awarayah the Hittite: thirty-seven in all.

24 Again the anger of Yahawah was kindled against Yasharaal, and he moved Dawad against them, saying, Go, number Yasharaal and Yahawadah.² The king said to Yawaab the captain of the host, who was with him, Go now back and forth through all the tribes of Yasharaal, from Wadan even to Beersheba, and number you the people, that I may know the sum of the people.³ Yawaab said to the king, Now Yahawah your Alahayam add to the people, however many they may be, one hundred times; and may the eyes of my lord the king see it: but why does my lord the king delight in this thing?⁴ Notwithstanding, the king's word prevailed against Yawaab, and against the captains of the host. Yawaab and the captains of the host went out from the presence of the king, to number the people of Yasharaal.⁵ They passed over the Yaradan, and encamped in Irait, on the right side of the city that is in the middle of the valley of Gad, and to Yaizar:⁶ then they came to Galaid, and to the land of Chadashay; and they came to Dan, and round about to Tzayadawan,⁷ and came to the stronghold of Tzar, and to all the cities of the Hivites, and of the Canaanites; and they went out to the south of Yahawadah, at Beersheba.⁸ So when they had gone back and forth through all the land, they came to Yarawashalam at the end of nine months and twenty days.⁹ Yawaab gave up the sum of the numbering of the people to the king; and there were in Yasharaal eight hundred thousand valiant men who drew the sword; and the men of Yahawadah were five hundred thousand men.¹⁰ Dawad's heart struck him after that he had numbered the people. Dawad said to Yahawah, I have sinned greatly in that which I have done: but now, Yahawah, put away, I beg you, the iniquity of your servant; for I have done very foolishly.¹¹ When Dawad rose up in the morning, the word of Yahawah came to the prophet Gad, Dawad's seer, saying,¹² Go and speak to Dawad, Thus says Yahawah, I offer you three things: choose you one of them, that I may do it to you.

¹³ So Gad came to Dawad, and told him, and said to him, Shall seven years of famine come to you in your land? or will you flee three months before your foes while they pursue you? or shall there be three days` pestilence in your land? now advise you, and consider what answer I shall return to him who sent me. ¹⁴ Dawad said to Gad, I am in a great strait: let us fall now into the hand of Yahawah; for his mercies are great; and let me not fall into the hand of man. ¹⁵ So Yahawah sent a pestilence on Yasharaal from the morning even to the time appointed; and there died of the people from Wadan even to Beersheba seventy thousand men. ¹⁶ When the angel stretched out his hand toward Yarawashalam to destroy it, Yahawah repented him of the evil, and said to the angel who destroyed the people, It is enough; now stay your hand. The angel of Yahawah was by the threshing floor of Arawanah the Jebusite. ¹⁷ Dawad spoke to Yahawah when he saw the angel who struck the people, and said, Behold, I have sinned, and I have done perversely; but these sheep, what have they done? Please let your hand be against me, and against my father`s house. ¹⁸ Gad came that day to Dawad, and said to him, Go up, rear an altar to Yahawah in the threshing floor of Arawanah the Jebusite. ¹⁹ Dawad went up according to the saying of Gad, as Yahawah commanded. ²⁰ Arawanah looked forth, and saw the king and his servants coming on toward him: and Arawanah went out, and bowed himself before the king with his face to the ground. ²¹ Arawanah said, Why is my lord the king come to his servant? Dawad said, To buy the threshing floor of you, to build an altar to Yahawah, that the plague may be stayed from the people. ²² Arawanah said to Dawad, Let my lord the king take and offer up what seems good to him: behold, the oxen for the burnt offering, and the threshing instruments and the yokes of the oxen for the wood: ²³ all this, king, does Arawanah give to the king. Arawanah said to the king, Yahawah your Alahayam accept you. ²⁴ The king said to Arawanah, No; but I will most assuredly buy it of you at a price. Neither will I offer burnt-offerings to Yahawah my Alahayam which cost me nothing. So Dawad bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver. ²⁵ Dawad built there an altar to Yahawah, and offered burnt offerings and peace-offerings. So Yahawah was entreated for the land, and the plague was stayed from Yasharaal.

1 Now king Dawad was old and stricken in years; and they covered him with clothes, but he got no heat. ² Therefore his servants said to him, Let there be sought for my lord the king a young virgin: and let her stand before the king, and cherish him; and let her lie in your bosom, that my lord the king may keep warm. ³ So they sought for a beautiful young lady throughout all the borders of Yasharaal, and found Abayashag the Shunammite, and brought her to the king. ⁴ The young lady was very beautiful; and she cherished the king, and ministered to him; but the king didn't know her intimately. ⁵ Then Adanayahaw the son of Chagayath exalted himself, saying, I will be king: and he prepared him chariots and horsemen, and fifty men to run before him. ⁶ His father had not displeased him at any time in saying, Why have you done so? and he was also a very goodly man; and he was born after Abashalawam. ⁷ He conferred with Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah, and with Abayathar the priest: and they following Adanayahaw helped him. ⁸ But Tzadawaq the priest, and Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai, and Nathan the prophet, and Shamai, and Raiy, and the mighty men who belonged to Dawad, were not with Adanayahaw. ⁹ Adanayahaw killed sheep and oxen and fatlings by the stone of Hazachalath, which is beside Iyan; and he called all his brothers, the king's sons, and all the men of Yahawadah, the king's servants: ¹⁰ but Nathan the prophet, and Banayahaw, and the mighty men, and Shalamah his brother, he didn't call. ¹¹ Then Nathan spoke to Bath the mother of Shalamah, saying, Haven't you heard that Adanayahaw the son of Chagayath reigns, and Dawad our lord doesn't know it? ¹² Now therefore come, please let me give you counsel, that you may save your own life, and the life of your son Shalamah. ¹³ Go and get you in to king Dawad, and tell him, Didn't you, my lord, king, swear to your handmaid, saying, Assuredly Shalamah your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne? why then does Adanayahaw reign? ¹⁴ Behold, while you yet talk there with the king, I also will come in after you, and confirm your words. ¹⁵ Bath went in to the king into the chamber: and the king was very old; and Abayashag the Shunammite was ministering to the king. ¹⁶ Bath bowed, and did obeisance to the king. The king said, What would you? ¹⁷ She said to him, My lord, you swore by Yahawah your Alahayam to your handmaid, [saying], Assuredly Shalamah your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne. ¹⁸ Now, behold, Adanayahaw reigns; and you, my lord the king, don't know it: ¹⁹ and he has slain oxen and fatlings and sheep in abundance, and has called all the sons of the king, and Abayathar the priest, and Yawaab the captain of the host; but he hasn't called Shalamah your servant. ²⁰ You, my lord the king, the eyes of all Yasharaal are on you, that you should tell them who shall sit on the throne of my lord the king after him. ²¹ Otherwise it will happen, when my lord the king shall sleep with his fathers, that I and my son Shalamah shall be counted offenders. ²² Behold, while she yet talked with the king, Nathan the prophet came in. ²³ They told the king, saying, Behold, Nathan the prophet. When he was come in before the king, he bowed himself before the king with his face to the ground. ²⁴ Nathan said, My lord, king, have you said, Adanayahaw shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne? ²⁵ For he is gone down this day, and has slain oxen and fatlings and sheep in abundance, and has called all the king's sons, and the captains of the host, and Abayathar the priest; and, behold, they are eating and drinking before him, and say, [Long] live king Adanayahaw. ²⁶ But he hasn't called me, even me your servant, and Tzadawaq the priest, and Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai, and your servant Shalamah. ²⁷ Is this thing done by my lord the king, and you haven't showed to your servants who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him? ²⁸ Then king Dawad answered, Call to me Bath. She came into the king's presence, and stood before the king. ²⁹ The king swore, and said, As Yahawah lives, who has redeemed my soul out of all adversity, ³⁰ most assuredly as I swore to you by Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, saying, Assuredly Shalamah your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne in my place; most assuredly so will I do this day. ³¹ Then Bath bowed with her face to the earth, and did obeisance to the king, and said, Let my lord king Dawad live forever. ³² King Dawad said, Call to me Tzadawaq the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai. They came before the king. ³³ The king said to them, Take with you the servants of your lord, and cause Shalamah my son to ride on my own mule, and bring him down to Gachawan: ³⁴ and let Tzadawaq the priest and Nathan the prophet anoint him there king over Yasharaal; and blow you the trumpet, and say, [Long] live king Shalamah. ³⁵ Then you shall come up after him, and he shall come and sit on my throne; for he shall be king in my place; and I have appointed him to be prince over Yasharaal and over Yahawadah. ³⁶ Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai answered the king, and said, Amen: Yahawah, the Alahayam of my lord the king, say so [too]. ³⁷ As Yahawah has been with my lord the king, even so be he with Shalamah, and make his throne greater than the throne of my lord king Dawad. ³⁸ So Tzadawaq the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai, and the Cherethites and the Pelethites, went down, and caused Shalamah to ride on king Dawad's mule, and brought him to Gachawan. ³⁹ Tzadawaq the priest took the horn of oil out of the Tent, and anointed Shalamah. They blew the trumpet; and all the people said, [Long] live king Shalamah. ⁴⁰ All the people came up after him, and the people piped with pipes, and rejoiced with great joy, so that the earth shook with the sound of them. ⁴¹ Adanayahaw and all the guests who were with him heard it as they had made an end of eating. When Yawaab heard the sound of the trumpet, he said, Why is this noise of the city being in an uproar? ⁴² While he yet spoke, behold, Yahawanathan the son of Abayathar the priest came: and Adanayahaw said, Come in; for you are a worthy man, and bring good news. ⁴³ Yahawanathan answered Adanayahaw, Most assuredly our lord king Dawad has made Shalamah king: ⁴⁴ and the king has sent with him Tzadawaq the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai, and the Cherethites and the Pelethites; and they have caused him to ride on the king's mule; ⁴⁵ and Tzadawaq the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king in Gachawan; and they are come up from there rejoicing, so that the city rang again. This is the noise that you have heard. ⁴⁶ Also Shalamah sits on the throne of the kingdom. ⁴⁷ Moreover the king's servants came to bless our lord king Dawad, saying, Your Alahayam make the name of Shalamah better than your name, and make his throne greater than your throne: and the king bowed himself on the bed. ⁴⁸ Also thus said the king, Blessed be Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, who has given one to sit on my throne this day, my eyes even seeing it. ⁴⁹ All the guests of Adanayahaw were afraid, and rose up, and went every man his way. ⁵⁰ Adanayahaw feared because of Shalamah; and he arose, and went, and caught hold on the horns of the altar. ⁵¹ It was told Shalamah, saying, Behold, Adanayahaw fears king Shalamah; for, behold, he has laid hold on the horns of the altar, saying, Let king Shalamah swear to me first that he will not kill his servant with the sword. ⁵² Shalamah said, If he shall show himself a worthy man, there shall not a hair of him fall to the earth; but if wickedness be found in him, he shall die. ⁵³ So king Shalamah sent, and they brought him down from the altar. He came and did obeisance to king Shalamah; and Shalamah said to him, Go to your house.

2 Now the days of Dawad drew near that he should die; and he charged Shalamah his son, saying, ² I am going the way of all the earth: be you strong therefore, and show yourself a man; ³ and keep the charge of Yahawah your Alahayam, to walk in his ways, to keep his statutes, [and] his commandments, and his ordinances, and his testimonies, according to that which is written in the law of Mashah, that you may prosper in all that you do, and wherever you turn yourself. ⁴ That Yahawah may establish his word which he spoke concerning me, saying, If your children take heed to their way, to walk before me in truth with all their heart and with all their soul, there shall not fail you (said he) a man on the throne of Yasharaal. ⁵ Moreover you know also what Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah did to me, even what he did to the two captains of the hosts of Yasharaal, to Abanar the son of Nar, and to Imashaa the son of Yathar, whom he killed, and shed the blood of war in peace, and put the blood of war on his sash that was about his loins, and in his shoes that were on his feet. ⁶ Do therefore according to your wisdom, and don't let his gray head go down to Sheol in peace. ⁷ But show kindness to the sons of Barazalay the Galaïd, and let them be of those who eat at your table; for so they came to me when I fled from Abashalawam your brother. ⁸ Behold, there is with you Shamaïy the son of Garaa, the Benjamite, of Bachawarayam, who cursed me with a grievous curse in the day when I went to Machanayam; but he came down to meet me at the Yaradan, and I swore to him by Yahawah, saying, I will not put you to death with the sword. ⁹ Now therefore don't hold him guiltless, for you are a wise man; and you will know what you ought to do to him, and you shall bring his gray head down to Sheol with blood. ¹⁰ Dawad slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of Dawad. ¹¹ The days that Dawad reigned over Yasharaal were forty years; seven years reigned he in Chabarawan, and thirty-three years reigned he in Yarawashalam. ¹² Shalamah sat on the throne of Dawad his father; and his kingdom was established greatly. ¹³ Then Adanayahaw the son of Chagayath came to Bath the mother of Shalamah. She said, Come you peaceably? He said, Peaceably. ¹⁴ He said moreover, I have somewhat to tell you. She said, Say on. ¹⁵ He said, You know that the kingdom was mine, and that all Yasharaal set their faces on me, that I should reign: however the kingdom is turned about, and is become my brother's; for it was his from Yahawah. ¹⁶ Now I ask one petition of you; don't deny me. She said to him, Say on. ¹⁷ He said, Please speak to Shalamah the king (for he will not tell you 'no'), that he give me Abayashag the Shunammite as wife. ¹⁸ Bath said, Well; I will speak for you to the king. ¹⁹ Bath therefore went to king Shalamah, to speak to him for Adanayahaw. The king rose up to meet her, and bowed himself to her, and sat down on his throne, and caused a throne to be set for the king's mother; and she sat on his right hand. ²⁰ Then she said, I ask one small petition of you; don't deny me. The king said to her, Ask on, my mother; for I will not deny you. ²¹ She said, Let Abayashag the Shunammite be given to Adanayahaw your brother as wife. ²² King Shalamah answered his mother, Why do you ask Abayashag the Shunammite for Adanayahaw? ask for him the kingdom also; for he is my elder brother; even for him, and for Abayathar the priest, and for Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah. ²³ Then king Shalamah swore by Yahawah, saying, Alahayam do so to me, and more also, if Adanayahaw has not spoken this word against his own life. ²⁴ Now therefore as Yahawah lives, who has established me, and set me on the throne of Dawad my father, and who has made me a house, as he promised, surely Adanayahaw shall be put to death this day. ²⁵ King Shalamah sent by Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai; and he fell on him, so that he died. ²⁶ To Abayathar the priest said the king, Get you to Inathawath, to your own fields; for you are worthy of death: but I will not at this time put you to death, because you bear the ark of the Adanay Yahawah before Dawad my father, and because you were afflicted in all in which my father was afflicted. ²⁷ So Shalamah thrust out Abayathar from being priest to Yahawah, that he might fulfill the word of Yahawah, which he spoke concerning the house of Ilay in Shalah. ²⁸ The news came to Yawaab; for Yawaab had turned after Adanayahaw, though he didn't turn after Abashalawam. Yawaab fled to the Tent of Yahawah, and caught hold on the horns of the altar. ²⁹ It was told king Shalamah, Yawaab is fled to the Tent of Yahawah, and, behold, he is by the altar. Then Shalamah sent Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai, saying, Go, fall on him. ³⁰ Banayahaw came to the Tent of Yahawah, and said to him, Thus says the king, Come forth. He said, No; but I will die here. Banayahaw brought the king word again, saying, Thus said Yawaab, and thus he answered me. ³¹ The king said to him, Do as he has said, and fall on him, and bury him; that you may take away the blood, which Yawaab shed without cause, from me and from my father's house. ³² Yahawah will return his blood on his own head, because he fell on two men more righteous and better than he, and killed them with the sword, and my father Dawad didn't know it, [to wit], Abanar the son of Nar, captain of the host of Yasharaal, and Imashaa the son of Yathar, captain of the host of Yahawadah. ³³ So shall their blood return on the head of Yawaab, and on the head of his seed forever: but to Dawad, and to his seed, and to his house, and to his throne, shall there be peace for ever from Yahawah. ³⁴ Then Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai went up, and fell on him, and killed him; and he was buried in his own house in the wilderness. ³⁵ The king put Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai in his room over the host; and Tzadawaq the priest did the king put in the room of Abayathar. ³⁶ The king sent and called for Shamaïy, and said to him, Build yourself a house in Yarawashalam, and dwell there, and don't go forth from there any where. ³⁷ For on the day you go out, and pass over the brook Qadarawan, know you for certain that you shall surely die: your blood shall be on your own head. ³⁸ Shamaïy said to the king, The saying is good: as my lord the king has said, so will your servant do. Shamaïy lived in Yarawashalam many days. ³⁹ It happened at the end of three years, that two of the servants of Shamaïy ran away to Akayash, son of Maacah, king of Gath. They told Shamaïy, saying, Behold, your servants are in Gath. ⁴⁰ Shamaïy arose, and saddled his donkey, and went to Gath to Akayash, to seek his servants; and Shamaïy went, and brought his servants from Gath. ⁴¹ It was told Shalamah that Shamaïy had gone from Yarawashalam to Gath, and was come again. ⁴² The king sent and called for Shamaïy, and said to him, Didn't I adjure you by Yahawah, and protest to you, saying, Know for certain, that on the day you go out, and walk abroad any where, you shall surely die? and you said to me, The saying that I have heard is good. ⁴³ Why then have you not kept the oath of Yahawah, and the commandment that I have charged you with? ⁴⁴ The king said moreover to Shamaïy, You know all the wickedness which your heart is privy to, that you did to Dawad my father: therefore Yahawah shall return your wickedness on your own head. ⁴⁵ But king Shalamah shall be blessed, and the throne of Dawad shall be established before Yahawah forever. ⁴⁶ So the king commanded Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai; and he went out, and fell on him, so that he died. The kingdom was established in the hand of Shalamah.

3 Shalamah made affinity with Paraih king of Matzarayam, and took Paraih's daughter, and brought her into the city of Dawad, until he had made an end of building his own house, and the house of Yahawah, and the wall of Yarawashalam round about. ² Only the people sacrificed in the high places, because there was no house built for the name of Yahawah until those days. ³ Shalamah loved Yahawah, walking in the statutes of Dawad his father: only he sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places. ⁴ The king went to Gabaiwan to sacrifice there; for that was the great high place: a thousand burnt offerings did Shalamah offer on that altar. ⁵ In Gabaiwan Yahawah appeared to Shalamah in a dream by night; and Alahayam said, Ask what I shall give you. ⁶ Shalamah said, You have showed to your servant Dawad my father great lovingkindness, according as he walked before you in truth, and in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with you; and you have kept for him this great lovingkindness, that you have given him a son to sit on his throne, as it is this day. ⁷ Now, Yahawah my Alahayam, you have made your servant king instead of Dawad my father: and I am but a little child; I don't know how to go out or come in.⁸ Your servant is in the midst of your people which you have chosen, a great people, that can't be numbered nor counted for multitude.⁹ Give your servant therefore an understanding heart to judge your people, that I may discern between good and evil; for who is able to judge this your great people?¹⁰ The speech pleased the Adanay, that Shalamah had asked this thing.¹¹ Alahayam said to him, Because you have asked this thing, and have not asked for yourself long life, neither have asked riches for yourself, nor have asked the life of your enemies, but have asked for yourself understanding to discern justice;¹² behold, I have done according to your word: behold, I have given you a wise and an understanding heart; so that there has been none like you before you, neither after you shall any arise like you.¹³ I have also given you that which you have not asked, both riches and honor, so that there shall not be any among the kings like you, all your days.¹⁴ If you will walk in my ways, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as your father Dawad did walk, then I will lengthen your days.¹⁵ Shalamah awoke; and, behold, it was a dream: and he came to Yarawashalam, and stood before the ark of the covenant of Yahawah, and offered up burnt offerings, and offered peace-offerings, and made a feast to all his servants.¹⁶ Then there came two women who were prostitutes, to the king, and stood before him.¹⁷ The one woman said, Oh, my lord, I and this woman dwell in one house; and I was delivered of a child with her in the house.¹⁸ It happened the third day after I was delivered, that this woman was delivered also; and we were together; there was no stranger with us in the house, save we two in the house.¹⁹ This woman's child died in the night, because she lay on it.²⁰ She arose at midnight, and took my son from beside me, while your handmaid slept, and laid it in her bosom, and laid her dead child in my bosom.²¹ When I rose in the morning to give my child suck, behold, it was dead; but when I had looked at it in the morning, behold, it was not my son, whom I bore.²² The other woman said, No; but the living is my son, and the dead is your son. This said, No; but the dead is your son, and the living is my son. Thus they spoke before the king.²³ Then said the king, The one says, This is my son who lives, and your son is the dead: and the other says, No; but your son is the dead, and my son is the living.²⁴ The king said, Get me a sword. They brought a sword before the king.²⁵ The king said, Divide the living child in two, and give half to the one, and half to the other.²⁶ Then spoke the woman whose the living child was to the king, for her heart yearned over her son, and she said, Oh, my lord, give her the living child, and in no way kill it. But the other said, It shall be neither mine nor yours; divide it.²⁷ Then the king answered, Give her the living child, and in no way kill it: she is the mother of it.²⁸ All Yasharaal heard of the judgment which the king had judged; and they feared the king: for they saw that the wisdom of Alahayam was in him, to do justice.

4 King Shalamah was king over all Yasharaal.² These were the princes whom he had: Izarayah the son of Tzadawaq, the priest;³ Alayacharap and Achayah, the sons of Shayashaa, scribes; Yahawashapat the son of Achayalawad, the recorder;⁴ and Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai was over the host; and Tzadawaq and Abayathar were priests;⁵ and Izarayah the son of Nathan was over the officers; and Zabawad the son of Nathan was chief minister, [and] the king's friend;⁶ and Achayashachar was over the household; and Adanayaram the son of Ibadaa was over the men subject to forced labor.⁷ Shalamah had twelve officers over all Yasharaal, who provided victuals for the king and his household: each man had to make provision for a month in the year.⁸ These are their names: Ban-Chawar, in the hill-country of Aparayam;⁹ Ban-deker, in Maqatz, and in Shailabayam, and Bayath, and Ayalawan-Bayath-hanan;¹⁰ Ban-hesed, in Arabawath (to him [pertained] Shawakah, and all the land of Chapar);¹¹ Ban-Abayanadab, in all the height of Dawar (he had Tapath the daughter of Shalamah as wife);¹² Bainaah the son of Achayalawad, in Thainak and Magadaw, and all Bayath which is beside Zarethan, beneath Yazaraial, from Bayath to Abal, as far as beyond Yaqamaim;¹³ Ban-Gabar, in Ramath (to him [pertained] the towns of Yaayar the son of Manashah, which are in Galaid; [even] to him [pertained] the region of Aragab, which is in Bashan, sixty great cities with walls and brazen bars);¹⁴ Achayanadab the son of Idaw, in Machanayam;¹⁵ Achayamaitz, in Napathalay (he also took Basemath the daughter of Shalamah as wife);¹⁶ Bainaah the son of Chawashay, in Ashar and Bailawath;¹⁷ Yahawashapat the son of Parawach, in Yashashakar;¹⁸ Shamaiy the son of Alaa, in Banayaman;¹⁹ Gabar the son of Awaray, in the land of Galaid, the country of Sayachawan king of the Amorites and of Og king of Bashan; and [he was] the only officer who was in the land.²⁰ Yahawadah and Yasharaal were many as the sand which is by the sea in multitude, eating and drinking and making merry.

5 Chayaram king of Tzar sent his servants to Shalamah; for he had heard that they had anointed him king in the room of his father: for Chayaram was ever a lover of Dawad.¹⁶ Shalamah sent to Chayaram, saying,¹⁷ You know how that Dawad my father could not build a house for the name of Yahawah his Alahayam for the wars which were about him on every side, until Yahawah put them under the soles of his feet.¹⁸ But now Yahawah my Alahayam has given me rest on every side; there is neither adversary, nor evil occurrence.¹⁹ Behold, I purpose to build a house for the name of Yahawah my Alahayam, as Yahawah spoke to Dawad my father, saying, Your son, whom I will set on your throne in your room, he shall build the house for my name.²⁰ Now therefore command you that they cut me cedar-trees out of Labanawan; and my servants shall be with your servants; and I will give you hire for your servants according to all that you shall say: for you know that there is not among us any who knows how to cut timber like the Sidonians.²¹ It happened, when Chayaram heard the words of Shalamah, that he rejoiced greatly, and said, Blessed be Yahawah this day, who has given to Dawad a wise son over this great people.²² Chayaram sent to Shalamah, saying, I have heard [the message] which you have sent to me: I will do all your desire concerning timber of cedar, and concerning timber of fir.²³ My servants shall bring them down from Labanawan to the sea; and I will make them into rafts to go by sea to the place that you shall appoint me, and will cause them to be broken up there, and you shall receive them; and you shall accomplish my desire, in giving food for my household.²⁴ So Chayaram gave Shalamah timber of cedar and timber of fir according to all his desire.²⁵ Shalamah gave Chayaram twenty thousand measures of wheat for food to his household, and twenty measures of pure oil: thus gave Shalamah to Chayaram year by year.²⁶ Yahawah gave Shalamah wisdom, as he promised him; and there was peace between Chayaram and Shalamah; and they two made a league together.²⁷ King Shalamah raised a levy out of all Yasharaal; and the levy was thirty thousand men.²⁸ He sent them to Labanawan, ten thousand a month by courses; a month they were in Labanawan, and two months at home; and Adanayaram was over the men subject to forced labor.²⁹ Shalamah had seventy thousand who bore burdens, and eighty thousand who were stone cutters in the mountains;³⁰ besides Shalamah's chief officers who were over the work, three thousand and three hundred, who bore rule over the people who labored in the work.³¹ The king commanded, and they hewed out great stones, costly stones, to lay the foundation of the house with worked stone.³² Shalamah's builders and Chayaram's builders and the Gebalites did fashion them, and prepared the timber and the stones to build the house.

6 It happened in the four hundred and eightieth year after the children of Yasharaal were come out of the land of Matzarayam, in the fourth year of Shalamah's reign over Yasharaal, in the month Zaw, which is the second month, that he began to build the house of Yahawah.² The house which king Shalamah built for Yahawah, the length of it was sixty cubits, and the breadth of it twenty [cubits], and the height of it thirty cubits.³ The porch before the temple of the house, twenty cubits was the length of it, according to the breadth of the house; [and] ten cubits was the breadth of it before the house.⁴ For the house he made windows of fixed lattice-work.⁵ Against the wall of the house he built stories round about, against the walls of the house round about, both of the temple and of the oracle; and he made side-chambers round about.⁶ The nethermost story was five cubits broad, and the middle was six cubits broad, and the third was seven cubits broad; for on the outside he made offsets [in the wall] of the house round about, that [the beams] should not have hold in the walls of the house.⁷ The house, when it was in building, was built of stone made ready at the quarry; and there was neither hammer nor ax nor any tool of iron heard in the house, while it was in building.⁸ The door for the middle side-chambers was in the right side of the house: and they went up by winding stairs into the middle [story], and out of the middle into the third.⁹ So he built the house, and finished it; and he covered the house with beams and planks of cedar.¹⁰ He built the stories against all the house, each five cubits high: and they rested on the house with timber of cedar.¹¹ The word of Yahawah came to Shalamah, saying,¹² Concerning this house which you are building, if you will walk in my statutes, and execute my ordinances, and keep all my commandments to walk in them; then will I establish my word with you, which I spoke to Dawad your father.¹³ I will dwell among the children of Yasharaal, and will not forsake my people Yasharaal.¹⁴ So Shalamah built the house, and finished it.¹⁵ He built the walls of the house within with boards of cedar: from the floor of the house to the walls of the ceiling, he covered them on the inside with wood; and he covered the floor of the house with boards of fir.¹⁶ He built twenty cubits on the hinder part of the house with boards of cedar from the floor to the walls [of the ceiling]: he built [them] for it within, for an oracle, even for the most holy place.¹⁷ The house, that is, the temple before [the oracle], was forty cubits [long].¹⁸ There was cedar on the house within, carved with buds and open flowers: all was cedar; there was no stone seen.¹⁹ He prepared an oracle in the midst of the house within, to set there the ark of the covenant of Yahawah.²⁰ Within the oracle was [a space of] twenty cubits in length, and twenty cubits in breadth, and twenty cubits in the height of it; and he overlaid it with pure gold: and he covered the altar with cedar.²¹ So Shalamah overlaid the house within with pure gold: and he drew chains of gold across before the oracle; and he overlaid it with gold.²² The whole house he overlaid with gold, until all the house was finished: also the whole altar that belonged to the oracle he overlaid with gold.²³ In the oracle he made two cherubim of olive-wood, each ten cubits high.²⁴ Five cubits was the one wing of the cherub, and five cubits the other wing of the cherub: from the uttermost part of the one wing to the uttermost part of the other were ten cubits.²⁵ The other cherub was ten cubits: both the cherubim were of one measure and one form.²⁶ The height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and so was it of the other cherub.²⁷ He set the cherubim within the inner house; and the wings of the cherubim were stretched forth, so that the wing of the one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall; and their wings touched one another in the midst of the house.²⁸ He overlaid the cherubim with gold.²⁹ He carved all the walls of the house round about with carved figures of cherubim and palm-trees and open flowers, inside and outside.³⁰ The floor of the house he overlaid with gold, inside and outside.³¹ For the entrance of the oracle he made doors of olive-wood: the lintel [and] door-posts were a fifth part [of the wall].³² So [he made] two doors of olive-wood; and he carved on them carvings of cherubim and palm-trees and open flowers, and overlaid them with gold; and he spread the gold on the cherubim, and on the palm-trees.³³ So also made he for the entrance of the temple door-posts of olive-wood, out of a fourth part [of the wall];³⁴ and two doors of fir-wood: the two leaves of the one door were folding, and the two leaves of the other door were folding.³⁵ He carved [thereon] cherubim and palm-trees and open flowers; and he overlaid them with gold fitted on the engraved work.³⁶ He built the inner court with three courses of hewn stone, and a course of cedar beams.³⁷ In the fourth year was the foundation of the house of Yahawah laid, in the month Zaw.³⁸ In the eleventh year, in the month Bawal, which is the eighth month, was the house finished throughout all the parts of it, and according to all the fashion of it. So was he seven years in building it.

7 Shalamah was building his own house thirteen years, and he finished all his house.² For he built the house of the forest of Labanawan; the length of it was one hundred cubits, and the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits, on four rows of cedar pillars, with cedar beams on the pillars.³ It was covered with cedar above over the forty-five beams, that were on the pillars; fifteen in a row.⁴ There were beams in three rows, and window was over against window in three ranks.⁵ All the doors and posts were made square with beams: and window was over against window in three ranks.⁶ He made the porch of pillars; the length of it was fifty cubits, and the breadth of it thirty cubits; and a porch before them; and pillars and a threshold before them.⁷ He made the porch of the throne where he was to judge, even the porch of judgment: and it was covered with cedar from floor to floor.⁸ His house where he was to dwell, the other court within the porch, was of the like work. He made also a house for Paraih's daughter (whom Shalamah had taken as wife), like this porch.⁹ All these were of costly stones, even of hewn stone, according to measure, sawed with saws, inside and outside, even from the foundation to the coping, and so on the outside to the great court.¹⁰ The foundation was of costly stones, even great stones, stones of ten cubits, and stones of eight cubits.¹¹ Above were costly stones, even hewn stone, according to measure, and cedar-wood.¹² The great court round about had three courses of hewn stone, and a course of cedar beams; like as the inner court of the house of Yahawah, and the porch of the house.¹³ King Shalamah sent and fetched Chayaram out of Tzar.¹⁴ He was the son of a widow of the tribe of Napathalay, and his father was a man of Tzar, a worker in brass; and he was filled with wisdom and understanding and skill, to work all works in brass. He came to king Shalamah, and performed all his work.¹⁵ For he fashioned the two pillars of brass, eighteen cubits high apiece: and a line of twelve cubits compassed either of them about.¹⁶ He made two capitals of molten brass, to set on the tops of the pillars: the height of the one capital was five cubits, and the height of the other capital was five cubits.¹⁷ There were nets of checker-work, and wreaths of chain-work, for the capitals which were on the top of the pillars; seven for the one capital, and seven for the other capital.¹⁸ So he made the pillars; and there were two rows round about on the one network, to cover the capitals that were on the top of the pillars: and so did he for the other capital.¹⁹ The capitals that were on the top of the pillars in the porch were of lily-work, four cubits.²⁰ There were capitals above also on the two pillars, close by the belly which was beside the network: and the pomegranates were two hundred, in rows round about on the other capital.²¹ He set up the pillars at the porch of the temple: and he set up the right pillar, and called the name of it Yakayan; and he set up the left pillar, and called the name of it Baiz.²² On the top of the pillars was lily-work: so was the work of the pillars finished.²³ He made the molten sea of ten cubits from brim to brim, round in compass, and the height of it was five cubits; and a line of thirty cubits compassed it round about.²⁴ Under the brim of it round about there were buds which did compass it, for ten cubits, compassing the sea round about: the buds were in two rows, cast when it was cast.²⁵ It stood on twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east; and the sea was set on them above, and all their hinder parts were inward.²⁶ It was a handbreadth thick: and the brim of it was worked like the brim of a cup, like the flower of a lily: it held two thousand baths.²⁷ He made the ten bases of brass; four cubits was the length of one base, and four cubits the breadth of it, and three cubits the height of it.²⁸ The work of the bases was on this manner: they had panels; and there were panels between the ledges;²⁹ and on the panels that were between the ledges were lions, oxen, and cherubim; and on the ledges there was a pedestal above; and beneath the lions and oxen were wreaths of hanging work.³⁰ Every base had four brazen wheels, and axles of brass; and the four feet of it had supports: beneath the basin were the supports molten, with wreaths at the side of each.³¹ The mouth of it within the capital and above was a cubit:

and the mouth of it was round after the work of a pedestal, a cubit and a half; and also on the mouth of it were engravings, and their panels were foursquare, not round.³² The four wheels were underneath the panels; and the axles of the wheels were in the base: and the height of a wheel was a cubit and half a cubit.³³ The work of the wheels was like the work of a chariot wheel: their axles, and their rims, and their spokes, and their naves, were all molten.

⁴⁸ Shalamah made all the vessels that were in the house of Yahawah: the golden altar, and the table whereupon the show bread was, of gold;⁴⁹ and the lampstands, five on the right side, and five on the left, before the oracle, of pure gold; and the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs, of gold;⁵⁰ and the cups, and the snuffers, and the basins, and the spoons, and the fire pans, of pure gold; and the hinges, both for the doors of the inner house, the most holy place, and for the doors of the house, [to wit], of the temple, of gold.⁵¹ Thus all the work that king Shalamah worked in the house of Yahawah was finished. Shalamah brought in the things which Dawad his father had dedicated, [even] the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, and put them in the treasuries of the house of Yahawah.

8 Then Shalamah assembled the elders of Yasharaal, and all the heads of the tribes, the princes of the fathers' [houses] of the children of Yasharaal, to king Shalamah in Yarawashalam, to bring up the ark of the covenant of Yahawah out of the city of Dawad, which is Tzayawan.² All the men of Yasharaal assembled themselves to king Shalamah at the feast, in the month Ethanim, which is the seventh month.³ All the elders of Yasharaal came, and the priests took up the ark.⁴ They brought up the ark of Yahawah, and the tent of meeting, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tent; even these did the priests and the Levites bring up.⁵ King Shalamah and all the congregation of Yasharaal, who were assembled to him, were with him before the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen, that could not be counted nor numbered for multitude.⁶ The priests brought in the ark of the covenant of Yahawah to its place, into the oracle of the house, to the most holy place, even under the wings of the cherubim.⁷ For the cherubim spread forth their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubim covered the ark and the poles of it above.⁸ The poles were so long that the ends of the poles were seen from the holy place before the oracle; but they were not seen outside: and there they are to this day.⁹ There was nothing in the ark save the two tables of stone which Mashah put there at Charab, when Yahawah made a covenant with the children of Yasharaal, when they came out of the land of Matzarayam.¹⁰ It came to pass, when the priests were come out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house of Yahawah,¹¹ so that the priests could not stand to minister by reason of the cloud; for the glory of Yahawah filled the house of Yahawah.¹² Then spoke Shalamah, Yahawah has said that he would dwell in the thick darkness.¹³ I have surely built you a house of habitation, a place for you to dwell in forever.¹⁴ The king turned his face about, and blessed all the assembly of Yasharaal: and all the assembly of Yasharaal stood.¹⁵ He said, Blessed be Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, who spoke with his mouth to Dawad your father, and has with his hand fulfilled it, saying,¹⁶ Since the day that I brought forth my people Yasharaal out of Matzarayam, I chose no city out of all the tribes of Yasharaal to build a house, that my name might be there; but I chose Dawad to be over my people Yasharaal.

¹⁷ Now it was in the heart of Dawad my father to build a house for the name of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.¹⁸ But Yahawah said to Dawad my father, Whereas it was in your heart to build a house for my name, you did well that it was in your heart:¹⁹ nevertheless you shall not build the house; but your son who shall come forth out of your loins, he shall build the house for my name.

²⁰ Yahawah has established his word that he spoke; for I am risen up in the room of Dawad my father, and sit on the throne of Yasharaal, as Yahawah promised, and have built the house for the name of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.²¹ There have I set a place for the ark, in which is the covenant of Yahawah, which he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Matzarayam.²² Shalamah stood before the altar of Yahawah in the presence of all the assembly of Yasharaal, and spread forth his hands toward heaven;²³ and he said, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, there is no Alahayam like you, in heaven above, or on earth beneath; who keep covenant and lovingkindness with your servants, who walk before you with all their heart;²⁴ who have kept with your servant Dawad my father that which you did promise him: yes, you spoke with your mouth, and have fulfilled it with your hand, as it is this day.²⁵ Now therefore, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, keep with your servant Dawad my father that which you have promised him, saying, There shall not fail you a man in my sight to sit on the throne of Yasharaal, if only your children take heed to their way, to walk before me as you have walked before me.²⁶ Now therefore, Alahayam of Yasharaal, Please let your word be verified, which you spoke to your servant Dawad my father.²⁷ But will Alahayam in very deed dwell on the earth? behold, heaven and the heaven of heavens can't contain you; how much less this house that I have built!²⁸ Yet have you respect to the prayer of your servant, and to his supplication, Yahawah my Alahayam, to listen to the cry and to the prayer which your servant prays before you this day;²⁹ that your eyes may be open toward this house night and day, even toward the place whereof you have said, My name shall be there; to listen to the prayer which your servant shall pray toward this place.³⁰ Listen you to the supplication of your servant, and of your people Yasharaal, when they shall pray toward this place: yes, hear in heaven, your dwelling-place; and when you hear, forgive.³¹ If a man sin against his neighbor, and an oath be laid on him to cause him to swear, and he come [and] swear before your altar in this house;³² then hear you in heaven, and do, and judge your servants, condemning the wicked, to bring his way on his own head, and justifying the righteous, to give him according to his righteousness.³³ When your people Yasharaal are struck down before the enemy, because they have sinned against you; if they turn again to you, and confess your name, and pray and make supplication to you in this house:³⁴ then hear you in heaven, and forgive the sin of your people Yasharaal, and bring them again to the land which you gave to their fathers.³⁵ When the sky is shut up, and there is no rain, because they have sinned against you; if they pray toward this place, and confess your name, and turn from their sin, when you do afflict them:³⁶ then hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of your servants, and of your people Yasharaal, when you teach them the good way in which they should walk; and send rain on your land, which you have given to your people for an inheritance.³⁷ If there be in the land famine, if there be pestilence, if there be blasting [or] mildew, locust [or] caterpillar; if their enemy besiege them in the land of their cities; whatever plague, whatever sickness there be;³⁸ whatever prayer and supplication be made by any man, [or] by all your people Yasharaal, who shall know every man the plague of his own heart, and spread forth his hands toward this house:³⁹ then hear in heaven, your dwelling-place, and forgive, and do, and render to every man according to all his ways, whose heart you know; (for you, even you only, know the hearts of all the children of men;)⁴⁰ that they may fear you all the days that they live in the land which you gave to our fathers.⁴¹ Moreover concerning the foreigner, who is not of your people Yasharaal, when he shall come out of a far country for your name's sake⁴² (for they shall hear of your great name, and of your mighty hand, and of your outstretched arm); when he shall come and pray toward this house;⁴³ hear in heaven, your dwelling-place, and do according to all that the foreigner calls to you for; that all the peoples of the earth may know your name, to fear you, as does your people Yasharaal, and that they may know that this house which I have built is called by my name.⁴⁴ If your people go out to battle against their enemy, by whatever way you shall send them, and they pray to Yahawah toward the city which you have chosen, and toward the house which I have built for your name;⁴⁵ then hear in heaven their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause.⁴⁶ If they sin against you (for there is no man who doesn't sin), and you be angry with them, and deliver them to the enemy, so that they carry them away captive to the land of the enemy, far off or near;⁴⁷ yet if they shall repent themselves in the land where they are carried captive, and turn again, and make supplication to you in the land of those who carried them captive, saying, We have sinned, and have done perversely, we have dealt wickedly;⁴⁸ if they return to you with all their heart and with all their soul in the land of their enemies, who carried them captive, and pray to you toward their land, which you gave to their fathers, the city which you have chosen, and the house which I have built for your name:⁴⁹ then hear you their prayer and their supplication in heaven, your dwelling-place, and maintain their cause;⁵⁰ and forgive your people who have sinned against you, and all their transgressions in which they have transgressed against you; and give them compassion before those who carried them captive, that they may have compassion on them⁵¹ (for they are your people, and your inheritance, which you brought forth out of Matzarayam, from the midst of the furnace of iron);⁵² that your eyes may be open to the supplication of your servant, and to the supplication of your people Yasharaal, to listen to them whenever they cry to you.⁵³ For you did separate them from among all the peoples of the earth, to be your inheritance, as you spoke by Mashah your servant, when you brought our fathers out of Matzarayam, Adanay Yahawah.⁵⁴ It was so, that when Shalamah had made an end of praying all this prayer and supplication to Yahawah, he arose from before the altar of Yahawah, from kneeling on his knees with his hands spread forth toward heaven.⁵⁵ He stood, and blessed all the assembly of Yasharaal with a loud voice, saying,⁵⁶ Blessed be Yahawah, who has given rest to his people Yasharaal, according to all that he promised: there has not failed one word of all his good promise, which he promised by Mashah his servant.⁵⁷ Yahawah our Alahayam be with us, as he was with our fathers: let him not leave us, nor forsake us;⁵⁸ that he may incline our hearts to him, to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and his statutes, and his ordinances, which he commanded our fathers.⁵⁹ Let these my words, with which I have made supplication before Yahawah, be near to Yahawah our Alahayam day and night, that he maintain the cause of his servant, and the cause of his people Yasharaal, as every day shall require;⁶⁰ that all the peoples of the earth may know that Yahawah, he is Alahayam; there is none else.⁶¹ Let your heart therefore be perfect with Yahawah our Alahayam, to walk in his statutes, and to keep his commandments, as at this day.⁶² The king, and all Yasharaal with him, offered sacrifice before Yahawah.⁶³ Shalamah offered for the sacrifice of peace-offerings, which he offered to Yahawah, two and twenty thousand oxen, and one hundred twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the children of Yasharaal dedicated the house of Yahawah.⁶⁴ The same day did the king make the middle of the court holy that was before the house of Yahawah; for there he offered the burnt offering, and the meal-offering, and the fat of the peace-offerings, because the brazen altar that was before Yahawah was too little to receive the burnt offering, and the meal-offering, and the fat of the peace-offerings.⁶⁵ So Shalamah held the feast at that time, and all Yasharaal with him, a great assembly, from the entrance of Chamath to the brook of Matzarayam, before Yahawah our Alahayam, seven days and seven days, even fourteen days.⁶⁶ On the eighth day he sent the people away; and they blessed the king, and went to their tents joyful and glad of heart for all the goodness that Yahawah had showed to Dawad his servant, and to Yasharaal his people.

9 It happened, when Shalamah had finished the building of the house of Yahawah, and the king's house, and all Shalamah's desire which he was pleased to do,² that Yahawah appeared to Shalamah the second time, as he had appeared to him at Gabaiwan.³ Yahawah said to him, I have heard your prayer and your supplication, that you have made before me: I have made this house holy, which you have built, to put my name there forever; and my eyes and my heart shall be there perpetually.⁴ As for you, if you will walk before me, as Dawad your father walked, in integrity of heart, and in uprightness, to do according to all that I have commanded you, and will keep my statutes and my ordinances;⁵ then I will establish the throne of your kingdom over Yasharaal forever, according as I promised to Dawad your father, saying, There shall not fail you a man on the throne of Yasharaal.⁶ But if you shall turn away from following me, you or your children, and not keep my commandments and my statutes which I have set before you, but shall go and serve other gods, and worship them;⁷ then will I cut off Yasharaal out of the land which I have given them; and this house, which I have made holy for my name, will I cast out of my sight; and Yasharaal shall be a proverb and a byword among all peoples.⁸ Though this house is so high, yet shall everyone who passes by it be astonished, and shall hiss; and they shall say, Why has Yahawah done thus to this land, and to this house?⁹ and they shall answer, Because they forsook Yahawah their Alahayam, who brought forth their fathers out of the land of Matzarayam, and laid hold on other gods, and worshipped them, and served them: therefore has Yahawah brought all this evil on them.¹⁰ It happened at the end of twenty years, in which Shalamah had built the two houses, the house of Yahawah and the king's house¹¹ (now Chayaram the king of Tzar had furnished Shalamah with cedar-trees and fir-trees, and with gold, according to all his desire), that then king Shalamah gave Chayaram twenty cities in the land of Galayal.¹² Chayaram came out from Tzar to see the cities which Shalamah had given him; and they didn't please him.¹³ He said, What cities are these which you have given me, my brother? He called them the land of Kabawal to this day.¹⁴ Chayaram sent to the king one hundred twenty talents of gold.¹⁵ This is the reason of the levy which king Shalamah raised, to build the house of Yahawah, and his own house, and Malawaa, and the wall of Yarawashalam, and Chatzawar, and Magadaw, and Gazar.¹⁶ Paraih king of Matzarayam had gone up, and taken Gazar, and burnt it with fire, and slain the Canaanites who lived in the city, and given it for a portion to his daughter, Shalamah's wife.¹⁷ Shalamah built Gazar, and Bayath the nether,¹⁸ and Bailath, and Tamar in the wilderness, in the land,¹⁹ and all the store-cities that Shalamah had, and the cities for his chariots, and the cities for his horsemen, and that which Shalamah desired to build for his pleasure in Yarawashalam, and in Labanawan, and in all the land of his dominion.²⁰ As for all the people who were left of the Amorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, who were not of the children of Yasharaal;²¹ their children who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Yasharaal were not able utterly to destroy, of them did Shalamah raise a levy of bondservants to this day.²² But of the children of Yasharaal did Shalamah make no bondservants; but they were the men of war, and his servants, and his princes, and his captains, and rulers of his chariots and of his horsemen.²³ These were the chief officers who were over Shalamah's work, five hundred fifty, who bore rule over the people who labored in the work.²⁴ But Paraih's daughter came up out of the city of Dawad to her house which [Shalamah] had built for her: then did he build Malawaa.²⁵ Three times a year did Shalamah offer burnt offerings and peace-offerings on the altar which he built to Yahawah, burning incense therewith, [on the altar] that was before Yahawah. So he finished the house.²⁶ King Shalamah made a navy of ships in Gabar, which is beside Ayalath, on the shore of the Sawap, in the land of Adawam.²⁷ Chayaram sent in the navy his servants, sailors who had knowledge of the sea, with the servants of Shalamah.²⁸ They came to Awapayar, and fetched from there gold, four hundred and twenty talents, and brought it to king Shalamah.

10 When the queen of Shabaa heard of the fame of Shalamah concerning the name of Yahawah, she came to prove him with hard questions.² She came to Yarawashalam with a very great train, with camels that bore spices, and very much gold, and precious stones; and when she was come to Shalamah, she talked with him of all that was in her heart.³ Shalamah told her all her questions: there was not anything hidden from the king which he didn't tell her.⁴ When the queen of Shabaa had seen all the wisdom of Shalamah, and the house that he had built,⁵ and the food of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the attendance of his ministers, and their clothing, and his cup bearers, and his ascent by which he went up to the house of Yahawah; there was no more spirit in her.⁶ She said to the king, It was a true report that I heard in my own land of your acts, and of your wisdom.⁷ However I didn't believe the words, until I came, and my eyes had seen it: and, behold, the half was not told me; your wisdom and prosperity exceed the fame which I heard.⁸ Happy are your men, happy are these your servants, who stand continually before you, [and] who hear your wisdom.⁹ Blessed be Yahawah your Alahayam, who delighted in you, to set you on the throne of Yasharaal: because Yahawah loved Yasharaal forever, therefore made he you king, to do justice and righteousness.¹⁰ She gave the king one hundred twenty talents of gold, and of spices very great store, and precious stones: there came no more such abundance of spices as these which the queen of Shabaa gave to king Shalamah.¹¹ The navy also of Chayaram, that brought gold from Awapayar, brought in from Awapayar great plenty of almug-trees and precious stones.¹² The king made of the almug-trees pillars for the house of Yahawah, and for the king's house, harps also and psalteries for the singers: there came no such almug-trees, nor were seen, to this day.¹³ King Shalamah gave to the queen of Shabaa all her desire, whatever she asked, besides that which Shalamah gave her of his royal bounty. So she turned, and went to her own land, she and her servants.¹⁴ Now the weight of gold that came to Shalamah in one year was six hundred sixty-six talents of gold,¹⁵ besides [that which] the traders [brought], and the traffic of the merchants, and of all the kings of the mingled people, and of the governors of the country.¹⁶ King Shalamah made two hundred bucklers of beaten gold; six hundred [shekels] of gold went to one buckler.¹⁷ [he made] three hundred shields of beaten gold; three pounds of gold went to one shield: and the king put them in the house of the forest of Labanawan.¹⁸ Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with the finest gold.¹⁹ There were six steps to the throne, and the top of the throne was round behind; and there were stays on either side by the place of the seat, and two lions standing beside the stays.²⁰ Twelve lions stood there on the one side and on the other on the six steps: there was nothing like it made in any kingdom.²¹ All king Shalamah's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Labanawan were of pure gold: none were of silver; it was nothing accounted of in the days of Shalamah.²² For the king had at sea a navy of Tharashayash with the navy of Chayaram: once every three years came the navy of Tharashayash, bringing gold, and silver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks.²³ So king Shalamah exceeded all the kings of the earth in riches and in wisdom.²⁴ All the earth sought the presence of Shalamah, to hear his wisdom, which Alahayam had put in his heart.²⁵ They brought every man his tribute, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and clothing, and armor, and spices, horses, and mules, a rate year by year.²⁶ Shalamah gathered together chariots and horsemen: and he had a thousand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, that he bestowed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Yarawashalam.²⁷ The king made silver to be in Yarawashalam as stones, and cedars made he to be as the sycamore-trees that are in the lowland, for abundance.²⁸ The horses which Shalamah had were brought out of Matzarayam; and the king's merchants received them in droves, each drove at a price.²⁹ A chariot came up and went out of Matzarayam for six hundred [shekels] of silver, and a horse for one hundred fifty; and so for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Aram, did they bring them out by their means.

11 Now king Shalamah loved many foreign women, together with the daughter of Paraih, women of the Moabites, Imawan, Adawam, Sidonians, and Hittites;² of the nations concerning which Yahawah said to the children of Yasharaal, You shall not go among them, neither shall they come among you; for surely they will turn away your heart after their gods: Shalamah joined to these in love.³ He had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines; and his wives turned away his heart.⁴ For it happened, when Shalamah was old, that his wives turned away his heart after other gods; and his heart was not perfect with Yahawah his Alahayam, as was the heart of Dawad his father.⁵ For Shalamah went after Ishatharath the goddess of the Sidonians, and after Malakam the abomination of the Imawan.⁶ Shalamah did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, and didn't go fully after Yahawah, as did Dawad his father.⁷ Then did Shalamah build a high place for Kamawash the abomination of Mawaab, on the mountain that is before Yarawashalam, and for Malak the abomination of the children of Imawan.⁸ So did he for all his foreign wives, who burnt incense and sacrificed to their gods.⁹ Yahawah was angry with Shalamah, because his heart was turned away from Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, who had appeared to him twice,¹⁰ and had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods: but he didn't keep that which Yahawah commanded.¹¹ Therefore Yahawah said to Shalamah, Because this is done of you, and you have not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I have commanded you, I will surely tear the kingdom from you, and will give it to your servant.¹² Notwithstanding in your days I will not do it, for Dawad your father's sake: but I will tear it out of the hand of your son.¹³ However I will not tear away all the kingdom; but I will give one tribe to your son, for Dawad my servant's sake, and for Yarawashalam's sake which I have chosen.¹⁴ Yahawah raised up an adversary to Shalamah, Hadad the Edomite: he was of the king's seed in Adawam.¹⁵ For it happened, when Dawad was in Adawam, and Yawaab the captain of the host was gone up to bury the slain, and had struck every male in Adawam¹⁶ (for Yawaab and all Yasharaal remained there six months, until he had cut off every male in Adawam);¹⁷ that Hadad fled, he and certain Adawam of his father's servants with him, to go into Matzarayam, Hadad being yet a little child.¹⁸ They arose out of Madayan, and came to Paaran; and they took men with them out of Paaran, and they came to Matzarayam, to Paraih king of Matzarayam, who gave him a house, and appointed him victuals, and gave him land.¹⁹ Hadad found great favor in the sight of Paraih, so that he gave him as wife the sister of his own wife, the sister of Thachapanayas the queen.²⁰ The sister of Thachapanayas bore him Ganabath his son, whom Thachapanayas weaned in Paraih's house; and Ganabath was in Paraih's house among the sons of Paraih.²¹ When Hadad heard in Matzarayam that Dawad slept with his fathers, and that Yawaab the captain of the host was dead, Hadad said to Paraih, Let me depart, that I may go to my own country.²² Then Paraih said to him, But what have you lacked with me, that behold, you seek to go to your own country? He answered, Nothing; however only let me depart.²³ Alahayam raised up [another] adversary to him, Razawan the son of Alayadai, who had fled from his lord Hadadaizir king of Tzawabah.²⁴ He gathered men to him, and became captain over a troop, when Dawad killed them [of Tzawabah]: and they went to Damashaq, and lived therein, and reigned in Damashaq.²⁵ He was an adversary to Yasharaal all the days of Shalamah, besides the mischief that Hadad [did]: and he abhorred Yasharaal, and reigned over Aram.²⁶ Yarabaim the son of Nabat, an Ephraimite of Zeredah, a servant of Shalamah, whose mother's name was Tzarawaih, a widow, he also lifted up his hand against the king.²⁷ This was the reason why he lifted up his hand against the king: Shalamah built Malawaa, and repaired the breach of the city of Dawad his father.²⁸ The man Yarabaim was a mighty man of valor; and Shalamah saw the young man that he was industrious, and he gave him charge over all the labor of the house of Yawasap.²⁹ It happened at that time, when Yarabaim went out of Yarawashalam, that the prophet Achayah the Shilonite found him in the way; now [Achayah] had clad himself with a new garment; and they two were alone in the field.³⁰ Achayah laid hold of the new garment that was on him, and tore it in twelve pieces.³¹ He said to Yarabaim, Take ten pieces; for thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, Behold, I will tear the kingdom out of the hand of Shalamah, and will give ten tribes to you³² (but he shall have one tribe, for my servant Dawad's sake and for Yarawashalam's sake, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Yasharaal);³³ because that they have forsaken me, and have worshipped Ishatharath the goddess of the Sidonians, Kamawash the god of Mawaab, and Malakam the god of the children of Imawan; and they have not walked in my ways, to do that which is right in my eyes, and [to keep] my statutes and my ordinances, as did Dawad his father.³⁴ However I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hand; but I will make him prince all the days of his life, for Dawad my servant's sake whom I chose, who kept my commandments and my statutes;³⁵ but I will take the kingdom out of his son's hand, and will give it to you, even ten tribes.³⁶ To his son will I give one tribe, that Dawad my servant may have a lamp always before me in Yarawashalam, the city which I have chosen me to put my name there.³⁷ I will take you, and you shall reign according to all that your soul desires, and shall be king over Yasharaal.³⁸ It shall be, if you will listen to all that I command you, and will walk in my ways, and do that which is right in my eyes, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as Dawad my servant did; that I will be with you, and will build you a sure house, as I built for Dawad, and will give Yasharaal to you.³⁹ I will for this afflict the seed of Dawad, but not forever.⁴⁰ Shalamah sought therefore to kill Yarabaim; but Yarabaim arose, and fled into Matzarayam, to Shayashaq king of Matzarayam, and was in Matzarayam until the death of Shalamah.⁴¹ Now the rest of the acts of Shalamah, and all that he did, and his wisdom, aren't they written in the book of the acts of Shalamah?⁴² The time that Shalamah reigned in Yarawashalam over all Yasharaal was forty years.⁴³ Shalamah slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of Dawad his father: and Rachabaim his son reigned in his place.

12 Rachabaim went to Shakam: for all Yasharaal were come to Shakam to make him king.² It happened, when Yarabaim the son of Nabat heard of it (for he was yet in Matzarayam, where he had fled from the presence of king Shalamah, and Yarabaim lived in Matzarayam,³ and they sent and called him), that Yarabaim and all the assembly of Yasharaal came, and spoke to Rachabaim, saying,⁴ Your father made our yoke grievous: now therefore make you the grievous service of your father, and his heavy yoke which he put on us, lighter, and we will serve you.⁵ He said to them, Depart yet for three days, then come again to me. The people departed.⁶ King Rachabaim took counsel with the old men, who had stood before Shalamah his father while he yet lived, saying, What counsel give you me to return answer to this people?⁷ They spoke to him, saying, If you will be a servant to this people this day, and will serve them, and answer them, and speak good words to them, then they will be your servants forever.⁸ But he forsook the counsel of the old men which they had given him, and took counsel with the young men who had grown up with him, who stood before him.⁹ He said to them, What counsel do you give, that we may return answer to this people, who have spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke that your father did put on us lighter?¹⁰ The young men who had grown up with him spoke to him, saying, Thus shall you tell this people who spoke to you, saying, Your father made our yoke heavy, but make you it lighter to us; thus shall you speak to them, My little finger is thicker than my father's loins.¹¹ Now whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.¹² So Yarabaim and all the people came to Rachabaim the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come to me again the third day.¹³ The king answered the people roughly, and forsook the counsel of the old men which they had given him,¹⁴ and spoke to them after the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.¹⁵ So the king didn't listen to the people; for it was a thing brought about of Yahawah, that he might establish his word, which Yahawah spoke by Achayah the Shilonite to Yarabaim the son of Nabat.¹⁶ When all Yasharaal saw that the king didn't listen to them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in Dawad? neither have we inheritance in the son of Yashay: to your tents, Yasharaal: now see to your own house, Dawad. So Yasharaal departed to their tents.¹⁷ But as for the children of Yasharaal who lived in the cities of Yahawadah, Rachabaim reigned over them.¹⁸ Then king Rachabaim sent Adaram, who was over the men subject to forced labor; and all Yasharaal stoned him to death with stones. King Rachabaim made speed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Yarawashalam.¹⁹ So Yasharaal rebelled against the house of Dawad to this day.²⁰ It happened, when all Yasharaal heard that Yarabaim was returned, that they sent and called him to the congregation, and made him king over all Yasharaal: there was none who followed the house of Dawad, but the tribe of Yahawadah only.²¹ When Rachabaim was come to Yarawashalam, he assembled all the house of Yahawadah, and the tribe of Banayaman, a hundred and eighty thousand chosen men, who were warriors, to fight against the house of Yasharaal, to bring the kingdom again to Rachabaim the son of Shalamah.²² But the word of Alahayam came to Shamaiah the man of Alahayam, saying,²³ Speak to Rachabaim the son of Shalamah, king of Yahawadah, and to all the house of Yahawadah and Banayaman, and to the rest of the people, saying,²⁴ Thus says Yahawah, You shall not go up, nor fight against your brothers the children of Yasharaal: return every man to his house; for this thing is of me. So they listened to the word of Yahawah, and returned and went their way, according to the word of Yahawah.²⁵ Then Yarabaim built Shakam in the hill-country of Aparayam, and lived therein; and he went out from there, and built Panawaal.²⁶ Yarabaim said in his heart, Now will the kingdom return to the house of Dawad:²⁷ if this people go up to offer sacrifices in the house of Yahawah at Yarawashalam, then will the heart of this people turn again to their lord, even to Rachabaim king of Yahawadah; and they will kill me, and return to Rachabaim king of Yahawadah.²⁸ Whereupon the king took counsel, and made two calves of gold; and he said to them, It is too much for you to go up to Yarawashalam: see your gods, Yasharaal, which brought you up out of the land of Matzarayam.²⁹ He set the one in Bethel, and the other put he in Wadan.³⁰ This thing became a sin; for the people went [to worship] before the one, even to Wadan.³¹ He made houses of high places, and made priests from among all the people, who were not of the sons of Laway.³² Yarabaim ordained a feast in the eighth month, on the fifteenth day of the month, like the feast that is in Yahawadah, and he went up to the altar; so did he in Bethel, sacrificing to the calves that he had made; and he placed in Bethel the priests of the high places that he had made.³³ He went up to the altar which he had made in Bethel on the fifteenth day in the eighth month, even in the month which he had devised of his own heart: and he ordained a feast for the children of Yasharaal, and went up to the altar, to burn incense.

13 Behold, there came a man of Alahayam out of Yahawadah by the word of Yahawah to Bayath-el: and Yarabaim was standing by the altar to burn incense.² He cried against the altar by the word of Yahawah, and said, altar, altar, thus says Yahawah: Behold, a son shall be born to the house of Dawad, Yaashayahaw by name; and on you shall he sacrifice the priests of the high places who burn incense on you, and men's bones shall they burn on you.³ He gave a sign the same day, saying, This is the sign which Yahawah has spoken: Behold, the altar shall be torn, and the ashes that are on it shall be poured out.⁴ It happened, when the king heard the saying of the man of Alahayam, which he cried against the altar in Bethel, that Yarabaim put forth his hand from the altar, saying, Lay hold on him. His hand, which he put forth against him, dried up, so that he could not draw it back again to him.⁵ The altar also was torn, and the ashes poured out from the altar, according to the sign which the man of Alahayam had given by the word of Yahawah.⁶ The king answered the man of Alahayam, Entreat now the favor of Yahawah your Alahayam, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored me again. The man of Alahayam entreated Yahawah, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before.⁷ The king said to the man of Alahayam, Come home with me, and refresh yourself, and I will give you a reward.⁸ The man of Alahayam said to the king, If you will give me half your house, I will not go in with you, neither will I eat bread nor drink water in this place;⁹ for so was it charged me by the word of Yahawah, saying, You shall eat no bread, nor drink water, neither return by the way that you came.¹⁰ So he went another way, and didn't return by the way that he came to Bethel.¹¹ Now there lived an old prophet in Bethel; and one of his sons came and told him all the works that the man of Alahayam had done that day in Bethel: the words which he had spoken to the king, them also they told to their father.¹² Their father said to them, Which way did he go? Now his sons had seen which way the man of Alahayam went, who came from Yahawadah.¹³ He said to his sons, Saddle me the donkey. So they saddled him the donkey; and he rode thereon.¹⁴ He went after the man of Alahayam, and found him sitting under an oak; and he said to him, Are you the man of Alahayam who came from Yahawadah? He said, I am.¹⁵ Then he said to him, Come home with me, and eat bread.¹⁶ He said, I may not return with you, nor go in with you; neither will I eat bread nor drink water with you in this place:¹⁷ for it was said to me by the word of Yahawah, You shall eat no bread nor drink water there, nor turn again to go by the way that you came.¹⁸ He said to him, I also am a prophet as you are; and an angel spoke to me by the word of Yahawah, saying, Bring him back with you into your house, that he may eat bread and drink water. [But] he lied to him.¹⁹ So he went back with him, and ate bread in his house, and drank water.²⁰ It happened, as they sat at the table, that the word of Yahawah came to the prophet who brought him back;²¹ and he cried to the man of Alahayam who came from Yahawadah, saying, Thus says Yahawah, Because you have been disobedient to the mouth of Yahawah, and have not kept the commandment which Yahawah your Alahayam commanded you,²² but came back, and have eaten bread and drunk water in the place of which he said to you, Eat no bread, and drink no water; your body shall not come to the tomb of your fathers.²³ It happened, after he had eaten bread, and after he had drunk, that he saddled for him the donkey, [to wit], for the prophet whom he had brought back.²⁴ When he was gone, a lion met him by the way, and killed him: and his body was cast in the way, and the donkey stood by it; the lion also stood by the body.²⁵ Behold, men passed by, and saw the body cast in the way, and the lion standing by the body; and they came and told it in the city where the old prophet lived.²⁶ When the prophet who brought him back from the way heard of it, he said, It is the man of Alahayam, who was disobedient to the mouth of Yahawah: therefore Yahawah has delivered him to the lion, which has torn him, and slain him, according to the word of Yahawah, which he spoke to him.²⁷ He spoke to his sons, saying, Saddle me the donkey. They saddled it.²⁸ He went and found his body cast in the way, and the donkey and the lion standing by the body: the lion had not eaten the body, nor torn the donkey.²⁹ The prophet took up the body of the man of Alahayam, and laid it on the donkey, and brought it back; and he came to the city of the old prophet, to mourn, and to bury him.³⁰ He laid his body in his own grave; and they mourned over him, [saying], Alas, my brother!³¹ It happened, after he had buried him, that he spoke to his sons, saying, When I am dead, then bury me in the tomb in which the man of Alahayam is buried; lay my bones beside his bones.³² For the saying which he cried by the word of Yahawah against the altar in Bethel, and against all the houses of the high places which are in the cities of Shamarawan, shall surely happen.³³ After this thing Yarabaim didn't return from his evil way, but made again from among all the people priests of the high places: whoever would, he consecrated him, that there might be priests of the high places.³⁴ This thing became sin to the house of Yarabaim, even to cut it off, and to destroy it from off the surface of the earth.

14 At that time Abayah the son of Yarabaim fell sick.² Yarabaim said to his wife, Please get up and disguise yourself, that you not be known to be the wife of Yarabaim; and get you to Shalah: behold, there is Achayah the prophet, who spoke concerning me that I should be king over this people.³ Take with you ten loaves, and cakes, and a jar of honey, and go to him: he will tell you what shall become of the child.⁴ Yarabaim's wife did so, and arose, and went to Shalah, and came to the house of Achayah. Now Achayah could not see; for his eyes were set by reason of his age.⁵ Yahawah said to Achayah, Behold, the wife of Yarabaim comes to inquire of you concerning her son; for he is sick: thus and thus shall you tell her; for it will be, when she comes in, that she will feign herself to be another woman.⁶ It was so, when Achayah heard the sound of her feet, as she came in at the door, that he said, Come in, you wife of Yarabaim; why feign you yourself to be another? for I am sent to you with heavy news.⁷ Go, tell Yarabaim, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal: Because I exalted you from among the people, and made you prince over my people Yasharaal,⁸ and tore the kingdom away from the house of Dawad, and gave it you; and yet you have not been as my servant Dawad, who kept my commandments, and who followed me with all his heart, to do that only which was right in my eyes,⁹ but have done evil above all who were before you, and have gone and made you other gods, and molten images, to provoke me to anger, and have cast me behind your back:¹⁰ therefore, behold, I will bring evil on the house of Yarabaim, and will cut off from Yarabaim every man-child, him who is shut up and him who is left at large in Yasharaal, and will utterly sweep away the house of Yarabaim, as a man sweeps away dung, until it be all gone.¹¹ Him who dies of Yarabaim in the city shall the dogs eat; and him who dies in the field shall the birds of the sky eat: for Yahawah has spoken it.¹² Arise you therefore, get you to your house: [and] when your feet enter into the city, the child shall die.¹³ All Yasharaal shall mourn for him, and bury him; for he only of Yarabaim shall come to the grave, because in him there is found some good thing toward Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, in the house of Yarabaim.¹⁴ Moreover Yahawah will raise him up a king over Yasharaal, who shall cut off the house of Yarabaim that day: but what? even now.¹⁵ For Yahawah will strike Yasharaal, as a reed is shaken in the water; and he will root up Yasharaal out of this good land which he gave to their fathers, and will scatter them beyond the River, because they have made their Asherim, provoking Yahawah to anger.¹⁶ He will give Yasharaal up because of the sins of Yarabaim, which he has sinned, and with which he has made Yasharaal to sin.¹⁷ Yarabaim's wife arose, and departed, and came to Tharatzah: [and] as she came to the threshold of the house, the child died.¹⁸ All Yasharaal buried him, and mourned for him, according to the word of Yahawah, which he spoke by his servant Achayah the prophet.¹⁹ The rest of the acts of Yarabaim, how he warred, and how he reigned, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal.²⁰ The days which Yarabaim reigned were two and twenty years: and he slept with his fathers, and Nadab his son reigned in his place.²¹ Rachabaim the son of Shalaham reigned in Yahawadah. Rachabaim was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Yarawashalam, the city which Yahawah had chosen out of all the tribes of Yasharaal, to put his name there: and his mother's name was Naimah the Ammonitess.²² Yahawadah did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, and they provoked him to jealousy with their sins which they committed, above all that their fathers had done.²³ For they also built them high places, and pillars, and Asherim, on every high hill, and under every green tree;²⁴ and there were also sodomites in the land: they did according to all the abominations of the nations which Yahawah drove out before the children of Yasharaal.²⁵ It happened in the fifth year of king Rachabaim, that Shayashaq king of Matzarayam came up against Yarawashalam;²⁶ and he took away the treasures of the house of Yahawah, and the treasures of the king's house; he even took away all: and he took away all the shields of gold which Shalaham had made.²⁷ King Rachabaim made in their place shields of brass, and committed them to the hands of the captains of the guard, who kept the door of the king's house.²⁸ It was so, that as often as the king went into the house of Yahawah, the guard bore them, and brought them back into the guard-chamber.²⁹ Now the rest of the acts of Rachabaim, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?³⁰ There was war between Rachabaim and Yarabaim continually.³¹ Rachabaim slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dawad: and his mother's name was Naimah the Ammonitess. Abayam his son reigned in his place.

15 Now in the eighteenth year of king Yarabaim the son of Nabat began Abayam to reign over Yahawadah.² Three years reigned he in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Maacah the daughter of Abashalam.³ He walked in all the sins of his father, which he had done before him; and his heart was not perfect with Yahawah his Alahayam, as the heart of Dawad his father.⁴ Nevertheless for Dawad's sake did Yahawah his Alahayam give him a lamp in Yarawashalam, to set up his son after him, and to establish Yarawashalam;⁵ because Dawad did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, and didn't turn aside from anything that he commanded him all the days of his life, except only in the matter of Awarayah the Hittite.⁶ Now there was war between Rachabaim and Yarabaim all the days of his life.⁷ The rest of the acts of Abayam, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah? There was war between Abayam and Yarabaim.⁸ Abayam slept with his fathers; and they buried him in the city of Dawad: and Asaa his son reigned in his place.⁹ In the twentieth year of Yarabaim king of Yasharaal began Asaa to reign over Yahawadah.¹⁰ Forty-one years reigned he in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Maacah the daughter of Abashalam.¹¹ Asaa did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, as did Dawad his father.¹² He put away the sodomites out of the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made.¹³ Also Maacah his mother he removed from being queen, because she had made an abominable image for an Asherah; and Asaa cut down her image, and burnt it at the brook Qadarawan.¹⁴ But the high places were not taken away: nevertheless the heart of Asaa was perfect with Yahawah all his days.¹⁵ He brought into the house of Yahawah the things that his father had dedicated, and the things that himself had dedicated, silver, and gold, and vessels.¹⁶ There was war between Asaa and Baishaa king of Yasharaal all their days.¹⁷ Baishaa king of Yasharaal went up against Yahawadah, and built Ramah, that he might not allow anyone to go out or come in to Asaa king of Yahawadah.¹⁸ Then Asaa took all the silver and the gold that were left in the treasures of the house of Yahawah, and the treasures of the king's house, and delivered them into the hand of his servants; and king Asaa sent them to Ban, the son of Tabaraman, the son of Chazayawan, king of Aram, who lived at Damashaq, saying,¹⁹ [There is] a league between me and you, between my father and your father: behold, I have sent to you a present of silver and gold; go, break your league with Baishaa king of Yasharaal, that he may depart from me.²⁰ Ban listened to king Asaa, and sent the captains of his armies against the cities of Yasharaal, and struck Iyawan, and Wadan, and Habal-Bayath-maacah, and all Kanarath, with all the land of Napathalay.²¹ It happened, when Baishaa heard of it, that he left off building Ramah, and lived in Tharatzah.²² Then king Asaa made a proclamation to all Yahawadah; none was exempted: and they carried away the stones of Ramah, and the timber of it, with which Baishaa had built; and king Asaa built therewith Gabai of Banayaman, and Mizpah.²³ Now the rest of all the acts of Asaa, and all his might, and all that he did, and the cities which he built, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah? But in the time of his old age he was diseased in his feet.²⁴ Asaa slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dawad his father; and Yahawashapat his son reigned in his place.²⁵ Nadab the son of Yarabaim began to reign over Yasharaal in the second year of Asaa king of Yahawadah; and he reigned over Yasharaal two years.²⁶ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, and walked in the way of his father, and in his sin with which he made Yasharaal to sin.²⁷ Baishaa the son of Achayah, of the house of Yashashakar, conspired against him; and Baishaa struck him at Gabathawan, which belonged to the Palashath; for Nadab and all Yasharaal were laying siege to Gabathawan.²⁸ Even in the third year of Asaa king of Yahawadah did Baishaa kill him, and reigned in his place.²⁹ It happened that, as soon as he was king, he struck all the house of Yarabaim: he didn't leave to Yarabaim any who breathed, until he had destroyed him; according to the saying of Yahawah, which he spoke by his servant Achayah the Shilonite;³⁰ for the sins of Yarabaim which he sinned, and with which he made Yasharaal to sin, because of his provocation with which he provoked Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, to anger.³¹ Now the rest of the acts of Nadab, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?³² There was war between Asaa and Baishaa king of Yasharaal all their days.³³ In the third year of Asaa king of Yahawadah began Baishaa the son of Achayah to reign over all Yasharaal in Tharatzah, [and reigned] twenty-four years.³⁴ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, and walked in the way of Yarabaim, and in his sin with which he made Yasharaal to sin.

16 The word of Yahawah came to Yahawaa the son of Chananay against Baishaa, saying,² Because I exalted you out of the dust, and made you prince over my people Yasharaal, and you have walked in the way of Yarabaim, and have made my people Yasharaal to sin, to provoke me to anger with their sins;³ behold, I will utterly sweep away Baishaa and his house; and I will make your house like the house of Yarabaim the son of Nabat.⁴ Him who dies of Baishaa in the city shall the dogs eat; and him who dies of his in the field shall the birds of the sky eat.⁵ Now the rest of the acts of Baishaa, and what he did, and his might, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?⁶ Baishaa slept with his fathers, and was buried in Tharatzah; and Alah his son reigned in his place.⁷ Moreover by the prophet Yahawaa the son of Chananay came the word of Yahawah against Baishaa, and against his house, both because of all the evil that he did in the sight of Yahawah, to provoke him to anger with the work of his hands, in being like the house of Yarabaim, and because he struck him.⁸ In the twenty-sixth year of Asaa king of Yahawadah began Alah the son of Baishaa to reign over Yasharaal in Tharatzah, [and reigned] two years.⁹ His servant Zamaray, captain of half his chariots, conspired against him. Now he was in Tharatzah, drinking himself drunk in the house of Arataa, who was over the household in Tharatzah:¹⁰ and Zamaray went in and struck him, and killed him, in the twenty-seventh year of Asaa king of Yahawadah, and reigned in his place.¹¹ It happened, when he began to reign, as soon as he sat on his throne, that he struck all the house of Baishaa: he didn't leave him a single man-child, neither of his relatives, nor of his friends.¹² Thus did Zamaray destroy all the house of Baishaa, according to the word of Yahawah, which he spoke against Baishaa by Yahawaa the prophet,¹³ for all the sins of Baishaa, and the sins of Alah his son, which they sinned, and with which they made Yasharaal to sin, to provoke Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, to anger with their vanities.¹⁴ Now the rest of the acts of Alah, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?¹⁵ In the twenty-seventh year of Asaa king of Yahawadah did Zamaray reign seven days in Tharatzah. Now the people were encamped against Gabathawan, which belonged to the Palashath.¹⁶ The people who were encamped heard say, Zamaray has conspired, and has also struck the king: therefore all Yasharaal made Imaray, the captain of the host, king over Yasharaal that day in the camp.¹⁷ Imaray went up from Gabathawan, and all Yasharaal with him, and they besieged Tharatzah.¹⁸ It happened, when Zamaray saw that the city was taken, that he went into the castle of the king's house, and burnt the king's house over him with fire, and died,¹⁹ for his sins which he sinned in doing that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, in walking in the way of Yarabaim, and in his sin which he did, to make Yasharaal to sin.²⁰ Now the rest of the acts of Zamaray, and his treason that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?²¹ Then were the people of Yasharaal divided into two parts: half of the people followed Thabanay the son of Gayanath, to make him king; and half followed Imaray.²² But the people who followed Imaray prevailed against the people who followed Thabanay the son of Gayanath: so Thabanay died, and Imaray reigned.²³ In the thirty-first year of Asaa king of Yahawadah began Imaray to reign over Yasharaal, [and reigned] twelve years: six years reigned he in Tharatzah.²⁴ He bought the hill Shamarawan of Shamar for two talents of silver; and he built on the hill, and called the name of the city which he built, after the name of Shamar, the owner of the hill, Shamarawan.²⁵ Imaray did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, and dealt wickedly above all who were before him.²⁶ For he walked in all the way of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, and in his sins with which he made Yasharaal to sin, to provoke Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, to anger with their vanities.²⁷ Now the rest of the acts of Imaray which he did, and his might that he showed, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?²⁸ So Imaray slept with his fathers, and was buried in Shamarawan; and Achaab his son reigned in his place.²⁹ In the thirty-eighth year of Asaa king of Yahawadah began Achaab the son of Imaray to reign over Yasharaal: and Achaab the son of Imaray reigned over Yasharaal in Shamarawan twenty-two years.³⁰ Achaab the son of Imaray did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah above all that were before him.³¹ It happened, as if it had been a light thing for him to walk in the sins of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, that he took as wife Ayazabal the daughter of Athabail king of the Sidonians, and went and served Bail, and worshipped him.³² He reared up an altar for Bail in the house of Bail, which he had built in Shamarawan.³³ Achaab made the Asherah; and Achaab did yet more to provoke Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, to anger than all the kings of Yasharaal who were before him.³⁴ In his days did Chayaal the Bethelite build Yarayachaw: he laid the foundation of it with the loss of Abayaram his firstborn, and set up the gates of it with the loss of his youngest son Shagawab, according to the word of Yahawah, which he spoke by Yahawashai the son of Nawan.

17 Alayahaw the Tishbite, who was of the sojourners of Galaïd, said to Achaab, As Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, lives, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word.² The word of Yahawah came to him, saying,³ Get you hence, and turn you eastward, and hide yourself by the brook Karayath, that is before the Yaradan.⁴ It shall be, that you shall drink of the brook; and I have commanded the ravens to feed you there.⁵ So he went and did according to the word of Yahawah; for he went and lived by the brook Karayath, that is before the Yaradan.⁶ The ravens brought him bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening; and he drank of the brook.⁷ It happened after a while, that the brook dried up, because there was no rain in the land.⁸ The word of Yahawah came to him, saying,⁹ Arise, get you to Tzarapath, which belongs to Tzayadawan, and dwell there: behold, I have commanded a widow

there to sustain you.¹⁰ So he arose and went to Tzarapath; and when he came to the gate of the city, behold, a widow was there gathering sticks: and he called to her, and said, Please get me a little water in a vessel, that I may drink.¹¹ As she was going to get it, he called to her, and said, Please bring me a morsel of bread in your hand.¹² She said, As Yahawah your Alahayam lives, I aren't they a cake, but a handful of meal in the jar, and a little oil in the jar: and, behold, I am gathering two sticks, that I may go in and bake it for me and my son, that we may eat it, and die.¹³ Alayahaw said to her, Don't be afraid; go and do as you have said; but make me of it a little cake first, and bring it forth to me, and afterward make for you and for your son.¹⁴ For thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, The jar of meal shall not empty, neither shall the jar of oil fail, until the day that Yahawah sends rain on the earth.¹⁵ She went and did according to the saying of Alayahaw: and she, and he, and her house, ate [many] days.¹⁶ The jar of meal didn't empty, neither did the jar of oil fail, according to the word of Yahawah, which he spoke by Alayahaw.¹⁷ It happened after these things, that the son of the woman, the mistress of the house, fell sick; and his sickness was so sore, that there was no breath left in him.¹⁸ She said to Alayahaw, What have I to do with you, you man of Alahayam? you are come to me to bring my sin to memory, and to kill my son!¹⁹ He said to her, Give me your son. He took him out of her bosom, and carried him up into the chamber, where he abode, and laid him on his own bed.²⁰ He cried to Yahawah, and said, Yahawah my Alahayam, have you also brought evil on the widow with whom I sojourn, by killing her son?²¹ He stretched himself on the child three times, and cried to Yahawah, and said, Yahawah my Alahayam, please let this child's soul come into him again.²² Yahawah listened to the voice of Alayahaw; and the soul of the child came into him again, and he revived.²³ Alayahaw took the child, and brought him down out of the chamber into the house, and delivered him to his mother; and Alayahaw said, Behold, your son lives.²⁴ The woman said to Alayahaw, Now I know that you are a man of Alahayam, and that the word of Yahawah in your mouth is truth.

18 It happened after many days, that the word of Yahawah came to Alayahaw, in the third year, saying, Go, show yourself to Achaab; and I will send rain on the earth.² Alayahaw went to show himself to Achaab. The famine was sore in Shamarawan.³ Achaab called Ibadayah, who was over the household. (Now Ibadayah feared Yahawah greatly: ⁴ for it was so, when Ayazabal cut off the prophets of Yahawah, that Ibadayah took one hundred prophets, and hid them by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water.)⁵ Achaab said to Ibadayah, Go through the land, to all the springs of water, and to all the brooks: peradventure we may find grass and save the horses and mules alive, that we not lose all the animals.⁶ So they divided the land between them to pass throughout it: Achaab went one way by himself, and Ibadayah went another way by himself.⁷ As Ibadayah was in the way, behold, Alayahaw met him: and he knew him, and fell on his face, and said, Is it you, my lord Alayahaw?⁸ He answered him, It is I: go, tell your lord, Behold, Alayahaw [is here].⁹ He said, Wherein have I sinned, that you would deliver your servant into the hand of Achaab, to kill me?¹⁰ As Yahawah your Alahayam lives, there is no nation or kingdom, where my lord has not sent to seek you: and when they said, He is not here, he took an oath of the kingdom and nation, that they didn't find you.¹¹ Now you say, Go, tell your lord, Behold, Alayahaw [is here].¹² It will happen, as soon as I am gone from you, that the Spirit of Yahawah will carry you I don't know where; and so when I come and tell Achaab, and he can't find you, he will kill me: but I your servant fear Yahawah from my youth.¹³ Wasn't it told my lord what I did when Ayazabal killed the prophets of Yahawah, how I hid one hundred men of Yahawah's prophets by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water?¹⁴ Now you say, Go, tell your lord, Behold, Alayahaw [is here]; and he will kill me.¹⁵ Alayahaw said, As Yahawah Tzabaawath lives, before whom I stand, I will surely show myself to him today.¹⁶ So Ibadayah went to meet Achaab, and told him; and Achaab went to meet Alayahaw.¹⁷ It happened, when Achaab saw Alayahaw, that Achaab said to him, Is it you, you troubler of Yasharaal? ¹⁸ He answered, I have not troubled Yasharaal; but you, and your father's house, in that you have forsaken the commandments of Yahawah, and you have followed the Baals. ¹⁹ Now therefore send, and gather to me all Yasharaal to Mount Karamal, and the prophets of Bail four hundred fifty, and the prophets of the Asherah four hundred, who eat at Ayazabal's table. ²⁰ So Achaab sent to all the children of Yasharaal, and gathered the prophets together to Mount Karamal. ²¹ Alayahaw came near to all the people, and said, How long go you limping between the two sides? if Yahawah be Alahayam, follow him; but if Bail, then follow him. The people answered him not a word. ²² Then said Alayahaw to the people, I, even I only, am left a prophet of Yahawah; but Bail's prophets are four hundred fifty men. ²³ Let them therefore give us two bulls; and let them choose one bull for themselves, and cut it in pieces, and lay it on the wood, and put no fire under; and I will dress the other bull, and lay it on the wood, and put no fire under. ²⁴ Call you on the name of your god, and I will call on the name of Yahawah; and the Alahayam who answers by fire, let him be Alahayam. All the people answered, It is well spoken. ²⁵ Alayahaw said to the prophets of Bail, Choose you one bull for yourselves, and dress it first; for you are many; and call on the name of your god, but put no fire under. ²⁶ They took the bull which was given them, and they dressed it, and called on the name of Bail from morning even until noon, saying, Bail, hear us. But there was no voice, nor any who answered. They leaped about the altar which was made. ²⁷ It happened at noon, that Alayahaw mocked them, and said, Cry aloud; for he is a god: either he is musing, or he is gone aside, or he is on a journey, or peradventure he sleeps and must be awakened. ²⁸ They cried aloud, and cut themselves after their manner with knives and lances, until the blood gushed out on them. ²⁹ It was so, when midday was past, that they prophesied until the time of the offering of the [evening] offering; but there was neither voice, nor any to answer, nor any who regarded. ³⁰ Alayahaw said to all the people, Come near to me; and all the people came near to him. He repaired the altar of Yahawah that was thrown down. ³¹ Alayahaw took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Yaiqab, to whom the word of Yahawah came, saying, Yasharaal shall be your name. ³² With the stones he built an altar in the name of Yahawah; and he made a trench about the altar, as great as would contain two measures of seed. ³³ He put the wood in order, and cut the bull in pieces, and laid it on the wood. He said, Fill four jars with water, and pour it on the burnt offering, and on the wood. ³⁴ He said, Do it the second time; and they did it the second time. He said, Do it the third time; and they did it the third time. ³⁵ The water ran round about the altar; and he filled the trench also with water. ³⁶ It happened at the time of the offering of the [evening] offering, that Alayahaw the prophet came near, and said, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Abaraham, of Yatzachaq, and of Yasharaal, let it be known this day that you are Alahayam in Yasharaal, and that I am your servant, and that I have done all these things at your word. ³⁷ Hear me, Yahawah, hear me, that this people may know that you, Yahawah, are Alahayam, and [that] you have turned their heart back again. ³⁸ Then the fire of Yahawah fell, and consumed the burnt offering, and the wood, and the stones, and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench. ³⁹ When all the people saw it, they fell on their faces: and they said, Yahawah, he is Alahayam; Yahawah, he is Alahayam. ⁴⁰ and Alayahaw said to them, Take the prophets of Bail; don't let one of them escape. They took them; and Alayahaw brought them down to the brook Qayashawan, and killed them there. ⁴¹ Alayahaw said to Achaab, Get you up, eat and drink; for there is the sound of abundance of rain. ⁴² So Achaab went up to eat and to drink. Alayahaw went up to the top of Karamal; and he bowed himself down on the earth, and put his face between his knees. ⁴³ He said to his servant, Go up now, look toward the sea. He went up, and looked, and said, There is nothing. He said, Go again seven times. ⁴⁴ It happened at the seventh time, that he said, Behold, there arises a cloud out of the sea, as small as a man's hand. He said, Go up, tell Achaab, Make ready [your chariot], and get you down, that the rain not stop you. ⁴⁵ It happened in a little while, that the sky grew black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. Achaab rode, and went to Yazarai: ⁴⁶ and the hand of Yahawah was on Alayahaw; and he girded up his loins, and ran before Achaab to the entrance of Yazarai.

19 Achaab told Ayazabal all that Alayahaw had done, and withal how he had slain all the prophets with the sword. ² Then Ayazabal send a messenger to Alayahaw, saying, So let the gods do to me, and more also, if I don't make your life as the life of one of them by tomorrow about this time. ³ When he saw that, he arose, and went for his life, and came to Beersheba, which belongs to Yahawadah, and left his servant there. ⁴ But he himself went a day's journey into the wilderness, and came and sat down under a juniper-tree: and he requested for himself that he might die, and said, It is enough; now, O Yahawah, take away my life; for I am not better than my fathers. ⁵ He lay down and slept under a juniper-tree; and, behold, an angel touched him, and said to him, Arise and eat. ⁶ He looked, and, behold, there was at his head a cake baked on the coals, and a jar of water. He ate and drink, and laid him down again. ⁷ The angel of Yahawah came again the second time, and touched him, and said, Arise and eat, because the journey is too great for you. ⁸ He arose, and ate and drink, and went in the strength of that food forty days and forty nights to Charab the Mount of Alahayam. ⁹ He came there to a cave, and lodged there; and, behold, the word of Yahawah came to him, and he said to him, What do you here, Alayahaw? ¹⁰ He said, I have been very jealous for Yahawah, the Alahayam of hosts; for the children of Yasharaal have forsaken your covenant, thrown down your altars, and slain your prophets with the sword: and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away. ¹¹ He said, Go forth, and stand on the mountain before Yahawah. Behold, Yahawah passed by, and a great and strong wind tore the mountains, and broke in pieces the rocks before Yahawah; but Yahawah was not in the wind: and after the wind an earthquake; but Yahawah was not in the earthquake: ¹² and after the earthquake a fire; but Yahawah was not in the fire: and after the fire a still small voice. ¹³ It was so, when Alayahaw heard it, that he wrapped his face in his mantle, and went out, and stood in the entrance of the cave. Behold, there came a voice to him, and said, What do you here, Alayahaw? ¹⁴ He said, I have been very jealous for Yahawah, the Alahayam of hosts; for the children of Yasharaal have forsaken your covenant, thrown down your altars, and slain your prophets with the sword; and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away. ¹⁵ Yahawah said to him, Go, return on your way to the wilderness of Damashaq; and when you come, you shall anoint Chazaal to be king over Aram; ¹⁶ and Yahawaa the son of Namashay shall you anoint to be king over Yasharaal; and Alayashai the son of Shapat of Abal shall you anoint to be prophet in your room. ¹⁷ It shall happen, that he who escapes from the sword of Chazaal shall Yahawaa kill; and he who escapes from the sword of Yahawaa shall Alayashai kill. ¹⁸ Yet will I leave [me] seven thousand in Yasharaal, all the knees which have not bowed to Bail, and every mouth which has not kissed him. ¹⁹ So he departed there, and found Alayashai the son of Shapat, who was plowing, with twelve yoke [of oxen] before him, and he with the twelfth: and Alayahaw passed over to him, and cast his mantle on him. ²⁰ He left the oxen, and ran after Alayahaw, and said, Let me, I pray you, kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow you. He said to him, Go back again; for what have I done to you? ²¹ He returned from following him, and took the yoke of oxen, and killed them, and boiled their flesh with the instruments of the oxen, and gave to the people, and they ate. Then he arose, and went after Alayahaw, and ministered to him.

20 Ban the king of Aram gathered all his host together; and there were thirty-two kings with him, and horses and chariots; and he went up and besieged Shamarawan, and fought against it. ² He sent messengers to Achaab king of Yasharaal, into the city, and said to him, Thus says Ban, ³ Your silver and your gold is mine; your wives also and your children, even the best, are mine.⁴ The king of Yasharaal answered, It is according to your saying, my lord, O king; I am yours, and all that I have.⁵ The messengers came again, and said, Thus speaks Ban, saying, I sent indeed to you, saying, You shall deliver me your silver, and your gold, and your wives, and your children;⁶ but I will send my servants to you tomorrow about this time, and they shall search your house, and the houses of your servants; and it shall be, that whatever is pleasant in your eyes, they shall put it in their hand, and take it away.⁷ Then the king of Yasharaal called all the elders of the land, and said, Please notice how this man seeks mischief: for he sent to me for my wives, and for my children, and for my silver, and for my gold; and I didn't deny him.⁸ All the elders and all the people said to him, Don't you listen, neither consent.⁹ Therefore he said to the messengers of Ban, Tell my lord the king, All that you did send for to your servant at the first I will do; but this thing I may not do. The messengers departed, and brought him word again.¹⁰ Ban sent to him, and said, The gods do so to me, and more also, if the dust of Shamarawan shall suffice for handfuls for all the people who follow me.¹¹ The king of Yasharaal answered, Tell him, Don't let him who girds on [his armor] boast himself as he who puts it off.¹² It happened, when [Ban] heard this message, as he was drinking, he and the kings, in the pavilions, that he said to his servants, Set [yourselves in array]. They set [themselves in array] against the city.¹³ Behold, a prophet came near to Achaab king of Yasharaal, and said, Thus says Yahawah, Have you seen all this great multitude? behold, I will deliver it into your hand this day; and you shall know that I am Yahawah.¹⁴ Achaab said, By whom? He said, Thus says Yahawah, By the young men of the princes of the provinces. Then he said, Who shall begin the battle? He answered, You.¹⁵ Then he mustered the young men of the princes of the provinces, and they were two hundred and thirty-two; and after them he mustered all the people, even all the children of Yasharaal, being seven thousand.¹⁶ They went out at noon. But Ban was drinking himself drunk in the pavilions, he and the kings, the thirty-two kings who helped him.¹⁷ The young men of the princes of the provinces went out first; and Ban sent out, and they told him, saying, There are men come out from Shamarawan.¹⁸ He said, Whether they are come out for peace, take them alive, or whether they are come out for war, taken them alive.¹⁹ So these went out of the city, the young men of the princes of the provinces, and the army which followed them.²⁰ They killed everyone his man; and the Aram fled, and Yasharaal pursued them: and Ban the king of Aram escaped on a horse with horsemen.²¹ The king of Yasharaal went out, and struck the horses and chariots, and killed the Aram with a great slaughter.²² The prophet came near to the king of Yasharaal, and said to him, Go, strengthen yourself, and mark, and see what you do; for at the return of the year the king of Aram will come up against you.²³ The servants of the king of Aram said to him, Their god is a god of the hills; therefore they were stronger than we: but let us fight against them in the plain, and surely we shall be stronger than they.²⁴ Do this thing: take the kings away, every man out of his place, and put captains in their room;²⁵ and number you an army, like the army that you have lost, horse for horse, and chariot for chariot; and we will fight against them in the plain, and surely we shall be stronger than they. He listened to their voice, and did so.²⁶ It happened at the return of the year, that Ban mustered the Aram, and went up to Apaq, to fight against Yasharaal.²⁷ The children of Yasharaal were mustered, and were provisioned, and went against them: and the children of Yasharaal encamped before them like two little flocks of kids; but the Aram filled the country.²⁸ A man of Alahayam came near and spoke to the king of Yasharaal, and said, Thus says Yahawah, Because the Aram have said, Yahawah is a god of the hills, but he is not a god of the valleys; therefore will I deliver all this great multitude into your hand, and you shall know that I am Yahawah.²⁹ They encamped one over against the other seven days. So it was, that in the seventh day the battle was joined; and the children of Yasharaal killed of the Aram one hundred thousand footmen in one day.³⁰ But the rest fled to Apaq, into the city; and the wall fell on twenty-seven thousand men who were left. Ban fled, and came into the city, into an inner chamber.³¹ His servants said to him, See now, we have heard that the kings of the house of Yasharaal are merciful kings: let us, we pray you, put sackcloth on our loins, and ropes on our heads, and go out to the king of Yasharaal: peradventure he will save your life.³² So they girded sackcloth on their loins, and [put] ropes on their heads, and came to the king of Yasharaal, and said, Your servant Ban says, please let me live. He said, Is he yet alive? he is my brother.³³ Now the men observed diligently, and hurried to catch whether it were his mind; and they said, Your brother Ban. Then he said, Go you, bring him. Then Ban came forth to him; and he caused him to come up into the chariot.³⁴ [Ban] said to him, The cities which my father took from your father I will restore; and you shall make streets for you in Damashaq, as my father made in Shamarawan. I, [said Achaab], will let you go with this covenant. So he made a covenant with him, and let him go.³⁵ A certain man of the sons of the prophets said to his fellow by the word of Yahawah, Please strike me. The man refused to strike him.³⁶ Then said he to him, Because you have not obeyed the voice of Yahawah, behold, as soon as you are departed from me, a lion shall kill you. As soon as he was departed from him, a lion found him, and killed him.³⁷ Then he found another man, and said, Please strike me. The man struck him, smiting and wounding him.³⁸ So the prophet departed, and waited for the king by the way, and disguised himself with his headband over his eyes.³⁹ As the king passed by, he cried to the king; and he said, Your servant went out into the midst of the battle; and, behold, a man turned aside, and brought a man to me, and said, Keep this man: if by any means he be missing, then shall your life be for his life, or else you shall pay a talent of silver.⁴⁰ As your servant was busy here and there, he was gone. The king of Yasharaal said to him, So shall your judgment be; yourself have decided it.⁴¹ He hurried, and took the headband away from his eyes; and the king of Yasharaal discerned him that he was of the prophets.⁴² He said to him, Thus says Yahawah, Because you have let go out of your hand the man whom I had devoted to destruction, therefore your life shall go for his life, and your people for his people.⁴³ The king of Yasharaal went to his house heavy and displeased, and came to Shamarawan.

21 It happened after these things, that Nabawath the Jezreelite had a vineyard, which was in Yazaraial, hard by the palace of Achaab king of Shamarawan.² Achaab spoke to Nabawath, saying, Give me your vineyard, that I may have it for a garden of herbs, because it is near to my house; and I will give you for it a better vineyard than it; or, if it seem good to you, I will give you the worth of it in money.³ Nabawath said to Achaab, Yahawah forbid it me, that I should give the inheritance of my fathers to you.⁴ Achaab came into his house heavy and displeased because of the word which Nabawath the Jezreelite had spoken to him; for he had said, I will not give you the inheritance of my fathers. He laid him down on his bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no bread.⁵ But Ayazabal his wife came to him, and said to him, Why is your spirit so sad, that you eat no bread?⁶ He said to her, Because I spoke to Nabawath the Jezreelite, and said to him, Give me your vineyard for money; or else, if it please you, I will give you [another] vineyard for it: and he answered, I will not give you my vineyard.⁷ Ayazabal his wife said to him, Do you now govern the kingdom of Yasharaal? arise, and eat bread, and let your heart be merry: I will give you the vineyard of Nabawath the Jezreelite.⁸ So she wrote letters in Achaab's name, and sealed them with his seal, and sent the letters to the elders and to the nobles who were in his city, [and] who lived with Nabawath.⁹ She wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaim a fast, and set Nabawath on high among the people:¹⁰ and set two men, base fellows, before him, and let them testify against him, saying, You did curse Alahayam and the king. Then carry him out, and stone him to death.¹¹ The men of his city, even the elders and the nobles who lived in his city, did as Ayazabal had sent to them, according as it was written in the letters which she had sent to them.¹² They proclaimed a fast, and set Nabawath on high among the people.¹³ The two men, the base fellows, came in and sat before him: and the base fellows bore witness against him, even against Nabawath, in the presence of the people, saying, Nabawath did curse Alahayam and the king. Then they carried him forth out of the city, and stoned him to death with stones.¹⁴ Then they sent to Ayazabal, saying, Nabawath is stoned, and is dead.¹⁵ It happened, when Ayazabal heard that Nabawath was stoned, and was dead, that Ayazabal said to Achaab, Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Nabawath the Jezreelite, which he refused to give you for money; for Nabawath is not alive, but dead.¹⁶ It happened, when Achaab heard that Nabawath was dead, that Achaab rose up to go down to the vineyard of Nabawath the Jezreelite, to take possession of it.¹⁷ The word of Yahawah came to Alayahaw the Tishbite, saying,¹⁸ Arise, go down to meet Achaab king of Yasharaal, who dwells in Shamarawan: behold, he is in the vineyard of Nabawath, where he is gone down to take possession of it.¹⁹ You shall speak to him, saying, Thus says Yahawah, Have you killed and also taken possession? You shall speak to him, saying, Thus says Yahawah, In the place where dogs licked the blood of Nabawath shall dogs lick your blood, even your.²⁰ Achaab said to Alayahaw, Have you found me, my enemy? He answered, I have found you, because you have sold yourself to do that which is evil in the sight of Yahawah.²¹ Behold, I will bring evil on you, and will utterly sweep you away and will cut off from Achaab every man-child, and him who is shut up and him who is left at large in Yasharaal:²² and I will make your house like the house of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, and like the house of Baishaa the son of Achayah for the provocation with which you have provoked me to anger, and have made Yasharaal to sin.²³ Of Ayazabal also spoke Yahawah, saying, The dogs shall eat Ayazabal by the rampart of Yazarai.²⁴ Him who dies of Achaab in the city the dogs shall eat; and him who dies in the field shall the birds of the sky eat.²⁵ (But there was none like Achaab, who did sell himself to do that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, whom Ayazabal his wife stirred up.²⁶ He did very abominably in following idols, according to all that the Amorites did, whom Yahawah cast out before the children of Yasharaal.)²⁷ It happened, when Achaab heard those words, that he tore his clothes, and put sackcloth on his flesh, and fasted, and lay in sackcloth, and went softly.²⁸ The word of Yahawah came to Alayahaw the Tishbite, saying,²⁹ See you how Achaab humbles himself before me? because he humbles himself before me, I will not bring the evil in his days; but in his son's days will I bring the evil on his house.

22 They continued three years without war between Aram and Yasharaal.³ It happened in the third year, that Yahawashapat the king of Yahawadah came down to the king of Yasharaal.⁴ The king of Yasharaal said to his servants, "You know that Ramath is ours, and we are still, and don't take it out of the hand of the king of Aram?"⁵ He said to Yahawashapat, Will you go with me to battle to Ramath? Yahawashapat said to the king of Yasharaal, I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses.⁶ Yahawashapat said to the king of Yasharaal, Please inquire first for the word of Yahawah.⁷ Then the king of Yasharaal gathered the prophets together, about four hundred men, and said to them, Shall I go against Ramath to battle, or shall I forbear? They said, Go up; for the Adanay will deliver it into the hand of the king.⁸ But Yahawashapat said, Isn't there here a prophet of Yahawah besides, that we may inquire of him?⁹ The king of Yasharaal said to Yahawashapat, there is yet one man by whom we may inquire of Yahawah, Mayakah the son of Yamalaa: but I hate him; for he does not prophesy good concerning me, but evil. Yahawashapat said, "Don't let the king say so."¹⁰ Then the king of Yasharaal called an officer, and said, Get quickly Mayakah the son of Yamalaa.¹¹ Now the king of Yasharaal and Yahawashapat the king of Yahawadah were sitting each on his throne, arrayed in their robes, in an open place at the entrance of the gate of Shamarawan; and all the prophets were prophesying before them.¹² Tzadaqayahaw the son of Kanainah made him horns of iron, and said, Thus says Yahawah, With these shall you push the Aram, until they be consumed.¹³ All the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Ramath, and prosper; for Yahawah will deliver it into the hand of the king.¹⁴ The messenger who went to call Mayakah spoke to him, saying, See now, the words of the prophets [declare] good to the king with one mouth: please let your word be like the word of one of them, and speak you good.¹⁵ Mayakah said, As Yahawah lives, what Yahawah says to me, that will I speak.¹⁶ When he was come to the king, the king said to him, Mayakah, shall we go to Ramath to battle, or shall we forbear? He answered him, Go up and prosper; and Yahawah will deliver it into the hand of the king.¹⁷ The king said to him, How many times shall I adjure you that you speak to me nothing but the truth in the name of Yahawah?¹⁸ He said, I saw all Yasharaal scattered on the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd: and Yahawah said, These have no master; let them return every man to his house in peace.¹⁹ The king of Yasharaal said to Yahawashapat, Didn't I tell you that he would not prophesy good concerning me, but evil?²⁰ [Mayakah] said, Therefore hear you the word of Yahawah: I saw Yahawah sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing by him on his right hand and on his left.²¹ Yahawah said, Who shall entice Achaab, that he may go up and fall at Ramath? One said on this manner; and another said on that manner.²² There came forth a spirit, and stood before Yahawah, and said, I will entice him.²³ Yahawah said to him, 'How?' He said, 'I will go forth, and will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets.' He said, 'You shall entice him, and shall prevail also: go forth, and do so.'²⁴ Now therefore, behold, Yahawah has put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these your prophets; and Yahawah has spoken evil concerning you.²⁵ Then Tzadaqayahaw the son of Kanainah came near, and struck Mayakah on the cheek, and said, Which way went the Spirit of Yahawah from me to speak to you?²⁶ Mayakah said, Behold, you shall see on that day, when you shall go into an inner chamber to hide yourself.²⁷ The king of Yasharaal said, Take Mayakah, and carry him back to Amawan the governor of the city, and to Yawaash the king's son;²⁸ and say, Thus says the king, Pawat this fellow in the prison, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, until I come in peace.²⁹ Mayakah said, If you return at all in peace, Yahawah has not spoken by me. He said, Hear, you peoples, all of you.³⁰ So the king of Yasharaal and Yahawashapat the king of Yahawadah went up to Ramath.³¹ The king of Yasharaal said to Yahawashapat, I will disguise myself, and go into the battle; but put you on your robes. The king of Yasharaal disguised himself, and went into the battle.³² Now the king of Aram had commanded the thirty-two captains of his chariots, saying, Fight neither with small nor great, save only with the king of Yasharaal.³³ It happened, when the captains of the chariots saw Yahawashapat, that they said, Surely it is the king of Yasharaal; and they turned aside to fight against him: and Yahawashapat cried out.³⁴ It happened, when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Yasharaal, that they turned back from pursuing him.³⁵ A certain man drew his bow at a venture, and struck the king of Yasharaal between the joints of the armor: why he said to the driver of his chariot, Turn your hand, and carry me out of the host; for I am sore wounded.³⁶ The battle increased that day: and the king was stayed up in his chariot against the Aram, and died at even; and the blood ran out of the wound into the bottom of the chariot.³⁷ There went a cry throughout the host about the going down of the sun, saying, Every man to his city, and every man to his country.³⁸ So the king died, and was brought to Shamarawan; and they buried the king in Shamarawan.³⁹ They washed the chariot by the pool of Shamarawan; and the dogs licked up his blood (now the prostitutes washed themselves [there]); according to the word of Yahawah which he spoke.⁴⁰ Now the rest of the acts of Achaab, and all that he did, and the ivory house which he built, and all the cities that he built, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?⁴¹ So Achaab slept with his fathers; and Achazayahaw his son reigned in his place.⁴² Yahawashapat the son of Asaa began to reign over Yahawadah in the fourth year of Achaab king of Yasharaal.⁴³ Yahawashapat was thirty-five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned twenty-five years in Yarawashalam. His mother's name was Izawabah the daughter of Shalachay.⁴⁴ He walked in all the way of Asaa his father; He didn't turn aside from it, doing that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah: however the high places were not taken away; the people still sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places. ⁴⁵ Yahawashapat made peace with the king of Yasharaal. ⁴⁶ Now the rest of the acts of Yahawashapat, and his might that he showed, and how he warred, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah? ⁴⁷ The remnant of the sodomites, that remained in the days of his father Asaa, he put away out of the land. ⁴⁸ There was no king in Adawam: a deputy was king. ⁴⁹ Yahawashapat made ships of Tharashayash to go to Awapayar for gold: but they didn't go; for the ships were broken at Gabar. ⁵⁰ Then said Achazayahaw the son of Achaab to Yahawashapat, Let my servants go with your servants in the ships. But Yahawashapat would not. ⁵¹ Yahawashapat slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dawad his father; Yahawaram his son reigned in his place. ⁵² Achazayahaw the son of Achaab began to reign over Yasharaal in Shamarawan in the seventeenth year of Yahawashapat king of Yahawadah, and he reigned two years over Yasharaal. ⁵³ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, and walked in the way of his father, and in the way of his mother, and in the way of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, in which he made Yasharaal to sin. ⁵⁴ He served Bail, and worshipped him, and provoked to anger Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, according to all that his father had done.

1 Mawaab rebelled against Yasharaal after the death of Achaab.
2 Achazayahaw fell down through the lattice in his upper chamber that was in Shamarawan, and was sick: and he sent messengers, and said to them, Go, inquire of Bail, the god of Iqarawan, whether I shall recover of this sickness. 3 But the angel of Yahawah said to Alayahaw the Tishbite, Arise, go up to meet the messengers of the king of Shamarawan, and tell them, Is it because there is no Alahayam in Yasharaal, that you go to inquire of Bail, the god of Iqarawan? 4 Now therefore thus says Yahawah, You shall not come down from the bed where you are gone up, but shall surely die. Alayahaw departed. 5 The messengers returned to him, and he said to them, Why is it that you have returned? 6 They said to him, There came up a man to meet us, and said to us, Go, turn again to the king who sent you, and tell him, Thus says Yahawah, Is it because there is no Alahayam in Yasharaal, that you send to inquire of Bail, the god of Iqarawan? therefore you shall not come down from the bed where you are gone up, but shall surely die. 7 He said to them, What manner of man was he who came up to meet you, and told you these words? 8 They answered him, He was a hairy man, and girt with a belt of leather about his loins. He said, It is Alayahaw the Tishbite. 9 Then [the king] sent to him a captain of fifty with his fifty. He went up to him: and, behold, he was sitting on the top of the hill. He spoke to him, man of Alahayam, the king has said, Come down. 10 Alayahaw answered to the captain of fifty, If I be a man of Alahayam, let fire come down from the sky, and consume you and your fifty. Fire came down from the sky, and consumed him and his fifty. 11 Again he sent to him another captain of fifty and his fifty. He answered him, man of Alahayam, thus has the king said, Come down quickly. 12 Alayahaw answered them, If I be a man of Alahayam, let fire come down from the sky, and consume you and your fifty. The fire of Alahayam came down from the sky, and consumed him and his fifty. 13 Again he sent the captain of a third fifty with his fifty. The third captain of fifty went up, and came and fell on his knees before Alayahaw, and begged him, and said to him, man of Alahayam, please let my life, and the life of these fifty your servants, be precious in your sight. 14 Behold, fire came down from the sky, and consumed the two former captains of fifty with their fifties; but now let my life be precious in your sight. 15 The angel of Yahawah said to Alayahaw, Go down with him: don't be afraid of him. He arose, and went down with him to the king. 16 He said to him, Thus says Yahawah, Because you have sent messengers to inquire of Bail, the god of Iqarawan, is it because there is no Alahayam in Yasharaal to inquire of his word? therefore you shall not come down from the bed where you are gone up, but shall surely die. 17 So he died according to the word of Yahawah which Alayahaw had spoken. Yahawaram began to reign in his place in the second year of Yahawashapat the son of Yahawashapat king of Yahawadah; because he had no son. 18 Now the rest of the acts of Achazayahaw which he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?

2 It happened, when Yahawah would take up Alayahaw by a whirlwind into heaven, that Alayahaw went with Alayashai from Galagal. 2 Alayahaw said to Alayashai, Please wait here, for Yahawah has sent me as far as Bethel. Alayashai said, As Yahawah lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you. So they went down to Bethel. 3 The sons of the prophets who were at Bethel came forth to Alayashai, and said to him, "Do you know that Yahawah will take away your master from your head today?" He said, "Yes, I know it; hold your peace." 4 Alayahaw said to him, Alayashai, please wait here, for Yahawah has sent me to Yarayachaw. He said, As Yahawah lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you. So they came to Yarayachaw. 5 The sons of the prophets who were at Yarayachaw came near to Alayashai, and said to him, "Do you know that Yahawah will take away your master from your head today?" He answered, "Yes, I know it. Hold your peace."

6 Alayahaw said to him, "Please wait here, for Yahawah has sent me to the Yaradan." He said, "As Yahawah lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you." They two went on. 7 Fifty men of the sons of the prophets went, and stood over against them afar off: and they two stood by the Yaradan. 8 Alayahaw took his mantle, and wrapped it together, and struck the waters, and they were divided here and there, so that they two went over on dry ground. 9 It happened, when they had gone over, that Alayahaw said to Alayashai, Ask what I shall do for you, before I am taken from you. Alayashai said, please let a double portion of your spirit be on me.

10 He said, You have asked a hard thing: [nevertheless], if you see me when I am taken from you, it shall be so to you; but if not, it shall not be so. 11 It happened, as they still went on, and talked, that behold, [there appeared] a chariot of fire, and horses of fire, which parted them both apart; and Alayahaw went up by a whirlwind into heaven. 12 Alayashai saw it, and he cried, My father, my father, the chariots of Yasharaal and the horsemen of it! He saw him no more: and he took hold of his own clothes, and tore them in two pieces.

13 He took up also the mantle of Alayahaw that fell from him, and went back, and stood by the bank of the Yaradan. 14 He took the mantle of Alayahaw that fell from him, and struck the waters, and said, Where is Yahawah, the Alahayam of Alayahaw? and when he also had struck the waters, they were divided here and there; and Alayashai went over. 15 When the sons of the prophets who were at Yarayachaw over against him saw him, they said, The spirit of Alayahaw does rest on Alayashai. They came to meet him, and bowed themselves to the ground before him. 16 They said to him, See now, there are with your servants fifty strong men; let them go, we pray you, and seek your master, lest the Spirit of Yahawah has taken him up, and cast him on some mountain, or into some valley. He said, You shall not send. 17 When they urged him until he was ashamed, he said, Send. They sent therefore fifty men; and they sought three days, but didn't find him. 18 They came back to him, while he stayed at Yarayachaw; and he said to them, "Didn't I tell you, 'Don't go?'" 19 The men of the city said to Alayashai, Behold, we pray you, the situation of this city is pleasant, as my lord sees: but the water is bad, and the land miscarries. 20 He said, Bring me a new jar, and put salt therein. They brought it to him. 21 He went forth to the spring of the waters, and cast salt therein, and said, Thus says Yahawah, I have healed these waters; there shall not be from there any more death or miscarrying. 22 So the waters were healed to this day, according to the word of Alayashai which he spoke. 23 He went up from there to Bethel; and as he was going up by the way, there came forth young lads out of the city, and mocked him, and said to him, Go up, you baldy; go up, you baldhead. 24 He looked behind him and saw them, and cursed them in the name of Yahawah. There came forth two she-bears out of the wood, and mauled forty-two lads of them. 25 He went from there to Mount Karamal, and from there he returned to Shamarawan.

3 Now Yahawaram the son of Achaab began to reign over Yasharaal in Shamarawan in the eighteenth year of Yahawashapat king of Yahawadah, and reigned twelve years. 2 He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, but not like his father, and like his mother; for he put away the pillar of Bail that his father had made.

3 Nevertheless he cleaved to the sins of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, with which he made Yasharaal to sin; he didn't depart therefrom.

4 Now Mayashaa king of Mawaab was a sheep-master; and he rendered to the king of Yasharaal the wool of one hundred thousand lambs, and of one hundred thousand rams.⁵ But it happened, when Achaab was dead, that the king of Mawaab rebelled against the king of Yasharaal.⁶ King Yahawaram went out of Shamarawan at that time, and mustered all Yasharaal.⁷ He went and sent to Yahawashapat the king of Yahawadah, saying, The king of Mawaab has rebelled against me: will you go with me against Mawaab to battle? He said, I will go up: I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses.⁸ He said, Which way shall we go up? He answered, The way of the wilderness of Adawam.⁹ So the king of Yasharaal went, and the king of Yahawadah, and the king of Adawam; and they made a circuit of seven days' journey: and there was no water for the host, nor for the animals that followed them.¹⁰ The king of Yasharaal said, Alas! for Yahawah has called these three kings together to deliver them into the hand of Mawaab.¹¹ But Yahawashapat said, Isn't there here a prophet of Yahawah, that we may inquire of Yahawah by him? One of the king of Yasharaal's servants answered, Alayashai the son of Shapat is here, who poured water on the hands of Alayahaw.¹² Yahawashapat said, The word of Yahawah is with him. So the king of Yasharaal and Yahawashapat and the king of Adawam went down to him.¹³ Alayashai said to the king of Yasharaal, What have I to do with you? get you to the prophets of your father, and to the prophets of your mother. The king of Yasharaal said to him, No; for Yahawah has called these three kings together to deliver them into the hand of Mawaab.¹⁴ Alayashai said, As Yahawah Tzabaawath lives, before whom I stand, surely, were it not that I regard the presence of Yahawashapat the king of Yahawadah, I would not look toward you, nor see you.¹⁵ But now bring me a minstrel. It happened, when the minstrel played, that the hand of Yahawah came on him.¹⁶ He said, Thus says Yahawah, Make this valley full of trenches.¹⁷ For thus says Yahawah, You shall not see wind, neither shall you see rain; yet that valley shall be filled with water, and you shall drink, both you and your cattle and your animals.¹⁸ This is but a light thing in the sight of Yahawah: he will also deliver the Moabites into your hand.¹⁹ You shall strike every fortified city, and every choice city, and shall fell every good tree, and stop all springs of water, and mar every good piece of land with stones.²⁰ It happened in the morning, about the time of offering the offering, that behold, there came water by the way of Adawam, and the country was filled with water.²¹ Now when all the Moabites heard that the kings had come up to fight against them, they gathered themselves together, all who were able to put on armor, and upward, and stood on the border.²² They rose up early in the morning, and the sun shone on the water, and the Moabites saw the water over against them as red as blood:²³ and they said, This is blood; the kings are surely destroyed, and they have struck each man his fellow: now therefore, Mawaab, to the spoil.²⁴ When they came to the camp of Yasharaal, the Israelites rose up and struck the Moabites, so that they fled before them; and they went forward into the land smiting the Moabites.²⁵ They beat down the cities; and on every good piece of land they cast every man his stone, and filled it; and they stopped all the springs of water, and felled all the good trees, until in Qayar [only] they left the stones of it; however the men armed with slings went about it, and struck it.²⁶ When the king of Mawaab saw that the battle was too severe for him, he took with him seven hundred men who drew sword, to break through to the king of Adawam; but they could not.²⁷ Then he took his eldest son who would have reigned in his place, and offered him a burnt offering on the wall. There was great wrath against Yasharaal: and they departed from him, and returned to their own land.

4 Now there cried a certain woman of the wives of the sons of the prophets to Alayashai, saying, Your servant my husband is dead; and you know that your servant did fear Yahawah: and the creditor is come to take to him my two children to be bondservants.² Alayashai said to her, What shall I do for you? tell me; what have you in the house? She said, Your handmaid has nothing in the house, except a pot of oil.³ Then he said, Go, borrow you vessels abroad of all your neighbors, even empty vessels; borrow not a few.

⁴ You shall go in, and shut the door on you and on your sons, and pour out into all those vessels; and you shall set aside that which is full.⁵ So she went from him, and shut the door on her and on her sons; they brought [the vessels] to her, and she poured out.⁶ It happened, when the vessels were full, that she said to her son, Bring me yet a vessel. He said to her, There isn't another vessel. The oil stayed.⁷ Then she came and told the man of Alahayam. He said, Go, sell the oil, and pay your debt, and live you and your sons of the rest.⁸ It fell on a day, that Alayashai passed to Shawanam, where was a great woman; and she constrained him to eat bread. So it was, that as often as he passed by, he turned in there to eat bread.⁹ She said to her husband, See now, I perceive that this is a holy man of Alahayam, that passes by us continually.¹⁰ Let us make, Please, a little chamber on the wall; and let us set for him there a bed, and a table, and a seat, and a lamp stand; and it shall be, when he comes to us, that he shall turn in there.¹¹ It fell on a day, that he came there, and he turned into the chamber and lay there.¹² He said to Gayachazay his servant, Call this Shunammite. When he had called her, she stood before him.¹³ He said to him, Say now to her, Behold, you have been careful for us with all this care; what is to be done for you? would you be spoken for to the king, or to the captain of the host? She answered, I dwell among my own people.¹⁴ He said, What then is to be done for her? Gayachazay answered, Most assuredly she has no son, and her husband is old.¹⁵ He said, Call her. When he had called her, she stood in the door.¹⁶ He said, At this season, when the time comes round, you shall embrace a son. She said, No, my lord, you man of Alahayam, do not lie to your handmaid.¹⁷ The woman conceived, and bore a son at that season, when the time came round, as Alayashai had said to her.¹⁸ When the child was grown, it fell on a day, that he went out to his father to the reapers.¹⁹ He said to his father, My head, my head. He said to his servant, Carry him to his mother.²⁰ When he had taken him, and brought him to his mother, he sat on her knees until noon, and then died.²¹ She went up and laid him on the bed of the man of Alahayam, and shut [the door] on him, and went out.²² She called to her husband, and said, Please send me one of the servants, and one of the donkeys, that I may run to the man of Alahayam, and come again.²³ He said, Why will you go to him today? it is neither new moon nor Sabbath. She said, It shall be well.²⁴ Then she saddled a donkey, and said to her servant, Drive, and go forward; don't slacken me the riding, except I bid you.²⁵ So she went, and came to the man of Alahayam to Mount Karamal. It happened, when the man of Alahayam saw her afar off, that he said to Gayachazay his servant, Behold, yonder is the Shunammite:²⁶ please run now to meet her, and ask her, Is it well with you? is it well with your husband? is it well with the child? She answered, It is well.²⁷ When she came to the man of Alahayam to the hill, she caught hold of his feet. Gayachazay came near to thrust her away; but the man of Alahayam said, Let her alone: for her soul is vexed within her; and Yahawah has hid it from me, and has not told me.²⁸ Then she said, Did I desire a son of my lord? Didn't I say, Do not deceive me?²⁹ Then he said to Gayachazay, Gird up your loins, and take my staff in your hand, and go your way: if you meet any man, Don't greet him; and if anyone greets you, don't answer him again: and lay my staff on the face of the child.³⁰ The mother of the child said, As Yahawah lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you. He arose, and followed her.³¹ Gayachazay passed on before them, and laid the staff on the face of the child; but there was neither voice, nor hearing. Why he returned to meet him, and told him, saying, The child has not awakened.³² When Alayashai was come into the house, behold, the child was dead, and laid on his bed.³³ He went in therefore, and shut the door on them both, and prayed to Yahawah.³⁴ He went up, and lay on the child, and put his mouth on his mouth, and his eyes on his eyes, and his hands on his hands: and he stretched himself on him; and the flesh of the child grew warm.³⁵ Then he returned, and walked in the house once back and forth; and went up, and stretched himself on him: and the child sneezed seven times, and the child opened his eyes.³⁶ He called Gayachazay, and said, Call this Shunammite. So he called her.

When she was come in to him, he said, Take up your son.³⁷ Then she went in, and fell at his feet, and bowed herself to the ground; and she took up her son, and went out.³⁸ Alayashai came again to Galagal. There was a dearth in the land; and the sons of the prophets were sitting before him; and he said to his servant, Set on the great pot, and boil stew for the sons of the prophets.³⁹ One went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a wild vine, and gathered of it wild gourds his lap full, and came and shred them into the pot of stew; for they didn't recognize them.⁴⁰ So they poured out for the men to eat. It happened, as they were eating of the stew, that they cried out, and said, man of Alahayam, there is death in the pot. They could not eat of it.⁴¹ But he said, Then bring meal. He cast it into the pot; and he said, Pour out for the people, that they may eat. There was no harm in the pot.⁴² There came a man from Bail-Shalashah, and brought the man of Alahayam bread of the first-fruits, twenty loaves of barley, and fresh ears of grain in his sack. He said, Give to the people, that they may eat.⁴³ His servant said, What, should I set this before a hundred men? But he said, Give the people, that they may eat; for thus says Yahawah, They shall eat, and shall leave of it.⁴⁴ So he set it before them, and they ate, and left of it, according to the word of Yahawah.

5 Now Naiman, captain of the host of the king of Aram, was a great man with his master, and honorable, because by him Yahawah had given victory to Aram: he was also a mighty man of valor, [but he was] a leper.² The Aram had gone out in bands, and had brought away captive out of the land of Yasharaal a little maiden; and she waited on Naiman's wife.³ She said to her mistress, Would that my lord were with the prophet who is in Shamarawan! then would he recover him of his leprosy.⁴ One went in, and told his lord, saying, Thus and thus said the maiden who is of the land of Yasharaal.⁵ The king of Aram said, Go now, and I will send a letter to the king of Yasharaal. He departed, and took with him ten talents of silver, and six thousand [pieces] of gold, and ten changes of clothing.⁶ He brought the letter to the king of Yasharaal, saying, Now when this letter is come to you, behold, I have sent Naiman my servant to you, that you may recover him of his leprosy.⁷ It happened, when the king of Yasharaal had read the letter, that he tore his clothes, and said, Am I Alahayam, to kill and to make alive, that this man does send to me to recover a man of his leprosy? but consider, I pray you, and see how he seeks a quarrel against me.⁸ It was so, when Alayashai the man of Alahayam heard that the king of Yasharaal had torn his clothes, that he sent to the king, saying, Why have you torn your clothes? let him come now to me, and he shall know that there is a prophet in Yasharaal.⁹ So Naiman came with his horses and with his chariots, and stood at the door of the house of Alayashai.¹⁰ Alayashai sent a messenger to him, saying, Go and wash in the Yarden seven times, and your flesh shall come again to you, and you shall be clean.¹¹ But Naiman was angry, and went away, and said, Behold, I thought, He will surely come out to me, and stand, and call on the name of Yahawah his Alahayam, and wave his hand over the place, and recover the leper.¹² Aren't Abanah and Parapar, the rivers of Damashaq, better than all the waters of Yasharaal? may I not wash in them, and be clean? So he turned and went away in a rage.¹³ His servants came near, and spoke to him, and said, My father, if the prophet had bid you do some great thing, wouldn't you have done it? how much rather then, when he says to you, Wash, and be clean?¹⁴ Then went he down, and dipped [himself] seven times in the Yarden, according to the saying of the man of Alahayam; and his flesh came again like the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.¹⁵ He returned to the man of Alahayam, he and all his company, and came, and stood before him; and he said, See now, I know that there is no Alahayam in all the earth, but in Yasharaal: now therefore, please take a present from your servant.¹⁶ But he said, As Yahawah lives, before whom I stand, I will receive none. He urged him to take it; but he refused.¹⁷ Naiman said, If not, yet, please let there be given to your servant two mules' burden of earth; for your servant will henceforth offer neither burnt offering nor sacrifice to other gods, but to Yahawah.¹⁸ In this thing Yahawah pardon your servant: when my master goes into the house of Ramawan to worship there, and he leans on my hand, and I bow myself in the house of Ramawan, when I bow myself in the house of Ramawan, Yahawah pardon your servant in this thing.¹⁹ He said to him, Go in peace. So he departed from him a little way.²⁰ But Gayachazay the servant of Alayashai the man of Alahayam, said, Behold, my master has spared this Naiman the Syrian, in not receiving at his hands that which he brought: as Yahawah lives, I will run after him, and take somewhat of him.²¹ So Gayachazay followed after Naiman. When Naiman saw one running after him, he alighted from the chariot to meet him, and said, Is all well?²² He said, All is well. My master has sent me, saying, Behold, even now there are come to me from the hill-country of Aparayam two young men of the sons of the prophets; please give them a talent of silver, and two changes of clothing.²³ Naiman said, Be pleased to take two talents. He urged him, and bound two talents of silver in two bags, with two changes of clothing, and laid them on two of his servants; and they bore them before him.²⁴ When he came to the hill, he took them from their hand, and bestowed them in the house; and he let the men go, and they departed.²⁵ But he went in, and stood before his master. Alayashai said to him, Whence come you, Gayachazay? He said, Your servant went no where.²⁶ He said to him, Didn't my heart go with you, when the man turned from his chariot to meet you? Is it a time to receive money, and to receive garments, and olive groves and vineyards, and sheep and oxen, and men-servants and maid-servants?²⁷ The leprosy therefore of Naiman shall cleave to you, and to your seed forever. He went out from his presence a leper [as white] as snow.

6 The sons of the prophets said to Alayashai, See now, the place where we dwell before you is too strait for us.² Let us go, we pray you, to the Yarden, and take there every man a beam, and let us make us a place there, where we may dwell. He answered, Go you.³ One said, Be pleased, I pray you, to go with your servants. He answered, I will go.⁴ So he went with them. When they came to the Yarden, they cut down wood.⁵ But as one was felling a beam, the ax-head fell into the water; and he cried, and said, Alas, my master! for it was borrowed.⁶ The man of Alahayam said, Where fell it? He showed him the place. He cut down a stick, and cast it in there, and made the iron to swim.⁷ He said, Take it up to you. So he put out his hand, and took it.⁸ Now the king of Aram was warring against Yasharaal; and he took counsel with his servants, saying, In such and such a place shall be my camp.⁹ The man of Alahayam sent to the king of Yasharaal, saying, Beware that you not pass such a place; for there the Aram are coming down.¹⁰ The king of Yasharaal sent to the place which the man of Alahayam told him and warned him of; and he saved himself there, not once nor twice.¹¹ The heart of the king of Aram was sore troubled for this thing; and he called his servants, and said to them, Won't you show me which of us is for the king of Yasharaal?¹² One of his servants said, No, my lord, O king; but Alayashai, the prophet who is in Yasharaal, tells the king of Yasharaal the words that you speak in your bedchamber.¹³ He said, Go and see where he is, that I may send and get him. It was told him, saying, Behold, he is in Dathan.¹⁴ Therefore sent he there horses, and chariots, and a great host: and they came by night, and surrounded the city.¹⁵ When the servant of the man of Alahayam was risen early, and gone forth, behold, a host with horses and chariots was round about the city. His servant said to him, Alas, my master! how shall we do?¹⁶ He answered, Don't be afraid; for those who are with us are more than those who are with them.¹⁷ Alayashai prayed, and said, Yahawah, Please open his eyes, that he may see. Yahawah opened the eyes of the young man; and he saw: and, behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire round about Alayashai.¹⁸ When they came down to him, Alayashai prayed to Yahawah, and said, Please smite this people with blindness. He struck them with blindness according to the word of Alayashai.¹⁹ Alayashai said to them, This is not the way, neither is this the city: follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom you seek. He led them to Shamarawan.²⁰ It happened, when they were come into Shamarawan, that Alayashai said, Yahawah, open the eyes of these men, that they may see. Yahawah opened their eyes, and they saw; and, behold, they were in the midst of Samaran. ²¹ The king of Yasharaal said to Alayashai, when he saw them, My father, shall I strike them? shall I strike them? ²² He answered, You shall not strike them: would you strike those whom you have taken captive with your sword and with your bow? set bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink, and go to their master. ²³ He prepared great provision for them; and when they had eaten and drunk, he sent them away, and they went to their master. The bands of Aram came no more into the land of Yasharaal. ²⁴ It happened after this, that Ban king of Aram gathered all his host, and went up, and besieged Samaran. ²⁵ There was a great famine in Samaran: and, behold, they besieged it, until a donkey's head was sold for eighty [pieces] of silver, and the fourth part of a kab of dove's dung for five [pieces] of silver. ²⁶ As the king of Yasharaal was passing by on the wall, there cried a woman to him, saying, Help, my lord, O king. ²⁷ He said, If Yahawah doesn't help you, whence shall I help you? out of the threshing floor, or out of the winepress? ²⁸ The king said to her, What ails you? She answered, This woman said to me, Give your son, that we may eat him today, and we will eat my son tomorrow. ²⁹ So we boiled my son, and ate him: and I said to her on the next day, Give your son, that we may eat him; and she has hid her son. ³⁰ It happened, when the king heard the words of the woman, that he tore his clothes (now he was passing by on the wall); and the people looked, and, behold, he had sackcloth within on his flesh. ³¹ Then he said, Alahayam do so to me, and more also, if the head of Alayashai the son of Shapat shall stand on him this day. ³² But Alayashai was sitting in his house, and the elders were sitting with him; and [the king] sent a man from before him: but before the messenger came to him, he said to the elders, See you how this son of a murderer has sent to take away my head? behold, when the messenger comes, shut the door, and hold the door fast against him: isn't the sound of his master's feet behind him? ³³ While he was yet talking with them, behold, the messenger came down to him: and he said, Behold, this evil is of Yahawah; why should I wait for Yahawah any longer?

7 Alayashai said, Hear you the word of Yahawah: thus says Yahawah, Tomorrow about this time shall a measure of fine flour be [sold] for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel, in the gate of Samaran. ² Then the captain on whose hand the king leaned answered the man of Alahayam, and said, Behold, if Yahawah should make windows in heaven, might this thing be? He said, Behold, you shall see it with your eyes, but shall not eat of it. ³ Now there were four leprous men at the entrance of the gate: and they said one to another, Why sit we here until we die? ⁴ If we say, We will enter into the city, then the famine is in the city, and we shall die there; and if we sit still here, we die also. Now therefore come, and let us fall to the host of the Aram: if they save us alive, we shall live; and if they kill us, we shall but die. ⁵ They rose up in the twilight, to go to the camp of the Aram; and when they were come to the outermost part of the camp of the Aram, behold, there was no man there. ⁶ For the Adanay had made the host of the Aram to hear a noise of chariots, and a noise of horses, even the noise of a great host: and they said one to another, Behold, the king of Yasharaal has hired against us the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Matzarayam, to come on us. ⁷ Therefore they arose and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their horses, and their donkeys, even the camp as it was, and fled for their life. ⁸ When these lepers came to the outermost part of the camp, they went into one tent, and ate and drink, and carried there silver, and gold, and clothing, and went and hid it; and they came back, and entered into another tent, and carried there also, and went and hid it. ⁹ Then they said one to another, We aren't doing right. This day is a day of good news, and we hold our peace: if we wait until the morning light, punishment will overtake us; now therefore come, let us go and tell the king's household. ¹⁰ So they came and called to the porter of the city; and they told them, saying, We came to the camp of the Aram, and, behold, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but the horses tied, and the donkeys tied, and the tents as they were. ¹¹ He called the porters; and they told it to the king's household within. ¹² The king arose in the night, and said to his servants, I will now show you what the Aram have done to us. They know that we are hungry; therefore are they gone out of the camp to hide themselves in the field, saying, When they come out of the city, we shall take them alive, and get into the city. ¹³ One of his servants answered, Please let some take five of the horses that remain, which are left in the city (behold, they are as all the multitude of Yasharaal who are left in it; behold, they are as all the multitude of Yasharaal who are consumed); and let us send and see. ¹⁴ They took therefore two chariots with horses; and the king sent after the host of the Aram, saying, Go and see. ¹⁵ They went after them to the Yarden: and, behold, all the way was full of garments and vessels, which the Aram had cast away in their haste. The messengers returned, and told the king. ¹⁶ The people went out, and plundered the camp of the Aram. So a measure of fine flour was [sold] for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel, according to the word of Yahawah. ¹⁷ The king appointed the captain on whose hand he leaned to have the charge of the gate: and the people trod on him in the gate, and he died as the man of Alahayam had said, who spoke when the king came down to him. ¹⁸ It happened, as the man of Alahayam had spoken to the king, saying, Two measures of barley for a shekel, and a measure of fine flour for a shekel, shall be tomorrow about this time in the gate of Samaran; ¹⁹ and that captain answered the man of Alahayam, and said, Now, behold, if Yahawah should make windows in heaven, might such a thing be? and he said, Behold, you shall see it with your eyes, but shall not eat of it: ²⁰ it happened even so to him; for the people trod on him in the gate, and he died.

8 Now Alayashai had spoken to the woman, whose son he had restored to life, saying, Arise, and go you and your household, and sojourn wherever you can sojourn: for Yahawah has called for a famine; and it shall also come on the land seven years. ² The woman arose, and did according to the word of the man of Alahayam; and she went with her household, and sojourned in the land of the Palashath seven years. ³ It happened at the seven years' end, that the woman returned out of the land of the Palashath: and she went forth to cry to the king for her house and for her land. ⁴ Now the king was talking with Gayachazay the servant of the man of Alahayam, saying, Please tell me all the great things that Alayashai has done. ⁵ It happened, as he was telling the king how he had restored to life him who was dead, that behold, the woman, whose son he had restored to life, cried to the king for her house and for her land. Gayachazay said, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her son, whom Alayashai restored to life. ⁶ When the king asked the woman, she told him. So the king appointed to her a certain officer, saying, Restore all that was hers, and all the fruits of the field since the day that she left the land, even until now. ⁷ Alayashai came to Damashaq; and Ban the king of Aram was sick; and it was told him, saying, The man of Alahayam is come here. ⁸ The king said to Chazaal, Take a present in your hand, and go, meet the man of Alahayam, and inquire of Yahawah by him, saying, Shall I recover of this sickness? ⁹ So Chazaal went to meet him, and took a present with him, even of every good thing of Damashaq, forty camels' burden, and came and stood before him, and said, Your son Ban king of Aram has sent me to you, saying, Shall I recover of this sickness? ¹⁰ Alayashai said to him, Go, tell him, You shall surely recover; however Yahawah has showed me that he shall surely die. ¹¹ He settled his gaze steadfastly [on him], until he was ashamed: and the man of Alahayam wept. ¹² Chazaal said, Why weeps my lord? He answered, Because I know the evil that you will do to the children of Yasharaal: their strongholds will you set on fire, and their young men will you kill with the sword, and will dash in pieces their little ones, and rip up their women with child. ¹³ Chazaal said, But what is your servant, who is but a dog, that he should do this great thing? Alayashai answered, Yahawah has showed me that you shall be king over Aram. ¹⁴ Then he departed from Alayashai, and came to his master; who said to him, What said Alayashai to you? He answered, He told me that you would surely recover.¹⁵ It happened on the next day, that he took the coverlet, and dipped it in water, and spread it on his face, so that he died: and Chazaal reigned in his place.¹⁶ In the fifth year of Yahawaram the son of Achaab king of Yasharaal, Yahawashapat being then king of Yahawadah, Yahawaram the son of Yahawashapat king of Yahawadah began to reign.¹⁷ Thirty-two years old was he when he began to reign; and he reigned eight years in Yarawashalam.¹⁸ He walked in the way of the kings of Yasharaal, as did the house of Achaab: for he had the daughter of Achaab as wife; and he did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah.¹⁹ However Yahawah would not destroy Yahawadah, for Dawad his servant's sake, as he promised him to give to him a lamp for his children always.²⁰ In his days Adawam revolted from under the hand of Yahawadah, and made a king over themselves.²¹ Then Yahawaram passed over to Tzaiyar, and all his chariots with him: and he rose up by night, and struck the Adawam who surrounded him, and the captains of the chariots; and the people fled to their tents.²² So Adawam revolted from under the hand of Yahawadah to this day. Then did Labanah revolt at the same time.²³ The rest of the acts of Yahawaram, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?²⁴ Yahawaram slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dawad; and Achazayahaw his son reigned in his place.²⁵ In the twelfth year of Yahawaram the son of Achaab king of Yasharaal did Achazayahaw the son of Yahawaram king of Yahawadah begin to reign.²⁶ Twenty-two years old was Achazayahaw when he began to reign; and he reigned one year in Yarawashalam. His mother's name was Ithalyahaw the daughter of Imaray king of Yasharaal.²⁷ He walked in the way of the house of Achaab, and did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, as did the house of Achaab; for he was the son-in-law of the house of Achaab.²⁸ He went with Yahawaram the son of Achaab to war against Chazaal king of Aram at Ramath: and the Aram wounded Yahawaram.²⁹ King Yahawaram returned to be healed in Yazaraial of the wounds which the Aram had given him at Ramah, when he fought against Chazaal king of Aram. Achazayahaw the son of Yahawaram king of Yahawadah went down to see Yahawaram the son of Achaab in Yazaraial, because he was sick.

9 Alayashai the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets, and said to him, Gird up your loins, and take this vial of oil in your hand, and go to Ramath.² When you come there, look out there Yahawaa the son of Yahawashapat the son of Namashay, and go in, and make him arise up from among his brothers, and carry him to an inner chamber.³ Then take the vial of oil, and pour it on his head, and say, Thus says Yahawah, I have anointed you king over Yasharaal. Then open the door, and flee, and don't wait.⁴ So the young man, even the young man the prophet, went to Ramath.⁵ When he came, behold, the captains of the host were sitting; and he said, I have an errand to you, captain. Yahawaa said, To which of us all? He said, To you, O captain.⁶ He arose, and went into the house; and he poured the oil on his head, and said to him, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, I have anointed you king over the people of Yahawah, even over Yasharaal.⁷ You shall strike the house of Achaab your master, that I may avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of Yahawah, at the hand of Ayazabal.⁸ For the whole house of Achaab shall perish; and I will cut off from Achaab every man-child, and him who is shut up and him who is left at large in Yasharaal.⁹ I will make the house of Achaab like the house of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, and like the house of Baishaa the son of Achayah.¹⁰ The dogs shall eat Ayazabal in the portion of Yazaraial, and there shall be none to bury her. He opened the door, and fled.¹¹ Then Yahawaa came forth to the servants of his lord: and one said to him, Is all well? why came this mad fellow to you? He said to them, You know the man and what his talk was.¹² They said, It is false; tell us now. He said, Thus and thus spoke he to me, saying, Thus says Yahawah, I have anointed you king over Yasharaal.¹³ Then they hurried, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the stairs, and blew the trumpet, saying, Yahawaa is king.¹⁴ So Yahawaa the son of Yahawashapat the son of Namashay conspired against Yahawaram. (Now Yahawaram was keeping Ramath, he and all Yasharaal, because of Chazaal king of Aram; but king Yahawaram was returned to be healed in Yazaraial of the wounds which the Aram had given him, when he fought with Chazaal king of Aram.) Yahawaa said, If this be your mind, then let none escape and go forth out of the city, to go to tell it in Yazaraial.¹⁶ So Yahawaa rode in a chariot, and went to Yazaraial; for Yahawaram lay there. Achazayahaw king of Yahawadah was come down to see Yahawaram.¹⁷ Now the watchman was standing on the tower in Yazaraial, and he spied the company of Yahawaa as he came, and said, I see a company. Yahawaram said, Take a horseman, and send to meet them, and let him say, Is it peace?¹⁸ So there went one on horseback to meet him, and said, Thus says the king, Is it peace? Yahawaa said, What have you to do with peace? turn you behind me. The watchman told, saying, The messenger came to them, but he isn't coming back.¹⁹ Then he sent out a second on horseback, who came to them, and said, Thus says the king, Is it peace? Yahawaa answered, What have you to do with peace? turn you behind me.²⁰ The watchman told, saying, He came even to them, and isn't coming back: and the driving is like the driving of Yahawaa the son of Namashay; for he drives furiously.²¹ Yahawaram said, Make ready. They made ready his chariot. Yahawaram king of Yasharaal and Achazayahaw king of Yahawadah went out, each in his chariot, and they went out to meet Yahawaa, and found him in the portion of Nabawath the Jezreelite.²² It happened, when Yahawaram saw Yahawaa, that he said, Is it peace, Yahawaa? He answered, What peace, so long as the prostitution of your mother Ayazabal and her witchcraft abound?²³ Yahawaram turned his hands, and fled, and said to Achazayahaw, There is treachery, Achazayahaw.²⁴ Yahawaa drew his bow with his full strength, and struck Yahawaram between his arms; and the arrow went out at his heart, and he sunk down in his chariot.²⁵ Then said [Yahawaa] to Badaqar his captain, Take up, and cast him in the portion of the field of Nabawath the Jezreelite; for remember how that, when I and you rode together after Achaab his father, Yahawah laid this burden on him:²⁶ Surely I have seen yesterday the blood of Nabawath, and the blood of his sons, says Yahawah; and I will requite you in this plat, says Yahawah. Now therefore take and cast him into the plat [of ground], according to the word of Yahawah.²⁷ But when Achazayahaw the king of Yahawadah saw this, he fled by the way of the garden-house. Yahawaa followed after him, and said, Smite him also in the chariot: [and they struck him] at the ascent of Gawar, which is by Yabalaim. He fled to Magadaw, and died there.²⁸ His servants carried him in a chariot to Yarawashalam, and buried him in his tomb with his fathers in the city of Dawad.²⁹ In the eleventh year of Yahawaram the son of Achaab began Achazayahaw to reign over Yahawadah.³⁰ When Yahawaa was come to Yazaraial, Ayazabal heard of it; and she painted her eyes, and attired her head, and looked out at the window.³¹ As Yahawaa entered in at the gate, she said, Is it peace, you Zamaray, your master's murderer?³² He lifted up his face to the window, and said, Who is on my side? who? There looked out to him two or three eunuchs.³³ He said, Throw her down. So they threw her down; and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses: and he trod her under foot.³⁴ When he was come in, he ate and drink; and he said, See now to this cursed woman, and bury her; for she is a king's daughter.³⁵ They went to bury her; but they found no more of her than the skull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands.³⁶ Therefore they came back, and told him. He said, This is the word of Yahawah, which he spoke by his servant Alayahaw the Tishbite, saying, In the portion of Yazaraial shall the dogs eat the flesh of Ayazabal; and the body of Ayazabal shall be as dung on the face of the field in the portion of Yazaraial, so that they shall not say, This is Ayazabal.

saying, ² Now as soon as this letter comes to you, seeing your master's sons are with you, and there are with you chariots and horses, a fortified city also, and armor; ³ look you out the best and meet of your master's sons, and set him on his father's throne, and fight for your master's house. ⁴ But they were exceedingly afraid, and said, Behold, the two kings didn't stand before him: how then shall we stand? ⁵ He who was over the household, and he who was over the city, the elders also, and those who brought up [the children], sent to Yahawaa, saying, We are your servants, and will do all that you shall bid us; we will not make any man king: you do that which is good in your eyes. ⁶ Then he wrote a letter the second time to them, saying, If you be on my side, and if you will listen to my voice, take the heads of the men your master's sons, and come to me to Yazaraial by tomorrow this time. Now the king's sons, being seventy persons, were with the great men of the city, who brought them up. ⁷ It happened, when the letter came to them, that they took the king's sons, and killed them, even seventy persons, and put their heads in baskets, and sent them to him to Yazaraial. ⁸ There came a messenger, and told him, saying, They have brought the heads of the king's sons. He said, Lay you them in two heaps at the entrance of the gate until the morning. ⁹ It happened in the morning, that he went out, and stood, and said to all the people, You are righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and killed him; but who struck all these? ¹⁰ Know now that there shall fall to the earth nothing of the word of Yahawah, which Yahawah spoke concerning the house of Achaab: for Yahawah has done that which he spoke by his servant Alayahaw. ¹¹ So Yahawaa struck all that remained of the house of Achaab in Yazaraial, and all his great men, and his familiar friends, and his priests, until he left him none remaining. ¹² He arose and departed, and went to Shamarawan. As he was at the shearing-house of the shepherds in the way, ¹³ Yahawaa met with the brothers of Achazayahaw king of Yahawadah, and said, Who are you? They answered, We are the brothers of Achazayahaw: and we go down to Greet the children of the king and the children of the queen. ¹⁴ He said, Take them alive. They took them alive, and killed them at the pit of the shearing-house, even two and forty men; neither left he any of them. ¹⁵ When he was departed there, he lighted on Yahawanadab the son of Rakab coming to meet him; and he greeted him, and said to him, Is your heart right, as my heart is with your heart? Yahawanadab answered, It is. If it be, give me your hand. He gave him his hand; and he took him up to him into the chariot. ¹⁶ He said, Come with me, and see my zeal for Yahawah. So they made him ride in his chariot. ¹⁷ When he came to Shamarawan, he struck all who remained to Achaab in Shamarawan, until he had destroyed him, according to the word of Yahawah, which he spoke to Alayahaw. ¹⁸ Yahawaa gathered all the people together, and said to them, Achaab served Bail a little; but Yahawaa will serve him much. ¹⁹ Now therefore call to me all the prophets of Bail, all his worshippers, and all his priests; let none be wanting: for I have a great sacrifice [to do] to Bail; whoever shall be wanting, he shall not live. But Yahawaa did it in subtlety, to the intent that he might destroy the worshippers of Bail. ²⁰ Yahawaa said, Sanctify a solemn assembly for Bail. They proclaimed it. ²¹ Yahawaa sent through all Yasharaal: and all the worshippers of Bail came, so that there was not a man left that didn't come. They came into the house of Bail; and the house of Bail was filled from one end to another. ²² He said to him who was over the vestry, Bring forth vestments for all the worshippers of Bail. He brought them forth vestments. ²³ Yahawaa went, and Yahawanadab the son of Rakab, into the house of Bail; and he said to the worshippers of Bail, Search, and look that there be here with you none of the servants of Yahawah, but the worshippers of Bail only. ²⁴ They went in to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings. Now Yahawaa had appointed him eighty men outside, and said, If any of the men whom I bring into your hands escape, [he who lets him go], his life shall be for the life of him. ²⁵ It happened, as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, that Yahawaa said to the guard and to the captains, Go in, and kill them; let none come forth. They struck them with the edge of the sword; and the guard and the captains cast them out, and went to the city of the house of Bail. ²⁶ They brought forth the pillars that were in the house of Bail, and burned them. ²⁷ They broke down the pillar of Bail, and broke down the house of Bail, and made it a draught-house, to this day. ²⁸ Thus Yahawaa destroyed Bail out of Yasharaal. ²⁹ However from the sins of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, with which he made Yasharaal to sin, Yahawaa didn't depart from after them, [to wit], the golden calves that were in Bethel, and that were in Wadan. ³⁰ Yahawah said to Yahawaa, Because you have done well in executing that which is right in my eyes, [and] have done to the house of Achaab according to all that was in my heart, your sons of the fourth generation shall sit on the throne of Yasharaal. ³¹ But Yahawaa took no heed to walk in the law of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, with all his heart: he didn't depart from the sins of Yarabaim, with which he made Yasharaal to sin. ³² In those days Yahawah began to cut off from Yasharaal: and Chazaal struck them in all the borders of Yasharaal; ³³ from the Yaradan eastward, all the land of Galaid, the Gadites, and the Reubenites, and the Manassites, from Irait, which is by the valley of the Aranawan, even Galaid and Bashan. ³⁴ Now the rest of the acts of Yahawaa, and all that he did, and all his might, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal? ³⁵ Yahawaa slept with his fathers; and they buried him in Shamarawan. Yahawaachaz his son reigned in his place. ³⁶ The time that Yahawaa reigned over Yasharaal in Shamarawan was twenty-eight years.

11 Now when Ithalahaw the mother of Achazayahaw saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the seed royal. ² But Yahawashabai, the daughter of king Yahawaram, sister of Achazayahaw, took Yawaash the son of Achazayahaw, and stole him away from among the king's sons who were slain, even him and his nurse, [and put them] in the bedchamber; and they hid him from Ithalahaw, so that he was not slain; ³ He was with her hid in the house of Yahawah six years. Ithalahaw reigned over the land. ⁴ In the seventh year Yahawayadai sent and fetched the captains over hundreds of the Carites and of the guard, and brought them to him into the house of Yahawah; and he made a covenant with them, and took an oath of them in the house of Yahawah, and showed them the king's son. ⁵ He commanded them, saying, This is the thing that you shall do: a third part of you, who come in on the Sabbath, shall be keepers of the watch of the king's house; ⁶ A third part shall be at the gate Sawar; and a third part at the gate behind the guard: so shall you keep the watch of the house, and be a barrier. ⁷ The two companies of you, even all who go forth on the Sabbath, shall keep the watch of the house of Yahawah about the king. ⁸ You shall compass the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand; and he who comes within the ranks, let him be slain: and be you with the king when he goes out, and when he comes in. ⁹ The captains over hundreds did according to all that Yahawayadai the priest commanded; and they took every man his men, those who were to come in on the Sabbath, with those who were to go out on the Sabbath, and came to Yahawayadai the priest. ¹⁰ The priest delivered to the captains over hundreds the spears and shields that had been king Dawad's, which were in the house of Yahawah. ¹¹ The guard stood, every man with his weapons in his hand, from the right side of the house to the left side of the house, along by the altar and the house, by the king round about. ¹² Then he brought out the king's son, and put the crown on him, and [gave him] the testimony; and they made him king, and anointed him; and they clapped their hands, and said, [Long] live the king. ¹³ When Ithalahaw heard the noise of the guard [and of] the people, she came to the people into the house of Yahawah: ¹⁴ and she looked, and, behold, the king stood by the pillar, as the manner was, and the captains and the trumpets by the king; and all the people of the land rejoiced, and blew trumpets. Then Ithalahaw tore her clothes, and cried, Treason! treason! ¹⁵ Yahawayadai the priest commanded the captains of hundreds who were set over the host, and said to them, Have her forth between the ranks; and him who follows her kill with the sword. For the priest said, Don't let her be slain in the house of Yahawah.¹⁶ So they made way for her; and she went by the way of the horses' entry to the king's house: and there was she slain.¹⁷ Yahawayadai made a covenant between Yahawah and the king and the people, that they should be Yahawah's people; between the king also and the people.¹⁸ All the people of the land went to the house of Bail, and broke it down; his altars and his images broke they in pieces thoroughly, and killed Mathan the priest of Bail before the altars. The priest appointed officers over the house of Yahawah.¹⁹ He took the captains over hundreds, and the Carites, and the guard, and all the people of the land; and they brought down the king from the house of Yahawah, and came by the way of the gate of the guard to the king's house. He sat on the throne of the kings.²⁰ So all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet. Ithalayahaw they had slain with the sword at the king's house.

12 In the seventh year of Yahawaa began Yahawaash to reign; and he reigned forty years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Tzabayah of Beersheba.³ Yahawaash did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah all his days in which Yahawayadai the priest instructed him.⁴ However the high places were not taken away; the people still sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places.⁵ Yahawaash said to the priests, All the money of the holy things that is brought into the house of Yahawah, in current money, the money of the persons for whom each man is rated, and all the money that it comes into any man's heart to bring into the house of Yahawah,⁶ let the priests take it to them, every man from his acquaintance; and they shall repair the breaches of the house, wherever any breach shall be found.⁷ But it was so, that in the three and twentieth year of king Yahawaash the priests had not repaired the breaches of the house.⁸ Then king Yahawaash called for Yahawayadai the priest, and for the [other] priests, and said to them, Why don't you repair the breaches of the house? now therefore take no [more] money from your acquaintance, but deliver it for the breaches of the house.⁹ The priests consented that they should take no [more] money from the people, neither repair the breaches of the house.¹⁰ But Yahawayadai the priest took a chest, and bored a hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the right side as one comes into the house of Yahawah: and the priests who kept the threshold put therein all the money that was brought into the house of Yahawah.¹¹ It was so, when they saw that there was much money in the chest, that the king's scribe and the high priest came up, and they put up in bags and counted the money that was found in the house of Yahawah.¹² They gave the money that was weighed out into the hands of those who did the work, who had the oversight of the house of Yahawah: and they paid it out to the carpenters and the builders, who worked on the house of Yahawah,¹³ and to the masons and the stone cutters, and for buying timber and hewn stone to repair the breaches of the house of Yahawah, and for all that was laid out for the house to repair it.¹⁴ But there were not made for the house of Yahawah cups of silver, snuffers, basins, trumpets, any vessels of gold, or vessels of silver, of the money that was brought into the house of Yahawah;¹⁵ for they gave that to those who did the work, and repaired therewith the house of Yahawah.¹⁶ Moreover they didn't demand an accounting from the men into whose hand they delivered the money to give to those who did the work; for they dealt faithfully.¹⁷ The money for the trespass-offerings, and the money for the Sayan-offerings, was not brought into the house of Yahawah: it was the priests'.¹⁸ Then Chazaal king of Aram went up, and fought against Gath, and took it; and Chazaal set his face to go up to Yarawashalam.¹⁹ Yahawaash king of Yahawadah took all the holy things that Yahawashapat and Yahawaram and Achazayahaw, his fathers, kings of Yahawadah, had dedicated, and his own holy things, and all the gold that was found in the treasures of the house of Yahawah, and of the king's house, and sent it to Chazaal king of Aram: and he went away from Yarawashalam.²⁰ Now the rest of the acts of Yawaash, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?²¹ His servants arose, and made a conspiracy, and struck Yawaash at the house of Malawaa, [on the way] that goes down to Salaa.²² For Jozacar the son of Shimeath, and Yahawazabad the son of Shawamar, his servants, struck him, and he died; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of Dawad: and Amatzayahaw his son reigned in his place.

13 In the three and twentieth year of Yawaash the son of Achazayahaw, king of Yahawadah, Yahawaachaz the son of Yahawaa began to reign over Yasharaal in Shamarawan, [and reigned] seventeen years.² He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, and followed the sins of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, with which he made Yasharaal to sin; he didn't depart therefrom.³ The anger of Yahawah was kindled against Yasharaal, and he delivered them into the hand of Chazaal king of Aram, and into the hand of Ban the son of Chazaal, continually.⁴ Yahawaachaz begged Yahawah, and Yahawah listened to him; for he saw the oppression of Yasharaal, how that the king of Aram oppressed them.⁵ (Yahawah gave Yasharaal a savior, so that they went out from under the hand of the Aram; and the children of Yasharaal lived in their tents as before.⁶ Nevertheless they didn't depart from the sins of the house of Yarabaim, with which he made Yasharaal to sin, but walked therein: and there remained the Asherah also in Shamarawan.)⁷ For he didn't leave to Yahawaachaz of the people save fifty horsemen, and ten chariots, and ten thousand footmen; for the king of Aram destroyed them, and made them like the dust in threshing.⁸ Now the rest of the acts of Yahawaachaz, and all that he did, and his might, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?⁹ Yahawaachaz slept with his fathers; and they buried him in Shamarawan: and Yawaash his son reigned in his place.¹⁰ In the thirty-seventh year of Yawaash king of Yahawadah began Yahawaash the son of Yahawaachaz to reign over Yasharaal in Shamarawan, [and reigned] sixteen years.¹¹ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah; he didn't depart from all the sins of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, with which he made Yasharaal to sin; but he walked therein.¹² Now the rest of the acts of Yawaash, and all that he did, and his might with which he fought against Amatzayahaw king of Yahawadah, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?¹³ Yawaash slept with his fathers; and Yarabaim sat on his throne: and Yawaash was buried in Shamarawan with the kings of Yasharaal.¹⁴ Now Alayashai was fallen sick of his sickness whereof he died: and Yawaash the king of Yasharaal came down to him, and wept over him, and said, My father, my father, the chariots of Yasharaal and the horsemen of it!¹⁵ Alayashai said to him, Take bow and arrows; and he took to him bow and arrows.¹⁶ He said to the king of Yasharaal, Pawat your hand on the bow; and he put his hand [on it]. Alayashai laid his hands on the king's hands.¹⁷ He said, Open the window eastward; and he opened it. Then Alayashai said, Shoot; and he shot. He said, Yahawah's arrow of victory, even the arrow of victory over Aram; for you shall strike the Aram in Apaq, until you have consumed them.¹⁸ He said, Take the arrows; and he took them. He said to the king of Yasharaal, Smite on the ground; and he struck thrice, and stayed.¹⁹ The man of Alahayam was angry with him, and said, You should have struck five or six times: then had you struck Aram until you had consumed it, whereas now you shall strike Aram but thrice.²⁰ Alayashai died, and they buried him. Now the bands of the Moabites invaded the land at the coming in of the year.²¹ It happened, as they were burying a man, that behold, they spied a band; and they cast the man into the tomb of Alayashai: and as soon as the man touched the bones of Alayashai, he revived, and stood up on his feet.²² Chazaal king of Aram oppressed Yasharaal all the days of Yahawaachaz.²³ But Yahawah was gracious to them, and had compassion on them, and had respect to them, because of his covenant with Abaraham, Yatzachaq, and Yaiqab, and would not destroy them, neither cast he them from his presence as yet.²⁴ Chazaal king of Aram died; and Ban his son reigned in his place.²⁵ Yahawaash the son of Yahawaachaz took again out of the hand of Ban the son of Chazaal the cities which he had taken out of the hand of Yahawaachaz his father by war. Three times did Yawaash strike him, and recovered the cities of Yasharaal.

14 In the second year of Yawaash son of Yawaachaz king of Yasharaal began Amatzayahaw the son of Yawaash king of Yahawadah to reign.² He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned twenty-nine years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Jehoaddin of Yarawashalam.³ He did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, yet not like Dawad his father: he did according to all that Yawaash his father had done.⁴ However the high places were not taken away: the people still sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places.⁵ It happened, as soon as the kingdom was established in his hand, that he killed his servants who had slain the king his father:⁶ but the children of the murderers he didn't put to death; according to that which is written in the book of the law of Mashah, as Yahawah commanded, saying, The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children be put to death for the fathers; but every man shall die for his own sin.⁷ He killed of Adawam in the Valley of Salt ten thousand, and took Sela by war, and called the name of it Yaqathaal, to this day.⁸ Then Amatzayahaw sent messengers to Yahawaash, the son of Yahawaachaz son of Yahawaa, king of Yasharaal, saying, Come, let us look one another in the face.⁹ Yahawaash the king of Yasharaal sent to Amatzayahaw king of Yahawadah, saying, The thistle that was in Labanawan sent to the cedar that was in Labanawan, saying, Give your daughter to my son as wife: and there passed by a wild animal that was in Labanawan, and trod down the thistle.¹⁰ You have indeed struck Adawam, and your heart has lifted you up: glory of it, and abide at home; for why should you meddle to [your] hurt, that you should fall, even you, and Yahawadah with you?¹¹ But Amatzayahaw would not hear. So Yahawaash king of Yasharaal went up; and he and Amatzayahaw king of Yahawadah looked one another in the face at Bayath, which belongs to Yahawadah.¹² Yahawadah was put to the worse before Yasharaal; and they fled every man to his tent.¹³ Yahawaash king of Yasharaal took Amatzayahaw king of Yahawadah, the son of Yahawaash the son of Achazayahaw, at Bayath, and came to Yarawashalam, and broke down the wall of Yarawashalam from the gate of Aparayam to the corner gate, four hundred cubits.¹⁴ He took all the gold and silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of Yahawah, and in the treasures of the king's house, the hostages also, and returned to Shamarawan.¹⁵ Now the rest of the acts of Yahawaash which he did, and his might, and how he fought with Amatzayahaw king of Yahawadah, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?¹⁶ Yahawaash slept with his fathers, and was buried in Shamarawan with the kings of Yasharaal; and Yarabaim his son reigned in his place.¹⁷ Amatzayahaw the son of Yawaash king of Yahawadah lived after the death of Yahawaash son of Yahawaachaz king of Yasharaal fifteen years.¹⁸ Now the rest of the acts of Amatzayahaw, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?¹⁹ They made a conspiracy against him in Yarawashalam; and he fled to Lakayash: but they sent after him to Lakayash, and killed him there.²⁰ They brought him on horses; and he was buried at Yarawashalam with his fathers in the city of Dawad.²¹ All the people of Yahawadah took Izarayah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amatzayahaw.²² He built Ayalath, and restored it to Yahawadah, after that the king slept with his fathers.²³ In the fifteenth year of Amatzayahaw the son of Yawaash king of Yahawadah Yarabaim the son of Yawaash king of Yasharaal began to reign in Shamarawan, [and reigned] forty-one years.²⁴ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah: he didn't depart from all the sins of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, with which he made Yasharaal to sin.²⁵ He restored the border of Yasharaal from the entrance of Chamath to the sea of the Irabah, according to the word of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, which he spoke by his servant Yawanah the son of Amathay, the prophet, who was of Gath-Chapar.²⁶ For Yahawah saw the affliction of Yasharaal, that it was very bitter; for there was none shut up nor left at large, neither was there any helper for Yasharaal.²⁷ Yahawah didn't say that he would blot out the name of Yasharaal from under the sky; but he saved them by the hand of Yarabaim the son of Yawaash.²⁸ Now the rest of the acts of Yarabaim, and all that he did, and his might, how he warred, and how he recovered Damashaq, and Chamath, [which had belonged] to Yahawadah, for Yasharaal, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?²⁹ Yarabaim slept with his fathers, even with the kings of Yasharaal; and Zakarayah his son reigned in his place.

15 In the twenty-seventh year of Yarabaim king of Yasharaal began Izarayah son of Amatzayahaw king of Yahawadah to reign.² Sixteen years old was he when he began to reign; and he reigned fifty-two years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Yakayalayah of Yarawashalam.³ He did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, according to all that his father Amatzayahaw had done.⁴ However the high places were not taken away: the people still sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places.⁵ Yahawah struck the king, so that he was a leper to the day of his death, and lived in a separate house. Yawatham the king's son was over the household, judging the people of the land.⁶ Now the rest of the acts of Izarayah, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?⁷ Izarayah slept with his fathers; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of Dawad: and Yawatham his son reigned in his place.⁸ In the thirty-eighth year of Izarayah king of Yahawadah did Zakarayah the son of Yarabaim reign over Yasharaal in Shamarawan six months.⁹ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, as his fathers had done: he didn't depart from the sins of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, with which he made Yasharaal to sin.¹⁰ Shalawam the son of Jabesh conspired against him, and struck him before the people, and killed him, and reigned in his place.¹¹ Now the rest of the acts of Zakarayah, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal.¹² This was the word of Yahawah which he spoke to Yahawaa, saying, Your sons to the fourth generation shall sit on the throne of Yasharaal. So it came to pass.¹³ Shalawam the son of Jabesh began to reign in the nine and thirtieth year of Izayahaw king of Yahawadah; and he reigned the space of a month in Shamarawan.¹⁴ Manacham the son of Gaday went up from Tharatzah, and came to Shamarawan, and struck Shalawam the son of Jabesh in Shamarawan, and killed him, and reigned in his place.¹⁵ Now the rest of the acts of Shalawam, and his conspiracy which he made, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal.¹⁶ Then Manacham struck Tiphseh, and all who were therein, and the borders of it, from Tharatzah: because they didn't open to him, therefore he struck it; and all the women therein who were with child he ripped up.¹⁷ In the nine and thirtieth year of Izarayah king of Yahawadah began Manacham the son of Gaday to reign over Yasharaal, [and reigned] ten years in Shamarawan.¹⁸ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah: he didn't depart all his days from the sins of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, with which he made Yasharaal to sin.¹⁹ There came against the land Pawal the king of Ashawar; and Manacham gave Pawal one thousand talents of silver, that his hand might be with him to confirm the kingdom in his hand.²⁰ Manacham exacted the money of Yasharaal, even of all the mighty men of wealth, of each man fifty shekels of silver, to give to the king of Ashawar. So the king of Ashawar turned back, and didn't stay there in the land.²¹ Now the rest of the acts of Manacham, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal?²² Manacham slept with his fathers; and Paqachayah his son reigned in his place.²³ In the fiftieth year of Izarayah king of Yahawadah Paqachayah the son of Manacham began to reign over Yasharaal in Shamarawan, [and reigned] two years.²⁴ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah: he didn't depart from the sins of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, with which he made Yasharaal to sin.²⁵ Paqach the son of Ramalayahaw, his captain, conspired against him, and struck him in Shamarawan, in the castle of the king's house, with Aragab and Arayah; and with him were fifty men of the Gileadites: and he killed him, and reigned in his place.²⁶ Now the rest of the acts of Paqachayah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal.²⁷ In the two and fiftieth year of Izarayah king of Yahawadah Paqach the son of Ramalayahaw began to reign over Yasharaal in Shamarawan, [and reigned] twenty years.²⁸ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah: he didn't depart from the sins of Yarabaim the son of Nabat, with which he made Yasharaal to sin.²⁹ In the days of Paqach king of Yasharaal came Thagalath king of Ashawar, and took Iyawan, and Habal-Bayath-maacah, and Yanawach, and Qadash, and Chatzawar, and Galaid, and Galayal, all the land of Napathalay; and he carried them captive to Ashawar.³⁰ Hawashai the son of Alah made a conspiracy against Paqach the son of Ramalayahaw, and struck him, and killed him, and reigned in his place, in the twentieth year of Yawatham the son of Izayahaw.³¹ Now the rest of the acts of Paqach, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yasharaal.³² In the second year of Paqach the son of Ramalayahaw king of Yasharaal began Yawatham the son of Izayahaw king of Yahawadah to reign.³³ He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned sixteen years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Yarawashaa the daughter of Tzadawaq.³⁴ He did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah; he did according to all that his father Izayahaw had done.³⁵ However the high places were not taken away: the people still sacrificed and burned incense in the high places. He built the upper gate of the house of Yahawah.³⁶ Now the rest of the acts of Yawatham, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?³⁷ In those days Yahawah began to send against Yahawadah Ratzayan the king of Aram, and Paqach the son of Ramalayahaw.³⁸ Yawatham slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dawad his father: and Achaz his son reigned in his place.

16 In the seventeenth year of Paqach the son of Ramalayahaw Achaz the son of Yawatham king of Yahawadah began to reign.² Twenty years old was Achaz when he began to reign; and he reigned sixteen years in Yarawashalam: and he didn't do that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah his Alahayam, like Dawad his father.³ But he walked in the way of the kings of Yasharaal, yes, and made his son to pass through the fire, according to the abominations of the nations, whom Yahawah cast out from before the children of Yasharaal.⁴ He sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.⁵ Then Ratzayan king of Aram and Paqach son of Ramalayahaw king of Yasharaal came up to Yarawashalam to war: and they besieged Achaz, but could not overcome him.⁶ At that time Ratzayan king of Aram recovered Ayalath to Aram, and drove the Jews from Ayalath; and the Aram came to Ayalath, and lived there, to this day.⁷ So Achaz sent messengers to Thagalath king of Ashawar, saying, I am your servant and your son: come up, and save me out of the hand of the king of Aram, and out of the hand of the king of Yasharaal, who rise up against me.⁸ Achaz took the silver and gold that was found in the house of Yahawah, and in the treasures of the king's house, and sent it for a present to the king of Ashawar.⁹ The king of Ashawar listened to him; and the king of Ashawar went up against Damashaq, and took it, and carried [the people of] it captive to Qayar, and killed Ratzayan.¹⁰ King Achaz went to Damashaq to meet Thagalath king of Ashawar, and saw the altar that was at Damashaq; and king Achaz sent to Awarayah the priest the fashion of the altar, and the pattern of it, according to all the workmanship of it.¹¹ Awarayah the priest built an altar: according to all that king Achaz had sent from Damashaq, so did Awarayah the priest make it against the coming of king Achaz from Damashaq.¹² When the king was come from Damashaq, the king saw the altar: and the king drew near to the altar, and offered thereon.¹³ He burnt his burnt offering and his meal-offering, and poured his drink-offering, and sprinkled the blood of his peace-offerings, on the altar.¹⁴ The brazen altar, which was before Yahawah, he brought from the forefront of the house, from between his altar and the house of Yahawah, and put it on the north side of his altar.¹⁵ King Achaz commanded Awarayah the priest, saying, On the great altar burn the morning burnt offering, and the evening meal-offering, and the king's burnt offering, and his meal-offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their meal-offering, and their drink-offerings; and sprinkle on it all the blood of the burnt offering, and all the blood of the sacrifice: but the brazen altar shall be for me to inquire by.¹⁶ Thus did Awarayah the priest, according to all that king Achaz commanded.¹⁷ King Achaz cut off the panels of the bases, and removed the basin from off them, and took down the sea from off the brazen oxen that were under it, and put it on a pavement of stone.¹⁸ The covered way for the Sabbath that they had built in the house, and the king's entry outside, turned he to the house of Yahawah, because of the king of Ashawar.¹⁹ Now the rest of the acts of Achaz which he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?²⁰ Achaz slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dawad: and Chazaqayahaw his son reigned in his place.

17 In the twelfth year of Achaz king of Yahawadah began Hawashai the son of Alah to reign in Shamarawan over Yasharaal, [and reigned] nine years.² He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, yet not as the kings of Yasharaal who were before him.³ Against him came up Shalamanaasar king of Ashawar; and Hawashai became his servant, and brought him tribute.⁴ The king of Ashawar found conspiracy in Hawashai; for he had sent messengers to So king of Matzarayam, and offered no tribute to the king of Ashawar, as he had done year by year: therefore the king of Ashawar shut him up, and bound him in prison.⁵ Then the king of Ashawar came up throughout all the land, and went up to Shamarawan, and besieged it three years.⁶ In the ninth year of Hawashai the king of Ashawar took Shamarawan, and carried Yasharaal away to Ashawar, and placed them in Chalach, and on the Chabawar, the river of Gawazan, and in the cities of the Maday.⁷ It was so, because the children of Yasharaal had sinned against Yahawah their Alahayam, who brought them up out of the land of Matzarayam from under the hand of Paraih king of Matzarayam, and had feared other gods,⁸ and walked in the statutes of the nations, whom Yahawah cast out from before the children of Yasharaal, and of the kings of Yasharaal, which they made.⁹ The children of Yasharaal did secretly things that were not right against Yahawah their Alahayam: and they built them high places in all their cities, from the tower of the watchmen to the fortified city;¹⁰ and they set them up pillars and Asherim on every high hill, and under every green tree;¹¹ and there they burnt incense in all the high places, as did the nations whom Yahawah carried away before them; and they worked wicked things to provoke Yahawah to anger;¹² and they served idols, whereof Yahawah had said to them, You shall not do this thing.¹³ Yet Yahawah testified to Yasharaal, and to Yahawadah, by every prophet, and every seer, saying, Turn you from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my statutes, according to all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my servants the prophets.¹⁴ Notwithstanding, they would not hear, but hardened their neck, like the neck of their fathers, who didn't believe in Yahawah their Alahayam.¹⁵ They rejected his statutes, and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies which he testified to them; and they followed vanity, and became vain, and [went] after the nations that were round about them, concerning whom Yahawah had charged those who they should not do like them.¹⁶ They forsook all the commandments of Yahawah their Alahayam, and made them molten images, even two calves, and made an Asherah, and worshipped all the host of the sky, and served Bail.¹⁷ They caused their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire, and used divination and enchantments, and sold themselves to do that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, to provoke him to anger.¹⁸ Therefore Yahawah was very angry with Yasharaal, and removed them out of his sight: there was none left but the tribe of Yahawadah only.¹⁹ Also Yahawadah didn't keep the commandments of Yahawah their Alahayam, but walked in the statutes of Yasharaal which they made.²⁰ Yahawah rejected all the seed of Yasharaal, and afflicted them, and delivered them into the hand of spoilers, until he had cast them out of his sight.²¹ For he tore Yasharaal from the house of Dawad; and they made Yarabaim the son of Nabat king; and Yarabaim drove Yasharaal from following Yahawah, and made them sin a great sin.²² The children of Yasharaal walked in all the sins of Yarabaim which he did; they didn't depart from them;²³ until Yahawah removed Yasharaal out of his sight, as he spoke by all his servants the prophets. So Yasharaal was carried away out of their own land to Ashawar to this day.²⁴ The king of Ashawar brought men from Babal, and from Cuthah, and from Avva, and from Chamath and Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Shamarawan instead of the children of Yasharaal; and they possessed Shamarawan, and lived in the cities of it.²⁵ So it was, at the beginning of their dwelling there, that they didn't fear Yahawah: therefore Yahawah sent lions among them, which killed some of them.²⁶ Therefore they spoke to the king of Ashawar, saying, The nations which you have carried away, and placed in the cities of Shamarawan, don't know the law of the god of the land: therefore he has sent lions among them, and, behold, they kill them, because they don't know the law of the god of the land.²⁷ Then the king of Ashawar commanded, saying, Carry there one of the priests whom you brought from there; and let them go and dwell there, and let him teach them the law of the god of the land.²⁸ So one of the priests whom they had carried away from Shamarawan came and lived in Bethel, and taught them how they should fear Yahawah.²⁹ However every nation made gods of their own, and put them in the houses of the high places which the Samaritans had made, every nation in their cities in which they lived.³⁰ The men of Babal made Sakawath-Banawath, and the men of Kawath made Naragal, and the men of Chamath made Ashayamaa,³¹ and the Avvites made Nabachaz and Tharatha; and the Sepharvites burnt their children in the fire to Adaramalak and Inamalak, the gods of Sepharvaim.³² So they feared Yahawah, and made to them from among themselves priests of the high places, who sacrificed for them in the houses of the high places.³³ They feared Yahawah, and served their own gods, after the manner of the nations from among whom they had been carried away.³⁴ To this day they do after the former manner: they don't fear Yahawah, neither do they after their statutes, or after their ordinances, or after the law or after the commandment which Yahawah commanded the children of Yaiqab, whom he named Yasharaal;³⁵ with whom Yahawah had made a covenant, and charged them, saying, You shall not fear other gods, nor bow yourselves to them, nor serve them, nor sacrifice to them:³⁶ but Yahawah, who brought you up out of the land of Matzarayam with great power and with an outstretched arm, him shall you fear, and to him shall you bow yourselves, and to him shall you sacrifice:³⁷ and the statutes and the ordinances, and the law and the commandment, which he wrote for you, you shall observe to do forevermore; and you shall not fear other gods:³⁸ and the covenant that I have made with you you shall not forget; neither shall you fear other gods:³⁹ but Yahawah your Alahayam shall you fear; and he will deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies.⁴⁰ However they did not listen, but they did after their former manner.⁴¹ So these nations feared Yahawah, and served their engraved images; their children likewise, and their children's children, as did their fathers, so do they to this day.

18 Now it happened in the third year of Hawashai son of Alah king of Yasharaal, that Chazaqayahaw the son of Achaz king of Yahawadah began to reign.² He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned twenty-nine years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Abay the daughter of Zakarayah.³ He did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, according to all that Dawad his father had done.⁴ He removed the high places, and broke the pillars, and cut down the Asherah: and he broke in pieces the brazen serpent that Mashah had made; for to those days the children of Yasharaal did burn incense to it; and he called it Nachashathan.⁵ He trusted in Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal; so that after him was none like him among all the kings of Yahawadah, nor [among them] that were before him.⁶ For he joined with Yahawah; he didn't depart from following him, but kept his commandments, which Yahawah commanded Mashah.

⁷ Yahawah was with him; wherever he went forth he prospered: and he rebelled against the king of Ashawar, and didn't serve him.⁸ He struck the Palashath to Izah and the borders of it, from the tower of the watchmen to the fortified city.⁹ It happened in the fourth year of king Chazaqayahaw, which was the seventh year of Hawashai son of Alah king of Yasharaal, that Shalamanaasar king of Ashawar came up against Shamarawan, and besieged it.¹⁰ At the end of three years they took it: in the sixth year of Chazaqayahaw, which was the ninth year of Hawashai king of Yasharaal, Shamarawan was taken.¹¹ The king of Ashawar carried Yasharaal away to Ashawar, and put them in Chalach, and on the Chabawar, the river of Gawazan, and in the cities of the Maday,¹² because they didn't obey the voice of Yahawah their Alahayam, but transgressed his covenant, even all that Mashah the servant of Yahawah commanded, and would not hear it, nor do it.¹³ Now in the fourteenth year of king Chazaqayahaw did Sanacharayab king of Ashawar come up against all the fortified cities of Yahawadah, and took them.¹⁴ Chazaqayahaw king of Yahawadah sent to the king of Ashawar to Lakayash, saying, I have offended; return from me: that which you put on me will I bear. The king of Ashawar appointed to Chazaqayahaw king of Yahawadah three hundred talents of silver and thirty talents of gold.¹⁵ Chazaqayahaw gave [him] all the silver that was found in the house of Yahawah, and in the treasures of the king's house.¹⁶ At that time did Chazaqayahaw cut off [the gold from] the doors of the temple of Yahawah, and [from] the pillars which Chazaqayahaw king of Yahawadah had overlaid, and gave it to the king of Ashawar.¹⁷ The king of Ashawar sent Tharathan and Rab-saris and Shaqah from Lakayash to king Chazaqayahaw with a great army to Yarawashalam. They went up and came to Yarawashalam. When they were come up, they came and stood by the conduit of the upper pool, which is in the highway of the fuller's field.¹⁸ When they had called to the king, there came out to them Alayaqayam the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, and Shabanaa the scribe, and Yawaach the son of Asap the recorder.¹⁹ Shaqah said to them, Say you now to Chazaqayahaw, Thus says the great king, the king of Ashawar, What confidence is this in which you trust?²⁰ You say (but they are but vain words), [There is] counsel and strength for the war. Now on whom do you trust, that you have rebelled against me?²¹ Now, behold, you trust on the staff of this bruised reed, even on Matzarayam; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Paraih king of Matzarayam to all who trust on him.²² But if you tell me, We trust in Yahawah our Alahayam; isn't that he whose high places and whose altars Chazaqayahaw has taken away, and has said to Yahawadah and to Yarawashalam, You shall worship before this altar in Yarawashalam?²³ Now therefore, Please give pledges to my master the king of Ashawar, and I will give you two thousand horses, if you be able on your part to set riders on them.²⁴ How then can you turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put your trust on Matzarayam for chariots and for horsemen?²⁵ Am I now come up without Yahawah against this place to destroy it? Yahawah said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.²⁶ Then said Alayaqayam the son of Hilkiah, and Shabanaa, and Yawaach, to Shaqah, Please speak to your servants in the Syrian language; for we understand it: and don't speak with us in the Jews' language, in the ears of the people who are on the wall.²⁷ But Shaqah said to them, Has my master sent me to your master, and to you, to speak these words? Hasn't he sent me to the men who sit on the wall, to eat their own dung, and to drink their own water with you?²⁸ Then Shaqah stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and spoke, saying, Hear you the word of the great king, the king of Ashawar.²⁹ Thus says the king, Don't let Chazaqayahaw deceive you; for he will not be able to deliver you out of his hand:³⁰ neither let Chazaqayahaw make you trust in Yahawah, saying, Yahawah will surely deliver us, and this city shall not be given into the hand of the king of Ashawar.³¹ Don't listen to Chazaqayahaw: for thus says the king of Ashawar, Make your peace with me, and come out to me; and eat you everyone of his vine, and everyone of his fig-tree, and everyone drink the waters of his own cistern; ³² Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of olive-trees and of honey, that you may live, and not die: and don't listen to Chazaqayahaw, when he persuades you, saying, Yahawah will deliver us. ³³ Has any of the gods of the nations ever delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Ashawar? ³⁴ Where are the gods of Chamath, and of Arapad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim, of Hanai, and Iwah? have they delivered Shamarawan out of my hand? ³⁵ Who are they among all the gods of the countries, that have delivered their country out of my hand, that Yahawah should deliver Yarawashalam out of my hand? ³⁶ But the people held their peace, and answered him not a word; for the king's commandment was, saying, Don't answer him. ³⁷ Then came Alayaqayam the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, and Shabanaa the scribe, and Yawaach the son of Asap the recorder, to Chazaqayahaw with their clothes torn, and told him the words of Shaqah.

19 It happened, when king Chazaqayahaw heard it, that he tore his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of Yahawah. ² He sent Alayaqayam, who was over the household, and Shabanaa the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, to Yashaiyahaw the prophet the son of Amawatz. ³ They said to him, Thus says Chazaqayahaw, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of rejection; for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth. ⁴ It may be Yahawah your Alahayam will hear all the words of Shaqah, whom the king of Ashawar his master has sent to defy the living Alahayam, and will rebuke the words which Yahawah your Alahayam has heard: why lift up your prayer for the remnant that is left. ⁵ So the servants of king Chazaqayahaw came to Yashaiyahaw. ⁶ Yashaiyahaw said to them, Thus shall you tell your master, Thus says Yahawah, Don't be afraid of the words that you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Ashawar have blasphemed me. ⁷ Behold, I will put a spirit in him, and he shall hear news, and shall return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land. ⁸ So Shaqah returned, and found the king of Ashawar warring against Labanah; for he had heard that he was departed from Lakayash. ⁹ When he heard say of Tharahaqah king of Kawash, Behold, he is come out to fight against you, he sent messengers again to Chazaqayahaw, saying, ¹⁰ Thus shall you speak to Chazaqayahaw king of Yahawadah, saying, Don't let your Alahayam in whom you trust deceive you, saying, Yarawashalam shall not be given into the hand of the king of Ashawar. ¹¹ Behold, you have heard what the kings of Ashawar have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly: and shall you be delivered? ¹² Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed, Gawazan, and Charan, and Ratzap, and the children of Idan that were in Thalaashar? ¹³ Where is the king of Chamath, and the king of Arapad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hanai, and Iwah? ¹⁴ Chazaqayahaw received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it; and Chazaqayahaw went up to the house of Yahawah, and spread it before Yahawah. ¹⁵ Chazaqayahaw prayed before Yahawah, and said, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, who sit [above] the cherubim, you are the Alahayam, even you alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; you have made heaven and earth. ¹⁶ Incline your ear, Yahawah, and hear; open your eyes, Yahawah, and see; and hear the words of Sanacharayab, with which he has sent him to defy the living Alahayam. ¹⁷ Of a truth, Yahawah, the kings of Ashawar have laid waste the nations and their lands, ¹⁸ and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them. ¹⁹ Now therefore, Yahawah our Alahayam, save you us, I beg you, out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you Yahawah are Alahayam alone. ²⁰ Then Yashaiyahaw the son of Amawatz sent to Chazaqayahaw, saying, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, Whereas you have prayed to me against Sanacharayab king of Ashawar, I have heard [you]. ²¹ This is the word that Yahawah has spoken concerning him: The virgin daughter of

Tzayawan has despised you and laughed you to scorn; the daughter of Yarawashalam has shaken her head at you. ²² Whom have you defied and blasphemed? and against whom have you exalted your voice and lifted up your eyes on high? [even] against the Holy One of Yasharaal. ²³ By your messengers you have defied the Adanay, and have said, With the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the innermost parts of Labanawan; and I will cut down the tall cedars of it, and the choice fir-trees of it; and I will enter into his farthest lodging-place, the forest of his fruitful field. ²⁴ I have dug and drunk strange waters, and with the sole of my feet will I dry up all the rivers of Matzarayam. ²⁵ Haven't you heard how I have done it long ago, and formed it of ancient times? now have I brought it to pass, that it should be yours to lay waste fortified cities into ruinous heaps. ²⁶ Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded; they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the housetops, and as grain blasted before it is grown up. ²⁷ But I know your sitting down, and your going out, and your coming in, and your raging against me. ²⁸ Because of your raging against me, and because your arrogance is come up into my ears, therefore will I put my hook in your nose, and my bridle in your lips, and I will turn you back by the way by which you came. ²⁹ This shall be the sign to you: You shall eat this year that which grows of itself, and in the second year that which springs of the same; and in the third year sow you, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of it. ³⁰ The remnant that has escaped of the house of Yahawadah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward. ³¹ For out of Yarawashalam shall go forth a remnant, and out of Mount Tzayawan those who shall escape: the zeal of Yahawah shall perform this. ³² Therefore thus says Yahawah concerning the king of Ashawar, He shall not come to this city, nor shoot an arrow there, neither shall he come before it with shield, nor cast up a mound against it. ³³ By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and he shall not come to this city, says Yahawah. ³⁴ For I will defend this city to save it, for my own sake, and for my servant Dawad's sake. ³⁵ It happened that night, that the angel of Yahawah went forth, and struck in the camp of the Ashawar one hundred eighty-five thousand: and when men arose early in the morning, behold, these were all dead bodies. ³⁶ So Sanacharayab king of Ashawar departed, and went and returned, and lived at Nayanawah. ³⁷ It happened, as he was worshipping in the house of Nasarak his god, that Adaramalak and Sharaatzar struck him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Ararat. Asar his son reigned in his place.

20 In those days was Chazaqayahaw sick to death. Yashaiyahaw the prophet the son of Amawatz came to him, and said to him, Thus says Yahawah, Set your house in order: for you shall die, and not live. ² Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed to Yahawah, saying, ³ Remember now, Yahawah, I beg you, how I have walked before you in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in your sight. Chazaqayahaw wept sore. ⁴ It happened, before Yashaiyahaw was gone out into the middle part of the city, that the word of Yahawah came to him, saying, ⁵ Turn back, and tell Chazaqayahaw the prince of my people, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Dawad your father, I have heard your prayer, I have seen your tears: behold, I will heal you; on the third day you shall go up to the house of Yahawah. ⁶ I will add to your days fifteen years; and I will deliver you and this city out of the hand of the king of Ashawar; and I will defend this city for my own sake, and for my servant Dawad's sake. ⁷ Yashaiyahaw said, Take a cake of figs. They took and laid it on the boil, and he recovered. ⁸ Chazaqayahaw said to Yashaiyahaw, What shall be the sign that Yahawah will heal me, and that I shall go up to the house of Yahawah the third day? ⁹ Yashaiyahaw said, This shall be the sign to you from Yahawah, that Yahawah will do the thing that he has spoken: shall the shadow go forward ten steps, or go back ten steps? ¹⁰ Chazaqayahaw answered, It is a light thing for the shadow to decline ten steps: nay, but let the shadow return backward ten steps. ¹¹ Yashaiyahaw the prophet cried to Yahawah; and he brought the shadow ten steps backward, by which it had gone down on the dial of Achaz.¹² At that time Balaadan the son of Balaadan, king of Babal, sent letters and a present to Chazaqayahaw; for he had heard that Chazaqayahaw had been sick.¹³ Chazaqayahaw listened to them, and showed them all the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oil, and the house of his armor, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Chazaqayahaw didn't show them.¹⁴ Then came Yashaiyahaw the prophet to king Chazaqayahaw, and said to him, What said these men? and from whence came they to you? Chazaqayahaw said, They are come from a far country, even from Babal.¹⁵ He said, What have they seen in your house? Chazaqayahaw answered, All that is in my house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not showed them.¹⁶ Yashaiyahaw said to Chazaqayahaw, Hear the word of Yahawah.¹⁷ Behold, the days come, that all that is in your house, and that which your fathers have laid up in store to this day, shall be carried to Babal: nothing shall be left, says Yahawah.¹⁸ Of your sons who shall issue from you, whom you shall father, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babal.¹⁹ Then said Chazaqayahaw to Yashaiyahaw, Good is the word of Yahawah which you have spoken. He said moreover, Isn't it so, if peace and truth shall be in my days?²⁰ Now the rest of the acts of Chazaqayahaw, and all his might, and how he made the pool, and the conduit, and brought water into the city, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?²¹ Chazaqayahaw slept with his fathers; and Manashah his son reigned in his place.

21 Manashah was twelve years old when he began to reign; and he reigned fifty-five years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Hephzibah.² He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, after the abominations of the nations whom Yahawah cast out before the children of Yasharaal.³ For he built again the high places which Chazaqayahaw his father had destroyed; and he reared up altars for Bail, and made an Asherah, as did Achaab king of Yasharaal, and worshipped all the host of the sky, and served them.⁴ He built altars in the house of Yahawah, whereof Yahawah said, In Yarawashalam will I put my name.⁵ He built altars for all the host of the sky in the two courts of the house of Yahawah.⁶ He made his son to pass through the fire, and practiced sorcery, and used enchantments, and dealt with those who had familiar spirits, and with wizards: he worked much evil in the sight of Yahawah, to provoke him to anger.⁷ He set the engraved image of Asherah, that he had made, in the house of which Yahawah said to Dawad and to Shalamah his son, In this house, and in Yarawashalam, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Yasharaal, will I put my name forever;⁸ neither will I cause the feet of Yasharaal to wander any more out of the land which I gave their fathers, if only they will observe to do according to all that I have commanded them, and according to all the law that my servant Mashah commanded them.⁹ But they didn't listen: and Manashah seduced them to do that which is evil more than did the nations whom Yahawah destroyed before the children of Yasharaal.¹⁰ Yahawah spoke by his servants the prophets, saying,¹¹ Because Manashah king of Yahawadah has done these abominations, and has done wickedly above all that the Amorites did, who were before him, and has made Yahawadah also to sin with his idols;¹² therefore thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, Behold, I bring such evil on Yarawashalam and Yahawadah, that whoever hears of it, both his ears shall tingle.¹³ I will stretch over Yarawashalam the line of Shamarawan, and the plummet of the house of Achaab; and I will wipe Yarawashalam as a man wipes a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down.¹⁴ I will cast off the remnant of my inheritance, and deliver them into the hand of their enemies; and they shall become a prey and a spoil to all their enemies;¹⁵ because they have done that which is evil in my sight, and have provoked me to anger, since the day their fathers came forth out of Matzarayam, even to this day.¹⁶ Moreover Manashah shed innocent blood very much, until he had filled

Yarawashalam from one end to another; besides his sin with which he made Yahawadah to sin, in doing that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah.¹⁷ Now the rest of the acts of Manashah, and all that he did, and his sin that he sinned, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?¹⁸ Manashah slept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his own house, in the garden of Izaa: and Amawan his son reigned in his place.¹⁹ Amawan was twenty-two years old when he began to reign; and he reigned two years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Mashalamath the daughter of Charawatz of Yatabah.²⁰ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, as did Manashah his father.²¹ He walked in all the way that his father walked in, and served the idols that his father served, and worshipped them:²² and he forsook Yahawah, the Alahayam of his fathers, and didn't walk in the way of Yahawah.²³ The servants of Amawan conspired against him, and put the king to death in his own house.²⁴ But the people of the land killed all those who had conspired against king Amawan; and the people of the land made Yaashayahaw his son king in his place.²⁵ Now the rest of the acts of Amawan which he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?²⁶ He was buried in his tomb in the garden of Izaa: and Yaashayahaw his son reigned in his place.

22 Yaashayahaw was eight years old when he began to reign; and he reigned thirty-one years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Yadayah the daughter of Idayah of Bozkath.² He did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, and walked in all the way of Dawad his father, and didn't turn aside to the right hand or to the left.³ It happened in the eighteenth year of king Yaashayahaw, that the king sent Shaphan, the son of Atzalayahaw the son of Mashalam, the scribe, to the house of Yahawah, saying,⁴ Go up to Hilkiah the high priest, that he may sum the money which is brought into the house of Yahawah, which the keepers of the threshold have gathered of the people:⁵ and let them deliver it into the hand of the workmen who have the oversight of the house of Yahawah; and let them give it to the workmen who are in the house of Yahawah, to repair the breaches of the house,⁶ to the carpenters, and to the builders, and to the masons, and for buying timber and hewn stone to repair the house.⁷ However there was no reckoning made with them of the money that was delivered into their hand; for they dealt faithfully.⁸ Hilkiah the high priest said to Shaphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of Yahawah. Hilkiah delivered the book to Shaphan, and he read it.⁹ Shaphan the scribe came to the king, and brought the king word again, and said, Your servants have emptied out the money that was found in the house, and have delivered it into the hand of the workmen who have the oversight of the house of Yahawah.¹⁰ Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, Hilkiah the priest has delivered me a book. Shaphan read it before the king.¹¹ It happened, when the king had heard the words of the book of the law, that he tore his clothes.¹² The king commanded Hilkiah the priest, and Achayaqam the son of Shaphan, and Ikabawar the son of Mayakah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Ishayah the king's servant, saying,¹³ Go you, inquire of Yahawah for me, and for the people, and for all Yahawadah, concerning the words of this book that is found; for great is the wrath of Yahawah that is kindled against us, because our fathers have not listened to the words of this book, to do according to all that which is written concerning us.¹⁴ So Hilkiah the priest, and Achayaqam, and Ikabawar, and Shaphan, and Ishayah, went to Chaladah the prophetess, the wife of Shalawam the son of Thaqawah, the son of Charachas, keeper of the wardrobe (now she lived in Yarawashalam in the second quarter); and they talked with her.¹⁵ She said to them, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal: Tell you the man who sent you to me,¹⁶ Thus says Yahawah, Behold, I will bring evil on this place, and on the inhabitants of it, even all the words of the book which the king of Yahawadah has read.¹⁷ Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense to other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the work of their hands, therefore my wrath shall be kindled against this place, and it shall not be quenched.¹⁸ But to the king of Yahawadah, who sent you to inquire of Yahawah, thus shall you tell him, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal: As touching the words which you have heard,¹⁹ because your heart was tender, and you did humble yourself before Yahawah, when you heard what I spoke against this place, and against the inhabitants of it, that they should become a desolation and a curse, and have torn your clothes, and wept before me; I also have heard you, says Yahawah.²⁰ Therefore, behold, I will gather you to your fathers, and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace, neither shall your eyes see all the evil which I will bring on this place. They brought the king word again.

23 The king sent, and they gathered to him all the elders of Yahawadah and of Yarawashalam.² The king went up to the house of Yahawah, and all the men of Yahawadah and all the inhabitants of Yarawashalam with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people, both small and great: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant which was found in the house of Yahawah.³ The king stood by the pillar, and made a covenant before Yahawah, to walk after Yahawah, and to keep his commandments, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all [his] heart, and all [his] soul, to confirm the words of this covenant that were written in this book: and all the people stood to the covenant.⁴ The king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, and the priests of the second order, and the keepers of the threshold, to bring forth out of the temple of Yahawah all the vessels that were made for Bail, and for the Asherah, and for all the host of the sky, and he burned them outside of Yarawashalam in the fields of the Qadarawan, and carried the ashes of them to Bethel.⁵ He put down the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Yahawadah had ordained to burn incense in the high places in the cities of Yahawadah, and in the places round about Yarawashalam; those also who burned incense to Bail, to the sun, and to the moon, and to the planets, and to all the host of the sky.⁶ He brought out the Asherah from the house of Yahawah, outside of Yarawashalam, to the brook Qadarawan, and burned it at the brook Qadarawan, and beat it to dust, and cast the dust of it on the graves of the common people.⁷ He broke down the houses of the sodomites, that were in the house of Yahawah, where the women wove hangings for the Asherah.⁸ He brought all the priests out of the cities of Yahawadah, and defiled the high places where the priests had burned incense, from Gabai to Beersheba; and he broke down the high places of the gates that were at the entrance of the gate of Yahawashai the governor of the city, which were on a man's left hand at the gate of the city.⁹ Nevertheless the priests of the high places didn't come up to the altar of Yahawah in Yarawashalam, but they ate unleavened bread among their brothers.¹⁰ He defiled Thapath, which is in the valley of the children of Hanam, that no man might make his son or his daughter to pass through the fire to Malak.¹¹ He took away the horses that the kings of Yahawadah had given to the sun, at the entrance of the house of Yahawah, by the chamber of Nathan-Malak the chamberlain, which was in the precincts; and he burned the chariots of the sun with fire.¹² The altars that were on the roof of the upper chamber of Achaz, which the kings of Yahawadah had made, and the altars which Manashah had made in the two courts of the house of Yahawah, did the king break down, and beat [them] down from there, and cast the dust of them into the brook Qadarawan.¹³ The high places that were before Yarawashalam, which were on the right hand of the mountain of corruption, which Shalamah the king of Yasharaal had built for Ishatharath the abomination of the Sidonians, and for Kamawash the abomination of Mawaab, and for Malakam the abomination of the children of Imawan, did the king defile.¹⁴ He broke in pieces the pillars, and cut down the Asherim, and filled their places with the bones of men.¹⁵ Moreover the altar that was at Bethel, and the high place which Yarabaim the son of Nabat, who made Yasharaal to sin, had made, even that altar and the high place he broke down; and he burned the high place and beat it to dust, and burned the Asherah.¹⁶ As Yaashayahaw turned himself, he spied the tombs that were there in the mountain; and he sent, and took the bones out of the tombs, and burned them on the altar, and defiled it, according to the word of Yahawah which the man of Alahayam proclaimed, who proclaimed these things.¹⁷ Then he said, What monument is that which I see? The men of the city told him, It is the tomb of the man of Alahayam, who came from Yahawadah, and proclaimed these things that you have done against the altar of Bethel.¹⁸ He said, Let him be; let no man move his bones. So they let his bones alone, with the bones of the prophet who came out of Shamarawan.¹⁹ All the houses also of the high places that were in the cities of Shamarawan, which the kings of Yasharaal had made to provoke [Yahawah] to anger, Yaashayahaw took away, and did to them according to all the acts that he had done in Bethel.²⁰ He killed all the priests of the high places that were there, on the altars, and burned men's bones on them; and he returned to Yarawashalam.²¹ The king commanded all the people, saying, Keep the Passover to Yahawah your Alahayam, as it is written in this book of the covenant.²² Surely there was not kept such a Passover from the days of the judges who judged Yasharaal, nor in all the days of the kings of Yasharaal, nor of the kings of Yahawadah;²³ but in the eighteenth year of king Yaashayahaw was this Passover kept to Yahawah in Yarawashalam.²⁴ Moreover those who had familiar spirits, and the wizards, and the teraphim, and the idols, and all the abominations that were seen in the land of Yahawadah and in Yarawashalam, did Yaashayahaw put away, that he might confirm the words of the law which were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of Yahawah.²⁵ Like him was there no king before him, who turned to Yahawah with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Mashah; neither after him arose there any like him.²⁶ Notwithstanding, Yahawah didn't turn from the fierceness of his great wrath, with which his anger was kindled against Yahawadah, because of all the provocation with which Manashah had provoked him.²⁷ Yahawah said, I will remove Yahawadah also out of my sight, as I have removed Yasharaal, and I will cast off this city which I have chosen, even Yarawashalam, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there.²⁸ Now the rest of the acts of Yaashayahaw, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?²⁹ In his days Paraih-necoh king of Matzarayam went up against the king of Ashawar to the river Parath: and king Yaashayahaw went against him; and [Paraih-necoh] killed him at Magadaw, when he had seen him.³⁰ His servants carried him in a chariot dead from Magadaw, and brought him to Yarawashalam, and buried him in his own tomb. The people of the land took Yahawaachaz the son of Yaashayahaw, and anointed him, and made him king in his father's place.³¹ Yahawaachaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign; and he reigned three months in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Chamayatal the daughter of Yaramayahaw of Labanah.³² He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, according to all that his fathers had done.³³ Paraih-necoh put him in bonds at Rabalath in the land of Chamath, that he might not reign in Yarawashalam; and put the land to a tribute of one hundred talents of silver, and a talent of gold.³⁴ Paraih-necoh made Alayaqayam the son of Yaashayahaw king in the room of Yaashayahaw his father, and changed his name to Yahawayaqayam: but he took Yahawaachaz away; and he came to Matzarayam, and died there.³⁵ Yahawayaqayam gave the silver and the gold to Paraih; but he taxed the land to give the money according to the commandment of Paraih: he exacted the silver and the gold of the people of the land, of everyone according to his taxation, to give it to Paraih-necoh.³⁶ Yahawayaqayam was twenty-five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Zabayah the daughter of Padayah of Rawamah.³⁷ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, according to all that his fathers had done.

24 In his days Nabawakadaraatzar king of Babal came up, and Yahawayaqayam became his servant three years: then he turned and rebelled against him.² Yahawah sent against him bands of the Kashadayam, and bands of the Aram, and bands of the Moabites, and bands of the children of Imawan, and sent them against Yahawadah to destroy it, according to the word of Yahawah, which he spoke by his servants the prophets.³ Surely at the commandment of Yahawah came this on Yahawadah, to remove them out of his sight, for the sins of Manashah, according to all that he did,⁴ and also for the innocent blood that he shed; for he filled Yarawashalam with innocent blood: and Yahawah would not pardon.⁵ Now the rest of the acts of Yahawayaqayam, and all that he did, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Yahawadah?⁶ So Yahawayaqayam slept with his fathers; and Yahawayakayan his son reigned in his place.⁷ The king of Matzarayam didn't come again out of his land any more; for the king of Babal had taken, from the brook of Matzarayam to the river Parath, all that pertained to the king of Matzarayam.⁸ Yahawayakayan was eighteen years old when he began to reign; and he reigned in Yarawashalam three months: and his mother's name was Nachashathaa the daughter of Alanathan of Yarawashalam.⁹ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, according to all that his father had done.¹⁰ At that time the servants of Nabawakadaraatzar king of Babal came up to Yarawashalam, and the city was besieged.¹¹ Nabawakadaraatzar king of Babal came to the city, while his servants were besieging it;¹² and Yahawayakayan the king of Yahawadah went out to the king of Babal, he, and his mother, and his servants, and his princes, and his officers: and the king of Babal took him in the eighth year of his reign.¹³ He carried out there all the treasures of the house of Yahawah, and the treasures of the king's house, and cut in pieces all the vessels of gold, which Shalamah king of Yasharaal had made in the temple of Yahawah, as Yahawah had said.¹⁴ He carried away all Yarawashalam, and all the princes, and all the mighty men of valor, even ten thousand captives, and all the craftsmen and the smiths; none remained, save the poorest sort of the people of the land.¹⁵ He carried away Yahawayakayan to Babal; and the king's mother, and the king's wives, and his officers, and the chief men of the land, carried he into captivity from Yarawashalam to Babal.¹⁶ All the men of might, even seven thousand, and the craftsmen and the smiths one thousand, all of them strong and apt for war, even them the king of Babal brought captive to Babal.¹⁷ The king of Babal made Mathanayah, [Yahawayakayan's] father's brother, king in his place, and changed his name to Tzadaqayahaw.¹⁸ Tzadaqayahaw was twenty-one years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Chamayatall the daughter of Yaramayahaw of Labanah.¹⁹ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, according to all that Yahawayaqayam had done.²⁰ For through the anger of Yahawah did it happen in Yarawashalam and Yahawadah, until he had cast them out from his presence. Tzadaqayahaw rebelled against the king of Babal.

25 It happened in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nabawakadaraatzar king of Babal came, he and all his army, against Yarawashalam, and encamped against it; and they built forts against it round about.² So the city was besieged to the eleventh year of king Tzadaqayahaw.³ On the ninth day of the [fourth] month the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.⁴ Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war [fled] by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden (now the Kashadayam were against the city round about); and [the king] went by the way of the Irabah.⁵ But the army of the Kashadayam pursued after the king, and overtook him in the plains of Yarayachaw; and all his army was scattered from him.⁶ Then they took the king, and carried him up to the king of Babal to Rabalath; and they gave judgment on him.⁷ They killed the sons of Tzadaqayahaw before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Tzadaqayahaw, and bound him in fetters, and carried him to Babal.⁸ Now in the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of king Nabawakadaraatzar, king of Babal, came Nabawazaraadan the captain of the guard, a servant of the king of Babal, to Yarawashalam.⁹ He burnt the house of Yahawah, and the king's house; and all the houses of Yarawashalam, even every great house, burnt he with fire.¹⁰ All the army of the Kashadayam, who were [with] the captain of the guard, broke down the walls of Yarawashalam round about.¹¹ The residue of the people who were left in the city, and those who fell away, who fell to the king of Babal, and the residue of the multitude, did Nabawazaraadan the captain of the guard carry away captive.¹² But the captain of the guard left of the poorest of the land to work the vineyards and fields.¹³ The pillars of brass that were in the house of Yahawah, and the bases and the brazen sea that were in the house of Yahawah, did the Kashadayam break in pieces, and carried the brass of them to Babal.¹⁴ The pots, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass with which they ministered, took they away.¹⁵ The fire pans, and the basins, that which was of gold, in gold, and that which was of silver, in silver, the captain of the guard took away.¹⁶ The two pillars, the one sea, and the bases, which Shalamah had made for the house of Yahawah, the brass of all these vessels was without weight.¹⁷ The height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits, and a capital of brass was on it; and the height of the capital was three cubits, with network and pomegranates on the capital round about, all of brass: and like to these had the second pillar with network.¹⁸ The captain of the guard took Sharayah the chief priest, and Tzapanayah the second priest, and the three keepers of the threshold:¹⁹ and out of the city he took an officer who was set over the men of war; and five men of those who saw the king's face, who were found in the city; and the scribe, the captain of the host, who mustered the people of the land; and sixty men of the people of the land, who were found in the city.²⁰ Nabawazaraadan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babal to Rabalath.²¹ The king of Babal struck them, and put them to death at Rabalath in the land of Chamath. So Yahawadah was carried away captive out of his land.²² As for the people who were left in the land of Yahawadah, whom Nabawakadaraatzar king of Babal had left, even over them he made Gadalahaw the son of Achayaqam, the son of Shaphan, governor.²³ Now when all the captains of the forces, they and their men, heard that the king of Babal had made Gadalahaw governor, they came to Gadalahaw to Mizpah, even Yashamaial the son of Nathanayah, and Yawachanan the son of Qarach, and Sharayah the son of Thanachamath the Netophathite, and Yaazanayah the son of the Maacathite, they and their men.²⁴ Gadalahaw swore to them and to their men, and said to them, Don't be afraid because of the servants of the Kashadayam: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babal, and it shall be well with you.²⁵ But it happened in the seventh month, that Yashamaial the son of Nathanayah, the son of Alayashamai, of the royal seed came, and ten men with him, and struck Gadalahaw, so that he died, and the Jews and the Kashadayam that were with him at Mizpah.²⁶ All the people, both small and great, and the captains of the forces, arose, and came to Matzarayam; for they were afraid of the Kashadayam.²⁷ It happened in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Yahawayakayan king of Yahawadah, in the twelfth month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month, that Maradak king of Babal, in the year that he began to reign, did lift up the head of Yahawayakayan king of Yahawadah out of prison;²⁸ and he spoke kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings who were with him in Babal,²⁹ and changed his prison garments. [Yahawayakayan] ate bread before him continually all the days of his life:³⁰ and for his allowance, there was a continual allowance given him of the king, every day a portion, all the days of his life.

¹ Adam, Shath, Anawash, ² Qayanan, Mahalalaal, Yarad, ³ Chanawak, Mathawashalach, Lamak, ⁴ Nach, Sham, Cham, and Yapath. ⁵ The sons of Yapath: Gamar, and Magawag, and Maday, and Yawan, and Thabal, and Mashak, and Thayaras. ⁶ The sons of Gamar: Ashakanaz, and Diphath, and Thawagaramah. ⁷ The sons of Yawan: Alayashah, and Tharashayash, Kathayam, and Rodanim. ⁸ The sons of Cham: Kawash, and Matzarayam, Pawat, and Kanain. ⁹ The sons of Kawash: Sabaa, and Chawayalah, and Sabathaa, and Raama, and Sabteca. The sons of Raimah: Shabaa, and Dadan. ¹⁰ Kawash became the father of Namarad; he began to be a mighty one in the earth. ¹¹ Matzarayam became the father of Lawadayayam, and Inamayam, and Lahabayam, and Naphtuhim, ¹² and Patharasayam, and Kasalachayam (from whence came the Palashath), and Caphtorim. ¹³ Kanain became the father of Tzayadawan his firstborn, and Chath, ¹⁴ and the Jebusite, and the Amorite, and the Girgashite, ¹⁵ and the Hivite, and the Arkite, and the Sinite, ¹⁶ and the Arvadite, and the Zemarite, and the Hamathite. ¹⁷ The sons of Sham: Iyalam, and Ashawar, and Arpachshad, and Lawad, and Aram, and Uz, and Chawal, and Gathar, and Mashak. ¹⁸ Arpachshad became the father of Shalach, and Shalach became the father of Ibar. ¹⁹ To Ibar were born two sons: the name of the one was Palag; for in his days the earth was divided; and his brother's name was Yaqatan. ²⁰ Yaqatan became the father of Alamawadad, and Shalap, and Chatzaramawath, and Yarach, ²¹ and Hadawaram, and Awazal, and Daqalah, ²² and Iyabal, and Abayamaal, and Shabaa, ²³ and Awapayar, and Chawayalah, and Yawabab. All these were the sons of Yaqatan. ²⁴ Sham, Arpachshad, Shalach, ²⁵ Ibar, Palag, Raiw, ²⁶ Sharawag, Nachawar, Tharach, ²⁷ Abaram (the same is Abaraham). ²⁸ The sons of Abaraham: Yatzachaq, and Yashamaial. ²⁹ These are their generations: the firstborn of Yashamaial, Nabayawath; then Qadar, and Adabaa, and Mabasham, ³⁰ Mashamai, and Dawamah, Mashaa, Hadad, and Thayamaa, ³¹ Yatawar, Napayash, and Qadamah. These are the sons of Yashamaial. ³² The sons of Qatawarah, Abaraham's concubine: she bore Zamaran, and Yaqashan, and Madan, and Madayan, and Yashabaq, and Shawach. The sons of Yaqashan: Shabaa, and Dadan. ³³ The sons of Madayan: Iyapah, and Ipar, and Hanoah, and Abayadai, and Aladaih. All these were the sons of Qatawarah. ³⁴ Abaraham became the father of Yatzachaq. The sons of Yatzachaq: Ishaw, and Yasharaal. ³⁵ The sons of Ishaw: Alayapaz, Raiwaal, and Yaiwash, and Yailam, and Qarach. ³⁶ The sons of Alayapaz: Thayaman, and Awamar, Tzapaw, and Gaitham, Qanaz, and Thamanai, and Imalaq. ³⁷ The sons of Raiwaal: Nachath, Zarach, Shamah, and Mazah. ³⁸ The sons of Shaiyar: Lawatan, and Shawabal, and Tzabaiwan, and Inah, and Dayashan, and Atzar, and Dayashan. ³⁹ The sons of Lawatan: Charay, and Hawamam; and Thamanai was Lawatan's sister. ⁴⁰ The sons of Shawabal: Ilawan, and Manachath, and Iyabal, Shapaw, and Awanam. The sons of Tzabaiwan: Ayah, and Inah. ⁴¹ The sons of Inah: Dayashan. The sons of Dayashan: Hamran, and Ashaban, and Yatharan, and Karan. ⁴² The sons of Atzar: Balahan, and Zaiwan, Yaiqan. The sons of Dayashan: Uz, and Aran. ⁴³ Now these are the kings who reigned in the land of Adawam, before there resigned any king over the children of Yasharaal: Balai the son of Baiwar; and the name of his city was Danahabah. ⁴⁴ Balai died, and Yawabab the son of Zarach of Batzarah reigned in his place. ⁴⁵ Yawabab died, and Chawasham of the land of the Temanites reigned in his place. ⁴⁶ Chawasham died, and Hadad the son of Badad, who struck Madayan in the field of Mawaab, reigned in his place; and the name of his city was Iwayath. ⁴⁷ Hadad died, and Shamalah of Masharaqah reigned in his place. ⁴⁸ Shamalah died, and Shaawal of Rachabawath by the River reigned in his place.

2 These are the sons of Yasharaal: Raawaban, Shamaiwan, Laway, and Yahawadah, Yashashakar, and Zabawalan, ² Wadan, Yawasap, and Banayaman, Napathalay, Gad, and Ashar. ³ The sons of Yahawadah: Er, and Awanan, and Shalach; which three were born to him of Shawai's daughter the Canaanitess. Er, Yahawadah's firstborn, was wicked in the sight of Yahawah; and he killed him. ⁴ Tamar his daughter-in-law bore him Paratz and Zarach. All the sons of Yahawadah were five. ⁵ The sons of Paratz: Chatzarawan, and Chamawal. ⁶ The sons of Zarach: Zamaray, and Ayathan, and Hayaman, and Kalakal, and Darai; five of them in all. ⁷ The sons of Karamay: Ikar, the troubler of Yasharaal, who committed a trespass in the devoted thing. ⁸ The sons of Ayathan: Izarayah. ⁹ The sons also of Chatzarawan, who were born to him: Yarachamaal, and Ram, and Kalawabay. ¹⁰ Ram became the father of Imayanadab, and Imayanadab became the father of Nachashawan, prince of the children of Yahawadah; ¹¹ and Nachashawan became the father of Shalamaa, and Shalamaa became the father of Baiz, ¹² and Baiz became the father of Iwabad, and Iwabad became the father of Yashay; ¹³ and Yashay became the father of his firstborn Alayaab, and Abayanadab the second, and Shamaia the third, ¹⁴ Nathanaal the fourth, Raday the fifth, ¹⁵ Atzam the sixth, Dawad the seventh; ¹⁶ and their sisters were Tzarawayah and Abigail. The sons of Tzarawayah: Abayashay, and Yawaab, and Ishahaal, three. ¹⁷ Abigail bore Imashaa; and the father of Imashaa was Yathar the Ishmaelite. ¹⁸ Kalab the son of Chatzarawan became the father of [children] of Izawabah [his] wife, and of Yarayaiwath; and these were her sons: Yashar, and Shawabab, and Aradawan. ¹⁹ Izawabah died, and Kalab took to him Aparathah, who bore him Chawar. ²⁰ Chawar became the father of Awaray, and Awaray became the father of Bezalel. ²¹ Afterward Chatzarawan went in to the daughter of Makayar the father of Galaïd, whom he took [as wife] when he was sixty years old; and she bore him Shagawab. ²² Shagawab became the father of Yaayar, who had twenty-three cities in the land of Galaïd. ²³ Gashawar and Aram took the towns of Yaayar from them, with Qanath, and the villages of it, even sixty cities. All these were the sons of Makayar the father of Galaïd. ²⁴ After that Chatzarawan was dead in Aparathah, then Abayah Chatzarawan's wife bore him Ashhur the father of Thaqawai. ²⁵ The sons of Yarachamaal the firstborn of Chatzarawan were Ram the firstborn, and Bawanah, and Aran, and Atzam, Achayah. ²⁶ Yarachamaal had another wife, whose name was Itarah; she was the mother of Awanam. ²⁷ The sons of Ram the firstborn of Yarachamaal were Maitz, and Yamayan, and Iqar. ²⁸ The sons of Awanam were Shamay, and Yadaï. The sons of Shamay: Nadab, and Abayashawar. ²⁹ The name of the wife of Abayashawar was Abayachayal; and she bore him Achaban, and Mawalayad. ³⁰ The sons of Nadab: Salad, and Apayam; but Salad died without children. ³¹ The sons of Apayam: Yashaiy. The sons of Yashaiy: Shashan. The sons of Shashan: Achalay. ³² The sons of Yadaï the brother of Shamay: Yathar, and Yahawanathan; and Yathar died without children. ³³ The sons of Yahawanathan: Palath, and Zazaa. These were the sons of Yarachamaal. ³⁴ Now Shashan had no sons, but daughters. Shashan had a servant, an Matzarayam, whose name was Yarachai.³⁵ Shashan gave his daughter to Yarachai his servant as wife; and she bore him Ithay.³⁶ Ithay became the father of Nathan, and Nathan became the father of Zabad,³⁷ and Zabad became the father of Apalal, and Apalal became the father of Iwabad,³⁸ and Iwabad became the father of Yahawaa, and Yahawaa became the father of Izarayah,³⁹ and Izarayah became the father of Chalat, and Chalat became the father of Alaishah,⁴⁰ and Alaishah became the father of Sismai, and Sismai became the father of Shalawam,⁴¹ and Shalawam became the father of Yaqamayah, and Yaqamayah became the father of Alayashamai.⁴² The sons of Kalab the brother of Yarachamaal were Mayashaa his firstborn, who was the father of Zayap; and the sons of Marashah the father of Chabarawan.⁴³ The sons of Chabarawan: Qarach, and Thapawach, and Raqam, and Shamai.⁴⁴ Shamai became the father of Racham, the father of Yaraqaim; and Raqam became the father of Shamay.⁴⁵ The son of Shamay was Maiwan; and Maiwan was the father of Bayath.⁴⁶ Iyapah, Kalab's concubine, bore Charan, and Mawatzaa, and Gazaz; and Charan became the father of Gazaz.⁴⁷ The sons of Jahdai: Ragam, and Jothan, and Gayashan, and Palat, and Iyapah, and Shaip.⁴⁸ Maacah, Kalab's concubine, bore Shabar and Tharachanah.⁴⁹ She bore also Shaip the father of Madamanah, Shawaa the father of Machbena, and the father of Gibeaz; and the daughter of Kalab was Iksah.⁵⁰ These were the sons of Kalab, the son of Chawar, the firstborn of Aparathah: Shawabal the father of Kiriath-Yairayam,⁵¹ Shalamaa the father of Bayath-lehem, Charap the father of Bayath.⁵² Shawabal the father of Kiriath-Yairayam had sons: Haroeh, half of the Menuhoth.⁵³ The families of Kiriath-Yairayam: The Ithrites, and the Puthites, and the Shumathites, and the Mishraites; of them came the Zorathites and the Eshtaolites.⁵⁴ The sons of Shalamaa: Bayath-lehem, and the Netophathites, Itarath-Bayath-Yawaab, and half of the Manahathites, the Zorites.⁵⁵ The families of scribes who lived at Yaibatz: the Tirathites, the Shimeathites, the Sucathites. These are the Kenites who came of Chamath, the father of the house of Rakab.

3 Now these were the sons of Dawad, who were born to him in Chabarawan: the firstborn, Amanawan, of Achayanaim the Jezreelitess; the second, Dan, of Abigail the Carmelitess;² the third, Abshalawam the son of Maacah the daughter of Thalamay king of Gashawar; the fourth, Adanayahaw the son of Chagayath;³ the fifth, Shapatayah of Abayatal; the sixth, Yatharaim by Igalah his wife;⁴ six were born to him in Chabarawan; and there he reigned seven years and six months. In Yarawashalam he reigned thirty-three years;⁵ and these were born to him in Yarawashalam: Shamaia, and Shawabab, and Nathan, and Shalamah, four, of Bath the daughter of Imayaal;⁶ and Yabachar, and Alayashamai, and Alayapalat,⁷ and Nagah, and Napag, and Yapayai,⁸ and Alayashamai, and Alayadai, and Alayapalat, nine.⁹ All these were the sons of Dawad, besides the sons of the concubines; and Tamar was their sister.¹⁰ Shalamah's son was Rachabaim, Abayah his son, Asaa his son, Yahawashapat his son,¹¹ Yahawaram his son, Achazayahaw his son, Yawaash his son,¹² Amatzayahaw his son, Izarayah his son, Yawatham his son,¹³ Achaz his son, Chazaqayahaw his son, Manashah his son,¹⁴ Amawan his son, Yaashayahaw his son.¹⁵ The sons of Yaashayahaw: the firstborn Yawachanan, the second Yahawayaqam, the third Tzadaqayahaw, the fourth Shalawam.¹⁶ The sons of Yahawayaqam: Yakanayah his son, Tzadaqayahaw his son.¹⁷ The sons of Yakanayah, the captive: Shaalathayaal his son,¹⁸ and Malakayaram, and Padayah, and Shenazzar, Yaqamayah, Hawashamai, and Nadabayah.¹⁹ The sons of Padayah: Zarababal, and Shamaiy. The sons of Zarababal: Mashalam, and Chananayah; and Shalamayath was their sister;²⁰ and Chashabah, and Ahal, and Barakayah, and Chasadayah, Chasad, five.²¹ The sons of Chananayah: Palatayah, and Yashaiyahaw; the sons of Rapayah, the sons of Aranan, the sons of Ibadayah, the sons of Shakanayah.²² The sons of Shakanayah: Shamaiyah. The sons of Shamaiyah: Chatawash, and Yagaal, and Barayach, and Nairayah, and Shapat, six.²³ The sons of Nairayah: Elioenai, and Chazaqayahaw, and Izarayaqam, three.²⁴ The sons of Elioenai: Hawadawayah, and Alayashayab, and Palaayah, and Iqawab, and Yawachanan, and Dalayah, and Inanay, seven.

4 The sons of Yahawadah: Paratz, Chatzarawan, and Karamay, and Chawar, and Shawabal.² Raayah the son of Shawabal became the father of Yachath; and Yachath became the father of Achawamay and Lahad. These are the families of the Zorathites.³ These were [the sons of] the father of Iyatam: Yazarai, and Yashamaa, and Yadabash; and the name of their sister was Hazzeleponi;⁴ and Panawaal the father of Gadawar, and Atzar the father of Chawashah. These are the sons of Chawar, the firstborn of Aparathah, the father of Bayath-lehem.⁵ Ashhur the father of Thaqawai had two wives, Chalaah and Nairah.⁶ Nairah bore him Ahuzzam, and Chapar, and Thayamanay, and Haahashtari. These were the sons of Nairah.⁷ The sons of Chalaah were Tzarath, Yatzahar, and Athanan.⁸ Hakkoz became the father of Inawab, and Tzababah, and the families of Acharachal the son of Harawam.⁹ Yaibatz was more honorable than his brothers: and his mother named him Yaibatz, saying, Because I bore him with sorrow.¹⁰ Yaibatz called on the Alahayam of Yasharaal, saying, Oh that you would bless me indeed, and enlarge my border, and that your hand might be with me, and that you would keep me from evil, that it not be to my sorrow! Alahayam granted him that which he requested.¹¹ Kalawab the brother of Shuhah became the father of Machayar, who was the father of Ashathawan.¹² Ashathawan became the father of Bayath, and Pasach, and Thachanah the father of Ir-Nachash. These are the men of Recah.¹³ The sons of Qanaz: Ithanayaal, and Sharayah. The sons of Ithanayaal: Hathath.¹⁴ Maiwanathay became the father of Iparah: and Sharayah became the father of Yawaab the father of Ge-harashim; for they were craftsmen.¹⁵ The sons of Kalab the son of Yapanah: Iyaraw, Alah, and Naim; and the sons of Alah; and Qanaz.¹⁶ The sons of Jehallelel: Zayap, and Zayapah, Thayarayaa, and Asharaal.¹⁷ The sons of Izarah: Yathar, and Marad, and Ipar, and Yalawan; and she bore Marayam, and Shamay, and Yashabach the father of Ashathamai.¹⁸ His wife the Jewess bore Jered the father of Gadawar, and Ibar the father of Shawakah, and Yaqawathayaal the father of Zanawach. These are the sons of Bathayah the daughter of Paraih, whom Marad took.¹⁹ The sons of the wife of Hawadayah, the sister of Nacham, were the father of Qaiyalah the Garmite, and Ashathamai the Maacathite.²⁰ The sons of Shayamawan: Amanawan, and Ranah, Ban, and Tilon. The sons of Yashaiy: Zawachath, and Ban-Zawachath.²¹ The sons of Shalach the son of Yahawadah: Er the father of Lakah, and Laidah the father of Marashah, and the families of the house of those who worked fine linen, of the house of Ashabai;²² and Yawaqayam, and the men of Cozeba, and Yawaash, and Sharap, who had dominion in Mawaab, and Jashubilehem. The records are ancient.²³ These were the potters, and the inhabitants of Netaim and Gadarah: there they lived with the king for his work.²⁴ The sons of Shamaiwan: Namawaal, and Yamayan, Yarayah, Zarach, Shaawal;²⁵ Shalawam his son, Mabasham his son, Mashamai his son.²⁶ The sons of Mashamai: Hammuel his son, Zakawar his son, Shamaiy his son.²⁷ Shamaiy had sixteen sons and six daughters; but his brothers didn't have many children, neither did all their family multiply like the children of Yahawadah.²⁸ They lived at Beersheba, and Mawaladah, and Hazarshual,²⁹ and at Balahah, and at Itzam, and at Thawalad,³⁰ and at Bathawaal, and at Charamah, and at Tzaqalag,³¹ and at Bayath-marcaboth, and Chatzar, and at Bayath-Baraay, and at Shairayam. These were their cities to the reign of Dawad.³² Their villages were Iyatam, and Iyan, Ramawan, and Thakan, and Ishan, five cities;³³ and all their villages that were round about the same cities, to Bail. These were their habitations, and they have their genealogy.³⁴ Mashawabab, and Yamalak, and Yawashah the son of Amatzayahaw,³⁵ and Yawaal, and Yahawaa the son of Joshibiah, the son of Sharayah, the son of Ishayaal,³⁶ and Elioenai, and Yaiqabah, and Jeshohaiah, and Ishayah, and Idayaal, and Jesimiel, and Banayahaw,³⁷ and Zayazaa the son of Shapaiy, the son of Alawan, the son of Yadaiyah, the son of Shamaray, the son of Shamaiyah-³⁸ these mentioned by name were princes in their families: and their fathers' houses increased greatly.³⁹ They went to the entrance of Gadawar, even to the east side of the valley, to seek pasture for their flocks.⁴⁰ They found fat pasture and good, and the land was wide, and quiet, and peaceable; for those who lived there before were of Cham.⁴¹ These written by name came in the days of Chazaqayahaw king of Yahawadah, and struck their tents, and the Meunim who were found there, and destroyed them utterly to this day, and lived in their place; because there was pasture there for their flocks.⁴² Some of them, even of the sons of Shamaian, five hundred men, went to Mount Shaiyar, having for their captains Palatayah, and Nairayah, and Rapayah, and Izayaal, the sons of Yashaiy.⁴³ They struck the remnant of the Amalekites who escaped, and have lived there to this day.

5 The sons of Raawaban the firstborn of Yasharaal (for he was the firstborn; but, because he defiled his father's couch, his birthright was given to the sons of Yawasap the son of Yasharaal; and the genealogy is not to be reckoned after the birthright.¹⁷ For Yahawadah prevailed above his brothers, and of him came the prince; but the birthright was Yawasap's:)¹⁸ the sons of Raawaban the firstborn of Yasharaal: Hanoch, and Palawaa, Chatzarawan, and Karamay.¹⁹ The sons of Yawaal: Shamaiyah his son, Gawag his son, Shamaiy his son,²⁰ Mayakah his son, Raayah his son, Bail his son,²¹ Baarah his son, whom Thagalath king of Ashawar carried away captive: he was prince of the Reubenites.²² His brothers by their families, when the genealogy of their generations was reckoned: the chief, Yaiayal, and Zakarayah,²³ and Balai the son of Izaz, the son of Shama, the son of Yawaal, who lived in Irair, even to Nabaw and Bail:²⁴ and eastward he lived even to the entrance of the wilderness from the river Parath, because their cattle were multiplied in the land of Galaid.²⁵ In the days of Shaawal, they made war with the Hagrites, who fell by their hand; and they lived in their tents throughout all the [land] east of Galaid.²⁶ The sons of Gad lived over against them, in the land of Bashan to Salecah:²⁷ Yawaal the chief, and Shapam the second, and Janai, and Shapat in Bashan.²⁸ Their brothers of their fathers' houses: Mayakaal, and Mashalam, and Shabaa, and Yawaray, and Jacan, and Zayai, and Ibar, seven.²⁹ These were the sons of Abayachayal, the son of Chawaray, the son of Yarawach, the son of Galaid, the son of Mayakaal, the son of Yashayashay, the son of Yachadaw, the son of Bawaz;³⁰ Achay the son of Ibadayaal, the son of Gawanay, chief of their fathers' houses.³¹ They lived in Galaid in Bashan, and in its towns, and in all the suburbs of Sharawan, as far as their borders.³² All these were reckoned by genealogies in the days of Yawatham king of Yahawadah, and in the days of Yarabaim king of Yasharaal.³³ The sons of Raawaban, and the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manashah, of valiant men, men able to bear buckler and sword, and to shoot with bow, and skillful in war, were forty-four thousand seven hundred and sixty, that were able to go forth to war.³⁴ They made war with the Hagrites, with Yatawar, and Napayash, and Nawadab.³⁵ They were helped against them, and the Hagrites were delivered into their hand, and all who were with them; for they cried to Alahayam in the battle, and he was entreated of them, because they put their trust in him.³⁶ They took away their cattle; of their camels fifty thousand, and of sheep two hundred fifty thousand, and of donkeys two thousand, and of men one hundred thousand.³⁷ For there fell many slain, because the war was of Alahayam. They lived in their place until the captivity.³⁸ The children of the half-tribe of Manashah lived in the land: they increased from Bashan to Bail and Shanayar and Mount Charamawan.³⁹ These were the heads of their fathers' houses: even Ipar, and Yashaiy, and Alayaal, and Izarayaal, and Yaramayahaw, and Hawadawayah, and Yachadayaal, mighty men of valor, famous men, heads of their fathers' houses.⁴⁰ They trespassed against the Alahayam of their fathers, and played the prostitute after the gods of the peoples of the land, whom Alahayam destroyed before them.⁴¹ The Alahayam of Yasharaal stirred up the spirit of Pawal king of Ashawar, and the spirit of Thagalath king of Ashawar, and he carried them away, even the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manashah, and brought them to Chalach, and Chabawar, and Haraa, and to the river of Gawazan, to this day.

6 The sons of Laway: Garashawan, Qahath, and Mararay.² The sons of Qahath: Imaram, Yatzahar, and Chabarawan, and Izayaal.³ The children of Imaram: Aharan, and Mashah, and Marayam. The sons of Aharan: Nadab, and Abayahawaa, Alaizar, and Ayathammar.⁴ Alaizar became the father of Payanachas, Payanachas became the father of Abayashawai,⁵ and Abayashawai became the father of Baqay, and Baqay became the father of Izay,⁶ and Izay became the father of Zarachayah, and Zarachayah became the father of Marayawath,⁷ Marayawath became the father of Amarayah, and Amarayah became the father of Achayatawab,⁸ and Achayatawab became the father of Tzadawaq, and Tzadawaq became the father of Achayamaitz,⁹ and Achayamaitz became the father of Izarayah, and Izarayah became the father of Yawachanan,¹⁰ and Yawachanan became the father of Izarayah, (he it is who executed the priest's office in the house that Shalamah built in Yarawashalam),¹¹ and Izarayah became the father of Amarayah, and Amarayah became the father of Achayatawab,¹² and Achayatawab became the father of Tzadawaq, and Tzadawaq became the father of Shalawam,¹³ and Shalawam became the father of Hilkiah, and Hilkiah became the father of Izarayah,¹⁴ and Izarayah became the father of Sharayah, and Sharayah became the father of Jehozadak;¹⁵ Jehozadak went [into captivity], when Yahawah carried away Yahawadah and Yarawashalam by the hand of Nabawakadaraatzar.¹⁶ The sons of Laway: Garashawan, Qahath, and Mararay.¹⁷ These are the names of the sons of Garashawan: Labanay and Shamaiy.¹⁸ The sons of Qahath were Imaram, and Yatzahar, and Chabarawan, and Izayaal.¹⁹ The sons of Mararay: Machalay and Mawashay. These are the families of the Levites according to their fathers' [houses].²⁰ Of Garashawan: Labanay his son, Yachath his son, Zamah his son,²¹ Yawaach his son, Idaw his son, Zarach his son, Jeatherai his son.²² The sons of Qahath: Imayanadab his son, Qarach his son, Asayar his son,²³ Alaqanah his son, and Abayasap his son, and Asayar his son,²⁴ Thachath his son, Awarayaal his son, Izayahaw his son, and Shaawal his son.²⁵ The sons of Alaqanah: Imashay, and Achayamawath.²⁶ As for Alaqanah, the sons of Alaqanah: Tzawap his son, and Nachath his son,²⁷ Alayaab his son, Yaracham his son, Alaqanah his son.²⁸ The sons of Shamawaal: the firstborn [Yawaal], and the second Abayah.²⁹ The sons of Mararay: Machalay, Labanay his son, Shamaiy his son, Izaa his son,³⁰ Shamaia his son, Chagayah his son, Ishayah his son.³¹ These are they whom Dawad set over the service of song in the house of Yahawah, after that the ark had rest.³² They ministered with song before the tent of the tent of meeting, until Shalamah had built the house of Yahawah in Yarawashalam: and they waited on their office according to their order.³³ These are those who waited, and their sons. Of the sons of the Kohathites: Hayaman the singer, the son of Yawaal, the son of Shamawaal,³⁴ the son of Alaqanah, the son of Yaracham, the son of Alayaal, the son of Thawach,³⁵ the son of Tzawap, the son of Alaqanah, the son of Machath, the son of Imashay,³⁶ the son of Alaqanah, the son of Yawaal, the son of Izarayah, the son of Tzapanayah,³⁷ the son of Thachath, the son of Asayar, the son of Abayasap, the son of Qarach,³⁸ the son of Yatzahar, the son of Qahath, the son of Laway, the son of Yasharaal.³⁹ His brother Asap, who stood on his right hand, even Asap the son of Barakayah, the son of Shamaia,⁴⁰ the son of Mayakaal, the son of Baishayah, the son of Malakayah,⁴¹ the son of Athanay, the son of Zarach, the son of Idayah,⁴² the son of Ayathan, the son of Zamah, the son of Shamaiy,⁴³ the son of Yachath, the son of Garashawan, the son of Laway.⁴⁴ On the left hand their brothers the sons of Mararay: Ayathan the son of Qayashay, the son of Ibaday, the son of Malawak,⁴⁵ the son of Chashabayah, the son of Amatzayahaw, the son of Hilkiah,⁴⁶ the son of Amatzay, the son of Banay, the son of Shamar,⁴⁷ the son of Machalay, the son of Mawashay, the son of Mararay, the son of Laway.⁴⁸ Their brothers the Levites were appointed for all the service of the tent of the house of Alahayam.⁴⁹ But Aharan and his sons offered on the altar of burnt offering, and on the altar of incense, for all the work of the most holy place, and to make atonement for Yasharaal, according to all that Mashah the servant of Alahayam had commanded.⁵⁰ These are the sons of Aharan: Alaizar his son, Payanachas his son, Abayashawai his son,⁵¹ Baqay his son, Izay his son, Zarachayah his son,⁵² Marayawath his son, Amarayah his son, Achayatawab his son,⁵³ Tzadawaq his son, Achayamaitz his son.⁵⁴ Now these are their dwelling-places according to their encampments in their borders: to the sons of Aharan, of the families of the Kohathites (for theirs was the [first] lot),⁵⁵ to them they gave Chabarawan in the land of Yahawadah, and the suburbs of it round about it;⁵⁶ but the fields of the city, and the villages of it, they gave to Kalab the son of Yapanah.⁵⁷ To the sons of Aharan they gave the cities of refuge, Chabarawan; Labanah also with its suburbs, and Yathar, and Ashathamai with its suburbs,⁵⁸ and Chayalaz with its suburbs, Dabar with its suburbs,⁵⁹ and Ishan with its suburbs, and Bayath with its suburbs;⁶⁰ and out of the tribe of Banayaman, Gabai with its suburbs, and Allemeth with its suburbs, and Inathawath with its suburbs. All their cities throughout their families were thirteen cities.⁶¹ To the rest of the sons of Qahath [were given] by lot, out of the family of the tribe, out of the half-tribe, the half of Manashah, ten cities.⁶² To the sons of Garashawan, according to their families, out of the tribe of Yashashakar, and out of the tribe of Ashar, and out of the tribe of Napathalay, and out of the tribe of Manashah in Bashan, thirteen cities.⁶³ To the sons of Mararay [were given] by lot, according to their families, out of the tribe of Raawaban, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zabawalan, twelve cities.⁶⁴ The children of Yasharaal gave to the Levites the cities with their suburbs.⁶⁵ They gave by lot out of the tribe of the children of Yahawadah, and out of the tribe of the children of Shamaian, and out of the tribe of the children of Banayaman, these cities which are mentioned by name.⁶⁶ Some of the families of the sons of Qahath had cities of their borders out of the tribe of Aparayam.

7 Of the sons of Yashashakar: Thawalai, and Pawaah, Yashawab, and Shamarawan, four.² The sons of Thawalai: Izay, and Rapayah, and Yarayaal, and Yachamay, and Ibsam, and Shamawaal, heads of their fathers' houses, [to wit], of Thawalai; mighty men of valor in their generations: their number in the days of Dawad was twenty-two thousand six hundred.³ The sons of Izay: Yazarachayah. The sons of Yazarachayah: Mayakaal, and Ibadayah, and Yawaal, Yashayah, five; all of them chief men.⁴ With them, by their generations, after their fathers' houses, were bands of the host for war, thirty-six thousand; for they had many wives and sons.⁵ Their brothers among all the families of Yashashakar, mighty men of valor, reckoned in all by genealogy, were eighty-seven thousand.⁶ [The sons of] Banayaman: Balai, and Bakar, and Yadayaial, three.⁷ The sons of Balai: Atzabawan, and Izay, and Izayaal, and Yarayamawath, and Iyaray, five; heads of fathers' houses, mighty men of valor; and they were reckoned by genealogy twenty-two thousand thirty-four.⁸ The sons of Bakar: Zamayarah, and Yawaash, and Alayaizar, and Elioenai, and Imaray, and Jeremoth, and Abayah, and Inathawath, and Ilamath. All these were the sons of Bakar.⁹ They were reckoned by genealogy, after their generations, heads of their fathers' houses, mighty men of valor, twenty thousand two hundred.¹⁰ The sons of Yadayaial: Balahan. The sons of Balahan: Yaiwash, and Banayaman, and Ahawad, and Kanainah, and Zayathan, and Tharashayash, and Ahishahar.¹¹ All these were sons of Yadayaial, according to the heads of their fathers' [houses], mighty men of valor, seventeen thousand and two hundred, who were able to go forth in the host for war.¹² Shapayam also, and Chapayam, the sons of Ir, Chashayam, the sons of Achar.¹³ The sons of Napathalay: Yachazayaal, and Gawanay, and Yatzar, and Shalawam, the sons of Balahah.¹⁴ The sons of Manashah: Asharayaal, whom his concubine the Aramitess bore: she bore Makayar the father of Galaid:¹⁵ and Makayar took a wife of Chapayam and Shapayam, whose sister's name was Maacah; and the name of the second was Tzalapachad: and Tzalapachad had daughters.¹⁶ Maacah the wife of Makayar bore a son, and she named him Parash; and the name of his brother was Sharash; and his sons were Awalam and Rakem.¹⁷ The sons of Awalam: Badan. These were the sons of Galaid the son of Makayar, the son of Manashah.¹⁸ His sister Hammolecheth bore Ayashahawad, and Abayaizar, and Machalah.¹⁹ The sons of Shamayadai were Achayan, and Shakam, and Laqachay, and Anayaim.²⁰ The sons of Aparayam: Shawathalach, and Barad his son, and Thachath his son, and Eleadah his son, and Thachath his son,²¹ and Zabad his son, and Shawathalach his son, and Atzar, and Alaid, whom the men of Gath who were born in the land killed, because they came down to take away their cattle.²² Aparayam their father mourned many days, and his brothers came to comfort him.²³ He went in to his wife, and she conceived, and bore a son, and he named him Barayaih, because it went evil with his house.²⁴ His daughter was Shaarah, who built Bayath the nether and the upper, and Azan-Shaarah.²⁵ Rapach was his son, and Rashap, and Thalach his son, and Thachan his son,²⁶ Laidan his son, Imayahawad his son, Alayashamai his son,²⁷ Nawan his son, Yahawashai his son.²⁸ Their possessions and habitations were Bethel and the towns of it, and eastward Nairan, and westward Gazar, with the towns of it; Shakam also and the towns of it, to Izah and the towns of it;²⁹ and by the borders of the children of Manashah, Bayath and its towns, Thainak and its towns, Magadaw and its towns, Dawar and its towns. In these lived the children of Yawasap the son of Yasharaal.³⁰ The sons of Ashar: Yamanah, and Yashawah, and Yashaway, and Barayaih, and Sharach their sister.³¹ The sons of Barayaih: Ibar, and Malakayaal, who was the father of Birzaith.³² Ibar became the father of Yapalat, and Shawamar, and Chawatham, and Shawai their sister.³³ The sons of Yapalat: Pasak, and Bamahal, and Ishawath. These are the children of Yapalat.³⁴ The sons of Shamar: Achay, and Rawahagah, Yachabah, and Aram.³⁵ The sons of Halam his brother: Tzawapach, and Yamanah, and Shalash, and Imal.³⁶ The sons of Tzawapach: Sawach, and Charanapar, and Shawail, and Baray, and Yamarah,³⁷ Batzar, and Hawad, and Shamaia, and Shalashah, and Yatharan, and Baaraa.³⁸ The sons of Yathar: Yapanah, and Pispa, and Araa.³⁹ The sons of Ilia: Arach, and Chanayaal, and Rizia.⁴⁰ All these were the children of Ashar, heads of the fathers' houses, choice and mighty men of valor, chief of the princes. The number of them reckoned by genealogy for service in war was twenty-six thousand men.

8 Banayaman became the father of Balai his firstborn, Ashabal the second, and Acharach the third,² Nawachah the fourth, and Rapaayam the fifth.³ Balai had sons: Adar, and Garaa, and Abayahawad,⁴ and Abayashawai, and Naiman, and Achawach,⁵ and Garaa, and Shapawapam, and Chayaram.⁶ These are the sons of Ahawad: these are the heads of fathers' [houses] of the inhabitants of Gabai, and they carried them captive to Manachath:⁷ and Naiman, and Achayah, and Garaa, he carried them captive: and he became the father of Izaa and Achayahawad.⁸ Shacharayam became the father of children in the field of Mawaab, after he had sent them away; Chashayam and Bairaa were his wives.⁹ He became the father of Chadash his wife, Yawabab, and Tzabayaa, and Mayashaa, and Malcam,¹⁰ and Yaiwatz, and Shachia, and Maramah. These were his sons, heads of fathers' [houses].¹¹ Of Chashayam he became the father of Abayatawab and Alapail.¹² The sons of Alapail: Ibar, and Mashaim, and Shemed, who built Awanaw and Lad, with the towns of it;¹³ and Barayaih, and Shamai, who were heads of fathers' [houses] of the inhabitants of Ayalawan, who put to flight the inhabitants of Gath;¹⁴ and Achayaw, Shashaq, and Jeremoth,¹⁵ and Zabadayah, and Irad, and Idar,¹⁶ and Mayakaal, and Ishpah, and Yawachaa, the sons of Barayaih,¹⁷ and Zabadayah, and Mashalam, and Hizki, and Ibar,¹⁸ and Yashamaray, and Izliah, and Yawabab, the sons of Alapail,¹⁹ and Yaqayam, and Zakaray, and Zabaday,²⁰ and Alayainay, and Zillethai, and Alayaal,²¹ and Idayah, and Baraayah, and Shamarath, the sons of Shamaia,²² and Yashapan, and Ibar, and Alayaal,²³ and Ibadawan, and Zakaray, and Hanan,²⁴ and Chananayah, and Iyalam, and Anthothijah,²⁵ and Ipheiah, and Panawaal, the sons of Shashaq,²⁶ and Shamasharay, and Shacharayah, and Ithalahaw,

9 So all Yasharaal were reckoned by genealogies; and, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Yasharaal: and Yahawadah was carried away captive to Babal for their disobedience. ² Now the first inhabitants who lived in their possessions in their cities were Yasharaal, the priests, the Levites, and the Nethinim. ³ In Yarawashalam lived of the children of Yahawadah, and of the children of Banayaman, and of the children of Aparayam and Manashah: ⁴ Iwathay the son of Imayahawad, the son of Imaray, the son of Amaray, the son of Banay, of the children of Paratz the son of Yahawadah. ⁵ Of the Shilonites: Ishayah the firstborn, and his sons. ⁶ Of the sons of Zarach: Yaiwaal, and their brothers, six hundred ninety. ⁷ Of the sons of Banayaman: Salawaa the son of Mashalam, the son of Hawadawayah, the son of Hassenuah, ⁸ and Yabanayah the son of Yaracham, and Alah the son of Izay, the son of Makaray, and Mashalam the son of Shapatayah, the son of Raiwaal, the son of Yabanayah; ⁹ and their brothers, according to their generations, nine hundred fifty-six. All these men were heads of fathers' [houses] by their fathers' houses.

¹⁰ Of the priests: Yadaiah, and Yahawayarayab, Yakayan, ¹¹ and Izarayah the son of Hilkiah, the son of Mashalam, the son of Tzadawaq, the son of Marayawath, the son of Achayatawab, the ruler of the house of Alahayam; ¹² and Idayah the son of Yaracham, the son of Pashhur, the son of Malakayah, and Maasai the son of Idayaal, the son of Yachazarah, the son of Mashalam, the son of Mashalamayath, the son of Amar; ¹³ and their brothers, heads of their fathers' houses, one thousand seven hundred sixty; very able men for the work of the service of the house of Alahayam. ¹⁴ Of the Levites: Shamaiah the son of Chashawab, the son of Izarayaqam, the son of Chashabayah, of the sons of Mararay; ¹⁵ and Baqabaqar, Charash, and Galal, and Mathanayah the son of Mica, the son of Zakaray, the son of Asap, ¹⁶ and Ibadayah the son of Shamaiah, the son of Galal, the son of Yadawathawan, and Barakayah the son of Asaa, the son of Alanah, who lived in the villages of the Netophathites. ¹⁷ The porters: Shalawam, and Iqawab, and Talamawan, and Achayaman, and their brothers (Shalawam was the chief), ¹⁸ who hitherto [waited] in the king's gate eastward: they were the porters for the camp of the children of Laway.

10 Now the Palashath fought against Yasharaal: and the men of Yasharaal fled from before the Palashath, and fell down slain on Mount Galabai. ² The Palashath followed hard after Shaawal and after his sons; and the Palashath killed Yahawanathan, and Abayanadab, and Malchi-Shawai, the sons of Shaawal. ³ The battle went sore against Shaawal, and the archers overtook him; and he was distressed by reason of the archers. ⁴ Then said Shaawal to his armor-bearer, Draw your sword, and thrust me through therewith, lest these uncircumcised come and abuse me. But his armor-bearer would not; for he was sore afraid. Therefore Shaawal took his sword, and fell on it. ⁵ When his armor-bearer saw that Shaawal was dead, he likewise fell on his sword, and died. ⁶ So Shaawal died, and his three sons; and all his house died together. ⁷ When all the men of Yasharaal who were in the valley saw that they fled, and that Shaawal and his sons were dead, they forsook their cities, and fled; and the Palashath came and lived in them. ⁸ It happened on the next day, when the Palashath came to strip the slain, that they found Shaawal and his sons fallen on Mount Galabai. ⁹ They stripped him, and took his head, and his armor, and sent into the land of the Palashath round about, to carry the news to their idols, and to the people. ¹⁰ They put his armor in the house of their gods, and fastened his head in the house of Dagawan. ¹¹ When all Jabesh-Galaid heard all that the Palashath had done to Shaawal, ¹² all the valiant men arose, and took away the body of Shaawal, and the bodies of his sons, and brought them to Jabesh, and buried their bones under the oak in Jabesh, and fasted seven days.¹³ So Shaawal died for his trespass which he committed against Yahawah, because of the word of Yahawah, which he didn't keep; and also because he asked counsel of one who had a familiar spirit, to inquire [thereby],¹⁴ and didn't inquire of Yahawah: therefore he killed him, and turned the kingdom to Dawad the son of Yashay.

11 Then all Yasharaal gathered themselves to Dawad to Chabarawan, saying, Behold, we are your bone and your flesh.² In times past, even when Shaawal was king, it was you who led out and brought in Yasharaal: and Yahawah your Alahayam said to you, You shall be shepherd of my people Yasharaal, and you shall be prince over my people Yasharaal.³ So all the elders of Yasharaal came to the king to Chabarawan; and Dawad made a covenant with them in Chabarawan before Yahawah; and they anointed Dawad king over Yasharaal, according to the word of Yahawah by Shamawaal.⁴ Dawad and all Yasharaal went to Yarawashalam (the same is Yabawas); and the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land, were there.⁵ The inhabitants of Yabawas said to Dawad, You shall not come in here. Nevertheless Dawad took the stronghold of Tzayawan; the same is the city of Dawad.⁶ Dawad said, Whoever strikes the Jebusites first shall be chief and captain. Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah went up first, and was made chief.⁷ Dawad lived in the stronghold; therefore they called it the city of Dawad.⁸ He built the city round about, from Malawaa even round about; and Yawaab repaired the rest of the city.⁹ Dawad grew greater and greater; for Yahawah Tzabaawath was with him.¹⁰ Now these are the chief of the mighty men whom Dawad had, who showed themselves strong with him in his kingdom, together with all Yasharaal, to make him king, according to the word of Yahawah concerning Yasharaal.¹¹ This is the number of the mighty men whom Dawad had: Yashabaim, the son of a Chakamawanay, the chief of the thirty; he lifted up his spear against three hundred and killed them at one time.¹² After him was Alaizar the son of Dawadaw, the Ahohite, who was one of the three mighty men.¹³ He was with Dawad at Pasdammim, and there the Palashath were gathered together to battle, where was a plot of ground full of barley; and the people fled from before the Palashath.¹⁴ They stood in the midst of the plot, and defended it, and killed the Palashath; and Yahawah saved them by a great victory.¹⁵ Three of the thirty chief men went down to the rock to Dawad, into the cave of Idalam; and the host of the Palashath were encamped in the valley of Rephaim.¹⁶ Dawad was then in the stronghold, and the garrison of the Palashath was then in Bayath-lehem.¹⁷ Dawad longed, and said, Oh that one would give me water to drink of the well of Bayath-lehem, which is by the gate!¹⁸ The three broke through the host of the Palashath, and drew water out of the well of Bayath-lehem, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to Dawad; but Dawad would not drink of it, but poured it out to Yahawah,¹⁹ and said, My Alahayam forbid it me, that I should do this: shall I drink the blood of these men who have put their lives in jeopardy? for with [the jeopardy of] their lives they brought it. Therefore he would not drink it. These things did the three mighty men.²⁰ Abayashay, the brother of Yawaab, he was chief of the three; for he lifted up his spear against three hundred and killed them, and had a name among the three.²¹ Of the three, he was more honorable than the two, and was made their captain: however he didn't attain to the [first] three.²² Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai, the son of a valiant man of Qabatzaal, who had done mighty deeds, he killed the two [sons of] Arayaal of Mawaab: he went down also and killed a lion in the midst of a pit in time of snow.²³ He killed an Matzarayam, a man of great stature, five cubits high; and in the Matzarayam's hand was a spear like a weaver's beam; and he went down to him with a staff, and plucked the spear out of the Matzarayam's hand, and killed him with his own spear.²⁴ These things did Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai, and had a name among the three mighty men.²⁵ Behold, he was more honorable than the thirty, but he didn't attain to the [first] three: and Dawad set him over his guard.²⁶ Also the mighty men of the armies: Ishahaal the brother of Yawaab, Elhanan the son of Dawadaw of Bayath-lehem,²⁷ Shamawath the Harorite, Chalatz the Pelonite,²⁸ Iyaraa the son of Iqash the Tekoite, Abayaizar the Anathothite,²⁹ Sabakay the Hushathite, Iyalay the Ahohite,³⁰ Maharay the Netophathite, Chalad the son of Bainah the Netophathite,³¹ Athay the son of Rayabay of Gabaih of the children of Banayaman, Banayahaw the Pirathonite,³² Chawaray of the brooks of Gaish, Abayaal the Arbathite,³³ Izamawath the Baharumite, Eliahba the Shaalbonite,³⁴ the sons of Hasham the Gizonite, Yahawanathan the son of Shagee the Hararite,³⁵ Achayaam the son of Shakar the Hararite, Alayapal the son of Ur,³⁶ Chapar the Mecherathite, Achayah the Pelonite,³⁷ Chatzaraw the Carmelite, Nairay the son of Azabay,³⁸ Yawaal the brother of Nathan, Mabachar the son of Hagaray,³⁹ Tzalaq the Ammonite, Nacharay the Berothite, the armor bearer of Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah,⁴⁰ Iyaraa the Ithrite, Garab the Ithrite,⁴¹ Awarayah the Hittite, Zabad the son of Achalay,⁴² Idayanaa the son of Shayazaa the Reubenite, a chief of the Reubenites, and thirty with him,⁴³ Hanan the son of Maacah, and Yawashapat the Mithnite,⁴⁴ Izayaa the Ashterathite, Shamai and Yaiyaal the sons of Chawatham the Aroerite,⁴⁵ Yadayaal the son of Shamaray, and Yawachaa his brother, the Tizite,⁴⁶ Alayaal the Mahavite, and Yarayabay, and Yawashawayah, the sons of Alanaim, and Yathamah the Moabite,⁴⁷ Alayaal, and Iwabab, and Yaishayaal the Mezobaite.

12 Now these are those who came to Dawad to Tzaqalag, while he yet kept himself close because of Shaawal the son of Qayash; and they were among the mighty men, his helpers in war.³ They were armed with bows, and could use both the right hand and the left in slinging stones and in shooting arrows from the bow: they were of Shaawal's brothers of Banayaman.⁴ The chief was Achayaizar; then Yawaash, the sons of Shamaiah the Gibeathite, and Jeziel, and Palat, the sons of Izamawath, and Beracah, and Yahawaa the Anathothite,⁵ and Yashamaiah the Gibeonite, a mighty man among the thirty, and over the thirty, and Yaramayahaw, and Yachazayaal, and Yawachanan, and Yawazabad the Gederathite,⁶ Alaiwazay, and Yarayamawath, and Bailayah, and Shamarayah, and Shapatayah the Haruphite,⁷ Alaqaanah, and Yashayah, and Izaraal, and Yawaizar, and Yashabaim, the Korahites,⁸ and Yawaialah, and Zabadayah, the sons of Yaracham of Gadawar.⁹ Of the Gadites there separated themselves to Dawad to the stronghold in the wilderness, mighty men of valor, men trained for war, that could handle shield and spear; whose faces were like the faces of lions, and they were as swift as the roes on the mountains;¹⁰ Atzar the chief, Ibadayah the second, Alayaab the third,¹¹ Mashamanah the fourth, Yaramayahaw the fifth,¹² Ithay the sixth, Alayaal the seventh,¹³ Yawachanan the eighth, Alazabad the ninth,¹⁴ Yaramayahaw the tenth, Machbannai the eleventh.¹⁵ These of the sons of Gad were captains of the host: he who was least was equal to one hundred, and the greatest to one thousand.¹⁶ These are those who went over the Yaran in the first month, when it had overflowed all its banks; and they put to flight all them of the valleys, both toward the east, and toward the west.¹⁷ There came of the children of Banayaman and Yahawadah to the stronghold to Dawad.¹⁸ Dawad went out to meet them, and answered them, If you be come peaceably to me to help me, my heart shall be knit to you; but if [you be come] to betray me to my adversaries, seeing there is no wrong in my hands, the Alahayam of our fathers look thereon, and rebuke it.¹⁹ Then the Spirit came on Imashay, who was chief of the thirty, [and he said], Your are we, Dawad, and on your side, you son of Yashay: peace, peace be to you, and peace be to your helpers; for your Alahayam helps you. Then Dawad received them, and made them captains of the band.²⁰ Of Manashah also there fell away some to Dawad, when he came with the Palashath against Shaawal to battle: but they didn't help them; for the lords of the Palashath on advise sent him away, saying, He will fall away to his master Shaawal to the jeopardy of our heads.²¹ As he went to Tzaqalag, there fell to him of Manashah, Idanah, and Yawazabad, and Yadayaal, and Mayakaal, and Yawazabad, and Alayahawaa, and Zillethai, captains of thousands who were of Manashah.²² They helped Dawad against the band of rovers: for they were all mighty men of valor, and were captains in the host.²³ For from day to day men came to Dawad to help him, until there was a great host, like the host of Alahayam.²⁴ These are the numbers of the heads of those who were armed for war, who came to Dawad to Chabarawan, to turn the kingdom of Shaawal to him, according to the word of Yahawah.²⁵ The children of Yahawadah who bore shield and spear were six thousand and eight hundred, armed for war.²⁶ Of the children of Shamaiwan, mighty men of valor for the war, seven thousand and one hundred.²⁷ Of the children of Laway four thousand and six hundred.²⁸ Yahawayadai was the leader of [the house of] Aharan; and with him were three thousand and seven hundred,²⁹ and Tzadawaq, a young man mighty of valor, and of his father's house twenty-two captains.³⁰ Of the children of Banayaman, the brothers of Shaawal, three thousand: for hitherto the greatest part of them had kept their allegiance to the house of Shaawal.³¹ Of the children of Aparayam twenty thousand eight hundred, mighty men of valor, famous men in their fathers' houses.³² Of the half-tribe of Manashah eighteen thousand, who were mentioned by name, to come and make Dawad king.³³ Of the children of Yashashakar, men who had understanding of the times, to know what Yasharaal ought to do, the heads of them were two hundred; and all their brothers were at their commandment.³⁴ Of Zabawalan, such as were able to go out in the host, who could set the battle in array, with all manner of instruments of war, fifty thousand, and who could order [the battle array, and were] not of double heart.³⁵ Of Napathalay one thousand captains, and with them with shield and spear thirty-seven thousand.³⁶ Of the Danay who could set the battle in array, twenty-eight thousand six hundred.³⁷ Of Ashar, such as were able to go out in the host, who could set the battle in array, forty thousand.³⁸ On the other side of the Yaradan, of the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and of the half-tribe of Manashah, with all manner of instruments of war for the battle, one hundred twenty thousand.³⁹ All these being men of war, who could order the battle array, came with a perfect heart to Chabarawan, to make Dawad king over all Yasharaal: and all the rest also of Yasharaal were of one heart to make Dawad king.⁴⁰ They were there with Dawad three days, eating and drinking; for their brothers had made preparation for them.⁴¹ Moreover those who were near to them, [even] as far as Yashashakar and Zabawalan and Napathalay, brought bread on donkeys, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, victuals of meal, cakes of figs, and clusters of raisins, and wine, and oil, and oxen, and sheep in abundance: for there was joy in Yasharaal.

13 Dawad consulted with the captains of thousands and of hundreds, even with every leader.² Dawad said to all the assembly of Yasharaal, If it seem good to you, and if it be of Yahawah our Alahayam, let us send abroad everywhere to our brothers who are left in all the land of Yasharaal, with whom the priests and Levites are in their cities that have suburbs, that they may gather themselves to us;³ and let us bring again the ark of our Alahayam to us: for we didn't seek it in the days of Shaawal.⁴ All the assembly said that they would do so; for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.⁵ So Dawad assembled all Yasharaal together, from the Shayachawar [the brook] of Matzarayam even to the entrance of Chamath, to bring the ark of Alahayam from Kiriath-Yairayam.⁶ Dawad went up, and all Yasharaal, to Bailah, [that is], to Kiriath-Yairayam, which belonged to Yahawadah, to bring up from there the ark of Alahayam Yahawah that sits [above] the cherubim, that is called by the Name.⁷ They carried the ark of Alahayam on a new cart, [and brought it] out of the house of Abayanadab: and Izaa and Achayaw drove the cart.⁸ Dawad and all Yasharaal played before Alahayam with all their might, even with songs, and with harps, and with psalteries, and with tambourines, and with cymbals, and with trumpets.⁹ When they came to the threshing floor of Kayadan, Izaa put forth his hand to hold the ark; for the oxen stumbled.¹⁰ The anger of Yahawah was kindled against Izaa, and he struck him, because he put forth his hand to the ark; and there he died before Alahayam.¹¹ Dawad was displeased, because Yahawah had broken forth on Izaa; and he called that place Paratz-Izaa, to this day.¹² Dawad was afraid of Alahayam that day, saying, How shall I bring the ark of Alahayam home to me?¹³ So Dawad didn't move the ark to him into the city of Dawad, but carried it aside into the house of Ibad the Gittite.¹⁴ The ark of Alahayam remained with the family of Ibad in his house three months: and Yahawah blessed the house of Ibad, and all that he had.

14 Chayaram king of Tzar sent messengers to Dawad, and cedar-trees, and masons, and carpenters, to build him a house.² Dawad perceived that Yahawah had established him king over Yasharaal; for his kingdom was exalted on high, for his people Yasharaal's sake.³ Dawad took more wives at Yarawashalam; and Dawad became the father of more sons and daughters.⁴ These are the names of the children whom he had in Yarawashalam: Shamawai, and Shawabab, Nathan, and Shalamah,⁵ and Yabachar, and Alayashawai, and Elpelet,⁶ and Nagah, and Napag, and Yapayai,⁷ and Alayashamai, and Bailayadai, and Alayapalat.⁸ When the Palashath heard that Dawad was anointed king over all Yasharaal, all the Palashath went up to seek Dawad: and Dawad heard of it, and went out against them.⁹ Now the Palashath had come and made a raid in the valley of Rephaim.¹⁰ Dawad inquired of Alahayam, saying, Shall I go up against the Palashath? and will you deliver them into my hand? Yahawah said to him, Go up; for I will deliver them into your hand.¹¹ So they came up to Bail, and Dawad struck them there; and Dawad said, Alahayam has broken my enemies by my hand, like the breach of waters. Therefore they called the name of that place Bail.¹² They left their gods there; and Dawad gave commandment, and they were burned with fire.¹³ The Palashath yet again made a raid in the valley.¹⁴ Dawad inquired again of Alahayam; and Alahayam said to him, You shall not go up after them: turn away from them, and come on them over against the mulberry-trees.¹⁵ It shall be, when you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the mulberry-trees, that then you shall go out to battle; for Alahayam is gone out before you to strike the host of the Palashath.¹⁶ Dawad did as Alahayam commanded him: and they struck the host of the Palashath from Gabaiwan even to Gazar.¹⁷ The fame of Dawad went out into all lands; and Yahawah brought the fear of him on all nations.

15 [Dawad] made him houses in the city of Dawad; and he prepared a place for the ark of Alahayam, and pitched for it a tent.² Then Dawad said, None ought to carry the ark of Alahayam but the Levites: for them has Yahawah chosen to carry the ark of Alahayam, and to minister to him forever.³ Dawad assembled all Yasharaal at Yarawashalam, to bring up the ark of Yahawah to its place, which he had prepared for it.⁴ Dawad gathered together the sons of Aharan, and the Levites:⁵ of the sons of Qahath, Awarayaal the chief, and his brothers one hundred twenty;⁶ of the sons of Mararay, Ishayah the chief, and his brothers two hundred twenty;⁷ of the sons of Garashawan, Yawaal the chief, and his brothers one hundred thirty;⁸ of the sons of Alayatzapan, Shamaiah the chief, and his brothers two hundred;⁹ of the sons of Chabarawan, Alayaal the chief, and his brothers eighty;¹⁰ of the sons of Izayaal, Imayanadab the chief, and his brothers one hundred twelve.¹¹ Dawad called for Tzadawaq and Abayathar the priests, and for the Levites, for Awarayaal, Ishayah, and Yawaal, Shamaiah, and Alayaal, and Imayanadab,¹² and said to them, You are the heads of the fathers' [houses] of the Levites: sanctify yourselves, both you and your brothers, that you may bring up the ark of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, to [the place] that I have prepared for it.¹³ For because you didn't carry it at the first, Yahawah our Alahayam made a breach on us, because we didn't seek him according to the ordinance.¹⁴ So the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the ark of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.¹⁵ The children of the Levites bore the ark of Alahayam on their shoulders with the poles thereon, as Mashah commanded according to the word of Yahawah.¹⁶ Dawad spoke to the chief of the Levites to appoint their brothers the singers, with instruments of music, psalteries and harps and cymbals, sounding aloud and lifting up the voice with joy.¹⁷ So the Levites appointed Hayaman the son of Yawaal; and of his brothers, Asap the son of Barakayah; and of the sons of Mararay their brothers, Ayathan the son of Qawashayahaw;¹⁸ and with them their brothers of the second degree, Zakarayah, Ban, and Yaizayaal, and Shamayaramawath, and Yachayaal, and Inay, Alayaab, and Banayahaw, and Maishayah, and Mathathayah, and Alayapalahaw, and Maqanayahaw, and Ibad, and Yaiyaal, the doorkeepers.¹⁹ So the singers, Hayaman, Asap, and Ayathan, [were appointed] with cymbals of brass to sound aloud;²⁰ and Zakarayah, and Izayaal, and Shamayaramawath, and Yachayaal, and Inay, and Alayaab, and Maishayah, and Banayahaw, with psalteries set to Alamothe;²¹ and Mathathayah, and Alayapalahaw, and Maqanayahaw, and Ibad, and Yaiyaal, and Izazayahaw, with harps tuned to the eight-stringed lyre, to lead.²² Kananayahaw, chief of the Levites, was over the song: he instructed about the song, because he was skillful.²³ Barakayah and Alaqanah were doorkeepers for the ark.²⁴ Shabanayah, and Yawashapat, and Nathanaal, and Imashay, and Zakarayah, and Banayahaw, and Alayaizar, the priests, did blow the trumpets before the ark of Alahayam: and Ibad and Yachayah were doorkeepers for the ark.²⁵ So Dawad, and the elders of Yasharaal, and the captains over thousands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant of Yahawah out of the house of Ibad with joy.²⁶ It happened, when Alahayam helped the Levites who bore the ark of the covenant of Yahawah, that they sacrificed seven bulls and seven rams.²⁷ Dawad was clothed with a robe of fine linen, and all the Levites who bore the ark, and the singers, and Kananayahaw the master of the song [with] the singers: and Dawad had on him an ephod of linen.²⁸ Thus all Yasharaal brought up the ark of the covenant of Yahawah with shouting, and with sound of the cornet, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, sounding aloud with psalteries and harps.²⁹ It happened, as the ark of the covenant of Yahawah came to the city of Dawad, that Mayakal the daughter of Shaawal looked out at the window, and saw king Dawad dancing and playing; and she despised him in her heart.

16 They brought in the ark of Alahayam, and set it in the midst of the tent that Dawad had pitched for it: and they offered burnt offerings and peace-offerings before Alahayam.² When Dawad had made an end of offering the burnt offering and the peace-offerings, he blessed the people in the name of Yahawah.³ He dealt to everyone of Yasharaal, both man and woman, to every one a loaf of bread, and a portion [of flesh], and a cake of raisins.⁴ He appointed certain of the Levites to minister before the ark of Yahawah, and to celebrate and to thank and praise Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal:⁵ Asap the chief, and second to him Zakarayah, Yaiyaal, and Shamayaramawath, and Yachayaal, and Mathathayah, and Alayaab, and Banayahaw, and Ibad, and Yaiyaal, with psalteries and with harps; and Asap with cymbals, sounding aloud;⁶ and Banayahaw and Yachazayaal the priests with trumpets continually, before the ark of the covenant of Alahayam.⁷ Then on that day Dawad first ordained to give thanks to Yahawah, by the hand of Asap and his brothers.⁸ Oh give thanks to Yahawah, call on his name; Make known his doings among the peoples.⁹ Sing to him, sing praises to him; Talk you of all his marvelous works.¹⁰ Glory you in his holy name; Let the heart of them rejoice who seek Yahawah.¹¹ Seek you Yahawah and his strength; Seek his face forever more.¹² Remember his marvelous works that he has done, His wonders, and the judgments of his mouth,¹³ You seed of Yasharaal his servant, You children of Yaiqab, his chosen ones.¹⁴ He is Yahawah our Alahayam; His judgments are in all the earth.¹⁵ Remember his covenant forever, The word which he commanded to a thousand generations,¹⁶ [The covenant] which he made with Abaraham, His oath to Yatzachaq,¹⁷ Confirmed the same to Yaiqab for a statute, To Yasharaal for an everlasting covenant,¹⁸ Saying, To you will I give the land of Kanain, The lot of your inheritance;¹⁹ When you were but a few men in number, Yes, very few, and sojourners in it;²⁰ They went about from nation to nation, From one kingdom to another people.²¹ He allowed no man to do them wrong; Yes, he reproved kings for their sakes,²² [Saying], Don't touch my anointed ones, Do my prophets no harm.²³ Sing to Yahawah, all the earth; Show forth his salvation from day to day.²⁴ Declare his glory among the nations, His marvelous works among all the peoples.²⁵ For great is Yahawah, and greatly to be praised: He also is to be feared above all gods.²⁶ For all the gods of the peoples are idols: But Yahawah made the heavens.²⁷ Honor and majesty are before him: Strength and gladness are in his place.²⁸ Ascribe to Yahawah, you relatives of the peoples, Ascribe to Yahawah glory and strength;²⁹ Ascribe to Yahawah the glory due to his name: Bring an offering, and come before him: Worship Yahawah in holy array.³⁰ Tremble before him, all the earth: The world also is established that it can't be moved.³¹ Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice; Let them say among the nations, Yahawah reigns.³² Let the sea roar, and the fullness of it; Let the field exult, and all that is therein;³³ Then shall the trees of the wood sing for joy before Yahawah; For he comes to judge the earth.³⁴ Oh give thanks to Yahawah; for he is good; For his lovingkindness endures forever.³⁵ Say you, Save us, Alahayam of our salvation, Gather us together and deliver us from the nations, To give thanks to your holy name, To triumph in your praise.³⁶ Blessed be Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, From everlasting even to everlasting. All the people said, Amen, and praised Yahawah.³⁷ So he left there, before the ark of the covenant of Yahawah, Asap and his brothers, to minister before the ark continually, as every day's work required;³⁸ and Ibad with their brothers, sixty-eight; Ibad also the son of Yadawathawan and Chasah to be doorkeepers;³⁹ and Tzadawaq the priest, and his brothers the priests, before the tent of Yahawah in the high place that was at Gabaiwan,⁴⁰ to offer burnt offerings to Yahawah on the altar of burnt offering continually morning and evening, even according to all that is written in the law of Yahawah, which he commanded to Yasharaal;⁴¹ and with them Hayaman and Yadawathawan, and the rest who were chosen, who were mentioned by name, to give thanks to Yahawah, because his lovingkindness endures forever;⁴² and with them Hayaman and Yadawathawan [with] trumpets and cymbals for those that should sound aloud, and [with] instruments for the songs of Alahayam; and the sons of Yadawathawan to be at the gate.⁴³ All the people departed every man to his house: and Dawad returned to bless his house.

17 It happened, when Dawad lived in his house, that Dawad said to Nathan the prophet, Behold, I dwell in a house of cedar, but the ark of the covenant of Yahawah [dwells] under curtains.² Nathan said to Dawad, Do all that is in your heart; for Alahayam is with you.³ It happened the same night, that the word of Alahayam came to Nathan, saying,⁴ Go and tell Dawad my servant, Thus says Yahawah, You shall not build me a house to dwell in:⁵ for I have not lived in a house since the day that I brought up Yasharaal, to this day, but have gone from tent to tent, and from [one] tent [to another].⁶ In all places in which I have walked with all Yasharaal, spoke I a word with any of the judges of Yasharaal, whom I commanded to be shepherd of my people, saying, Why have you not built me a house of cedar?⁷ Now therefore thus shall you tell my servant Dawad, Thus says Yahawah Tzabaawath, I took you from the sheep pen, from following the sheep, that you should be prince over my people Yasharaal:⁸ and I have been with you wherever you have gone, and have cut off all your enemies from before you; and I will make you a name, like the name of the great ones who are in the earth.⁹ I will appoint a place for my people Yasharaal, and will plant them, that they may dwell in their own place, and be moved no more; neither shall the children of wickedness waste them any more, as at the first,¹⁰ and [as] from the day that I commanded judges to be over my people Yasharaal; and I will subdue all your enemies. Moreover I tell you that Yahawah will build you a house.¹¹ It shall happen, when your days are fulfilled that you must go to be with your fathers, that I will set up your seed after you, who shall be of your sons; and I will establish his kingdom.¹² He shall build me a house, and I will establish his throne forever.¹³ I will be his father, and he shall be my son: and I will not take my lovingkindness away from him, as I took it from him that was before you;¹⁴ but I will settle him in my house and in my kingdom forever; and his throne shall be established forever.¹⁵ According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so did Nathan speak to Dawad.¹⁶ Then Dawad the king went in, and sat before Yahawah; and he said, Who am I, Yahawah Alahayam, and what is my house, that you have brought me thus far?¹⁷ This was a small thing in your eyes, Alahayam; but you have spoken of your servant's house for a great while to come, and have regarded me according to the estate of a man of high degree, Yahawah Alahayam.¹⁸ What can Dawad [say] yet more to you concerning the honor which is done to your servant? for you know your servant.¹⁹ Yahawah, for your servant's sake, and according to your own heart, have you worked all this greatness, to make known all [these] great things.²⁰ Yahawah, there is none like you, neither is there any Alahayam besides you, according to all that we have heard with our ears.²¹ What one nation in the earth is like your people Yasharaal, whom Alahayam went to redeem to himself for a people, to make you a name by great and awesome things, in driving out nations from before your people, whom you redeem out of Matzarayam?²² For your people Yasharaal did you make your own people forever; and you, Yahawah, became their Alahayam.²³ Now, Yahawah, let the word that you have spoken concerning your servant, and concerning his house, be established forever, and do as you have spoken.²⁴ Let your name be established and magnified forever, saying, Yahawah Tzabaawath is the Alahayam of Yasharaal, even a Alahayam to Yasharaal: and the house of Dawad your servant is established before you.²⁵ For you, my Alahayam, have revealed to your servant that you will build him a house; therefore has your servant found [in his heart] to pray before you.²⁶ Now, Yahawah, you are Alahayam, and have promised this good thing to your servant:²⁷ and now it has pleased you to bless the house of your servant, that it may continue forever before you: for you, Yahawah, have blessed, and it is blessed forever.

18 After this it happened, that Dawad struck the Palashath, and subdued them, and took Gath and its towns out of the hand of the Palashath.² He struck Mawaab; and the Moabites became servants to Dawad, and brought tribute.³ Dawad struck Hadarezer king of Tzawabah to Chamath, as he went to establish his dominion by the river Parath.⁴ Dawad took from him one thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen; and Dawad hamstrung all the chariot horses, but reserved of them for one hundred chariots.⁵ When the Aram of Damashaq came to help Hadarezer king of Tzawabah, Dawad struck of the Aram twenty-two thousand men.⁶ Then Dawad put [garrisons] in Aram of Damashaq; and the Aram became servants to Dawad, and brought tribute. Yahawah gave victory to Dawad wherever he went.⁷ Dawad took the shields of gold that were on the servants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Yarawashalam.⁸ From Tabachath and from Cun, cities of Hadarezer, Dawad took very much brass, with which Shalahmah made the brazen sea, and the pillars, and the vessels of brass.⁹ When Thai king of Chamath heard that Dawad had struck all the host of Hadarezer king of Tzawabah,¹⁰ he sent Hadawaram his son to king Dawad, to Greet him, and to bless him, because he had fought against Hadarezer and struck him; (for Hadarezer had wars with Thai); and [he had with him] all manner of vessels of gold and silver and brass.¹¹ These also did king Dawad dedicate to Yahawah, with the silver and the gold that he carried away from all the nations; from Adawam, and from Mawaab, and from the children of Imawan, and from the Palashath, and from Imalaq.¹² Moreover Abayashay the son of Tzarawayah struck of the Adawam in the Valley of Salt eighteen thousand.¹³ He put garrisons in Adawam; and all the Adawam became servants to Dawad. Yahawah gave victory to Dawad wherever he went.¹⁴ Dawad reigned over all Yasharaal; and he executed justice and righteousness to all his people.¹⁵ Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah was over the host; and Yahawashapat the son of Achayalawad was recorder;¹⁶ and Tzadawaq the son of Achayatawab, and Abayamalak the son of Abayathar, were priests; and Shawashaa was scribe;¹⁷ and Banayahaw the son of Yahawayadai was over the Cherethites and the Pelethites; and the sons of Dawad were chief about the king.

19 It happened after this, that Nachash the king of the children of Imawan died, and his son reigned in his place.² Dawad said, I will show kindness to Chanawan the son of Nachash, because his father showed kindness to me. So Dawad sent messengers to comfort him concerning his father. Dawad's servants came into the land of the children of Imawan to Chanawan, to comfort him.³ But the princes of the children of Imawan said to Chanawan, Think you that Dawad does honor your father, in that he has sent comforters to you? Aren't his servants come to you to search, and to overthrow, and to spy out the land?⁴ So Chanawan took Dawad's servants, and shaved them, and cut off their garments in the middle, even to their buttocks, and sent them away.⁵ Then there went certain persons, and told Dawad how the men were served. He sent to meet them; for the men were greatly ashamed. The king said, Stay at Yarayachaw until your beards be grown, and then return.⁶ When the children of Imawan saw that they had made themselves odious to Dawad, Chanawan and the children of Imawan sent one thousand talents of silver to hire them chariots and horsemen out of Aram, and out of Arammaacah, and out of Tzawabah.⁷ So they hired them thirty-two thousand chariots, and the king of Maacah and his people, who came and encamped before Mayadabaa. The children of Imawan gathered themselves together from their cities, and came to battle.⁸ When Dawad heard of it, he sent Yawaab, and all the host of the mighty men.⁹ The children of Imawan came out, and put the battle in array at the gate of the city: and the kings who had come were by themselves in the field.¹⁰ Now when Yawaab saw that the battle was set against him before and behind, he chose of all the choice men of Yasharaal, and put them in array against the Aram.¹¹ The rest of the people he committed into the hand of Abayashay his brother; and they put themselves in array against the children of Imawan.¹² He said, If the Aram be too strong for me, then you shall help me; but if the children of Imawan be too strong for you, then I will help you.¹³ Be of good courage, and let us play the man for our people, and for the cities of our Alahayam: and Yahawah do that which seems him good.¹⁴ So Yawaab and the people who were with him drew near before the Aram to the battle; and they fled before him.¹⁵ When the children of Imawan saw that the Aram were fled, they likewise fled before Abayashay his brother, and entered into the city. Then Yawaab came to Yarawashalam.¹⁶ When the Aram saw that they were put to the worse before Yasharaal, they sent messengers, and drew forth the Aram who were beyond the River, with Shawapak the captain of the host of Hadarezer at their head.¹⁷ It was told Dawad; and he gathered all Yasharaal together, and passed over the Yardan, and came on them, and set the battle in array against them. So when Dawad had put the battle in array against the Aram, they fought with him.¹⁸ The Aram fled before Yasharaal; and Dawad killed of the Aram [the men of] seven thousand chariots, and forty thousand footmen, and killed Shawapak the captain of the host.¹⁹ When the servants of Hadarezer saw that they were put to the worse before Yasharaal, they made peace with Dawad, and served him: neither would the Aram help the children of Imawan any more.

20 It happened, at the time of the return of the year, at the time when kings go out [to battle], that Yawaab led forth the army, and wasted the country of the children of Imawan, and came and besieged Rabah. But Dawad stayed at Yarawashalam. Yawaab struck Rabah, and overthrew it.² Dawad took the crown of their king from off his head, and found it to weigh a talent of gold, and there were precious stones in it; and it was set on Dawad's head: and he brought forth the spoil of the city, exceeding much.³ He brought forth the people who were therein, and cut [them] with saws, and with harrows of iron, and with axes. Thus did Dawad to all the cities of the children of Imawan. Dawad and all the people returned to Yarawashalam.⁴ It happened after this, that there arose war at Gazar with the Palashath: then Sabakay the Hushathite killed Sapay, of the sons of the giant; and they were subdued.⁵ There was again war with the Palashath; and Elhanan the son of Yaayar killed

Lachamay the brother of Galayath the Gittite, the staff of whose spear was like a weaver's beam.⁶ There was again war at Gath, where was a man of great stature, whose fingers and toes were twenty-four, six [on each hand], and six [on each foot]; and he also was born to the giant.⁷ When he defied Yasharaal, Yahawanathan the son of Shamaia Dawad's brother killed him.⁸ These were born to the giant in Gath; and they fell by the hand of Dawad, and by the hand of his servants.

21 Satan stood up against Yasharaal, and moved Dawad to number Yasharaal.² Dawad said to Yawaab and to the princes of the people, Go, number Yasharaal from Beersheba even to Wadan; and bring me word, that I may know the sum of them.³ Yawaab said, Yahawah make his people a hundred times as many as they are: but, my lord the king, aren't they all my lord's servants? why does my lord require this thing? why will he be a cause of guilt to Yasharaal?⁴ Nevertheless the king's word prevailed against Yawaab. Why Yawaab departed, and went throughout all Yasharaal, and came to Yarawashalam.⁵ Yawaab gave up the sum of the numbering of the people to Dawad. All those of Yasharaal were one million one hundred thousand men who drew sword: and in Yahawadah were four hundred seventy thousand men who drew sword.⁶ But he didn't count Laway and Banayaman among them; for the king's word was abominable to Yawaab.⁷ Alahayam was displeased with this thing; therefore he struck Yasharaal.⁸ Dawad said to Alahayam, I have sinned greatly, in that I have done this thing: but now, put away, I beg you, the iniquity of your servant; for I have done very foolishly.⁹ Yahawah spoke to Gad, Dawad's seer, saying,¹⁰ Go and speak to Dawad, saying, Thus says Yahawah, I offer you three things: choose you one of them, that I may do it to you.¹¹ So Gad came to Dawad, and said to him, Thus says Yahawah, Take which you will:¹² either three years of famine; or three months to be consumed before your foes, while the sword of your enemies overtakes you; or else three days the sword of Yahawah, even pestilence in the land, and the angel of Yahawah destroying throughout all the borders of Yasharaal. Now therefore consider what answer I shall return to him who sent me.¹³ Dawad said to Gad, I am in a great strait: let me fall, I pray, into the hand of Yahawah; for very great are his mercies: and let me not fall into the hand of man.¹⁴ So Yahawah sent a pestilence on Yasharaal; and there fell of Yasharaal seventy thousand men.¹⁵ Alahayam sent an angel to Yarawashalam to destroy it: and as he was about to destroy, Yahawah saw, and he repented him of the evil, and said to the destroying angel, It is enough; now stay your hand. The angel of Yahawah was standing by the threshing floor of Aranan the Jebusite.¹⁶ Dawad lifted up his eyes, and saw the angel of Yahawah standing between earth and the sky, having a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Yarawashalam. Then Dawad and the elders, clothed in sackcloth, fell on their faces.¹⁷ Dawad said to Alahayam, Isn't it I who commanded the people to be numbered? It is even I who have sinned and done very wickedly; but these sheep, what have they done? Please let your hand, O Yahawah my Alahayam, be against me, and against my father's house; but not against your people, that they should be plagued.¹⁸ Then the angel of Yahawah commanded Gad to tell Dawad, that Dawad should go up, and raise an altar to Yahawah in the threshing floor of Aranan the Jebusite.¹⁹ Dawad went up at the saying of Gad, which he spoke in the name of Yahawah.²⁰ Aranan turned back, and saw the angel; and his four sons who were with him hid themselves. Now Aranan was threshing wheat.²¹ As Dawad came to Aranan, Aranan looked and saw Dawad, and went out of the threshing floor, and bowed himself to Dawad with his face to the ground.²² Then Dawad said to Aranan, Give me the place of this threshing floor, that I may build thereon an altar to Yahawah: for the full price shall you give it me, that the plague may be stayed from the people.²³ Aranan said to Dawad, Take it to you, and let my lord the king do that which is good in his eyes: behold, I give [you] the oxen for burnt offerings, and the threshing instruments for wood, and the wheat for the meal-offering; I give it all.²⁴ King Dawad said to Aranan, No; but I will most assuredly buy it for the full price: for I will not take that which is your for Yahawah, nor offer a burnt-offering without cost.²⁵ So Dawad gave to Aranan for the place six hundred shekels of gold by weight.²⁶ Dawad built there an altar to Yahawah, and offered burnt offerings and peace-offerings, and called on Yahawah; and he answered him from the sky by fire on the altar of burnt offering.²⁷ Yahawah commanded the angel; and he put up his sword again into the sheath of it.²⁸ At that time, when Dawad saw that Yahawah had answered him in the threshing floor of Aranan the Jebusite, then he sacrificed there.²⁹ For the tent of Yahawah, which Mashah made in the wilderness, and the altar of burnt offering, were at that time in the high place at Gabaiwan.³⁰ But Dawad couldn't go before it to inquire of Alahayam; for he was afraid because of the sword of the angel of Yahawah.

22 Then Dawad said, This is the house of Yahawah Alahayam, and this is the altar of burnt-offering for Yasharaal.² Dawad commanded to gather together the sojourners who were in the land of Yasharaal; and he set masons to hew worked stones to build the house of Alahayam.³ Dawad prepared iron in abundance for the nails for the doors of the gates, and for the couplings; and brass in abundance without weight;⁴ and cedar-trees without number: for the Sidonians and they of Tzar brought cedar-trees in abundance to Dawad.⁵ Dawad said, Shalamah my son is young and tender, and the house that is to be built for Yahawah must be exceeding magnificent, of fame and of glory throughout all countries: I will therefore make preparation for it. So Dawad prepared abundantly before his death.⁶ Then he called for Shalamah his son, and charged him to build a house for Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.⁷ Dawad said to Shalamah his son, As for me, it was in my heart to build a house to the name of Yahawah my Alahayam.⁸ But the word of Yahawah came to me, saying, You have shed blood abundantly, and have made great wars: you shall not build a house to my name, because you have shed much blood on the earth in my sight.⁹ Behold, a son shall be born to you, who shall be a man of rest; and I will give him rest from all his enemies round about; for his name shall be Shalamah, and I will give peace and quietness to Yasharaal in his days:¹⁰ he shall build a house for my name; and he shall be my son, and I will be his father; and I will establish the throne of his kingdom over Yasharaal for ever.¹¹ Now, my son, Yahawah be with you; and prosper you, and build the house of Yahawah your Alahayam, as he has spoken concerning you.¹² Only Yahawah give you discretion and understanding, and give you charge concerning Yasharaal; that so you may keep the law of Yahawah your Alahayam.¹³ Then shall you prosper, if you observe to do the statutes and the ordinances which Yahawah charged Mashah with concerning Yasharaal: be strong, and of good courage; don't be afraid, neither be dismayed.¹⁴ Now, behold, in my affliction I have prepared for the house of Yahawah one hundred thousand talents of gold, and one thousand thousand talents of silver, and of brass and iron without weight; for it is in abundance: timber also and stone have I prepared; and you may add thereto.¹⁵ Moreover there are workmen with you in abundance, cutters and workers of stone and timber, and all men who are skillful in every manner of work:¹⁶ of the gold, the silver, and the brass, and the iron, there is no number. Arise and be doing, and Yahawah be with you.¹⁷ Dawad also commanded all the princes of Yasharaal to help Shalamah his son, [saying],¹⁸ Isn't Yahawah your Alahayam with you? and hasn't he given you rest on every side? for he has delivered the inhabitants of the land into my hand; and the land is subdued before Yahawah, and before his people.¹⁹ Now set your heart and your soul to seek after Yahawah your Alahayam; arise therefore, and build you the sanctuary of Yahawah Alahayam, to bring the ark of the covenant of Yahawah, and the holy vessels of Alahayam, into the house that is to be built to the name of Yahawah.

23 Now Dawad was old and full of days; and he made Shalamah his son king over Yasharaal.² He gathered together all the princes of Yasharaal, with the priests and the Levites.³ The Levites were numbered from thirty years old and upward: and their number by their polls, man by man, was thirty-eight thousand.⁴ Of these, twenty-four thousand were to oversee the work of the house of Yahawah; and six thousand were officers and judges;⁵ and four thousand were doorkeepers; and four thousand praised Yahawah with the instruments which I made, [said Dawad], to praise therewith.⁶ Dawad divided them into courses according to the sons of Laway: Garashawan, Qahath, and Mararay.⁷ Of the Gershonites: Laidan and Shamaïy.⁸ The sons of Laidan: Yachayaal the chief, and Zatham, and Yawaal, three.⁹ The sons of Shamaïy: Shalamawath, and Chazayaal, and Charan, three. These were the heads of the fathers' [houses] of Laidan.¹⁰ The sons of Shamaïy: Yachath, Zayanaa, and Yaiwash, and Barayaih. These four were the sons of Shamaïy.¹¹ Yachath was the chief, and Zayazah the second: but Yaiwash and Barayaih didn't have many sons; therefore they became a fathers' house in one reckoning.¹² The sons of Qahath: Imaram, Yatzahar, Chabarawan, and Izayaal, four.¹³ The sons of Imaram: Aharan and Mashah; and Aharan was separated, that he should sanctify the most holy things, he and his sons, forever, to burn incense before Yahawah, to minister to him, and to bless in his name, forever.¹⁴ But as for Mashah the man of Alahayam, his sons were named among the tribe of Laway.¹⁵ The sons of Mashah: Garashawan and Alayaizar.¹⁶ The sons of Garashawan: Shawabaaal the chief.¹⁷ The sons of Alayaizar were: Rachabayahaw the chief; and Alayaizar had no other sons; but the sons of Rachabayahaw were very many.¹⁸ The sons of Yatzahar: Shalamayath the chief.¹⁹ The sons of Chabarawan: Yarayahaw the chief, Amarayah the second, Yachazayaal the third, and Yaqamaim the fourth.²⁰ The sons of Izayaal: Mayakah the chief, and Yashayah the second.²¹ The sons of Mararay: Machalay and Mawashay. The sons of Machalay: Alaizar and Qayash.²² Alaizar died, and had no sons, but daughters only: and their brothers the sons of Qayash took them [to wife].²³ The sons of Mawashay: Machalay, and Idar, and Jeremoth, three.²⁴ These were the sons of Laway after their fathers' houses, even the heads of the fathers' [houses] of those of those who were counted, in the number of names by their polls, who did the work for the service of the house of Yahawah, from twenty years old and upward.²⁵ For Dawad said, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, has given rest to his people; and he dwells in Yarawashalam forever:²⁶ and also the Levites shall no more have need to carry the tent and all the vessels of it for the service of it.²⁷ For by the last words of Dawad the sons of Laway were numbered, from twenty years old and upward.²⁸ For their office was to wait on the sons of Aharan for the service of the house of Yahawah, in the courts, and in the chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, even the work of the service of the house of Alahayam;²⁹ for the show bread also, and for the fine flour for a meal-offering, whether of unleavened wafers, or of that which is baked in the pan, or of that which is soaked, and for all manner of measure and size;³⁰ and to stand every morning to thank and praise Yahawah, and likewise at even;³¹ and to offer all burnt offerings to Yahawah, on the Sabbaths, on the new moons, and on the set feasts, in number according to the ordinance concerning them, continually before Yahawah;³² and that they should keep the charge of the tent of meeting, and the charge of the holy place, and the charge of the sons of Aharan their brothers, for the service of the house of Yahawah.

24 The courses of the sons of Aharan [were these]. The sons of Aharan: Nadab and Abayahawaa, Alaizar and Ayathammar.² But Nadab and Abayahawaa died before their father, and had no children: therefore Alaizar and Ayathammar executed the priest's office.³ Dawad with Tzadawaq of the sons of Alaizar, and Achayamalak of the sons of Ayathammar, divided them according to their ordering in their service.⁴ There were more chief men found of the sons of Alaizar than of the sons of Ayathammar; and [thus] were they divided: of the sons of Alaizar there were sixteen, heads of fathers' houses; and of the sons of Ayathammar, according to their fathers' houses, eight.⁵ Thus were they divided by lot, one sort with another; for there were princes of the sanctuary, and princes of Alahayam, both of the sons of Alaizar, and of the sons of Ayathammar.⁶ Shamaïyah the son of Nathanaal the scribe, who was of the Levites, wrote them in the presence of the king, and the princes, and Tzadawaq the priest, and Achayamalak the son of Abayathar, and the heads of the fathers' [houses] of the priests and of the Levites; one fathers' house being taken for Alaizar, and one taken for Ayathammar.⁷ Now the first lot came forth to Yahawayarayab, the second to Yadaïyah,⁸ the third to Charam, the fourth to Shairayam,⁹ the fifth to Malakayah, the sixth to Mayaman,¹⁰ the seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abayah,¹¹ the ninth to Yashawai, the tenth to Shakanayah,¹² the eleventh to Alayashayab, the twelfth to Yaqayam,¹³ the thirteenth to Chapah, the fourteenth to Yashabaab,¹⁴ the fifteenth to Balagah, the sixteenth to Amar,¹⁵ the seventeenth to Chazayar, the eighteenth to Happizzaz,¹⁶ the nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezkel,¹⁷ the one and twentieth to Yakayan, the two and twentieth to Gamawal,¹⁸ the three and twentieth to Dalayah, the four and twentieth to Maizayah.¹⁹ This was the ordering of them in their service, to come into the house of Yahawah according to the ordinance [given] to them by Aharan their father, as Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, had commanded him.²⁰ Of the rest of the sons of Laway: of the sons of Imaram, Shawabaaal; of the sons of Shawabaaal, Yachadayahaw.²¹ Of Rachabayahaw: of the sons of Rachabayahaw, Yashayah the chief.²² Of the Izharites, Shalamawath; of the sons of Shalamawath, Yachath.²³ The sons [of Chabarawan]: Yarayahaw [the chief], Amarayah the second, Yachazayaal the third, Yaqamaim the fourth.²⁴ The sons of Izayaal, Mayakah; of the sons of Mayakah, Shamayar.²⁵ The brother of Mayakah, Yashayah; of the sons of Yashayah, Zakarayah.²⁶ The sons of Mararay: Machalay and Mawashay; the sons of Yaizayahaw: Beno.²⁷ The sons of Mararay: of Yaizayahaw, Beno, and Shaham, and Zakawar, and Ibaray.²⁸ Of Machalay: Alaizar, who had no sons.²⁹ Of Qayash; the sons of Qayash: Yarachamaal.³⁰ The sons of Mawashay: Machalay, and Idar, and Yarayamawath. These were the sons of the Levites after their fathers' houses.³¹ These likewise cast lots even as their brothers the sons of Aharan in the presence of Dawad the king, and Tzadawaq, and Achayamalak, and the heads of the fathers' [houses] of the priests and of the Levites; the fathers' [houses] of the chief even as those of his younger brother.

25 Moreover Dawad and the captains of the host set apart for the service certain of the sons of Asap, and of Hayaman, and of Yadawathawan, who should prophesy with harps, with psalteries, and with cymbals: and the number of those who did the work according to their service was:² of the sons of Asap: Zakawar, and Yawasap, and Nathanayah, and Asharelah, the sons of Asap, under the hand of Asap, who prophesied after the order of the king.³ Of Yadawathawan; the sons of Yadawathawan: Gadalayahaw, and Tzaray, and Yashaiyahaw, Chashabayah, and Mathathayah, six, under the hands of their father Yadawathawan with the harp, who prophesied in giving thanks and praising Yahawah.⁴ Of Hayaman; the sons of Hayaman: Baqayahaw, Mathanayah, Izayaal, Shawabaaal, and Yarayamawath, Chananayah, Chananay, Alayaathah, Gadalathay, and Izar, Yashabaqashah, Malawathay, Hawathayar, Machazayaawath.⁵ All these were the sons of Hayaman the king's seer in the words of Alahayam, to lift up the horn. Alahayam gave to Hayaman fourteen sons and three daughters.⁶ All these were under the hands of their father for song in the house of Yahawah, with cymbals, psalteries, and harps, for the service of the house of Alahayam; Asap, Yadawathawan, and Hayaman being under the order of the king.⁷ The number of them, with their brothers who were instructed in singing to Yahawah, even all who were skillful, was two hundred eighty-eight.⁸ They cast lots for their offices, all alike, as well the small as the great, the teacher as the scholar.⁹ Now the first lot came forth for Asap to Yawasap: the second to Gadalayahaw; he and his brothers and sons were twelve:¹⁰ the third to Zakawar, his sons and his brothers, twelve:¹¹ the fourth to Izri, his sons and his brothers, twelve:¹² the fifth to Nathanayah, his sons and his brothers, twelve:¹³ the sixth to Baqayahaw, his sons and his brothers, twelve:¹⁴ the seventh to Yasharaalah, his sons and his brothers, twelve:¹⁵ the eighth to Yashaiyahaw, his sons and his brothers, twelve:¹⁶ the ninth to Mathanayah, his sons and his brothers, twelve:¹⁷ the tenth to Shamaïy, his sons and his brothers, twelve:¹⁸ the eleventh to Izaraal, his sons and his brothers, twelve:¹⁹ the twelfth to Chashabayah, his sons and his brothers, twelve:²⁰ for the thirteenth, Shawabaa, his sons and his brothers, twelve:²¹ for the fourteenth, Mathathayah, his sons and his brothers, twelve:²² for the fifteenth to Jeremoth, his sons and his brothers, twelve:²³ for the sixteenth to Chananayah, his sons and his brothers, twelve:²⁴ for the seventeenth to Yashabaqashah, his sons and his brothers, twelve:²⁵ for the eighteenth to Chananay, his sons and his brothers, twelve:²⁶ for the nineteenth to Malawathay, his sons and his brothers, twelve:²⁷ for the twentieth to Alayaathah, his sons and his brothers, twelve:²⁸ for the one and twentieth to Hawathayar, his sons and his brothers, twelve:²⁹ for the two and twentieth to Gadalathay, his sons and his brothers, twelve:³⁰ for the three and twentieth to Machazayaawath, his sons and his brothers, twelve:³¹ for the four and twentieth to Romamtiez, his sons and his brothers, twelve.

26 For the courses of the doorkeepers: of the Korahites, Mashalamayahaw the son of Qawaraa, of the sons of Asap.² Mashalamayahaw had sons: Zakarayah the firstborn, Yadayaal the second, Zabadayah the third, Yathanayaal the fourth,³ Iyalam the fifth, Yahawachanan the sixth, Eliehoenai the seventh.⁴ Ibad had sons: Shamaïyah the firstborn, Yahawazabad the second, Yawaach the third, and Shakar the fourth, and Nathanaal the fifth,⁵ Imayaal the sixth, Yashashakar the seventh, Peullethai the eighth; for Alahayam blessed him.⁶ Also to Shamaïyah his son were sons born, who ruled over the house of their father; for they were mighty men of valor.⁷ The sons of Shamaïyah: Ithanay, and Rapaal, and Iwabad, Alazabad, whose brothers were valiant men, Alayahawaa, and Samakayahaw.⁸ All these were of the sons of Ibad: they and their sons and their brothers, able men in strength for the service; sixty-two of Ibad.⁹ Mashalamayahaw had sons and brothers, valiant men, eighteen.¹⁰ Also Chasah, of the children of Mararay, had sons: Shamaray the chief, (for though he was not the firstborn, yet his father made him chief),¹¹ Hilkiah the second, Tabalayahaw the third, Zakarayah the fourth: all the sons and brothers of Chasah were thirteen.¹² Of these were the courses of the doorkeepers, even of the chief men, having offices like their brothers, to minister in the house of Yahawah.¹³ They cast lots, as well the small as the great, according to their fathers' houses, for every gate.¹⁴ The lot eastward fell to Shalamayah. Then for Zakarayah his son, a discreet counselor, they cast lots; and his lot came out northward.¹⁵ To Ibad southward; and to his sons the store-house.¹⁶ To Shapayam and Chasah westward, by the gate of Shallecheth, at the causeway that goes up, watch against watch.¹⁷ Eastward were six Levites, northward four a day, southward four a day, and for the store-house two and two.¹⁸ For Parawarayam westward, four at the causeway, and two at Parawarayam.¹⁹ These were the courses of the doorkeepers; of the sons of the Korahites, and of the sons of Mararay.²⁰ Of the Levites, Achayah was over the treasures of the house of Alahayam, and over the treasures of the dedicated things.²¹ The sons of Laidan, the sons of the Gershonites belonging to Laidan, the heads of the fathers' [houses] belonging to Laidan the Gershonite: Yachayaalay.²² The sons of Yachayaalay: Zatham, and Yawaal his brother, over the treasures of the house of Yahawah.²³ Of the Amramites, of the Izharites, of the Hebronites, of the Uzzielites:²⁴ and Shawabaa the son of Garashawan, the son of Mashah, was ruler over the treasures.²⁵ His brothers: of Alayaizar [came] Rachabayahaw his son, and Yashaiyahaw his son, and Yahawaram his son, and Zakarayah his son, and Shalamawath his son.²⁶ This Shalamawath and his brothers were over all the treasures of the dedicated things, which Dawad the king, and the heads of the fathers' [houses], the captains over thousands and hundreds, and the captains of the host, had dedicated.²⁷ Out of the spoil won in battles did they dedicate to repair the house of Yahawah.²⁸ All that Shamawaal the seer, and Shaawal the son of Qayash, and Abanar the son of Nar, and Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah, had dedicated, whoever had dedicated anything, it was under the hand of Shalamawath, and of his brothers.²⁹ Of the Izharites, Kananayahaw and his sons were for the outward business over Yasharaal, for officers and judges.³⁰ Of the Hebronites, Chashabayah and his brothers, men of valor, one thousand seven hundred, had the oversight of Yasharaal beyond the Yaradan westward, for all the business of Yahawah, and for the service of the king.³¹ Of the Hebronites was Yarayahaw the chief, even of the Hebronites, according to their generations by fathers' [houses]. In the fortieth year of the reign of Dawad they were sought for, and there were found among them mighty men of valor at Yaizar of Galaid.³² His brothers, men of valor, were two thousand and seven hundred, heads of fathers' [houses], whom king Dawad made overseers over the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half-tribe of the Manassites, for every matter pertaining to Alahayam, and for the affairs of the king.

27 Now the children of Yasharaal after their number, [to wit], the heads of fathers' [houses] and the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and their officers who served the king, in any matter of the courses which came in and went out month by month throughout all the months of the year of every course were twenty-four thousand.² Over the first course for the first month was Yashabaim the son of Zabadayaal: and in his course were twenty-four thousand.³ [He was] of the children of Paratz, the chief of all the captains of the host for the first month.⁴ Over the course of the second month was Dawaday the Ahohite, and his course; and Maqalawath the ruler: and in his course were twenty-four thousand.⁵ The third captain of the host for the third month was Banayahaw, the son of Yahawayadai the priest, chief: and in his course were twenty-four thousand.⁶ This is that Banayahaw, who was the mighty man of the thirty, and over the thirty: and [of] his course was Imayazabad his son.⁷ The fourth [captain] for the fourth month was Ishahaal the brother of Yawaab, and Zabadayah his son after him: and in his course were twenty-four thousand.⁸ The fifth captain for this fifth month was Shamahawath the Izrahite: and in his course were twenty-four thousand.⁹ The sixth [captain] for the sixth month was Iyaraa the son of Iqash the Tekoite: and in his course were twenty-four thousand.¹⁰ The seventh [captain] for the seventh month was Chalatz the Pelonite, of the children of Aparayam: and in his course were twenty-four thousand.¹¹ The eighth [captain] for the eighth month was Sabakay the Hushathite, of the Zerachites: and in his course were twenty-four thousand.¹² The ninth [captain] for the ninth month was Abayaizar the Anathothite, of the Benjamites: and in his course were twenty-four thousand.¹³ The tenth [captain] for the tenth month was Maharay the Netophathite, of the Zerachites: and in his course were Twenty-four thousand.¹⁴ The eleventh [captain] for the eleventh month was Banayahaw the Pirathonite, of the children of Aparayam: and in his course were Twenty-four thousand.¹⁵ The twelfth [captain] for the twelfth month was Chaladay the Netophathite, of Ithanayaal: and in his course were twenty-four thousand.¹⁶ Furthermore over the tribes of Yasharaal: of the Reubenites was Alayaizar the son of Zakaray the ruler: of the Simeonites, Shapatayah the son of Maacah:¹⁷ of Laway, Chashabayah the son of Qamawaal: of Aharan, Tzadawaq:¹⁸ of Yahawadah, Alayahawaa, one of the brothers of Dawad: of Yashashakar, Imaray the son of Mayakaal:¹⁹ of Zabawalan, Yashamaïyah the son of Ibadayah: of Napathalay, Jeremoth the son of Izarayaal:²⁰ of the children of Aparayam, Hawashai the son of Izazayahaw: of the half-tribe of Manashah, Yawaal the son of Padayah:²¹ of the half -[tribe] of Manashah in Galaid, Idaw the son of Zakarayah: of Banayaman, Yaishayaal the son of Abanar:²² of Wadan, Izaraal the son of Yaracham. These were the captains of the tribes of Yasharaal.²³ But Dawad didn't take the number of them from twenty years old and under, because Yahawah had said he would increase Yasharaal like the stars of the sky.²⁴ Yawaab the son of Tzarawayah began to number, but didn't finish; and there came wrath for this on Yasharaal; neither was the number put into the account in the chronicles of king Dawad.²⁵ Over the king's treasures was Izamawath the son of Idayaal: and over the treasures in the fields, in the cities, and in the villages, and in the castles, was Yahawanathan the son of Izayahaw:²⁶ Over those who did the work of the field for tillage of the ground was Izaray the son of Kalawab:²⁷ and over the vineyards was Shamaïy the Ramathite: and over the increase of the vineyards for the wine-cellars was Zabaday the Shiphmite:²⁸ and over the olive-trees and the sycamore-trees that were in the lowland was Bail the Gederite: and over the cellars of oil was Yawaash:²⁹ and over the herds that fed in Sharawan was Shataray the Sharonite: and over the herds that were in the valleys was Shapat the son of Idalay:³⁰ and over the camels was Awabayal the Ishmaelite: and over the donkeys was Yachadayahaw the Meronothite: and over the flocks was Yazayaz the Hagrite.³¹ All these were the rulers of the substance which was king Dawad's.³² Also Yahawanathan, Dawad's uncle, was a counselor, a man of understanding, and a scribe: and Yachayaal the son of Chakamawanay was with the king's sons:³³ Achayathapal was the king's counselor: and Chawashay the Archite was the king's friend:³⁴ and after Achayathapal was Yahawayadai the son of Banayahaw, and Abayathar: and the captain of the king's host was Yawaab.

28 Dawad assembled all the princes of Yasharaal, the princes of the tribes, and the captains of the companies who served the king by course, and the captains of thousands, and the captains of hundreds, and the rulers over all the substance and possessions of the king and of his sons, with the officers, and the mighty men, even all the mighty men of valor, to Yarawashalam.² Then Dawad the king stood up on his feet, and said, Hear me, my brothers, and my people: as for me, it was in my heart to build a house of rest for the ark of the covenant of Yahawah, and for the footstool of our Alahayam; and I had made ready for the building.³ But Alahayam said to me, You shall not build a house for my name, because you are a man of war, and have shed blood.⁴ However Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, chose me out of all the house of my father to be king over Yasharaal forever: for he has chosen Yahawadah to be prince; and in the house of Yahawadah, the house of my father; and among the sons of my father he took pleasure in me to make me king over all Yasharaal;⁵ Of all my sons (for Yahawah has given me many sons), he has chosen Shalamah my son to sit on the throne of the kingdom of Yahawah over Yasharaal.⁶ He said to me, Shalamah your son, he shall build my house and my courts; for I have chosen him to be my son, and I will be his father.⁷ I will establish his kingdom forever, if he be constant to do my commandments and my ordinances, as at this day.⁸ Now therefore, in the sight of all Yasharaal, the assembly of Yahawah, and in the audience of our Alahayam, observe and seek out all the commandments of Yahawah your Alahayam; that you may possess this good land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children after you forever.⁹ You, Shalamah my son, know you the Alahayam of your father, and serve him with a perfect heart and with a willing mind; for Yahawah searches all hearts, and understands all the imaginations of the thoughts: if you seek him, he will be found of you; but if you forsake him, he will cast you off forever.¹⁰ Take heed now; for Yahawah has chosen you to build a house for the sanctuary: be strong, and do it.¹¹ Then Dawad gave to Shalamah his son the pattern of the porch [of the temple], and of the houses of it, and of the treasuries of it, and of the upper rooms of it, and of the inner chambers of it, and of the place of the mercy seat;¹² and the pattern of all that he had by the Spirit, for the courts of the house of Yahawah, and for all the chambers round about, for the treasuries of the house of Alahayam, and for the treasuries of the dedicated things;¹³ also for the courses of the priests and the Levites, and for all the work of the service of the house of Yahawah, and for all the vessels of service in the house of Yahawah;¹⁴ of gold by weight for the [vessels of] gold, for all vessels of every kind of service; [of silver] for all the vessels of silver by weight, for all vessels of every kind of service;¹⁵ by weight also for the lampstands of gold, and for the lamps of it, of gold, by weight for every lampstand and for the lamps of it; and for the lampstands of silver, [silver] by weight for [every] lampstand and for the lamps of it, according to the use of every lampstand;¹⁶ and the gold by weight for the tables of show bread, for every table; and silver for the tables of silver;¹⁷ and the flesh-hooks, and the basins, and the cups, of pure gold; and for the golden bowls by weight for every bowl; and for the silver bowls by weight for every bowl;¹⁸ and for the altar of incense refined gold by weight; and gold for the pattern of the chariot, [even] the cherubim, that spread out [their wings], and covered the ark of the covenant of Yahawah.¹⁹ All this, [said Dawad], have I been made to understand in writing from the hand of Yahawah, even all the works of this pattern.²⁰ Dawad said to Shalamah his son, Be strong and of good courage, and do it: don't be afraid, nor be dismayed; for Yahawah Alahayam, even my Alahayam, is with you; he will not fail you, nor forsake you, until all the work for the service of the house of Yahawah is finished.²¹ Behold, there are the courses of the priests and the Levites, for all the service of the house of Alahayam: and there shall be with you in all manner of work every willing man who has skill, for any manner of service: also the captains and all the people will be wholly at your commandment.

29 Dawad the king said to all the assembly, Shalamah my son, whom alone Alahayam has chosen, is yet young and tender, and the work is great; for the palace is not for man, but for Yahawah Alahayam.² Now I have prepared with all my might for the house of my Alahayam the gold for the [things of] gold, and the silver for the [things of] silver, and the brass for the [things of] brass, the iron for the [things of] iron, and wood for the [things of] wood; onyx stones, and [stones] to be set, stones for inlaid work, and of various colors, and all manner of precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.³ Moreover also, because I have set my affection on the house of my Alahayam, seeing that I have a treasure of my own of gold and silver, I give it to the house of my Alahayam, over and above all that I have prepared for the holy house,⁴ even three thousand talents of gold, of the gold of Awapayar, and seven thousand talents of refined silver, with which to overlay the walls of the houses;⁵ of gold for the [things of] gold, and of silver for the [things of] silver, and for all manner of work [to be made] by the hands of artificers. Who then offers willingly to consecrate himself this day to Yahawah?⁶ Then the princes of the fathers' [houses], and the princes of the tribes of Yasharaal, and the captains of thousands and of hundreds, with the rulers over the king's work, offered willingly;⁷ and they gave for the service of the house of Alahayam of gold five thousand talents and ten thousand darics, and of silver ten thousand talents, and of brass eighteen thousand talents, and of iron a hundred thousand talents.⁸ They with whom [precious] stones were found gave them to the treasure of the house of Yahawah, under the hand of Yachayaal the Gershonite.⁹ Then the people rejoiced, because they offered willingly, because with a perfect heart they offered willingly to Yahawah: and Dawad the king also rejoiced with great joy.¹⁰ Therefore Dawad blessed Yahawah before all the assembly; and Dawad said, Blessed be you, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal our father, forever and ever.¹¹ Yours, Yahawah, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heavens and in the earth [is your]; your is the kingdom, Yahawah, and you are exalted as head above all.¹² Both riches and honor come of you, and you rule over all; and in your hand is power and might; and in your hand it is to make great, and to give strength to all.¹³ Now therefore, our Alahayam, we thank you, and praise your glorious name.¹⁴ But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to offer so willingly after this sort? for all things come of you, and of your own have we given you.¹⁵ For we are strangers before you, and sojourners, as all our fathers were: our days on the earth are as a shadow, and there is no abiding.¹⁶ Yahawah our Alahayam, all this store that we have prepared to build you a house for your holy name comes of your hand, and is all your own.¹⁷ I know also, my Alahayam, that you try the heart, and have pleasure in uprightness. As for me, in the uprightness of my heart I have willingly offered all these things: and now have I seen with joy your people, that are present here, offer willingly to you.¹⁸ Yahawah, the Alahayam of Abaraham, of Yatzachaq, and of Yasharaal, our fathers, keep this forever in the imagination of the thoughts of the heart of your people, and prepare their heart to you; ¹⁹ and give to Shalamah my son a perfect heart, to keep your commandments, your testimonies, and your statutes, and to do all these things, and to build the palace, for which I have made provision.

²² and ate and drink before Yahawah on that day with great gladness. They made Shalamah the son of Dawad king the second time, and anointed him to Yahawah to be prince, and Tzadawaq to be priest.
²⁴ All the princes, and the mighty men, and all the sons likewise of king Dawad, submitted themselves to Shalamah the king.
²⁶ Now Dawad the son of Yashay reigned over all Yasharaal.
²⁷ The time that he reigned over Yasharaal was forty years; seven years reigned he in Chabarawan, and thirty-three [years] reigned he in Yarawashalam.
²⁸ He died in a good old age, full of days, riches, and honor: and Shalamah his son reigned in his place.
³⁰ with all his reign and his might, and the times that went over him, and over Yasharaal, and over all the kingdoms of the countries.

1 Shalamah the son of Dawad was strengthened in his kingdom, and Yahawah his Alahayam was with him, and magnified him exceedingly. ³ Shalamah spoke to all Yasharaal, to the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to every prince in all Yasharaal, the heads of the fathers' [houses]. ⁴ So Shalamah, and all the assembly with him, went to the high place that was at Gabaiwan; for there was the tent of meeting of Alahayam, which Mashah the servant of Yahawah had made in the wilderness. ⁵ But the ark of Alahayam had Dawad brought up from Kiriath-Yairayam to [the place] that Dawad had prepared for it; for he had pitched a tent for it at Yarawashalam. ⁶ Moreover the brazen altar, that Bezalel the son of Awaray, the son of Chawar, had made, was there before the tent of Yahawah: and Shalamah and the assembly sought to it. ⁷ Shalamah went up there to the brazen altar before Yahawah, which was at the tent of meeting, and offered one thousand burnt offerings on it. ⁸ In that night did Alahayam appear to Shalamah, and said to him, Ask what I shall give you. ⁹ Shalamah said to Alahayam, You have showed great lovingkindness to Dawad my father, and have made me king in his place. ¹⁰ Now, Yahawah Alahayam, let your promise to Dawad my father be established; for you have made me king over a people like the dust of the earth in multitude. ¹¹ Give me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people; for who can judge this your people, that is so great? ¹² Alahayam said to Shalamah, Because this was in your heart, and you have not asked riches, wealth, or honor, nor the life of those who hate you, neither yet have asked long life; but have asked wisdom and knowledge for yourself, that you may judge my people, over whom I have made you king: ¹³ wisdom and knowledge is granted to you; and I will give you riches, and wealth, and honor, such as none of the kings have had who have been before you; neither shall there any after you have the like. ¹⁴ So Shalamah came from the high place that was at Gabaiwan, from before the tent of meeting, to Yarawashalam; and he reigned over Yasharaal. ¹⁵ Shalamah gathered chariots and horsemen: and he had one thousand four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, that he placed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Yarawashalam. ¹⁶ The king made silver and gold to be in Yarawashalam as stones, and cedars made he to be as the sycamore-trees that are in the lowland, for abundance. ¹⁷ The horses which Shalamah had were brought out of Matzarayam; the king's merchants received them in droves, each drove at a price. ¹⁸ They fetched up and brought out of Matzarayam a chariot for six hundred [shekels] of silver, and a horse for one hundred fifty: and so for all the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of Aram, did they bring them out by their means.

2 Now Shalamah purposed to build a house for the name of Yahawah, and a house for his kingdom. ² Shalamah counted out seventy thousand men to bear burdens, and eighty thousand men who were stone cutters in the mountains, and three thousand and six hundred to oversee them. ³ Shalamah sent to Chayaram the king of Tzar, saying, As you did deal with Dawad my father, and did send him cedars to build him a house to dwell therein, [even so deal with me]. ⁴ Behold, I am about to build a house for the name of Yahawah my Alahayam, to dedicate it to him, and to burn before him incense of sweet spices, and for the continual show bread, and for the burnt offerings morning and evening, on the Sabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the set feasts of Yahawah our Alahayam. This is [an ordinance] forever to Yasharaal. ⁵ The house which I build is great; for great is our Alahayam above all gods. ⁶ But who is able to build him a house, seeing heaven and the heaven of heavens can't contain him? who am I then, that I should build him a house, save only to burn incense before him? ⁷ Now therefore send me a man skillful to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass, and in iron, and in purple, and crimson, and blue, and who knows how to engrave [all manner of] engravings, [to be] with the skillful men who are with me in Yahawadah and in Yarawashalam, whom Dawad my father did provide. ⁸ Send me also cedar-trees, fir-trees, and algum-trees, out of Labanawan; for I know that your servants know how to cut timber in Labanawan: and, behold, my servants shall be with your servants, ⁹ even to prepare me timber in abundance; for the house which I am about to build shall be great and wonderful. ¹⁰ Behold, I will give to your servants, the cutters who cut timber, twenty thousand measures of beaten wheat, and twenty thousand measures of barley, and twenty thousand baths of wine, and twenty thousand baths of oil. ¹¹ Then Chayaram the king of Tzar answered in writing, which he sent to Shalamah, Because Yahawah loves his people, he has made you king over them. ¹² Chayaram said moreover, Blessed be Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, that made heaven and earth, who has given to Dawad the king a wise son, endowed with discretion and understanding, that should build a house for Yahawah, and a house for his kingdom. ¹³ Now I have sent a skillful man, endowed with understanding, of Chayaram my father's, ¹⁴ the son of a woman of the daughters of Wadan; and his father was a man of Tzar, skillful to work in gold, and in silver, in brass, in iron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue, and in fine linen, and in crimson, also to engrave any manner of engraving, and to devise any device; that there may be [a place] appointed to him with your skillful men, and with the skillful men of my lord Dawad your father. ¹⁵ Now therefore the wheat and the barley, the oil and the wine, which my lord has spoken of, let him send to his servants: ¹⁶ and we will cut wood out of Labanawan, as much as you shall need; and we will bring it to you in floats by sea to Yawap; and you shall carry it up to Yarawashalam. ¹⁷ Shalamah numbered all the sojourners who were in the land of Yasharaal, after the numbering with which Dawad his father had numbered them; and they were found one hundred fifty-three thousand six hundred.

3 Then Shalamah began to build the house of Yahawah at Yarawashalam on Mount Mawarayah, where [Yahawah] appeared to Dawad his father, which he made ready in the place that Dawad had appointed, in the threshing floor of Aranan the Jebusite. ² He began to build in the second [day] of the second month, in the fourth year of his reign. ³ Now these are the foundations which Shalamah laid for the building of the house of Alahayam. The length by cubits after the first measure was sixty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits. ⁴ The porch that was before [the house], the length of it, according to the breadth of the house, was twenty cubits, and the height one hundred twenty; and he overlaid it within with pure gold. ⁵ The greater house he made a ceiling with fir-wood, which he overlaid with fine gold, and worked thereon palm-trees and chains. ⁶ He garnished the house with precious stones for beauty: and the gold was gold of Parawayam. ⁷ He overlaid also the house, the beams, the thresholds, and the walls of it, and the doors of it, with gold; and engraved cherubim on the walls. ⁸ He made the most holy house: the length of it, according to the breadth of the house, was twenty cubits, and the breadth of it twenty cubits; and he overlaid it with fine gold, amounting to six hundred talents. ⁹ The weight of the nails was fifty shekels of gold. He overlaid the upper chambers with gold. ¹⁰ In the most holy house he made two cherubim of image work; and they overlaid them with gold. ¹¹ The wings of the cherubim were twenty cubits long: the wing of the one [cherub] was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house; and the other wing was [likewise] five cubits, reaching to the wing of the other cherub.¹² The wing of the other cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house; and the other wing was five cubits [also], joining to the wing of the other cherub.¹³ The wings of these cherubim spread themselves forth twenty cubits; and they stood on their feet, and their faces were toward the house.¹⁴ He made the veil of blue, and purple, and crimson, and fine linen, and worked cherubim thereon.¹⁵ Also he made before the house two pillars of thirty-five cubits high, and the capital that was on the top of each of them was five cubits.¹⁶ He made chains in the oracle, and put [them] on the tops of the pillars; and he made one hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chains.¹⁷ He set up the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left; and called the name of that on the right hand Yakayan, and the name of that on the left Baiz.

4 Moreover he made an altar of brass, twenty cubits the length of it, and twenty cubits the breadth of it, and ten cubits the height of it.² Also he made the molten sea of ten cubits from brim to brim, round in compass; and the height of it was five cubits; and a line of thirty cubits compassed it round about.³ Under it was the likeness of oxen, which did compass it round about, for ten cubits, compassing the sea round about. The oxen were in two rows, cast when it was cast.⁴ It stood on twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east: and the sea was set on them above, and all their hinder parts were inward.⁵ It was a handbreadth thick; and the brim of it was worked like the brim of a cup, like the flower of a lily: it received and held three thousand baths.⁶ He made also ten basins, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them; such things as belonged to the burnt-offering they washed in them; but the sea was for the priests to wash in.⁷ He made the ten lampstands of gold according to the ordinance concerning them; and he set them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.⁸ He made also ten tables, and placed them in the temple, five on the right side, and five on the left. He made one hundred basins of gold.⁹ Furthermore he made the court of the priests, and the great court, and doors for the court, and overlaid the doors of them with brass.¹⁰ He set the sea on the right side [of the house] eastward, toward the south.¹¹ Chayaram made the pots, and the shovels, and the basins. So Chayaram made an end of doing the work that he did for king Shalamah in the house of Alahayam:¹² the two pillars, and the bowls, and the two capitals which were on the top of the pillars, and the two networks to cover the two bowls of the capitals that were on the top of the pillars,¹³ and the four hundred pomegranates for the two networks; two rows of pomegranates for each network, to cover the two bowls of the capitals that were on the pillars.¹⁴ He made also the bases, and the basins made he on the bases;¹⁵ one sea, and the twelve oxen under it.¹⁶ The pots also, and the shovels, and the flesh-hooks, and all the vessels of it, did Chayaram his father make for king Shalamah for the house of Yahawah of bright brass.¹⁷ In the plain of the Yaradan did the king cast them, in the clay ground between Sakawath and Zeredah.¹⁸ Thus Shalamah made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of the brass could not be found out.¹⁹ Shalamah made all the vessels that were in the house of Alahayam, the golden altar also, and the tables whereon was the show bread;²⁰ and the lampstands with their lamps, to burn according to the ordinance before the oracle, of pure gold;²¹ and the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs, of gold, and that perfect gold;²² and the snuffers, and the basins, and the spoons, and the fire pans, of pure gold: and as for the entry of the house, the inner doors of it for the most holy place, and the doors of the house, [to wit], of the temple, were of gold.

5 Thus all the work that Shalamah did for the house of Yahawah was finished. Shalamah brought in the things that Dawad his father had dedicated, even the silver, and the gold, and all the vessels, and put them in the treasuries of the house of Alahayam.² Then Shalamah assembled the elders of Yasharaal, and all the heads of the tribes, the princes of the fathers' [houses] of the children of Yasharaal, to Yarawashalam, to bring up the ark of the covenant of Yahawah out of the city of Dawad, which is Tzayawan.³ And all the men of Yasharaal assembled themselves to the king at the feast, which was [in] the seventh month.⁴ All the elders of Yasharaal came: and the Levites took up the ark;⁵ and they brought up the ark, and the tent of meeting, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tent; these did the priests the Levites bring up.⁶ King Shalamah and all the congregation of Yasharaal, that were assembled to him, were before the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen, that could not be counted nor numbered for multitude.⁷ The priests brought in the ark of the covenant of Yahawah to its place, into the oracle of the house, to the most holy place, even under the wings of the cherubim.⁸ For the cherubim spread forth their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubim covered the ark and the poles of it above.⁹ The poles were so long that the ends of the poles were seen from the ark before the oracle; but they were not seen outside: and there it is to this day.¹⁰ There was nothing in the ark save the two tables which Mashah put [there] at Charab, when Yahawah made a covenant with the children of Yasharaal, when they came out of Matzarayam.¹¹ It happened, when the priests were come out of the holy place, (for all the priests who were present had sanctified themselves, and did not keep their courses;¹² also the Levites who were the singers, all of them, even Asap, Hayaman, Yadawathawan, and their sons and their brothers, arrayed in fine linen, with cymbals and psalteries and harps, stood at the east end of the altar, and with them one hundred twenty priests sounding with trumpets;) ¹³ it happened, when the trumpeters and singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking Yahawah; and when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals and instruments of music, and praised Yahawah, [saying], For he is good; for his lovingkindness endures forever; that then the house was filled with a cloud, even the house of Yahawah,¹⁴ so that the priests could not stand to minister by reason of the cloud: for the glory of Yahawah filled the house of Alahayam.

6 Then spoke Shalamah, Yahawah has said that he would dwell in the thick darkness.² But I have built you a house of habitation, and a place for you to dwell in forever.³ The king turned his face, and blessed all the assembly of Yasharaal: and all the assembly of Yasharaal stood.⁴ He said, Blessed be Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, who spoke with his mouth to Dawad my father, and has with his hands fulfilled it, saying,⁵ Since the day that I brought forth my people out of the land of Matzarayam, I chose no city out of all the tribes of Yasharaal to build a house in, that my name might be there; neither chose I any man to be prince over my people Yasharaal:⁶ but I have chosen Yarawashalam, that my name might be there; and have chosen Dawad to be over my people Yasharaal.⁷ Now it was in the heart of Dawad my father to build a house for the name of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.⁸ But Yahawah said to Dawad my father, Whereas it was in your heart to build a house for my name, you did well that it was in your heart:⁹ nevertheless you shall not build the house; but your son who shall come forth out of your loins, he shall build the house for my name.¹⁰ Yahawah has performed his word that he spoke; for I am risen up in the room of Dawad my father, and sit on the throne of Yasharaal, as Yahawah promised, and have built the house for the name of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.¹¹ There have I set the ark, in which is the covenant of Yahawah, which he made with the children of Yasharaal.¹² He stood before the altar of Yahawah in the presence of all the assembly of Yasharaal, and spread forth his hands ¹³ (for Shalamah had made a brazen scaffold, five cubits long, and five cubits broad, and three cubits high, and had set it in the midst of the court; and on it he stood, and kneeled down on his knees before all the assembly of Yasharaal, and spread forth his hands toward heaven;) ¹⁴ and he said, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, there is no Alahayam like you, in heaven, or on earth; who keep covenant and lovingkindness with your servants, who walk before you with all their heart;¹⁵ who have kept with your servant Dawad my father that which you did promise him: yes, you spoke with your mouth, and have fulfilled it with your hand, as it is this day.¹⁶ Now therefore, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, keep with your servant Dawad my father that which you have promised him, saying, There shall not fail you a man in my sight to sit on the throne of Yasharaal, if only your children take heed to their way, to walk in my law as you have walked before me.¹⁷ Now therefore, Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, let your word be verified, which you spoke to your servant Dawad.¹⁸ But will Alahayam in very deed dwell with men on the earth? behold, heaven and the heaven of heavens can't contain you; how much less this house which I have built!¹⁹ Yet have you respect to the prayer of your servant, and to his supplication, Yahawah my Alahayam, to listen to the cry and to the prayer which your servant prays before you;²⁰ that your eyes may be open toward this house day and night, even toward the place whereof you have said that you would put your name there; to listen to the prayer which your servant shall pray toward this place.²¹ Listen you to the petitions of your servant, and of your people Yasharaal, when they shall pray toward this place: yes, hear from your dwelling-place, even from heaven; and when you hear, forgive.²² If a man sin against his neighbor, and an oath is laid on him to cause him to swear, and he comes and swears before your altar in this house;²³ then hear from heaven, and do, and judge your servants, requiting the wicked, to bring his way on his own head; and justifying the righteous, to give him according to his righteousness.²⁴ If your people Yasharaal be struck down before the enemy, because they have sinned against you, and shall turn again and confess your name, and pray and make supplication before you in this house;²⁵ then hear from heaven, and forgive the sin of your people Yasharaal, and bring them again to the land which you gave to them and to their fathers.²⁶ When the sky is shut up, and there is no rain, because they have sinned against you; if they pray toward this place, and confess your name, and turn from their sin, when you do afflict them:²⁷ then hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of your servants, and of your people Yasharaal, when you teach them the good way in which they should walk; and send rain on your land, which you have given to your people for an inheritance.²⁸ If there be in the land famine, if there be pestilence, if there be blasting or mildew, locust or caterpillar; if their enemies besiege them in the land of their cities; whatever plague or whatever sickness there be;²⁹ whatever prayer and supplication be made by any man, or by all your people Yasharaal, who shall know every man his own plague and his own sorrow, and shall spread forth his hands toward this house:³⁰ then hear from heaven, your dwelling-place and forgive, and render to every man according to all his ways, whose heart you know; (for you, even you only, know the hearts of the children of men;)³¹ that they may fear you, to walk in your ways, so long as they live in the land which you gave to our fathers.³² Moreover concerning the foreigner, who is not of your people Yasharaal, when he shall come from a far country for your great name's sake, and your mighty hand, and your outstretched arm; when they shall come and pray toward this house:³³ then hear from heaven, even from your dwelling-place, and do according to all that the foreigner calls to you for; that all the peoples of the earth may know your name, and fear you, as does your people Yasharaal, and that they may know that this house which I have built is called by your name.³⁴ If your people go out to battle against their enemies, by whatever way you shall send them, and they pray to you toward this city which you have chosen, and the house which I have built for your name;³⁵ then hear from heaven their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause.³⁶ If they sin against you (for there is no man who doesn't sin), and you be angry with them, and deliver them to the enemy, so that they carry them away captive to a land far off or near;³⁷ yet if they shall repent themselves in the land where they are carried captive, and turn again, and make supplication to you in the land of their captivity, saying, We have sinned, we have done perversely, and have dealt wickedly;³⁸ if they return to you with all their heart and with all their soul in the land of their captivity, where they have carried them captive, and pray toward their land, which you gave to their fathers, and the city which you have chosen, and toward the house which I have built for your name:³⁹ then hear from heaven, even from your dwelling-place, their prayer and their petitions, and maintain their cause, and forgive your people who have sinned against you.⁴⁰ Now, my Alahayam, let, I beg you, your eyes be open, and let your ears be attentive, to the prayer that is made in this place.⁴¹ Now therefore arise, Yahawah Alahayam, into your resting-place, you, and the ark of your strength: let your priests, Yahawah Alahayam, be clothed with salvation, and let your saints rejoice in goodness.⁴² Yahawah Alahayam, don't turn away the face of your anointed: remember [your] lovingkindnesses to Dawad your servant.

7 Now when Shalamah had made an end of praying, the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices; and the glory of Yahawah filled the house.² The priests could not enter into the house of Yahawah, because the glory of Yahawah filled Yahawah's house.³ All the children of Yasharaal looked on, when the fire came down, and the glory of Yahawah was on the house; and they bowed themselves with their faces to the ground on the pavement, and worshipped, and gave thanks to Yahawah, [saying], For he is good; for his lovingkindness endures for ever.⁴ Then the king and all the people offered sacrifice before Yahawah.⁵ King Shalamah offered a sacrifice of twenty-two thousand oxen, and a hundred and twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of Alahayam.⁶ The priests stood, according to their offices; the Levites also with instruments of music of Yahawah, which Dawad the king had made to give thanks to Yahawah, (for his lovingkindness endures for ever,) when Dawad praised by their ministry: and the priests sounded trumpets before them; and all Yasharaal stood.⁷ Moreover Shalamah made the middle of the court holy that was before the house of Yahawah; for there he offered the burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings, because the brazen altar which Shalamah had made was not able to receive the burnt offering, and the meal-offering, and the fat.⁸ So Shalamah held the feast at that time seven days, and all Yasharaal with him, a very great assembly, from the entrance of Chamath to the brook of Matzarayam.⁹ On the eighth day they held a solemn assembly: for they kept the dedication of the altar seven days, and the feast seven days.¹⁰ On the three and twentieth day of the seventh month he sent the people away to their tents, joyful and glad of heart for the goodness that Yahawah had showed to Dawad, and to Shalamah, and to Yasharaal his people.¹¹ Thus Shalamah finished the house of Yahawah, and the king's house: and all that came into Shalamah's heart to make in the house of Yahawah, and in his own house, he prosperously effected.¹² Yahawah appeared to Shalamah by night, and said to him, I have heard your prayer, and have chosen this place to myself for a house of sacrifice.¹³ If I shut up the sky so that there is no rain, or if I command the locust to devour the land, or if I send pestilence among my people;¹⁴ if my people, who are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.¹⁵ Now my eyes shall be open, and my ears attentive, to the prayer that is made in this place.¹⁶ For now have I chosen and made this house holy, that my name may be there forever; and my eyes and my heart shall be there perpetually.¹⁷ As for you, if you will walk before me as Dawad your father walked, and do according to all that I have commanded you, and will keep my statutes and my ordinances;¹⁸ then I will establish the throne of your kingdom, according as I covenanted with Dawad your father, saying, There shall not fail you a man to be ruler in Yasharaal.¹⁹ But if you turn away, and forsake my statutes and my commandments which I have set before you, and shall go and serve other gods, and worship them;²⁰ then will I pluck them up by the roots out of my land which I have given them; and this house, which I have made holy for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and I will make it a proverb and a byword among all peoples.²¹ This house, which is so high, everyone who passes by it shall be astonished, and shall say, Why has Yahawah done thus to this land, and to this house?²² They shall answer, Because they forsook Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers, who brought them forth out of the land of Matzarayam, and laid hold on other gods, and worshipped them, and served them: therefore has he brought all this evil on them.

8 It happened at the end of twenty years, in which Shalamah had built the house of Yahawah, and his own house, ² that the cities which Chayaram had given to Shalamah, Shalamah built them, and caused the children of Yasharaal to dwell there. ³ Shalamah went to Chamath, and prevailed against it. ⁴ He built Thadamar in the wilderness, and all the store-cities, which he built in Chamath. ⁵ Also he built Bayath the upper, and Bayath the nether, fortified cities, with walls, gates, and bars; ⁶ and Bailath, and all the store-cities that Shalamah had, and all the cities for his chariots, and the cities for his horsemen, and all that Shalamah desired to build for his pleasure in Yarawashalam, and in Labanawan, and in all the land of his dominion. ⁷ As for all the people who were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, who were not of Yasharaal; ⁸ of their children who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Yasharaal didn't consume, of them did Shalamah raise a levy [of bondservants] to this day. ⁹ But of the children of Yasharaal did Shalamah make no servants for his work; but they were men of war, and chief of his captains, and rulers of his chariots and of his horsemen. ¹⁰ These were the chief officers of king Shalamah, even two hundred fifty, who ruled over the people. ¹¹ Shalamah brought up the daughter of Paraih out of the city of Dawad to the house that he had built for her; for he said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dawad king of Yasharaal, because the places are holy, whereunto the ark of Yahawah has come. ¹² Then Shalamah offered burnt-offerings to Yahawah on the altar of Yahawah, which he had built before the porch, ¹³ even as the duty of every day required, offering according to the commandment of Mashah, on the Sabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the set feasts, three times in the year, [even] in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tents. ¹⁴ He appointed, according to the ordinance of Dawad his father, the courses of the priests to their service, and the Levites to their offices, to praise, and to minister before the priests, as the duty of every day required; the doorkeepers also by their courses at every gate: for so had Dawad the man of Alahayam commanded. ¹⁵ They didn't depart from the commandment of the king to the priests and Levites concerning any matter, or concerning the treasures. ¹⁶ Now all the work of Shalamah was prepared to the day of the foundation of the house of Yahawah, and until it was finished. [So] the house of Yahawah was completed. ¹⁷ Then went Shalamah to Gabar, and to Ayalath, on the seashore in the land of Adawam. ¹⁸ Chayaram sent him by the hands of his servants ships, and servants who had knowledge of the sea; and they came with the servants of Shalamah to Awapayar, and fetched from there four hundred fifty talents of gold, and brought them to king Shalamah.

9 When the queen of Shabaa heard of the fame of Shalamah, she came to prove Shalamah with hard questions at Yarawashalam, with a very great train, and camels that bore spices, and gold in abundance, and precious stones: and when she was come to Shalamah, she talked with him of all that was in her heart. ² Shalamah told her all her questions; and there was not anything hid from Shalamah which he didn't tell her. ³ When the queen of Shabaa had seen the wisdom of Shalamah, and the house that he had built, ⁴ and the food of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the attendance of his ministers, and their clothing, his cup bearers also, and their clothing, and his ascent by which he went up to the house of Yahawah; there was no more spirit in her. ⁵ She said to the king, It was a true report that I heard in my own land of your acts, and of your wisdom. ⁶ However I didn't believe their words, until I came, and my eyes had seen it; and, behold, the half of the greatness of your wisdom was not told me: you exceed the fame that I heard. ⁷ Happy are your men, and happy are these your servants, who stand continually before you, and hear your wisdom.

you on his throne, to be king for Yahawah your Alahayam: because your Alahayam loved Yasharaal, to establish them forever, therefore made he you king over them, to do justice and righteousness. ⁹ She gave the king one hundred and twenty talents of gold, and spices in great abundance, and precious stones: neither was there any such spice as the queen of Shabaa gave to king Shalamah. ¹⁰ The servants also of Chayaram, and the servants of Shalamah, who brought gold from Awapayar, brought algum-trees and precious stones. ¹¹ The king made of the algum-trees terraces for the house of Yahawah, and for the king's house, and harps and psalteries for the singers: and there were none such seen before in the land of Yahawadah. ¹² King Shalamah gave to the queen of Shabaa all her desire, whatever she asked, besides that which she had brought to the king. So she turned, and went to her own land, she and her servants. ¹³ Now the weight of gold that came to Shalamah in one year was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold, ¹⁴ besides that which the traders and merchants brought: and all the kings of Irab and the governors of the country brought gold and silver to Shalamah. ¹⁵ King Shalamah made two hundred bucklers of beaten gold; six hundred [shekels] of beaten gold went to one buckler. ¹⁶ [he made] three hundred shields of beaten gold; three hundred [shekels] of gold went to one shield: and the king put them in the house of the forest of Labanawan. ¹⁷ Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold. ¹⁸ And there were six steps to the throne, with a footstool of gold, which were fastened to the throne, and stays on either side by the place of the seat, and two lions standing beside the stays. ¹⁹ Twelve lions stood there on the one side and on the other on the six steps: there was nothing like it made in any kingdom. ²⁰ All king Shalamah's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Labanawan were of pure gold: silver was nothing accounted of in the days of Shalamah. ²¹ For the king had ships that went to Tharashayash with the servants of Chayaram; once every three years came the ships of Tharashayash, bringing gold, and silver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks. ²² So king Shalamah exceeded all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom. ²³ All the kings of the earth sought the presence of Shalamah, to hear his wisdom, which Alahayam had put in his heart. ²⁴ They brought every man his tribute, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and clothing, armor, and spices, horses, and mules, a rate year by year. ²⁵ Shalamah had four thousand stalls for horses and chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, that he bestowed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Yarawashalam. ²⁶ He ruled over all the kings from the River even to the land of the Palashath, and to the border of Matzarayam. ²⁷ The king made silver to be in Yarawashalam as stones, and cedars made he to be as the sycamore-trees that are in the lowland, for abundance. ²⁸ They brought horses for Shalamah out of Matzarayam, and out of all lands. ²⁹ Now the rest of the acts of Shalamah, first and last, aren't they written in the history of Nathan the prophet, and in the prophecy of Achayah the Shilonite, and in the visions of Idaw the seer concerning Yarabaim the son of Nabat? ³⁰ Shalamah reigned in Yarawashalam over all Yasharaal forty years. ³¹ Shalamah slept with his fathers, and he was buried in the city of Dawad his father: and Rachabaim his son reigned in his place.

10 Rachabaim went to Shakam; for all Yasharaal were come to Shakam to make him king. ² It happened, when Yarabaim the son of Nabat heard of it, (for he was in Matzarayam, where he had fled from the presence of king Shalamah,) that Yarabaim returned out of Matzarayam. ³ They sent and called him; and Yarabaim and all Yasharaal came, and they spoke to Rachabaim, saying, ⁴ Your father made our yoke grievous: now therefore make you the grievous service of your father, and his heavy yoke which he put on us, lighter, and we will serve you. ⁵ He said to them, Come again to me after three days. The people departed. ⁶ King Rachabaim took counsel with the old men, who had stood before Shalamah his father while he yet lived, saying, What counsel give you me to return answer to this people? They spoke to him, saying, If you be kind to this people, and please them, and speak good words to them, then they will be your servants forever.⁸ But he forsook the counsel of the old men which they had given him, and took counsel with the young men who had grown up with him, who stood before him.⁹ He said to them, What counsel give you, that we may return answer to this people, who have spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke that your father did put on us lighter?¹⁰ The young men who had grown up with him spoke to him, saying, Thus shall you tell the people who spoke to you, saying, Your father made our yoke heavy, but make you it lighter to us; thus shall you say to them, My little finger is thicker than my father's loins.¹¹ Now whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I [will chastise you] with scorpions.¹² So Yarabaim and all the people came to Rachabaim the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come to me again the third day.¹³ The king answered them roughly; and king Rachabaim forsook the counsel of the old men,¹⁴ and spoke to them after the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add thereto: my father chastised you with whips, but I [will chastise you] with scorpions.¹⁵ So the king didn't listen to the people; for it was brought about of Alahayam, that Yahawah might establish his word, which he spoke by Achayah the Shilonite to Yarabaim the son of Nabat.¹⁶ When all Yasharaal saw that the king didn't listen to them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in Dawad? neither have we inheritance in the son of Yashay: every man to your tents, Yasharaal: now see to your own house, Dawad. So all Yasharaal departed to their tents.¹⁷ But as for the children of Yasharaal who lived in the cities of Yahawadah, Rachabaim reigned over them.¹⁸ Then king Rachabaim sent Hadawaram, who was over the men subject to forced labor; and the children of Yasharaal stoned him to death with stones. King Rachabaim made speed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Yarawashalam.¹⁹ So Yasharaal rebelled against the house of Dawad to this day.

11 When Rachabaim was come to Yarawashalam, he assembled the house of Yahawadah and Banayaman, one hundred eighty thousand chosen men, who were warriors, to fight against Yasharaal, to bring the kingdom again to Rachabaim.² But the word of Yahawah came to Shamaiah the man of Alahayam, saying,³ Speak to Rachabaim the son of Shalamah, king of Yahawadah, and to all Yasharaal in Yahawadah and Banayaman, saying,⁴ Thus says Yahawah, You shall not go up, nor fight against your brothers: return every man to his house; for this thing is of me. So they listened to the words of Yahawah, and returned from going against Yarabaim.⁵ Rachabaim lived in Yarawashalam, and built cities for defense in Yahawadah.⁶ He built Bayath-lehem, and Iyatam, and Thaqawai,⁷ Bayath, and Shawakah, and Idalam,⁸ and Gath, and Marashah, and Zayap,⁹ and Adawarayam, and Lakayash, and Izaqah,¹⁰ and Tzaraih, and Ayalawan, and Chabarawan, which are in Yahawadah and in Banayaman, fortified cities.¹¹ He fortified the strongholds, and put captains in them, and stores of victuals, and oil and wine.¹² In every city [he put] shields and spears, and made them exceeding strong. Yahawadah and Banayaman belonged to him.¹³ The priests and the Levites who were in all Yasharaal resorted to him out of all their border.¹⁴ For the Levites left their suburbs and their possession, and came to Yahawadah and Yarawashalam: for Yarabaim and his sons cast them off, that they should not execute the priest's office to Yahawah;¹⁵ and he appointed him priests for the high places, and for the male goats, and for the calves which he had made.¹⁶ After them, out of all the tribes of Yasharaal, such as set their hearts to seek Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, came to Yarawashalam to sacrifice to Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers.¹⁷ So they strengthened the kingdom of Yahawadah, and made Rachabaim the son of Shalamah strong, three years; for they walked three years in the way of Dawad and Shalamah.¹⁸ Rachabaim took him a wife, Machalath the daughter of Yarayamawath the son of Dawad, [and of] Abayachayal the daughter of Alayaab the son of Yashay;¹⁹ and she bore him sons: Yaiwash, and Shamarayah, and Zaham.²⁰ After her he took Maacah the daughter of Abashalawam; and she bore him

Abayah, and Ithay, and Zayazaa, and Shalamayath.²¹ Rachabaim loved Maacah the daughter of Abashalawam above all his wives and his concubines: (for he took eighteen wives, and sixty concubines, and became the father of twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters.)²² Rachabaim appointed Abayah the son of Maacah to be chief, [even] the prince among his brothers; for [he was minded] to make him king.²³ He dealt wisely, and dispersed of all his sons throughout all the lands of Yahawadah and Banayaman, to every fortified city: and he gave them victuals in abundance. He sought [for them] many wives.

12 It happened, when the kingdom of Rachabaim was established, and he was strong, that he forsook the law of Yahawah, and all Yasharaal with him.² It happened in the fifth year of king Rachabaim, that Shayashaq king of Matzarayam came up against Yarawashalam, because they had trespassed against Yahawah,³ with twelve hundred chariots, and sixty thousand horsemen. The people were without number who came with him out of Matzarayam: the Lubim, the Sukkiim, and the Ethiopians.⁴ He took the fortified cities which pertained to Yahawadah, and came to Yarawashalam.⁵ Now Shamaiah the prophet came to Rachabaim, and to the princes of Yahawadah, who were gathered together to Yarawashalam because of Shayashaq, and said to them, Thus says Yahawah, You have forsaken me, therefore have I also left you in the hand of Shayashaq.⁶ Then the princes of Yasharaal and the king humbled themselves; and they said, Yahawah is righteous.⁷ When Yahawah saw that they humbled themselves, the word of Yahawah came to Shamaiah, saying, They have humbled themselves: I will not destroy them; but I will grant them some deliverance, and my wrath shall not be poured out on Yarawashalam by the hand of Shayashaq.⁸ Nevertheless they shall be his servants, that they may know my service, and the service of the kingdoms of the countries.⁹ So Shayashaq king of Matzarayam came up against Yarawashalam, and took away the treasures of the house of Yahawah, and the treasures of the king's house: he took all away: he took away also the shields of gold which Shalamah had made.¹⁰ King Rachabaim made in their place shields of brass, and committed them to the hands of the captains of the guard, who kept the door of the king's house.¹¹ It was so, that as often as the king entered into the house of Yahawah, the guard came and bore them, and brought them back into the guard-chamber.¹² When he humbled himself, the wrath of Yahawah turned from him, so as not to destroy him altogether: and moreover in Yahawadah there were good things [found].¹³ So king Rachabaim strengthened himself in Yarawashalam, and reigned: for Rachabaim was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Yarawashalam, the city which Yahawah had chosen out of all the tribes of Yasharaal, to put his name there: and his mother's name was Naimah the Ammonitess.¹⁴ He did that which was evil, because he didn't set his heart to seek Yahawah.¹⁵ Now the acts of Rachabaim, first and last, aren't they written in the histories of Shamaiah the prophet and of Idaw the seer, after the manner of genealogies? There were wars between Rachabaim and Yarabaim continually.¹⁶ Rachabaim slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of Dawad: and Abayah his son reigned in his place.

13 In the eighteenth year of king Yarabaim began Abayah to reign over Yahawadah.³ Three years reigned he in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Mayakah the daughter of Awarayaal of Gabaih. There was war between Abayah and Yarabaim.⁴ Abayah joined battle with an army of valiant men of war, even four hundred thousand chosen men: and Yarabaim set the battle in array against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men, who were mighty men of valor.⁵ Abayah stood up on Mount Tzamarayam, which is in the hill-country of Aparayam, and said, Hear me, Yarabaim and all Yasharaal:⁶ Ought you not to know that Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, gave the kingdom over Yasharaal to Dawad forever, even to him and to his sons by a covenant of salt?⁷ Yet Yarabaim the son of Nabat, the servant of Shalamah the son of Dawad, rose up, and rebelled against his lord.⁸ There were gathered to him worthless men, base fellows, who strengthened themselves against Rachabaim the son of Shalamah, when Rachabaim was young and tender-hearted, and could not withstand them.⁹ Now you think to withstand the kingdom of Yahawah in the hand of the sons of Dawad; and you are a great multitude, and there are with you the golden calves which Yarabaim made you for gods.¹⁰ Haven't you driven out the priests of Yahawah, the sons of Aharan, and the Levites, and made you priests after the manner of the peoples of [other] lands? so that whoever comes to consecrate himself with a young bull and seven rams, the same may be a priest of [those who are] no gods.¹¹ But as for us, Yahawah is our Alahayam, and we have not forsaken him; and [we have] priests ministering to Yahawah, the sons of Aharan, and the Levites in their work:¹² and they burn to Yahawah every morning and every evening burnt offerings and sweet incense: the show bread also [set they] in order on the pure table; and the lampstand of gold with the lamps of it, to burn every evening: for we keep the charge of Yahawah our Alahayam; but you have forsaken him.¹³ Behold, Alahayam is with us at our head, and his priests with the trumpets of alarm to sound an alarm against you. Children of Yasharaal, don't you fight against Yahawah, the Alahayam of your fathers; for you shall not prosper.¹⁴ But Yarabaim caused an ambush to come about behind them: so they were before Yahawadah, and the ambush was behind them.¹⁵ When Yahawadah looked back, behold, the battle was before and behind them; and they cried to Yahawah, and the priests sounded with the trumpets.¹⁶ Then the men of Yahawadah gave a shout: and as the men of Yahawadah shouted, it happened, that Alahayam struck Yarabaim and all Yasharaal before Abayah and Yahawadah.¹⁷ The children of Yasharaal fled before Yahawadah; and Alahayam delivered them into their hand.¹⁸ Abayah and his people killed them with a great slaughter: so there fell down slain of Yasharaal five hundred thousand chosen men.¹⁹ Thus the children of Yasharaal were brought under at that time, and the children of Yahawadah prevailed, because they relied on Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers.²⁰ Abayah pursued after Yarabaim, and took cities from him, Bethel with the towns of it, and Hayashanah with the towns of it, and Iparawan with the towns of it.²¹ Neither did Yarabaim recover strength again in the days of Abayah: and Yahawah struck him, and he died.²² But Abayah grew mighty, and took to himself fourteen wives, and became the father of twenty-two sons, and sixteen daughters.²³ The rest of the acts of Abayah, and his ways, and his sayings, are written in the commentary of the prophet Idaw.

14 So Abayah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of Dawad; and Asaa his son reigned in his place. In his days the land was quiet ten years.² Asaa did that which was good and right in the eyes of Yahawah his Alahayam:³ for he took away the foreign altars, and the high places, and broke down the pillars, and hewed down the Asherim,⁴ and commanded Yahawadah to seek Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers, and to do the law and the commandment.⁵ Also he took away out of all the cities of Yahawadah the high places and the sun-images: and the kingdom was quiet before him.⁶ He built fortified cities in Yahawadah; for the land was quiet, and he had no war in those years, because Yahawah had given him rest.⁷ For he said to Yahawadah, Let us build these cities, and make about them walls, and towers, gates, and bars; the land is yet before us, because we have sought Yahawah our Alahayam; we have sought him, and he has given us rest on every side. So they built and prospered.⁸ Asaa had an army that bore bucklers and spears, out of Yahawadah three hundred thousand; and out of Banayaman, that bore shields and drew bows, two hundred eighty thousand: all these were mighty men of valor.⁹ There came out against them Zarach the Ethiopian with an army of a million troops, and three hundred chariots; and he came to Marashah.¹⁰ Then Asaa went out to meet him, and they set the battle in array in the valley of Tzaphatah at Marashah.¹¹ Asaa cried to Yahawah his Alahayam, and said, Yahawah, there is none besides you to help, between the mighty and him who has no strength: help us, Yahawah our Alahayam; for we rely on you, and in your name are we come against this multitude. Yahawah, you are our Alahayam; don't let man prevail against you.¹² So Yahawah struck the Ethiopians before Asaa, and before Yahawadah; and the Ethiopians fled.¹³ Asaa and the people who were with him pursued them to Garar: and there fell of the Ethiopians so many that they could not recover themselves; for they were destroyed before Yahawah, and before his host; and they carried away very much booty.¹⁴ They struck all the cities round about Garar; for the fear of Yahawah came on them: and they despoiled all the cities; for there was much spoil in them.

15 The Spirit of Alahayam came on Izarayah the son of Idad:² and he went out to meet Asaa, and said to him, Hear you me, Asaa, and all Yahawadah and Banayaman: Yahawah is with you, while you are with him; and if you seek him, he will be found of you; but if you forsake him, he will forsake you.³ Now for a long season Yasharaal was without the true Alahayam, and without a teaching priest, and without law:⁴ But when in their distress they turned to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, and sought him, he was found of them.⁵ In those times there was no peace to him who went out, nor to him who came in; but great vexations were on all the inhabitants of the lands.⁶ They were broken in pieces, nation against nation, and city against city; for Alahayam did vex them with all adversity.⁷ But be you strong, and don't let your hands be slack; for your work shall be rewarded.⁸ When Asaa heard these words, and the prophecy of Idad the prophet, he took courage, and put away the abominations out of all the land of Yahawadah and Banayaman, and out of the cities which he had taken from the hill-country of Aparayam; and he renewed the altar of Yahawah, that was before the porch of Yahawah.⁹ He gathered all Yahawadah and Banayaman, and those who sojourned with them out of Aparayam and Manashah, and out of Shamaian: for they fell to him out of Yasharaal in abundance, when they saw that Yahawah his Alahayam was with him.¹⁰ So they gathered themselves together at Yarawashalam in the third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Asaa.¹¹ They sacrificed to Yahawah in that day, of the spoil which they had brought, seven hundred oxen and seven thousand sheep.¹² They entered into the covenant to seek Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers, with all their heart and with all their soul;¹³ and that whoever would not seek Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, should be put to death, whether small or great, whether man or woman.¹⁴ They swore to Yahawah with a loud voice, and with shouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.¹⁵ All Yahawadah rejoiced at the oath; for they had sworn with all their heart, and sought him with their whole desire; and he was found of them: and Yahawah gave them rest round about.¹⁶ Also Maacah, the mother of Asaa the king, he removed from being queen, because she had made an abominable image for an Asherah; and Asaa cut down her image, and made dust of it, and burnt it at the brook Qadarawan.¹⁷ But the high places were not taken away out of Yasharaal: nevertheless the heart of Asaa was perfect all his days.¹⁸ He brought into the house of Alahayam the things that his father had dedicated, and that he himself had dedicated, silver, and gold, and vessels.¹⁹ There was no more war to the five and thirtieth year of the reign of Asaa.

16 In the six and thirtieth year of the reign of Asaa, Baishaa king of Yasharaal went up against Yahawadah, and built Ramah, that he might not allow anyone to go out or come in to Asaa king of Yahawadah.² Then Asaa brought out silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of Yahawah and of the king's house, and sent to Ban king of Aram, who lived at Damashaq, saying,³ [There is] a league between me and you, as [there was] between my father and your father: behold, I have sent you silver and gold; go, break your league with Baishaa king of Yasharaal, that he may depart from me.⁴ Ban listened to king Asaa, and sent the captains of his armies against the cities of Yasharaal; and they struck Iyawan, and Wadan, and Abal, and all the store-cities of Napathalay.⁵ It happened, when Baishaa heard of it, that he left off building Ramah, and let his work cease.⁶ Then Asaa the king took all Yahawadah; and they carried away the stones of Ramah, and the timber of it, with which Baishaa had built; and he built therewith Gabai and Mizpah.⁷ At that time

Chananay the seer came to Asaa king of Yahawadah, and said to him, Because you have relied on the king of Aram, and have not relied on Yahawah your Alahayam, therefore is the host of the king of Aram escaped out of your hand.⁸ Weren't the Ethiopians and the Lubim a huge host, with chariots and horsemen exceeding many? yet, because you did rely on Yahawah, he delivered them into your hand.⁹ For the eyes of Yahawah run back and forth throughout the whole earth, to show himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him. Herein you have done foolishly; for from henceforth you shall have wars.¹⁰ Then Asaa was angry with the seer, and put him in the prison-house; for he was in a rage with him because of this thing. Asaa oppressed some of the people at the same time.¹¹ Behold, the acts of Asaa, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Yahawadah and Yasharaal.¹² In the thirty-ninth year of his reign Asaa was diseased in his feet; his disease was exceeding great: yet in his disease he didn't seek Yahawah, but to the physicians.¹³ Asaa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fortieth year of his reign.¹⁴ They buried him in his own tombs, which he had hewn out for himself in the city of Dawad, and laid him in the bed which was filled with sweet odors and various kinds [of spices] prepared by the perfumers' are: and they made a very great burning for him.

17 Yahawashapat his son reigned in his place, and strengthened himself against Yasharaal.² He placed forces in all the fortified cities of Yahawadah, and set garrisons in the land of Yahawadah, and in the cities of Aparayam, which Asaa his father had taken.³ Yahawah was with Yahawashapat, because he walked in the first ways of his father Dawad, and didn't seek the Baals,⁴ but sought to the Alahayam of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not after the doings of Yasharaal.⁵ Therefore Yahawah established the kingdom in his hand; and all Yahawadah brought to Yahawashapat tribute; and he had riches and honor in abundance.⁶ His heart was lifted up in the ways of Yahawah: and furthermore he took away the high places and the Asherim out of Yahawadah.⁷ Also in the third year of his reign he sent his princes, even Ban, and Ibadayah, and Zakarayah, and Nathanaal, and Mayakah, to teach in the cities of Yahawadah;⁸ and with them the Levites, even Shamaiah, and Nathanayah, and Zabadayah, and Ishahaal, and Shamayaramawath, and Jehonathan, and Adanayahaw, and Tawabayah, and Adawanayah, the Levites; and with them Alayashamai and Yahawaram, the priests.⁹ They taught in Yahawadah, having the book of the law of Yahawah with them; and they went about throughout all the cities of Yahawadah, and taught among the people.¹⁰ The fear of Yahawah fell on all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Yahawadah, so that they made no war against Yahawashapat.¹¹ Some of the Palashath brought Yahawashapat presents, and silver for tribute; the Arabians also brought him flocks, seven thousand and seven hundred rams, and seven thousand and seven hundred male goats.¹² Yahawashapat grew great exceedingly; and he built in Yahawadah castles and cities of store.¹³ He had many works in the cities of Yahawadah; and men of war, mighty men of valor, in Yarawashalam.¹⁴ This was the numbering of them according to their fathers' houses: Of Yahawadah, the captains of thousands: Idanah the captain, and with him mighty men of valor three hundred thousand;¹⁵ and next to him Yahawachanan the captain, and with him two hundred eighty thousand;¹⁶ and next to him Imasayah the son of Zakaray, who willingly offered himself to Yahawah; and with him two hundred thousand mighty men of valor.¹⁷ Of Banayaman: Alayadai a mighty man of valor, and with him two hundred thousand armed with bow and shield;¹⁸ and next to him Yahawazabad and with him one hundred eighty thousand ready prepared for war.¹⁹ These were those who waited on the king, besides those whom the king put in the fortified cities throughout all Yahawadah.

18 Now Yahawashapat had riches and honor in abundance; and he joined affinity with Achaab.² After certain years he went down to Achaab to Shamarawan. Achaab killed sheep and oxen for him in abundance, and for the people who were with him, and moved him to go up [with him] to Ramath.³ Achaab king of Yasharaal said to

Yahawashapat king of Yahawadah, Will you go with me to Ramath? He answered him, I am as you are, and my people as your people; and [we will be] with you in the war.⁴ Yahawashapat said to the king of Yasharaal, Please inquire first for the word of Yahawah.⁵ Then the king of Yasharaal gathered the prophets together, four hundred men, and said to them, Shall we go to Ramath to battle, or shall I forbear? They said, Go up; for Alahayam will deliver it into the hand of the king.⁶ But Yahawashapat said, Isn't there here a prophet of Yahawah besides, that we may inquire of him?⁷ The king of Yasharaal said to Yahawashapat, There is yet one man by whom we may inquire of Yahawah: but I hate him; for he never prophesies good concerning me, but always evil: the same is Mayakah the son of Yamalaa. Yahawashapat said, Don't let the king say so.⁸ Then the king of Yasharaal called an officer, and said, Get quickly Mayakah the son of Yamalaa.⁹ Now the king of Yasharaal and Yahawashapat the king of Yahawadah sat each on his throne, arrayed in their robes, and they were sitting in an open place at the entrance of the gate of Shamarawan; and all the prophets were prophesying before them.¹⁰ Tzadaqayahaw the son of Kanainah made him horns of iron, and said, Thus says Yahawah, With these shall you push the Aram, until they be consumed.¹¹ All the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Ramath, and prosper; for Yahawah will deliver it into the hand of the king.¹² The messenger who went to call Mayakah spoke to him, saying, Behold, the words of the prophets [declare] good to the king with one mouth: let your word therefore, Please be like one of theirs, and speak you good.¹³ Mayakah said, As Yahawah lives, what my Alahayam says, that will I speak.¹⁴ When he was come to the king, the king said to him, Mayakah, shall we go to Ramath to battle, or shall I forbear? He said, Go you up, and prosper; and they shall be delivered into your hand.¹⁵ The king said to him, How many times shall I adjure you that you speak to me nothing but the truth in the name of Yahawah?¹⁶ He said, I saw all Yasharaal scattered on the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd: and Yahawah said, These have no master; let them return every man to his house in peace.¹⁷ The king of Yasharaal said to Yahawashapat, Didn't I tell you that he would not prophesy good concerning me, but evil?¹⁸ [Mayakah] said, Therefore hear you the word of Yahawah: I saw Yahawah sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing on his right hand and on his left.¹⁹ Yahawah said, Who shall entice Achaab king of Yasharaal, that he may go up and fall at Ramath? One spoke saying after this manner, and another saying after that manner.²⁰ There came forth a spirit, and stood before Yahawah, and said, I will entice him. Yahawah said to him, 'How?'²¹ He said, 'I will go forth, and will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets.' He said, 'You shall entice him, and shall prevail also: go forth, and do so.'²² Now therefore, behold, Yahawah has put a lying spirit in the mouth of these your prophets; and Yahawah has spoken evil concerning you.²³ Then Tzadaqayahaw the son of Kanainah came near, and struck Mayakah on the cheek, and said, Which way went the Spirit of Yahawah from me to speak to you?²⁴ Mayakah said, Behold, you shall see on that day, when you shall go into an inner chamber to hide yourself.²⁵ The king of Yasharaal said, Take Mayakah, and carry him back to Amawan the governor of the city, and to Yawaash the king's son;²⁶ and say, Thus says the king, Pawat this fellow in the prison, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.²⁷ Mayakah said, If you return at all in peace, Yahawah has not spoken by me. He said, Hear, you peoples, all of you.²⁸ So the king of Yasharaal and Yahawashapat the king of Yahawadah went up to Ramath.²⁹ The king of Yasharaal said to Yahawashapat, I will disguise myself, and go into the battle; but put you on your robes. So the king of Yasharaal disguised himself; and they went into the battle.³⁰ Now the king of Aram had commanded the captains of his chariots, saying, Fight neither with small nor great, save only with the king of Yasharaal.³¹ It happened, when the captains of the chariots saw Yahawashapat, that they said, It is the king of Yasharaal. Therefore they turned about to fight against him: but Yahawashapat cried out, and Yahawah helped him; and Alahayam moved them [to depart] from him.³² It happened, when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Yasharaal, that they turned back from pursuing him.³³ A certain man drew his bow at a venture, and struck the king of Yasharaal between the joints of the armor: why he said to the driver of the chariot, Turn your hand, and carry me out of the host; for I am sore wounded.³⁴ The battle increased that day: however the king of Yasharaal stayed himself up in his chariot against the Aram until the even; and about the time of the going down of the sun he died.

19 Yahawashapat the king of Yahawadah returned to his house in peace to Yarawashalam.² Yahawaa the son of Chananay the seer went out to meet him, and said to king Yahawashapat, Should you help the wicked, and love those who hate Yahawah? for this thing wrath is on you from before Yahawah.³ Nevertheless there are good things found in you, in that you have put away the Asheroth out of the land, and have set your heart to seek Alahayam.⁴ Yahawashapat lived at Yarawashalam: and he went out again among the people from Beersheba to the hill-country of Aparayam, and brought them back to Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers.⁵ He set judges in the land throughout all the fortified cities of Yahawadah, city by city,⁶ and said to the judges, Consider what you do: for you don't judge for man, but for Yahawah; and [he is] with you in the judgment.⁷ Now therefore let the fear of Yahawah be on you; take heed and do it: for there is no iniquity with Yahawah our Alahayam, nor respect of persons, nor taking of bribes.⁸ Moreover in Yarawashalam did Yahawashapat set of the Levites and the priests, and of the heads of the fathers' [houses] of Yasharaal, for the judgment of Yahawah, and for controversies. They returned to Yarawashalam.⁹ He charged them, saying, Thus shall you do in the fear of Yahawah, faithfully, and with a perfect heart.¹⁰ Whenever any controversy shall come to you from your brothers who dwell in their cities, between blood and blood, between law and commandment, statutes and ordinances, you shall warn them, that they not be guilty towards Yahawah, and so wrath come on you and on your brothers: this do, and you shall not be guilty.¹¹ Behold, Amarayah the chief priest is over you in all matters of Yahawah; and Zabadayah the son of Yashamaial, the ruler of the house of Yahawadah, in all the king's matters: also the Levites shall be officers before you. Deal courageously, and Yahawah be with the good.

20 It happened after this, that the children of Mawaab, and the children of Imawan, and with them some of the Imawan, came against Yahawashapat to battle.² Then there came some who told Yahawashapat, saying, There comes a great multitude against you from beyond the sea from Aram; and, behold, they are in Hazazon-Thamar (the same is Gaday).³ Yahawashapat feared, and set himself to seek to Yahawah; and he proclaimed a fast throughout all Yahawadah.⁴ Yahawadah gathered themselves together, to seek [help] of Yahawah: even out of all the cities of Yahawadah they came to seek Yahawah.⁵ Yahawashapat stood in the assembly of Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, in the house of Yahawah, before the new court;⁶ and he said, Yahawah, the Alahayam of our fathers, aren't you Alahayam in heaven? and aren't you ruler over all the kingdoms of the nations? and in your hand is power and might, so that none is able to withstand you.⁷ Did not you, our Alahayam, drive out the inhabitants of this land before your people Yasharaal, and give it to the seed of Abaraham your friend forever?⁸ They lived therein, and have built you a sanctuary therein for your name, saying,⁹ If evil come on us, the sword, judgment, or pestilence, or famine, we will stand before this house, and before you, (for your name is in this house,) and cry to you in our affliction, and you will hear and save.¹⁰ Now, behold, the children of Imawan and Mawaab and Mount Shaiyar, whom you would not let Yasharaal invade, when they came out of the land of Matzarayam, but they turned aside from them, and didn't destroy them;¹¹ behold, how they reward us, to come to cast us out of your possession, which you have given us to inherit.¹² Our Alahayam, will you not judge them? for we have no might against this great company that comes against us; neither know we what to do: but our eyes are on you.¹³ All Yahawadah stood before Yahawah, with their little ones, their wives, and their children.¹⁴ Then on Yachazayaal the son of Zakarayah, the son of Banayahaw, the son of Yaiaal, the son of Mathanayah, the Levite, of the sons of Asap, came the Spirit of Yahawah in the midst of the assembly;¹⁵ and he said, Listen you, all Yahawadah, and you inhabitants of Yarawashalam, and you king Yahawashapat: Thus says Yahawah to you, Don't be afraid you, neither be dismayed by reason of this great multitude; for the battle is not yours, but Alahayam's.¹⁶ Tomorrow go you down against them: behold, they come up by the ascent of Tzayat; and you shall find them at the end of the valley, before the wilderness of Yarawaal.¹⁷ You shall not need to fight in this [battle]: set yourselves, stand you still, and see the salvation of Yahawah with you, O Yahawadah and Yarawashalam; don't be afraid, nor be dismayed: tomorrow go out against them: for Yahawah is with you.¹⁸ Yahawashapat bowed his head with his face to the ground; and all Yahawadah and the inhabitants of Yarawashalam fell down before Yahawah, worshipping Yahawah.¹⁹ The Levites, of the children of the Kohathites and of the children of the Korahites, stood up to praise Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, with an exceeding loud voice.²⁰ They rose early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderness of Thaqawai: and as they went forth, Yahawashapat stood and said, Hear me, Yahawadah, and you inhabitants of Yarawashalam: believe in Yahawah your Alahayam, so shall you be established; believe his prophets, so shall you prosper.²¹ When he had taken counsel with the people, he appointed those who should sing to Yahawah, and give praise in holy array, as they went out before the army, and say, Give thanks to Yahawah; for his lovingkindness endures forever.²² When they began to sing and to praise, Yahawah set liers-in-wait against the children of Imawan, Mawaab, and Mount Shaiyar, who had come against Yahawadah; and they were struck.²³ For the children of Imawan and Mawaab stood up against the inhabitants of Mount Shaiyar, utterly to kill and destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Shaiyar, everyone helped to destroy another.²⁴ When Yahawadah came to the watch-tower of the wilderness, they looked at the multitude; and, behold, they were dead bodies fallen to the earth, and there were none who escaped.²⁵ When Yahawashapat and his people came to take the spoil of them, they found among them in abundance both riches and dead bodies, and precious jewels, which they stripped off for themselves, more than they could carry away: and they were three days in taking the spoil, it was so much.²⁶ On the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Beracah; for there they blessed Yahawah: therefore the name of that place was called The valley of Beracah to this day.²⁷ Then they returned, every man of Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, and Yahawashapat in the forefront of them, to go again to Yarawashalam with joy; for Yahawah had made them to rejoice over their enemies.²⁸ They came to Yarawashalam with psalteries and harps and trumpets to the house of Yahawah.²⁹ The fear of Alahayam was on all the kingdoms of the countries, when they heard that Yahawah fought against the enemies of Yasharaal.³⁰ So the realm of Yahawashapat was quiet; for his Alahayam gave him rest round about.³¹ Yahawashapat reigned over Yahawadah: he was thirty-five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned twenty-five years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Izawabah the daughter of Shalachay.³² He walked in the way of Asaa his father, and didn't turn aside from it, doing that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah.³³ However the high places were not taken away; neither as yet had the people set their hearts to the Alahayam of their fathers.³⁴ Now the rest of the acts of Yahawashapat, first and last, behold, they are written in the history of Yahawaa the son of Chananay, which is inserted in the book of the kings of Yasharaal.³⁵ After this did Yahawashapat king of Yahawadah join himself with Achazayahaw king of Yasharaal; the same did very wickedly:³⁶ and he joined himself with him to make ships to go to Tharashayash; and they made the ships in Gabar.³⁷ Then Alayaizar the son of Dadawahaw of Marashah prophesied against Yahawashapat, saying, Because you have joined yourself with Achazayahaw, Yahawah has destroyed your works. The ships were broken, so that they were not able to go to Tharashayash.

21 Yahawashapat slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dawad: and Yahawaram his son reigned in his place.² He had brothers, the sons of Yahawashapat: Izarayah, and Yachayaal, and Zakarayah, and Izarayah, and Mayakaal, and Shapatayah; all these were the sons of Yahawashapat king of Yasharaal.³ Their father gave them great gifts, of silver, and of gold, and of precious things, with fortified cities in Yahawadah: but the kingdom gave he to Yahawaram, because he was the firstborn.⁴ Now when Yahawaram was risen up over the kingdom of his father, and had strengthened himself, he killed all his brothers with the sword, and various also of the princes of Yasharaal.⁵ Yahawaram was thirty-two years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eight years in Yarawashalam.⁶ He walked in the way of the kings of Yasharaal, as did the house of Achaab; for he had the daughter of Achaab as wife: and he did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah.⁷ However Yahawah would not destroy the house of Dawad, because of the covenant that he had made with Dawad, and as he promised to give a lamp to him and to his children always.⁸ In his days Adawam revolted from under the hand of Yahawadah, and made a king over themselves.⁹ Then Yahawaram passed over with his captains, and all his chariots with him: and he rose up by night, and struck the Adawam who surrounded him, along with the captains of the chariots.¹⁰ So Adawam revolted from under the hand of Yahawadah to this day: then did Labanah revolt at the same time from under his hand, because he had forsaken Yahawah, the Alahayam of his fathers.¹¹ Moreover he made high places in the mountains of Yahawadah, and made the inhabitants of Yarawashalam to play the prostitute, and led Yahawadah astray.¹² There came a writing to him from Alayahaw the prophet, saying, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Dawad your father, Because you have not walked in the ways of Yahawashapat your father, nor in the ways of Asaa king of Yahawadah,¹³ but have walked in the way of the kings of Yasharaal, and have made Yahawadah and the inhabitants of Yarawashalam to play the prostitute, like as the house of Achaab did, and also have slain your brothers of your father's house, who were better than yourself:¹⁴ behold, Yahawah will strike with a great plague your people, and your children, and your wives, and all your substance;¹⁵ and you shall have great sickness by disease of your bowels, until your bowels fall out by reason of the sickness, day by day.¹⁶ Yahawah stirred up against Yahawaram the spirit of the Palashath, and of the Arabians who are beside the Ethiopians:¹⁷ and they came up against Yahawadah, and broke into it, and carried away all the substance that was found in the king's house, and his sons also, and his wives; so that there was never a son left him, save Yahawaachaz, the youngest of his sons.¹⁸ After all this Yahawah struck him in his bowels with an incurable disease.¹⁹ It happened, in process of time, at the end of two years, that his bowels fell out by reason of his sickness, and he died of sore diseases. His people made no burning for him, like the burning of his fathers.²⁰ Thirty-two years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned in Yarawashalam eight years: and he departed without being desired; and they buried him in the city of Dawad, but not in the tombs of the kings.

22 The inhabitants of Yarawashalam made Achazayahaw his youngest son king in his place; for the band of men who came with the Arabians to the camp had slain all the eldest. So Achazayahaw the son of Yahawaram king of Yahawadah reigned.² Forty-two years old was Achazayahaw when he began to reign; and he reigned one year in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Ithalahaw the daughter of Imaray.³ He also walked in the ways of the house of Achaab; for his mother was his counselor to do wickedly.⁴ He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, as did the house of Achaab; for they were his counselors after the death of his father, to his destruction.⁵ He walked also after their counsel, and went with Yahawaram the son of Achaab king of Yasharaal to war against Chazaal king of Aram at Ramath: and the Aram wounded

Yahawaram.⁶ He returned to be healed in Yazaraial of the wounds which they had given him at Ramah, when he fought against Chazaal king of Aram. Izarayah the son of Yahawaram king of Yahawadah went down to see Yahawaram the son of Achaab in Yazaraial, because he was sick.⁷ Now the destruction of Achazayahaw was of Alahayam, in that he went to Yahawaram: for when he was come, he went out with Yahawaram against Yahawaa the son of Namashay, whom Yahawah had anointed to cut off the house of Achaab.⁸ It happened, when Yahawaa was executing judgment on the house of Achaab, that he found the princes of Yahawadah, and the sons of the brothers of Achazayahaw, ministering to Achazayahaw, and killed them.⁹ He sought Achazayahaw, and they caught him (now he was hiding in Shamarawan), and they brought him to Yahawaa, and killed him; and they buried him, for they said, He is the son of Yahawashapat, who sought Yahawah with all his heart. The house of Achazayahaw had no power to hold the kingdom.¹⁰ Now when Ithalahaw the mother of Achazayahaw saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the seed royal of the house of Yahawadah.¹¹ But Yahawashabaith, the daughter of the king, took Yawaash the son of Achazayahaw, and stole him away from among the king's sons who were slain, and put him and his nurse in the bedchamber. So Yahawashabaith, the daughter of king Yahawaram, the wife of Yahawayadai the priest (for she was the sister of Achazayahaw), hid him from Ithalahaw, so that she didn't kill him.¹² He was with them hid in the house of Alahayam six years: and Ithalahaw reigned over the land.

23 In the seventh year Yahawayadai strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Izarayah the son of Yaracham, and Yashamaial the son of Yahawachanan, and Izarayah the son of Iwabad, and Maishayah the son of Idayah, and Alayahapat the son of Zakaray, into covenant with him.² They went about in Yahawadah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Yahawadah, and the heads of fathers' [houses] of Yasharaal, and they came to Yarawashalam.³ All the assembly made a covenant with the king in the house of Alahayam. He said to them, Behold, the king's son shall reign, as Yahawah has spoken concerning the sons of Dawad.⁴ This is the thing that you shall do: a third part of you, who come in on the Sabbath, of the priests and of the Levites, shall be porters of the thresholds;⁵ and a third part shall be at the king's house; and a third part at the gate of the foundation: and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of Yahawah.⁶ But let none come into the house of Yahawah, save the priests, and those who minister of the Levites; they shall come in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keep the charge of Yahawah.⁷ The Levites shall compass the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand; and whoever comes into the house, let him be slain: and be you with the king when he comes in, and when he goes out.⁸ So the Levites and all Yahawadah did according to all that Yahawayadai the priest commanded: and they took every man his men, those who were to come in on the Sabbath; with those who were to go out on the Sabbath; for Yahawayadai the priest didn't dismiss the shift.⁹ Yahawayadai the priest delivered to the captains of hundreds the spears, and bucklers, and shields, that had been king Dawad's, which were in the house of Alahayam.¹⁰ He set all the people, every man with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the house to the left side of the house, along by the altar and the house, by the king round about.¹¹ Then they brought out the king's son, and put the crown on him, and [gave him] the testimony, and made him king: and Yahawayadai and his sons anointed him; and they said, [Long] live the king.¹² When Ithalahaw heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she came to the people into the house of Yahawah:¹³ and she looked, and, behold, the king stood by his pillar at the entrance, and the captains and the trumpets by the king; and all the people of the land rejoiced, and blew trumpets; the singers also [played] on instruments of music, and led the singing of praise. Then Ithalahaw tore her clothes, and said, Treason! treason!¹⁴ Yahawayadai the priest brought out the captains of hundreds who were set over the host, and said to them, Have her forth between the ranks; and whoever follows her, let him be slain with the sword: for the priest said, Don't kill her in the house of Yahawah.¹⁵ So they made way for her; and she went to the entrance of the horse gate to the king's house: and they killed her there.¹⁶ Yahawayadai made a covenant between himself, and all the people, and the king, that they should be Yahawah's people.¹⁷ All the people went to the house of Bail, and broke it down, and broke his altars and his images in pieces, and killed Mathan the priest of Bail before the altars.¹⁸ Yahawayadai appointed the officers of the house of Yahawah under the hand of the priests the Levites, whom Dawad had distributed in the house of Yahawah, to offer the burnt offerings of Yahawah, as it is written in the law of Mashah, with rejoicing and with singing, according to the order of Dawad.¹⁹ He set the porters at the gates of the house of Yahawah, that no one who was unclean in anything should enter in.²⁰ He took the captains of hundreds, and the nobles, and the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king from the house of Yahawah: and they came through the upper gate to the king's house, and set the king on the throne of the kingdom.²¹ So all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet. Ithayahaw they had slain with the sword.

24 Yawaash was seven years old when he began to reign; and he reigned forty years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Tzabayah, of Beersheba.² Yawaash did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah all the days of Yahawayadai the priest.³ Yahawayadai took for him two wives; and he became the father of sons and daughters.⁴ It happened after this, that Yawaash was minded to restore the house of Yahawah.⁵ He gathered together the priests and the Levites, and said to them, Go out to the cities of Yahawadah, and gather of all Yasharaal money to repair the house of your Alahayam from year to year; and see that you hasten the matter. However the Levites didn't hurry.⁶ The king called for Yahawayadai the chief, and said to him, Why haven't you required of the Levites to bring in out of Yahawadah and out of Yarawashalam the tax of Mashah the servant of Yahawah, and of the assembly of Yasharaal, for the tent of the testimony?⁷ For the sons of Ithayahaw, that wicked woman, had broken up the house of Alahayam; and also all the dedicated things of the house of Yahawah did they bestow on the Baals.⁸ So the king commanded, and they made a chest, and set it outside at the gate of the house of Yahawah.⁹ They made a proclamation through Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, to bring in for Yahawah the tax that Mashah the servant of Alahayam laid on Yasharaal in the wilderness.¹⁰ All the princes and all the people rejoiced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, until they had made an end.¹¹ It was so, that whenever the chest was brought to the king's officers by the hand of the Levites, and when they saw that there was much money, the king's scribe and the chief priest's officer came and emptied the chest, and took it, and carried it to its place again. Thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance.¹² The king and Yahawayadai gave it to such as did the work of the service of the house of Yahawah; and they hired masons and carpenters to restore the house of Yahawah, and also such as worked iron and brass to repair the house of Yahawah.¹³ So the workmen worked, and the work of repairing went forward in their hands, and they set up the house of Alahayam in its state, and strengthened it.¹⁴ When they had made an end, they brought the rest of the money before the king and Yahawayadai, whereof were made vessels for the house of Yahawah, even vessels with which to minister and to offer, and spoons, and vessels of gold and silver. They offered burnt offerings in the house of Yahawah continually all the days of Yahawayadai.¹⁵ But Yahawayadai grew old and was full of days, and he died; one hundred thirty years old was he when he died.¹⁶ They buried him in the city of Dawad among the kings, because he had done good in Yasharaal, and toward Alahayam and his house.¹⁷ Now after the death of Yahawayadai came the princes of Yahawadah, and made obeisance to the king. Then the king listened to them.¹⁸ They forsook the house of Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers, and served the Asherim and the idols: and wrath came on Yahawadah and Yarawashalam for this their guiltiness.¹⁹ Yet he sent prophets to them, to bring them again to Yahawah; and they testified against them: but they would not give ear.²⁰ The Spirit of Alahayam came on Zakarayah the son of Yahawayadai the priest; and he stood above the people, and said to them, Thus says Alahayam, Why disobey you the commandments of Yahawah, so that you can't prosper? because you have forsaken Yahawah, he has also forsaken you.²¹ They conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the commandment of the king in the court of the house of Yahawah.²² Thus Yawaash the king didn't remember the kindness which Yahawayadai his father had done to him, but killed his son. When he died, he said, Yahawah look on it, and require it.²³ It happened at the end of the year, that the army of the Aram came up against him: and they came to Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoil of them to the king of Damashaq.²⁴ For the army of the Aram came with a small company of men; and Yahawah delivered a very great host into their hand, because they had forsaken Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers. So they executed judgment on Yawaash.²⁵ When they were departed for him (for they left him very sick), his own servants conspired against him for the blood of the sons of Yahawayadai the priest, and killed him on his bed, and he died; and they buried him in the city of Dawad, but they didn't bury him in the tombs of the kings.²⁶ These are those who conspired against him: Zabad the son of Shimeath the Ammonitess, and Yahawazabad the son of Shamarayath the Moabite.²⁷ Now concerning his sons, and the greatness of the burdens [laid] on him, and the rebuilding of the house of Alahayam, behold, they are written in the commentary of the book of the kings. Amatzayahaw his son reigned in his place.

25 Amatzayahaw was twenty-five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned twenty-nine years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Yahawaidayan, of Yarawashalam.² He did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, but not with a perfect heart.³ Now it happened, when the kingdom was established to him, that he killed his servants who had killed the king his father.⁴ But he didn't put their children to death, but did according to that which is written in the law in the book of Mashah, as Yahawah commanded, saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers; but every man shall die for his own sin.⁵ Moreover Amatzayahaw gathered Yahawadah together, and ordered them according to their fathers' houses, under captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, even all Yahawadah and Banayaman: and he numbered them from twenty years old and upward, and found them three hundred thousand chosen men, able to go forth to war, who could handle spear and shield.⁶ He hired also one hundred thousand mighty men of valor out of Yasharaal for one hundred talents of silver.⁷ But there came a man of Alahayam to him, saying, O king, don't let the army of Yasharaal go with you; for Yahawah is not with Yasharaal, [to wit], with all the children of Aparayam.⁸ But if you will go, do [valiantly], be strong for the battle: Alahayam will cast you down before the enemy; for Alahayam has power to help, and to cast down.⁹ Amatzayahaw said to the man of Alahayam, But what shall we do for the hundred talents which I have given to the army of Yasharaal? The man of Alahayam answered, Yahawah is able to give you much more than this.¹⁰ Then Amatzayahaw separated them, [to wit], the army that had come to him out of Aparayam, to go home again: why their anger was greatly kindled against Yahawadah, and they returned home in fierce anger.¹¹ Amatzayahaw took courage, and led forth his people, and went to the Valley of Salt, and struck of the children of Shaiyar ten thousand.¹² [other] ten thousand did the children of Yahawadah carry away alive, and brought them to the top of the rock, and cast them down from the top of the rock, so that they all were broken in pieces.¹³ But the men of the army whom Amatzayahaw sent back, that they should not go with him to battle, fell on the cities of Yahawadah, from Shamarawan even to Bayath, and struck of them three thousand, and took much spoil.¹⁴ Now it happened, after that Amatzayahaw was come from the slaughter of the Adawam, that he brought the gods of the children of Shaiyar, and set them up to be his gods, and bowed down himself before them, and burned incense to them.¹⁵ Therefore the anger of Yahawah was kindled against Amatzayahaw, and he sent to him a prophet, who said to him, Why have you sought after the gods of the people, which have not delivered their own people out of your hand?¹⁶ It happened, as he talked with him, that [the king] said to him, Have we made you of the king's counsel? Stop! Why should you be struck down? Then the prophet stopped, and said, I know that Alahayam has determined to destroy you, because you have done this, and have not listened to my counsel.¹⁷ Then Amatzayahaw king of Yahawadah took advice, and sent to Yawaash, the son of Yahawaachaz the son of Yahawaa, king of Yasharaal, saying, Come, let us look one another in the face.¹⁸ Yawaash king of Yasharaal sent to Amatzayahaw king of Yahawadah, saying, The thistle that was in Labanawan sent to the cedar that was in Labanawan, saying, Give your daughter to my son as wife: and there passed by a wild animal that was in Labanawan, and trod down the thistle.¹⁹ You say, Behold, you have struck Adawam; and your heart lifts you up to boast: abide now at home; why should you meddle to [your] hurt, that you should fall, even you, and Yahawadah with you?²⁰ But Amatzayahaw would not hear; for it was of Alahayam, that he might deliver them into the hand [of their enemies], because they had sought after the gods of Adawam.²¹ So Yawaash king of Yasharaal went up; and he and Amatzayahaw king of Yahawadah looked one another in the face at Bayath, which belongs to Yahawadah.²² Yahawadah was put to the worse before Yasharaal; and they fled every man to his tent.²³ Yawaash king of Yasharaal took Amatzayahaw king of Yahawadah, the son of Yawaash the son of Yahawaachaz, at Bayath, and brought him to Yarawashalam, and broke down the wall of Yarawashalam from the gate of Aparayam to the corner gate, four hundred cubits.²⁴ [He took] all the gold and silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of Alahayam with Ibad, and the treasures of the king's house, the hostages also, and returned to Shamarawan.²⁵ Amatzayahaw the son of Yawaash king of Yahawadah lived after the death of Yawaash son of Yahawaachaz king of Yasharaal fifteen years.²⁶ Now the rest of the acts of Amatzayahaw, first and last, behold, aren't they written in the book of the kings of Yahawadah and Yasharaal?²⁷ Now from the time that Amatzayahaw did turn away from following Yahawah they made a conspiracy against him in Yarawashalam; and he fled to Lakayash: but they sent after him to Lakayash, and killed him there.²⁸ They brought him on horses, and buried him with his fathers in the city of Yahawadah.

26 All the people of Yahawadah took Izayahaw, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amatzayahaw.² He built Ayalath, and restored it to Yahawadah, after that the king slept with his fathers.³ Sixteen years old was Izayahaw when he began to reign; and he reigned fifty-two years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Jechiliah, of Yarawashalam.⁴ He did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, according to all that his father Amatzayahaw had done.⁵ He set himself to seek Alahayam in the days of Zakarayah, who had understanding in the vision of Alahayam; and as long as he sought Yahawah, Alahayam made him to prosper.⁶ He went forth and warred against the Palashath, and broke down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Yabanah, and the wall of Ashadawad; and he built cities in [the country of] Ashadawad, and among the Palashath.⁷ Alahayam helped him against the Palashath, and against the Arabians who lived in Bail, and the Meunim.⁸ The Imawan gave tribute to Izayahaw: and his name spread abroad even to the entrance of Matzarayam; for he grew exceeding strong.⁹ Moreover Izayahaw built towers in Yarawashalam at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the turning [of the wall], and fortified them.¹⁰ He built towers in the wilderness, and hewed out many cisterns, for he had much cattle; in the lowland also, and in the plain: [and he had] farmers and vineyard keepers in the mountains and in the fruitful fields; for he loved farming.¹¹ Moreover Izayahaw had an army of fighting men, who went out to war by bands, according to the number of their reckoning made by Yaiyaal the scribe and Maishayah the officer, under the hand of Chananayah, one of the king's captains.¹² The whole number of the heads of fathers' [houses], even the mighty men of valor, was two thousand and six hundred.¹³ Under their hand was an army, three hundred thousand and seven thousand and five hundred, who made war with mighty power, to help the king against the enemy.¹⁴ Izayahaw prepared for them, even for all the host, shields, and spears, and helmets, and coats of mail, and bows, and stones for slinging.¹⁵ He made in Yarawashalam engines, invented by skillful men, to be on the towers and on the battlements, with which to shoot arrows and great stones. His name spread far abroad; for he was marvelously helped, until he was strong.¹⁶ But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up, so that he did corruptly, and he trespassed against Yahawah his Alahayam; for he went into the temple of Yahawah to burn incense on the altar of incense.¹⁷ Izayahaw the priest went in after him, and with him eighty priests of Yahawah, who were valiant men:¹⁸ and they withstood Izayahaw the king, and said to him, It pertains not to you, Izayahaw, to burn incense to Yahawah, but to the priests the sons of Aharan, who are consecrated to burn incense: go out of the sanctuary; for you have trespassed; neither shall it be for your honor from Yahawah Alahayam.¹⁹ Then Izayahaw was angry; and he had a censer in his hand to burn incense; and while he was angry with the priests, the leprosy broke forth in his forehead before the priests in the house of Yahawah, beside the altar of incense.²⁰ Izayahaw the chief priest, and all the priests, looked on him, and, behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they thrust him out quickly from there; yes, himself hurried also to go out, because Yahawah had struck him.²¹ Izayahaw the king was a leper to the day of his death, and lived in a separate house, being a leper; for he was cut off from the house of Yahawah: and Yawatham his son was over the king's house, judging the people of the land.²² Now the rest of the acts of Izayahaw, first and last, did Yashaiyahaw the prophet, the son of Amawatz, write.²³ So Izayahaw slept with his fathers; and they buried him with his fathers in the field of burial which belonged to the kings; for they said, He is a leper: and Yawatham his son reigned in his place.

27 Yawatham was twenty-five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned sixteen years in Yarawashalam: and his mother's name was Yarawashaa the daughter of Tzadawaq.² He did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, according to all that his father Izayahaw had done: however he didn't enter into the temple of Yahawah. The people did yet corruptly.³ He built the upper gate of the house of Yahawah, and on the wall of Ipal he built much.⁴ Moreover he built cities in the hill-country of Yahawadah, and in the forests he built castles and towers.⁵ He fought also with the king of the children of Imawan, and prevailed against them. The children of Imawan gave him the same year one hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheat, and ten thousand of barley. So much did the children of Imawan render to him, in the second year also, and in the third.⁶ So Yawatham became mighty, because he ordered his ways before Yahawah his Alahayam.⁷ Now the rest of the acts of Yawatham, and all his wars, and his ways, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Yasharaal and Yahawadah.⁸ He was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned sixteen years in Yarawashalam.⁹ Yawatham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of Dawad: and Achaz his son reigned in his place.

28 Achaz was twenty years old when he began to reign; and he reigned sixteen years in Yarawashalam: and he didn't do that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, like Dawad his father;² but he walked in the ways of the kings of Yasharaal, and made also molten images for the Baals.³ Moreover he burnt incense in the valley of the son of Hanam, and burnt his children in the fire, according to the abominations of the nations whom Yahawah cast out before the children of Yasharaal.⁴ He sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.⁵ Why Yahawah his Alahayam delivered him into the hand of the king of Aram; and they struck him, and carried away of his a great multitude of captives, and brought them to Damashaq. He was also delivered into the hand of the king of Yasharaal, who struck him with a great slaughter.⁶ For Paqach the son of Ramalayahaw killed in Yahawadah one hundred twenty thousand in one day, all of them valiant men; because they had forsaken Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers.⁷ Zakaray, a mighty man of Aparayam, killed Maishayah the king's son, and Izarayaqam the ruler of the house, and Alaqanah who was next to the king.⁸ The children of Yasharaal carried away captive of their brothers two hundred thousand, women, sons, and daughters, and took also away much spoil from them, and brought the spoil to Shamarawan.⁹ But a prophet of Yahawah was there, whose name was Idad: and he went out to meet the host that came to Shamarawan, and said to them, Behold, because Yahawah, the Alahayam of your fathers, was angry with Yahawadah, he has delivered them into your hand, and you have slain them in a rage which has reached up to heaven.¹⁰ Now you purpose to keep under the children of Yahawadah and Yarawashalam for bondservants and bondmaids to you: [but] aren't there even with you trespasses of your own against Yahawah your Alahayam?¹¹ Now hear me therefore, and send back the captives, that you have taken captive of your brothers; for the fierce wrath of Yahawah is on you.¹² Then certain of the heads of the children of Aparayam, Izarayah the son of Yawachanan, Barakayah the son of Mashalamawath, and Yachazaqayahaw the son of Shalawam, and Imashaa the son of Chadalay, stood up against those who came from the war,¹³ and said to them, You shall not bring in the captives here: for you purpose that which will bring on us a trespass against Yahawah, to add to our sins and to our trespass; for our trespass is great, and there is fierce wrath against Yasharaal.¹⁴ So the armed men left the captives and the spoil before the princes and all the assembly.¹⁵ The men who have been mentioned by name rose up, and took the captives, and with the spoil clothed all who were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shod them, and gave them to eat and to drink, and anointed them, and carried all the feeble of them on donkeys, and brought them to Yarayachaw, the city of palm-trees, to their brothers: then they returned to Shamarawan.¹⁶ At that time did king Achaz send to the kings of Ashawar to help him.¹⁷ For again the Adawam had come and struck Yahawadah, and carried away captives.¹⁸ The Palashath also had invaded the cities of the lowland, and of the South of Yahawadah, and had taken Bayath, and Ayalawan, and Gadarawath, and Shawakah with the towns of it, and Thamanath with the towns of it, Gamazaw also and the towns of it: and they lived there.¹⁹ For Yahawah brought Yahawadah low because of Achaz king of Yasharaal; for he had dealt wantonly in Yahawadah, and trespassed sore against Yahawah.²⁰ Thagalath king of Ashawar came to him, and distressed him, but didn't strengthen him.²¹ For Achaz took away a portion out of the house of Yahawah, and out of the house of the king and of the princes, and gave it to the king of Ashawar: but it didn't help him.²² In the time of his distress did he trespass yet more against Yahawah, this same king Achaz.²³ For he sacrificed to the gods of Damashaq, which struck him; and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Aram helped them, [therefore] will I sacrifice to them, that they may help me. But they were the ruin of him, and of all Yasharaal.²⁴ Achaz gathered together the vessels of the house of Alahayam, and cut in pieces the vessels of the house of Alahayam, and shut up the doors of the house of Yahawah; and he made him altars in every corner of Yarawashalam.²⁵ In every city of Yahawadah he made high places to burn incense to other gods, and provoked to anger Yahawah, the Alahayam of his fathers.²⁶ Now the rest of his acts, and all his ways, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Yahawadah and Yasharaal.²⁷ Achaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city, even in Yarawashalam; for they didn't bring him into the tombs of the kings of Yasharaal: and Chazaqayahaw his son reigned in his place.

29 Chazaqayahaw began to reign when he was twenty-five years old; and he reigned twenty-nine years in Yarawashalam; and his mother's name was Abayah, the daughter of Zakarayah.² He did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, according to all that Dawad his father had done.³ He in the first year of his reign, in the first month, opened the doors of the house of Yahawah, and repaired them.⁴ He brought in the priests and the Levites, and gathered them together into the broad place on the east,⁵ and said to them, Hear me, you Levites; now sanctify yourselves, and sanctify the house of Yahawah, the Alahayam of your fathers, and carry forth the filthiness out of the holy place.⁶ For our fathers have trespassed, and done that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah our Alahayam, and have forsaken him, and have turned away their faces from the habitation of Yahawah, and turned their backs.⁷ Also they have shut up the doors of the porch, and put out the lamps, and have not burned incense nor offered burnt offerings in the holy place to the Alahayam of Yasharaal.⁸ Therefore the wrath of Yahawah was on Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, and he has delivered them to be tossed back and forth, to be an astonishment, and a hissing, as you see with your eyes.⁹ For, behold, our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons and our daughters and our wives are in captivity for this.¹⁰ Now it is in my heart to make a covenant with Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, that his fierce anger may turn away from us.¹¹ My sons, don't be negligent now; for Yahawah has chosen you to stand before him, to minister to him, and that you should be his ministers, and burn incense.¹² Then the Levites arose, Machath, the son of Imashay, and Yawaal the son of Izarayah, of the sons of the Kohathites; and of the sons of Mararay, Qayash the son of Ibaday, and Izarayah the son of Jehallelel; and of the Gershonites, Yawaach the son of Zamah, and Idan the son of Yawaach;¹³ and of the sons of Alayatzapan, Shamaray and Yaiwaal; and of the sons of Asap, Zakarayah and Mathanayah;¹⁴ and of the sons of Hayaman, Jehuel and Shamaï; and of the sons of Yadawathawan, Shamaïyah and Izayaal.¹⁵ They gathered their brothers, and sanctified themselves, and went in, according to the commandment of the king by the words of Yahawah, to cleanse the house of Yahawah.¹⁶ The priests went in to the inner part of the house of Yahawah, to cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the temple of Yahawah into the court of the house of Yahawah. The Levites took it, to carry it out abroad to the brook Qadarawan.¹⁷ Now they began on the first [day] of the first month to sanctify, and on the eighth day of the month came they to the porch of Yahawah; and they sanctified the house of Yahawah in eight days: and on the sixteenth day of the first month they made an end.¹⁸ Then they went in to Chazaqayahaw the king within [the palace], and said, We have cleansed all the house of Yahawah, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels of it, and the table of show bread, with all the vessels of it.¹⁹ Moreover all the vessels, which king Achaz in his reign did cast away when he trespassed, have we prepared and sanctified; and, behold, they are before the altar of Yahawah.²⁰ Then Chazaqayahaw the king arose early, and gathered the princes of the city, and went up to the house of Yahawah.²¹ They brought seven bulls, and seven rams, and seven lambs, and seven male goats, for a Sayan-offering for the kingdom and for the sanctuary and for Yahawadah. He commanded the priests the sons of Aharan to offer them on the altar of Yahawah.²² So they killed the bulls, and the priests received the blood, and sprinkled it on the altar: and they killed the rams, and sprinkled the blood on the altar: they killed also the lambs, and sprinkled the blood on the altar.²³ They brought near the male goats for the Sayan-offering before the king and the assembly; and they laid their hands on them:²⁴ and the priests killed them, and they made a Sayan-offering with their blood on the altar, to make atonement for all Yasharaal; for the king commanded [that] the burnt offering and the Sayan-offering [should be made] for all Yasharaal.²⁵ He set the Levites in the house of Yahawah with cymbals, with psalteries, and with harps, according to the commandment of Dawad, and of Gad the king's seer, and Nathan the prophet; for the commandment was of Yahawah by his prophets.²⁶ The Levites stood with the instruments of Dawad, and the priests with the trumpets.²⁷ Chazaqayahaw commanded to offer the burnt offering on the altar. When the burnt offering began, the song of Yahawah began also, and the trumpets, together with the instruments of Dawad king of Yasharaal.²⁸ All the assembly worshipped, and the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded; all this [continued] until the burnt offering was finished.

³⁰ Moreover Chazaqayahaw the king and the princes commanded the Levites to sing praises to Yahawah with the words of Dawad, and of Asap the seer. They sang praises with gladness, and they bowed their heads and worshipped.³¹ Then Chazaqayahaw answered, Now you have consecrated yourselves to Yahawah; come near and bring sacrifices and thank-offerings into the house of Yahawah. The assembly brought in sacrifices and thank-offerings; and as many as were of a willing heart [brought] burnt offerings.

³² The number of the burnt offerings which the assembly brought was seventy bulls, one hundred rams, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to Yahawah.³³ The consecrated things were six hundred oxen and three thousand sheep.³⁴ But the priests were too few, so that they could not flay all the burnt offerings: why their brothers the Levites did help them, until the work was ended, and until the priests had sanctified themselves; for the Levites were more upright in heart to sanctify themselves than the priests.³⁵ Also the burnt offerings were in abundance, with the fat of the peace-offerings, and with the drink-offerings for every burnt offering. So the service of the house of Yahawah was set in order.³⁶ Chazaqayahaw rejoiced, and all the people, because of that which Alahayam had prepared for the people: for the thing was done suddenly.

30 Chazaqayahaw sent to all Yasharaal and Yahawadah, and wrote letters also to Aparayam and Manashah, that they should come to the house of Yahawah at Yarawashalam, to keep the Passover to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.² For the king had taken counsel, and his princes, and all the assembly in Yarawashalam, to keep the Passover in the second month.³ For they could not keep it at that time, because the priests had not sanctified themselves in sufficient number, neither had the people gathered themselves together to Yarawashalam.⁴ The thing was right in the eyes of the king and of all the assembly.⁵ So they established a decree to make proclamation throughout all Yasharaal, from Beersheba even to Wadan, that they should come to keep the Passover to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, at Yarawashalam: for they had not kept it in great numbers in such sort as it is written.⁶ So the posts went with the letters from the king and his princes throughout all Yasharaal and Yahawadah, and according to the commandment of the king, saying, You children of Yasharaal, turn again to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Abaraham, Yatzachaq, and Yasharaal, that he may return to the remnant that have escaped of you out of the hand of the kings of Ashawar.

⁷ Don't be you like your fathers, and like your brothers, who trespassed against Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers, so that he gave them up to desolation, as you see.⁸ Now don't you be stiff-necked, as your fathers were; but yield yourselves to Yahawah, and enter into his sanctuary, which he has sanctified forever, and serve Yahawah your Alahayam, that his fierce anger may turn away from you.⁹ For if you turn again to Yahawah, your brothers and your children shall find compassion before those who led them captive, and shall come again into this land: for Yahawah your Alahayam is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if you return to him.¹⁰ So the posts passed from city to city through the country of Aparayam and Manashah, even to Zabawalan: but they laughed them to scorn, and mocked them.

people to keep the feast of unleavened bread in the second month, a very great assembly.¹⁴ They arose and took away the altars that were in Yarawashalam, and all the altars for incense took they away, and cast them into the brook Qadarawan.¹⁵ Then they killed the Passover on the fourteenth [day] of the second month: and the priests and the Levites were ashamed, and sanctified themselves, and brought burnt offerings into the house of Yahawah.¹⁶ They stood in their place after their order, according to the law of Mashah the man of Alahayam: the priests sprinkled the blood [which they received] of the hand of the Levites.¹⁷ For there were many in the assembly who had not sanctified themselves: therefore the Levites had the charge of killing the Passovers for everyone who was not clean, to sanctify them to Yahawah.¹⁸ For a multitude of the people, even many of Aparayam and Manashah, Yashashakar and Zabawalan, had not cleansed themselves, yet did they eat the Passover otherwise than it is written. For Chazaqayahaw had prayed for them, saying, The good Yahawah pardon everyone ¹⁹ who sets his heart to seek Alahayam, Yahawah, the Alahayam of his fathers, though not [cleansed] according to the purification of the sanctuary.²⁰ Yahawah listened to Chazaqayahaw, and healed the people.²¹ The children of Yasharaal who were present at Yarawashalam kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with great gladness; and the Levites and the priests praised Yahawah day by day, [singing] with loud instruments to Yahawah.

²² Chazaqayahaw spoke comfortably to all the Levites who had good understanding [in the service] of Yahawah. So they ate throughout the feast for the seven days, offering sacrifices of peace-offerings, and making confession to Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers.²³ The whole assembly took counsel to keep other seven days; and they kept [other] seven days with gladness.²⁴ For Chazaqayahaw king of Yahawadah did give to the assembly for offerings one thousand bulls and seven thousand sheep; and the princes gave to the assembly a thousand bulls and ten thousand sheep: and a great number of priests sanctified themselves.²⁵ All the assembly of Yahawadah, with the priests and the Levites, and all the assembly who came out of Yasharaal, and the sojourners who came out of the land of Yasharaal, and who lived in Yahawadah, rejoiced.²⁶ So there was great joy in Yarawashalam; for since the time of Shalaham the son of Dawad king of Yasharaal there was not the like in Yarawashalam.²⁷ Then the priests the Levites arose and blessed the people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came up to his holy habitation, even to heaven.

31 Now when all this was finished, all Yasharaal who were present went out to the cities of Yahawadah, and broke in pieces the pillars, and hewed down the Asherim, and broke down the high places and the altars out of all Yahawadah and Banayaman, in Aparayam also and Manashah, until they had destroyed them all. Then all the children of Yasharaal returned, every man to his possession, into their own cities.² Chazaqayahaw appointed the courses of the priests and the Levites after their courses, every man according to his service, both the priests and the Levites, for burnt offerings and for peace-offerings, to minister, and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the camp of Yahawah.³ [He appointed] also the king's portion of his substance for the burnt-offerings, [to wit], for the morning and evening burnt offerings, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the new moons, and for the set feasts, as it is written in the law of Yahawah.⁴ Moreover he commanded the people who lived in Yarawashalam to give the portion of the priests and the Levites, that they might give themselves to the law of Yahawah.⁵ As soon as the commandment came abroad, the children of Yasharaal gave in abundance the first-fruits of grain, new wine, and oil, and honey, and of all the increase of the field; and the tithe of all things brought they in abundantly.⁶ The children of Yasharaal and Yahawadah, who lived in the cities of Yahawadah, they also brought in the tithe of oxen and sheep, and the tithe of dedicated things which were consecrated to Yahawah their Alahayam, and laid them by heaps.⁷ In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heaps, and finished them in the seventh month.⁸ When Chazaqayahaw and the princes came and saw the heaps, they blessed Yahawah, and his people Yasharaal.⁹ Then Chazaqayahaw questioned the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps.¹⁰ Izarayah the chief priest, of the house of Tzadawaq, answered him and said, Since [the people] began to bring the offerings into the house of Yahawah, we have eaten and had enough, and have left plenty: for Yahawah has blessed his people; and that which is left is this great store.¹¹ Then Chazaqayahaw commanded to prepare chambers in the house of Yahawah; and they prepared them.¹² They brought in the offerings and the tithes and the dedicated things faithfully: and over them Kawanayahaw the Levite was ruler, and Shamaïy his brother was second.¹³ Yachayaal, and Izazayahaw, and Nachath, and Ishahaal, and Yarayamawath, and Yawazabad, and Alayaal, and Yasamakayahaw, and Machath, and Banayahaw, were overseers under the hand of Kawanayahaw and Shamaïy his brother, by the appointment of Chazaqayahaw the king, and Izarayah the ruler of the house of Alahayam.¹⁴ Qawaraa the son of Yamanah the Levite, the porter at the east [gate], was over the freewill-offerings of Alahayam, to distribute the offerings of Yahawah, and the most holy things.¹⁵ Under him were Idan, and Manayamayan, and Yashawai, and Shamaïyah, Amarayah, and Shakanayah, in the cities of the priests, in their office of trust, to give to their brothers by courses, as well to the great as to the small:¹⁶ besides those who were reckoned by genealogy of males, from three years old and upward, even everyone who entered into the house of Yahawah, as the duty of every day required, for their service in their offices according to their courses;¹⁷ and those who were reckoned by genealogy of the priests by their fathers' houses, and the Levites from twenty years old and upward, in their offices by their courses;¹⁸ and those who were reckoned by genealogy of all their little ones, their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, through all the congregation: for in their office of trust they sanctified themselves in holiness.¹⁹ Also for the sons of Aharan the priests, who were in the fields of the suburbs of their cities, in every city, there were men who were mentioned by name, to give portions to all the males among the priests, and to all who were reckoned by genealogy among the Levites.²⁰ Thus did Chazaqayahaw throughout all Yahawadah; and he worked that which was good and right and faithful before Yahawah his Alahayam.²¹ In every work that he began in the service of the house of Alahayam, and in the law, and in the commandments, to seek his Alahayam, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

32 After these things, and this faithfulness, Sanacharayab king of Ashawar came, and entered into Yahawadah, and encamped against the fortified cities, and thought to win them for himself.² When Chazaqayahaw saw that Sanacharayab was come, and that he was purposed to fight against Yarawashalam,³ he took counsel with his princes and his mighty men to stop the waters of the springs which were outside of the city; and they helped him.⁴ So there was gathered much people together, and they stopped all the springs, and the brook that flowed through the midst of the land, saying, Why should the kings of Ashawar come, and find much water?⁵ He took courage, and built up all the wall that was broken down, and raised [it] up to the towers, and the other wall outside, and strengthened Malawaa [in] the city of Dawad, and made weapons and shields in abundance.⁶ He set captains of war over the people, and gathered them together to him in the broad place at the gate of the city, and spoke comfortably to them, saying,⁷ Be strong and of good courage, don't be afraid nor dismayed for the king of Ashawar, nor for all the multitude who is with him; for there is a greater with us than with him:⁸ with him is an arm of flesh; but with us is Yahawah our Alahayam to help us, and to fight our battles. The people rested themselves on the words of Chazaqayahaw king of Yahawadah.⁹ After this did Sanacharayab king of Ashawar send his servants to Yarawashalam, (now he was before Lakayash, and all his power with him,) to Chazaqayahaw king of Yahawadah, and to all Yahawadah who were at Yarawashalam, saying,¹⁰ Thus says Sanacharayab king of Ashawar, Whereon do you trust, that you abide the siege in Yarawashalam?¹¹ Does not Chazaqayahaw persuade you, to give you over to die by famine and by thirst, saying, Yahawah our Alahayam will deliver us out of the hand of the king of Ashawar?¹² Has not the same Chazaqayahaw taken away his high places and his altars, and commanded Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, saying, You shall worship before one altar, and on it shall you burn incense?¹³ Don't you know what I and my fathers have done to all the peoples of the lands? Were the gods of the nations of the lands in any wise able to deliver their land out of my hand?¹⁴ Who was there among all the gods of those nations which my fathers utterly destroyed, that could deliver his people out of my hand, that your Alahayam should be able to deliver you out of my hand?¹⁵ Now therefore don't let Chazaqayahaw deceive you, nor persuade you after this manner, neither believe you him; for no god of any nation or kingdom was able to deliver his people out of my hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much less shall your Alahayam deliver you out of my hand?¹⁶ His servants spoke yet more against Yahawah Alahayam, and against his servant Chazaqayahaw.¹⁷ He wrote also letters, to rail on Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, and to speak against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of the lands, which have not delivered their people out of my hand, so shall the Alahayam of Chazaqayahaw not deliver his people out of my hand.¹⁸ They cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language to the people of Yarawashalam who were on the wall, to frighten them, and to trouble them; that they might take the city.¹⁹ They spoke of the Alahayam of Yarawashalam, as of the gods of the peoples of the earth, which are the work of men's hands.²⁰ Chazaqayahaw the king, and Yashaiyahaw the prophet the son of Amawatz, prayed because of this, and cried to heaven.²¹ Yahawah sent an angel, who cut off all the mighty men of valor, and the leaders and captains, in the camp of the king of Ashawar. So he returned with shame of face to his own land. When he was come into the house of his god, those who came forth from his own bowels killed him there with the sword.²² Thus Yahawah saved Chazaqayahaw and the inhabitants of Yarawashalam from the hand of Sanacharayab the king of Ashawar, and from the hand of all [others], and guided them on every side.²³ Many brought gifts to Yahawah to Yarawashalam, and precious things to Chazaqayahaw king of Yahawadah; so that he was exalted in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.²⁴ In those days Chazaqayahaw was sick even to death: and he prayed to Yahawah; and he spoke to him, and gave him a sign.²⁵ But Chazaqayahaw didn't render again according to the benefit done to him; for his heart was lifted up: therefore there was wrath on him, and on Yahawadah and Yarawashalam.²⁶ Notwithstanding Chazaqayahaw humbled himself for the pride of his heart, both he and the inhabitants of Yarawashalam, so that the wrath of Yahawah didn't come on them in the days of Chazaqayahaw.²⁷ Chazaqayahaw had exceeding much riches and honor: and he provided him treasuries for silver, and for gold, and for precious stones, and for spices, and for shields, and for all manner of goodly vessels;²⁸ store-houses also for the increase of grain and new wine and oil; and stalls for all manner of animals, and flocks in folds.²⁹ Moreover he provided him cities, and possessions of flocks and herds in abundance; for Alahayam had given him very much substance.³⁰ This same Chazaqayahaw also stopped the upper spring of the waters of Gachawan, and brought them straight down on the west side of the city of Dawad. Chazaqayahaw prospered in all his works.³¹ However in [the business of] the ambassadors of the princes of Babal, who sent to him to inquire of the wonder that was done in the land, Alahayam left him, to try him, that he might know all that was in his heart.³² Now the rest of the acts of Chazaqayahaw, and his good deeds, behold, they are written in the vision of Yashaiyahaw the prophet the son of Amawatz, in the book of the kings of Yahawadah and Yasharaal.³³ Chazaqayahaw slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the ascent of the tombs of the sons of Dawad; and all Yahawadah and the inhabitants of Yarawashalam did him honor at his death. Manashah his son reigned in his place.

33 Manashah was twelve years old when he began to reign; and he reigned fifty-five years in Yarawashalam. ² He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, after the abominations of the nations whom Yahawah cast out before the children of Yasharaal. ³ For he built again the high places which Chazaqayahaw his father had broken down; and he reared up altars for the Baals, and made Asheroth, and worshipped all the host of the sky, and served them. ⁴ He built altars in the house of Yahawah, whereof Yahawah said, In Yarawashalam shall my name be forever. ⁵ He built altars for all the host of the sky in the two courts of the house of Yahawah. ⁶ He also made his children to pass through the fire in the valley of the son of Hanam; and he practiced sorcery, and used enchantments, and practiced sorcery, and dealt with those who had familiar spirits, and with wizards: he worked much evil in the sight of Yahawah, to provoke him to anger. ⁷ He set the engraved image of the idol, which he had made, in the house of Alahayam, of which Alahayam said to Dawad and to Shalamah his son, In this house, and in Yarawashalam, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Yasharaal, will I put my name forever: ⁸ neither will I any more remove the foot of Yasharaal from off the land which I have appointed for your fathers, if only they will observe to do all that I have commanded them, even all the law and the statutes and the ordinances [given] by Mashah. ⁹ Manashah seduced Yahawadah and the inhabitants of Yarawashalam, so that they did evil more than did the nations whom Yahawah destroyed before the children of Yasharaal. ¹⁰ Yahawah spoke to Manashah, and to his people; but they gave no heed. ¹¹ Therefore Yahawah brought on them the captains of the host of the king of Ashawar, who took Manashah in chains, and bound him with fetters, and carried him to Babal. ¹² When he was in distress, he begged Yahawah his Alahayam, and humbled himself greatly before the Alahayam of his fathers. ¹³ He prayed to him; and he was entreated of him, and heard his supplication, and brought him again to Yarawashalam into his kingdom. Then Manashah knew that Yahawah he was Alahayam. ¹⁴ Now after this he built an outer wall to the city of Dawad, on the west side of Gachawan, in the valley, even to the entrance at the fish gate; and he compassed Ipal about [with it], and raised it up to a very great height: and he put valiant captains in all the fortified cities of Yahawadah. ¹⁵ He took away the foreign gods, and the idol out of the house of Yahawah, and all the altars that he had built in the mountain of the house of Yahawah, and in Yarawashalam, and cast them out of the city. ¹⁶ He built up the altar of Yahawah, and offered thereon sacrifices of peace-offerings and of thanksgiving, and commanded Yahawadah to serve Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal. ¹⁷ Nevertheless the people sacrificed still in the high places, but only to Yahawah their Alahayam. ¹⁸ Now the rest of the acts of Manashah, and his prayer to his Alahayam, and the words of the seers who spoke to him in the name of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, behold, they are written among the acts of the kings of Yasharaal. ¹⁹ His prayer also, and how [Alahayam] was entreated of him, and all his sin and his trespass, and the places in which he built high places, and set up the Asherim and the engraved images, before he humbled himself: behold, they are written in the history of Hozai. ²⁰ So Manashah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own house: and Amawan his son reigned in his place. ²¹ Amawan was twenty-two years old when he began to reign; and he reigned two years in Yarawashalam. ²² He did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah, as did Manashah his father; and Amawan sacrificed to all the engraved images which Manashah his father had made, and served them. ²³ He didn't humble himself before Yahawah, as Manashah his father had humbled himself; but this same Amawan trespassed more and more. ²⁴ His servants conspired against him, and put him to death in his own house. ²⁵ But the people of the land killed all those who had conspired against king Amawan; and the people of the land made Yaashayahaw his son king in his place.

34 Yaashayahaw was eight years old when he began to reign; and he reigned thirty-one years in Yarawashalam. ² He did that which was right in the eyes of Yahawah, and walked in the ways of

Dawad his father, and didn't turn aside to the right hand or to the left. ³ For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet young, he began to seek after the Alahayam of Dawad his father; and in the twelfth year he began to purge Yahawadah and Yarawashalam from the high places, and the Asherim, and the engraved images, and the molten images. ⁴ They broke down the altars of the Baals in his presence; and the sun-images that were on high above them he hewed down; and the Asherim, and the engraved images, and the molten images, he broke in pieces, and made dust of them, and strewed it on the graves [of those] who had sacrificed to them. ⁵ He burnt the bones of the priests on their altars, and purged Yahawadah and Yarawashalam. ⁶ [So did he] in the cities of Manashah and Aparayam and Shamaiwan, even to Napathalay, in their ruins round about. ⁷ He broke down the altars, and beat the Asherim and the engraved images into powder, and hewed down all the sun-images throughout all the land of Yasharaal, and returned to Yarawashalam. ⁸ Now in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purged the land and the house, he sent Shaphan the son of Atzalayahaw, and Maishayah the governor of the city, and Yawaach the son of Yawaachaz the recorder, to repair the house of Yahawah his Alahayam. ⁹ They came to Hilkiah the high priest, and delivered the money that was brought into the house of Alahayam, which the Levites, the keepers of the threshold, had gathered of the hand of Manashah and Aparayam, and of all the remnant of Yasharaal, and of all Yahawadah and Banayaman, and of the inhabitants of Yarawashalam. ¹⁰ They delivered it into the hand of the workmen who had the oversight of the house of Yahawah; and the workmen who labored in the house of Yahawah gave it to mend and repair the house; ¹¹ even to the carpenters and to the builders gave they it, to buy hewn stone, and timber for couplings, and to make beams for the houses which the kings of Yahawadah had destroyed. ¹² The men did the work faithfully: and the overseers of them were Yachath and Ibadayah, the Levites, of the sons of Mararay; and Zakarayah and Mashalam, of the sons of the Kohathites, to set it forward; and [others of] the Levites, all who were skillful with instruments of music. ¹³ Also they were over the bearers of burdens, and set forward all who did the work in every manner of service: and of the Levites there were scribes, and officers, and porters. ¹⁴ When they brought out the money that was brought into the house of Yahawah, Hilkiah the priest found the book of the law of Yahawah [given] by Mashah. ¹⁵ Hilkiah answered Shaphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of Yahawah. Hilkiah delivered the book to Shaphan. ¹⁶ Shaphan carried the book to the king, and moreover brought back word to the king, saying, All that was committed to your servants, they are doing. ¹⁷ They have emptied out the money that was found in the house of Yahawah, and have delivered it into the hand of the overseers, and into the hand of the workmen. ¹⁸ Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, Hilkiah the priest has delivered me a book. Shaphan read therein before the king. ¹⁹ It happened, when the king had heard the words of the law, that he tore his clothes. ²⁰ The king commanded Hilkiah, and Achayaqam the son of Shaphan, and Ibadawan the son of Mayakah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Ishayah the king's servant, saying, ²¹ Go you, inquire of Yahawah for me, and for those who are left in Yasharaal and in Yahawadah, concerning the words of the book that is found; for great is the wrath of Yahawah that is poured out on us, because our fathers have not kept the word of Yahawah, to do according to all that is written in this book. ²² So Hilkiah, and they whom the king [had commanded], went to Chaladah the prophetess, the wife of Shalawam the son of Tokhath, the son of Chasarah, keeper of the wardrobe; (now she lived in Yarawashalam in the second quarter;) and they spoke to her to that effect. ²³ She said to them, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal: Tell you the man who sent you to me, ²⁴ Thus says Yahawah, Behold, I will bring evil on this place, and on the inhabitants of it, even all the curses that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Yahawadah. ²⁵ Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense to other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore is my wrath poured out on this place, and it shall not be quenched.²⁶ But to the king of Yahawadah, who sent you to inquire of Yahawah, thus shall you tell him, Thus says Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal: As touching the words which you have heard,²⁷ because your heart was tender, and you did humble yourself before Alahayam, when you heard his words against this place, and against the inhabitants of it, and have humbled yourself before me, and have torn your clothes, and wept before me; I also have heard you, says Yahawah.²⁸ Behold, I will gather you to your fathers, and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace, neither shall your eyes see all the evil that I will bring on this place, and on the inhabitants of it. They brought back word to the king.²⁹ Then the king sent and gathered together all the elders of Yahawadah and Yarawashalam.³⁰ The king went up to the house of Yahawah, and all the men of Yahawadah and the inhabitants of Yarawashalam, and the priests, and the Levites, and all the people, both great and small: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant that was found in the house of Yahawah.³¹ The king stood in his place, and made a covenant before Yahawah, to walk after Yahawah, and to keep his commandments, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soul, to perform the words of the covenant that were written in this book.³² He caused all who were found in Yarawashalam and Banayaman to stand [to it]. The inhabitants of Yarawashalam did according to the covenant of Alahayam, the Alahayam of their fathers.³³ Yaashayahaw took away all the abominations out of all the countries that pertained to the children of Yasharaal, and made all who were found in Yasharaal to serve, even to serve Yahawah their Alahayam. All his days they didn't depart from following Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers.

35 Yaashayahaw kept a Passover to Yahawah in Yarawashalam: and they killed the Passover on the fourteenth [day] of the first month.² He set the priests in their offices, and encouraged them to the service of the house of Yahawah.³ He said to the Levites who taught all Yasharaal, who were holy to Yahawah, Pawat the holy ark in the house which Shalamah the son of Dawad king of Yasharaal did build; there shall no more be a burden on your shoulders: now serve Yahawah your Alahayam, and his people Yasharaal.⁴ Prepare yourselves after your fathers' houses by your courses, according to the writing of Dawad king of Yasharaal, and according to the writing of Shalamah his son.⁵ Stand in the holy place according to the divisions of the fathers' houses of your brothers the children of the people, and [let there be for each] a portion of a fathers' house of the Levites.⁶ Kill the Passover, and sanctify yourselves, and prepare for your brothers, to do according to the word of Yahawah by Mashah.⁷ Yaashayahaw gave to the children of the people, of the flock, lambs and kids, all of them for the Passover-offerings, to all who were present, to the number of thirty thousand, and three thousand bulls: these were of the king's substance.⁸ His princes gave for a freewill-offering to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites. Hilkiah and Zakarayah and Yachayaal, the rulers of the house of Alahayam, gave to the priests for the Passover-offerings two thousand and six hundred [small cattle], and three hundred oxen.⁹ Kawanayahaw also, and Shamaiah and Nathanaal, his brothers, and Chashabayah and Yaiyaal and Yawazabad, the chiefs of the Levites, gave to the Levites for the Passover-offerings five thousand [small cattle], and five hundred oxen.¹⁰ So the service was prepared, and the priests stood in their place, and the Levites by their courses, according to the king's commandment.¹¹ They killed the Passover, and the priests sprinkled [the blood which they received] of their hand, and the Levites flayed them.¹² They removed the burnt offerings, that they might give them according to the divisions of the fathers' houses of the children of the people, to offer to Yahawah, as it is written in the book of Mashah. So did they with the oxen.¹³ They roasted the Passover with fire according to the ordinance: and the holy offerings boiled they in pots, and in caldrons, and in pans, and carried them quickly to all the children of the people.¹⁴ Afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests, because the priests the sons of Aharan [were busied] in offering the burnt offerings and the fat until night: therefore the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests the sons of Aharan.¹⁵ The singers the sons of Asap were in their place, according to the commandment of Dawad, and Asap, and Hayaman, and Yadawathawan the king's seer; and the porters were at every gate: they didn't need to depart from their service; for their brothers the Levites prepared for them.¹⁶ So all the service of Yahawah was prepared the same day, to keep the Passover, and to offer burnt-offerings on the altar of Yahawah, according to the commandment of king Yaashayahaw.¹⁷ The children of Yasharaal who were present kept the Passover at that time, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days.¹⁸ There was no Passover like that kept in Yasharaal from the days of Shamawaal the prophet; neither did any of the kings of Yasharaal keep such a Passover as Yaashayahaw kept, and the priests, and the Levites, and all Yahawadah and Yasharaal who were present, and the inhabitants of Yarawashalam.¹⁹ In the eighteenth year of the reign of Yaashayahaw was this Passover kept.²⁰ After all this, when Yaashayahaw had prepared the temple, Neco king of Matzarayam went up to fight against Karakamayash by the Parath: and Yaashayahaw went out against him.²¹ But he sent ambassadors to him, saying, What have I to do with you, you king of Yahawadah? [I come] not against you this day, but against the house with which I have war; and Alahayam has commanded me to make haste: forbear you from [meddling with] Alahayam, who is with me, that he not destroy you.²² Nevertheless Yaashayahaw would not turn his face from him, but disguised himself, that he might fight with him, and didn't listen to the words of Neco from the mouth of Alahayam, and came to fight in the valley of Magadaw.²³ The archers shot at king Yaashayahaw; and the king said to his servants, Have me away; for I am sore wounded.²⁴ So his servants took him out of the chariot, and put him in the second chariot that he had, and brought him to Yarawashalam; and he died, and was buried in the tombs of his fathers. All Yahawadah and Yarawashalam mourned for Yaashayahaw.²⁵ Yaramayahaw lamented for Yaashayahaw: and all the singing men and singing women spoke of Yaashayahaw in their lamentations to this day; and they made them an ordinance in Yasharaal: and, behold, they are written in the lamentations.²⁶ Now the rest of the acts of Yaashayahaw, and his good deeds, according to that which is written in the law of Yahawah,²⁷ and his acts, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Yasharaal and Yahawadah.

36 Then the people of the land took Yahawaachaz the son of Yaashayahaw, and made him king in his father's place in Yarawashalam.² Yawaachaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign; and he reigned three months in Yarawashalam.³ The king of Matzarayam deposed him at Yarawashalam, and fined the land one hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.⁴ The king of Matzarayam made Alayaqayam his brother king over Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, and changed his name to Yahawayaqayam. Neco took Yawaachaz his brother, and carried him to Matzarayam.⁵ Yahawayaqayam was Twenty-five years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Yarawashalam: and he did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah his Alahayam.⁶ Against him came up Nabawakadaraatzar king of Babal, and bound him in fetters, to carry him to Babal.⁷ Nabawakadaraatzar also carried of the vessels of the house of Yahawah to Babal, and put them in his temple at Babal.⁸ Now the rest of the acts of Yahawayaqayam, and his abominations which he did, and that which was found in him, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Yasharaal and Yahawadah: and Yahawayakayan his son reigned in his place.⁹ Yahawayakayan was eight years old when he began to reign; and he reigned three months and ten days in Yarawashalam: and he did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah.¹⁰ At the return of the year king Nabawakadaraatzar sent, and brought him to Babal, with the goodly vessels of the house of Yahawah, and made Tzadaqayahaw his brother king over Yahawadah and Yarawashalam.¹¹ Tzadaqayahaw was twenty-one years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Yarawashalam: ¹² and he did that which was evil in the sight of Yahawah his Alahayam; he didn't humble himself before Yaramayahaw the prophet [speaking] from the mouth of Yahawah. ¹³ He also rebelled against king Nabawakadaraatzar, who had made him swear by Alahayam: but he stiffened his neck, and hardened his heart against turning to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal. ¹⁴ Moreover all the chiefs of the priests, and the people, trespassed very greatly after all the abominations of the nations; and they polluted the house of Yahawah which he had made holy in Yarawashalam. ¹⁵ Yahawah, the Alahayam of their fathers, sent to them by his messengers, rising up early and sending, because he had compassion on his people, and on his dwelling-place: ¹⁶ but they mocked the messengers of Alahayam, and despised his words, and scoffed at his prophets, until the wrath of Yahawah arose against his people, until there was no remedy. ¹⁷ Therefore he brought on them the king of the Kashadayam, who killed their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary, and had no compassion on young man or virgin, old man or gray-headed: he gave them all into his hand. ¹⁸ All the vessels of the house of Alahayam, great and small, and the treasures of the house of Yahawah, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes, all these he brought to Babal. ¹⁹ They burnt the house of Alahayam, and broke down the wall of Yarawashalam, and burnt all the palaces of it with fire, and destroyed all the goodly vessels of it. ²⁰ Those who had escaped from the sword carried he away to Babal; and they were servants to him and his sons until the reign of the kingdom of Paras: ²¹ to fulfill the word of Yahawah by the mouth of Yaramayahaw, until the land had enjoyed its Sabbaths: [for] as long as it lay desolate it kept Sabbath, to fulfill seventy years. ²² Now in the first year of Kwarash king of Paras, that the word of Yahawah by the mouth of Yaramayahaw might be accomplished, Yahawah stirred up the spirit of Kwarash king of Paras, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and [put it] also in writing, saying, ²³ Thus says Kwarash king of Paras, All the kingdoms of the earth has Yahawah, the Alahayam of heaven, given me; and he has charged me to build him a house in Yarawashalam, which is in Yahawadah. Whoever there is among you of all his people, Yahawah his Alahayam be with him, and let him go up.

1 O Adanay, Shaday Alahayam of our fathers, Abaraham, Yatzachaq, and Yaiqab, and of their righteous seed; ² who have made heaven and earth, with all the ornament thereof; ³ who have bound the sea by the word of your commandment; who have shut up the deep, and sealed it by your terrible and glorious name; ⁴ whom all men fear, and tremble before your power; for the majesty of your glory cannot be borne, and your angry threatening toward sinners is importable: ⁵ but your merciful promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable; ⁶ for you are the most high Adanay, of great compassion, longsuffering, very merciful, and repent of the evils of men. You, O Adanay, according to your great goodness have promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against you: and of your infinite mercies have appointed repentance to sinners, that they may be saved. ⁷ You therefore, O Adanay, that art the Alahayam of the just, have not appointed repentance to the just, as to Abaraham, and Yatzachaq, and Yaiqab, which have not sinned against you; but you have appointed repentance to me that am a sinner: ⁸ for I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea. My transgressions, O Adanay, are multiplied: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. ⁹ I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up mine head, neither have any release: for I have provoked your wrath, and done evil before you: I did not your will, neither kept I your commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied offences. ¹⁰ Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching you of grace. ¹¹ I have sinned, O Adanay, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: ¹² therefore, I humbly beseech you, forgive me, O Adanay, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me to the lower parts of the earth. For you are the Alahayam, even the Alahayam of them that repent; ¹³ and in me you will show all your goodness: for you will save me, that am unworthy, according to your great mercy. ¹⁴ Therefore I will praise you for ever all the days of my life: for all the powers of the heavens do praise you, and your is the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

1 Now in the first year of Kavarash king of Paras, that the word of Yahawah by the mouth of Yaramayahaw might be accomplished, Yahawah stirred up the spirit of Kavarash king of Paras, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and [put it] also in writing, saying, ² Thus says Kavarash king of Paras, All the kingdoms of the earth has Yahawah, the Alahayam of heaven, given me; and he has charged me to build him a house in Yarawashalam, which is in Yahawadah. ³ Whoever there is among you of all his people, his Alahayam be with him, and let him go up to Yarawashalam, which is in Yahawadah, and build the house of Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal (he is Alahayam), which is in Yarawashalam. ⁴ Whoever is left, in any place where he sojourns, let the men of his place help him with silver, and with gold, and with goods, and with animals, besides the freewill-offering for the house of Alahayam which is in Yarawashalam. ⁵ Then rose up the heads of fathers` [houses] of Yahawadah and Banayaman, and the priests, and the Levites, even all whose spirit Alahayam had stirred to go up to build the house of Yahawah which is in Yarawashalam. ⁶ All those who were round about them strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with animals, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered. ⁷ Also Kavarash the king brought forth the vessels of the house of Yahawah, which Nabawakadaraatzar had brought forth out of Yarawashalam, and had put in the house of his gods; ⁸ even those did Kavarash king of Paras bring forth by the hand of Matharadath the treasurer, and numbered them to Shashabatzar, the prince of Yahawadah. ⁹ This is the number of them: thirty platters of gold, one thousand platters of silver, twenty-nine knives, ¹⁰ thirty bowls of gold, silver bowls of a second sort four hundred and ten, and other vessels one thousand. ¹¹ All the vessels of gold and of silver were five thousand and four hundred. All these did Shashabatzar bring up, when they of the captivity were brought up from Babal to Yarawashalam.

2 Now these are the children of the province, who went up out of the captivity of those who had been carried away, whom Nabawakadaraatzar the king of Babal had carried away to Babal, and who returned to Yarawashalam and Yahawadah, everyone to his city; ² who came with Zarababal, Yashawai, Nachamayah, Sharayah, Reelaiah, Maradakay, Balashan, Mispar, Bagaway, Rachawam, Bainah. The number of the men of the people of Yasharaal: ³ The children of Paraish, two thousand one hundred seventy-two. ⁴ The children of Shapatayah, three hundred seventy-two. ⁵ The children of Arach, seven hundred seventy-five. ⁶ The children of Pahath-Mawaab, of the children of Yashawai [and] Yawaab, two thousand eight hundred twelve. ⁷ The children of Iyalam, one thousand two hundred fifty-four. ⁸ The children of Zathawaa, nine hundred forty-five. ⁹ The children of Zakay, seven hundred sixty. ¹⁰ The children of Banay, six hundred forty-two. ¹¹ The children of Babay, six hundred twenty-three. ¹² The children of Izagad, one thousand two hundred twenty-two. ¹³ The children of Adanayaqam, six hundred sixty-six. ¹⁴ The children of Bagaway, two thousand fifty-six. ¹⁵ The children of Idayan, four hundred fifty-four. ¹⁶ The children of Atar, of Chazaqayahaw, ninety-eight. ¹⁷ The children of Batzay, three hundred twenty-three. ¹⁸ The children of Yawarah, one hundred twelve. ¹⁹ The children of Chasham, two hundred Twenty-three. ²⁰ The children of Gabar, ninety-five. ²¹ The children of Bayath-lehem, one hundred twenty-three. ²² The men of Natapah, fifty-six. ²³ The men of Inathawath, one hundred twenty-eight. ²⁴ The children of Izamawath, forty-two. ²⁵ The children of Kiriath-arim, Kapayarah, and Baarawath, seven hundred forty-three. ²⁶ The children of

Ramah and Gabai, six hundred twenty-one. ²⁷ The men of Michmas, one hundred twenty-two. ²⁸ The men of Bethel and Ai, two hundred twenty-three. ²⁹ The children of Nabaw, fifty-two. ³⁰ The children of Magabayash, one hundred fifty-six. ³¹ The children of the other Iyalam, one thousand two hundred fifty-four. ³² The children of Charam, three hundred twenty. ³³ The children of Lad, Chadayad, and Awanaw, seven hundred twenty-five. ³⁴ The children of Yarayachaw, three hundred forty-five. ³⁵ The children of Sanaah, three thousand six hundred thirty. ³⁶ The priests: the children of Yadaiyah, of the house of Yashawai, nine hundred seventy-three. ³⁷ The children of Amar, one thousand fifty-two. ³⁸ The children of Pashhur, one thousand two hundred forty-seven. ³⁹ The children of Charam, one thousand seventeen. ⁴⁰ The Levites: the children of Yashawai and Qadamayaal, of the children of Hawadawayah, seventy-four. ⁴¹ The singers: the children of Asap, one hundred twenty-eight. ⁴² The children of the porters: the children of Shalawam, the children of Atar, the children of Talamawan, the children of Iqawab, the children of Chatayataa, the children of Shabay, in all one hundred thirty-nine. ⁴³ The Nethinim: the children of Tzayachaa, the children of Chashawapaa, the children of Tabaiwath, ⁴⁴ the children of Qayaras, the children of Sayaia, the children of Padawan, ⁴⁵ the children of Labanah, the children of Chagabah, the children of Iqawab, ⁴⁶ the children of Chagab, the children of Shamlai, the children of Hanan, ⁴⁷ the children of Gadal, the children of Gachar, the children of Raayah, ⁴⁸ the children of Ratzayan, the children of Naqawadaa, the children of Gazam, ⁴⁹ the children of Izaa, the children of Pasach, the children of Basay, ⁵⁰ the children of Asanah, the children of Meunim, the children of Nephisim, ⁵¹ the children of Baqabawaq, the children of Chaqawapaa, the children of Charachawar, ⁵² the children of Batzalawath, the children of Machayadaa, the children of Charashaa, ⁵³ the children of Baraqawas, the children of Sayasaraa, the children of Temah, ⁵⁴ the children of Natayach, the children of Chatayapaa. ⁵⁵ The children of Shalamah's servants: the children of Sawatay, the children of Hassophereth, the children of Parawadaa, ⁵⁶ the children of Yailaa, the children of Daraqawan, the children of Gadal, ⁵⁷ the children of Shapatayah, the children of Chatayal, the children of Pochereth-hazzebaim, the children of Amay. ⁵⁸ All the Nethinim, and the children of Shalamah's servants, were three hundred ninety-two. ⁵⁹ These were those who went up from Malach, Thal-Charashaa, Karawab, Adan, [and] Amar; but they could not show their fathers` houses, and their seed, whether they were of Yasharaal: ⁶⁰ the children of Dalayah, the children of Tawabayah, the children of Naqawadaa, six hundred fifty-two. ⁶¹ Of the children of the priests: the children of Chabayah, the children of Hakkoz, the children of Barazalay, who took a wife of the daughters of Barazalay the Galaid, and was called after their name. ⁶² These sought their register [among] those who were reckoned by genealogy, but they were not found: therefore were they deemed polluted and put from the priesthood. ⁶³ The governor said to them, that they should not eat of the most holy things, until there stood up a priest with Urim and with Thummim. ⁶⁴ The whole assembly together was forty-two thousand three hundred sixty, ⁶⁵ besides their men-servants and their maid-servants, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty-seven: and they had two hundred singing men and singing women. ⁶⁶ Their horses were seven hundred thirty-six; their mules, two hundred forty-five; ⁶⁷ their camels, four hundred thirty-five; [their] donkeys, six thousand seven hundred and twenty. ⁶⁸ Some of the heads of fathers` [houses], when they came to the house of Yahawah which is in Yarawashalam, offered willingly for the house of Alahayam to set it up in its place: ⁶⁹ they gave after their ability into the treasury of the work sixty-one thousand darics of gold, and five thousand pounds of silver, and one hundred priests' garments.⁷⁰ So the priests, and the Levites, and some of the people, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinim, lived in their cities, and all Yasharaal in their cities.

3 When the seventh month was come, and the children of Yasharaal were in the cities, the people gathered themselves together as one man to Yarawashalam.² Then stood up Yashawai the son of Yawatzadaq, and his brothers the priests, and Zarababal the son of Shaalathayaal, and his brothers, and built the altar of the Alahayam of Yasharaal, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the law of Mashah the man of Alahayam.³ They set the altar on its base; for fear was on them because of the peoples of the countries: and they offered burnt offerings thereon to Yahawah, even burnt offerings morning and evening.⁴ They kept the feast of tents, as it is written, and [offered] the daily burnt offerings by number, according to the ordinance, as the duty of every day required;⁵ and afterward the continual burnt-offering, and [the offerings] of the new moons, and of all the set feasts of Yahawah that were consecrated, and of everyone who willingly offered a freewill-offering to Yahawah.⁶ From the first day of the seventh month began they to offer burnt offerings to Yahawah: but the foundation of the temple of Yahawah was not yet laid.⁷ They gave money also to the masons, and to the carpenters; and food, and drink, and oil, to them of Tzayadawan, and to them of Tzar, to bring cedar-trees from Labanawan to the sea, to Yapaw, according to the grant that they had of Kwarash king of Paras.⁸ Now in the second year of their coming to the house of Alahayam at Yarawashalam, in the second month, began Zarababal the son of Shaalathayaal, and Yashawai the son of Yawatzadaq, and the rest of their brothers the priests and the Levites, and all those who were come out of the captivity to Yarawashalam, and appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, to have the oversight of the work of the house of Yahawah.⁹ Then stood Yashawai with his sons and his brothers, Qadamayaal and his sons, the sons of Yahawadah, together, to have the oversight of the workmen in the house of Alahayam: the sons of Chanadad, with their sons and their brothers the Levites.¹⁰ When the builders laid the foundation of the temple of Yahawah, they set the priests in their clothing with trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asap with cymbals, to praise Yahawah, after the order of Dawad king of Yasharaal.¹¹ They sang one to another in praising and giving thanks to Yahawah, [saying], For he is good, for his lovingkindness endures forever toward Yasharaal. All the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised Yahawah, because the foundation of the house of Yahawah was laid.¹² But many of the priests and Levites and heads of fathers' [houses], the old men who had seen the first house, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, wept with a loud voice; and many shouted aloud for joy:¹³ so that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy from the noise of the weeping of the people; for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard afar off.

4 Now when the adversaries of Yahawadah and Banayaman heard that the children of the captivity were building a temple to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal;² then they drew near to Zarababal, and to the heads of fathers' [houses], and said to them, Let us build with you; for we seek your Alahayam, as you do; and we sacrifice to him since the days of Asar king of Ashawar, who brought us up here.³ But Zarababal, and Yashawai, and the rest of the heads of fathers' [houses] of Yasharaal, said to them, You have nothing to do with us in building a house to our Alahayam; but we ourselves together will build to Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, as king Kwarash the king of Paras has commanded us.⁴ Then the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Yahawadah, and troubled them in building,⁵ and hired counselors against them, to frustrate their purpose, all the days of Kwarash king of Paras, even until the reign of Darayawash king of Paras.⁶ In the reign of Achashawarawash, in the beginning of his reign, wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Yahawadah and Yarawashalam.⁷ In the days of Arathachashasathaa wrote Bashalam, Matharadath, Tabaal, and the rest of his companions, to Arathachashasathaa king of Paras; and the writing of the letter was written in the Syrian [character], and set forth in the Syrian [language].⁸ Rachawam the chancellor and Shamashay the scribe wrote a letter against Yarawashalam to Arathachashasathaa the king in this sort:⁹ then [wrote] Rachawam the chancellor, and Shamashay the scribe, and the rest of their companions, the Dinaites, and the Apharsathchites, the Tarpelites, the Apharsites, the Archevites, the Babylonians, the Shushanchites, the Dehaites, the Elamites,¹⁰ and the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Osnappar brought over, and set in the city of Shamarawan, and in the rest [of the country] beyond the River, and so forth.¹¹ This is the copy of the letter that they sent to Arathachashasathaa the king: Your servants the men beyond the River, and so forth.¹² Be it known to the king, that the Jews who came up from you are come to us to Yarawashalam; they are building the rebellious and the bad city, and have finished the walls, and repaired the foundations.¹³ Be it known now to the king that if this city is built, and the walls finished, they will not pay tribute, custom, or toll, and in the end it will be hurtful to the kings.¹⁴ Now because we eat the salt of the palace, and it is not appropriate for us to see the king's dishonor, therefore have we sent and informed the king;¹⁵ that search may be made in the book of the records of your fathers: so shall you find in the book of the records, and know that this city is a rebellious city, and hurtful to kings and provinces, and that they have moved sedition within the same of old time; for which cause was this city laid waste.¹⁶ We inform the king that, if this city be built, and the walls finished, by this means you shall have no portion beyond the River.¹⁷ [Then] sent the king an answer to Rachawam the chancellor, and to Shamashay the scribe, and to the rest of their companions who dwell in Shamarawan, and in the rest [of the country] beyond the River: Peace, and so forth.¹⁸ The letter which you sent to us has been plainly read before me.¹⁹ I decreed, and search has been made, and it is found that this city of old time has made insurrection against kings, and that rebellion and sedition have been made therein.²⁰ There have been mighty kings also over Yarawashalam, who have ruled over all [the country] beyond the River; and tribute, custom, and toll, was paid to them.²¹ Make you now a decree to cause these men to cease, and that this city not be built, until a decree shall be made by me.²² Take heed that you not be slack herein: why should damage grow to the hurt of the kings?²³ Then when the copy of king Arathachashasathaa's letter was read before Rachawam, and Shamashay the scribe, and their companions, they went in haste to Yarawashalam to the Jews, and made them to cease by force and power.²⁴ Then ceased the work of the house of Alahayam which is at Yarawashalam; and it ceased until the second year of the reign of Darayawash king of Paras.

5 Now the prophets, Chagay the prophet, and Zakarayah the son of Idaw, prophesied to the Jews who were in Yahawadah and Yarawashalam; in the name of the Alahayam of Yasharaal [prophesied they] to them.² Then rose up Zarababal the son of Shaalathayaal, and Yashawai the son of Yawatzadaq, and began to build the house of Alahayam which is at Yarawashalam; and with them were the prophets of Alahayam, helping them.³ At the same time came to them Tattenai, the governor beyond the River, and Shathar-bozenai, and their companions, and said thus to them, Who gave you a decree to build this house, and to finish this wall?⁴ Then we told them after this manner, what the names of the men were who were making this building.⁵ But the eye of their Alahayam was on the elders of the Jews, and they did not make them cease, until the matter should come to Darayawash, and then answer should be returned by letter concerning it.⁶ The copy of the letter that Tattenai, the governor beyond the River, and Shathar-bozenai, and his companions the Apharsachites, who were beyond the River, sent to Darayawash the king;⁷ they sent a letter to him, in which was written thus: To Darayawash the king, all peace.⁸ Be it known to the king, that we went into the province of Yahawadah, to the house of the great Alahayam, which is built with great stones, and timber is laid in the walls; and this work goes on with diligence and prospers in their hands.⁹ Then asked we those elders, and said to them thus, Who gave you a decree to build this house, and to finish this wall?¹⁰ We asked them their names also, to inform you that we might write the names of the men who were at the head of them.¹¹ Thus they returned us answer, saying, We are the servants of the Alahayam of heaven and earth, and are building the house that was built these many years ago, which a great king of Yasharaal built and finished.¹² But after that our fathers had provoked the Alahayam of heaven to wrath, he gave them into the hand of Nabawakadaraatzar king of Babal, the Chaldean, who destroyed this house, and carried the people away into Babal.¹³ But in the first year of Kavarash king of Babal, Kavarash the king made a decree to build this house of Alahayam.¹⁴ The gold and silver vessels also of the house of Alahayam, which Nabawakadaraatzar took out of the temple that was in Yarawashalam, and brought into the temple of Babal, those did Kavarash the king take out of the temple of Babal, and they were delivered to one whose name was Shashabatzar, whom he had made governor;¹⁵ and he said to him, Take these vessels, go, put them in the temple that is in Yarawashalam, and let the house of Alahayam be built in its place.¹⁶ Then came the same Shashabatzar, and laid the foundations of the house of Alahayam which is in Yarawashalam: and since that time even until now has it been in building, and yet it is not completed.¹⁷ Now therefore, if it seem good to the king, let there be search made in the king's treasure-house, which is there at Babal, whether it be so, that a decree was made of Kavarash the king to build this house of Alahayam at Yarawashalam; and let the king send his pleasure to us concerning this matter.

6 Then Darayawash the king made a decree, and search was made in the house of the archives, where the treasures were laid up in Babal.² There was found at Achamathaa, in the palace that is in the province of Maday, a scroll, and therein was thus written for a record:³ In the first year of Kavarash the king, Kavarash the king made a decree: Concerning the house of Alahayam at Yarawashalam, let the house be built, the place where they offer sacrifices, and let the foundations of it be strongly laid; the height of it sixty cubits, and the breadth of it sixty cubits;⁴ with three courses of great stones, and a course of new timber: and let the expenses be given out of the king's house.⁵ Also let the gold and silver vessels of the house of Alahayam, which Nabawakadaraatzar took forth out of the temple which is at Yarawashalam, and brought to Babal, be restored, and brought again to the temple which is at Yarawashalam, everyone to its place; and you shall put them in the house of Alahayam.⁶ Now therefore, Tattenai, governor beyond the River, Shathar-bozenai, and your companions the Apharsachites, who are beyond the River, be you far from there:⁷ let the work of this house of Alahayam alone; let the governor of the Jews and the elders of the Jews build this house of Alahayam in its place.⁸ Moreover I make a decree what you shall do to these elders of the Jews for the building of this house of Alahayam: that of the king's goods, even of the tribute beyond the River, expenses be given with all diligence to these men, that they be not hindered.⁹ That which they have need of, both young bulls, and rams, and lambs, for burnt offerings to the Alahayam of heaven; [also] wheat, salt, wine, and oil, according to the word of the priests who are at Yarawashalam, let it be given them day by day without fail;¹⁰ that they may offer sacrifices of sweet savor to the Alahayam of heaven, and pray for the life of the king, and of his sons.¹¹ Also I have made a decree, that whoever shall alter this word, let a beam be pulled out from his house, and let him be lifted up and fastened thereon; and let his house be made a dunghill for this:¹² and the Alahayam who has caused his name to dwell there overthrow all kings and peoples who shall put forth their hand to alter [the same], to destroy this house of Alahayam which is at Yarawashalam. I Darayawash have made a decree; let it be done with all diligence.¹³ Then Tattenai, the governor beyond the River, Shathar-bozenai, and their companions, because that Darayawash the king had sent, did accordingly with all diligence.¹⁴ The elders of the Jews built and prospered, through the prophesying of Chagay the prophet and Zakarayah the son of Idaw. They built and finished it, according to the commandment of the Alahayam of Yasharaal, and according to the decree of Kavarash, and Darayawash, and Arathachashasathaa king of Paras.¹⁵ This house was finished on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the sixth year of the reign of Darayawash the king.¹⁶ The children of Yasharaal, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this house of Alahayam with joy.¹⁷ They offered at the dedication of this house of Alahayam one hundred bulls, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; and for a Sayan-offering for all Yasharaal, twelve male goats, according to the number of the tribes of Yasharaal.¹⁸ They set the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their courses, for the service of Alahayam, which is at Yarawashalam; as it is written in the book of Mashah.¹⁹ The children of the captivity kept the Passover on the fourteenth [day] of the first month.²⁰ For the priests and the Levites had purified themselves together; all of them were pure: and they killed the Passover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brothers the priests, and for themselves.²¹ The children of Yasharaal who had come again out of the captivity, and all such as had separated themselves to them from the filthiness of the nations of the land, to seek Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, ate,²² and kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with joy: for Yahawah had made them joyful, and had turned the heart of the king of Ashawar to them, to strengthen their hands in the work of the house of Alahayam, the Alahayam of Yasharaal.

7 Now after these things, in the reign of Arathachashasathaa king of Paras, Izaraa the son of Sharayah, the son of Izarayah, the son of Hilkiyah,² the son of Shalawam, the son of Tzadawaq, the son of Achayatawab,³ the son of Amarayah, the son of Izarayah, the son of Marayawath,⁴ the son of Zarachayah, the son of Izay, the son of Baqay,⁵ the son of Abayashawai, the son of Payanachas, the son of Alaizar, the son of Aharan the chief priest;⁶ this Izaraa went up from Babal: and he was a ready scribe in the law of Mashah, which Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, had given; and the king granted him all his request, according to the hand of Yahawah his Alahayam on him.⁷ There went up some of the children of Yasharaal, and of the priests, and the Levites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinim, to Yarawashalam, in the seventh year of Arathachashasathaa the king.⁸ He came to Yarawashalam in the fifth month, which was in the seventh year of the king.⁹ For on the first [day] of the first month began he to go up from Babal; and on the first [day] of the fifth month came he to Yarawashalam, according to the good hand of his Alahayam on him.¹⁰ For Izaraa had set his heart to seek the law of Yahawah, and to do it, and to teach in Yasharaal statutes and ordinances.¹¹ Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Arathachashasathaa gave to Izaraa the priest, the scribe, even the scribe of the words of the commandments of Yahawah, and of his statutes to Yasharaal:¹² Arathachashasathaa, king of kings, to Izaraa the priest, the scribe of the law of the Alahayam of heaven, perfect and so forth.¹³ I make a decree, that all those of the people of Yasharaal, and their priests and the Levites, in my realm, who are minded of their own free will to go to Yarawashalam, go with you.¹⁴ Because you are sent of the king and his seven counselors, to inquire concerning Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, according to the law of your Alahayam which is in your hand,¹⁵ and to carry the silver and gold, which the king and his counselors have freely offered to the Alahayam of Yasharaal, whose habitation is in Yarawashalam,¹⁶ and all the silver and gold that you shall find in all the province of Babal, with the freewill-offering of the people, and of the priests, offering willingly for the house of their Alahayam which is in Yarawashalam;¹⁷ therefore you shall with all diligence buy with this money bulls, rams, lambs, with their meal-offerings and their drink-offerings, and shall offer them on the altar of the house of your Alahayam which is in Yarawashalam.¹⁸ Whatever shall seem good to you and to your brothers to do with the rest of the silver and the gold, that do you after the will of your Alahayam.¹⁹ The vessels that are given you for the service of the house of your Alahayam, deliver you before the Alahayam of Yarawashalam.²⁰ Whatever more shall be needful for the house of your Alahayam, which you shall have occasion to bestow, bestow it out of the king's treasure-house.²¹ I, even I Arathachashasathaa the king, do make a decree to all the treasurers who are beyond the River, that whatever Izaraa the priest, the scribe of the law of the Alahayam of heaven, shall require of you, it be done with all diligence,²² to one hundred talents of silver, and to one hundred measures of wheat, and to one hundred baths of wine, and to one hundred baths of oil, and salt without prescribing how much.²³ Whatever is commanded by the Alahayam of heaven, let it be done exactly for the house of the Alahayam of heaven; for why should there be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons?²⁴ Also we inform you, that touching any of the priests and Levites, the singers, porters, Nethinim, or servants of this house of Alahayam, it shall not be lawful to impose tribute, custom, or toll, on them.²⁵ You, Izaraa, after the wisdom of your Alahayam who is in your hand, appoint magistrates and judges, who may judge all the people who are beyond the River, all such as know the laws of your Alahayam; and teach you him who doesn't know them.²⁶ Whoever will not do the law of your Alahayam, and the law of the king, let judgment be executed on him with all diligence, whether it be to death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.²⁷ Blessed be Yahawah, the Alahayam of our fathers, who has put such a thing as this in the king's heart, to beautify the house of Yahawah which is in Yarawashalam;²⁸ and has extended lovingkindness to me before the king, and his counselors, and before all the king's mighty princes. I was strengthened according to the hand of Yahawah my Alahayam on me, and I gathered together out of Yasharaal chief men to go up with me.

8 Now these are the heads of their fathers' [houses], and this is the genealogy of those who went up with me from Babal, in the reign of Arathachashasathaa the king:² Of the sons of Payanachas, Garashawan. Of the sons of Ayathammar, Dan. Of the sons of Dawad, Chatawash.³ Of the sons of Shakanayah, of the sons of Paraish, Zakarayah; and with him were reckoned by genealogy of the males one hundred fifty.⁴ Of the sons of Pahath-Mawaab, Eliehoenai the son of Zarachayah; and with him two hundred males.⁵ Of the sons of Shakanayah, the son of Yachazayaal; and with him three hundred males.⁶ Of the sons of Idayan, Ibad the son of Yahawanathan; and with him fifty males.⁷ Of the sons of Iyalam, Yashaiyahaw the son of Ithalayahaw; and with him seventy males.⁸ Of the sons of Shapatayah, Zabadayah the son of Mayakaal; and with him eighty males.⁹ Of the sons of Yawaab, Ibadayah the son of Yachayaal; and with him two hundred and eighteen males.¹⁰ Of the sons of Shalamayath, the son of Yawasapayah; and with him one hundred sixty males.¹¹ Of the sons of Babay, Zakarayah the son of Babay; and with him twenty-eight males.¹² Of the sons of Izagad, Yawachanan the son of Hakkatan; and with him one hundred ten males.¹³ Of the sons of Adanayaqam, [who were] the last; and these are their names: Alayapalat, Yaiwaal, and Shamaiah; and with them sixty males.¹⁴ Of the sons of Bagaway, Iwathay and Zabawad; and with them seventy males.¹⁵ I gathered them together to the river that runs to Ahawaa; and there we encamped three days: and I viewed the people, and the priests, and found there none of the sons of Laway.¹⁶ Then sent I for Alayaizar, for Arayaal, for Shamaiah, and for Alanathan, and for Yarayab, and for Alanathan, and for Nathan, and for Zakarayah, and for Mashalam, chief men; also for Yawayarayab, and for Alanathan, who were teachers.¹⁷ I sent them forth to Idaw the chief at the place Kasapayaa; and I told them what they should tell Idaw, [and] his brothers the Nethinim, at the place Kasapayaa, that they should bring to us ministers for the house of our Alahayam.¹⁸ According to the good hand of our Alahayam on us they brought us a man of discretion, of the sons of Machalay, the son of Laway, the son of Yasharaal; and Sharabayah, with his sons and his brothers, eighteen;¹⁹ and Chashabayah, and with him Yashaiyahaw of the sons of Mararay, his brothers and their sons, twenty;²⁰ and of the Nethinim, whom Dawad and the princes had given for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinim: all of them were mentioned by name.²¹ Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the river Ahawaa, that we might humble ourselves before our Alahayam, to seek of him a straight way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our substance.²² For I was ashamed to ask of the king a band of soldiers and horsemen to help us against the enemy in the way, because we had spoken to the king, saying, The hand of our Alahayam is on all those who seek him, for good; but his power and his wrath is against all those who forsake him.²³ So we fasted and begged our Alahayam for this: and he was entreated of us.²⁴ Then I set apart twelve of the chiefs of the priests, even Sharabayah, Chashabayah, and ten of their brothers with them,²⁵ and weighed to them the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering for the house of our Alahayam, which the king, and his counselors, and his princes, and all Yasharaal there present, had offered:²⁶ I weighed into their hand six hundred fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels one hundred talents; of gold one hundred talents;²⁷ and twenty bowls of gold, of one thousand darics; and two vessels of fine bright brass, precious as gold.²⁸ I said to them, You are holy to Yahawah, and the vessels are holy; and the silver and the gold are a freewill-offering to Yahawah, the Alahayam of your fathers.²⁹ Watch you, and keep them, until you weigh them before the chiefs of the priests and the Levites, and the princes of the fathers' [houses] of Yasharaal, at Yarawashalam, in the chambers of the house of Yahawah.³⁰ So the priests and the Levites received the weight of the silver and the gold, and the vessels, to bring them to Yarawashalam to the house of our Alahayam.³¹ Then we departed from the river Ahawaa on the twelfth [day] of the first month, to go to Yarawashalam: and the hand of our Alahayam was on us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy and the bandit by the way.³² We came to Yarawashalam, and abode there three days.³³ On the fourth day the silver and the gold and the vessels were weighed in the house of our Alahayam into the hand of Maramawath the son of Awarayah the priest; and with him was Alaizar the son of Payanachas; and with them was Yawazabad the son of Yashawai, and Nawaidayah the son of Banaway, the Levite;³⁴ the whole by number and by weight: and all the weight was written at that time.³⁵ The children of the captivity, who had come out of exile, offered burnt offerings to the Alahayam of Yasharaal, twelve bulls for all Yasharaal, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, and twelve male goats for a Sayan-offering: all this was a burnt offering to Yahawah.³⁶ They delivered the king's commissions to the king's satraps, and to the governors beyond the River: and they furthered the people and the house of Alahayam.

9 Now when these things were done, the princes drew near to me, saying, The people of Yasharaal, and the priests and the Levites, have not separated themselves from the peoples of the lands, [doing] according to their abominations, even of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Imawan, the Moabites, the Matzarayam, and the Amorites.² For they have taken of their daughters for themselves and for their sons, so that the holy seed have mingled themselves with the peoples of the lands: yes, the hand of the princes and rulers has been chief in this trespass.³ When I heard this thing, I tore my garment and my robe, and plucked off the hair of my head and of my beard, and sat down confounded.⁴ Then were assembled to me everyone who trembled at the words of the Alahayam of Yasharaal, because of the trespass of them of the captivity; and I sat confounded until the evening offering.⁵ At the evening offering I arose up from my humiliation, even with my garment and my robe torn; and I fell on my knees, and spread out my hands to Yahawah my Alahayam;⁶ and I said, my Alahayam, I am ashamed and blush to lift up my face to you, my Alahayam; for our iniquities are increased over our head, and our guiltiness is grown up to the heavens.⁷ Since the days of our fathers we have been exceeding guilty to this day; and for our iniquities have we, our kings, and our priests, been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, and to plunder, and to confusion of face, as it is this day.⁸ Now for a little moment grace has been showed from Yahawah our Alahayam, to leave us a remnant to escape, and to give us a nail in his holy place, that our Alahayam may lighten our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage.⁹ For we are bondservants; yet our Alahayam has not forsaken us in our bondage, but has extended lovingkindness to us in the sight of the kings of Paras, to give us a reviving, to set up the house of our Alahayam, and to repair the ruins of it, and to give us a wall in Yahawadah and in Yarawashalam.¹⁰ Now, our Alahayam, what shall we say after this? for we have forsaken your commandments,¹¹ which you have commanded by your servants the prophets, saying, The land, to which you go to possess it, is an unclean land through the uncleanness of the peoples of the lands, through their abominations, which have filled it from one end to another with their filthiness:¹² now therefore don't give your daughters to their sons, neither take their daughters to your sons, nor seek their peace or their prosperity forever; that you may be strong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children forever.¹³ After all that is come on us for our evil deeds, and for our great guilt, seeing that you our Alahayam have punished us less than our iniquities deserve, and have given us such a remnant,¹⁴ shall we again break your commandments, and join in affinity with the peoples that do these abominations? would not you be angry with us until you had consumed us, so that there should be no remnant, nor any to escape?¹⁵ Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, you are righteous; for we are left a remnant that is escaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before you in our guiltiness; for none can stand before you because of this.

10 Now while Izaraa prayed and made confession, weeping and casting himself down before the house of Alahayam, there was gathered together to him out of Yasharaal a very great assembly of men and women and children; for the people wept very sore.² Shakanayah the son of Yachayaal, one of the sons of Iyalam, answered Izaraa, We have trespassed against our Alahayam, and have married foreign women of the peoples of the land: yet now there is hope for Yasharaal concerning this thing.³ Now therefore let us make a covenant with our Alahayam to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the counsel of my lord, and of those who tremble at the commandment of our Alahayam; and let it be done according to the law.⁴ Arise; for the matter belongs to you, and we are with you: be of good courage, and do it.⁵ Then arose Izaraa, and made the chiefs of the priests, the Levites, and all Yasharaal, to swear that they would do according to this word. So they swore.⁶ Then Izaraa rose up from before the house of Alahayam, and went into the chamber of Yahawachanan the son of Alayashayab: and [when] he came there, he ate no bread, nor drink water; for he mourned because of the trespass of them of the captivity.⁷ They made proclamation throughout Yahawadah and Yarawashalam to all the children of the captivity, that they should gather themselves together to Yarawashalam;⁸ and that whoever didn't come within three days, according to the counsel of the princes and the elders, all his substance should be forfeited, and himself separated from the assembly of the captivity.⁹ Then all the men of Yahawadah and Banayaman gathered themselves together to Yarawashalam within the three days; it was the ninth month, on the twentieth [day] of the month: and all the people sat in the broad place before the house of Alahayam, trembling because of this matter, and for the great rain.¹⁰ Izaraa the priest stood up, and said to them, You have trespassed, and have married foreign women, to increase the guilt of Yasharaal.¹¹ Now therefore make confession to Yahawah, the Alahayam of your fathers, and do his pleasure; and separate yourselves from the peoples of the land, and from the foreign women.¹² Then all the assembly answered with a loud voice, As you have said concerning us, so must we do.¹³ But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to stand outside: neither is this a work of one day or two; for we have greatly transgressed in this matter.¹⁴ Let now our princes be appointed for all the assembly, and let all those who are in our cities who have married foreign women come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and the judges of it, until the fierce wrath of our Alahayam be turned from us, until this matter be dispatched.¹⁵ Only Yahawanathan the son of Ishahaal and Jahzeiah the son of Thaqawah stood up against this [matter]: and Mashalam and Shabathay the Levite helped them.¹⁶ The children of the captivity did so. Izaraa the priest, [with] certain heads of fathers' [houses], after their fathers' houses, and all of them by their names, were set apart; and they sat down in the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.¹⁷ They made an end with all the men who had married foreign women by the first day of the first month.¹⁸ Among the sons of the priests there were found who had married foreign women: [namely], of the sons of Yashawai, the son of Yawatzadaq, and his brothers, Maishayah, and Alayaizar, and Yarayab, and Gadalayahaw.¹⁹ They gave their hand that they would put away their wives; and being guilty, [they offered] a ram of the flock for their guilt.²⁰ Of the sons of Amar: Chananay and Zabadayah.²¹ Of the sons of Charam: Maishayah, and Alayahaw, and Shamaiah, and Yachayaal, and Izayahaw.²² Of the sons of Pashhur: Elioenai, Maishayah, Yashamaial, Nathanaal, Yawazabad, and Alaishah.²³ Of the Levites: Yawazabad, and Shamaiy, and Qalayah (the same is Qalayataa), Pethahiah, Yahawadah, and Alayaizar.²⁴ Of the singers: Alayashayab. Of the porters: Shalawam, and Talam, and Awaray.²⁵ Of Yasharaal: Of the sons of Paraish: Ramayah, and Izziah, and Malakayah, and Mayaman, and Alaizar, and Malakayah, and Banayahaw.²⁶ Of the sons of Iyalam: Mathanayah, Zakarayah, and Yachayaal, and Ibaday, and Jeremoth, and Alayahaw.²⁷ Of the sons of Zathawaa: Elioenai, Alayashayab, Mathanayah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad, and Izayazaa.²⁸ Of the sons of Babay: Yahawachanan, Chananayah, Zabay, Ithalay.²⁹ Of the sons of Banay: Mashalam, Malawak, and Idayah, Yashawab, and Shaal, Jeremoth.³⁰ Of the sons of Pahath-Mawaab: Idanaa, and Kalal, Banayahaw, Maishayah, Mathanayah, Bezalel, and Banaway, and Manashah.³¹ [of] the sons of Charam: Alayaizar, Isshijah, Malakayah, Shamaiah, Shimeon,³² Banayaman, Malawak, Shamarayah.³³ Of the sons of Chasham: Mathanay, Mathathah, Zabad, Alayapalat, Yaramay, Manashah, Shamaiy.³⁴ Of the sons of Banay: Maiday, Imaram, and Awaal,³⁵ Banayahaw, Badayah, Cheluhi,³⁶ Wanayah, Maramawath, Alayashayab,³⁷ Mathanayah, Mathanay, and Jaasu,³⁸ and Banay, and Banaway, Shamaiy,³⁹ and Shalamayah, and Nathan, and Idayah,⁴⁰ Makanadabay, Shashay, Sharay,⁴¹ Izaraal, and Shalamayah, Shamarayah,⁴² Shalawam, Amarayah, Yawasap.⁴³ Of the sons of Nabaw: Yaiyaal, Mathathayah, Zabad, Zabayanaa, Idaw, and Yawaal, Banayahaw.⁴⁴ All these had taken foreign wives; and some of them had wives by whom they had children.

1 The words of Nachamayah the son of Hacaliah. Now it happened in the month Chislew, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shewashan the palace, ² that Chananay, one of my brothers, came, he and certain men out of Yahawadah; and I asked them concerning the Jews who had escaped, who were left of the captivity, and concerning Yarawashalam. ³ They said to me, The remnant who are left of the captivity there in the province are in great affliction and reproach: the wall of Yarawashalam also is broken down, and the gates of it are burned with fire. ⁴ It happened, when I heard these words, that I sat down and wept, and mourned certain days; and I fasted and prayed before the Alahayam of heaven, ⁵ and said, I beg you, Yahawah, the Alahayam of heaven, the great and awesome Alahayam, who keeps covenant and lovingkindness with those who love him and keep his commandments: ⁶ Let your ear now be attentive, and your eyes open, that you may listen to the prayer of your servant, which I pray before you at this time, day and night, for the children of Yasharaal your servants while I confess the sins of the children of Yasharaal, which we have sinned against you. Yes, I and my father's house have sinned: ⁷ we have dealt very corruptly against you, and have not kept the commandments, nor the statutes, nor the ordinances, which you commanded your servant Mashah. ⁸ Remember, I beg you, the word that you commanded your servant Mashah, saying, If you trespass, I will scatter you abroad among the peoples: ⁹ but if you return to me, and keep my commandments and do them, though your outcasts were in the uttermost part of the heavens, yet will I gather them from there, and will bring them to the place that I have chosen, to cause my name to dwell there. ¹⁰ Now these are your servants and your people, whom you have redeemed by your great power, and by your strong hand. ¹¹ Adanay, I beg you, let now your ear be attentive to the prayer of your servant, and to the prayer of your servants, who delight to fear your name; and please prosper your servant this day, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man. Now I was cup bearer to the king.

2 It happened in the month Naysan, in the twentieth year of Arathashasathaa the king, when wine was before him, that I took up the wine, and gave it to the king. Now I had not been [before] sad in his presence. ² The king said to me, Why is your face sad, seeing you are not sick? this is nothing else but sorrow of heart. Then I was very sore afraid. ³ I said to the king, Let the king live forever: why should not my face be sad, when the city, the place of my fathers' tombs, lies waste, and the gates of it are consumed with fire? ⁴ Then the king said to me, For what do you make request? So I prayed to the Alahayam of heaven. ⁵ I said to the king, If it please the king, and if your servant have found favor in your sight, that you would send me to Yahawadah, to the city of my fathers' tombs, that I may build it. ⁶ The king said to me (the queen also sitting by him,) For how long shall your journey be? and when will you return? So it pleased the king to send me; and I set him a time. ⁷ Moreover I said to the king, If it please the king, let letters be given me to the governors beyond the River, that they may let me pass through until I come to Yahawadah; ⁸ and a letter to Asap the keeper of the king's forest, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the castle which appertains to the house, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I shall enter into. The king granted me, according to the good hand of my Alahayam on me. ⁹ Then I came to the governors beyond the River, and gave them the king's letters. Now the king had sent with me captains of the army and horsemen. ¹⁰ When Sanabalat the Horonite, and Tawabayah the servant, the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly, because a man had come to seek the welfare of the children of Yasharaal. ¹¹ So I came to Yarawashalam, and was there three days. ¹² I arose in the night, I and some few men with me; neither told I any man what my Alahayam put into my heart to do for Yarawashalam; neither was there any animal with me, except the animal that I rode on. ¹³ I went out by night by the valley gate, even toward the jackal's well, and to the dung gate, and viewed the walls of Yarawashalam, which were broken down, and the gates of it were consumed with fire. ¹⁴ Then I went on to the spring gate and to the king's pool: but there was no place for the animal that was under me to pass. ¹⁵ Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall; and I turned back, and entered by the valley gate, and so returned. ¹⁶ The rulers didn't know where I went, or what I did; neither had I as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest who did the work. ¹⁷ Then said I to them, You see the evil case that we are in, how Yarawashalam lies waste, and the gates of it are burned with fire: come, and let us build up the wall of Yarawashalam, that we be no more a reproach. ¹⁸ I told them of the hand of my Alahayam which was good on me, as also of the king's words that he had spoken to me. They said, Let us rise up and build. So they strengthened their hands for the good [work]. ¹⁹ But when Sanabalat the Horonite, and Tawabayah the servant, the Ammonite, and Gasham the Arabian, heard it, they laughed us to scorn, and despised us, and said, What is this thing that you do? will you rebel against the king? ²⁰ Then answered I them, and said to them, The Alahayam of heaven, he will prosper us; therefore we his servants will arise and build: but you have no portion, nor right, nor memorial, in Yarawashalam.

3 Then Alayashayab the high priest rose up with his brothers the priests, and they built the sheep gate; they sanctified it, and set up the doors of it; even to the tower of Hammeah they sanctified it, to the tower of Hananel. ⁸ Next to him built the men of Yarayachaw. Next to them built Zakawar the son of Amaray. ⁹ The fish gate did the sons of Hassenaah build; they laid the beams of it, and set up the doors of it, the bolts of it, and the bars of it. ¹⁰ Next to them repaired Maramawath the son of Awarayah, the son of Hakkoz. Next to them repaired Mashalam the son of Barakayah, the son of Mashayazabaal. Next to them repaired Tzadawaq the son of Baina. ¹¹ Next to them the Tekoites repaired; but their nobles didn't put their necks to the work of their lord. ¹² The old gate repaired Yawayadai the son of Pasach and Mashalam the son of Basawadayah; they laid the beams of it, and set up the doors of it, and the bolts of it, and the bars of it. ¹³ Next to them repaired Malatayah the Gibeonite, and Yadawan the Meronothite, the men of Gabaiwan, and of Mizpah, [that appertained] to the throne of the governor beyond the River. ¹⁴ Next to him repaired Izayaal the son of Charahayah, goldsmiths. Next to him repaired Chananayah one of the perfumers, and they fortified Yarawashalam even to the broad wall. ¹⁵ Next to them repaired Rapayah the son of Chawar, the ruler of half the district of Yarawashalam. ¹⁶ Next to them repaired Yadaiah the son of Charawamap, over against his house. Next to him repaired Chatawash the son of Hashabneiah. ¹⁷ Malakayah the son of Charam, and Chashawab the son of Pahath-Mawaab, repaired another portion, and the tower of the furnaces. ¹⁸ Next to him repaired Shalawam the son of Halawachash, the ruler of half the district of Yarawashalam, he and his daughters. ¹⁹ The valley gate repaired Chanawan, and the inhabitants of Zanawach; they built it, and set up the doors of it, the bolts of it, and the bars of it, and one thousand cubits of the wall to the dung gate. ²⁰ The dung gate repaired Malakayah the son of Rakab, the ruler of the district of Bayath-haccherem; he built it, and set up the doors of it, the bolts of it, and the bars of it. ²¹ The spring gate repaired Shalawan the son of Colhozeh, the ruler of the district of Mizpah; he built it, and covered it, and set up the doors of it, the bolts of it, and the bars of it, and the wall of the pool of Shalach by the king's garden, even to the stairs that go down from the city of Dawad.²² After him repaired Nachamayah the son of Izabawaq, the ruler of half the district of Bayath, to the place over against the tombs of Dawad, and to the pool that was made, and to the house of the mighty men.²³ After him repaired the Levites, Rachawam the son of Banay. Next to him repaired Chashabayah, the ruler of half the district of Qaiyalah, for his district.²⁴ After him repaired their brothers, Bavvai the son of Chanadad, the ruler of half the district of Qaiyalah.²⁵ Next to him repaired Atzar the son of Yashawai, the ruler of Mizpah, another portion, over against the ascent to the armory at the turning [of the wall].²⁶ After him Barawak the son of Zabai earnestly repaired another portion, from the turning [of the wall] to the door of the house of Alayashayab the high priest.²⁷ After him repaired Maramawath the son of Awarayah the son of Hakkoz another portion, from the door of the house of Alayashayab even to the end of the house of Alayashayab.²⁸ After him repaired the priests, the men of the Plain.²⁹ After them repaired Banayaman and Chashawab over against their house. After them repaired Izarayah the son of Maishayah the son of Inanayah beside his own house.³⁰ After him repaired Banaway the son of Chanadad another portion, from the house of Izarayah to the turning [of the wall], and to the corner.³¹ Palal the son of Awazay [repaired] over against the turning [of the wall], and the tower that stands out from the upper house of the king, which is by the court of the guard. After him Padayah the son of Paraish [repaired].³² (Now the Nethinim lived in Ipal, to the place over against the water gate toward the east, and the tower that stands out.)³³ After him the Tekoites repaired another portion, over against the great tower that stands out, and to the wall of Ipal.³⁴ Above the horse gate repaired the priests, everyone over against his own house.³⁵ After them repaired Tzadawaq the son of Amar over against his own house. After him repaired Shamaiah the son of Shakanayah, the keeper of the east gate.³⁶ After him repaired Chananayah the son of Shalamayah, and Chanawan the sixth son of Tzalap, another portion. After him repaired Mashalam the son of Barakayah over against his chamber.³⁷ After him repaired Malakayah one of the goldsmiths to the house of the Nethinim, and of the merchants, over against the gate of Hammiphkad, and to the ascent of the corner.³⁸ Between the ascent of the corner and the sheep gate repaired the goldsmiths and the merchants.

4 But it happened that when Sanabalat heard that we were building the wall, he was angry, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.² He spoke before his brothers and the army of Shamarawan, and said, What are these feeble Jews doing? will they fortify themselves? will they sacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they revive the stones out of the heaps of rubbish, seeing they are burned?³ Now Tawabayah the Ammonite was by him, and he said, Even that which they are building, if a fox go up, he shall break down their stone wall.⁴ Hear, our Alahayam; for we are despised: and turn back their reproach on their own head, and give them up for a spoil in a land of captivity;⁵ and don't cover their iniquity, and don't let their sin be blotted out from before you; for they have provoked [you] to anger before the builders.⁶ So we built the wall; and all the wall was joined together to half [the height] of it: for the people had a mind to work.⁷ But it happened that when Sanabalat, Tawabayah, the Arabians, the Imawan, and the Ashdodites heard that the repairing of the walls of Yarawashalam went forward, [and] that the breaches began to be stopped, then they were very angry;⁸ and they conspired all of them together to come and fight against Yarawashalam, and to cause confusion therein.⁹ But we made our prayer to our Alahayam, and set a watch against them day and night, because of them.¹⁰ Yahawadah said, The strength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbish; so that we are not able to build the wall.¹¹ Our adversaries said, They shall not know, neither see, until we come into the midst of them, and kill them, and cause the work to cease.¹² It happened that when the Jews who lived by them came, they said to us ten times from all places, You must return to us.¹³ Therefore set I in the lowest parts of the space behind the wall, in the open places, I set [there] the people after their families with their swords, their spears, and their bows.¹⁴ I looked, and rose up, and said to the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Don't be you afraid of them: remember the Adanay, who is great and awesome, and fight for your brothers, your sons, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.¹⁵ It happened, when our enemies heard that it was known to us, and Alahayam had brought their counsel to nothing, that we returned all of us to the wall, everyone to his work.¹⁶ It happened from that time forth, that half of my servants worked in the work, and half of them held the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the coats of mail; and the rulers were behind all the house of Yahawadah.¹⁷ They all built the wall and those who bore burdens loaded themselves; everyone with one of his hands worked in the work, and with the other held his weapon;

5 Then there arose a great cry of the people and of their wives against their brothers the Jews.² For there were that said, We, our sons and our daughters, are many: let us get grain, that we may eat and live.³ Some also there were that said, We are mortgaging our fields, and our vineyards, and our houses: let us get grain, because of the dearth.⁴ There were also that said, We have borrowed money for the king's tribute [on] our fields and our vineyards.⁵ Yet now our flesh is as the flesh of our brothers, our children as their children: and, behold, we bring into bondage our sons and our daughters to be servants, and some of our daughters are brought into bondage [already]: neither is it in our power to help it; for other men have our fields and our vineyards.⁶ I was very angry when I heard their cry and these words.⁷ Then I consulted with myself, and contended with the nobles and the rulers, and said to them, You exact usury, everyone of his brother. I held a great assembly against them.⁸ I said to them, We after our ability have redeemed our brothers the Jews, that were sold to the nations; and would you even sell your brothers, and should they be sold to us? Then held they their peace, and found never a word.⁹ Also I said, The thing that you do is not good: ought you not to walk in the fear of our Alahayam, because of the reproach of the nations our enemies?¹⁰ I likewise, my brothers and my servants, do lend them money and grain. Please let us leave off this usury.¹¹ Please restore to them, even this day, their fields, their vineyards, their olive groves, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the money, and of the grain, the new wine, and the oil, that you exact of them.¹² Then said they, We will restore them, and will require nothing of them; so will we do, even as you say. Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they would do according to this promise.¹³ Also I shook out my lap, and said, So Alahayam shake out every man from his house, and from his labor, that doesn't perform this promise; even thus be he shaken out, and emptied. All the assembly said, Amen, and praised Yahawah. The people did according to this promise.¹⁴ Moreover from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Yahawadah, from the twentieth year even to the two and thirtieth year of Arathachashasathaa the king, [that is], twelve years, I and my brothers have not eaten the bread of the governor.¹⁵ But the former governors who were before me were chargeable to the people, and took of them bread and wine, besides forty shekels of silver; yes, even their servants bore rule over the people: but I didn't do so, because of the fear of Alahayam.¹⁶ Yes, also I continued in the work of this wall, neither bought we any land: and all my servants were gathered there to the work.¹⁷ Moreover there were at my table, of the Jews and the rulers, one hundred fifty men, besides those who came to us from among the nations that were round about us.¹⁸ Now that which was prepared for one day was one ox and six choice sheep; also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days store of all sorts of wine: yet for all this I didn't demand the bread of the governor, because the bondage was heavy on this people.¹⁹ Remember to me, my Alahayam, for good, all that I have done for this people.

6 Now it happened, when it was reported to Sanabalat and Tawabayah, and to Gasham the Arabian, and to the rest of our enemies, that I had built the wall, and that there was no breach left therein; (though even to that time I had not set up the doors in the gates);² that Sanabalat and Gasham sent to me, saying, Come, let us meet together in [one of] the villages in the plain of Awanaw. But they thought to do me mischief.³ I sent messengers to them, saying, I am doing a great work, so that I can't come down: why should the work cease, while I leave it, and come down to you?⁴ They sent to me four times after this sort; and I answered them after the same manner.⁵ Then sent Sanabalat his servant to me in like manner the fifth time with an open letter in his hand,⁶ in which was written, It is reported among the nations, and Gasham says it, that you and the Jews think to rebel; for which cause you are building the wall: and you would be their king, according to these words.⁷ You have also appointed prophets to preach of you at Yarawashalam, saying, There is a king in Yahawadah: and now shall it be reported to the king according to these words. Come now therefore, and let us take counsel together.⁸ Then I sent to him, saying, There are no such things done as you say, but you feign them out of your own heart.⁹ For they all would have made us afraid, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the work, that it not be done. But now, [Alahayam], strengthen you my hands.¹⁰ I went to the house of Shamaiah the son of Dalayah the son of Mahayatabaal, who was shut up; and he said, Let us meet together in the house of Alahayam, within the temple, and let us shut the doors of the temple: for they will come to kill you; yes, in the night will they come to kill you.¹¹ I said, Should such a man as I flee? and who is there that, being such as I, would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in.¹² I discerned, and, behold, Alahayam had not sent him; but he pronounced this prophecy against me: and Tawabayah and Sanabalat had hired him.¹³ For this cause was he hired, that I should be afraid, and do so, and sin, and that they might have matter for an evil report, that they might reproach me.¹⁴ Remember, my Alahayam, Tawabayah and Sanabalat according to these their works, and also the prophetess Nawaidayah, and the rest of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.¹⁵ So the wall was finished in the twenty-fifth [day] of [the month] Alawal, in fifty-two days.¹⁶ It happened, when all our enemies heard [of it], that all the nations that were about us feared, and were much cast down in their own eyes; for they perceived that this work was worked of our Alahayam.¹⁷ Moreover in those days the nobles of Yahawadah sent many letters to Tawabayah, and [the letters] of Tawabayah came to them.¹⁸ For there were many in Yahawadah sworn to him, because he was the son-in-law of Shakanayah the son of Arach; and his son Yahawachanan had taken the daughter of Mashalam the son of Barakayah as wife.¹⁹ Also they spoke of his good deeds before me, and reported my words to him. Tawabayah sent letters to put me in fear.

7 Now it happened, when the wall was built, and I had set up the doors, and the porters and the singers and the Levites were appointed,² that I gave my brother Chananay, and Chananayah the governor of the castle, charge over Yarawashalam; for he was a faithful man, and feared Alahayam above many.³ I said to them, Don't let the gates of Yarawashalam be opened until the sun be hot; and while they stand [on guard], let them shut the doors, and bar you them: and appoint watches of the inhabitants of Yarawashalam, everyone in his watch, and everyone [to be] over against his house.⁴ Now the city was wide and large; but the people were few therein, and the houses were not built.⁵ My Alahayam put into my heart to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, that they might be reckoned by genealogy. I found the book of the genealogy of those who came up at the first, and I found written therein:⁶ These are the children of the province, who went up out of the captivity of those who had been carried away, whom Nabawakadaraatzar the king of Babal had carried away, and who returned to Yarawashalam and to Yahawadah, everyone to his city;⁷ who came with Zarababal, Yashawai, Nachamayah, Izarayah, Raimayah, Nachamanay, Maradakay, Balashan, Masaparath, Bagaway, Nachawam, Bainah. The number of the men of the people of Yasharaal:⁸ The children of Paraish, two thousand one hundred seventy-two.⁹ The children of Shapatayah, three hundred seventy-two.¹⁰ The children of Arach, six hundred fifty-two.¹¹ The children of Pahath-Mawaab, of the children of Yashawai and Yawaab, two thousand eight hundred [and] eighteen.¹² The children of Iyalam, one thousand two hundred fifty-four.¹³ The children of Zathawaa, eight hundred forty-five.¹⁴ The children of Zakay, seven hundred sixty.¹⁵ The children of Banaway, six hundred forty-eight.¹⁶ The children of Babay, six hundred twenty-eight.¹⁷ The children of Izagad, two thousand three hundred twenty-two.¹⁸ The children of Adanayaqam, six hundred sixty-seven.¹⁹ The children of Bagaway, two thousand sixty-seven.²⁰ The children of Idayan, six hundred fifty-five.²¹ The children of Atar, of Chazaqayahaw, ninety-eight.²² The children of Chasham, three hundred Twenty-eight.²³ The children of Batzay, three hundred twenty-four.²⁴ The children of Charayap, one hundred twelve.²⁵ The children of Gabaiwan, ninety-five.²⁶ The men of Bayathalacham and Natapah, one hundred eighty-eight.²⁷ The men of Inathawath, one hundred twenty-eight.²⁸ The men of Bayath-Izamawath, forty-two.²⁹ The men of Kiriath-Yairayam, Kapayarah, and Baarawath, seven hundred forty-three.³⁰ The men of Ramah and Gabai, six hundred twenty-one.³¹ The men of Michmas, one hundred and twenty-two.³² The men of Bethel and Ai, a hundred twenty-three.³³ The men of the other Nabaw, fifty-two.³⁴ The children of the other Iyalam, one thousand two hundred fifty-four.³⁵ The children of Charam, three hundred twenty.³⁶ The children of Yarayachaw, three hundred forty-five.³⁷ The children of Lad, Chadayad, and Awanaw, seven hundred twenty-one.³⁸ The children of Sanaah, three thousand nine hundred thirty.³⁹ The priests: The children of Yadaiah, of the house of Yashawai, nine hundred seventy-three.⁴⁰ The children of Amar, one thousand fifty-two.⁴¹ The children of Pashhur, one thousand two hundred forty-seven.⁴² The children of Charam, one thousand [and] seventeen.⁴³ The Levites: the children of Yashawai, of Qadamayaal, of the children of Hawadawah, seventy-four.⁴⁴ The singers: the children of Asap, one hundred forty-eight.⁴⁵ The porters: the children of Shalawam, the children of Atar, the children of Talamawan, the children of Iqawab, the children of Chatayataa, the children of Shabay, one hundred thirty-eight.⁴⁶ The Nethinim: the children of Tzayachaa, the children of Chashawapaa, the children of Tabaiwath,⁴⁷ the children of Qayaras, the children of Sayaia, the children of Padawan,⁴⁸ the children of Labanah, the children of Chagabah, the children of Salmay,⁴⁹ the children of Hanan, the children of Gadal, the children of Gachar,⁵⁰ the children of Raayah, the children of Ratzayan, the children of Naqawadaa,⁵¹ the children of Gazam, the children of Izaa, the children of Pasach.⁵² The children of Basay, the children of Meunim, the children of Nephushesim,⁵³ the children of Baqabawaq, the children of Chaqawapaa, the children of Charachawar,⁵⁴ the children of Batzalawath, the children of Machayadaa, the children of Charashaa,⁵⁵ the children of Baraqawas, the children of Sayasaraa, the children of Temah,⁵⁶ the children of Natzayach, the children of Chatayapaa.⁵⁷ The children of Shalamah's servants: the children of Sawatay, the children of Sawaparath, the children of Parawadaa,⁵⁸ the children of Yailaa, the children of Daraqawan, the children of Gadal,⁵⁹ the children of Shapatayah, the children of Chatayal, the children of Pochereth-hazzebaim, the children of Amawan.⁶⁰ All the Nethinim, and the children of Shalamah's servants, were three hundred ninety-two.⁶¹ These were those who went up from Malach, Thal-Charashaa, Karawab, Adawan, and Amar; but they could not show their fathers' houses, nor their seed, whether they were of Yasharaal:⁶² The children of Dalayah, the children of Tawabayah, the children of Naqawadaa, six hundred forty-two.⁶³ Of the priests: the children of Hobaiah, the children of Hakkoz, the children of Barazalay, who took a wife of the daughters of Barazalay the Galaid, and was called after their name.⁶⁴ These sought their register [among] those who were reckoned by genealogy, but it was not found: therefore were they deemed polluted and put from the priesthood.⁶⁵ The governor said to them, that they should not eat of the most holy things, until there stood up a priest with Urim and Thummim.⁶⁶ The whole assembly together was forty-two thousand three hundred sixty,⁶⁷ besides their men-servants and their maid-servants, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty-seven: and they had two hundred forty-five singing men and singing women.⁶⁸ Their horses were seven hundred thirty-six; their mules, two hundred forty-five;⁶⁹ [their] camels, four hundred thirty-five; [their] donkeys, six thousand seven hundred twenty.⁷⁰ Some from among the heads of fathers' [houses] gave to the work. The governor gave to the treasury one thousand darics of gold, fifty basins, and five hundred thirty priests' garments.⁷¹ Some of the heads of fathers' [houses] gave into the treasury of the work twenty thousand darics of gold, and two thousand two hundred pounds of silver.⁷² That which the rest of the people gave was twenty thousand darics of gold, and two thousand pounds of silver, and sixty-seven priests' garments.

8 All the people gathered themselves together as one man into the broad place that was before the water gate; and they spoke to Izaraa the scribe to bring the book of the law of Mashah, which Yahawah had commanded to Yasharaal.² Izaraa the priest brought the law before the assembly, both men and women, and all who could hear with understanding, on the first day of the seventh month.³ He read therein before the broad place that was before the water gate from early morning until midday, in the presence of the men and the women, and of those who could understand; and the ears of all the people were [attentive] to the book of the law.⁴ Izaraa the scribe stood on a pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose; and beside him stood Mathathayah, and Shamaï, and Inayah, and Awarayah, and Hilkiah, and Maishayah, on his right hand; and on his left hand, Padayah, and Mayashaal, and Malakayah, and Chasham, and Hashbaddanah, Zakarayah, [and] Mashalam.⁵ Izaraa opened the book in the sight of all the people; (for he was above all the people;) and when he opened it, all the people stood up:⁶ and Izaraa blessed Yahawah, the great Alahayam. All the people answered, Amen, Amen, with the lifting up of their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worshipped Yahawah with their faces to the ground.⁷ Also Yashawai, and Banay, and Sharabayah, Yamayan, Iqawab, Shabathay, Hawadayah, Maishayah, Qalayataa, Izarayah, Yawazabad, Hanan, Palaayah, and the Levites, caused the people to understand the law: and the people [stood] in their place.⁸ They read in the book, in the law of Alahayam, distinctly; and they gave the sense, so that they understood the reading.⁹ Nachamayah, who was the governor, and Izaraa the priest the scribe, and the Levites who taught the people, said to all the people, This day is holy to Yahawah your Alahayam; don't mourn, nor weep. For all the people wept, when they heard the words of the law.¹⁰ Then he said to them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions to him for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy to our Adanay: neither be you grieved; for the joy of Yahawah is your strength.¹¹ So the Levites stilled all the people, saying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy; neither be you grieved.¹² All the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth, because they had understood the words that were declared to them.¹³ On the second day were gathered together the heads of fathers' [houses] of all the people, the priests, and the Levites, to Izaraa the scribe, even to give attention to the words of the law.¹⁴ They found written in the law, how that Yahawah had commanded by Mashah, that the children of Yasharaal should dwell in booths in the feast of the seventh month;¹⁵ and that they should publish and proclaim in all their cities, and in Yarawashalam, saying, Go forth to the mountain, and get olive branches, and branches of wild olive, and myrtle branches, and palm branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written.¹⁶ So the people went forth, and brought them, and made themselves booths, everyone on the roof of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of Alahayam, and in the broad place of the water gate, and in the broad place of the gate of Aparayam.¹⁷ All the assembly of those who were come again out of the captivity made booths, and lived in the booths; for since the days of Yashawai the son of Nawan to that day the children of Yasharaal had not done so. There was very great gladness.¹⁸ Also day by day, from the first day to the last day, he read in the book of the law of Alahayam. They kept the feast seven days; and on the eighth day was a solemn assembly, according to the ordinance.

9 Now in the twenty-fourth day of this month the children of Yasharaal were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth on them.² The seed of Yasharaal separated themselves from all foreigners, and stood and confessed their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers.³ They stood up in their place, and read in the book of the law of Yahawah their Alahayam a fourth part of the day; and [another] fourth part they confessed, and worshipped Yahawah their Alahayam.⁴ Then stood up on the stairs of the Levites, Yashawai, and Banay, Qadamayaal, Shabanayah, Banay, Sharabayah, Banay, [and] Kananay, and cried with a loud voice to Yahawah their Alahayam.⁵ Then the Levites, Yashawai, and Qadamayaal, Banay, Hashabneiah, Sharabayah, Hawadayah, Shabanayah, [and] Pethahiah, said, Stand up and bless Yahawah your Alahayam from everlasting to everlasting; and blessed be your glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise.⁶ You are Yahawah, even you alone; you have made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth and all things that are thereon, the seas and all that is in them, and you preserve them all; and the host of heaven worships you.⁷ You are Yahawah the Alahayam, who did choose Abaram, and brought him forth out of Ur of the Kashadayam, and gave him the name of Abaraham,⁸ and found his heart faithful before you, and mad a covenant with him to give the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, and the Perizzite, and the Jebusite, and the Girgashite, to give it to his seed, and have performed your words; for you are righteous.⁹ You saw the affliction of our fathers in Matzarayam, and heard their cry by the Sawap,¹⁰ and showed signs and wonders on Paraih, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land; for you knew that they dealt proudly against them, and did get you a name, as it is this day.¹¹ You divided the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on the dry land; and their pursuers you did cast into the depths, as a stone into the mighty waters.¹² Moreover in a pillar of cloud you led them by day; and in a pillar of fire by night, to give them light in the way in which they should go.¹³ You came down also on Mount Sayanay, and spoke with them from heaven, and gave them right ordinances and true laws, good statutes and commandments,¹⁴ and mad known to them your holy Sabbath, and commanded them commandments, and statutes, and a law, by Mashah your servant,¹⁵ and gave them bread from the sky for their hunger, and brought forth water for them out of the rock for their thirst, and commanded those who they should go in to possess the land which you had sworn to give them.¹⁶ But they and our fathers dealt proudly and hardened their neck, and didn't listen to your commandments,¹⁷ and refused to obey, neither were mindful of your wonders that you did among them, but hardened their neck, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage. But you are a Alahayam ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in lovingkindness, and didn't forsake them.¹⁸ Yes, when they had made them a molten calf, and said, This is your Alahayam who brought you up out of Matzarayam, and had committed awful blasphemies;¹⁹ yet you in your manifold mercies didn't forsake them in the wilderness: the pillar of cloud didn't depart from over them by day, to lead them in the way; neither the pillar of fire by night, to show them light, and the way in which they should go.²⁰ You gave also your good Spirit to instruct them, and didn't withhold your manna from their mouth, and gave them water for their thirst.²¹ Yes, forty years did you sustain them in the wilderness, [and] they lacked nothing; their clothes didn't grow old, and their feet didn't swell.²² Moreover you gave them kingdoms and peoples, which you did allot after their portions: so they possessed the land of Sayachawan, even the land of the king of Chashabawan, and the land of Og king of Bashan.²³ Their children also multiplied you as the stars of the sky, and brought them into the land concerning which you did say to their fathers, that they should go in to possess it.²⁴ So the children went in and possessed the land, and you subdued before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gave them into their hands, with their kings, and the peoples of the land, that they might do with them as they would.²⁵ They took fortified cities, and a fat land, and possessed houses full of all good things, cisterns hewn out, vineyards, and olive groves, and fruit-trees in abundance: so they ate, and were filled, and became fat, and delighted themselves in your great goodness.²⁶ Nevertheless they were disobedient, and rebelled against you, and cast your law behind their back, and killed your prophets that testified against them to turn them again to you, and they committed awful blasphemies.²⁷ Therefore you delivered them into the hand of their adversaries, who distressed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried to you, you heard from heaven; and according to your manifold mercies you gave them saviors who saved them out of the hand of their adversaries.²⁸ But after they had rest, they did evil again before you; therefore left you them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them: yet when they returned, and cried to you, you heard from heaven; and many times did you deliver them according to your mercies,²⁹ and testified against them, that you might bring them again to your law. Yet they dealt proudly, and didn't listen to your commandments, but sinned against your ordinances, (which if a man do, he shall live in them,) and withdrew the shoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.³⁰ Yet many years did you bear with them, and testified against them by your Spirit through your prophets: yet would they not give ear: therefore gave you them into the hand of the peoples of the lands.³¹ Nevertheless in your manifold mercies you did not make a full end of them, nor forsake them; for you are a gracious and merciful Alahayam.³² Now therefore, our Alahayam, the great, the mighty, and the awesome Alahayam, who keep covenant and lovingkindness, don't let all the travail seem little before you, that has come on us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all your people, since the time of the kings of Ashawar to this day.³³ However you are just in all that is come on us; for you have dealt truly, but we have done wickedly;³⁴ neither have our kings, our princes, our priests, nor our fathers, kept your law, nor listened to your commandments and your testimonies with which you did testify against them.³⁵ For they have not served you in their kingdom, and in your great goodness that you gave them, and in the large and fat land which you gave before them, neither turned they from their wicked works.³⁶ Behold, we are servants this day, and as for the land that you gave to our fathers to eat the fruit of it and the good of it, behold, we are servants in it.³⁷ It yields much increase to the kings whom you have set over us because of our sins: also they have power over our bodies, and over our cattle, at their pleasure, and we are in great distress.

10 Now those who sealed were: Nachamayah the governor, the son of Hacialiah, and Tzadaqayahaw,³ Sharayah, Izarayah, Yaramayahaw,⁴ Pashhur, Amarayah, Malakayah,⁵ Chatawawsh, Shabanayah, Malawak,⁶ Charam, Maramawath, Ibadayah,⁷ Dan, Ganathawan, Barawak,⁸ Mashalam, Abayah, Mayaman,⁹ Maizayah, Balagay, Shamaiah; these were the priests.¹⁰ The Levites: namely, Yashawai the son of Azanayah, Banaway of the sons of Chanadad, Qadamayaal;¹¹ and their brothers, Shabanayah, Hawadayah, Qalayataa, Palaayah, Hanan,¹² Mica, Rachab, Chashabayah,¹³ Zakawar, Sharabayah, Shabanayah,¹⁴ Hawadayah, Banay, Banayanaw.¹⁵ The chiefs of the people: Paraish, Pahath-Mawaab, Iyalam, Zathawaa, Banay,¹⁶ Banay, Izagad, Babay,¹⁷ Adanayahaw, Bagaway, Idayan,¹⁸ Atar, Chazaqayahaw, Izawar,¹⁹ Hawadayah, Chasham, Batzay,²⁰ Charayap, Inathawath, Nobai,²¹ Magapayaish, Mashalam, Chazayar,²² Mashayazabaal, Tzadawaq, Yadawai,²³ Palatayah, Hanan, Inayah,²⁴ Hawashai, Chananayah, Chashawab,²⁵ Halawachash, Pilha, Shawabaq,²⁶ Rachawam, Chashabanah, Maishayah,²⁷ and Achayah, Hanan, Inan,²⁸ Malawak, Charam, Bainah.²⁹ The rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the porters, the singers, the Nethinim, and all those who had separated themselves from the peoples of the lands to the law of Alahayam, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, everyone who had knowledge, and understanding;³⁰ They joined with their brothers, their nobles, and entered into a curse, and into an oath, to walk in Alahayam's law, which was given by Mashah the servant of Alahayam, and to observe and do all the commandments of Yahawah our Adanay, and his ordinances and his statutes;³¹ and that we would not give our daughters to the peoples of the land, nor take their daughters for our sons;³² and if the peoples of the land bring wares or any grain on the Sabbath day to sell, that we would not buy of them on the Sabbath, or on a holy day; and that we would forego the seventh year, and the exaction of every debt.³³ Also we made ordinances for us, to charge ourselves yearly with the third part of a shekel for the service of the house of our Alahayam;³⁴ for the show bread, and for the continual meal-offering, and for the continual burnt-offering, for the Sabbaths, for the new moons, for the set feasts, and for the holy things, and for the Sayan-offerings to make atonement for Yasharaal, and for all the work of the house of our Alahayam.³⁵ We cast lots, the priests, the Levites, and the people, for the wood-offering, to bring it into the house of our Alahayam, according to our fathers' houses, at times appointed, year by year, to burn on the altar of Yahawah our Alahayam, as it is written in the law;³⁶ and to bring the first-fruits of our ground, and the first-fruits of all fruit of all manner of trees, year by year, to the house of Yahawah;³⁷ also the firstborn of our sons, and of our cattle, as it is written in the law, and the firstborn of our herds and of our flocks, to bring to the house of our Alahayam, to the priests who minister in the house of our Alahayam;³⁸ and that we should bring the first-fruits of our dough, and our heave-offerings, and the fruit of all manner of trees, the new wine and the oil, to the priests, to the chambers of the house of our Alahayam; and the tithes of our ground to the Levites; for they, the Levites, take the tithes in all the cities of our tillage.³⁹ The priest the son of Aharan shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes: and the Levites shall bring up the tithe of the tithes to the house of our Alahayam, to the chambers, into the treasure-house.⁴⁰ For the children of Yasharaal and the children of Laway shall bring the heave-offering of the grain, of the new wine, and of the oil, to the chambers, where are the vessels of the sanctuary, and the priests who minister, and the porters, and the singers: and we will not forsake the house of our Alahayam.

11 The princes of the people lived in Yarawashalam: the rest of the people also cast lots, to bring one of ten to dwell in Yarawashalam the holy city, and nine parts in the [other] cities.² The people blessed all the men who willingly offered themselves to dwell in Yarawashalam.³ Now these are the chiefs of the province who lived in Yarawashalam: but in the cities of Yahawadah lived everyone in his possession in their cities, [to wit], Yasharaal, the priests, and the Levites, and the Nethinim, and the children of Shalamah's servants.⁴ In Yarawashalam lived certain of the children of Yahawadah, and of the children of Banayaman. Of the children of Yahawadah: Ithayah the son of Izayahaw, the son of Zakarayah, the son of Amarayah, the son of Shapatayah, the son of Mahalalaal, of the children of Paratz;⁵ and Maishayah the son of Barawak, the son of Colhozeh, the son of Chazayah, the son of Idayah, the son of Yawayarayab, the son of Zakarayah, the son of the Shilonite.⁶ All the sons of Paratz who lived in Yarawashalam were four hundred sixty-eight valiant men.⁷ These are the sons of Banayaman: Salawaa the son of Mashalam, the son of Yawaid, the son of Padayah, the son of Qawalayah, the son of Maishayah, the son of Ayathayaal, the son of Yashaiyahaw.⁸ After him Gabay, Salawaa, nine hundred twenty-eight.⁹ Yawaal the son of Zakaray was their overseer; and Yahawadah the son of Hassenuah was second over the city.¹⁰ Of the priests: Yadaiah the son of Yawayarayab, Yakayan,¹¹ Sharayah the son of Hilkiah, the son of Mashalam, the son of Tzadawaq, the son of Marayawath, the son of Achayatawab, the ruler of the house of Alahayam,¹² and their brothers who did the work of the house, eight hundred twenty-two;

and Idayah the son of Yaracham, the son of Palalayah, the son of Amatzay, the son of Zakarayah, the son of Pashhur, the son of Malakayah,¹³ and his brothers, chiefs of fathers' [houses], two hundred forty-two; and Amashsai the son of Izaraal, the son of Ahzai, the son of Mashalamawath, the son of Amar,¹⁴ and their brothers, mighty men of valor, one hundred twenty-eight; and their overseer was Zabadayaal, the son of Haggedolim.¹⁵ Of the Levites: Shamaiah the son of Chashawab, the son of Izarayaqam, the son of Chashabayah, the son of Banay;¹⁶ and Shabathay and Yawazabad, of the chiefs of the Levites, who had the oversight of the outward business of the house of Alahayam;¹⁷ and Mathanayah the son of Mica, the son of Zabaday, the son of Asap, who was the chief to begin the thanksgiving in prayer, and Baqabaqayah, the second among his brothers; and Ibadaa the son of Shamawai, the son of Galal, the son of Yawawathawan.¹⁸ All the Levites in the holy city were two hundred eighty-four.¹⁹ Moreover the porters, Iqawab, Talamawan, and their brothers, who kept watch at the gates, were one hundred seventy-two.²⁰ The residue of Yasharaal, of the priests, the Levites, were in all the cities of Yahawadah, everyone in his inheritance.²¹ But the Nethinim lived in Ipal: and Tzayachaa and Gashapaa were over the Nethinim.²² The overseer also of the Levites at Yarawashalam was Izay the son of Banay, the son of Chashabayah, the son of Mathanayah, the son of Mica, of the sons of Asap, the singers, over the business of the house of Alahayam.²³ For there was a commandment from the king concerning them, and a settled provision for the singers, as every day required.²⁴ Pethahiah the son of Mashayazabaal, of the children of Zarach the son of Yahawadah, was at the king's hand in all matters concerning the people.²⁵ As for the villages, with their fields, some of the children of Yahawadah lived in Kiriath-Arabai and the towns of it, and in Dayaban and the towns of it, and in Yaqabatzaal and the villages of it,²⁶ and in Yashawai, and in Mawaladah, and Bayath-Palat,²⁷ and in Chatzar, and in Beersheba and the towns of it,²⁸ and in Tzaqalag, and in Meconah and in the towns of it,²⁹ and in Iyan, and in Tzaraih, and in Yaramawath,³⁰ Zanawach, Idalam, and their villages, Lakayash and the fields of it, Izaqah and the towns of it. So they encamped from Beersheba to the valley of Hanam.³¹ The children of Banayaman also [lived] from Gabai [onward], at Michmash and Iy, and at Bethel and the towns of it,³² at Inathawath, Nab, Inanayah,³³ Chatzawar, Ramah, Gathayam,³⁴ Chadayad, Tzabayayam, Nabalat,³⁵ Lad, and Awanaw, the valley of craftsmen.³⁶ Of the Levites, certain courses in Yahawadah [were joined] to Banayaman.

12 Now these are the priests and the Levites who went up with Zarababal the son of Shaalathayaal, and Yashawai: Sharayah, Yaramayahaw, Izaraa,² Amarayah, Malawak, Chatawash,³ Shakanayah, Rachawam, Maramawath,⁴ Idaw, Ginnethoi, Abayah,⁵ Mayaman, Maidayah, Balagah,⁶ Shamaiah, and Yawayarayab, Yadayiah.⁷ Salawaa, Imawaq, Hilkiyah, Yadayiah. These were the chiefs of the priests and of their brothers in the days of Yashawai.⁸ Moreover the Levites: Yashawai, Banaway, Qadamayaal, Sharabayah, Yahawadah, [and] Mathanayah, who was over the thanksgiving, he and his brothers.⁹ Also Baqabaqayah and Unno, their brothers, were over against them according to their offices.¹⁰ Yashawai became the father of Yawayaqayam, and Yawayaqayam became the father of Alayashayab, and Alayashayab became the father of Yawayadai,¹¹ and Yawayadai became the father of Yahawanathan, and Yahawanathan became the father of Yadawai.¹² In the days of Yawayaqayam were priests, heads of fathers' [houses]: of Sharayah, Marayah; of Yaramayahaw, Chananayah;¹³ of Izaraa, Mashalam; of Amarayah, Yahawachanan;¹⁴ of Malluchi, Yahawanathan; of Shabanayah, Yawasap;¹⁵ of Charam, Idanaa; of Marayawath, Chalaqay;¹⁶ of Idaw, Zakarayah; of Ganathawan, Mashalam;¹⁷ of Abayah, Zakaray; of Manayamayan, of Mawaidayah, Palatay;¹⁸ of Balagah, Shamawai; of Shamaiah, Jehonathan;¹⁹ and of Yawayarayab, Mathanay; of Yadayiah, Izay;²⁰ of Salawaa, Qalay; of Imawaq, Ibar;²¹ of Hilkiyah, Chashabayah; of Yadayiah, Nathanaal.²² As for the Levites, in the days of Alayashayab, Yawayadai, and Yawachanan, and Yadawai, there were recorded the heads of fathers' [houses]; also the priests, in the reign of Darayawash the Persian.²³ The sons of Laway, heads of fathers' [houses], were written in the book of the chronicles, even until the days of Yawachanan the son of Alayashayab.²⁴ The chiefs of the Levites: Chashabayah, Sharabayah, and Yashawai the son of Qadamayaal, with their brothers over against them, to praise and give thanks, according to the commandment of Dawad the man of Alahayam, watch next to watch.²⁵ Mathanayah, and Baqabaqayah, Ibadayah, Mashalam, Talamawan, Iqawab, were porters keeping the watch at the store-houses of the gates.²⁶ These were in the days of Yawayaqayam the son of Yashawai, the son of Yawatzadaq, and in the days of Nachamayah the governor, and of Izaraa the priest the scribe.²⁷ At the dedication of the wall of Yarawashalam they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Yarawashalam, to keep the dedication with gladness, both with giving thanks, and with singing, with cymbals, psalteries, and with harps.²⁸ The sons of the singers gathered themselves together, both out of the plain round about Yarawashalam, and from the villages of the Netophathites;²⁹ also from Bayath-Galagal, and out of the fields of Gabai and Izamawath: for the singers had built them villages round about Yarawashalam.³⁰ The priests and the Levites purified themselves; and they purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.³¹ Then I brought up the princes of Yahawadah on the wall, and appointed two great companies who gave thanks and went in procession; [whereof one went] on the right hand on the wall toward the dung gate:³² and after them went Hawashaiyah, and half of the princes of Yahawadah,³³ and Izarayah, Izaraa, and Mashalam,³⁴ Yahawadah, and Banayaman, and Shamaiah, and Yaramayahaw,³⁵ and certain of the priests' sons with trumpets: Zakarayah the son of Yahawanathan, the son of Shamaiah, the son of Mathanayah, the son of Mayakah, the son of Zakawar, the son of Asap;³⁶ and his brothers, Shamaiah, and Izaraal, Malalay, Galalay, Maiy, Nathanaal, and Yahawadah, Chananay, with the musical instruments of Dawad the man of Alahayam; and Izaraa the scribe was before them.³⁷ By the spring gate, and straight before them, they went up by the stairs of the city of Dawad, at the ascent of the wall, above the house of Dawad, even to the water gate eastward.³⁸ The other company of those who gave thanks went to meet them, and I after them, with the half of the people, on the wall, above the tower of the furnaces, even to the broad wall,³⁹ and above the gate of Aparayam, and by the old gate, and by the fish gate, and the tower of Hananel, and the tower of Hammeah, even to the sheep gate: and they stood still in the gate of the guard.⁴⁰ So stood the two companies of those who gave thanks in the house of Alahayam, and I, and the half of the rulers with me;⁴¹ and the priests, Alayaqayam, Maishayah, Manayamayan, Mayakah, Elioenai, Zakarayah, and Chananayah, with trumpets;⁴² and Maishayah, and Shamaiah, and Alaizar, and Izay, and Yahawachanan, and Malakayah, and Iyalam, and Atzar. The singers sang loud, with Yazarachayah their overseer.⁴³ They offered great sacrifices that day, and rejoiced; for Alahayam had made them rejoice with great joy; and the women also and the children rejoiced: so that the joy of Yarawashalam was heard even afar off.⁴⁴ On that day were men appointed over the chambers for the treasures, for the heave-offerings, for the first-fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them, according to the fields of the cities, the portions appointed by the law for the priests and Levites: for Yahawadah rejoiced for the priests and for the Levites who waited.⁴⁵ They kept the charge of their Alahayam, and the charge of the purification, and [so did] the singers and the porters, according to the commandment of Dawad, and of Shalamah his son.⁴⁶ For in the days of Dawad and Asap of old there was a chief of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving to Alahayam.⁴⁷ All Yasharaal in the days of Zarababal, and in the days of Nachamayah, gave the portions of the singers and the porters, as every day required: and they set apart [that which was] for the Levites; and the Levites set apart [that which was] for the sons of Aharan.

13 On that day they read in the book of Mashah in the audience of the people; and therein was found written, that an Ammonite and a Moabite should not enter into the assembly of Alahayam forever, ² because they didn't meet the children of Yasharaal with bread and with water, but hired Balaim against them, to curse them: however our Alahayam turned the curse into a blessing. ³ It came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated from Yasharaal all the mixed multitude. ⁴ Now before this, Alayashayab the priest, who was appointed over the chambers of the house of our Alahayam, being allied to Tawabayah, ⁵ had prepared for him a great chamber, where before they laid the meal-offerings, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithes of the grain, the new wine, and the oil, which were given by commandment to the Levites, and the singers, and the porters; and the heave-offerings for the priests. ⁶ But in all this [time] I was not at Yarawashalam; for in the two and thirtieth year of Arathachashasathaa king of Babal I went to the king; and after certain days asked I leave of the king, ⁷ and I came to Yarawashalam, and understood the evil that Alayashayab had done for Tawabayah, in preparing him a chamber in the courts of the house of Alahayam. ⁸ It grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all the household stuff of Tawabayah out of the chamber. ⁹ Then I commanded, and they cleansed the chambers: and there brought I again the vessels of the house of Alahayam, with the meal-offerings and the frankincense. ¹⁰ I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them; so that the Levites and the singers, who did the work, were fled everyone to his field. ¹¹ Then contended I with the rulers, and said, Why is the house of Alahayam forsaken? I gathered them together, and set them in their place. ¹² Then brought all Yahawadah the tithe of the grain and the new wine and the oil to the treasuries. ¹³ I made treasurers over the treasuries, Shalamayah the priest, and Tzadawaq the scribe, and of the Levites, Padayah: and next to them was Hanan the son of Zakawar, the son of Mathanayah; for they were counted faithful, and their business was to distribute to their brothers. ¹⁴ Remember me, my Alahayam, concerning this, and don't wipe out my good deeds that I have done for the house of my Alahayam, and for the observances of it. ¹⁵ In those days saw I in Yahawadah some men treading wine-presses on the Sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading donkeys [therewith]; as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Yarawashalam on the Sabbath day: and I testified [against them] in the day in which they sold victuals. ¹⁶ There lived men of Tzar also therein, who brought in fish, and all manner of wares, and sold on the Sabbath to the children of Yahawadah, and in Yarawashalam. ¹⁷ Then I contended with the nobles of Yahawadah, and said to them, What evil thing is this that you do, and profane the Sabbath day? ¹⁸ Didn't your fathers do thus, and did not our Alahayam bring all this evil on us, and on this city? yet you bring more wrath on Yasharaal by profaning the Sabbath. ¹⁹ It came to pass that, when the gates of Yarawashalam began to be dark before the Sabbath, I commanded that the doors should be shut, and commanded that they should not be opened until after the Sabbath: and some of my servants set I over the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day. ²⁰ So the merchants and sellers of all kind of wares lodged outside of Yarawashalam once or twice. ²¹ Then I testified against them, and said to them, Why lodge you about the wall? if you do so again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the Sabbath. ²² I commanded the Levites that they should purify themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath day. Remember to me, my Alahayam, this also, and spare me according to the greatness of your lovingkindness. ²³ In those days also saw I the Jews who had married women of Ashadawad, of Imawan, [and] of Mawaab: ²⁴ and their children spoke half in the speech of Ashadawad, and could not speak in the Jews' language, but according to the language of each people. ²⁵ I contended with them, and cursed them, and struck certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them swear by Alahayam, [saying], You shall not give your daughters to their sons, nor take their daughters for your sons, or for yourselves. ²⁶ Did not Shalamah king of Yasharaal sin by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, and he was beloved of his Alahayam, and Alahayam made him king over all Yasharaal: nevertheless even him did foreign women cause to sin. ²⁷ Shall we then listen to you to do all this great evil, to trespass against our Alahayam in marrying foreign women? ²⁸ One of the sons of Yawayadai, the son of Alayashayab the high priest, was son-in-law to Sanabalat the Horonite: therefore I chased him from me. ²⁹ Remember them, my Alahayam, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priesthood, and of the Levites. ³⁰ Thus cleansed I them from all foreigners, and appointed charges for the priests and for the Levites, everyone in his work; ³¹ and for the wood-offering, at times appointed, and for the first-fruits. Remember me, my Alahayam, for good.

1 And Josias held the feast of the passover in Yarawashalam to his Adanay, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first month; ² Having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in long garments, in the temple of the Adanay. ³ And he spoke to the Levites, the holy ministers of Yasharaal, that they should hallow themselves to the Adanay, to set the holy ark of the Adanay in the house that king Shalamah the son of Dawad had built: ⁴ And said, You shall no more bear the ark upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Adanay your Alahayam, and minister to his people Yasharaal, and prepare you after your families and kindreds, ⁵ According as Dawad the king of Yasharaal prescribed, and according to the magnificence of Shalamah his son: and standing in the temple according to the several dignity of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Yasharaal, ⁶ Offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover according to the commandment of the Adanay, which was given to Mashah. ⁷ And to the people that was found there Josias gave thirty thousand lambs and kids, and three thousand calves: these things were given of the king's allowance, according as he promised, to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites. ⁸ And Helkias, Zacharias, and Syelus, the governors of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves. ⁹ And Jeconias, and Samaias, and Nathanaal his brother, and Assabias, and Ochiel, and Yahawaram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the passover five thousand sheep, and seven hundred calves. ¹⁰ And when these things were done, the priests and Levites, having the unleavened bread, stood in very comely order according to the kindreds, ¹¹ And according to the several dignities of the fathers, before the people, to offer to the Adanay, as it is written in the book of Mashah: and thus did they in the morning. ¹² And they roasted the passover with fire, as appertains: as for the sacrifices, they sod them in brass pots and pans with a good savour, ¹³ And set them before all the people: and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aharan. ¹⁴ For the priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and the priests their brethren, the sons of Aharan. ¹⁵ The holy singers also, the sons of Asap, were in their order, according to the appointment of Dawad, to wit, Asap, Zacharias, and Yadawathawan, who was of the king's retinue. ¹⁶ Moreover the porters were at every gate; it was not lawful for any to go from his ordinary service: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them. ¹⁷ Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Adanay accomplished in that day, that they might hold the passover, ¹⁸ And offer sacrifices upon the altar of the Adanay, according to the commandment of king Josias. ¹⁹ So the children of Yasharaal which were present held the passover at that time, and the feast of sweet bread seven days. ²⁰ And such a passover was not kept in Yasharaal since the time of the prophet Shamawaal. ²¹ Yea, all the kings of Yasharaal held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Yasharaal that were found dwelling at Yarawashalam. ²² In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover kept. ²³ And the works of Josias were upright before his Adanay with an heart full of godliness. ²⁴ As for the things that came to pass in his time, they were written in former times, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Adanay above all people and kingdoms, and how they grieved him exceedingly, so that the words of the Adanay rose up against Yasharaal. ²⁵ Now after all these acts of Josias it came to pass, that Paraih the king of Matzarayam came to raise war at Carchamis upon Parath: and Josias went out against him. ²⁶ But the king of Matzarayam sent to him, saying, What have

I to do with you, O king of Yahawadah? ²⁷ I am not sent out from the Adanay Alahayam against you; for my war is upon Parath: and now the Adanay is with me, yea, the Adanay is with me hasting me forward: depart from me, and be not against the Adanay. ²⁸ Howbeit Josias did not turn back his chariot from him, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremy spoken by the mouth of the Adanay: ²⁹ But joined battle with him in the plain of Magiddo, and the princes came against king Josias. ³⁰ Then said the king to his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants took him away out of the battle. ³¹ Then gat he up upon his second chariot; and being brought back to Yarawashalam died, and was buried in his father's sepulchre. ³² And in all Yahawad they mourned for Josias, yea, Jeremy the prophet lamented for Josias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him to this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Yasharaal. ³³ These things are written in the book of the stories of the kings of Yahawadah, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Adanay, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the book of the kings of Yasharaal and Yahawadah. ³⁴ And the people took Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king instead of Josias his father, when he was twenty and three years old. ³⁵ And he reigned in Yahawadah and in Yarawashalam three months: and then the king of Matzarayam deposed him from reigning in Yarawashalam. ³⁶ And he set a tax upon the land of an hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold. ³⁷ The king of Matzarayam also made king Joacim his brother king of Yahawadah and Yarawashalam. ³⁸ And he bound Joacim and the nobles: but Zaraces his brother he apprehended, and brought him out of Matzarayam. ³⁹ Five and twenty years old was Joacim when he was made king in the land of Yahawadah and Yarawashalam; and he did evil before the Adanay. ⁴⁰ Therefore against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babal came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him into Babal. ⁴¹ Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Adanay, and carried them away, and set them in his own temple at Babal. ⁴² But those things that are recorded of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings. ⁴³ And Joacim his son reigned in his stead: he was made king being eighteen years old; ⁴⁴ And reigned but three months and ten days in Yarawashalam; and did evil before the Adanay. ⁴⁵ So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought into Babal with the holy vessels of the Adanay; ⁴⁶ And made Zedechias king of Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, when he was one and twenty years old; and he reigned eleven years: ⁴⁷ And he did evil also in the sight of the Adanay, and cared not for the words that were spoken to him by the prophet Jeremy from the mouth of the Adanay. ⁴⁸ And after that king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Adanay, he forswore himself, and rebelled; and hardening his neck, his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal. ⁴⁹ The governors also of the people and of the priests did many things against the laws, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Adanay, which was sanctified in Yarawashalam. ⁵⁰ Nevertheless the Alahayam of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he spared them and his tabernacle also. ⁵¹ But they had his messengers in derision; and, look, when the Adanay spoke to them, they made a sport of his prophets: ⁵² So far forth, that he, being wroth with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded the kings of the Kashadayam to come up against them; ⁵³ Who slew their young men with the sword, yea, even within the compass of their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child, among them; for he delivered all into their hands.⁵⁴ And they took all the holy vessels of the Adanay, both great and small, with the vessels of the ark of Alahayam, and the king's treasures, and carried them away into Babal.⁵⁵ As for the house of the Adanay, they burnt it, and broke down the walls of Yarawashalam, and set fire upon her towers:⁵⁶ And as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had consumed and brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword he carried to Babal:⁵⁷ Who became servants to him and his children, till the Paras reigned, to fulfil the word of the Adanay spoken by the mouth of Jeremy:⁵⁸ Until the land had enjoyed her sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she rest, until the full term of seventy years.

2 In the first year of Kavarash king of the Paras, that the word of the Adanay might be accomplished, that he had promised by the mouth of Jeremy;² The Adanay raised up the spirit of Kavarash the king of the Paras, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing.³ Saying, Thus says Kavarash king of the Paras; The Adanay of Yasharaal, the most high Adanay, has made me king of the whole world,⁴ And commanded me to build him an house at Yarawashalam in Yahawad.⁵ If therefore there be any of you that are of his people, let the Adanay, even his Adanay, be with him, and let him go up to Yarawashalam that is in Yahawadah, and build the house of the Adanay of Yasharaal: for he is the Adanay that dwells in Yarawashalam.⁶ Whosoever then dwell in the places about, let them help him, those, I say, that are his neighbours, with gold, and with silver,⁷ With gifts, with horses, and with cattle, and other things, which have been set forth by vow, for the temple of the Adanay at Yarawashalam.⁸ Then the chief of the families of Yahawadah and of the tribe of Banayaman stood up; the priests also, and the Levites, and all they whose mind the Adanay had moved to go up, and to build an house for the Adanay at Yarawashalam,⁹ And they that dwelt round about them, and helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many free gifts of a great number whose minds were stirred up thereto.¹⁰ King Kavarash also brought forth the holy vessels, which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Yarawashalam, and had set up in his temple of idols.¹¹ Now when Kavarash king of the Paras had brought them forth, he delivered them to Mithridates his treasurer:¹² And by him they were delivered to Sanabassar the governor of Yahawadah.¹³ And this was the number of them; A thousand golden cups, and a thousand of silver, censers of silver twenty nine, vials of gold thirty, and of silver two thousand four hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.¹⁴ So all the vessels of gold and of silver, which were carried away, were five thousand four hundred threescore and nine.¹⁵ These were brought back by Sanabassar, together with them of the captivity, from Babal to Yarawashalam.¹⁶ But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Paras Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and Semellius the secretary, with others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Shamarawan and other places, wrote to him against them that dwelt in Yahawadah and Yarawashalam these letters following;¹⁷ To king Artaxerxes our lord, Your servants, Rathumus the storywriter, and Semellius the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that are in Celosyria and Phenice.¹⁸ Be it now known to the lord king, that the Jews that are up from you to us, being come into Yarawashalam, that rebellious and wicked city, do build the marketplaces, and repair the walls of it and do lay the foundation of the temple.¹⁹ Now if this city and the walls thereof be made up again, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but also rebel against kings.²⁰ And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter,²¹ But to speak to our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be your pleasure it may be sought out in the books of your fathers:²² And you shall find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shall understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities:²³ And that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein; for the which cause even this city was made desolate.²⁴ Therefore now we do declare to you, O lord the king, that if this city be built again, and the walls thereof set up anew, you shall from henceforth have no passage into Celosyria and Phenice.²⁵ Then the king wrote back again to Rathumus the storywriter, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwellers in Shamarawan and Aram and Phenice, after this manner;²⁶ I have read the epistle which you have sent to me: therefore I commanded to make diligent search, and it has been found that that city was from the beginning practising against kings;²⁷ And the men therein were given to rebellion and war: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Yarawashalam, who reigned and exacted tributes in Celosyria and Phenice.²⁸ Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be no more done in it;²⁹ And that those wicked workers proceed no further to the annoyance of kings,³⁰ Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Semellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste toward Yarawashalam with a troop of horsemen and a multitude of people in battle array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Yarawashalam ceased until the second year of the reign of Darayawash king of the Paras.

3 Now when Darayawash reigned, he made a great feast to all his subjects, and to all his household, and to all the princes of Maday and Paras,² And to all the governors and captains and lieutenants that were under him, from Hadaw to Kawash, of an hundred twenty and seven provinces.³ And when they had eaten and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darayawash the king went into his bedchamber, and slept, and soon after awaked.⁴ Then three young men, that were of the guard that kept the king's body, spoke one to another;⁵ Let every one of us speak a sentence: he that shall overcome, and whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, to him shall the king Darayawash give great gifts, and great things in token of victory:⁶ As, to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and an headtire of fine linen, and a chain about his neck:⁷ And he shall sit next to Darayawash because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darayawash his cousin.⁸ And then every one wrote his sentence, sealed it, and laid it under king Darayawash his pillow;⁹ And said that, when the king is risen, some will give him the writings; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Paras shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as was appointed.¹⁰ The first wrote, Wine is the strongest.¹¹ The second wrote, The king is strongest.¹² The third wrote, Women are strongest: but above all things Truth bears away the victory.¹³ Now when the king was risen up, they took their writings, and delivered them to him, and so he read them:¹⁴ And sending forth he called all the princes of Paras and Maday, and the governors, and the captains, and the lieutenants, and the chief officers;¹⁵ And sat him down in the royal seat of judgment; and the writings were read before them.¹⁶ And he said, Call the young men, and they shall declare their own sentences. So they were called, and came in.¹⁷ And he said to them, Declare to us your mind concerning the writings. Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine;¹⁸ And he said thus, O you men, how exceeding strong is wine! it causes all men to err that drink it:¹⁹ It makes the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be all one; of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poor man and of the rich:²⁰ It turns also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembers neither sorrow nor debt:²¹ And it makes every heart rich, so that a man remembers neither king nor governor; and it makes to speak all things by talents:²² And when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw out swords:²³ But when they are from the wine, they remember not what they have done.²⁴ O you men, is not wine the strongest, that enforces to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

4 Then the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,² O you men, do not men excel in strength that bear rule over sea and land and all things in them?³ But yet the king is more mighty: for he is lord of all these things, and has dominion over them; and whatsoever he commands them they do.⁴ If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it: if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and break down mountains walls and towers.⁵ They slay and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else.⁶ Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute to the king.⁷ And yet he is but one man: if he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare;⁸ If he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build;⁹ If he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant.¹⁰ So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lies down, he eats and drinks, and takes his rest.¹¹ And these keep watch round about him, neither may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in any thing.¹² O you men, how should not the king be mightiest, when in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his tongue.¹³ Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of the truth, (this was Zorobabel) began to speak.¹⁴ O you men, it is not the great king, nor the multitude of men, neither is it wine, that excels; who is it then that rules them, or has the lordship over them? are they not women?¹⁵ Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land.¹⁶ Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards, from whence the wine comes.¹⁷ These also make garments for men; these bring glory to men; and without women cannot men be.¹⁸ Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver, or any other goodly thing, do they not love a woman which is comely in favour and beauty?¹⁹ And letting all those things go, do they not gape, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her; and have not all men more desire to her than to silver or gold, or any goodly thing whatsoever?²⁰ A man leaves his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaves to his wife.²¹ He sticketh not to spend his life with his wife, and remembers neither father, nor mother, nor country.²² By this also you must know that women have dominion over you: do you not labour and toil, and give and bring all to the woman?²³ Yea, a man takes his sword, and goes his way to rob and to steal, to sail upon the sea and upon rivers;²⁴ And looks upon a lion, and goes in the darkness; and when he has stolen, spoiled, and robbed, he brings it to his love.²⁵ Therefore a man loves his wife better than father or mother.²⁶ Yea, many there be that have run out of their wits for women, and become servants for their sakes.²⁷ Many also have perished, have erred, and sinned, for women.²⁸ And now do you not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him?²⁹ Yet did I see him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the admirable Bartacus, sitting at the right hand of the king,³⁰ And taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; she also struck the king with her left hand.³¹ And yet for all this the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, the king was fain to flatter, that she might be reconciled to him again.³² O you men, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?³³ Then the king and the princes looked one upon another: so he began to speak of the truth.³⁴ O you men, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sun in his course, for he compasses the heavens round about, and fetches his course again to his own place in one day.³⁵ Is he not great that makes these things? therefore great is the truth, and stronger than all things.³⁶ All the earth cries upon the truth, and the heaven blesses it: all works shake and tremble at it, and with it is no unrighteous thing.³⁷ Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, and such are all their wicked works; and there is no truth in them; in their unrighteousness also they shall perish.³⁸ As for the truth, it endures, and is alwaYs strong; it lives and conquers for evermore.³⁹ With her there is no accepting of persons or rewards; but she does the things that are just, and refraineth from all unjust and wicked things; and all men do well like of her works.⁴⁰ Neither in her judgment is any unrighteousness; and she is the strength, kingdom, power, and majesty, of all ages. Blessed be the Alahayam of truth.⁴¹ And with that he held his peace. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is Truth, and mighty above all things.⁴² Then said the king to him, Ask what you will more than is appointed in the writing, and we will give it you, because you are found wisest; and you shall sit next me, and shall be called my cousin.⁴³ Then said he to the king, Remember your vow, which you have vowed to build Yarawashalam, in the day when you came to your kingdom,⁴⁴ And to send away all the vessels that were taken away out of Yarawashalam, which Kavarash set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babal, and to send them again there.⁴⁵ You also have vowed to build up the temple, which the Adawam burned when Yahawadah was made desolate by the Kashadayam.⁴⁶ And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of you, and this is the princely liberality proceeding from yourself: I desire therefore that you make good the vow, the performance whereof with your own mouth you have vowed to the King of heaven.⁴⁷ Then Darayawash the king stood up, and kissed him, and wrote letters for him to all the treasurers and lieutenants and captains and governors, that they should safely convey on their way both him, and all those that go up with him to build Yarawashalam.⁴⁸ He wrote letters also to the lieutenants that were in Celosyria and Phenice, and to them in Libanus, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanus to Yarawashalam, and that they should build the city with him.⁴⁹ Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that went out of his realm up into Yahawad, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors;⁵⁰ And that all the country which they hold should be free without tribute; and that the Adawam should give over the villages of the Jews which then they held:⁵¹ Yea, that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built;⁵² And other ten talents yearly, to maintain the burnt offerings upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen:⁵³ And that all they that went from Babal to build the city should have free liberty, as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that went away.⁵⁴ He wrote also concerning the charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister;⁵⁵ And likewise for the charges of the Levites, to be given them until the day that the house were finished, and Yarawashalam builded up.⁵⁶ And he commanded to give to all that kept the city pensions and wages.⁵⁷ He sent away also all the vessels from Babal, that Kavarash had set apart; and all that Kavarash had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent to Yarawashalam.⁵⁸ Now when this young man was gone forth, he lifted up his face to heaven toward Yarawashalam, and praised the King of heaven,⁵⁹ And said, From you comes victory, from you comes wisdom, and your is the glory, and I am your servant.⁶⁰ Blessed are you, who have given me wisdom: for to you I give thanks, O Adanay of our fathers.⁶¹ And so he took the letters, and went out, and came to Babal, and told it all his brethren.⁶² And they praised the Alahayam of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and liberty.⁶³ To go up, and to build Yarawashalam, and the temple which is called by his name: and they feasted with instruments of musick and gladness seven days.

5 After this were the principal men of the families chosen according to their tribes, to go up with their wives and sons and daughters, with their menservants and maidservants, and their cattle.² And Darayawash sent with them a thousand horsemen, till they had brought them back to Yarawashalam safely, and with musical instruments tabrets and flutes.³ And all their brethren played, and he made them go up together with them.⁴ And these are the names of the men which went up, according to their families among their tribes, after their several heads.⁵ The priests, the sons of Phinees the son of Aharan: Yashawai the son of Josedec, the son of Saraia, and Joacim the son of Zorobabel, the son of Salathiel, of the house of Dawad, out of the kindred of Phares, of the tribe of Yahawadah; ⁶ Who spoke wise sentences before Darayawash the king of Paras in the second year of his reign, in the month Naysan, which is the first month. ⁷ And these are they of Yahawad that came up from the captivity, where they dwelt as strangers, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babal had carried away to Babal. ⁸ And they returned to Yarawashalam, and to the other parts of Yahawad, every man to his own city, who came with Zorobabel, with Yashawai, Nehemias, and Zacharias, and Reesaias, Enenius, Mardocheus. Beelsarus, Aspharasus, Reelius, Roimus, and Bainaa, their guides. ⁹ The number of them of the nation, and their governors, sons of Phoros, two thousand an hundred seventy and two; the sons of Saphat, four hundred seventy and two: ¹⁰ The sons of Ares, seven hundred fifty and six: ¹¹ The sons of Phaath Mawaab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve: ¹² The sons of Iyalam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four: the sons of Zathul, nine hundred forty and five: the sons of Corbe, seven hundred and five: the sons of Banay, six hundred forty and eight: ¹³ The sons of Babay, six hundred twenty and three: the sons of Sadas, three thousand two hundred twenty and two: ¹⁴ The sons of Adanayaqam, six hundred sixty and seven: the sons of Bagoi, two thousand sixty and six: the sons of Idayan, four hundred fifty and four: ¹⁵ The sons of Aterezias, ninety and two: the sons of Ceilan and Azetas threescore and seven: the sons of Azuran, four hundred thirty and two: ¹⁶ The sons of Ananias, an hundred and one: the sons of Arom, thirty two: and the sons of Bassa, three hundred twenty and three: the sons of Azephurith, an hundred and two: ¹⁷ The sons of Meterus, three thousand and five: the sons of Bethlomon, an hundred twenty and three: ¹⁸ They of Natapah, fifty and five: they of Inathawath, an hundred fifty and eight: they of Bethsamos, forty and two: ¹⁹ They of Kiriathiarius, twenty and five: they of Caphira and Baarawath, seven hundred forty and three: they of Pira, seven hundred: ²⁰ They of Chadias and Ammidoi, four hundred twenty and two: they of Cirama and Gabdes, six hundred twenty and one: ²¹ They of Macalon, an hundred twenty and two: they of Betolius, fifty and two: the sons of Nephis, an hundred fifty and six: ²² The sons of Calamolalus and Onus, seven hundred twenty and five: the sons of Jerechus, two hundred forty and five: ²³ The sons of Annas, three thousand three hundred and thirty. ²⁴ The priests: the sons of Jeddu, the son of Yashawai among the sons of Sanasib, nine hundred seventy and two: the sons of Meruth, a thousand fifty and two: ²⁵ The sons of Phassaron, a thousand forty and seven: the sons of Carme, a thousand and seventeen. ²⁶ The Levites: the sons of Jessue, and Cadmiel, and Banuas, and Sudias, seventy and four. ²⁷ The holy singers: the sons of Asap, an hundred twenty and eight. ²⁸ The porters: the sons of Salum, the sons of Jatal, the sons of Talamawan, the sons of Dacobi, the sons of Teta, the sons of Sami, in all an hundred thirty and nine. ²⁹ The servants of the temple: the sons of Ishaw, the sons of Asipha, the sons of Tabaiwath, the sons of Ceras, the sons of Sud, the sons of Phaleas, the sons of Labana, the sons of Graba, ³⁰ The sons of Acua, the sons of Uta, the sons of Cetab, the sons of Agaba, the sons of Subai, the sons of Inan, the sons of Cathua, the sons of Geddur, ³¹ The sons of Airus, the sons of Daisan, the sons of Noeba, the sons of Chaseba, the sons of Gazera, the sons of Azia, the sons of Phinees, the sons of Azare, the sons of Bastai, the sons of Asana, the sons of Meani, the sons of Naphisi, the sons of Acub, the sons of Acipha, the sons of Ashawar, the sons of Pharacim, the sons of Basaloth, ³² The sons of Meeda, the sons of Coutha, the sons of Charea, the sons of Charcus, the sons of Aserer, the sons of Thomoi, the sons of Nasith, the sons of Atipha. ³³ The sons of the servants of Shalamah: the sons of Azaphion, the sons of Pharira, the sons of Jeeli, the sons of Lozon, the sons of Yasharaal, the sons of Sapheth, ³⁴ The sons of Hagia, the sons of Pharacareth, the sons of Sabi, the sons of Sarothie, the sons of Masias, the sons of Gar, the sons of Addus, the sons of Suba, the sons of Apherra, the sons of Barodis, the sons of Sabat, the sons of Allom. ³⁵ All the ministers of the temple, and the sons of the servants of Shalamah, were three hundred seventy and two. ³⁶ These came up from Thermeleth and Thelersas, Charaathalar leading them, and Aalar; ³⁷ Neither could they show their families, nor their stock, how they were of Yasharaal: the sons of Laidan, the son of Ban, the sons of Necodan, six hundred fifty and two. ³⁸ And of the priests that usurped the office of the priesthood, and were not found: the sons of Obdia, the sons of Accoz, the sons of Addus, who married Augia one of the daughters of Barzelus, and was named after his name. ³⁹ And when the description of the kindred of these men was sought in the register, and was not found, they were removed from executing the office of the priesthood: ⁴⁰ For to them said Nehemias and Atharias, that they should not be partakers of the holy things, till there arose up an high priest clothed with doctrine and truth. ⁴¹ So of Yasharaal, from them of twelve years old and upward, they were all in number forty thousand, beside menservants and womenservants two thousand three hundred and sixty. ⁴² Their menservants and handmaids were seven thousand three hundred forty and seven: the singing men and singing women, two hundred forty and five: ⁴³ Four hundred thirty and five camels, seven thousand thirty and six horses, two hundred forty and five mules, five thousand five hundred twenty and five beasts used to the yoke. ⁴⁴ And certain of the chief of their families, when they came to the temple of Alahayam that is in Yarawashalam, vowed to set up the house again in his own place according to their ability, ⁴⁵ And to give into the holy treasury of the works a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, and an hundred priestly vestments. ⁴⁶ And so dwelt the priests and the Levites and the people in Yarawashalam, and in the country, the singers also and the porters; and all Yasharaal in their villages. ⁴⁷ But when the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Yasharaal were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into the open place of the first gate which is toward the east. ⁴⁸ Then stood up Yashawai the son of Josedec, and his brethren the priests and Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of the Alahayam of Yasharaal, ⁴⁹ To offer burnt sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Mashah the man of Alahayam. ⁵⁰ And there were gathered to them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon his own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppressed them; and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt offerings to the Adanay both morning and evening. ⁵¹ Also they held the feast of tabernacles, as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet: ⁵² And after that, the continual oblations, and the sacrifice of the sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all holy feasts. ⁵³ And all they that had made any vow to Alahayam began to offer sacrifices to Alahayam from the first day of the seventh month, although the temple of the Adanay was not yet built. ⁵⁴ And they gave to the masons and carpenters money, meat, and drink, with cheerfulness. ⁵⁵ To them of Tzayadawan also and Tzar they gave carrs, that they should bring cedar trees from Libanus, which should be brought by floats to the haven of Yapaw, according as it was commanded them by Kwarash king of the Paras. ⁵⁶ And in the second year and second month after his coming to the temple of Alahayam at Yarawashalam began Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Yashawai the son of Josedec, and their brethren, and the priests, and the Levites, and all they that were come to Yarawashalam out of the captivity: ⁵⁷ And they laid the foundation of the house of Alahayam in the first day of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Yahawad and Yarawashalam. ⁵⁸ And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Adanay. Then stood up Yashawai, and his sons and brethren, and Cadmiel his brother, and the sons of Madiabun, with the sons of Joda the son of Eliadun, with their sons and brethren, all Levites, with one accord setters forward of the business, labouring to advance the works in the house of Alahayam. So the workmen built the temple of the Adanay. ⁵⁹ And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments with musical instruments and trumpets; and the Levites the sons of Asap had cymbals, ⁶⁰ Singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Adanay, according as Dawad the king of Yasharaal had ordained. ⁶¹ And they sung with loud voices songs to the praise of the Adanay, because his mercy and glory is for ever in all Yasharaal.⁶² And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving to the Adanay for the rearing up of the house of the Adanay.⁶³ Also of the priests and Levites, and of the chief of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house came to the building of this with weeping and great crying.⁶⁴ But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice,⁶⁵ Insomuch that the trumpets might not be heard for the weeping of the people: yet the multitude sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afar off.⁶⁶ Therefore when the enemies of the tribe of Yahawadah and Banayaman heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean.⁶⁷ And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple to the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal.⁶⁸ So they went to Zorobabel and Yashawai, and to the chief of the families, and said to them, We will build together with you.⁶⁹ For we likewise, as you, do obey your Adanay, and do sacrifice to him from the days of Azbazareth the king of the Ashawar, who brought us here.⁷⁰ Then Zorobabel and Yashawai and the chief of the families of Yasharaal said to them, It is not for us and you to build together an house to the Adanay our Alahayam.⁷¹ We ourselves alone will build to the Adanay of Yasharaal, according as Kavarash the king of the Paras has commanded us.⁷² But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Yahawadah, and holding them strait, hindered their building;⁷³ And by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that king Kavarash lived: so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, until the reign of Darayawash.

6 Now in the second year of the reign of Darayawash Aggeus and Zacharias the son of Addo, the prophets, prophesied to the Jews in Yahawad and Yarawashalam in the name of the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, which was upon them.² Then stood up Zorobabel the son of Salatiel, and Yashawai the son of Josedec, and began to build the house of the Adanay at Yarawashalam, the prophets of the Adanay being with them, and helping them.³ At the same time came to them Sisinnes the governor of Aram and Phenice, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said to them,⁴ By whose appointment do you build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the workmen that perform these things?⁵ Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Adanay had visited the captivity;⁶ And they were not hindered from building, until such time as signification was given to Darayawash concerning them, and an answer received.⁷ The copy of the letters which Sisinnes, governor of Aram and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, rulers in Aram and Phenice, wrote and sent to Darayawash; To king Darayawash, greeting:⁸ Let all things be known to our lord the king, that being come into the country of Yahawadah, and entered into the city of Yarawashalam we found in the city of Yarawashalam the ancients of the Jews that were of the captivity.⁹ Building an house to the Adanay, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, and the timber already laid upon the walls.¹⁰ And those works are done with great speed, and the work goes on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence is it made.¹¹ Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandment build you this house, and lay the foundations of these works?¹² Therefore to the intent that we might give knowledge to you by writing, we demanded of them who were the chief doers, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men.¹³ So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Adanay which made heaven and earth.¹⁴ And as for this house, it was builded many years ago by a king of Yasharaal great and strong, and was finished.¹⁵ But when our fathers provoked Alahayam to wrath, and sinned against the Adanay of Yasharaal which is in heaven, he gave them over into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babal, of the Kashadayam;¹⁶ Who pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried away the people captives to Babal.¹⁷ But in the first year that king Kavarash reigned over the country of Babal Kavarash the king wrote to build up this house.¹⁸ And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Yarawashalam, and had set them in his own temple those Kavarash the king brought forth again out of the temple at Babal, and they were delivered to Zorobabel and to Sanabassar the ruler,¹⁹ With commandment that he should carry away the same vessels, and put them in the temple at Yarawashalam; and that the temple of the Adanay should be built in his place.²⁰ Then the same Sanabassar, being come here, laid the foundations of the house of the Adanay at Yarawashalam; and from that time to this being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.²¹ Now therefore, if it seem good to the king, let search be made among the records of king Kavarash:²² And if it be found that the building of the house of the Adanay at Yarawashalam has been done with the consent of king Kavarash, and if our lord the king be so minded, let him signify to us thereof.²³ Then commanded king Darayawash to seek among the records at Babal: and so at Ecbatane the palace, which is in the country of Maday, there was found a roll wherein these things were recorded.²⁴ In the first year of the reign of Kavarash king Kavarash commanded that the house of the Adanay at Yarawashalam should be built again, where they do sacrifice with continual fire:²⁵ Whose height shall be sixty cubits and the breadth sixty cubits, with three rows of hewn stones, and one row of new wood of that country; and the expences thereof to be given out of the house of king Kavarash:²⁶ And that the holy vessels of the house of the Adanay, both of gold and silver, that Nabuchodonosor took out of the house at Yarawashalam, and brought to Babal, should be restored to the house at Yarawashalam, and be set in the place where they were before.²⁷ And also he commanded that Sisinnes the governor of Aram and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Aram and Phenice, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Zorobabel, the servant of the Adanay, and governor of Yahawadah, and the elders of the Jews, to build the house of the Adanay in that place.²⁸ I have commanded also to have it built up whole again; and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of the Jews, till the house of the Adanay be finished:²⁹ And out of the tribute of Celosyria and Phenice a portion carefully to be given these men for the sacrifices of the Adanay, that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs;³⁰ And also corn, salt, wine, and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Yarawashalam shall signify to be daily spent:³¹ That offerings may be made to the most high Alahayam for the king and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives.³² And he commanded that whosoever should transgress, yea, or make light of any thing afore spoken or written, out of his own house should a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king.³³ The Adanay therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that stretcheth out his hand to hinder or endamage that house of the Adanay in Yarawashalam.³⁴ I Darayawash the king have ordained that according to these things it be done with diligence.

7 Then Sisinnes the governor of Celosyria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions following the commandments of king Darayawash,² Did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the ancients of the Jews and governors of the temple.³ And so the holy works prospered, when Aggeus and Zacharias the prophets prophesied.⁴ And they finished these things by the commandment of the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, and with the consent of Kavarash, Darayawash, and Artexerxes, kings of Paras.⁵ And thus was the holy house finished in the three and twentieth day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of Darayawash king of the Paras.⁶ And the children of Yasharaal, the priests, and the Levites, and others that were of the captivity, that were added to them, did according to the things written in the book of Mashah.⁷ And to the dedication of the temple of the Adanay they offered an hundred bullocks two hundred rams, four hundred lambs;⁸ And twelve goats for the sin of all Yasharaal, according to the number of the chief of the tribes of Yasharaal.⁹ The priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their kindreds, in the service of the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, according to the book of Mashah: and the porters at every gate.¹⁰ And the children of Yasharaal that were of the captivity held the passover the fourteenth day of the first month, after that the priests and the Levites were sanctified.¹¹ They that were of the captivity were not all sanctified together: but the Levites were all sanctified together.¹² And so they offered the passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.¹³ And the children of Yasharaal that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Adanay.¹⁴ And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Adanay.¹⁵ For that he had turned the counsel of the king of Ashawar toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal.

8 And after these things, when Artexerxes the king of the Paras reigned came Esdras the son of Saraia, the son of Ezerias, the son of Helchiah, the son of Salum,² The son of Sadduc, the son of Achitob, the son of Amarias, the son of Ezias, the son of Maramawath, the son of Zariaas, the son of Savias, the son of Boccas, the son of Abisum, the son of Phinees, the son of Alaizar, the son of Aharan the chief priest.³ This Esdras went up from Babal, as a scribe, being very ready in the law of Mashah, that was given by the Alahayam of Yasharaal.⁴ And the king did him honour: for he found grace in his sight in all his requests.⁵ There went up with him also certain of the children of Yasharaal, of the priest of the Levites, of the holy singers, porters, and ministers of the temple, to Yarawashalam.⁶ In the seventh year of the reign of Artexerxes, in the fifth month, this was the king's seventh year; for they went from Babal in the first day of the first month, and came to Yarawashalam, according to the prosperous journey which the Adanay gave them.⁷ For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Adanay, but taught all Yasharaal the ordinances and judgments.⁸ Now the copy of the commission, which was written from Artexerxes the king, and came to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Adanay, is this that follows;⁹ King Artexerxes to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Adanay sends greeting:¹⁰ Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order, that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites being within our realm, as are willing and desirous should go with you to Yarawashalam.¹¹ As many therefore as have a mind thereunto, let them depart with you, as it has seemed good both to me and my seven friends the counsellors;¹² That they may look to the affairs of Yahawadah and Yarawashalam, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Adanay;¹³ And carry the gifts to the Adanay of Yasharaal to Yarawashalam, which I and my friends have vowed, and all the gold and silver that in the country of Babal can be found, to the Adanay in Yarawashalam,¹⁴ With that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Adanay their Alahayam at Yarawashalam: and that silver and gold may be collected for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining;¹⁵ To the end that they may offer sacrifices to the Adanay upon the altar of the Adanay their Alahayam, which is in Yarawashalam.¹⁶ And whatsoever you and your brethren will do with the silver and gold, that do, according to the will of your Alahayam.¹⁷ And the holy vessels of the Adanay, which are given you for the use of the temple of your Alahayam, which is in Yarawashalam, you shall set before your Alahayam in Yarawashalam.¹⁸ And whatsoever thing else you shall remember for the use of the temple of your Alahayam, you shall give it out of the king's treasury.¹⁹ And I king Artexerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Aram and Phenice, that whatsoever Esdras the priest and the reader of the law of the most high Alahayam shall send for, they should give it him with speed,²⁰ To the sum of an hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to an hundred cors, and an hundred pieces of wine, and other things in abundance.²¹ Let all things be performed after the law of Alahayam diligently to the most high

Alahayam, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons.²² I command you also, that you require no tax, nor any other imposition, of any of the priests, or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or ministers of the temple, or of any that have doings in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose any thing upon them.²³ And you, Esdras, according to the wisdom of Alahayam ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all Aram and Phenice all those that know the law of your Alahayam; and those that know it not you shall teach.²⁴ And whosoever shall transgress the law of your Alahayam, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by imprisonment.²⁵ Then said Esdras the scribe, Blessed be the only Adanay Alahayam of my fathers, who has put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify his house that is in Yarawashalam:²⁶ And has honoured me in the sight of the king, and his counsellors, and all his friends and nobles.²⁷ Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Adanay my Alahayam, and gathered together men of Yasharaal to go up with me.²⁸ And these are the chief according to their families and several dignities, that went up with me from Babal in the reign of king Artexerxes:²⁹ Of the sons of Phinees, Gerson: of the sons of Ayathammar, Gamael: of the sons of Dawad, Lettus the son of Sechenias:³⁰ Of the sons of Paratz, Zacharias; and with him were counted an hundred and fifty men:³¹ Of the sons of Pahath Mawaab, Eliaonias, the son of Zariaas, and with him two hundred men:³² Of the sons of Zathoe, Sechenias the son of Jezelus, and with him three hundred men: of the sons of Idayan, Obeth the son of Yahawanathan, and with him two hundred and fifty men:³³ Of the sons of Iyalam, Josias son of Gotholias, and with him seventy men:³⁴ Of the sons of Saphatias, Zariaas son of Mayakaal, and with him threescore and ten men:³⁵ Of the sons of Yawaab, Abadias son of Jezelus, and with him two hundred and twelve men:³⁶ Of the sons of Banid, Assalimoth son of Josaphias, and with him an hundred and threescore men:³⁷ Of the sons of Babi, Zacharias son of Babay, and with him twenty and eight men:³⁸ Of the sons of Astath, Johannes son of Acatan, and with him an hundred and ten men:³⁹ Of the sons of Adanayaqam the last, and these are the names of them, Alayapalat, Jewel, and Samaias, and with them seventy men:⁴⁰ Of the sons of Bago, Uthi the son of Istalcurus, and with him seventy men.⁴¹ And these I gathered together to the river called Theras, where we pitched our tents three days: and then I surveyed them.⁴² But when I had found there none of the priests and Levites,⁴³ Then sent I to Alaizar, and Iduel, and Masman,⁴⁴ And Alnathan, and Mamaias, and Joribas, and Nathan, Eunatan, Zacharias, and Mosollamon, principal men and learned.⁴⁵ And I bade them that they should go to Saddeus the captain, who was in the place of the treasury:⁴⁶ And commanded them that they should speak to Dadeus, and to his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priests' office in the house of the Adanay.⁴⁷ And by the mighty hand of our Adanay they brought to us skilful men of the sons of Moli the son of Laway, the son of Yasharaal, Asebebia, and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen.⁴⁸ And Asebia, and Annus, and Osaia his brother, of the sons of Channuneus, and their sons, were twenty men.⁴⁹ And of the servants of the temple whom Dawad had ordained, and the principal men for the service of the Levites to wit, the servants of the temple two hundred and twenty, the catalogue of whose names were showed.⁵⁰ And there I vowed a fast to the young men before our Adanay, to desire of him a prosperous journey both for us and them that were with us, for our children, and for the cattle:⁵¹ For I was ashamed to ask the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries.⁵² For we had said to the king, that the power of the Adanay our Alahayam should be with them that seek him, to support them in all ways.⁵³ And again we besought our Adanay as touching these things, and found him favourable to us.⁵⁴ Then I separated twelve of the chief of the priests, Esebias, and Assanias, and ten men of their brethren with them:⁵⁵ And I weighed them the gold, and the silver, and the holy vessels of the house of our Adanay, which the king, and his council, and the princes, and all Yasharaal, had given.⁵⁶ And when I had weighed it, I delivered to them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of an hundred talents, and an hundred talents of gold.⁵⁷ And twenty golden vessels, and twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold.⁵⁸ And I said to them, Both you are holy to the Adanay, and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver is a vow to the Adanay, the Adanay of our fathers.⁵⁹ Watch you, and keep them till you deliver them to the chief of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Yasharaal, in Yarawashalam, into the chambers of the house of our Alahayam.⁶⁰ So the priests and the Levites, who had received the silver and the gold and the vessels, brought them to Yarawashalam, into the temple of the Adanay.⁶¹ And from the river Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, and came to Yarawashalam by the mighty hand of our Adanay, which was with us: and from the beginning of our journey the Adanay delivered us from every enemy, and so we came to Yarawashalam.⁶² And when we had been there three days, the gold and silver that was weighed was delivered in the house of our Adanay on the fourth day to Marmoth the priest the son of Iyaray.⁶³ And with him was Alaizar the son of Phinees, and with them were Yawazabad the son of Jesu and Moeth the son of Sabban, Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight.⁶⁴ And all the weight of them was written up the same hour.⁶⁵ Moreover they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifice to the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, even twelve bullocks for all Yasharaal, fourscore and sixteen rams,⁶⁶ Threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace offering, twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Adanay.⁶⁷ And they delivered the king's commandments to the king's stewards' and to the governors of Celosyria and Phenice; and they honoured the people and the temple of Alahayam.⁶⁸ Now when these things were done, the rulers came to me, and said,⁶⁹ The nation of Yasharaal, the princes, the priests and Levites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land, nor the pollutions of the Gentiles to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Pheresites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Matzarayam, and Adawam.⁷⁰ For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the great men have been partakers of this iniquity.⁷¹ And as soon as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and the holy garment, and pulled off the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad and very heavy.⁷² So all they that were then moved at the word of the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal assembled to me, whilst I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice.⁷³ Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and the holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands to the Adanay,⁷⁴ I said, O Adanay, I am confounded and ashamed before your face;⁷⁵ For our sins are multiplied above our heads, and our ignorances have reached up to heaven.⁷⁶ For ever since the time of our fathers we have been and are in great sin, even to this day.⁷⁷ And for our sins and our fathers' we with our brethren and our kings and our priests were given up to the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame, to this day.⁷⁸ And now in some measure has mercy been showed to us from you, O Adanay, that there should be left us a root and a name in the place of your sanctuary;⁷⁹ And to discover to us a light in the house of the Adanay our Alahayam, and to give us food in the time of our servitude.⁸⁰ Yea, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Adanay; but he made us gracious before the kings of Paras, so that they gave us food;⁸¹ Yea, and honoured the temple of our Adanay, and raised up the desolate Shayaan, that they have given us a sure abiding in Yahawad and Yarawashalam.⁸² And now, O Adanay, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed your commandments, which you gave by the hand of your servants the prophets, saying,⁸³ That the land, which you enter into to possess as an heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness.⁸⁴ Therefore now shall you not join your daughters to their sons, neither shall you take their daughters to your sons.

⁸⁵ Moreover you shall never seek to have peace with them, that you may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that you may leave the inheritance of the land to your children for evermore.

⁸⁶ And all that is befallen is done to us for our wicked works and great sins; for you, O Adanay, did make our sins light,⁸⁷ And did give to us such a root: but we have turned back again to transgress your law, and to mingle ourselves with the uncleanness of the nations of the land.⁸⁸ Might not you be angry with us to destroy us, till you had left us neither root, seed, nor name?⁸⁹ O Adanay of Yasharaal, you are true: for we are left a root this day.⁹⁰ Behold, now are we before you in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any longer by reason of these things before you.⁹¹ And as Esdras in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat upon the ground before the temple, there gathered to him from Yarawashalam a very great multitude of men and women and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude.⁹² Then Jechonias the son of Jeelus, one of the sons of Yasharaal, called out, and said, O Esdras, we have sinned against the Adanay Alahayam, we have married strange women of the nations of the land, and now is all Yasharaal aloft.⁹³ Let us make an oath to the Adanay, that we will put away all our wives, which we have taken of the heathen, with their children,⁹⁴ Like as you have decreed, and as many as do obey the law of the Adanay.⁹⁵ Arise and put in execution: for to you does this matter appertain, and we will be with you: do valiantly.⁹⁶ So Esdras arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites of all Yasharaal to do after these things; and so they swore.

9 Then Esdras rising from the court of the temple went to the chamber of Joanan the son of Eliasib,² And remained there, and did eat no meat nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude.³ And there was a proclamation in all Yahawad and Yarawashalam to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Yarawashalam:⁴ And that whosoever met not there within two or three days according as the elders that bore rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself cast out from them that were of the captivity.⁵ And in three days were all they of the tribe of Yahawadah and Banayaman gathered together at Yarawashalam the twentieth day of the ninth month.⁶ And all the multitude sat trembling in the broad court of the temple because of the present foul weather.⁷ So Esdras arose up, and said to them, You have transgressed the law in marrying strange wives, thereby to increase the sins of Yasharaal.⁸ And now by confessing give glory to the Adanay Alahayam of our fathers,⁹ And do his will, and separate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women.¹⁰ Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice, Like as you have spoken, so will we do.¹¹ But forasmuch as the people are many, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of a day or two, seeing our sin in these things is spread far:¹² Therefore let the rulers of the multitude stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives come at the time appointed,¹³ And with them the rulers and judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Adanay from us for this matter.¹⁴ Then Yahawanathan the son of Azael and Ezechias the son of Theocanus accordingly took this matter upon them: and Mosollam and Levis and Sabbatheus helped them.¹⁵ And they that were of the captivity did according to all these things.¹⁶ And Esdras the priest chose to him the principal men of their families, all by name: and in the first day of the tenth month they sat together to examine the matter.¹⁷ So their cause that held strange wives was brought to an end in the first day of the first month.¹⁸ And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found:¹⁹ Of the sons of Yashawai the son of Josedec, and his brethren; Matthelas and Alaizar, and Joribus and Joadanus.²⁰ And they gave their hands to put away their wives and to offer rams to make reconciliation for their errors.²¹ And of the sons of Emmer; Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Eanes, and Sameius, and Hiereel, and Azarias.²² And of the sons of Phaisur; Elionas, Massias Yasharaal, and Nathanaal, and Ocidelus and Talsas.²³ And of the Levites; Yawazabad, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Patheus, and Yahawadah, and Jonas.²⁴ Of the holy singers; Eleazurus, Bacchurus.²⁵ Of the porters; Sallumus, and Tolbanes.²⁶ Of them of Yasharaal, of the sons of Phoros; Hiermas, and Eddias, and Melchias, and Maelus, and Alaizar, and Asibias, and Baanias.²⁷ Of the sons of Alaa; Matthanas, Zacharias, and Hierielus, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.²⁸ And of the sons of Zamoth; Eliadas, Elisimus, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabatus, and Sardeus.²⁹ Of the sons of Babai; Johannes, and Ananias and Yawazabad, and Amatheis.³⁰ Of the sons of Mani; Olamus, Mamuchus, Jedeus, Jasubus, Jasael, and Hieremoth.³¹ And of the sons of Addi; Naathus, and Moosias, Lacunus, and Naidus, and Mathanias, and Sesthel, Balnuus, and Manasseas.³² And of the sons of Annas; Elionas and Aseas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, and Shamaian Chosameus.³³ And of the sons of Asom; Altaneus, and Matthias, and Baanaia, Alayapalat, and Manasses, and Semei.³⁴ And of the sons of Maani; Jeremias, Momdis, Omaerus, Juel, Mabdai, and Pelias, and Anos, Carabasion, and Enasibus, and Mamnitanimus, Eliasis, Bannus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanas; and of the sons of Ozora; Sesis, Esril, Azaelus, Samatus, Zambis, Josephus.³⁵ And of the sons of Ethma; Mazitias, Zabadaias, Edes, Juel, Banaias.³⁶ All these had taken strange wives, and they put them away with their children.³⁷ And the priests and Levites, and they that were of Yasharaal, dwelt in Yarawashalam, and in the country, in the first day of the seventh month: so the children of Yasharaal were in their habitations.³⁸ And the whole multitude came together with one accord into the broad place of the holy porch toward the east:³⁹ And they spoke to Esdras the priest and reader, that he would bring the law of Mashah, that was given of the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal.⁴⁰ So Esdras the chief priest brought the law to the whole multitude from man to woman, and to all the priests, to hear law in the first day of the seventh month.⁴¹ And he read in the broad court before the holy porch from morning to midday, before both men and women; and the multitude gave heed to the law.⁴² And Esdras the priest and reader of the law stood up upon a pulpit of wood, which was made for that purpose.⁴³ And there stood up by him Mattathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Ezecias, Balasamus, upon the right hand:⁴⁴ And upon his left hand stood Phaldaius, Misael, Melchias, Lothasubus, and Nabarias.⁴⁵ Then took Esdras the book of the law before the multitude: for he sat honourably in the first place in the sight of them all.⁴⁶ And when he opened the law, they stood all straight up. So Esdras blessed the Adanay Alahayam most High, the Alahayam of hosts, Shaday.⁴⁷ And all the people answered, Amen; and lifting up their hands they fell to the ground, and worshipped the Adanay.⁴⁸ Also Yashawai, Anus, Sarabias, Adinus, Jacobus, Sabateas, Auteas, Maianeas, and Calitas, Asrias, and Joazabdus, and Ananias, Biatas, the Levites, taught the law of the Adanay, making them withal to understand it.⁴⁹ Then spoke Attharates to Esdras the chief priest, and reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude, even to all, saying,⁵⁰ This day is holy to the Adanay; (for they all wept when they heard the law:)⁵¹ Go then, and eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send part to them that have nothing;⁵² For this day is holy to the Adanay: and be not sorrowful; for the Adanay will bring you to honour.⁵³ So the Levites published all things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Adanay; be not sorrowful.⁵⁴ Then went they their way, every one to eat and drink, and make merry, and to give part to them that had nothing, and to make great cheer;⁵⁵ Because they understood the words wherein they were instructed, and for the which they had been assembled.

1 The second book of the prophet Esdras, the son of Saraïas, the son of Azarias, the son of Helchias, the son of Sadamias, the son of Sadoc, the son of Achitob, ² The son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, the son of Amarias, the son of Azie, the son of Marimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abisei, the son of Phinees, the son of Alaizar, ³ The son of Aharan, of the tribe of Laway; which was captive in the land of the Maday, in the reign of Arathachashasathaa king of the Paras. ⁴ And the word of the Adanay came to me, saying, ⁵ Go your way, and show my people their sinful deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me; that they may tell their children's children: ⁶ Because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and have offered to strange gods. ⁷ Am not I even he that brought them out of the land of Matzarayam, from the house of bondage? but they have provoked me to wrath, and despised my counsels. ⁸ Pull you off then the hair of your head, and cast all evil upon them, for they have not been obedient to my law, but it is a rebellious people. ⁹ How long shall I forbear them, to whom I have done so much good?

¹⁰ Many kings have I destroyed for their sakes; Paraih with his servants and all his power have I smitten down. ¹¹ All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of Tzar and Tzayadawan, and have slain all their enemies. ¹² Speak you therefore to them, saying, Thus says the Adanay, ¹³ I led you through the sea, and in the beginning gave you a large and safe passage; I gave you Mashah for a leader, and Aharan for a priest. ¹⁴ I gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you; yet have you forgotten me, says the Adanay. ¹⁵ Thus says the Shaday Adanay, The quails were as a token to you; I gave you tents for your safeguard: nevertheless you murmured there, ¹⁶ And triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever to this day do you yet murmur. ¹⁷ Where are the benefits that I have done for you? when you were hungry and thirsty in the wilderness, did you not cry to me, ¹⁸ Saying, Why have you brought us into this wilderness to kill us? it had been better for us to have served the Matzarayam, than to die in this wilderness. ¹⁹ Then had I pity upon your mournings, and gave you manna to eat; so you did eat angels' bread. ²⁰ When you were thirsty, did I not cleave the rock, and waters flowed out to your fill? for the heat I covered you with the leaves of the trees. ²¹ I divided among you a fruitful land, I cast out the Canaanites, the Pherezites, and the Palashath, before you: what shall I yet do more for you? says the Adanay. ²² Thus says the Shaday Adanay, When you were in the wilderness, in the river of the Amorites, being athirst, and blaspheming my name, ²³ I gave you not fire for your blasphemies, but cast a tree in the water, and made the river sweet.

²⁴ What shall I do to you, O Yaiqab? you, Juda, would not obey me: I will turn me to other nations, and to those will I give my name, that they may keep my statutes. ²⁵ Seeing you have forsaken me, I will forsake you also; when you desire me to be gracious to you, I shall have no mercy upon you. ²⁶ Whensoever you shall call upon me, I will not hear you: for you have defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to commit manslaughter. ²⁷ You have not as it were forsaken me, but your own selves, says the Adanay. ²⁸ Thus says the Shaday Adanay, Have I not prayed you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her young babes, ²⁹ That you would be my people, and I should be your Alahayam; that you would be my children, and I should be your father? ³⁰ I gathered you together, as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings: but now, what shall I do to you? I will cast you out from my face.

³¹ When you offer to me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn feast-days, your new moons, and your circumcisions, have I forsaken. ³² I sent to you my servants the prophets, whom you have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will require of your hands, says the Adanay. ³³ Thus says the Shaday Adanay, Your house is desolate, I will cast you out as the wind does stubble. ³⁴ And your children shall not be fruitful; for they have despised my commandment, and done the thing that is evil before me. ³⁵ Your houses will I give to a people that shall come; which not having heard of me yet shall believe me; to whom I have showed no signs, yet they shall do that I have commanded them.

³⁶ They have seen no prophets, yet they shall call their sins to remembrance, and acknowledge them. ³⁷ I take to witness the grace of the people to come, whose little ones rejoice in gladness: and though they have not seen me with bodily eyes, yet in spirit they believe the thing that I say. ³⁸ And now, brother, behold what glory; and see the people that comes from the east: ³⁹ To whom I will give for leaders, Abaraham, Yatzachaq, and Yaiqab, Oseas, Imawas, and Micheas, Yawaal, Abdias, and Jonas, ⁴⁰ Nachawam, and Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zachary, and Malachy, which is called also an angel of the Adanay.

2 Thus says the Adanay, I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them my commandments by my servants the prophets; whom they would not hear, but despised my counsels. ² The mother that bore them says to them, Go your way, you children; for I am a widow and forsaken. ³ I brought you up with gladness; but with sorrow and heaviness have I lost you: for you have sinned before the Adanay your Alahayam, and done that thing that is evil before him. ⁴ But what shall I now do to you? I am a widow and forsaken: go your way, O my children, and ask mercy of the Adanay. ⁵ As for me, O father, I call upon you for a witness over the mother of these children, which would not keep my covenant, ⁶ That you bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoil, that there may be no offspring of them. ⁷ Let them be scattered abroad among the heathen, let their names be put out of the earth: for they have despised my covenant. ⁸ Woe be to you, Ashawar, you that hide the unrighteous in you! O you wicked people, remember what I did to Sadam and Gomorra; ⁹ Whose land lies in clods of pitch and heaps of ashes: even so also will I do to them that hear me not, says the Shaday Adanay. ¹⁰ Thus says the Adanay to Esdras, Tell my people that I will give them the kingdom of Yarawashalam, which I would have given to Yasharaal. ¹¹ Their glory also will I take to me, and give these the everlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for them. ¹² They shall have the tree of life for an ointment of sweet savour; they shall neither labour, nor be weary. ¹³ Go, and you shall receive: pray for few days to you, that they may be shortened: the kingdom is already prepared for you: watch. ¹⁴ Take heaven and earth to witness; for I have broken the evil in pieces, and created the good: for I live, says the Adanay. ¹⁵ Mother, embrace your children, and bring them up with gladness, make their feet as fast as a pillar: for I have chosen you, says the Adanay. ¹⁶ And those that be dead will I raise up again from their places, and bring them out of the graves: for I have known my name in Yasharaal. ¹⁷ Fear not, you mother of the children: for I have chosen you, says the Adanay.

¹⁸ For your help will I send my servants Esay and Jeremy, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for you twelve trees laden with divers fruits, ¹⁹ And as many fountains flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill your children with joy.

and young within your walls.²³ Wheresoever you find the dead, take them and bury them, and I will give you the first place in my resurrection.²⁴ Abide still, O my people, and take your rest, for your quietness shall come.²⁵ Nourish your children, O you good nurse; stablish their feet.²⁶ As for the servants whom I have given you, there shall not one of them perish; for I will require them from among your number.²⁷ Be not weary: for when the day of trouble and heaviness comes, others shall weep and be sorrowful, but you shall be merry and have abundance.²⁸ The heathen shall envy you, but they shall be able to do nothing against you, says the Adanay.²⁹ My hands shall cover you, so that your children shall not see hell.³⁰ Be joyful, O you mother, with your children; for I will deliver you, says the Adanay.³¹ Remember your children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the sides of the earth, and show mercy to them: for I am merciful, says the Adanay Shaday.³² Embrace your children until I come and show mercy to them: for my wells run over, and my grace shall not fail.³³ I Esdras received a charge of the Adanay upon the mount Irab, that I should go to Yasharaal; but when I came to them, they set me at nought, and despised the commandment of the Adanay.³⁴ And therefore I say to you, O you heathen, that hear and understand, look for your Shepherd, he shall give you everlasting rest; for he is nigh at hand, that shall come in the end of the world.³⁵ Be ready to the reward of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore.³⁶ Flee the shadow of this world, receive the joyfulness of your glory: I testify my Saviour openly.³⁷ O receive the gift that is given you, and be glad, giving thanks to him that has called you to the heavenly kingdom.³⁸ Arise up and stand, behold the number of those that be sealed in the feast of the Adanay;³⁹ Which are departed from the shadow of the world, and have received glorious garments of the Adanay.⁴⁰ Take your number, O Shayaan, and shut up those of your that are clothed in white, which have fulfilled the law of the Adanay.⁴¹ The number of your children, whom you longedst for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Adanay, that your people, which have been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.⁴² I Esdras saw upon the mount Shayaan a great people, whom I could not number, and they all praised the Adanay with songs.⁴³ And in the midst of them there was a young man of a high stature, taller than all the rest, and upon every one of their heads he set crowns, and was more exalted; which I marvelled at greatly.⁴⁴ So I asked the angel, and said, Sir, what are these?⁴⁵ He answered and said to me, These be they that have put off the mortal clothing, and put on the immortal, and have confessed the name of Alahayam: now are they crowned, and receive palms.⁴⁶ Then said I to the angel, What young person is it that crowns them, and gives them palms in their hands?⁴⁷ So he answered and said to me, It is the Son of Alahayam, whom they have confessed in the world. Then began I greatly to commend them that stood so stiffly for the name of the Adanay.⁴⁸ Then the angel said to me, Go your way, and tell my people what manner of things, and how great wonders of the Adanay your Alahayam, you have seen.

3 In the thirtieth year after the ruin of the city I was in Babal, and lay troubled upon my bed, and my thoughts came up over my heart:² For I saw the desolation of Shayaan, and the wealth of them that dwelt at Babal.³ And my spirit was sore moved, so that I began to speak words full of fear to the most High, and said,⁴ O Adanay, who bear rule, you spoke at the beginning, when you did plant the earth, and that yourself alone, and commandedst the people,⁵ And gave a body to Adam without soul, which was the workmanship of your hands, and did breathe into him the breath of life, and he was made living before you.⁶ And you led him into paradise, which your right hand had planted, before ever the earth came forward.⁷ And to him you gave commandment to love your way: which he transgressed, and immediately you appointedst death in him and in his generations, of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kindreds, out of number.⁸ And every people walked after their own will, and did wonderful things before you, and despised your commandments.⁹ And again in process of time you brought the flood upon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyedst them.

¹⁰ And it came to pass in every of them, that as death was to Adam, so was the flood to these.¹¹ Nevertheless one of them you left, namely, Nach with his household, of whom came all righteous men.¹² And it happened, that when they that dwelt upon the earth began to multiply, and had gotten them many children, and were a great people, they began again to be more ungodly than the first.¹³ Now when they lived so wickedly before you, you did choose you a man from among them, whose name was Abaraham.¹⁴ Him you lovedst, and to him only you shewedst your will:¹⁵ And made an everlasting covenant with him, promising him that you would never forsake his seed.¹⁶ And to him you gave Yatzachaq, and to Yatzachaq also you gave Yaiqab and Ishaw. As for Yaiqab, you did choose him to you, and put by Ishaw: and so Yaiqab became a great multitude.¹⁷ And it came to pass, that when you led his seed out of Matzarayam, you brought them up to the mount Sayanay.¹⁸ And bowing the heavens, you did set fast the earth, movedst the whole world, and made the depths to tremble, and troubledst the men of that age.¹⁹ And your glory went through four gates, of fire, and of earthquake, and of wind, and of cold; that you might give the law to the seed of Yaiqab, and diligence to the generation of Yasharaal.²⁰ And yet took you not away from them a wicked heart, that your law might bring forth fruit in them.²¹ For the first Adam bearing a wicked heart transgressed, and was overcome; and so be all they that are born of him.²² Thus infirmity was made permanent; and the law (also) in the heart of the people with the malignity of the root; so that the good departed away, and the evil abode still.²³ So the times passed away, and the years were brought to an end: then did you raise you up a servant, called Dawad:²⁴ Whom you commandedst to build a city to your name, and to offer incense and oblations to you therein.²⁵ When this was done many years, then they that inhabited the city forsook you,²⁶ And in all things did even as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked heart:²⁷ And so you gave your city over into the hands of your enemies.²⁸ Are their deeds then any better that inhabit Babal, that they should therefore have the dominion over Shayaan?²⁹ For when I came there, and had seen impieties without number, then my soul saw many evildoers in this thirtieth year, so that my heart failed me.³⁰ For I have seen how you suffer them sinning, and have spared wicked doers: and have destroyed your people, and have preserved your enemies, and have not signified it.³¹ I do not remember how this way may be left: Are they then of Babal better than they of Shayaan?³² Or is there any other people that knows you beside Yasharaal? or what generation has so believed your covenants as Yaiqab?³³ And yet their reward appears not, and their labour has no fruit: for I have gone here and there through the heathen, and I see that they flow in wealth, and think not upon your commandments.³⁴ Weigh you therefore our wickedness now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world; and so shall your name no where be found but in Yasharaal.³⁵ Or when was it that they which dwell upon the earth have not sinned in your sight? or what people have so kept your commandments?³⁶ You shall find that Yasharaal by name has kept your precepts; but not the heathen.

4 And the angel that was sent to me, whose name was Awarayaal, gave me an answer,² And said, Your heart has gone too far in this world, and think you to comprehend the way of the most High?³ Then said I, Yea, my lord. And he answered me, and said, I am sent to show you three ways, and to set forth three similitudes before you:⁴ Whereof if you can declare me one, I will show you also the way that you desire to see, and I shall show you from whence the wicked heart comes.⁵ And I said, Tell on, my lord. Then said he to me, Go your way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the wind, or call me again the day that is past.⁶ Then answered I and said, What man is able to do that, that you should ask such things of me?⁷ And he said to me, If I should ask you how great dwellings are in the midst of the sea, or how many springs are in the beginning of the deep, or how many springs are above the firmament, or which are the outgoings of paradise:⁸ Peradventure you would say to me, I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climb up into heaven.

⁹ Nevertheless now have I asked you but only of the fire and wind, and of the day wherethrough you have passed, and of things from which you can not be separated, and yet can you give me no answer of them. ¹⁰ He said moreover to me, Your own things, and such as are grown up with you, can you not know; ¹¹ How should your vessel then be able to comprehend the way of the Highest, and, the world being now outwardly corrupted, to understand the corruption that is evident in my sight? ¹² Then said I to him, It were better that we were not at all, than that we should live still in wickedness, and to suffer, and not to know therefore. ¹³ He answered me, and said, I went into a forest into a plain, and the trees took counsel, ¹⁴ And said, Come, let us go and make war against the sea, that it may depart away before us, and that we may make us more woods. ¹⁵ The floods of the sea also in like manner took counsel, and said, Come, let us go up and subdue the woods of the plain, that there also we may make us another country. ¹⁶ The thought of the wood was in vain, for the fire came and consumed it. ¹⁷ The thought of the floods of the sea came likewise to nought, for the sand stood up and stopped them. ¹⁸ If you were judge now betwixt these two, whom would you begin to justify? or whom would you condemn? ¹⁹ I answered and said, Truly it is a foolish thought that they both have devised, for the ground is given to the wood, and the sea also has his place to bear his floods. ²⁰ Then answered he me, and said, You have given a right judgment, but why judge you not yourself also? ²¹ For like as the ground is given to the wood, and the sea to his floods: even so they that dwell upon the earth may understand nothing but that which is upon the earth: and he that dwells above the heavens may only understand the things that are above the height of the heavens. ²² Then answered I and said, I beseech you, O Adanay, let me have understanding: ²³ For it was not my mind to be curious of the high things, but of such as pass by us daily, namely, therefore Yasharaal is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom you have loved is given over to ungodly nations, and why the law of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written covenants come to none effect, ²⁴ And we pass away out of the world as grasshoppers, and our life is astonishment and fear, and we are not worthy to obtain mercy. ²⁵ What will he then do to his name whereby we are called? of these things have I asked. ²⁶ Then answered he me, and said, The more you searchest, the more you shall marvel; for the world hasteth fast to pass away, ²⁷ And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this world is full of unrighteousness and infirmities. ²⁸ But as concerning the things whereof you ask me, I will tell you; for the evil is sown, but the destruction thereof is not yet come. ²⁹ If therefore that which is sown be not turned upside down, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, then cannot it come that is sown with good. ³⁰ For the grain of evil seed has been sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much ungodliness has it brought up to this time? and how much shall it yet bring forth until the time of threshing come? ³¹ Ponder now by yourself, how great fruit of wickedness the grain of evil seed has brought forth. ³² And when the ears shall be cut down, which are without number, how great a floor shall they fill? ³³ Then I answered and said, How, and when shall these things come to pass? therefore are our years few and evil? ³⁴ And he answered me, saying, Do not you hasten above the most Highest: for your haste is in vain to be above him, for you have much exceeded. ³⁵ Did not the souls also of the righteous ask question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I hope on this fashion? when comes the fruit of the floor of our reward? ³⁶ And to these things Awarayaal the archangel gave them answer, and said, Even when the number of seeds is filled in you: for he has weighed the world in the balance. ³⁷ By measure has he measured the times, and by number has he numbered the times; and he does not move nor stir them, until the said measure be fulfilled. ³⁸ Then answered I and said, O Adanay that bear rule, even we all are full of impiety. ³⁹ And for our sakes peradventure it is that the floors of the righteous are not filled, because of the sins of them that dwell upon the earth. ⁴⁰ So he answered me, and said, Go your way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she has fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her. ⁴¹ Then said I, No, Adanay, that can she not. And he said to me, In the grave the chambers of souls are like the womb of a woman: ⁴² For like as a woman that travaileth makes haste to escape the necessity of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed to them. ⁴³ From the beginning, look, what you desire to see, it shall be showed you. ⁴⁴ Then answered I and said, If I have found favour in your sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefore, ⁴⁵ Show me then whether there be more to come than is past, or more past than is to come. ⁴⁶ What is past I know, but what is for to come I know not. ⁴⁷ And he said to me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude to you. ⁴⁸ So I stood, and saw, and, behold, an hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by I looked, and, behold, the smoke remained still. ⁴⁹ After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm; and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained still. ⁵⁰ Then said he to me, Consider with yourself; as the rain is more than the drops, and as the fire is greater than the smoke; but the drops and the smoke remain behind: so the quantity which is past did more exceed. ⁵¹ Then I prayed, and said, May I live, think you, until that time? or what shall happen in those days? ⁵² He answered me, and said, As for the tokens whereof you ask me, I may tell you of them in part: but as touching your life, I am not sent to show you; for I do not know it.

5 Nevertheless as concerning the tokens, behold, the days shall come, that they which dwell upon earth shall be taken in a great number, and the way of truth shall be hidden, and the land shall be barren of faith. ² But iniquity shall be increased above that which now you see, or that you have heard long ago. ³ And the land, that you see now to have root, shall you see wasted suddenly. ⁴ But if the most High grant you to live, you shall see after the third trumpet that the sun shall suddenly shine again in the night, and the moon thrice in the day: ⁵ And blood shall drop out of wood, and the stone shall give his voice, and the people shall be troubled: ⁶ And even he shall rule, whom they look not for that dwell upon the earth, and the fowls shall take their flight away together: ⁷ And the Sodomish sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known: but they shall all hear the voice thereof. ⁸ There shall be a confusion also in many places, and the fire shall be oft sent out again, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and menstuous women shall bring forth monsters: ⁹ And salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall destroy one another; then shall wit hide itself, and understanding withdraw itself into his secret chamber, ¹⁰ And shall be sought of many, and yet not be found: then shall unrighteousness and incontinency be multiplied upon earth. ¹¹ One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness that makes a man righteous gone through you? And it shall say, No. ¹² At the same time shall men hope, but nothing obtain: they shall labour, but their ways shall not prosper. ¹³ To show you such tokens I have leave; and if you will pray again, and weep as now, and fast seven days, you shall hear yet greater things. ¹⁴ Then I awaked, and an extreme fearfulness went through all my body, and my mind was troubled, so that it fainted. ¹⁵ So the angel that was come to talk with me held me, comforted me, and set me up upon my feet. ¹⁶ And in the second night it came to pass, that Salathiel the captain of the people came to me, saying, Where have you been? and why is your countenance so heavy? ¹⁷ Know you not that Yasharaal is committed to you in the land of their captivity? ¹⁸ Up then, and eat bread, and forsake us not, as the shepherd that leaves his flock in the hands of cruel wolves. ¹⁹ Then said I to him, Go your ways from me, and come not nigh me. And he heard what I said, and went from me. ²⁰ And so I fasted seven days, mourning and weeping, like as Awarayaal the angel commanded me. ²¹ And after seven days so it was, that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous to me again, ²² And my soul recovered the spirit of understanding, and I began to talk with the most High again, ²³ And said, O Adanay that bear rule, of every wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, you have chosen you one only vine: ²⁴ And of all lands of the whole world you have chosen you one pit: and of all the flowers thereof one lily: ²⁵ And of all the depths of the sea you have filled you one river: and of all builded cities you have hallowed Shayaan to yourself: ²⁶ And of all the fowls that are created you have named you one dove: and of all the cattle that are made you have provided you one sheep: ²⁷ And among all the multitudes of people you have gotten you one people: and to this people, whom you lovedst, you gave a law that is approved of all. ²⁸ And now, O Adanay, why have you given this one people over to many? and upon the one root have you prepared others, and why have you scattered your only one people among many? ²⁹ And they which did gainsay your promises, and believed not your covenants, have trodden them down. ³⁰ If you did so much hate your people, yet should you punish them with your own hands. ³¹ Now when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to me the night afore was sent to me, ³² And said to me, Hear me, and I will instruct you; hearken to the thing that I say, and I shall tell you more. ³³ And I said, Speak on, my Adanay. Then said he to me, You are sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake: love you that people better than he that made them? ³⁴ And I said, No, Adanay: but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins pain me every hour, while I labour to comprehend the way of the most High, and to seek out part of his judgment. ³⁵ And he said to me, You can not. And I said, Therefore, Adanay? whereunto was I born then? or why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Yaiqab, and the wearisome toil of the stock of Yasharaal? ³⁶ And he said to me, Number me the things that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, ³⁷ Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, show me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to you the thing that you labourest to know. ³⁸ And I said, O Adanay that bear rule, who may know these things, but he that has not his dwelling with men? ³⁹ As for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof you ask me? ⁴⁰ Then said he to me, Like as you can do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so can you not find out my judgment, or in the end the love that I have promised to my people. ⁴¹ And I said, Behold, O Adanay, yet are you nigh to them that be reserved till the end: and what shall they do that have been before me, or we that be now, or they that shall come after us? ⁴² And he said to me, I will liken my judgment to a ring: like as there is no slackness of the last, even so there is no swiftness of the first. ⁴³ So I answered and said, Could you not make those that have been made, and be now, and that are for to come, at once; that you might show your judgment the sooner? ⁴⁴ Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haste above the maker; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein. ⁴⁵ And I said, As you have said to your servant, that you, which give life to all, have given life at once to the creature that you have created, and the creature bore it: even so it might now also bear them that now be present at once. ⁴⁶ And he said to me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say to her, If you bring forth children, why do you it not together, but one after another? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once. ⁴⁷ And I said, She cannot: but must do it by distance of time. ⁴⁸ Then said he to me, Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those that be sown in it in their times. ⁴⁹ For like as a young child may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged, even so have I disposed the world which I created. ⁵⁰ And I asked, and said, Seeing you have now given me the way, I will proceed to speak before you: for our mother, of whom you have told me that she is young, draws now nigh to age. ⁵¹ He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that bears children, and she shall tell you. ⁵² Say to her, Therefore are not they whom you have now brought forth like those that were before, but less of stature? ⁵³ And she shall answer you, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age, when the womb fails, are otherwise. ⁵⁴ Consider you therefore also, how that you are less of stature than those that were before you. ⁵⁵ And so are they that come after you less than you, as the creatures which now begin to be old, and have passed over the strength of youth. ⁵⁶ Then said I, Adanay, I beseech you, if I have found favour in your sight, show your servant by whom you visit your creature.

6 And he said to me, In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the borders of the world stood, or ever the winds blew, ² Before it thundered and lightened, or ever the foundations of paradise were laid, ³ Before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the moveable powers were established, before the innumerable multitude of angels were gathered together, ⁴ Or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the chimneys in Shayaan were hot, ⁵ And ere the present years were sought out, and or ever the inventions of them that now sin were turned, before they were sealed that have gathered faith for a treasure: ⁶ Then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shall be ended, and by none other. ⁷ Then answered I and said, What shall be the parting asunder of the times? or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that follows? ⁸ And he said to me, From Abaraham to Yatzachaq, when Yaiqab and Ishaw were born of him, Jacob's hand held first the heel of Ishaw. ⁹ For Ishaw is the end of the world, and Yaiqab is the beginning of it that follows. ¹⁰ The hand of man is betwixt the heel and the hand: other question, Esdras, ask you not. ¹¹ I answered then and said, O Adanay that bear rule, if I have found favour in your sight, ¹² I beseech you, show your servant the end of your tokens, whereof you shewedst me part the last night. ¹³ So he answered and said to me, Stand up upon your feet, and hear a mighty sounding voice. ¹⁴ And it shall be as it were a great motion; but the place where you stand shall not be moved. ¹⁵ And therefore when it speaks be not afraid: for the word is of the end, and the foundation of the earth is understood. ¹⁶ And why? because the speech of these things trembles and is moved: for it knows that the end of these things must be changed. ¹⁷ And it happened, that when I had heard it I stood up upon my feet, and hearkened, and, behold, there was a voice that spoke, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters. ¹⁸ And it said, Behold, the days come, that I will begin to draw nigh, and to visit them that dwell upon the earth, ¹⁹ And will begin to make inquisition of them, what they be that have hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and when the affliction of Shayaan shall be fulfilled; ²⁰ And when the world, that shall begin to vanish away, shall be finished, then will I show these tokens: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and they shall see all together: ²¹ And the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children of three or four months old, and they shall live, and be raised up. ²² And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty: ²³ And the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man hears, they shall be suddenly afraid. ²⁴ At that time shall friends fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountains shall stand still, and in three hours they shall not run. ²⁵ Whosoever remains from all these that I have told you shall escape, and see my salvation, and the end of your world. ²⁶ And the men that are received shall see it, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning. ²⁷ For evil shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched. ²⁸ As for faith, it shall flourish, corruption shall be overcome, and the truth, which has been so long without fruit, shall be declared. ²⁹ And when he talked with me, behold, I looked by little and little upon him before whom I stood. ³⁰ And these words said he to me; I am come to show you the time of the night to come. ³¹ If you will pray yet more, and fast seven days again, I shall tell you greater things by day than I have heard. ³² For your voice is heard before the most High: for the Mighty has seen your righteous dealing, he has seen also your chastity, which you have had ever since your youth. ³³ And therefore has he sent me to show you all these things, and to say to you, Be of good comfort, and fear not. ³⁴ And hasten not with the times that are past, to think vain things, that you may not hasten from the latter times.³⁵ And it came to pass after this, that I wept again, and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfil the three weeks which he told me.³⁶ And in the eighth night was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the most High.³⁷ For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress.³⁸ And I said, O Adanay, you spoke from the beginning of the creation, even the first day, and said thus; Let heaven and earth be made; and your word was a perfect work.³⁹ And then was the spirit, and darkness and silence were on every side; the sound of man's voice was not yet formed.⁴⁰ Then commandedst thou a fair light to come forth of your treasures, that your work might appear.⁴¹ Upon the second day you made the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might go up, and the other remain beneath.⁴² Upon the third day you did command that the waters should be gathered in the seventh part of the earth: six parts have you dried up, and kept them, to the intent that of these some being planted of Alahayam and tilled might serve you.⁴³ For as soon as your word went forth the work was made.⁴⁴ For immediately there was great and innumerable fruit, and many and divers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of unchangeable colour, and odours of wonderful smell: and this was done the third day.⁴⁵ Upon the fourth day you commandedst that the sun should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in order:⁴⁶ And gave them a charge to do service to man, that was to be made.⁴⁷ Upon the fifth day you said to the seventh part, where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls and fishes: and so it came to pass.⁴⁸ For the dumb water and without life brought forth living things at the commandment of Alahayam, that all people might praise your wondrous works.⁴⁹ Then did you ordain two living creatures, the one you calledst Chanawak, and the other Leviathan;⁵⁰ And did separate the one from the other: for the seventh part, namely, where the water was gathered together, might not hold them both.⁵¹ To Chanawak you gave one part, which was dried up the third day, that he should dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hills:⁵² But to Leviathan you gave the seventh part, namely, the moist; and have kept him to be devoured of whom you will, and when.⁵³ Upon the sixth day you gave commandment to the earth, that before you it should bring forth beasts, cattle, and creeping things:⁵⁴ And after these, Adam also, whom you made lord of all your creatures: of him come we all, and the people also whom you have chosen.⁵⁵ All this have I spoken before you, O Adanay, because you made the world for our sakes.⁵⁶ As for the other people, which also come of Adam, you have said that they are nothing, but be like to spittle: and have likened the abundance of them to a drop that falls from a vessel.⁵⁷ And now, O Adanay, behold, these heathen, which have ever been reputed as nothing, have begun to be lords over us, and to devour us.⁵⁸ But we your people, whom you have called your firstborn, your only begotten, and your fervent lover, are given into their hands.⁵⁹ If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possess an inheritance with the world? how long shall this endure?

7 And when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent to me the angel which had been sent to me the nights afore:² And he said to me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell you.³ And I said, Speak on, my Alahayam. Then said he to me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deep and great.⁴ But put the case the entrance were narrow, and like a river;⁵ Who then could go into the sea to look upon it, and to rule it? if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad?⁶ There is also another thing; A city is builded, and set upon a broad field, and is full of all good things:⁷ The entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, like as if there were a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water:⁸ And one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once.⁹ If this city now were given to a man for an inheritance, if he never shall pass the danger set before it, how shall he receive this inheritance?¹⁰ And I said, It is so, Adanay. Then said he to me, Even so also is Israel's portion.¹¹ Because for their sakes I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done.¹² Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, full of sorrow and travail: they are but few and evil, full of perils, and very painful.¹³ For the entrances of the elder world were wide and sure, and brought immortal fruit.¹⁴ If then they that live labour not to enter these strait and vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them.¹⁵ Now therefore why disquietest you yourself, seeing you are but a corruptible man? and why are you moved, whereas you are but mortal?¹⁶ Why have you not considered in your mind this thing that is to come, rather than that which is present?¹⁷ Then answered I and said, O Adanay that bear rule, you have ordained in your law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish.¹⁸ Nevertheless the righteous shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: for they that have done wickedly have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide.¹⁹ And he said to me, There is no judge above Alahayam, and none that has understanding above the Highest.²⁰ For there be many that perish in this life, because they despise the law of Alahayam that is set before them.²¹ For Alahayam has given strait commandment to such as came, what they should do to live, even as they came, and what they should observe to avoid punishment.²² Nevertheless they were not obedient to him; but spoke against him, and imagined vain things;²³ And deceived themselves by their wicked deeds; and said of the most High, that he is not; and knew not his ways:²⁴ But his law have they despised, and denied his covenants; in his statutes have they not been faithful, and have not performed his works.²⁵ And therefore, Esdras, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things.²⁶ Behold, the time shall come, that these tokens which I have told you shall come to pass, and the bride shall appear, and she coming forth shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth.²⁷ And whosoever is delivered from the foresaid evils shall see my wonders.²⁸ For my son Yashawai shall be revealed with those that be with him, and they that remain shall rejoice within four hundred years.²⁹ After these years shall my son Mashayach die, and all men that have life.³⁰ And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven days, like as in the former judgments: so that no man shall remain.³¹ And after seven days the world, that yet awaketh not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corrupt.³² And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell in silence, and the secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed to them.³³ And the most High shall appear upon the seat of judgment, and misery shall pass away, and the long suffering shall have an end:³⁴ But judgment only shall remain, truth shall stand, and faith shall wax strong:³⁵ And the work shall follow, and the reward shall be showed, and the good deeds shall be of force, and wicked deeds shall bear no rule.³⁶ Then said I, Abaraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and Mashah for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness:³⁷ And Yashawai after him for Yasharaal in the time of Ikan:³⁸ And Shamawaal and Dawad for the destruction; and Shalahmah for them that should come to the sanctuary:³⁹ And Helias for those that received rain; and for the dead, that he might live:⁴⁰ And Ezechias for the people in the time of Sanacharayab: and many for many.⁴¹ Even so now, seeing corruption is grown up, and wickedness increased, and the righteous have prayed for the ungodly: therefore shall it not be so now also?⁴² He answered me, and said, This present life is not the end where much glory does abide; therefore have they prayed for the weak.⁴³ But the day of doom shall be the end of this time, and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein corruption is past,⁴⁴ Intemperance is at an end, infidelity is cut off, righteousness is grown, and truth is sprung up.⁴⁵ Then shall no man be able to save him that is destroyed, nor to oppress him that has gotten the victory.⁴⁶ I answered then and said, This is my first and last saying, that it had been better not to have given the earth to Adam: or else, when it was given him, to have restrained him from sinning.⁴⁷ For what profit is it for men now in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for punishment? ⁴⁸ O you Adam, what have you done? for though it was you that sinned, you are not fallen alone, but we all that come of you. ⁴⁹ For what profit is it to us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas we have done the works that bring death? ⁵⁰ And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas ourselves being most wicked are made vain? ⁵¹ And that there are laid up for us dwellings of health and safety, whereas we have lived wickedly? ⁵² And that the glory of the most High is kept to defend them which have led a wary life, whereas we have walked in the most wicked ways of all? ⁵³ And that there should be showed a paradise, whose fruit endures for ever, wherein is security and medicine, since we shall not enter into it? ⁵⁴ (For we have walked in unpleasant places.) ⁵⁵ And that the faces of them which have used abstinence shall shine above the stars, whereas our faces shall be blacker than darkness? ⁵⁶ For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not that we should begin to suffer for it after death. ⁵⁷ Then answered he me, and said, This is the condition of the battle, which man that is born upon the earth shall fight; ⁵⁸ That, if he be overcome, he shall suffer as you have said; but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing that I say. ⁵⁹ For this is the life whereof Mashah spoke to the people while he lived, saying, Choose you life, that you may live. ⁶⁰ Nevertheless they believed not him, nor yet the prophets after him, no nor me which have spoken to them, ⁶¹ That there should not be such heaviness in their destruction, as shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation. ⁶² I answered then, and said, I know, Adanay, that the most High is called merciful, in that he has mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world, ⁶³ And upon those also that turn to his law; ⁶⁴ And that he is patient, and long suffers those that have sinned, as his creatures; ⁶⁵ And that he is bountiful, for he is ready to give where it needs; ⁶⁶ And that he is of great mercy, for he multiplies more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come. ⁶⁷ For if he shall not multiply his mercies, the world would not continue with them that inherit therein. ⁶⁸ And he pardoneth; for if he did not so of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousandth part of men should not remain living. ⁶⁹ And being judge, if he should not forgive them that are cured with his word, and put out the multitude of contentions, ⁷⁰ There should be very few left peradventure in an innumerable multitude.

8 And he answered me, saying, The most High has made this world for many, but the world to come for few. ² I will tell you a similitude, Esdras; As when you ask the earth, it shall say to you, that it gives much mould whereof earthen vessels are made, but little dust that gold comes of: even so is the course of this present world. ³ There be many created, but few shall be saved. ⁴ So answered I and said, Swallow then down, O my soul, understanding, and devour wisdom. ⁵ For you have agreed to give ear, and art willing to prophesy: for you have no longer space than only to live. ⁶ O Adanay, if you suffer not your servant, that we may pray before you, and you give us seed to our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it; how shall each man live that is corrupt, who bears the place of a man? ⁷ For you are alone, and we all one workmanship of your hands, like as you have said. ⁸ For when the body is fashioned now in the mother's womb, and you give it members, your creature is preserved in fire and water, and nine months does your workmanship endure your creature which is created in her. ⁹ But that which keeps and is kept shall both be preserved: and when the time comes, the womb preserved delivers up the things that grew in it. ¹⁰ For you have commanded out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, milk to be given, which is the fruit of the breasts, ¹¹ That the thing which is fashioned may be nourished for a time, till you dispose it to your mercy. ¹² You brought it up with your righteousness, and nurturedst it in your law, and reformedst it with your judgment. ¹³ And you shall mortify it as your creature, and quicken it as your work. ¹⁴ If therefore you shall destroy him which with so great labour was fashioned, it is an easy thing to be ordained by your commandment, that the thing which was made might be preserved. ¹⁵ Now therefore, Adanay, I will speak; touching man in general, you know best; but touching your people, for whose sake I am sorry; ¹⁶ And for your inheritance, for whose cause I mourn; and for Yasharaal, for whom I am heavy; and for Yaiqab, for whose sake I am troubled; ¹⁷ Therefore will I begin to pray before you for myself and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land. ¹⁸ But I have heard the swiftness of the judge which is to come. ¹⁹ Therefore hear my voice, and understand my words, and I shall speak before you. This is the beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken up: and I said, ²⁰ O Adanay, you that dwell in everlastingness, which behold from above things in the heaven and in the air; ²¹ Whose throne is inestimable; whose glory may not be comprehended; before whom the hosts of angels stand with trembling, ²² Whose service is conversant in wind and fire; whose word is true, and sayings constant; whose commandment is strong, and ordinance fearful; ²³ Whose look drieth up the depths, and indignation makes the mountains to melt away; which the truth witnesseth: ²⁴ O hear the prayer of your servant, and give ear to the petition of your creature. ²⁵ For while I live I will speak, and so long as I have understanding I will answer. ²⁶ O look not upon the sins of your people; but on them which serve you in truth. ²⁷ Regard not the wicked inventions of the heathen, but the desire of those that keep your testimonies in afflictions. ²⁸ Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before you: but remember them, which according to your will have known your fear. ²⁹ Let it not be your will to destroy them which have lived like beasts; but to look upon them that have clearly taught your law. ³⁰ Take you no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts; but love them that alway put their trust in your righteousness and glory. ³¹ For we and our fathers do languish of such diseases: but because of us sinners you shall be called merciful. ³² For if you have a desire to have mercy upon us, you shall be called merciful, to us namely, that have no works of righteousness. ³³ For the just, which have many good works laid up with you, shall out of their own deeds receive reward. ³⁴ For what is man, that you should take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible generation, that you should be so bitter toward it? ³⁵ For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he has dealt wickedly; and among the faithful there is none which has not done amiss. ³⁶ For in this, O Adanay, your righteousness and your goodness shall be declared, if you be merciful to them which have not the confidence of good works. ³⁷ Then answered he me, and said, Some things have you spoken aright, and according to your words it shall be. ³⁸ For indeed I will not think on the disposition of them which have sinned before death, before judgment, before destruction: ³⁹ But I will rejoice over the disposition of the righteous, and I will remember also their pilgrimage, and the salvation, and the reward, that they shall have. ⁴⁰ Like as I have spoken now, so shall it come to pass. ⁴¹ For as the husbandman sows much seed upon the ground, and plants many trees, and yet the thing that is sown good in his season comes not up, neither does all that is planted take root: even so is it of them that are sown in the world; they shall not all be saved. ⁴² I answered then and said, If I have found grace, let me speak. ⁴³ Like as the husbandman's seed perisheth, if it come not up, and receive not your rain in due season; or if there come too much rain, and corrupt it: ⁴⁴ Even so perisheth man also, which is formed with your hands, and is called your own image, because you are like to him, for whose sake you have made all things, and likened him to the husbandman's seed. ⁴⁵ Be not wroth with us, but spare your people, and have mercy upon your own inheritance: for you are merciful to your creature. ⁴⁶ Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for the present, and things to come for such as be to come. ⁴⁷ For you come far short that you should be able to love my creature more than I: but I have oftentimes drawn nigh to you, and to it, but never to the unrighteous. ⁴⁸ In this also you are marvellous before the most High: ⁴⁹ In that you have humbled yourself, as it becomes you, and have not judged yourself worthy to be much glorified among the righteous. ⁵⁰ For many great miseries shall be done to them that in the latter time shall dwell in the world, because they have walked in great pride.

⁵¹ But understand you for yourself, and seek out the glory for such as be like you. ⁵² For to you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousness is made ready, a city is builded, and rest is allowed, yea, perfect goodness and wisdom. ⁵³ The root of evil is sealed up from you, weakness and the moth is hid from you, and corruption is fled into hell to be forgotten: ⁵⁴ Sorrows are passed, and in the end is showed the treasure of immortality. ⁵⁵ And therefore ask you no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish. ⁵⁶ For when they had taken liberty, they despised the most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways. ⁵⁷ Moreover they have trodden down his righteous, ⁵⁸ And said in their heart, that there is no Alahayam; yea, and that knowing they must die. ⁵⁹ For as the things aforesaid shall receive you, so thirst and pain are prepared for them: for it was not his will that men should come to nought: ⁶⁰ But they which be created have defiled the name of him that made them, and were unthankful to him which prepared life for them. ⁶¹ And therefore is my judgment now at hand. ⁶² These things have I not showed to all men, but to you, and a few like you. Then answered I and said, ⁶³ Behold, O Adanay, now have you showed me the multitude of the wonders, which you will begin to do in the last times: but at what time, you have not showed me.

9 He answered me then, and said, Measure you the time diligently in itself: and when you see part of the signs past, which I have told you before, ² Then shall you understand, that it is the very same time, wherein the Highest will begin to visit the world which he made. ³ Therefore when there shall be seen earthquakes and uproars of the people in the world: ⁴ Then shall you well understand, that the most High spoke of those things from the days that were before you, even from the beginning. ⁵ For like as all that is made in the world has a beginning and an end, and the end is manifest: ⁶ Even so the times also of the Highest have plain beginnings in wonders and powerful works, and endings in effects and signs. ⁷ And every one that shall be saved, and shall be able to escape by his works, and by faith, whereby you have believed, ⁸ Shall be preserved from the said perils, and shall see my salvation in my land, and within my borders: for I have sanctified them for me from the beginning. ⁹ Then shall they be in pitiful case, which now have abused my ways: and they that have cast them away despitefully shall dwell in torments. ¹⁰ For such as in their life have received benefits, and have not known me; ¹¹ And they that have lothed my law, while they had yet liberty, and, when as yet place of repentance was open to them, understood not, but despised it; ¹² The same must know it after death by pain. ¹³ And therefore be you not curious how the ungodly shall be punished, and when: but enquire how the righteous shall be saved, whose the world is, and for whom the world is created. ¹⁴ Then answered I and said, ¹⁵ I have said before, and now do speak, and will speak it also hereafter, that there be many more of them which perish, than of them which shall be saved: ¹⁶ Like as a wave is greater than a drop. ¹⁷ And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed; as the flowers be, such are the colours also; such as the workman is, such also is the work; and as the husbandman is himself, so is his husbandry also: for it was the time of the world. ¹⁸ And now when I prepared the world, which was not yet made, even for them to dwell in that now live, no man spoke against me. ¹⁹ For then every one obeyed: but now the manners of them which are created in this world that is made are corrupted by a perpetual seed, and by a law which is unsearchable rid themselves. ²⁰ So I considered the world, and, behold, there was peril because of the devices that were come into it. ²¹ And I saw, and spared it greatly, and have kept me a grape of the cluster, and a plant of a great people. ²² Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain; and let my grape be kept, and my plant; for with great labour have I made it perfect. ²³ Nevertheless, if you will cease yet seven days more, (but you shall not fast in them, ²⁴ But go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and eat only the flowers of the field; taste no flesh, drink no wine, but eat flowers only;) ²⁵ And pray to the Highest continually, then will I come and talk with you. ²⁶ So I went my way into the field which is called Ardath, like as he commanded me; and there I sat among the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me. ²⁷ After seven days I sat upon the grass, and my heart was vexed within me, like as before: ²⁸ And I opened my mouth, and began to talk before the most High, and said, ²⁹ O Adanay, you that show yourself to us, you were showed to our fathers in the wilderness, in a place where no man treadeth, in a barren place, when they came out of Matzarayam. ³⁰ And you spoke, saying, Hear me, O Yasharaal; and mark my words, you seed of Yaiqab. ³¹ For, behold, I sow my law in you, and it shall bring fruit in you, and you shall be honoured in it for ever. ³² But our fathers, which received the law, kept it not, and observed not your ordinances: and though the fruit of your law did not perish, neither could it, for it was your; ³³ Yet they that received it perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them. ³⁴ And, lo, it is a custom, when the ground has received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, that, that being perished wherein it was sown or cast into, ³⁵ That thing also which was sown, or cast therein, or received, does perish, and remains not with us: but with us it has not happened so. ³⁶ For we that have received the law perish by sin, and our heart also which received it. ³⁷ Notwithstanding the law perisheth not, but remains in his force. ³⁸ And when I spoke these things in my heart, I looked back with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw a woman, and, behold, she mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in heart, and her clothes were rent, and she had ashes upon her head. ³⁹ Then let I my thoughts go that I was in, and turned me to her, ⁴⁰ And said to her, Therefore weep you? why are you so grieved in your mind? ⁴¹ And she said to me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewail myself, and add to my sorrow, for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very low. ⁴² And I said to her, What aileth you? tell me. ⁴³ She said to me, I your servant have been barren, and had no child, though I had an husband thirty years. ⁴⁴ And those thirty years I did nothing else day and night, and every hour, but make my prayer to the Highest. ⁴⁵ After thirty years Alahayam heard me your handmaid, looked upon my misery, considered my trouble, and gave me a son: and I was very glad of him, so was my husband also, and all my neighbours: and we gave great honour to the Shaday. ⁴⁶ And I nourished him with great travail. ⁴⁷ So when he grew up, and came to the time that he should have a wife, I made a feast.

10 And it so came to pass, that when my son was entered into his wedding chamber, he fell down, and died. ² Then we all overthrew the lights, and all my neighbours rose up to comfort me: so I took my rest to the second day at night. ³ And it came to pass, when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet; then rose I up by night, and fled, and came here into this field, as you see. ⁴ And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn and to fast until I die. ⁵ Then left I the meditations wherein I was, and spoke to her in anger, saying, ⁶ You foolish woman above all other, see you not our mourning, and what happens to us? ⁷ How that Shayaan our mother is full of all heaviness, and much humbled, mourning very sore? ⁸ And now, seeing we all mourn and are sad, for we are all in heaviness, are you grieved for one son? ⁹ For ask the earth, and she shall tell you, that it is she which ought to mourn for the fall of so many that grow upon her. ¹⁰ For out of her came all at the first, and out of her shall all others come, and, behold, they walk almost all into destruction, and a multitude of them is utterly rooted out. ¹¹ Who then should make more mourning than she, that has lost so great a multitude; and not you, which art sorry but for one? ¹² But if you say to me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, because I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bore with sorrows; ¹³ But the earth not so: for the multitude present in it according to the course of the earth is gone, as it came: ¹⁴ Then say I to you, Like as you have brought forth with labour; even so the earth also has given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning to him that made her.¹⁵ Now therefore keep your sorrow to yourself, and bear with a good courage that which has befallen you.¹⁶ For if you shall acknowledge the determination of Alahayam to be just, you shall both receive your son in time, and shall be commended among women.¹⁷ Go your way then into the city to your husband.¹⁸ And she said to me, That will I not do: I will not go into the city, but here will I die.¹⁹ So I proceeded to speak further to her, and said,²⁰ Do not so, but be counselled by me: for how many are the adversities of Shayaan? be comforted in regard of the sorrow of Yarawashalam.²¹ For you see that our sanctuary is laid waste, our altar broken down, our temple destroyed;²² Our psaltery is laid on the ground, our song is put to silence, our rejoicing is at an end, the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is spoiled, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon us is almost profaned: our children are put to shame, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished; our righteous men carried away, our little ones destroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong men are become weak;²³ And, which is the greatest of all, the seal of Shayaan has now lost her honour; for she is delivered into the hands of them that hate us.²⁴ And therefore shake off your great heaviness, and put away the multitude of sorrows, that the Mighty may be merciful to you again, and the Highest shall give you rest and ease from your labour.²⁵ And it came to pass, while I was talking with her, behold, her face upon a sudden shined exceedingly, and her countenance glistened, so that I was afraid of her, and mused what it might be.²⁶ And, behold, suddenly she made a great cry very fearful: so that the earth shook at the noise of the woman.²⁷ And I looked, and, behold, the woman appeared to me no more, but there was a city builded, and a large place showed itself from the foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said,²⁸ Where is Awarayaal the angel, who came to me at the first? for he has caused me to fall into many trances, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.²⁹ And as I was speaking these words, behold, he came to me, and looked upon me.³⁰ And, lo, I lay as one that had been dead, and mine understanding was taken from me: and he took me by the right hand, and comforted me, and set me upon my feet, and said to me,³¹ What aileth you? and why are you so disquieted? and why is your understanding troubled, and the thoughts of your heart?³² And I said, Because you have forsaken me, and yet I did according to your words, and I went into the field, and, lo, I have seen, and yet see, that I am not able to express.³³ And he said to me, Stand up manfully, and I will advise you.³⁴ Then said I, Speak on, my lord, in me; only forsake me not, lest I die frustrate of my hope.³⁵ For I have seen that I knew not, and hear that I do not know.³⁶ Or is my sense deceived, or my soul in a dream?³⁷ Now therefore I beseech you that you will show your servant of this vision.³⁸ He answered me then, and said, Hear me, and I shall inform you, and tell you therefore you are afraid: for the Highest will reveal many secret things to you.³⁹ He has seen that your way is right: for that you sorrowest continually for your people, and make great lamentation for Shayaan.⁴⁰ This therefore is the meaning of the vision which you lately saw:⁴¹ You saw a woman mourning, and you beganest to comfort her:⁴² But now see you the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared to you a city builded.⁴³ And whereas she told you of the death of her son, this is the solution:⁴⁴ This woman, whom you saw, is Shayaan: and whereas she said to you, even she whom you see as a city builded,⁴⁵ Whereas, I say, she said to you, that she has been thirty years barren: those are the thirty years wherein there was no offering made in her.⁴⁶ But after thirty years Shalahmah builded the city, and offered offerings: and then bore the barren a son.⁴⁷ And whereas she told you that she nourished him with labour: that was the dwelling in Yarawashalam.⁴⁸ But whereas she said to you, That my son coming into his marriage chamber happened to have a fall, and died: this was the destruction that came to Yarawashalam.⁴⁹ And, behold, you saw her likeness, and because she mourned for her son, you beganest to comfort her: and of these things which have chanced, these are to be opened to you.⁵⁰ For now the most High sees that you are grieved unfeignedly, and suffer from your whole heart for her, so has he showed you the brightness of her glory, and the comeliness of her beauty:⁵¹ And therefore I bade you remain in the field where no house was builded:⁵² For I knew that the Highest would show this to you.⁵³ Therefore I commanded you to go into the field, where no foundation of any building was.⁵⁴ For in the place wherein the Highest begins to show his city, there can no man's building be able to stand.⁵⁵ And therefore fear not, let not your heart be affrighted, but go your way in, and see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as your eyes be able to see:⁵⁶ And then shall you hear as much as your ears may comprehend.⁵⁷ For you are blessed above many other, and art called with the Highest; and so are but few.⁵⁸ But to morrow at night you shall remain here;⁵⁹ And so shall the Highest show you visions of the high things, which the most High will do to them that dwell upon earth in the last days. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

11 Then saw I a dream, and, behold, there came up from the sea an eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, and three heads.² And I saw, and, behold, she spread her wings over all the earth, and all the winds of the air blew on her, and were gathered together.³ And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grew other contrary feathers; and they became little feathers and small.⁴ But her heads were at rest: the head in the midst was greater than the other, yet rested it with the residue.⁵ Moreover I beheld, and, lo, the eagle flew with her feathers, and reigned upon earth, and over them that dwelt therein.⁶ And I saw that all things under heaven were subject to her, and no man spoke against her, no, not one creature upon earth.⁷ And I beheld, and, lo, the eagle rose upon her talons, and spoke to her feathers, saying,⁸ Watch not all at once: sleep every one in his own place, and watch by course:⁹ But let the heads be preserved for the last.¹⁰ And I beheld, and, lo, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her body.¹¹ And I numbered her contrary feathers, and, behold, there were eight of them.¹² And I looked, and, behold, on the right side there arose one feather, and reigned over all the earth;¹³ And so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more: so the next following stood up, and reigned, and had a great time;¹⁴ And it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, like as the first, so that it appeared no more.¹⁵ Then came there a voice to it, and said,¹⁶ Hear you that have borne rule over the earth so long: this I say to you, before you beginnest to appear no more,¹⁷ There shall none after you attain to your time, neither to the half thereof.¹⁸ Then arose the third, and reigned as the other before, and appeared no more also.¹⁹ So went it with all the residue one after another, as that every one reigned, and then appeared no more.²⁰ Then I beheld, and, lo, in process of time the feathers that followed stood up upon the right side, that they might rule also; and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more:²¹ For some of them were set up, but ruled not.²² After this I looked, and, behold, the twelve feathers appeared no more, nor the two little feathers:²³ And there was no more upon the eagle's body, but three heads that rested, and six little wings.²⁴ Then saw I also that two little feathers divided themselves from the six, and remained under the head that was upon the right side: for the four continued in their place.²⁵ And I beheld, and, lo, the feathers that were under the wing thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule.²⁶ And I beheld, and, lo, there was one set up, but shortly it appeared no more.²⁷ And the second was sooner away than the first.²⁸ And I beheld, and, lo, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign:²⁹ And when they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely, it that was in the midst; for that was greater than the two other heads.³⁰ And then I saw that the two other heads were joined with it.³¹ And, behold, the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eat up the two feathers under the wing that would have reigned.³² But this head put the whole earth in fear, and bore rule in it over all those that dwelt upon the earth with much oppression; and it had the governance of the world more than all the wings that had been.

³³ And after this I beheld, and, lo, the head that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings. ³⁴ But there remained the two heads, which also in like sort ruled upon the earth, and over those that dwelt therein. ³⁵ And I beheld, and, lo, the head upon the right side devoured it that was upon the left side. ³⁶ Then I heard a voice, which said to me, Look before you, and consider the thing that you see. ³⁷ And I beheld, and lo as it were a roaring lion chased out of the wood: and I saw that he sent out a man's voice to the eagle, and said, ³⁸ Hear you, I will talk with you, and the Highest shall say to you, ³⁹ Art not you it that remain of the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of their times might come through them? ⁴⁰ And the fourth came, and overcame all the beasts that were past, and had power over the world with great fearfulness, and over the whole compass of the earth with much wicked oppression; and so long time dwelt he upon the earth with deceit. ⁴¹ For the earth have you not judged with truth. ⁴² For you have afflicted the meek, you have hurt the peaceable, you have loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and have cast down the walls of such as did you no harm. ⁴³ Therefore is your wrongful dealing come up to the Highest, and your pride to the Mighty. ⁴⁴ The Highest also has looked upon the proud times, and, behold, they are ended, and his abominations are fulfilled. ⁴⁵ And therefore appear no more, you eagle, nor your horrible wings, nor your wicked feathers, nor your malicious heads, nor your hurtful claws, nor all your vain body: ⁴⁶ That all the earth may be refreshed, and may return, being delivered from your violence, and that she may hope for the judgment and mercy of him that made her.

12 And it came to pass, whiles the lion spoke these words to the eagle, I saw, ² And, behold, the head that remained and the four wings appeared no more, and the two went to it, and set themselves up to reign, and their kingdom was small, and full of uproar. ³ And I saw, and, behold, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I out of the trouble and trance of my mind, and from great fear, and said to my spirit, ⁴ Lo, this have you done to me, in that you searchest out the ways of the Highest. ⁵ Lo, yet am I weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit; and little strength is there in me, for the great fear wherewith I was affrighted this night. ⁶ Therefore will I now beseech the Highest, that he will comfort me to the end. ⁷ And I said, Adanay that bear rule, if I have found grace before your sight, and if I am justified with you before many others, and if my prayer indeed be come up before your face; ⁸ Comfort me then, and show me your servant the interpretation and plain difference of this fearful vision, that you may perfectly comfort my soul. ⁹ For you have judged me worthy to show me the last times. ¹⁰ And he said to me, This is the interpretation of the vision: ¹¹ The eagle, whom you saw come up from the sea, is the kingdom which was seen in the vision of your brother Wadan. ¹² But it was not expounded to him, therefore now I declare it to you. ¹³ Behold, the days will come, that there shall rise up a kingdom upon earth, and it shall be feared above all the kingdoms that were before it. ¹⁴ In the same shall twelve kings reign, one after another: ¹⁵ Whereof the second shall begin to reign, and shall have more time than any of the twelve. ¹⁶ And this do the twelve wings signify, which you saw. ¹⁷ As for the voice which you hearest speak, and that you saw not to go out from the heads, but from the midst of the body thereof, this is the interpretation: ¹⁸ That after the time of that kingdom there shall arise great strivings, and it shall stand in peril of falling: nevertheless it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to his beginning. ¹⁹ And whereas you saw the eight small under feathers sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation: ²⁰ That in him there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift. ²¹ And two of them shall perish, the middle time approaching: four shall be kept until their end begin to approach: but two shall be kept to the end. ²² And whereas you saw three heads resting, this is the interpretation: ²³ In his last days shall the most High raise up three kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall have the dominion of the earth, ²⁴ And of those that dwelt therein, with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle. ²⁵ For these are they that shall accomplish his wickedness, and that shall finish his last end. ²⁶ And whereas you saw that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain. ²⁷ For the two that remain shall be slain with the sword. ²⁸ For the sword of the one shall devour the other: but at the last shall he fall through the sword himself. ²⁹ And whereas you saw two feathers under the wings passing over the head that is on the right side; ³⁰ It signifieth that these are they, whom the Highest has kept to their end: this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, as you saw. ³¹ And the lion, whom you saw rising up out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the eagle, and rebuking her for her unrighteousness with all the words which you have heard; ³² This is the anointed, which the Highest has kept for them and for their wickedness to the end: he shall reprove them, and shall upbraid them with their cruelty. ³³ For he shall set them before him alive in judgment, and shall rebuke them, and correct them. ³⁴ For the rest of my people shall he deliver with mercy, those that have been preserved upon my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the day of judgment, whereof I have spoken to you from the beginning. ³⁵ This is the dream that you saw, and these are the interpretations. ³⁶ You only have been meet to know this secret of the Highest. ³⁷ Therefore write all these things that you have seen in a book, and hide them: ³⁸ And teach them to the wise of the people, whose hearts you know may comprehend and keep these secrets. ³⁹ But wait you here yourself yet seven days more, that it may be showed you, whatsoever it pleases the Highest to declare to you. And with that he went his way. ⁴⁰ And it came to pass, when all the people saw that the seven days were past, and I not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least to the greatest, and came to me, and said, ⁴¹ What have we offended you? and what evil have we done against you, that you forsake us, and sit here in this place? ⁴² For of all the prophets you only art left us, as a cluster of the vintage, and as a candle in a dark place, and as a haven or ship preserved from the tempest. ⁴³ Are not the evils which are come to us sufficient? ⁴⁴ If you shall forsake us, how much better had it been for us, if we also had been burned in the midst of Shayaan? ⁴⁵ For we are not better than they that died there. And they wept with a loud voice. Then answered I them, and said, ⁴⁶ Be of good comfort, O Yasharaal; and be not heavy, you house of Yaiqab: ⁴⁷ For the Highest has you in remembrance, and the Mighty has not forgotten you in temptation. ⁴⁸ As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for the desolation of Shayaan, and that I might seek mercy for the low estate of your sanctuary. ⁴⁹ And now go your way home every man, and after these days will I come to you. ⁵⁰ So the people went their way into the city, like as I commanded them: ⁵¹ But I remained still in the field seven days, as the angel commanded me; and did eat only in those days of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbs.

13 And it came to pass after seven days, I dreamed a dream by night: ² And, lo, there arose a wind from the sea, that it moved all the waves thereof. ³ And I beheld, and, lo, that man waxed strong with the thousands of heaven: and when he turned his countenance to look, all the things trembled that were seen under him. ⁴ And whensoever the voice went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voice, like as the earth fails when it feeleth the fire. ⁵ And after this I beheld, and, lo, there was gathered together a multitude of men, out of number, from the four winds of the heaven, to subdue the man that came out of the sea. ⁶ But I beheld, and, lo, he had graved himself a great mountain, and flew up upon it. ⁷ But I would have seen the region or place whereout the hill was graven, and I could not. ⁸ And after this I beheld, and, lo, all they which were gathered together to subdue him were sore afraid, and yet durst fight. ⁹ And, lo, as he saw the violence of the multitude that came, he neither lifted up his hand, nor held sword, nor any instrument of war: ¹⁰ But only I saw that he sent out of his mouth as it had been a blast of fire, and out of his lips a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast out sparks and tempests.¹¹ And they were all mixed together; the blast of fire, the flaming breath, and the great tempest; and fell with violence upon the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burned them up every one, so that upon a sudden of an innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only dust and smell of smoke: when I saw this I was afraid.¹² Afterward saw I the same man come down from the mountain, and call to him another peaceable multitude.¹³ And there came much people to him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some brought of them that were offered: then was I sick through great fear, and I awaked, and said,¹⁴ You have showed your servant these wonders from the beginning, and have counted me worthy that you should receive my prayer:¹⁵ Show me now yet the interpretation of this dream.¹⁶ For as I conceive in mine understanding, woe to them that shall be left in those days! and much more woe to them that are not left behind!¹⁷ For they that were not left were in heaviness.¹⁸ Now understand I the things that are laid up in the latter days, which shall happen to them, and to those that are left behind.¹⁹ Therefore are they come into great perils and many necessities, like as these dreams declare.²⁰ Yet is it easier for him that is in danger to come into these things, than to pass away as a cloud out of the world, and not to see the things that happen in the last days. And he answered to me, and said,²¹ The interpretation of the vision shall I show you, and I will open to you the thing that you have required.²² Whereas you have spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation:²³ He that shall endure the peril in that time has kept himself: they that be fallen into danger are such as have works, and faith toward the Shaday.²⁴ Know this therefore, that they which be left behind are more blessed than they that be dead.²⁵ This is the meaning of the vision: Whereas you saw a man coming up from the midst of the sea:²⁶ The same is he whom Alahayam the Highest has kept a great season, which by his own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind.²⁷ And whereas you saw, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of wind, and fire, and storm;²⁸ And that he held neither sword, nor any instrument of war, but that the rushing in of him destroyed the whole multitude that came to subdue him; this is the interpretation:²⁹ Behold, the days come, when the most High will begin to deliver them that are upon the earth.³⁰ And he shall come to the astonishment of them that dwell on the earth.³¹ And one shall undertake to fight against another, one city against another, one place against another, one people against another, and one realm against another.³² And the time shall be when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen which I showed you before, and then shall my Son be declared, whom you saw as a man ascending.³³ And when all the people hear his voice, every man shall in their own land leave the battle they have one against another.³⁴ And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as you saw them, willing to come, and to overcome him by fighting.³⁵ But he shall stand upon the top of the mount Shayaan.³⁶ And Shayaan shall come, and shall be showed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as you saw the hill graven without hands.³⁷ And this my Son shall rebuke the wicked inventions of those nations, which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest;³⁸ And shall lay before them their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall begin to be tormented, which are like to a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law which is like to fire.³⁹ And whereas you saw that he gathered another peaceable multitude to him;⁴⁰ Those are the ten tribes, which were carried away prisoners out of their own land in the time of Osea the king, whom Salmanasar the king of Ashawar led away captive, and he carried them over the waters, and so came they into another land.⁴¹ But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt,⁴² That they might there keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own land.⁴³ And they entered into Parath by the narrow passages of the river.⁴⁴ For the most High then showed signs for them, and held still the flood, till they were passed over.⁴⁵ For through that country there was a great way to go, namely, of a year and a half: and the same region is called Arsareth.⁴⁶ Then dwelt they there until the latter time; and now when they shall begin to come,⁴⁷ The Highest shall stay the springs of the stream again, that they may go through: therefore saw you the multitude with peace.⁴⁸ But those that be left behind of your people are they that are found within my borders.⁴⁹ Now when he destroys the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend his people that remain.⁵⁰ And then shall he show them great wonders.⁵¹ Then said I, O Adanay that bear rule, show me this: Therefore have I seen the man coming up from the midst of the sea?⁵² And he said to me, Like as you can neither seek out nor know the things that are in the deep of the sea: even so can no man upon earth see my Son, or those that be with him, but in the day time.⁵³ This is the interpretation of the dream which you saw, and whereby you only art here lightened.⁵⁴ For you have forsaken your own way, and applied your diligence to my law, and sought it.⁵⁵ Your life have you ordered in wisdom, and have called understanding your mother.⁵⁶ And therefore have I showed you the treasures of the Highest: after other three days I will speak other things to you, and declare to you mighty and wondrous things.⁵⁷ Then went I forth into the field, giving praise and thanks greatly to the most High because of his wonders, which he did in time;⁵⁸ And because he governeth the same, and such things as fall in their seasons: and there I sat three days.

14 And it came to pass upon the third day, I sat under an oak, and, behold, there came a voice out of a bush over against me, and said, Esdras, Esdras.² And I said, Here am I, Adanay. And I stood up upon my feet.³ Then said he to me, In the bush I did manifestly reveal myself to Mashah, and talked with him, when my people served in Matzarayam:⁴ And I sent him, and led my people out of Matzarayam, and brought him up to the mount of Sayanay, where I held him by me a long season,⁵ And told him many wondrous things, and showed him the secrets of the times, and the end; and commanded him, saying,⁶ These words shall you declare, and these shall you hide.⁷ And now I say to you,⁸ That you lay up in your heart the signs that I have showed, and the dreams that you have seen, and the interpretations which you have heard:⁹ For you shall be taken away from all, and from henceforth you shall remain with my Son, and with such as be like you, until the times be ended.¹⁰ For the world has lost his youth, and the times begin to wax old.¹¹ For the world is divided into twelve parts, and the ten parts of it are gone already, and half of a tenth part:¹² And there remains that which is after the half of the tenth part.¹³ Now therefore set your house in order, and reprove your people, comfort such of them as be in trouble, and now renounce corruption,¹⁴ Let go from you mortal thoughts, cast away the burdens of man, put off now the weak nature,¹⁵ And set aside the thoughts that are most heavy to you, and haste you to flee from these times.¹⁶ For yet greater evils than those which you have seen happen shall be done hereafter.¹⁷ For look how much the world shall be weaker through age, so much the more shall evils increase upon them that dwell therein.¹⁸ For the truth is fled far away, and leasing is hard at hand: for now hasteth the vision to come, which you have seen.¹⁹ Then answered I before you, and said,²⁰ Behold, Adanay, I will go, as you have commanded me, and reprove the people which are present: but they that shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? thus the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light.²¹ For your law is burnt, therefore no man knows the things that are done of you, or the works that shall begin.²² But if I have found grace before you, send the Holy Ghost into me, and I shall write all that has been done in the world since the beginning, which were written in your law, that men may find your path, and that they which will live in the latter days may live.²³ And he answered me, saying, Go your way, gather the people together, and say to them, that they seek you not for forty days.²⁴ But look you prepare you many box trees, and take with you Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus, and Ishayaal, these five which are ready to write swiftly;²⁵ And come here, and I shall light a candle of understanding in your heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be performed which you shall begin to write.²⁶ And when you have done, some things shall you publish, and some things shall you show secretly to the wise: to morrow this hour shall you begin to write.²⁷ Then went I forth, as he commanded, and gathered all the people together, and said,²⁸ Hear these words, O Yasharaal.²⁹ Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Matzarayam, from whence they were delivered:³⁰ And received the law of life, which they kept not, which you also have transgressed after them.³¹ Then was the land, even the land of Shayaan, parted among you by lot: but your fathers, and you yourselves, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Highest commanded you.³² And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you in time the thing that he had given you.³³ And now are you here, and your brethren among you.³⁴ Therefore if so be that you will subdue your own understanding, and reform your hearts, you shall be kept alive, and after death you shall obtain mercy.³⁵ For after death shall the judgment come, when we shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the works of the ungodly shall be declared.³⁶ Let no man therefore come to me now, nor seek after me these forty days.³⁷ So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went into the field, and remained there.³⁸ And the next day, behold, a voice called me, saying, Esdras, open your mouth, and drink that I give you to drink.³⁹ Then opened I my mouth, and, behold, he reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.⁴⁰ And I took it, and drank: and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdom grew in my breast, for my spirit strengthened my memory:⁴¹ And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.⁴² The Highest gave understanding to the five men, and they wrote the wonderful visions of the night that were told, which they knew not: and they sat forty days, and they wrote in the day, and at night they ate bread.⁴³ As for me, I spoke in the day, and I held not my tongue by night.⁴⁴ In forty days they wrote two hundred and four books.⁴⁵ And it came to pass, when the forty days were fulfilled, that the Highest spoke, saying, The first that you have written publish openly, that the worthy and unworthy may read it:⁴⁶ But keep the seventy last, that you may deliver them only to such as be wise among the people:⁴⁷ For in them is the spring of understanding, the fountain of wisdom, and the stream of knowledge.⁴⁸ And I did so.

15 Behold, speak you in the ears of my people the words of prophecy, which I will put in your mouth, says the Adanay:² And cause them to be written in paper: for they are faithful and true.³ Fear not the imaginations against you, let not the incredulity of them trouble you, that speak against you.⁴ For all the unfaithful shall die in their unfaithfulness.⁵ Behold, says the Adanay, I will bring plagues upon the world; the sword, famine, death, and destruction.⁶ For wickedness has exceedingly polluted the whole earth, and their hurtful works are fulfilled.⁷ Therefore says the Adanay,⁸ I will hold my tongue no more as touching their wickedness, which they profanely commit, neither will I suffer them in those things, in which they wickedly exercise themselves: behold, the innocent and righteous blood cries to me, and the souls of the just complain continually.⁹ And therefore, says the Adanay, I will surely avenge them, and receive to me all the innocent blood from among them.¹⁰ Behold, my people is led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Matzarayam:¹¹ But I will bring them with a mighty hand and a stretched out arm, and smite Matzarayam with plagues, as before, and will destroy all the land thereof.¹² Matzarayam shall mourn, and the foundation of it shall be smitten with the plague and punishment that Alahayam shall bring upon it.¹³ They that till the ground shall mourn: for their seeds shall fall through the blasting and hail, and with a fearful constellation.¹⁴ Woe to the world and them that dwell therein!¹⁵ For the sword and their destruction draws nigh, and one people shall stand up to fight against another, and swords in their hands.¹⁶ For there shall be sedition among men, and invading one another; they shall not regard their kings nor princes, and the course of their actions shall stand in their power.¹⁷ A man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able.¹⁸ For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be destroyed, and men shall be afraid.¹⁹ A man shall have no pity upon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and spoil their goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.²⁰ Behold, says Alahayam, I will call together all the kings of the earth to reverence me, which are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them.²¹ Like as they do yet this day to my chosen, so will I do also, and recompense in their bosom. Thus says the Adanay Alahayam;²² My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease over them that shed innocent blood upon the earth.²³ The fire is gone forth from his wrath, and has consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the straw that is kindled.²⁴ Woe to them that sin, and keep not my commandments! says the Adanay.²⁵ I will not spare them: go your way, you children, from the power, defile not my sanctuary.²⁶ For the Adanay knows all them that sin against him, and therefore delivers he them to death and destruction.²⁷ For now are the plagues come upon the whole earth, and you shall remain in them: for Alahayam shall not deliver you, because you have sinned against him.²⁸ Behold an horrible vision, and the appearance thereof from the east:²⁹ Where the nations of the dragons of Irab shall come out with many chariots, and the multitude of them shall be carried as the wind upon earth, that all they which hear them may fear and tremble.³⁰ Also the Carmanians raging in wrath shall go forth as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Ashawar.³¹ And then shall the dragons have the upper hand, remembering their nature; and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them,³² Then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall flee.³³ And from the land of the Ashawar shall the enemy besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their host shall be fear and dread, and strife among their kings.³⁴ Behold clouds from the east and from the north to the south, and they are very horrible to look upon, full of wrath and storm.³⁵ They shall smite one upon another, and they shall smite down a great multitude of stars upon the earth, even their own star; and blood shall be from the sword to the belly,³⁶ And dung of men to the camel's hough.³⁷ And there shall be great fearfulness and trembling upon earth: and they that see the wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall come upon them.³⁸ And then shall there come great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west.³⁹ And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall open it; and the cloud which he raised up in wrath, and the star stirred to cause fear toward the east and west wind, shall be destroyed.⁴⁰ The great and mighty clouds shall be lifted up full of wrath, and the star, that they may make all the earth afraid, and them that dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent place an horrible star,⁴¹ Fire, and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all fields may be full, and all rivers, with the abundance of great waters.⁴² And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows, and their corn.⁴³ And they shall go stedfastly to Babal, and make her afraid.⁴⁴ They shall come to her, and besiege her, the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her: then shall the dust and smoke go up to the heaven, and all they that be about her shall bewail her.⁴⁵ And they that remain under her shall do service to them that have put her in fear.⁴⁶ And you, Asia, that art partaker of the hope of Babal, and art the glory of her person:⁴⁷ Woe be to you, you wretch, because you have made yourself like to her; and have decked your daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in your lovers, which have alway desired to commit whoredom with you!⁴⁸ You have followed her that is hated in all her works and inventions: therefore says Alahayam,⁴⁹ I will send plagues upon you; widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste your houses with destruction and death.⁵⁰ And the glory of your power shall be dried up as a flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over you.⁵¹ You shall be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wounds, so that the mighty and lovers shall not be able to receive you.⁵² Would I with jealousy have so proceeded against you, says the Adanay,⁵³ If you had not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of your hands, and saying over their dead, when you were drunken,⁵⁴ Set forth the beauty of your countenance.⁵⁵ The reward of your whoredom shall be in your bosom, therefore shall you receive recompence.⁵⁶ Like as you have done to my chosen, says the Adanay, even so shall Alahayam do to you, and shall deliver you into mischief.⁵⁷ Your children shall die of hunger, and you shall fall through the sword: your cities shall be broken down, and all your shall perish with the sword in the field.⁵⁸ They that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and eat their own flesh, and drink their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.⁵⁹ You as unhappy shall come through the sea, and receive plagues again.⁶⁰ And in the passage they shall rush on the idle city, and shall destroy some portion of your land, and consume part of your glory, and shall return to Babal that was destroyed.⁶¹ And you shall be cast down by them as stubble, and they shall be to you as fire;⁶² And shall consume you, and your cities, your land, and your mountains; all your woods and your fruitful trees shall they burn up with fire.⁶³ Your children shall they carry away captive, and, look, what you have, they shall spoil it, and mar the beauty of your face.

16 Woe be to you, Babal, and Asia! woe be to you, Matzarayam, and Aram!² Gird up yourselves with cloths of sack and hair, bewail your children, and be sorry; for your destruction is at hand.³ A sword is sent upon you, and who may turn it back?⁴ A fire is sent among you, and who may quench it?⁵ Plagues are sent to you, and what is he that may drive them away?⁶ May any man drive away an hungry lion in the wood? or may any one quench the fire in stubble, when it has begun to burn?⁷ May one turn again the arrow that is shot of a strong archer?⁸ The mighty Adanay sends the plagues, and who is he that can drive them away?⁹ A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that may quench it?¹⁰ He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not be afraid?¹¹ The Adanay shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly beaten to powder at his presence?¹² The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof; the sea arises up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it are troubled, and the fishes thereof also, before the Adanay, and before the glory of his power:¹³ For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not miss, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.¹⁴ Behold, the plagues are sent, and shall not return again, until they come upon the earth.¹⁵ The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundation of the earth.¹⁶ Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer returns not backward: even so the plagues that shall be sent upon earth shall not return again.¹⁷ Woe is me! woe is me! who will deliver me in those days?¹⁸ The beginning of sorrows and great mournings; the beginning of famine and great death; the beginning of wars, and the powers shall stand in fear; the beginning of evils! what shall I do when these evils shall come?¹⁹ Behold, famine and plague, tribulation and anguish, are sent as scourges for amendment.²⁰ But for all these things they shall not turn from their wickedness, nor be alway mindful of the scourges.²¹ Behold, victuals shall be so good cheap upon earth, that they shall think themselves to be in good case, and even then shall evils grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion.²² For many of them that dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the other, that escape the hunger, shall the sword destroy.²³ And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be wasted, and the cities shall be cast down.²⁴ There shall be no man left to till the earth, and to sow it.²⁵ The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather them?²⁶ The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread them? for all places shall be desolate of men:²⁷ So that one man shall desire to see another, and to hear his voice.²⁸ For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which shall hide themselves in the thick groves, and in the clefts of the rocks.²⁹ As in an orchard of olives upon every tree there are left three or four olives;³⁰ Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some clusters of them that diligently seek through the vineyard:³¹ Even so in those days there shall be three or four left by them that search their houses with the sword.³² And the earth shall be laid waste, and the fields thereof shall wax old, and her ways and all her paths shall grow full of thorns, because no man shall travel therethrough.³³ The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, having no helpers.³⁴ In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.³⁵ Hear now these things, and understand them, you servants of the Adanay.³⁶ Behold the word of the Adanay, receive it: believe not the gods of whom the Adanay spoke.³⁷ Behold, the plagues draw nigh, and are not slack.³⁸ As when a woman with child in the ninth month brings forth her son, within two or three hours of her birth great pains compass her womb, which pains, when the child comes forth, they slack not a moment:³⁹ Even so shall not the plagues be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall mourn, and sorrows shall come upon it on every side.⁴⁰ O my people, hear my word: make you ready to the battle, and in those evils be even as pilgrims upon the earth.⁴¹ He that sells, let him be as he that flees away: and he that buyeth, as one that will lose:⁴² He that occupieth merchandise, as he that has no profit by it: and he that builds, as he that shall not dwell therein:⁴³ He that sows, as if he should not reap: so also he that plants the vineyard, as he that shall not gather the grapes:⁴⁴ They that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowers.⁴⁵ And therefore they that labour, labour in vain:⁴⁶ For strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children captives, for in captivity and famine shall they get children.⁴⁷ And they that occupy their merchandise with robbery, the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own persons:⁴⁸ The more will I be angry with them for their sin, says the Adanay.⁴⁹ Like as a whore envies a right honest and virtuous woman:⁵⁰ So shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh herself, and shall accuse her to her face, when he comes that shall defend him that diligently searcheth out every sin upon earth.⁵¹ And therefore be you not like thereunto, nor to the works thereof.⁵² For yet a little, and iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reign among you.⁵³ Let not the sinner say that he has not sinned: for Alahayam shall burn coals of fire upon his head, which says before the Adanay Alahayam and his glory, I have not sinned.⁵⁴ Behold, the Adanay knows all the works of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts:⁵⁵ Which spoke but the word, Let the earth be made; and it was made: Let the heaven be made; and it was created.⁵⁶ In his word were the stars made, and he knows the number of them.⁵⁷ He searcheth the deep, and the treasures thereof; he has measured the sea, and what it contains.⁵⁸ He has shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word has he hanged the earth upon the waters.⁵⁹ He spreadeth out the heavens like a vault; upon the waters has he founded it.⁶⁰ In the desert has he made springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, that the floods might pour down from the high rocks to water the earth.⁶¹ He made man, and put his heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and understanding.⁶² Yea, and the Spirit of Shaday Alahayam, which made all things, and searcheth out all hidden things in the secrets of the earth,⁶³ Surely he knows your inventions, and what you think in your hearts, even them that sin, and would hide their sin.⁶⁴ Therefore has the Adanay exactly searched out all your works, and he will put you all to shame.⁶⁵ And when your sins are brought forth, you shall be ashamed before men, and your own sins shall be your accusers in that day.⁶⁶ What will you do? or how will you hide your sins before Alahayam and his angels?⁶⁷ Behold, Alahayam himself is the judge, fear him: leave off from your sins, and forget your iniquities, to meddle no more with them for ever: so shall Alahayam lead you forth, and deliver you from all trouble.⁶⁸ For, behold, the burning wrath of a great multitude is kindled over you, and they shall take away certain of you, and feed you, being idle, with things offered to idols.⁶⁹ And they that consent to them shall be had in derision and in reproach, and trodden under foot.⁷⁰ For there shall be in every place, and in the next cities, a great insurrection upon those that fear the Adanay.⁷¹ They shall be like mad men, sparing none, but still spoiling and destroying those that fear the Adanay.⁷² For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out of their houses.⁷³ Then shall they be known, who are my chosen; and they shall be tried as the gold in the fire.⁷⁴ Hear, O you my beloved, says the Adanay: behold, the days of trouble are at hand, but I will deliver you from the same.⁷⁵ Be you not afraid, neither doubt; for Alahayam is your guide,⁷⁶ And the guide of them who keep my commandments and precepts, says the Adanay Alahayam: let not your sins weigh you down, and let not your iniquities lift up themselves.⁷⁷ Woe be to them that are bound with their sins, and covered with their iniquities, like as a field is covered over with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thorns, that no man may travel through!⁷⁸ It is left undressed, and is cast into the fire to be consumed therewith.

1 The book of the words of Tobit, son of Tobiel, the son of Ananiel, the son of Adiel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asael, of the tribe of Nephthali; ² Who in the time of Enemessar king of the Ashawar was led captive out of Thisbe, which is at the right hand of that city, which is called properly Nephthali in Galayal above Aser. ³ I Tobit have walked all the days of my life in the ways of truth and justice, and I did many almsdeeds to my brethren, and my nation, who came with me to Nineve, into the land of the Ashawar. ⁴ And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Yasharaal being but young, all the tribe of Nephthali my father fell from the house of Yarawashalam, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Yasharaal, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, where the temple of the habitation of the most High was consecrated and built for all ages. ⁵ Now all the tribes which together revolted, and the house of my father Nephthali, sacrificed to the heifer Bail. ⁶ But I alone went often to Yarawashalam at the feasts, as it was ordained to all the people of Yasharaal by an everlasting decree, having the firstfruits and tenths of increase, with that which was first shorn; and them gave I at the altar to the priests the children of Aharan. ⁷ The first tenth part of all increase I gave to the sons of Aharan, who ministered at Yarawashalam: another tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it every year at Yarawashalam: ⁸ And the third I gave to them to whom it was meet, as Debora my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father. ⁹ Furthermore, when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine own kindred, and of her I begat Tobias. ¹⁰ And when we were carried away captives to Nineve, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of the bread of the Gentiles. ¹¹ But I kept myself from eating; ¹² Because I remembered Alahayam with all my heart. ¹³ And the most High gave me grace and favour before Enemessar, so that I was his purveyor. ¹⁴ And I went into Maday, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at Rages a city of Maday ten talents of silver. ¹⁵ Now when Enemessar was dead, Sanacharayab his son reigned in his stead; whose estate was troubled, that I could not go into Maday. ¹⁶ And in the time of Enemessar I gave many alms to my brethren, and gave my bread to the hungry, ¹⁷ And my clothes to the naked: and if I saw any of my nation dead, or cast about the walls of Nineve, I buried him. ¹⁸ And if the king Sanacharayab had slain any, when he was come, and fled from Yahawadah, I buried them privily; for in his wrath he killed many; but the bodies were not found, when they were sought for of the king. ¹⁹ And when one of the Ninevites went and complained of me to the king, that I buried them, and hid myself; understanding that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew myself for fear. ²⁰ Then all my goods were forcibly taken away, neither was there any thing left me, beside my wife Anna and my son Tobias. ²¹ And there passed not five and fifty days, before two of his sons killed him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararath; and Sarchedonus his son reigned in his stead; who appointed over his father's accounts, and over all his affairs, Achiacharus my brother Anael's son. ²² And Achiacharus intreating for me, I returned to Nineve. Now Achiacharus was cupbearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward, and overseer of the accounts: and Sarchedonus appointed him next to him: and he was my brother's son.

2 Now when I was come home again, and my wife Anna was restored to me, with my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, in the which I sat down to eat. ² And when I saw abundance of meat, I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever you shall find out of our brethren, who is mindful of the Adanay; and, lo, I tarry for you. ³ But he came again, and said, Father, one of our nation is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace. ⁴ Then before I had tasted of any meat, I started up, and took him up into a room until the going down of the sun. ⁵ Then I returned, and washed myself, and ate my meat in heaviness, ⁶ Remembering that prophecy of Imawas, as he said, Your feasts shall be turned into mourning, and all your mirth into lamentation. ⁷ Therefore I wept: and after the going down of the sun I went and made a grave, and buried him. ⁸ But my neighbours mocked me, and said, This man is not yet afraid to be put to death for this matter: who fled away; and yet, lo, he burieth the dead again. ⁹ The same night also I returned from the burial, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, being polluted and my face was uncovered: ¹⁰ And I knew not that there were sparrows in the wall, and mine eyes being open, the sparrows muted warm dung into mine eyes, and a whiteness came in mine eyes: and I went to the physicians, but they helped me not: moreover Achiacharus did nourish me, until I went into Elymais. ¹¹ And my wife Anna did take women's works to do. ¹² And when she had sent them home to the owners, they paid her wages, and gave her also besides a kid. ¹³ And when it was in my house, and began to cry, I said to her, From whence is this kid? is it not stolen? render it to the owners; for it is not lawful to eat any thing that is stolen. ¹⁴ But she replied upon me, It was given for a gift more than the wages. Howbeit I did not believe her, but bade her render it to the owners: and I was abashed at her. But she replied upon me, Where are your alms and your righteous deeds? behold, you and all your works are known.

3 Then I being grieved did weep, and in my sorrow prayed, saying, ² O Adanay, you are just, and all your works and all your ways are mercy and truth, and you judge truly and justly for ever. ³ Remember me, and look on me, punish me not for my sins and ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, who have sinned before you: ⁴ For they obeyed not your commandments: therefore you have delivered us for a spoil, and to captivity, and to death, and for a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed. ⁵ And now your judgments are many and true: deal with me according to my sins and my fathers': because we have not kept your commandments, neither have walked in truth before you. ⁶ Now therefore deal with me as seems best to you, and command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be dissolved, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and have much sorrow: command therefore that I may now be delivered out of this distress, and go into the everlasting place: turn not your face away from me. ⁷ It came to pass the same day, that in Ecbatane a city of Maday Sara the daughter of Raiwaal was also reproached by her father's maids; ⁸ Because that she had been married to seven husbands, whom Asmodeus the evil spirit had killed, before they had lain with her. Do you not know, said they, that you have strangled your husbands? you have had already seven husbands, neither were you named after any of them. ⁹ Therefore do you beat us for them? if they be dead, go your ways after them, let us never see of you either son or daughter. ¹⁰ When she heard these things, she was very sorrowful, so that she thought to have strangled herself; and she said, I am the only daughter of my father, and if I do this, it shall be a reproach to him, and I shall bring his old age with sorrow to the grave. ¹¹ Then she prayed toward the window, and said, Blessed are you, O Adanay my Alahayam, and your holy and glorious name is blessed and honourable for ever: let all your works praise you for ever. ¹² And now, O Adanay, I set mine eyes and my face toward you, ¹³ And say, Take me out of the earth, that I may hear no more the reproach. ¹⁴ You know, Adanay, that I am pure from all sin with man,¹⁵ And that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, neither has he any child to be his heir, neither any near kinsman, nor any son of his alive, to whom I may keep myself for a wife: my seven husbands are already dead; and why should I live? but if it please not you that I should die, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, that I hear no more reproach.

¹⁶ So the prayers of them both were heard before the majesty of the great Alahayam.¹⁷ And Raphael was sent to heal them both, that is, to scale away the whiteness of Tobit's eyes, and to give Sara the daughter of Raiwaal for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind Asmodeus the evil spirit; because she belonged to Tobias by right of inheritance. The selfsame time came Tobit home, and entered into his house, and Sara the daughter of Raiwaal came down from her upper chamber.

4 In that day Tobit remembered the money which he had committed to Gabael in Rages of Maday,² And said with himself, I have wished for death; therefore do I not call for my son Tobias that I may signify to him of the money before I die?³ And when he had called him, he said, My son, when I am dead, bury me; and despise not your mother, but honour her all the days of your life, and do that which shall please her, and grieve her not.⁴ Remember, my son, that she saw many dangers for you, when you were in her womb: and when she is dead, bury her by me in one grave.⁵ My son, be mindful of the Adanay our Alahayam all your days, and let not your will be set to sin, or to transgress his commandments: do uprightly all your life long, and follow not the ways of unrighteousness.⁶ For if you deal truly, your doings shall prosperously succeed to you, and to all them that live justly.⁷ Give alms of your substance; and when you give alms, let not your eye be envious, neither turn your face from any poor, and the face of Alahayam shall not be turned away from you.⁸ If you have abundance give alms accordingly: if you have but a little, be not afraid to give according to that little:

¹⁶ Give of your bread to the hungry, and of your garments to them that are naked; and according to your abundance give alms: and let not your eye be envious, when you give alms.¹⁷ Pour out your bread on the burial of the just, but give nothing to the wicked.

¹⁸ Ask counsel of all that are wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable.¹⁹ Bless the Adanay your Alahayam always, and desire of him that your ways may be directed, and that all your paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation has not counsel; but the Adanay himself gives all good things, and he humbles whom he will, as he will; now therefore, my son, remember my commandments, neither let them be put out of your mind.²⁰ And now I signify this to you that I committed ten talents to Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages in Maday.²¹ And fear not, my son, that we are made poor: for you have much wealth, if you fear Alahayam, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

5 Tobias then answered and said, Father, I will do all things which you have commanded me:² But how can I receive the money, seeing I know him not?³ Then he gave him the handwriting, and said to him, Seek you a man which may go with you, whiles I yet live, and I will give him wages: and go and receive the money.⁴ Therefore when he went to seek a man, he found Raphael that was an angel.⁵ But he knew not; and he said to him, Can you go with me to Rages? and know you those places well?

⁶ To whom the angel said, I will go with you, and I know the way well: for I have lodged with our brother Gabael.⁷ Then Tobias said to him, Tarry for me, till I tell my father.⁸ Then he said to him, Go and tarry not. So he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. Then he said, Call him to me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with you.⁹ So he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another.¹⁰ Then Tobit said to him, Brother, show me of what tribe and family you are.¹¹ To whom he said, Do you seek for a tribe or family, or an hired man to go with your son? Then Tobit said to him, I would know, brother, your kindred and name.¹² Then he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, and of your brethren.¹³ Then Tobit said, You are welcome, brother; be not now angry with me, because I have enquired to know your tribe and your family; for you are my brother, of an honest and good stock: for I know Ananias and Jonathas, sons of that great Samaias, as we went together to Yarawashalam to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of the fruits; and they were not seduced with the error of our brethren: my brother, you are of a good stock.

¹⁴ But tell me, what wages shall I give you? will you a drachm a day, and things necessary, as to mine own son?¹⁵ Yea, moreover, if you return safe, I will add something to your wages.¹⁶ So they were well pleased. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare yourself for the journey, and Alahayam send you a good journey. And when his son had prepared all things for the journey, his father said, Go you with this man, and Alahayam, which dwells in heaven, prosper your journey, and the angel of Alahayam keep you company. So they went forth both, and the young man's dog with them.¹⁷ But Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, Why have you sent away our son? is he not the staff of our hand, in going in and out before us?

¹⁸ Be not greedy to add money to money: but let it be as refuse in respect of our child.¹⁹ For that which the Adanay has given us to live with does suffice us.²⁰ Then said Tobit to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return in safety, and your eyes shall see him.

6 And as they went on their journey, they came in the evening to the river Tigris, and they lodged there.² And when the young man went down to wash himself, a fish leaped out of the river, and would have devoured him.³ Then the angel said to him, Take the fish. And the young man laid hold of the fish, and drew it to land.

⁴ To whom the angel said, Open the fish, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely.⁵ So the young man did as the angel commanded him; and when they had roasted the fish, they did eat it: then they both went on their way, till they drew near to Ecbatane.⁶ Then the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gal of the fish?⁷ And he said to him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a devil or an evil spirit trouble any, we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed.⁸ As for the gall, it is good to anoint a man that has whiteness in his eyes, and he shall be healed.⁹ And when they were come near to Rages,¹⁰ The angel said to the young man, Brother, to day we shall lodge with Raiwaal, who is your cousin; he also has one only daughter, named Sara; I will speak for her, that she may be given you for a wife.

¹¹ For to you does the right of her appertain, seeing you only art of her kindred.¹² And the maid is fair and wise: now therefore hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raiwaal cannot marry her to another according to the law of Mashah, but he shall be guilty of death, because the right of inheritance does rather appertain to you than to any other.¹³ Then the young man answered the angel, I have heard, brother Azarias that this maid has been given to seven men, who all died in the marriage chamber.¹⁴ And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest if I go in to her, I die, as the other before: for a wicked spirit loves her, which hurts no body, but those which come to her; therefore I also fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life because of me to the grave with sorrow: for they have no other son to bury them.¹⁵ Then the angel said to him, Do you not remember the precepts which your father gave you, that you should marry a wife of your own kindred? therefore hear me, O my brother; for she shall be given you to wife; and make you no reckoning of the evil spirit; for this same night shall she be given you in marriage.¹⁶ And when you shall come into the marriage chamber, you shall take the ashes of perfume, and shall lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shall make a smoke with it:¹⁷ And the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more: but when you shall come to her, rise up both of you, and pray to Alahayam which is merciful, who will have pity on you, and save you: fear not, for she is appointed to you from the beginning; and you shall preserve her, and she shall go with you. Moreover I suppose that she shall bear you children. Now when Tobias had heard these things, he loved her, and his heart was effectually joined to her.

7 And when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raiwaal, and Sara met them: and after they had saluted one another, she brought them into the house.² Then said Raiwaal to Edna his wife, How like is this young man to Tobit my cousin!³ And Raiwaal asked them, From whence are you, brethren? To whom they said, We are of the sons of Nephthalim, which are captives in Nineve.⁴ Then he said to them, Do you know Tobit our kinsman? And they said, We know him. Then said he, Is he in good health? And they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father.⁶ Then Raiwaal leaped up, and kissed him, and wept,⁷ And blessed him, and said to him, You are the son of an honest and good man. But when he had heard that Tobit was blind, he was sorrowful, and wept.⁸ And likewise Edna his wife and Sara his daughter wept. Moreover they entertained them cheerfully; and after that they had killed a ram of the flock, they set store of meat on the table. Then said Tobias to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which you did talk in the way, and let this business be dispatched.⁹ So he communicated the matter with Raiwaal: and Raiwaal said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry:¹⁰ For it is meet that you should marry my daughter: nevertheless I will declare to you the truth.¹¹ I have given my daughter in marriage to seven men, who died that night they came in to her: nevertheless for the present be merry. But Tobias said, I will eat nothing here, till we agree and swear one to another.¹² Raiwaal said, Then take her from henceforth according to the manner, for you are her cousin, and she is your, and the merciful Alahayam give you good success in all things.¹³ Then he called his daughter Sara, and she came to her father, and he took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, saying, Behold, take her after the law of Mashah, and lead her away to your father. And he blessed them;¹⁴ And called Edna his wife, and took paper, and did write an instrument of covenants, and sealed it.¹⁵ Then they began to eat.¹⁶ After Raiwaal called his wife Edna, and said to her, Sister, prepare another chamber, and bring her in there.¹⁷ Which when she had done as he had bidden her, she brought her there: and she wept, and she received the tears of her daughter, and said to her,¹⁸ Be of good comfort, my daughter; the Adanay of heaven and earth give you joy for this your sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

8 And when they had supped, they brought Tobias in to her.² And as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the ashes of the perfumes, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith.³ The which smell when the evil spirit had smelled, he fled into the utmost parts of Matzarayam, and the angel bound him.⁴ And after that they were both shut in together, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that Alahayam would have pity on us.⁵ Then began Tobias to say, Blessed are you, O Alahayam of our fathers, and blessed is your holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless you, and all your creatures.⁶ You made Adam, and gave him Chawah his wife for an helper and stay: of them came mankind: you have said, It is not good that man should be alone; let us make to him an aid like to himself.⁷ And now, O Adanay, I take not this my sister for lust but uprightly: therefore mercifully ordain that we may become aged together.⁸ And she said with him, Amen.⁹ So they slept both that night. And Raiwaal arose, and went and made a grave,¹⁰ Saying, I fear lest he also be dead.¹¹ But when Raiwaal was come into his house,¹² He said to his wife Edna. Send one of the maids, and let her see whether he be alive: if he be not, that we may bury him, and no man know it.¹³ So the maid opened the door, and went in, and found them both asleep,¹⁴ And came forth, and told them that he was alive.¹⁵ Then Raiwaal praised Alahayam, and said, O Alahayam, you are worthy to be praised with all pure and holy praise; therefore let your saints praise you with all your creatures; and let all your angels and your elect praise you for ever.¹⁶ You are to be praised, for you have made me joyful; and that is not come to me which I suspected; but you have dealt with us according to your great mercy.¹⁷ You are to be praised because you have had mercy of two that were the only begotten children of their fathers: grant them mercy, O Adanay, and finish their life in health with joy and mercy.¹⁸ Then Raiwaal bade his servants to fill the grave.¹⁹ And he kept the wedding feast fourteen days.²⁰ For before the days of the marriage were finished, Raiwaal had said to him by an oath, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the marriage were expired;²¹ And then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and should have the rest when I and my wife be dead.

9 Then Tobias called Raphael, and said to him,² Brother Azarias, take with you a servant, and two camels, and go to Rages of Maday to Gabael, and bring me the money, and bring him to the wedding.³ For Raiwaal has sworn that I shall not depart.⁴ But my father counts the days; and if I tarry long, he will be very sorry.⁵ So Raphael went out, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the handwriting: who brought forth bags which were sealed up, and gave them to him.⁶ And early in the morning they went forth both together, and came to the wedding; and Tobias blessed his wife.

10 Now Tobit his father counted every day: and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not,² Then Tobit said, Are they detained? or is Gabael dead, and there is no man to give him the money? Therefore he was very sorry.⁴ Then his wife said to him, My son is dead, seeing he stays long; and she began to wail him, and said,⁵ Now I care for nothing, my son, since I have let you go, the light of mine eyes.⁶ To whom Tobit said, Hold your peace, take no care, for he is safe.⁷ But she said, Hold your peace, and deceive me not; my son is dead. And she went out every day into the way which they went, and did eat no meat on the daytime, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding were expired, which Raiwaal had sworn that he should spend there. Then Tobias said to Raiwaal, Let me go, for my father and my mother look no more to see me.⁸ But his father in law said to him, Tarry with me, and I will send to your father, and they shall declare to him how things go with you.⁹ But Tobias said, No; but let me go to my father.¹⁰ Then Raiwaal arose, and gave him Sara his wife, and half his goods, servants, and cattle, and money:¹¹ And he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The Alahayam of heaven give you a prosperous journey, my children.¹² And he said to his daughter, Honour your father and your mother in law, which are now your parents, that I may hear good report of you. And he kissed her. Edna also said to Tobias, The Adanay of heaven restore you, my dear brother, and grant that I may see your children of my daughter Sara before I die, that I may rejoice before the Adanay: behold, I commit my daughter to you of special trust; where are do not entreat her evil.

11 After these things Tobias went his way, praising Alahayam that he had given him a prosperous journey, and blessed Raiwaal and Edna his wife, and went on his way till they drew near to Nineve. ² Then Raphael said to Tobias, You know, brother, how you did leave your father: ³ Let us haste before your wife, and prepare the house. ⁴ And take in your hand the gall of the fish. So they went their way, and the dog went after them. ⁵ Now Anna sat looking about toward the way for her son. ⁶ And when she espied him coming, she said to his father, Behold, your son comes, and the man that went with him. ⁷ Then said Raphael, I know, Tobias, that your father will open his eyes. ⁸ Therefore anoint you his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and the whiteness shall fall away, and he shall see you. ⁹ Then Anna ran forth, and fell upon the neck of her son, and said to him, Seeing I have seen you, my son, from henceforth I am content to die. And they wept both. ¹⁰ Tobit also went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran to him, ¹¹ And took hold of his father: and he strake of the gall on his fathers' eyes, saying, Be of good hope, my father. ¹² And when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them; ¹³ And the whiteness pulled away from the corners of his eyes: and when he saw his son, he fell upon his neck. ¹⁴ And he wept, and said, Blessed are you, O Alahayam, and blessed is your name for ever; and blessed are all your holy angels: ¹⁵ For you have scourged, and have taken pity on me: for, behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Maday. ¹⁶ Then Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineve, rejoicing and praising Alahayam: and they which saw him go marvelled, because he had received his sight. ¹⁷ But Tobias gave thanks before them, because Alahayam had mercy on him. And when he came near to Sara his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, You are welcome, daughter: Alahayam be blessed, which has brought you to us, and blessed be your father and your mother. And there was joy among all his brethren which were at Nineve. ¹⁸ And Achiacharus, and Nasbas his brother's son, came: ¹⁹ And Tobias' wedding was kept seven days with great joy.

12 Then Tobit called his son Tobias, and said to him, My son, see that the man have his wages, which went with you, and you must give him more. ² And Tobias said to him, O father, it is no harm to me to give him half of those things which I have brought: ³ For he has brought me again to you in safety, and made whole my wife, and brought me the money, and likewise healed you. ⁴ Then the old man said, It is due to him. ⁵ So he called the angel, and he said to him, Take half of all that you have brought and go away in safety. ⁶ Then he took them both apart, and said to them, Bless Alahayam, praise him, and magnify him, and praise him for the things which he has done to you in the sight of all that live. It is good to praise Alahayam, and exalt his name, and honourably to show forth the works of Alahayam; therefore be not slack to praise him. ⁷ It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but it is honourable to reveal the works of Alahayam. Do that which is good, and no evil shall touch you. ⁸ Prayer is good with fasting and alms and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms than to lay up gold: ⁹ For alms does deliver from death, and shall purge away all sin. Those that exercise alms and righteousness shall be filled with life: ¹⁰ But they that sin are enemies to their own life. ¹¹ Surely I will keep close nothing from you. For I said, It was good to keep close the secret of a king, but that it was honourable to reveal the works of Alahayam. ¹² Now therefore, when you did pray, and Sara your daughter in law, I did bring the remembrance of your prayers before the Holy One: and when you did bury the dead, I was with you likewise. ¹³ And when you did not delay to rise up, and leave your dinner, to go and cover the dead, your good deed was not hid from me: but I was with you. ¹⁴ And now Alahayam has sent me to heal you and Sara your daughter in law. ¹⁵ I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and which go in and out before the glory of the Holy One. ¹⁶ Then they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces: for they feared. ¹⁷ But he said to them, Fear not, for it shall go well with you; praise Alahayam therefore. ¹⁸ For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of our Alahayam I came; therefore praise him for ever. ¹⁹ All these days I did appear to you; but I did neither eat nor drink, but you did see a vision. ²⁰ Now therefore give Alahayam thanks: for I go up to him that sent me; but write all things which are done in a book. ²¹ And when they arose, they saw him no more. ²² Then they confessed the great and wonderful works of Alahayam, and how the angel of the Adanay had appeared to them.

13 Then Tobit wrote a prayer of rejoicing, and said, Blessed be Alahayam that lives for ever, and blessed be his kingdom. ² For he does scourge, and has mercy: he leads down to hell, and brings up again: neither is there any that can avoid his hand. ³ Confess him before the Gentiles, you children of Yasharaal: for he has scattered us among them. ⁴ There declare his greatness, and extol him before all the living: for he is our Adanay, and he is the Alahayam our Father for ever. ⁵ And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will have mercy again, and will gather us out of all nations, among whom he has scattered us. ⁶ If you turn to him with your whole heart, and with your whole mind, and deal uprightly before him, then will he turn to you, and will not hide his face from you. Therefore see what he will do with you, and confess him with your whole mouth, and praise the Adanay of might, and extol the everlasting King. In the land of my captivity do I praise him, and declare his might and majesty to a sinful nation. O you sinners, turn and do justice before him: who can tell if he will accept you, and have mercy on you? ⁷ I will extol my Alahayam, and my soul shall praise the King of heaven, and shall rejoice in his greatness. ⁸ Let all men speak, and let all praise him for his righteousness. ⁹ O Yarawashalam, the holy city, he will scourge you for your children's works, and will have mercy again on the sons of the righteous. ¹⁰ Give praise to the Adanay, for he is good: and praise the everlasting King, that his tabernacle may be builded in you again with joy, and let him make joyful there in you those that are captives, and love in you for ever those that are miserable. ¹¹ Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Adanay Alahayam with gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven; all generations shall praise you with great joy. ¹² Cursed are all they which hate you, and blessed shall all be which love you for ever. ¹³ Rejoice and be glad for the children of the just: for they shall be gathered together, and shall bless the Adanay of the just. ¹⁴ O blessed are they which love you, for they shall rejoice in your peace: blessed are they which have been sorrowful for all your scourges; for they shall rejoice for you, when they have seen all your glory, and shall be glad for ever. ¹⁵ Let my soul bless Alahayam the great King. ¹⁶ For Yarawashalam shall be built up with sapphires and emeralds, and precious stone: your walls and towers and battlements with pure gold. ¹⁷ And the streets of Yarawashalam shall be paved with beryl and carbuncle and stones of Awapayar. ¹⁸ And all her streets shall say, Alleluia; and they shall praise him, saying, Blessed be Alahayam, which has extolled it for ever.

14 So Tobit made an end of praising Alahayam. ² And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eight years: and he gave alms, and he increased in the fear of the Adanay Alahayam, and praised him. ³ And when he was very aged he called his son, and the sons of his son, and said to him, My son, take your children; for, behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life. ⁴ Go into Maday my son, for I surely believe those things which Jonas the prophet spoke of Nineve, that it shall be overthrown; and that for a time peace shall rather be in Maday; and that our brethren shall lie scattered in the earth from that good land: and Yarawashalam shall be desolate, and the house of Alahayam in it shall be burned, and shall be desolate for a time; ⁵ And that again Alahayam will have mercy on them, and bring them again into the land, where they shall build a temple, but not like to the first, until the time of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from all places of their captivity, and build up Yarawashalam gloriously, and the house of Alahayam shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building, as the prophets have spoken thereof. ⁶ And all nations shall turn, and fear the Adanay Alahayam truly, and shall bury their idols. ⁷ So shall all nations praise the Adanay, and his people shall confess Alahayam, and the Adanay shall exalt his people; and all those which love the Adanay Alahayam in truth and justice shall rejoice, shewing mercy to our brethren. ⁸ And now, my son, depart out of Nineve, because that those things which the prophet Jonas spoke shall surely come to pass. ⁹ But keep you the law and the commandments, and show yourself merciful and just, that it may go well with you. ¹⁰ And bury me decently, and your mother with me; but tarry no longer at Nineve. Remember, my son, how Aman handled Achiacharus that brought him up, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and how he rewarded him again: yet Achiacharus was saved, but the other had his reward: for he went down into darkness. Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snares of death which they had set for him: but Aman fell into the snare, and perished. ¹¹ Therefore now, my son, consider what alms does, and how righteousness does deliver. When he had said these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed, being an hundred and eight and fifty years old; and he buried him honourably. ¹² And when Anna his mother was dead, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and children to Ecbatane to Raiwaal his father in law, ¹³ Where he became old with honour, and he buried his father and mother in law honourably, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's. ¹⁴ And he died at Ecbatane in Maday, being an hundred and seven and twenty years old. ¹⁵ But before he died he heard of the destruction of Nineve, which was taken by Nabuchodonosor and Assuerus: and before his death he rejoiced over Nineve.

Judith

1 In the twelfth year of the reign of Nabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineve, the great city; in the days of Arapakashad, which reigned over the Maday in Ecbatane, ² And built in Ecbatane walls round about of stones hewn three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits: ³ And set the towers thereof upon the gates of it an hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation threescore cubits: ⁴ And he made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them was forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty armies, and for the setting in array of his footmen: ⁵ Even in those days king Nabuchodonosor made war with king Arapakashad in the great plain, which is the plain in the borders of Ragau. ⁶ And there came to him all they that dwelt in the hill country, and all that dwelt by Parath, and Tigris and Hydaspes, and the plain of Arayawak the king of the Elymeans, and very many nations of the sons of Chelod, assembled themselves to the battle. ⁷ Then Nabuchodonosor king of the Ashawar sent to all that dwelt in Paras, and to all that dwelt westward, and to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damashaq, and Libanus, and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt upon the sea coast, ⁸ And to those among the nations that were of Karamal, and Galaad, and the higher Galayal, and the great plain of Esdrelom, ⁹ And to all that were in Shamarawan and the cities thereof, and beyond Yaradan to Yarawashalam, and Betane, and Chelus, and Kades, and the river of Matzarayam, and Taphnes, and Ramesse, and all the land of Gesem, ¹⁰ Until you come beyond Tanis and Map, and to all the inhabitants of Matzarayam, until you come to the borders of Kawash. ¹¹ But all the inhabitants of the land made light of the commandment of Nabuchodonosor king of the Ashawar, neither went they with him to the battle; for they were not afraid of him: yea, he was before them as one man, and they sent away his ambassadors from them without effect, and with disgrace. ¹² Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this country, and swore by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all those coasts of Cilicia, and Damashaq, and Aram, and that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Mawaab, and the children of Imawan, and all Yahawadah, and all that were in Matzarayam, till you come to the borders of the two seas. ¹³ Then he marched in battle array with his power against king Arapakashad in the seventeenth year, and he prevailed in his battle: for he overthrew all the power of Arapakashad, and all his horsemen, and all his chariots, ¹⁴ And became lord of his cities, and came to Ecbatane, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame. ¹⁵ He took also Arapakashad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly that day. ¹⁶ So he returned afterward to Nineve, both he and all his company of sundry nations being a very great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease, and banqueted, both he and his army, an hundred and twenty days.

2 And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nabuchodonosor king of the Ashawar that he should, as he said, avenge himself on all the earth. ² So he called to him all his officers, and all his nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of the whole earth out of his own mouth. ³ Then they decreed to destroy all flesh, that did not obey the commandment of his mouth. ⁴ And when he had ended his counsel, Nabuchodonosor king of the Ashawar called Holofernes the chief captain of his army, which was next to him, and said to him. ⁵ Thus says the great king, the lord of the whole earth, Behold, you shall go forth from my presence, and take with you men that trust in their own strength, of footmen an hundred and twenty thousand; and the number of horses with their riders twelve thousand. ⁶ And you shall go against all the west country, because they disobeyed my commandment. ⁷ And you shall declare to that they prepare for me earth and water: for I will go forth in my wrath against them and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of mine army, and I will give them for a spoil to them: ⁸ So that their slain shall fill their valleys and brooks and the river shall be filled with their dead, till it overflow: ⁹ And I will lead them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth. ¹⁰ You therefore shall go forth, and take beforehand for me all their coasts: and if they will yield themselves to you, you shall reserve them for me till the day of their punishment. ¹¹ But concerning them that rebel, let not your eye spare them; but put them to the slaughter, and spoil them wheresoever you go. ¹² For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, whatsoever I have spoken, that will I do by mine hand. ¹³ And take you heed that you transgress none of the commandments of your lord, but accomplish them fully, as I have commanded you, and defer not to do them. ¹⁴ Then Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the governors and captains, and the officers of the army of Ashawar; ¹⁵ And he mustered the chosen men for the battle, as his lord had commanded him, to an hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horseback; ¹⁶ And he ranged them, as a great army is ordered for the war. ¹⁷ And he took camels and asses for their carriages, a very great number; and sheep and oxen and goats without number for their provision: ¹⁸ And plenty of victual for every man of the army, and very much gold and silver out of the king's house. ¹⁹ Then he went forth and all his power to go before king Nabuchodonosor in the voyage, and to cover all the face of the earth westward with their chariots, and horsemen, and their chosen footmen. ²⁰ A great number also sundry countries came with them like locusts, and like the sand of the earth: for the multitude was without number. ²¹ And they went forth of Nineve three days' journey toward the plain of Bectileth, and pitched from Bectileth near the mountain which is at the left hand of the upper Cilicia. ²² Then he took all his army, his footmen, and horsemen and chariots, and went from thence into the hill country; ²³ And destroyed Phud and Lawad, and spoiled all the children of Rassas, and the children of Yasharaal, which were toward the wilderness at the south of the land of the Chellians. ²⁴ Then he went over Parath, and went through Aram, and destroyed all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, till you come to the sea. ²⁵ And he took the borders of Cilicia, and killed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Yapath, which were toward the south, over against Irab. ²⁶ He compassed also all the children of Madian, and burned up their tabernacles, and spoiled their sheepcotes. ²⁷ Then he went down into the plain of Damashaq in the time of wheat harvest, and burnt up all their fields, and destroyed their flocks and herds, also he spoiled their cities, and utterly wasted their countries, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword. ²⁸ Therefore the fear and dread of him fell upon all the inhabitants of the sea coasts, which were in Tzayadawan and Tzar, and them that dwelt in Sawar and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Jemnaan; and they that dwelt in Azotus and Ascalon feared him greatly.

3 So they sent ambassadors to him to treat of peace, saying, ² Behold, we the servants of Nabuchodonosor the great king lie before you; use us as shall be good in your sight. ³ Behold, our houses, and all our places, and all our fields of wheat, and flocks, and herds, and all the lodges of our tents lie before your face; use them as it pleases you. ⁴ Behold, even our cities and the inhabitants thereof are your servants; come and deal with them as seems good to you.⁵ So the men came to Holofernes, and declared to him after this manner.⁶ Then came he down toward the sea coast, both he and his army, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for aid.⁷ So they and all the country round about received them with garlands, with dances, and with timbrels.⁸ Yet he did cast down their frontiers, and cut down their groves: for he had decreed to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations should worship Nabuchodonosor only, and that all tongues and tribes should call upon him as god.⁹ Also he came over against Esdraelon near to Yahawadah, over against the great strait of Yahawadah.¹⁰ And he pitched between Gabai and Scythopolis, and there he tarried a whole month, that he might gather together all the carriages of his army.

4 Now the children of Yasharaal, that dwelt in Yahawadah, heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nabuchodonosor king of the Ashawar had done to the nations, and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and brought them to nought.² Therefore they were exceedingly afraid of him, and were troubled for Yarawashalam, and for the temple of the Adanay their Alahayam:³ For they were newly returned from the captivity, and all the people of Yahawadah were lately gathered together: and the vessels, and the altar, and the house, were sanctified after the profanation.⁴ Therefore they sent into all the coasts of Shamarawan, and the villages and to Bethoron, and Belmen, and Yarayachaw, and to Choba, and Esora, and to the valley of Shalam:⁵ And possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victuals for the provision of war: for their fields were of late reaped.⁶ Also Joacim the high priest, which was in those days in Yarawashalam, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia, and Betomestham, which is over against Esdraelon toward the open country, near to Dothaim,⁷ Charging them to keep the passages of the hill country: for by them there was an entrance into Yahawadah, and it was easy to stop them that would come up, because the passage was straight, for two men at the most.⁸ And the children of Yasharaal did as Joacim the high priest had commanded them, with the ancients of all the people of Yasharaal, which dwelt at Yarawashalam.⁹ Then every man of Yasharaal cried to Alahayam with great fervency, and with great vehemency did they humble their souls:¹⁰ Both they, and their wives and their children, and their cattle, and every stranger and hireling, and their servants bought with money, put sackcloth upon their loins.¹¹ Thus every man and women, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Yarawashalam, fell before the temple, and cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the face of the Adanay: also they put sackcloth about the altar,¹² And cried to the Alahayam of Yasharaal all with one consent earnestly, that he would not give their children for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, and for the nations to rejoice at.¹³ So Alahayam heard their prayers, and looked upon their afflictions: for the people fasted many days in all Yahawadah and Yarawashalam before the sanctuary of the Adanay Shaday.¹⁴ And Joacim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Adanay, and they which ministered to the Adanay, had their loins girt with sackcloth, and offered the daily burnt offerings, with the vows and free gifts of the people,¹⁵ And had ashes on their mitres, and cried to the Adanay with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Yasharaal graciously.

5 Then was it declared to Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Ashawar, that the children of Yasharaal had prepared for war, and had shut up the passages of the hill country, and had fortified all the tops of the high hills and had laid impediments in the campaign countries:² Wherewith he was very angry, and called all the princes of Mawaab, and the captains of Imawan, and all the governors of the sea coast,³ And he said to them, Tell me now, you sons of Chanaan, who this people is, that dwells in the hill country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their army, and wherein is their power and strength, and what king is set over them, or captain of their army;⁴ And why have they determined not to come and meet me, more than all the inhabitants of the west.⁵ Then said Achior, the captain of all the sons of Imawan, Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of your servant, and I will declare to you the truth concerning this people, which dwells near you, and inhabits the hill countries: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of your servant.⁶ This people are descended of the Kashadayam:⁷ And they sojourned heretofore in Aram, because they would not follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Chaldea.⁸ For they left the way of their ancestors, and worshipped the Alahayam of heaven, the Alahayam whom they knew: so they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Aram, and sojourned there many days.

⁹ Then their Alahayam commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Chanaan: where they dwelt, and were increased with gold and silver, and with very much cattle.¹⁰ But when a famine covered all the land of Chanaan, they went down into Matzarayam, and sojourned there, while they were nourished, and became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation.¹¹ Therefore the king of Matzarayam rose up against them, and dealt subtilly with them, and brought them low with labouring in brick, and made them slaves.¹² Then they cried to their Alahayam, and he smote all the land of Matzarayam with incurable plagues: so the Matzarayam cast them out of their sight.¹³ And Alahayam dried the Sawap before them,

²⁰ Now therefore, my lord and governor, if there be any error against this people, and they sin against their Alahayam, let us consider that this shall be their ruin, and let us go up, and we shall overcome them.²¹ But if there be no iniquity in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Adanay defend them, and their Alahayam be for them, and we become a reproach before all the world.²² And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people standing round about the tent murmured, and the chief men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea side, and in Mawaab, spoke that he should kill him.²³ For, say they, we will not be afraid of the face of the children of Yasharaal: for, lo, it is a people that have no strength nor power for a strong battle.²⁴ Now therefore, lord Holofernes, we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all your army.

6 And when the tumult of men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the army of Ashawar said to Achior and all the Moabites before all the company of other nations,² And who are you, Achior, and the hirelings of Aparayam, that you have prophesied against us as to day, and have said, that we should not make war with the people of Yasharaal, because their Alahayam will defend them? and who is Alahayam but Nabuchodonosor?³ He will send his power, and will destroy them from the face of the earth, and their Alahayam shall not deliver them: but we his servants will destroy them as one man; for they are not able to sustain the power of our horses.⁴ For with them we will tread them under foot, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their fields shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not be able to stand before us, for they shall utterly perish, says king Nabuchodonosor, lord of all the earth: for he said, None of my words shall be in vain.⁵ And you, Achior, an hireling of Imawan, which have spoken these words in the day of your iniquity, shall see my face no more from this day, until I take vengeance of this nation that came out of Matzarayam.⁶ And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through your sides, and you shall fall among their slain, when I return.⁷ Now therefore my servants shall bring you back into the hill country, and shall set you in one of the cities of the passages:⁸ And you shall not perish, till you be destroyed with them.⁹ And if you persuade yourself in your mind that they shall be taken, let not your countenance fall: I have spoken it, and none of my words shall be in vain.¹⁰ Then Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Yasharaal.¹¹ So his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they went from the midst of the plain into the hill country, and came to the fountains that were under Bethulia.¹² And when the men of the city saw them, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up by casting of stones against them.¹³ Nevertheless having gotten privily under the hill, they bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and returned to their lord.¹⁴ But the Israelites descended from their city, and came to him, and loosed him, and brought him to Bethulia, and presented him to the governors of the city:¹⁵ Which were in those days Ozias the son of Mayakaa, of the tribe of Shamaiwan, and Chabris the son of Gothoniell, and Charmis the son of Melchiel.¹⁶ And they called together all the ancients of the city, and all their youth ran together, and their women, to the assembly, and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.¹⁷ And he answered and declared to them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of Ashawar, and whatsoever Holofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Yasharaal.¹⁸ Then the people fell down and worshipped Alahayam, and cried to Alahayam, saying,¹⁹ O Adanay Alahayam of heaven, behold their pride, and pity the low estate of our nation, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified to you this day.²⁰ Then they comforted Achior, and praised him greatly.²¹ And Ozias took him out of the assembly to his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the Alahayam of Yasharaal all that night for help.

7 The next day Holofernes commanded all his army, and all his people which were come to take his part, that they should remove their camp against Bethulia, to take aforehand the ascents of the hill country, and to make war against the children of Yasharaal.² Then their strong men removed their camps in that day, and the army of the men of war was an hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, and other men that were afoot among them, a very great multitude.³ And they camped in the valley near to Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over Dothaim even to Belmaim, and in length from Bethulia to Cynamon, which is over against Esdraelon.⁴ Now the children of Yasharaal, when they saw the multitude of them, were greatly troubled, and said every one to his neighbour, Now will these men lick up the face of the earth; for neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, are able to bear their weight.⁵ Then every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.⁶ But in the second day Holofernes brought forth all his horsemen in the sight of the children of Yasharaal which were in Bethulia,⁷ And viewed the passages up to the city, and came to the fountains of their waters, and took them, and set garrisons of men of war over them, and he himself removed toward his people.⁸ Then came to him all the chief of the children of Ishaw, and all the governors of the people of Mawaab, and the captains of the sea coast, and said,⁹ Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in your army.¹⁰ For this people of the children of Yasharaal do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, because it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains.¹¹ Now therefore, my lord, fight not against them in battle array, and there shall not so much as one man of your people perish.¹² Remain in your camp, and keep all the men of your army, and let your servants get into their hands the fountain of water, which issues forth of the foot of the mountain:¹³ For all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; so shall thirst kill them, and they shall give up their city, and we and our people shall go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will camp upon them, to watch that none go out of the city.¹⁴ So they and their wives and their children shall be consumed with fire, and before the sword come against them, they shall be overthrown in the streets where they dwell.¹⁵ Thus shall you render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not your person peaceably.¹⁶ And these words pleased Holofernes and all his servants, and he appointed to do as they had spoken.¹⁷ So the camp of the children of Imawan departed, and with them five thousand of the Ashawar, and they pitched in the valley, and took the waters, and the fountains of the waters of the children of Yasharaal.¹⁸ Then the children of Ishaw went up with the children of Imawan, and camped in the hill country over against Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east over against Ekrebel, which is near to Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochmur; and the rest of the army of the Ashawar camped in the plain, and covered the face of the whole land; and their tents and carriages were pitched to a very great multitude.¹⁹ Then the children of Yasharaal cried to the Adanay their Alahayam, because their heart failed, for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.²⁰ Thus all the company of Ashawar remained about them, both their footmen, chariots, and horsemen, four and thirty days, so that all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia.²¹ And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day; for they gave them drink by measure.²² Therefore their young children were out of heart, and their women and young men fainted for thirst, and fell down in the streets of the city, and by the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them.²³ Then all the people assembled to Ozias, and to the chief of the city, both young men, and women, and children, and cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders,²⁴ Alahayam be judge between us and you: for you have done us great injury, in that you have not required peace of the children of Ashawar.²⁵ For now we have no helper: but Alahayam has sold us into their hands, that we should be thrown down before them with thirst and great destruction.²⁶ Now therefore call them to you, and deliver the whole city for a spoil to the people of Holofernes, and to all his army.²⁷ For it is better for us to be made a spoil to them, than to die for thirst: for we will be his servants, that our souls may live, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wives nor our children to die.²⁸ We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our Alahayam and Adanay of our fathers, which punishes us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.²⁹ Then there was great weeping with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried to the Adanay Alahayam with a loud voice.³⁰ Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five days, in the which space the Adanay our Alahayam may turn his mercy toward us; for he will not forsake us utterly.³¹ And if these days pass, and there come no help to us, I will do according to your word.³² And he dispersed the people, every one to their own charge; and they went to the walls and towers of their city, and sent the women and children into their houses: and they were very low brought in the city.

8 Now at that time Yahawadayath heard thereof, which was the daughter of Mararay, the son of Ox, the son of Yawasap, the son of Ozel, the son of Elcia, the son of Ananias, the son of Gedeon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Acitho, the son of Eliu, the son of

Alayaab, the son of Nathanaal, the son of Samael, the son of Salasadal, the son of Yasharaal.² And Manasses was her husband, of her tribe and kindred, who died in the barley harvest.³ For as he stood overseeing them that bound sheaves in the field, the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in the city of Bethulia: and they buried him with his fathers in the field between Dothaim and Balamo.⁴ So Yahawadayath was a widow in her house three years and four months.⁵ And she made her a tent upon the top of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins and wore her widow's apparel.⁶ And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons and the feasts and solemn days of the house of Yasharaal.⁷ She was also of a goodly countenance, and very beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and menservants and maidservants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them.⁸ And there was none that gave her an ill word; as she feared Alahayam greatly.⁹ Now when she heard the evil words of the people against the governor, that they fainted for lack of water; for Yahawadayath had heard all the words that Ozias had spoken to them, and that he had sworn to deliver the city to the Ashawar after five days;¹⁰ Then she sent her waitingwoman, that had the government of all things that she had, to call Ozias and Chabris and Charmis, the ancients of the city.¹¹ And they came to her, and she said to them, Hear me now, O you governors of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your words that you have spoken before the people this day are not right, touching this oath which you made and pronounced between Alahayam and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Adanay turn to help you.¹² And now who are you that have tempted Alahayam this day, and stand instead of Alahayam among the children of men?¹³ And now try the Adanay Shaday, but you shall never know any thing.¹⁴ For you cannot find the depth of the heart of man, neither can you perceive the things that he thinks: then how can you search out Alahayam, that has made all these things, and know his mind, or comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, provoke not the Adanay our Alahayam to anger.¹⁵ For if he will not help us within these five days, he has power to defend us when he will, even every day, or to destroy us before our enemies.¹⁶ Do not bind the counsels of the Adanay our Alahayam: for Alahayam is not as man, that he may be threatened; neither is he as the son of man, that he should be wavering.¹⁷ Therefore let us wait for salvation of him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, if it please him.¹⁸ For there arose none in our age, neither is there any now in these days neither tribe, nor family, nor people, nor city among us, which worship gods made with hands, as has been aforetime.¹⁹ For the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and had a great fall before our enemies.²⁰ But we know none other god, therefore we trust that he will not despise us, nor any of our nation.²¹ For if we be taken so, all Yahawadah shall lie waste, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled; and he will require the profanation thereof at our mouth.²² And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the country, and the desolation of our inheritance, will he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage; and we shall be an offence and a reproach to all them that possess us.²³ For our servitude shall not be directed to favour: but the Adanay our Alahayam shall turn it to dishonour.²⁴ Now therefore, O brethren, let us show an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend upon us, and the sanctuary, and the house, and the altar, rest upon us.²⁵ Moreover let us give thanks to the Adanay our Alahayam, which trieth us, even as he did our fathers.²⁶ Remember what things he did to Abaraham, and how he tried Yatzachaq, and what happened to Yaiqab in Aram of Aram, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother.²⁷ For he has not tried us in the fire, as he did them, for the examination of their hearts, neither has he taken vengeance on us: but the Adanay does scourge them that come near to him, to admonish them.²⁸ Then said Ozias to her, All that you have spoken have you spoken with a good heart, and there is none that may gainsay your words.²⁹ For this is not the first day wherein your wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of your days all the people have known your understanding, because the disposition of your heart is good.³⁰ But the people were very thirsty, and compelled us to do to them as we have spoken, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break.³¹ Therefore now pray you for us, because you are a godly woman, and the Adanay will send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more.³² Then said Yahawadayath to them, Hear me, and I will do a thing, which shall go throughout all generations to the children of our nation.³³ You shall stand this night in the gate, and I will go forth with my waitingwoman: and within the days that you have promised to deliver the city to our enemies the Adanay will visit Yasharaal by mine hand.³⁴ But enquire not you of mine act: for I will not declare it to you, till the things be finished that I do.³⁵ Then said Ozias and the princes to her, Go in peace, and the Adanay Alahayam be before you, to take vengeance on our enemies.³⁶ So they returned from the tent, and went to their wards.

9 Yahawadayath fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and about the time that the incense of that evening was offered in Yarawashalam in the house of the Adanay Yahawadayath cried with a loud voice, and said,² O Adanay Alahayam of my father Shamaian, to whom you gave a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a maid to defile her, and discovered the thigh to her shame, and polluted her virginity to her reproach; for you said, It shall not be so; and yet they did so:³ Therefore you gave their rulers to be slain, so that they dyed their bed in blood, being deceived, and smote the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones;⁴ And have given their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among your dear children; which were moved with your zeal, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon you for aid: O Alahayam, O my Alahayam, hear me also a widow.⁵ For you have wrought not only those things, but also the things which fell out before, and which ensued after; you have thought upon the things which are now, and which are to come.⁶ Yea, what things you did determine were ready at hand, and said, Lo, we are here: for all your ways are prepared, and your judgments are in your foreknowledge.⁷ For, behold, the Ashawar are multiplied in their power; they are exalted with horse and man; they glory in the strength of their footmen; they trust in shield, and spear, and bow, and sling; and know not that you are the Adanay that break the battles: the Adanay is your name.⁸ Throw down their strength in your power, and bring down their force in your wrath: for they have purposed to defile your sanctuary, and to pollute the tabernacle where your glorious name rests and to cast down with sword the horn of your altar.⁹ Behold their pride, and send your wrath upon their heads: give into mine hand, which am a widow, the power that I have conceived.¹⁰ Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with the servant: break down their stateliness by the hand of a woman.¹¹ For your power stands not in multitude nor your might in strong men: for you are a Alahayam of the afflicted, an helper of the oppressed, an upholder of the weak, a protector of the forlorn, a saviour of them that are without hope.¹² I pray you, I pray you, O Alahayam of my father, and Alahayam of the inheritance of Yasharaal, Adanay of the heavens and earth, Creator of the waters, king of every creature, hear you my prayer:¹³ And make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed cruel things against your covenant, and your hallowed house, and against the top of Shayaan, and against the house of the possession of your children.¹⁴ And make every nation and tribe to acknowledge that you are the Alahayam of all power and might, and that there is none other that protects the people of Yasharaal but you.

10 Now after that she had ceased to cry to the Alahayam of Yasharaal, and had made an end of all these words.² She rose where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house in the which she abode in the sabbath days, and in her feast days,³ And pulled off the sackcloth which she had on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed herself with precious ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put on a tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.⁴ And she took sandals upon her feet, and put about her her bracelets, and her chains, and her rings, and her earrings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself bravely, to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.⁵ Then she gave her maid a bottle of wine, and a cruse of oil, and filled a bag with parched corn, and lumps of figs, and with fine bread; so she folded all these things together, and laid them upon her.⁶ Thus they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing there Ozias and the ancients of the city, Chabris and Charmis.⁷ And when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very greatly, and said to her.⁸ The Alahayam, the Alahayam of our fathers give you favour, and accomplish your enterprizes to the glory of the children of Yasharaal, and to the exaltation of Yarawashalam. Then they worshipped Alahayam.⁹ And she said to them, Command the gates of the city to be opened to me, that I may go forth to accomplish the things whereof you have spoken with me. So they commanded the young men to open to her, as she had spoken.¹⁰ And when they had done so, Yahawadayath went out, she, and her maid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.¹¹ Thus they went straight forth in the valley: and the first watch of the Ashawar met her,¹² And took her, and asked her, Of what people are you? and whence come you? and where go you? And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrews, and am fled from them: for they shall be given you to be consumed:¹³ And I am coming before Holofernes the chief captain of your army, to declare words of truth; and I will show him a way, whereby he shall go, and win all the hill country, without losing the body or life of any one of his men.¹⁴ Now when the men heard her words, and beheld her countenance, they wondered greatly at her beauty, and said to her,¹⁵ You have saved your life, in that you have hastened to come down to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct you, until they have delivered you to his hands.¹⁶ And when you stand before him, be not afraid in your heart, but show to him according to your word; and he will entreat you well.¹⁷ Then they chose out of them an hundred men to accompany her and her maid; and they brought her to the tent of Holofernes.¹⁸ Then was there a concourse throughout all the camp: for her coming was noised among the tents, and they came about her, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, till they told him of her.¹⁹ And they wondered at her beauty, and admired the children of Yasharaal because of her, and every one said to his neighbour, Who would despise this people, that have among them such women? surely it is not good that one man of them be left who being let go might deceive the whole earth.²⁰ And they that lay near Holofernes went out, and all his servants and they brought her into the tent.²¹ Now Holofernes rested upon his bed under a canopy, which was woven with purple, and gold, and emeralds, and precious stones.²² So they showed him of her; and he came out before his tent with silver lamps going before him.²³ And when Yahawadayath was come before him and his servants they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence to him: and his servants took her up.

11 Then said Holofernes to her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in your heart: for I never hurt any that was willing to serve Nabuchodonosor, the king of all the earth.² Now therefore, if your people that dwells in the mountains had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves.³ But now tell me therefore you are fled from them, and art come to us: for you are come for safeguard; be of good comfort, you shall live this night, and hereafter:⁴ For none shall hurt you, but entreat you well, as they do the servants of king Nabuchodonosor my lord.⁵ Then Yahawadayath said to him,

Receive the words of your servant, and suffer your handmaid to speak in your presence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night.⁶ And if you will follow the words of your handmaid, Alahayam will bring the thing perfectly to pass by you; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes.⁷ As Nabuchodonosor king of all the earth lives, and as his power lives, who has sent you for the upholding of every living thing: for not only men shall serve him by you, but also the beasts of the field, and the cattle, and the fowls of the air, shall live by your power under Nabuchodonosor and all his house.⁸ For we have heard of your wisdom and your policies, and it is reported in all the earth, that you only art excellent in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war.⁹ Now as concerning the matter, which Achior did speak in your council, we have heard his words; for the men of Bethulia saved him, and he declared to them all that he had spoken to you.¹⁰ Therefore, O lord and governor, respect not his word; but lay it up in your heart, for it is true: for our nation shall not be punished, neither can sword prevail against them, except they sin against their Alahayam.¹¹ And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, even death is now fallen upon them, and their sin has overtaken them, wherewith they will provoke their Alahayam to anger whensoever they shall do that which is not fit to be done:¹² For their victuals fail them, and all their water is scant, and they have determined to lay hands upon their cattle, and purposed to consume all those things, that Alahayam has forbidden them to eat by his laws:¹³ And are resolved to spend the firstfruits of the tenths of wine and oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that serve in Yarawashalam before the face of our Alahayam; the which things it is not lawful for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands.¹⁴ For they have sent some to Yarawashalam, because they also that dwell there have done the like, to bring them a licence from the senate.¹⁵ Now when they shall bring them word, they will forthwith do it, and they shall be given to you to be destroyed the same day.¹⁶ Therefore I your handmaid, knowing all this, am fled from their presence; and Alahayam has sent me to work things with you, whereat all the earth shall be astonished, and whosoever shall hear it.¹⁷ For your servant is religious, and serves the Alahayam of heaven day and night: now therefore, my lord, I will remain with you, and your servant will go out by night into the valley, and I will pray to Alahayam, and he will tell me when they have committed their sins:¹⁸ And I will come and show it to you: then you shall go forth with all your army, and there shall be none of them that shall resist you.¹⁹ And I will lead you through the midst of Yahawadah, until you come before Yarawashalam; and I will set your throne in the midst thereof; and you shall drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth at you: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and they were declared to me, and I am sent to tell you.²⁰ Then her words pleased Holofernes and all his servants; and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said,²¹ There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, both for beauty of face, and wisdom of words.²² Likewise Holofernes said to her. Alahayam has done well to send you before the people, that strength might be in our hands and destruction upon them that lightly regard my lord.²³ And now you are both beautiful in your countenance, and witty in your words: surely if you do as you have spoken your Alahayam shall be my Alahayam, and you shall dwell in the house of king Nabuchodonosor, and shall be renowned through the whole earth.

12 Then he commanded to bring her in where his plate was set; and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine.² And Yahawadayath said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an offence: but provision shall be made for me of the things that I have brought.³ Then Holofernes said to her, If your provision should fail, how should we give you the like? for there be none with us of your nation.⁴ Then said Yahawadayath to him As your soul lives, my lord, your handmaid shall not spend those things that I have, before the Adanay work by mine hand the things that he has determined.⁵ Then the servants of Holofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she arose when it was toward the morning watch,⁶ And sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command that your handmaid may go forth to prayer.⁷ Then Holofernes commanded his guard that they should not stay her: thus she abode in the camp three days, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed herself in a fountain of water by the camp.⁸ And when she came out, she besought the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal to direct her way to the raising up of the children of her people.⁹ So she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she did eat her meat at evening.¹⁰ And in the fourth day Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet.¹¹ Then said he to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with you, that she come to us, and eat and drink with us.¹² For, lo, it will be a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not to us, she will laugh us to scorn.¹³ Then went Bagoas from the presence of Holofernes, and came to her, and he said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and drink wine, and be merry with us and be made this day as one of the daughters of the Ashawar, which serve in the house of Nabuchodonosor.¹⁴ Then said Yahawadayath to him, Who am I now, that I should gainsay my lord? surely whatsoever pleases him I will do speedily, and it shall be my joy to the day of my death.¹⁵ So she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire, and her maid went and laid soft skins on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them.¹⁶ Now when Yahawadayath came in and sat down, Holofernes his heart was ravished with her, and his mind was moved, and he desired greatly her company; for he waited a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her.¹⁷ Then said Holofernes to her, Drink now, and be merry with us.¹⁸ So Yahawadayath said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born.¹⁹ Then she took and ate and drank before him what her maid had prepared.²⁰ And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank more wine than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

13 Now when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut his tent without, and dismissed the waiters from the presence of his lord; and they went to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long.² And Yahawadayath was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: for he was filled with wine.³ Now Yahawadayath had commanded her maid to stand without her bedchamber, and to wait for her, coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth to her prayers, and she spoke to Bagoas according to the same purpose.⁴ So all went forth and none was left in the bedchamber, neither little nor great. Then Yahawadayath, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Adanay Alahayam of all power, look at this present upon the works of mine hands for the exaltation of Yarawashalam.⁵ For now is the time to help your inheritance, and to execute your enterprizes to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against us.⁶ Then she came to the pillar of the bed, which was at Holofernes' head, and took down his fauchion from thence,⁷ And approached to his bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, this day.⁸ And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and she took away his head from him.⁹ And tumbled his body down from the bed, and pulled down the canopy from the pillars; and anon after she went forth, and gave Holofernes his head to her maid;¹⁰ And she put it in her bag of meat: so they twain went together according to their custom to prayer: and when they passed the camp, they compassed the valley, and went up the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.¹¹ Then said Yahawadayath afar off, to the watchmen at the gate, Open, open now the gate: Alahayam, even our Alahayam, is with us, to show his power yet in Yarawashalam, and his forces against the enemy, as he has even done this day.¹² Now when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called the elders of the city.¹³ And then they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange to them that she was come: so they opened the gate, and received them, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them.¹⁴ Then she said to them with a loud voice, Praise, praise Alahayam, praise Alahayam, I say, for he has not taken away his mercy from the house of Yasharaal, but has destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.¹⁵ So she took the head out of the bag, and showed it, and said to them, behold the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Ashawar, and behold the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Adanay has smitten him by the hand of a woman.¹⁶ As the Adanay lives, who has kept me in my way that I went, my countenance has deceived him to his destruction, and yet has he not committed sin with me, to defile and shame me.¹⁷ Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves and worshipped Alahayam, and said with one accord, Blessed be you, O our Alahayam, which have this day brought to nought the enemies of your people.¹⁸ Then said Ozias to her, O daughter, blessed are you of the most high Alahayam above all the women upon the earth; and blessed be the Adanay Alahayam, which has created the heavens and the earth, which has directed you to the cutting off of the head of the chief of our enemies.¹⁹ For this your confidence shall not depart from the heart of men, which remember the power of Alahayam for ever.²⁰ And Alahayam turn these things to you for a perpetual praise, to visit you in good things because you have not spared your life for the affliction of our nation, but have revenged our ruin, walking a straight way before our Alahayam. And all the people said; So be it, so be it.

14 Then said Yahawadayath to them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the highest place of your walls.² And so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, take you every one his weapons, and go forth every valiant man out of the city, and set you a captain over them, as though you would go down into the field toward the watch of the Ashawar; but go not down.³ Then they shall take their armour, and shall go into their camp, and raise up the captains of the army of Ashawar, and shall run to the tent of Holofernes, but shall not find him: then fear shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face.⁴ So you, and all that inhabit the coast of Yasharaal, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go.⁵ But before you do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Yasharaal, and that sent him to us as it were to his death.⁶ Then they called Achior out of the house of Ozias; and when he was come, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell down on his face, and his spirit failed.⁷ But when they had recovered him, he fell at Yahawadayath's feet, and revered her, and said, Blessed are you in all the tabernacles of Juda, and in all nations, which hearing your name shall be astonished.⁸ Now therefore tell me all the things that you have done in these days. Then Yahawadayath declared to him in the midst of the people all that she had done, from the day that she went forth until that hour she spoke to them.⁹ And when she had left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city.¹⁰ And when Achior had seen all that the Alahayam of Yasharaal had done, he believed in Alahayam greatly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joined to the house of Yasharaal to this day.¹¹ And as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took his weapons, and they went forth by bands to the straits of the mountain.¹² But when the Ashawar saw them, they sent to their leaders, which came to their captains and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers.¹³ So they came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that had the charge of all his things, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that they may be utterly destroyed.¹⁴ Then went in Bagoas, and knocked at the door of the tent; for he thought that he had slept with Yahawadayath.¹⁵ But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the bedchamber, and found him cast upon the floor dead, and his head was taken from him.¹⁶ Therefore he cried with a loud voice, with weeping, and sighing, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments.¹⁷ After he went into the tent where Yahawadayath lodged: and when he found her not, he leaped out to the people, and cried,¹⁸ These slaves have dealt treacherously; one woman of the Hebrews has brought shame upon the house of king Nabuchodonosor: for, behold, Holofernes lies upon the ground without a head.¹⁹ When the captains of the Ashawar' army heard these words, they rent their coats and their minds were wonderfully troubled, and there was a cry and a very great noise throughout the camp.

15 And when they that were in the tents heard, they were astonished at the thing that was done.² And fear and trembling fell upon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out all together, they fled into every way of the plain, and of the hill country.³ They also that had camped in the mountains round about Bethulia fled away. Then the children of Yasharaal, every one that was a warrior among them, rushed out upon them.⁴ Then sent Ozias to Betomasthem, and to Babay, and Chobai, and Cola and to all the coasts of Yasharaal, such as should tell the things that were done, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy them.⁵ Now when the children of Yasharaal heard it, they all fell upon them with one consent, and slew them to Chobai: likewise also they that came from Yarawashalam, and from all the hill country, (for men had told them what things were done in the camp of their enemies) and they that were in Galaad, and in Galayal, chased them with a great slaughter, until they were past Damashaq and the borders thereof.⁶ And the residue that dwelt at Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Ashawar, and spoiled them, and were greatly enriched.⁷ And the children of Yasharaal that returned from the slaughter had that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the mountains and in the plain, gat many spoils: for the multitude was very great.⁸ Then Joacim the high priest, and the ancients of the children of Yasharaal that dwelt in Yarawashalam, came to behold the good things that Alahayam had showed to Yasharaal, and to see Yahawadayath, and to salute her.⁹ And when they came to her, they blessed her with one accord, and said to her, You are the exaltation of Yarawashalam, you are the great glory of Yasharaal, you are the great rejoicing of our nation:¹⁰ You have done all these things by your hand: you have done much good to Yasharaal, and Alahayam is pleased therewith: blessed be you of the Shaday Adanay for evermore. And all the people said, So be it.¹¹ And the people spoiled the camp the space of thirty days: and they gave to Yahawadayath Holofernes his tent, and all his plate, and beds, and vessels, and all his stuff: and she took it and laid it on her mule; and made ready her carts, and laid them thereon.¹² Then all the women of Yasharaal ran together to see her, and blessed her, and made a dance among them for her: and she took branches in her hand, and gave also to the women that were with her.¹³ And they put a garland of olive upon her and her maid that was with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Yasharaal followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

16 Then Yahawadayath began to sing this thanksgiving in all Yasharaal, and all the people sang after her this song of praise.² And Yahawadayath said, Begin to my Alahayam with timbrels, sing to my Adanay with cymbals: tune to him a new psalm: exalt him, and call upon his name.³ For Alahayam breaks the battles: for among the camps in the midst of the people he has delivered me out of the hands of them that persecuted me.⁴ Ashawar came out of the mountains from the north, he came with ten thousands of his army, the multitude whereof stopped the torrents, and their horsemen have covered the hills.⁵ He bragged that he would burn up my borders, and kill my young men with the sword, and dash the sucking children against the ground, and make mine infants as a prey, and my virgins as a spoil.⁶ But the Shaday Adanay has disappointed them by the hand of a woman.⁷ For the mighty one did not fall by the young men, neither did the sons of the Titans smite him, nor high giants set upon him: but Yahawadayath the daughter of Mararay weakened him with the beauty of her countenance.⁸ For she put off the garment of her widowhood for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Yasharaal, and anointed her face with ointment, and bound her hair in a tire, and took a linen garment to deceive him.⁹ Her sandals ravished his eyes, her beauty took his mind prisoner, and the fauchion passed through his neck.¹⁰ The Paras quaked at her boldness, and the Maday were daunted at her hardness.¹¹ Then my afflicted shouted for joy, and my weak ones cried aloud; but they were astonished: these lifted up their voices, but they were overthrown.¹² The sons of the damsels have pierced them through, and wounded them as fugitives' children: they perished by the battle of the Adanay.¹³ I will sing to the Adanay a new song: O Adanay, you are great and glorious, wonderful in strength, and invincible.¹⁴ Let all creatures serve you: for you spoke, and they were made, you did send forth your spirit, and it created them, and there is none that can resist your voice.¹⁵ For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters, the rocks shall melt as wax at your presence: yet you are merciful to them that fear you.¹⁶ For all sacrifice is too little for a sweet savour to you, and all the fat is not sufficient for your burnt offering: but he that fears the Adanay is great at all times.¹⁷ Woe to the nations that rise up against my kindred! the Adanay Shaday will take vengeance of them in the day of judgment, in putting fire and worms in their flesh; and they shall feel them, and weep for ever.¹⁸ Now as soon as they entered into Yarawashalam, they worshipped the Adanay; and as soon as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, and their free offerings, and their gifts.¹⁹ Yahawadayath also dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken out of his bedchamber, for a gift to the Adanay.²⁰ So the people continued feasting in Yarawashalam before the sanctuary for the space of three months and Yahawadayath remained with them.²¹ After this time every one returned to his own inheritance, and Yahawadayath went to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was in her time honourable in all the country.²² And many desired her, but none knew her all the days of her life, after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.²³ But she increased more and more in honour, and waxed old in her husband's house, being an hundred and five years old, and made her maid free; so she died in Bethulia: and they buried her in the cave of her husband Manasses.²⁴ And the house of Yasharaal lamented her seven days: and before she died, she did distribute her goods to all them that were nearest of kindred to Manasses her husband, and to them that were the nearest of her kindred.²⁵ And there was none that made the children of Yasharaal any more afraid in the days of Yahawadayath, nor a long time after her death.

1 Now it happened in the days of Achashawarawash (this is Achashawarawash who reigned from Hadaw even to Kawash, over one hundred twenty-seven provinces), ² that in those days, when the king Achashawarawash sat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shawashan the palace, ³ in the third year of his reign, he made a feast to all his princes and his servants; the power of Paras and Maday, the nobles and princes of the provinces, being before him; ⁴ when he showed the riches of his glorious kingdom and the honor of his excellent majesty many days, even one hundred eighty days. ⁵ When these days were fulfilled, the king made a feast to all the people who were present in Shawashan the palace, both great and small, seven days, in the court of the garden of the king's palace. ⁶ [There were hangings of] white [cloth], [of] green, and [of] blue, fastened with cords of fine linen and purple to silver rings and pillars of marble: the couches were of gold and silver, on a pavement of red, and white, and yellow, and black marble. ⁷ They gave them drink in vessels of gold (the vessels being diverse one from another), and royal wine in abundance, according to the bounty of the king. ⁸ The drinking was according to the law; none could compel: for so the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every man's pleasure. ⁹ Also Washathay the queen made a feast for the women in the royal house which belonged to king Achashawarawash. ¹⁰ On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mahawaman, Bazathaa, Charabawanaa, Bagathaa, and Abagathaa, Zathar, and Carcass, the seven chamberlains who ministered in the presence of Achashawarawash the king, ¹¹ to bring Washathay the queen before the king with the crown royal, to show the peoples and the princes her beauty; for she was beautiful to look on. ¹² But the queen Washathay refused to come at the king's commandment by the chamberlains: therefore was the king very angry, and his anger burned in him. ¹³ Then the king said to the wise men, who knew the times, (for so was the king's manner toward all who knew law and judgment; ¹⁴ and the next to him were Karashanaa, Shathar, Adamathaa, Tharashayash, Maras, Marasanaa, and Mamawakan, the seven princes of Paras and Maday, who saw the king's face, and sat first in the kingdom), ¹⁵ What shall we do to the queen Washathay according to law, because she has not done the bidding of the king Achashawarawash by the chamberlains? ¹⁶ Mamawakan answered before the king and the princes, Washathay the queen has not done wrong to the king only, but also to all the princes, and to all the peoples who are in all the provinces of the king Achashawarawash. ¹⁷ For this deed of the queen will come abroad to all women, to make their husbands contemptible in their eyes, when it shall be reported, The king Achashawarawash commanded Washathay the queen to be brought in before him, but she didn't come. ¹⁸ This day will the princesses of Paras and Maday who have heard of the deed of the queen say [the like] to all the king's princes. So [will there arise] much contempt and wrath. ¹⁹ If it please the king, let there go forth a royal commandment from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Paras and the Maday, that it not be altered, that Washathay come no more before king Achashawarawash; and let the king give her royal estate to another who is better than she. ²⁰ When the king's decree which he shall make shall be published throughout all his kingdom (for it is great), all the wives will give to their husbands honor, both to great and small. ²¹ The saying pleased the king and the princes; and the king did according to the word of Mamawakan: ²² for he sent letters into all the king's provinces, into every province according to the writing of it, and to every people after their language, that every man should bear rule in his own house, and should speak according to the language of his people.

2 After these things, when the wrath of king Achashawarawash was pacified, he remembered Washathay, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her. ² Then said the king's servants who ministered to him, Let there be beautiful young virgins sought for the king: ³ and let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the beautiful young virgins to Shawashan the palace, to the house of the women, to the custody of Hagay the king's chamberlain, keeper of the women; and let their things for purification be given them; ⁴ and let the maiden who pleases the king be queen instead of Washathay. The thing pleased the king; and he did so. ⁵ There was a certain Yahawaday in Shawashan the palace, whose name was Maradakay, the son of Yaayar, the son of Shamaï, the son of Qayash, a Benjamite, ⁶ who had been carried away from Yarawashalam with the captives who had been carried away with Yakanayah king of Yahawadah, whom Nabawakadaraatzar the king of Babal had carried away. ⁷ He brought up Hadasah, who is, Asathar, his uncle's daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the maiden was fair and beautiful; and when her father and mother were dead, Maradakay took her for his own daughter. ⁸ So it happened, when the king's commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together to Shawashan the palace, to the custody of Hagay, that Asathar was taken into the king's house, to the custody of Hagay, keeper of the women. ⁹ The maiden pleased him, and she obtained kindness of him; and he speedily gave her things for her purification, with her portions, and the seven maidens who were meet to be given her out of the king's house: and he removed her and her maidens to the best place of the house of the women. ¹⁰ Asathar had not made known her people nor her relatives; for Maradakay had charged her that she should not make it known. ¹¹ Maradakay walked every day before the court of the women's house, to know how Asathar did, and what would become of her. ¹² Now when the turn of every maiden was come to go in to king Achashawarawash, after it had been done to her according to the law for the women twelve months (for so were the days of their purification accomplished, [to wit], six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odors and with the things for the purifying of the women), ¹³ then in this wise came the maiden to the king: whatever she desired was given her to go with her out of the house of the women to the king's house. ¹⁴ In the evening she went, and on the next day she returned into the second house of the women, to the custody of Shaishagaz, the king's chamberlain, who kept the concubines: she came in to the king no more, except the king delighted in her, and she were called by name. ¹⁵ Now when the turn of Asathar, the daughter of Abayachayal the uncle of Maradakay, who had taken her for his daughter, was come to go in to the king, she required nothing but what Hagay the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women, appointed. Asathar obtained favor in the sight of all those who looked at her. ¹⁶ So Asathar was taken to king Achashawarawash into his house royal in the tenth month, which is the month Tabath, in the seventh year of his reign. ¹⁷ The king loved Asathar above all the women, and she obtained favor and kindness in his sight more than all the virgins; so that he set the royal crown on her head, and made her queen instead of Washathay. ¹⁸ Then the king made a great feast to all his princes and his servants, even Asathar's feast; and he made a release to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the bounty of the king. ¹⁹ When the virgins were gathered together the second time, then Maradakay was sitting in the king's gate. ²⁰ Asathar had not yet made known her relatives nor her people; as Maradakay had charged her: for Asathar did the commandment of Maradakay, like as when she was brought up with him. ²¹ In those days, while Maradakay was sitting in the king's gate, two of the king's chamberlains, Bagathan and Tharash, of those who kept the threshold, were angry, and sought to lay hands on the king Achashawarawash.²² The thing became known to Maradakay, who showed it to Asathar the queen; and Asathar told the king [of it] in Maradakay's name.²³ When inquisition was made of the matter, and it was found to be so, they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the chronicles before the king.

3 After these things did king Achashawarawash promote Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and set his seat above all the princes who were with him.² All the king's servants, who were in the king's gate, bowed down, and did reverence to Haman; for the king had so commanded concerning him. But Maradakay didn't bow down, nor did him reverence.³ Then the king's servants, who were in the king's gate, said to Maradakay, Why disobey you the king's commandment?⁴ Now it came to pass, when they spoke daily to him, and he didn't listen to them, that they told Haman, to see whether Maradakay's matters would stand: for he had told those who he was a Yahawaday.⁵ When Haman saw that Maradakay didn't bow down, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath.⁶ But he thought scorn to lay hands on Maradakay alone; for they had made known to him the people of Maradakay: why Haman sought to destroy all the Jews who were throughout the whole kingdom of Achashawarawash, even the people of Maradakay.⁷ In the first month, which is the month Naysan, in the twelfth year of king Achashawarawash, they cast Pawarayam, that is, the lot, before Haman from day to day, and from month to month, [to] the twelfth [month], which is the month Adar.⁸ Haman said to king Achashawarawash, There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the peoples in all the provinces of your kingdom; and their laws are diverse from [those of] every people; neither keep they the king's laws: therefore it is not for the king's profit to allow them.⁹ If it please the king, let it be written that they be destroyed: and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver into the hands of those who have the charge of the [king's] business, to bring it into the king's treasuries.¹⁰ The king took his ring from his hand, and gave it to Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews' enemy.¹¹ The king said to Haman, The silver is given to you, the people also, to do with them as it seems good to you.¹² Then were the king's scribes called in the first month, on the thirteenth day of it; and there was written according to all that Haman commanded to the king's satraps, and to the governors who were over every province, and to the princes of every people, to every province according to the writing of it, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Achashawarawash it was written, and it was sealed with the king's ring.¹³ Letters were sent by posts into all the king's provinces, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish, all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even on the thirteenth [day] of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, and to take the spoil of them for a prey.¹⁴ A copy of the writing, that the decree should be given out in every province, was published to all the peoples, that they should be ready against that day.¹⁵ The posts went forth in haste by the king's commandment, and the decree was given out in Shawashan the palace. The king and Haman sat down to drink; but the city of Shawashan was perplexed.

4 Now when Maradakay knew all that was done, Maradakay tore his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and cried with a loud and a bitter cry;² and he came even before the king's gate: for none might enter within the king's gate clothed with sackcloth.³ In every province, wherever the king's commandment and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping, and wailing; and many lay in sackcloth and ashes.⁴ Asathar's maidens and her chamberlains came and told it her; and the queen was exceedingly grieved: and she sent clothing to clothe Maradakay, and to take his sackcloth from off him; but he didn't receive it.⁵ Then called Asathar for Hathach, one of the king's chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend on her, and charged him to go to Maradakay, to know what this was, and why it was.⁶ So Hathach went forth to Maradakay to the broad place of the city, which was before the king's gate.⁷ Maradakay told him of all that had happened to him, and the exact sum of the money that Haman had promised to pay to the king's treasuries for the Jews, to destroy them.⁸ Also he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree that was given out in Shawashan to destroy them, to show it to Asathar, and to declare it to her, and to charge her that she should go in to the king, to make supplication to him, and to make request before him, for her people.⁹ Hathach came and told Asathar the words of Maradakay.¹⁰ Then Asathar spoke to Hathach, and gave him a message to Maradakay [saying]:¹¹ All the king's servants, and the people of the king's provinces, do know, that whoever, whether man or woman, shall come to the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law for him, that he be put to death, except those to whom the king shall hold out the golden scepter, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in to the king these thirty days.¹² They told to Maradakay Asathar's words.¹³ Then Maradakay bade them return answer to Asathar, Don't think to yourself that you shall escape in the king's house, more than all the Jews.¹⁴ For if you altogether hold your peace at this time, then will relief and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place, but you and your father's house will perish: and who knows whether you haven't come to the kingdom for such a time as this?¹⁵ Then Asathar bade them return answer to Maradakay,¹⁶ Go, gather together all the Jews who are present in Shawashan, and fast you for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day: I also and my maidens will fast in like manner; and so will I go in to the king, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, I perish.¹⁷ So Maradakay went his way, and did according to all that Asathar had commanded him.

5 Now it happened on the third day, that Asathar put on her royal clothing, and stood in the inner court of the king's house, over against the king's house: and the king sat on his royal throne in the royal house, over against the entrance of the house.² It was so, when the king saw Asathar the queen standing in the court, that she obtained favor in his sight; and the king held out to Asathar the golden scepter that was in his hand. So Asathar drew near, and touched the top of the scepter.³ Then said the king to her, What will you, queen Asathar? and what is your request? it shall be given you even to the half of the kingdom.⁴ Asathar said, If it seem good to the king, let the king and Haman come this day to the banquet that I have prepared for him.⁵ Then the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that it may be done as Asathar has said. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Asathar had prepared.⁶ The king said to Asathar at the banquet of wine, What is your petition? and it shall be granted you: and what is your request? even to the half of the kingdom it shall be performed.⁷ Then answered Asathar, and said, My petition and my request is:⁸ if I have found favor in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition, and to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do tomorrow as the king has said.⁹ Then went Haman forth that day joyful and glad of heart: but when Haman saw Maradakay in the king's gate, that he didn't stand up nor move for him, he was filled with wrath against Maradakay.¹⁰ Nevertheless Haman refrained himself, and went home; and he sent and fetched his friends and Zarash his wife.¹¹ Haman recounted to them the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things in which the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and servants of the king.¹² Haman said moreover, Yes, Asathar the queen did let no man come in with the king to the banquet that she had prepared but myself; and tomorrow also am I invited by her together with the king.¹³ Yet all this avails me nothing, so long as I see Maradakay the Yahawaday sitting at the king's gate.¹⁴ Then said Zarash his wife and all his friends to him, Let a gallows be made fifty cubits high, and in the morning speak you to the king that Maradakay may be hanged thereon: then go you in merrily with the king to the banquet. The thing pleased Haman; and he caused the gallows to be made.

6 On that night the king couldn't sleep; and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles, and they were read before the king.² It was found written that Maradakay had told of Bagathan and Tharash, two of the king's chamberlains, of those who kept the threshold, who had sought to lay hands on the king Achashawarawash.³ The king said, What honor and dignity has been bestowed on Maradakay for this? Then the king's servants who ministered to him said, "Nothing has been done for him."⁴ The king said, "Who is in the court?" Now Haman was come into the outward court of the king's house, to speak to the king to hang Maradakay on the gallows that he had prepared for him.⁵ The king's servants said to him, Behold, Haman stands in the court. The king said, Let him come in.⁶ So Haman came in. The king said to him, What shall be done to the man whom the king delights to honor? Now Haman said in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honor more than to myself?⁷ Haman said to the king, For the man whom the king delights to honor,⁸ let royal clothing be brought which the king uses to wear, and the horse that the king rides on, and on the head of which a crown royal is set;⁹ and let the clothing and the horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king's most noble princes, that they may array the man therewith whom the king delights to honor, and cause him to ride on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honor.¹⁰ Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, and take the clothing and the horse, as you have said, and do even so to Maradakay the Yahawaday, who sits at the king's gate: let nothing fail of all that you have spoken.¹¹ Then took Haman the clothing and the horse, and arrayed Maradakay, and caused him to ride through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honor.¹² Maradakay came again to the king's gate. But Haman hurried to his house, mourning and having his head covered.¹³ Haman recounted to Zarash his wife and all his friends everything that had befallen him. Then said his wise men and Zarash his wife to him, If Maradakay, before whom you have begun to fall, be of the seed of the Jews, you shall not prevail against him, but shall surely fall before him.¹⁴ While they were yet talking with him, came the king's chamberlains, and hurried to bring Haman to the banquet that Asathar had prepared.

7 So the king and Haman came to banquet with Asathar the queen.² The king said again to Asathar on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is your petition, queen Asathar? and it shall be granted you: and what is your request? even to the half of the kingdom it shall be performed.³ Then Asathar the queen answered, If I have found favor in your sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request:⁴ for we are sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish. But if we had been sold for bondservants and bondmaids, I had held my peace, although the adversary could not have compensated for the king's damage.⁵ Then spoke the king Achashawarawash and said to Asathar the queen, Who is he, and where is he, that dared presume in his heart to do so?⁶ Asathar said, An adversary and an enemy, even this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen.⁷ The king arose in his wrath from the banquet of wine [and went] into the palace garden: and Haman stood up to make request for his life to Asathar the queen; for he saw that there was evil determined against him by the king.⁸ Then the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was fallen on the couch whereon Asathar was. Then said the king, Will he even force the queen before me in the house? As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face.⁹ Then said Charabawanaa, one of the chamberlains who were before the king, Behold also, the gallows fifty cubits high, which Haman has made for Maradakay, who spoke good for the king, stands in the house of Haman. The king said, Hang him thereon.¹⁰ So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Maradakay. Then was the king's wrath pacified.

8 On that day did the king Achashawarawash give the house of Haman the Jews' enemy to Asathar the queen. Maradakay came before the king; for Asathar had told what he was to her.² The king took off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it to Maradakay. Asathar set Maradakay over the house of Haman.³ Asathar spoke yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and begged him with tears to put away the mischief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had devised against the Jews.⁴ Then the king held out to Asathar the golden scepter. So Asathar arose, and stood before the king.⁵ She said, If it please the king, and if I have found favor in his sight, and the thing seem right before the king, and I be pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman, the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to destroy the Jews who are in all the king's provinces:⁶ for how can I endure to see the evil that shall come to my people? or how can I endure to see the destruction of my relatives?⁷ Then the king Achashawarawash said to Asathar the queen and to Maradakay the Yahawaday, See, I have given Asathar the house of Haman, and him they have hanged on the gallows, because he laid his hand on the Jews.⁸ Write you also to the Jews, as it pleases you, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's ring; for the writing which is written in the king's name, and sealed with the king's ring, may no man reverse.⁹ Then were the king's scribes called at that time, in the third month Sayawan, on the three and twentieth [day] of it; and it was written according to all that Maradakay commanded to the Jews, and to the satraps, and the governors and princes of the provinces which are from Hadaw to Kawash, one hundred twenty-seven provinces, to every province according to the writing of it, and to every people after their language, and to the Jews according to their writing, and according to their language.¹⁰ He wrote the name of king Achashawarawash, and sealed it with the king's ring, and sent letters by post on horseback, riding on swift steeds that were used in the king's service, bred of the stud:¹¹ in which the king granted the Jews who were in every city to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish, all the power of the people and province that would assault them, [their] little ones and women, and to take the spoil of them for a prey,¹² on one day in all the provinces of king Achashawarawash, [namely], on the thirteenth [day] of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.¹³ A copy of the writing, that the decree should be given out in every province, was published to all the peoples, and that the Jews should be ready against that day to avenge themselves on their enemies.¹⁴ So the posts who rode on swift steeds that were used in the king's service went out, being hurried and pressed on by the king's commandment; and the decree was given out in Shawashan the palace.¹⁵ Maradakay went forth from the presence of the king in royal clothing of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a robe of fine linen and purple: and the city of Shawashan shouted and was glad.¹⁶ The Jews had light and gladness, and joy and honor.¹⁷ In every province, and in every city, wherever the king's commandment and his decree came, the Jews had gladness and joy, a feast and a good day. Many from among the peoples of the land became Jews; for the fear of the Jews was fallen on them.

9 Now in the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, on the thirteenth day of the same, when the king's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, on the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have rule over them, (whereas it was turned to the contrary, that the Jews had rule over those who hated them,) the Jews gathered themselves together in their cities throughout all the provinces of the king Achashawarawash, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt: and no man could withstand them; for the fear of them was fallen on all the peoples.³ All the princes of the provinces, and the satraps, and the governors, and those who did the king's business, helped the Jews; because the fear of Maradakay was fallen on them.⁴ For Maradakay was great in the king's house, and his fame went forth throughout all the provinces; for the man Maradakay grew greater and greater.⁵ The Jews struck all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and with slaughter and destruction, and did what they would to those who hated them.⁶ In Shawashan the palace the Jews killed and destroyed five hundred men.⁷ Parashanadathaa, and Dalapawan, and Asapathaa,⁸ and Pawarathaa, and Adalayaa, and Arayadathaa,⁹ and Paramashathaa, and Arayasay, and Araday, and Vaizatha,¹⁰ the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Yahawaday's enemy, killed they; but they didn't lay their hand on the spoil.¹¹ On that day the number of those who were slain in Shawashan the palace was brought before the king.¹² The king said to Asathar the queen, The Jews have slain and destroyed five hundred men in Shawashan the palace, and the ten sons of Haman; what then have they done in the rest of the king's provinces! Now what is your petition? and it shall be granted you: or what is your request further? and it shall be done.¹³ Then said Asathar, If it please the king, let it be granted to the Jews who are in Shawashan to do tomorrow also according to this day's decree, and let Haman's ten sons be hanged on the gallows.¹⁴ The king commanded it so to be done: and a decree was given out in Shawashan; and they hanged Haman's ten sons.¹⁵ The Jews who were in Shawashan gathered themselves together on the fourteenth day also of the month Adar, and killed three hundred men in Shawashan; but they didn't lay their hand on the spoil.¹⁶ The other Jews who were in the king's provinces gathered themselves together, and stood for their lives, and had rest from their enemies, and killed of those who hated them seventy-five thousand; but they didn't lay their hand on the spoil.¹⁷ [This was done] on the thirteenth day of the month Adar; and on the fourteenth day of the same they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.¹⁸ But the Jews who were in Shawashan assembled together on the thirteenth [day] of it, and on the fourteenth of it; and on the fifteenth [day] of the same they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.¹⁹ Therefore do the Jews of the villages, who dwell in the unwall'd towns, make the fourteenth day of the month Adar [a day of] gladness and feasting, and a good day, and of sending portions one to another.²⁰ Maradakay wrote these things, and sent letters to all the Jews who were in all the provinces of the king Achashawarawash, both near and far,²¹ to enjoin those who they should keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, yearly,²² as the days in which the Jews had rest from their enemies, and the month which was turned to them from sorrow to gladness, and from mourning into a good day; that they should make them days of feasting and gladness, and of sending portions one to another, and gifts to the poor.²³ The Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Maradakay had written to them;²⁴ because Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pawarayam, that is the lot, to consume them, and to destroy them;²⁵ but when [the matter] came before the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked device, which he had devised against the Jews, should return on his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows.²⁶ Therefore they called these days Pawarayam, after the name of Pawarayam. Therefore because of all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seen concerning this matter, and that which had come to them,²⁷ the Jews ordained, and took on them, and on their seed, and on all such as joined themselves to them, so that it should not fail, that they would keep these two days according to the writing of it, and according to the appointed time of it, every year;²⁸ and that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and that these days of Pawarayam should not fail from among the Jews, nor the memory of them perish from their seed.²⁹ Then Asathar the queen, the daughter of Abayachayal, and Maradakay the Yahawaday, wrote with all authority to confirm this second letter of Pawarayam.³⁰ He sent letters to all the Jews, to the hundred twenty-seven provinces of the kingdom of Achashawarawash, [with] words of peace and truth,³¹ to confirm these days of Pawarayam in their appointed times, according as Maradakay the Yahawaday and Asathar the queen had enjoined them, and as they had ordained for themselves and for their seed, in the matter of the fastings and their cry.³² The commandment of Asathar confirmed these matters of Pawarayam; and it was written in the book.

10 The king Achashawarawash laid a tribute on the land, and on the isles of the sea.² All the acts of his power and of his might, and the full account of the greatness of Maradakay, whereunto the king advanced him, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Maday and Paras?³ For Maradakay the Yahawaday was next to king Achashawarawash, and great among the Jews, and accepted of the multitude of his brothers, seeking the good of his people, and speaking peace to all his seed.

10 Then Mardocheus said, Alahayam has done these things.⁵ For I remember a dream which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof has failed.⁶ A little fountain became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water; this river is Asathar, whom the king married, and made queen:⁷ And the two dragons are I and Aman.⁸ And the nations were those that were assembled to destroy the name of the Jews:⁹ And my nation is this Yasharaal, which cried to Alahayam, and were saved: for the Adanay has saved his people, and the Adanay has delivered us from all those evils, and Alahayam has wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done among the Gentiles.¹⁰ Therefore has he made two lots, one for the people of Alahayam, and another for all the Gentiles.¹¹ And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgment, before Alahayam among all nations.¹² So Alahayam remembered his people, and justified his inheritance.¹³ Therefore those days shall be to them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the same month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before Alahayam, according to the generations for ever among his people.

11 In the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemeus and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemeus his son, brought this epistle of Phurim, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemeus, that was in Yarawashalam, had interpreted it.² In the second year of the reign of Artexerxes the great, in the first day of the month Naysan, Mardocheus the son of Jairus, the son of Semei, the son of Cisai, of the tribe of Banayaman, had a dream;³ Who was a Yahawaday, and dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, being a servitor in the king's court.⁴ He was also one of the captives, which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babal carried from Yarawashalam with Jechonias king of Yahawadah; and this was his dream:⁵ Behold a noise of a tumult, with thunder, and earthquakes, and uproar in the land:⁶ And, behold, two great dragons came forth ready to fight, and their cry was great.⁷ And at their cry all nations were prepared to battle, that they might fight against the righteous people.⁸ And lo a day of darkness and obscurity, tribulation and anguish, affliction and great uproar, upon earth.⁹ And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing their own evils, and were ready to perish.¹⁰ Then they cried to Alahayam, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, was made a great flood, even much water.¹¹ The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious.¹² Now when Mardocheus, who had seen this dream, and what Alahayam had determined to do, was awake, he bore this dream in mind, and until night by all means was desirous to know it.

12 And Mardocheus took his rest in the court with Gabatha and Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king, and keepers of the palace.² And he heard their devices, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artexerxes the king; and so he certified the king of them.³ Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were strangled.⁴ And the king made a record of these things, and Mardocheus also wrote thereof.⁵ So the king commanded, Mardocheus to serve in the court, and for this he rewarded him.⁶ Howbeit Aman the son of Amadathus the Agagite, who was in great honour with the king, sought to molest Mardocheus and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

13 The copy of the letters was this: The great king Artexerxes writes these things to the princes and governors that are under him from Hadaw to Kawash in an hundred and seven and twenty provinces.² After that I became lord over many nations and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying myself always with equity and mildness, I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts, to renew peace, which is desired of all men.³ Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to pass, Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will and steadfast fidelity, and had the honour of the second place in the kingdom,⁴ Declared to us, that in all nations throughout the world there was scattered a certain malicious people, that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually despised the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms, honourably intended by us cannot go forward.⁵ Seeing then we understand that this people alone is continually in opposition to all men, differing in the strange manner of their laws, and evil affected to our state, working all the mischief they can that our kingdom may not be firmly established:⁶ Therefore have we commanded, that all they that are signified in writing to you by Aman, who is ordained over the affairs, and is next to us, shall all, with their wives and children, be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without all mercy and pity, the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar of this present year:⁷ That they, who of old and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go into the grave, and so ever hereafter cause our affairs to be well settled, and without trouble.⁸ Then Mardocheus thought upon all the works of the Adanay, and made his prayer to him,⁹ Saying, O Adanay, Adanay, the King Shaday: for the whole world is in your power, and if you have appointed to save Yasharaal, there is no man that can gainsay you:¹⁰ For you have made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things under the heaven.¹¹ You are Adanay of all things, and there is no man that can resist you, which art the Adanay.¹² You know all things, and you know, Adanay, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that I did not bow down to proud Aman.¹³ For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Yasharaal to kiss the soles of his feet.¹⁴ But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of Alahayam: neither will I worship any but you, O Alahayam, neither will I do it in pride.¹⁵ And now, O Adanay Alahayam and King, spare your people: for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought; yea, they desire to destroy the inheritance, that has been your from the beginning.¹⁶ Despise not the portion, which you have delivered out of Matzarayam for your own self.¹⁷ Hear my prayer, and be merciful to your inheritance: turn our sorrow into joy, that we may live, O Adanay, and praise your name: and destroy not the mouths of them that praise you, O Adanay.¹⁸ All Yasharaal in like manner cried most earnestly to the Adanay, because their death was before their eyes.

14 Queen Asathar also, being in fear of death, resorted to the Adanay:² And laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning; and instead of precious ointments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body greatly, and all the places of her joy she filled with her torn hair.³ And she prayed to the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal, saying, O my Adanay, you only art our King: help me, desolate woman, which have no helper but you:⁴ For my danger is in mine hand.⁵ From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family that you, O Adanay, took Yasharaal from among all people, and our fathers from all their predecessors, for a perpetual inheritance, and you have performed whatsoever you did promise them.⁶ And now we have sinned before you: therefore have you given us into the hands of our enemies,⁷ Because we worshipped their gods: O Adanay, you are righteous.⁸ Nevertheless it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but they have stricken hands with their idols,⁹ That they will abolish the thing that you with your mouth have ordained, and destroy your inheritance, and stop the mouth of them that praise you, and quench the glory of your house, and of your altar,¹⁰ And open the mouths of the heathen to set forth the praises of the idols, and to magnify a fleshly king for ever.¹¹ O Adanay, give not your sceptre to them that be nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that has begun this against us.¹² Remember, O Adanay, make yourself known in time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O King of the nations, and Adanay of all power.¹³ Give me eloquent speech in my mouth before the lion: turn his heart to hate him that fights against us, that there may be an end of him, and of all that are likeminded to him:¹⁴ But deliver us with your hand, and help me that am desolate, and which have no other help but you.¹⁵ You know all things, O Adanay; you know that I hate the glory of the unrighteous, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of all the heathen.¹⁶ You know my necessity: for I abhor the sign of my high estate, which is upon mine head in the days wherein I show myself, and that I abhor it as a menstruous rag, and that I wear it not when I am private by myself.¹⁷ And that your handmaid has not eaten at Aman's table, and that I have not greatly esteemed the king's feast, nor drunk the wine of the drink offerings.¹⁸ Neither had your handmaid any joy since the day that I was brought here to this present, but in you, O Adanay Alahayam of Abaraham.¹⁹ O you mighty Alahayam above all, hear the voice of the forlorn and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

15 And upon the third day, when she had ended her prayers, she laid away her mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparel.² And being gloriously adorned, after she had called upon Alahayam, who is the beholder and saviour of all things, she took two maids with her:³ And upon the one she leaned, as carrying herself daintily;⁴ And the other followed, bearing up her train.⁵ And she was ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and very amiable: but her heart was in anguish for fear.⁶ Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones; and he was very dreadful.⁷ Then lifting up his countenance that shone with majesty, he looked very fiercely upon her: and the queen fell down, and was pale, and fainted, and bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went before her.⁸ Then Alahayam changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who in a fear leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with loving words and said to her,⁹ Asathar, what is the matter? I am your brother, be of good cheer:¹⁰ You shall not die, though our our commandment be general: come near.¹¹ And so he held up his golden sceptre, and laid it upon her neck,¹² And embraced her, and said, Speak to me.¹³ Then said she to him, I saw you, my lord, as an angel of Alahayam, and my heart was troubled for fear of your majesty.¹⁴ For wonderful are you, lord, and your countenance is full of grace.¹⁵ And as she was speaking, she fell down for faintness.¹⁶ Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her.

16 The great king Artexerxes to the princes and governors of an hundred and seven and twenty provinces from Hadaw to Kawash, and to all our faithful subjects, greeting.² Many, the more often they are honoured with the great bounty of their gracious princes, the more proud they are waxen,³ And endeavour to hurt not our subjects only, but not being able to bear abundance, do take in hand to practise also against those that do them good:⁴ And take not only thankfulness away from among men, but also lifted up with the glorious words of lewd persons, that were never good, they think to escape the justice of Alahayam, that sees all things and hates evil.⁵ Oftentimes also fair speech of those, that are put in trust to manage their friends' affairs, has caused many that are in authority to be partakers of innocent blood, and has enwrapped them in remediless calamities:⁶ Beguiling with the falsehood and deceit of their lewd disposition the innocency and goodness of princes.⁷ Now you may see this, as we have declared, not so much by ancient histories, as you may, if you search what has been wickedly done of late through the pestilent behaviour of them that are unworthily placed in authority.⁸ And we must take care for the time to come, that our kingdom may be quiet and peaceable for all men,⁹ Both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that are evident with more equal proceeding.¹⁰ For Aman, a Macedonian, the son of Amadatha, being indeed a stranger from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodness, and as a stranger received of us,¹¹ Had so far forth obtained the favour that we show toward every nation, as that he was called our father, and was continually honoured of all the next person to the king.¹² But he, not bearing his great dignity, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and life:¹³ Having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction, as well of Mardocheus, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of blameless Asathar, partaker of our kingdom, with their whole nation.¹⁴ For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends to have translated the kingdom of the Paras to the Macedonians.¹⁵ But we find that the Jews, whom this wicked wretch has delivered to utter destruction, are no evildoers, but live by most just laws:¹⁶ And that they be children of the most high and most mighty, living Alahayam, who has ordered the kingdom both to us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner.¹⁷ Therefore you shall do well not to put in execution the letters sent to you by Aman the son of Amadatha.¹⁸ For he that was the worker of these things, is hanged at the gates of Susa with all his family: Alahayam, who rules all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts.¹⁹ Therefore you shall publish the copy of this letter in all places, that the Jews may freely live after their own laws.²⁰ And you shall aid them, that even the same day, being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may be avenged on them, who in the time of their affliction shall set upon them.²¹ For Shaday Alahayam has turned to joy to them the day, wherein the chosen people should have perished.²² You shall therefore among your solemn feasts keep it an high day with all feasting:²³ That both now and hereafter there may be safety to us and the well affected Paras; but to those which do conspire against us a memorial of destruction.²⁴ Therefore every city and country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be destroyed without mercy with fire and sword, and shall be made not only unpassable for men, but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls for ever.

Job

1 There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Ayawab. That man was blameless and upright, and one who feared Alahayam, and turned away from evil.² And he was born seven sons and three daughters.³ His possessions also were seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred yoke of oxen, five hundred she-donkeys, and a very great household; so that this man was the greatest of all the children of the east.⁴ His sons went and held a feast in the house of each one on his birthday; and they sent and called for their three sisters to eat and to drink with them.⁵ It was so, when the days of their feasting had run their course, that Ayawab sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Ayawab said, "It may be that my sons have sinned, and renounced Alahayam in their hearts." Thus did Ayawab continually.⁶ Now it happened on the day when the sons of Alahayam came to present themselves before Yahawah, that Satan also came among them.⁷ Yahawah said to Satan, "Where have you come from?" Then Satan answered Yahawah, and said, "From going back and forth in the earth, and from walking up and down in it." Yahawah said to Satan, "Have you considered my servant, Ayawab? For there is none like him in the earth, a blameless and an upright man, one who fears Alahayam, and turns away from evil."⁸ Then Satan answered Yahawah, and said, "Does Ayawab fear Alahayam for nothing?"⁹ Haven't you made a hedge around him, and around his house, and around all that he has, on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.¹⁰ But put forth your hand now, and touch all that he has, and he will renounce you to your face."¹¹ Yahawah said to Satan, "Behold, all that he has is in your power. Only on himself don't put forth your hand." So Satan went forth from the presence of Yahawah.¹² It fell on a day when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house,¹³ that there came a messenger to Ayawab, and said, "The oxen were plowing, and the donkeys feeding beside them,¹⁴ and the Shabaa attacked, and took them away. Yes, they have killed the servants with the edge of the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you."¹⁵ While he was still speaking, there also came another, and said, "The fire of Alahayam has fallen from the sky, and has burned up the sheep and the servants, and consumed them, and I alone have escaped to tell you."¹⁶ While he was still speaking, there came also another, and said, "The Kashadayam made three bands, and swept down on the camels, and have taken them away, yes, and killed the servants with the edge of the sword; and I alone have escaped to tell you."¹⁷ While he was still speaking, there came also another, and said, "Your sons and your daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house,¹⁸ and, behold, there came a great wind from the wilderness, and struck the four corners of the house, and it fell on the young men, and they are dead. I alone have escaped to tell you."¹⁹ Then Ayawab arose, and tore his robe, and shaved his head, and fell down on the ground, and worshipped.²⁰ He said, "Naked I came out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return there. Yahawah gave, and Yahawah has taken away. Blessed be the name of Yahawah."²¹ In all this, Ayawab did not sin, nor charge Alahayam with wrongdoing.

2 Again it happened on the day when the sons of Alahayam came to present themselves before Yahawah, that Satan came also among them to present himself before Yahawah.² Yahawah said to Satan, "Where have you come from?" Satan answered Yahawah, and said, "From going back and forth in the earth, and from walking up and down in it."³ Yahawah said to Satan, "Have you considered my servant Ayawab? For there is none like him in the earth, a blameless and an upright man, one who fears Alahayam, and turns away from evil. He still maintains his integrity, although you incited me against him, to ruin him without cause."⁴ Satan answered Yahawah, and said, "Skin for skin. Yes, all that a man has will he give for his life."⁵ But put forth your hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will renounce you to your face."⁶ Yahawah said to Satan, "Behold, he is in your hand. Only spare his life."⁷ So Satan went forth from the presence of Yahawah, and struck Ayawab with painful sores from the sole of his foot to his head.⁸ He took for himself a potsherd to scrape himself with, and he sat among the ashes.⁹ Then his wife said to him, "Do you still maintain your integrity? Renounce Alahayam, and die."¹⁰ But he said to her, "You speak as one of the foolish women would speak. What? Shall we receive good at the hand of Alahayam, and shall we not receive evil?" In all this Ayawab didn't sin with his lips.¹¹ Now when Ayawab's three friends heard of all this evil that had come on him, they each came from his own place: Alayapaz the Temanite, Baladad the Shuhite, and Tzapar the Naamathite, and they made an appointment together to come to sympathize with him and to comfort him.¹² When they lifted up their eyes from a distance, and didn't recognize him, they raised their voices, and wept; and they each tore his robe, and sprinkled dust on their heads toward the sky.¹³ So they sat down with him on the ground seven days and seven nights, and none spoke a word to him, for they saw that his grief was very great.

3 After this Ayawab opened his mouth, and cursed the day of his birth.² Ayawab answered:³ "Let the day perish in which I was born, The night which said, 'There is a man-child conceived.'⁴ Let that day be darkness; Don't let Alahayam from above seek for it, Neither let the light shine on it."⁵ Let darkness and the shadow of death claim it for their own. Let a cloud dwell on it. Let all that makes black the day terrify it.⁶ As for that night, let thick darkness seize on it. Let it not rejoice among the days of the year. Let it not come into the number of the months.⁷ Behold, let that night be barren. Let no joyful voice come therein.⁸ Let them curse it who curse the day, Who are ready to rouse up leviathan.⁹ Let the stars of the twilight of it be dark. Let it look for light, but have none, Neither let it see the eyelids of the morning.¹⁰ Because it didn't shut up the doors of my mother's womb, Nor did it hide trouble from my eyes.¹¹ "Why didn't I die from the womb? Why didn't I give up the spirit when my mother bore me?"¹² Why did the knees receive me? Or why the breast, that I should suck?¹³ For now should I have lain down and been quiet. I should have slept, then I would have been at rest,¹⁴ With kings and counselors of the earth, Who built up waste places for themselves;¹⁵ Or with princes who had gold, Who filled their houses with silver:¹⁶ Or as a hidden untimely birth I had not been, As infants who never saw light.¹⁷ There the wicked cease from troubling; There the weary are at rest.¹⁸ There the prisoners are at ease together. They don't hear the voice of the taskmaster.¹⁹ The small and the great are there. The servant is free from his master.²⁰ "Why is light given to him who is in misery, Life to the bitter in soul,²¹ Who long for death, but it doesn't come; Dig for it more than for hidden treasures,²² Who rejoice exceedingly, Are glad, when they can find the grave?"²³ Why is light given to a man whose way is hid, Whom Alahayam has hedged in?²⁴ For my sighing comes before I eat, My groanings are poured out like water.²⁵ For the thing which I fear comes on me, That which I am afraid of comes to me.²⁶ I am not at ease, neither am I quiet, neither have I rest; But trouble comes."

4 Then Alayapaz the Temanite answered,² "If someone ventures to talk with you, will you be grieved? But who can withhold himself from speaking? ³ Behold, you have instructed many, You have strengthened the weak hands. ⁴ Your words have supported him who was falling, You have made firm the feeble knees. ⁵ But now it is come to you, and you faint; It touches you, and you are troubled. ⁶ Isn't your piety your confidence, The integrity of your ways your hope? ⁷ "Remember, now, whoever perished, being innocent? Or where were the upright cut off? ⁸ According to what I have seen, those who plow iniquity, And sow trouble, Reap the same. ⁹ By the breath of Alahayam they perish, By the blast of his anger are they consumed. ¹⁰ The roaring of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion, The teeth of the young lions, are broken. ¹¹ The old lion perishes for lack of prey, The whelps of the lioness are scattered abroad. ¹² "Now a thing was secretly brought to me, My ear received a whisper of it. ¹³ In thoughts from the visions of the night, When deep sleep falls on men, ¹⁴ Fear came on me, and trembling, Which made all my bones shake. ¹⁵ Then a spirit passed before my face; The hair of my flesh stood up. ¹⁶ It stood still, but I couldn't discern the appearance of it; A form was before my eyes. Silence, then I heard a voice, saying, ¹⁷ 'Shall mortal man be more just than Alahayam? Shall a man be more pure than his Maker?' ¹⁸ Behold, he puts no trust in his servants. He charges his angels with error. ¹⁹ How much more, those who dwell in houses of clay, Whose foundation is in the dust, Who are crushed before the moth! ²⁰ Between morning and evening they are destroyed. They perish forever without any regarding it. ²¹ Isn't their tent-cord plucked up within them? They die, and that without wisdom."

5 "Call now; is there any who will answer you? To which of the holy ones will you turn? ² For resentment kills the foolish man, And jealousy kills the simple. ³ I have seen the foolish taking root, But suddenly I cursed his habitation. ⁴ His children are far from safety, They are crushed in the gate. Neither is there any to deliver them, ⁵ Whose harvest the hungry eats up, Takes it even out of the thorns; The snare gapes for their substance. ⁶ For affliction doesn't come forth from the dust, Neither does trouble spring out of the ground; ⁷ But man is born to trouble, As the sparks fly upward. ⁸ "But as for me, I would seek Alahayam, To Alahayam would I commit my cause; ⁹ Who does great things that can't be fathomed, Marvelous things without number; ¹⁰ Who gives rain on the earth, And sends waters on the fields; ¹¹ So that he sets up on high those who are low, Those who mourn are exalted to safety. ¹² He frustrates the devices of the crafty, So that their hands can't perform their enterprise. ¹³ He takes the wise in their own craftiness; The counsel of the cunning is carried headlong. ¹⁴ They meet with darkness in the day-time, And grope at noonday as in the night. ¹⁵ But he saves from the sword of their mouth, Even the needy from the hand of the mighty. ¹⁶ So the poor has hope, And injustice shuts her mouth. ¹⁷ "Behold, happy is the man whom Alahayam corrects: Therefore do not despise the chastening of the Shaday. ¹⁸ For he wounds, and binds up; He injures, and his hands make whole. ¹⁹ He will deliver you in six troubles; Yes, in seven there shall no evil touch you. ²⁰ In famine he will redeem you from death; In war, from the power of the sword. ²¹ You shall be hidden from the scourge of the tongue, Neither shall you be afraid of destruction when it comes. ²² At destruction and dearth you shall laugh, Neither shall you be afraid of the animals of the earth. ²³ For you shall be in league with the stones of the field. The animals of the field shall be at peace with you. ²⁴ You shall know that your tent is in peace. You shall visit your fold, and shall miss nothing. ²⁵ You shall know also that your seed shall be great, Your offspring as the grass of the earth. ²⁶ You shall come to your grave in a full age, Like a shock of grain comes in its season. ²⁷ Look this, we have searched it, so it is; Hear it, and know it for your good."

6 Then Ayawab answered, ² "Oh that my anguish were weighed, And all my calamity laid in the balances! ³ For now it would be heavier than the sand of the seas, Therefore have my words been rash. ⁴ For the arrows of the Shaday are within me, My spirit drinks up their poison. The terrors of Alahayam set themselves in array against me. ⁵ Does the wild donkey bray when he has grass? Or does the ox low over his fodder? ⁶ Can that which has no flavor be eaten without salt? Or is there any taste in the white of an egg? ⁷ My soul refuses to touch them; They are as loathsome food to me. ⁸ "Oh that I might have my request; That Alahayam would grant the thing that I long for! ⁹ Even that it would please Alahayam to crush me; That he would let loose his hand, and cut me off! ¹⁰ Be it still my consolation, Yes, let me exult in pain that doesn't spare, That I have not denied the words of the Holy One. ¹¹ What is my strength, that I should wait? What is my end, that I should be patient? ¹² Is my strength the strength of stones? Or is my flesh of brass? ¹³ Isn't it that I have no help in me, That wisdom is driven quite from me? ¹⁴ "To him who is ready to faint, kindness should be shown from his friend; Even to him who forsakes the fear of the Shaday. ¹⁵ My brothers have dealt deceitfully as a brook, As the channel of brooks that pass away; ¹⁶ Which are black by reason of the ice, in which the snow hides itself: ¹⁷ In the dry season, they vanish. When it is hot, they are consumed out of their place. ¹⁸ The caravans that travel beside them turn aside; They go up into the waste, and perish. ¹⁹ The caravans of Thayamaa looked, The companies of Shabaa waited for them. ²⁰ They were put to shame because they had hoped; They came there, and were confounded. ²¹ For now you are nothing. You see a terror, and are afraid. ²² Did I say, 'Give to me?' Or, 'Offer a present for me from your substance?' ²³ Or, 'Deliver me from the adversary's hand?' Or, 'Redeem me from the hand of the oppressors?' ²⁴ "Teach me, and I will hold my peace; Cause me to understand wherein I have erred. ²⁵ How forcible are words of uprightness! But your reproof, what does it reprove? ²⁶ Do you intend to reprove words, Seeing that the speeches of one who is desperate are as wind? ²⁷ Yes, you would even cast lots for the fatherless, And make merchandise of your friend. ²⁸ Now therefore be pleased to look at me, For surely I shall not lie to your face. ²⁹ Please return. Let there be no injustice; Yes, return again, my cause is righteous. ³⁰ Is there injustice on my tongue? Can't my taste discern mischievous things?

7 "Isn't a man forced to labor on earth? Aren't his days like the days of a hired hand? ² As a servant who earnestly desires the shadow, As a hireling who looks for his wages, ³ So am I made to possess months of misery, Wearisome nights are appointed to me. ⁴ When I lie down, I say, 'When shall I arise, and the night be gone?' I toss and turn until the dawning of the day. ⁵ My flesh is clothed with worms and clods of dust. My skin closes up, and breaks out afresh. ⁶ My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, And are spent without hope. ⁷ Oh remember that my life is a breath. My eye shall no more see good. ⁸ The eye of him who sees me shall see me no more. Your eyes shall be on me, but I shall not be. ⁹ As the cloud is consumed and vanishes away, So he who goes down to Sheol shall come up no more. ¹⁰ He shall return no more to his house, Neither shall his place know him any more. ¹¹ "Therefore I will not keep silent. I will speak in the anguish of my spirit. I will complain in the bitterness of my soul. ¹² Am I a sea, or a sea-monster, That you put a guard over me? ¹³ When I say, 'My bed shall comfort me, My couch shall ease my complaint; ¹⁴ Then you scar me with dreams, And terrify me through visions: ¹⁵ So that my soul chooses strangling, Death rather than my bones. ¹⁶ I loathe my life. I don't want to live forever. Leave me alone; for my days are but a breath. ¹⁷ What is man, that you should magnify him, That you should set your mind on him, ¹⁸ That you should visit him every morning, And test him every moment? ¹⁹ How long will you not look away from me, Nor leave me alone until I swallow down my spittle? ²⁰ If I have sinned, what do I do to you, you watcher of men? Why have you set me as a mark for you, So that I am a burden to myself? ²¹ Why do you not pardon my disobedience, and take away my iniquity? For now shall I lie down in the dust. You will seek me diligently, but I shall not be."

8 Then Baladad the Shuhite answered, ² "How long will you speak these things? Shall the words of your mouth be a mighty wind? ³ Does Alahayam pervert justice? Or does the Shaday pervert righteousness? ⁴ If your children have sinned against him, He has delivered them into the hand of their disobedience; ⁵ If you want to seek Alahayam diligently, Make your supplication to the Shaday.

⁶ If you were pure and upright, Surely now he would awaken for you, And make the habitation of your righteousness prosperous. ⁷ Though your beginning was small, Yet your latter end would greatly increase. ⁸ "Please inquire of past generations, Find out about the learning of their fathers. ⁹ (For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing, Because our days on earth are a shadow.) ¹⁰ Shall they not teach you, tell you, And utter words out of their heart? ¹¹ "Can the papyrus grow up without mire? Can the rushes grow without water? ¹² While it is yet in its greenness, not cut down, It withers before any other reed. ¹³ So are the paths of all who forget Alahayam. The hope of the godless man shall perish, ¹⁴ Whose confidence shall break apart, Whose trust is a spider's web. ¹⁵ He shall lean on his house, but it shall not stand. He shall cling to it, but it shall not endure. ¹⁶ He is green before the sun, His shoots go forth over his garden. ¹⁷ His roots are wrapped around the rock pile, He sees the place of stones. ¹⁸ If he is destroyed from his place, Then it shall deny him, saying, 'I have not seen you.' ¹⁹ Behold, this is the joy of his way: Out of the earth shall others spring. ²⁰ "Behold, Alahayam will not cast away a blameless man, Neither will he uphold the Awayal-doers. ²¹ He will still fill your mouth with laughter, Your lips with shouting. ²² Those who hate you shall be clothed with shame. The tent of the wicked shall be no more."

9 Then Ayawab answered, ² "Truly I know that it is so, But how can man be just with Alahayam? ³ If he is pleased to contend with him, He can't answer him one time in a thousand. ⁴ Alahayam who is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: Who has hardened himself against him, and prospered? ⁵ Who removes the mountains, and they don't know it, When he overturns them in his anger ⁶ Who shakes the earth out of its place; The pillars of it tremble; ⁷ Who commands the sun, and it doesn't rise, And seals up the stars; ⁸ Who alone stretches out the heavens, Treads on the waves of the sea; ⁹ Who makes the Bear, Kasayal, and the Kayamah, And the chambers of the south; ¹⁰ Who does great things past finding out, Yes, marvelous things without number. ¹¹ Behold, he goes by me, and I don't see him. He passes on also, but I don't perceive him. ¹² Behold, he snatches away; who can hinder him? Who will ask him, 'What are you doing?' ¹³ "Alahayam will not withdraw his anger; The helpers of Rachab stoop under him. ¹⁴ How much less shall I answer him, Choose my words to argue with him? ¹⁵ Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I not answer. I would make supplication to my judge. ¹⁶ If I had called, and he had answered me, Yet would I not believe that he listened to my voice. ¹⁷ For he breaks me with a tempest, Multiplies my wounds without cause. ¹⁸ He will not allow me to take my breath, But fills me with bitterness. ¹⁹ If it is a matter of strength, behold, he is mighty! If of justice, 'Who,' says he, 'will summon me?' ²⁰ Though I am righteous, my own mouth shall condemn me. Though I am blameless, it shall prove me perverse. ²¹ I am blameless. I don't regard myself. I despise my life. ²² "It is all the same. Therefore I say, He destroys the blameless and the wicked. ²³ If the scourge kills suddenly, He will mock at the trial of the innocent. ²⁴ The earth is given into the hand of the wicked. He covers the faces of the judges of it. If not he, then who is it? ²⁵ "Now my days are swifter than a runner. They flee away, they see no good, ²⁶ They have passed away as the swift ships, As the eagle that swoops on the prey. ²⁷ If I say, 'I will forget my complaint, I will put off my sad face, and cheer up; ²⁸ I am afraid of all my sorrows, I know that you will not hold me innocent. ²⁹ I shall be condemned; Why then do I labor in vain? ³⁰ If I wash myself with snow, And cleanse my hands with lye, ³¹ Yet you will plunge me in the ditch. My own clothes shall abhor me. ³² For he is not a man, as I am, that I should answer him, That we should come together in judgment. ³³ There is no umpire between us, That might lay his hand on us both. ³⁴ Let him take his rod away from me, Let his terror not make me afraid: ³⁵ Then I would speak, and not fear him, For I am not so in myself."

10 "My soul is weary of my life; I will give free course to my complaint. I will speak in the bitterness of my soul. ² I will tell Alahayam, 'Do not condemn me, Show me why you contend with me. ³ Is it good to you that you should oppress, That you should despise the work of your hands, And smile on the counsel of the wicked? ⁴ Do you have eyes of flesh? Or do you see as man sees? ⁵ Are your days as the days of mortals, Or your years as man's years, ⁶ That you inquire after my iniquity, And search after my sin? ⁷ Although you know that I am not wicked, There is no one who can deliver out of your hand. ⁸ Your hands have framed me and fashioned me altogether; Yet you destroy me. ⁹ Remember, I beg you, that you have fashioned me as clay. Will you bring me into dust again? ¹⁰ Haven't you poured me out like milk, And curdled me like cheese? ¹¹ You have clothed me with skin and flesh, And knit me together with bones and sinews. ¹² You have granted me life and lovingkindness. Your visitation has preserved my spirit. ¹³ Yet you hid these things in your heart. I know that this is with you: ¹⁴ If I sin, then you mark me. You will not acquit me from my iniquity. ¹⁵ If I am wicked, woe to me. If I am righteous, I still shall not lift up my head, Being filled with disgrace, And conscious of my affliction. ¹⁶ If my head is held high, you hunt me like a lion. Again you show yourself powerful to me. ¹⁷ You renew your witnesses against me, And increase your indignation on me. Changes and warfare are with me. ¹⁸ "Why, then, have you brought me forth out of the womb? I wish I had given up the spirit, and no eye had seen me. ¹⁹ I should have been as though I had not been. I should have been carried from the womb to the grave. ²⁰ Aren't my days few? Cease then, Leave me alone, that I may find a little comfort, ²¹ Before I go where I shall not return from, To the land of darkness and of the shadow of death; ²² The land dark as midnight, Of the shadow of death, without any order, Where the light is as midnight."

11 Then Tzapar, the Naamathite, answered, ² "Shouldn't the multitude of words be answered? Should a man full of talk be justified? ³ Should your boastings make men hold their peace? When you mock, shall no man make you ashamed? ⁴ For you say, 'My doctrine is pure, I am clean in your eyes.' ⁵ But oh that Alahayam would speak, And open his lips against you, ⁶ That he would show you the secrets of wisdom! For true wisdom has two sides. Know therefore that Alahayam exacts of you less than your iniquity deserves. ⁷ "Can you fathom the mystery of Alahayam? Or can you probe the limits of the Shaday? ⁸ They are high as heaven. What can you do? Deeper than Sheol: what can you know? ⁹ The measure of it is longer than the earth, And broader than the sea. ¹⁰ If he passes by, or confines, Or convenes a court, then who can oppose him? ¹¹ For he knows false men. He sees iniquity also, even though he doesn't consider it. ¹² But vain man can become wise If a man can be born as a wild donkey's colt. ¹³ "If you set your heart aright, Stretch out your hands toward him. ¹⁴ If iniquity is in your hand, put it far away, Don't let unrighteousness dwell in your tents. ¹⁵ Surely then shall you lift up your face without spot; Yes, you shall be steadfast, and shall not fear: ¹⁶ For you shall forget your misery; You shall remember it as waters that are passed away, ¹⁷ Life shall be clearer than the noonday; Though there is darkness, it shall be as the morning. ¹⁸ You shall be secure, because there is hope; Yes, you shall search, and shall take your rest in safety. ¹⁹ Also you shall lie down, and none shall make you afraid; Yes, many shall court your favor. ²⁰ But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, They shall have no way to flee; Their hope shall be the giving up of the spirit."

12 Then Ayawab answered, ² "No doubt, but you are the people, And wisdom shall die with you. ³ But I have understanding as well as you; I am not inferior to you: Yes, who doesn't know such things as these? ⁴ I am like one who is a joke to his neighbor, I, who called on Alahayam, and he answered. The just, the blameless man is a joke. ⁵ In the thought of him who is at ease there is contempt for misfortune, It is ready for them whose foot slips. ⁶ The tents of robbers prosper, Those who provoke Alahayam are secure; Who carry their Alahayam in their hands. ⁷ "But ask the animals, now, and they shall teach you; The birds of the sky, and they shall tell you. ⁸ Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach you; The fish of the sea shall declare to you. ⁹ Who doesn't know that in all these, The hand of Yahawah has done this,¹⁰ In whose hand is the life of every living thing, The breath of all mankind?¹¹ Doesn't the ear try words, Even as the palate tastes its food?¹² With aged men is wisdom, In length of days understanding.¹³ "With Alahayam is wisdom and might. He has counsel and understanding.¹⁴ Behold, he breaks down, and it can't be built again; He imprisons a man, and there can be no release.¹⁵ Behold, he withholds the waters, and they dry up; Again, he sends them out, and they overturn the earth.¹⁶ With him is strength and wisdom; The deceived and the deceiver are his.¹⁷ He leads counselors away stripped. He makes judges fools.¹⁸ He loosens the bond of kings, He binds their loins with a belt.¹⁹ He leads priests away stripped, And overthrows the mighty.²⁰ He removes the speech of those who are trusted, And takes away the understanding of the elders.²¹ He pours contempt on princes, And loosens the belt of the strong.²² He uncovers deep things out of darkness, And brings out to light the shadow of death.²³ He increases the nations, and he destroys them. He enlarges the nations, and he leads them captive.²⁴ He takes away understanding from the chiefs of the people of the earth, And causes them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.²⁵ They grope in the dark without light. He makes them stagger like a drunken man.

13 "Behold, my eye has seen all this, My ear has heard and understood it.² What you know, I know also. I am not inferior to you.³ "Surely I would speak to the Shaday. I desire to reason with Alahayam.⁴ But you are forgers of lies. You are all physicians of no value.⁵ Oh that you would be completely silent! Then you would be wise.⁶ Hear now my reasoning. Listen to the pleadings of my lips.⁷ Will you speak unrighteously for Alahayam, And talk deceitfully for him?⁸ Will you show partiality to him? Will you contend for Alahayam?⁹ Is it good that he should search you out? Or as one deceives a man, will you deceive him?¹⁰ He will surely reprove you If you secretly show partiality.¹¹ Shall not his majesty make you afraid, And his dread fall on you?¹² Your memorable sayings are proverbs of ashes, Your defenses are defenses of clay.¹³ "Be silent, leave me alone, that I may speak. Let come on me what will.¹⁴ Why should I take my flesh in my teeth, And put my life in my hand?¹⁵ Behold, he will kill me; I have no hope. Nevertheless, I will maintain my ways before him.¹⁶ This also shall be my salvation, That a godless man shall not come before him.¹⁷ Hear diligently my speech. Let my declaration be in your ears.¹⁸ See now, I have set my cause in order. I know that I am righteous.¹⁹ Who is he who will contend with me? For then would I hold my peace and give up the spirit.²⁰ "Only don't do two things to me; Then I will not hide myself from your face:²¹ Withdraw your hand far from me; And don't let your terror make me afraid.²² Then call, and I will answer; Or let me speak, and you answer me.²³ How many are my iniquities and sins? Make me know my disobedience and my sin.²⁴ Why hide you your face, And hold me for your enemy?²⁵ Will you harass a driven leaf? Will you pursue the dry stubble?²⁶ For you write bitter things against me, And make me inherit the iniquities of my youth:²⁷ You also put my feet in the stocks, And mark all my paths. You set a bound to the soles of my feet:²⁸ Though I am decaying like a rotten thing, Like a garment that is moth-eaten.

14 "Man, who is born of a woman, Is of few days, and full of trouble.² He comes forth like a flower, and is cut down. He also flees like a shadow, and doesn't continue.³ Do you open your eyes on such a one, And bring me into judgment with you?⁴ Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? Not one.⁵ Seeing his days are determined, The number of his months is with you, And you have appointed his bounds that he can't pass;⁶ Look away from him, that he may rest, Until he shall accomplish, as a hireling, his day.⁷ "For there is hope for a tree, If it is cut down, that it will sprout again, That the tender branch of it will not cease.⁸ Though the root of it grows old in the earth, And the stock of it dies in the ground;⁹ Yet through the scent of water it will bud, And put forth boughs like a plant.¹⁰ But man dies, and is laid low. Yes, man gives up the spirit, and where is he?¹¹ As the waters fail from the sea, And the river wastes and dries up,¹² So man lies down and doesn't rise; Until the heavens are no more, they shall not awake, Nor be roused out of their sleep.¹³ "Oh that you would hide me in Sheol, That you would keep me secret, until your wrath is past, That you would appoint me a set time, and remember me!¹⁴ If a man dies, shall he live again? All the days of my warfare would I wait, Until my release should come.¹⁵ You would call, and I would answer you. You would have a desire to the work of your hands.¹⁶ But now you number my steps. Don't you watch over my sin?¹⁷ My disobedience is sealed up in a bag. You fasten up my iniquity.¹⁸ "But the mountain falling comes to nothing; The rock is removed out of its place;¹⁹ The waters wear the stones; The torrents of it wash away the dust of the earth: So you destroy the hope of man.²⁰ You forever prevail against him, and he passes; You change his face, and send him away.²¹ His sons come to honor, and he doesn't know it; They are brought low, but he doesn't perceive it of them.²² But his flesh on him has pain; His soul within him mourns."

15 Then Alayapaz the Temanite answered,² "Should a wise man answer with vain knowledge, And fill himself with the east wind?³ Should he reason with unprofitable talk, Or with speeches with which he can do no good?⁴ Yes, you do away with fear, And hinder devotion before Alahayam.⁵ For your iniquity teaches your mouth, And you choose the language of the crafty.⁶ Your own mouth condemns you, and not I; Yes, your own lips testify against you.⁷ "Are you the first man who was born? Or were you brought forth before the hills?⁸ Have you heard the secret counsel of Alahayam? Do you limit wisdom to yourself?⁹ What do you know, that we don't know? What do you understand, which is not in us?¹⁰ With us are both the gray-headed and the very aged men, Much elder than your father.¹¹ Are the consolations of Alahayam too small for you, Even the word that is gentle toward you?¹² Why does your heart carry you away? Why do your eyes flash,¹³ That you turn your spirit against Alahayam, And let such words go out of your mouth?¹⁴ What is man, that he should be clean? He who is born of a woman, that he should be righteous?¹⁵ Behold, he puts no trust in his holy ones; Yes, the heavens are not clean in his sight:¹⁶ How much less one who is abominable and corrupt, A man who drinks iniquity like water!¹⁷ "I will show you, listen to me; That which I have seen I will declare:¹⁸ (Which wise men have told From their fathers, and have not hidden it;¹⁹ To whom alone the land was given, And no stranger passed among them):²⁰ The wicked man travails with pain all his days, Even the number of years that are laid up for the oppressor.²¹ A sound of terrors is in his ears; In prosperity the destroyer shall come on him.²² He doesn't believe that he shall return out of darkness, He is waited for by the sword.²³ He wanders abroad for bread, saying, 'Where is it?' He knows that the day of darkness is ready at his hand.²⁴ Distress and anguish make him afraid; They prevail against him, as a king ready to the battle.²⁵ Because he has stretched out his hand against Alahayam, And behaves himself proudly against the Shaday;²⁶ He runs at him with a stiff neck, With the thick shields of his bucklers;²⁷ Because he has covered his face with his fatness, And gathered fat on his loins.²⁸ He has lived in desolate cities, In houses which no one inhabited, Which were ready to become heaps.²⁹ He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, Neither shall their possessions be extended on the earth.³⁰ He shall not depart out of darkness; The flame shall dry up his branches, By the breath of Alahayam's mouth shall he go away.³¹ Let him not trust in emptiness, deceiving himself; For emptiness shall be his reward.³² It shall be accomplished before his time. His branch shall not be green.³³ He shall shake off his unripe grape as the vine, And shall cast off his flower as the olive-tree.³⁴ For the company of the goddess shall be barren, And fire shall consume the tents of bribery.³⁵ They conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity. Their heart prepares deceit."

16 Then Ayawab answered,² "I have heard many such things. Miserable comforters are you all!³ Shall vain words have an end? Or what provokes you that you answer?⁴ I also could speak as you do. If your soul were in my soul's place, I could join words together against you, And shake my head at you.⁵ But I would strengthen you with my mouth. The solace of my lips would relieve you.

⁶ "Though I speak, my grief is not subsided. Though I forbear, what am I eased? ⁷ But now, Alahayam, you have surely worn me out. You have made desolate all my company. ⁸ You have shriveled me up. This is a witness against me. My leanness rises up against me, It testifies to my face. ⁹ He has torn me in his wrath, and persecuted me; He has gnashed on me with his teeth: My adversary sharpens his eyes on me. ¹⁰ They have gaped on me with their mouth; They have struck me on the cheek reproachfully. They gather themselves together against me. ¹¹ Alahayam delivers me to the ungodly, And casts me into the hands of the wicked. ¹² I was at ease, and he broke me apart. Yes, he has taken me by the neck, and dashed me to pieces. He has also set me up for his target. ¹³ His archers surround me. He splits my kidneys apart, and does not spare. He pours out my gall on the ground. ¹⁴ He breaks me with breach on breach. He runs on me like a giant. ¹⁵ I have sewed sackcloth on my skin, And have thrust my horn in the dust. ¹⁶ My face is red with weeping, Deep darkness is on my eyelids. ¹⁷ Although there is no violence in my hands, And my prayer is pure. ¹⁸ "Earth, don't cover my blood, Let my cry have no place to rest. ¹⁹ Even now, behold, my witness is in heaven. He who vouches for me is on high. ²⁰ My friends scoff at me. My eyes pour out tears to Alahayam. ²¹ That he would maintain the right of a man with Alahayam, Of a son of man with his neighbor! ²² For when a few years are come, I shall go the way from whence I shall not return.

17 "My spirit is consumed, my days are extinct, And the grave is ready for me. ² Surely there are mockers with me, My eye dwells on their provocation. ³ "Now give a pledge, be collateral for me with yourself. Who is there who will strike hands with me? ⁴ For you have hidden their heart from understanding, Therefore shall you not exalt them. ⁵ He who denounces his friends for a prey, Even the eyes of his children shall fail. ⁶ "But he has made me a byword of the people. They spit in my face. ⁷ My eye also is dim by reason of sorrow. All my members are as a shadow. ⁸ Upright men shall be astonished at this. The innocent shall stir up himself against the godless. ⁹ Yet shall the righteous hold on his way. He who has clean hands shall grow stronger and stronger. ¹⁰ But as for you all, come on now again; I shall not find a wise man among you. ¹¹ My days are past, my plans are broken off, As are the thoughts of my heart. ¹² They change the night into day, Saying 'The light is near' in the presence of darkness. ¹³ If I look for Sheol as my house, If I have spread my couch in the darkness, ¹⁴ If I have said to corruption, 'You are my father;' To the worm, 'My mother,' and 'my sister;' ¹⁵ Where then is my hope? As for my hope, who shall see it? ¹⁶ Shall it go down with me to the gates of Sheol, Or descend together into the dust?"

18 Then Baladad the Shuhite answered, ² "How long will you hunt for words? Consider, and afterwards we will speak. ³ Why are we counted as animals, Which have become unclean in your sight? ⁴ You who tear yourself in your anger, Shall the earth be forsaken for you? Or shall the rock be removed out of its place? ⁵ "Yes, the light of the wicked shall be put out, The spark of his fire shall not shine. ⁶ The light shall be dark in his tent, His lamp above him shall be put out. ⁷ The steps of his strength shall be shortened, His own counsel shall cast him down. ⁸ For he is cast into a net by his own feet, And he wanders into its mesh. ⁹ A snare shall take him by the heel; A trap shall lay hold on him. ¹⁰ A noose is hidden for him in the ground, A trap for him in the way. ¹¹ Terrors shall make him afraid on every side, And shall chase him at his heels. ¹² His strength shall be famished, Calamity shall be ready at his side. ¹³ The members of his body shall be devoured, The firstborn of death shall devour his members. ¹⁴ He shall be rooted out of his tent where he trusts. He shall be brought to the king of terrors. ¹⁵ There shall dwell in his tent that which is none of his. Sulfur shall be scattered on his habitation. ¹⁶ His roots shall be dried up beneath, Above shall his branch be cut off. ¹⁷ His memory shall perish from the earth. He shall have no name in the street. ¹⁸ He shall be driven from light into darkness, And chased out of the world. ¹⁹ He shall have neither son nor grandson among his people, Nor any remaining where he sojourned. ²⁰ Those who come after shall be astonished at his day, As those who went before were frightened. ²¹ Surely such are the dwellings of the unrighteous, This is the place of him who doesn't know Alahayam."

19 Then Ayawab answered, ² "How long will you torment me, And crush me with words? ³ You have reproached me ten times. You aren't ashamed that you attack me. ⁴ If it is true that I have erred, My error remains with myself. ⁵ If indeed you will magnify yourselves against me, And plead against me my reproach; ⁶ Know now that Alahayam has subverted me, And has surrounded me with his net. ⁷ "Behold, I cry out of wrong, but I am not heard: I cry for help, but there is no justice. ⁸ He has walled up my way so that I can't pass, And has set darkness in my paths. ⁹ He has stripped me of my glory, And taken the crown from my head. ¹⁰ He has broken me down on every side, and I am gone. My hope he has plucked up like a tree. ¹¹ He has also kindled his wrath against me. He counts me among his adversaries. ¹² His troops come on together, Build a siege ramp against me, And encamp around my tent. ¹³ "He has put my brothers far from me. My acquaintances are wholly estranged from me. ¹⁴ My relatives have gone away. My familiar friends have forgotten me. ¹⁵ Those who dwell in my house, and my maids, count me for a stranger. I am an alien in their sight. ¹⁶ I call to my servant, and he gives me no answer; I beg him with my mouth. ¹⁷ My breath is offensive to my wife. I am loathsome to the children of my own mother. ¹⁸ Even young children despise me. If I arise, they speak against me. ¹⁹ All my familiar friends abhor me. They whom I loved have turned against me. ²⁰ My bones stick to my skin and to my flesh. I have escaped by the skin of my teeth. ²¹ "Have pity on me, have pity on me, you my friends; For the hand of Alahayam has touched me. ²² Why do you persecute me as Alahayam, And are not satisfied with my flesh? ²³ "Oh that my words were now written! Oh that they were inscribed in a book! ²⁴ That with an iron pen and lead They were engraved in the rock forever! ²⁵ But as for me, I know that my Redeemer lives. In the end, he will stand upon the earth. ²⁶ After my skin is destroyed, Then in my flesh shall I see Alahayam, ²⁷ Whom I, even I, shall see on my side. My eyes shall see, and not as a stranger. "My heart is consumed within me. ²⁸ If you say, 'How we will persecute him!' Because the root of the matter is found in me, ²⁹ Be afraid of the sword, For wrath brings the punishments of the sword, That you may know there is a judgment."

20 Then Tzapar the Naamathite answered, ² "Therefore do my thoughts give answer to me, Even by reason of my haste that is in me. ³ I have heard the reproof which puts me to shame; The spirit of my understanding answers me. ⁴ Don't you know this from old time, Since man was placed on earth, ⁵ That the triumphing of the wicked is short, The joy of the godless but for a moment? ⁶ Though his height mount up to the heavens, And his head reach to the clouds, ⁷ Yet he shall perish forever like his own dung, Those who have seen him shall say, 'Where is he?' ⁸ He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found: Yes, he shall be chased away like a vision of the night. ⁹ The eye which saw him shall see him no more, Neither shall his place any more see him. ¹⁰ His children shall seek the favor of the poor. His hands shall give back his wealth. ¹¹ His bones are full of his youth, But youth shall lie down with him in the dust. ¹² "Though wickedness is sweet in his mouth, Though he hide it under his tongue, ¹³ Though he spare it, and will not let it go, But keep it still within his mouth; ¹⁴ Yet his food in his bowels is turned. It is cobra venom within him. ¹⁵ He has swallowed down riches, and he shall vomit them up again. Alahayam will cast them out of his belly. ¹⁶ He shall suck cobra venom. The viper's tongue shall kill him. ¹⁷ He shall not look at the rivers, The flowing streams of honey and butter. ¹⁸ That for which he labored he shall restore, and shall not swallow it down; According to the substance that he has gotten, he shall not rejoice. ¹⁹ For he has oppressed and forsaken the poor. He has violently taken away a house, and he shall not build it up. ²⁰ "Because he knew no quietness within him, He shall not save anything of that in which he delights. ²¹ There was nothing left that he didn't devour, Therefore his prosperity shall not endure. ²² In the fullness of his sufficiency, distress shall overtake him: The hand of everyone who is in misery shall come on him.²³ When he is about to fill his belly, Alahayam will cast the fierceness of his wrath on him. It will rain on him while he is eating.²⁴ He shall flee from the iron weapon. The bronze arrow shall strike him through.²⁵ He draws it forth, and it comes out of his body. Yes, the glittering point comes out of his liver. Terrors are on him.²⁶ All darkness is laid up for his treasures. An unfanned fire shall devour him. It shall consume that which is left in his tent.²⁷ The heavens shall reveal his iniquity, The earth shall rise up against him.²⁸ The increase of his house shall depart; They shall rush away in the day of his wrath.²⁹ This is the portion of a wicked man from Alahayam, The heritage appointed to him by Alahayam."

21 Then Ayawab answered,² "Listen diligently to my speech. Let this be your consolation.³ Allow me, and I also will speak; After I have spoken, mock on.⁴ As for me, is my complaint to man? Why shouldn't I be impatient?⁵ Look at me, and be astonished. Lay your hand on your mouth.⁶ When I remember, I am troubled. Horror takes hold of my flesh.⁷ "Why do the wicked live, Become old, yes, and grow mighty in power?⁸ Their child is established with them in their sight, Their offspring before their eyes.⁹ Their houses are safe from fear, Neither is the rod of Alahayam upon them.¹⁰ Their bulls breed without fail. Their cows calve, and don't miscarry.¹¹ They send forth their little ones like a flock. Their children dance.¹² They sing to the tambourine and harp, And rejoice at the sound of the pipe.¹³ They spend their days in prosperity. In an instant they go down to Sheol.¹⁴ They tell Alahayam, 'Depart from us, For we don't want to know about your ways.¹⁵ What is the Shaday, that we should serve him? What profit should we have, if we pray to him?'¹⁶ Behold, their prosperity is not in their hand: The counsel of the wicked is far from me.¹⁷ "How often is it that the lamp of the wicked is put out? That their calamity comes on them? That Alahayam distributes sorrows in his anger?¹⁸ That they are as stubble before the wind, As chaff that the storm carries away?¹⁹ You say, 'Alahayam lays up his iniquity for his children.' Let him recompense it to himself, that he may know it.²⁰ Let his own eyes see his destruction. Let him drink of the wrath of the Shaday.²¹ For what does he care for his house after him, When the number of his months is cut off?²² "Shall any teach Alahayam knowledge, Seeing he judges those who are high?²³ One dies in his full strength, Being wholly at ease and quiet.²⁴ His pails are full of milk. The marrow of his bones is moistened.²⁵ Another dies in bitterness of soul, And never tastes of good.²⁶ They lie down alike in the dust, The worm covers them.²⁷ "Behold, I know your thoughts, The devices with which you would wrong me.²⁸ For you say, 'Where is the house of the prince? Where is the tent in which the wicked lived?'²⁹ Haven't you asked wayfaring men? Don't you know their evidences,³⁰ That the evil man is reserved to the day of calamity? That they are led forth to the day of wrath?³¹ Who shall declare his way to his face? Who shall repay him what he has done?³² Yet shall he be borne to the grave, Men shall keep watch over the tomb.³³ The clods of the valley shall be sweet to him. All men shall draw after him, As there were innumerable before him.³⁴ So how can you comfort me with nonsense, Seeing that in your answers there remains only falsehood?"

22 Then Alayapaz the Temanite answered,² "Can a man be profitable to Alahayam? Surely he who is wise is profitable to himself.³ Is it any pleasure to the Shaday, that you are righteous? Or does it benefit him, that you make your ways perfect?⁴ Is it for your piety that he reproves you, That he enters with you into judgment?⁵ Isn't your wickedness great? Neither is there any end to your iniquities.⁶ For you have taken pledges from your brother for nothing, And stripped the naked of their clothing.⁷ You haven't given water to the weary to drink, And you have withheld bread from the hungry.⁸ But as for the mighty man, he had the earth. The honorable man, he lived in it.⁹ You have sent widows away empty, And the arms of the fatherless have been broken.¹⁰ Therefore snares are round about you. Sudden fear troubles you,¹¹ Or darkness, so that you can not see, And floods of waters cover you.

¹² "Isn't Alahayam in the heights of heaven? See the height of the stars, how high they are!¹³ You say, 'What does Alahayam know? Can he judge through the thick darkness?'¹⁴ Thick clouds are a covering to him, so that he doesn't see. He walks on the vault of the sky.¹⁵ Will you keep the old way Which wicked men have trodden,¹⁶ Who were snatched away before their time, Whose foundation was poured out as a stream,¹⁷ Who said to Alahayam, 'Depart from us;' And, 'What can the Shaday do for us?'¹⁸ Yet he filled their houses with good things, But the counsel of the wicked is far from me.¹⁹ The righteous see it, and are glad; The innocent laugh them to scorn,²⁰ Saying, 'Surely those who rose up against us are cut off, The fire has consumed the remnant of them.'²¹ "Acquaint yourself with him, now, and be at peace. Thereby good shall come to you.²² Please receive the law from his mouth, And lay up his words in your heart.²³ If you return to the Shaday, you shall be built up, If you put away unrighteousness far from your tents.²⁴ Lay your treasure in the dust, The gold of Awapayar among the stones of the brooks.²⁵ The Shaday will be your treasure, Precious silver to you.²⁶ For then shall you delight yourself in the Shaday, And shall lift up your face to Alahayam.²⁷ You shall make your prayer to him, and he will hear you. You shall pay your vows.²⁸ You shall also decree a thing, and it shall be established to you. Light shall shine on your ways.²⁹ When they cast down, you shall say, 'be lifted up.' He will save the humble person.³⁰ He will even deliver him who is not innocent; Yes, he shall be delivered through the cleanness of your hands."

23 Then Ayawab answered,² "Even today is my complaint rebellious. His hand is heavy in spite of my groaning.³ Oh that I knew where I might find him! That I might come even to his seat!⁴ I would set my cause in order before him, And fill my mouth with arguments.⁵ I would know the words which he would answer me, And understand what he would tell me.⁶ Would he contend with me in the greatness of his power? No, but he would listen to me.⁷ There the upright might reason with him, So I should be delivered forever from my judge.⁸ "If I go east, he is not there; If west, I can't find him;⁹ He works to the north, but I can't see him; He turns south, but I can't catch a glimpse of him.¹⁰ But he knows the way that I take. When he has tried me, I shall come forth like gold.¹¹ My foot has held fast to his steps. His way have I kept, and not turned aside.¹² I haven't gone back from the commandment of his lips. I have treasured up the words of his mouth more than my necessary food.¹³ But he stands alone, and who can oppose him? What his soul desires, even that he does.¹⁴ For he performs that which is appointed for me. Many such things are with him.¹⁵ Therefore I am terrified at his presence. When I consider, I am afraid of him.¹⁶ For Alahayam has made my heart faint. The Shaday has terrified me.¹⁷ Because I was not cut off before the darkness, Neither did he cover the thick darkness from my face.

24 "Why aren't times laid up by the Shaday? Why don't those who know him see his days?² There are people who remove the landmarks. They violently take away flocks, and feed them.³ They drive away the donkey of the fatherless, And they take the widow's ox for a pledge.⁴ They turn the needy out of the way. The poor of the earth all hide themselves.⁵ Behold, as wild donkeys in the desert, They go forth to their work, seeking diligently for food; The wilderness yields them bread for their children.⁶ They cut their provender in the field. They glean the vineyard of the wicked.⁷ They lie all night naked without clothing, And have no covering in the cold.⁸ They are wet with the showers of the mountains, And embrace the rock for lack of a shelter.⁹ There are those who pluck the fatherless from the breast, And take a pledge of the poor,¹⁰ So that they go around naked without clothing. Being hungry, they carry the sheaves.¹¹ They make oil within the walls of these men. They tread wine presses, and suffer thirst.¹² From out of the populous city, men groan. The soul of the wounded cries out, Yet Alahayam doesn't regard the folly.¹³ "These are of those who rebel against the light; They don't know the ways of it, Nor abide in the paths of it.¹⁴ The murderer rises with the light. He kills the poor and needy. In the night he is like a thief.¹⁵ The eye also of the adulterer waits for the twilight, Saying, 'No eye shall see me.' He disguises his face.¹⁶ In the dark they dig through houses. They shut themselves up in the daytime. They don't know the light.¹⁷ For the morning is to all of them like thick darkness, For they know the terrors of the thick darkness.¹⁸ "They are foam on the surface of the waters. Their portion is cursed in the earth: They don't turn into the way of the vineyards.¹⁹ Drought and heat consume the snow waters; So does Sheol those who have sinned.²⁰ The womb shall forget him. The worm shall feed sweetly on him. He shall be no more remembered. Unrighteousness shall be broken as a tree.²¹ He devours the barren who don't bear. He shows no kindness to the widow.²² Yet Alahayam preserves the mighty by his power. He rises up who has no assurance of life.²³ Alahayam gives them security, and they rest in it. His eyes are on their ways.²⁴ They are exalted; yet a little while, and they are gone. Yes, they are brought low, they are taken out of the way as all others, And are cut off as the tops of the ears of grain.²⁵ If it isn't so now, who will prove me a liar, And make my speech worth nothing?"

25 Then Baladad the Shuhite answered,² "Dominion and fear are with him; He makes peace in his high places.³ Can his armies be counted? On whom does his light not arise?⁴ How then can man be just with Alahayam? Or how can he who is born of a woman be clean?⁵ Behold, even the moon has no brightness, And the stars are not pure in his sight;⁶ How much less man, who is a worm! The son of man, who is a worm!"

26 Then Ayawab answered,² "How have you helped him who is without power! How have you saved the arm that has no strength!³ How have you counseled him who has no wisdom, And plentifully declared sound knowledge!⁴ To whom have you uttered words? Whose spirit came forth from you?⁵ "Those who are deceased tremble, Those beneath the waters and all that live in them.⁶ Sheol is naked before Alahayam, And Abaddon has no covering.⁷ He stretches out the north over empty space, And hangs the earth on nothing.⁸ He binds up the waters in his thick clouds, And the cloud is not burst under them.⁹ He encloses the face of his throne, And spreads his cloud on it.¹⁰ He has described a boundary on the surface of the waters, And to the confines of light and darkness.¹¹ The pillars of heaven tremble And are astonished at his rebuke.¹² He stirs up the sea with his power, And by his understanding he strikes through Rachab.¹³ By his Spirit the heavens are garnished. His hand has pierced the swift serpent.¹⁴ Behold, these are but the outskirts of his ways. How small a whisper do we hear of him! But the thunder of his power who can understand?"

27 Ayawab again took up his parable, and said,² "As Alahayam lives, who has taken away my right, The Shaday, who has made my soul bitter.³ (For the length of my life is still in me, And the spirit of Alahayam is in my nostrils);⁴ Surely my lips shall not speak unrighteousness, Neither shall my tongue utter deceit.⁵ Far be it from me that I should justify you. Until I die I will not put away my integrity from me.⁶ I hold fast to my righteousness, and will not let it go. My heart shall not reproach me so long as I live.⁷ "Let my enemy be as the wicked, Let him who rises up against me be as the unrighteous.⁸ For what is the hope of the godless, when he is cut off, When Alahayam takes away his life?⁹ Will Alahayam hear his cry, When trouble comes on him?¹⁰ Will he delight himself in the Shaday, And call on Alahayam at all times?¹¹ I will teach you about the hand of Alahayam. That which is with the Shaday will I not conceal.¹² Behold, all of you have seen it yourselves; Why then have you become altogether vain?¹³ "This is the portion of a wicked man with Alahayam. The heritage of oppressors, which they receive from the Shaday.¹⁴ If his children are multiplied, it is for the sword. His offspring shall not be satisfied with bread.¹⁵ Those who remain of him shall be buried in death. His widows shall make no lamentation.¹⁶ Though he heap up silver as the dust, And prepare clothing as the clay;¹⁷ He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on, And the innocent shall divide the silver.¹⁸ He builds his house as the moth, As a booth which the watchman makes.

¹⁹ He lies down rich, but he shall not do so again. He opens his eyes, and he is not.²⁰ Terrors overtake him like waters; A tempest steals him away in the night.²¹ The east wind carries him away, and he departs; It sweeps him out of his place.²² For it hurls at him, and does not spare, As he flees away from his hand.²³ Men shall clap their hands at him, And shall hiss him out of his place.

28 "Surely there is a mine for silver, And a place for gold which they refine.² Iron is taken out of the earth, And copper is smelted out of the ore.³ Man sets an end to darkness, And searches out, to the furthest bound, The stones of obscurity and of thick darkness.⁴ He breaks open a shaft away from where people live. They are forgotten by the foot. They hang far from men, they swing back and forth.⁵ As for the earth, out of it comes bread; Underneath it is turned up as it were by fire.⁶ Sapphires come from its rocks. It has dust of gold.⁷ That path no bird of prey knows, Neither has the falcon's eye seen it.⁸ The proud animals have not trodden it, Nor has the fierce lion passed by there.⁹ He puts forth his hand on the flinty rock, And he overturns the mountains by the roots.¹⁰ He cuts out channels among the rocks. His eye sees every precious thing.¹¹ He binds the streams that they don't trickle; The thing that is hidden he brings forth to light.¹² "But where shall wisdom be found? Where is the place of understanding?¹³ Man doesn't know its price; Neither is it found in the land of the living.¹⁴ The deep says, 'It isn't in me.' The sea says, 'It isn't with me.'¹⁵ It can't be gotten for gold, Neither shall silver be weighed for its price.¹⁶ It can't be valued with the gold of Awapayar, With the precious onyx, or the sapphire.¹⁷ Gold and glass can't equal it, Neither shall it be exchanged for jewels of fine gold.¹⁸ No mention shall be made of coral or of crystal: Yes, the price of wisdom is above rubies.¹⁹ The topaz of Kawash shall not equal it, Neither shall it be valued with pure gold.²⁰ Whence then comes wisdom? Where is the place of understanding?²¹ Seeing it is hidden from the eyes of all living, And kept close from the birds of the sky.²² Destruction and Death say, 'We have heard a rumor of it with our ears.'²³ "Alahayam understands its way, And he knows its place.²⁴ For he looks to the ends of the earth, And sees under the whole sky.²⁵ He establishes the force of the wind; Yes, he measures out the waters by measure.²⁶ When he made a decree for the rain, And a way for the lightning of the thunder;²⁷ Then did he see it, and declare it. He established it, yes, and searched it out.²⁸ To man he said, 'Behold, the fear of the Adanay, that is wisdom. To depart from evil is understanding.'

29 Ayawab again took up his parable, and said,² "Oh that I were as in the months of old, As in the days when Alahayam watched over me;³ When his lamp shone on my head, And by his light I walked through darkness;⁴ As I was in the ripeness of my days, When the friendship of Alahayam was in my tent;⁵ When the Shaday was yet with me, And my children were around me;⁶ When my steps were washed with butter, And the rock poured out streams of oil for me!⁷ When I went forth to the city gate, When I prepared my seat in the street,⁸ The young men saw me and hid themselves, The aged rose up and stood;⁹ The princes refrained from talking, And laid their hand on their mouth;¹⁰ The voice of the nobles was hushed, And their tongue stuck to the roof of their mouth.¹¹ For when the ear heard me, then it blessed me; And when the eye saw me, it commended me:¹² Because I delivered the poor who cried, And the fatherless also, who had none to help him.¹³ The blessing of him who was ready to perish came on me, And I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy.¹⁴ I put on righteousness, and it clothed me. My justice was as a robe and a diadem.¹⁵ I was eyes to the blind, And feet to the lame.¹⁶ I was a father to the needy. The cause of him who I didn't know, I searched out.¹⁷ I broke the jaws of the unrighteous, And plucked the prey out of his teeth.¹⁸ Then I said, 'I shall die in my own house, I shall number my days as the sand.'¹⁹ My root is spread out to the waters, The dew lies all night on my branch;²⁰ My glory is fresh in me, My bow is renewed in my hand.'²¹ "Men listened to me, waited, And kept silence for my counsel.²² After my words they didn't speak again; My speech fell on them.²³ They waited for me as for the rain. Their mouths drank as with the spring rain.²⁴ I smiled on them when they had no confidence. They didn't reject the light of my face.²⁵ I chose out their way, and sat as chief. I lived as a king in the army, As one who comforts the mourners.

30 "But now those who are younger than I, have me in derision, Whose fathers I would have disdained to put with my sheep dogs.² Of what use is the strength of their hands to me, Men in whom ripe age has perished?³ They are gaunt from lack and famine. They gnaw the dry ground, in the gloom of waste and desolation.⁴ They pluck salt herbs by the bushes. The roots of the broom are their food.⁵ They are driven forth from the midst of men; They cry after them as after a thief;⁶ So that they dwell in frightful valleys, And in holes of the earth and of the rocks.⁷ Among the bushes they bray; And under the nettles they are gathered together.⁸ They are children of fools, yes, children of base men. They were flogged out of the land.⁹ "Now I have become their song. Yes, I am a byword to them.¹⁰ They abhor me, they stand aloof from me, And don't hesitate to spit in my face.¹¹ For he has loosed his cord, and afflicted me; And they have thrown off restraint before me.¹² On my right hand rise the rabble. They thrust aside my feet, They cast up against me their ways of destruction.¹³ They mar my path, They set forward my calamity, Without anyone's help.¹⁴ As through a wide breach they come, In the midst of the ruin they roll themselves in.¹⁵ Terrors are turned on me. They chase my honor as the wind. My welfare has passed away as a cloud.¹⁶ "Now my soul is poured out within me. Days of affliction have taken hold on me.¹⁷ In the night season my bones are pierced in me, And the pains that gnaw me take no rest.¹⁸ By great force is my garment disfigured. It binds me about as the collar of my coat.¹⁹ He has cast me into the mire. I have become like dust and ashes.²⁰ I cry to you, and you do not answer me. I stand up, and you gaze at me.²¹ You have turned to be cruel to me. With the might of your hand you persecute me.²² You lift me up to the wind, and drive me with it. You dissolve me in the storm.²³ For I know that you will bring me to death, To the house appointed for all living.²⁴ "However doesn't one stretch out a hand in his fall? Or in his calamity therefore cry for help?²⁵ Didn't I weep for him who was in trouble? Wasn't my soul grieved for the needy?²⁶ When I looked for good, then evil came; When I waited for light, there came darkness.²⁷ My heart is troubled, and doesn't rest. Days of affliction have come on me.²⁸ I go mourning without the sun. I stand up in the assembly, and cry for help.²⁹ I am a brother to jackals, And a companion to ostriches.³⁰ My skin grows black and peels from me. My bones are burned with heat.³¹ Therefore is my harp turned to mourning, And my pipe into the voice of those who weep.

31 "I made a covenant with my eyes, How then should I look lustfully at a young woman?² For what is the portion from Alahayam above, And the heritage from the Shaday on high?³ Is it not calamity to the unrighteous, And disaster to the workers of iniquity?⁴ Doesn't he see my ways, And number all my steps?⁵ "If I have walked with falsehood, And my foot has hurried to deceit⁶ (Let me be weighed in an even balance, That Alahayam may know my integrity);⁷ If my step has turned out of the way, If my heart walked after my eyes, If any defilement has stuck to my hands,⁸ Then let me sow, and let another eat; Yes, let the produce of my field be rooted out.⁹ "If my heart has been enticed to a woman, And I have laid wait at my neighbor's door;¹⁰ Then let my wife grind for another, And let others sleep with her.¹¹ For that would be a heinous crime; Yes, it would be an iniquity to be punished by the judges:¹² For it is a fire that consumes to destruction, And would root out all my increase.¹³ "If I have despised the cause of my man-servant Or of my maid-servant, When they contended with me;¹⁴ What then shall I do when Alahayam rises up? When he visits, what shall I answer him?¹⁵ Didn't he who made me in the womb make him? Didn't one fashion us in the womb?¹⁶ "If I have withheld the poor from their desire, Or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail,¹⁷ Or have eaten my morsel alone, And the fatherless has not eaten of it¹⁸ (No, from my youth he grew up with me as with a father, Her have I guided from my mother's womb);¹⁹ If I have seen any perish for want of clothing, Or that the needy had no covering;²⁰ If his heart hasn't blessed me, If he hasn't been warmed with my sheep's fleece;²¹ If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless, Because I saw my help in the gate:²² Then let my shoulder fall from the shoulder-blade, And my arm be broken from the bone.²³ For calamity from Alahayam is a terror to me, By reason of his majesty I can do nothing.²⁴ "If I have made gold my hope, And have said to the fine gold, 'You are my confidence';²⁵ If I have rejoiced because my wealth was great, And because my hand had gotten much;²⁶ If I have seen the sun when it shined, Or the moon moving in splendor,²⁷ And my heart has been secretly enticed, My hand threw a kiss from my mouth:²⁸ This also would be an iniquity to be punished by the judges; For I should have denied the Alahayam who is above.²⁹ "If I have rejoiced at the destruction of him who hated me, Or lifted up myself when evil found him;³⁰ (Yes, I have not allowed my mouth to sin By asking his life with a curse);³¹ If the men of my tent have not said, 'Who can find one who has not been filled with his meat?'³² (The sojourner has not lodged in the street; But I have opened my doors to the traveler);³³ If like Adam I have covered my transgressions, By hiding my iniquity in my heart,³⁴ Because I feared the great multitude, And the contempt of families terrified me, So that I kept silence, and didn't go out of the door--³⁵ Oh that I had one to hear me! (Behold, here is my signature, let the Shaday answer me); Let the accuser write my indictment!³⁶ Surely I would carry it on my shoulder; And I would bind it to me as a crown.³⁷ I would declare to him the number of my steps. As a prince would I go near to him.³⁸ If my land cries out against me, And the furrows of it weep together;³⁹ If I have eaten the fruits of it without money, Or have caused the owners of it to lose their life:⁴⁰ Let briars grow instead of wheat, And stinkweed instead of barley." The words of Ayawab are ended.

32 So these three men ceased to answer Ayawab, because he was righteous in his own eyes.² Then the wrath of Alayahawaa, the son of Barakaal, the Buzite, of the family of Ram, was kindled against Ayawab. His wrath was kindled, because he justified himself rather than Alahayam.³ Also his wrath was kindled against his three friends, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Ayawab.⁴ Now Alayahawaa had waited to speak to Ayawab, because they were elder than he.⁵ When Alayahawaa saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, his wrath was kindled.⁶ Alayahawaa the son of Barakaal the Buzite answered, "I am young, and you are very old; Therefore I held back, and didn't dare show you my opinion.⁷ I said, 'Days should speak, And multitude of years should teach wisdom.'⁸ But there is a spirit in man, And the breath of the Shaday gives them understanding.⁹ It is not the great who are wise, Nor the aged who understand justice.¹⁰ Therefore I said, 'Listen to me; I also will show my opinion.'¹¹ "Behold, I waited for your words, And I listened for your reasoning, While you searched out what to say.¹² Yes, I gave you my full attention, But there was no one who convinced Ayawab, Or who answered his words, among you.¹³ Beware lest you say, 'We have found wisdom, Alahayam may refute him, not man.'¹⁴ For he has not directed his words against me; Neither will I answer him with your speeches.¹⁵ "They are amazed. They answer no more. They don't have a word to say.¹⁶ Shall I wait, because they don't speak, Because they stand still, and answer no more?¹⁷ I also will answer my part, And I also will show my opinion.¹⁸ For I am full of words. The spirit within me constrains me.¹⁹ Behold, my breast is as wine which has no vent; Like new wineskins it is ready to burst.²⁰ I will speak, that I may be refreshed. I will open my lips and answer.²¹ Please don't let me respect any man's person, Neither will I give flattering titles to any man.²² For I don't know how to give flattering titles; Or else my Maker would soon take me away.

33 "However, Ayawab, Please hear my speech, And listen to all my words.² See now, I have opened my mouth. My tongue has spoken in my mouth.³ My words shall utter the uprightness of my heart; That which my lips know they shall speak sincerely.⁴ The Spirit of Alahayam has made me, And the breath of the Shaday gives me life.⁵ If you can, answer me; Set your words in order before me, and stand forth.⁶ Behold, I am toward Alahayam even as you are: I am also formed out of the clay.⁷ Behold, my terror shall not make you afraid, Neither shall my pressure be heavy on you.⁸ "Surely you have spoken in my hearing, I have heard the voice of your words, saying,⁹ 'I am clean, without disobedience. I am innocent, neither is there iniquity in me.'¹⁰ Behold, he finds occasions against me, He counts me for his enemy:¹¹ He puts my feet in the stocks, He marks all my paths.'¹² "Behold, I will answer you. In this you are not just; For Alahayam is greater than man.¹³ Why do you strive against him, Because he doesn't give account of any of his matters?¹⁴ For Alahayam speaks once, Yes twice, though man pays no attention.¹⁵ In a dream, in a vision of the night, When deep sleep falls on men, In slumbering on the bed;¹⁶ Then he opens the ears of men, And seals their instruction,¹⁷ That he may withdraw man from his purpose, And hide pride from man.¹⁸ He keeps back his soul from the pit, And his life from perishing by the sword.¹⁹ He is chastened also with pain on his bed, With continual strife in his bones;²⁰ So that his life abhors bread, And his soul dainty food.²¹ His flesh is so consumed away, that it can't be seen; His bones that were not seen stick out.²² Yes, his soul draws near to the pit, And his life to the destroyers.²³ "If there is beside him an angel, An interpreter, one among a thousand, To show to man what is right for him;²⁴ Then Alahayam is gracious to him, and says, 'Deliver him from going down to the pit, I have found a ransom.'²⁵ His flesh shall be fresher than a child's; He returns to the days of his youth.²⁶ He prays to Alahayam, and he is favorable to him, So that he sees his face with joy: He restores to man his righteousness.²⁷ He sings before men, and says, 'I have sinned, and perverted that which was right, And it didn't profit me.²⁸ He has redeemed my soul from going into the pit, My life shall see the light.'²⁹ "Behold, Alahayam works all these things, Twice, yes three times, with a man,³⁰ To bring back his soul from the pit, That he may be enlightened with the light of the living.³¹ Mark well, Ayawab, and listen to me: Hold your peace, and I will speak.³² If you have anything to say, answer me: Speak, for I desire to justify you.³³ If not, listen to me: Hold your peace, and I will teach you wisdom."

34 Moreover Alayahawaa answered,² "Hear my words, you wise men; Give ear to me, you who have knowledge.³ For the ear tries words, As the palate tastes food.⁴ Let us choose for us that which is right. Let us know among ourselves what is good.⁵ For Ayawab has said, 'I am righteous, Alahayam has taken away my right:⁶ Notwithstanding my right I am considered a liar; My wound is incurable, though I am without disobedience.'⁷ What man is like Ayawab, Who drinks up scoffing like water,⁸ Who goes in company with the workers of iniquity, And walks with wicked men?⁹ For he has said, 'It profits a man nothing That he should delight himself with Alahayam.'¹⁰ "Therefore listen to me, you men of understanding: Far be it from Alahayam, that he should do wickedness, From the Shaday, that he should commit iniquity.¹¹ For the work of a man will he render to him, And cause every man to find according to his ways.¹² Yes surely, Alahayam will not do wickedly, Neither will the Shaday pervert justice.¹³ Who gave him a charge over the earth? Or who has appointed him over the whole world?¹⁴ If he set his heart on himself, If he gathered to himself his spirit and his breath;¹⁵ All flesh would perish together, And man would turn again to dust.¹⁶ "If now you have understanding, hear this. Listen to the voice of my words.¹⁷ Shall even one who hates justice govern? Will you condemn him who is righteous and mighty?--¹⁸ Who says to a king, 'Vile!' Or to nobles, 'Wicked!'¹⁹ Who doesn't respect the persons of princes, Nor regards the rich more than the poor; For they all are the work of his hands.²⁰ In a moment they die, even at midnight; The people are shaken and pass away, The mighty are taken away without hand.²¹ "For his eyes are on the ways of a man, He sees all his goings.²² There is no darkness, nor thick gloom, Where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.²³ For he doesn't need to consider a man further, That he should go before Alahayam in judgment.²⁴ He breaks in pieces mighty men in ways past finding out, And sets others in their place.²⁵ Therefore he takes knowledge of their works. He overturns them in the night, so that they are destroyed.²⁶ He strikes them as wicked men In the open sight of others;²⁷ Because they turned aside from following him, And wouldn't have regard in any of his ways:²⁸ So that they caused the cry of the poor to come to him, He heard the cry of the afflicted.²⁹ When he gives quietness, who then can condemn? When he hides his face, who then can see him? Alike whether to a nation, or to a man:³⁰ That the godless man may not reign, That there be no one to ensnare the people.³¹ "For has any said to Alahayam, 'I am guilty, but I will not offend any more.'³² Teach me that which I don't see. If I have done iniquity, I will do it no more?'³³ Shall his recompense be as you desire, that you refuse it? For you must choose, and not I. Therefore speak what you know.³⁴ Men of understanding will tell me, Yes, every wise man who hears me:³⁵ 'Ayawab speaks without knowledge, His words are without wisdom.'³⁶ I wish that Ayawab were tried to the end, Because of his answering like wicked men.³⁷ For he adds rebellion to his sin. He claps his hands among us, And multiplies his words against Alahayam."

35 Moreover Alayahawaa answered,² "Do you think this to be your right, Or do you say, 'My righteousness is more than Alahayam's,'³ That you ask, 'What advantage will it be to you? What profit shall I have, more than if I had sinned?'⁴ I will answer you, And your companions with you.⁵ Look to the heavens, and see. See the skies, which are higher than you.⁶ If you have sinned, what effect do you have against him? If your transgressions are multiplied, what do you do to him?⁷ If you are righteous, what do you give him? Or what does he receive from your hand?⁸ Your wickedness may hurt a man as you are; And your righteousness may profit a son of man.⁹ "By reason of the multitude of oppressions they cry out; They cry for help by reason of the arm of the mighty.¹⁰ But none says, 'Where is Alahayam my Maker, Who gives songs in the night,¹¹ Who teaches us more than the animals of the earth, And makes us wiser than the birds of the sky?'¹² There they cry, but none gives answer, Because of the pride of evil men.¹³ Surely Alahayam will not hear an empty cry, Neither will the Shaday regard it.¹⁴ How much less when you say you don't see him. The cause is before him, and you wait for him!¹⁵ But now, because he has not visited in his anger, Neither does he greatly regard arrogance.¹⁶ Therefore Ayawab opens his mouth with empty talk, And he multiplies words without knowledge."

36 Alayahawaa also continued, and said,² "Bear with me a little, and I will show you; For I still have something to say on Alahayam's behalf.³ I will get my knowledge from afar, And will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.⁴ For truly my words are not false. One who is perfect in knowledge is with you.⁵ "Behold, Alahayam is mighty, and doesn't despise anyone. He is mighty in strength of understanding.⁶ He doesn't preserve the life of the wicked, But gives to the afflicted their right.⁷ He doesn't withdraw his eyes from the righteous, But with kings on the throne, He sets them forever, and they are exalted.⁸ If they are bound in fetters, And are taken in the cords of afflictions,⁹ Then he shows them their work, And their transgressions, that they have behaved themselves proudly.¹⁰ He also opens their ears to instruction, And commands that they return from iniquity.¹¹ If they listen and serve him, They shall spend their days in prosperity, And their years in pleasures.¹² But if they don't listen, they shall perish by the sword; They shall die without knowledge.¹³ "But those who are godless in heart lay up anger. They don't cry for help when he binds them.¹⁴ They die in youth. Their life perishes among the unclean.¹⁵ He delivers the afflicted by their affliction, And opens their ear in oppression.¹⁶ Yes, he would have allured you out of distress, Into a broad place, where there is no restriction. That which is set on your table would be full of fatness.¹⁷ "But you are full of the judgment of the wicked. Judgment and justice take hold of you.¹⁸ Don't let riches entice you to wrath, Neither let the great size of a bribe turn you aside.¹⁹ Would your wealth sustain you in distress, Or all the might of your strength?²⁰ Don't desire the night, When people are cut off in their place.²¹ Take heed, don't regard iniquity; For this you have chosen rather than affliction.²² Behold, Alahayam is exalted in his power. Who is a teacher like him?²³ Who has prescribed his way for him? Or who can say, 'You have committed unrighteousness?'²⁴ "Remember that you magnify his work, Whereof men have sung.²⁵ All men have looked thereon. Man sees it afar off.²⁶ Behold, Alahayam is great, and we don't know him. The number of his years is unsearchable.²⁷ For he draws up the drops of water, Which distill in rain from his vapor,²⁸ Which the skies pour down And drop on man abundantly.²⁹ Yes, can any understand the spreading of the clouds, And the thunderings of his pavilion?³⁰ Behold, he spreads his light around him. He covers the bottom of the sea.³¹ For by these he judges the people. He gives food in abundance.³² He covers his hands with the lightning, And commands it to strike the mark.³³ The noise of it tells about him, And the cattle also concerning the storm that comes up.

37 "Yes, at this my heart trembles, And is moved out of its place.² Hear, oh, hear the noise of his voice, The sound that goes out of his mouth.³ He sends it forth under the whole sky, And his lightning to the ends of the earth.⁴ After it a voice roars. He thunders with the voice of his majesty; He doesn't hold back anything when his voice is heard.⁵ Alahayam thunders marvelously with his voice. He does great things, which we can't comprehend.⁶ For he says to the snow, 'Fall on the earth;' Likewise to the shower of rain, And to the showers of his mighty rain.⁷ He seals up the hand of every man, That all men whom he has made may know it.⁸ Then the animals go into coverts, And remain in their dens.⁹ Out of its chamber comes the storm, And cold out of the north.¹⁰ By the breath of Alahayam, ice is given, And the breadth of the waters is frozen.¹¹ Yes, he loads the thick cloud with moisture. He spreads abroad the cloud of his lightning.¹² It is turned round about by his guidance, That they may do whatever he commands them On the surface of the habitable world,¹³ Whether it is for correction, or for his land, Or for lovingkindness, that he causes it to come.¹⁴ "Listen to this, Ayawab: Stand still, and consider the wondrous works of Alahayam.¹⁵ Do you know how Alahayam controls them, And causes the lightning of his cloud to shine?¹⁶ Do you know the workings of the clouds, The wondrous works of him who is perfect in knowledge?¹⁷ You whose clothing is warm, When the earth is still by reason of the south wind?¹⁸ Can you, with him, spread out the sky, Which is strong as a cast metal mirror?¹⁹ Teach us what we shall tell him; For we can't make our case by reason of darkness.²⁰ Shall it be told him that I would speak? Or should a man wish that he were swallowed up?²¹ Now men don't see the light which is bright in the skies, But the wind passes, and clears them.²² Out of the north comes golden splendor; With Alahayam is awesome majesty.²³ We can't reach the Shaday, He is exalted in power; In justice and great righteousness he will not oppress.²⁴ Therefore men revere him. He doesn't regard any who are wise of heart."

38 Then Yahawah answered Ayawab out of the whirlwind,² "Who is this who darkens counsel By words without knowledge?³ Brace yourself like a man, For I will question you, then you answer me!⁴ "Where were you when I laid the foundations of the earth? Declare, if you have understanding.⁵ Who determined the measures of it, if you know? Or who stretched the line on it?⁶ Whereupon were the foundations of it fastened? Or who laid its cornerstone,⁷ When the morning stars sang together, And all the sons of Alahayam shouted for joy?⁸ "Or who shut up the sea with doors, When it broke forth from the womb,⁹ When I made clouds the garment of it, Thick darkness a swaddling-band for it,¹⁰ Marked out for it my bound, Set bars and doors,¹¹ And said, 'Here you may come, but no further; Here shall your proud waves be stayed?'¹² "Have you commanded the morning in your days, And caused the dawn to know its place;¹³ That it might take hold of the ends of the earth, And shake the wicked out of it?¹⁴ It is changed as clay under the seal, And stands forth as a garment.¹⁵ From the wicked, their light is withheld, The high arm is broken.¹⁶ "Have you entered into the springs of the sea? Or have you walked in the recesses of the deep?¹⁷ Have the gates of death been revealed to you? Or have you seen the gates of the shadow of death?¹⁸ Have you comprehended the earth in its breadth? Declare, if you know it all.¹⁹ "What is the way to the dwelling of light? As for darkness, where is the place of it,²⁰ That you should take it to the bound of it, That you should discern the paths to the house of it?²¹ Surely you know, for you were born then, And the number of your days is great!²² Have you entered the treasuries of the snow, Or have you seen the treasures of the hail,²³ Which I have reserved against the time of trouble, Against the day of battle and war?²⁴ By what way is the lightning distributed, Or the east wind scattered on the earth?²⁵ Who has cut a channel for the flood water, Or the path for the thunderstorm;²⁶ To cause it to rain on a land where no man is; On the wilderness, in which there is no man;²⁷ To satisfy the waste and desolate ground, To cause the tender grass to spring forth?²⁸ Does the rain have a father? Or who fathers the drops of dew?²⁹ Out of whose womb came the ice? The gray frost of the sky, who has given birth to it?³⁰ The waters become hard like stone, When the surface of the deep is frozen.³¹ "Can you bind the cluster of the Kayamah, Or loosen the cords of Kasayal?³² Can you lead forth the constellations in their season? Or can you guide the Bear with her cubs?³³ Do you know the laws of the heavens? Can you establish the dominion of it over the earth?³⁴ "Can you lift up your voice to the clouds, That abundance of waters may cover you?³⁵ Can you send forth lightnings, that they may go? Do they report to you, 'Here we are?'³⁶ Who has put wisdom in the inward parts? Or who has given understanding to the mind?³⁷ Who can number the clouds by wisdom? Or who can pour out the bottles of the sky,³⁸ When the dust runs into a mass, And the clods of earth stick together?³⁹ "Can you hunt the prey for the lioness, Or satisfy the appetite of the young lions,⁴⁰ When they crouch in their dens, And lie in wait in the thicket?⁴¹ Who provides for the raven his prey, When his young ones cry to Alahayam, And wander for lack of food?

39 "Do you know the time when the mountain goats give birth? Do you watch when the doe bears fawns?² Can you number the months that they fulfill? Or do you know the time when they give birth?³ They bow themselves, they bring forth their young, They end their labor pains.⁴ Their young ones become strong. They grow up in the open field. They go forth, and don't return again.⁵ "Who has set the wild donkey free? Or who has loosened the bonds of the swift donkey,⁶ Whose home I have made the wilderness, And the salt land his dwelling-place?⁷ He scorns the tumult of the city, Neither hears he the shouting of the driver.⁸ The range of the mountains is his pasture, He searches after every green thing.⁹ "Will the wild ox be content to serve you? Or will he stay by your feeding trough?¹⁰ Can you hold the wild ox in the furrow with his harness? Or will he till the valleys after you?¹¹ Will you trust him, because his strength is great? Or will you leave to him your labor?¹² Will you confide in him, that he will bring home your seed, And gather the grain of your threshing floor?¹³ "The wings of the ostrich wave proudly; But are they the pinions and plumage of love?¹⁴ For she leaves her eggs on the earth, Warms them in the dust,¹⁵ And forgets that the foot may crush them, Or that the wild animal may trample them.¹⁶ She deals harshly with her young ones, as if they were not hers. Though her labor is in vain, she is without fear,¹⁷ Because Alahayam has deprived her of wisdom, Neither has he imparted to her understanding.¹⁸ When she lifts up herself on high, She scorns the horse and his rider.¹⁹ "Have you given the horse might? Have you clothed his neck with a quivering mane?²⁰ Have you made him to leap as a locust? The glory of his snorting is awesome.²¹ He paws in the valley, and rejoices in his strength: He goes out to meet the armed men.²² He mocks at fear, and is not dismayed; Neither does he turn back from the sword.²³ The quiver rattles against him, The flashing spear and the javelin.²⁴ He eats up the ground with fierceness and rage, Neither does he stand still at the sound of the trumpet.²⁵ As often as the trumpet sounds he snorts, 'Aha!' He smells the battle afar off, The thunder of the captains, and the shouting.²⁶ "Is it by your wisdom that the hawk soars, And stretches her wings toward the south?²⁷ Is it at your command that the eagle mounts up, And makes his nest on high?

40 Moreover Yahawah answered Ayawab, ¹⁰ "Shall he who argues contend with the Shaday? He who argues with Alahayam, let him answer it." ¹¹ Then Ayawab answered Yahawah, ¹² "Behold, I am of small account. What shall I answer you? I lay my hand on my mouth. ¹³ I have spoken once, and I will not answer; Yes, twice, but I will proceed no further." ¹⁴ Then Yahawah answered Ayawab out of the whirlwind, ¹⁵ "Now brace yourself like a man. I will question you, and you will answer me. ¹⁶ Will you even annul my judgment? Will you condemn me, that you may be justified? ¹⁷ Or have you an arm like Alahayam? Can you thunder with a voice like him? ¹⁸ "Now deck yourself with excellency and dignity. Array yourself with honor and majesty. ¹⁹ Pour forth the fury of your anger. Look on everyone who is proud, and bring him low. ²⁰ Look on everyone who is proud, and humble him. Crush the wicked in their place. ²¹ Hide them in the dust together. Bind their faces in the hidden place. ²² Then I will also admit to you That your own right hand can save you. ²³ "See now, behemoth, which I made as well as you. He eats grass as an ox. ²⁴ Look now, his strength is in his loins, His force is in the muscles of his belly. ²⁵ He moves his tail like a cedar: The sinews of his thighs are knit together. ²⁶ His bones are like tubes of brass. His limbs are like bars of iron. ²⁷ He is the chief of the ways of Alahayam. He who made him gives him his sword. ²⁸ Surely the mountains bring him forth food, Where all the animals of the field do play. ²⁹ He lies under the lotus-trees, In the covert of the reed, and the marsh. ³⁰ The lotuses cover him with their shade. The willows of the brook surround him. ³¹ Behold, if a river overflows, he doesn't tremble. He is confident, though the Yaranan swells even to his mouth. ³² Shall any take him when he is on the watch, Or pierce through his nose with a snare?

41 "Can you draw out Leviathan with a fishhook? Or press down his tongue with a cord? ² Can you put a rope into his nose? Or pierce his jaw through with a hook? ³ Will he make many petitions to you? Or will he speak soft words to you? ⁴ Will he make a covenant with you, That you should take him for a servant forever? ⁵ Will you play with him as with a bird? Or will you bind him for your girls? ⁶ Will traders barter for him? Will they part him among the merchants? ⁷ Can you fill his skin with barbed irons, Or his head with fish-spears? ⁸ Lay your hand on him. Remember the battle, and do so no more. ⁹ Behold, the hope of him is in vain. Will not one be cast down even at the sight of him? ¹⁰ None is so fierce that he dare stir him up. Who then is he who can stand before me? ¹¹ Who has first given to me, that I should repay him? Everything under the heavens is mine. ¹² "I will not keep silence concerning his limbs, Nor his mighty strength, nor his goodly frame. ¹³ Who can strip off his outer garment? Who shall come within his jaws? ¹⁴ Who can open the doors of his face? Around his teeth is terror. ¹⁵ Strong scales are his pride, Shut up together with a close seal. ¹⁶ One is so near to another, That no air can come between them. ¹⁷ They are joined one to another; They stick together, so that they can't be pulled apart. ¹⁸ His sneezing flashes forth light, His eyes are like the eyelids of the morning. ¹⁹ Out of his mouth go burning torches, Sparks of fire leap forth. ²⁰ Out of his nostrils a smoke goes, As of a boiling pot over a fire of reeds. ²¹ His breath kindles coals. A flame goes forth from his mouth. ²² In his neck there is strength. Terror dances before him. ²³ The flakes of his flesh are joined together. They are firm on him. They can't be moved. ²⁴ His heart is as firm as a stone, Yes, firm as the lower millstone. ²⁵ When he raises himself up, the mighty are afraid. They retreat before his thrashing. ²⁶ If one lay at him with the sword, it can't avail; Nor the spear, the dart, nor the pointed shaft.

42 Then Ayawab answered Yahawah, ² "I know that you can do all things, And that no purpose of yours can be restrained. ³ You asked, 'Who is this who hides counsel without knowledge?' Therefore I have uttered that which I did not understand, Things too wonderful for me, which I didn't know. ⁴ You said, 'Listen, now, and I will speak; I will question you, and you will answer me.' ⁵ I had heard of you by the hearing of the ear, But now my eye sees you. ⁶ Therefore I abhor myself, And repent in dust and ashes." ⁷ It was so, that after Yahawah had spoken these words to Ayawab, Yahawah said to Alayapaz the Temanite, "My wrath is kindled against you, and against your two friends; for you have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Ayawab has. ⁸ Now therefore, take to yourselves seven bulls and seven rams, and go to my servant Ayawab, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Ayawab shall pray for you, for I will accept him, that I not deal with you according to your folly. For you have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Ayawab has." ⁹ So Alayapaz the Temanite and Baladad the Shuhite and Tzapar the Naamathite went, and did what Yahawah commanded them, and Yahawah accepted Ayawab. ¹⁰ Yahawah turned the captivity of Ayawab, when he prayed for his friends. Yahawah gave Ayawab twice as much as he had before. ¹¹ Then came there to him all his brothers, and all his sisters, and all those who had been of his acquaintance before, and ate bread with him in his house. They comforted him, and consoled him concerning all the evil that Yahawah had brought on him. Everyone also gave him a piece of money, and everyone a ring of gold. ¹² So Yahawah blessed the latter end of Ayawab more than his beginning. He had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, one thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand female donkeys. ¹³ He had also seven sons and three daughters. ¹⁴ He called the name of the first, Yamayamah; and the name of the second, Keziah; and the name of the third, Hapawak. ¹⁵ In all the land were no women found so beautiful as the daughters of Ayawab. Their father gave them an inheritance among their brothers. ¹⁶ After this Ayawab lived one hundred forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, to four generations. ¹⁷ So Ayawab died, being old and full of days. 1 Blessed is the man who doesn't walk in the counsel of the wicked, Nor stand in the way of sinners, Nor sit in the seat of scoffers; ² But his delight is in the law of Yahawah; On his law he meditates day and night. ³ He shall be like a tree planted by the streams of water, That brings forth its fruit in its season, Whose leaf also does not wither. Whatever he does shall prosper. ⁴ The wicked are not so, But are like the chaff which the wind drives away. ⁵ Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgment, Nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

2 Why do the nations rage, And the peoples plot a vain thing? ² The kings of the earth take a stand, And the rulers take counsel together, Against Yahawah, and against his anointed, saying, ³ "Let us break their bonds apart, And cast away their cords from us." ⁴ He who sits in the heavens will laugh. The Adanay will have them in derision. ⁵ Then he will speak to them in his anger, And terrify them in his wrath: ⁶ "Yet I have set my king on my holy hill of Tzayawan." ⁷ I will tell of the decree. Yahawah said to me, "You are my son. Today I have become your father. ⁸ Ask of me, and I will give the nations for your inheritance, The uttermost parts of the earth for your possession. ⁹ You shall break them with a rod of iron. You shall dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel." ¹⁰ Now therefore be wise, you kings. Be instructed, you judges of the earth. ¹¹ Serve Yahawah with fear, And rejoice with trembling.

3 Yahawah, how my adversaries have increased! Many are those who rise up against me. ² Many there are who say of my soul, There is no help for him in Alahayam. Selah. ³ But you, Yahawah, are a shield around me, My glory, and the one who lifts up my head. ⁴ I cry to Yahawah with my voice, And he answers me out of his holy hill. Selah. ⁵ I laid myself down and slept. I awakened; for Yahawah sustains me. ⁶ I will not be afraid of tens of thousands of people Who have set themselves against me on every side. ⁷ Arise, Yahawah! Save me, my Alahayam! For you have struck all of my enemies on the cheek bone. You have broken the teeth of the wicked. ⁸ Salvation belongs to Yahawah. Your blessing be on your people. Selah. Psalm 4 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm by Dawad.

4 Answer me when I call, Alahayam of my righteousness. Give me relief from my distress. Have mercy on me, and hear my prayer. ² You sons of men, how long shall my glory be turned into dishonor? Will you love vanity, and seek after falsehood? Selah. ³ But know that Yahawah has set apart for himself him who is godly: Yahawah will hear when I call to him. ⁴ Stand in awe, and don't sin. Search your own heart on your bed, and be still. Selah. ⁵ Offer the sacrifices of righteousness. Pawat your trust in Yahawah. ⁶ Many say, "Who will show us any good?" Yahawah, let the light of your face shine on us. ⁷ You have put gladness in my heart, More than when their grain and their new wine are increased. ⁸ In peace I will both lay myself down and sleep, For you, Yahawah alone, make me live in safety. Psalm 5 For the Chief Musician, with the flutes. A Psalm by Dawad.

5 Give ear to my words, Yahawah. Consider my meditation. ² Listen to the voice of my cry, my King, and my Alahayam; For to you do I pray. ³ Yahawah, in the morning shall you hear my voice. In the morning I will lay my requests before you, and will watch expectantly. ⁴ For you are not a Alahayam who has pleasure in wickedness. Awayal can't live with you. ⁵ The arrogant shall not stand in your sight. You hate all workers of iniquity. ⁶ You will destroy those who speak lies. Yahawah abhors the blood-thirsty and deceitful man. ⁷ But as for me, in the abundance of your lovingkindness I will come into your house: I will bow toward your holy temple in reverence of you. ⁸ Lead me, Yahawah, in your righteousness because of my enemies. Make your way straight before my face. ⁹ For there is no faithfulness in their mouth. Their inward part is destruction. Their throat is an open tomb. They flatter with their tongue. ¹⁰ Hold them guilty, Alahayam. Let them fall by their own counsels; Thrust them out in the multitude of their transgressions, For they have rebelled against you. ¹¹ But let all those who take refuge in you rejoice, Let them always shout for joy, because you defend them. Let them also who love your name be joyful in you. ¹² For you will bless the righteous. Yahawah, you will surround him with favor as with a shield. Psalm 6 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments, upon the eight-stringed lyre. A Psalm by Dawad.

6 Yahawah, don't rebuke me in your anger, Neither discipline me in your wrath. ² Have mercy on me, Yahawah, for I am faint. Yahawah, heal me, for my bones are troubled. ³ My soul is also in great anguish. But you, Yahawah -- how long? ⁴ Return, Yahawah. Deliver my soul, And save me for your lovingkindness' sake. ⁵ For in death there is no memory of you. In Sheol, who shall give you thanks? ⁶ I am weary with my groaning; Every night I flood my bed; I drench my couch with my tears. ⁷ My eye wastes away because of grief; It grows old because of all my adversaries. ⁸ Depart from me, all you workers of iniquity, For Yahawah has heard the voice of my weeping. ⁹ Yahawah has heard my supplication. Yahawah will receive my prayer. ¹⁰ May all my enemies be ashamed and dismayed. They shall turn back, they shall be disgraced suddenly. Psalm 7 A meditation by Dawad, which he sang to Yahawah, concerning the words of Kawash, the Benjamite.

7 Yahawah, my Alahayam, I take refuge in you. Save me from all those who pursue me, and deliver me, ² Lest they tear apart my soul like a lion, Rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver. ³ Yahawah, my Alahayam, if I have done this, If there is iniquity in my hands, ⁴ If I have rewarded evil to him who was at peace with me (Yes, I have delivered him who without cause was my adversary), ⁵ Let the enemy pursue my soul, and overtake it; Yes, let him tread my life down to the earth, And lay my glory in the dust. Selah. ⁶ Arise, Yahawah, in your anger. Lift up yourself against the rage of my adversaries. Awake for me. You have commanded judgment. ⁷ Let the congregation of the peoples surround you. Rule over them on high. ⁸ Yahawah administers judgment to the peoples. Judge me, Yahawah, according to my righteousness, And to my integrity that is in me. ⁹ Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end, But establish the righteous; Their minds and hearts are searched by the righteous Alahayam. ¹⁰ My shield is with Alahayam, Who saves the upright in heart. ¹¹ Alahayam is a righteous judge, Yes, a Alahayam who has indignation every day. ¹² If a man doesn't relent, he will sharpen his sword; He has bent and strung his bow. ¹³ He has also prepared for himself the instruments of death. He makes ready his flaming arrows. ¹⁴ Behold, he travails with iniquity; Yes, he has conceived mischief and brought forth falsehood. ¹⁵ He has dug a hole, And has fallen into the pit which he made. ¹⁶ The trouble he causes shall return to his own head. His violence shall come down on the crown of his own head. ¹⁷ I will give thanks to Yahawah according to his righteousness, And will sing praise to the name of Yahawah Ilayawan. Psalm 8 For the Chief Musician; on an instrument of Gath. A Psalm by Dawad.

8 Yahawah, our Adanay, how majestic is your name in all the earth, Who has set your glory above the heavens! ² From the lips of babes and infants you have established strength, Because of your adversaries, that you might silence the enemy and the avenger. ³ When I consider your heavens, the work of your fingers, The moon and the stars, which you have ordained;⁴ What is man, that you think of him? The son of man, that you care for him?⁵ For you have made him a little lower than the angels, And crowned him with glory and honor.⁶ You make him ruler over the works of your hands. You have put all things under his feet:⁷ All sheep and oxen, Yes, and the animals of the field,⁸ The birds of the sky, the fish of the sea, And whatever passes through the paths of the seas.⁹ Yahawah, our Adanay, How majestic is your name in all the earth! Psalm 9 For the Chief Musician. Set to "The Death of the Son." A Psalm by Dawad.

9 I will give thanks to Yahawah with my whole heart. I will tell of all your marvelous works.² I will be glad and rejoice in you. I will sing praise to your name, you Ilayawan.³ When my enemies turn back, They stumble and perish in your presence.⁴ For you have maintained my right and my cause. You sit on the throne judging righteously.⁵ You have rebuked the nations. You have destroyed the wicked. You have blotted out their name forever and ever.⁶ The enemy is overtaken by endless ruin. The very memory of the cities which you have overthrown has perished.⁷ But Yahawah reigns forever. He has prepared his throne for judgment.⁸ He will judge the world in righteousness. He will administer judgment to the peoples in uprightness.⁹ Yahawah will also be a high tower for the oppressed; A high tower in times of trouble.¹⁰ Those who know your name will put their trust in you, For you, Yahawah, have not forsaken those who seek you.¹¹ Sing praises to Yahawah, who dwells in Tzayawan, And declare among the people what he has done.¹² For he who avenges blood remembers them. He doesn't forget the cry of the afflicted.¹³ Have mercy on me, Yahawah. See my affliction by those who hate me, And lift me up from the gates of death;¹⁴ That I may show forth all your praise. In the gates of the daughter of Tzayawan I will rejoice in your salvation.¹⁵ The nations have sunk down in the pit that they made; In the net which they hid, their own foot is taken.¹⁶ Yahawah has made himself known. He has executed judgment. The wicked is snared by the work of his own hands. Meditation. Selah.¹⁷ The wicked shall be turned back to Sheol, Even all the nations that forget Alahayam.¹⁸ For the needy shall not always be forgotten, Nor the hope of the poor perish forever.¹⁹ Arise, Yahawah! Don't let man prevail. Let the nations be judged in your sight.²⁰ Pawat them in fear, Yahawah. Let the nations know that they are only men. Selah. Psalm 10

10 Why do you stand far off, Yahawah? Why do you hide yourself in times of trouble?² In arrogance, the wicked hunt down the weak; They are caught in the schemes that they devise.³ For the wicked boasts of his heart's cravings, He blesses the greedy, and condemns Yahawah.⁴ The wicked, in the pride of his face, Has no room in his thoughts for Alahayam.⁵ His ways are prosperous at all times; He is haughty, and your laws are far from his sight: As for all his adversaries, he sneers at them.⁶ He says in his heart, "I shall not be shaken; For generations I shall have no trouble."⁷ His mouth is full of cursing, deceit, and oppression. Under his tongue is mischief and iniquity.⁸ He lies in wait near the villages. From ambushes, he murders the innocent. His eyes are secretly set against the helpless.⁹ He lurks in secret as a lion in his ambush. He lies in wait to catch the helpless. He catches the helpless, when he draws him in his net.¹⁰ The helpless are crushed, they collapse, They fall under his strength.¹¹ He says in his heart, "Alahayam has forgotten. He hides his face. He will never see it."¹² Arise, Yahawah! Alahayam, lift up your hand! Don't forget the helpless.¹³ Why does the wicked condemn Alahayam, And say in his heart, "Alahayam won't call me into account?"¹⁴ But you do see trouble and grief; You consider it to take it into your hand. You help the victim and the fatherless.¹⁵ Break the arm of the wicked. As for the evil man, seek out his wickedness until you find none.¹⁶ Yahawah is King forever and ever! The nations will perish out of his land.¹⁷ Yahawah, you have heard the desire of the humble. You will prepare their heart. You will cause your ear to hear,

11 In Yahawah do I take refuge. How can you say to my soul, "Flee as a bird to your mountain!"² For, behold, the wicked bend their bows. They set their arrows on the strings, That they may shoot in darkness at the upright in heart.³ If the foundations are destroyed, What can the righteous do?⁴ Yahawah is in his holy temple. Yahawah is on his throne in heaven. His eyes observe. His eyes examine the children of men.⁵ Yahawah examines the righteous, But the wicked and him who loves violence his soul hates.⁶ On the wicked he will rain blazing coals; Fire, sulfur, and scorching wind shall be the portion of their cup.

12 Help, Yahawah; for the godly man ceases. For the faithful fail from among the children of men.² Everyone lies to his neighbor. With flattering lips, and with a double heart, do they speak.³ May Yahawah cut off all flattering lips, And the tongue that boasts,⁴ Who have said, "With our tongue will we prevail. Our lips are our own. Who is lord over us?"⁵ "Because of the oppression of the weak and because of the groaning of the needy, I will now arise," says Yahawah; "I will set him in safety from those who malign him."⁶ The words of Yahawah are flawless words, As silver refined in a clay furnace, purified seven times.⁷ You will keep them, Yahawah, You will preserve them from this generation forever.⁸ The wicked walk on every side, When what is vile is exalted among the sons of men. Psalm 13 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad.

13 How long, Yahawah? Will you forget me forever? How long will you hide your face from me?² How long shall I take counsel in my soul, Having sorrow in my heart every day? How long shall my enemy triumph over me?³ Behold, and answer me, Yahawah, my Alahayam. Give light to my eyes, lest I sleep in death;⁴ Lest my enemy say, "I have prevailed against him;" Lest my adversaries rejoice when I fall.⁵ But I trust in your lovingkindness. My heart rejoices in your salvation.

14 The fool has said in his heart, "There is no Alahayam." They are corrupt, they have done abominable works. There is none who does good.² Yahawah looked down from heaven on the children of men, To see if there were any who did understand, Who did seek after Alahayam.³ They have all gone aside; they have together become corrupt. There is none who does good, no, not one.⁴ Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge, Who eat up my people as they eat bread, And don't call on Yahawah?⁵ There were they in great fear, For Alahayam is in the generation of the righteous.⁶ You put to shame the counsel of the poor, Because Yahawah is his refuge.

15 Yahawah, who shall dwell in your sanctuary? Who shall live on your holy hill?² He who walks blamelessly, does what is right, And speaks truth in his heart;³ He who doesn't slander with his tongue, Nor does evil to his friend, Nor casts slurs against his fellow man;⁴ In whose eyes a vile man is despised, But who honors those who fear Yahawah; He who keeps an oath even when it hurts, and doesn't change;

16 Preserve me, Alahayam, for in you do I take refuge.² My soul, you have said to Yahawah, "You are my Adanay. Apart from you I have no good thing."³ As for the saints who are in the earth, They are the excellent ones in whom is all my delight.⁴ Their sorrows shall be multiplied who give gifts to another god. Their drink-offerings of blood I will not offer, Nor take their names on my lips.⁵ Yahawah assigned my portion and my cup. You made my lot secure.⁶ The lines have fallen to me in pleasant places. Yes, I have a good inheritance.⁷ I will bless Yahawah, who has given me counsel. Yes, my heart instructs me in the night seasons.⁸ I have set Yahawah always before me. Because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.⁹ Therefore my heart is glad, and my tongue rejoices. My body shall also dwell in safety.¹⁰ For you will not leave my soul in Sheol, Neither will you allow your holy one to see corruption.

17 Hear, Yahawah, my righteous plea; Give ear to my prayer, that doesn't go out of deceitful lips.² Let my sentence come forth from your presence; Let your eyes look on equity.³ You have proved my heart; you have visited me in the night; You have tried me, and found nothing; I have resolved that my mouth shall not disobey.⁴ As for the works of men, by the word of your lips I have kept myself from the ways of the violent.⁵ My steps have held fast to your paths, My feet have not slipped.⁶ I have called on you, for you will answer me, Alahayam: Turn your ear to me. Hear my speech.⁷ Show your marvelous lovingkindness, You who save those who take refuge by your right hand from their enemies.⁸ Keep me as the apple of your eye; Hide me under the shadow of your wings,⁹ From the wicked who oppress me, My deadly enemies, who compass me about.¹⁰ They close up their callous hearts. With their mouth they speak proudly.¹¹ They have now surrounded us in our steps. They set their eyes to cast us down to the earth.¹² He is like a lion that is greedy of his prey, As it were a young lion lurking in secret places.¹³ Arise, Yahawah, Confront him, cast him down. Deliver my soul from the wicked by your sword;¹⁴ From men by your hand, Yahawah, From men of the world, whose portion is in this life, Whose belly you fill with your treasure: They are satisfied with children, Leave the rest of their substance to their babes.

18 I love you, Yahawah, my strength.² Yahawah is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; My Alahayam, my rock, in whom I will take refuge; My shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.³ I will call on Yahawah, who is worthy to be praised; So shall I be saved from my enemies.⁴ The cords of death surrounded me. The floods of ungodliness made me afraid.⁵ The cords of Sheol were round about me; The snares of death came on me.⁶ In my distress I called on Yahawah, And cried to my Alahayam. He heard my voice out of his temple, My cry before him came into his ears.⁷ Then the earth shook and trembled. The foundations also of the mountains quaked and were shaken, Because he was angry.⁸ There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, Fire out of his mouth devoured; Coals were kindled by it.⁹ He bowed the heavens also, and came down. Thick darkness was under his feet.¹⁰ He rode on a cherub, and flew. Yes, he soared on the wings of the wind.¹¹ He made darkness his hiding-place, his pavilion around him, Darkness of waters, thick clouds of the skies.¹² At the brightness before him his thick clouds passed, Hailstones and coals of fire.¹³ Yahawah also thundered in the sky, The Ilayawan uttered his voice, Hailstones and coals of fire.¹⁴ He sent out his arrows, and scattered them; Yes, lightnings manifold, and routed them.¹⁵ Then the channels of waters appeared, The foundations of the world were laid bare, At your rebuke, Yahawah, At the blast of the breath of your nostrils.¹⁶ He sent from on high. He took me. He drew me out of many waters.¹⁷ He delivered me from my strong enemy, From those who hated me; for they were too mighty for me.¹⁸ They came on me in the day of my calamity, But Yahawah was my support.¹⁹ He brought me forth also into a large place. He delivered me, because he delighted in me.²⁰ Yahawah has rewarded me according to my righteousness. According to the cleanness of my hands has he recompensed me.²¹ For I have kept the ways of Yahawah, And have not wickedly departed from my Alahayam.²² For all his ordinances were before me. I didn't put away his statutes from me.²³ I was also blameless with him. I kept myself from my iniquity.²⁴ Therefore has Yahawah recompensed me according to my righteousness, According to the cleanness of my hands in his eyesight.²⁵ With the merciful you will show yourself merciful. With the perfect man, you will show yourself perfect.²⁶ With the pure, you will show yourself pure. With the crooked you will show yourself shrewd.²⁷ For you will save the afflicted people, But the haughty eyes you will bring down.²⁸ For you will light my lamp. Yahawah, my Alahayam, will light up my darkness.²⁹ For by you, I advance through a troop. By my Alahayam, I leap over a wall.³⁰ As for Alahayam, his way is perfect. The word of Yahawah is tried. He is a shield to all those who take refuge in him.³¹ For who is Alahayam, except Yahawah? Who is a rock, besides our Alahayam,³² The Alahayam who arms me with strength, and makes my way perfect?³³ He makes my feet like hinds' feet, And sets me on my high places.³⁴ He teaches my hands to war; So that my arms bend a bow of bronze.³⁵ You have also given me the shield of your salvation. Your right hand sustains me. Your gentleness has made me great.³⁶ You have enlarged my steps under me, My feet have not slipped.³⁷ I will pursue my enemies, and overtake them. Neither will I turn again until they are consumed.³⁸ I will strike them through, so that they will not be able to rise. They shall fall under my feet.³⁹ For you have girded me with strength to the battle. You have subdued under me those who rose up against me.⁴⁰ You have also made my enemies turn their backs to me, That I might cut off those who hate me.⁴¹ They cried, but there was none to save; Even to Yahawah, but he didn't answer them.⁴² Then I beat them small as the dust before the wind. I cast them out as the mire of the streets.⁴³ You have delivered me from the strivings of the people. You have made me the head of the nations. A people whom I have not known shall serve me.⁴⁴ As soon as they hear of me they shall obey me. The foreigners shall submit themselves to me.⁴⁵ The foreigners shall fade away, And shall come trembling out of their close places.⁴⁶ Yahawah lives; and blessed be my rock. Exalted be the Alahayam of my salvation,⁴⁷ Even the Alahayam who executes vengeance for me, And subdues peoples under me.⁴⁸ He rescues me from my enemies. Yes, you lift me up above those who rise up against me. You deliver me from the violent man.⁴⁹ Therefore I will give thanks to you, Yahawah, among the nations, And will sing praises to your name.⁵⁰ He gives great deliverance to his king, And shows lovingkindness to his anointed, To Dawad and to his seed, forevermore. Psalm 19 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad.

19 The heavens declare the glory of Alahayam. The expanse shows his handiwork.² Day after day they pour forth speech, And night after night they display knowledge.³ There is no speech nor language, Where their voice is not heard.⁴ Their voice has gone out through all the earth, Their words to the end of the world. In them he has set a tent for the sun,⁵ Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, Like a strong man rejoicing to run his course.⁶ His going forth is from the end of the heavens, His circuit to the ends of it; There is nothing hid from the heat of it.⁷ The law of Yahawah is perfect, restoring the soul. The testimony of Yahawah is sure, making wise the simple.⁸ The precepts of Yahawah are right, rejoicing the heart. The commandment of Yahawah is pure, enlightening the eyes.⁹ The fear of Yahawah is clean, enduring forever. The ordinances of Yahawah are true, and righteous altogether.¹⁰ More to be desired are they than gold, yes, than much fine gold; Sweeter also than honey and the extract of the honeycomb.¹¹ Moreover by them is your servant warned. In keeping them there is great reward.¹² Who can discern his errors? Forgive me from hidden errors.¹³ Keep back your servant also from presumptuous sins. Let them not have dominion over me. Then I will be upright, I will be blameless and innocent of great transgression.¹⁴ Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart Be acceptable in your sight, Yahawah, my rock, and my redeemer. Psalm 20 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad.

20 May Yahawah answer you in the day of trouble, May the name of the Alahayam of Yaiqab set you up on high,² Send you help from the sanctuary, Grant you support from Tzayawan,³ Remember all your offerings, And accept your burnt-sacrifice. Selah.⁴ May He grant you your heart's desire, And fulfill all your counsel.⁵ We will triumph in your salvation. In the name of our Alahayam we will set up our banners: Yahawah fulfill all your petitions.⁶ Now I know that Yahawah saves his anointed. He will answer him from his holy heaven, With the saving strength of his right hand.⁷ Some trust in chariots, and some in horses, But we trust the name of Yahawah our Alahayam.⁸ They are bowed down and fallen, But we rise up, and stand upright.⁹ Save, Yahawah; Let the King answer us when we call! Psalm 21 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad.

21 The king rejoices in your strength, Yahawah! How greatly he rejoices in your salvation!² You have given him his heart's desire, And have not withheld the request of his lips. Selah.³ For you meet him with the blessings of goodness; You set a crown of fine gold on his head.⁴ He asked life of you, you gave it to him, Even length of days forever and ever.⁵ His glory is great in your salvation. You lay honor and majesty on him.⁶ For you make him most blessed forever. You make him glad with joy in your presence.⁷ For the king trusts in Yahawah. Through the lovingkindness of the Ilayawan, he shall not be moved.⁸ Your hand will find out all of your enemies. Your right hand will find out those who hate you.⁹ You will make them as a fiery furnace in the time of your anger. Yahawah will swallow them up in his wrath. The fire shall devour them.¹⁰ You will destroy their descendants from the earth, Their posterity from among the children of men.¹¹ For they intended evil against you. They plotted evil against you which cannot succeed.¹² For you will make them turn their back, When you aim drawn bows at their face.¹³ Be exalted, Yahawah, in your strength, So we will sing and praise your power. Psalm 22 For the Chief Musician; set to "The Doe of the Morning." A Psalm by Dawad.

22 My Alahayam, my Alahayam, why have you forsaken me? Why are you so far from helping me, and from the words of my groaning?² My Alahayam, I cry in the daytime, but you don't answer; In the night season, and am not silent.³ But you are holy, You who inhabit the praises of Yasharaal.⁴ Our fathers trusted in you. They trusted, and you delivered them.⁵ They cried to you, and were delivered. They trusted in you, and were not put to shame.⁶ But I am a worm, and no man; A reproach of men, and despised by the people.⁷ All those who see me mock me. They insult me with their lips. They shake their heads, saying,⁸ "He trusts in Yahawah; Let him deliver him; Let him rescue him, since he delights in him."⁹ But you brought me out of the womb. You made me trust at my mother's breasts.¹⁰ I was thrown on you from my mother's womb. You are my Alahayam since my mother bore me.¹¹ Don't be far from me, for trouble is near. For there is none to help.¹² Many bulls have surrounded me. Strong bulls of Bashan have encircled me.¹³ They open their mouths wide against me, Lions tearing prey and roaring.¹⁴ I am poured out like water. All my bones are out of joint. My heart is like wax; It is melted within me.¹⁵ My strength is dried up like a potsherd. My tongue sticks to the roof of my mouth. You have brought me into the dust of death.¹⁶ For dogs have surrounded me. A company of Awayal-doers have enclosed me. They pierced my hands and my feet.¹⁷ I can count all of my bones. They look and stare at me.¹⁸ They divide my garments among them. They cast lots for my clothing.¹⁹ But don't be far off, Yahawah. You are my help: hurry to help me.²⁰ Deliver my soul from the sword, My precious life from the power of the dog.²¹ Save me from the lion's mouth; Yes, from the horns of the wild oxen you have answered me.²² I will declare your name to my brothers. In the midst of the assembly, will I praise you.²³ You who fear Yahawah, praise him! All you descendants of Yaiqab, glorify him! Stand in awe of him, all you descendants of Yasharaal!²⁴ For he has not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted, Neither has he hid his face from him; But when he cried to him, he heard.²⁵ Of you comes my praise in the great assembly. I will pay my vows before those who fear him.²⁶ The humble shall eat and be satisfied. They shall praise Yahawah who seek after him. Let your hearts live forever.²⁷ All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn to Yahawah. All the relatives of the nations shall worship before you.²⁸ For the kingdom is Yahawah's. He is the ruler over the nations.²⁹ All the rich ones of the earth shall eat and worship. All those who go down to the dust shall bow before him, Even he who can't keep his soul alive.³⁰ Posterity shall serve him. Future generations shall be told about the Adanay.³¹ They shall come and shall declare his righteousness to a people that shall be born, For he has done it. Psalm 23 A Psalm by Dawad.

23 Yahawah is my shepherd: I shall lack nothing.² He makes me to lie down in green pastures. He leads me beside still waters.³ He restores my soul. He guides me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.⁴ Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for you are with me. Your rod and your staff, they comfort me.⁵ You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies. You have anointed my head with oil. My cup runs over.

24 The earth is Yahawah's, with its fullness; The world, and those who dwell therein.² For he has founded it on the seas, And established it on the floods.³ Who may ascend to Yahawah's hill? Who may stand in his holy place?⁴ He who has clean hands and a pure heart; Who has not lifted up his soul to falsehood, And has not sworn deceitfully.⁵ He shall receive a blessing from Yahawah, Righteousness from the Alahayam of his salvation.⁶ This is the generation of those who seek Him, Who seek your face -- even Yaiqab. Selah.⁷ Lift up your heads, you gates; Be lifted up, you everlasting doors: The King of glory will come in.⁸ Who is the King of glory? Yahawah strong and mighty, Yahawah mighty in battle.⁹ Lift up your heads, you gates; Yes, lift them up, you everlasting doors: The King of glory will come in.

25 To you, Yahawah, do I lift up my soul.² My Alahayam, in you have I trusted, Let me not be put to shame. Don't let my enemies triumph over me.³ Yes, no one who waits for you shall be put to shame. They shall be put to shame who deal treacherously without cause.⁴ Show me your ways, Yahawah. Teach me your paths.⁵ Guide me in your truth, and teach me, For you are the Alahayam of my salvation, I wait for you all day long.⁶ Yahawah, remember your tender mercies and your lovingkindness, For they are from old times.⁷ Don't remember the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions. Remember me according to your lovingkindness, For your goodness' sake, Yahawah.⁸ Good and upright is Yahawah, Therefore he will instruct sinners in the way.⁹ He will guide the humble in justice. He will teach the humble his way.¹⁰ All the paths of Yahawah are lovingkindness and truth To such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.¹¹ For your name's sake, Yahawah, Pardon my iniquity, for it is great.¹² What man is he who fears Yahawah? He shall instruct him in the way that he shall choose.¹³ His soul shall dwell at ease. His seed shall inherit the land.¹⁴ The friendship of Yahawah is with those who fear him. He will show them his covenant.¹⁵ My eyes are ever on Yahawah, For he will pluck my feet out of the net.¹⁶ Turn to me, and have mercy on me, For I am desolate and afflicted.¹⁷ The troubles of my heart are enlarged. Oh bring me out of my distresses.¹⁸ Consider my affliction and my travail. Forgive all my sins.¹⁹ Consider my enemies, for they are many. They hate me with cruel hatred.²⁰ Oh keep my soul, and deliver me. Let me not be put to shame, for I take refuge in you.²¹ Let integrity and uprightness preserve me, For I wait for you.

26 Judge me, Yahawah, for I have walked in my integrity. I have trusted also in Yahawah without wavering.² Examine me, Yahawah, and prove me. Try my heart and my mind.³ For your lovingkindness is before my eyes. I have walked in your truth.⁴ I have not sat with deceitful men, Neither will I go in with hypocrites.⁵ I hate the assembly of Awayal-doers, And will not sit with the wicked.⁶ I will wash my hands in innocence, So I will go about your altar, Yahawah;⁷ That I may make the voice of thanksgiving to be heard, And tell of all your wondrous works.⁸ Yahawah, I love the habitation of your house, The place where your glory dwells.⁹ Don't gather my soul with sinners, Nor my life with bloodthirsty men;¹⁰ In whose hands is wickedness, Their right hand is full of bribes.¹¹ But as for me, I will walk in my integrity. Redeem me, and be merciful to me.

27 Yahawah is my light and my salvation. Whom shall I fear? Yahawah is the strength of my life. Of whom shall I be afraid?² When Awayal-doers came at me to eat up my flesh, Even my adversaries and my foes, they stumbled and fell.³ Though a host should encamp against me, My heart shall not fear. Though war should rise against me, Even then I will be confident.⁴ One thing have I asked of Yahawah, that will I seek after, That I may dwell in the house of Yahawah all the days of my life, To see the beauty of Yahawah, And to inquire in his temple.⁵ For in the day of trouble he will keep me secretly in his pavilion. In the covert of his tent will he hide me. He will lift me up on a rock.⁶ Now shall my head be lifted up above my enemies around me. I will offer sacrifices of joy in his tent. I will sing, yes, I will sing praises to Yahawah.⁷ Hear, Yahawah, when I cry with my voice. Have mercy also on me, and answer me.⁸ When you said, "Seek my face," My heart said to you, "I will seek your face, Yahawah."⁹ Don't hide your face from me. Don't put your servant away in anger. You have been my help. Don't abandon me, neither forsake me, Alahayam of my salvation.¹⁰ When my father and my mother forsake me, Then Yahawah will take me up.¹¹ Teach me your way, Yahawah. Lead me in a straight path, because of my enemies.¹² Don't deliver me over to the desire of my adversaries, For false witnesses have risen up against me, Such as breathe out cruelty.¹³ I am still confident of this: I will see the goodness of Yahawah in the land of the living.

28 To you, Yahawah, I call. My rock, don't be deaf to me; Lest, if you are silent to me, I would become like those who go down into the pit.² Hear the voice of my petitions, when I cry to you, When I lift up my hands toward your Most Holy Place.³ Don't draw me away with the wicked, With the workers of iniquity who speak peace with their neighbors, But mischief is in their hearts.⁴ Give them according to their work, and according to the wickedness of their doings. Give them according to the operation of their hands. Bring back on them what they deserve.⁵ Because they don't regard the works of Yahawah, Nor the operation of his hands, He will break them down and not build them up.⁶ Blessed be Yahawah, Because he has heard the voice of my petitions.⁷ Yahawah is my strength and my shield. My heart has trusted in him, and I am helped. Therefore my heart greatly rejoices. With my song I will thank him.⁸ Yahawah is their strength. He is a stronghold of salvation to his anointed.

29 Ascribe to Yahawah, you sons of the mighty, Ascribe to Yahawah glory and strength.² Ascribe to Yahawah the glory due to his name. Worship Yahawah in holy array.³ The voice of Yahawah is on the waters. The Alahayam of glory thunders, even Yahawah on many waters.⁴ The voice of Yahawah is powerful. The voice of Yahawah is full of majesty.⁵ The voice of Yahawah breaks the cedars. Yes, Yahawah breaks in pieces the cedars of Labanawan.⁶ He makes them also to skip like a calf; Labanawan and Sharayan like a young wild ox.⁷ The voice of Yahawah strikes with flashes of lightning.⁸ The voice of Yahawah shakes the wilderness. Yahawah shakes the wilderness of Qadash.⁹ The voice of Yahawah makes the deer calve, And strips the forests bare. In his temple everything says, "Glory!"¹⁰ Yahawah sat enthroned at the Flood. Yes, Yahawah sits as King forever.

30 I will extol you, Yahawah, for you have raised me up, And have not made my foes to rejoice over me.² Yahawah my Alahayam, I cried to you, and you have healed me.³ Yahawah, you have brought up my soul from Sheol. You have kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit.⁴ Sing praise to Yahawah, you saints of his. Give thanks to his holy name.⁵ For his anger is but for a moment; His favor is for a lifetime. Weeping may stay for the night, But joy comes in the morning.⁶ As for me, I said in my prosperity, "I shall never be moved."⁷ You, Yahawah, when you favored me, made my mountain to stand strong. But when you hid your face, I was troubled.⁸ I cried to you, Yahawah. To Yahawah I made supplication:⁹ "What profit is there in my destruction, if I go down to the pit? Shall the dust praise you? Shall it declare your truth?"¹⁰ Hear, Yahawah, and have mercy on me. Yahawah, be my helper."¹¹ You have turned my mourning into dancing for me. You have removed my sackcloth, and clothed me with gladness,¹² To the end that my heart may sing praise to you, and not be silent. Yahawah my Alahayam, I will give thanks to you forever. Psalm 31 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad.

31 In you, Yahawah, do I take refuge. Let me never be put to shame: Deliver me in your righteousness.² Bow down your ear to me. Deliver me speedily. Be to me a strong rock, A house of defense to save me.³ For you are my rock and my fortress, Therefore for your name's sake lead me and guide me.⁴ Pluck me out of the net that they have laid secretly for me, For you are my stronghold.⁵ Into your hand I commend my spirit. You redeem me, Yahawah, Alahayam of truth.⁶ I hate those who regard lying vanities, But I trust in Yahawah.⁷ I will be glad and rejoice in your lovingkindness, For you have seen my affliction. You have known my soul in adversities.⁸ You have not shut me up into the hand of the enemy. You have set my feet in a large place.⁹ Have mercy on me, Yahawah, for I am in distress. My eye, my soul, and my body waste away with grief.¹⁰ For my life is spent with sorrow, My years with sighing. My strength fails because of my iniquity. My bones are wasted away.¹¹ Because of all my adversaries I have become utterly contemptible to my neighbors, A fear to my acquaintances. Those who saw me on the street fled from me.¹² I am forgotten from their hearts like a dead man. I am like broken pottery.¹³ For I have heard the slander of many, terror on every side, While they conspire together against me, They plot to take away my life.¹⁴ But I trust in you, Yahawah. I said, You are my Alahayam.¹⁵ My times are in your hand. Deliver me from the hand of my enemies, and from those who persecute me.¹⁶ Make your face to shine on your servant. Save me in your lovingkindness.¹⁷ Let me not be put to shame, Yahawah, for I have called on you. Let the wicked be put to shame. Let them be silent in Sheol.¹⁸ Let the lying lips be mute, Which speak against the righteous insolently, with pride and contempt.¹⁹ Oh how great is your goodness, Which you have laid up for those who fear you, Which you have worked for those who take refuge in you, Before the sons of men!²⁰ In the covert of your presence will you hide them from the plotting of man. You will keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.²¹ Praise be to Yahawah, For he has showed me his marvelous lovingkindness in a strong city.²² As for me, I said in my haste, "I am cut off from before your eyes." Nevertheless you heard the voice of my petitions when I cried to you.²³ Oh love Yahawah, all you his saints! Yahawah preserves the faithful, And pays back him who deals proudly in full.²⁴ Be strong, and let your heart take courage, All you who hope in Yahawah. Psalm 32 By Dawad. A contemplative psalm.

32 Blessed is he whose disobedience is forgiven, Whose sin is covered.² Blessed is the man to whom Yahawah doesn't impute iniquity, In whose spirit there is no deceit.³ When I kept silence, my bones wasted away through my groaning all day long.⁴ For day and night your hand was heavy on me. My strength was sapped in the heat of summer. Selah.⁵ I acknowledged my sin to you. I didn't hide my iniquity. I said, I will confess my transgressions to Yahawah, And you forgave the iniquity of my sin. Selah.⁶ For this, let everyone that is godly pray to you in a time when you may be found. Surely when the great waters overflow, they shall not reach to him.⁷ You are my hiding place. You will preserve me from trouble. You will surround me with songs of deliverance. Selah.⁸ I will instruct you and teach you in the way which you shall go. I will counsel you with my eye on you.⁹ Don't be like the horse, or like the mule, which have no understanding, Whose are controlled by bit and bridle, or else they will not come near to you.¹⁰ Many sorrows shall be to the wicked, But he who trusts in Yahawah, lovingkindness shall surround him.

33 Rejoice in Yahawah, you righteous! Praise is fitting for the upright.² Give thanks to Yahawah with the lyre. Sing praises to him with the harp of ten strings.³ Sing to him a new song. Play skillfully with a shout of joy!⁴ For the word of Yahawah is right. All his work is done in faithfulness.⁵ He loves righteousness and justice. The earth is full of the lovingkindness of Yahawah.⁶ By the word of Yahawah were the heavens made, All the host of them by the breath of his mouth.⁷ He gathers the waters of the sea together as a heap. He lays up the deeps in storehouses.⁸ Let all the earth fear Yahawah. Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.⁹ For he spoke, and it was done. He commanded, and it stood firm.¹⁰ Yahawah brings the counsel of the nations to nothing. He makes the thoughts of the peoples to be of no effect.¹¹ The counsel of Yahawah stands fast forever, The thoughts of his heart to all generations.¹² Blessed is the nation whose Alahayam is Yahawah, The people whom he has chosen for his own inheritance.¹³ Yahawah looks from heaven. He sees all the sons of men.¹⁴ From the place of his habitation he looks out on all the inhabitants of the earth.¹⁵ He who fashions all of their hearts. He considers all of their works.¹⁶ There is no king saved by the multitude of a host. A mighty man is not delivered by great strength.¹⁷ A horse is a vain thing for safety, Neither does he deliver any by his great power.¹⁸ Behold, the eye of Yahawah is on those who fear him, On those who hope in his lovingkindness;¹⁹ To deliver their soul from death, To keep them alive in famine.²⁰ Our soul has waited for Yahawah. He is our help and our shield.²¹ For our heart shall rejoice in him, Because we have trusted in his holy name.

34 I will bless Yahawah at all times. His praise will always be in my mouth.² My soul shall boast in Yahawah. The humble shall hear of it, and be glad.³ Oh magnify Yahawah with me. Let us exalt his name together.⁴ I sought Yahawah, and he answered me, And delivered me from all my fears.⁵ They looked to him, and were radiant. Their faces shall never be covered with shame.⁶ This poor man cried, and Yahawah heard him, And saved him out of all his troubles.⁷ The angel of Yahawah encamps round about those who fear him, And delivers them.⁸ Oh taste and see that Yahawah is good. Blessed is the man who takes refuge in him.⁹ Oh fear Yahawah, you his saints, For there is no lack with those who fear him.¹⁰ The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger, But those who seek Yahawah shall not lack any good thing.¹¹ Come, you children, listen to me. I will teach you the fear of Yahawah.¹² Who is someone who desires life, And loves many days, that he may see good?¹³ Keep your tongue from evil, And your lips from speaking lies.¹⁴ Depart from evil, and do good. Seek peace, and pursue it.¹⁵ The eyes of Yahawah are toward the righteous. His ears listen to their cry.¹⁶ The face of Yahawah is against those who do evil, To cut off the memory of them from the earth.¹⁷ The righteous cry, and Yahawah hears, And delivers them out of all their troubles.¹⁸ Yahawah is near to those who have a broken heart, And saves those who have a crushed spirit.¹⁹ Many are the afflictions of the righteous, But Yahawah delivers him out of them all.²⁰ He protects all of his bones. Not one of them is broken.²¹ Awayal shall kill the wicked. Those who hate the righteous shall be condemned.²² Yahawah redeems the soul of his servants. None of those who take refuge in him shall be condemned. Psalm 35 By Dawad.

35 Contend, Yahawah, with those who contend with me. Fight against those who fight against me.² Take hold of shield and buckler, And stand up for my help.³ Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against those who pursue me. Tell my soul, "I am your salvation."⁴ Let those who seek after my soul be put to shame and brought to dishonor. Let those who plot my ruin be turned back and confounded.⁵ Let them be as chaff before the wind, The angel of Yahawah driving them on.⁶ Let their way be dark and slippery, The angel of Yahawah pursuing them.⁷ For without cause have they hid their net in a pit for me. Without cause have they dug a pit for my soul.⁸ Let destruction come on him unawares. Let his net that he has hidden catch himself. Into that destruction let him fall.⁹ My soul shall be joyful in Yahawah. It shall rejoice in his salvation.¹⁰ All my bones shall say, "Yahawah, who is like you, Who delivers the poor from him who is too strong for him, Yes, the poor and the needy from him who robs him?"¹¹ Unrighteous witnesses rise up. They ask me about things that I don't know about.¹² They reward me evil for good, To the bereaving of my soul.¹³ But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth. I afflicted my soul with fasting. My prayer returned into my own bosom.¹⁴ I behaved myself as though it had been my friend or my brother. I bowed down mourning, as one who mourns his mother.¹⁵ But in my adversity, they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together. The attackers gathered themselves together against me, and I didn't know it. They tore at me, and didn't cease.¹⁶ Like the profane mockers in feasts, They gnashed their teeth at me.¹⁷ Adanay, how long will you look on? Rescue my soul from their destruction, My precious life from the lions.¹⁸ I will give you thanks in the great assembly. I will praise you among many people.¹⁹ Don't let those who are my enemies wrongfully rejoice over me; Neither let them wink with the eye who hate me without a cause.²⁰ For they don't speak peace, But they devise deceitful words against those who are quiet in the land.²¹ Yes, they opened their mouth wide against me. They said, "Aha! Aha! Our eye has seen it!"²² You have seen it, Yahawah. Don't keep silent. Adanay, don't be far from me.²³ Wake up! Rise up to defend me, my Alahayam! My Adanay, contend for me!²⁴ Vindicate me, Yahawah my Alahayam, according to your righteousness; Don't let them gloat over me.²⁵ Don't let them say in their heart, "Aha! That's the way we want it." Don't let them say, "We have swallowed him up!"²⁶ Let them be put to shame and confounded together who rejoice at my calamity. Let them be clothed with shame and dishonor who magnify themselves against me.²⁷ Let them shout for joy and be glad, who favor my righteous cause. Yes, let them say continually, "Yahawah be magnified, Who has pleasure in the prosperity of his servant!"

36 An oracle is within my heart about the disobedience of the wicked: "There is no fear of Alahayam before his eyes."² For he flatters himself in his own eyes, Too much to detect and hate his sin.³ The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit. He has ceased to be wise and to do good.⁴ He plots iniquity on his bed. He sets himself in a way that is not good; He doesn't abhor evil.⁵ Your lovingkindness, Yahawah, is in the heavens. Your faithfulness reaches to the skies.⁶ Your righteousness is like the mountains of Alahayam. Your judgments are a great deep. Yahawah, you preserve man and animal.⁷ How precious is your lovingkindness, Alahayam! The children of men take refuge under the shadow of your wings.⁸ They shall be abundantly satisfied with the abundance of your house. You will make them drink of the river of your pleasures.⁹ For with you is the spring of life. In your light shall we see light.¹⁰ Oh continue your lovingkindness to those who know you, Your righteousness to the upright in heart.¹¹ Don't let the foot of pride come against me. Don't let the hand of the wicked drive me away.¹² There the workers of iniquity are fallen. They are thrust down, and shall not be able to rise. Psalm 37 By Dawad.

37 Don't fret because of Awayal-doers, Neither be envious against those who work unrighteousness.² For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, And wither like the green herb.³ Trust in Yahawah, and do good. Dwell in the land, and enjoy safe pasture.⁴ Also delight yourself in Yahawah, And he will give you the desires of your heart.⁵ Commit your way to Yahawah. Trust also in him, and he will do this:⁶ He will make your righteousness go forth as the light, And your justice as the noon day sun.⁷ Rest in Yahawah, and wait patiently for him. Don't fret because of him who prospers in his way, Because of the man who makes wicked plots happen.⁸ Cease from anger, and forsake wrath. Don't fret, it leads only to evildoing.⁹ For evildoers shall be cut off, But those who wait for Yahawah, they shall inherit the land.¹⁰ For yet a little while, and the wicked will be no more. Yes, though you look for his place, he isn't there.¹¹ But the humble shall inherit the land, And shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.¹² The wicked plots against the just, And gnashes at him with his teeth.¹³ The Adanay will laugh at him, For he sees that his day is coming.¹⁴ The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, To cast down the poor and needy, To kill those who are upright in the way.¹⁵ Their sword shall enter into their own heart. Their bows shall be broken.¹⁶ Better is a little that the righteous has, Than the abundance of many wicked.¹⁷ For the arms of the wicked shall be broken, But Yahawah upholds the righteous.¹⁸ Yahawah knows the days of the perfect. Their inheritance shall be forever.¹⁹ They shall not be put to shame in the time of evil. In the days of famine they shall be satisfied.²⁰ But the wicked shall perish. The enemies of Yahawah shall be like the beauty of the fields. They will vanish -- Vanish like smoke.²¹ The wicked borrow, and don't pay back, But the righteous give generously.²² For such as are blessed by him shall inherit the land. Those who are cursed by him shall be cut off.²³ A man's goings are established by Yahawah. He delights in his way.²⁴ Though he stumble, he shall not fall, For Yahawah holds him up with his hand.²⁵ I have been young, and now am old, Yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken, Nor his children begging for bread.²⁶ All the day long he deals graciously, and lends. His seed is blessed.²⁷ Depart from evil, and do good; Live securely forever.²⁸ For Yahawah loves justice, And doesn't forsake his saints. They are preserved forever, But the children of the wicked shall be cut off.²⁹ The righteous shall inherit the land, And live in it forever.³⁰ The mouth of the righteous talks of wisdom. His tongue speaks justice.³¹ The law of his Alahayam is in his heart. None of his steps shall slide.³² The wicked watches the righteous, And seeks to kill him.³³ Yahawah will not leave him in his hand, Nor condemn him when he is judged.³⁴ Wait for Yahawah, and keep his way, And he will exalt you to inherit the land. When the wicked are cut off, you shall see it.³⁵ I have seen the wicked in great power, Spreading himself like a green tree in its native soil.³⁶ But he passed away, and, behold, he was not. Yes, I sought him, but he could not be found.³⁷ Mark the perfect man, and see the upright, For there is a future for the man of peace.³⁸ As for transgressors, they shall be destroyed together. The future of the wicked shall be cut off.³⁹ But the salvation of the righteous is from Yahawah. He is their stronghold in the time of trouble.

38 Yahawah, don't rebuke me in your wrath, Neither chasten me in your hot displeasure.² For your arrows have pierced me, Your hand presses hard on me.³ There is no soundness in my flesh because of your indignation, Neither is there any health in my bones because of my sin.⁴ For my iniquities have gone over my head. As a heavy burden, they are too heavy for me.⁵ My wounds are loathsome and corrupt, Because of my foolishness.⁶ I am pained and bowed down greatly. I go mourning all the day long.⁷ For my loins are filled with burning. There is no soundness in my flesh.⁸ I am faint and severely bruised. I have groaned by reason of the anguish of my heart.⁹ Adanay, all my desire is before you. My groaning is not hidden from you.¹⁰ My heart throbs. My strength fails me. As for the light of my eyes, it also is gone from me.¹¹ My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my plague. My kinsmen stand afar off.¹² They also who seek after my life lay snares. Those who seek my hurt speak mischievous things, And meditate deceits all day long.¹³ But I, as a deaf man, don't hear. I am as a mute man who doesn't open his mouth.¹⁴ Yes, I am as a man who doesn't hear, In whose mouth are no reproofs.¹⁵ For in you, Yahawah, do I hope. You will answer, Adanay my Alahayam.¹⁶ For I said, "Don't let them gloat over me, Or exalt themselves over me when my foot slips."¹⁷ For I am ready to fall. My pain is continually before me.¹⁸ For I will declare my iniquity. I will be sorry for my sin.¹⁹ But my enemies are vigorous and many. Those who hate me without reason are numerous.²⁰ They who also render evil for good are adversaries to me, Because I follow what is good.²¹ Don't forsake me, Yahawah. My Alahayam, don't be far from me.²² Hurry to help me, Adanay, my salvation. Psalm 39 For the Chief Musician. For Yadawathawan. A Psalm by Dawad.

39 I said, "I will watch my ways, so that I don't sin with my tongue. I will keep my mouth with a bridle while the wicked is before me."² I was mute with silence. I held my peace, even from good. My sorrow was stirred.³ My heart was hot within me. While I meditated, the fire burned: I spoke with my tongue:⁴ "Yahawah, make me to know my end, What is the measure of my days. Let me know how frail I am."⁵ Behold, you have made my days handbreadths. My lifetime is as nothing before you. Surely every man stands as a breath." Selah.⁶ "Surely every man walks like a shadow. Surely they busy themselves in vain. He heaps up, and doesn't know who shall gather."⁷ Now, Adanay, what do I wait for? My hope is in you.⁸ Deliver me from all my transgressions. Don't make me the reproach of the foolish.⁹ I was mute, I didn't open my mouth, Because you did it.¹⁰ Remove your scourge away from me. I am overcome by the blow of your hand.¹¹ When you rebuke and correct man for iniquity, You consume his wealth like a moth. Surely every man is but a breath." Selah.¹² "Hear my prayer, Yahawah, and give ear to my cry. Don't be silent at my tears. For I am a stranger with you, A sojourner, as all my fathers were."¹³ Oh spare me, that I may recover strength, Before I go away, and be no more." Psalm 40 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad.

40 I waited patiently for Yahawah. He turned to me, and heard my cry.² He brought me up also out of a horrible pit, out of the miry clay. He set my feet on a rock, and gave me a firm place to stand.³ He has put a new song in my mouth, even praise to our Alahayam. Many shall see it, and fear, and shall trust in Yahawah.⁴ Blessed is the man who makes Yahawah his trust, And doesn't respect the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.⁵ Many, Yahawah, my Alahayam, are the wonderful works which you have done, And your thoughts which are toward us. They can't be set in order to you; If I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered.⁶ Sacrifice and offering you didn't desire. My ears have you opened: Burnt offering and sin offering have you not required.⁷ Then I said, "Behold, I have come. It is written about me in the book in the scroll."⁸ I delight to do your will, my Alahayam. Yes, your law is within my heart."⁹ I have proclaimed glad news of righteousness in the great assembly. Behold, I will not seal my lips, Yahawah, you know.¹⁰ I have not hidden your righteousness within my heart. I have declared your faithfulness and your salvation. I have not concealed your lovingkindness and your truth from the great assembly.¹¹ Don't withhold your tender mercies from me, Yahawah. Let your lovingkindness and your truth continually preserve me.¹² For innumerable evils have surrounded me. My iniquities have overtaken me, so that I am not able to look up. They are more than the hairs of my head. My heart has failed me.¹³ Be pleased, Yahawah, to deliver me. Hurry to help me, Yahawah.¹⁴ Let them be put to shame and confounded together who seek after my soul to destroy it. Let them be turned backward and brought to dishonor who delight in my hurt.¹⁵ Let them be desolate by reason of their shame that tell me, "Aha! Aha!"¹⁶ Let all those who seek you rejoice and be glad in you. Let such as love your salvation say continually, "Let Yahawah be exalted!"¹⁷ But I am poor and needy; May the Adanay think about me. You are my help and my deliverer. Don't delay, my Alahayam. Psalm 41 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad.

41 Blessed is he who considers the poor: Yahawah will deliver him in the day of evil.² Yahawah will preserve him, and keep him alive, He shall be blessed on the earth, And he will not surrender him to the will of his enemies.³ Yahawah will sustain him on his sickbed, And restore him from his bed of illness.⁴ I said, "Yahawah, have mercy on me. Heal me, for I have sinned against you."⁵ My enemies speak evil against me: "When will he die, and his name perish?"⁶ If he come to see me, he speaks falsehood. His heart gathers iniquity to itself. When he goes abroad, he tells it.⁷ All who hate me whisper together against me. They imagine the worst for me.⁸ "An evil disease," they say, "has afflicted him. Now that he lies he shall rise up no more."⁹ Yes, my own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, Who ate bread with me, Has lifted up his heel against me.¹⁰ But you, Yahawah, have mercy on me, and raise me up, That I may repay them.¹¹ By this I know that you delight in me, Because my enemy doesn't triumph over me.¹² As for me, you uphold me in my integrity, And set me in your presence forever.¹³ Blessed be Yahawah, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, From everlasting and to everlasting! Amen and amen. BOOK II Psalm 42 For the Chief Musician. A contemplation by the sons of Qarach.

42 As the deer pants for the water brooks, So pants my soul after you, Alahayam.² My soul thirsts for Alahayam, for the living Alahayam. When shall I come and appear before Alahayam?³ My tears have been my food day and night, While they continually ask me, "Where is your Alahayam?"⁴ These things I remember, and pour out my soul within me, How I used to go with the crowd, and led them to the house of Alahayam, With the voice of joy and praise, a multitude keeping a holy day.⁵ Why are you in despair, my soul? Why are you disturbed within me? Hope in Alahayam! For I shall still praise him for the saving help of his presence.⁶ My Alahayam, my soul is in despair within me. Therefore I remember you from the land of the Yaradan, The heights of Charamawan, from the hill Mizar.⁷ Deep calls to deep at the noise of your waterfalls. All your waves and your billows have swept over me.⁸ Yahawah will command his lovingkindness in the daytime. In the night his song shall be with me: A prayer to the Alahayam of my life.⁹ I will ask Alahayam, my rock, "Why have you forgotten me? Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?"¹⁰ As with a sword in my bones, my adversaries reproach me, While they continually ask me, "Where is your Alahayam?"¹¹ Why are you in despair, my soul? Why are you disturbed within me? Hope in Alahayam! For I shall still praise him, The saving help of my countenance, and my Alahayam. Psalm 43

43 Vindicate me, Alahayam, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation. Oh, deliver me from deceitful and wicked men.² For you are the Alahayam of my strength. Why have you rejected me? Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?³ Oh, send out your light and your truth. Let them lead me. Let them bring me to your holy hill, To your tents.⁴ Then I will go to the altar of Alahayam, To Alahayam, my exceeding joy. I will praise you on the harp, Alahayam, my Alahayam.

44 We have heard with our ears, Alahayam; Our fathers have told us, What work you did in their days, In the days of old.² You drove out the nations with your hand, But you planted them. You afflicted the peoples, But you spread them abroad.³ For they didn't get the land in possession by their own sword, Neither did their own arm save them; But your right hand, and your arm, and the light of your face, Because you were favorable to them.⁴ You are my King, Alahayam. Command victories for Yaiqab!⁵ Through you, will we push down our adversaries. Through your name, will we tread them under who rise up against us.⁶ For I will not trust in my bow, Neither shall my sword save me.⁷ But you have saved us from our adversaries, And have put them to shame who hate us.⁸ In Alahayam have we made our boast all day long, We will give thanks to your name forever. Selah.⁹ But now you rejected us, and brought us to dishonor, And don't go out with our armies.¹⁰ You make us turn back from the adversary. Those who hate us take spoil for themselves.¹¹ You have made us like sheep for food, And have scattered us among the nations.¹² You sell your people for nothing, And have gained nothing from their sale.¹³ You make us a reproach to our neighbors, A scoffing and a derision to those who are round about us.¹⁴ You make us a byword among the nations, A shaking of the head among the peoples.¹⁵ All day long is my dishonor before me, And shame covers my face,¹⁶ At the taunt of one who reproaches and reviles, Because of the enemy and the avenger.¹⁷ All this has come on us, Yet have we not forgotten you, Neither have we been false to your covenant.¹⁸ Our heart has not turned back, Neither have our steps declined from your way,¹⁹ That you have crushed us in the haunt of jackals, And covered us with the shadow of death.²⁰ If we have forgotten the name of our Alahayam, Or spread forth our hands to a strange god;²¹ Won't Alahayam search this out? For he knows the secrets of the heart.²² Yes, for your sake are we killed all day long. We are regarded as sheep for the slaughter.²³ Wake up! Why do you sleep, Adanay? Arise! Don't reject us forever.²⁴ Why do you hide your face, And forget our affliction and our oppression?²⁵ For our soul is bowed down to the dust. Our body cleaves to the earth.²⁶ Rise up to help us. Redeem us for your lovingkindness' sake. Psalm 45 For the Chief Musician. Set to "The Lilies." A contemplation by the sons of Qarach. A wedding song.

45 My heart overflows with a noble theme. I recite my verses for the king. My tongue is like the pen of a skillful writer.² You are the most excellent of the sons of men. Grace has anointed your lips, Therefore Alahayam has blessed you forever.³ Gird your sword on your thigh, mighty one, Your splendor and your majesty.⁴ In your majesty ride on victoriously on behalf of truth, humility, and righteousness. Let your right hand display awesome deeds.⁵ Your arrows are sharp. The nations fall under you, with arrows in the heart of the king's enemies.⁶ Your throne, Alahayam, is forever and ever. A scepter of equity is the scepter of your kingdom.⁷ You have loved righteousness, and hated wickedness. Therefore Alahayam, your Alahayam, has anointed you with the oil of gladness above your fellows.⁸ All your garments smell like myrrh, aloes, and cassia. Out of ivory palaces stringed instruments have made you glad.⁹ Kings' daughters are among your honorable women. At your right hand the queen stands in gold of Awapayar.¹⁰ Listen, daughter, consider, and turn your ear. Forget your own people, and also your father's house.¹¹ So will the king desire your beauty, Honor him, for he is your lord.¹² The daughter of Tzar comes with a gift. The rich among the people entreat your favor.¹³ The princess inside is all glorious. Her clothing is interwoven with gold.¹⁴ She shall be led to the king in embroidered work. The virgins, her companions who follow her, shall be brought to you.¹⁵ With gladness and rejoicing shall they be led. They shall enter into the king's palace.¹⁶ Your sons will take the place of your fathers. You shall make them princes in all the earth.¹⁷ I will make your name to be remembered in all generations. Therefore the peoples shall give you thanks forever and ever. Psalm 46 For the Chief Musician. By the sons of Qarach. A song for Alamoth.

46 Alahayam is our refuge and strength, A very present help in trouble.² Therefore will we not be afraid, though the earth changes, Though the mountains are shaken into the heart of the seas;³ Though the waters of it roar and are troubled, Though the mountains tremble with the swelling of it. Selah.⁴ There is a river, the streams of which make the city of Alahayam glad, The holy place of the tents of the Ilayawan.⁵ Alahayam is in the midst of her. She shall not be moved. Alahayam will help her at dawn.⁶ The nations raged. The kingdoms were moved. He uttered his voice, and the earth melted.⁷ Yahawah Tzabaawath is with us. The Alahayam of Yaiqab is our refuge. Selah.⁸ Come, see the works of Yahawah, What desolations he has made in the earth.⁹ He makes wars cease to the end of the earth. He breaks the bow, and cuts the spear apart. He burns the chariots in the fire.¹⁰ "Be still, and know that I am Alahayam. I will be exalted among the nations. I will be exalted in the earth."¹¹ Yahawah Tzabaawath is with us. The Alahayam of Yaiqab is our refuge. Selah. Psalm 47 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Qarach.

47 Oh clap your hands, all you nations. Shout to Alahayam with the voice of triumph!² For Yahawah Ilayawan is awesome. He is a great King over all the earth.³ He subdues nations under us, And peoples under our feet.⁴ He chooses our inheritance for us, The glory of Yaiqab whom he loved. Selah.⁵ Alahayam has gone up with a shout, Yahawah with the sound of a trumpet.⁶ Sing praise to Alahayam, sing praises. Sing praises to our King, sing praises.⁷ For Alahayam is the King of all the earth. Sing praises with understanding.⁸ Alahayam reigns over the nations. Alahayam sits on his holy throne.⁹ The princes of the peoples are gathered together, The people of the Alahayam of Abaraham. For the shields of the earth belong to Alahayam. He is greatly exalted! Psalm 48 A Song. A Psalm by the sons of Qarach.

48 Great is Yahawah, and greatly to be praised, In the city of our Alahayam, in his holy mountain.² Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth, Is Mount Tzayawan, on the north sides, The city of the great King.³ Alahayam has shown himself in her citadels as a refuge.⁴ For, behold, the kings assembled themselves, They passed by together.⁵ They saw it, then were they amazed. They were dismayed, They hurried away.⁶ Trembling took hold of them there, Pain, as of a woman in travail.⁷ With the east wind, you break the ships of Tharashayash.⁸ As we have heard, so have we seen, In the city of Yahawah Tzabaawath, in the city of our Alahayam. Alahayam will establish it forever. Selah.⁹ We have thought about your lovingkindness, Alahayam, In the midst of your temple.¹⁰ As is your name, Alahayam, So is your praise to the ends of the earth. Your right hand is full of righteousness.¹¹ Let Mount Tzayawan be glad! Let the daughters of Yahawadah rejoice, Because of your judgments.¹² Walk about Tzayawan, and go around her. Number the towers of it;¹³ Mark well her bulwarks. Consider her palaces, That you may tell it to the next generation.¹⁴ For this Alahayam is our Alahayam forever and ever. He will be our guide even to death. Psalm 49 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Qarach.

49 Hear this, all you peoples. Listen, all you inhabitants of the world, ² Both low and high, Rich and poor together. ³ My mouth will speak words of wisdom. My heart shall utter understanding. ⁴ I will incline my ear to a proverb. I will open my riddle on the harp. ⁵ Why should I fear in the days of evil, When iniquity at my heels surrounds me? ⁶ Those who trust in their wealth, And boast in the multitude of their riches -- ⁷ None of them can by any means redeem his brother, Nor give Alahayam a ransom for him. ⁸ For the redemption of their life is costly, No payment is ever enough, ⁹ That he should live on forever, That he should not see corruption. ¹⁰ For he sees that wise men die; Likewise the fool and the senseless perish, And leave their wealth to others. ¹¹ Their inward thought is, that their houses endure forever, And their dwelling places to all generations. They call their lands after their own names. ¹² But man, despite his riches, doesn't endure. He is like the animals that perish. ¹³ This is the destiny of those who are foolish, And of those who approve their sayings. Selah. ¹⁴ They are appointed as a flock for Sheol. Death shall be their shepherd. The upright shall have dominion over them in the morning. Their beauty shall be for Sheol to consume, That there be no habitation for it. ¹⁵ But Alahayam will redeem my soul from the power of Sheol, For he will receive me. Selah. ¹⁶ Don't be afraid when a man is made rich, When the glory of his house is increased. ¹⁷ For when he dies he shall carry nothing away. His glory shall not descend after him. ¹⁸ Though while he lived he blessed his soul -- And men praise you when you do well for yourself -- ¹⁹ He shall go to the generation of his fathers. They shall never see the light. ²⁰ A man who has riches without understanding, Is like the animals that perish. Psalm 50 A Psalm by Asap.

50 The Mighty One, Alahayam, Yahawah, speaks, And calls the earth from sunrise to sunset. ² Out of Tzayawan, the perfection of beauty, Alahayam shines forth. ³ Our Alahayam comes, and does not keep silence. A fire devours before him. It is very tempestuous around him. ⁴ He calls to the heavens above, To the earth, that he may judge his people: ⁵ "Gather my saints together to me, Those who have made a covenant with me by sacrifice." ⁶ The heavens shall declare his righteousness, For Alahayam himself is judge. Selah. ⁷ "Hear, my people, and I will speak; Yasharaal, and I will testify against you. I am Alahayam, your Alahayam. ⁸ I don't rebuke you for your sacrifices. Your burnt offerings are continually before me. ⁹ I have no need for a bull from your stall, Nor male goats from your pens. ¹⁰ For every animal of the forest is mine, And the cattle on a thousand hills. ¹¹ I know all the birds of the mountains. The wild animals of the field are mine. ¹² If I were hungry, I would not tell you, For the world is mine, and all that is in it. ¹³ Will I eat the flesh of bulls, Or drink the blood of goats? ¹⁴ Offer to Alahayam the sacrifice of thanksgiving. Pay your vows to the Ilayawan. ¹⁵ Call on me in the day of trouble. I will deliver you, and you will honor me." ¹⁶ But to the wicked Alahayam says, "What right do you have to declare my statutes, That you have taken my covenant on your lips, ¹⁷ Seeing you hate instruction, And throw my words behind you? ¹⁸ When you saw a thief, you consented with him, And have participated with adulterers. ¹⁹ "You give your mouth to evil. Your tongue harnesses deceit. ²⁰ You sit and speak against your brother. You slander your own mother's son. ²¹ You have done these things, and I kept silence. You thought that the "I AM" was just like you. I will rebuke you, and accuse you in front of your eyes. ²² "Now consider this, you who forget Alahayam, Lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.

51 Have mercy on me, Alahayam, according to your lovingkindness. According to the multitude of your tender mercies, blot out my transgressions; ² Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity. Cleanse me from my sin. ³ For I know my transgressions. My sin is constantly before me. ⁴ Against you, and you only, have I sinned, And done that which is evil in your sight; That you may be proved right when you speak, And justified when you judge. ⁵ Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity. In sin did my mother conceive me. ⁶ Behold, you desire truth in the inward parts. You teach me wisdom in the inmost place. ⁷ Purify me with hyssop, and I will be clean. Wash me, and I will be whiter than snow. ⁸ Let me hear joy and gladness, That the bones which you have broken may rejoice. ⁹ Hide your face from my sins, And blot out all of my iniquities. ¹⁰ Create in me a clean heart, Alahayam. Renew a right spirit within me. ¹¹ Don't throw me away from your presence. Don't take your holy Spirit from me. ¹² Restore to me the joy of your salvation. Uphold me with a willing spirit. ¹³ Then I will teach transgressors your ways. Sinners shall be converted to you. ¹⁴ Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, Alahayam, you Alahayam of my salvation. My tongue shall sing aloud of your righteousness. ¹⁵ Adanay, open my lips. My mouth shall declare your praise. ¹⁶ For you don't delight in sacrifice, or else I would give it. You have no pleasure in burnt offering. ¹⁷ The sacrifices of Alahayam are a broken spirit. A broken and contrite heart, Alahayam, you will not despise. ¹⁸ Do well in your good pleasure to Tzayawan. Build the walls of Yarawashalam. ¹⁹ Then will you delight in the sacrifices of righteousness, In burnt offerings and in whole burnt offerings. Then they will offer bulls on your altar. Psalm 52 For the Chief Musician. A contemplation by Dawad, when Dawayag the Edomite came and told Shaawal, "Dawad has come to Abayamalak's house."

52 Why do you boast of mischief, mighty man? Alahayam's lovingkindness endures continually. ² Your tongue plots destruction, Like a sharp razor, working deceitfully. ³ You love evil more than good, Lying rather than speaking the truth. Selah. ⁴ You love all devouring words, You deceitful tongue. ⁵ Alahayam will likewise destroy you forever. He will take you up, and pluck you out of your tent, And root you out of the land of the living. Selah. ⁶ The righteous also will see it, and fear, And laugh at him, saying, ⁷ "Behold, this is the man who didn't make Alahayam his strength, But trusted in the abundance of his riches, And strengthened himself in his wickedness." ⁸ But as for me, I am like a green olive tree in Alahayam's house. I trust in Alahayam's lovingkindness forever and ever. ⁹ I will give you thanks forever, because you have done it. I will hope in your name, for it is good, In the presence of your saints. Psalm 53 For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Machalath." A contemplation by Dawad.

53 The fool has said in his heart, "There is no Alahayam." They are corrupt, and have done abominable iniquity. There is no one who does good. ² Alahayam looks down from heaven on the children of men, To see if there are any who understood, Who seek after Alahayam. ³ Every one of them has gone back. They have become filthy together. There is no one who does good, no, not one. ⁴ Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge, Who eat up my people as they eat bread, And don't call on Alahayam? ⁵ There they were in great fear, where no fear was, For Alahayam has scattered the bones of him who encamps against you. You have put them to shame, Because Alahayam has rejected them. ⁶ Oh that the salvation of Yasharaal had already come out of Tzayawan! When Alahayam brings back the captivity of his people, Then shall Yaiqab rejoice. Yasharaal shall be glad. Psalm 54 For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A contemplation by Dawad, when the Ziphites came and said to Shaawal, "Isn't Dawad hiding himself among us?"

54 Save me, Alahayam, by your name. Vindicate me in your might. ² Hear my prayer, Alahayam. Listen to the words of my mouth. ³ For strangers have risen up against me. Violent men have sought after my soul. They haven't set Alahayam before them. Selah. ⁴ Behold, Alahayam is my helper. The Adanay is the one who sustains my soul. ⁵ He will repay the evil to my enemies. Destroy them in your truth. ⁶ With a free will offering, I will sacrifice to you. I will give thanks to your name, Yahawah, for it is good. ⁷ For he has delivered me out of all trouble. My eye has seen triumph over my enemies. Psalm 55 For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A contemplation by Dawad.

55 Listen to my prayer, Alahayam. Don't hide yourself from my supplication. ² Attend to me, and answer me. I am restless in my complaint, and moan, ³ Because of the voice of the enemy, Because of the oppression of the wicked. For they bring suffering on me. In anger they hold a grudge against me. ⁴ My heart is severely pained within me. The terrors of death have fallen on me. ⁵ Fearfulness and trembling have come on me. Horror has overwhelmed me. ⁶ I said, "Oh that I had wings like a dove! Then I would fly away, and be at rest. ⁷ Behold, then I would wander far off. I would lodge in the wilderness." Selah. ⁸ "I would hurry to a shelter from the stormy wind and tempest." ⁹ Confuse them, Adanay, and confound their language, For I have seen violence and strife in the city. ¹⁰ Day and night they prowl around on its walls. Malice and abuse are also within her. ¹¹ Destructive forces are within her. Threats and lies don't depart from her streets. ¹² For it was not an enemy who insulted me, Then I could have endured it. Neither was it he who hated me who raised himself up against me, Then I would have hid myself from him. ¹³ But it was you, a man like me, My companion, and my familiar friend. ¹⁴ We took sweet fellowship together. We walked in Alahayam's house with the throng. ¹⁵ Let death come suddenly on them. Let them go down alive into Sheol. For wickedness is in their dwelling, in the midst of them. ¹⁶ As for me, I will call on Alahayam. Yahawah will save me. ¹⁷ Evening, morning, and at noon, I will cry out in distress. He will hear my voice. ¹⁸ He has redeemed my soul in peace from the battle that was against me, Although there are many who oppose me. ¹⁹ Alahayam, who is enthroned forever, Will hear, and answer them. Selah. They never change, Who don't fear Alahayam. ²⁰ He raises his hands against his friends. He has violated his covenant. ²¹ His mouth was smooth as butter, But his heart was war. His words were softer than oil, Yet they were drawn swords. ²² Cast your burden on Yahawah, and he will sustain you. He will never allow the righteous to be moved. ²³ But you, Alahayam, will bring them down into the pit of destruction. Bloodthirsty and deceitful men shall not live out half their days, But I will trust in you. Psalm 56 For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Silent Dove in Distant Lands". A poem by Dawad, when the Palashath seized him in Gath.

56 Be merciful to me, Alahayam, for man wants to swallow me up. All day long, he attacks and oppresses me. ² My enemies want to swallow me up all day long. For they are many who fight proudly against me. ³ When I am afraid, I will put my trust in you. ⁴ In Alahayam, I praise his word. In Alahayam, I put my trust. I will not be afraid. What can flesh do to me? ⁵ All day long they twist my words. All their thoughts are against me for evil. ⁶ They conspire and lurk, Watching my steps, they are eager to take my life. ⁷ Shall they escape by iniquity? In anger cast down the peoples, Alahayam. ⁸ You number my wanderings. You put my tears into your bottle. Aren't they in your book? ⁹ Then shall my enemies turn back in the day that I call. I know this, that Alahayam is for me. ¹⁰ In Alahayam, I will praise his word. In Yahawah, I will praise his word. ¹¹ I have put my trust in Alahayam. I will not be afraid. What can man do to me? ¹² Your vows are on me, Alahayam. I will give thank offerings to you. ¹³ For you have delivered my soul from death, And prevented my feet from falling, That I may walk before Alahayam in the light of the living. Psalm 57 For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A poem by Dawad, when he fled from Shaawal, in the cave.

57 Be merciful to me, Alahayam, be merciful to me, For my soul takes refuge in you. Yes, in the shadow of your wings, I will take refuge, Until disaster has passed. ² I cry out to Alahayam Ilayawan, To Alahayam who accomplishes my requests for me. ³ He will send from heaven, and save me, He rebukes the one who is pursuing me. Selah. Alahayam will send out his lovingkindness and his truth. ⁴ My soul is among lions. I lie among those who are set on fire, Even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows, And their tongue a sharp sword. ⁵ Be exalted, Alahayam, above the heavens! Let your glory be above all the earth! ⁶ They have prepared a net for my steps. My soul is bowed down. They dig a pit before me. They fall into the midst of it themselves. Selah. ⁷ My heart is steadfast, Alahayam, my heart is steadfast. I will sing, yes, I will sing praises. ⁸ Wake up, my glory! Wake up, psaltery and harp! I will wake up the dawn. ⁹ I will give thanks to you, Adanay, among the peoples. I will sing praises to you among the nations. ¹⁰ For your great lovingkindness reaches to the heavens, And your truth to the skies. ¹¹ Be exalted, Alahayam, above the heavens. Let your glory be over all the earth. Psalm 58 For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A poem by Dawad.

58 Do you indeed speak righteousness, silent ones? Do you judge blamelessly, you sons of men? ² No, in your heart you plot injustice. You measure out the violence of your hands in the earth. ³ The wicked go astray from the womb. They are wayward as soon as they are born, speaking lies. ⁴ Their poison is like the poison of a snake; Like a deaf cobra that stops its ear, ⁵ Which doesn't listen to the voice of charmers, No matter how skillful the charmer may be. ⁶ Break their teeth, Alahayam, in their mouth. Break out the great teeth of the young lions, Yahawah. ⁷ Let them vanish as water that flows away. When they draw the bow, let their arrows be made blunt. ⁸ Let them be as a snail which melts and passes away, Like the stillborn child, who has not seen the sun. ⁹ Before your pots can feel the thorns, He will sweep away, the green and the burning alike. ¹⁰ The righteous shall rejoice when he sees the vengeance. He shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked; ¹¹ So that men shall say, "Most assuredly there is a reward for the righteous. Most assuredly there is a Alahayam who judges the earth." Psalm 59 For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A poem by Dawad, when Shaawal sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

59 Deliver me from my enemies, my Alahayam. Set me on high from those who rise up against me. ² Deliver me from the workers of iniquity. Save me from the bloodthirsty men. ³ For, behold, they lie in wait for my soul. The mighty gather themselves together against me, Not for my disobedience, nor for my sin, Yahawah. ⁴ I have done no wrong, yet they are ready to attack me. Rise up, behold, and help me! ⁵ You, Yahawah Alahayam of hosts, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, Rouse yourself to punish the nations. Show no mercy to the wicked traitors. Selah. ⁶ They return at evening, howling like dogs, And prowl around the city. ⁷ Behold, they spew with their mouth. Swords are in their lips, "For," they say, "who hears us?" ⁸ But you, Yahawah, laugh at them. You scoff at all the nations. ⁹ Oh, my Strength, I watch for you, For Alahayam is my high tower. ¹⁰ My Alahayam will go before me with his lovingkindness. Alahayam will let me look at my enemies in triumph. ¹¹ Don't kill them, or my people may forget. Scatter them by your power, and bring them down, Adanay our shield. ¹² For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips, Let them be caught in their pride, For the curses and lies which they utter. ¹³ Consume them in wrath. Consume them, and they will be no more. Let them know that Alahayam rules in Yaiqab, To the ends of the earth. Selah. ¹⁴ At evening let them return. Let them howl like a dog, and go around the city. ¹⁵ They shall wander up and down for food, And wait all night if they aren't satisfied. ¹⁶ But I will sing of your strength. Yes, I will sing aloud of your lovingkindness in the morning. For you have been my high tower, A refuge in the day of my distress. ¹⁷ To you, my strength, I will sing praises. For Alahayam is my high tower, the Alahayam of my mercy. Psalm 60 For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "The Lily of the Covenant." A teaching poem by Dawad, when he fought with Aram-naharaim and with Aram, and Yawaab returned, and killed twelve thousand of Adawam in the Valley of Salt.

60 Alahayam, you have rejected us. You have broken us down. You have been angry. Restore us to you, again. ² You have made the land tremble. You have torn it. Mend its fractures, For it quakes. ³ You have shown your people hard things. You have made us drink the wine that makes us stagger. ⁴ You have given a banner to those who fear you, That it may be displayed because of the truth. Selah. ⁵ So that your beloved may be delivered, Save with your right hand, and answer us. ⁶ Alahayam has spoken from his sanctuary: "I will triumph. I will divide Shakam, And measure out the valley of Sakawath. ⁷ Galaid is mine, and Manashah is mine. Aparayam also is the defense of my head. Yahawadah is my scepter. ⁸ Mawaab is my wash basin. I will throw my shoe on Adawam. I shout in triumph over Palashath." ⁹ Who will bring me into the strong city? Who has led me to Adawam?¹⁰ Haven't you, Alahayam, rejected us? You don't go out, with our armies, Alahayam.¹¹ Give us help against the adversary, For the help of man is vain.¹² Through Alahayam we shall do valiantly, For it is he who will tread down our adversaries. Psalm 61 For the Chief Musician. For a stringed instrument. By Dawad.

61 Hear my cry, Alahayam. Listen to my prayer.² From the end of the earth, I will call to you, when my heart is overwhelmed. Lead me to the rock that is higher than I.³ For you have been a refuge for me, A strong tower from the enemy.⁴ I will dwell in your tent forever. I will take refuge in the shelter of your wings. Selah.⁵ For you, Alahayam, have heard my vows. You have given me the heritage of those who fear your name.⁶ You will prolong the king's life; His years shall be for generations.⁷ He shall be enthroned in Alahayam's presence forever. Appoint your lovingkindness and truth, that they may preserve him.⁸ So I will sing praise to your name forever, That I may fulfill my vows daily. Psalm 62 For the Chief Musician. To Jeduthan. A Psalm by Dawad.

62 My soul rests in Alahayam alone. My salvation is from him.² He alone is my rock and my salvation, my fortress -- I will never be greatly shaken.³ How long will you assault a man, Would all of you throw him down, Like a leaning wall, like a tottering fence?⁴ They fully intend to throw him down from his lofty place. They delight in lies. They bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly. Selah.⁵ My soul, wait in silence for Alahayam alone, For my expectation is from him.⁶ He alone is my rock and my salvation, my fortress. I will not be shaken.⁷ With Alahayam is my salvation and my honor. The rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in Alahayam.⁸ Trust in him at all times, you people. Pour out your heart before him. Alahayam is a refuge for us. Selah.⁹ Surely men of low degree are just a breath, And men of high degree are a lie. In the balances they will go up. They are together lighter than a breath.¹⁰ Don't trust in oppression. Don't become vain in robbery. If riches increase, Don't set your heart on them.¹¹ Alahayam has spoken once, Twice have I heard this, That power belongs to Alahayam.¹² Also to you, Adanay, belongs lovingkindness, For you reward every man according to his work. Psalm 63 A Psalm by Dawad, when he was in the desert of Yahawadah.

63 Alahayam, you are my Alahayam. I will earnestly seek you. My soul thirsts for you, My flesh longs for you, In a dry and weary land, where there is no water.² So I have seen you in the sanctuary, Watching your power and your glory.³ Because your lovingkindness is better than life, My lips shall praise you.⁴ So I will bless you while I live. I will lift up my hands in your name.⁵ My soul shall be satisfied as with the richest food. My mouth shall praise you with joyful lips.⁶ When I remember you on my bed, And think about you in the night watches.⁷ For you have been my help. I will rejoice in the shadow of your wings.⁸ My soul stays close to you. Your right hand holds me up.⁹ But those who seek my soul, to destroy it, Shall go into the lower parts of the earth.¹⁰ They shall be given over to the power of the sword. They shall be jackal food.¹¹ But the king shall rejoice in Alahayam. Everyone who swears by him will praise him, For the mouth of those who speak lies shall be silenced. Psalm 64 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad.

64 Hear my voice, Alahayam, in my complaint. Preserve my life from fear of the enemy.² Hide me from the conspiracy of the wicked, From the noisy crowd of the ones doing evil;³ Who sharpen their tongue like a sword, And aim their arrows, deadly words,⁴ To shoot innocent men from ambushes. They shoot at him suddenly and fearlessly.⁵ They encourage themselves in evil plans. They talk about laying snares secretly. They say, "Who will see them?"⁶ They plot injustice, saying, "We have made a perfect plan!" Surely man's mind and heart are cunning.⁷ But Alahayam will shoot at them. They will be suddenly struck down with an arrow.⁸ Their own tongues shall ruin them. All who see them will shake their heads.⁹ All mankind shall be afraid. They shall declare the work of Alahayam, And shall wisely ponder what he has done.¹⁰ The righteous shall be glad in Yahawah, And shall take refuge in him. All the upright in heart shall praise him! Psalm 65 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad. A song.

65 Praise waits for you, Alahayam, in Tzayawan. To you shall vows be performed.² You who hear prayer, To you all men will come.³ Sins overwhelmed me, But you atoned for our transgressions.⁴ Blessed is one whom you choose, and cause to come near, That he may live in your courts. We will be filled with the goodness of your house, Your holy temple.⁵ By awesome deeds of righteousness, you answer us, Alahayam of our salvation. You who are the hope of all the ends of the earth, Of those who are far away on the sea;⁶ Who by his power forms the mountains, Having armed yourself with strength;⁷ Who stills the roaring of the seas, The roaring of their waves, And the turmoil of the nations.⁸ They also who dwell in far-away places are afraid at your wonders. You call the morning's dawn and the evening with songs of joy.⁹ You visit the earth, and water it. You greatly enrich it. The river of Alahayam is full of water. You provide them grain, for so you have ordained it.¹⁰ You drench its furrows. You level its ridges. You soften it with showers. You bless it with a crop.¹¹ You crown the year with your bounty. Your carts overflow with abundance.¹² The wilderness grasslands overflow. The hills are clothed with gladness.¹³ The pastures are covered with flocks. The valleys also are clothed with grain. They shout for joy! They also sing. Psalm 66 For the Chief Musician. A song. A Psalm.

66 Make a joyful noise to Alahayam, all the earth!² Sing to the glory of his name! Offer glory and praise!³ Tell Alahayam, "How awesome are your deeds! Through the greatness of your power, Your enemies will submit themselves to you."⁴ All the earth will worship you, And will sing to you; They will sing to your name." Selah.⁵ Come, and see Alahayam's deeds -- Awesome work on behalf of the children of men.⁶ He turned the sea into dry land. They went through the river on foot. There, we rejoiced in him.⁷ He rules by his might forever. His eyes watch the nations. Don't let the rebellious rise up against him. Selah.⁸ Praise our Alahayam, you peoples! Make the sound of his praise heard,⁹ Who preserves our life among the living, And doesn't allow our feet to be moved.¹⁰ For you, Alahayam, have tested us. You have refined us, as silver is refined.¹¹ You brought us into prison. You laid a burden on our backs.¹² You allowed men to ride over our heads. We went through fire and through water, But you brought us to the place of abundance.¹³ I will come into your temple with burnt offerings. I will pay my vows to you,¹⁴ which my lips promised, And my mouth spoke, when I was in distress.¹⁵ I will offer to you burnt offerings of fat animals, With the offering of rams, I will offer bulls with goats. Selah.¹⁶ Come, and hear, all you who fear Alahayam. I will declare what he has done for my soul.¹⁷ I cried to him with my mouth. He was extolled with my tongue.¹⁸ If I cherished sin in my heart, The Adanay wouldn't have listened.¹⁹ But most assuredly, Alahayam has listened. He has heard the voice of my prayer.

67 May Alahayam be merciful to us, bless us, And cause his face to shine on us. Selah.² That your way may be known on earth, And your salvation among all nations,³ Let the peoples praise you, Alahayam. Let all the peoples praise you.⁴ Oh let the nations be glad and sing for joy, For you will judge the peoples with equity, And govern the nations on earth. Selah.⁵ Let the peoples praise you, Alahayam. Let all the peoples praise you.⁶ The earth has yielded its increase. Alahayam, even our own Alahayam, will bless us.⁷ Alahayam will bless us. All the ends of the earth shall fear him. Psalm 68 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad. A song.

68 Let Alahayam arise! Let his enemies be scattered! Let them who hate him also flee before him.² As smoke is driven away, so drive them away. As wax melts before the fire, So let the wicked perish at the presence of Alahayam.³ But let the righteous be glad. Let them rejoice before Alahayam. Yes, let them rejoice with gladness.⁴ Sing to Alahayam! Sing praises to his name! Extol him who rides on the clouds -- To Yah, his name! Rejoice before him.⁵ A father of the fatherless, and a defender of the widows, Is Alahayam in his holy habitation.⁶ Alahayam sets the lonely in families. He brings out the prisoners with singing, But the rebellious dwell in a sun-scorched land. ⁷ Alahayam, when you went forth before your people, When you marched through the wilderness... Selah. ⁸ The earth trembled. The sky also poured down rain at the presence of the Alahayam of Sayanay -- At the presence of Alahayam, the Alahayam of Yasharaal. ⁹ You, Alahayam, sent a plentiful rain. You confirmed your inheritance, when it was weary. ¹⁰ Your congregation lived therein. You, Alahayam, prepared your goodness for the poor. ¹¹ The Adanay announced the word. The ones who proclaim it are a great company. ¹² "Kings of armies flee! They flee!" She who waits at home divides the spoil, ¹³ While you sleep among the campfires, The wings of a dove sheathed with silver, Her feathers with shining gold. ¹⁴ When the Shaday scattered kings in her, It snowed on Tzalamawan. ¹⁵ The mountains of Bashan are majestic mountains. The mountains of Bashan are rugged. ¹⁶ Why do you look in envy, you rugged mountains, At the mountain where Alahayam chooses to reign? Yes, Yahawah will dwell there forever. ¹⁷ The chariots of Alahayam are tens of thousands and thousands of thousands. The Adanay is among them, from Sayanay, into the sanctuary. ¹⁸ You have ascended on high. You have led away captives. You have received gifts among men, Yes, among the rebellious also, that Yah Alahayam might dwell there. ¹⁹ Blessed be the Adanay, who daily bears our burdens, Even the Alahayam who is our salvation. Selah. ²⁰ Alahayam is to us a Alahayam of deliverance. To Yahawah, the Adanay, belongs escape from death. ²¹ But Alahayam will strike through the head of his enemies, The hairy scalp of such a one as still continues in his guiltiness. ²² The Adanay said, "I will bring you again from Bashan, I will bring you again from the depths of the sea; ²³ That you may crush them, dipping your foot in blood, That the tongues of your dogs may have their portion from your enemies." ²⁴ They have seen your goings, Alahayam, Even the goings of my Alahayam, my King, into the sanctuary. ²⁵ The singers went before, the minstrels followed after, In the midst of the ladies playing with tambourines, ²⁶ "Bless Alahayam in the congregations, Even the Adanay in the assembly of Yasharaal!" ²⁷ There is little Banayaman, their ruler, The princes of Yahawadah, their council, The princes of Zabawalan, and the princes of Napathalay. ²⁸ Your Alahayam has commanded your strength. Strengthen, Alahayam, that which you have done for us. ²⁹ Because of your temple at Yarawashalam, Kings shall bring presents to you. ³⁰ Rebuke the wild animal of the reeds, The multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the peoples. Being humbled, may it bring bars of silver. Scatter the nations that delight in war. ³¹ Princes shall come out of Matzarayam. Kawash shall hurry to stretch out her hands to Alahayam. ³² Sing to Alahayam, you kingdoms of the earth! Sing praises to the Adanay! Selah. ³³ To him who rides on the heaven of heavens, which are of old; Behold, he utters his voice, a mighty voice. ³⁴ Ascribe strength to Alahayam! His excellency is over Yasharaal, His strength is in the skies. ³⁵ You are awesome, Alahayam, in your sanctuaries. The Alahayam of Yasharaal gives strength and power to his people. Praise be to Alahayam! Psalm 69 For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Lilies." By Dawad.

69 Save me, Alahayam, For the waters have come up to my neck! ² I sink in deep mire, where there is no foothold. I have come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me. ³ I am weary with my crying. My throat is dry. My eyes fail, looking for my Alahayam. ⁴ Those who hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of my head. Those who want to cut me off, being my enemies wrongfully, are mighty. I have to restore what I didn't take away. ⁵ Alahayam, you know my foolishness. My sins aren't hidden from you. ⁶ Don't let those who wait for you be put to shame through me, Adanay Yahawah Tzabaawath. Don't let those who seek you be brought to dishonor through me, Alahayam of Yasharaal. ⁷ Because for your sake, I have borne reproach. Shame has covered my face. ⁸ I have become a stranger to my brothers, An alien to my mother's children. ⁹ For the zeal of your house consumes me. The reproaches of those who reproach you have fallen on me. ¹⁰ When I wept and I fasted, That was to my reproach. ¹¹ When I made sackcloth my clothing, I became a byword to them. ¹² Those who sit in the gate talk about me. I am the song of the drunkards. ¹³ But as for me, my prayer is to you, Yahawah, in an acceptable time. Alahayam, in the abundance of your lovingkindness, answer me in the truth of your salvation. ¹⁴ Deliver me out of the mire, and don't let me sink. Let me be delivered from those who hate me, and out of the deep waters. ¹⁵ Don't let the flood waters overwhelm me, Neither let the deep swallow me up. Don't let the pit shut its mouth on me. ¹⁶ Answer me, Yahawah, for your lovingkindness is good. According to the multitude of your tender mercies, turn to me. ¹⁷ Don't hide your face from your servant, For I am in distress. Answer me speedily! ¹⁸ Draw near to my soul, and redeem it. Ransom me because of my enemies. ¹⁹ You know my reproach, my shame, and my dishonor. My adversaries are all before you. ²⁰ Reproach has broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness. I looked for some to take pity, but there was none; For comforters, but I found none. ²¹ They also gave me gall for my food. In my thirst, they gave me vinegar to drink. ²² Let their table before them become a snare. May it become a retribution and a trap. ²³ Let their eyes be darkened, so that they can't see. Make their loins continually to shake. ²⁴ Pour out your indignation on them. Let the fierceness of your anger overtake them. ²⁵ Let their habitation be desolate. Let no one dwell in their tents. ²⁶ For they persecute him whom you have wounded. They tell of the sorrow of those whom you have hurt. ²⁷ Charge them with crime upon crime. Don't let them come into your righteousness. ²⁸ Let them be blotted out of the book of life, And not be written with the righteous. ²⁹ But I am in pain and distress. Let your salvation, Alahayam, protect me. ³⁰ I will praise the name of Alahayam with a song, And will magnify him with thanksgiving. ³¹ It will please Yahawah better than an ox, Or a bull that has horns and hoofs. ³² The humble have seen it, and are glad. You who seek after Alahayam, let your heart live. ³³ For Yahawah hears the needy, And doesn't despise his captive people. ³⁴ Let heaven and earth praise him; The seas, and everything that moves therein! ³⁵ For Alahayam will save Tzayawan, and build the cities of Yahawadah. They shall settle there, and own it. ³⁶ The children also of his servants shall inherit it. Those who love his name shall dwell therein. Psalm 70 For the Chief Musician. By Dawad. A reminder.

70 Hurry, Alahayam, to deliver me. Come quickly to help me, Yahawah. ² Let them be put to shame and confounded who seek my soul. Let those who desire my ruin be turned back in disgrace. ³ Let them be turned because of their shame Who say, "Aha! Aha!" ⁴ Let all those who seek you rejoice and be glad in you. Let those who love your salvation continually say, "Let Alahayam be exalted!" ⁵ But I am poor and needy. Come to me quickly, Alahayam. You are my help and my deliverer, Yahawah, don't delay. Psalm 71

71 In you, Yahawah, I take refuge. Never let me be put to shame. ² Deliver me in your righteousness, and rescue me. Turn your ear to me, and save me. ³ Be to me a rock of refuge to which I may always go. Give the command to save me, For you are my rock and my fortress. ⁴ Rescue me, my Alahayam, from the hand of the wicked, From the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man. ⁵ For you are my hope, Adanay Yahawah; My confidence from my youth. ⁶ I have relied on you from the womb. You are he who took me out of my mother's womb. I will always praise you. ⁷ I am a marvel to many, But you are my strong refuge. ⁸ My mouth shall be filled with your praise, With your honor all the day. ⁹ Don't reject me in my old age. Don't forsake me when my strength fails. ¹⁰ For my enemies talk about me. Those who watch for my soul conspire together, ¹¹ Saying, "Alahayam has forsaken him. Pursue and take him, for no one will rescue him." ¹² Alahayam, don't be far from me. My Alahayam, hurry to help me. ¹³ Let my accusers be put to shame and consumed. Let them be covered with disgrace and scorn who want to harm me. ¹⁴ But I will always hope, And will add to all of your praise. ¹⁵ My mouth will tell about your righteousness, And of your salvation all day, Though I don't know its full measure. ¹⁶ I will come with the mighty acts of the Adanay Yahawah. I will make mention of your righteousness, even of yours alone.

¹⁷ Alahayam, you have taught me from my youth. Until now, I have declared your wondrous works. ¹⁸ Yes, even when I am old and gray-headed, Alahayam, don't forsake me, Until I have declared your strength to the next generation, You might to everyone who is to come. ¹⁹ Your righteousness also, Alahayam, reaches to the heavens; You who have done great things. Alahayam, who is like you? ²⁰ You, who have showed us many and bitter troubles, You will let me live. You will bring us up again from the depths of the earth. ²¹ Increase my honor, And comfort me again. ²² I will also praise you with the harp for your faithfulness, my Alahayam. I sing praises to you with the lyre, Holy One of Yasharaal. ²³ My lips shall shout for joy! My soul, which you have redeemed, sings praises to you!

72 Alahayam, give the king your justice; Your righteousness to the royal son. ² He will judge your people with righteousness, And your poor with justice. ³ The mountains shall bring prosperity to the people; The hills bring the fruit of righteousness. ⁴ He will judge the poor of the people. He will save the children of the needy, And will break the oppressor in pieces. ⁵ They shall fear you while the sun endures; And as long as the moon, throughout all generations. ⁶ He will come down like rain on the mown grass, As showers that water the earth. ⁷ In his days, the righteous shall flourish, And abundance of peace, until the moon is no more. ⁸ He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, From the River to the ends of the earth. ⁹ Those who dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him. His enemies shall lick the dust. ¹⁰ The kings of Tharashayash and of the isles will bring tribute. The kings of Shabaa and Sabaa shall offer gifts. ¹¹ Yes, all kings shall fall down before him. All nations shall serve him. ¹² For he will deliver the needy when he cries; The poor, who has no helper. ¹³ He will have pity on the poor and needy. He will save the souls of the needy. ¹⁴ He will redeem their soul from oppression and violence. Their blood will be precious in his sight. ¹⁵ They shall live, and to him shall be given of the gold of Shabaa. Men shall pray for him continually. They shall bless him all day long. ¹⁶ There shall be abundance of grain throughout the land. Its fruit sways like Labanawan. Let it flourish, thriving like the grass of the field. ¹⁷ His name endures forever. His name continues as long as the sun. Men shall be blessed by him. All nations will call him blessed. ¹⁸ Praise be to Yahawah Alahayam, the Alahayam of Yasharaal, Who alone does marvelous deeds. ¹⁹ Blessed be his glorious name forever! Let the whole earth be filled with his glory! Amen and amen.

73 Surely Alahayam is good to Yasharaal, To those who are pure in heart. ² But as for me, my feet were almost gone. My steps had nearly slipped. ³ For I was envious of the arrogant, When I saw the prosperity of the wicked. ⁴ For there are no struggles in their death, But their strength is firm. ⁵ They are free from burdens of men, Neither are they plagued like other men. ⁶ Therefore pride is like a chain around their neck. Violence covers them like a garment. ⁷ Their eyes bulge with fat. Their minds pass the limits of conceit. ⁸ They scoff and speak with malice. In arrogance, they threaten oppression. ⁹ They have set their mouth in the heavens. Their tongue walks through the earth. ¹⁰ Therefore their people return to them, And they drink up waters of abundance. ¹¹ They say, "How does Alahayam know? Is there knowledge in the Ilayawan?" ¹² Behold, these are the wicked. Being always at ease, they increase in riches. ¹³ Surely in vain I have cleansed my heart, And washed my hands in innocence, ¹⁴ For all day long have I been plagued, And punished every morning. ¹⁵ If I had said, "I will speak thus;" Behold, I would have betrayed the generation of your children. ¹⁶ When I tried to understand this, It was too painful for me; ¹⁷ Until I entered Alahayam's sanctuary, And considered their latter end. ¹⁸ Surely you set them in slippery places. You throw them down to destruction. ¹⁹ How they are suddenly destroyed! They are completely swept away with terrors. ²⁰ As a dream when one wakes up, So, Adanay, when you awake, you will despise their fantasies. ²¹ For my soul was grieved. I was embittered in my heart. ²² I was so senseless and ignorant. I was a brute beast before you. ²³ Nevertheless, I am continually with you. You have held my right hand. ²⁴ You will guide me with your counsel, And afterward receive me to glory. ²⁵ Who do I have in heaven? There is no one on earth who I desire besides you. ²⁶ My flesh and my heart fails, But Alahayam is the strength of my heart and my portion forever. ²⁷ For, behold, those who are far from you shall perish. You have destroyed all those who are unfaithful to you.

74 Alahayam, why have you rejected us forever? Why does your anger smolder against the sheep of your pasture? ² Remember your congregation, which you purchased of old, Which you have redeemed to be the tribe of your inheritance; Mount Tzayawan, in which you have lived. ³ Lift up your feet to the perpetual ruins, All the evil that the enemy has done in the sanctuary. ⁴ Your adversaries have roared in the midst of your assembly. They have set up their standards as signs. ⁵ They behaved like men wielding axes, Cutting through a thicket of trees. ⁶ Now all its carved work They break down with hatchet and hammers. ⁷ They have burned your sanctuary to the ground. They have profaned the dwelling-place of your Name. ⁸ They said in their heart, "We will crush them completely." They have burned up all the places in the land where Alahayam was worshipped. ⁹ We see no miraculous signs. There is no longer any prophet, Neither is there among us anyone who knows how long. ¹⁰ How long, Alahayam, shall the adversary reproach? Shall the enemy blaspheme your name forever? ¹¹ Why do you draw back your hand, even your right hand? Take it out of your pocket and consume them! ¹² Yet Alahayam is my King of old, Working salvation in the midst of the earth. ¹³ You divided the sea by your strength. You broke the heads of the sea monsters in the waters. ¹⁴ You broke the heads of Leviathan in pieces. You gave him as food to people and desert creatures. ¹⁵ You opened up spring and stream. You dried up mighty rivers. ¹⁶ The day is yours, the night is also yours. You have prepared the light and the sun. ¹⁷ You have set all the boundaries of the earth. You have made summer and winter. ¹⁸ Remember this, that the enemy has mocked you, Yahawah. Foolish people have blasphemed your name. ¹⁹ Don't deliver the soul of your dove to wild beasts. Don't forget the life of your poor forever. ²⁰ Honor your covenant, For haunts of violence fill the dark places of the earth. ²¹ Don't let the oppressed return ashamed. Let the poor and needy praise your name. ²² Arise, Alahayam! Plead your own cause. Remember how the foolish man mocks you all day.

75 We give thanks to you, Alahayam, We give thanks, for your Name is near. Men tell about your wondrous works. ² When I choose the appointed time, I will judge blamelessly. ³ The earth and all its inhabitants quake. I firmly hold its pillars. Selah. ⁴ I said to the arrogant, "Don't boast;" To the wicked, "Don't lift up the horn." ⁵ Don't lift up your horn on high. Don't speak with a stiff neck." ⁶ For neither from the east, nor from the west, Nor yet from the south, comes exaltation. ⁷ But Alahayam is the judge. He puts down one, and lifts up another. ⁸ For in the hand of Yahawah there is a cup, Full of foaming wine mixed with spices. He pours it out. Indeed the wicked of the earth drink and drink it to its very dregs. ⁹ But I will declare this forever: I will sing praises to the Alahayam of Yaiqab. ¹⁰ I will cut off all the horns of the wicked, But the horns of the righteous shall be lifted up. Psalm 76 For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A Psalm by Asap. A song.

76 In Yahawadah, Alahayam is known. His name is great in Yasharaal. ² His tent is also in Shalam; His dwelling-place in Tzayawan. ³ There he broke the flaming arrows of the bow, The shield, and the sword, and the weapons of war. Selah. ⁴ Glorious are you, and excellent, More than mountains of game. ⁵ Valiant men lie plundered, They have slept their last sleep. None of the men of war can lift their hands. ⁶ At your rebuke, Alahayam of Yaiqab, Both chariot and horse are cast into a deep sleep. ⁷ You, even you, are to be feared. Who can stand in your sight when you are angry? ⁸ You pronounced judgment from heaven. The earth feared, and was silent, ⁹ When Alahayam arose to judgment, To save all the afflicted ones of the earth. Selah. ¹⁰ Surely the wrath of man praises you. The survivors of your wrath are restrained. ¹¹ Make vows to Yahawah your Alahayam, and fulfill them! Let all of his neighbors bring presents to him who is to be feared.¹² He will cut off the spirit of princes. He is feared by the kings of the earth. Psalm 77 For the Chief Musician. To Yadawathawan. A Psalm by Asap.

77 My cry goes to Alahayam! Indeed, I cry to Alahayam for help, And for him to listen to me.² In the day of my trouble I sought the Adanay. My hand was stretched out in the night, and didn't get tired. My soul refused to be comforted.³ I remember Alahayam, and I groan. I complain, and my spirit is overwhelmed. Selah.⁴ You hold my eyelids open. I am so troubled that I can't speak.⁵ I have considered the days of old, The years of ancient times.⁶ I remember my song in the night. I consider in my own heart; My spirit diligently inquires:⁷ "Will the Adanay reject us forever? Will he be favorable no more?"⁸ Has his lovingkindness vanished forever? Does his promise fail for generations?⁹ Has Alahayam forgotten to be gracious? Has he, in anger, withheld his compassion?" Selah.¹⁰ Then I thought, "I will appeal to this: The years of the right hand of the Ilayawan."¹¹ I will remember Yah's deeds; For I will remember your wonders of old.¹² I will also meditate on all your work, And consider your doings.¹³ Your way, Alahayam, is in the sanctuary. What god is great like Alahayam?¹⁴ You are the Alahayam who does wonders. You have made your strength known among the peoples.¹⁵ You have redeemed your people with your arm, The sons of Yaiqab and Yawasap. Selah.¹⁶ The waters saw you, Alahayam. The waters saw you, and they writhed. The depths also convulsed.¹⁷ The clouds poured out water. The skies resounded with thunder. Your arrows also flashed around.¹⁸ The voice of your thunder was in the whirlwind. The lightnings lit up the world. The earth trembled and shook.¹⁹ Your way was through the sea; Your paths through the great waters. Your footsteps were not known.²⁰ You led your people like a flock, By the hand of Mashah and Aharan. Psalm 78 A contemplation by Asap.

78 Hear my law, my people. Turn your ears to the words of my mouth.² I will open my mouth in a parable. I will utter dark sayings of old,³ Which we have heard and known, Our fathers have told us.⁴ We will not hide them from their children, Telling to the generation to come the praises of Yahawah, His strength, and his wondrous works that he has done.⁵ For he established a testimony in Yaiqab, And appointed a law in Yasharaal, Which he commanded our fathers, That they should make them known to their children;⁶ That the generation to come might know, even the children who should be born; Who should arise and tell their children,⁷ That they might set their hope in Alahayam, And not forget the works of Alahayam, But keep his commandments,⁸ And might not be as their fathers, A stubborn and rebellious generation, A generation that didn't make their hearts loyal, Whose spirit was not steadfast with Alahayam.⁹ The children of Aparayam, being armed and carrying bows, Turned back in the day of battle.¹⁰ They didn't keep the covenant of Alahayam, And refused to walk in his law.¹¹ They forgot his doings, His wondrous works that he had showed them.¹² Marvelous things did he in the sight of their fathers, In the land of Matzarayam, in the field of Tzain.¹³ He split the sea, and caused them to pass through; He made the waters stand as a heap.¹⁴ In the daytime he also led them with a cloud, All the night with a light of fire.¹⁵ He split rocks in the wilderness, And gave them drink abundantly as out of the depths.¹⁶ He brought streams also out of the rock, And caused waters to run down like rivers.¹⁷ Yet they still went on to sin against him, To rebel against the Ilayawan in the desert.¹⁸ They tempted Alahayam in their heart By asking food according to their desire.¹⁹ Yes, they spoke against Alahayam. They said, "Can Alahayam prepare a table in the wilderness?"²⁰ Behold, he struck the rock, so that waters gushed out, Streams overflowed. Can he give bread also? Will he provide flesh for his people?"²¹ Therefore Yahawah heard, and was angry. A fire was kindled against Yaiqab, Anger also went up against Yasharaal,²² Because they didn't believe in Alahayam, And didn't trust in his salvation.²³ Yet he commanded the skies above, And opened the doors of heaven.²⁴ He rained down manna on them to eat, And gave them food from the sky.²⁵ Man ate the bread of angels. He sent them food to the full.²⁶ He caused the east wind to blow in the sky. By his power he guided the south wind.²⁷ He rained also flesh on them as the dust; Winged birds as the sand of the seas.²⁸ He let them fall in the midst of their camp, Around their habitations.²⁹ So they ate, and were well filled. He gave them their own desire.³⁰ They didn't turn from their cravings. Their food was yet in their mouths,³¹ When the anger of Alahayam went up against them, And killed some of the fattest of them, And struck down the young men of Yasharaal.³² For all this they still sinned, And didn't believe in his wondrous works.³³ Therefore he consumed their days in vanity, And their years in terror.³⁴ When he killed them, then they inquired after him. They returned and sought Alahayam earnestly.³⁵ They remembered that Alahayam was their rock, The Ilayawan Alahayam their redeemer.³⁶ But they flattered him with their mouth, And lied to him with their tongue.³⁷ For their heart was not right with him, Neither were they faithful in his covenant.³⁸ But he, being merciful, forgave iniquity, and didn't destroy them. Yes, many times he turned his anger away, And didn't stir up all his wrath.³⁹ He remembered that they were but flesh, A wind that passes away, and doesn't come again.⁴⁰ How often did they rebel against him in the wilderness, And grieve him in the desert!⁴¹ They turned again and tempted Alahayam, And provoked the Holy One of Yasharaal.⁴² They didn't remember his hand, Nor the day when he redeemed them from the adversary;⁴³ How he set his signs in Matzarayam, His wonders in the field of Tzain,⁴⁴ Turned their rivers into blood, Their streams, so that they could not drink.⁴⁵ He sent among them swarms of flies, which devoured them; Frogs, which destroyed them.⁴⁶ He gave also their increase to the caterpillar, Their labor to the locust.⁴⁷ He destroyed their vines with hail, Their sycamore-fig trees with frost.⁴⁸ He gave over their cattle also to the hail, And their flocks to hot thunderbolts.⁴⁹ He threw on them the fierceness of his anger, Wrath, indignation, and trouble, And a band of angels of evil.⁵⁰ He made a path for his anger. He didn't spare their soul from death, But gave their life over to the pestilence,⁵¹ And struck all the firstborn in Matzarayam, The chief of their strength in the tents of Cham.⁵² But he led forth his own people like sheep, And guided them in the wilderness like a flock.⁵³ He led them safely, so that they weren't afraid, But the sea overwhelmed their enemies.⁵⁴ He brought them to the border of his sanctuary, To this mountain, which his right hand had taken.⁵⁵ He also drove out the nations before them, Allotted them for an inheritance by line, And made the tribes of Yasharaal to dwell in their tents.⁵⁶ Yet they tempted and rebelled against the Ilayawan Alahayam, And didn't keep his testimonies;⁵⁷ But turned back, and dealt treacherously like their fathers. They were turned aside like a deceitful bow.⁵⁸ For they provoked him to anger with their high places, And moved him to jealousy with their engraved images.⁵⁹ When Alahayam heard this, he was angry, And greatly abhorred Yasharaal;⁶⁰ So that he forsook the tent of Shalah, The tent which he placed among men;⁶¹ And delivered his strength into captivity, His glory into the adversary's hand.⁶² He also gave his people over to the sword, And was angry with his inheritance.⁶³ Fire devoured their young men; Their virgins had no wedding song.⁶⁴ Their priests fell by the sword; Their widows made no lamentation.⁶⁵ Then the Adanay awakened as one out of sleep, Like a mighty man who shouts by reason of wine.⁶⁶ He struck his adversaries backward. He put them to a perpetual reproach.⁶⁷ Moreover he rejected the tent of Yawasap, And didn't choose the tribe of Aparayam,⁶⁸ But chose the tribe of Yahawadah, Mount Tzayawan which he loved.⁶⁹ He built his sanctuary like the heights, Like the earth which he has established forever.⁷⁰ He also chose Dawad his servant, And took him from the sheepfolds;⁷¹ From following the ewes that have their young he brought him To be the shepherd of Yaiqab, his people, and Yasharaal, his inheritance.

79 Alahayam, the nations have come into your inheritance. They have defiled your holy temple. They have laid Yarawashalam in heaps.² They have given the dead bodies of your servants to be food for the birds of the sky, The flesh of your saints to the animals of the earth.³ Their blood they have shed like water around Yarawashalam. There was no one to bury them.⁴ We have become a reproach to our neighbors, A scoffing and derision to those who are around us.⁵ How long, Yahawah? Will you be angry forever? Will your jealousy burn like fire?⁶ Pour out your wrath on the nations that don't know you; On the kingdoms that don't call on your names;⁷ For they have devoured Yaiqab, And destroyed his homeland.⁸ Don't hold the iniquities of our forefathers against us. Let your tender mercies speedily meet us, For we are in desperate need.⁹ Help us, Alahayam of our salvation, for the glory of your name. Deliver us, and forgive our sins, for your name's sake.¹⁰ Why should the nations say, "Where is their Alahayam?" Let it be known among the nations, before our eyes, That vengeance for your servants' blood is being poured out.¹¹ Let the sighing of the prisoner come before you. According to the greatness of your power, preserve those who are sentenced to death;¹² Pay back to our neighbors seven times into their bosom Their reproach with which they have reproached you, Adanay.

80 Hear us, Shepherd of Yasharaal, You who lead Yawasap like a flock, You who sit above the cherubim, shine forth.² Before Aparayam and Banayaman and Manashah, stir up your might, Come to save us.³ Turn us again, Alahayam. Cause your face to shine, And we will be saved.⁴ Yahawah Alahayam of hosts, How long will you be angry against the prayer of your people?⁵ You have fed them with the bread of tears, And given them tears to drink in large measure.⁶ You make us a source of contention to our neighbors. Our enemies laugh among themselves.⁷ Turn us again, Alahayam of hosts. Cause your face to shine, And we will be saved.⁸ You brought a vine out of Matzarayam. You drove out the nations, and planted it.⁹ You cleared the ground for it. It took deep root, and filled the land.¹⁰ The mountains were covered with its shadow. Its boughs were like Alahayam's cedars.¹¹ It sent out its branches to the sea, Its shoots to the River.¹² Why have you broken down its walls, So that all those who pass by the way pluck it?¹³ The boar out of the wood ravages it. The wild animals of the field feed on it.¹⁴ Turn again, we beg you, Alahayam of hosts. Look down from heaven, and see, and visit this vine,¹⁵ The stock which your right hand planted, The branch that you made strong for yourself.¹⁶ It is burned with fire. It is cut down. They perish at your rebuke.¹⁷ Let your hand be on the man of your right hand, On the son of man whom you made strong for yourself.¹⁸ So we will not turn away from you. Revive us, and we will call on your name.¹⁹ Turn us again, Yahawah Alahayam of hosts. Cause your face to shine, and we will be saved. Psalm 81 For the Chief Musician. On an instrument of Gath. By Asap.

81 Sing aloud to Alahayam, our strength! Make a joyful noise to the Alahayam of Yaiqab!² Raise a song, and bring here the tambourine, The pleasant lyre with the harp.³ Blow the trumpet at the New Moon, At the full moon, on our feast day.⁴ For it is a statute for Yasharaal, An ordinance of the Alahayam of Yaiqab.⁵ He appointed it in Yawasap for a testimony, When he went out over the land of Matzarayam, I heard a language that I didn't know.⁶ "I removed his shoulder from the burden. His hands were freed from the basket."⁷ You called in trouble, and I delivered you. I answered you in the secret place of thunder. I tested you at the waters of Marayabah." Selah.⁸ "Hear, my people, and I will testify to you. Yasharaal, if you would listen to me!"⁹ There shall be no strange god in you, Neither shall you worship any foreign god.¹⁰ I am Yahawah, your Alahayam, Who brought you up out of the land of Matzarayam. Open your mouth wide, and I will fill it.¹¹ But my people didn't listen to my voice. Yasharaal desired none of me.¹² So I let them go after the stubbornness of their hearts, That they might walk in their own counsels.¹³ Oh that my people would listen to me, That Yasharaal would walk in my ways!¹⁴ I would soon subdue their enemies, And turn my hand against their adversaries.¹⁵ The haters of Yahawah would cringe before him, And their punishment would last forever.¹⁶ But he would have also fed them with the finest of the wheat. I will satisfy you with honey out of the rock." Psalm 82 A Psalm by Asap.

82 Alahayam presides in the great assembly. He judges among the gods.² "How long will you judge unjustly, And show partiality to the wicked?" Selah.³ "Defend the weak, the poor, and the fatherless. Maintain the rights of the poor and oppressed."⁴ Rescue the weak and needy. Deliver them out of the hand of the wicked."⁵ They don't know, neither do they understand. They walk back and forth in darkness. All the foundations of the earth are shaken.⁶ I said, "You are gods, All of you are sons of the Ilayawan."⁷ Nevertheless you shall die like men, And fall like one of the rulers."

83 Alahayam, don't keep silent. Don't keep silent, and don't be still, Alahayam.² For, behold, your enemies are stirred up. Those who hate you have lifted up their heads.³ They conspire with cunning against your people. They plot against your cherished ones.⁴ "Come," they say, "and let us destroy them as a nation, That the name of Yasharaal may be remembered no more."⁵ For they have conspired together with one mind. They form an alliance against you.⁶ The tents of Adawam and the Ishmaelites; Mawaab, and the Hagrites;⁷ Gabal, Imawan, and Imalaq; Palashath with the inhabitants of Tzar;⁸ Ashawar also is joined with them. They have helped the children of Lawat. Selah.⁹ Do to them as you did to Madayan, As to Sayasaraa, as to Yabayan, at the river Qayashawan;¹⁰ Who perished at Endor, Who became as dung for the earth.¹¹ Make their nobles like Irab and Zaab; Yes, all their princes like Zabach and Tzalamanai;¹² Who said, "Let us take possession Of Alahayam's pasturelands."¹³ My Alahayam, make them like tumbleweed; Like chaff before the wind.¹⁴ As the fire that burns the forest, As the flame that sets the mountains on fire,¹⁵ So pursue them with your tempest, Terrify them with your storm.¹⁶ Fill their faces with confusion, That they may seek your name, Yahawah.¹⁷ Let them be put to shame and dismayed forever. Yes, let them be confounded and perish;¹⁸ That they may know that you alone, whose name is Yahawah, Are the Ilayawan over all the earth. Psalm 84 For the Chief Musician. On an instrument of Gath. A Psalm by the sons of Qarach.

84 How lovely are your dwellings, Yahawah Tzabaawath!² My soul longs, and even faints for the courts of Yahawah. My heart and my flesh cry out for the living Alahayam.³ Yes, the sparrow has found a home, And the swallow a nest for herself, where she may have her young, Near your altars, Yahawah Tzabaawath, My King, and my Alahayam.⁴ Blessed are those who dwell in your house. They are always praising you. Selah.⁵ Blessed is the man whose strength is in you; Who have set their hearts on a pilgrimage.⁶ Passing through the valley of Weeping, they make it a place of springs. Yes, the autumn rain covers it with blessings.⁷ They go from strength to strength. Everyone of them appears before Alahayam in Tzayawan.⁸ Yahawah, Alahayam of hosts, hear my prayer. Listen, Alahayam of Yaiqab. Selah.⁹ Behold, Alahayam our shield, Look at the face of your anointed.¹⁰ For a day in your courts is better than a thousand. I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my Alahayam, Than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.¹¹ For Yahawah Alahayam is a sun and a shield. Yahawah will give grace and glory. He withholds no good thing from those who walk blamelessly.¹² Yahawah Tzabaawath, Blessed is the man who trusts in you. Psalm 85 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Qarach.

85 Yahawah, you have been favorable to your land. You have restored the fortunes of Yaiqab.² You have forgiven the iniquity of your people. You have covered all their sin. Selah.³ You have taken away all your wrath. You have turned from the fierceness of your anger.⁴ Turn us, Alahayam of our salvation, And cause your indignation toward us to cease.⁵ Will you be angry with us forever? Will you draw out your anger to all generations?⁶ Won't you revive us again, That your people may rejoice in you?⁷ Show us your lovingkindness, Yahawah. Grant us your salvation.⁸ I will hear what Alahayam, Yahawah, will speak, For he will speak peace to his people, his saints; But let them not turn again to folly.⁹ Surely his salvation is near those who fear him, That glory may dwell in our land. ¹⁰ Mercy and truth meet together. Righteousness and peace have kissed each other. ¹¹ Truth springs out of the earth. Righteousness has looked down from heaven. ¹² Yes, Yahawah will give that which is good. Our land will yield its increase. ¹³ Righteousness goes before him, And prepares the way for his steps. Psalm 86 A Prayer by Dawad.

86 Hear, Yahawah, and answer me, For I am poor and needy. ² Preserve my soul, for I am godly. You, my Alahayam, save your servant who trusts in you. ³ Be merciful to me, Adanay, For I call to you all day long. ⁴ Bring joy to the soul of your servant, For to you, Adanay, do I lift up my soul. ⁵ For you, Adanay, are good, and ready to forgive; Abundant in lovingkindness to all those who call on you. ⁶ Hear, Yahawah, my prayer. Listen to the voice of my petitions. ⁷ In the day of my trouble I will call on you, For you will answer me. ⁸ There is no one like you among the gods, Adanay, Nor any deeds like your deeds. ⁹ All nations you have made will come and worship before you, Adanay. They shall glorify your name. ¹⁰ For you are great, and do wondrous things. You are Alahayam alone. ¹¹ Teach me your way, Yahawah. I will walk in your truth. Make my heart undivided to fear your name. ¹² I will praise you, Adanay my Alahayam, with my whole heart. I will glorify your name forevermore. ¹³ For your lovingkindness is great toward me. You have delivered my soul from the lowest Sheol. ¹⁴ Alahayam, the proud have risen up against me. A company of violent men have sought after my soul, And they don't hold regard for you before them. ¹⁵ But you, Adanay, are a merciful and gracious Alahayam, Slow to anger, and abundant in lovingkindness and truth. ¹⁶ Turn to me, and have mercy on me! Give your strength to your servant. Save the son of your handmaid.

87 His foundation is in the holy mountains. ² Yahawah loves the gates of Tzayawan More than all the dwellings of Yaiqab. ³ Glorious things are spoken about you, city of Alahayam. Selah. ⁴ I will record Rachab and Babal among those who acknowledge me. Behold, Palashath, Tzar, and also Kawash: "This one was born there." ⁵ Yes, of Tzayawan it will be said, "This one and that one was born in her;" The Ilayawan himself will establish her. ⁶ Yahawah will count, when he writes up the peoples, "This one was born there." Selah.

88 Yahawah, the Alahayam of my salvation, I have cried day and night before you. ² Let my prayer enter into your presence. Turn your ear to my cry. ³ For my soul is full of troubles. My life draws near to Sheol. ⁴ I am counted among those who go down into the pit. I am like a man who has no help, ⁵ Set apart among the dead, Like the slain who lie in the grave, Whom you remember no more. They are cut off from your hand. ⁶ You have laid me in the lowest pit, In the darkest depths. ⁷ Your wrath lies heavily on me. You have afflicted me with all your waves. Selah. ⁸ You have taken my friends from me. You have made me an abomination to them. I am confined, and I can't escape. ⁹ My eyes are dim from grief. I have called on you daily, Yahawah. I have spread out my hands to you. ¹⁰ Do you show wonders to the dead? Do the dead rise up and praise you? Selah. ¹¹ Is your lovingkindness declared in the grave? Or your faithfulness in Destruction? ¹² Are your wonders made known in the dark? Or your righteousness in the land of forgetfulness? ¹³ But to you, Yahawah, I have cried. In the morning, my prayer comes before you. ¹⁴ Yahawah, why do you reject my soul? Why do you hide your face from me? ¹⁵ I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up. While I suffer your terrors, I am distracted. ¹⁶ Your fierce wrath has gone over me. Your terrors have cut me off. ¹⁷ They came around me like water all day long. They completely engulfed me. ¹⁸ You have put lover and friend far from me, And my friends into darkness. Psalm 89 A contemplation by Ayathan, the Ezrahite.

89 I will sing of the lovingkindness of Yahawah forever. With my mouth, I will make known your faithfulness to all generations. ² I indeed declare, "Love stands firm forever. You established the heavens. Your faithfulness is in them." ³ "I have made a covenant with my chosen one, I have sworn to Dawad, my servant, ⁴ I will establish your seed forever, And build up your throne to all generations." Selah. ⁵ The heavens will praise your wonders, Yahawah; Your faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones. ⁶ For who in the skies can be compared to Yahawah? Who among the sons of the heavenly beings is like Yahawah, ⁷ A very awesome Alahayam in the council of the holy ones, To be feared above all those who are around him? ⁸ Yahawah, Alahayam of hosts, who is a mighty one, like you? Yah, your faithfulness is around you. ⁹ You rule the pride of the sea. When its waves rise up, you calm them. ¹⁰ You have broken Rachab in pieces, like one of the slain. You have scattered your enemies with your mighty arm. ¹¹ The heavens are yours, the earth also is yours; The world and its fullness. You have founded them. ¹² The north and the south, you have created them. Thabawar and Charamawan rejoice in your name. ¹³ You have a mighty arm. Your hand is strong, and your right hand is exalted. ¹⁴ Righteousness and justice are the foundation of your throne. Lovingkindness and truth go before your face. ¹⁵ Blessed are the people who learn to acclaim you. They walk in the light of your presence, Yahawah. ¹⁶ In your name do they rejoice all day. In your righteousness, they are exalted. ¹⁷ For you are the glory of their strength. In your favor, our horn will be exalted. ¹⁸ For our shield belongs to Yahawah; Our king to the Holy One of Yasharaal. ¹⁹ Then you spoke in vision to your saints, And said, "I have bestowed strength on the warrior. I have exalted a young man from the people. ²⁰ I have found Dawad, my servant. I have anointed him with my holy oil, ²¹ With whom my hand shall be established. My arm will also strengthen him. ²² No enemy will tax him. No wicked man will oppress him. ²³ I will beat down his adversaries before him, And strike those who hate him. ²⁴ But my faithfulness and my lovingkindness will be with him. In my name, his horn will be exalted. ²⁵ I will set his hand also on the sea, And his right hand on the rivers. ²⁶ He will call to me, "You are my Father, My Alahayam, and the rock of my salvation!" ²⁷ I will also appoint him my firstborn, The highest of the kings of the earth. ²⁸ I will keep my lovingkindness for him forevermore. My covenant will stand firm with him. ²⁹ I will also make his seed endure forever, And his throne as the days of heaven. ³⁰ If his children forsake my law, And don't walk in my ordinances; ³¹ If they break my statutes, And don't keep my commandments; ³² Then I will punish their sin with the rod, And their iniquity with stripes. ³³ But I will not completely take my lovingkindness from him, Nor allow my faithfulness to fail. ³⁴ I will not break my covenant, Nor alter what my lips have uttered. ³⁵ Once have I sworn by my holiness, I will not lie to Dawad. ³⁶ His seed will endure forever, His throne like the sun before me. ³⁷ It will be established forever like the moon, The faithful witness in the sky." Selah. ³⁸ But you have rejected and spurned. You have been angry with your anointed. ³⁹ You have renounced the covenant of your servant. You have defiled his crown in the dust. ⁴⁰ You have broken down all his hedges. You have brought his strongholds to ruin. ⁴¹ All who pass by the way rob him. He has become a reproach to his neighbors. ⁴² You have exalted the right hand of his adversaries. You have made all of his enemies rejoice. ⁴³ Yes, you turn back the edge of his sword, And haven't supported him in battle. ⁴⁴ You have ended his splendor, And thrown his throne down to the ground. ⁴⁵ You have shortened the days of his youth. You have covered him with shame. Selah. ⁴⁶ How long, Yahawah? Will you hide yourself forever? Will your wrath burn like fire? ⁴⁷ Remember how short my time is! For what vanity have you created all the children of men! ⁴⁸ What man is he who shall live and not see death, Who shall deliver his soul from the power of Sheol? Selah. ⁴⁹ Adanay, where are your former lovingkindnesses, Which you swore to Dawad in your faithfulness? ⁵⁰ Remember, Adanay, the reproach of your servants, How I bear in my heart the taunts of all the mighty peoples, ⁵¹ With which your enemies have mocked, Yahawah, With which they have mocked the footsteps of your anointed one. ⁵² Blessed be Yahawah forevermore. Amen, and Amen. BOOK IV Psalm 90 A Prayer by Mashah, the man of Alahayam.

90 Adanay, you have been our dwelling place In all generations.
² Before the mountains were brought forth, Or ever you had formed the earth and the world, Even from everlasting to everlasting, you are Alahayam.
³ You turn man to destruction, saying, "Return, you children of men."
⁴ For a thousand years in your sight Are but as yesterday when it is past, As a watch in the night.
⁵ You sweep them away as they sleep. In the morning they sprout like new grass.
⁶ In the morning it sprouts and springs up. By evening, it is withered and dry.
⁷ For we are consumed in your anger. We are troubled in your wrath.
⁸ You have set our iniquities before you, Our secret sins in the light of your presence.
⁹ For all our days have passed away in your wrath. We bring our years to an end as a sigh.
¹⁰ The days of our years are seventy, Or even by reason of strength eighty years; Yet their pride is but labor and sorrow, For it passes quickly, and we fly away.
¹¹ Who knows the power of your anger, Your wrath according to the fear that is due to you?
¹² So teach us to number our days, That we may gain a heart of wisdom.
¹³ Relent, Yahawah! How long? Have compassion on your servants.
¹⁴ Satisfy us in the morning with your lovingkindness, That we may rejoice and be glad all our days.
¹⁵ Make us glad for as many days as you have afflicted us, For as many years as we have seen evil.

91 He who dwells in the secret place of the Ilayawan Will rest in the shadow of the Shaday.
² I will say of Yahawah, "He is my refuge and my fortress; My Alahayam, in whom I trust."
⁵ You will not be afraid of the terror by night, Nor of the arrow that flies by day;
⁶ Nor of the pestilence that walks in darkness, Nor for the destruction that wastes at noonday.
⁸ You will only look with your eyes, And see the reward of the wicked.
⁹ For you, Yahawah, are my refuge! You have made the Ilayawan your habitation.
¹⁰ No evil will happen to you, Neither shall any plague come near your tent.
¹¹ For he will give his angels charge over you, To guard you in all your ways.
¹⁴ Because he has set his love on me, therefore I will deliver him. I will set him on high, because he has known my name.
¹⁵ He will call on me, and I will answer him. I will be with him in trouble. I will deliver him, and honor him.

92 It is a good thing to give thanks to Yahawah, To sing praises to your name, Ilayawan;
² To proclaim your lovingkindness in the morning, And your faithfulness every night,
³ With the ten-stringed lute, with the harp, And with the melody of the lyre.
⁵ How great are your works, Yahawah! Your thoughts are very deep.
⁶ A senseless man doesn't know, Neither does a fool understand this:
⁷ Though the wicked spring up as the grass, And all the Awayal-doers flourish, They will be destroyed forever.
⁸ But you, Yahawah, are on high forevermore.
⁹ For, behold, your enemies, Yahawah, For, behold, your enemies shall perish. All the Awayal-doers will be scattered.
¹² The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree. He will grow like a cedar in Labanawan.
¹³ They are planted in Yahawah's house. They will flourish in our Alahayam's courts.
¹⁴ They will still bring forth fruit in old age. They will be full of sap and green, ¹⁵ To show that Yahawah is upright. He is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him. Psalm 93

² Your throne is established from long ago. You are from

³ The floods have lifted up, Yahawah, The floods have lifted up their voice. The floods lift up their waves.
⁴ Above the voices of many waters, The mighty breakers of the sea, Yahawah on high is mighty.

² Rise up, you judge of the earth. Pay back the proud what they deserve.
³ Yahawah, how long will the wicked, How long will the wicked triumph?
⁴ They pour out arrogant words. All the Awayal-doers boast.
⁵ They break your people in pieces, Yahawah, And afflict your heritage.
⁷ They say, "Yah will not see, Neither will Yaiqab's Alahayam consider."
⁸ Consider, you senseless among the people; You fools, when will you be wise?
⁹ He who implanted the ear, won't he hear? He who formed the eye, won't he see?
¹¹ Yahawah knows the thoughts of man, That they are futile.
¹² Blessed is the man whom you discipline, Yah, And teach out of your law;
¹³ That you may give him rest from the days of adversity, Until the pit is dug for the wicked.
¹⁵ For judgment will return to righteousness. All the upright in heart shall follow it.
¹⁶ Who will rise up for me against the wicked? Who will stand up for me against the Awayal-doers?
¹⁷ Unless Yahawah had been my help, My soul would have soon lived in silence.
¹⁸ When I said, "My foot is slipping!" Your lovingkindness, Yahawah, held me up.
¹⁹ In the multitude of my thoughts within me, Your comforts delight my soul.
²¹ They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, And condemn the innocent blood.
²² But Yahawah has been my high tower, My Alahayam, the rock of my refuge.

95 Oh come, let us sing to Yahawah. Let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation!
³ For Yahawah is a great Alahayam, A great King above all gods.
⁵ The sea is his, and he made it. His hands formed the dry land.
⁶ Oh come, let us worship and bow down. Let us kneel before Yahawah, our Maker, ⁷ For he is our Alahayam. We are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. Today, oh that you would hear his voice!
⁸ Don't harden your heart, as at Marayabah, As in the day of Masah in the wilderness, ⁹ When your fathers tempted me, Tested me, and saw my work.
¹⁰ Forty long years I was grieved with that generation, And said, "It is a people that errs in their heart. They have not known my ways."

96 Sing to Yahawah a new song! Sing to Yahawah, all the earth.
² Sing to Yahawah! Bless his name. Proclaim his salvation from day to day.
³ Declare his glory among the nations, His marvelous works among all the peoples.
⁶ Honor and majesty are before him. Strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.
⁷ Ascribe to Yahawah, you families of nations, Ascribe to Yahawah glory and strength.
⁹ Worship Yahawah in holy array. Tremble before him, all the earth.
¹⁰ Say among the nations, "Yahawah reigns." The world is also established. It can't be moved. He will judge the peoples with equity.

² Clouds and darkness are around him. Righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.
³ A fire goes before him, And burns up his adversaries on every side.
⁵ The mountains melt like wax at the presence of Yahawah, At the presence of the Adanay of the whole earth.⁶ The heavens declare his righteousness. All the peoples have seen his glory.⁷ Let all them be put to shame who serve engraved images, Who boast in their idols. Worship him, all you gods!⁸ Tzayawan heard and was glad. The daughters of Yahawadah rejoiced, Because of your judgments, Yahawah.⁹ For you, Yahawah, are most high above all the earth. You are exalted far above all gods.¹⁰ You who love Yahawah, hate evil. He preserves the souls of his saints. He delivers them out of the hand of the wicked.¹¹ Light is sown for the righteous, And gladness for the upright in heart.

98 Sing to Yahawah a new song, For he has done marvelous things! His right hand, and his holy arm, have worked salvation for him.² Yahawah has made known his salvation. He has openly shown his righteousness in the sight of the nations.³ He has remembered his lovingkindness and his faithfulness toward the house of Yasharaal. All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our Alahayam.⁴ Make a joyful noise to Yahawah, all the earth! Burst out and sing for joy, yes, sing praises!⁵ Sing praises to Yahawah with the harp, With the harp and the voice of melody.⁶ With trumpets and sound of the ram's horn. Make a joyful noise before the King, Yahawah.⁷ Let the sea roar with its fullness; The world, and those who dwell therein.⁸ Let the rivers clap their hands. Let the mountains sing for joy together.

99 Yahawah reigns! Let the peoples tremble. He sits enthroned among the cherubim. Let the earth be moved.² Yahawah is great in Tzayawan. He is high above all the peoples.³ Let them praise your great and awesome name. He is Holy!⁴ The King's strength also loves justice. You do establish equity. You execute justice and righteousness in Yaiqab.⁵ Exalt Yahawah our Alahayam. Worship at his footstool. He is Holy!⁶ Mashah and Aharan were among his priests, Shamawaal among those who call on his name; They called on Yahawah, and he answered them.⁷ He spoke to them in the pillar of cloud. They kept his testimonies, The statute that he gave them.⁸ You answered them, Yahawah our Alahayam. You are a Alahayam who forgave them, Although you took vengeance for their doings.

100 Make a joyful noise to Yahawah, all you lands!² Serve Yahawah with gladness. Come before his presence with singing.³ Know that Yahawah, he is Alahayam. It is he who has made us, and we are his. We are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.⁴ Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, Into his courts with praise. Give thanks to him, and bless his name.

101 I will sing of lovingkindness and justice. To you, Yahawah, I will sing praises.² I will be careful to live a blameless life. When will you come to me? I will walk within my house with a blameless heart.³ I will set no vile thing before my eyes. I hate the deeds of faithless men. They will not cling to me.⁴ A perverse heart will be far from me. I will have nothing to do with evil.⁵ I will silence whoever secretly slanders his neighbor. I won't tolerate one who is haughty and conceited.⁶ My eyes will be on the faithful of the land, That they may dwell with me. He who walks in a perfect way, He will serve me.⁷ He who practices deceit won't dwell within my house. He who speaks falsehood won't be established before my eyes.

102 Hear my prayer, Yahawah! Let my cry come to you.² Don't hide your face from me in the day of my distress. Turn your ear to me. Answer me quickly in the day when I call.³ For my days consume away like smoke. My bones are burned as a firebrand.⁴ My heart is blighted like grass, and withered, For I forget to eat my bread.⁵ By reason of the voice of my groaning, My bones stick to my skin.⁶ I am like a pelican of the wilderness. I have become as an owl of the waste places.⁷ I watch, and have become like a sparrow that is alone on the housetop.⁸ My enemies reproach me all day. Those who are mad at me use my name as a curse.⁹ For I have eaten ashes like bread, And mingled my drink with tears,¹⁰ Because of your indignation and your wrath, For you have taken me up, and thrown me away.¹¹ My days are like a long shadow. I have withered like grass.¹² But you, Yahawah, will abide forever;

Your renown endures to all generations.¹³ You will arise and have mercy on Tzayawan; For it is time to have pity on her. Yes, the set time has come.¹⁴ For your servants take pleasure in her stones, And have pity on her dust.¹⁵ So the nations will fear the name of Yahawah; All the kings of the earth your glory.¹⁶ For Yahawah has built up Tzayawan. He has appeared in his glory.¹⁷ He has responded to the prayer of the destitute, And has not despised their prayer.¹⁸ This will be written for the generation to come. A people which will be created will praise Yah.¹⁹ For he has looked down from the height of his sanctuary. From heaven, Yahawah saw the earth;²⁰ To hear the groans of the prisoner; To free those who are condemned to death;²¹ That men may declare the name of Yahawah in Tzayawan, And his praise in Yarawashalam;²² When the peoples are gathered together, The kingdoms, to serve Yahawah.²³ He weakened my strength along the course. He shortened my days.²⁴ I said, "My Alahayam, don't take me away in the midst of my days. Your years are throughout all generations.²⁵ Of old, you laid the foundation of the earth. The heavens are the work of your hands.²⁶ They will perish, but you will endure. Yes, all of them will wear out like a garment. You will change them like a cloak, and they will be changed.²⁷ But you are the same. Your years will have no end.²⁸ The children of your servants will continue. Their seed will be established before you." Psalm 103 By Dawad.

103 Praise Yahawah, my soul! All that is within me, praise his holy name!² Praise Yahawah, my soul, And don't forget all his benefits;³ Who forgives all your sins; Who heals all your diseases;⁴ Who redeems your life from destruction; Who crowns you with lovingkindness and tender mercies;⁵ Who satisfies your desire with good things, So that your youth is renewed like the eagle's.⁶ Yahawah executes righteous acts, And justice for all who are oppressed.⁷ He made known his ways to Mashah, His deeds to the children of Yasharaal.⁸ Yahawah is merciful and gracious, Slow to anger, and abundant in lovingkindness.⁹ He will not always accuse; Neither will he stay angry forever.¹⁰ He has not dealt with us according to our sins, Nor rewarded us for our iniquities.¹¹ For as the heavens are high above the earth, So great is his lovingkindness toward those who fear him.¹² As far as the east is from the west, So far has he removed our transgressions from us.¹³ Like a father has compassion on his children, So Yahawah has compassion on those who fear him.¹⁴ For he knows how we are made. He remembers that we are dust.¹⁵ As for man, his days are like grass. As a flower of the field, so he flourishes.¹⁶ For the wind passes over it, and it is gone. Its place remembers it no more.¹⁷ But Yahawah's lovingkindness is from everlasting to everlasting with those who fear him, His righteousness to children's children;¹⁸ To those who keep his covenant, To those who remember to obey his precepts.¹⁹ Yahawah has established his throne in the heavens. His kingdom rules over all.²⁰ Praise Yahawah, you angels of his, Who are mighty in strength, who fulfill his word, Obeying the voice of his word.²¹ Praise Yahawah, all you hosts of his, You servants of his, who do his pleasure.

104 Bless Yahawah, my soul. Yahawah, my Alahayam, you are very great. You are clothed with honor and majesty.² He covers himself with light as with a garment. He stretches out the heavens like a curtain.³ He lays the beams of his chambers in the waters. He makes the clouds his chariot. He walks on the wings of the wind.⁴ He makes his messengers winds; His servants flames of fire.⁵ He laid the foundations of the earth, That it should not be moved forever.⁶ You covered it with the deep as with a cloak. The waters stood above the mountains.⁷ At your rebuke they fled. At the voice of your thunder they hurried away.⁸ The mountains rose, The valleys sank down, To the place which you had assigned to them.⁹ You have set a boundary that they may not pass over; That they don't turn again to cover the earth.¹⁰ He sends forth springs into the valleys. They run among the mountains.¹¹ They give drink to every animal of the field. The wild donkeys quench their thirst.¹² The birds of the sky nest by them. They sing among the branches.¹³ He waters the mountains from his chambers. The earth is filled with the fruit of your works.¹⁴ He causes the grass to grow for the cattle, And plants for man to cultivate, That he may bring forth food out of the earth:¹⁵ Wine that makes glad the heart of man, Oil to make his face to shine, And bread that strengthens man's heart.¹⁶ Yahawah's trees are well watered, The cedars of Labanawan, which he has planted;¹⁷ Where the birds make their nests. The stork makes its home in the fir trees.¹⁸ The high mountains are for the wild goats. The rocks are a refuge for the rock badgers.¹⁹ He appointed the moon for seasons. The sun knows when to set.²⁰ You make darkness, and it is night, In which all the animals of the forest prowl.²¹ The young lions roar after their prey, And seek their food from Alahayam.²² The sun rises, and they steal away, And lay down in their dens.²³ Man goes forth to his work, To his labor until the evening.²⁴ Yahawah, how many are your works! In wisdom have you made them all. The earth is full of your riches.²⁵ There is the sea, great and wide, In which are innumerable living things, Both small and great animals.²⁶ There the ships go, And leviathan, whom you formed to play there.²⁷ These all wait for you, That you may give them their food in due season.²⁸ You give to them; they gather. You open your hand; they are satisfied with good.²⁹ You hide your face: they are troubled; You take away their breath: they die, and return to the dust.³⁰ You send forth your Spirit: they are created. You renew the face of the ground.³¹ Let the glory of Yahawah endure forever. Let Yahawah rejoice in his works.³² He looks at the earth, and it trembles. He touches the mountains, and they smoke.³³ I will sing to Yahawah as long as I live. I will sing praise to my Alahayam while I have any being.³⁴ Let your meditation be sweet to him. I will rejoice in Yahawah.

105 Give thanks to Yahawah! Call on his name! Make his doings known among the peoples.² Sing to him, sing praises to him! Tell of all his marvelous works.³ Glory in his holy name. Let the heart of them rejoice who seek Yahawah.⁴ Seek Yahawah and his strength. Seek his face forever more.⁵ Remember his marvelous works that he has done; His wonders, and the judgments of his mouth,⁶ You seed of Abaraham, his servant, You children of Yaiqab, his chosen ones.⁷ He is Yahawah, our Alahayam. His judgments are in all the earth.⁸ He has remembered his covenant forever, The word which he commanded to a thousand generations,⁹ The covenant which he made with Abaraham, His oath to Yatzachag,¹⁰ And confirmed the same to Yaiqab for a statute; To Yasharaal for an everlasting covenant,¹¹ Saying, "To you I will give the land of Kanain, The lot of your inheritance;"¹² When they were but a few men in number, Yes, very few, and sojourners in it.¹³ They went about from nation to nation, From one kingdom to another people.¹⁴ He allowed no one to do them wrong. Yes, he reproved kings for their sakes,¹⁵ "Don't touch my anointed ones. Do my prophets no harm."¹⁶ He called for a famine on the land. He destroyed the food supplies.¹⁷ He sent a man before them. Yawasap was sold for a slave.¹⁸ They bruised his feet with shackles. His neck was locked in irons,¹⁹ Until the time that his word happened, And Yahawah's word proved him true.²⁰ The king sent and freed him; Even the ruler of peoples, and let him go free.²¹ He made him lord of his house, And ruler of all of his possessions;²² To discipline his princes at his pleasure, And to teach his elders wisdom.²³ Yasharaal also came into Matzarayam. Yaiqab sojourned in the land of Cham.²⁴ He increased his people greatly, And made them stronger than their adversaries.²⁵ He turned their heart to hate his people, To conspire against his servants.²⁶ He sent Mashah, his servant, And Aharan, whom he had chosen.²⁷ They performed miracles among them, And wonders in the land of Cham.²⁸ He sent darkness, and made it dark. They didn't rebel against his words.²⁹ He turned their waters into blood, And killed their fish.³⁰ Their land swarmed with frogs, Even in the chambers of their kings.³¹ He spoke, and swarms of flies came, And lice in all their borders.³² He gave them hail for rain, With lightning in their land.³³ He struck their vines and also their fig trees, And shattered the trees of their country.³⁴ He spoke, and the locusts came, And the grasshoppers, without number,³⁵ Ate up every plant in their land; Ate up the fruit of their ground.³⁶ He struck also all the firstborn in their land, The chief of all their strength.³⁷ He brought them forth with silver and gold. There was not one feeble person among his tribes.³⁸ Matzarayam was glad when they departed, For the fear of them had fallen on them.³⁹ He spread a cloud for a covering, Fire to give light in the night.⁴⁰ They asked, and he brought quails, And satisfied them with the bread of the sky.⁴¹ He opened the rock, and waters gushed out. They ran as a river in the dry places.⁴² For he remembered his holy word, And Abaraham, his servant.⁴³ He brought forth his people with joy, His chosen with singing.⁴⁴ He gave them the lands of the nations. They took the labor of the peoples in possession, 106 Praise Yahawah! Give thanks to Yahawah, for he is good, For his lovingkindness endures forever.² Who can utter the mighty acts of Yahawah, Or fully declare all his praise?³ Blessed are those who keep justice, He who does righteousness at all times.⁴ Remember me, Yahawah, with the favor that you show to your people. Visit me with your salvation,⁵ That I may see the prosperity of your chosen, That I may rejoice in the gladness of your nation, That I may glory with your inheritance.⁶ We have sinned with our fathers. We have committed iniquity. We have done wickedly.⁷ Our fathers didn't understand your wonders in Matzarayam. They didn't remember the multitude of your lovingkindnesses, But were rebellious at the sea, even at the Sawap.⁸ Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake, That he might make his mighty power known.⁹ He rebuked the Sawap also, and it was dried up; So he led them through the depths, as through a desert.¹⁰ He saved them from the hand of him who hated them, And redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.¹¹ The waters covered their adversaries. There was not one of them left.¹² Then they believed his words. They sang his praise.¹³ They soon forgot his works. They didn't wait for his counsel,¹⁴ But gave in to craving in the desert, And tested Alahayam in the wasteland.¹⁵ He gave them their request, But sent leanness into their soul.¹⁶ They envied Mashah also in the camp, And Aharan, Yahawah's saint.¹⁷ The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, And covered the company of Abayaram.¹⁸ A fire was kindled in their company. The flame burned up the wicked.¹⁹ They made a calf in Charab, And worshipped a molten image.²⁰ Thus they exchanged their glory For an image of a bull that eats grass.²¹ They forgot Alahayam, their Savior, Who had done great things in Matzarayam,²² Wondrous works in the land of Cham, And awesome things by the Sawap.²³ Therefore he said that he would destroy them, Had Mashah, his chosen, not stood before him in the breach, To turn away his wrath, so that he wouldn't destroy them.²⁴ Yes, they despised the pleasant land. They didn't believe his word,²⁵ But murmured in their tents, And didn't listen to the voice of Yahawah.²⁶ Therefore he swore to them That he would overthrow them in the wilderness,²⁷ That he would overthrow their seed among the nations, And scatter them in the lands.²⁸ They joined themselves also to Bail, And ate the sacrifices of the dead.²⁹ Thus they provoked him to anger with their deeds. The plague broke in on them.³⁰ Then Payanachas stood up, and executed judgment, So the plague was stopped.³¹ That was credited to him for righteousness, To all generations forevermore.³² They angered him also at the waters of Marayabah, So that Mashah was troubled for their sakes;³³ Because they were rebellious against his spirit, He spoke rashly with his lips.³⁴ They didn't destroy the peoples, As Yahawah commanded them,³⁵ But mingled themselves with the nations, Learned their works.³⁶ They served their idols, Which became a snare to them.³⁷ Yes, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters to demons.³⁸ They shed innocent blood, Even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, Whom they sacrificed to the idols of Kanain. The land was polluted with blood.³⁹ Thus were they defiled with their works, And prostituted themselves in their deeds.⁴⁰ Therefore the wrath of Yahawah was kindled against his people. He abhorred his inheritance.⁴¹ He gave them into the hand of the nations. Those who hated them ruled over them.⁴² Their enemies also oppressed them. They were brought into subjection under their hand.⁴³ Many times he delivered them, But they were rebellious in their counsel, And were brought low in their iniquity.

⁴⁵ He remembered for them his covenant, And repented according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses. ⁴⁶ He made them also to be pitied By all those who carried them captive. ⁴⁷ Save us, Yahawah, our Alahayam, Gather us from among the nations, To give thanks to your holy name, To triumph in your praise!

107 Give thanks to Yahawah, For he is good, For his lovingkindness endures forever. ² Let the redeemed by Yahawah say so, Whom he has redeemed from the hand of the adversary, ³ Gathered out of the lands, From the east and from the west, From the north and from the south. ⁴ They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way. They found no city to live in. ⁵ Hungry and thirsty, Their soul fainted in them. ⁶ Then they cried to Yahawah in their trouble, And he delivered them out of their distresses. ⁷ He led them also by a straight way, That they might go to a city to live in. ⁸ Let them praise Yahawah for his lovingkindness, For his wonderful works to the children of men! ⁹ For he satisfies the longing soul. He fills the hungry soul with good. ¹⁰ Some sat in darkness and in the shadow of death, Being bound in affliction and iron, ¹¹ Because they rebelled against the words of Alahayam, And condemned the counsel of the Ilayawan. ¹² Therefore he brought down their heart with labor. They fell down, and there was none to help. ¹³ Then they cried to Yahawah in their trouble, And he saved them out of their distresses. ¹⁴ He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, And broke their bonds in sunder. ¹⁵ Let them praise Yahawah for his lovingkindness, For his wonderful works to the children of men! ¹⁶ For he has broken the gates of brass, And cut through bars of iron. ¹⁷ Fools are afflicted because of their disobedience, And because of their iniquities. ¹⁸ Their soul abhors all kinds of food. They draw near to the gates of death. ¹⁹ Then they cry to Yahawah in their trouble, He saves them out of their distresses. ²⁰ He sends his word, and heals them, And delivers them from their graves. ²¹ Let them praise Yahawah for his lovingkindness, For his wonderful works to the children of men! ²² Let them offer the sacrifices of thanksgiving, And declare his works with singing. ²³ Those who go down to the sea in ships, Who do business in great waters; ²⁴ These see Yahawah's works, And his wonders in the deep. ²⁵ For he commands, and raises the stormy wind, Which lifts up its waves. ²⁶ They mount up to the sky; they go down again to the depths. Their soul melts away because of trouble. ²⁷ They reel back and forth, and stagger like a drunken man, And are at their wits' end. ²⁸ Then they cry to Yahawah in their trouble, He brings them out of their distress. ²⁹ He makes the storm a calm, So that its waves are still. ³⁰ Then are they glad because it is calm, So he brings them to their desired haven. ³¹ Let them praise Yahawah for his lovingkindness, For his wonderful works to the children of men! ³² Let them exalt him also in the assembly of the people, And praise him in the seat of the elders. ³³ He turns rivers into a desert, Water springs into a thirsty ground, ³⁴ And a fruitful land into a salt waste, For the wickedness of those who dwell in it. ³⁵ He turns a desert into a pool of water, And a dry land into water springs. ³⁶ There he makes the hungry to live, That they may prepare a city to live in, ³⁷ Sow fields, plant vineyards, And reap the fruits of increase. ³⁸ He blesses them also, so that they are multiplied greatly. He doesn't allow their cattle to decrease. ³⁹ Again, they are diminished and bowed down Through oppression, trouble, and sorrow. ⁴⁰ He pours contempt on princes, And causes them to wander in a trackless waste. ⁴¹ Yet he lifts the needy out of their affliction, And increases their families like a flock. ⁴² The upright will see it, and be glad. All the wicked will shut their mouths.

108 My heart is steadfast, Alahayam. I will sing and I will make music with my soul. ² Wake up, harp and lyre! I will wake up the dawn. ³ I will give thanks to you, Yahawah, among the nations. I will sing praises to you among the peoples. ⁴ For your lovingkindness is great above the heavens. Your faithfulness reaches to the skies. ⁵ Be exalted, Alahayam, above the heavens, Let your glory be over all the earth. ⁶ That your beloved may be delivered, Save with your right hand, and answer us. ⁷ Alahayam has spoken from his sanctuary: "In triumph, I will divide Shakam, and measure out the valley of Sakawath. ⁸ Galaid is mine. Manashah is mine. Aparayam also is my helmet. Yahawadah is my scepter. ⁹ Mawaab is my wash pot. I will toss my sandal on Adawam. I will shout over Palashath." ¹⁰ Who will bring me into the fortified city? Who has led me to Adawam? ¹¹ Haven't you rejected us, Alahayam? You don't go forth, Alahayam, with our armies. ¹² Give us help against the enemy, For the help of man is vain. ¹³ Through Alahayam, we will do valiantly. For it is he who will tread down our enemies. Psalm 109 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by Dawad.

109 Alahayam of my praise, don't remain silent, ² For they have opened the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit against me. They have spoken to me with a lying tongue. ³ They have also surrounded me with words of hatred, And fought against me without a cause. ⁴ In return for my love, they are my adversaries; But I am in prayer. ⁵ They have rewarded me evil for good, And hatred for my love. ⁶ Set a wicked man over him. Let an adversary stand at his right hand. ⁷ When he is judged, let him come forth guilty. Let his prayer be turned into sin. ⁸ Let his days be few. Let another take his office. ⁹ Let his children be fatherless, And his wife a widow. ¹⁰ Let his children be wandering beggars. Let them be sought from their ruins. ¹¹ Let the creditor seize all that he has. Let strangers plunder the fruit of his labor. ¹² Let there be none to extend kindness to him, Neither let there be any to have pity on his fatherless children. ¹³ Let his posterity be cut off. In the generation following let their name be blotted out. ¹⁴ Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered by Yahawah. Don't let the sin of his mother be blotted out. ¹⁵ Let them be before Yahawah continually, That he may cut off the memory of them from the earth; ¹⁶ Because he didn't remember to show kindness, But persecuted the poor and needy man, The broken in heart, to kill them. ¹⁷ Yes, he loved cursing, and it came to him. He didn't delight in blessing, and it was far from him. ¹⁸ He clothed himself also with cursing as with his garment. It came into his inward parts like water, Like oil into his bones. ¹⁹ Let it be to him as the clothing with which he covers himself, For the belt that is always around him. ²⁰ This is the reward of my adversaries from Yahawah, Of those who speak evil against my soul. ²¹ But deal with me, Yahawah the Adanay, for your name's sake, Because your lovingkindness is good, deliver me; ²² For I am poor and needy. My heart is wounded within me. ²³ I fade away like an evening shadow. I am shaken off as the locust. ²⁴ My knees are weak through fasting. My body is thin and lacks fat. ²⁵ I have also become a reproach to them. When they see me, they shake their head. ²⁶ Help me, Yahawah, my Alahayam. Save me according to your lovingkindness; ²⁷ That they may know that this is your hand; That you, Yahawah, have done it. ²⁸ They may curse, but you bless. When they arise, they will be put to shame, But your servant shall rejoice. ²⁹ Let my adversaries be clothed with dishonor. Let them cover themselves with their own shame as with a robe. ³⁰ I will give great thanks to Yahawah with my mouth. Yes, I will praise him among the multitude.

110 Yahawah says to my Adanay, "Sit at my right hand, Until I make your enemies your footstool for your feet." ² Yahawah will send forth the rod of your strength out of Tzayawan. Rule in the midst of your enemies. ³ Your people offer themselves willingly in the day of your power, In holy array. Out of the womb of the morning, you have the dew of your youth. ⁴ Yahawah has sworn, and will not change his mind: "You are a priest forever in the order of Malakay." ⁵ The Adanay is at your right hand. He will crush kings in the day of his wrath. ⁶ He will judge among the nations. He will heap up dead bodies. He will crush the ruler of the whole earth.

111 Praise Yah! I will give thanks to Yahawah with my whole heart, In the council of the upright, and in the congregation. ² The works of Yahawah are great, Pondered by all those who delight in them. ³ His work is honor and majesty. His righteousness endures forever. ⁴ He has caused his wonderful works to be remembered. Yahawah is gracious and merciful. ⁵ He has given food to those who fear him. He always remembers his covenant. ⁶ He has shown his people the power of his works, In giving them the heritage of the nations.⁷ The works of his hands are truth and justice. All his precepts are sure.⁸ They are established forever and ever. They are done in truth and uprightness.⁹ He has sent redemption to his people. He has ordained his covenant forever. His name is holy and awesome!

112 Praise Yah! Blessed is the man who fears Yahawah, Who delights greatly in his commandments.² His seed will be mighty on earth. The generation of the upright will be blessed.³ Wealth and riches are in his house. His righteousness endures forever.⁴ Light dawns in the darkness for the upright, Gracious, merciful, and righteous.⁵ It is well with the man who deals graciously and lends. He will maintain his cause in judgment.⁶ For he will never be shaken. The righteous will be remembered forever.⁷ He will not be afraid of evil news. His heart is steadfast, trusting in Yahawah.⁸ His heart is established. He will not be afraid in the end when he sees his adversaries.⁹ He has dispersed, he has given to the poor. His righteousness endures forever. His horn will be exalted with honor.

113 Praise Yah! Praise, you servants of Yahawah, Praise the name of Yahawah.² Blessed be the name of Yahawah, From this time forth and forevermore.³ From the rising of the sun to the going down of the same, Yahawah's name is to be praised.⁴ Yahawah is high above all nations, His glory above the heavens.⁵ Who is like Yahawah, our Alahayam, Who has his seat on high,⁶ Who stoops down to see in heaven and in the earth?⁷ He raises up the poor out of the dust. Lifts up the needy from the ash heap;⁸ That he may set him with princes, Even with the princes of his people.

114 When Yasharaal went forth out of Matzarayam, The house of Yaiqab from a people of foreign language;² Yahawadah became his sanctuary, Yasharaal his dominion.³ The sea saw it, and fled. The Yaradan was driven back.⁴ The mountains skipped like rams, The little hills like lambs.⁵ What was it, you sea, that you fled? You Yaradan, that you turned back?⁶ You mountains, that you skipped like rams; You little hills, like lambs?⁷ Tremble, you earth, at the presence of the Adanay, At the presence of the Alahayam of Yaiqab, 115 Not to us, Yahawah, not to us, But to your name give glory, For your lovingkindness, and for your truth's sake.² Why should the nations say, "Where is their Alahayam, now?"³ But our Alahayam is in the heavens. He does whatever he pleases.⁴ Their idols are silver and gold, The work of men's hands.⁵ They have mouths, but they don't speak; They have eyes, but they don't see;⁶ They have ears, but they don't hear; They have noses, but they don't smell;⁷ They have hands, but they don't feel; They have feet, but they don't walk; Neither do they speak through their throat.⁸ Those who make them will be like them; Yes, everyone who trusts in them.⁹ Yasharaal, trust in Yahawah! He is their help and their shield.¹⁰ House of Aharan, trust in Yahawah! He is their help and their shield.¹¹ You who fear Yahawah, trust in Yahawah! He is their help and their shield.¹² Yahawah remembers us. He will bless us. He will bless the house of Yasharaal. He will bless the house of Aharan.¹³ He will bless those who fear Yahawah, Both small and great.¹⁴ May Yahawah increase you more and more, You and your children.¹⁵ Blessed are you by Yahawah, Who made heaven and earth.¹⁶ The heavens are the heavens of Yahawah; But the earth has he given to the children of men.¹⁷ The dead don't praise Yah, Neither any who go down into silence;

116 I love Yahawah, because he listens to my voice, And my cries for mercy.² Because he has turned his ear to me, Therefore I will call on him as long as I live.³ The cords of death surrounded me, The pains of Sheol got a hold on me. I found trouble and sorrow.⁴ Then called I on the name of Yahawah: "Yahawah, I beg you, deliver my soul."⁵ Gracious is Yahawah, and righteous; Yes, our Alahayam is merciful.⁶ Yahawah preserves the simple. I was brought low, and he saved me.⁷ Return to your rest, my soul, For Yahawah has dealt bountifully with you.⁸ For you have delivered my soul from death, My eyes from tears, And my feet from falling.

⁹ I will walk before Yahawah in the land of the living.¹⁰ I believed, therefore I said, "I was greatly afflicted."¹¹ I said in my haste, "All men are liars."¹² What will I give to Yahawah for all his benefits toward me?¹³ I will take the cup of salvation, and call on the name of Yahawah.¹⁴ I will pay my vows to Yahawah, Yes, in the presence of all his people.¹⁵ Precious in the sight of Yahawah is the death of his saints.¹⁶ Yahawah, truly I am your servant. I am your servant, the son of your handmaid. You have freed me from my chains.¹⁷ I will offer to you the sacrifice of thanksgiving, And will call on the name of Yahawah.¹⁸ I will pay my vows to Yahawah, Yes, in the presence of all his people,

118 Give thanks to Yahawah, for he is good, For his lovingkindness endures forever.² Let Yasharaal now say That his lovingkindness endures forever.³ Let the house of Aharan now say That his lovingkindness endures forever.⁴ Now let those who fear Yahawah say That his lovingkindness endures forever.⁵ Out of my distress, I called on Yah. Yah answered me with freedom.⁶ Yahawah is on my side. I will not be afraid. What can man do to me?⁷ Yahawah is on my side among those who help me. Therefore I will look in triumph at those who hate me.⁸ It is better to take refuge in Yahawah, Than to put confidence in man.⁹ It is better to take refuge in Yahawah, Than to put confidence in princes.¹⁰ All the nations surrounded me, But in the name of Yahawah, I cut them off.¹¹ They surrounded me, yes, they surrounded me. In the name of Yahawah I indeed cut them off.¹² They surrounded me like bees. They are quenched like the burning thorns. In the name of Yahawah I cut them off.¹³ You pushed me back hard, to make me fall, But Yahawah helped me.¹⁴ Yah is my strength and song. He has become my salvation.¹⁵ The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tents of the righteous. "The right hand of Yahawah does valiantly.¹⁶ The right hand of Yahawah is exalted! The right hand of Yahawah does valiantly!"¹⁷ I will not die, but live, And declare Yah's works.¹⁸ Yah has punished me severely, But he has not given me over to death.¹⁹ Open to me the gates of righteousness. I will enter into them. I will give thanks to Yah.²⁰ This is the gate of Yahawah; The righteous will enter into it.²¹ I will give thanks to you, for you have answered me, And have become my salvation.²² The stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner.²³ This is Yahawah's doing. It is marvelous in our eyes.²⁴ This is the day that Yahawah has made. We will rejoice and be glad in it!²⁵ Save us now, we beg you, Yahawah; Yahawah, we beg you, now send prosperity.²⁶ Blessed is he who comes in the name of Yahawah! We have blessed you out of the house of Yahawah.²⁷ Yahawah is Alahayam, and he has given us light. Bind the sacrifice with cords, even to the horns of the altar.²⁸ You are my Alahayam, and I will give thanks to you. You are my Alahayam, I will exalt you.

119 Blessed are those whose ways are blameless, Who walk according to the law of Yahawah.² Blessed are those who keep his statutes, Who seek him with their whole heart.³ Yes, they do nothing wrong. They walk in his ways.⁴ You have commanded your precepts, That we should fully obey them.⁵ Oh that my ways were steadfast To obey your statutes!⁶ Then I wouldn't be put to shame, When I consider all of your commandments.⁷ I will give thanks to you with uprightness of heart, When I learn your righteous judgments.⁸ I will observe your statutes. Don't utterly forsake me. BEIT ⁹ How can a young man keep his way pure? By living according to your word.¹⁰ With my whole heart, I have sought you. Don't let me wander from your commandments.¹¹ I have hidden your word in my heart, That I might not sin against you.¹² Blessed are you, Yahawah. Teach me your statutes.¹³ With my lips, I have declared all the ordinances of your mouth.¹⁴ I have rejoiced in the way of your testimonies, As much as in all riches.¹⁵ I will meditate on your precepts, And consider your ways.¹⁶ I will delight myself in your statutes. I will not forget your word. GIMEL ¹⁷ Do good to your servant. I will live and I will obey your word.¹⁸ Open my eyes, That I may see wondrous things out of your law.¹⁹ I am a stranger on the earth. Don't hide your commandments from me.²⁰ My soul is consumed with longing for your ordinances at all times.²¹ You have rebuked the proud who are cursed, Who wander from your commandments.²² Take reproach and contempt away from me, For I have kept your statutes.²³ Though princes sit and slander me, Your servant will meditate on your statutes.²⁴ Indeed your statutes are my delight, And my counselors. DALED ²⁵ My soul is laid low in the dust. Revive me according to your word!²⁶ I declared my ways, and you answered me. Teach me your statutes.²⁷ Let me understand the teaching of your precepts! Then I will meditate on your wondrous works.²⁸ My soul is weary with sorrow. Strengthen me according to your word.²⁹ Keep me from the way of deceit. Grant me your law graciously!³⁰ I have chosen the way of truth. I have set my heart on your law.³¹ I cling to your statutes, Yahawah. Don't let me be put to shame.³² I run in the path of your commandments, For you have set my heart free. HEY ³³ Teach me, Yahawah, the way of your statutes. I will keep them to the end.³⁴ Give me understanding, and I will keep your law. Yes, I will obey it with my whole heart.³⁵ Direct me in the path of your commandments, For I delight in them.³⁶ Turn my heart toward your statutes, Not toward selfish gain.³⁷ Turn my eyes away from looking at worthless things. Revive me in your ways.³⁸ Fulfill your promise to your servant, That you may be feared.³⁹ Take away my disgrace that I dread, For your ordinances are good.⁴⁰ Behold, I long for your precepts! Revive me in your righteousness. WAW

⁴¹ Let your lovingkindness also come to me, Yahawah, Your salvation, according to your word.⁴² So I will have an answer for him who reproaches me, For I trust in your word.⁴³ Don't snatch the word of truth out of my mouth, For I put my hope in your ordinances.⁴⁴ So I will obey your law continually, Forever and ever.⁴⁵ I will walk in liberty, For I have sought your precepts.⁴⁶ I will also speak of your statutes before kings, And will not be put to shame.⁴⁷ I will delight myself in your commandments, Because I love them.⁴⁸ I reach out my hands for your commandments, which I love. I will meditate on your statutes. ZAYIN
⁴⁹ Remember your word to your servant, Because you gave me hope.⁵⁰ This is my comfort in my affliction, For your word has revived me.⁵¹ The arrogant mock me excessively, But I don't swerve from your law.⁵² I remember your ordinances of old, Yahawah. And have comforted myself.⁵³ Indignation has taken hold on me, Because of the wicked who forsake your law.⁵⁴ Your statutes have been my songs, In the house where I live.⁵⁵ I have remembered your name, Yahawah, in the night, And I obey your law.⁵⁶ This is my way, That I keep your precepts. CHET ⁵⁷ Yahawah is my portion. I promised to obey your words.⁵⁸ I sought your favor with my whole heart. Be merciful to me according to your word.⁵⁹ I considered my ways, And turned my steps to your statutes.⁶⁰ I will hurry, and not delay, To obey your commandments.⁶¹ The ropes of the wicked bind me, But I won't forget your law.⁶² At midnight I will rise to give thanks to you, Because of your righteous ordinances.⁶³ I am a friend of all those who fear you, Of those who observe your precepts.⁶⁴ The earth is full of your lovingkindness, Yahawah. Teach me your statutes. TET
⁶⁵ Do good to your servant, According to your word, Yahawah.⁶⁶ Teach me good judgment and knowledge, For I believe in your commandments.⁶⁷ Before I was afflicted, I went astray; But now I observe your word.⁶⁸ You are good, and do good. Teach me your statutes.⁶⁹ The proud have smeared a lie upon me. With my whole heart, I will keep your precepts.⁷⁰ Their heart is as callous as the fat, But I delight in your law.⁷¹ It is good for me that I have been afflicted, That I may learn your statutes.⁷² The law of your mouth is better to me than thousands of pieces of gold and silver. YUD
⁷³ Your hands have made me and formed me. Give me understanding, that I may learn your commandments.⁷⁴ Those who fear you will see me and be glad, Because I have put my hope in your word.⁷⁵ Yahawah, I know that your judgments are righteous, That in faithfulness you have afflicted me.⁷⁶ Please let your lovingkindness be for my comfort, According to your word to your servant.⁷⁷ Let your tender mercies come to me, that I may live; For your law is my delight.⁷⁸ Let the proud be put to shame, for they have overthrown me wrongfully. I will meditate on your precepts.⁷⁹ Let those who fear you turn to me. They will know your statutes.⁸⁰ Let my heart be blameless toward your decrees, That I may not be put to shame. KAF ⁸¹ My soul faints for your salvation. I hope in your word.⁸² My eyes fail for your word. I say, "When will you comfort me?"⁸³ For I have become like a wineskin in the smoke. I don't forget your statutes.⁸⁴ How many are the days of your servant? When will you execute judgment on those who persecute me?⁸⁵ The proud have dug pits for me, Contrary to your law.⁸⁶ All of your commandments are faithful. They persecute me wrongfully. Help me!⁸⁷ They had almost wiped me from the earth, But I didn't forsake your precepts.⁸⁸ Preserve my life according to your lovingkindness, So I will obey the statutes of your mouth. LAMED

⁸⁹ Yahawah, your word is settled in heaven forever.⁹⁰ Your faithfulness is to all generations. You have established the earth, and it remains.⁹¹ Your laws remain to this day, For all things serve you.⁹² Unless your law had been my delight, I would have perished in my affliction.⁹³ I will never forget your precepts, For with them, you have revived me.⁹⁴ I am yours. Save me, For I have sought your precepts.⁹⁵ The wicked have waited for me, to destroy me. I will consider your statutes.⁹⁶ I have seen a limit to all perfection, But your commands are boundless. MEM
⁹⁷ How love I your law! It is my meditation all day.⁹⁸ Your commandments make me wiser than my enemies, For your commandments are always with me.⁹⁹ I have more understanding than all my teachers, For your testimonies are my meditation.¹⁰⁰ I understand more than the aged, Because I have kept your precepts.¹⁰¹ I have kept my feet from every evil way, That I might observe your word.¹⁰² I have not turned aside from your ordinances, For you have taught me.¹⁰³ How sweet are your promises to my taste, More than honey to my mouth!¹⁰⁴ Through your precepts, I get understanding; Therefore I hate every false way. NUN
¹⁰⁵ Your word is a lamp to my feet, And a light for my path.¹⁰⁶ I have sworn, and have confirmed it, That I will obey your righteous ordinances.¹⁰⁷ I am afflicted very much. Revive me, Yahawah, according to your word.¹⁰⁸ Accept, I beg you, the willing offerings of my mouth. Yahawah, teach me your ordinances.¹⁰⁹ My soul is continually in my hand, Yet I won't forget your law.¹¹⁰ The wicked have laid a snare for me, Yet I haven't gone astray from your precepts.¹¹¹ I have taken your testimonies as a heritage forever, For they are the joy of my heart.¹¹² I have set my heart to perform your statutes forever, Even to the end. SAMEKH
¹¹³ I hate double-minded men, But I love your law.¹¹⁴ You are my hiding place and my shield. I hope in your word.¹¹⁵ Depart from me, you evildoers, That I may keep the commandments of my Alahayam.¹¹⁶ Uphold me according to your word, that I may live. Let me not be ashamed of my hope.¹¹⁷ Hold me up, and I will be safe, And will have respect for your statutes continually.¹¹⁸ You reject all those who stray from your statutes, For their deceit is in vain.¹¹⁹ You put away all the wicked of the earth like dross. Therefore I love your testimonies.¹²⁰ My flesh trembles for fear of you. I am afraid of your judgments. AYIN
¹²¹ I have done what is just and righteous. Don't leave me to my oppressors.¹²² Ensure your servant's well-being. Don't let the proud oppress me.¹²³ My eyes fail looking for your salvation, For your righteous word.¹²⁴ Deal with your servant according to your lovingkindness. Teach me your statutes.¹²⁵ I am your servant. Give me understanding, That I may know your testimonies.¹²⁶ It is time to act, Yahawah, For they break your law.¹²⁷ Therefore I love your commandments more than gold, Yes, more than pure gold.¹²⁸ Therefore I consider all of your precepts to be right. I hate every false way. PEY ¹²⁹ Your testimonies are wonderful, Therefore my soul keeps them.¹³⁰ The entrance of your words gives light. It gives understanding to the simple.¹³¹ I opened my mouth wide and panted, For I longed for your commandments.¹³² Turn to me, and have mercy on me, As you always do to those who love your name.¹³³ Establish my footsteps in your word. Don't let any iniquity have dominion over me.¹³⁴ Redeem me from the oppression of man, So I will observe your precepts.¹³⁵ Make your face to shine on your servant. Teach me your statutes.¹³⁶ Streams of tears run down my eyes, Because they don't observe your law. TZADI¹³⁷ You are righteous, Yahawah. your judgments are upright.¹³⁸ You have commanded your statutes in righteousness. They are fully trustworthy.¹³⁹ My zeal wears me out, Because my enemies ignore your words.¹⁴⁰ Your promises have been thoroughly tested, And your servant loves them.¹⁴¹ I am small and despised. I don't forget your precepts.¹⁴² Your righteousness is an everlasting righteousness. Your law is truth.¹⁴³ Trouble and anguish have taken hold of me. Your commandments are my delight.¹⁴⁴ Your testimonies are righteous forever. Give me understanding, that I may live. KUF¹⁴⁵ I have called with my whole heart. Answer me, Yahawah! I will keep your statutes.¹⁴⁶ I have called to you. Save me! I will obey your statutes.¹⁴⁷ I rise before dawn and cry for help. I put my hope in your words.¹⁴⁸ My eyes stay open through the night watches, That I might meditate on your word.¹⁴⁹ Hear my voice according to your lovingkindness. Revive me, Yahawah, according to your ordinances.¹⁵⁰ They draw near who follow after wickedness. They are far from your law.¹⁵¹ You are near, Yahawah. All your commandments are truth.¹⁵² Of old I have known from your testimonies, That you have founded them forever. RESH¹⁵³ Consider my affliction, and deliver me, For I don't forget your law.¹⁵⁴ Plead my cause, and redeem me! Revive me according to your promise.¹⁵⁵ Salvation is far from the wicked, For they don't seek your statutes.¹⁵⁶ Great are your tender mercies, Yahawah. Revive me according to your ordinances.¹⁵⁷ Many are my persecutors and my adversaries. I haven't swerved from your testimonies.¹⁵⁸ I look at the faithless with loathing, Because they don't observe your word.¹⁵⁹ Consider how I love your precepts. Revive me, Yahawah, according to your lovingkindness.¹⁶⁰ All of your words are truth. Every one of your righteous ordinances endures forever. SIN AND SHIN¹⁶¹ Princes have persecuted me without a cause, But my heart stands in awe of your words.¹⁶² I rejoice at your word, As one who finds great spoil.¹⁶³ I hate and abhor falsehood. I love your law.¹⁶⁴ Seven times a day, I praise you, Because of your righteous ordinances.¹⁶⁵ Those who love your law have great peace. Nothing causes them to stumble.¹⁶⁶ I have hoped for your salvation, Yahawah. I have done your commandments.¹⁶⁷ My soul has observed your testimonies. I love them exceedingly.¹⁶⁸ I have obeyed your precepts and your testimonies, For all my ways are before you. TAV¹⁶⁹ Let my cry come before you, Yahawah. Give me understanding according to your word.¹⁷⁰ Let my supplication come before you. Deliver me according to your word.¹⁷¹ Let my lips utter praise, For you teach me your statutes.¹⁷² Let my tongue sing of your word, For all your commandments are righteousness.¹⁷³ Let your hand be ready to help me, For I have chosen your precepts.¹⁷⁴ I have longed for your salvation, Yahawah. Your law is my delight.¹⁷⁵ Let my soul live, that I may praise you. Let your ordinances help me.

120 In my distress, I cried to Yahawah. He answered me.² Deliver my soul, Yahawah, from lying lips, From a deceitful tongue.³ What will be given to you, and what will be done more to you, You deceitful tongue?⁴ Sharp arrows of the mighty, With coals of juniper.⁵ Woe is me, that I live in Mashak, That I dwell among the tents of Qadar!⁶ My soul has had her dwelling too long With him who hates peace.

121 I will lift up my eyes to the hills. Where does my help come from?² My help comes from Yahawah, Who made heaven and earth.³ He will not allow your foot to be moved. He who keeps you will not slumber.⁴ Behold, he who keeps Yasharaal Will neither slumber nor sleep.⁵ Yahawah is your keeper. Yahawah is your shade on your right hand.⁶ The sun will not harm you by day, Nor the moon by night.⁷ Yahawah will keep you from all evil. He will keep your soul.

122 I was glad when they said to me, "Let's go to Yahawah's house!"² Our feet are standing Within your gates, Yarawashalam;³ Yarawashalam, that is built As a city that is compact together;

⁴ Where the tribes go up, even Yah's tribes, According to an ordinance for Yasharaal, To give thanks to the name of Yahawah.⁵ For there are set thrones for judgment, The thrones of Dawad's house.⁶ Pray for the peace of Yarawashalam. They will prosper who love you.⁷ Peace be within your walls, And prosperity within your palaces.⁸ For my brothers' and companions' sakes, I will now say, "Peace be within you."

123 To you I do lift up my eyes, You who sit in the heavens.

² Behold, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their master, As the eyes of a maid to the hand of her mistress; So our eyes look to Yahawah, our Alahayam, Until he has mercy on us.³ Have mercy on us, Yahawah, have mercy on us, For we have endured much contempt.

124 If it had not been Yahawah who was on our side, Let Yasharaal now say,² If it had not been Yahawah who was on our side, When men rose up against us;³ Then they would have swallowed us up alive, When their wrath was kindled against us;⁴ Then the waters would have overwhelmed us, The stream would have gone over our soul;⁵ Then the proud waters would have gone over our soul.⁶ Blessed be Yahawah, Who has not given us as a prey to their teeth.⁷ Our soul has escaped like a bird out of the fowler's snare. The snare is broken, and we have escaped.

125 Those who trust in Yahawah are as Mount Tzayawan, Which can't be moved, but remains forever.² As the mountains surround Yarawashalam, So Yahawah surrounds his people from this time forth and forevermore.³ For the scepter of wickedness won't remain over the allotment of the righteous; So that the righteous won't put forth their hands to iniquity.⁴ Do good, Yahawah, to those who are good, To those who are upright in their hearts.

126 When Yahawah brought back those who returned to Tzayawan, We were like those who dream.² Then our mouth was filled with laughter, And our tongue with singing. Then said they among the nations, "Yahawah has done great things for them."³ Yahawah has done great things for us, And we are glad.⁴ Restore our fortunes again, Yahawah, Like the streams in the Nagab.⁵ Those who sow in tears will reap in joy.

127 Unless Yahawah builds the house, They labor in vain who build it. Unless Yahawah watches over the city, The watchman guards it in vain.² It is vain for you to rise up early, To stay up late, Eating the bread of toil; For he gives sleep to his loved ones.³ Behold, children are a heritage of Yahawah. The fruit of the womb is his reward.⁴ As arrows in the hand of a mighty man, So are the children of youth.

128 Blessed is everyone who fears Yahawah, Who walks in his ways.² For you will eat the labor of your hands. You will be happy, and it will be well with you.³ Your wife will be as a fruitful vine, In the innermost parts of your house; Your children like olive plants, Around your table.⁴ Behold, thus is the man blessed who fears Yahawah.⁵ May Yahawah bless you out of Tzayawan, And may you see the good of Yarawashalam all the days of your life.

129 Many times have they afflicted me from my youth up. Let Yasharaal now say,² Many times have they afflicted me from my youth up, Yet they have not prevailed against me.³ The plowers plowed on my back. They made their furrows long.⁴ Yahawah is righteous. He has cut apart the cords of the wicked.⁵ Let them be put to shame and turned backward, All those who hate Tzayawan.⁶ Let them be as the grass on the housetops, Which withers before it grows up;⁷ With which the reaper doesn't fill his hand, Nor he who binds sheaves, his bosom.

130 Out of the depths I have cried to you, Yahawah.² Adanay, hear my voice. Let your ears be attentive to the voice of my petitions.³ If you, Yah, kept a record of sins, Adanay, who could stand?⁴ But there is forgiveness with you, Therefore you are feared.⁵ I wait for Yahawah. My soul waits. I hope in his word.⁶ My soul longs for the Adanay more than watchmen long for the morning; More than watchmen for the morning.⁷ Yasharaal, hope in

131 Yahawah, my heart isn't haughty, nor my eyes lofty; Neither do I concern myself with great matters, Or things too wonderful for me. ² Surely I have stilled and quieted my soul, Like a weaned child with his mother, Like a weaned child is my soul within me.

132 Yahawah, remember Dawad and all his affliction, ² How he swore to Yahawah, And vowed to the Mighty One of Yaiqab: ³ "Surely I will not come into the structure of my house, Nor go up into my bed; ⁴ I will not give sleep to my eyes, Or slumber to my eyelids; ⁵ Until I find out a place for Yahawah, A dwelling for the Mighty One of Yaiqab." ⁶ Behold, we heard of it in Aparathah. We found it in the field of Jaar: ⁷ "We will go into his dwelling place. We will worship at his footstool. ⁸ Arise, Yahawah, into your resting place; You, and the ark of your strength. ⁹ Let your priest be clothed with righteousness. Let your saints shout for joy!" ¹⁰ For your servant Dawad's sake, Don't turn away the face of your anointed one. ¹¹ Yahawah has sworn to Dawad in truth. He will not turn from it: "I will set the fruit of your body on your throne. ¹² If your children will keep my covenant, My testimony that I will teach them, Their children also will sit on your throne forevermore." ¹³ For Yahawah has chosen Tzayawan. He has desired it for his habitation. ¹⁴ "This is my resting place forever. Here I will live, for I have desired it. ¹⁵ I will abundantly bless her provision. I will satisfy her poor with bread. ¹⁶ Her priests I will also clothe with salvation. Her saints will shout aloud for joy. ¹⁷ There I will make the horn of Dawad to bud. I have ordained a lamp for my anointed.

133 See how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to live together in unity! ² It is like the precious oil on the head, That ran down on the beard, Even Aharan's beard; That came down on the edge of his robes;

134 Look! Praise Yahawah, all you servants of Yahawah, Who stand by night in Yahawah's house! ² Lift up your hands in the sanctuary. Praise Yahawah!

135 Praise Yah! Praise the name of Yahawah! Praise him, you servants of Yahawah, ² You who stand in the house of Yahawah, In the courts of our Alahayam's house. ³ Praise Yah, for Yahawah is good. Sing praises to his name, for that is pleasant. ⁴ For Yah has chosen Yaiqab for himself; Yasharaal for his own possession. ⁵ For I know that Yahawah is great, That our Adanay is above all gods. ⁶ Whatever Yahawah pleased, that he has done, In heaven and in earth, in the seas and in all deeps; ⁷ Who causes the clouds to rise from the ends of the earth; Who makes lightnings with the rain; Who brings forth the wind out of his treasures; ⁸ Who struck the firstborn of Matzarayam, Both of man and animal; ⁹ Who sent signs and wonders into the midst of you, Matzarayam, On Paraih, and on all his servants; ¹⁰ Who struck many nations, And killed mighty kings, ¹¹ Sayachawan king of the Amorites, Og king of Bashan, All the kingdoms of Kanain, ¹² And gave their land for a heritage, A heritage to Yasharaal, his people. ¹³ Your name, Yahawah, endures forever; Your renown, Yahawah, throughout all generations. ¹⁴ For Yahawah will judge his people, And have compassion on his servants. ¹⁵ The idols of the nations are silver and gold, The work of men's hands. ¹⁶ They have mouths, but they can't speak; They have eyes, but they can't see; ¹⁷ They have ears, but they can't hear; Neither is there any breath in their mouths. ¹⁸ Those who make them will be like them; Yes, everyone who trusts in them. ¹⁹ House of Yasharaal, praise Yahawah! House of Aharan, praise Yahawah! ²⁰ House of Laway, praise Yahawah! You who fear Yahawah, praise Yahawah!

136 Give thanks to Yahawah, for he is good; For his lovingkindness endures forever. ² Give thanks to the Alahayam of gods; For his lovingkindness endures forever. ³ Give thanks to the Adanay of lords; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ⁴ To him who alone does great wonders; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ⁵ To him who by understanding made the heavens; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ⁶ To him who spread out the earth above the waters; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ⁷ To him who made the great lights; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ⁸ The sun to rule by day; For his lovingkindness endures forever; ⁹ The moon and stars to rule by night; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ¹⁰ To him who struck down the Matzarayam firstborn; For his lovingkindness endures forever; ¹¹ And brought out Yasharaal from among them; For his lovingkindness endures forever; ¹² With a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ¹³ To him who divided the Sawap apart; For his lovingkindness endures forever; ¹⁴ Made Yasharaal to pass through the midst of it; For his lovingkindness endures forever; ¹⁵ But overthrew Paraih and his host in the Sawap; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ¹⁶ To him who led his people through the wilderness; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ¹⁷ To him who struck great kings; For his lovingkindness endures forever; ¹⁸ And killed mighty kings; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ¹⁹ Sayachawan king of the Amorites; For his lovingkindness endures forever; ²⁰ Og king of Bashan; For his lovingkindness endures forever; ²¹ And gave their land as an inheritance; For his lovingkindness endures forever; ²² Even a heritage to Yasharaal his servant; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ²³ Who remembered us in our low estate; For his lovingkindness endures forever; ²⁴ And has delivered us from our adversaries; For his lovingkindness endures forever: ²⁵ Who gives food to every creature; For his lovingkindness endures forever.

137 By the rivers of Babal, there we sat down. Yes, we wept, when we remembered Tzayawan. ² On the willows in the midst of it, We hung up our harps. ³ For there, those who led us captive asked us for songs. Those who tormented us demanded songs of joy: "Sing us one of the songs of Tzayawan!" ⁴ How can we sing Yahawah's song in a foreign land? ⁵ If I forget you, Yarawashalam, Let my right hand forget its skill. ⁶ Let my tongue stick to the roof of my mouth, If I don't remember you; If I don't prefer Yarawashalam above my chief joy. ⁷ Remember, Yahawah, against the children of Adawam, The day of Yarawashalam; Who said, "Raze it! Raze it even to its foundation!" ⁸ Daughter of Babal, doomed to destruction, He will be happy who rewards you, As you have served us.

138 I will give you thanks with my whole heart. Before the gods, I will sing praises to you. ² I will bow down toward your holy temple, And give thanks to your Name for your lovingkindness and for your truth; For you have exalted your Name and your Word above all. ³ In the day that I called, you answered me. You encouraged me with strength in my soul. ⁴ All the kings of the earth will give you thanks, Yahawah, For they have heard the words of your mouth. ⁵ Yes, they will sing of the ways of Yahawah; For great is Yahawah's glory. ⁶ For though Yahawah is high, yet he looks after the lowly; But the proud, he knows from afar. ⁷ Though I walk in the midst of trouble, you will revive me. You will stretch forth your hand against the wrath of my enemies. Your right hand will save me.

139 Yahawah, you have searched me, And you know me. ² You know my sitting down and my rising up. You perceive my thoughts from afar. ³ You search out my path and my lying down, And are acquainted with all my ways. ⁴ For there is not a word on my tongue, But, behold, Yahawah, you know it altogether. ⁵ You hem me in behind and before. You laid your hand on me. ⁶ This knowledge is beyond me. It is lofty. I can't attain it. ⁷ Where could I go from your Spirit? Or where could I flee from your presence? ⁸ If I ascend up into heaven, you are there. If I make my bed in Sheol, behold, you are there! ⁹ If I take the wings of the dawn, And settle in the uttermost parts of the sea; ¹⁰ Even there your hand will lead me, And your right hand will hold me. ¹¹ If I say, "Surely the darkness will overwhelm me; The light around me will be night;" ¹² Even the darkness doesn't hide from you, But the night shines as the day. The darkness is like light to you. ¹³ For you formed my inmost being. You knit me together in my mother's womb. ¹⁴ I will give thanks to you, For I am fearfully and wonderfully made. Your works are wonderful. My soul knows that very well.¹⁵ My frame wasn't hidden from you, When I was made in secret, Woven together in the depths of the earth.¹⁶ Your eyes saw my body. In your book they were all written, The days that were ordained for me, When as yet there were none of them.¹⁷ How precious to me are your thoughts, Alahayam! How vast is the sum of them!¹⁸ If I would count them, they are more in number than the sand. When I wake up, I am still with you.¹⁹ If only you, Alahayam, would kill the wicked. Get away from me, you bloodthirsty men!²⁰ For they speak against you wickedly. Your enemies take your name in vain.²¹ Yahawah, don't I hate those who hate you? Am I not grieved with those who rise up against you?²² I hate them with perfect hatred. They have become my enemies.²³ Search me, Alahayam, and know my heart. Try me, and know my thoughts.

140 Deliver me, Yahawah, from the evil man. Preserve me from the violent man;² Those who devise mischief in their hearts. They continually gather themselves together for war.³ They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent. Viper's poison is under their lips. Selah.⁴ Yahawah, keep me from the hands of the wicked. Preserve me from the violent men: Who have determined to trip my feet.⁵ The proud have hidden a snare for me, They have spread the cords of a net by the path. They have set traps for me. Selah.⁶ I said to Yahawah, "You are my Alahayam." Listen to the cry of my petitions, Yahawah.⁷ Yahawah, the Adanay, the strength of my salvation, You have covered my head in the day of battle.⁸ Yahawah, don't grant the desires of the wicked. Don't let their evil plans succeed, or they will become proud. Selah.⁹ As for the head of those who surround me, Let the mischief of their own lips cover them.¹⁰ Let burning coals fall on them. Let them be thrown into the fire, Into miry pits, from where they never rise.¹¹ An evil speaker won't be established in the earth. Awayal will hunt the violent man to overthrow him.¹² I know that Yahawah will maintain the cause of the afflicted, And justice for the needy.¹³ Surely the righteous will give thanks to your name. The upright will dwell in your presence. Psalm 141 A Psalm by Dawad.

141 Yahawah, I have called on you. Come to me quickly! Listen to my voice when I call to you.² Let my prayer be set before you like incense; The lifting up of my hands like the evening sacrifice.³ Set a watch, Yahawah, before my mouth. Keep the door of my lips.⁴ Don't incline my heart to any evil thing, To practice deeds of wickedness with men who work iniquity. Don't let me eat of their delicacies.⁵ Let the righteous strike me, it is kindness; Let him reprove me, it is like oil on the head; Don't let my head refuse it; Yet my prayer is always against evil deeds.⁶ Their judges are thrown down by the sides of the rock. They will hear my words, for they are well spoken.⁷ "As when one plows and breaks up the earth, Our bones are scattered at the mouth of Sheol."⁸ For my eyes are on you, Yahawah, the Adanay. In you, I take refuge. Don't leave my soul destitute.⁹ Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, From the traps of the workers of iniquity.

142 I cry with my voice to Yahawah. With my voice, I ask Yahawah for mercy.² I pour out my complaint before him. I tell him my troubles.³ When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, You knew my path. In the way in which I walk, They have hidden a snare for me.⁴ Look on my right, and see; For there is no one who is concerned for me. Refuge has fled from me. No one cares for my soul.⁵ I cried to you, Yahawah. I said, "You are my refuge, My portion in the land of the living."⁶ Listen to my cry, For I am in desperate need. Deliver me from my persecutors, For they are stronger than me.⁷ Bring my soul out of prison, That I may give thanks to your name. The righteous will surround me, For you will be good to me. Psalm 143 A Psalm by Dawad.

143 Hear my prayer, Yahawah. Listen to my petitions. In your faithfulness and righteousness, relieve me.² Don't enter into judgment with your servant, For in your sight no man living is righteous.³ For the enemy pursues my soul. He has struck my life down to the ground. He has made me live in dark places, as those who have been long dead.⁴ Therefore my spirit is overwhelmed within me. My heart within me is desolate.⁵ I remember the days of old. I meditate on all your doings. I contemplate the work of your hands.⁶ I spread forth my hands to you. My soul thirsts for you, like a parched land. Selah.⁷ Hurry to answer me, Yahawah. My spirit fails. Don't hide your face from me, So that I don't become like those who go down into the pit.⁸ Cause me to hear your lovingkindness in the morning, For I trust in you. Cause me to know the way in which I should walk, For I lift up my soul to you.⁹ Deliver me, Yahawah, from my enemies. I flee to you to hide me.¹⁰ Teach me to do your will, For you are my Alahayam. Your Spirit is good. Lead me in the land of uprightness.¹¹ Revive me, Yahawah, for your name's sake. In your righteousness, bring my soul out of trouble.

144 Blessed be Yahawah, my rock, Who teaches my hands to war, And my fingers to battle;² My lovingkindness, my fortress, My high tower, my deliverer, My shield, and he in whom I take refuge; Who subdues my people under me.³ Yahawah, what is man, that you care for him? Or the son of man, that you think of him?⁴ Man is like a breath. His days are like a shadow that passes away.⁵ Part your heavens, Yahawah, and come down. Touch the mountains, and they will smoke.⁶ Throw out lightning, and scatter them. Send out your arrows, and rout them.⁷ Stretch out your hand from above, Rescue me, and deliver me out of great waters, Out of the hands of foreigners;⁸ Whose mouths speak deceit, Whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.⁹ I will sing a new song to you, Alahayam. On a ten-stringed lyre, I will sing praises to you.¹⁰ You are he who gives salvation to kings, Who rescues Dawad, his servant, from the deadly sword.¹¹ Rescue me, and deliver me out of the hands of foreigners, Whose mouths speak deceit, Whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.¹² Then our sons will be like well-nurtured plants, Our daughters like pillars carved to adorn a palace.¹³ Our barns are full, filled with all kinds of provision. Our sheep bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our fields.¹⁴ Our oxen will pull heavy loads. There is no breaking in, and no going away, And no outcry in our streets.

145 I will exalt you, my Alahayam, the King. I will praise your name forever and ever.² Every day I will praise you. I will extol your name forever and ever.³ Great is Yahawah, and greatly to be praised! His greatness is unsearchable.⁴ One generation will commend your works to another, And will declare your mighty acts.⁵ Of the glorious majesty of your honor, Of your wondrous works, I will meditate.⁶ Men will speak of the might of your awesome acts. I will declare your greatness.⁷ They will utter the memory of your great goodness, And will sing of your righteousness.⁸ Yahawah is gracious, merciful, Slow to anger, and of great lovingkindness.⁹ Yahawah is good to all. His tender mercies are over all his works.¹⁰ All your works will give thanks to you, Yahawah. Your saints will extol you.¹¹ They will speak of the glory of your kingdom, And talk about your power;¹² To make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, The glory of the majesty of his kingdom.¹³ Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom. Your dominion endures throughout all generations.¹⁴ Yahawah upholds all who fall, And raises up all those who are bowed down.¹⁵ The eyes of all wait for you. You give them their food in due season.¹⁶ You open your hand, And satisfy the desire of every living thing.¹⁷ Yahawah is righteous in all his ways, And gracious in all his works.¹⁸ Yahawah is near to all those who call on him, To all who call on him in truth.¹⁹ He will fulfill the desire of those who fear him. He also will hear their cry, and will save them.²⁰ Yahawah preserves all those who love him, But all the wicked he will destroy.

146 Praise Yah! Praise Yahawah, my soul.² While I live, I will praise Yahawah. I will sing praises to my Alahayam as long as I exist.³ Don't put your trust in princes, Each a son of man in whom there is no help.⁴ His spirit departs, and he returns to the earth. In that very day, his thoughts perish.⁵ Happy is he who has the Alahayam of Yaiqab for his help, Whose hope is in Yahawah, his Alahayam: ⁶ Who made heaven and earth, The sea, and all that is in them; Who keeps truth forever; ⁷ Who executes justice for the oppressed; Who gives food to the hungry. Yahawah frees the prisoners. ⁸ Yahawah opens the eyes of the blind. Yahawah raises up those who are bowed down. Yahawah loves the righteous. ⁹ Yahawah preserves the sojourners. He upholds the fatherless and widow, But the way of the wicked he turns upside down.

147 Praise Yah, For it is good to sing praises to our Alahayam; For it is pleasant and fitting to praise him. ² Yahawah builds up Yarawashalam. He gathers together the outcasts of Yasharaal. ³ He heals the broken in heart, And binds up their wounds. ⁴ He counts the number of the stars. He calls them all by their names. ⁵ Great is our Adanay, and mighty in power. His understanding is infinite. ⁶ Yahawah upholds the humble. He brings the wicked down to the ground. ⁷ Sing to Yahawah with thanksgiving. Sing praises on the harp to our Alahayam, ⁸ Who covers the sky with clouds, Who prepares rain for the earth, Who makes grass grow on the mountains. ⁹ He provides food for the cattle, And for the young ravens when they call. ¹⁰ He doesn't delight in the strength of the horse. He takes no pleasure in the legs of a man. ¹¹ Yahawah takes pleasure in those who fear him, In those who hope in his lovingkindness. ¹² Praise Yahawah, Yarawashalam! Praise your Alahayam, Tzayawan! ¹³ For he has strengthened the bars of your gates. He has blessed your children within you. ¹⁴ He makes peace in your borders. He fills you with the finest of the wheat. ¹⁵ He sends out his commandment on earth. His word runs very swiftly. ¹⁶ He gives snow like wool, And scatters frost like ashes. ¹⁷ He hurls down his hail like pebbles. Who can stand before his cold? ¹⁸ He sends out his word, and melts them. He causes his wind to blow, and the waters flow. ¹⁹ He shows his word to Yaiqab; His statutes and his ordinances to Yasharaal.

148 Praise Yah! Praise Yahawah from the heavens! Praise him in the heights! ² Praise him, all his angels! Praise him, all his host! ³ Praise him, sun and moon! Praise him, all you shining stars! ⁴ Praise him, you heavens of heavens, You waters that are above the heavens. ⁵ Let them praise the name of Yahawah, For he commanded, and they were created. ⁶ He has also established them forever and ever. He has made a decree which will not pass away. ⁷ Praise Yahawah from the earth, You great sea creatures, and all depths! ⁸ Lightning and hail, snow and clouds; Stormy wind, fulfilling his word; ⁹ Mountains and all hills; Fruit trees and all cedars; ¹⁰ Wild animals and all cattle; Small creatures and flying birds; ¹¹ Kings of the earth and all peoples; Princes and all judges of the earth; ¹² Both young men and maidens; Old men and children: ¹³ Let them praise the name of Yahawah, For his name alone is exalted. His glory is above the earth and the heavens.

149 Praise Yahawah! Sing to Yahawah a new song, His praise in the assembly of the saints. ² Let Yasharaal rejoice in him who made them. Let the children of Tzayawan be joyful in their King. ³ Let them praise his name in the dance! Let them sing praises to him with tambourine and harp! ⁴ For Yahawah takes pleasure in his people. He crowns the humble with salvation. ⁵ Let the saints rejoice in honor. Let them sing for joy on their beds. ⁶ May the high praises of Alahayam be in their mouths, And a two-edged sword in their hand; ⁷ To execute vengeance on the nations, And punishments on the peoples; ⁸ To bind their kings with chains, And their nobles with fetters of iron;

150 Praise Yah! Praise Alahayam in his sanctuary! Praise him in his heavens for his acts of power! ² Praise him for his mighty acts! Praise him according to his excellent greatness! ³ Praise him with the sounding of the trumpet! Praise him with harp and lyre! ⁴ Praise him with tambourine and dancing! Praise him with stringed instruments and flute! ⁵ Praise him with loud cymbals! Praise him with resounding cymbals!

1 I cried to the Adanay when I was in distress [], To Alahayam when sinners assailed. 2 Suddenly the alarm of war was heard before me; (I said), He will hearken to me, for I am full of righteousness. 3 I thought in my heart that I was full of righteousness, Because I was well off and had become rich in children. 4 Their wealth spread to the whole earth, And their glory to the end of the earth. 5 They were exalted to the stars; They said they would never fall. 6 But they became insolent in their prosperity, And they were without understanding, 7 Their sins were in secret, And even I had no knowledge (of them). 8 Their transgressions (went) beyond those of the heathen before them; They utterly polluted the holy things of the Adanay.

2 A Psalm Of Shalahmah. Concerning Yarawashalam. 1 When the sinner waxed proud, with a battering-Ram he cast down fortified walls, And You did not restrain (him). 2 Alien nations ascended Your altar, They trampled (it) proudly with their sandals; 3 Because the sons of Yarawashalam had defiled the holy things of the Adanay, Had profaned with iniquities the offerings of Alahayam. 4 Therefore He said: Cast them far from Me; 5 It was set at naught before Alahayam, It was utterly dishonoured; 6 The sons and the daughters were in grievous captivity, Sealed () (was) their neck, branded () (was it) among the nations. 7 According to their sins has He done to them, For He has left them in the hands of them that prevailed. 8 He has turned away His face from pitying them, Young and old and their children together; 9 For they had done evil one and all, in not hearkening. 10 And the heavens were angry, And the earth abhorred them; 11 For no man upon it had done what they did, 12 And the earth recognized all Your righteous judgments, O Alahayam. 13 They set the sons of Yarawashalam to be mocked at in return for (the) harlots in her; Every wayfarer entered in in the full light of day. 14 They made mock with their transgressions, as they themselves were wont to do; In the full light of day they revealed their iniquities. 15 Because they had defiled themselves with unnatural intercourse. 16 (And yet) I will justify You, O Alahayam, in uprightness of heart, For in Your judgments is Your righteousness (displayed), O Alahayam. 17 For You have rendered to the sinners according to their deeds, Yea according to their sins, which were very wicked. 18 You have uncovered their sins, that Your judgment might be manifest; You have wiped out their memorial from the earth. 19 For the nations reproached Yarawashalam, trampling it down; Her beauty was dragged down from the throne of glory. 20 She girded on sackcloth instead of comely raiment, A rope (was) about her head instead of a crown. 21 She put off the glorious diadem which Alahayam had set upon her, In dishonor was her beauty cast upon the ground. 22 And I saw and entreated the Adanay and said, Long enough, O Adanay, has Your hand been heavy on Yasharaal, in bringing the nations upon (them). 23 For they have made sport unsparingly in wrath and fierce anger; And they will make an utter end, unless You, O Adanay, rebuke them in Your wrath. 24 For they have done it not in zeal, but in lust of soul, Pouring out their wrath upon us with a view to rapine. 25 Delay not, O Alahayam, to recompense them on (their) heads, To turn the pride of the dragon into dishonour. 26 And I had not long to wait before Alahayam showed me the insolent one Slain on the mountains of Matzarayam, Esteemed of less account than the least on land and sea; 27 His body, (too,) borne here and there on the billows with much insolence, With none to bury (him), because He had rejected him with dishonour. 28 He reflected not that he was man. And reflected not on the latter end; 29 He said: I will be lord of land and sea; And he recognized not that it is Alahayam who is great, Mighty in His great strength. 30 He is king over the heavens,

And judges kings and kingdoms. 31 (It is He) who sets me up in glory, And brings down the proud to eternal destruction in dishonour, Because they knew Him not. 32 And now behold, you princes of the earth, the judgment of the Adanay, For a great king and righteous (is He), judging (all) that is under heaven. 33 Bless Alahayam, you that fear the Adanay with wisdom, For the mercy of the Adanay will be upon them that fear Him, in the Judgment; 34 So that He will distinguish between the righteous and the sinner, (And) recompense the sinners for ever according to their deeds; 35 And have mercy on the righteous, (delivering him) from the affliction of the sinner, And recompensing the sinner for what he has done to the righteous. 36 For the Adanay is good to them that call upon Him in patience, Doing according to His mercy to His pious ones, Establishing (them) at all times before Him in strength. 37 Blessed be the Adanay for ever before His servants.

3 A Psalm of Shalahmah concerning the righteous. 1 Why sleep you, O my soul, And bless not the Adanay? 2 Sing a new song, To Alahayam who is worthy to be praised. Sing and be wakeful against His awaking, For good is a psalm (sung) to Alahayam from a glad heart. 3 The righteous remember the Adanay at all times, With thanksgiving and declaration of the righteousness of the Adanay's judgments. 4 The righteous despises not the chastening of the Adanay; His will is always before the Adanay. 5 The righteous stumbles and holds the Adanay righteous: He falls and looks out for what Alahayam will do to him; 6 He seeks out whence his deliverance will come. 7 The steadfastness of the righteous is from Alahayam their deliverer; There lodgeth not in the house of the righteous sin upon sin. 8 The righteous continually searcheth his house, To remove utterly (all) iniquity (done) by him in error. 9 He makes atonement for (sins of) ignorance by fasting and afflicting his soul, 10 And the Adanay counts guiltless every pious man and his house. 11 The sinner stumbles and curses his life, The day when he was begotten, and his mother's travail. 12 He adds sins to sins, while he lives (); He falls—truly grievous is his fall—and rises no more. 13 The destruction of the sinner is for ever, And he shall not be remembered, when the righteous is visited. 14 This is the portion of sinners for ever. 15 But they that fear the Adanay shall rise to life eternal, And their life (shall be) in the light of the Adanay, and shall come to an end no more.

4 A Conversation of Shalahmah with the Men-pleasers. 1 Therefore sit you, O profane (man), in the council of the pious, Seeing that your heart is far removed from the Adanay, Provoking with transgressions the Alahayam of Yasharaal. 2 Extravagant in speech, extravagant in outward seeming beyond all (men), Is he that is severe of speech in condemning sinners in judgment. 3 And his hand is first upon him as (though he acted) in zeal, And (yet) he is himself guilty in respect of manifold sins and of wantonness. 4 His eyes are upon every woman without distinction; His tongue lies when he makes contract with an oath. 5 By night and in secret he sins as though unseen, With his eyes he talketh to every woman of evil compacts. 6 He is swift to enter every house with cheerfulness as though guileless. 7 Let Alahayam remove those that live in hypocrisy in the company of the pious, (Even) the life of such an one with corruption of his flesh and penury. 8 Let Alahayam reveal the deeds of the men-pleasers, The deeds of such an one with laughter and derision; 9 That the pious may count righteous the judgment of their Alahayam, When sinners are removed from before the righteous, 10 (Even the) man-pleaser who uttereth law guilefully. 11 And their eyes (are fixed) upon any man's house that is (still) secure, That they may, like (the) Serpent, destroy the wisdom of . . . with words of transgressors, 12 His words are deceitful that

(he) may accomplish (his) wicked desire.¹³ He never ceases from scattering (families) as though (they were) orphans,¹⁴ He deceives with words, (saying), There is none that sees, or judges.¹⁵ He fills one (house) with lawlessness, And (then) his eyes (are fixed) upon the next house, To destroy it with words that give wing to (desire).¹⁶ Let his portion, O Adanay, be dishonoured before you; Let him go forth groaning and come home cursed.¹⁷ Let his life be (spent) in anguish, and penury, and want, O Adanay; Let his sleep be (beset) with pains and his awaking with perplexities.¹⁸ Let sleep be withdrawn from his eyelids at night; Let him fail dishonorably in every work of his hands.¹⁹ Let him come home empty-handed to his house, And his house be void of everything wherewith he could sate his appetite.²⁰ (Let) his old age (be spent) in childless loneliness until his removal (by death).²¹ Let the flesh of the men-pleasers be rent by wild beasts, And (let) the bones of the lawless (lie) dishonored in the sight of the sun.²² Let ravens peck out the eyes of the hypocrites.²³ For they have laid waste many houses of men, in dishonor, And scattered (them) in (their) lust;²⁴ And they have not remembered Alahayam, Nor feared Alahayam in all these things;²⁵ But they have provoked Alahayam's anger and vexed Him.²⁶ May He remove them from off the earth, Because with deceit they beguiled the souls of the flawless.²⁷ Blessed are they that fear the Adanay in their flawlessness;²⁸ The Adanay shall deliver them from guileful men and sinners, And deliver us from every stumbling-block of the lawless (men).²⁹ Let Your mercy, O Adanay, be upon all them that love You.

5 A Psalm of Shalamah¹ O Adanay Alahayam, I will praise Your name with joy, In the midst of them that know Your righteous judgments.² For You are good and merciful, the refuge of the poor;³ When I cry to You, do not silently disregard me.⁴ For no man takes spoil from a mighty man;⁵ Who, then, can take aught of all that You have made, except You Yourself give.⁶ For man and his portion (lie) before You in the balance; He cannot add to, so as to enlarge, what has been prescribed by You.⁷ O Alahayam, when we are in distress we call upon You for help, And You do not turn back our petition, for You are our Alahayam.⁸ Cause not Your hand to be heavy upon us, Lest through necessity we sin.⁹ Even though You restore us not, we will not keep away; But to You will we come.¹⁰ For if I hunger, to You will I cry, O Alahayam; And You will give to me.¹¹ Birds and fish do you nourish, In that You give rain to the steppes that green grass may spring up, (So) to prepare fodder in the steppe for every living thing;¹² And if they hunger, to You do they lift up their face.¹³ Kings and rulers and peoples You do nourish, O Alahayam; And who is the help of the poor and needy, if not You, O Adanay.¹⁴ And You will hearken -for who is good and gentle but You— Making glad the soul of the humble by opening Your hand in mercy.¹⁵ Man's goodness is (bestowed) grudgingly and . . .; And if he repeat (it) without murmuring, even that is marvelous.¹⁶ But Your gift is great in goodness and wealth, And he whose hope is (set) on You shall have no lack of gifts.¹⁷ Upon the whole earth is Your mercy, O Adanay, in goodness.¹⁸ Happy is he whom Alahayam remembers in (granting to him) a due sufficiency;¹⁹ If a man abound over much, he sins.²⁰ Sufficient are moderate means with righteousness, And hereby the blessing of the Adanay (becomes) abundance with righteousness.²¹ They that fear the Adanay rejoice in good (gifts), And Your goodness is upon Yasharaal in Your kingdom. Blessed is the glory of the Adanay for He is our king.

6 In Hope. Of Shalamah.¹ Happy is the man whose heart is fixed to call upon the name of the Adanay;² When he remembers the name of the Adanay, he will be saved.³ His ways are made even by the Adanay, And the works of his hands are preserved by the Adanay his Alahayam.⁴ At what he sees in his bad dreams, his soul shall not be troubled;⁵ When he passes through rivers and the tossing of the seas, he shall not be dismayed.⁶ He arises from his sleep, and blesses the name of the Adanay;⁷ When his heart is at peace, he sings to the name of his Alahayam, And he entreates the Adanay for all his house.⁸ And the Adanay hears the prayer of every one that fears Alahayam, And every request of the soul that hopes for Him does the Adanay accomplish.⁹ Blessed is the Adanay, who shows mercy to those who love Him in sincerity.

7 Of Shalamah. Of turning.¹ Make not Your dwelling afar from us, O Alahayam; Lest they assail us that hate us without cause.² For You have rejected them, O Alahayam; Let not their foot trample upon Your holy inheritance.³ Chasten us Yourself in Your good pleasure; But give (us) not up to the nations;⁴ For, if You send pestilence, You Yourself give it charge concerning us; For You are merciful, And will not be angry to the point of consuming us.⁵ While Your name dwells in our midst, we shall find mercy;⁶ And the nations shall not prevail against us. For You are our shield,⁷ And when we call upon You, You hearken to us;⁸ For You will pity the seed of Yasharaal for ever And You will not reject (them): But we (shall be) under Your yoke for ever, And (under) the rod of Your chastening.⁹ You will establish us in the time that You help us, Showing mercy to the house of Yaiqab on the day wherein You did promise (to help them).

8 Of Shalamah. Of the chief Musician.¹ Distress and the sound of war has my ear heard; The sound of a trumpet announcing slaughter and calamity,² The sound of much people as of an exceeding high wind, As a tempest with mighty fire sweeping through the Nagab.³ And I said in my heart; Surely () Alahayam judges us;⁴ A sound I hear (moving) towards Yarawashalam, the holy city.⁵ My loins were broken at what I heard, my knees tottered;⁶ My heart was afraid, my bones were dismayed like flax.⁷ Alahayam laid bare their sins in the full light of day; All the earth came to know the righteous judgments of Alahayam.⁸ In secret places underground their iniquities (were committed) to provoke (Him) to anger;⁹ They wrought confusion, son with mother and father with daughter;¹⁰ They plundered the sanctuary of Alahayam, as though there was no avenger.¹¹ They trode the altar of the Adanay, (coming straight) from all manner of uncleanness; And with menstrual blood they defiled the sacrifices, as (though these were) common flesh.¹² They left no sin undone, wherein they surpassed not the heathen.¹³ Therefore Alahayam mingled for them a spirit of wandering; And gave them to drink a cup of undiluted wine, that they might become drunken.¹⁴ He brought him that is from the end of the earth, that smites mightily;¹⁵ He decreed () war against Yarawashalam, and against her land.¹⁶ The princes of the land went to meet him with joy: they said to him: Blessed be your way! Come you, enter you in with peace.¹⁷ They made the rough ways even, before his entering in; They opened the gates to Yarawashalam, they crowned its walls.¹⁸ As a father (enters) the house of his sons, (so) he entered (Yarawashalam) in peace; He established his feet (there) in great safety.¹⁹ He captured her fortresses and the wall of Yarawashalam;²⁰ For Alahayam Himself led him in safety, while they wandered.²¹ He destroyed their princes and every one wise in counsel; He poured out the blood of the inhabitants of Yarawashalam, like the water of uncleanness.²² He led away their sons and daughters, whom they had begotten in defilement.²³ They did according to their uncleanness, even as their fathers (had done): They defiled Yarawashalam and the things that had been hallowed to the name of Alahayam.²⁴ (But) Alahayam has shown Himself righteous in His judgments upon the nations of the earth;²⁵ And the pious (servants) of Alahayam are like innocent lambs in their midst.²⁶ Worthy to be praised is the Adanay that judges the whole earth in His righteousness.²⁷ Behold, now, O Alahayam, You have shown us Your judgment in Your righteousness;²⁸ Our eyes have seen Your judgments, O Alahayam.²⁹ For You are the Alahayam of righteousness, judging Yasharaal with chastening.³⁰ Turn, O Alahayam, Your mercy upon us, and have pity upon us;³¹ Gather together the dispersed of Yasharaal, with mercy and goodness; For Your faithfulness is with us.³² Overlook us not, O our Alahayam, lest the nations swallow us up, as though there were none to deliver.³³ But You are our Alahayam from the beginning, And upon You is our hope (set), O Adanay;³⁴ And we will not depart from You, For good are Your judgments upon us.³⁵ Ours and our children's be Your good pleasure for ever; O Adanay our Saviour, we shall never more be moved.³⁶ The Adanay is worthy to be praised for His

9 Of Shalamah. For rebuke. ¹ When Yasharaal was led away captive into a strange land, When they fell away from the Adanay who redeemed them, ² They were cast away from the inheritance, which Adanay had given them. ³ That You might be justified, O Alahayam, in Your righteousness by reason of our transgressions: ⁴ For You are a just judge over all the peoples of the earth. ⁵ For from Your knowledge none that does unjustly is hidden, ⁶ And the righteous deeds of Your pious ones (are) before You, O Adanay, Where, then, can a man hide himself from Your knowledge, O Alahayam ⁷ Our works are subject to our own choice and power To do right or wrong in the works of our hands ⁸ And in Your righteousness You visit the sons of men. ⁹ He that does righteousness lays up life for himself with the Adanay; And he that does wrongly forfeits his life to destruction; ¹⁰ For the judgments of the Adanay are (given) in righteousness to (every) man and (his) house. ¹² He cleanses from sins a soul when it makes confession, when it makes acknowledgement; ¹³ For shame is upon us and upon our faces on account of all these things. ¹⁴ And to whom does He forgive sins, except to them that have sinned ¹⁵ You bless the righteous, and do not reprove them for the sins that they have committed; And Your goodness is upon them that sin, when they repent. ¹⁶ And, now, You are our Alahayam, and we the people whom You have loved: Behold and show pity, O Alahayam of Yasharaal, for we are Your; And remove not Your mercy from us, lest they assail us. ¹⁷ For You did choose the seed of Abaraham before all the nations, And did set Your name upon us, O Adanay, ¹⁸ And You will not reject (us) for ever. You made a covenant with our fathers concerning us; ¹⁹ And we hope in You, when our soul turns (to You). The mercy of the Adanay be upon the house of Yasharaal for ever and ever.

10 A Hymn Of Shalamah. ¹ Happy is the man whom the Adanay remembers with reproofing, And whom He restrains from the way of evil with strokes, That he may be cleansed from sin, that it may not be multiplied. ² He that makes ready his back for strokes shall be cleansed, For the Adanay is good to them that endure chastening. ³ For He makes straight the ways of the righteous, And does not pervert (them) by His chastening. ⁴ And the mercy of the Adanay (is) upon them that love Him in truth, ⁵ For the testimony (is) in the law of the eternal covenant, The testimony of the Adanay (is) on the ways of men in (His) visitation. ⁶ Just and kind is our Adanay in His judgments for ever, And Yasharaal shall praise the name of the Adanay in gladness. ⁷ And the pious shall give thanks in the assembly of the people; And on the poor shall Alahayam have mercy in the gladness () of Yasharaal; ⁸ For good and merciful is Alahayam for ever, And the assemblies of Yasharaal shall glorify the name of the Adanay. The salvation of the Adanay be upon the house of Yasharaal to everlasting gladness!

11 Of Shalamah. To expectation. ¹ Blow you in Tzayawan on the trumpet to summon (the) saints, ² Cause you to be heard in Yarawashalam the voice of him that brings good tidings; For Alahayam has had pity on Yasharaal in visiting them. ³ Stand on the height, O Yarawashalam, and behold your children, From the East and the West, gathered together by the Adanay; ⁴ From the North they come in the gladness of their Alahayam, From the isles afar off Alahayam has gathered them. ⁵ High mountains has He abased into a plain for them; ⁶ The hills fled at their entrance. ⁷ Every sweet-smelling tree Alahayam caused to spring up for them, That Yasharaal might pass by in the visitation of the glory of their Alahayam. ⁸ Pawat on, O Yarawashalam, your glorious garments; Make ready your holy robe; For Alahayam has spoken good concerning Yasharaal, for ever and ever. ⁹ Let the Adanay do what He has spoken concerning Yasharaal and Yarawashalam; Let the Adanay raise up Yasharaal by His glorious name. The mercy of the Adanay be upon Yasharaal for ever and ever.

12 Of Shalamah. Against the tongue of transgressors. ¹ O Adanay, deliver my soul from (the) lawless and wicked man, From the tongue that is lawless and slanderous, and speaks lies and deceit. ² Manifoldly twisted () are the words of the tongue of the wicked man, Even as among a people a fire that burns up their beauty. ³ So he delights to fill houses with a lying tongue, To cut down the trees of gladness which sets on fire transgressors, ⁴ To involve households in warfare by means of slanderous lips. May Alahayam remove far from the innocent the lips of transgressors by (bringing them to) want And may the bones of slanderers be scattered (far) away from them that fear the Adanay! ⁵ In flaming fire perish the slanderous tongue (far) away from the pious! ⁶ May the Adanay preserve the quiet soul that hates the unrighteous; And may the Adanay establish the man that follows peace at home. ⁷ The salvation of the Adanay be upon Yasharaal His servant for ever; And let the sinners perish together at the presence of the Adanay; But let the Adanay's pious ones inherit the promises of the Adanay.

13 Of Shalamah. A Psalm. Comfort for the righteous. ¹ The right hand of the Adanay has covered me; The right hand of the Adanay has spared us. ² The arm of the Adanay has saved us from the sword that passed through, From famine and the death of sinners. ³ Noisome beasts ran upon them: With their teeth they tore their flesh, And with their molars crushed their bones. ⁴ The righteous was troubled on account of his errors, Lest he should be taken away along with the sinners; ⁵ For terrible is the overthrow of the sinner; But not one of all these things touches the righteous. ⁶ For not alike are the chastening of the righteous (for sins done) in ignorance, And the overthrow of the sinners. ⁷ Secretly () is the righteous chastened, Lest the sinner rejoice over the righteous. ⁸ For He correcteth the righteous as a beloved son, And his chastisement is as that of a firstborn. ⁹ For the Adanay spareth His pious ones, And blotteth out their errors by His chastening. ¹⁰ But sinners shall be taken away into destruction, And their memorial shall be found no more. ¹¹ But upon the pious is the mercy of the Adanay, And upon them that fear Him His mercy.

14 A Hymn. Of Shalamah. ¹ Faithful is the Adanay to them that love Him in truth, To them that endure His chastening, ² The pious of the Adanay shall live by it for ever; The Paradise of the Adanay, the trees of life, are His pious ones. ³ Their planting is rooted for ever; They shall not be plucked up all the days of heaven: For the portion and the inheritance of Alahayam is Yasharaal. ⁴ But not so are the sinners and transgressors, Who love (the brief) day (spent) in companionship with their sin; Their delight is in fleeting corruption, ⁵ And they remember not Alahayam. For the ways of men are known before Him at all times, And He knows the secrets of the heart before they come to pass. ⁶ Therefore their inheritance is Sheol and darkness and destruction, And they shall not be found in the day when the righteous obtain mercy; ⁷ But the pious of the Adanay shall inherit life in gladness.

15 A Psalm. Of Shalamah. With a Song. ¹ When I was in distress I called upon the name of the Adanay, I hoped for the help of the Alahayam of Yaiqab and was saved; ² For the hope and refuge of the poor are you, O Alahayam. ⁴ And wherein is a man powerful except in giving thanks to Your name ⁹ For they shall flee away from the pious as men pursued in war; ¹⁰ For the mark of destruction is upon their forehead. ¹¹ And the inheritance of sinners is destruction and darkness, And their iniquities shall pursue them to Sheol beneath. ¹³ For sins shall lay waste the houses of sinners. ¹⁴ When Alahayam visits the earth with His judgment. ¹⁵ But they that fear the Adanay shall find mercy therein, And shall live by the compassion of their Alahayam; But sinners shall perish for ever.

16 A Hymn. Of Shalamah. For Help to the Pious. ¹ When my soul slumbered (being afar) from the Adanay, I had all but slipped down to the pit, When (I was) far from Alahayam, ² my soul had been well nigh poured out to death, (I had been) nigh to the gates of Sheol with the sinner, ³ when my soul departed from the Adanay Alahayam of Yasharaal— Had not the Adanay helped me with His everlasting mercy. ⁴ He pricked me, as a horse is pricked, that I might serve Him, My savior and helper at all times saved me. ⁵ I will give thanks to You, O Alahayam, for You have helped me to (my) salvation; And have not counted me with sinners to (my) destruction.⁶ Remove not Your mercy from me, O Alahayam, Nor Your memorial from my heart until I die.⁷ Rule me, O Alahayam, (keeping me back) from wicked sin, And from every wicked woman that causes the simple to stumble.⁸ And let not the beauty of a lawless woman beguile me, Nor any one that is subject to () unprofitable sin.⁹ Establish the works of my hands before You, And preserve my goings in the remembrance of You.¹⁰ Protect my tongue and my lips with words of truth; Anger and unreasoning wrath put far from me.¹¹ Murmuring, and impatience in affliction, remove far from me, When, if I sin, You chastenest me that I may return (to You).¹² But with goodwill and cheerfulness support my soul; When You strengthen my soul, what is given (to me) will be sufficient for me.¹³ For if You give not strength, Who can endure chastisement with poverty.¹⁴ When a man is rebuked by means of his corruption, Your testing (of him) is in his flesh and in the affliction of poverty.¹⁵ If the righteous endures in all these (trials), he shall receive mercy from the Adanay.

17 A Psalm. Of Shalamah. With Song. Of the King.¹ O Adanay, You are our King for ever and ever, For in You, O Alahayam, does our soul glory.² How long are the days of man's life upon the earth As are his days, so is the hope (set) upon him.³ But we hope in Alahayam, our deliverer; For the might of our Alahayam is for ever with mercy,⁴ And the kingdom of our Alahayam is for ever over the nations in judgment.⁵ They in no wise glorified Your honorable name;⁶ They laid waste the throne of Dawad in tumultuous arrogance.⁷ In that there rose up against them a man that was alien to our race.⁸ According to their sins did You recompense them, O Alahayam; So that it befell them according to their deeds.⁹ Alahayam showed them no pity; He sought out their seed and let not one of them go free.¹⁰ Faithful is the Adanay in all His judgments Which He does upon the earth.¹¹ The lawless one laid waste our land so that none inhabited it, They destroyed young and old and their children together.¹² In the heat of His anger He sent them away even to the west, And (He exposed) the rulers of the land unsparingly to derision.¹³ Being an alien the enemy acted proudly, And his heart was alien from our Alahayam.¹⁴ And all things [whatsoever he did in] Yarawashalam, As also the nations [in the cities to their gods.]¹⁵ And the children of the covenant in the midst of the mingled peoples [surpassed them in evil.] There was not among them one that wrought in the midst of Yarawashalam mercy and truth.¹⁶ They that loved the synagogues of the pious fled from them, As sparrows that fly from their nest.¹⁷ They wandered in deserts that their lives might be saved from harm, And precious in the eyes of them that lived abroad was any that escaped alive from them.¹⁸ Over the whole earth were they scattered by lawless (men).¹⁹ For the heavens withheld the rain from dropping upon the earth, Springs were stopped (that sprang) perennial(ly) out of the deeps, (that ran down) from lofty mountains. For there was none among them that wrought righteousness and justice;²⁰ The king was a transgressor, and the judge disobedient, and the people sinful.²¹ Behold, O Adanay, and raise up to them their king, the son of Dawad, At the time in the which You see, O Alahayam, that he may reign over Yasharaal Your servant.²² And gird him with strength, that he may shatter unrighteous rulers,²³ And that he may purge Yarawashalam from nations that trample (her) down to destruction.²⁴ he shall thrust out sinners from (the) inheritance, He shall destroy the pride of the sinner as a potter's vessel.²⁵ And he shall gather together a holy people, whom he shall lead in righteousness, And he shall judge the tribes of the people that has been sanctified by the Adanay his Alahayam.²⁶ And he shall not suffer unrighteousness to lodge any more in their midst, Nor shall there dwell with them any man that knows wickedness,²⁷ For he shall know them, that they are all sons of their Alahayam.²⁸ And neither sojourner nor alien shall sojourn with them any more.²⁹ And he shall have the heathen nations to serve him under his yoke; And he shall glorify the Adanay in a place to be seen of () all the earth;³⁰ And he shall purge

Yarawashalam, making it holy as of old:³¹ So that nations shall come from the ends of the earth to see his glory, Bringing as gifts her sons who had fainted,³² And to see the glory of the Adanay, wherewith Alahayam has glorified her.³³ And there shall be no unrighteousness in his days in their midst, For all shall be holy and their king the anointed of the Adanay.³⁴ For he shall not put his trust in horse and rider and bow, Nor shall he multiply for himself gold and silver for war, Nor shall he gather confidence from () a multitude () for the day of battle.³⁵ The Adanay Himself is his king, the hope of him that is mighty through (his) hope in Alahayam.³⁶ For he will smite the earth with the word of his mouth for ever.³⁷ He will bless the people of the Adanay with wisdom and gladness,³⁸ And he himself (will be) pure from sin, so that he may rule a great people. He will rebuke rulers, and remove sinners by the might of his word;³⁹ And (relying) upon his Alahayam, throughout his days he will not stumble; For Alahayam will make him mighty by means of (His) holy spirit, And wise by means of the spirit of understanding, with strength and righteousness.⁴⁰ And the blessing of the Adanay (will be) with him: he will be strong and stumble not;⁴¹ His hope (will be) in the Adanay: who then can prevail against him⁴² (He will be) shepherding the flock of the Adanay faithfully and righteously, And will suffer none among them to stumble in their pasture.⁴³ He will lead them all aright, And there will be no pride among them that any among them should be oppressed.⁴⁴ This (will be) the majesty of the king of Yasharaal whom Alahayam knows; He will raise him up over the house of Yasharaal to correct him.⁴⁵ His words (shall be) more refined than costly gold, the choicest; In the assemblies he will judge the peoples, the tribes of the sanctified.⁴⁶ His words (shall be) like the words of the holy ones in the midst of sanctified peoples.⁴⁷ Blessed be they that shall be in those days, In that they shall see the good fortune of Yasharaal which Alahayam shall bring to pass in the gathering together of the tribes.⁴⁸ May the Adanay hasten His mercy upon Yasharaal! May He deliver us from the uncleanness of unholy enemies! The Adanay Himself is our king for ever and ever.

18 A Psalm. Of Shalamah. Again of the Anointed of the Adanay.¹ Adanay, Your mercy is over the works of Your hands for ever; Your goodness is over Yasharaal with a rich gift.² Your eyes look upon them, so that none of them suffers want; Your ears listen to the hopeful prayer of the poor.³ Your judgments (are executed) upon the whole earth in mercy;⁴ And Your love (is) toward the seed of Abaraham, the children of Yasharaal.⁵ Your chastisement is upon us as (upon) a first-born, only-begotten son, To turn back the obedient soul from folly (that is wrought) in ignorance.⁶ May Alahayam cleanse Yasharaal against the day of mercy and blessing, Against the day of choice when He brings back His anointed.⁷ Blessed shall they be that shall be in those days, In that they shall see the goodness of the Adanay which He shall perform for the generation that is to come,⁸ Under the rod of chastening of the Adanay's anointed in the fear of his Alahayam, In the spirit of wisdom and righteousness and strength;⁹ That he may direct (every) man in the works of righteousness by the fear of Alahayam, That he may establish them all before the Adanay,¹⁰ A good generation (living) in the fear of Alahayam in the days of mercy. Selah.¹¹ Great is our Alahayam and glorious, dwelling in the highest.¹² (It is He) who has established in (their) courses the lights (of heaven) for determining seasons from year to year, And they have not turned aside from the way which He appointed them.¹³ In the fear of Alahayam (they pursue) their path every day, From the day Alahayam created them and for evermore.¹⁴ And they have erred not since the day He created them. Since the generations of old they have not withdrawn from their path, Unless Alahayam commanded them (so to do) by the command of His servants.

Odes of Solomon

1 The Adanay is on my head like a crown, and I shall never be without Him. ² Plaited for me is the crown of truth, and it caused Your branches to blossom in me. ³ For it is not like a parched crown that blossoms not; ⁴ For You live upon my head, and have blossomed upon me. ⁵ Your fruits are full and complete; they are full of Your salvation....

3 ... I am putting on the love of the Adanay. ² And His members are with Him, and I am dependent on them; and He loves me. ³ For I should not have known how to love the Adanay, if He had not continuously loved me. ⁴ Who is able to distinguish love, except him who is loved? ⁵ I love the Beloved and I myself love Him, and where His rest is, there also am I. ⁶ And I shall be no stranger, because there is no jealousy with the Adanay Ilayawan and Merciful. ⁷ I have been united to Him, because the lover has found the Beloved, because I love Him that is the Son, I shall become a son. ⁸ Indeed he who is joined to Him who is immortal, truly shall be immortal. ⁹ And he who delights in the Life will become living. ¹⁰ This is the Spirit of the Adanay, which is not false, which teaches the sons of men to know His ways. ¹¹ Be wise and understanding and awakened. ¹² Hallelujah.

4 No man can pervert Your holy place, O my Alahayam; nor can he change it, and put it in another place. ² Because he has no power over it; for Your sanctuary You designed before You made special places. ³ The ancient one shall not be perverted by those which are inferior to it. You have given Your heart, O Adanay, to Your believers. ⁴ Never will You be idle, nor will You be without fruits; ⁵ For one hour of Your faith is more excellent than all days and years. ⁶ For who shall put on Your grace and be rejected? ⁷ Because Your seal is known; and Your creatures are known to it. ⁸ And Your hosts possess it, and the elect archangels are clothed with it. ⁹ You have given to us Your fellowship, not that You were in need of us, but that we are always in need of You. ¹⁰ Shower upon us Your gentle rain, and open Your bountiful springs which abundantly supply us with milk and honey. ¹¹ For there is no regret with You; that You should regret anything which You have promised; ¹² Since the result was manifest to You. ¹³ For that which You gave, You gave freely, so that no longer will You draw back and take them again. ¹⁴ For all was manifest to You as Alahayam, and was set in order from the beginning before You. ¹⁵ And You, O Adanay, have made all. ¹⁶ Hallelujah.

5 I praise You, O Adanay, because I love You. ² O Ilayawan, forsake me not, for You are my hope. ³ Freely did I receive Your grace, may I live by it. ⁴ My persecutors will come but let them not see me. ⁵ Let a cloud of darkness fall upon their eyes; and let an air of thick darkness obscure them. ⁶ And let them have no light to see, so that they cannot seize me. ⁷ Let their designs become hardened, so that whatever they have conspired shall return upon their own heads. ⁸ For they have devised a plan, but it was not for them. ⁹ They prepared themselves maliciously, but they were found to be impotent. ¹⁰ Indeed my confidence is upon the Adanay, and I will not fear. ¹¹ And because the Adanay is my salvation, I will not fear. ¹² And He is as a woven crown upon my head, and I shall not be shaken. ¹³ Even if everything should be shaken, I shall stand firm. ¹⁴ And though all things visible should perish, I shall not die; ¹⁵ Because the Adanay is with me, and I with Him. ¹⁶ Hallelujah.

6 As the wind glides through the harp and the strings speak, ² So the Spirit of the Adanay speaks through my members, and I speak through His love. ³ For He destroys whatever is alien, and everything is of the Adanay. ⁴ For thus it was from the beginning, and will be until the end. ⁵ So that nothing shall be contrary, and nothing shall rise up against Him. ⁶ The Adanay has multiplied his knowledge, and He was zealous that those things should be known which through His grace have been given to us. ⁷ And His praise He gave us on account of His name, our spirits praise His Holy Spirit.

⁸ For there went forth a stream, and it became a river great and broad; indeed it carried away everything, and it shattered and brought it to the Temple. ⁹ And the barriers which were built by men were not able to restrain it, nor even the arts of them who habitually restrain water. ¹⁰ For it spread over the surface of all the earth, and it filled everything. ¹¹ Then all the thirsty upon the earth drank, and thirst was relieved and quenched; ¹² For from the Ilayawan the drink was given. ¹³ Blessed, therefore, are the ministers of that drink, who have been entrusted with His water. ¹⁴ They have refreshed the parched lips, and have aroused the paralyzed will. ¹⁵ Even living persons who were about to expire, they have held back from death. ¹⁶ And limbs which have collapsed, they have restored and set up. ¹⁷ They gave strength for their coming, and light for their eyes. ¹⁸ Because everyone recognized them as the Adanay's, and lived by the living water of eternity. ¹⁹ Hallelujah.

7 As is the course of anger over wickedness, so is the course of joy over the Beloved; and brings in of its fruits unhindered. ² My joy is the Adanay and my course is towards Him, this path of mine is beautiful. ³ For there is a Helper for me, the Adanay. He has generously shown Himself to me in His simplicity, because His kindness has diminished His dreadfulness. ⁴ He became like me, that I might receive Him. In form He was considered like me, that I might put Him on. ⁵ And I trembled not when I saw Him, because He was gracious to me. ⁶ Like my nature He became, that I might understand Him. And like my form, that I might not turn away from Him. ⁷ The Father of knowledge is the Word of knowledge. ⁸ He who created wisdom is wiser than His works. ⁹ And He who created me when yet I was not knew what I would do when I came into being. ¹⁰ On account of this He was gracious to me in His abundant grace, and allowed me to ask from Him and to benefit from His sacrifice. ¹¹ For He it is who is incorrupt, the perfection of the worlds and their Father. ¹² He has allowed Him to appear to them that are His own; in order that they may recognize Him that made them, and not suppose that they came of themselves. ¹³ For towards knowledge He has set His way, he has widened it and lengthened it and brought it to complete perfection. ¹⁴ And has set over it the traces of His light, and it proceeded from the beginning until the end. ¹⁵ For by Him He was served, and He was pleased by the Son. ¹⁶ And because of his salvation He will possess everything. And the Ilayawan will be known by His holy ones: ¹⁷ To announce to those who have songs of the coming of the Adanay, that they may go forth to meet Him and may sing to Him, with joy and with the harp of many tones. ¹⁸ The Seers shall go before Him, and they shall be seen before Him. ¹⁹ And they shall praise the Adanay in His love, because He is near and does see. ²⁰ And hatred shall be removed from the earth, and with jealousy it shall be drowned. ²¹ For ignorance was destroyed upon it, because the knowledge of the Adanay arrived upon it. ²² Let the singers sing the grace of the Adanay Ilayawan, and let them bring their songs. ²³ And let their heart be like the day, and their gentle voices like the majestic beauty of the Adanay. ²⁴ And let there not be anyone who breathes that is without knowledge or voice. ²⁵ For He gave a mouth to His creation: to open the voice of the mouth towards Him, and to praise Him. ²⁶ Confess His power and declare His grace. ²⁷ Hallelujah.

8 Open, open your hearts to the exultation of the Adanay, and let your love abound from the heart to the lips. ² In order to bring forth fruits to the Adanay, a holy life; and to talk with watchfulness in

His light.³ Rise up and stand erect, you who sometimes were brought low.⁴ You who were in silence, speak, for your mouth has been opened.⁵ You who were despised, from henceforth be lifted up, for your Righteousness has been lifted up;⁶ For the right hand of the Adanay is with you, and He will be your Helper.⁷ And peace was prepared for you, before what may be your war.⁸ Hear the word of truth, and receive the knowledge of the Ilayawan.⁹ Your flesh may not understand that which I am about to say to you; nor your garment that which I am about to show you.¹⁰ Keep my mystery, you who are kept by it; keep my faith, you who are kept by it.¹¹ And understand my knowledge, you who know me in truth; love me with affection, you who love;¹² For I turn not my face from my own, because I know them.¹³ And before they had existed, I recognized them; and imprinted a seal on their faces.¹⁴ I fashioned their members, and my own breasts I prepared for them, that they might drink my holy milk and live by it.¹⁵ I am pleased by them, and am not ashamed by them.¹⁶ For my workmanship are they, and the strength of my thoughts.¹⁷ Therefore who can stand against my work? Or who is not subject to them?¹⁸ I willed and fashioned mind and heart, and they are my own. And upon my right hand I have set my elect ones.¹⁹ And my righteousness goes before them, and they shall not be deprived of my name; for it is with them.²⁰ Pray and increase, and abide in the love of the Adanay;²¹ And you who were loved in the Beloved, and you who are kept in Him who lives, and you who are saved in Him who was saved.²² And you shall be found incorrupt in all ages, on account of the name of your Father.²³ Hallelujah.

9 Open your ears, and I shall speak to you.² Give me yourself, so that I may also give you myself.³ The word of the Adanay and His desires, the holy thought which He has thought concerning His Mashayach.⁴ For in the will of the Adanay is your life, and His purpose is eternal life, and your perfection is incorruptible.⁵ Be enriched in Alahayam the Father; and receive the purpose of the Ilayawan. Be strong and redeemed by His grace.⁶ For I announce peace to you, His holy ones, so that none of those who hear shall fall in the war.⁷ And also that those who have known Him may not perish, and so that those who received Him may not be ashamed.⁸ An everlasting crown is Truth; blessed are they who set it on their head.⁹ It is a precious stone, for the wars were on account of the crown.¹⁰ But Righteousness has taken it, and has given it to you.¹¹ Pawat on the crown in the true covenant of the Adanay, and all those who have conquered will be inscribed in His book.¹² For their book is the reward of victory which is for you, and she sees you before her and wills that you shall be saved.¹³ Hallelujah.

10 The Adanay has directed my mouth by His Word, and has opened my heart by His Light.² And He has caused to dwell in me His immortal life, and permitted me to proclaim the fruit of His peace.³ To convert the lives of those who desire to come to Him, and to lead those who are captive into freedom.⁴ I took courage and became strong and captured the world, and the captivity became mine for the glory of the Ilayawan, and of Alahayam my Father.⁵ And the Gentiles who had been dispersed were gathered together, but I was not defiled by my love for them, because they had praised me in high places.⁶ And the traces of light were set upon their heart, and they walked according to my life and were saved, and they became my people for ever and ever.⁷ Hallelujah.

11 My heart was pruned and its flower appeared, then grace sprang up in it, and my heart produced fruits for the Adanay.² For the Ilayawan circumcised me by His Holy Spirit, then He uncovered my inward being towards Him, and filled me with His love.³ And His circumcising became my salvation, and I ran in the Way, in His peace, in the way of truth.⁴ From the beginning until the end I received His knowledge.⁵ And I was established upon the rock of truth, where He had set me.⁶ And speaking waters touched my lips from the fountain of the Adanay generously.⁷ And so I drank and became intoxicated, from the living water that does not die.⁸ And my intoxication did not cause ignorance, but I abandoned vanity,⁹ And turned toward the Ilayawan, my Alahayam, and was enriched by His favors.¹⁰ And I rejected the folly cast upon the earth, and stripped it off and cast it from me.¹¹ And the Adanay renewed me with His garment, and possessed me by His light.¹² And from above He gave me immortal rest, and I became like the land that blossoms and rejoices in its fruits.¹³ And the Adanay is like the sun upon the face of the land.¹⁴ My eyes were enlightened, and my face received the dew;¹⁵ And my breath was refreshed by the pleasant fragrance of the Adanay.¹⁶ And He took me to His Paradise, wherein is the wealth of the Adanay's pleasure.¹⁷ I beheld blooming and fruit-bearing trees,¹⁸ And self-grown was their crown.¹⁹ Their branches were sprouting and their fruits were shining.²⁰ From an immortal land were their roots.²¹ And a river of gladness was irrigating them,²² And round about them in the land of eternal life.²³ Then I worshipped the Adanay because of His magnificence.²⁴ And I said, Blessed, O Adanay, are they who are planted in Your land, and who have a place in Your Paradise;²⁵ And who grow in the growth of Your trees, and have passed from darkness into light.²⁶ Behold, all Your laborers are fair, they who work good works, and turn from wickedness to your pleasantness.²⁷ For the pungent odor of the trees is changed in Your land,²⁸ And everything becomes a remnant of Yourself. Blessed are the workers of Your waters, and eternal memorials of Your faithful servants.²⁹ Indeed, there is much room in Your Paradise. And there is nothing in it which is barren, but everything is filled with fruit.³⁰ Glory be to You, O Alahayam, the delight of Paradise for ever.³¹ Hallelujah.

12 He has filled me with words of truth, that I may proclaim Him.² And like the flowing of waters, truth flows from my mouth, and my lips declare His fruits.³ And He has caused His knowledge to abound in me, because the mouth of the Adanay is the true Word, and the entrance of His light.⁴ And the Ilayawan has given Him to His generations, which are the interpreters of His beauty,⁵ And the narrators of His glory,⁶ And the confessors of His purpose,⁷ And the preachers of His mind,⁸ And the teachers of His works.⁹ For the subtlety of the Word is inexpressible, and like His utterance so also is His swiftness and His acuteness, for limitless is His progression.¹⁰ He never falls but remains standing, and one cannot comprehend His descent or His way.¹¹ For as His work is, so is His expectation, for He is the light and dawning of thought.¹² And by Him the generations spoke to one another, and those that were silent acquired speech.¹³ And from Him came love and equality, and they spoke one to another that which was theirs.¹⁴ And they were stimulated by the Word, and knew Him who made them, because they were in harmony.¹⁵ For the mouth of the Ilayawan spoke to them, and His exposition prospered through Him.¹⁶ For the dwelling place of the Word is man, and His truth is love.¹⁷ Blessed are they who by means of Him have perceived everything, and have known the Adanay in His truth.¹⁸ Hallelujah.

13 Behold, the Adanay is our mirror. Open your eyes and see them in Him.² And learn the manner of your face, then declare praises to His Spirit.³ And wipe the paint from your face, and love His holiness and put it on.⁴ Then you will be unblemished at all times with Him.⁵ Hallelujah.

14 As the eyes of a son upon his father, so are my eyes, O Adanay, at all times towards You.² Because my breasts and my pleasure are with You.³ Turn not aside Your mercies from me, O Adanay; and take not Your kindness from me.⁴ Stretch out to me, my Adanay, at all times, Your right hand, and be to me a guide till the end according to Your will.⁵ Let me be pleasing before You, because of Your glory, and because of Your name let me be saved from the Awayal One.⁶ And let Your gentleness, O Adanay, abide with me, and the fruits of Your love.⁷ Teach me the odes of Your truth, that I may produce fruits in You.⁸ And open to me the harp of Your Holy Spirit, so that with every note I may praise You, O Adanay.⁹ And according to the multitude of Your mercies, so grant to me, and hasten to grant our petitions.¹⁰ For You are sufficient for all our needs.¹¹ Hallelujah.

15 As the sun is the joy of them who seek its daybreak, so is my joy the Adanay; ² Because He is my Sun, and His rays have lifted me up; and His light has dismissed all darkness from my face. ³ Eyes I have obtained in Him, and have seen His holy day. ⁴ Ears I have acquired, and have heard His truth. ⁵ The thought of knowledge I have acquired, and have enjoyed delight fully through Him. ⁶ I repudiated the way of error, and went towards Him and received salvation from Him abundantly. ⁷ And according to His generosity He gave to me, and according to His excellent beauty He made me. ⁸ I put on immortality through His name, and took off corruption by His grace. ⁹ Death has been destroyed before my face, and Sheol has been vanquished by my word. ¹⁰ And eternal life has arisen in the Adanay's land, and it has been declared to His faithful ones, and has been given without limit to all that trust in Him. ¹¹ Hallelujah.

16 As the occupation of the ploughman is the ploughshare, and the occupation of the helmsman is the steering of the ship, so also my occupation is the psalm of the Adanay by His hymns. ² My art and my service are in His hymns, because His love has nourished my heart, and His fruits He poured to my lips. ³ For my love is the Adanay; hence I will sing to Him. ⁴ For I am strengthened by His praises, and I have faith in Him. ⁵ I will open my mouth, and His Spirit will speak through me the glory of the Adanay and His beauty. ⁶ The work of His hands, and the labor of His fingers; ⁷ For the multitude of His mercies, and the strength of His Word. ⁸ For the Word of the Adanay investigates that which is invisible, and reveals His thought. ⁹ For the eye sees His works, and the ear hears His thought. ¹⁰ It is He who made the earth broad, and placed the waters in the sea. ¹¹ He expanded the heaven, and fixed the stars. ¹² And He fixed the creation and set it up, then He rested from His works. ¹³ And created things run according to their courses, and work their works, for they can never cease nor fail. ¹⁴ And the hosts are subject to His Word. ¹⁵ The reservoir of light is the sun, and the reservoir of darkness is the night. ¹⁶ For He made the sun for the day so that it will be light; but night brings darkness over the face of the earth. ¹⁷ And by their portion one from another they complete the beauty of Alahayam. ¹⁸ And there is nothing outside of the Adanay, because He was before anything came to be. ¹⁹ And the worlds are by His Word, and by the thought of His heart. ²⁰ Praise and honor to His name. ²¹ Hallelujah.

17 Then I was crowned by my Alahayam, and my crown was living. ² And I was justified by my Adanay, for my salvation is incorruptible. ³ I have been freed from vanities, and am not condemned. ⁴ My chains were cut off by His hands, I received the face and likeness of a new person, and I walked in Him and was saved. ⁵ And the thought of truth led me, and I went after it and wandered not. ⁶ And all who saw me were amazed, and I seemed to them like a stranger. ⁷ And He who knew and exalted me, is the Ilayawan in all His perfection. ⁸ And He glorified me by His kindness, and raised my understanding to the height of truth. ⁹ And from there He gave me the way of His steps, and I opened the doors which were closed. ¹⁰ And I shattered the bars of iron, for my own shackles had grown hot and melted before me. ¹¹ And nothing appeared closed to me, because I was the opening of everything. ¹² And I went towards all my bound ones in order to loose them; that I might not leave anyone bound or binding. ¹³ And I gave my knowledge generously, and my resurrection through my love. ¹⁴ And I sowed my fruits in hearts, and transformed them through myself. ¹⁵ Then they received my blessing and lived, and they were gathered to me and were saved; ¹⁶ Because they became my members, and I was their Head. ¹⁷ Glory to You, our Head, O Adanay Mashayach. ¹⁸ Hallelujah.

18 My heart was lifted up and enriched in the love of the Ilayawan, so that I might praise Him with my name. ² My members were strengthened, that they may not fall from His power. ³ Infirmities fled from my body, and it stood firm for the Adanay by His will; because His kingdom is firm. ⁴ O Adanay, for the sake of those who are in need, do not dismiss Your Word from me. ⁵ Nor, for the sake of their works, withhold Your perfection from me. ⁶ Let not light be conquered by darkness, nor let truth flee from falsehood. ⁷ Let Your right hand set our salvation to victory, and let it receive from every region, and preserve it on the side of everyone who is besieged by misfortunes. ⁸ You are my Alahayam, falsehood and death are not in Your mouth; only perfection is Your will. ⁹ And vanity You know not, because neither does it know You. ¹⁰ And You know not error; because neither does it know You. ¹¹ And ignorance appeared like dust, and like the foam of the sea. ¹² And vain people thought that it was great, and they became like its type and were impoverished. ¹³ But those who knew understood and contemplated, and were not polluted by their thoughts; ¹⁴ Because they were in the mind of the Ilayawan, and mocked those who were walking in error. ¹⁵ Then they spoke the truth, from the breath which the Ilayawan breathed into them. ¹⁶ Praise and great honor to His name. ¹⁷ Hallelujah.

19 A cup of milk was offered to me, and I drank it in the sweetness of the Adanay's kindness. ² The Son is the cup, and the Father is He who was milked; and the Holy Spirit is She who milked Him; ³ Because His breasts were full, and it was undesirable that His milk should be ineffectually released. ⁴ The Holy Spirit opened Her bosom, and mixed the milk of the two breasts of the Father. ⁵ Then She gave the mixture to the generation without their knowing, and those who have received it are in the perfection of the right hand. ⁶ The womb of the Virgin took it, and she received conception and gave birth. ⁷ So the Virgin became a mother with great mercies. ⁸ And she labored and bore the Son but without pain, because it did not occur without purpose. ⁹ And she did not require a midwife, because He caused her to give life. ¹⁰ She brought forth like a strong man with desire, and she bore according to the manifestation, and she acquired according to the Great Power. ¹¹ And she loved with redemption, and guarded with kindness, and declared with grandeur. ¹² Hallelujah.

20 I am a priest of the Adanay, and Him I serve as a priest; ² And to Him I offer the offering of His thought. ³ For His thought is not like the world, nor like the flesh, nor like them who worship according to the flesh. ⁴ The offering of the Adanay is righteousness, and purity of heart and lips. ⁵ Offer your inward being faultlessly; and let not your compassion oppress compassion; and let not yourself oppress a self. ⁶ You should not purchase a stranger because he is like yourself, nor seek to deceive your neighbor, nor deprive him of the covering for his nakedness. ⁷ But put on the grace of the Adanay generously, and come to His Paradise, and make for yourself a garland from His tree. ⁸ Then put it on your head and be joyful, and recline upon His rest. ⁹ For His glory will go before you; and you shall receive of His kindness and of His grace; and you shall be anointed in truth with the praise of His holiness. ¹⁰ Praise and honor to His name. ¹¹ Hallelujah.

21 I lifted up my arms on high on account of the compassion of the Adanay. ² Because He cast off my bonds from me, and my Helper lifted me up according to His compassion and His salvation. ³ And I put off darkness, and put on light. ⁴ And even I myself acquired members. In them there was no sickness or affliction or suffering. ⁵ And abundantly helpful to me was the thought of the Adanay, and His everlasting fellowship. ⁶ And I was lifted up in the light, and I passed before Him. ⁷ And I was constantly near Him, while praising and confessing Him. ⁸ He caused my heart to overflow, and it was found in my mouth; and it sprang forth to my lips. ⁹ Then upon my face increased the exultation of the Adanay and His praise. ¹⁰ Hallelujah.

22 He who caused me to descend from on high, and to ascend from the regions below; ² And He who gathers what is in the Middle, and throws them to me; ³ He who scattered my enemies, and my adversaries; ⁴ He who gave me authority over bonds, so that I might unbind them; ⁵ He who overthrew by my hands the dragon with seven heads, and set me at his roots that I might destroy his seed; ⁶ You were there and helped me, and in every place Your name surrounded me. ⁷ Your right hand destroyed his evil venom, and Your hand leveled the Way for those who believe in You.⁸ And it chose them from the graves, and separated them from the dead ones.⁹ It took dead bones and covered them with flesh.¹⁰ But they were motionless, so It gave them energy for life.¹¹ Incorruptible was Your way and Your face; You have brought Your world to corruption, that everything might be resolved and renewed.¹² And the foundation of everything is Your rock. And upon it You have built Your kingdom, and it became the dwelling-place of the holy ones.¹³ Hallelujah.

23 Joy is for the holy ones. And who shall put it on but they alone?² Grace is for the elect ones. And who shall receive it but they who trusted in it from the beginning?³ Love is for the elect ones. And who shall put it on but they who possessed it from the beginning?⁴ Walk in the knowledge of the Adanay, and you will know the grace of the Adanay generously; both for His exultation and for the perfection of His knowledge.⁵ And His thought was like a letter, and His will descended from on high.⁶ And it was sent like an arrow which from a bow has been forcibly shot.⁷ And many hands rushed to the letter, in order to catch it, then take and read it.⁸ But it escaped from their fingers; and they were afraid of it and of the seal which was upon it.⁹ Because they were not allowed to loosen its seal; for the power which was over the seal was greater than they.¹⁰ But those who saw the letter went after it; that they might learn where it would land, and who should read it, and who should hear it.¹¹ But a wheel received it, and it came over it.¹² And a sign was with it, of the kingdom and of providence.¹³ And everything which was disturbing the wheel, it mowed and cut down.¹⁴ And it restrained a multitude of adversaries; and bridged rivers.¹⁵ And it crossed over and uprooted many forests, and made an open way.¹⁶ The head went down to the feet, because to the feet ran the wheel, and whatever had come upon it.¹⁷ The letter was one of command, and hence all regions were gathered together.¹⁸ And there was seen at its head, the head which was revealed, even the Son of Truth from the Ilayawan Father.¹⁹ And He inherited and possessed everything, and then the scheming of the many ceased.²⁰ Then all the seducers became headstrong and fled, and the persecutors became extinct and were blotted out.²¹ And the letter became a large volume, which was entirely written by the finger of Alahayam.²² And the name of the Father was upon it; and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, to rule for ever and ever.²³ Hallelujah.

24 The dove fluttered over the head of our Adanay Mashayach, because He was her head.² And she sang over Him, and her voice was heard.³ Then the inhabitants were afraid, and the foreigners were disturbed.⁴ The bird began to fly, and every creeping thing died in its hole.⁵ And the chasms were opened and closed; and they were seeking the Adanay as those who are about to give birth.⁶ But He was not given to them for nourishment, because He did not belong to them.⁷ But the chasms were submerged in the seal of the Adanay, and they perished in the thought with which they had remained from the beginning.⁸ For they were in labor from the beginning, and the end of their travail was life.⁹ And all of them who were lacking perished, because they were not able to express the word so that they might remain.¹⁰ And the Adanay destroyed the devices, of all those who had not the truth with them.¹¹ For they were lacking in wisdom, they who exalted themselves in their mind.¹² So they were rejected, because the truth was not with them.¹³ For the Adanay revealed His way, and spread widely His grace.¹⁴ And those who understood it knew His holiness.¹⁵ Hallelujah.

25 I was rescued from my chains, and I fled to You, O my Alahayam.² Because You are the right hand of salvation, and my Helper.³ You have restrained those who rise up against me, and no more were they seen.⁴ Because Your face was with me, which saved me by Your grace.⁵ But I was despised and rejected in the eyes of many, and I was in their eyes like lead.⁶ And I acquired strength from You, and help.⁷ A lamp You set for me both on my right and on my left, so that there might not be in me anything that is not light.⁸ And I was covered with the covering of Your Spirit, and I removed from me my garments of skin.⁹ Because Your right hand exalted me, and caused sickness to pass from me.¹⁰ And I became mighty in Your truth, and holy in Your righteousness.¹¹ And all my adversaries were afraid of me, and I became the Adanay's by the name of the Adanay.¹² And I was justified by His kindness, and His rest is for ever and ever.¹³ Hallelujah.

26 I poured out praise to the Adanay, because I am His own.² And I will recite His holy ode, because my heart is with Him.³ For His harp is in my hand, and the odes of His rest shall not be silent.⁴ I will call to Him with all my heart, I will praise and exalt Him with all my members.⁵ For from the East and to the West is His praise; ⁶ Also from the South and to the North is His thanksgiving.⁷ Even from the crest of the summits and to their extremity is His perfection.⁸ Who can write the odes of the Adanay, or who can read them?⁹ Or who can train himself for life, so that he himself may be saved?¹⁰ Or who can press upon the Ilayawan, so that He would recite from His mouth?¹¹ Who can interpret the wonders of the Adanay? Though he who interprets will be destroyed, yet that which was interpreted will remain.¹² For it suffices to perceive and be satisfied, for the odists stand in serenity;¹³ Like a river which has an increasingly gushing spring, and flows to the relief of them that seek it.¹⁴ Hallelujah.

27 I extended my hands and hallowed my Adanay,² For the expansion of my hands is His sign.³ And my extension is the upright cross.⁴ Hallelujah.

28 As the wings of doves over their nestlings, and the mouths of their nestlings towards their mouths, so also are the wings of the Spirit over my heart.² My heart continually refreshes itself and leaps for joy, like the babe who leaps for joy in his mother's womb.

³ I trusted, consequently I was at rest; because trustful is He in whom I trusted.⁴ He has greatly blessed me, and my head is with Him.⁵ And the dagger shall not divide me from Him, nor the sword;⁶ Because I am ready before destruction comes, and have been set on His immortal side.⁷ And immortal life embraced me, and kissed me.⁸ And from that life is the Spirit which is within me. And it cannot die because it is life.⁹ Those who saw me were amazed, because I was persecuted.¹⁰ And they thought that I had been swallowed up, because I seemed to them as one of the lost.

¹¹ But my injustice became my salvation.¹² And I became their abomination, because there was no jealousy in me.¹³ Because I continually did good to every man I was hated.¹⁴ And they surrounded me like mad dogs, those who in stupidity attack their masters.¹⁵ Because their thought is depraved, and their mind is perverted.¹⁶ But I was carrying water in my right hand, and their bitterness I endured by my sweetness.¹⁷ And I did not perish, because I was not their brother, nor was my birth like theirs.¹⁸ And they sought my death but did not find it possible, because I was older than their memory; and in vain did they cast lots against me.

29 The Adanay is my hope, I shall not be ashamed of Him.² For according to His praise He made me, and according to His grace even so He gave to me.³ And according to His mercies He exalted me, and according to His great honor He lifted me up.⁴ And he caused me to ascend from the depths of Sheol, and from the mouth of death He drew me.⁵ And I humbled my enemies, and He justified me by His grace.⁶ For I believed in the Adanay's Mashayach, and considered that He is the Adanay.⁷ And He revealed to me His sign, and He led me by His light.⁸ And He gave me the scepter of His power, that I might subdue the devices of the people, and humble the power of the mighty.⁹ To make war by His Word, and to take victory by His power.¹⁰ And the Adanay overthrew my enemy by His Word, and he became like the dust which a breeze carries off.¹¹ And I gave praise to the Ilayawan, because He has magnified His servant and the son of His maidservant.¹² Hallelujah.

30 Fill for yourselves water from the living fountain of the Adanay, because it has been opened for you.² And come all you thirsty and take a drink, and rest beside the fountain of the Adanay.³ Because it is pleasing and sparkling, and perpetually refreshes the self.⁴ For much sweeter is its water than honey, and the honeycomb of bees is not to be compared with it;⁵ Because it flowed from the lips of the Adanay, and it named from the heart of the Adanay.⁶ And it came boundless and invisible, and until it was set in the middle they knew it not.⁷ Blessed are they who have drunk from it, and have refreshed themselves by it.⁸ Hallelujah.

31 Chasms vanished before the Adanay, and darkness dissipated before His appearance.² Error erred and perished on account of Him; and contempt received no path, for it was submerged by the truth of the Adanay.³ He opened His mouth and spoke grace and joy; and recited a new chant to His name.⁴ Then He lifted his voice towards the Ilayawan, and offered to Him those that had become sons through Him.⁵ And His face was justified, because thus His Holy Father had given to Him.⁶ Come forth, you who have been afflicted, and receive joy.⁷ And possess yourselves through grace, and take to you immortal life.⁸ And they condemned me when I stood up, me who had not been condemned.⁹ Then they divided my spoil, though nothing was owed them.¹⁰ But I endured and held my peace and was silent, that I might not be disturbed by them.¹¹ But I stood undisturbed like a solid rock, which is continuously pounded by columns of waves and endures.¹² And I bore their bitterness because of humility; that I might redeem my nation and instruct it.¹³ And that I might not nullify the promises to the patriarchs, to whom I was promised for the salvation of their offspring.¹⁴ Hallelujah.

32 To the blessed ones the joy is from their heart, and light from Him who dwells in them;² And the Word of truth who is self-originate,³ Because He has been strengthened by the Holy Power of the Ilayawan; and He is unshaken for ever and ever.⁴ Hallelujah.

33 But again Grace was swift and dismissed the Corruptor, and descended upon him to renounce him.² And he caused utter destruction before him, and corrupted all his work.³ And he stood on the peak of a summit and cried aloud from one end of the earth to the other.⁴ Then he drew to him all those who obeyed him, for he did not appear as the Awayal One.⁵ However, the perfect Virgin stood, who was preaching and summoning and saying:⁶ O you sons of men, return, and you their daughters, come.⁷ And leave the ways of that Corruptor, and approach me.⁸ And I will enter into you, and bring you forth from destruction, and make you wise in the ways of truth.⁹ Be not corrupted nor perish.¹⁰ Obey me and be saved, for I am proclaiming to you the grace of Alahayam.¹¹ And through me you will be saved and become blessed. I am your judge;¹² And they who have put me on shall not be falsely accused, but they shall possess incorruption in the new world.¹³ My elect ones have walked with me, and my ways I will make known to them who seek me; and I will promise them my name.¹⁴ Hallelujah.

34 There is no hard way where there is a simple heart, nor barrier for upright thoughts,² Nor whirlwind in the depth of the enlightened thought.³ Where one is surrounded on every side by pleasing country, there is nothing divided in him.⁴ The likeness of that which is below is that which is above.⁵ For everything is from above, and from below there is nothing, but it is believed to be by those in whom there is no understanding.⁶ Grace has been revealed for your salvation. Believe and live and be saved.⁷ Hallelujah.

35 The gentle showers of the Adanay overshadowed me with serenity, and they caused a cloud of peace to rise over my head;² That it might guard me at all times. And it became salvation to me.³ Everyone was disturbed and afraid, and there came from them smoke and judgment.⁴ But I was tranquil in the Adanay's legion; more than shade was He to me, and more than foundation.⁵ And I was carried like a child by its mother; and He gave me milk, the dew of the Adanay.⁶ And I was enriched by His favor, and rested in His perfection.⁷ And I spread out my hands in the ascent of myself, and I directed myself towards the Ilayawan, and I was redeemed towards Him.⁸ Hallelujah.

36 I rested on the Spirit of the Adanay, and She lifted me up to heaven;² And caused me to stand on my feet in the Adanay's high place, before His perfection and His glory, where I continued glorifying Him by the composition of His Odes.³ The Spirit brought me forth before the Adanay's face, and because I was the Son of Man, I was named the Light, the Son of Alahayam;⁴ Because I was the most glorified among the glorious ones, and the greatest among the great ones.⁵ For according to the greatness of the Ilayawan, so She made me; and according to His newness He renewed me.⁶ And He anointed me with His perfection; and I became one of those who are near Him.⁷ And my mouth was opened like a cloud of dew, and my heart gushed forth like a gusher of righteousness.⁸ And my approach was in peace, and I was established in the Spirit of Providence.⁹ Hallelujah.

37 I stretched out my hands towards the Adanay, and towards the Ilayawan I raised my voice.² And I spoke with the lips of my heart, and He heard me when my voice reached Him.³ His Word came towards me, in order to give me the fruits of my labors;⁴ And gave me rest by the grace of the Adanay.⁵ Hallelujah.

38 I went up into the light of Truth as into a chariot, and the Truth led me and caused me to come.² And caused me to pass over chasms and gulfs, and saved me from cliffs and valleys.³ And became for me a haven of salvation, and set me on the place of immortal life.⁴ And He went with me and caused me to rest and did not allow me to err; because He was and is the Truth.⁵ And there was no danger for me because I constantly walked with Him; and I did not err in anything because I obeyed Him.⁶ For Error fled from Him, and never met Him.⁷ But Truth was proceeding on the upright way, and whatever I did not understand He exhibited to me:⁸ All the poisons of error, and pains of death which are considered sweetness.⁹ And the corrupting of the Corruptor, I saw when the bride who was corrupting was adorned, and the bridegroom who corrupts and is corrupted.¹⁰ And I asked the Truth, Who are these? And He said to me: This is the Deceiver and the Error.¹¹ And they imitate the Beloved and His Bride, and they cause the world to err and corrupt it.¹² And they invite many to the wedding feast, and allow them to drink the wine of their intoxication;¹³ So they cause them to vomit up their wisdom and their knowledge, and prepare for them mindlessness.¹⁴ Then they abandon them; and so they stumble about like mad and corrupted men.¹⁵ Since there is no understanding in them, neither do they seek it.¹⁶ But I have been made wise so as not to fall into the hands of the Deceivers, and I myself rejoiced because the Truth had gone with me.¹⁷ For I was established and lived and was redeemed, and my foundations were laid on account of the Adanay's hand; because He has planted me.¹⁸ For He set the root, and watered it and endowed it and blessed it, and its fruits will be forever.¹⁹ It penetrated deeply and sprang up and spread out, and it was full and was enlarged.²⁰ And the Adanay alone was glorified, in His planting and in His cultivation;²¹ In His care and in the blessing of His lips, in the beautiful planting of His right hand;²² And in the attainment of His planting, and in the understanding of His mind.²³ Hallelujah.

39 Raging rivers are the power of the Adanay; they send headlong those who despise Him.² And entangle their paths, and destroy their crossings.³ And snatch their bodies, and corrupt their natures.⁴ For they are more swift than lightnings, even more rapid.⁵ But those who cross them in faith shall not be disturbed.⁶ And those who walk on them faultlessly shall not be shaken.⁷ Because the sign on them is the Adanay, and the sign is the Way for those who cross in the name of the Adanay.⁸ Therefore, put on the name of the Ilayawan and know Him, and you shall cross without danger; because rivers shall be obedient to you.⁹ The Adanay has bridged them by His Word, and He walked and crossed them on foot.¹⁰ And His footsteps stand firm upon the waters, and were not destroyed; but they are like a beam of wood that is constructed on truth.¹¹ On this side and on that the waves were lifted up, but the footsteps of our Adanay Mashayach stand firm.¹² And they are neither blotted out, nor destroyed.¹³ And the Way has been appointed for those who cross over after Him, and for those who adhere to the path of His faith; and who adore His name.¹⁴ Hallelujah.

40 As honey drips from the honeycomb of bees, and milk flows from the woman who loves her children, so also is my hope upon You, O my Alahayam.² As a fountain gushes forth its water, so my heart gushes forth the praise of the Adanay, and my lips bring forth praise to Him.³ And my tongue becomes sweet by His anthems, and my members are anointed by His odes.⁴ My face rejoices in His exultation, and my spirit exults in His love, and my nature shines in Him.⁵ And he who is afraid shall trust in Him, and redemption shall be assured in Him.⁶ And His possessions are immortal life, and those who receive it are incorruptible.⁷ Hallelujah.

41 Let all the Adanay's babes praise Him, and let us receive the truth of His faith.² And His children shall be acknowledged by Him, therefore let us sing by His love.³ We live in the Adanay by His grace, and life we receive by His Mashayach.⁴ For a great day has shined upon us, and wonderful is He who has given to us of His glory.⁵ Let us, therefore, all of us agree in the name of the Adanay, and let us honor Him in His goodness.⁶ And let our faces shine in His light, and let our hearts meditate in His love, by night and by day.⁷ Let us exult with the exultation of the Adanay.⁸ All those who see me will be amazed, because I am from another race.⁹ For the Father of Truth remembered me; he who possessed me from the beginning.¹⁰ For His riches begat me, and the thought of His heart.¹¹ And His Word is with us in all our way, the Savior who gives life and does not reject ourselves.¹² The Man who humbled Himself, but was exalted because of His own righteousness.¹³ The Son of the Ilayawan appeared in the perfection of His Father.¹⁴ And light dawned from the Word that was before time in Him.¹⁵ The Mashayach in truth is one. And He was known before the foundations of the world, that He might give life to persons for ever by the truth of His name.¹⁶ A new chant is for the Adanay from them that love Him.¹⁷ Hallelujah.

42 I extended my hands and approached my Adanay, for the expansion of my hands is His sign.² And my extension is the upright cross, that was lifted up on the way of the Righteous One.³ And I became useless to those who knew me not, because I shall hide myself from those who possessed me not.⁴ And I will be with those who love me.⁵ All my persecutors have died, and they sought me, they who declared against me, because I am living.⁶ Then I arose and am with them, and will speak by their mouths.⁷ For they have rejected those who persecute them; and I threw over them the yoke of my love.⁸ Like the arm of the bridegroom over the bride, so is my yoke over those who know me.⁹ And as the bridal chamber is spread out by the bridal pair's home, so is my love by those who believe in me.¹⁰ I was not rejected although I was considered to be so, and I did not perish although they thought it of me.¹¹ Sheol saw me and was shattered, and Death ejected me and many with me.¹² I have been vinegar and bitterness to it, and I went down with it as far as its depth.¹³ Then the feet and the head it released, because it was not able to endure my face.¹⁴ And I made a congregation of living among his dead; and I spoke with them by living lips; in order that my word may not be unprofitable.¹⁵ And those who had died ran towards me; and they cried out and said, Son of Alahayam, have pity on us.¹⁶ And deal with us according to Your kindness, and bring us out from the bonds of darkness.¹⁷ And open for us the door by which we may come out to You; for we perceive that our death does not touch You.¹⁸ May we also be saved with You, because You are our Savior.¹⁹ Then I heard their voice, and placed their faith in my heart.²⁰ And I placed my name upon their head, because they are free and they are mine.²¹ Hallelujah.

1 The proverbs of Shalamah, the son of Dawad, king of Yasharaal: ² To know wisdom and instruction; To discern the words of understanding; ³ To receive instruction in wise dealing, In righteousness, justice, and equity; ⁴ To give prudence to the simple, Knowledge and discretion to the young man: ⁵ That the wise man may hear, and increase in learning; That the man of understanding may attain to sound counsel: ⁶ To understand a proverb, and parables, The words and riddles of the wise. ⁷ The fear of Yahawah is the beginning of knowledge; But the foolish despise wisdom and instruction. ⁸ My son, listen to your father's instruction, And don't forsake your mother's teaching: ⁹ For they will be a garland to grace your head, And chains around your neck. ¹⁰ My son, if sinners entice you, don't consent. ¹¹ If they say, "Come with us, Let's lay in wait for blood; Let's lurk secretly for the innocent without cause; ¹² Let's swallow them up alive like Sheol, And whole, like those who go down into the pit. ¹³ We'll find all valuable wealth. We'll fill our houses with spoil. ¹⁴ You shall cast your lot among us. We'll all have one purse." ¹⁵ My son, don't walk in the way with them. Keep your foot from their path, ¹⁶ For their feet run to evil. They hurry to shed blood. ¹⁷ For in vain is the net spread in the sight of any bird: ¹⁸ These lay wait for their own blood. They lurk secretly for their own lives. ¹⁹ So are the ways of everyone who is greedy of gain. It takes away the life of its owners. ²⁰ Wisdom calls aloud in the street. She utters her voice in the public squares. ²¹ She calls at the head of noisy places. At the entrance of the city gates, she utters her words: ²² "How long, you simple ones, will you love simplicity? How long will mockers delight themselves in mockery, And fools hate knowledge? ²³ Turn at my reproof. Behold, I will pour out my spirit on you. I will make known my words to you. ²⁴ Because I have called, and you have refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no one has paid attention; ²⁵ But you have ignored all my counsel, And wanted none of my reproof; ²⁶ I also will laugh at your disaster. I will mock when calamity overtakes you; ²⁷ When calamity overtakes you like a storm, When your disaster comes on like a whirlwind; When distress and anguish come on you. ²⁸ Then will they call on me, but I will not answer. They will seek me diligently, but they will not find me; ²⁹ Because they hated knowledge, And didn't choose the fear of Yahawah. ³⁰ They wanted none of my counsel. They despised all my reproof. ³¹ Therefore they will eat of the fruit of their own way, And be filled with their own schemes. ³² For the backsliding of the simple will kill them. The careless ease of fools will destroy them. ³³ But whoever listens to me will dwell securely, And will be at ease, without fear of harm."

2 My son, if you will receive my words, And store up my commandments within you; ² So as to turn your ear to wisdom, And apply your heart to understanding; ³ Yes, if you call out for discernment, And lift up your voice for understanding; ⁴ If you seek her as silver, And search for her as for hidden treasures: ⁵ Then you will understand the fear of Yahawah, And find the knowledge of Alahayam. ⁶ For Yahawah gives wisdom. Out of his mouth comes knowledge and understanding. ⁷ He lays up sound wisdom for the upright. He is a shield to those who walk in integrity; ⁸ That he may guard the paths of justice, And preserve the way of his saints. ⁹ Then you will understand righteousness and justice, Equity and every good path. ¹⁰ For wisdom will enter into your heart. Knowledge will be pleasant to your soul. ¹¹ Discretion will watch over you. Understanding will keep you, ¹² To deliver you from the way of evil, From the men who speak perverse things; ¹³ Who forsake the paths of uprightness, To walk in the ways of darkness; ¹⁴ Who rejoice to do evil, And delight in the perverseness of evil;

3 My son, don't forget my teaching; But let your heart keep my commandments: ² For length of days, and years of life, And peace, will they add to you. ³ Don't let kindness and truth forsake you. Bind them around your neck. Write them on the tablet of your heart. ⁴ So you will find favor and good understanding in the sight of Alahayam and man. ⁵ Trust in Yahawah with all your heart, And don't lean on your own understanding. ⁶ In all your ways acknowledge him, And he will direct your paths. ⁷ Don't be wise in your own eyes. Fear Yahawah, and depart from evil. ⁸ It will be health to your body, And nourishment to your bones. ⁹ Honor Yahawah with your substance, With the first fruits of all your increase: ¹⁰ So your barns will be filled with plenty, And your vats will overflow with new wine. ¹¹ My son, don't despise Yahawah's discipline, Neither be weary of his reproof: ¹² For whom Yahawah loves, he reproves; Even as a father the son in whom he delights. ¹³ Happy is the man who finds wisdom, The man who gets understanding. ¹⁴ For the gaining of it is better than the gaining of silver, The profit of it better than fine gold. ¹⁵ She is more precious than rubies. None of the things you can desire are to be compared to her. ¹⁶ Length of days is in her right hand. In her left hand are riches and honor. ¹⁷ Her ways are ways of pleasantness. All her paths are peace. ¹⁸ She is a tree of life to those who lay hold of her. Happy is everyone who retains her. ¹⁹ By wisdom Yahawah founded the earth. By understanding, he established the heavens. ²⁰ By his knowledge, the depths were broken up, And the skies drop down the dew. ²¹ My son, let them not depart from your eyes. Keep sound wisdom and discretion: ²² So they will be life to your soul, And grace for your neck. ²³ Then you shall walk in your way securely. Your foot won't stumble. ²⁴ When you lie down, you will not be afraid. Yes, you will lie down, and your sleep will be sweet. ²⁵ Don't be afraid of sudden fear, Neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it comes: ²⁶ For Yahawah will be your confidence, And will keep your foot from being taken. ²⁷ Don't withhold good from those to whom it is due, When it is in the power of your hand to do it. ²⁸ Don't say to your neighbor, "Go, and come again, Tomorrow I will give," When you have it by you. ²⁹ Don't devise evil against your neighbor, Seeing he dwells securely by you. ³⁰ Don't strive with a man without cause, If he has done you no harm. ³¹ Don't envy the man of violence. Choose none of his ways. ³² For the perverse is an abomination to Yahawah, But his friendship is with the upright. ³³ The curse of Yahawah is in the house of the wicked, But he blesses the habitation of the righteous. ³⁴ Surely he mocks the mockers, But he gives grace to the humble. ³⁵ The wise will inherit glory, But shame will be the promotion of fools.

4 Listen, sons, to a father's instruction. Pay attention and know understanding; ² For I give you sound learning. Don't forsake my law. ³ For I was a son to my father, Tender and an only child in the sight of my mother. ⁴ He taught me, and said to me: "Let your heart retain my words. Keep my commandments, and live. ⁵ Get wisdom. Get understanding. Don't forget, neither swerve from the words of my mouth.⁶ Don't forsake her, and she will preserve you. Love her, and she will keep you.⁷ Wisdom is supreme. Get wisdom. Yes, though it costs all your possessions, get understanding.⁸ Esteem her, and she will exalt you. She will bring you to honor, when you embrace her.⁹ She will give to your head a garland of grace. A crown of splendor will she deliver to you."¹⁰ Listen, my son, and receive my sayings. The years of your life will be many.¹¹ I have taught you in the way of wisdom. I have led you in paths of uprightness.¹² When you go, your steps will not be hampered. When you run, you will not stumble.¹³ Take firm hold of instruction. Don't let her go. Keep her, for she is your life.¹⁴ Don't enter into the path of the wicked. Don't walk in the way of evil men.¹⁵ Avoid it, and don't pass by it. Turn from it, and pass on.¹⁶ For they don't sleep, unless they do evil. Their sleep is taken away, unless they make someone fall.¹⁷ For they eat the bread of wickedness, And drink the wine of violence.¹⁸ But the path of the righteous is like the dawning light, That shines more and more until the perfect day.¹⁹ The way of the wicked is like darkness. They don't know what they stumble over.²⁰ My son, attend to my words. Turn your ear to my sayings.²¹ Let them not depart from your eyes. Keep them in the midst of your heart.²² For they are life to those who find them, And health to their whole body.²³ Keep your heart with all diligence, For out of it is the wellspring of life.²⁴ Pawat away from yourself a perverse mouth. Pawat corrupt lips far from you.²⁵ Let your eyes look straight ahead. Fix your gaze directly before you.²⁶ Make the path of your feet level. Let all of your ways be established.²⁷ Don't turn to the right hand nor to the left. Remove your foot from evil.

5 My son, pay attention to my wisdom. Turn your ear to my understanding;² That you may maintain discretion, That your lips may preserve knowledge.³ For the lips of an adulteress drip honey. Her mouth is smoother than oil,⁴ But in the end she is as bitter as wormwood, And as sharp as a two-edged sword.⁵ Her feet go down to death. Her steps lead straight to Sheol.⁶ She gives no thought to the way of life. Her ways are crooked, and she doesn't know it.⁷ Now therefore, my sons, listen to me. Don't depart from the words of my mouth.⁸ Remove your way far from her. Don't come near the door of her house,⁹ Lest you give your honor to others, And your years to the cruel one;¹⁰ Lest strangers feast on your wealth, And your labors enrich another man's house.¹¹ You will groan at your latter end, When your flesh and your body are consumed,¹² And say, "How I have hated instruction, And my heart despised reproof;¹³ Neither have I obeyed the voice of my teachers, Nor turned my ear to those who instructed me!"¹⁴ I have come to the brink of utter ruin, In the midst of the gathered assembly."¹⁵ Drink water out of your own cistern, Running water out of your own well.¹⁶ Should your springs overflow in the streets, Streams of water in the public squares?¹⁷ Let them be for yourself alone, Not for strangers with you.¹⁸ Let your spring be blessed. Rejoice in the wife of your youth.¹⁹ A loving hind and a pleasant doe -- Let her breasts satisfy you at all times. Be captivated always with her love.²⁰ For why should you, my son, be captivated with an adulteress? Why embrace the bosom of another?²¹ For the ways of man are before the eyes of Yahawah. He examines all his paths.²² The evil deeds of the wicked ensnare him. The cords of his sin hold him firmly.²³ He will die for lack of instruction. In the greatness of his folly, he will go astray.

6 My son, if you have become collateral for your neighbor, If you have struck your hands in pledge for a stranger;² You are trapped by the words of your mouth. You are ensnared with the words of your mouth.³ Do this now, my son, and deliver yourself, Seeing you have come into the hand of your neighbor. Go, humble yourself. Press your plea with your neighbor.⁴ Give no sleep to your eyes, Nor slumber to your eyelids.⁵ Free yourself, like a gazelle from the hand of the hunter, Like a bird from the snare of the fowler.⁶ Go to the ant, you sluggard. Consider her ways, and be wise;⁷ Which having no chief, Overseer, or ruler,⁸ Provides her bread in the summer, And gathers her food in the harvest.⁹ How long will you sleep, sluggard? When will you arise out of your sleep?¹⁰ A little sleep, a little slumber, A little folding of the hands to sleep:¹¹ So your poverty will come as a robber, And your scarcity as an armed man.¹² A worthless person, a man of iniquity, Is he who walks with a perverse mouth;¹³ Who winks with his eyes, who signals with his feet, Who motions with his fingers;¹⁴ In whose heart is perverseness, Who devises evil continually, Who always sows discord.¹⁵ Therefore his calamity will come suddenly. He will be broken suddenly, and that without remedy.¹⁶ There are six things which Yahawah hates; Yes, seven which are an abomination to him:¹⁷ Haughty eyes, a lying tongue, Hands that shed innocent blood;¹⁸ A heart that devises wicked schemes, Feet that are swift in running to mischief,¹⁹ A false witness who utters lies, And he who sows discord among brothers.²⁰ My son, keep your father's commandment, And don't forsake your mother's teaching.²¹ Bind them continually on your heart. Tie them around your neck.²² When you walk, it will lead you. When you sleep, it will watch over you. When you awake, it will talk with you.²³ For the commandment is a lamp, And the law is light. Reproofs of instruction are the way of life,²⁴ To keep you from the immoral woman, From the flattery of the wayward wife's tongue.²⁵ Don't lust after her beauty in your heart, Neither let her captivate you with her eyelids.²⁶ For a prostitute reduces you to a piece of bread. The adulteress hunts for your precious life.²⁷ Can a man scoop fire into his lap, And his clothes not be burned?²⁸ Or can one walk on hot coals, And his feet not be scorched?²⁹ So is he who goes in to his neighbor's wife. Whoever touches her will not be unpunished.³⁰ Men don't despise a thief, If he steals to satisfy himself when he is hungry;³¹ But if he be found, he shall restore seven times. He shall give all the wealth of his house.³² He who commits adultery with a woman is void of understanding. He who does it destroys his own soul.³³ He will get wounds and dishonor. His reproach will not be wiped away.³⁴ For jealousy arouses the fury of the husband. He won't spare in the day of vengeance.³⁵ He won't regard any ransom, Neither will he rest content, though you give many gifts.

7 My son, keep my words. Lay up my commandments within you.² Keep my commandments and live; Guard my teaching as the apple of your eye.³ Bind them on your fingers. Write them on the tablet of your heart.⁴ Tell wisdom, "You are my sister." Call understanding your relative,⁵ That they may keep you from the strange woman, From the foreigner who flatters with her words.⁶ For at the window of my house, I looked forth through my lattice.⁷ I saw among the simple ones. I discerned among the youths a young man void of understanding,⁸ Passing through the street near her corner, He went the way to her house,⁹ In the twilight, in the evening of the day, In the middle of the night and in the darkness.¹⁰ Behold, there a woman met him with the attire of a prostitute, And with crafty intent.¹¹ She is loud and defiant. Her feet don't stay in her house.¹² Now she is in the streets, now in the squares, And lurking at every corner.¹³ So she caught him, and kissed him. With an impudent face she said to him:¹⁴ "Sacrifices of peace-offerings are with me. This day I have paid my vows.¹⁵ Therefore I came out to meet you, To diligently seek your face, And I have found you.¹⁶ I have spread my couch with carpets of tapestry, With striped cloths of the yarn of Matzarayam.¹⁷ I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.¹⁸ Come, let's take our fill of loving until the morning. Let's solace ourselves with loving.¹⁹ For my husband isn't at home. He has gone on a long journey.²⁰ He has taken a bag of money with him. He will come home at the full moon."²¹ With persuasive words, she led him astray. With the flattering of her lips, she seduced him.²² He followed her immediately, As an ox goes to the slaughter, As a fool stepping into a noose.²³ Until an arrow strikes through his liver, As a bird hurries to the snare, And doesn't know that it will cost his life.²⁴ Now therefore, sons, listen to me. Pay attention to the words of my mouth.²⁵ Don't let your heart turn to her ways. Don't go astray in her paths,²⁶ For she has thrown down many wounded. Yes, all her slain are a mighty host.²⁷ Her house is the way to Sheol, Going down to the chambers of death.

8 Doesn't wisdom cry out? Doesn't understanding raise her voice? ² On the top of high places by the way, Where the paths meet, she stands. ³ Beside the gates, at the entry of the city, At the entry doors, she cries aloud: ⁴ "To you men, I call! I send my voice to the sons of mankind. ⁵ You simple, understand prudence. You fools, be of an understanding heart. ⁶ Hear, for I will speak excellent things. The opening of my lips is for right things. ⁷ For my mouth speaks truth. Wickedness is an abomination to my lips. ⁸ All the words of my mouth are in righteousness. There is nothing crooked or perverse in them. ⁹ They are all plain to him who understands, Right to those who find knowledge. ¹⁰ Receive my instruction rather than silver; Knowledge rather than choice gold. ¹¹ For wisdom is better than rubies. All the things that may be desired can't be compared to it. ¹² "I, wisdom, have made prudence my dwelling. Find out knowledge and discretion. ¹³ The fear of Yahawah is to hate evil. I hate pride, arrogance, the evil way, and the perverse mouth. ¹⁴ Counsel and sound knowledge are mine. I have understanding and power. ¹⁵ By me kings reign, And princes decree justice. ¹⁶ By me princes rule; Nobles, and all the righteous rulers of the earth. ¹⁷ I love those who love me. Those who seek me diligently will find me. ¹⁸ With me are riches, honor, Enduring wealth, and prosperity. ¹⁹ My fruit is better than gold, yes, than fine gold; My yield than choice silver. ²⁰ I walk in the way of righteousness, In the midst of the paths of justice; ²¹ That I may give wealth to those who love me. I fill their treasuries. ²² "Yahawah possessed me in the beginning of his work, Before his deeds of old. ²³ I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, Before the earth existed. ²⁴ When there were no depths, I was brought forth, When there were no springs abounding with water. ²⁵ Before the mountains were settled in place, Before the hills, I was brought forth; ²⁶ While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, Nor the beginning of the dust of the world. ²⁷ When he established the heavens, I was there; When he set a circle on the surface of the deep, ²⁸ When he established the clouds above, When the springs of the deep became strong, ²⁹ When he gave to the sea its boundary, That the waters should not violate his commandment, When he marked out the foundations of the earth; ³⁰ Then I was the craftsman by his side. I was a delight day by day, Always rejoicing before him, ³¹ Rejoicing in his whole world. My delight was with the sons of men. ³² "Now therefore, my sons, listen to me, For blessed are those who keep my ways. ³³ Hear instruction, and be wise, Don't refuse it. ³⁴ Blessed is the man who hears me, Watching daily at my gates, Waiting at my door posts. ³⁵ For whoever finds me, finds life, And will obtain favor from Yahawah. ³⁶ But he who sins against me wrongs his own soul. All those who hate me love death."

9 Wisdom has built her house. She has carved out her seven pillars. ² She has prepared her meat. She has mixed her wine. She has also set her table. ³ She has sent out her maidens. She cries from the highest places of the city: ⁴ "Whoever is simple, let him turn in here!" As for him who is void of understanding, she says to him, ⁵ "Come, eat some of my bread, Drink some of the wine which I have mixed! ⁶ Leave your simple ways, and live. Walk in the way of understanding." ⁷ He who corrects a mocker invites insult. He who reproves a wicked man invites abuse. ⁸ Don't reprove a scoffer, lest he hate you. Reprove a wise man, and he will love you. ⁹ Instruct a wise man, and he will be still wiser. Teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning. ¹⁰ The fear of Yahawah is the beginning of wisdom. The knowledge of the Holy One is understanding. ¹¹ For by me your days will be multiplied. The years of your life will be increased. ¹² If you are wise, you are wise for yourself. If you mock, you alone will bear it. ¹³ The foolish woman is loud, Undisciplined, and knows nothing. ¹⁴ She sits at the door of her house, On a seat in the high places of the city, ¹⁵ To call to those who pass by, Who go straight on their ways, ¹⁶ "Whoever is simple, let him turn in here." As for him who is void of understanding, she says to him, ¹⁷ "Stolen water is sweet. Food eaten in secret is pleasant." ¹⁸ But he doesn't know that the dead are there, That her guests are in the depths of Sheol.

10 The proverbs of Shalamah. A wise son makes a glad father; But a foolish son brings grief to his mother. ² Treasures of wickedness profit nothing, But righteousness delivers from death. ³ Yahawah will not allow the soul of the righteous to go hungry, But he thrusts away the desire of the wicked. ⁴ He becomes poor who works with a lazy hand, But the hand of the diligent brings wealth. ⁵ He who gathers in summer is a wise son, But he who sleeps during the harvest is a son who causes shame. ⁶ Blessings are on the head of the righteous, But violence covers the mouth of the wicked. ⁷ The memory of the righteous is blessed, But the name of the wicked will rot. ⁸ The wise in heart accept commandments, But a chattering fool will fall. ⁹ He who walks blamelessly walks surely, But he who perverts his ways will be found out. ¹⁰ One winking with the eye causes sorrow, But a chattering fool will fall. ¹¹ The mouth of the righteous is a spring of life, But violence covers the mouth of the wicked. ¹² Hatred stirs up strife, But love covers all wrongs. ¹³ Wisdom is found on the lips of him who has discernment, But a rod is for the back of him who is void of understanding. ¹⁴ Wise men lay up knowledge, But the mouth of the foolish is near ruin. ¹⁵ The rich man's wealth is his strong city. The destruction of the poor is their poverty. ¹⁶ The labor of the righteous leads to life. The increase of the wicked leads to sin. ¹⁷ He is in the way of life who heeds correction, But he who forsakes reproof leads others astray. ¹⁸ He who hides hatred has lying lips. He who utters a slander is a fool. ¹⁹ In the multitude of words there is no lack of disobedience, But he who restrains his lips does wisely. ²⁰ The tongue of the righteous is like choice silver. The heart of the wicked is of little worth. ²¹ The lips of the righteous feed many, But the foolish die for lack of understanding. ²² The blessing of Yahawah brings wealth, And he adds no trouble to it. ²³ It is a fool's pleasure to do wickedness, But wisdom is a man of understanding's pleasure. ²⁴ What the wicked fear, will overtake them, But the desire of the righteous will be granted. ²⁵ When the whirlwind passes, the wicked is no more; But the righteous is an everlasting foundation. ²⁶ As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, So is the sluggard to those who send him. ²⁷ The fear of Yahawah prolongs days, But the years of the wicked shall be shortened. ²⁸ The prospect of the righteous is joy, But the hope of the wicked will perish. ²⁹ The way of Yahawah is a stronghold to the upright, But it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity. ³⁰ The righteous will never be removed, But the wicked will not dwell in the land. ³¹ The mouth of the righteous brings forth wisdom, But the perverse tongue will be cut off. ³² The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable, But the mouth of the wicked is perverse.

11 A false balance is an abomination to Yahawah, But accurate weights are his delight. ² When pride comes, then comes shame, But with humility comes wisdom. ³ The integrity of the upright shall guide them, But the perverseness of the treacherous shall destroy them. ⁴ Riches don't profit in the day of wrath, But righteousness delivers from death. ⁵ The righteousness of the blameless will direct his way, But the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness. ⁶ The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them, But the unfaithful will be trapped by evil desires. ⁷ When a wicked man dies, hope perishes, And expectation of power comes to nothing. ⁸ The righteous is delivered out of trouble, And the wicked takes his place. ⁹ With his mouth the godless man destroys his neighbor, But the righteous will be delivered through knowledge. ¹⁰ When it goes well with the righteous, the city rejoices. When the wicked perish, there is shouting. ¹¹ By the blessing of the upright, the city is exalted, But it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked. ¹² One who despises his neighbor is void of wisdom, But a man of understanding holds his peace. ¹³ One who brings gossip betrays a confidence, But one who is of a trustworthy spirit is one who keeps a secret. ¹⁴ Where there is no wise guidance, the nation falls, But in the multitude of counselors there is victory. ¹⁵ He who is collateral for a stranger will suffer for it, But he who refuses pledges of collateral is secure. ¹⁶ A gracious woman obtains honor, But violent men obtain riches. ¹⁷ The merciful man does good to his own soul, But he who is cruel troubles his own flesh. ¹⁸ The wicked earns deceitful wages, But he who sows righteousness reaps a sure reward.¹⁹ He who is truly righteous gets life. He who pursues evil gets death.²⁰ Those who are perverse in heart are an abomination to Yahawah, But those whose ways are blameless are his delight.²¹ Most assuredly, the evil man will not be unpunished, But the seed of the righteous will be delivered.²² Like a gold ring in a pig's snout, Is a beautiful woman who lacks discretion.²³ The desire of the righteous is only good. The expectation of the wicked is wrath.²⁴ There is one who scatters, and increases yet more. There is one who withholds more than is appropriate, but gains poverty.²⁵ The liberal soul shall be made fat. He who waters shall be watered also himself.²⁶ He who withholds grain, the people will curse him, But blessing will be on the head of him who sells it.²⁷ He who diligently seeks good seeks favor, But he who searches after evil, it shall come to him.²⁸ He who trusts in his riches will fall, But the righteous shall flourish as the green leaf.²⁹ He who troubles his own house shall inherit the wind. The foolish shall be servant to the wise of heart.³⁰ The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life. He who is wise wins souls.³¹ Behold, the righteous shall be repaid in the earth; How much more the wicked and the sinner!

12 Whoever loves correction loves knowledge, But he who hates reproof is stupid.² A good man shall obtain favor from Yahawah, But he will condemn a man of wicked devices.³ A man shall not be established by wickedness, But the root of the righteous shall not be moved.⁴ A worthy woman is the crown of her husband, But a disgraceful wife is as rottenness in his bones.⁵ The thoughts of the righteous are just. The advice of the wicked is deceitful.⁶ The words of the wicked are about lying in wait for blood, But the speech of the upright rescues them.⁷ The wicked are overthrown, and are no more, But the house of the righteous shall stand.⁸ A man shall be commended according to his wisdom, But he who has a warped mind shall be despised.⁹ Better is he who is lightly esteemed, and has a servant, Than he who honors himself, and lacks bread.¹⁰ A righteous man regards the life of his animal, But the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.¹¹ He who tills his land shall have plenty of bread, But he who chases fantasies is void of understanding.¹² The wicked desires the plunder of evil men, But the root of the righteous flourishes.¹³ An evil man is trapped by sinfulness of lips, But the righteous shall come out of trouble.¹⁴ A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth. The doings of a man's hands shall be rewarded to him.¹⁵ The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, But he who is wise listens to counsel.¹⁶ A fool shows his annoyance the same day, But one who overlooks an insult is prudent.¹⁷ He who is truthful testifies honestly, But a false witness lies.¹⁸ There is one who speaks rashly like the piercing of a sword, But the tongue of the wise heals.¹⁹ Truth's lips will be established forever, But a lying tongue is only momentary.²⁰ Deceit is in the heart of those who plot evil, But joy comes to the promoters of peace.²¹ No mischief shall happen to the righteous, But the wicked shall be filled with evil.²² Lying lips are an abomination to Yahawah, But those who do the truth are his delight.²³ A prudent man keeps his knowledge, But the hearts of fools proclaim foolishness.²⁴ The hands of the diligent ones shall rule, But laziness ends in slave labor.²⁵ Anxiety in a man's heart weighs it down, But a kind word makes it glad.²⁶ The righteous is cautious in friendship, But the way of the wicked leads them astray.²⁷ The slothful man doesn't roast his game, But the possessions of diligent men are prized.²⁸ In the way of righteousness is life; In its path there is no death.

13 A wise son listens to his father's instruction, But a scoffer doesn't listen to rebuke.² By the fruit of his lips, a man enjoys good things; But the unfaithful crave violence.³ He who guards his mouth guards his soul. One who opens wide his lips comes to ruin.⁴ The soul of the sluggard desires, and has nothing, But the desire of the diligent shall be fully satisfied.⁵ A righteous man hates lies, But a wicked man brings shame and disgrace.⁶ Righteousness guards the way of integrity, But wickedness overthrows the sinner.⁷ There are some who pretend to be rich, yet have nothing. There are some who pretend to be poor, yet have great wealth.⁸ The ransom of a man's life is his riches, But the poor hears no threats.⁹ The light of the righteous shines brightly, But the lamp of the wicked is snuffed out.¹⁰ By pride comes only quarrels, But with ones who take advice is wisdom.¹¹ Wealth gained dishonestly dwindles away, But he who gathers by hand makes it grow.¹² Hope deferred makes the heart sick, But when longing is fulfilled, it is a tree of life.¹³ Whoever despises instruction will pay for it, But he who respects a command will be rewarded.¹⁴ The teaching of the wise is a spring of life, To turn from the snares of death.¹⁵ Good understanding wins favor; But the way of the unfaithful is hard.¹⁶ Every prudent man acts from knowledge, But a fool exposes folly.¹⁷ A wicked messenger falls into trouble, But a trustworthy envoy gains healing.¹⁸ Poverty and shame come to him who refuses discipline, But he who heeds correction shall be honored.¹⁹ Longing fulfilled is sweet to the soul, But fools detest turning from evil.²⁰ One who walks with wise men grows wise, But a companion of fools suffers harm.²¹ Misfortune pursues sinners, But prosperity rewards the righteous.²² A good man leaves an inheritance to his children's children, But the wealth of the sinner is stored for the righteous.²³ An abundance of food is in poor people's fields, But injustice sweeps it away.²⁴ One who spares the rod hates his son, But one who loves him is careful to discipline him.²⁵ The righteous one eats to the satisfying of his soul, But the belly of the wicked goes hungry.

14 Every wise woman builds her house, But the foolish one tears it down with her own hands.² He who walks in his uprightness fears Yahawah, But he who is perverse in his ways despises him.³ The fool's talk brings a rod to his back, But the lips of the wise protect them.⁴ Where no oxen are, the crib is clean, But much increase is by the strength of the ox.⁵ A truthful witness will not lie, But a false witness pours out lies.⁶ A scoffer seeks wisdom, and doesn't find it, But knowledge comes easily to a discerning person.⁷ Stay away from a foolish man, For you won't find knowledge on his lips.⁸ The wisdom of the prudent is to think about his way, But the folly of fools is deceit.⁹ Fools mock at making atonement for sins, But among the upright there is good will.¹⁰ The heart knows its own bitterness and joy; He will not share these with a stranger.¹¹ The house of the wicked will be overthrown, But the tent of the upright will flourish.¹² There is a way which seems right to a man, But in the end it leads to death.¹³ Even in laughter the heart may be sorrowful, And mirth may end in heaviness.¹⁴ The unfaithful will be repaid for his own ways; Likewise a good man will be rewarded for his ways.¹⁵ The simple believes everything, But the prudent man carefully considers his ways.¹⁶ A wise man fears, and shuns evil, But the fool is hotheaded and reckless.¹⁷ He who is quick to become angry will commit folly, And a crafty man is hated.¹⁸ The simple inherit folly, But the prudent are crowned with knowledge.¹⁹ The evil bow down before the good, And the wicked, at the gates of the righteous.²⁰ The poor person is shunned even by his own neighbor, But the rich person has many friends.²¹ He who despises his neighbor sins, But blessed is he who has pity on the poor.²² Don't they go astray who plot evil? But love and faithfulness belong to those who plan good.²³ In all hard work there is profit, But the talk of the lips leads only to poverty.²⁴ The crown of the wise is their riches, But the folly of fools crowns them with folly.²⁵ A truthful witness saves souls, But a false witness is deceitful.²⁶ In the fear of Yahawah is a secure fortress, And he will be a refuge for his children.²⁷ The fear of Yahawah is a fountain of life, Turning people from the snares of death.²⁸ In the multitude of people is the king's glory, But in the lack of people is the destruction of the prince.²⁹ He who is slow to anger has great understanding, But he who has a quick temper displays folly.³⁰ The life of the body is a heart at peace, But envy rots the bones.³¹ He who oppresses the poor shows contempt for his Maker, But he who is kind to the needy honors him.³² The wicked is brought down in his calamity, But in death, the righteous has a refuge.³³ Wisdom rests in the heart of one who has understanding, And is even made known in the inward part of fools.³⁴ Righteousness exalts a nation, But sin is a disgrace to any people.³⁵ The king's favor is toward a servant who deals wisely, But his wrath is toward one who causes

15 A gentle answer turns away wrath, But a harsh word stirs up anger.² The tongue of the wise commends knowledge, But the mouth of fools gush out folly.³ Yahawah's eyes are everywhere, Keeping watch on the evil and the good.⁴ A gentle tongue is a tree of life, But deceit in it crushes the spirit.⁵ A fool despises his father's correction, But he who heeds reproof shows prudence.⁶ In the house of the righteous is much treasure, But the income of the wicked brings trouble.⁷ The lips of the wise spread knowledge; Not so with the heart of fools.⁸ The sacrifice made by the wicked is an abomination to Yahawah, But the prayer of the upright is his delight.⁹ The way of the wicked is an abomination to Yahawah, But he loves him who follows after righteousness.¹⁰ There is stern discipline for one who forsakes the way: Whoever hates reproof shall die.¹¹ Sheol and Abaddon are before Yahawah -- How much more than the hearts of the children of men!¹² A scoffer doesn't love to be reproved; He will not go to the wise.¹³ A glad heart makes a cheerful face; But an aching heart breaks the spirit.¹⁴ The heart of one who has understanding seeks knowledge, But the mouths of fools feed on folly.¹⁵ All the days of the afflicted are wretched, But one who has a cheerful heart enjoys a continual feast.¹⁶ Better is little, with the fear of Yahawah, Than great treasure with trouble.¹⁷ Better is a dinner of herbs, where love is, Than a fattened calf with hatred.¹⁸ A wrathful man stirs up contention, But one who is slow to anger appeases strife.¹⁹ The way of the sluggard is like a thorn patch, But the path of the upright is a highway.²⁰ A wise son makes a father glad, But a foolish man despises his mother.²¹ Folly is joy to one who is void of wisdom, But a man of understanding keeps his way straight.²² Where there is no counsel, plans fail; But in a multitude of counselors they are established.²³ Joy comes to a man with the reply of his mouth. How good is a word at the right time!²⁴ The path of life leads upward for the wise, To keep him from going downward to Sheol.²⁵ Yahawah will uproot the house of the proud, But he will keep the widow's borders intact.²⁶ Yahawah detests the thoughts of the wicked, But the thoughts of the pure are pleasing.²⁷ He who is greedy for gain troubles his own house, But he who hates bribes will live.²⁸ The heart of the righteous weighs answers, But the mouth of the wicked gushes out evil.²⁹ Yahawah is far from the wicked, But he hears the prayer of the righteous.³⁰ The light of the eyes rejoices the heart. Good news gives health to the bones.³¹ The ear that listens to the reproof lives, And will be at home among the wise.³² He who refuses correction despises his own soul, But he who listens to reproof gets understanding.³³ The fear of Yahawah teaches wisdom. Before honor is humility.

16 The plans of the heart belong to man, But the answer of the tongue is from Yahawah.² All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes; But Yahawah weighs the motives.³ Commit your deeds to Yahawah, And your plans shall succeed.⁴ Yahawah has made everything for its own end -- Yes, even the wicked for the day of evil.⁵ Everyone who is proud in heart is an abomination to Yahawah: They shall assuredly not be unpunished.⁶ By mercy and truth iniquity is atoned for. By the fear of Yahawah men depart from evil.⁷ When a man's ways please Yahawah, He makes even his enemies to be at peace with him.⁸ Better is a little with righteousness, Than great revenues with injustice.⁹ A man's heart plans his course, But Yahawah directs his steps.¹⁰ Inspired judgments are on the lips of the king. His shall not betray his mouth.¹¹ Honest balances and scales are Yahawah's; All the weights in the bag are his work.¹² It is an abomination for kings to do wrong, For the throne is established by righteousness.¹³ Righteous lips are the delight of kings. They value one who speaks the truth.¹⁴ The king's wrath is a messenger of death, But a wise man will pacify it.¹⁵ In the light of the king's face is life. His favor is like a cloud of the spring rain.¹⁶ How much better it is to get wisdom than gold! Yes, to get understanding is to be chosen rather than silver.¹⁷ The highway of the upright is to depart from evil. He who keeps his way preserves his soul.¹⁸ Pride goes before destruction, A haughty spirit before a fall.¹⁹ It is better to be of a lowly spirit with the poor, Than to divide the plunder with the proud.²⁰ He who gives heed to the word finds prosperity. Whoever trusts in Yahawah is blessed.²¹ The wise in heart shall be called prudent. Pleasantness of the lips promotes instruction.²² Understanding is a fountain of life to one who has it, But the punishment of fools is their folly.²³ The heart of the wise instructs his mouth, And adds learning to his lips.²⁴ Pleasant words are a honeycomb, Sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.²⁵ There is a way which seems right to a man, But in the end it leads to death.²⁶ The appetite of the laboring man labors for him; For his mouth urges him on.²⁷ A worthless man devises mischief. His speech is like a scorching fire.²⁸ A perverse man stirs up strife. A whisperer separates close friends.²⁹ A man of violence entices his neighbor, And leads him in a way that is not good.³⁰ One who winks his eyes to plot perversities, One who compresses his lips, is bent on evil.³¹ Gray hair is a crown of glory. It is attained by a life of righteousness.³² One who is slow to anger is better than the mighty; One who rules his spirit, than he who takes a city.³³ The lot is cast into the lap, But its every decision is from Yahawah.

17 Better is a dry morsel with quietness, Than a house full of feasting with strife.² A servant who deals wisely will rule over a son who causes shame, And shall have a part in the inheritance among the brothers.³ The refining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold, But Yahawah tests the hearts.⁴ An Awayal-doer gives heed to wicked lips. A liar gives ear to a mischievous tongue.⁵ Whoever mocks the poor reproaches his Maker. He who is glad at calamity shall not be unpunished.⁶ Children's children are the crown of old men; The glory of children are their parents.⁷ Arrogant speech isn't fitting for a fool, Much less do lying lips fit a prince.⁸ A bribe is a precious stone in the eyes of him who gives it; Wherever he turns, he prospers.⁹ He who covers an offense promotes love; But he who repeats a matter separates chief friends.¹⁰ A rebuke enters deeper into one who has understanding Than a hundred lashes into a fool.¹¹ An evil man seeks only rebellion; Therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.¹² Let a bear robbed of her cubs meet a man, Rather than a fool in his folly.¹³ Whoever rewards evil for good, Awayal shall not depart from his house.¹⁴ The beginning of strife is like breaching a dam, Therefore stop contention before quarreling breaks out.¹⁵ He who justifies the wicked, and he who condemns the righteous, Both of them alike are an abomination to Yahawah.¹⁶ Why is there money in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom, Seeing he has no understanding?¹⁷ A friend loves at all times; And a brother is born for adversity.¹⁸ A man void of understanding strikes hands, And becomes collateral in the presence of his neighbor.¹⁹ He who loves disobedience loves strife. One who builds a high gate seeks destruction.²⁰ One who has a perverse heart doesn't find prosperity, And one who has a deceitful tongue falls into trouble.²¹ He who becomes the father of a fool grieves. The father of a fool has no joy.²² A cheerful heart makes good medicine, But a crushed spirit dries up the bones.²³ A wicked man receives a bribe in secret, To pervert the ways of justice.²⁴ Wisdom is before the face of one who has understanding, But the eyes of a fool wander to the ends of the earth.²⁵ A foolish son brings grief to his father, And bitterness to her who bore him.²⁶ Also to punish the righteous is not good, Nor to flog officials for their integrity.²⁷ He who spares his words has knowledge. He who is even tempered is a man of understanding.²⁸ Even a fool, when he keeps silent, is counted wise. When he shuts his lips, he is thought to be discerning.

18 An unfriendly man pursues selfishness, And defies all sound judgment.² A fool has no delight in understanding, But only in broadcasting his own opinion.³ When wickedness comes, contempt also comes, And with shame comes disgrace.⁴ The words of a man's mouth are like deep waters. The fountain of wisdom is like a flowing brook.⁵ To be partial to the faces of the wicked is not good, Nor to deprive the innocent of justice.⁶ A fool's lips come into strife, And his mouth invites beatings.⁷ A fool's mouth is his destruction, And his lips are a snare to his soul.⁸ The words of a gossip are like dainty morsels: They go down into a person's innermost parts.⁹ One who is slack in his work Is brother to him who is a master of destruction.¹⁰ The name of Yahawah is a strong tower: The righteous run to him, and are safe.¹¹ The rich man's wealth is his strong city, Like an unscalable wall in his own imagination.¹² Before destruction the heart of man is proud, But before honor is humility.¹³ He who gives answer before he hears, That is folly and shame to him.¹⁴ A man's spirit will sustain him in sickness, But a crushed spirit who can bear?¹⁵ The heart of the discerning gets knowledge. The ear of the wise seeks knowledge.¹⁶ A man's gift makes room for him, And brings him before great men.¹⁷ He who pleads his cause first seems right; Until another comes and questions him.¹⁸ The lot settles disputes, And keeps strong ones apart.¹⁹ A brother offended is more difficult than a fortified city; And disputes are like the bars of a castle.²⁰ A man's stomach is filled with the fruit of his mouth. With the harvest of his lips he is satisfied.²¹ Death and life are in the power of the tongue; Those who love it will eat its fruit.²² Whoever finds a wife finds a good thing, And obtains favor of Yahawah.²³ The poor pleads for mercy, But the rich answers harshly.²⁴ A man of many companions may be ruined, But there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.

19 Better is the poor who walks in his integrity Than he who is perverse in his lips and is a fool.² It isn't good to have zeal without knowledge; Nor being hasty with one's feet and missing the way.³ The foolishness of man subverts his way; His heart rages against Yahawah.⁴ Wealth adds many friends, But the poor is separated from his friend.⁵ A false witness shall not be unpunished. He who pours out lies shall not go free.⁶ Many will entreat the favor of a ruler, And everyone is a friend to a man who gives gifts.⁷ All the relatives of the poor shun him: How much more do his friends avoid him! He pursues them with pleas, but they are gone.⁸ He who gets wisdom loves his own soul. He who keeps understanding shall find good.⁹ A false witness shall not be unpunished. He who utters lies shall perish.¹⁰ Delicate living is not appropriate for a fool, Much less for a servant to have rule over princes.¹¹ The discretion of a man makes him slow to anger. It is his glory to overlook an offense.¹² The king's wrath is like the roaring of a lion, But his favor is like dew on the grass.¹³ A foolish son is the calamity of his father. A wife's quarrels are a continual dripping.¹⁴ House and riches are an inheritance from fathers, But a prudent wife is from Yahawah.¹⁵ Slothfulness casts into a deep sleep. The idle soul shall suffer hunger.¹⁶ He who keeps the commandment keeps his soul, But he who is contemptuous in his ways shall die.¹⁷ He who has pity on the poor lends to Yahawah; He will reward him.¹⁸ Discipline your son, for there is hope; Don't be a willing party to his death.¹⁹ A hot-tempered man must pay the penalty, For if you rescue him, you must do it again.²⁰ Listen to counsel and receive instruction, That you may be wise in your latter end.²¹ There are many plans in a man's heart, But Yahawah's counsel will prevail.²² That which makes a man to be desired is his kindness. A poor man is better than a liar.²³ The fear of Yahawah leads to life, then contentment; He rests and will not be touched by trouble.²⁴ The sluggard buries his hand in the dish; He will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.²⁵ Flog a scoffer, and the simple will learn prudence; Rebuke one who has understanding, and he will gain knowledge.²⁶ He who robs his father and drives away his mother, Is a son who causes shame and brings reproach.²⁷ Stop, my son, listening to instruction, And you will stray from the words of knowledge.²⁸ A corrupt witness mocks justice, And the mouth of the wicked gulps down iniquity.²⁹ Penalties are prepared for scoffers, And beatings for the backs of fools.

20 Wine is a mocker, and beer is a brawler; Whoever is let astray by them is not wise.² The terror of a king is like the roaring of a lion: He who provokes him to anger forfeits his own life.³ It is an honor for a man to keep aloof from strife; But every fool will be quarreling.⁴ The sluggard will not plow by reason of the winter; Therefore he shall beg in harvest, and have nothing.⁵ Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water; But a man of understanding will draw it out.⁶ Many men claim to be men of unfailing love, But who can find a faithful man?⁷ A righteous man who walks in his integrity, Blessed are his children after him.⁸ A king who sits on the throne of judgment Scatters away all evil with his eyes.⁹ Who can say, "I have made my heart pure. I am clean and without sin?"¹⁰ Differing weights and differing measures, Both of them alike are an abomination to Yahawah.¹¹ Even a child makes himself known by his doings, Whether his work is pure, and whether it is right.¹² The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, Yahawah has made even both of them.¹³ Don't love sleep, lest you come to poverty; Open your eyes, and you shall be satisfied with bread.¹⁴ "It's no good, it's no good," says the buyer; But when he is gone his way, then he boasts.¹⁵ There is gold and abundance of rubies; But the lips of knowledge are a rare jewel.¹⁶ Take the garment of one who puts up collateral for a stranger; And hold him in pledge for a wayward woman.¹⁷ Fraudulent food is sweet to a man, But afterwards his mouth is filled with gravel.¹⁸ Plans are established by advice; By wise guidance you wage war!¹⁹ He who goes about as a tale-bearer reveals secrets; Therefore don't keep company with him who opens wide his lips.²⁰ Whoever curses his father or his mother, His lamp shall be put out in blackness of darkness.²¹ An inheritance quickly gained at the beginning, Won't be blessed in the end.²² Don't say, "I will pay back evil." Wait for Yahawah, and he will save you.²³ Yahawah detests differing weights, And dishonest scales are not pleasing.²⁴ A man's steps are from Yahawah; How then can man understand his way?²⁵ It is a snare to a man make a rash dedication, And later reconsider his vows.²⁶ A wise king winnows out the wicked, And drives the threshing wheel over them.²⁷ The spirit of man is Yahawah's lamp, Searching all his innermost parts.²⁸ Love and faithfulness keep the king safe. His throne is sustained by love.²⁹ The glory of young men is their strength. The splendor of old men is their gray hair.³⁰ Wounding blows cleanse away evil, And beatings purge the innermost parts.

21 The king's heart is in Yahawah's hand like the watercourses. He turns it wherever he desires.² Every way of a man is right in his own eyes, But Yahawah weighs the hearts.³ To do righteousness and justice Is more acceptable to Yahawah than sacrifice.⁴ A high look, and a proud heart, The lamp of the wicked, is sin.⁵ The plans of the diligent surely lead to profit; And everyone who is hasty surely rushes to poverty.⁶ Getting treasures by a lying tongue Is a fleeting vapor for those who seek death.⁷ The violence of the wicked will drive them away, Because they refuse to do what is right.⁸ The way of the guilty is devious, But the conduct of the innocent is upright.⁹ It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop, Than to share a house with a contentious woman.¹⁰ The soul of the wicked desires evil; His neighbor finds no mercy in his eyes.¹¹ When the mocker is punished, the simple gains wisdom; When the wise is instructed, he receives knowledge.¹² The Righteous One considers the house of the wicked, And brings the wicked to ruin.¹³ Whoever stops his ears at the cry of the poor, He will also cry out, but shall not be heard.¹⁴ A gift in secret pacifies anger; And a bribe in the cloak, strong wrath.¹⁵ It is joy to the righteous to do justice; But it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity.¹⁶ The man who wanders out of the way of understanding Shall rest in the assembly of the dead.¹⁷ He who loves pleasure shall be a poor man: He who loves wine and oil shall not be rich.¹⁸ The wicked is a ransom for the righteous; The treacherous for the upright.¹⁹ It is better to dwell in a desert land, Than with a contentious and fretful woman.²⁰ There is precious treasure and oil in the dwelling of the wise; But a foolish man swallows it up.²¹ He who follows after righteousness and kindness Finds life, righteousness, and honor.²² A wise man scales the city of the mighty, And brings down the strength of its confidence.²³ Whoever guards his mouth and his tongue Keeps his soul from troubles.²⁴ The proud and haughty man, "scoffer" is his name; He works in the arrogance of pride.²⁵ The desire of the sluggard kills him, For his hands refuse to labor.²⁶ There are those who covet greedily all the day long; But the righteous gives and doesn't withhold.²⁷ The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination: How much more, when he brings it with a wicked mind!²⁸ A false witness will perish, And a man who listens speaks to eternity.²⁹ A wicked man hardens his face; But as for the upright, he establishes his ways.³⁰ There is no wisdom nor understanding Nor counsel against Yahawah.³¹ The horse is prepared for the day of battle; But victory is with Yahawah.

22 A good name is more desirable than great riches; Loving favor rather than silver and gold.² The rich and the poor have this in common: Yahawah is the maker of them all.³ A prudent man sees danger, and hides himself; But the simple pass on, and suffer for it.⁴ The result of humility and the fear of Yahawah Is wealth, honor, and life.⁵ Thorns and snares are in the path of the wicked: Whoever guards his soul stays from them.⁶ Train up a child in the way he should go, And when he is old he will not depart from it.⁷ The rich rules over the poor. The borrower is servant to the lender.⁸ He who sows wickedness reaps trouble, And the rod of his fury will be destroyed.⁹ He who has a generous eye will be blessed; For he shares his food with the poor.¹⁰ Drive out the mocker, and strife will go out; Yes, quarrels and insults will stop.¹¹ He who loves purity of heart and speaks gracefully Is the king's friend.¹² The eyes of Yahawah watch over knowledge; But he frustrates the words of the unfaithful.¹³ The sluggard says, "There is a lion outside! I will be killed in the streets!"¹⁴ The mouth of an adulteress is a deep pit: He who is under Yahawah's wrath will fall into it.¹⁵ Folly is bound up in the heart of a child: The rod of discipline drives it far from him.¹⁶ Whoever oppresses the poor for his own increase and whoever gives to the rich, Both come to poverty.¹⁷ Turn your ear, and listen to the words of the wise. Apply your heart to my teaching.¹⁸ For it is a pleasant thing if you keep them within you, If all of them are ready on your lips.¹⁹ That your trust may be in Yahawah, I teach you today, even you.²⁰ Haven't I written to you thirty excellent things Of counsel and knowledge,²¹ To teach you truth, reliable words, To give sound answers to the ones who sent you?²² Don't exploit the poor, because he is poor; And don't crush the needy in court;²³ For Yahawah will plead their case, And plunder the life of those who plunder them.²⁴ Don't befriend a hot-tempered man, And don't associate with one who harbors anger:²⁵ Lest you learn his ways, And ensnare your soul.²⁶ Don't you be one of those who strike hands, Of those who are collateral for debts.²⁷ If you don't have means to pay, Why should he take away your bed from under you?²⁸ Don't move the ancient boundary stone, Which your fathers have set up.²⁹ Do you see a man skilled in his work? He will serve kings; He won't serve obscure men.

23 When you sit to eat with a ruler, Consider diligently what is before you;² Paw at a knife to your throat, If you are a man given to appetite.³ Don't be desirous of his dainties, Seeing they are deceitful food.⁴ Don't weary yourself to be rich. In your wisdom, show restraint.⁵ Why do you set your eyes on that which is not? For it certainly sprouts wings like an eagle and flies in the sky.⁶ Don't eat the food of him who has a stingy eye, And don't crave his delicacies:⁷ For as he thinks about the cost, so he is. "Eat and drink!" he says to you, But his heart is not with you.⁸ The morsel which you have eaten you shall vomit up, And lose your good words.⁹ Don't speak in the ears of a fool, For he will despise the wisdom of your words.¹⁰ Don't move the ancient boundary stone. Don't encroach on the fields of the fatherless:¹¹ For their Defender is strong. He will plead their case against you.¹² Apply your heart to instruction, And your ears to the words of knowledge.¹³ Don't withhold correction from a child. If you punish him with the rod, he will not die.¹⁴ Punish him with the rod, And save his soul from Sheol.¹⁵ My son, if your heart is wise, Then my heart will be glad, even mine:¹⁶ Yes, my heart will rejoice, When your lips speak what is right.¹⁷ Don't let your heart envy sinners; But rather fear Yahawah all the day long.¹⁸ Indeed surely there is a future hope, And your hope will not be cut off.¹⁹ Listen, my son, and be wise, And keep your heart on the right path!²⁰ Don't be among ones drinking too much wine, Or those who gorge themselves on meat:²¹ For the drunkard and the glutton shall become poor; And drowsiness clothes them in rags.²² Listen to your father who gave you life, And don't despise your mother when she is old.²³ Buy the truth, and don't sell it: Get wisdom, discipline, and understanding.²⁴ The father of the righteous has great joy. Whoever fathers a wise child delights in him.²⁵ Let your father and your mother be glad! Let her who bore you rejoice!²⁶ My son, give me your heart; And let your eyes keep in my ways.²⁷ For a prostitute is a deep pit; And a wayward wife is a narrow well.²⁸ Yes, she lies in wait like a robber, And increases the unfaithful among men.²⁹ Who has woe? Who has sorrow? Who has strife? Who has complaints? Who has needless bruises? Who has bloodshot eyes?³⁰ Those who stay long at the wine; Those who go to seek out mixed wine.³¹ Don't look at the wine when it is red, When it sparkles in the cup, When it goes down smoothly:³² At the last it bites like a snake, And poisons like a viper.³³ Your eyes will see strange things, And your mind will imagine confusing things.³⁴ Yes, you will be as he who lies down in the midst of the sea, Or as he who lies on top of the rigging:³⁵ "They hit me, and I was not hurt; They beat me, and I don't feel it! When will I wake up? I can do it again. I can find another."

24 Don't you be envious against evil men; Neither desire to be with them:² For their hearts plot violence, And their lips talk about mischief.³ Through wisdom a house is built; By understanding it is established;⁴ By knowledge the rooms are filled With all rare and beautiful treasure.⁵ A wise man has great power; And a knowledgeable man increases strength;⁶ For by wise guidance you wage your war; And victory is in many advisors.⁷ Wisdom is too high for a fool: He doesn't open his mouth in the gate.⁸ One who plots to do evil Will be called a schemer.⁹ The schemes of folly are sin. The mocker is detested by men.¹⁰ If you falter in the time of trouble, Your strength is small.¹¹ Rescue those who are being led away to death! Indeed, hold back those who are staggering to the slaughter!¹² If you say, "Behold, we didn't know this;" Doesn't he who weighs the hearts consider it? He who keeps your soul, doesn't he know it? Shall he not render to every man according to his work?¹³ My son, eat honey, for it is good; The droppings of the honeycomb, which are sweet to your taste:¹⁴ So you shall know wisdom to be to your soul; If you have found it, then will there be a reward, Your hope will not be cut off.¹⁵ Don't lay in wait, wicked man, against the habitation of the righteous. Don't destroy his resting-place:¹⁶ For a righteous man falls seven times, and rises up again; But the wicked are overthrown by calamity.¹⁷ Don't rejoice when your enemy falls. Don't let your heart be glad when he is overthrown;¹⁸ Lest Yahawah see it, and it displease him, And he turn away his wrath from him.¹⁹ Don't fret yourself because of evildoers; Neither be envious of the wicked:²⁰ For there will be no reward to the evil man; And the lamp of the wicked shall be snuffed out.²¹ My son, fear Yahawah and the king. Don't join those who are rebellious:²² For their calamity will rise suddenly; The destruction from them both -- who knows?²³ These also are sayings of the wise. To show partiality in judgment is not good.²⁴ He who says to the wicked, "You are righteous;" Peoples shall curse him, and nations shall abhor him --²⁵ But it will go well with those who convict the guilty, And a rich blessing will come on them.²⁶ An honest answer Is like a kiss on the lips.²⁷ Prepare your work outside. Make it ready for you in the field. Afterwards, build your house.²⁸ Don't be a witness against your neighbor without cause. Don't deceive with your lips.²⁹ Don't say, "I will do to him as he has done to me; I will render to the man according to his work."³⁰ I went by the field of the sluggard, By the vineyard of the man void of understanding;³¹ Behold, it was all grown over with thorns. Its surface was covered with nettles, And its stone wall was broken down.³² Then I saw, and considered well. I saw, and received instruction:³³ A little sleep, a little slumber, A little folding of the hands to sleep;³⁴ So shall your poverty come as a robber, And your want as an armed man.

25 These also are proverbs of Shalamah, which the men of Chazaqayahaw king of Yahawadah copied out.² It is the glory of Alahayam to conceal a thing, But the glory of kings is to search out a matter.³ As the heavens for height, and the earth for depth, So the hearts of kings are unsearchable.⁴ Take away the dross from the silver, And material comes out for the refiner;⁵ Take away the wicked from the king's presence, And his throne will be established in righteousness.⁶ Don't exalt yourself in the presence of the king, Or claim a place among great men;⁷ For it is better that it be said to you, "Come up here," Than that you should be put lower in the presence of the prince, Whom your eyes have seen.⁸ Don't be hasty in bringing charges to court. What will you do in the end when your neighbor shames you?⁹ Debate your case with your neighbor, And don't betray the confidence of another;¹⁰ Lest one who hears it put you to shame, And your bad reputation never depart.¹¹ A word fitly spoken Is like apples of gold in settings of silver.¹² As an ear-ring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, So is a wise reprover to an obedient ear.¹³ As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, So is a faithful messenger to those who send him; For he refreshes the soul of his masters.¹⁴ As clouds and wind without rain, So is he who boasts of gifts deceptively.¹⁵ By patience a ruler is persuaded. A soft tongue breaks the bone.¹⁶ Have you found honey? Eat as much as is sufficient for you, Lest you eat too much, and vomit it.¹⁷ Let your foot be seldom in your neighbor's house, Lest he be weary of you, and hate you.¹⁸ A man who gives false testimony against his neighbor Is like a club, a sword, or a sharp arrow.¹⁹ Confidence in someone unfaithful in time of trouble Is like a bad tooth, or a lame foot.²⁰ As one who takes away a garment in cold weather, Or vinegar on soda, So is one who sings songs to a heavy heart.²¹ If your enemy is hungry, give him food to eat; If he is thirsty, give him water to drink.²² For you will heap coals of fire on his head, And Yahawah will reward you.²³ The north wind brings forth rain: So a backbiting tongue brings an angry face.²⁴ It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop, Than to share a house with a contentious woman.²⁵ Like cold waters to a thirsty soul, So is good news from a far country.²⁶ Like a muddied spring, and a polluted well, So is a righteous man who gives way before the wicked.²⁷ It is not good to eat much honey; Nor is it honorable to seek one's own honor.²⁸ Like a city that is broken down and without walls Is a man whose spirit is without restraint.

26 Like snow in summer, and as rain in harvest, So honor is not fitting for a fool.² Like a fluttering sparrow, Like a darting swallow, So the undeserved curse doesn't come to rest.³ A whip for the horse, a bridle for the donkey, And a rod for the back of fools!⁴ Don't answer a fool according to his folly, Lest you also be like him.⁵ Answer a fool according to his folly, Lest he be wise in his own eyes.⁶ One who sends a message by the hand of a fool Is cutting off feet and drinking violence.⁷ Like the legs of the lame that hang loose: So is a parable in the mouth of fools.⁸ As one who binds a stone in a sling, So is he who gives honor to a fool.⁹ Like a thornbush that goes into the hand of a drunkard, So is a parable in the mouth of fools.¹⁰ As an archer who wounds all, So is he who hires a fool Or he who hires those who pass by.¹¹ As a dog that returns to his vomit, So is a fool who repeats his folly.¹² Do you see a man wise in his own eyes? There is more hope for a fool than for him.¹³ The sluggard says, "There is a lion in the road! A fierce lion roams the streets!"¹⁴ As the door turns on its hinges, So does the sluggard on his bed.¹⁵ The sluggard buries his hand in the dish. He is too lazy to bring it back to his mouth.¹⁶ The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes Than seven men who answer with discretion.¹⁷ Like one who seizes a dog's ears Is one who passes by and meddles in a quarrel not his own.¹⁸ Like a madman who shoots firebrands, arrows, and death,¹⁹ Is the man who deceives his neighbor and says, "Am I not joking?"²⁰ For lack of wood the fire goes out; Where there is no gossip, a quarrel dies down.²¹ As coals are to hot embers, And wood to fire, So is a contentious man to kindle strife.²² The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels, They go down into the innermost parts.²³ Like silver dross on an earthen vessel Are the lips of a fervent one with an evil heart.²⁴ A malicious man disguises himself with his lips, But he harbors evil in his heart.²⁵ When his speech is charming, don't believe him; For there are seven abominations in his heart:²⁶ His malice may be concealed by deception, But his wickedness will be exposed in the assembly.²⁷ Whoever digs a pit shall fall into it. Whoever rolls a stone, it will come back on him.²⁸ A lying tongue hates those it hurts; And a flattering mouth works ruin.

27 Don't boast about tomorrow; For you don't know what a day may bring forth.² Let another man praise you, And not your own mouth; A stranger, and not your own lips.³ A stone is heavy, And sand is a burden; But a fool's provocation is heavier than both.⁴ Wrath is cruel, And anger is overwhelming; But who is able to stand before jealousy?⁵ Better is open rebuke Than hidden love.⁶ Faithful are the wounds of a friend; Although the kisses of an enemy are profuse.⁷ A full soul loathes a honeycomb; But to a hungry soul, every bitter thing is sweet.⁸ As a bird that wanders from her nest, So is a man who wanders from his home.⁹ Perfume and incense bring joy to the heart; So does earnest counsel from a man's friend.¹⁰ Don't forsake your friend and your father's friend. Don't go to your brother's house in the day of your disaster: Better is a neighbor who is near than a distant brother.¹¹ Be wise, my son, And bring joy to my heart, Then I can answer my tormentor.¹² A prudent man sees danger and takes refuge; But the simple pass on, and suffer for it.¹³ Take his garment when he puts up collateral for a stranger; Hold it for a wayward woman!¹⁴ He who blesses his neighbor with a loud voice early in the morning, It will be taken as a curse by him.¹⁵ A continual dropping on a rainy day And a contentious wife are alike:¹⁶ Restraining her is like restraining the wind, Or like grasping oil in his right hand.¹⁷ Iron sharpens iron; So a man sharpens his friend's countenance.¹⁸ Whoever tends the fig tree shall eat its fruit. He who looks after his master shall be honored.¹⁹ As water reflects a face, So a man's heart reflects the man.²⁰ Sheol and Abaddon are never satisfied; And a man's eyes are never satisfied.²¹ The crucible is for silver, And the furnace for gold; But man is refined by his praise.²² Though you grind a fool in a mortar with a pestle along with grain, Yet his foolishness will not be removed from him.²³ Know well the state of your flocks, And pay attention to your herds:²⁴ For riches are not forever, Nor does even the crown endure to all generations.²⁵ The hay is removed, and the new growth appears, The grasses of the hills are gathered in.²⁶ The lambs are for your clothing, And the goats are the price of a field.²⁷ There will be plenty of goats' milk for your food, For your family's food, And for the nourishment of your servant girls.

28 The wicked flee when no one pursues; But the righteous are as bold as a lion.² In rebellion, a land has many rulers, But order is maintained by a man of understanding and knowledge.³ A needy man who oppresses the poor Is like a driving rain which leaves no crops.⁴ Those who forsake the law praise the wicked; But those who keep the law contend with them.⁵ Awayal men don't understand justice; But those who seek Yahawah understand it fully.⁶ Better is the poor who walks in his integrity, Than he who is perverse in his ways, and he is rich.⁷ Whoever keeps the law is a wise son; But he who is a companion of gluttons shames his father.⁸ He who increases his wealth by excessive interest Gathers it for one who has pity on the poor.⁹ He who turns away his ear from hearing the law, Even his prayer is an abomination.¹⁰ Whoever causes the upright to go astray in an evil way, He will fall into his own trap; But the blameless will inherit good.¹¹ The rich man is wise in his own eyes; But the poor who has understanding sees through him.¹² When the righteous triumph, there is great glory; But when the wicked rise, men hide themselves.¹³ He who conceals his sins doesn't prosper, But whoever confesses and renounces them finds mercy.¹⁴ Blessed is the man who always fears; But one who hardens his heart falls into trouble.¹⁵ As a roaring lion or a charging bear, So is a wicked ruler over helpless people.¹⁶ The ruler who lacks judgment is a great tyrant. One who hates ill-gotten gain will have long days.¹⁷ A man who is tormented by life blood will be a fugitive until death; No one will support him.¹⁸ Whoever walks blamelessly is kept safe; But one with perverse ways will fall suddenly.¹⁹ One who works his land will have an abundance of food; But one who chases fantasies will have his fill of poverty.²⁰ A faithful man is rich with blessings; But one who is eager to be rich will not go unpunished.²¹ To show partiality is not good; Yet a man will do wrong for a piece of bread.²² A stingy man hurries after riches, And doesn't know that poverty waits for him.²³ One who rebukes a man will afterward find more favor Than one who flatters with the tongue.²⁴ Whoever robs his father or his mother, and says, "It's not wrong." He is a partner with a destroyer.²⁵ One who is greedy stirs up strife; But one who trusts in Yahawah will prosper.²⁶ One who trusts in himself is a fool; But one who walks in wisdom, he is kept safe.²⁷ One who gives to the poor has no lack; But one who closes his eyes will have many curses.²⁸ When the wicked rise, men hide themselves; But when they perish, the righteous thrive.

29 He who is often rebuked and stiffens his neck Will be destroyed suddenly, with no remedy.² When the righteous thrive, the people rejoice; But when the wicked rule, the people groan.³ Whoever loves wisdom brings joy to his father; But a companion of prostitutes squanders his wealth.⁴ The king by justice makes the land stable, But he who takes bribes tears it down.⁵ A man who flatters his neighbor, Spreads a net for his feet.⁶ An evil man is snared by his sin, But the righteous can sing and be glad.⁷ The righteous care about justice for the poor. The wicked aren't concerned about knowledge.⁸ Mockers stir up a city, But wise men turn away anger.⁹ If a wise man goes to court with a foolish man, The fool rages or scoffs, and there is no peace.¹⁰ The bloodthirsty hate a man of integrity; And they seek the life of the upright.¹¹ A fool vents all of his anger, But a wise man brings himself under control.¹² If a ruler listens to lies, All of his officials are wicked.¹³ The poor man and the oppressor have this in common: Yahawah gives sight to the eyes of both.¹⁴ The king who fairly judges the poor, His throne shall be established forever.¹⁵ The rod of correction gives wisdom, But a child left to himself causes shame to his mother.¹⁶ When the wicked increase, sin increases; But the righteous will see their downfall.¹⁷ Correct your son, and he will give you peace; Yes, he will bring delight to your soul.¹⁸ Where there is no revelation, the people cast off restraint; But one who keeps the law is blessed.¹⁹ A servant can't be corrected by words. Though he understands, yet he will not respond.²⁰ Do you see a man who is hasty in his words? There is more hope for a fool than for him.²¹ He who pampers his servant from youth Will have him become a son in the end.²² An angry man stirs up strife, And a wrathful man abounds in sin.²³ A man's pride brings him low, But one who is of a lowly spirit gains honor.²⁴ Whoever is an accomplice of a thief is an enemy of his own soul. He takes an oath, but dares not testify.²⁵ The fear of man proves to be a snare, But whoever puts his trust in Yahawah is kept safe.²⁶ Many seek the ruler's favor, But a man's justice comes from Yahawah.²⁷ A dishonest man detests the righteous, And the upright in their ways detest the wicked.

30 The words of Agawar the son of Yaqah, the oracle: The man says to Ayathayaal, To Ayathayaal and Akal:² "Surely I am the most ignorant man, And don't have a man's understanding.³ I have not learned wisdom, Neither do I have the knowledge of the Holy One.⁴ Who has ascended up into heaven, and descended? Who has gathered the wind in his fists? Who has bound the waters in his garment? Who has established all the ends of the earth? What is his name, and what is his son's name, if you know?"⁵ "Every word of Alahayam is flawless. He is a shield to those who take refuge in him.⁶ Don't you add to his words, Lest he reprove you, and you be found a liar.⁷ "Two things I have asked of you; Don't deny me before I die:⁸ Remove far from me falsehood and lies. Give me neither poverty nor riches. Feed me with the food that is needful for me;⁹ Lest I be full, deny you, and say, 'Who is Yahawah?' Or lest I be poor, and steal, And so dishonor the name of my Alahayam.¹⁰ "Don't slander a servant to his master, Lest he curse you, and you be held guilty.¹¹ There is a generation that curses their father, And doesn't bless their mother.¹² There is a generation that is pure in their own eyes, Yet are not washed from their filthiness.¹³ There is a generation, oh how lofty are their eyes! Their eyelids are lifted up.¹⁴ There is a generation whose teeth are like swords, And their jaws like knives, To devour the poor from the earth, and the needy from among men.¹⁵ "The leach has two daughters: 'Give, give.' "There are three things that are never satisfied; Four that don't say,

'Enough':¹⁶ Sheol, the barren womb; The earth that is not satisfied with water; The fire that doesn't say, 'Enough';¹⁷ And the eye that mocks at his father, And scorns obedience to his mother: The ravens of the valley shall pick it out, The young eagles shall eat it.¹⁸ "There are three things which are too amazing for me, Four which I don't understand:¹⁹ The way of an eagle in the air; The way of a serpent on a rock; The way of a ship in the midst of the sea; And the way of a man with a maiden.²⁰ So is the way of an adulterous woman: She eats and wipes her mouth, And says, 'I have done nothing wrong.'²¹ "For three things the earth tremble, And under four, it can't bear up:²² For a servant when he is king; A fool when he is filled with food;²³ For an unloved woman when she is married; And a handmaid who is heir to her mistress.²⁴ "There are four things which are little on the earth, But they are exceeding wise:²⁵ The ants are not a strong people, Yet they provide their food in the summer;²⁶ The conies are but a feeble folk, Yet make they their houses in the rocks;²⁷ The locusts have no king, Yet they advance in ranks;²⁸ You can catch a lizard with your hands, Yet she is in kings' palaces.²⁹ "There are three things which are stately in their march, Four which are stately in going:³⁰ The lion, which is mightiest among animals, And doesn't turn away for any;³¹ The greyhound, the male goat also; And the king against whom there is no rising up.³² "If you have done foolishly in lifting up yourself, Or if you have thought evil, Pawat your hand over your mouth.³³ For as the churning of milk brings forth butter, And the wringing of the nose brings forth blood; So the forcing of wrath brings forth strife."

31 The words of king Lamawaal; the oracle which his mother taught him.² "Oh, my son!" Oh, son of my womb! Oh, son of my vows!³ Don't give your strength to women, Nor your ways to that which destroys kings.⁴ It is not for kings, Lamawaal; it is not for kings to drink wine; Nor for princes to say, 'Where is strong drink?'⁵ Lest they drink, and forget the law, And pervert the justice due to anyone who is afflicted.⁶ Give strong drink to him who is ready to perish; And wine to the bitter in soul:⁷ Let him drink, and forget his poverty, And remember his misery no more.⁸ Open your mouth for the mute, In the cause of all who are left desolate.⁹ Open your mouth, judge righteously, And serve justice to the poor and needy."¹⁰ Who can find a worthy woman? For her price is far above rubies.¹¹ The heart of her husband trusts in her. He shall have no lack of gain.¹² She does him good, and not harm, All the days of her life.¹³ She seeks wool and flax, And works eagerly with her hands.¹⁴ She is like the merchant ships. She brings her bread from afar.¹⁵ She rises also while it is yet night, Gives food to her household, And their task to her servant girls.¹⁶ She considers a field, and buys it. With the fruit of her hands, she plants a vineyard.¹⁷ She girds her loins with strength, And makes her arms strong.¹⁸ She perceives that her merchandise is profitable. Her lamp doesn't go out by night.¹⁹ She lays her hands to the distaff, And her hands hold the spindle.²⁰ She stretches out her hand to the poor; Yes, she reaches forth her hands to the needy.²¹ She is not afraid of the snow for her household; For all her household are clothed with scarlet.²² She makes for herself carpets of tapestry. Her clothing is fine linen and purple.²³ Her husband is respected in the gates, When he sits among the elders of the land.²⁴ She makes linen garments and sells them, And delivers sashes to the merchant.²⁵ Strength and dignity are her clothing. She laughs at the time to come.²⁶ She opens her mouth with wisdom. The law of kindness is on her tongue.²⁷ She looks well to the ways of her household, And doesn't eat the bread of idleness.²⁸ Her children rise up and call her blessed. Her husband also praises her:²⁹ "Many women do noble things, But you excel them all."³⁰ Charm is deceitful, and beauty is vain; But a woman who fears Yahawah, she shall be praised.³¹ Give her of the fruit of her hands; Let her works praise her in the gates.

Ecclesiastes

1 The words of the Preacher, the son of Dawad, king in Yarawashalam: ² "Vanity of vanities," says the Preacher; "Vanity of vanities, all is vanity." ³ What does man gain from all his labor in which he labors under the sun? ⁴ One generation goes, and another generation comes; but the earth remains forever. ⁵ The sun also rises, and the sun goes down, and hurries to its place where it rises. ⁶ The wind goes toward the south, and turns around to the north. It turns around continually as it goes, and the wind returns again to its courses. ⁷ All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full. To the place where the rivers flow, there they flow again. ⁸ All things are full of weariness beyond uttering. The eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing. ⁹ That which has been is that which shall be; and that which has been done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun. ¹⁰ Is there a thing of which it may be said, "Behold, this is new?" It has been long ago, in the ages which were before us. ¹¹ There is no memory of the former; neither shall there be any memory of the latter that are to come, among those that shall come after. ¹² I, the Preacher, was king over Yasharaal in Yarawashalam. ¹³ I applied my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under the sky. It is a heavy burden that Alahayam has given to the sons of men to be afflicted with. ¹⁴ I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold, all is vanity and a chasing after wind. ¹⁵ That which is crooked can't be made straight; and that which is lacking can't be counted. ¹⁶ I said to myself, "Behold, I have obtained for myself great wisdom above all who were before me in Yarawashalam. Yes, my heart has had great experience of wisdom and knowledge." ¹⁷ I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly. I perceived that this also was a chasing after wind. ¹⁸ For in much wisdom is much grief; and he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.

2 I said in my heart, "Come now, I will test you with mirth: therefore enjoy pleasure;" and, behold, this also was vanity. ² I said of laughter, "It is foolishness;" and of mirth, "What does it accomplish?" ³ I searched in my heart how to cheer my flesh with wine, my heart yet guiding me with wisdom, and how to lay hold of folly, until I might see what it was good for the sons of men that they should do under heaven all the days of their lives. ⁴ I made myself great works. I built myself houses. I planted myself vineyards. ⁵ I made myself gardens and parks, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of fruit. ⁶ I made myself pools of water, to water therefrom the forest where trees were reared. ⁷ I bought men-servants and maid-servants, and had servants born in my house. I also had great possessions of herds and flocks, above all who were before me in Yarawashalam; ⁸ I also gathered silver and gold for myself, and the treasure of kings and of the provinces. I got myself men-singers and women-singers, and the delights of the sons of men -- musical instruments, and that of all sorts. ⁹ So I was great, and increased more than all who were before me in Yarawashalam. My wisdom also remained with me. ¹⁰ Whatever my eyes desired, I didn't keep from them. I didn't withhold my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced because of all my labor, and this was my portion from all my labor. ¹¹ Then I looked at all the works that my hands had worked, and at the labor that I had labored to do; and, behold, all was vanity and a chasing after wind, and there was no profit under the sun. ¹² I turned myself to consider wisdom, madness, and folly: for what can the king's successor do? Just that which has been done long ago. ¹³ Then I saw that wisdom excels folly, as far as light excels darkness. ¹⁴ The wise man's eyes are in his head, and the fool walks in darkness -- and yet I perceived that one event happens to them all. ¹⁵ Then said I in my heart, "As it happens to the fool, so will it happen even to me; and why was I then more wise?" Then said I in my heart that this also is vanity.

¹⁶ For of the wise man, even as of the fool, there is no memory for ever, seeing that in the days to come all will have been long forgotten. Indeed, the wise man must die just like the fool! ¹⁷ So I hated life, because the work that is worked under the sun was grievous to me; for all is vanity and a chasing after wind. ¹⁸ I hated all my labor in which I labored under the sun, seeing that I must leave it to the man who comes after me. ¹⁹ Who knows whether he will be a wise man or a fool? Yet he will have rule over all of my labor in which I have labored, and in which I have showed myself wise under the sun. This also is vanity. ²⁰ Therefore I began to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labor in which I had labored under the sun. ²¹ For there is a man whose labor is with wisdom, with knowledge, and with skillfulness; yet he shall leave it for his portion to a man who has not labored therein. This also is vanity and a great evil. ²² For what has a man of all his labor, and of the striving of his heart, in which he labors under the sun? ²³ For all his days are sorrows, and his travail is grief; yes, even in the night his heart takes no rest. This also is vanity. ²⁴ There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and make his soul enjoy good in his labor. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of Alahayam. ²⁵ For who can eat, or who can have enjoyment, more than I? ²⁶ For to the man who pleases him, Alahayam gives wisdom, knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he gives travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him who pleases Alahayam. This also is vanity and a chasing after wind.

3 For everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven: ² A time to be born, And a time to die; A time to plant, And a time to pluck up that which is planted; ³ A time to kill, And a time to heal; A time to break down, And a time to build up; ⁴ A time to weep, And a time to laugh; A time to mourn, And a time to dance; ⁵ A time to cast away stones, And a time to gather stones together; A time to embrace, And a time to refrain from embracing; ⁶ A time to seek, And a time to lose; A time to keep, And a time to cast away; ⁷ A time to tear, And a time to sew; A time to keep silence, And a time to speak; ⁸ A time to love, And a time to hate; A time for war, And a time for peace. ⁹ What profit has he who works in that in which he labors? ¹⁰ I have seen the burden which Alahayam has given to the sons of men to be afflicted with. ¹¹ He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also set eternity in their hearts, yet so that man can't find out the work that Alahayam has done from the beginning even to the end. ¹² I know that there is nothing better for them than to rejoice, and to do good as long as they live. ¹³ Also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy good in all his labor, is the gift of Alahayam. ¹⁴ I know that whatever Alahayam does, it shall be forever. Nothing can be added to it, nor anything taken from it; and Alahayam has done it, that men should fear before him. ¹⁵ That which is has been long ago, and that which is to be has been long ago: and Alahayam seeks again that which is passed away. ¹⁶ Moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of justice, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. ¹⁷ I said in my heart, "Alahayam will judge the righteous and the wicked; for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work." ¹⁸ I said in my heart, "As for the sons of men, Alahayam tests them, so that they may see that they themselves are like animals. ¹⁹ For that which happens to the sons of men happens to animals. Even one thing happens to them. As the one dies, so the other dies. Yes, they have all one breath; and man has no advantage over the animals: for all is vanity. ²⁰ All go to one place. All are from the dust, and all turn to dust again.²¹ Who knows the spirit of man, whether it goes upward, and the spirit of the animal, whether it goes downward to the earth?"²² Therefore I saw that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his works; for that is his portion: for who can bring him to see what will be after him?

4 Then I returned and saw all the oppressions that are done under the sun; and, behold, the tears of those who were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power; but they had no comforter.³ Therefore I praised the dead who have been long dead more than the living who are yet alive.⁴ Yes, better than them both is him who has not yet been, who has not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.⁵ Then I saw all of labor and of achievement that is the envy of a man's neighbor. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.⁶ The fool folds his hands together and ruins himself.⁷ Better is a handful, with quietness, than two handfuls with labor and chasing after wind.⁸ Then I returned and saw vanity under the sun.⁹ There is one who is alone, and he has neither son nor brother. There no end to all of his labor, neither are his eyes satisfied with wealth. For whom then, do I labor, and deprive my soul of enjoyment? This also is vanity, yes, it is a miserable business.¹⁰ Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their labor.¹¹ For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but woe to him who is alone when he falls, and doesn't have another to lift him up.¹² Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth; but how can one keep warm alone?¹³ If a man prevails against one who is alone, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.¹⁴ Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king who doesn't know how to receive admonition any more.¹⁵ For out of prison he came forth to be king; yes, even in his kingdom he was born poor.¹⁶ I saw all the living who walk under the sun, that they were with the youth, the other, who succeeded him.¹⁷ There was no end of all the people, even of all them over whom he was -- yet those who come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a chasing after wind.

5 Guard your steps when you go to Alahayam's house; for to draw near to listen is better than to give the sacrifice of fools, for they don't know that they do evil.² Don't be rash with your mouth, and don't let your heart be hasty to utter anything before Alahayam; for Alahayam is in heaven, and you on earth. Therefore let your words be few.³ For as a dream comes with a multitude of cares, so a fool's speech with a multitude of words.⁴ When you vow a vow to Alahayam, don't defer to pay it; for he has no pleasure in fools. Pay that which you vow.⁵ It is better that you should not vow, than that you should vow and not pay.⁶ Don't allow your mouth to lead you into sin. Don't protest before the messenger that this was a mistake. Why should Alahayam be angry at your voice, and destroy the work of your hands?⁷ For in the multitude of dreams there are vanities, and in many words: but you must fear Alahayam.⁸ If you see the oppression of the poor, and the violent taking away of justice and righteousness in a district, don't marvel at the matter: for one official is eyed by a higher one; and there are officials over them.⁹ Moreover the profit of the earth is for all. The king profits from the field.¹⁰ He who loves silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he who loves abundance, with increase: this also is vanity.¹¹ When goods increase, those who eat them are increased; and what advantage is there to its owner, except to feast on them with his eyes?¹² The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eats little or much; but the abundance of the rich will not allow him to sleep.¹³ There is a grievous evil which I have seen under the sun: wealth kept by its owner to his harm.¹⁴ Those riches perish by misfortune, and if he has fathered a son, there is nothing in his hand.¹⁵ As he came forth from his mother's womb, naked shall he go again as he came, and shall take nothing for his labor, which he may carry away in his hand.¹⁶ This also is a grievous evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go. And what profit does he have who labors for the wind?¹⁷ All his days he also eats in darkness, he is frustrated, and has sickness and wrath.¹⁸ Behold, that which I have seen to be good and proper is for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy good in all his labor, in which he labors under the sun, all the days of his life which Alahayam has given him; for this is his portion.¹⁹ Every man also to whom Alahayam has given riches and wealth, and has given him power to eat of it, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labor -- this is the gift of Alahayam.

6 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is heavy on men:² a man to whom Alahayam gives riches, wealth, and honor, so that he lacks nothing for his soul of all that he desires, yet Alahayam gives him no power to eat of it, but an alien eats it. This is vanity, and it is an evil disease.³ If a man fathers a hundred children, and lives many years, so that the days of his years are many, but his soul is not filled with good, and moreover he has no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is better than he:⁴ for it comes in vanity, and departs in darkness, and its name is covered with darkness.⁵ Moreover it has not seen the sun nor known it. This has rest rather than the other.⁶ Yes, though he live a thousand years twice told, and yet fails to enjoy good, don't all go to one place?⁷ All the labor of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled.⁸ For what advantage has the wise more than the fool? What has the poor man, that knows how to walk before the living?⁹ Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire. This also is vanity and a chasing after wind.¹⁰ Whatever has been, its name was given long ago; and it is known what man is; neither can he contend with him who is mightier than he.¹¹ For there are many words that create vanity. What does that profit man?¹² For who knows what is good for man in life, all the days of his vain life which he spends like a shadow? For who can tell a man what will be after him under the sun?

7 A good name is better than fine perfume; and the day of death better than the day of one's birth.² It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men, and the living should take this to heart.³ Sorrow is better than laughter; for by the sadness of the face the heart is made good.⁴ The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.⁵ It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools.⁶ For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool. This also is vanity.⁷ Surely extortion makes the wise man foolish; and a bribe destroys the understanding.⁸ Better is the end of a thing than its beginning. The patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.⁹ Don't be hasty in your spirit to be angry, for anger rests in the bosom of fools.¹⁰ Don't say, "Why were the former days better than these?" For you do not ask wisely about this.¹¹ Wisdom is as good as an inheritance. Yes, it is more excellent for those who see the sun.¹² For wisdom is a defense, even as money is a defense; but the excellency of knowledge is that wisdom preserves the life of him who has it.¹³ Consider the work of Alahayam, for who can make that straight, which he has made crooked?¹⁴ In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider; yes, Alahayam has made the one side by side with the other, to the end that man should not find out anything after him.¹⁵ All this have I seen in my days of vanity: there is a righteous man who perishes in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man who lives long in his Awayal-doing.¹⁶ Don't be overly righteous, neither make yourself overly wise. Why should you destroy yourself?¹⁷ Don't be too wicked, neither be foolish. Why should you die before your time?¹⁸ It is good that you should take hold of this. Yes, also from that don't withdraw your hand; for he who fears Alahayam will come forth from them all.¹⁹ Wisdom is a strength to the wise man more than ten rulers who are in a city.²⁰ Surely there is not a righteous man on earth, who does good and doesn't sin.²¹ Also don't take heed to all words that are spoken, lest you hear your servant curse you;²² for often your own heart knows that you yourself have likewise cursed others.²³ All this have I proved in wisdom. I said, "I will be wise;" but it was far from me.²⁴ That which is, is far off and exceedingly deep. Who can find it out?²⁵ I turned around, and my heart sought to know and to search out, and to seek wisdom and the scheme of things, and to know that wickedness is stupidity, and that foolishness is madness.²⁶ I find more bitter than death the woman whose heart is snares and traps, whose hands are chains. Whoever pleases Alahayam shall escape from her; but the sinner will be ensnared by her.²⁷ Behold, this have I found, says the Preacher, one to another, to find out the scheme;²⁸ which my soul still seeks; but I have not found: one man among a thousand have I found; but a woman among all those have I not found.²⁹ Behold, this only have I found: that Alahayam made man upright; but they search for many schemes.

8 Who is like the wise man? And who knows the interpretation of a thing? A man's wisdom makes his face shine, and the hardness of his face is changed.² I say, "Keep the king's command!" because of the oath to Alahayam.³ Don't be hasty to go out of his presence. Don't persist in an evil thing, for he does whatever pleases him,⁴ for the king's word is supreme. Who can say to him, "What are you doing?"⁵ Whoever keeps the commandment shall not come to harm, and his wise heart will know the time and procedure.⁶ For there is a time and procedure for every purpose, although the misery of man is heavy on him.⁷ For he doesn't know that which will be; for who can tell him how it will be?⁸ There is no man who has power over the spirit to contain the spirit; neither does he have power over the day of death. There is no discharge in war; neither shall wickedness deliver those who practices it.⁹ All this have I seen, and applied my mind to every work that is done under the sun. There is a time in which one man has power over another to his hurt.¹⁰ So I saw the wicked buried. Indeed they came also from holiness. They went and were forgotten in the city where they did this. This also is vanity.¹¹ Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.¹² Though a sinner commits crimes a hundred times, and lives long, yet surely I know that it will be better with those who fear Alahayam, who are reverent before him.¹³ But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he lengthen days like a shadow; because he doesn't fear Alahayam.¹⁴ There is a vanity which is done on the earth, that there are righteous men to whom it happens according to the work of the wicked. Again, there are wicked men to whom it happens according to the work of the righteous. I said that this also is vanity.¹⁵ Then I commended mirth, because a man has no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be joyful: for that will accompany him in his labor all the days of his life which Alahayam has given him under the sun.¹⁶ When I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done on the earth (for also there is that neither day nor night sees sleep with his eyes),¹⁷ then I saw all the work of Alahayam, that man can't find out the work that is done under the sun, because however much a man labors to seek it out, yet he won't find it. Yes, moreover, though a wise man thinks he can comprehend it, yet he won't be able to find it.

9 For all this I laid to my heart, even to explore all this: that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of Alahayam; whether it is love or hatred, man doesn't know it; all is before them.² All things come alike to all. There is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good, to the clean, to the unclean, to him who sacrifices, and to him who doesn't sacrifice. As is the good, so is the sinner; he who takes an oath, as he who fears an oath.³ This is an evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one event to all: yes also, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.⁴ For to him who is joined with all the living there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion.⁵ For the living know that they will die, but the dead don't know anything, neither do they have any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten.⁶ Also their love, their hatred, and their envy has perished long ago; neither have they any more a portion forever in anything that is done under the sun.⁷ Go your way -- eat your bread with joy, and drink your wine with a merry heart; for Alahayam has already accepted your works.⁸ Let your garments be always white, and don't let your head lack oil.⁹ Live joyfully with the wife whom you love all the days of your life of vanity, which he has given you under the sun, all your days of vanity: for that is your portion in life, and in your labor in which you labor under the sun.¹⁰ Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with your might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in Sheol, where you are going.¹¹ I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favor to men of skill; but time and chance happen to them all.¹² For man also doesn't know his time. As the fish that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, even so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falls suddenly on them.¹³ I have also seen wisdom under the sun in this way, and it seemed great to me.¹⁴ There was a little city, and few men within it; and a great king came against it, besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it.¹⁵ Now a poor wise man was found in it, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man.¹⁶ Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength. Nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.¹⁷ The words of the wise heard in quiet are better than the cry of him who rules among fools.¹⁸ Wisdom is better than weapons of war; but one sinner destroys much good.

10 Dead flies cause the oil of the perfumer to send forth an evil odor; so does a little folly outweigh wisdom and honor.² A wise man's heart is at his right hand, but a fool's heart at his left.³ Yes also, when the fool walks by the way, his understanding fails him, and he says to everyone that he is a fool.⁴ If the spirit of the ruler rises up against you, don't leave your place; for gentleness lays great offenses to rest.⁵ There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, the sort of error which proceeds from the ruler.⁶ Folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in a low place.⁷ I have seen servants on horses, and princes walking like servants on the earth.⁸ He who digs a pit may fall into it; and whoever breaks through a wall may be bitten by a snake.⁹ Whoever carves out stones may be injured by them. Whoever splits wood may be endangered thereby.¹⁰ If the ax is blunt, and one doesn't sharpen the edge, then he must use more strength; but skill brings success.¹¹ If the snake bites before it is charmed, then is there no profit for the charmer's tongue.¹² The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but a fool is swallowed by his own lips.¹³ The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness; and the end of his talk is mischievous madness.¹⁴ A fool also multiplies words. Man doesn't know what will be; and that which will be after him, who can tell him?¹⁵ The labor of fools wearies every one of them; for he doesn't know how to go to the city.¹⁶ Woe to you, land, when your king is a child, And your princes eat in the morning!¹⁷ Happy are you, land, when your king is the son of nobles, And your princes eat in due season, For strength, and not for drunkenness!¹⁸ By slothfulness the roof sinks in; And through idleness of the hands the house leaks.¹⁹ A feast is made for laughter, And wine makes the life glad; And money is the answer for all things.²⁰ Don't revile the king, no, not in your thoughts; And don't revile the rich in your bedchamber: For a bird of the sky may carry your voice, And that which has wings may tell the matter.

11 Cast your bread on the waters; For you shall find it after many days.² Give a portion to seven, yes, even to eight; For you don't know what evil will be on the earth.³ If the clouds are full of rain, they empty themselves on the earth; And if a tree falls toward the south, or toward the north, In the place where the tree falls, there shall it be.⁴ He who observes the wind won't sow; And he who regards the clouds won't reap.⁵ As you don't know what is the way of the wind, Nor how the bones grow in the womb of her who is with child; Even so you don't know the work of Alahayam who does all.⁶ In the morning sow your seed, And in the evening don't withhold your hand; For you don't know which will prosper, whether this or that, Or whether they both will be equally good.⁷ Truly the light is sweet, And a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to see the sun.⁸ Yes, if a man lives many years, let him rejoice in them all; But let him remember the days of darkness, for they shall be many. All that comes is vanity.⁹ Rejoice, young man, in your youth, And let your heart cheer you in the days of your youth, And walk in the ways of your heart, And in the sight of your eyes; But know that for all these things Alahayam will bring you into judgment.¹⁰ Therefore remove sorrow from your heart, And put away evil from your flesh; For youth and the dawn of life are vanity.

12 Remember also your Creator in the days of your youth, Before the evil days come, and the years draw near, When you will say, "I have no pleasure in them;"² Before the sun, the light, the moon, and the stars are darkened, And the clouds return after the rain;³ In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, And the strong men shall bow themselves, And the grinders cease because they are few, And those who look out of the windows are darkened,⁴ And the doors shall be shut in the street; When the sound of the grinding is low, And one shall rise up at the voice of a bird, And all the daughters of music shall be brought low;⁵ Yes, they shall be afraid of heights, And terrors will be in the way; And the almond-tree shall blossom, And the grasshopper shall be a burden, And desire shall fail; Because man goes to his everlasting home, And the mourners go about the streets:⁶ Before the silver cord is severed, Or the golden bowl is broken, Or the pitcher is broken at the spring, Or the wheel broken at the cistern,⁷ And the dust returns to the earth as it was, And the spirit returns to Alahayam who gave it.⁸ Vanity of vanities, says the Preacher; All is vanity!⁹ Further, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge. Yes, he pondered, sought out, and set in order many proverbs.¹⁰ The Preacher sought to find out acceptable words, and that which was written blamelessly, words of truth.¹¹ The words of the wise are like goads; and like nails well fastened are words from the masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd.¹² Furthermore, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.¹³ This is the end of the matter. All has been heard. Fear Alahayam, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man.¹⁴ For Alahayam will bring every work into judgment, with every hidden thing, whether it is good, or whether it is evil.

Song of Songs

1 The Song of songs, which is Shalamah's. Beloved ² Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth; For your love is better than wine. ³ Your oils have a pleasing fragrance. Your name is oil poured forth, Therefore the virgins love you. ⁴ Take me away with you. Let us hurry. The king has brought me into his chambers. Friends We will be glad and rejoice in you. We will praise your love more than wine! Beloved They are right to love you. ⁵ I am dark, but lovely, You daughters of Yarawashalam, Like Qadar's tents, Like Shalamah's curtains. ⁶ Don't stare at me because I am dark, Because the sun has scorched me. My mother's sons were angry with me. They made me keeper of the vineyards. I haven't kept my own vineyard. ⁷ Tell me, you whom my soul loves, Where you graze your flock, Where you rest them at noon; For why should I be as one who is veiled Beside the flocks of your companions? Lover ⁸ If you don't know, most beautiful among women, Follow the tracks of the sheep. Graze your young goats beside the shepherds' tents. ⁹ I have compared you, my love, To a steed in Paraih's chariots. ¹⁰ Your cheeks are beautiful with earrings, Your neck with strings of jewels. ¹¹ We will make you earrings of gold, With studs of silver. Beloved ¹² While the king sat at his table, My perfume spread its fragrance. ¹³ My beloved is to me a sachet of myrrh, That lies between my breasts. ¹⁴ My beloved is to me a cluster of henna blossoms From the vineyards of IyanGaday. Lover ¹⁵ Behold, you are beautiful, my love. Behold, you are beautiful. Your eyes are doves. Beloved ¹⁶ Behold, you are beautiful, my beloved, yes, pleasant; And our couch is verdant. Lover ¹⁷ The beams of our house are cedars. Our rafters are firs. Beloved

2 I am a rose of Sharawan, A lily of the valleys. ² As a lily among thorns, So is my love among the daughters. Beloved ³ As the apple tree among the trees of the wood, So is my beloved among the sons. I sat down under his shadow with great delight, His fruit was sweet to my taste. ⁴ He brought me to the banquet hall. His banner over me is love. ⁵ Strengthen me with raisins, Refresh me with apples; For I am faint with love. ⁶ His left hand is under my head. His right hand embraces me. ⁷ I adjure you, daughters of Yarawashalam, By the roes, or by the hinds of the field, That you not stir up, nor awaken love, Until it so desires. ⁸ The voice of my beloved! Behold, he comes, Leaping on the mountains, Skipping on the hills. ⁹ My beloved is like a roe or a young hart. Behold, he stands behind our wall! He looks in at the windows. He glances through the lattice. ¹⁰ My beloved spoke, and said to me, Rise up, my love, my beautiful one, and come away. ¹¹ For, behold, the winter is past. The rain is over and gone. ¹² The flowers appear on the earth; The time of the singing has come, And the voice of the turtle-dove is heard in our land. ¹³ The fig tree ripens her green figs. The vines are in blossom; They give forth their fragrance. Arise, my love, my beautiful one, And come away. Lover ¹⁴ My dove in the clefts of the rock, In the hiding places of the mountainside, Let me see your face. Let me hear your voice; For your voice is sweet, and your face is lovely. ¹⁵ Catch for us the foxes, The little foxes that spoil the vineyards; For our vineyards are in blossom. Beloved ¹⁶ My beloved is mine, and I am his. He browses among the lilies. ¹⁷ Until the day is cool, and the shadows flee away, Turn, my beloved, And be like a roe or a young hart on the mountains of Bether.

3 By night on my bed, I sought him whom my soul loves. I sought him, but I didn't find him. ² I will get up now, and go about the city; In the streets and in the squares I will seek him whom my soul loves. I sought him, but I didn't find him. ³ The watchmen who go about the city found me; "Have you seen him whom my soul loves?" ⁴ I had scarcely passed from them, When I found him whom my soul loves. I held him, and would not let him go, Until I had brought him into my mother's house, Into the chamber of her who conceived me. ⁵ I adjure you, daughters of Yarawashalam, By the roes, or by the hinds of the field, That you not stir up, nor awaken love, Until it so desires. ⁶ Who is this who comes up from the wilderness like pillars of smoke, Perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, With all spices of the merchant? ⁷ Behold, it is Shalamah's carriage! Sixty mighty men are around it, Of the mighty men of Yasharaal. ⁸ They all handle the sword, and are expert in war. Every man has his sword on his thigh, Because of fear in the night. ⁹ King Shalamah made himself a carriage Of the wood of Labanawan. ¹⁰ He made its pillars of silver, Its bottom of gold, its seat of purple, Its midst being paved with love, From the daughters of Yarawashalam. ¹¹ Go forth, you daughters of Tzayawan, and see king Shalamah, With the crown with which his mother has crowned him, In the day of his weddings, In the day of the gladness of his heart. Lover

4 Behold, you are beautiful, my love. Behold, you are beautiful. Your eyes are doves behind your veil. Your hair is as a flock of goats, That descend from Mount Galaid. ² Your teeth are like a newly shorn flock, Which have come up from the washing, Where every one of them has twins. None is bereaved among them. ³ Your lips are like scarlet thread. Your mouth is lovely; Your temples are like a piece of a pomegranate behind your veil. ⁴ Your neck is like Dawad's tower built for an armory, Whereon there hang a thousand shields, All the shields of the mighty men. ⁵ Your two breasts are like two fawns That are twins of a roe, Which feed among the lilies. ⁶ Until the day is cool, and the shadows flee away, I will go to the mountain of myrrh, To the hill of frankincense. ⁷ You are all beautiful, my love. There is no spot in you. ⁸ Come with me from Labanawan, my bride, With me from Labanawan. Look from the top of Amanah, From the top of Shanayar and Charamawan, From the lions' dens, From the mountains of the leopards. ⁹ You have ravished my heart, my sister, my bride. You have ravished my heart with one of your eyes, With one chain of your neck. ¹⁰ How beautiful is your love, my sister, my bride! How much better is your love than wine! The fragrance of your perfumes than all manner of spices! ¹¹ Your lips, my bride, drip like the honeycomb. Honey and milk are under your tongue. The smell of your garments is like the smell of Labanawan. ¹² A locked up garden is my sister, my bride; A locked up spring, A sealed fountain. ¹³ Your shoots are an orchard of pomegranates, with precious fruits: Henna with spikenard plants, ¹⁴ Spikenard and saffron, Calamus and cinnamon, with every kind of incense tree; Myrrh and aloes, with all the best spices, ¹⁵ A fountain of gardens, A well of living waters, Flowing streams from Labanawan. Beloved ¹⁶ Awake, north wind; and come, you south; Blow on my garden, that its spices may flow out. Let my beloved come into his garden, And taste his precious fruits. Lover

5 I have come into my garden, my sister, my bride. I have gathered my myrrh with my spice; I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk. Friends Eat, friends! Drink, yes, drink abundantly, beloved. Beloved ² I was asleep, but my heart was awake. It is the voice of my beloved who knocks: Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled; For my head is filled with dew, My hair with the dampness of the night. ³ I have taken off my robe. Indeed, must I put it on? I have washed my feet. Indeed, must I soil them? ⁴ My beloved thrust his hand in through the latch opening. My heart pounded for him. ⁵ I rose up to open for my beloved. My hands dripped with myrrh, My fingers with liquid myrrh, On the handles of the lock. ⁶ I opened to my beloved; But my beloved left; gone away. My heart went out when he spoke. I looked for him, but I didn't find him. I called him, but he didn't answer.⁷ The watchmen who go about the city found me. They beat me. They bruised me. The keepers of the walls took my cloak away from me.⁸ I adjure you, daughters of Yarawashalam, If you find my beloved, That you tell him that I am faint with love. Friends⁹ How is your beloved better than another beloved, You fairest among women? How is your beloved better than another beloved, That you do so adjure us? Beloved¹⁰ My beloved is white and ruddy. The best among ten thousand.¹¹ His head is like the purest gold. His hair is bushy, black as a raven.¹² His eyes are like doves beside the water brooks, Washed with milk, mounted like jewels.¹³ His cheeks are like a bed of spices with towers of perfumes. His lips are like lilies, dropping liquid myrrh.¹⁴ His hands are like rings of gold set with beryl. His body is like ivory work overlaid with sapphires.¹⁵ His legs are like pillars of marble set on sockets of fine gold. His appearance is like Labanawan, excellent as the cedars.¹⁶ His mouth is sweetness; Yes, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, Daughters of Yarawashalam. Friends

6 Where has your beloved gone, you fairest among women? Where has your beloved turned, that we may seek him with you? Beloved² My beloved has gone down to his garden, To the beds of spices, To feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.³ I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine. He browses among the lilies,⁴ You are beautiful, my love, as Tharatzah, Lovely as Yarawashalam, Awesome as an army with banners.⁵ Turn away your eyes from me, For they have overcome me. Your hair is like a flock of goats, That lie along the side of Galaid.⁶ Your teeth are like a flock of ewes, Which have come up from the washing; Of which every one has twins; None is bereaved among them.⁷ Your temples are like a piece of a pomegranate behind your veil.⁸ There are sixty queens, eighty concubines, And virgins without number.⁹ My dove, my perfect one, is unique. She is her mother's only daughter. She is the favorite one of her who bore her. The daughters saw her, and called her blessed, The queens and the concubines, and they praised her.¹⁰ Who is she who looks forth as the morning, Beautiful as the moon, Clear as the sun, Awesome as an army with banners?¹¹ I went down into the nut tree grove, To see the green plants of the valley, To see whether the vine budded, And the pomegranates were in flower.¹² Without realizing it, My desire set me with my royal people's chariots. Friends

7 How beautiful are your feet in sandals, prince's daughter! Your rounded thighs are like jewels, The work of the hands of a skillful workman.³ Your body is like a round goblet, No mingled wine is wanting. Your waist is like a heap of wheat, Set about with lilies.⁴ Your two breasts are like two fawns, That are twins of a roe.⁵ Your neck is like an ivory tower. Your eyes are like the pools in Chashabawan by the gate of Bath; Your nose is like the tower of Labanawan which looks toward Damashaq.⁶ Your head on you is like Karamal, The hair of your head like purple; The king is held captive in its tresses.⁷ How beautiful and how pleasant are you, Love, for delights!⁸ This, your stature, is like a palm tree, Your breasts like its fruit.⁹ I said, "I will climb up into the palm-tree. I will take hold of its fruit." Let your breasts be like clusters of the vine, The smell of your breath like apples, Beloved¹⁰ Your mouth like the best wine, That goes down smoothly for my beloved, Gliding through the lips of those who are asleep.¹¹ I am my beloved's. His desire is toward me.¹² Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field. Let us lodge in the villages.¹³ Let's go early up to the vineyards. Let's see whether the vine has budded, Its blossom is open, And the pomegranates are in flower. There I will give you my love.¹⁴ The mandrakes give forth fragrance. At our doors are all kinds of precious fruits, new and old, Which I have stored up for you, my beloved.

8 Oh that you were like my brother, Who sucked the breasts of my mother! If I found you outside, I would kiss you; Yes, and no one would despise me.² I would lead you, bringing you into my mother's house, Who would instruct me. I would have you drink spiced wine, Of the juice of my pomegranate.³ His left hand would be under my head. His right hand would embrace me.⁴ I adjure you, daughters of Yarawashalam, That you not stir up, nor awaken love, Until it so desires. Friends⁵ Who is this who comes up from the wilderness, Leaning on her beloved? Under the apple tree I aroused you. There your mother conceived you. There she was in labor and bore you.⁶ Set me as a seal on your heart, As a seal on your arm; For love is strong as death. Jealousy is as cruel as Sheol; Its flashes are flashes of fire, A very flame of Yahawah.⁷ Many waters can't quench love, Neither can floods drown it. If a man would give all the wealth of his house for love, He would be utterly scorned. Friends⁸ We have a little sister. She has no breasts. What shall we do for our sister In the day when she is to be spoken for?⁹ If she is a wall, We will build on her a turret of silver. If she is a door, We will enclose her with boards of cedar. Beloved¹⁰ I am a wall, and my breasts like towers, Then I was in his eyes like one who found peace.¹¹ Shalamah had a vineyard at Bail. He leased out the vineyard to keepers. Each was to bring a thousand shekels of silver for its fruit.¹² My own vineyard is before me. The thousand are for you, Shalamah; Two hundred for those who tend its fruit. Lover¹³ You who dwell in the gardens, with friends in attendance, Let me hear your voice! Beloved¹⁴ Come away, my beloved! Be like a gazelle or a young stag on the mountains of spices!

Wisdom

1 Love righteousness, you that be judges of the earth: think of the Adanay with a good (heart,) and in simplicity of heart seek him.
2 For he will be found of them that tempt him not; and shows himself to such as do not distrust him.
3 For froward thoughts separate from Alahayam: and his power, when it is tried, reproveth the unwise.
4 For into a malicious soul wisdom shall not enter; nor dwell in the body that is subject to sin.
5 For the holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit, and remove from thoughts that are without understanding, and will not abide when unrighteousness comes in.
6 For wisdom is a loving spirit; and will not acquit a blasphemous of his words: for Alahayam is witness of his reins, and a true beholder of his heart, and a hearer of his tongue.
7 For the Spirit of the Adanay fills the world: and that which contains all things has knowledge of the voice.
8 Therefore he that speaks unrighteous things cannot be hid: neither shall vengeance, when it punishes, pass by him.
9 For inquisition shall be made into the counsels of the ungodly: and the sound of his words shall come to the Adanay for the manifestation of his wicked deeds.
10 For the ear of jealousy hears all things: and the noise of murmurings is not hid.
11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which is unprofitable; and refrain your tongue from backbiting: for there is no word so secret, that shall go for nought: and the mouth that beliieth slayeth the soul.
12 Seek not death in the error of your life: and pull not upon yourselves destruction with the works of your hands.
13 For Alahayam made not death: neither has he pleasure in the destruction of the living.
14 For he created all things, that they might have their being: and the generations of the world were healthful; and there is no poison of destruction in them, nor the kingdom of death upon the earth:
15 (For righteousness is immortal:)
16 But ungodly men with their works and words called it to them: for when they thought to have it their friend, they consumed to nought, and made a covenant with it, because they are worthy to take part with it.
2 For the ungodly said, reasoning with themselves, but not aright, Our life is short and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedy: neither was there any man known to have returned from the grave.
2 For we are born at all adventure: and we shall be hereafter as though we had never been: for the breath in our nostrils is as smoke, and a little spark in the moving of our heart:
3 Which being extinguished, our body shall be turned into ashes, and our spirit shall vanish as the soft air,
4 And our name shall be forgotten in time, and no man shall have our works in remembrance, and our life shall pass away as the trace of a cloud, and shall be dispersed as a mist, that is driven away with the beams of the sun, and overcome with the heat thereof.
5 For our time is a very shadow that passes away; and after our end there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man comes again.
6 Come on therefore, let us enjoy the good things that are present: and let us speedily use the creatures like as in youth.
7 Let us fill ourselves with costly wine and ointments: and let no flower of the spring pass by us:
8 Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds, before they be withered:
9 Let none of us go without his part of our voluptuousness: let us leave tokens of our joyfulness in every place: for this is our portion, and our lot is this.
10 Let us oppress the poor righteous man, let us not spare the widow, nor reverence the ancient gray hairs of the aged.
11 Let our strength be the law of justice: for that which is feeble is found to be nothing worth.
12 Therefore let us lie in wait for the righteous; because he is not for our turn, and he is clean contrary to our doings: he upbraideth us with our offending the law, and objecteth to our infamy the transgressings of our education.
13 He professes to have the knowledge of Alahayam: and he calls himself the child of the Adanay.

14 He was made to reprove our thoughts.
15 He is grievous to us even to behold: for his life is not like other men's, his ways are of another fashion.
16 We are esteemed of him as counterfeits: he abstains from our ways as from filthiness: he pronounces the end of the just to be blessed, and makes his boast that Alahayam is his father.
17 Let us see if his words be true: and let us prove what shall happen in the end of him.
18 For if the just man be the son of Alahayam, he will help him, and deliver him from the hand of his enemies.
19 Let us examine him with despitefulness and torture, that we may know his meekness, and prove his patience.
20 Let us condemn him with a shameful death: for by his own saying he shall be respected.
21 Such things they did imagine, and were deceived: for their own wickedness has blinded them.
22 As for the mysteries of Alahayam, they knew them not: neither hoped they for the wages of righteousness, nor discerned a reward for blameless souls.
23 For Alahayam created man to be immortal, and made him to be an image of his own eternity.
24 Nevertheless through envy of the devil came death into the world: and they that do hold of his side do find it.

3 But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of Alahayam, and there shall no torment touch them.
2 In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: and their departure is taken for misery, 3 And their going from us to be utter destruction: but they are in peace.
4 For though they be punished in the sight of men, yet is their hope full of immortality.
5 And having been a little chastised, they shall be greatly rewarded: for Alahayam proved them, and found them worthy for himself.
6 As gold in the furnace has he tried them, and received them as a burnt offering.
7 And in the time of their visitation they shall shine, and run to and fro like sparks among the stubble.
8 They shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people, and their Adanay shall reign for ever.
9 They that put their trust in him shall understand the truth: and such as be faithful in love shall abide with him: for grace and mercy is to his saints, and he has care for his elect.
10 But the ungodly shall be punished according to their own imaginations, which have neglected the righteous, and forsaken the Adanay.
12 Their wives are foolish, and their children wicked:
13 Their offspring is cursed. Therefore blessed is the barren that is undefiled, which has not known the sinful bed: she shall have fruit in the visitation of souls.
14 And blessed is the eunuch, which with his hands has wrought no iniquity, nor imagined wicked things against Alahayam: for to him shall be given the special gift of faith, and an inheritance in the temple of the Adanay more acceptable to his mind.
15 For glorious is the fruit of good labours: and the root of wisdom shall never fall away.
16 As for the children of adulterers, they shall not come to their perfection, and the seed of an unrighteous bed shall be rooted out.
17 For though they live long, yet shall they be nothing regarded: and their last age shall be without honour.
18 Or, if they die quickly, they have no hope, neither comfort in the day of trial.
19 For horrible is the end of the unrighteous generation.

4 Better it is to have no children, and to have virtue: for the memorial thereof is immortal: because it is known with Alahayam, and with men.
2 When it is present, men take example at it; and when it is gone, they desire it: it wears a crown, and triumpheth for ever, having gotten the victory, striving for undefiled rewards.
3 But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall not thrive, nor take deep rooting from bastard slips, nor lay any fast foundation.
4 For though they flourish in branches for a time; yet standing not last, they shall be shaken with the wind, and through the force of winds they shall
